Whirl of Sports

By Jim Lamb

Two national rifle marks fell at the rifle meet held here Sunday, May 24. George Trimble of Ruidoso set a new open national record in the 200 yard rapid fire with a 60 with 7 of his 10 shots going into the V ring. George Tubbs of Canton, Texas, chalked up a new national mark in the three hundred yard fire group by firing a 50 with 10 V's.

To date that five national records have been broken on the Ruidoso Gun Club's range out at Cedar Creek. The range was opened in 1950.

Judges know that George Trimble now holds three national records in high power rifle competition?

While we were in Alburquerque last week back in case anybody had been missing us we ran into Wade Hedgecock up from Texas. Wade is competing in an inter-collegiate rifle match. We went by the day after the meet to pick up Hedgecock's score, but no one could give it to us. Everybody told us that he walked off with the meet.

Overhead of the Immigration Bureau.

"What is Washington?"

"Oh, he's dead."

"No, he is the capital of the United States."

"They all been loaned to Europe?"

"Silence."

"If you get your citizenship papers do you promise to support the constitution?"

"Who me? Listen Doc, I can't even support my wife and three kids!"

PLUM SERVICE DIET. Say a fellow has a show last Sunday night on the fire. It was a new shoe, and if anyone found it, would he please bring it by the News Office.

She: "No."

"The rate is $1.20 for three minutes," said the long distance operator, "and 30 cents for each additional minute."

Answered the caller: "Do you take off for just listening? I want to call my wife."

Good Question

A mother was telling her six-year-old son about the golden rule.

"Always remember," she said, "that we are here to help others."

The youngster made this over for a minute and then asked:

"Well, what are the others here for?"

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Settle Dallas, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Elton Settle, Abilene, Tex., and Oliver Jackson and Hubert C. Settle were among winners in the canyon last week-end.

Letter to Ye Editor

Dear Vic:

Here is a piece I picked up and thought very good. You might want to publish it for the benefit of your readers.

CREED OF PEACE

A Practical Approach

I AM guilty of WAR when I proudly express my intelligence to the disadvantage of my fellow man.

I AM guilty of WAR when I distort others' opinions which differ from my own.

I AM guilty of WAR when I show disregard for the rights and property of others.

I AM guilty of WAR when I covet

what another has honestly acquired.

I AM guilty of WAR when I seek to maintain my superiority of position, by depriving others of their opportunity of advancement.

I AM guilty of WAR if I imagine my kin and myself to be a privileged people.

I AM guilty of WAR if I believe a heritage entitles me to monopolize resources of nature.

I AM guilty of WAR if I believe

other people must think and live as I do.

I AM guilty of WAR when I make success in life solely dependent upon power, fame, and riches.

I AM guilty of WAR when I think the minds of people should be regulated by force, rather than by reason.

I AM guilty of WAR when I believe the God I conceive is the one others must accept.

I AM guilty of WAR when I think that a land of a man's birth must necessarily be the place of his livelihood.

11 Amendments To Constitution To Be Voted On

Santa Fe, May 14—New Mexico voters will ballot at a special election next September on no less than 11 proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

All 11 proposals are outlined briefly in the April issue of the New Mexico Tax Bulletin, all having been approved by the 21st Legislature in session here earlier this year.

Absentee voting, finances and legislative matters are principal topics to be covered in the 11 different ballots which will confront the voters in the September referendum.

As outlined in the monthly publication several other small buildings were burned. The fire department and Red Caps from here were called to assist. I haven't heard too much of the details of the fire—but understand it was caused by a gas tank explosion.

Fred Pellman was just talking to me and telling me of the fine 5 room modern house he has just completed at Cow Camp No. 4. Fred is a very neat and efficient carpenter.

lication of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico, one of the proposals would extend the present $2,000 property tax exemption for wartime veterans to all who served in the military "under order of the President of the United States."

Another suggested amendment would permit all property owners within a municipality to vote on all municipal general obligations (bond issues).

The Legislature would meet annually, rather than every 2 years, as now, and the pay of the members would be raised from the present $10 to $20 daily, under other proposals.

Still others would permit absentee voting in New Mexico, legalize the sale of liquor to Indians, allow the Governor to fill vacancies in the legislature by appointment. The legislature would be permitted to set the salaries of all District Judges and those of the five State Supreme Court justices, and the Governor would be allowed 30 days, rather than 5, to approve or disapprove legislative measures following adjournment of the State law-makers.

An institutional building fund from the Severance Tax would be established under another of the 11 proposals.

STUDIO-GALLERY REDECORATED

Ruidoso visitors are invited to view the paintings of the west now on view at Harris Shelton's studio-gallery a mile above the postoffice here. Shelton, who divides his time between Ruidoso and El Paso, when he is not on field trips painting scenic views of the Southwestern area, said he has some two dozen or more pictures now hung in his gallery. It was recently redecorated to better present the pictures.

Among his paintings are scenes of the Organ mountains, Superstition mountain, landscapes near San Antonio, Tex., in Arizona and other points.

Girl Scouts Urged To Register Soon For Summer Camp

Ruidoso Girl Scouts who are looking forward to camping at Camp Mary White this summer are urged to hurry with their registrations as two sessions are already full and the third are rapidly filling up, according to Miss Marcel Millam, area director, who will also be camp director this summer.

Dates of the sessions are as follows: June 14 to 21, one week session, closed to any more registrations; June 21 to July 4, two week session which has a few more places open; July 4 to 10, with several places left; and July 10 to 20 which is also closed.

Registrations have come in from all over New Mexico and Texas, and from Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Plans are progressing for a complete and interesting camping program. There will be craft work in metal, natural crafts, such as whittling, painting, and camp crafts. The girls will make their own tents to wear with the camp uniform which will be a blue Jean's shirt.

Emphasis will be placed on noon cookouts which the girls will prepare themselves.

"I am hoping that each girl will be able to leave some permanent improvement at camp," says Miss Millam, "such as making a rock garden in front of Great Hall to fill up the depression made by fire and erosion, a camp fire ring, and altar fireplace."

In addition to these things, the camping program will include dramatics, folk dancing, singing, horseback riding, and special emphasis on the proper use of tools such as knives, axes, hatchets, etc. All girls will have an opportunity for an overnight camp-out.

"We will see that the girls will have a progressive experience in camping," says Miss Millam. She points out that a camping trip to Mary White is a chance in our modern world of machines and electric appliances for a child to return to the quiet and basic things of life.

The camp staff of 25 members will include in addition to Miss Millam the following members: The riding counselor, Ludy Mohler—"Boots" to the girls—who graduated this year from Okla. A. & M. University; Education, Andrea Hunsberger, a Hungarian college student from the University of Texas and originally from Insubook, Austria; Mrs. Ronnie Flanders from Springfield, Massachusetts, who is an occupational therapist by trade with three children of her own and who has been an active Girl Scout volunteer as well as a former camp director; Miss Elizabeth Kitchell, now field director stationed in Hobbs, will be assistant camp director; and Tommy Bean, principal of Anson schools, will be handy man and consultant in pioneering.

Boys' State Opens At Socorro Sunday

Socorro, N. M. (Spl.)—Campus facilities at New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology this week are being made ready to accommodate some 225 students from 125 New Mexico High Schools who will attend New Mexico Boys' State at NMIMT June 7 to 14.

The student citizens will begin arriving in Socorro early Sunday morning. Registration and assignment to quarters will be from 9 a. m. until noon, Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening will be given to assemblies, "get acquainted" hours, and general shakedown activities.

From Monday through Saturday, the daily routine will begin with "flag raising" at 6:45 a. m., ending with "lights out" at 10 p. m. During the early part of the week, much time will be given to instruction in various aspects of government on the state level. All Boys' State citizens must take classes in law and law enforcement, and all candidates must pass these courses in order to qualify for holding public office.

On Monday, the States will be subdivided into "cliques" for housing and subsistence, and general administrative convenience. City officers will be elected, and county caucuses will be held. On Tuesday there will be state political conventions, and state and county primary elections will be held. General elections will be held on Wednesday, and the remainder of the week will be given to legislative sessions, court proceedings, and other functions of a democratic government in action.

High point of the week-long program will be the Girls' State-Boys' State Joint Inaugural in the University of New Mexico Student Union Building in Albuquerque on Wednesday evening. Governor Edwin L. Mechem will address the assembled States, and Chief Justice Daniel R. Sadler of the New Mexico Supreme Court will administer oaths of office to the elected officials of both "States." All elective officials of the State of New Mexico have been invited to attend the inaugural, and immediately following the inaugural addresses there will be a reception, during which Boys and Girls' State officials will meet and discuss problems of their respective offices with their counterparts in the government of New Mexico.

The evening will be brought to an end with a grand inaugural Ball attended by State Officers and guests, as well as all the Girls' States and 225 Boys' States.

Special features of the seven-day "laboratory" in state government will be Peace Officers' Schools, a lecture and firearms demonstration by agents of the FBI.

Throughout the week, the crowded routine of instruction and practical exercises in political procedure will be relieved by recreational programs including amateur "stunt night" performances, movies, community singing, band, golf, swimming, tennis, softball, basketball, archery, horseshoes and ball casting.

Carl W. Stark of Albuquerque is director of the 1953 Boys' State, and Everett Grantham of Albuquerque is associate director. Other officers of New Mexico Boys' State Incorporated are R. J. Mullins, Santa Fe, president; Michael Alarid, Albuquerque, vice-president; and Robert M. Marr, Albuquerque, secretary-treasurer. Members of the Board of Directors are Seaborn P. Collins, Las Cruces; Dr. James B. Delamater, Socorro; A. B. Edler, Hurley; Fred Linn, Albuquerque; Reed Mulkey, Roswell; and R. E. Trujillo, Mosquero.

Memorial Group Leases Old Store At Lincoln

The Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission takes pleasure in announcing that it has leased the Old Tunstall-McSweeney Store in Lincoln for the summer months and will have the old store open to visitors every day 9:00 a. m. to 5 p. m. This landmark in the history of territorial Lincoln County was established as the general store of T. H. Tunstall & Co., in 1877 and was the headquarters of the Tunstall-McSweeney contingent during the Lincoln County War. Although it was located by the Seven Rivers gang in the early 1880's and has since undergone nine successive changes in ownership, much of the original stock and fixtures of the Tunstall-McSweeney days still remain. Much of the credit for the remarkable preservation of the items on display goes to the Penfield family of Lincoln, who took over the store shortly after the turn of the century, and still maintain a general merchandising business in a part of the original store. The main part of the old store, which is now open to the public, originally contained a cantina, the Lincoln County Bank, and the law office of Alexander McSweeney, as well as merchandise.

The long and colorful history of the store is recalled in the collection of account books of the previous owners: La Rue, Dolan, Rosenthal, Bel Jean, Jaffa, Fraget Company, J. J. Jaffa, Lincoln Trading Company, and Lutz.

Ruidoso Seniors Have Motto, 'Pike's Peak Or Bust' Confidentially They Didn't Bust

(By MARSHA ELBERSON)
The Seniors have returned! The Class of 1953 returned last Wednesday from a five day trip to Colorado. This was their reward for four years of hard work.

The group of nineteen Seniors and five "leaders," Leroy Gooch, Ethel Nelson, R. G. Chastain, Sr., Hazel Perry, and Cecil Jones took off during the wee hours of the morning with the motto of "Pike's Peak or Bust," but due to financial reasons and the fact that reservations had already been made in Colorado Springs, that's where they stayed. It was a group of three but happy graduates that checked into the Range View courts in Colorado Springs early that evening.

The next morning the group of sleepheads was aroused at an early hour by cries of "First call to breakfast" and "Seven Falls here we come." At Seven Falls the group climbed a tremendous amount of stairs to view the Falls from the top. A few of the more energetic grads hiked another mile and a half up to see the spot where Helen Hunt Jackson, author of Ramona, is buried.

Next stop was the Broadmoor Zoo where the group spent the majority of their time visiting kind-folks in the monkey house. The resemblances were remarkable! The Will Rogers Shrine was also visited by the Ruidoso group that morning. From that spot the view of Colorado Springs is beautiful. The water babies spent that afternoon swimming at the Broadmoor hotel. At an even earlier call the next morning appetites were ravenous due to the exercises of the previous day. Royal Gorge was the destination point of the morning and it was truly royal. Cable cars transported the explorers 1,000 feet to the bottom of the Gorge where Rufino Sanchez fell in the Arkansas River, and various other Ruidoso mountaineers were seized with strange feelings in their tummies, due, no doubt, to the low altitude. The party arrived at Canon City in time to make the tour through the Colorado State prison. After nail clippers, knives, hack saws, files, hammers, and guns (of the water pistol variety) were detected by an electric eye, and after each individual was "frisked," the tour began. The new cell block, the dining hall, the rug factory, the curio shop, the gas chamber, the rock pile, and the administration building were viewed by the students. The guys and gals spent that evening dancing at the Broadmoor hotel in Colorado Springs.

On Tuesday Ruidoso's little angels visited the Garden of the Gods where they saw strangely colored rock formations. Cave of the Winds, near Manitou Springs, proved to be quite interesting with its stalactites and stalagmites. That afternoon the mermaids and the aspiring Neptunes resumed their battle of the water depths at the Broadmoor pool. Everybody supposedly retired at an early hour to be in shape for the long trek home. The Ruidoso cavalcade returned home with no one dead, no one lost, everyone accounted for, and everybody happy.

The Senior class of 1953 wishes to express their thanks to everyone in the community of Ruidoso who enabled them to make this enjoyable farewell trip. Without their help it couldn't have been possible. And to the five sponsors goes special gratitude and it is hoped by this time they have fully recuperated.

Visit Royal Gorge
Canon City, Colo. (Sp.)—Members of the Senior class of Ruidoso High school visited Colorado's famed Royal Gorge on their recent tour.

It was the highlight of a trip that included points of historic and scenic interest in and around many Southern Colorado cities.

At the Royal Gorge, they crossed the World's Highest Bridge (1,100 feet above the roaring Arkansas river and Rio Grande railroad).

Letter To Ye Editor

U. S. P. H. S. Hospital
Fort Stanton, N. Mex.
May 21, 1933

Editor-in-Chief,
Ruidoso News,
Ruidoso, New Mexico
Dear Sir:

You are no doubt aware of the plight of the Merchant Seamen patients, most of whom became ill during wartime service, at the U. S. P. H. S. Hospital of Fort Stanton.

Enclosed are two mimeographed letters which the patients have composed and have been sending to their respective Congressmen. Perhaps you may be interested in this matter since it involves not only the welfare of the TB patients here but also a fair-sized chunk of the economy of this area and its people.

Yours sincerely,
Bernt F. Bastiansen

For more than fifty years, through two world wars, a major depression and various Democratic and Republican administrations, Fort Stanton, New Mexico has been operated by the U. S. Public Health Service as a sanatorium for the rehabilitation and reconditioning of tuberculosis Seamen. In this capacity it offers many advantages that are impossible in a general hospital. The objective being chiefly to strengthen lung tissues that have been weakened by disease, and to restore and recondition bodies that have been drained of vitality by surgery and lack of exercise.

A period of rehabilitation, prior to returning to work, is as essential to a tubercular as spring training is to a baseball player. Without this period of reconditioning it is useless to spend money for a cure for the patient is seldom able to stand the radical change from a hospital bed to an eight hour day of labor.

The long dry summers, short, mild winters and the 87% year-round sunshine of New Mexico are ideal inducements for the patient to exercise in clear fresh air and sunshine.

Fort Stanton has a well equipped craft shop where patients make articles of wood, leather, plastics etc., the sale of which helps to pay for their toilet articles, clothes etc. There is a large library of educational and entertaining publications, and a club operated for the ambulant patients.

Many patients have taken correspondence courses in various businesses, others learn typing, watch-making, radio and shoe repairing etc. Several former patients have established businesses in near by towns so that they might remain in a climate that is favorable to their health. Any of the above mentioned functions would be more or less impossible for a patient in a general hospital. But in spite of all the advantages offered to the patient by Fort Stanton, the Public Health Service proposes to abandon this well equipped and staffed sanatorium and move the patients to the long, cold winters and smog laden atmosphere of Detroit, where they will be confined indoors and deprived of the fresh air, sunshine and exercise that doctors have so long prescribed for them.

For years these patients have been told that they were being sent to Fort Stanton because it was not practical or possible to give them rehabilitation in a general hospital. Because tuberculosis is an infectious disease such patients are isolated and confined from contact with other patients. They are denied the use of dining rooms, canteens, entertainments etc., that are provided for other patients. There have been many instances where tuberculars were denied eye, ear, nose, throat and dental work because doctors in the various clinics did not want to treat patients having an infectious disease. In a general hospital the doctors are rotated from one service to another at frequent intervals and seldom become familiar with a patient's condition before they are transferred again. Many doctors have frankly told their patients, "I don't know a thing about tuberculosis, but I was assigned to this ward, and will do the best I can for you."

All of this is demoralizing and detrimental to the patient. And yet the Public Health Service advocates abandoning a proven method of procedure to return to the above mentioned methods that they have so often championed. Many patients at Fort Stanton have tuberculosis of the bones; others have such complications as asthma, bronchitis, sinusitis, emphysema, arthritis etc., that will be aggravated and retard their progress if they are moved to the wet and cold northern climate.

Fearing what was in store for them, if they should be moved to Detroit, many of these men have recently left the hospital against medical advice. In an attempt to find jobs so that they might remain in climate favorable to their health. Most of these cases will not be able to work for longer than six months. In the meantime they will have exposed many people to tuberculosis.

Although the Merchant Seamen were not in uniform during the war, many of them were under fire, had their ships sunk by bombs and torpedoes, and lost their health because of it. They do not draw pensions from the government. They have no G. I. Bill of Rights, nor are they eligible for government loans. And now they are to be denied proper hospitalization, and a chance to regain their health. Surely their rights to hospitalization should be equal to the veterans, who have had so many fine hospitals and sanatoriums built in the Southwest.

It is rather difficult to believe that these men are being deprived of their rights to adequate and proper medical treatment because of a lack of money. This cannot be true when the present administration sends billions of dollars to foreign nations, gives away potential billions in the Tidelands Bill, and votes 5% million dollars annual pay increase to a certain political group. This five and one-half million alone would operate the Fort Stanton Sanatorium for eleven years. While at the same time it would restore the health of many men, prevent the spread of tuberculosis to the public, and return many potential tax payers to gainful occupation. Public Health Service officials use the excuse that modern surgical methods and so-called wonder drugs have made Fort Stanton obsolete. This is not true, for the wonder drugs will not heal cavities in lungs, and surgeons cannot operate on one lung when the other is also diseased. Furthermore Fort Stanton was originally intended for ambulant and semi-ambulant patients who were not in need of immediate surgery.

One year ago the government and Public Health officials promised that this hospital would remain open. Now it seems that their promises are like the treaties made by European dictators—only made to be broken.

Perhaps some government official should visit these men, wave the flag and make them a speech about a democracy being a wonderful place where no one is ever exiled to Siberia for political reasons. These people need to be reassured on this subject, for they are beginning to be slightly doubtful in face of the evidence. From where they sit Detroit bears a remarkable resemblance to Siberia.

We propose letting the taxpayers decide whether we deserve a small share of their money. If Fort Stanton is closed we will send copies of this article to all labor union journals and syndicated news columnists. The constitution says we are entitled to a trial by a jury of our peers!

AT ITS HEIGHT—This photo made by Ruidoso News, was taken at about the height of the fire from the roof of Pack a Day. The taxi stand, just below the Sinclair sign, was hauled from its location by an auto wrecker to create a gap—thus saving it and the service station nearby.

AMUSEMENT DEVICES MOVED—Joe Reinhardt's record players and other amusement devices were moved from storage in a building across the street when the fire was threatening to jump across the street early Sunday afternoon, and one of the machines looms in front of the camera here. This photo from the El Paso Times, was made from in front of Jerry's Village Beauty shop.

Two Agencies Seek Fire Fighters

The U. S. Forest Service and the New Mexico State Employment Service have completed arrangements on meeting further fire fighting needs in the Lincoln National Forest. The Employment Service is listing those men in Otero and Lincoln counties who will be available for firefighting in case of an emergency. These men would be in addition to the regular fire fighters already used by the Forest Service.

In this vicinity cooperating groups are the sawmill operators and the fire departments of Ruidoso and Green Tree. In the event of men being needed in this area, the alarm will be given to the fire departments and the sirens will be sounded as a call to report.

Those reporting should wear strong high top shoes, heavy denim or khaki clothes and bring a warm jacket. Transportation will be furnished to and from the fire area.

for all workers. These workers will receive not less than $1.05 per hour. Rates include travel time to and from the job and time spent fighting fire, exclusive of resting, eating, and sleeping time provided the worker stays with the fire until released by the Forest Service. Subsistence will be furnished in all cases.
