Around Town

By Nosey Waters

Fopping in Margaret's Cafe last week-end, we sat down beside Miss New Mexico—Linda Moore, daughter of Mrs. Paul Moore of Ruidoso, who will be going with her mother to Atlantic City this month to compete in the Miss America Beauty Contest. She looked mighty purty. We told her we saw her photo on the front page of last week's Albuquerque Journal, and she smiled and said she knew when he was in the Daze City to play his violin.

Last Thursday night Television Station KOE, Albuquerque, ran a five-minute filmed interview with Cliff Arquette, better known as TV star broke Charlie Weaver, which a stationman at the airport there enroute to Ruidoso. He gave Ruidoso and the races a good plug. In the interview there was a brief glimpse of Jim Lamb, son of the Vic Lamb of Ruidoso, holding a photo of Cliff for the Journal. Jim's father took a picture of Arquette at the Ruidoso airport on his return here. Congratulations!

Lions Club

Seeks Pool

Goal—$65,000.00

To Date—$4,156.50

Having something that made us feel good last week-end. Remember when we wrote in this column that the Lions Club could not raise money because of some trouble? Well, the Lions Club has been successful in raising money for a swimming pool, and that we said it would be nice to have a Santa Clara in the future the hospital a building for the purpose? Manager Chuck Kuehler says he wishes the Lions Club could have a swimming pool. He has visited the hospital and has seen the building. He has visited the hospital and has seen the building.

YOU NEVER KNOW—You never know what you'll see next on the streets of Ruidoso in the summer. (One week recently we saw three different people being caught with a different kind of monkey on a leash, strolling around town.)

Just finally been previously, before he became nationally famous. Now in line in Roy Town, Ruidoso Downs, who bought a quarter and half, and, Charlotte Foster of York, Pa., has been from Albuquerque, and Bill Keys, now living in Ruidoso, who has been here for their vacation. The picture they brought their single wheel along with them.

Local Hospital Becomes Member Of The Southwest Blood Bank

A life-saving facility for all residents of Ruidoso and surrounding communities has been added at the local hospital, Charles Kuehler, manager, announced Monday.

This facility is membership of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital in the Southwest Blood Bank of El Paso. The membership contract was signed last Thursday by Kuehler and the first shipment of blood from the bank arrived here Tuesday.

"Joining the blood bank," Kuehler said, "simply means that no longer will the hospital have to call on volunteer blood donors for blood transfusions for our patients."

A fresh shipment of blood, which includes all common types, will be received by the local hospital each week.

"Any rare types, which may be needed during any emergency, can be secured from within two to three hours from the El Paso bank," Kuehler said.

The shipment is an especially important part of the new facility. The longer we have to search for volunteer blood donors, Kuehler said, and then less precise time in finding the necessary type of blood that might be needed. This new procedure will save hours of waiting for the necessary type of blood to be in the doctor's treatment of that patient.

The manager also announced that there is a new plan available whereby for $1.00 per year an individual may become a member of this blood bank.

"The $1.00 payment," Kuehler said, "entitles the individual to all blood transfusions he might need throughout the year, without any further charge for blood."

An entire family (with no limitation on members) may be covered under the plan for $3.00 per year, according to Kuehler.

Anyone desiring further information on the plan may contact Kuehler at the local hospital.

Breakfast To Be Served Sunday In Park By Lions

The general public is invited to bring along a healthy appetite Sunday morning and enjoy the outdoor breakfast to be served from 8 to 9 o'clock in the School House Park at the Ruidoso Lions Club.

Cost of the breakfast is $1 per plate and the meal will include bread and eggs, potatoes, genuine square bread and other "trimmings." To go along with the meal, there will be campfire coffee.

Two Indian squaws have been secured by the club to cook the square bread on the park grounds at Ruidoso Park is the big park on Main Road, coming into the Village.

Plans for the breakfast were completed at a meeting of the Lions Tuesday night.

There also was discussion of the proposed opening of Camp Creek Reservoir by the Fish and Game Department and the club went on record as vigorously opposing such a move. Joe Coe was appointed to meet with Village representatives to further discuss the matter.

The Lions also continued their discussion of the purchase of the old Catholic Church to use as a clubhouse. A secret committee was named to make a sealed bid on the structure.

The meeting was attended by eight visitors.

Nowell Junior Group Visits Feather Cave

A second exploration trip to Feather Cave in Lincoln County was made Sunday by members of the Nowell Junior Archeological Society. The cave is near U. S. Highway 300 between Lincoln and Capitan.

Material excavated from the cave on the first trip by the society dates back approximately 500 to 700 A. D. and is of Basket Maker I period. A preliminary survey at that time indicates humans have used this cave during periods of occupation until the early part of the 19th century when it is believed Apaches used the cave for ceremonial purposes.

On the trip Sunday, the group also hoped to visit Stanton cave and several Indian campsites in the area.

Foundation has been poured and walls were beginning to go up early this week on Ruidoso's new station, KYAP, located on the hill south of downtown. The station is owned by the Ruidoso Radio and Television Station here last week.

Enrollment In Ruidoso Schools Expected To Increase This Year

Enrollment in the Ruidoso Municipal Schools is expected to show a substantial increase by the end of September, Supt. J. Howard Morris announced Tuesday.

At the end of the first week of school total enrollment was 731. This number is expected to increase to about 750 by the end of this month, which will be about 30 more than on the same date last year.

All local schools will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

In a breakdown of current enrollment figures, increases have been noted in High School and Junior High School, whereas the Nob Hill School shows a decrease of about 12 from last year, the superintendent said.

Some of the classes in High School are overcrowded, especially in mathematics and social science, Morris reported. A study now is underway to relieve the situation.

It is believed that the problem will be resolved in the near future," Morris said, "wherein the class loads will be more nearly normal."

The superintendent also explained that one regrettable situation exists in relation to Indian students. Several new cases of the mild form of meningitis have occurred in the White Hall area, he said. As a result, the State Health Department advised keeping the Indian students from these areas out of school for a two week period.

"This is being complied with," Morris said, "Even though this unusual malady is mild in form and does not cause serious results, preventive precaution is being taken to prevent its spread. All students from these areas are expected back in school on or before Sept. 14."

He also explained that the state department had given assurance that this prevalent disease on the reservation is definitely not a bacterial type and not a situation for alarm or undue concern.

Malnutrition Is Cause Of Death Of Cagle Infant

A criminal complaint against a Ruidoso Downs man, resulting from the death of his 11-month-old son from malnutrition, was filed Wednesday by Assistant District Attorney John W. Thompson.

The father, Herbert Cagle, whose present whereabouts are unknown, is charged with desertion of his wife and family, which is a felony in the State of New Mexico. A warrant for Cagle's arrest was issued here Wednesday.

The child, Don Cagle, died Aug. 28 at the local hospital. The two other Cagle children, Helen, 3, and Albert Lee, 2, also were suffering from malnutrition and were hospitalized.

Condition of the children was reported by a neighbor, who called a local physician to the Cagle home. The baby was near death at the time, according to the Assistant DA.

When the condition of Mrs. Cagle and her children was discovered by Ruidoso Downs residents, they were taken to her aid. The father, who had been working at odd jobs in the area, had deserted his family three weeks ago. There was no food in the house when neighbors went to the home.

Ruidoso Downs residents provided food and clothing for the mother and two surviving children. The neighbors washed and ironed their clothes. They collected $100 in cash and enough additional money to buy bus tickets for the mother and her two children to Minneapolis, Minn., where Mrs. Cagle's parents reside. The mother and children left Wednesday in clean and fresh clothes and with a bountiful box lunch for their travels.

"It was wonderful how everyone responded to the family's aid," Mrs. Ruth Hoide said. "I and other Ruidoso Downs residents are deeply grateful to everyone who responded."

The Cagle children's bill at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital remains unpaid.

"If anyone, who didn't get to help the mother and children before they left, would like to contribute toward the hospital bill, it would be a wonderful gesture," Mrs. Hoide said.

Donations may be turned into Mrs. Ruth Hoide at the Ruidoso Downs Mercantile Co., Ruidoso Downs, on Highway 76.

The Rudic Inn is a 12-unit hotel in the Post Office block. The Chester's who will assume active management Sept. 15, plan extensive improvements at the hotel. These will include a gift shop, which will feature picture frames to be custom finished by Mrs. Chester. Other improvements at the hotel will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonal acquired the 10-room, four-story and three-half-story of the Rudic Inn on Main Street in El Paso and will move there Oct. 1, when they close the La Feuda Motel here for the 11th year. The Bonals will return to Ruidoso next spring to re-open the La Feuda, which they own and operate.

Here's a reminder—make your plans to come back and see us several times during the fall and winter—you'll find the scenery is gorgeous when the autumn foliage of gold and red and brown is rampant, you'll find the temperatures are moderate and the atmosphere is just what you need. You'll especially enjoy the Appaloosa in October, Thanksgiving and in November, hunting in November and Christmas, too. And, also, remember, we can now fish the year around in the Rio Grande!

By Dick Sparks

Hi! This week has been a sorrowful one for the villagers and vicinity. Two well known and beloved women have gone to their reward of rest. They will be missed by their families and friends but grieve them not. One mourns them not but think of them as being glad to have you back again Mrs. Thirworth and may your stay be a most happy one.

Buddy Williams returned home this week where he will enter school for his senior year. Buddy has spent the summer on his aunt and uncle's place near Lordsburg. Buddy has been a familiar figure at the Hill Drive Store where he has been employed for the summer. You shall be missed but we shall see you next summer.

Nathale Britton will leave Sept. 15 to enter Lubbock Christian College. Nathale is majoring in home economics.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, caretakers of the Nazarene Camp, Angus, will leave on their vacation in October. They plan to motor to the Gulf of Mexico, near Galveston. This time of the year most pleasant for that section of Texas.

Dr. H. C. Jernigan of Fort Stanton Medical Center held a chest clinic in Las Cruces last Thursday. Friday he held one in Hobbs.

Dr. Logan of Fort Stanton Medical Center, has returned from the VA Hospital in Albuquerque. Dr. Logan has been ill of a virus of unknown origin.

Virgil Hall visited in Ruidoso Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Dale Seibert of Fort Stanton have moved to Albuquerque where he plans to go into retirement. Dr. Seibert has been employed at Fort Stanton for the past four years.

The Round Table Club met with Mrs. Frances Shaw last Thursday. A menu of fried chicken, salad, green peas, green beans with new potatoes, relish dish and ending with a birthday cake of German chocolate for Mrs. Angie Province. The Shaw home was decorated with chaste daisies, nasturtiums and gladioli.

Mrs. Corinne Province was program chairman, providing an identification game with Lorene Ferguson winning high and Mrs. Hackman low. The members attending the meeting were Mrs. Pauline Britton, Marie Eggar, Lorene Ferguson, LaVon Hall, Ethel Merrell, Grace Murphy, Corine Province, Angeline Province with three guests, Mrs. Marco Hackman, Mrs. Lon Marchant and Mrs. Vera Beall with the hostess, Mrs. Shaw. Col. and Mrs. L. W. Varner of Fort Stanton are back after a ten day vacation in Mexico. Most of their stay was in the vicinity of Guadalupe and Hihix (right, Col.?)

A week from today will be the big day for Lincoln County. WHY? The Fair will be in its first day. So again if you have not gotten your things together to exhibit then like the monkey it's short, time that is. Will see you there.

That's all for this week folks but may I leave you with this thought? "Whatever a man thinketh in his heart, so shall he be."

See you next week, God willing, Dixie.

Audie Murphy To Attend Races Sunday

Beau The co-featured 350-yard "Malpais State Park Allowance" runs deep in contention with Lena's Bar, Oklahoma's own, a four-time winner going in rare form. Do It For Me, owned by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Bethune of Phoenix, Ariz., has won two and is partial to this distance while Edger Rose's best would give her a chance.

Remaining contestants; Burke's Bar—won two earlier in meet—last out was in the mud—may prefer a fast track, Lady Gates, winner, War Deck—a winner and Filly Pe-line, who appears the outsider in the race.

Headlines Set Saturday
Saturday at the Downs will feature two top headlines on a stellar card as pure hungry horsemen crowd the entry box.

Co-featured as tenth is "The State Fair Allowance"—a 300-yard dash honoring the Albuquerque meet which starts Sept. 26 and goes through Oct. 4.

Dr. Rand V., belonging to L. E. Patterson of Long Beach, Calif., is a two-time winner. He won the big one at Los Alamitos, Calif., going this distance and might prefer a fast track.

The Weatherwise Stable's Spanish Charge is going in-top form and now and was a convincing winner last out, while Be Bold won his last start and is a tough one at this distance.

Remaining entries; Flying Tom and Hopeful Lady—both three time winners; Finch Bar, Spotted Mama and Red Jones.

The 5 1/2 furlong "Duckaroo Lounge Allowance" is a closely contested event with No Gal, representing the W. L. "Mac" McDonald stable of Artesia, Little Timid, belonging to M. T. Cannon of Amarillo, Tex., and Jimo, owned by the Palo Verde Stable of Ruidoso Downs, the likely choices. No Gal seems to have an excellent chance and is a strong finisher and seldom runs a bad race, while Little Timid and Jimo both have a lot of speed. Both are running well at this meet and it would be no surprise for either of them.

Rest of the field; Lurcher—won his last out against an easier field—is on the improving side. Tray Bar—winner, Condemnation—has yet to run his best race—once could handle the field, Mike Ligardi, Nemcho 2nd, Whoplin Crane and Twice Jonnie.

Ruidoso Mile is Sunday
Ruidoso Downs presents the "Ruidoso Mile Thoroughbred Handicap"—$3,000 added plus 5% of the mutuel on this Sunday's program. A. P. Frazzini's Sixty Ned might gain the lead enough to win the sixth annual running of this event. The Circle K Stable's Quick Thrust, a running mate with Flect Pere, has been in winning form all summer—was narrowly beaten by top one her last out, Lena's Victory, winner of "The Jim Carter Allowance" loves this route.

Remaining challengers; Slog N Cal, Mesa H., Aortic, Nemcho 2nd, Camarillo and Damask Cloth.

Co-featured is "The Annie Murphy Allowance"—a 300-yard dash honoring the Albuquerque meet which starts Sept. 26 and goes through Oct. 4.

WARRIORS OPEN AGAINST ROSWELL 'B' HERE TONIGHT

The Ruidoso Warriors kick off the lid of the 1959 football season here tonight (Friday) when they take on the traditional opening opponent, Roswell 'B' at 8 o'clock. Coach Leland is faced with rebuilding a team after losing nine starters from the 1958 team. The Warriors also move up into the Class B conference this season and will take on their first conference foe here Friday night when the Lordsburg Mavericks come to town.

Leland stated that the starting backfield tonight will be Benny Jones at quarterback, Captain Wilson Howard and Jim Wilson at half-backs, and Bob Beavers at full-back. The starting line-up is uncertain at this time, but with the largest squad in Ruidoso's history, competition is keen for the seven vacant line positions.

With the new gym taking up some of the former parking space, Leland pointed out that there is ample parking on the paved street south of the high school buildings and east of the Junior High.

Those coming early to take advantage of the Quarterback Club Junior High Cafeteria may park at the building and use one of the sidewalks to the building. A walkway is arranged between the building and the south bleachers. Others may park north of the field.

Following is the Warrior squad for this season: Bill Averitt, Bob Beavers, Wesley Clark, Jerry Curry, Clifford Burgess, Ben Donathan, Bill Hall, John Hawkins, Wilson Howard, Bill Howard, Benny Jones, Alfred Lane, George McGuire, Dennis Miller, Joe Moore, Brian Owens, Gary Russell, Reynaldo Sanchez, Vic Sharp, Durrell Sloan, Mike Shultz, Cliff Watley, Jim Wilson, Jerry Watley, Murray Winans, Phil White, Mack Cook, Cruz Padina, Gene Scott, Everett Sanchez, Teddy McClinton, Gene Myers, Bonnie Taylor, Bob Farmer, Ronnie Suleitor and Buck Main.

Student managers this year are Wayne Murray and Virgil Reynolds.

Quarterback Club Plans Supper 5 'Til 8 Tonight
To kick off the 1959 Warrior football season here, the Ruidoso Quarterback Club is serving a ham supper in the Junior High school cafeteria tonight (Friday) from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. (except for the 7:30 p. m. game). The ham supper will be $1.50 for adults and 75c for students. Serving will end at 8 p. m., time for the first game of the season to start for the Warriors against their traditional season opponent, Roswell "B" Hawks.

Winner of the championship fight was Jack Wilson, with Joe Sanchez the runner-up and Ed Kaye consolation winner.

Bill Kruse captured the first fight, Jimmy Owens was runner-up and Charley Kaye was consolation winner.

Getting merchandise was awarded as prize.

Cree Meadows Plans Tournney For Older Men
Cree Meadows Sealer Tournament for men 50 or over, will be held Sept. 18-19, Sunny Edwards, owner and operator of the course, announced Monday.

Records attested by home pro may be used for qualifying. Edwards said, "with the exception for the medalist trophy."

There will be matched play in all flights during the four-day tournament.

Many out of state golfers are expected to compete this year, Edwards said.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kirby of Fort Worth, Tex., last week visited here with his mother, Mrs. Viola Kirby, and sister, Mrs. Joyce, and other relatives.

California, Florida Horses Capture Feature Races Last Week-End; All-American Trials Are Held

Tidy Too, the best-footed filly California has, mothered big one home first in the featured "Uncle Charley Weaver Allowance" as the television set looked on.

Weaver, in real life Cliff Arquette, presented the winners' blanket to owner Ray Seley of Blythe, Calif. The comic star of the Jack Paar show was attired in his "working clothes" of baggy pants, wrinkled shirt, elongated necktie and battered hat.

Tidy Too broke with the field and took charge in the main track to shake up another important victory. Tossing under the wire were Rival and Irish Day. Tidy Too paid $2.80, $3.40 and $2.80.

Biggest payoff of the day came in the fourth race won by Locomotion. Locomotion paid $14.80 for the win while Encourage returned a whopping $60.80 and $12.80. The combination on a quinella ticket was a hefty $123.40.

Jockey Robert Ford was a triple winner of the first race, returning Tidy Too in the tenth and Fritole Route in the eleventh. The latter horse was the winner of the co-featured Harford Allowance and is leased by El Paso Lee Speer.

Fogmar, coupled with Dorothy Dean, won the second race, returning daily double backers a modest $55.60.

Ruidoso Man May Have Discovered Amazing Product For Antibiotics

By VIRGINIA CHAPPELL
(Ruidoso News Staff Writer)

Has a Ruidoso man discovered a product that will be of revolutionary importance in the field of beneficial antibiotics—or in the treatment of cancer?

That remains to be proven, but present indications point that way.

The product is a compost humus developed from rabbitry waste. The discoverer is E. S. Hardy, who lives on a 51-acre tract of land in Carling Canyon, where he raises thousands of rabbits each year for commercial purposes.

Hardy became engaged in the rabbit business about three years ago and began reading books on ways of converting the rabbitry waste into some commercial product.

Hardy decided to experiment with a compost humus. He designed a wooden container for the waste. The containers are 12 feet long and divided into two six-foot sections. They have lids and inside are rows of shallow shelves, resembling grove graters. Handles of the shelves protrude on the outside of the containers.

"I cover the shelves with cardboard," Hardy said, "and then my real work begins."

He uses six wash tubs of rabbit droppings to one six-foot section. He alternates with a layer of soil taken from his virgin land, a layer of the rabbit waste and then a small amount of two certain compounds to stimulate bacteria action, until the section is filled.

THIS BREEDING DOE—Is one of two in the herd of E. S. Hardy of Ruidoso, which for several months had tumors in its jaws. Hardy tried various remedies and finally fed them a compost humus he has developed. The tumors in both rabbits soon disappeared and have not recurred, Hardy said.

contents are 99 percent droppings and one percent dirt. The same holds true in a similar plot where he grows flowers.

The contents will not activate in a dry state," Hardy said. "The perfect percentage for the product is about 55 per cent moisture."

Hardy's compost humus is kept in the containers for 60 days, then is removed and dried. The compost then is screened twice, until it is about the consistency of ground coffee.

"The product contains a large amount of carbon and nitrogen," Hardy said. "The rabbit droppings contain the greatest amount of nitrogen of any farm animal."

About marketing time in 1958, Hardy began losing hundreds of his rabbits due to coccidiosis and mucoid enteritis.

"I tried everything I could," Hardy said. "No avail."

Finally, Hardy decided to try feeding the animals some of the compost humus to try and counteract the disease. As they wouldn't eat it in the dry form, he mixed it in their drinking water.

"The rabbits soon started coming out of their sickness, and the herd was more alert and in better general health," he said.

Then, Hardy noticed that two of his breeding does—a New Zealand white and a Flemish—had developed hard lumps on their jaws.

"I knew that these lumps were probably tumors," Hardy said, "and that they were either benign or malignant. But I was afraid to try and puncture the lumps."

Since the converted waste had helped counteract the coccidiosis and mucoid enteritis in his herd, Hardy decided to feed it to the breeding does and see what effect it would have on the tumors.

The lumps disappeared in a short time after the does began taking the compost humus in their drinking water.

Hardy still has these two does and the tumors never have reappeared. The compost humus Hardy does not use for his own purposes he packs in plastic bags and sells to farmers and grocery stores.

He also is experimenting with the effects of the converted waste on garden vegetables and flowers. Carrots, cauliflower and other vegetables grow to a mammoth size in a plot

GIANT VEGETABLES—Are grown in an experimental plot of garden, mixed with a compost humus, by E. S. Hardy. Here, he holds a large head of cauliflower grown in the plot. Hardy also is experimenting with the product he has developed in the growth of flowers.

IN THESE CONTAINERS—A compost humus is developed from rabbitry waste by E. S. Hardy. Here he points to the "shaker" shelves which hold layers of the activating product, which takes 60 days to develop. Hardy has reduced the ravages of coccidiosis and mucoid enteritis in his herd by feeding these the product in their drinking water.

Estimate One Third Of Hondo Apple Crop To Be Harvested

Red and Golden Delicious apples are now being harvested in central and western New Mexico, according to Jere R. Boyer, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist with the New Mexico State University Extension Service.

Delicious varieties will be moving in volume within two weeks and the Winesaps and Romas will be harvested around October first. The Delicious have good color and average size in most areas and growers have been able to pick early ripers during the last week of August. Rains in southern New Mexico have slowed harvesting operations. These rains won't hurt the crop so long as there is no hail, says Boyer.

Fancy tray packs and cell cartons of the Red and Golden Delicious are selling for $5.25 to $6. Most of the boxed apples will move through market channels to the large chains. Fruit sold at the orchard will be handled by truckers. Such fruit is usually sold on an orchard-run basis with either grower or trucker doing the harvesting with little or no grading.

Other varieties in the Albuquerque, Santa Fe, and Silver City areas also look good, the specialist says. The state will harvest 367,000 bushels of all varieties of apples. This figure is less than half of an average crop. A lighter than usual blossom set and adverse weather conditions during the growing season account for the small crop.

The Hondo area in Lincoln County has had severe hail damage. Growers will harvest only a third of an estimated 80,000 bushel crop as saleable apples. Most sales will be made to truckers in bulk lots. Prices are ranging from $2 to $2.50 per field box for bulk apples. Several hail storms during the growing season caused heavy bruising, breaks in the skin, and malformed fruit. Such damaged fruit has a psychological effect on the consumer and does not market well, even though the internal part of the apple is damaged only in extreme cases.

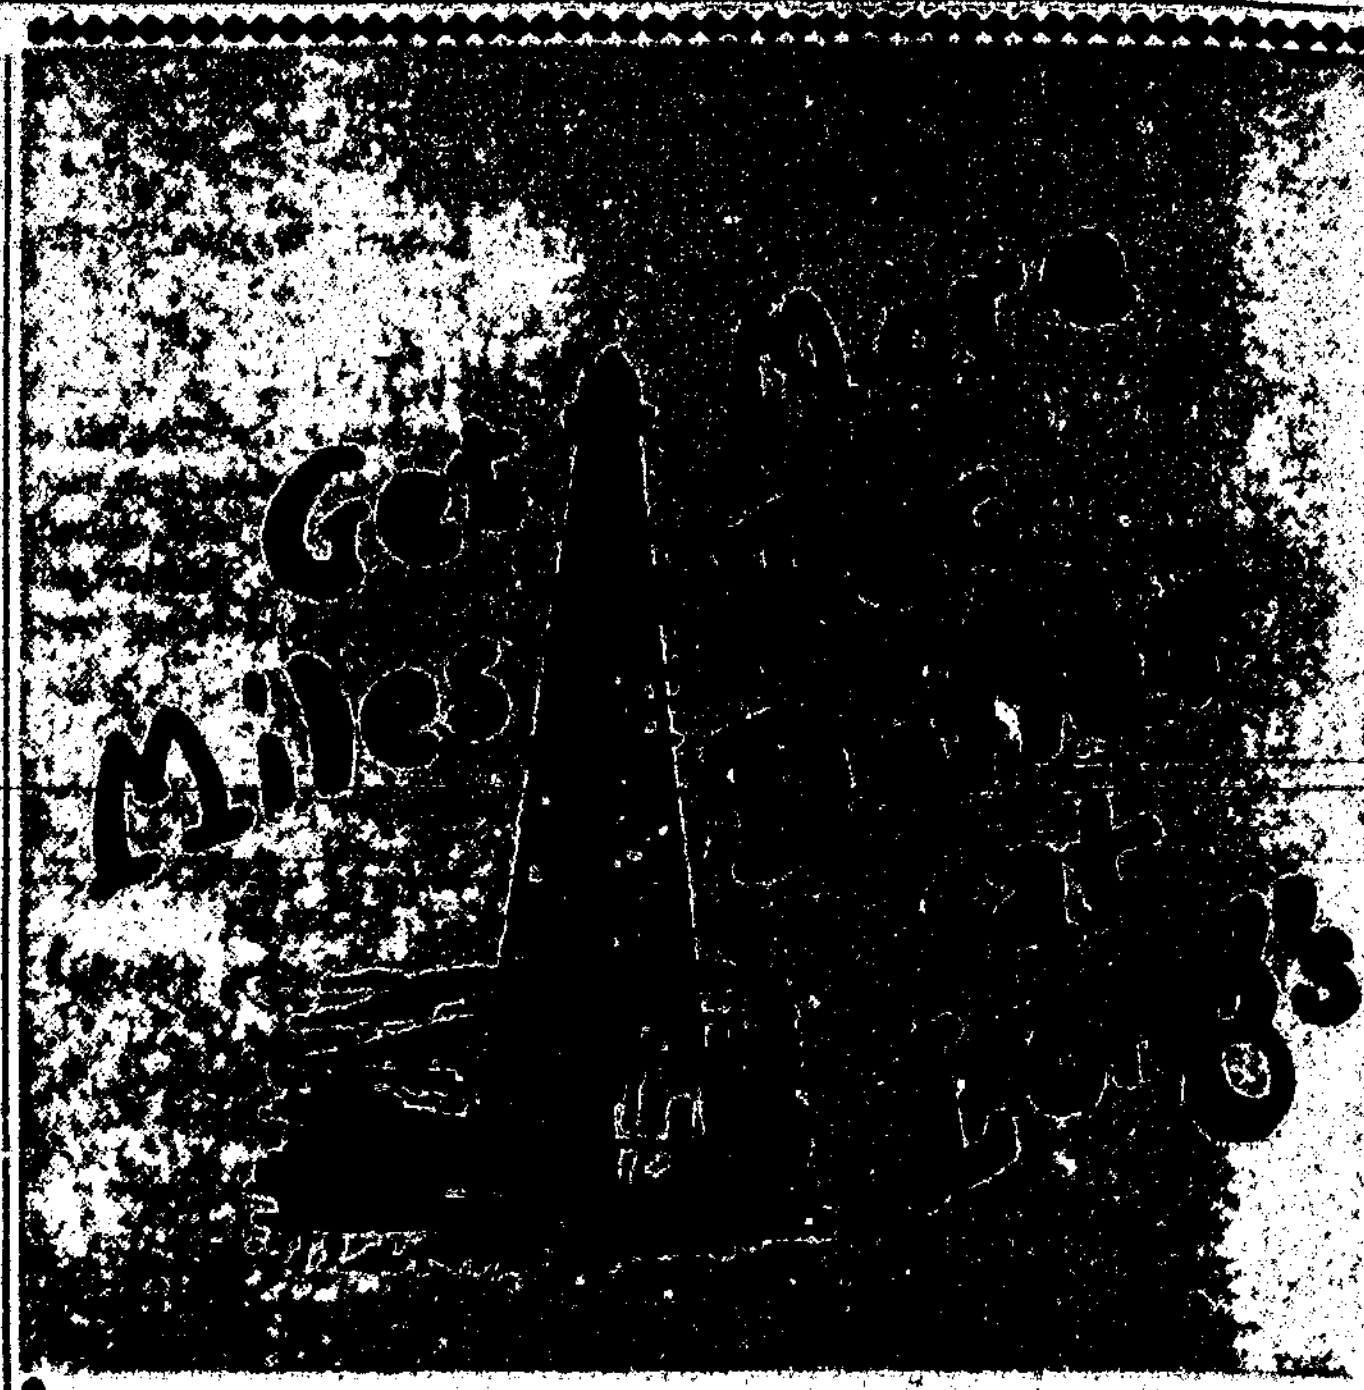

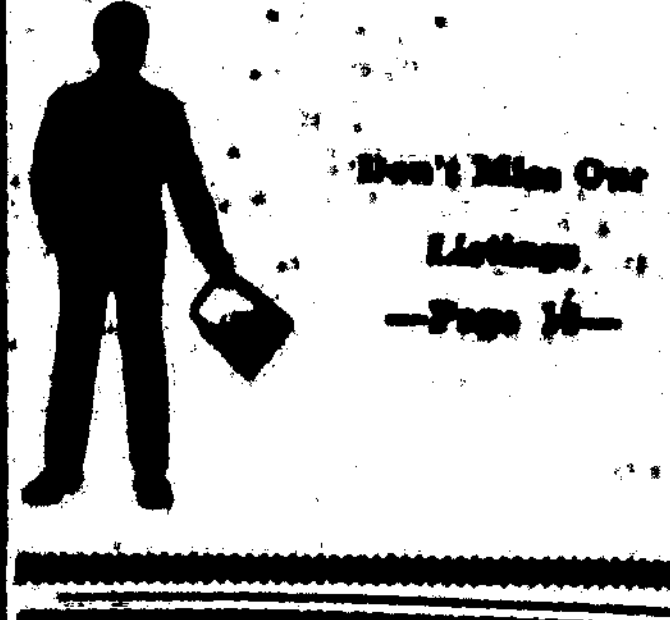

Every year some growers in the state are faced with the problem of selling apples damaged beyond federal grade tolerances by hail and weather. There are no apple processing plants in New Mexico and it is not practical to sell this fruit to out-of-state processors because of high transportation costs.

Boyer says he is exploring the possibility of marketing this damaged fruit in the form of fresh apple juice cartoned and refrigerated the same as milk. Less elaborate processing facilities would be needed and growers might work in cooperation with local dairies to pasteurize, carton, refrigerate, and possibly even distribute fresh apple juice to the consumer.
