Improvement, water, weeds, and a host of agricultural problems. The commissioners of Lincoln County have asked that the program be presented to the people of the county with relation to their road problems.

This type planning can best be done on a community basis since the rural people have first hand information regarding their local conditions. Their ideas regarding the improvement of these facilities can be formulated to a definite community plan and thence into a county and state plan.

The program will also be explained to any other club or group wishing it by arranging with the County Extension Agent.

Following is a list of scheduled meetings where the program will be explained to anyone wishing to attend the meeting in their area:

And You'll Live Longer

A young man barged into a minister's home, a lovely young lady in tow, and exclaimed, "We want to get married. I beg you to make the ceremony as short as possible. Here are credentials. They're in order. Those two ladies knitting over there will do as witnesses."
 The minister, amused, performed the ritual, pocketed his fee and then protested, "Remember the old adage about marrying in haste, my children: 'What's your hurry?'"
 The young man, already half way to the door, said over his shoulder, "We're double parked!"
 "Say, Uncle, why did that woman black her face?" said Jimmy.
 "Why, she hasn't blacked her face that's her natural color," said Uncle.
 "Is she like that all over?" asked Jimmy.
 "Why, yes."
 "Oh, just my wife," replied the other, sadly. "She's engaged a

Ruidoso News, Ruidoso, New Mexico
 Dear Sirs:

Again, I wish to extend my personal appreciation and the thanks of the patients at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital, Fort Stanton, for the able part you performed in the Christmas party for the patients.

I have heard numerous favorable comments since the party and expressions of hope that it will be repeated again next Christmas and become a permanent annual affair, showing the interest of the residents of Lincoln County in the welfare and morale of our patients, most of whom are far from home and would have no personal visitors during the Holiday Season.

A Day In Iva's Tea Room

Dr. McKay from Chama, N. M., up for a little visit and to attend to business matters—says there are about 10 inches of snow up there now, and the winter just beginning. Stan Merton from Roswell, (he is stationed in Hawaii in the Navy) came by to say hello and goodbye. He has been on 30-day leave for the holidays. Did you notice the out-of-town cars here for New Year's? Almost looked like the 4th of July. The rainy, bad weather didn't seem to stop any of them, and all of them seem to think 1952 is going to be a whiz of a year. Hope so, we were so busy, didn't talk to many of them but I could hear their chatter, and they really had a good time at the dance, and all compliments our Christmas decorations.

One family, the Joe Hammett family, was amazed at the activity and size of our little village. He was raised in Roswell but had never been in Ruidoso before, so really was surprised at what they saw and plan on coming up quite often. That is what we like to hear. . . . I love to play "One Man Chamber of Commerce" and I give them a line? Loving Ruidoso and its citizens like I do I can really pour it on. However, I do not lie about it. I just forget to mention the bad things if any, I happen to hear about, and can always remember to say the good thing. . . . Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Morgan, about ready to take off on their vacation to California. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bynum and son, entertaining the Lynn Budros for dinner; Mr. and Mrs. Coffee, Captain and Mrs. San'N from Roswell air base, Don Barron and Mr. Allen, Geo. Whitaker and Rene Mahill from El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Hodges reporting in from their trip to the Sun Arivivi; Mr. and Mrs. Starr, who are about to build their new home over by the golf course, leaving for their home in Texas for a month or so, then back for the summer. . . . We hope to have our home and office completed inside by the time you read this. Am closing the Tea Room Sunday, Jan. 20. So I can get the rest of the little things done and get moved in by March 1. I am also closing Thursday, Jan. 18, to the Women's club. They will take over from 9:30 a. m. that day and the ladies are furnishing the food, lunch and cake, and pie and coffee will be served to the public, and all the proceeds will be turned over to the P. O. Fund, March of Dimes Committee. I hope every one in the canyon will either come and eat lunch, cake or pie, or make a donation in our box for this worthy cause. As you know, all these nickels and dimes that are donated go toward the elimination and treatment of this dreadful disease, and who knows, YOU MAY BE THE NEXT MIGHTY 20 PLEASE don't let us down. We have had it in our family, I KNOW WHAT IT MEANS, so please come by that day and help us to help the ones who may need it. I will be looking for you. . . . The plate lunch will be 75 cents and for the children LIO BENEFIT at the Tea Room we will serve a small plate half price. The menu will be chicken, til food runs out—Thanks, Iva.

Bloodworth Heads Scrap Mobilization

Lloyd Bloodworth has been appointed chairman of the Scrap Mobilization committee, it was announced today by General Patrick J. Hurley. Bloodworth will be in charge of the campaign to get iron and steel scrap in the form of obsolete and broken machinery, junked automobiles and worn-out tools and dies, moving back to the steel mills where it is urgently needed.

General Hurley pointed out that steel is the backbone of our defense effort, and that unless more scrap is moved back to the mills immediately there is danger that some mills may have to reduce operations this winter. He said that Bloodworth and his committee will work to enlist the aid of all local businessmen in speeding up the flow of this dormant scrap. The use of scrap in steelmaking cuts down the time required, thus speeding up production, and every ton of scrap replaces four tons of ore and limestone otherwise needed to make pig iron.

Bloodworth is to go to Albuquerque within a few days to secure details of setting up an organization for "bringing in the scrap," he said Tuesday.

'Lady from Texas' Comedy-Western

Universal-International's Technicolor "The Lady from Texas," opening tonight at the Pueblo theatre, is best described as a heart-warming Western and casts 1950 Academy Award winner Josephine Hull in the role of an eccentric landowner whose property is saved by an easy-going cowpoke as brought to the screen by Howard Duff.

This new film, which also stars Mona Freeman, is Duff's first screen appearance since his leg injury suffered almost a year ago. Gene Lockhart, Craig Stevens and Jay C. Flippen head the large supporting cast of "The Lady from Texas." Joseph Penney directed and Leonard Goldstein produced.

NEWS FROM LINCOLN

By Mrs. Jeff Dockray

(Mrs. Jeff Dockray)

The Girl Scout Troop of Lincoln is ready to start the March of Dimes. How about the rest of you? Of course, I know you are saying, "It's just one thing after another," but to be honest with yourself and everyone else, don't you think it is a good cause?

Mrs. Marjorie McGrew of Lincoln has taken a position in the Main office at nearby Fort Stanton. We miss her around town.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Ramey and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hulbert tripped to El Paso for the Sun Parade. Report a good time. Wonder if Red went across the border? I'll bet that's the sixty-four dollar question.

The H. J. Dockrays, the L. S. Gipsons and son, Jimmie, and also Mrs. McGrew attended the V. F. W. New Year's Eve dance at Captain I believe all of this crowd reports a good time.

Our Brownie Scout Troop of Lincoln is to have its first meeting next week, that is, the second week of January. We have only four Brownies, as yet, but sincerely hope to get more of the "little ones." This is an undertaking that we all hope to see turn out as a success.

Lincoln has once more gotten back to normal. No more holidays, no more hunting season, no more nothing. The next thing to look forward to is Spring, when everyone is outside attempting to start flowers, lawns and gardens.

I heard Edward Penfield wants to hear nothing at all about income tax. Wonder how many more people have the same feelings? He's in no class alone, no individuality, I'll bet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sohn have been guests of the Dan Gilie recently. Mrs. Sohn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilie.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kossage and daughter, and Mrs. Rutina have visited Lincoln over the New Year holiday.

Marjorie Irish, of Santa Fe, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Salazar, of Lincoln.

We, of Lincoln, were sorry to hear of the accident that befell little Ralph Cameros, formerly of Lincoln school and Lincoln community. Ralph was run over by a car and was hospitalized with some broken ribs. The Cameros family recently moved to some section of California from our village of Lincoln. It seems that the details of the accident are scarce, but we consider it bad news anyway.

The new arrival at the Clark Pfingsten home is doing fine. Mr.

BLEAK FUTURE . . . Korea vet John Palma, Brooklyns, smiled with fiancée Terry Marchiano, wounded in Korea, taken prisoner and released, he still has 12 pieces of shrapnel in his head and G. I. bill of rights offers him no aid in supporting himself.

Internal parasites cause livestock losses in the United States of $125,000,000 every year. External parasites cost this loss to about $300,000,000.

Pfingsten informed me that he was doing the chores, as yet. But I don't think it is hurting him, as he looks as well as ever.

There will be an art show at the Museum at Lincoln, Jan. 13, 1952. This is an exhibition staged by the Museum of New Mexico and should be very interesting. In addition, there's a tea party, too.

Lions Give $10 To Polio Fund

Ruidoso Lions club voted in its regular Tuesday night supper session to contribute $10 to the current March of Dimes campaign underway now in this city, and across the nation.

For the program, in charge of Reino Sarlin and Juan Baldonado, an initiation of "cubs," new Lions club members, was staged—the first time such a program has ever been attempted by any Lions club. It was contended. Welcomed into the club as new members by Dr. W. D. Horton, who gave the initiative a briefing on the local and national organization, were Charles B. Spradley of Mesalero, Gene Dodson of Hollywood, Ben Vaughn, Vic Lamb and Cliff Robinson of Ruidoso. The quintet was put through "the works" by Lontamer Baldonado, equipped with whip, mustache and all.

Following the high-jinks, a motion picture on Carlsbad caverns was shown.

Opening Sunday For Art Exhibit In Lincoln

The Old Lincoln County Memorial commission issues a very warm and cordial invitation to residents of Lincoln county to attend the formal opening of "Still Life in New Mexico Art" Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m. at the Old Court House, in Lincoln.

Featuring a variety of still-life subjects, treated in various ways, this exhibit will contain one picture each of twelve of New Mexico's most promising young artists, and should be of exceptional interest.

Tea will be served in the West Gallery, upstairs, from two until four—and catalogs of the exhibit will be provided. Admission to the Court House will be free, of course.

"Still Life in New Mexico Art" comes to the Old Court House by courtesy of the Museum of New Mexico traveling exhibit program.

The Nob Hill Restaurant had customers registered from more than half of the 48 states and six foreign countries, including Denmark, Germany, Honolulu, Sweden, Holland and London, England, during the Christmas holidays.

422 Persons See Museum Sights At Lincoln

Twenty three states, Alaska, Mexico and Japan were represented by the 422 guests who registered at the Old Court House in Lincoln, during the month of December.

Actually, the figure represents only a 25-day month. For two days, during inclement weather, there were no guests at all, and the annual Christmas recess (the only three days in the year when the Museum is closed to the public) was Dec. 24, 25, and 26.

TEXAS PAPER INTERVIEWS ROBT. GERONIMO ON TRIP

(Editor's Note.—Dorrance Guy, son of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal editor, Chas. A. Guy, interviewed Robert Geronimo, Mesquero Apache Indian, on the latter's recent visit to Texas. With the article was a picture of Geronimo in Indian head dress, posed with Ben Moore, well-known authority on Indian lore of Slaton, Tex. We thought the home-folks might like to read the story as it appeared in the Texas paper, especially the last paragraph.)

By DORRANCE GUY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer
GERONIMO?

Geronimo, a name that has clouded the pages of American history. A name that will endure in the territory of the West.

A big Apache chief, about 6 feet tall and weighing about 180 lb. He was a great warrior who would have succeeded at practically anything he attempted, no matter to what race he had been born. Even his enemies recognized his talents as one of the top military strategists of his time, and his flair of brilliance reminded one of Julius Caesar, Napoleon Bonaparte, George Washington and Robert E. Lee in his planning on the field of battle.

The last direct descendant of Geronimo, his son Robert, stopped in Lubbock on his way to Fort Sill, Okla., to visit some of his distant cousins. With him was one of the present day authorities on Indian lore, Ben Moore of O'Donnell, who was a friend of Quanah Parker and Geronimo. Moore was with Geronimo's wife when she died in 1949 at the age of 102 or 103, no one knowing exactly. He has several gifts given to him by Geronimo at one time or another, some of which Robert has never seen.

To look upon the small, heavy-set and soft-spoken son of the chief, one would not think of connecting him by lineage with savage war dances or the slaughtering, needlessly and unnecessarily, of many white men and Mexicans. He is a clean-cut man with silver hair peeking through his otherwise coal-black hair. One would guess his age at 40 or 45, not the 62 he is. Father Of Five.

He is unusually muscular and has the suppleness of his race. He is married and has three girls and two boys in his family.

Some of the history of Geronimo, recorded or handed down in legend, flashes sharply with facts reflected by his son here.

The small band of Indians raided them at dawn just across the Arizona line. All members of the train were asleep, except one man and the whites were forced to surrender without firing a shot at the intruding braves. Geronimo said that since people surrendered he did not kill them. All that he wanted was their best horses and what food the Indians could use, plus the best blankets. He left the wagons intact, with enough horses and food for the train to reach its destination.

Due to the danger of being seen, Geronimo never sent his messages by smoke signals, despite what books and the movies indicate. All his scouts were experts at imitating birds and animals. By a unique spy and scout system, messages were relayed to the chief, evaluated by him, and relayed back again to his orders. All raids in which Geronimo or his bands participated were planned by Geronimo himself.

Denies Father Was Outlaw
"Nothing makes me madder than the adverse publicity given my father in the picture shown Robert said. "He was a man, although wild and savage, who was not a murderer, a thief or an outlaw," drawled the Indian.

Another fact, contrary to public belief, was that Geronimo, or any other Indian leader or tribe, never scalped anyone in this section of the country, the son said. It was not the Indian belief nor the custom in any of the country around Texas, New Mexico, Arizona or California, he explained. All scalping done by the Indians was in the territory around North and South Dakota.

"My father started his fight against the white man because they were pushing him off of the land which had always belonged to his people. They left him no water and only land that could be used for no good purpose at that time," Robert said.

On two occasions the chief tried to surrender, the latter time succeeding. Gen. George Cook of the United States cavalry arranged a meeting with Geronimo in the Indian camp. Arrangements were made for the surrender, which meant that Geronimo and the braves who were with him would be taken to Florida where the rest of the members of their families were being held as prisoners of war.

One of the soldiers accompanying General Cook was one of Geronimo's many personal friends among the whites. He warned Geronimo that the general had previously made plans to kill the entire party on the way to the train station. All the Indians escaped and once again went on the war-path because of the Army's betrayal.

Fourteen years later Geronimo did surrender at the insistence of many of his relatives. Bore Scar On Cheek

The only scar which the big Indian bore was one on his cheek bone. "Geronimo and some of his braves were riding across the country in broad daylight and a white man stepped out from behind a rock and shot point-blank into his face," said Robert. "The white man was killed by the braves. Geronimo recovered. Of the hundreds of raids he led on the white men and the Mexicans, Geronimo was not wounded or hit," he continued.

The story about Geronimo's three sons having been murdered by the white men and Geronimo's resultant vow he would kill a thousand white men for each one is entirely false, Geronimo's sons did die, but they died because of a change of environment while attending Carlisle Institute.

Robert lives with approximately 1,000 other Indians on the Mesquero Apache reservation near Ruidoso, N. M. He attended Carlisle Institute and "made pretty fair grades" but did not receive a degree. He is not restricted to the reservation and is free to travel as he wishes. The Indians on the reservation do not have a chief, and therefore Robert did not inherit the position.

"The only people I don't like are the tourists who come to my house to try and find out if I am wild and savage as those of my race were many years ago, and the newspapermen with their picture taking machines who try to capitalize on my knowledge and ancestry," Robert said.

NEWS FROM—

MESCALERO

(By Mrs. Reino Seilin)

An article by Dorothy Gray Guck, entitled "War Whoops on the Fire Line," appeared in the January, 1952, issue of "American Forests." The story does credit to the Indian fire boys of the Southwest and features the Mescalero Red Hats.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Callahan of Bemidji, Minnesota, were guests of the Callahans of Elk during the holidays. Also visiting was a daughter, Mrs. Jim Price, who teaches at Woodbury College in Los Angeles.

A telegram was received here Saturday, bringing word that Hugh Peabesby had been fatally hurt in an auto accident in Oklahoma, and his mother critically injured. A brother, Harold, and other relatives from Mescalero left to attend the services.

Jack Quast, Fireman First, left Monday for San Francisco. He has been on leave here at the home of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Quast, and is en route to Seattle where he will report for reassignment on Jan. 19.

Home for the holidays was Miss Anita Davalos who has a position as surgical nurse at the hospital in Silver City.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tompkins of Alamogordo visited with Mrs. Elta Beldonado on Sunday.

Paul Blazer, Sr., was in Wichita, Kans., a few days visiting Mrs. A. N. Blazer.

Visiting friends here were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Osborn.

Election of officers is scheduled for the meetings of the Whitetail Ladies' Aid on Thursday and at Mescalero on Friday.

Freddie Peralto, who has been on leave here with his family, left Monday to report at Fort Bliss for reassignment.

The Reformed Church Mission took delivery on a new Chevrolet Carryall this week.

Albert La Rose has been in Albuquerque on business all of this week. Misses Evelyn Pellman and Marie Lauriano spent Thursday there taking Civil Service exams.

Jan. 9 was regular meeting night for the Mescalero Woman's club. Interesting films were shown with Mrs. Marshall Woodward as program chairman, refreshments being served by hostesses Mrs. Reuben Ten Haken and Mrs. Manuel Begay.

Chas. Spradley was one of the initiates to Lions club in Ruidoso Tuesday night. That makes five widows in Mescalero on Tuesday evenings.

(Left Out Last Week)
The holiday season is over and it seems restful to get back to a normal work routine. Wonder how many New Year's resolutions will survive this first week?

A delegation left Mescalero Saturday morning by chartered bus for Washington, D. C. The tribal business committee, three members each of the Mescalero and Chiricahua claims committees, and tribal clerks Mary Davalos and Clarence Cordry comprised the party.

Quite a few of the young people have been home from boarding schools in Albuquerque and Santa Fe. School in Mescalero was resumed Jan. 7.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith passed away Thursday home Dec. 31. Funeral services were held at the Reformed Church Mission in the afternoon.

Supt. and Mrs. Lonnie Hardin and Melba, and Rev. and Mrs. Ten Haken and family were dinner guests at the Spradley home on Wednesday of last week.

Mumps and measles are making the rounds as usual this time of the year. Lyle Woodward was quite ill with measles during the holiday vacation, and little Allen Tempus has the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Carl and Leo are vacationing with relatives in Texas—at McAllen, I believe. Enjoyed having Miss Emily Speake as a dinner guest on Sunday. Her home in Washington, D. C. is a little too far away for her to spend Christmas there.

Mrs. Arvel Wall and son are in California with her father.

A Watch Night Party was held at the Reformed Church Mission on New Year's Eve, with a candle-light service at midnight. Games were in charge of Mrs. Wheeler Gayton, and refreshments were served with Lavera Magooshboy as hostess.

Quite a crowd had fun at the Jesse Campbell home New Year's Eve. We couldn't find anybody with the slightest interest in staying with children that night, and when the siren blew at midnight we were halfway dressed to go to the fire before we woke up enough to realize it was 1952 making his appearance.

Read with much interest the article on Mescalero by Mrs. Tom Charles in the last issue of the New Mexico Magazine. This is the second story to be printed in recent months, the other being "Apache Red Hats" by Mrs. Ed Guck in the September issue.

Indian Curios At CLAYTON BENNETT'S Highway 70—West of Junction

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith of El Paso were here Wednesday.

Red Cross Sends Thanks for Gifts

"Surplus" boxes of home-made cookies and candy, prepared by Lincoln County and Mescalero Indian women for the Fort Stanton Christmas party for men who are patients in the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital there, and for mailing to men in the service from the county and the reservation, were sent on to the Wm. Beaumont General Army hospital at El Paso. There were 112 packages sent for distribution to the wounded veterans.

This week, women of the community who aided in the campaign, received the following letter from Red Cross workers in the hospital

Only about one worker out of every eight in the United States is engaged in agricultural production.

Cattle once needed horns for self-protection, but now horns are both expensive and dangerous.

at El Paso:

We want to express to you, the Lincoln County and Mescalero Reservation friends, the sincere appreciation of the patients at William Beaumont Army Hospital for your very generous and thoughtful contribution of delicious home-made cookies and candies for Christmas.

this kind thoughtful "Homey" touch which you made possible. Please accept the sincere thanks of the patients at William Beaumont Army hospital for your interest and generous kindness. Sincerely yours,
(Mrs.) Mildred Mench, Field Director
(Miss) Miriam Chipperfield, Head Recreation Worker.

WAKE UP - or die!

Nearly 20,000 people died in the dark—in the night-time traffic accidents in 1950. Over 750,000 were injured in the hours from dusk to dawn. Last year these casualties went still higher.

Night accidents are one of the greatest factors in the increasing highway death toll. Fatigue, poor illumination, headlight glare, faulty vision, and the greater number of dangerous drinking drivers at night are the major causes of this tragic nocturnal record.

Another big factor—in both night and day-time fatalities—is "highway hypnosis." On long drives over smooth, unending roads the steady hypnotic monotony of humming wheels lulls drivers into a dangerous mental blank. Alertness gone, reactions at a low ebb, the worst can happen—and does.

What do you do when you become drowsy while driving? Safe drivers, recognizing the danger signal, pull off the road and relax. Perhaps they stop for a cup of coffee and stretch their legs, or let someone else take the wheel. They know, as every good driver knows, that safety demands alert driving, particularly at night when the killing rate per vehicle is as much as four times greater in proportion to traffic volume than it is in the daytime.

When you are driving in a fog of fatigue—pull over! Wake up, or die!

• Due to the type business we have been in, we have come in direct contact with so many unnecessary accidents which often cause loss of life, we want to solicit especially our Ruidoso citizens' co-operation in doing away with all of these needless accidents.

WITNESS BULL FIGHT
Mike and Ethel Meaz of Hondo went to Juarez, Mexico Sunday to see the gala Sun Carnival Corrida. Cara, a famous Spanish matador, performed for the first time in Mexico, but in the event Briones was the best bull fighter, they declared. Mike says that it is real action and a real show—you can't beat it.

TINNIE

(By Alma Rogers)

Well, well, believe this or not; at long last we have assurance of work starting on the Tinnie canyon road and also the bridge across the Hondo at the mouth of Alamo canyon. We hear bids will be opened Jan. 11. We will have to give a dance for Wilbur McKnight and Granville Richardson as they have sure worked hard for this much needed improvement.

The only one to lose by the new bridge will be Pedro Salcido. He was telling us he had just bought a new bathing suit so he could swim the river with the school bus and now he will have to buy a new bus to go with the new bridge. "We are pulling for you Pete."

The Frank Titsworths are back from their vacation and report a very nice trip. Now Frank gets "greetings" from Judge Hatch to report for jury duty at Albuquerque and we hear that he will make the trip alone.

Everyone is back from their Christmas vacations now and hard at work, with new resolutions and what not. Even Rev. Oldham is out cutting wood these days.

Mrs. Frank Trujillo left this week for Wilmington, Calif., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Juan Pacheco, and we just now heard that Frank is sick in bed today with a very bad cold.

Carl Mestler was home and spent Christmas with his mother and he is a very "Slick" looking hombre in his Navy uniform. Mrs. Mestler says he don't get those good looks from anyone but her.

Two more baby showers coming up this week. "More work for the census worker."

Mrs. Bill Sandfer is having a time trying to convince Bill he didn't get his neck broken in their car wreck, but Bill says he knows he got hurt pretty bad as he is only able to eat only three meals a day any more.

Melvin Pacheco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Efran Pacheco, is here from his home in Albuquerque visiting his aunt, Alma Rogers, and has enrolled in the Tinnie school, while he waits for his mother who will come by here on her way to join Mr. Pacheco who is now working in Long Beach, Calif.

Pedro Salcido, and family, Adenago Torres and family, Ulfrido Torres and family were wadding dinner guests at the wedding of Miguel Torres and Miss Socorro Prudoncelo of Tularosa. Pete says they really had a "feed."

Billy Hernandez is home on furlough from a camp in Arkansas.

Dave Fresquez, U. S. Deputy Marshall, stopped by the "Counts Store" on his way to Albuquerque with some prisoners. He looked mighty nifty in his new Lincoln.

Chris Fresquez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Try a Classified Adv. in The News for Results.

MRS. BEN WEATHERBY IS INJURED IN CRASH
Mrs. Ben Weatherby suffered a severe gash on the head when the car in which she was riding was in a collision near Yuma, Ariz., as the Weatherby family was returning from a visit with their son, Wesley, in Covina, Calif. Also in the car were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hicks of this city, who received slight bruises and lacerations. Their car was damaged considerably in the crash.

Don West, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. West, has been visiting his parents the last two weeks. He has been stationed in Alabama, but is to report back to Ft. Sill for further training.

Rod P. Johnson, who has just completed work on a city directory in an Oregon city, and is now at work in Clovis, N. M., was a visitor in his old home town of Ruidoso this week.
