WIT & WISDOM
—By Vix—

We ought to charge "Coke" Hedgecoke double rates for this notice—it should go in the want-ads, but it's too dern funny for that. Seems he loaned somebody his wheelbarrow last year, and now can't remember who borrowed it so he can go get it back. He says he needs it, and if the borrower reads this, please return it. It's one cup of coffee for this notice, Coke; two if the barrow is returned.

Funniest anecdote I believe my father, an itinerant journalist in his later years, ever told was the one about the monkey that escaped from a carnival and lived the life of Riley in the swamps and woods of tropical Florida. My dad said that many a man who was quite a drinker swore off tippling when he saw that monkey come riding out of the swamps on the back of some wild razor back hog. Hogs rooted around the swamps for acorns and what not to eat, and the monkey learned it was fun to stage a one-monkey rodeo by dropping off a tree branch on the back of an old wart-snouted razorback hog. The monkey would squeal, the razorback would squeal even louder, and whoever saw the performance was ready to sign the pledge, not believing he saw what he saw.

Walt Crosby expressed a truth along the lines of some of Will Rogers' best the other day in talking about golfing with youngsters. "Those kids are mighty hard to beat, for they all tackle the game just like they knew for sure they can wham that golf ball off the tee and lay it right up on the green EVERY time. That's youth's viewpoint in sports. An old duffer like me, who has hooked and sliced plenty, KNOWS he can't every time, and has that doubt as a handicap. The kids don't doubt, they KNOW they can do it. It takes years of playing to learn maybe you can't."

Lorene Larson ran the city's weather bureau for us when Charlie Culver took off for a respite in El Paso the other week. While she was in charge of the weather, it was the nicest we ever had—lovely springtime weather. Just as soon as Charlie came back and took over again, the weather went haywire as heck. Charlie has never had as fine a record as Lorene arranged for us. He came up with an inch of snow one day this week—and you know it's not supposed to snow in the last ten days of April. We think Lorene ought to run our weather after that experience.

On a quick jaunt around Lincoln county this week, we asked some questions here and there about politics. We were amused to hear two women 'way down the valley say "Looks like Truman Spencer just doesn't care whether he gets the nomination for Senator from our county or not. He's not working at it. He's got enough money and doesn't need the job. Dan is sure working hard at getting the nomination—and working hard for Frazier. We wish he'd work for himself and leave Frazier's race alone." Kinda like "Speak for yourself, John Alden," hey?

L. Kinard and Vic Lamb, editors of the two Lincoln county papers, have dared one another to put this in their respective papers: "Of the sheriff candidates in the running in Lincoln county, why was it two of them had their political cards printed outside the county, one in Illinois—when prices in Lincoln are in line, if not lower, than in Lincoln county?"

That's a cup of coffee you owe us, Kinard.

One of our readers wrote this piece for our paper this week:

"Did you ever have a little dog bounce about the house and look at you with loving affection, watch him play hour after hour with your child; then suddenly find that dog torn with pain from strychnine or ground glass that some inhuman person threw to him? Rigid in a living rigor mortis as the poison ate away the walls of its inside—then listen to the child sob himself to sleep night after night trying to conceive the why? Which is to be pitied—the dead dog, the child or the poor, heartless individual incapable of love?"

Richard Jolsanny, Sr., Mescalero, was a patient in the Gerald Champion Memorial hospital in Alamogordo last week.

This year the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are sending six youngsters, three boys and three girls, including another Lincoln county boy from Ft. Stanton, Joe Don Womack.

The Ruidosoans reported that the New Mexico I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs gave an iron lung, which was presented to the new Bataan Memorial hospital during its dedication last Sunday at Albuquerque.

Eagle High school, which is the setting of the play, is suffering from the presence of ghosts and other strange phenomena. But the spunky students of Eagle go all out in their search for the killers, and, of course, they emerge victorious.

Fire Damages Western Cafe

Fire, believed to have originated from a cigaret tossed into a waste basket from an ash tray still burning, did $700 in damage to Buster Driver's Western cafe here about midnight Saturday. Smoke and water damage was suffered in some of the cafe's fixtures and stock, Driver said.

Firemen responded immediately to the alarm and extinguished the blaze before it threatened nearby stores and buildings.

The cafe was to be re-opened to the public Saturday this week after repairs and redecorating were done. Insurance covered most of the loss.

Funeral Services Held Friday For Sam Randall

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church in Mescalero last Friday for Sam Randall, who passed away last Wednesday, April 16, at his home in Carrizo.

With the passing of Randall, the Mescalero Apaches lose another leader of the group of "born dancers," whose numbers are becoming fewer year After year.

Mr. Randall was 72 years of age. He died after a long illness.

He was well known in the region, having taken a very active part in the reservation's annual July 4th celebration and in the annual Carrizo rodeo where his group of dancers were usually the highlight attraction.

Members of the family expressed thanks to all who brought flowers and attended the service.

If you are not included in the business directory, your firm is losing money!

The organization's fiscal year ends June 31, and a new slate of officers and an annual banquet program is scheduled for June, to be followed by a community-wide membership drive.

R. J. Hawk, membership committee chairman, has suggested a slogan for the membership drive should be "Cities do not grow—they are built."

Other business heard in the directors' session was a report on progress of a motion picture advertising Ruidoso, being made in color by a national screen advertising agency. It may be available for use in the Southwest some time this summer, it was reported.

Many of the sessions she attended were in the form of round-table discussions, in which local situations were discussed.

Burrow-Campbell Marriage Is Solemnized in Delaware

MR. AND MRS. CAMPBELL

Vows were exchanged by Billie Burrow and Kenneth W. Campbell in a ceremony held at 2 p. m., March 1, in the Red Clay Creek Presbyterian church of Wilmington, Delaware. Reverend George Jamison officiated in the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burrow of Ruidoso. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell of 2505 Belford Drive, Wilmington, Del.

Nuptial music was furnished by an organ.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar. Her gown was of white French cantilly lace, posed over white nylon net, and featured an off-shoulder bodice embroidered with seed pearls surrounding the neck and sleeves, and a ballet length bouffant skirt. She wore long lace gloves, and the veil, a cathedral effect, was French chantilly lace and lily of the valley with shoulder length illusion. The beautiful veil was a gift from Miss E. M. Day, fashion advisor of the Popular Dry Goods company of El Paso.

The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, surrounded by lillies, carried on a small white Bible.

John Paul McLaughlin, a lifelong friend of the groom, was best man.

The maid of honor, Johnny West of Abilene, Tex., wore a pink chantilly lace ballet length gown with a white orchid corsage.

The bride's mother chose an embroidered aqua satin afternoon dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The groom's mother chose a burgundy taffeta afternoon dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The reception was held at the Royal Oaks hotel, immediately following the wedding. One hundred guests were served a buffet style dinner. Music for dancing was furnished by Chuck Grey's orchestra.

The bride's going-away suit was navy and white with a navy duster, worn with a navy and white hat, bag and slippers.

After a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, Strickland's Resort, Pennsylvania, the couple is at home in Wilmington, Del.

BOND OF $5,000 IS SET IN TINNIE MURDER CASE

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Horton, 29-year-old resident of Tinnie, N. M., who said in a signed statement to state police officers that she killed her husband, Manuel, 51, soon after they returned from a dance at San Patricio in the early hours of Sunday morning, was still in Lincoln county jail in Carrizozo early Thursday morning. Bond of $5,000, set following a preliminary hearing at Carrizozo Monday, had not been made by the woman, who is the mother of two daughters.

State police, who investigated the slaying Sunday, reported that the husband died when six bullets from a .22 calibre pistol tore into his body.

Neighbors of the couple, who live in a small two-roomed house just east of Tinnie Mercantile, said Mrs. Horton fired the shots when her husband threatened to harm her, and that "he kept coming after her even though she shot him in the leg first just to stop his advance."

The pair had danced the night before at a bar in San Patricio.

State Police Capt. E. A. Tafoya and Patrolman A. B. Munsey conducted an investigation which led Mrs. Horton to make a statement admitting the shooting, Tafoya said.

The captain quoted Mrs. Horton as saying the couple had argued bitterly on previous dates. In October, 1951, she considered leaving her husband and at one time had him placed under a peace bond. At that time she purchased the murder weapon, a .22 revolver, she told officers.

At the height of the argument Sunday morning she took the revolver from a closet, she told Tafoya. She first attempted to scare him but he continued to abuse her, she said, and she opened fire.

Tafoya said Horton was hit in the chest, stomach, right arm and right leg.

Red Cross Drive To Be Outlined In Meeting

Members of the American Red Cross central committee, set up for the annual roll call for this area, are to meet Friday, May 2, to plan an overall campaign to secure donations to the national organization of mercy here May 5 through 9.

H. M. Graham, general chairman, says Joe McLaurin will head the membership drive. Assisting in advertising and publicity will be Tom Jones, representing the Rotary club, and Vic Lamb, George Fuchs, who with the others, is from the Lions club, will have a part in the area drive. Members of other organizations will be called upon to aid in the fund raising campaign.

Graham said this week people of the area should consider the magnitude of the work now being done by the American Red Cross. "Its disaster fund is already taxed to the hilt with the recent tornado catastrophies in several southern states, and also, the Red Cross is being called on heavily to assist servicemen and their families in several ways in the current Korean police action."

Graham urges local residents to dig deep when they give to the 1952 Red Cross roll call.

Failure to Support C. of C. Like Cancelling Insurance, One Member Here Declares

(Editor's Note: This is the first of six articles about Ruidoso's Chamber of Commerce and the need for retailers and others to support it with memberships. Identity of this writer is kept secret, as will be the authors of the other five articles to follow. At the conclusion of the series, names of those writing the half-dozen short essays will be revealed. (By Anonymous No. 1)

We, the citizens of Ruidoso love our community.

By our continual boosting and publicizing of Ruidoso, we have progressed, grown and developed until today we enjoy the reputation of being the most popular resort of New Mexico and the largest mountain playground in the world. We do not stand alone in our opinion either, for the thousands of tourists and vacationists who journey to Ruidoso each year, become boosters themselves and after returning to their homes all over the Southwest, tell the glad tidings to their friends who become boosters also.

The phenomenal advancement in the popularity of Ruidoso is due to a large extent to our Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce which has consistently presented before the public an accurate account of business opportunities and recreational facilities for the benefit of the tourist as well as the potential resident of the community.

We know of other communities in New Mexico which have much less to offer in the way of facilities, accommodations and scenic attractions, yet continue to advance on the strength of their organized and well-supported Chamber of Commerce. This year, we may well expect the biggest and best tourist business in the history of Ruidoso. This is a challenge to our advancement in the future. As a progressive community it is therefore imperative that we make the most of our advantages by the strength of a combined effort and unanimous support of our Chamber of Commerce.

Pleasant memories which we plant in the minds of our guests this season will act as seeds, the fruit of which we will harvest in years to come. Our Chamber of Commerce has proven to us from its activities in the past, it is both qualified and capable of meeting any challenge which the future may bring, and we are obligated to this organization for the success and popularity which we now enjoy.

A failure to support the Chamber of Commerce at this time would be like the cancellation of an insurance policy when it has reached the peak of maturity. A well supported Chamber of Commerce insures us of the highest dividends throughout the entire year.

In unity there is strength. Therefore, it behooves each citizen to get back of our Chamber of Commerce and give it full support now. The officers need our support. They cannot carry the burden alone, and our community cannot stand still—it must continue advancing or it will lose what progress has been made to date. Remember, united we stand—divided we fall.

Look Out!

Please pardon the pun. But people who ride Southern Pacific streamliners should look out, too. The "name" trains listed below place on display the grandest array of mountain, valley, ocean, forest and desert scenery you'll ever see, viewed through extra large picture windows.

Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's modern streamliners have been built with your comfort the first consideration. Dust-free, draft-free air-conditioning. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Extra large windows. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms. That's why Chair Cars on S. P. streamliners are the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation.
