Seaman Reservists May Volunteer After Draft Call

Seaman recruits and seaman apprentices who were members of the Naval Reserve prior to September 1, 1950 can now volunteer for active duty in the Navy after they have received draft induction notices. Eighth Naval District headquarters announced.

The Commandant of the Eighth Naval District said the new ruling will affect approximately 14,000 men in the district who are in the above category.

Until now, he said, regulations had prevented men in the Naval Reserve's two lowest pay grades from volunteering for active duty unless they had at least six months previous full time duty on their records. Under those regulations, a number of these men have been drafted for lack of required regular duty. The Navy cannot now take draftees.

These reservists may now be placed on active duty in the Naval Reserve while they are being processed under selective service, at any time prior to the actual selective service induction date, the Navy ruling stated.

The procedure is as follows: The reservist wishing to volunteer should contact his nearest Naval recruiting station or substitution He must meet the same mental, physical and other standards as the regular Navy recruit.

He will be required to sign an agreement to serve 24 months on active duty.

He will then be sent into recruit training with regular Navy recruits, but will maintain his identity as a Reservist in Class V 13 of the Naval Reserve.

Reservists in the rates of seaman and fireman, and petty officer in certain ratings, still are being accepted as volunteers, the Commandant pointed out.

Home Ec Teachers Meet In Ruidoso

Homemaking teachers of District 6 of State Vocational Home Economics met in the Ruidoso High School Home Economics Cottage Saturday, December 9th from 9:30 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. Members of the committee included Miss Kathryn Dickie, Assistant State Supervisor of Home Economics Education from State College; Mildred Ramey, Ruidoso, acting chairman; Jessa Treasaway, Alamogordo; Winifred Corzani, Capitlan; Betty Lou Groves, Carrizozo; Myrtle Harbour, Hagerman; Pauline Cushman, Tularosa; and Ethel Stanley, Dexter.

The function of the committee is to meet four times during the school year to evaluate the present curriculum on consumer buying as taught by the State Vocational Homemaking teachers at the present, which is to assist the pupils with their immediate buying problem. According to a recent survey (1949) one half of the girls in New Mexico buy food for the family only occasionally. Many girls select, without help, clothing; 45 per cent of families use charge accounts and 43 per cent buy from mail order catalogs.

About one half of the families buy on the installment plan. It is exceedingly important that girls develop some realization of the limitations of the income of their families. Lack of understanding about money management is a major cause of friction in many homes. Therefore, one of the chief objectives of the consumer buying unit is to develop desirable attitudes.

In teaching consumer buying in homemaking, pupils should be guided through practical learning experiences to be intelligent in determining values, in knowing goods and services that are available.

Homemaking teachers and retailers can cooperate to their mutual advantage and that of the community.

The mobile unit of mounted birds, fish, mammals and resource maps is scheduled to begin its tour of the schools about the first of the year, according to the Public Relations Division.

Now that the big game season is almost over, the exhibit is being prepared for the tour that will begin in the schools in the south-east part of the state and which will cover a many schools at a time period before spring. This display is designed for the school age youngsters of the state and its aim is to acquaint them with the various forms of wildlife and habitat found in New Mexico. At the same time, conservation and game management practices are taught and an effort is made to instill some of the rules of good sportsmanship in these young people who will soon hold the future of the wildlife resources in their hands.

Kenny Smith of Hollywood, N. M., left last week end for Tucson, Arizona for the racing season at Billito Park. He took three thoroughbred horses with him, Doc Lang, Verde Frank and Anna Dulelo, to run in the 1951 Stakes and Handicaps at that park. Ben Silva of Green Tree went with him taking a horse of his called "Mighty Midget".

They plan to stay in Arizona for sometime, as racing continues from now through April.

Beginning January 1st, 1951, it will be the policy of the Ruidoso News that all classified ads will be cash in advance with the single exception of regular display advertisements. This is the unanimous policy of all other newspapers.

NO PRAIRIE CHICKEN SEASON THIS YEAR.
It has been officially announced by the Department of Game and Fish that there will be no prairie chicken season this year. The decision was made after biologists and fieldmen of the Department made a recent survey of the area and recommended that the season be closed.

The cover is extremely dense in the area around Portales and the fire danger is acute at the present time. The heavy cover not only makes it difficult to obtain an accurate check of the chicken population, but would make it almost impossible to find wounded birds without a dog.

It is planned, at the moment to do extensive trapping and transplanting work in the area during the remainder of the winter and spring. Birds will be moved to new areas where they can get a foothold and it will then be possible to hold a chicken season next year over a greater area than before.

Everyday the Otero County Electric Co. is contributing its share to America's strength for peace or war. Today, thanks to the program dedicated to the task of electrifying the farms and homesteads of rural America, the farmers of our land stand ready in the food production line to pass the ammunition. The food ammunition they produce was made possible through the building of electric distribution lines that power their food producing machinery. Fifteen years ago, our great state of New Mexico stood in 48th position for the number of farms electrified. Today, thanks to the growing realization among town and city people alike that the American farmer, above all others, needs the help of the electric servant... our state now stands 45th in the national average of farms electrified. Today, an alert nation knows the real truth about food production... Farm Power In Power For Defense!

The losers were led in their scoring by Melvin Chavez. Others Eagles who turned in good performances were Freddie Eibsworth, Berlin Marrufo, Esy Benvalde, Jack Casey, Zeko Sandoval, and Rex Poindexter. Some of the other players in the Tot's Team were Gerald Maes, Roman Pacheco, Bonnie Montes, Reynold Montes, Dick Garcia, Richard Chavez, Amos Rue, Andy Rue, Fernin Salcido, and Fernando Salcido.

In the other two games of the evening, the La Luz junior high boys won 21-20 from the Hondo eighth graders. The Hondo "B" team trounced the La Luz "B" team, 45-16. The "A" team was idle this week. Mr. Chebatah is coaching the three Hondo teams.

Howard Braun, Scout Executive from Roswell, was working in the valley this past week.

Bill Shrecongost spent the week end in Albuquerque attending a National Guard meeting. He is a 2nd Lt.

Bert and Jake Pfingsten took a sixty foot Christmas tree to adorn the S. P. Park in El Paso.

Henry Helmie of Tulsa, Okla. made a business trip to Hondo.

McKinley McTeigue and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McTeigue have gone to Mexico on a vacation.

Grade School Christmas vacation starts December 22nd. There will be a Christmas program, the night of December 20th at 7:30 at the gym.

Hattie Keller visited in the Albert Pfingsten home last week. She lived on Loma Grande in the Nogal Mesa country for many years. Yes, friends who have known her so well, she is the same refreshing person we knew years ago.

Margaret Kallsen Taylor of Las Cruces visited relatives in the valley and on the mesa but she missed getting to see her grandmother, Mrs. M. M. Pfingsten, who had left for Sheridan, Oregon to see her grandson, Donnie Purcell whose leave was up in a few days. He is in the Coast Guard. Mrs. Pfingsten will likely spend some time in the home of her daughter, Edna Zumwalt.

SWEARINGIN TO PREACH
Rev. Alvin Swearingin of Mesquite Park, N. M., will be at the Ruidoso Baptist Church for both morning and evening services on Sunday, December 17th.

Last Sunday members were pleased with an attendance of sixty for Sunday School and a large crowd for church services at which time Rev. Paul Rich, head of the Bible Department at Eastern New Mexico University of Portales, delivered an inspiring message. Also cause for rejoicing on that day was the fact that the building fund thermometer rose 6 degrees, with each degree representing $100.00.

I HEER'D THAT...

Santa, Daniel Raymond Metcalf, Green Tree, says he visited with you in Roswell and told you he wants a truck for Christmas. His little brother, James Lee, only three, wants one too. Candido Montoya, Jr., of Glencoe, four years old, just smiled when I mentioned Old Santa to him. He would love to have a racer and a little car. So Santa, be sure you don't miss him when you make Glencoe.

Linda McClendon of Glencoe, who is twenty months old is looking for Santa in a big way. She wants a Rocking Horse and maybe a toy monkey. Sheila Ann Taylor at San Patricio is 2 1/2 years old. She too says she talked with you in Roswell and wants a big doll, train, candy and some dishes. Remember her?

Teddy Bennett of Ruidoso who is four years old, he said "Santa always has boys" but "after much persuading he consented to tell me he wanted a diesel train that runs on a track, candy and nuts." Sandy O'Byrne a little blonde girl who is three years old, wants you to come to see her very much. And would like a coffee table, doll buggy and oh, yes Santa, don't forget to bring her some garters, hose and high heel shoes.

Two little friends, Martha Ann Gordenhire, age nine, and Nadine Patterson, ten, are still "the flossers" and try to be good and are really looking forward to your visit. Martha Ann wants a baby doll that is called "Blessed Event" and a watch and a parakeet. Nadine wants "Ideal Baby" Doll that has a smiling face and a nurse.

Lana and David Vance of Green Tree are looking for you, Santa. Lana helps her mother each morning with the house work. She and David always make their bed and clean their rooms before leaving for school. Lana wants a Tom wave doll and doll dishes. David would like to have a B-B gun and basket ball shoes.

Kay Kinner, a nice little girl, who has lived in Roswell about eight months would like for old Santa to bring her a Toni Doll and a sewing machine. She is six years old. Barbara Muller, 3 years old over at Ft. Stanton wants a "Blossom" train. His little brother, Floyd, 1 1/2 years old, would like to have a little rubber car and a cater. Vera Ann, age five, would be so pleased if you would bring a washing machine and a doll all dressed up with a bonnet.

Candace Farrar who lives near Pat a town is sure old Santa is going to come to see her. Because she saw him in Roswell and he promised. She wants a Choo-choo train and a doll with a bonnet and an ironing board and an electric iron. Lydia Peterson who lives in Skyland, is a good girl and helps her sister, Santa, please bring Lydia a little doll. She is eight inches tall. A doctor's set.

Barbara Ann and Francis Heinhardt were home when I went to interview them. But found Elmer had gone to the show. Barbara Ann, age four is looking for you Santa. And says she will be so happy to see you she will hug and kiss you. And wants a big doll that will cry and sleep. Francis is in the first grade and six and a half years old. And wants a big doll that has hair, eyes and sleeps and a little trunk full of clothes.

Met three little friends on the street and their names are Herbert Gallegos, ten years old, John Trujillo, age nine, and Charlie Trujillo, eight. Herbert wants a 22 Target. Charlie and John both want a B-B gun. Sharon Hill is a newcomer to Ruidoso. She is 1 1/2 years old and can't talk. But I know she is looking for a doll and some small toys her size. Marsha Horton, two years old, is a nice girl and wants a book, a doll, pencil and ball. She remembered to add a tricycle and red wagon.

Ronnie Taylor, also almost four years old, is going to have a big Christmas Tree by the stove and he wants all the presents put on the tree. Big choo-choo train that you wind up. And run on a track. A dirt truck that will haul dirt. Allen Agel, seven years old lives at Midway County and moved to Ruidoso about four months ago from Baytown, Texas. He is in the second grade at school and would like for Santa to bring him some additions to his electric train equipment such as a transformer with a whistle control. And some games. He decided not to have Santa bring his sled and skis until next week.

Wait. Just received another letter in Deced and John Cree Palmer wrote to say. She wants a wrist watch. And he wants a gun, cowboy hat and a box of candy. And they have a car good and send you their love. Time is getting short. And I will have time for one more report next week. So I will really be working. Your Helper.

Now Santa Claus. I want you to know that Lincoln County and Mescalero Indian Reservation have some very good boys and girls living in every part of the county. They are trying hard to be good. They help their mother's and father's with the chores around the home and understand they eat all their food each meal. As Santa's helper I recommend all these boys and girls to you as deserving and worthy of the gifts they ask for.

The children I interviewed for you this week included: Lea Marie La Rose of Mescalero. She tells me she has been a good little girl and wants you to bring her a doll and Indian bracelet. Lea Marie is eight years old and in the second grade. Now Santa. Get this straight. Frank Patterson does not live in Roswell. He has moved to Ruidoso and lives in upper Ruidoso. He is four years old and wants a tractor truck and tractor.

Today a couple of letters were received from over the county. One from Dixie and Kayo Dockery of Lincoln. Dixie said "I have lost my teddy bear, and please Santa, bring me another one". Kayo, her brother, is asking for a cowboy suit. You children be real good because Santa is planning to stop in your town. Another letter from La Richey and Cheryl Carro of Hollywood. La Richey writes she would be so happy if she could have a "tiny tear doll" with real hair that comes in a doll suitcase, some lipons and an umbrella. Her little sister Cheryl would like to receive from old Santa a "tiny tear doll", but without real hair. Some lipons and a little car. And if it isn't asking for too much. A pair of cowboy boots.

Pohanna Beavers four years old down at Green Tree, is looking for old Santa and she wants him to bring her a doll and doll bed. Her sister Judy, nine years old, and in school, wants most of all a bicycle.

Veterans News

Veterans Administration cautions veterans buying homes to be sure they fully understand any contract or document they are asked to sign, before they risk a deposit or down payment on a house.

Inquiries to VA from veterans indicate they have experienced a variety of difficulties in attempting to buy homes with the aid of VA guaranteed loans. In most cases, VA said, the difficulty arose from the veterans' failure to read and understand the sale contracts and other papers which they signed.

Most complaints center upon documents which veterans find later are only reservations to purchase, and not firm sale contracts or upon "escalator" and "hospitality" clauses included in sales agreements.

While there is nothing illegal in the action of the seller, VA explained, complaining veterans are convinced they have been cheated, and have requested VA to protect them.

Actually, there is little VA can do once a veteran has entered into an agreement with a seller. A contract or sales agreement is a private matter over which VA has no control. Consequently, VA repeatedly has urged veterans to be careful, and get all questions fully and clearly answered by the selling agency or other qualified counsel before signing such agreements.

The first "professionally accepted" facsimiles of X-ray films to be used in the treatment of sick and disabled veterans are being reproduced by VA through a new mass production program.

This will enable VA to speed examination and treatment of a veteran while his claim is being considered, and original films will be protected against loss or damage through handling and transportation.

Veterans Administration today again warned veterans, builders and lenders against the consequences of making or accepting so-called "side payments" in the sale of home properties to veterans with the aid of GI loans.

VA said such side-payments—usually made for the purpose of avoiding the prohibition against sales to veterans in excess of appraised "reasonable value"—are direct violation of law and subject offenders to possible Federal prosecution.

In spite of repeated warnings, VA said cases continue to come to light wherein veterans have been induced to pay the builder or seller an amount over and above the sales price shown on the loan report submitted to VA, and upon which the Government loan guarantee is based.

Veterans who knowingly conspire to evade the law by making such side payments risk loss of their rights under all veterans' laws, VA warned. In addition, all parties involved are liable to prosecution under Federal law.

VA said that any lender who submits a loan to VA for guaranty while possessing knowledge of a side payment in connection with the sale—even though the payment was made to a third party other than the lender—may be suspended from further participation in the GI loan program. Also, the VA guaranty issued in connection with the transaction may be invalidated.

In cases where there is any reason for doubt, VA suggested that lenders obtain a signed statement from the veteran-purchaser that he is making no payment to anyone in excess of the disclosed purchase price.

VA said veterans should remember that the provision of the GI bill, stipulating that the selling price to the veteran may not exceed the appraised reasonable value, was placed in the law for their own protection against overpriced properties.

A veteran who seeks to circumvent this provision by making an illegal side payment is only working against his own best interests, VA added.

The Annual Silver Tea and Bazaar put on by the Capitan Woman's Club Saturday was quite a success. The City Hall was beautifully decorated with pine greenery and the tea table covered with a white cloth with a center piece of old Santa and his reindeer surrounded with juniper greens and set with crystal candlesticks with red tapers was one of the prettiest tea tables I have seen. The bazaar was held in the Fire Department. This room was also decorated with greens and Xmas trees. One tree was very decorative in its dress of bright colored pot holders, donated by different members. The affair netted approximately $95.00. The submarine coffee maker will not be given away until the night of the Community tree which is to be the 21st.

The Fire Truck made a run out to the Murray place this morning where the little house of Arthur Pepper was afire. Reports are that not too much damage was done to the house, however, Mr. Pepper received several burns on his face and hands.

ORIGIN OF PAWNBROKER'S SYMBOL, BAGS OF GOLD
 St. Nicholas, who one day was to be known as Santa Claus, is often pictured with the three bags of gold. But with the passage of time the bags took on the shape of three balls.

This happened because the merchants accepted him as the watch and ward over all their worldly goods, and finally, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, the three golden bags became the sign of the pawnbroker.

The explanation is simple enough for they figured that a man's goods are safe under the sign of St. Nicholas.

This new Green Tree reporter arrived at the barber shop for the first stop and it sounded like Ananias Club No. 2 to me.

Jack Edwards, H. M. Reddy, and Lloyd Bloodworth were really on the job. Mr. Reddy was getting his last hair cut for this year. Jim Hale came in up to something, but wouldn't tell me what, but a visit to the barber shop makes me wonder. Walter Chico of Mesalero was there too.

Homer Hastings has been ill and confined to his home for a week.

Mr. Reddy told me he could never find out any news because he only travels between the post office, dish pan, washing machine, and wood pile. Also heard that they are putting a roof on the House that Jack Built in Green Tree.

Alfred Hale was seen in town. Mrs. Wade King of Oklahoma is visiting her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Beavers for ten days. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fuchs arrived home last week after visiting a couple of weeks in Artesia and Oil Center, N. M.

The George Fuchs family is happy to be in their new home across from the high school. Mrs. Mack Pior and Mrs. S. W. Stout have been to El Paso on business. Dee Langford was in Stout's store and he knew a lot but wasn't talking. Tommy and Jerry Garaway were at home Friday with a little tummyache.

The partner of Mrs. S. W. Stout at Stout's Grocery sold all the Christmas trees before one could even be picked out for the store. So Mr. Stout, look out.

Mrs. Ola Jones from down the valley was in Green Tree at Jerry's Beauty Shop Friday.

Mr. Lem Coltharp was very busy at the leather shop, but don't know whether it was business or monkey business. He said "I'm working to make a small living for a large family."

Assistants to the reporter in Green Tree will be Mrs. Stout, Jerry Oravets, Mrs. L. R. Long and Louis Smith and Mr. George Fuchs, and others. With all this help this should really be a good coverage of Green Tree happenings.

Scout Drive Raises Over $350 Here

Nolan Hart, chairman of the Boy Scout campaign recently put on in Ruidoso announced Thursday that up to the present time about $350.00 had been raised. A number of people wore out of the city when the drive was made and it is hoped that their contributions will boost the amount to over $400.00.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunter have left Ruidoso for the winter. They will be in Shreveport, Louisiana.

"Red Ryder" Helps Soil Conservation Work Over U. S.

Pagosa Springs, Colo.—Red Ryder, the famous comic strip hero known to around 80 million readers throughout the country, has become a soil conservationist.

Ryder, in his newest adventure series which started in many newspapers in late November, will assist in the rebuilding of a run-down western ranch through the use of soil and water conservation practices.

The famous comic-strip which is the creation of the colorful Fred Harman of Pagosa Springs, also will feature Ryder's well-known friends, Little Beaver, Eusie Jo and the Duchess. The newest adventure of Red Ryder will run for around three months, Harman reports.

Harman, who has supported many worthy causes in his long career as an artist, became interested in the soil conservation program last fall. After conferences with leading soil conservationists, Harman decided to have Red Ryder take the conservation message to his many readers, at least half of whom are adults.

Since he started developing his new adventure series, Harman has become so enthusiastic about soil conservation that he has applied to the San Juan Conservation District for assistance in applying a complete conservation program on his own ranch near Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

Mr. J. Y. Surginer of Crosby, Texas, has sold his business in that city and is moving to Ruidoso to join his wife and daughter who have lived here for some time. He owned and operated the Panhandle Oil and Gas Co. in the Texas town. He has been visiting in Ruidoso for a month and returned to Crosby last week to finish up his business there.

The Capitan Tigers did not fare so well Saturday night in their game with Dexter. They held their own until after the half when Dexter seemed to take on new life and rather romped on our team. The "B" string did better, they won by a close margin of 33-31. The Tigers will go to Magdalena Friday night and then will meet the NMMI here Saturday night.

CHRISTMAS NEST OF BOXES IS CUSTOM IN SOME PLACES

In Sweden as in Pomerania and other parts of Germany it is the custom to enclose the Christmas gift of a ring or other small jewelry in a tiny box. This tiny box is wrapped carefully and packed into a larger one. The process is repeated until finally the gift reposes deep within a series of boxes.

According to the Jewelry Industry Council, this is termed the Yule Klapp and great is the merriment on Christmas Day when the lucky recipient goes through the ceremony of unpacking until at last the original tiny box is opened to disclose the gift.

Mrs. J. L. Black has gone to spend a few days in El Paso visiting friends and shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft and Grace Murphy spent two days in El Paso visiting Santa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Earl and children had turkey dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Gunn on the Ruidoso Sunday and Mr. Earl also brought back one of Mr. Gunn's horses to be used while at the ranger station.

The M. Y. F. class is putting on the "Nativity Story" for their church on Sunday night.

The Village is at last the proud possessor of a set of New Mexico Statutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Flately were in from their ranch this morning with a load of wood. If you are in need of stove wood Ross has the best.

The churches of Capitan have voted to fall in with the idea of Christmas evening spent in Carrizozo, etc., at the Fort Stanton hospital. If each one will bring their cookies and candy donations to the City Hall I will be glad to see that they get to the port in time for sacking. The evening is to be the 22nd.

Several from here attended the funeral of Al Pfingsten at Angus Friday. Mr. Pfingsten being an old timer around here was greatly loved and will be missed in and around Capitan.

The Capitan Tigers did not fare so well Saturday night in their game with Dexter. They held their own until after the half when Dexter seemed to take on new life and rather romped on our team. The "B" string did better, they won by a close margin of 33-31. The Tigers will go to Magdalena Friday night and then will meet the NMMI here Saturday night.

What to Do in Case of Atomic Attack

Atomic Weapons Will Not Destroy the Earth
Atomic bombs hold more death and destruction than man ever before has wrapped up in a single package, but their over-all power still has very definite limits. Not even hydrogen bombs will blow the earth apart or kill us all by radioactivity.

Doubling Bomb Power Does Not Double Destruction
Modern A-bombs can cause heavy damage 2 miles away, but doubling their power would extend that range only to 2 1/2 miles. To stretch the damage range from 2 to 4 miles would require weapon more than 8 times the rated power of present models.

Radioactivity is Not the Bomb's Greatest Threat
In most atom raids, blast and heat are by far the greatest dangers that people must face. Radioactivity alone would account for only a small percentage of all human deaths and injuries in underground or underwater explosions.

Radiation Sickness is Not Always Fatal
In small amounts, radioactivity seldom is harmful. Even when serious radiation sickness follows a heavy dosage, there is still a good chance for recovery.

SIX SURVIVAL SECRETS FOR ATOMIC ATTACKS

- ALWAYS Put First Things First and NEVER Lose Your Head and
- 1. Try to Get Sheltered
If you have time, get down in a basement or subway. Should you unexpectedly be caught out of doors, seek shelter alongside a building, or jump in any handy ditch or gutter.
 - 2. Drop Flat on Ground or Floor
To keep from being tossed about and to lessen the chances of being struck by falling and flying objects, flatten out at the base of a wall, or at the bottom of a bank.
 - 3. Bury Your Face in Your Arms
When you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.
 - 4. Don't Rush Outside Right After a Bombing
After an air burst, wait a few minutes then go help to fight fires. After other kinds of bursts wait at least 1 hour to give lingering radiation some chance to die down.
 - 5. Don't Take Chances with Food or Water in Open Containers
To prevent radioactive poisoning or disease, select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe they may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.
 - 6. Don't Start Rumors
In the confusion that follows a bombing, a single rumor might touch off a panic that could cost your life.

FIVE KEYS TO HOUSEHOLD SAFETY

- 1. Strive for "Fireproof Housekeeping"
Don't let trash pile up, and keep waste paper in covered containers. When an alert sounds, do all you can to eliminate sparks by shutting off the oil burner and covering all open flames.
- 2. Know Your Own Home
Know which is the safest part of your cellar, learn how to turn off your oil burner and what to do about utilities.
- 3. Have Emergency Equipment and Supplies Handy
Always have a good flashlight, a radio, first-aid equipment and a supply of canned goods in the house.
- 4. Close All Windows and Doors and Draw the Blinds
If you have time when an alert sounds, close the house up tight in order to keep out fire sparks and radioactive dusts and to lessen the chances of being cut by flying glass. Keep the house closed until all danger is past.
- 5. Use the Telephone Only for True Emergencies
Do not use the phone unless absolutely necessary. Leave the lines open for real emergency traffic.

50th Anniversary Bert Bonnell's

house they built for their own. Bert was born the oldest son, Frank.
They they moved up the river a piece to La Questa (now known as the S or Storm Brothers Ranch) and here they raised fine angora goats and grazed cattle and did a little farming too. This was the birthplace of Ralph Bonnell, the son who has stayed home to carry on the ranching tradition of the family.
Bert and Sydney with Frank and Ralph left the Ruidoso then to go to Prescott, Arizona. While there Bert worked in the mercantile business in a general store until he went into civil service and was sent to Montana. There he was superintendent on the Crow Indian Reservation.
Both Bert and Sydney got to longing for the Ruidoso . . . and came back "home". For one year they were on Coo Ranch and then bought what is now the Bonnell Ranch from Mr. Pool in 1916. Sydney says "that's when we started playing host to those from near and far and started adding on to the house . . . and kept on until it grew from necessity to the size it is today." By 1924 they were a well known "Buddie Ranch" having guests from all over the country return summer after summer to their place on the Ruidoso. Until 1941 it was operated with the help of son, Ralph but the war made it impossible to continue. Even though it is no longer a business with the Bonnell's, people keep coming back who were there many years ago . . . and they are never turned away. The latch string is always out to those who come to stay . . . or to those who just pass that way.
Beside having a reputation for unusual hospitality the Bonnell Ranch has fine registered Hereford cattle, some of the finest pear and apple orchards in the valley, for the river runs through their land clear and cold, and the soil is rich, and the grazing land surrounding is good.

The Bert Bonnell's have a fine family to be proud of. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell and sons, David and Harvey live on the home place with Ralph in charge of operations. Frank and his family live in Phoenix, Arizona and he is an engineer. Mildred is now Mrs. Marshall Sellman of the famous Sellman Ranch in Watrous, N. M.
Eight grandchildren include Dave and Harvey Bonnell, Mrs. Morris McClendon of Glencoe, Mrs. Kenneth Nooker of Glencoe, Ralph's children; Louise, Tommy and Mary Ann Sellman, Mildred's children; and John, Frank's son.
There are two great grandchildren, Dennis Nooker and Linda Carol McClendon.
The thought uppermost in the minds of their friends on December 18th will be "It is an honor and a pleasure to help you, Bert and Sydney, celebrate your Golden Wedding Anniversary. Fifty years of marriage and family life are a fine lifetime achievement. Don Hart came in from a trip to Lubbock last Sunday night with a new Ford, twelve quail for any couple."

MESCALERO

(Evelyn Pellman)

In connection with a survey being made by the Office of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., Mr. Jim Huffman, Bureau of the Budget, and Mr. Frank Conroy, General Accounting Office, visited the Agency Friday of last week.

Mr. Hal D. Yoder, former Farm Management Supervisor at Mescalero, visited here on Sunday. Mr. Yoder is now residing at Roswell, N. M.

Mescalero Christmas trees has been making the news quite a bit lately. Victor Randall has been seen hauling several loads of trees to El Paso. Also, Mr. Mielletes (Sardin) has put his knowledge of Spanish into good use since we've had quite a few customers from Mexico, including Juarez.

Ignatius Hubbard, 21, has been taken to El Paso. It has been reported that he was run over by a car in Rularosa on Friday night, breaking both of his legs.

Mr. Clarence R. Conroy, Tribal Accountant, won a $18 sweater at Brunels in Alamogordo. The prize was made at the Trade Drawing through the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Kiss Whitebird and Ophelia Enjaly were married at Ruidoso, N. M., on November 21.

Mrs. Alice Chimal reports that her son, Herman Carrillo, will probably not be home for Christmas since he is being sent to California for nine weeks training. Herman is now stationed at Litchfield, Phoenix, Arizona.

LINCOLN

(By Mrs. Jeff Dockray)

Mrs. Lloyd Hubbert, guest of Mrs. Red Ramey, became ill Friday morning. In return she was taken to the hospital in Carrizozo. At this writing she is improved. However, I still contend that this was a bad way for her to spend a vacation. Sorry.

Friends and family of Albert Pfingsten, gathered at Angus Friday at 2:30 pm to lay him to rest among the beautiful pines and rustling mountain breezes. Everyone's heart grows heavy when it becomes necessary to part with one of our long time friends and neighbors. Mr. Pfingsten was a "good man" and "good citizen" a "good neighbor" and a "good father" and greatly admired by all who knew him. Our greatest sympathy to those surviving.

Ruth Penfield came up from El Paso for the last week end. "There's no place like home".

Our school was dismissed Friday at noon in due respect to Mr. Pfingsten.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles of The Tradition Post have had as their guests, Mrs. Giles' niece and two small daughters.

Mrs. Annie Ramey motored to Ruidoso Friday for an overnight visit with Mildred Ramey and children.

The Ralph Gameros family are very worried about their son, Mike. Mike was sent to Korea some time ago. It has been quite a while since the family has heard from him. Regardless of persons, homes or otherwise we all realize that this situation is close to all of us. Speaking of "bitter regrets" we hope we don't see too many of them.

Four Seamen Complete Training

Four Ruidoso area seamen apprentices recently completed re-entrant training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., and are now available for assignment to a Fleet unit or to one of the Navy's schools for specialized training.

The men are: James Veil and John Howard Veaster, USN, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Veaster of Ruidoso; Don Wesley Alexander, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Alexander of Box 84, Green Tree, and Wallace D. Whitely, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Whitely of Hollywood.

During this period of training they underwent intensive drill in such subjects as signaling, navigation, basic ordnance and seamanship. They also were indoctrinated into the ways of the Navy and learned the customs of the service.

TRAPPING SEASONS

The regular fur bearer trapping season is open now and the mink-trapping season opens January 15 and runs until February 28. There is no open trapping season for mink and beaver may be trapped only if they are causing damage to property and a permit is obtained from the Department of Game and Fish for their removal.

Yes, Mr. Boodworth said "Put a Lincoln County man on the Highway Commission". We would certainly like to have the road from Ruidoso to Capitlan paved. Each election year we hear "yap-yap" we'll pave this road. After election we still travel over this bumpy narrow and dangerous road. The one's who say "yap-yap" evade this road. Why, because it's too rough to travel. We've heard it all "Before and after election".

Again I ask the people of Lincoln to tell me the news. I rack my brains what few there is for news. Then if I fail to send in a column or fail to mention something, I hear the everlasting eternal little three letter word "Why?".

By Thomas J. Mabry GOVERNOR

"Prejudices are rarely overcome by argument; not being founded in reason they cannot be destroyed by logic."—Tryon Edwards.

A friend writes from a nearby county that a relative was dismissed last year from her teaching job and wants to know why I allowed it. Of course, this person writing me did not know that the Governor has no control over such local, municipal or county school matters.

Local authorities run local schools, except the teacher has the right of appeal. There may have been other and better reasons for the teacher's discharge than the writer gives. Local politics and even religious differences, do enter our local school administration occasionally, but I have heard very little complaint on this score since I have been Governor.

This question from my friend provokes a statement from me about the easy it is to mislead one where authority and responsibility in government lies. The Governor, for example, has direct control and supervision only over the bureau set up by law under his direction, and these are few, compared with the elective officers over whom the Governor has no control and who are responsible only to the people for their official behavior.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Treasurer, the State Auditor, the State Corporation Commission, the Commissioner of Public Lands, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General, and all county and city officials, for example, all operate entirely independent of the Governor. And many of these have rather complex and heavily organized staffs to take care of official business.

Do believe, however, that we will find a great improvement in the operation of our common schools if we could go along with the fine and impartial educational survey completed last year and adopt most of the reforms there proposed. I see the Education Association of the state has recently endorsed the reforms, also, and both political parties have gone on record in favoring them.

Interest in schools in our state has never been keener. The taxpayer has never been reluctant to give the school programs the full support and it has been costly. We will have made further progress when we have divorced schools more completely from politics in following the recommendations of the Education Association and the platform pledges of both major political parties.

But, as we study these programs and strive to find the best answer it must be said that no particular formula will give us the efficient and economical government that an alert and patriotic citizenry can provide, if the office elective or appointive.

There is no disputing the fact that all the free world today is in a state of uncertainty and frustration onriffs us wherever men—hoping and working for peace—turn out of it all comes the bright picture of more unity, less partisanship and more dependence on our experts in the military and diplomatic fields. Let's hope and pray that a solution will be found, and in the meantime we civilians at home must prepare for our own defense.

Civilian defense against disasters of all kinds is one of the most important problems facing our state today. We were caught short in World War I; we were caught short at Pearl Harbor and we were again caught short in Korea. We must not be found unprepared in case of another worldwide catastrophe.

New Mexico's planning for civilian defense is progressing. At the present time most of the larger cities have completed a civilian defense organization. While the state civilian defense council and the civilian defense director are co-ordinating all work done by local organizations in the state, it is in the final analysis up to the local communities to perfect their own civilian defense plans; at least that is what we have been told by Washington up to this time. I am in hopes that Congress will give us more aid, particularly in the strategic spots like one or two we have here in New Mexico.

We hope that war is not just around the corner. We are merely buying insurance which we hope we will not have to use, but if we are ever called upon to live shield disaster strikes our state.

I have been very gratified with the cooperation New Mexico has received from many organizations and groups, as well as from town and city councils, The Boy Scouts of America, the Girl Scouts of America, the United Laborers, the Medical Association, the Hospital Association, the American Legion and other organizations. We have come forward and offered the state their facilities and their cooperation in setting up a civilian defense program.

The Board of Finance has advanced sufficient funds to staff the headquarters of the State Director of Civilian Defense. The Board has also advanced funds to the New Mexico Western College at Silver City to conduct a state-wide program for training fire fighters. There will be one of six chiet hazards in case of emergency.

The next legislature will be called upon to provide funds for civilian defense activities and I hope adequate funds are made available.

The American Red Cross has offered its state-wide services to all individuals who desire to take first aid training courses. It has also volunteered its services as a training student nurse. Every adult in New Mexico should be trained to give first aid. Such training should be obtained even though there was no possibility of any general disaster.

If there is any community in New Mexico that desires to set up a civilian defense program and has not yet done so, the state office of civilian defense. Headed by Brigadier General Charles G. Sage, the Adjutant General, and his assistant, Major Edward Oakley, will be happy to provide all possible help.

"Our problem is within ourselves. We have found the means to blow the world physically apart. Spiritually, we have yet to find the world's broken pieces."—Thomas E. Dewey.

As my four years as Governor of the State of New Mexico draw to a close, I would like to briefly account some of the accomplishments of my administration.

It has been my purpose during this entire four year period, to give New Mexico the best type of government of which I was capable. I wanted to operate all departments of government for which I am responsible on an efficient basis and yet to operate them as economically as possible.

I believe the taxpayer's dollar should be spent just the same as though the spender was using his own funds. That is, I wanted to get full value received for every penny.

In checking the record, I believe we have made an excellent showing. Much of the credit, of course, goes to the heads of the various state departments and the state employees who have given loyal and valuable service.

All departments of state government have been operated on a cash basis. The years immediately preceding the close of World War II presented many problems, especially in the educational field, which we had to meet and solve.

I am happy to say that I kept my pledge that every citizen of New Mexico who wanted to attend an institution of higher learning would have a seat in the classroom and a roof over his head. It took many hundreds of thousands of dollars to care for the veterans program, but we fulfilled our pledge.

We also, through our welfare program, cared for the increasing needs of the sick and aged of this state and for the blind and dependent children. The number of people receiving old age assistance increased 100 per cent under my administration. We were able to meet their pressing needs—al though it was necessary to add an additional 1c per pack to the cigarette tax. This incidentally was the only increase in tax levied except the general sales tax which was made under my four years in office.

We were also able to grant our Department of Public Health, which is doing a commendable job, an increase of nearly 300 per cent in its budget without levying any new form of taxes.

School teachers' salaries were raised from an average of $2,800 to $3,400 during this period and we made this increase without any new taxes or without increasing any of the tax rates.

It is interesting now to look back on these four years and to know that so many increased demands on our finances were met out of current income and that at the same time we preserved the balance which had been built up in our state general fund for post-war purposes, much of which is now being used for the building of our new state capitol. And this is being built, as you know, without issuing any bonds or the levying of any additional taxes.

THE BOUNTY QUESTION
"The Department of Game and Fish is still receiving pelts and scalps of predatory animals in the mail accompanied by requests for bounty fees", Assistant State Game Warden Homer Pickens said today.

"The Department has not paid a bounty on any predator since the war", he added "and at the present time no organization in the state is paying a bounty on any predator." Pickens' statement resulted from the numbers of bounty requests mailed to the Department and also from many questions about payments made lately by sportsmen. Predators may be shot or trapped by anyone but there is no bounty paid for them.

that Paul Grafo, prominent contractor and breeder, owner of Perndale Farms, north of San Diego, California, had the day before, taken the Hepler prize mare, Confirmation, via luxury van, to the California breeding farm, to be mated with Joe Barrett, famous quarterhorse stallion. Confirmation, a sister of Little Joe, Jr., well known in this section, won the recent grand champion in the Eagle Pass, Texas quarter horse show, judged on speed and conformation. Little Joe, Jr., in the same show, won first place in the stallion class. Going from the Pinon farm last week to Bill Poage, La Grange, Wyoming breeder, were six of the Hepler strain, including two fillies at $1500 each. At the same time, Hepler made a present of a fine young filly to Bill Coy, of Torrington, Wyo., race horse owner, breeder and rancher. Coy, showing Viv, a mare raised at the Hepler farm, won six trophies on this mare at the Denver quarter horse show last year. Viv is a daughter of Little Joe the Wrangler, even on the local turf on a number of occasions before and during the war.

GREEN TREE XMAS PARTY
Green Tree Ladies Civic Club will have a Community Christmas Tree for all children in the Stetson School District of school and pre-school age Saturday, December 23rd at 6 pm by the fire station. It will be held outdoors if the weather is nice and in the fire station if necessary. There will be a community singing and Santa Claus will have treats for the children.

Hens usually lay 20 to 25 percent more eggs in their first year than in their second year. Pullets lay more eggs than hens during the fall months when egg prices are best.

Karen Elizabeth Baker was born November 22nd, 1950 and weighed eight pounds. She is the daughter of Meek and Beverly Baker in Las-Cruces, N. M., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Riche of Ruidoso. They all came home Sunday night.
