Summer Visitor Brings Message For Baptist WMS

There were ten members present to hear the Bible study hour from the book, "Give Ye," very ably taught by a summer visitor, Mrs. W. C. Russell of Hamlin, Tex., when the Woman's Missionary Society of the Ruidoso First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. A. J. Barnes Monday. The following members were present: Mmes. J. B. Close, Charles Bonnell, Ben Donathan, Mac Edwards, E. L. Cannon, L. J. Hicks, Clyde Whit, Walter Scott, A. J. Barnes and W. C. Russell. The pastor, Rev. J. F. Fortenberry and Mrs. Fortenberry were unable to attend due to the illness of Mrs. Fortenberry's mother.

French Family Visits Old Friends

(By AILEEN LINDAMOOD)

Mr. and Mrs. Miller French and daughter Evelyn of Phoenix were in the county the past week-end looking up old friends.

Miller was born in Carrizozo, graduated from High School there and took his college degree at the University of N. M. at Albuquerque. During his summer vacations he worked on highway 37 from Angus to Peters Hill, under "Uncle Billy" Ferguson now of Capitan. And that during the beginning of the fine career he has followed since then.

He went with the Bureau of Public Roads after graduation, with his first assignment being in Juneau, Alaska. There he met and married his wife, Mildred. He is still with the Bureau and has carved out a successful niche in his field.

The family is on its way to visit his mother, Mrs. J. B. French, in Albuquerque before moving to Portland, Ore. from Phoenix. Present they were returning to Phoenix from Houston where they attended a convention at the Shamrock Hotel last week in connection with the Bureau of Public Roads. Miller has been District Engineer for the state of Arizona. He now moves up to Regional Engineer with headquarters in Portland and his territory includes the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho.

It was a pleasant surprise when they came by Sunday evening to find their former friends, Mrs. F. B. Lindamood of Aho. They were also visiting in Ruidoso and Carrizozo before leaving for Albuquerque.

Old timers of the county will remember the J. B. French family. Your correspondent remembers them well and with extreme pleasure as we all lived in Carrizozo when the "kids" were growing up together.

"HEAVEN PROTECT ME FROM A BLUNDERING FRIEND"

(Author's name below)

Medicines today are unlike the prescriptions of past years. They are more specific, and a great deal more potent. That is why results are now so much better.

Be cautious about using medicines that have been prescribed for someone else. Well meaning friends may even suggest a medicine that may cause harm. Never take any one else's prescription without your physician's approval.

YOUR PHYSICIAN CAN PHONE 2205 WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

THREE TROUT LAKES—The Playground of the Southwest now provides fishermen with the certain chance of taking home a creel full with three well-stocked commercial trout lakes. Pictured above is the new Pink Trout Lake, west of Clayton Bennett's on Highway 70, and opened this spring. It is managed by Jim Johnson of Lubbock, associated with Pink Parrish, also of Lubbock. In center is Sleeping Springs Trout Lake, with Mrs. Dan Revall of Malakoff, Tex., pointing to one of the big rainbows. Sleeping Springs is owned by E. T. Fior and is located near Escalante Hill Cafe on Highway 70, east of Green Tree. Picnic tables are provided near the attraction. The pioneer commercial lake, Rainbo Trout Lake, up Carrizo Canyon, and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutson, opened here four seasons ago, and has continued to grow in facilities and patronage. It is pictured in the lower photo. The Hutsons also offer real estate acreage in the area. They have just completed a beautification project to make their lake the center of a well planned park.

Little League Ready For Action

More than a dozen persons were on hand Monday night at the American Legion Hall here to discuss plans for this summer's schedule for the Little League, now in its third year. President Joe Hawkins discussed lastly on the part of some of the boys in reporting for practice, and announced that, unless the players had a reasonable excuse if they did not turn out for practice or for games, they must turn in their uniform. "We have other boys who would like to play and will turn the uniforms over to them," he declared.

He announced the first game will be played between the Braves and the Cubs on Wednesday, June 26, and that arrangements are underway now to play one or more games with some Little League teams in other towns, such as Tularosa, Alamogordo or Roswell.

He said practice sessions are held at 3 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Nob Hill stadium. "It is my intention to let every boy play, no matter how small he is," Hawkins declared. "We are not trying to form a super ball club for only the best, but one all can play in."

Ruidoso Team Again Cops State Rifle Title

For the sixth time out of seven years, Ruidoso Gun Club's 30 calibre rifle team last Sunday won the New Mexico State Championship and was awarded the Governor Edwin L. Mechem Trophy. The four-man squad, composed of Grady Eldridge, Tom Jones, R. H. Hedgecock and Oscar Morris, shot a 949 with 83 v's in a possible 1,000, edging out Alamogordo's team which racked up 935 with 54 v's. Individual scores were: Eldridge 238-17; Jones 238-15; Hedgecock 238-16; Morris 237-15.

Hedgecock and Eldridge also brought home the two-man team title with the scores noted above, totaling 477-33. Grady also received several other honors, including high expert. Ed White was also a member of the Ruidoso club's delegation to the meet, which was held in Clovis. He was given the sharpshooter award. In 1955 the state matches will return to Ruidoso, where they are held often, and at that time, the local club's range may be enlarged for an expected extra large contest entry.

World Record Set Sunday For 870-Yard Sprint At Downs

Flying Charm, a five-year-old chestnut mare, owned by the Weatherhane Stables of Uvalde, Texas, set a new world record here at Ruidoso Downs Sunday afternoon for the 870 yards distance.

Ridden by Jockey Erasmo Garza, the Uvalde horse flashed across the wire in 45.5 seconds. She paid $5.70, $3.10 and $2.60. Hijo the Bull was second and Spot II, third. Flying Charm is trained by Clayton Tolliver, one of the leading trainers at the track.

It was the second victory in the day's first eight races for the Weatherhane Stables. In the fourth race over 440 yards Jimmy Lator led the field to pay $4.40, $2.80 and $2.60. Jockey E. Mincey was up.

An El Paso two-year-old quarter horse led qualifiers in the second division of the quarter horse futurity trials. Don Bar, owned by the Double L Farms of El Paso and ridden by Jockey D. Howell, covered the 499 yards in 21.4 seconds. Second was Diamond Fyn and third, Super Duper.

Double Hygro, owned by Doris Hay of Dexter, N. M., and ridden by Jockey Jose Longoria, won the featured 11th race, the Buckaroo Lounge Handicap, over 6 1/2 furlongs. The five-year-old black gelding returned $11.30, $4.60 and $4. Four Sisters was second, and Abba's Bull third. Time was 1:19.1.

Best pays of the day were returned by Spicery in the ninth, with $38.80 win money, and Jet Magic in the 12th, with $19.40 for win tickets.

Parimutuel handle totaled $174,337.

1957 New Mexico Maid Of Cotton To Be Guest Of Downs On Saturday

New Mexico's prettiest girl and finest horse will be co-featured Saturday at Ruidoso Downs as she presents its eighth day of racing.

New Mexico's Maid of Cotton, which will be chosen Friday night in Ruidoso, will present the beautiful cooler to the winner of the "Maid of Cotton Allowances" the feature race which brings together or eight of the top thoroughbreds at the Downs.

Coliseo, the brilliant son of Amphitheatre, holds the spotlight for the Saturday feature race. Recently shipped from Ohio, where he won a $500 Handicap against top thoroughbreds, Coliseo looms as possible favorite for the "Maid of Cotton Allowances." Sierra, recently winner of a $3,000 claiming event, goes postward with 117 pounds. Owned by Mrs. Clara Prosser, this sturdy son of Egan, is always a favorite at the Downs.

Naya's Day, the hard knocking filly of the Jewell Woods Stable, could upset this band of horses. The competitors are not limited to the three horses mentioned. Jean's Demon, Amy's Lance, Single O, Ambrose and Worn Of War are also entered in this featured race.

The two co-features for the Saturday card will be the Thoroughbred Futurity Trials at five and one-half furlongs, and the Quarter Horse Futurity Trials at four hundred yards. Both events are starting the two year old hopefuls for the Futurity.

Sunday Lists Two Features

Two speedy contests, one for thoroughbreds and the other for quarter horses, headline Sunday's Ruidoso Downs 12-day card.

The thoroughbred event will be the "Martin's Allowances," named in honor of Martin's Lounge in downtown Ruidoso, and the quarter horse test will be the fourth annual running of the "Jockey Club Allowances" so named for the Ruidoso Downs Jockey Club. The latter will be run at 400 yards and as the eleventh race on the card.

The six and one-half furlong event will hold down the 10th spot on the card.

A select, but fast, field of eight were named for the Martin's Allowances and the role of public favorite has fallen to R. E. Hires's Livestock. The latter will be seeking his second straight. Named to face the 7-year-old gelded son of Fair Truckle are the recent winners, Double Hygro, Abba's Bull, Quick Thrust, Papagayo. The balance of the field includes Four Sisters, Biffish and Kansas Cyclone.

A band of ten quarter breeds were listed as starts in the fourth annual running of the Ruidoso Downs Jockey Club Allowances. Vannevar, owned by Carl Mercer and trained by Tom Stevens, this hard running son of Vandy, looms

State Tourist Bureau Publicizes Mescalero Ceremonial July 4-7

(Editor's Note: The following article was mailed last week by the New Mexico State Tourist Bureau to Santa Fe to newspapers in many states.)

Santa Fe, N. M.—New Mexico's Mescalero Apache Indians, the last tribe to lay down arms against the white man, will present their annual summer ceremonial July 4, 5, 6 and 7, on the vast Mescalero Reservation in the southern part of the state.

Unlike the peaceful, town-dwelling Pueblo Indians, the Apaches and their cousin tribe, the Navajos, were the fiercest of the American Indian warriors. They were the fiercest of the American Indian warriors. They were the fiercest of the American Indian warriors.

perualls, the most important of which are lumbering and stock-raising. Their reservation is in a fertile and colorful part of the state, with excellent grazing and timber lands. Their population of 1,200 includes about 800 Mescaleros and 400 Chiricahua Apache. All of them speak their native language, a division of the Athabaskan language group, and all with the exception of a few elderly Apaches—speak English.

The income the tribe receives from its various activities is used within the group to promote health and education. The Mescaleros have their own police force and an elected Tribal Business Committee which governs internal affairs.

An interesting group of men within the tribe is known as the "Mescalero Red Hats." They are professional fire-fighters who are sent by the government to forest fires all over the Southwest. Their skills in this difficult occupation are in great demand.

During the 18th and 19th centuries the many Apache groups roamed a vast area that stretched from the Staked Plains of west Texas to central Arizona, and from northern Mexico to southern Colorado. They were not a single tribe, but a people unified only by language. Two Apache tribes live in New Mexico today—the Jicarilla, in the north, and the Mescalero in the south.

Two of the most feared Apache chiefs of the late 19th century, Cochise and Geronimo, led the southern Apache tribes of Mescalero and Chiricahua, whose descendants live today in New Mexico. The famous Apache scout, Elginmuth, is still living on the reservation, his age about 100.

Many of the early Mescalero ceremonies have been lost or forgotten by the Indians, but their annual gathering in early July includes some of their most important rituals.

Chief among these is the Gahan Ceremony, erroneously called "devil dance" by white visitors. This is a religious ceremony for Apache girls who have reached marriageable age. During most of the four-day ceremonial the girls remain in a special tepee erected for the occasion, or in wickiups, temporary brush shelters.

In conjunction with the maturity rite are a number of Apache dances, the most stirring of these the Crown Dance and the Mountain Spirits Dance. The performers wear black leather masks and tall, wooden headdresses. There is a furious spirit to these dances reminiscent of the warlike Apache character of a hundred years ago.

A number of non-Apache Indians frequently visit these ceremonies, in addition to the white people. Navajos often come to the Mescalero reservation to trade and to perform their own dances. Plains Indians, such as the Kiowas, also attend the Gahan ceremonies.

The four-day rituals are held near the town of Mescalero, where the U. S. Government Indian Agency is located. It is on U. S. Highway 70, on the east of the town of Pularosa in the Sacramento Mountains.

The Mescalero Apache Indians of today engage in a number of pursuits, the most important of which are lumbering and stock-raising. Their reservation is in a fertile and colorful part of the state, with excellent grazing and timber lands.

Four high mountains in New Mexico mark the limits of the Teva-speaking Indian world, according to mythology. They are mountains are Pecos, west of Santa Fe; Lake Peak, east of Santa Fe; Sandia, near Albuquerque; and San Antonio Peak, on the New Mexico-Colorado border. Indians visit secret shrines on these mountains every year to leave offerings.

WEDDING DAY
 "With this ring I thee wed."
 Our marriage is beginning where a marriage should begin—in Church. Our hands meet across the Bible. My eyes fall to the printed page, and the verse I see there is so appropriate that I catch my breath in awe and amazement.
 Here is the story of a king who long ago sought for a virtuous woman and was told that her price would be far above rubles. Here are detailed the qualities that a truly virtuous woman would have—faithfulness, industry, thrift, compassion, courage, strength, honor.
 As I look up at my new husband, I feel a surge of humility. I make a silent pledge that these words in Proverbs will be my guide as his wife. They're a challenge, I know. A big challenge! But, with the help of the Church, I'm going to try to live up to them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a sphere of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither society nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and financial support. (4) To go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Juvenile Code Of New Mexico

By GINA ALLEN, Executive Secretary
Third Judicial District Youth Commission

(Editor's Note: As space permits, the Ruidoso News will print a summary of the Juvenile Code of New Mexico, at the request of District Judge W. T. Scoggin. The article below is one of a series to be printed in the next several weeks.

(Part One of Series VI)
A juvenile court is a civil court, not a criminal court, and its hearings are conducted without a jury. The purpose of the hearing is to find out whether or not the child before the court has violated the Juvenile Code.

If the child has violated the Juvenile Code, the court must then determine what corrective and educational methods would be most likely to turn this particular child into a useful citizen. Sometimes this involves re-education of the child's parents or placing the child in the home of someone other than his parents. Psychiatric treatment may be needed, or supervision by probation officers.

The task of the court is made more difficult by the limited number of facilities available to help in the re-education of the juvenile. There isn't a court in New Mexico that has an adequate number of probation officers. Child psychiatrists are rarer than rain. The Industrial School for Boys and the Girls Welfare Home are under-financed and over-crowded. Faced with these obstacles, the juvenile judge is often hard put to find ways of helping the children whose futures are entrusted to him.

To make his job a little easier the Juvenile Code provides that "This code shall be liberally construed." In so doing, it recognizes the fact that each child who comes before the court is different and must be treated as an individual. The purpose of the juvenile court is to administer the letter of the law regardless of the consequences, but to administer the law in the manner best suited to help the child.

Sections of the Juvenile Code of New Mexico follow:
13-40. Separate hearings are under-Rules of evidence. All cases of juveniles coming under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall be dealt with by the court at separate hearings, and without a jury. Records of all proceedings shall be made, and copies of such records shall be made when ordered by the court or when requested and paid for by any interested party. The presence of the juvenile in court may be waived by the court at any stage of the proceedings, provided that no testimony may be taken within the provisions of this Code (13-4-19 to 13-8-73), the judge may issue an order to commit such juvenile: (a) To the care and custody of his parents or to a reputable citizen of good moral character, subject to such conditions as the juvenile court may impose; (b) To any suitable institution, association, public or private agency or school willing to receive such juvenile, subject to such conditions as the juvenile court may impose;

(c) In the event the juvenile is a boy to the New Mexico Industrial School for boys, until twenty-one (21) years of age, unless sooner discharged by the order of the juvenile court;

(d) In the event the juvenile is a girl, to the Girls Welfare Home, until twenty-one (21) years of age, unless sooner discharged by the order of the juvenile court;

(e) Or take such other action as the court deems necessary in the best interest of the child.

13-8-64. Finding that juvenile comes within provisions of Code. No juvenile shall be committed to either the Industrial School for boys or to the Girls Welfare Home, unless such juvenile has been adjudicated to come within the provisions of this Code (13-8-19 to 13-8-73).

This section needs no explanation as it is self-explanatory, with the exception that the section should read the New Mexico Boys School rather than the New Mexico Industrial School for Boys.

13-8-56. Commitments to be made in accordance with religious belief. All commitments shall be, as far as possible, to the institutions or placements in family homes of the same religious belief

This section provides that in arriving at his decision that the court must state the reasons why he has arrived at such decision.

13-8-52. Temporary custody of juvenile—Removal from state. The juvenile court may order the juvenile to be placed in the temporary custody of some responsible person, and the court may further order, if the juvenile is not a resident of the state of New Mexico, that the responsible person to whom the juvenile may be placed to remove the said juvenile from the state, provided the person awarded such temporary custody produce the juvenile whenever required by the court, and upon such conditions as the juvenile court may impose.

13-8-63. Provisions for commitments of juveniles. When any juvenile has been found to be

COWBOY CAMP MEETINGS GET UNDERWAY IN J.U.Y.

Cowboy camp meetings in New Mexico will get underway in July. Now an established institution in New Mexico, the camps at Clayton, Magdalena, and Glenwood stem from pre-automobile days when transportation represented a rugged problem for would-be church-going country folk. This idea of bringing religion to sparsely settled areas is still a valid one though nowadays the camps draw a large portion of their crowds from city areas. Boys, the West Texas camp, is the oldest with more than 70 years of service. Dates for Boys this year are Aug. 15-18.

The four camps in New Mexico

as that of the person so committed or placed, of his parents, or to institutions affording opportunity for instruction in such religious belief.

When the court commits a boy to the care and custody of people other than the parents or the probation officer or private institutions, insofar as reasonable he must adhere to the religious faith of the juvenile. In other words, this means that if he is to be paroled to an individual, this individual should be of the same faith, same church or that the school must be of the same faith or the same church unless it is a public school, and that if he is placed anywhere other than with his parents the child must receive instruction in his own faith and religion and not in another.

lead off with the Sierra Grande Ranchers Camp Meeting near Clayton July 11-14. Preachers and cook units then move to the Noel Mesa Ranchers Camp Meeting near Clayton for July 17-20. The third stop is Montosa Ranchers Camp Meeting near Magdalena July 24-27. Last of the New Mexico events is the Glenwood Ranchers Camp Meeting near Glenwood Aug. 22-25.

TO OUR VISITORS— Things to See and Do In the Playground Area Of Ruidoso & Lincoln County

All of these things listed are within 60 Miles of Ruidoso—

- Lincoln National Forest— With its campgrounds, scenic trails and drives. Three riding stables here provide horses for riding into our forest which surrounds us.
- Cedar Creek— Winter sports area and park-like shrubs and evergreens.
- Golf Course— One of the most beautiful golf courses in the world is Cree Meadows.
- Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation— Can be entered in the recreation area west of here or you may visit at Mesalero, on U. S. Highway 70.
- Lake Bonito, Bear Canyon— Scenic mountain lake offering a wonderful drive through the mountains. Several abandoned gold mines with tumble down buildings and their caves can be explored.
- Nogal Lake, Nogal Mesa— The mesa is scene of the annual Summer Cowboy Camp Meetings.
- White Sands National Monument— Stupendous deposit of pure white gypsum.
- Lava Beds— The Mal Pais is a fascinating and different attraction.
- Ruidoso Summer Theatre— Presenting stage plays each Friday, Saturday, Sunday, June 29-Aug. 5, auspices E. N. M. U. Portales, in Ruidoso, auditorium.
- Old Lincoln Courthouse— In Old Lincoln town, with three museums and once where bitter Lincoln County War centered, and where Billy the Kid killed two guards in his escape from the jail there.
- Big Game— Deer, antelope, bear, wild turkey and bobcat found on rides into the mountains here.
- White Oaks— Old ghost town once thickly populated and once having newspaper, stores, saloons.
- The Three Valleys— Scenic ranchland and mountains.
- Capitan, Capitan Gap And Indian Gap— Beautiful orchards, ranches along Ruidoso, Hondo and Bonito. Home of internationally famous artist, Peter Hurd; screen star Linda Darnell; author, writer Dan Sirm and Louise Massey and Mill Maple, radio and screen entertainers.
- Ruidoso Downs— Popular summer race track, with horse facing each week-end in summer.
- Night Clubs— Numerous clubs with entertainment.
- Churches— In the immediate area are nine churches of various denominations.
- Climate— The most wonderful in the world—you will especially enjoy our autumn season when fall foliage is a riot of color.
- Mon Jeau Look-Out— Drive to the top of this forest look-out tower, 10,000 feet high.
- Fort Stanton— 89-year-old fort once policing Apache Indians, later used as Merchant Seaman Hospital, now a state TB sanatorium. Where Territorial Gov. Lew Wallace visited and where Gen. "Black Jack" Pershing once stationed to play his poker.
- Cloudcroft— High mountain resort area.
- Artists, Art Schools— Ruidoso is home of several resident artists, including Harris Shalton, Reynolds Jones, Martha Graves, and others, and art schools are held each summer. Ceramic studio also operates here in summer.
- Mayhill Nurseries— Giant greenhouses growing many beautiful flowers shipped to wide area.
- Wheeler Museum— Most unique privately owned museum in New Mexico.
- Ruidoso Lookout Tower— Gives panoramic view of Playground of the Southwest.
- Ruidoso Sky Ride— Unusual cable car lift to top of Wildcat Mountain on U. S. Highway 70.
- Dowlin Mill, Blaser Mill— Both in immediate area, pioneer adobe structures once housing flour mills, both over 100 years old. Dowlin Mill in Ruidoso now grinding flour each summer. General Pershing, Lew Wallace, Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett were among early day visitors at Dowlin's Mill in Ruidoso.
- Carrizo Lodge— With unique history, museum and scene of square dance schools, bordering on Indian reservation.
- Fun In Downtown Ruidoso— With skating, bowling, shooting galleries, bingo, theatres, children's rides, billiards, and many curio stores.
- Places To Dine— More than 50 restaurants and dining rooms to choose—some of them with specialties.
- Green Tree Indian Aqueduct— Stone aqueduct built over 800 years ago to carry water from Palo Verde Springs into Ruidoso Valley.
- Indian Ruins— Ruins and pictographs of various Mogolon settlements at Glencoe, near Capitan, in Ruidoso area.
- Airport— Paved runways long enough to accommodate two-engine planes.

—and at further distances, but still within 4 to 5 hours' drive are: El Paso and Juarez; Holloman Air Force Base (Guided Missiles) and White Sands Proving Ground; Carlsbad Caverns; Original Atomic Bomb site; Bottomless Lakes; Albuquerque and Santa Fe; Elephant Butte Lake; Truth or Consequences.

Low Bidder On Mescalero Road

(By Mrs. Evelyn Breuninger)
The young children of the Mescalero Indian Mission began a week's Youth Camp in Elk District on the reservation on June 17 to last through June 24.

Mescalero Boy Scout Troop No. 68 were special guests on several occasions during the week of June 10 of the Yucca Council representing Boy Scout Troops from El Paso, Anthony and Carlsbad. Special entertainment of various types were furnished the boys from Mescalero. The boys also were entertained at a picnic one evening.

Earl Fairbanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Fairbanks, returned from Boys State on June 16. This year Boys State was held at the Ark. To which Billy replied, "Probably because he wasn't one of those squares who believed in strikes."

"What's wrong?" yelled the pedestrian. "Are you blind?"
"Blind," shouted the driver. "I hit you, didn't I?"

Father: I'm busy. Be short.
Son: I will, I am.

Traffic officer: As soon as I saw you coming around the curve, I said to myself, "Forty-five, at least!"

Woman driver: Well, you're way off; it's this hat that makes me look so old.

Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela

Lake Maracaibo, in the western part of Venezuela, is one of the world's richest oil basins. Oil derricks rise above the lake in a geometric pattern that stretches as far as the eye can see. The lake is about the size of Lake Erie and many of these oil derricks are on pilings in water 100 feet deep. Creole Petroleum Corporation, Venezuelan affiliate of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) is a major producer of oil and has more than 2,000 derricks in the lake. A vast network of pipelines under the water is required to handle the flow of oil for the wells. Venezuela is the world's largest exporter of crude oil and is traditionally a good ally and customer of the United States.

New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell from June 8 through June 15. Earl was sponsored by the Mescalero American Legion Post 48, Earl received a certificate for State Representative while in Roswell.

Representatives of the Southwestern Farm Management Company of Phoenix, Ariz., arrived at Mescalero on June 17 and toured the cattle grazing areas of the reservation in company of Art Blazner, cattle foreman, C. O. Talley, superintendent of the Mescalero Agency, and several representatives of the Mescalero Cattle Growers' Association.

Approximately 150 posters depicting the forthcoming Mescalero Indian celebration to be held on July 4 through July 7 have been mailed to various chambers of commerce throughout the country.

Over 125 attended the sheep demonstration Tuesday, June 11, at the Sleen ranch south of Pecos. The highlight of the afternoon was Professor P. E. Neale's talk on the use of the "squeeze" machine along with charts and figures he showed to illustrate how it would speed up "Crouching Lions of Cochiti." He sized carvings in stone of mountain lions, were made in prehistoric times as hunting fetishes, and are still visited by the Indians, who leave offerings of sacred prayer meal beside them.

Boy Scouts in Silver City have planted some 400 trees and a great quantity of hollyhock, sunflowers, and jacks-in-the-box in the town's watershed, in an admirable soil-and-water conservation project.

The new shaft being sunk at the Farm Chemical Resources Development Corporation's potash mine in Eddy county is setting a record for speed and safety—no lost-time accidents since early March and, by June 2, a depth reached of 665 feet. A circular vertical shaft with a 15-foot diameter, the shaft will reach an approximate depth of 1,700 feet.

The small village of Santa Cruz, New Mexico, one of the earliest Spanish colonies in the state, has a name that is really a jaw-breaker. Its full title is: La Villa Ueueva de Santa Cruz de los Espanoles Melicanos del Rey Nuestro Senor Carlos Segundo (The New City of the Spanish Melicanos of Our King Charles the Second).

Two of the very few examples of New Mexico Indian sculpture exist high in the Jemez Mountains west of Santa Fe. The famous company in Santa Fe. The new road to be built includes from the "y" at the Gudekron field in Whitetail through the community of Whitetail covering 3.7 miles.

"Have you folks ever encountered my mother-in-law?"

wool and sheep improvement. By his direction in the grading chute during the last 16 years, he has been able to make 2 lb. of clean wool improvement per year. By machine grading only rams it was estimated he would be able to increase this improvement to 4 lb. clean wool per year. By machine grading both ewes and rams, he would be able to increase the wool production by 8 lb. He attributed the increase in clean wool production to the fact that the machine can weigh all factors affecting wool production accurately and select the best animals always affected by personal prejudice or such things as length. Also, in this same herd, he compared hand selected animals before using the machine and those same animals after they were graded by machine. In all groups he had overlapping of better sheep into poorer grades and poorer sheep into better grades. The growers at the meeting had a chance to grade some sheep on clean wool production before shearing and saw how these estimates turned out after the males were shorn. Ivan Watson was in charge of this part of the program. Mr. Watson also emphasized that the gross income on any ranching enterprise would be one of the best ways of recognizing whether the ewe was doing a good job in management or not. The gross income could be raised by taking the estimated investment to produce that income—as an example, he said if you had $100,000 invested in land and livestock, and grossed $25,000, you were doing very well.

A sheep barbecue was served at noon by Joe Ecken with Clint Sultemeier in charge of the barbecue.

Archaeologists say that the finest examples of prehistoric American architecture north of Mexico City are the great ruins at Chaco Canyon National Monument, in northwestern New Mexico. Twelve major cities and innumerable small ones, built of stone and mortar, were erected in the canyon by an Indian people during the period 800 to 1200 A. D.

Cunninghams Express Appreciation To All Who Aided Crippled Children In Second Annual Camp Last Week

(Editor's note: An article, signed "Heavy" and "Mama" whom local folks recognize as Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cunningham, was given the Ruidoso News this week for publication, as an expression of appreciation to all who assisted in helping the crippled children enjoy a two week's encampment here early this month, sponsored by the New Mexico Society for Crippled Children and Adults. This year's camp had 48 youngsters and was the second annual camp.)

Heavy Cunningham wishes to thank any and everyone who has helped in any way with the success of the Crippled Children's Camp at Carrizo Lodge. The response was very gratifying, typical of the kind hearts of
