Two nice compliments for us last week—one a postcard from a fan who said "you deserve a 'pat on the back' for your column, Nosey. Wa-ter! This week's issue was very interesting. Keep up the good work." Another was in a letter from Walter Beatty of Roswell who described the Ruidoso News as a very excellent publication. . . . (blush, blush). . . .

Today being the Fourth of July we feel it is an appropriate time to say a few words of thanks to Raymond Lillie Osborne for a nice gesture we have observed since we arrived in Ruidoso. Their home on Main Road opposite the school house campground park has a nice flagpole from which Old Glory flies every day during the summer, from Memorial Day until Labor Day. The stars and stripes greet us each morning as we drive to work—and it's a beautiful reminder to us of their patriotism—that they so love our great country that they display Old Glory for all to see. When you think the U. S. is a nation of 50 states, they'll have to replace their flag with the new version to be proclaimed sometime soon—as will many other places here. . . .

Note from Ed and Alleie Crawford says "tell everyone 'hello' for us." They are at Garland, Tex. . . . One small skunk, with his head caught in a tin can, was an unwelcome customer the other night at the Star Cafe. Lois Blankenship and Jean Featherstone, operators of the cafe, said the striped kitten made a mess for the cafe, even though they didn't see a thing. After a near screaming customers in the cafe, Wayne Mann finally went to the rescue. He grabbed up the young animal, tin can and all. After a few shakes, the skunk was freed and disappeared into the night. (Nobody was present!)

He has 60 head of horses, 25 brahma bulls and 30 mixed calves along with some bulldogging steers. Lane has a cabin up the Bonito where he has been staying most of the year, but has a ranch near Belen to which he often has youngsters from the New Mexico Boys' Ranch as his guests. Crackdown On Traffic Violations Is Announced By Police Judge

Police Judge H. C. Graham of Ruidoso said a crack-down on traffic violations in the Ruidoso area, particularly for speeding, passing in "no passing" zones, and for driving while intoxicated will be conducted for the balance of the summer here.

"We are having more and more such violations, and it can only lead to [illegible] accidents, with [illegible] injuries, and death [illegible]," he declared. He said the local push to halt violations was a part of a statewide safety drive instituted by the State Police.

With a larger traffic load than ever before in Ruidoso's history on the streets this summer, Judge Graham said it is necessary for all to observe safety laws to keep the village record of deathless days growing. Ruidoso now is seeking to complete its seventh year without a traffic fatality within the village limits.

Rains In Forest Now Curtailing Hazard Of Fire

Rains now falling in various areas of the Lincoln National Forest are lessening the extreme fire hazard which has existed throughout the Lincoln for the last several weeks.

Heaviest rainfall at the present time is reported in the east and south portions of the forest.

The Ruidoso area has had several recent showers, which has lowered temperatures and also brought assessment in the fire hazard.

Increased rainfall is expected in July throughout the forest and in this area.

However, Ralph Brown, who flies for the Forest Service, still is making two daily patrols of the Lincoln. Several minor fires were spotted during the last several days, but soon were brought under control. All were caused from lightning, according to Brown.

VISITING PLANES LAND AT AIRPORT

Many out of state and New Mexico planes again used facilities at the Ruidoso Airport over the week-end, according to Ralph Brown, operator.

Texas cities represented included Midland, Odessa, El Paso, Pecos, Brownfield, Lubbock, Abilene, Fort Worth, Austin, McAllen, Littlefield and Amarillo.

Two Arizona cities—Phoenix and Nogales—were represented. A plane from Aspen, Colo., was registered and New Mexico cities represented were Clovis, Albuquerque, Carrizozo and Roswell.

Land In Forest May Be Used For Recreation

The proposed withdrawal of 1,280 acres of Lincoln National Forest land from the general mining laws in order to use the area as a recreational site and for watershed protection has been announced by the U. S. Bureau of Land Management.

The announcement of the proposed withdrawal came from the BLM office in Santa Fe.

Zane Grey Smith of Albuquerque, assistant regional forester with the U. S. Forest Service, said the area has been under study as a possible ski and recreation area.

Smith said the area has been under study for several years. Checks have shown there is regularly enough snowfall to provide skiing, according to Smith.

At present a prospectus is being prepared for potential investors, who would convert the land into a ski area under a lease contract agreement with the government.

The developer would pay the cost of developing the land into a recreational area, Smith said. Cost of such development is estimated at from 1½ to 2 million dollars.

The notice of the proposed withdrawal was dated last Friday. The law requires a 30-day waiting period before proceeding with plans so that objections and comments might be received. If circumstances warrant, a public hearing would be held, Smith said.

A proposed ski run and ski lodge in that area has been under consideration by a group of men in this area for the last several years.

Hordes Of Hoppers Invading Dam Area

Hordes of grasshoppers are invading the Ruidoso Dam area, Ralph Dunlap, county agent, reported Wednesday.

Henry Hale and Tull Stansill have noted great numbers of the insects on their land in that area, Dunlap said.

At the present time, according to the county agent, the grasshoppers are small in size and not easily noticed. However, now is the time to begin any control of them, he said.

"Grasshoppers begin laying eggs 10 days after they start flying", Dunlap said. "They should be controlled before that time."

Chlordane, dieldin and heptachlor were mentioned by the agent to use in their control. However, he emphasized that they should be used according to directions and precautions followed.

Aerial Spraying Underway At Capitan

By DOROTHY GUCK

For several men of the U. S. Forest Service, the working day began last Wednesday and Thursday at 3 a. m. A two-motor plane was filled with a combination of DDT and fuel oil at Albuquerque and winged its way to the Capitan Mountains to wage war on an insect infestation that had defoliated about 1500 acres of Douglas fir.

At 5:15 a. m. the residents of Capitan could see the plane as it skimmed over the south side of the East Capitan Mountain pouring out a white, smoky-looking carpet behind it. An observer plane hovered nearby, and radio contact was kept with the Ranger Station.

During the summer of 1958, Ranger Ed Guck had discovered the insect activity and informed the Regional Headquarters. Entomologists were sent to examine the area and determine what kind of insect was causing the damage and the extent of the infestation. This preliminary survey was the beginning of preparations for combating the insect enemies that required many months of thorough planning.

Most of us realize that much of our forested land is damaged by fire each year, but few of us know that the loss of timber from insects is so tremendous. The annual insect loss in sawtimber alone is 12.6 billion board feet per year—enough to build 1 1/3 million homes, or just about enough new homes to house all of New York City's people.

Spraying is most effective when the larvae reach a certain stage which only lasts for a period of about 30 days. Last week a crew of men placed bright colored spray cards in the infested area as plane markers and to register the amount of spray that made contact with the trees. The insect was identified as the fir looper associated with the tussock moth. Aerial spraying has been very successful in controlling this insect in other parts of the United States. All the planning was under the direction of David McComb. The other men in the crew were Jay Cravens, Jerry Mandell, Ben Wellington, Wayne Hadley and Walter Metcalf. Their Regional Office director is Dahl Kirkpatrick.

The insecticide was applied from an aircraft flying at an elevation of 200 to 400 feet above the tree tops. Spray was distributed with a nozzle boom capable of applying the insecticide at the rate of one gallon per acre as a mist. The spraying had to take place during the early morning hours while the temperature was below 68 degrees and the wind velocity below 8 miles per hour.

The infested area on the Capitans appears as a rust-brown sector covering the slopes of Mitt&Bar Canyon. The sun rose each morning just above the East Mountain to hamper our view of the man-made cloud of insecticide as it drifted down to settle on the forest, but it gave us a good feeling to know that this hungry little fir looper and all his uninvited kinfolks had finished their last meal of the edible foliage on the timber in the Capitan Mountains this year. A hazardous job was completed in the never-ending job of keeping our forests green without even a minor mishap.

Heart Attack Fatal To J. G. Moore

State Sen. J. G. Moore suffered a fatal heart attack last Thursday night at his home at Carrizozo.

Burial followed in the Carrizozo Evergreen Cemetery. The Rev. W. P. Lytle of the Corona Presbyteran Church, officiated.

Moore had been a resident of Lincoln County for many years and had served as county clerk for some time before going to the Senate. He was completing his eighth year as New Mexico senator.

Moore had attended a Rotary luncheon last Thursday and seemed in excellent spirits. He was planning a vacation in Mexico. Moore had had a doctor's checkup that same day for a long-standing heart condition.

Moore was among Carrizozo's most prominent businessmen and was owner of an insurance agency there.

Walker AFB To Set Up Rest Camp In Lincoln Forest, Near Ruidoso

A rest and recreation camp for Walker Air Force Base personnel will be established in a scenic area of the Lincoln National Forest, near Ruidoso, according to an announcement by Everett Doman, supervisor of the forest.

Land for the camp will be leased to the base by the Federal Government.

Five sites in the Lincoln have been offered by the Forest Service for approval by the base. All of the sites will include from five to 10 acres.

One site, near the Ski Run on Cedar Creek, is especially favored by Walker officials.

Everett Doman, supervisor of the Lincoln, and Ruidoso Ranger Clarence Sinclair Wednesday took a group of officers from Walker on a tour of the proposed areas. The group also was accompanied by city officials from Roswell and Mayor Jack Hull of Ruidoso.

A site favored as second choice by the Walker officers is located on Mon Jeau Road, near the Woman's Club Forest Memorial Plantation.

"The only drawback to the Ski Run site," Ranger Sinclair said, "is that it lies in steep terrain and would necessitate quite a bit of work in establishing it as a campsite."

Engineers from the air base soon will be sent here to study the proposed sites and their findings will determine the final selection, according to Sinclair.

The camp is being planned by the air base to accommodate 20 trailers, each to house a Walker family. A rotation plan will be set up, so that as many families as possible may enjoy the camp facilities. The camp will operate on a year-around basis.

Walker officers, who were here Wednesday to tour the sites, included Col. O'Conner, Col. Yarbrough and Capt. Westfall.

Las Cruces Girl Wins Title Of Maid Of Cotton

Ruidoso again was site for the 12th annual convention of the New Mexico Cotton Ginners Assn. when a young blonde from Las Cruces was chosen 1960 New Mexico Maid of Cotton.

She is Cecelia Rawlings, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rawlings. This year's Maid of Cotton is a student at Colorado University, where she is a member of Kappa Gamma Sorority, Buff Ski Club and other college organizations. She was sponsored by the Reuntree Cotton Co. of Las Cruces.

The first runnerup was Norma Louis Lozier, 24, of Roswell. She was graduated from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

During a business session of the cotton ginners, all three officers were re-elected for the 1959-60 year.

O. J. Ford of Hagerman was named president, Woodrow Allen of Lovington was chosen vice-president and Winston Lovelace of Loving will serve again as secretary-treasurer.

All members of the board of directors were re-elected. They are Nell Hartman, Hatch; Bud Lewis, Deming; Walter Craft, Carlsbad; Luther Thomas, Portales; Woodrow Allen, Lovington, and Ford.

Jack Sitton, former editor of the Carlsbad Current-Argus, was the main speaker at the convention. In a speech on practical politics and the press, Sitton said:

"When you think of practical politics, think of this one thing. If the good men don't run our political parties the bad men will; if the good men don't write our laws, the bad ones will. It's as simple as that."

SEVERAL SMALL FIRES CAUSED BY LIGHTNING

Increasing thunder storms in the mountains are causing numerous small forest fires, Clarence Sinclair, Ruidoso Ranger, said Tuesday morning.

At that time, two fires had been spotted in the Capitan Mountains and men were taken to the sites, he reported.

Another minor lightning-caused fire in Dark Betsy Canyon in the Bonito area was brought under control last Friday. The blaze was located about two miles from an access road, Sinclair said, and food and water were flown in by Ralph Brown and Jim McElwee of the Forest Service.

Sinclair said rainfall in this area is "spotty" and heaviest precipitation has been in the Sacramento Mountains of the Lincoln National Forest.

New phone number for Ruidoso State Bank is CL 7-5065.

Mrs. Marsano Hosts Party On 92nd Birthday

Mrs. Jesse Marsano, one of the beloved residents of Ruidoso, Tuesday afternoon entertained at an open house to celebrate her 92nd birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Marsano greeted friends in a dress of navy blue sheer. Her jewelry included a long strand of pearls.

A handsome cloth of German embroidery, made by Mrs. Marsano, was spread on the refreshment table. Centering the table was a birthday cake, decorated with yellow and green roses. The cake was a gift from Mrs. Edith Johnson.

Homemade cookies and chocolates also were served with ice cream and punch.

Mrs. Marsano, the former Jane Stichel, was born at Brainerd, Bay. Her mother was German, and after the death of Mr. Stichel, the mother and Jane returned to Germany to live. Mrs. Marsano attended finishing school at Nurnberg, Germany.

She later met and married Felix Marsano, a Grand Opera singer. Mrs. Marsano is both a magician and a concert singer. Her frequently accompanied her husband in his operatic roles. For years, the Marsanos traveled extensively between Europe and the United States.

Mrs. Marsano, at one time, taught voice at Philadelphia, Pa., and was the first vocal teacher of Jeanette MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsano had one son, who died in 1951 at Alamogordo.

"My son had always loved Ruidoso," Mrs. Marsano said, "and we used to visit here frequently. After his death and, a year later, that of my daughter-in-law, I decided to move to Ruidoso.

"It was a wise choice, for everyone here has been wonderful to me," she said.

Capitan News

By DIXIE SPARKS

Hi, Folks! By the time you read this the first day of the Capitan Rodeo will be almost over. Once again, Capitan takes the spotlight as "the" host town in the past for having an all time Rodeo in this part of the county. How much more enjoyable AND SAFER to have good, clean fun and outdoor entertainment right in our own "backyard" so to speak. Starting last night (for some will have a three day week-end), all State, County and local law officers will be on the alert to prevent as many of the traffic accidents as they can. We, who will have to be out on the highways, can help them in our own way; by not driving IF we drink, not drinking IF we drive, let one for the road be a good "ole" cup of coffee or a soft drink. Another way is not to drive when we are overly tired or in a hurry to get home. If we do go somewhere, start a little earlier or be late to arrive. Yes sir, they (?) will wait for you or on you (people are nice IF we give them a chance to be).

[illegible] has outlined a program [illegible] and families [illegible] be a picnic [illegible] gets [illegible] Ruidoso [illegible] Capitan [illegible] will [illegible] Mrs. Bramlet, who will [illegible] her and really enjoying herself. Mrs. Bramlet's eye trouble is wonderful. Mrs. Clara Cooper, Lubbock's niece and children were up from Carrizozo visiting the other day. Oh yes, Happy Birthday, Larena. A week late but you don't look a day older than 39 (39 is for Jack Benny and ALL you). Champ Ferguson and Dyer Forbus are hanging their hats in their respective homes once again. The gals are glad too.

Lucille Smith is back at work again after having herself a nice vacation.

Don Murphy was in and out of the hospital but for the good and he is up and around again.

Mrs. LaMarr Bailey went to the Carrizozo hospital last Sunday night. "He" is a boy.

I saw Rev. Dawson of Ft. Stanton last Saturday and he was "abroad" for the first time after a "bout" with a virus. Rev. Dawson had just returned from a Clergyman's meeting (where he first became ill) but did finish the meeting. Rev. Dawson is Vicar of three Episcopal Parishes in Ft. Stanton, Glencoe and Ruidoso.

All of Capitan and vicinity is shocked to hear about Senator J. G. Moore's untimely death, due to an acute heart attack.

Those of you who read the article by Mrs. Tom Charles, Alamogordo, in the Lincoln County News, on the letter exchanging between Marines hospitalized at Ft. Stanton and the crew of the Missouri who finally DID grant them the request they ask for to see the ball game in Juneau, found so young lady that it was a good article. The few remaining Marines at Ft. Stanton and Capitan remembered and enjoyed it also. Talked to Mrs. Charles that Friday in Alamogordo and she said she wished she had made them [illegible] she had as many anecdotes of the Marines hospitalized at Stanton, prior to her husband's death, and she would like to write articles on them for she thought that quite a few people would like to read them.

Saw Pastor Abney of the Nazarene Church earlier in the week and he was on his way to Albuquerque to pick up another load of household goods for them here.

Also talked to Dee Hickman that same day and he has great hopes of having a well earned and deserved vacation later on this summer (if he can make a certain deal, I hope he does). He and the Mrs. are hoping to go to the Coast where Dee will get to go deep sea fishing off the coast of Oregon.

Paul and I drove down to Carlsbad Saturday after Granny and "Byna Ming," they "both" enjoyed their visit there very much even though the weather was considerable warmer there than here. Granny is REALLY glad to get back here where it is cooler.

Reis Soderback (Johnny's brother) leaves Capitan after the 4th holidays to go back with Pearl's sister, to California for a visit, they will go the northern route by the Grand Canyon.

My cousin, Mrs. Elma Campbell and three children will leave Monday, July 6, for California, they will spend the summer with her sister and mother at Santa Barbara. Her plans, as of now, will be to return to Capitan in time for the children to enter school.

Well folks, this puts us one more week closer to the Lincoln County Fair to be held Sept. 11-13. Have you picked out the fruits and vegetables you will show, the crocheting you have finished, you men the sheep and cattle YOU want to show? I know some things cannot be done until the last minute BUT we can think about it can't we? Before I write that's all, may I leave this THOUGHT FOR THE DAY with you, Shakespeare said: "Things are neither good nor bad ONLY our thinking makes them so." THAT is really all for this time folks, see you next week, God willing, Dixie.

Ruidoso News-Gas Setting New Pace In Softball League

Ruidoso News-Ruidoso Gas is looking better in the Softball League standings and is the most likely contender to take the lead from CPS, which has humbled all challengers since the season opened.

Ruidoso News-Ruidoso Gas has a new man on the pitcher's stand, and current report is that he could be the turning point in League standings. He is a newcomer in Ruidoso and, at the present time, this sports writer has been unable to learn his name. Only information gained now is that—besides being a pitcher—he is of middlim height, well built and good looking.

Ruidoso News-Ruidoso Gas clipped C&L Lumber last week with a 11-8 score. Tommie Poteet has been pitching for the Ruidoso News-Ruidoso Gas and pitched part of the game with the Firemen. Joe Sherman has been pitcher for the Firemen.

Test of the strength of both CPS and Ruidoso News-Ruidoso Gas was to be tried Wednesday night when they tangled at the School Athletic Field. Ken Newton pitched for CPS last week when the team defeated the Ruidoso Downs Firemen.

LeRoy Gooch and Ralph McGuire continue in great batting form for the CPS nine. Gooch knocked two homers and McGuire chalked up one in the game against the Firemen.

C&L Lumber and the Ruidoso Downs Firemen were scheduled to tangle Thursday night.

BREAK-UP MAY OCCUR IN LITTLE LEAGUE

Difficulties are plaguing Little Leaguers this summer, and there is a possibility no more games will be played this season, according to one of the former coaches.

Difficulties include lack of umpires and of boys for the teams. At the present time, according to Leo Park, former manager of the Cubs, the League has only one umpire.

There was no Little League game played last week.

Horsemen's Protective Association Asks Track To Withhold Dues

Gene Hensley, general manager of Ruidoso Downs, Monday met with a group of horsemen representing a horsemen's protective association, who asked that 1% of the win purse be withheld by the track for dues in the association. The representatives also made a request which was termed a grievance, and which Hensley said was to be remedied—in fact plans had already been underway to correct the grievance as expressed. Hensley said very few of the horse owners are in the new association—that almost all horsemen of Oklahoma and Texas had expressed no interest in joining. He said the management would co-operate fully with the request for the 1% withholding for dues, and would sit in with the association when it had matters to discuss regarding the horsemen's interests.

Longshots Spice Last Week-End At Downs

Sleepy Ned was anything but that Friday at Ruidoso Downs as the four-year-old brown colt sped to a decisive victory in the featured San Patricio Allowance.

Upwards of 3,000 fans watched the California-bred horse break out in front and lead all the way to return $13.10, $8 and $5.20. Daily Double Pays $872

In Saturday Upset

More than 5,000 racing fans watched in clear, cool weather as Spanish Flare galloped home first out of fast track in the opening race and paid $60.20, $30.80 and $12. Then Dark Talk captured the second race and returned $13.50, $6.80 and $4.80.

Spanish Flare is owned by Wesley Young of Sonora, Tex., and was ridden to victory over the six furlong distance by Jockey Cliff Lambert. Dark Talk is owned by Roger Canter of Midland, Tex. Elbert Minchey was in the irons in the 5½-furlong sprint.

The crowd of 5,000 represented an increase of 30 per cent over the similar racing date in 1958.

Will Return, a 2-year-old filly, turned in the fastest qualifying time of 1:13.2 in the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity Trials which were run in four sections Saturday. The Futurity will be run July 4.

Will Return's sire is Jackstraw, also the father of Nosey Josey, a 3-year-old filly who won the 1958 Ruidoso Futurity.

The first two horses in each of the four sections automatically are qualified for this year's Futurity. The other two starters in the 10-horse race will be drawn from the third place horses. Because of her outstanding performance in the trials Will Return will go to the starting gate a heavy favorite.

Other qualifiers include Beaulah Faye and Dixie D. in the first trial, Rhyme or Reason and Debonair Dandy in the second, Game Thymus and Macdan in the third and Pawhuska Sam in the fourth with Will Return.

Saturday's results:

Lujan up, 12.50, 7.50, 3.10; June Flash, 9.90, 4.30; Panama Ace, Jones was handicapped by a bad fly of the champions of the quarter horse world. Vanetta Dee, owned by John D. Askew of Fayetteville, Ark., capably carrying the World's Champion Quarter Running Mare of 1958' title and Vandy's Flash, of the Echo Ranch Stable (Carl Mercer) Ada, Okla., 'World's Champion Quarter Running Gelding of 1958' share the co-favorite's role. Go Man Go, carrying the colors of J. B. Ferguson of Wharton, Tex., is the one time champ of them all—is making his initial start after a long lay-off. Easter Rose, belonging to Dub Phillips of Dallas, is going in rare form right now and might upset the top ones. He is handled by astute horseman Bill Pasig.

Thoroughbred Futurity Set Sunday

The tenth annual running of the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity will be witnessed on the afternoon of Sunday, July 5. The $20,000 estimated purse will be the wealthiest thoroughbred stake ever run in the Southwest. This 6 furlong feature—eleventh on the program—drew the top youngsters now in active competition and each individual parading postward is a proven runner in his own right. There are the cream of 1958's rumpling crop of thoroughbred colts. Will Return, carrying the rippling copper and gold silks of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mathisek of Clovis, is shaping up the likely favorite. This fleet Jackstraw filly won her division of the trials in the fastest time and appeared a handy winner. Remaining competitive youngsters: Pawhuska Sam, Game Thymus, Rhyme or Reason, Wichita Maid, Micoka Ace, Beaula Faye, Macdan, Dixie D., and Debonair Dandy.

Longshots Thrill Sunday's Crowd

A longshot, Quick Thrust, captured the featured West Texas Thoroughbred Handicap over 6½ furlongs here Sunday afternoon at Ruidoso Downs to make the ninth win this season for its Albuquerque owner.

The six-year-old chestnut mare, owned by the Circle K Stable of Albuquerque and ridden by Jockey Joe Sherman, paid $26.30, $12.90, and $7.50. Crossing the wire in a driving finish, Quick Thrust turned in a time of 1:19.3. Little Ike was second and Hickory Red third.

The Carl Mercer Allowance in the 10th race was won by May High, owned by Troy Gaines of Sinton, Tex., and ridden by Jockey Harold Baker. She returned $60.70, $7 and $6.10 to betters. Flying Charm was second and Clover Leaf third.

Longshots also paid off handsomely in the sixth and seventh races. Yes More, R. Morrison, Tex., horse, returned $40.20 for a win ticket in the seventh, while Mr. Quick in the sixth paid $26.80 to those buying win tickets on the Blanchard, Okla. horse.

Array Boy in the first race and Not Bad in the second combined for a $49.10 daily double.

Those combining Jaserry and Pigeon Patter in the 12th race for quinella tickets received a bare $12.10. Jaserry is owned by wrestler promoter Mike London of Albuquerque and crossed the wire first in the mile-long race.

LOCAL PARI-MUTUEL MAN TO WORK FOR FAIR

Ruidoso Downs Pari-Mutuel Manager Jerry E. Knott has been chosen pari-mutuel manager for this year's New Mexico State Fair.

Knott was low bidder for the post. He asked $5,500 for himself and two assistants. The State Fair Commission has authorized his employment and that of one assistant for a total cost of $3,050.

Knott was recommended by the State Racing Commission. Fair commissioners generally agreed that his employment for the $6,050 figure would be a definite saving over previous years.

State Fair Manager Tex Beeson said Knott has recommended several construction changes in the pari-mutuel plant to improve the facilities for the public.

1959 BETTING EXPECTED TO SOAR ABOVE $3 MILLION THIS AFTERNOON; EXPECT ALL RECORDS TO FALL JULY 4

With the pari-mutuel handle at Ruidoso Downs already standing at $2,853,722 after last week-end's record crowds for the final week-end of June, it appears a lead-pipe cinch the $3 million mark will be passed today (Friday) as the local oval heads into what is expected to be an all-time record July 4th weekend.

The Downs' Fourth of July weekend racing program carries a well-balanced card of feature events. "The Eight Seventy Stakes" and "The Walker Air Base Allowance" are highlighted Friday, today. The former, with a combination quarter horse and thoroughbred field, again sees the two factors vieing for supremacy at this distance. Contention runs deep with Flying Tom, belonging to Vance Marshall of Pima, Ariz., and Flying Charm and Spanish Charge, representing the Weathervane Stables of Uvalde, Tex., possibly the co-favorites. Flying Tom is a two-time winner. Flying Charm is the one time 20 shaving and has given every indication of returning to this form while Spanish Charge is partial to this route, also. Red Turkson, belonging to Harris and Colcord of Phoenix, is a recent arrival—a highly rated winner. His last winning effort saw him run three-quarters in 1:10 flat. Frank Stitch, representing Leroy Spiropulos of Claremont, Tex., also vanned in recently from the West Coast—was a winner June 6 when he turned 6 furlongs in 1:10 and 2. Quick Thrust of the Circle K Stables (Dick Orr) of Albuquerque, was a surprise winner of last week's Handicap and is in rare form right now.

TV shorts, publicizing the track and showing many of the behind-the-scenes operations, are being made at the studio under the direction of Til Thompson. Special races and crowd scenes also will be filmed.

Thompson, who operates the Trans-Photo Laboratory for Ruidoso Downs, is both a master photographer and an inventor. He set up all the mechanism necessary for the sound TV.

Last week, he filmed a scene concerning pari-mutuel operations. Bill Keys, press agent for the Downs, interviewed Jerry Knott, who explained how the totalisectors (mechanical brains) operate.

Flood lights were turned on the men. A light reading was taken. The totalisector began to click.

Thompson gave the signals—"Action. Sound."

The scene was shot without a single marring incident.

The TV camera Thompson uses is one of the finest and costs more than $1,000. It is only one of several fine cameras that Thompson uses in his photo work at Ruidoso Downs. There are four big cameras mounted in two towers overlooking the track. These record photo-finishes in races.

Thompson, who joined the staff at Ruidoso Downs several years ago, also has done photo work for the horse races at Hobbs, the State Fair at Albuquerque, Tucson, Ariz., and in California.

EARLY AMERICAN ANTIQUES ARE BECOMING SCARCE, LOCAL DEALER REPORTS

Shelves along the long walls are filled with pieces of cranberry glass, delicate-looking satin glass, exquisite Limoge vases, a handsome clock of Italian marble and many, many

Quick Relief of HEADACHE

Ease PAINS OF HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, NEURITIS with STANBACK TABLETS or POWDERS. STANBACK combines several medically proven pain relievers . . . The added effectiveness of these MULTIPLE ingredients brings faster, more complete relief...easing anxiety and tension usually accompanying pain. Keep Stanback handy. Test STANBACK against any preparation you've ever used.

Mrs. Huntress last winter made buying trips through New York and New Jersey and in California.

"Antiques are getting very scarce," she said, "and are much higher priced."

She pointed to exquisite Mary Gregory glasses of an etherial blue, encrusted with scenes of children and flowers.

"Mary Gregory glasses", Mrs. Huntress said, "always have scenes of children and they are extremely rare. In all the hunting I did on my trips, I only found these four Mary Gregory glasses".

Becoming more and more popular with antique lovers, Mrs. Huntress said, is RS-Prussia china. She reached in a cabinet and took out a piece of this ware. It has a beautiful lilac luster and is decorated with the portrait of a girl.

Among many other prized items of the Antique Shop is a pair of satin glass vases, once the property of one of this country's most prominent families.

The Wall Street Journal recently reported that "The continuing demand for furniture from Puritan and pioneer America is pushing up prices and leading to scarcities".

"Good Early American is hard to come by", said Frank Glass, editor of the trade journal Antique Dealer".

Mrs. Huntress said the Wall Street Journal article "certainly is true," and she said she felt most fortunate in finding all the Early American she now has at her shop.

Mrs. Huntress has been an antique dealer here for many years, and also has made buying trips in Europe.

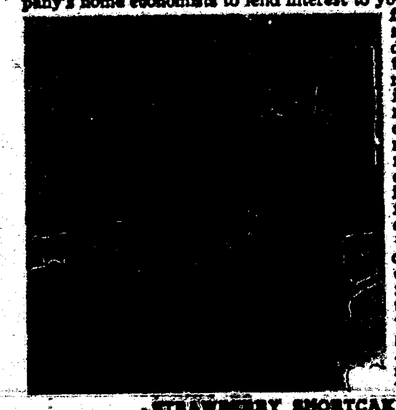
Low Calorie Topping For Shortcake

If the warm weather's put a damper on your menu-planning imagination, here's a dessert suggestion from Carnation Company's home economists to lend interest to your dinners. Serve fresh strawberry shortcake with a delicious whipped topping made with new crystal-form instant nonfat dry milk. These magic crystals of nonfat milk whip when mixed with an equal amount of ice water into fluffy white mounds of topping that's ⅝ lighter in calories than whipped cream. It's economical, too, for those who are watching the budget (who isn't?) . . . . an average serving costs less than 2½ cents.



STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKES

Combine ½ cup reliquefied instant nonfat dry milk crystals (use package directions) and ⅓ cup melted butter; mix well. Add to 2 cups biscuit mix; mix just until blended. Turn out on lightly floured surface; knead 10 times. Roll out to ½-inch thickness. Cut into rounds with 2½-inch floured biscuit cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in very hot oven (450°) 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool. Cut in half crosswise.

Combine 1 quart fresh strawberries and ⅔ cup sugar; mix well. Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ⅓ cup ice water. Whip until soft peaks form (2-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Continue whipping, while gradually adding ⅔ cup sugar, until stiff peaks form (2-4 minutes longer). Assemble alternate layers of sweetened strawberries and whipped topping crystals on split biscuits. Serve at once. (Makes 8 to 9 servings.)

"Auntie Mayme" Starts July 10th AT THE PUEBLO

GIVES LIFT—Inarch graft bracing two weak apple branches to prevent splitting during windstorms or under the weight of a heavy load of apples. Inarch braces are made by twisting together two water sprouts. This brace is two years old. Small twigs on the brace cause it to grow more rapidly.

Branches Of Apple Trees Can Be Strengthened

Natural inarch bracing in apple trees is one of the simplest means of self-setting the effects of a weak framework, says Doug Bryant, horticulturist with the New Mexico State University Extension Service.

The framework of a fruit tree is composed of the trunk and the main or "scaffold" branches. A poorly arranged framework is one having all the scaffold branches arising from approximately the same position on the trunk. Under such conditions, the branches form sharp or close angles with each other. Close-angled branches are weak and split off under heavy loads of fruit or during windstorms.

Bryant says the diligent and informed orchardist will attempt to train the young trees so as to avoid the formation of poor crotches. He does this by selecting branches forming wide angles with the trunk, and spaced several inches apart. All others are removed.

However, apple trees, like people, are not all perfect. Many will produce branches having poor crotches even under the best of care. Mechanical and insect injury may cause poor formation of scaffolds. To remove such branches and force others to be formed would often reduce or delay fruit bearing. These may be reinforced by anchoring to a stronger branch above, or to the other side of the tree. Wire or rope may be used as anchors but these materials weaken with age and tend to "cord" or strangle the branches. Inarch grafts, on the contrary, become stronger with age and do not strangle the limbs.

Inarches may be developed by the simple process of twisting together two small branches or "whips." One arising near the base of the weak scaffold, the other whip located on a stranger or opposite scaffold. The further from the crotch these "natural" braces are located, the stronger they are.

Bert Pfingsten, apple grower at Hondo, is using inarches to reinforce his weak apple trees. He says, "It's one of the most effective methods I've tried to strengthen a weak framework."

The wool incentive for the 1958 marketing year is at 70.3%, or an easier way to figure is $70.30 for every $100 you received for your wool sold during the 1958 wool marketing year which is from April 1, 1958 to March 31, 1959. The payment on lambs will be $1.02 per hundredweight. From this payment to the producer a deduction of 1c per grease pound of thorn wool and 8c per hundredweight of lamb sold will be made for promotional purposes. Another referendum will be held this fall to determine if the growers want to continue these deductions for another three years.

County Road Planning Group Meets

The Lincoln Road Planning Committee met in Carrizoso last Thursday and after considerable discussion, gave the recommendation that the next priority for road construction be used on the Pine Lodge road (No. 48). This would be after the present project on the Corona-Lisa road which is already being processed. The construction on the Pine Lodge road will be a joint project between Chaves and Lincoln counties with 87 miles of road in the two counties. Ten road planning areas were represented at the meeting along with the county commissioners and representatives of the State Highway Department.

John Cooper appointed Charles Jones, Bill Edgar and Joe Skeen to attend a meeting with him, the Chaves County delegates and State Highway Commissioner Suddeth.

Check Your Orchard Often

Check your orchard now for insects and mites, catch them before they have a chance to do serious damage to the tree. If you find over 5-8 mites to a leaf spray immediately with a miticide such as Systox or Guthion. Plan to apply at least two sprays, for codling moth during July.

While you look your orchard over, note any weak crotched trees. You can quickly twist together two water sprouts from two main branches across the tree and this in time will form a living brace on the tree. This will prevent the tree from splitting under a heavy load in later years. One place you can see these "arch braces" at work is Bert Pfingsten's lower spring orchard. When pruning next spring leave several side sprouts on these braces to promote faster growth.

'Food Comes First' Breakfast

The "Food Comes First" breakfast will be held at the Carrizozo Country Club at 7:15 a. m. on July 14th. An excellent speaker from New Mexico State University has been slated to speak to the group. This meeting is planned for businessmen, ranchers and farmers throughout Lincoln County. Through this meeting it is hoped that a better understanding of cost of food production will be gained by everyone.

The links at beautiful Cree Meadows Golf Course are expected to attract golfers from everywhere. Meals now are being served at the Cree Meadows Clubhouse for the convenience of players. There also is a fine driving range at the course.

Ruidoso's Play Center offers a wide variety of games for the younger set with instruction by adults.

For a breathtaking view of the Ruidoso Valley, holiday visitors won't want to miss a Sky-Way Ride to Wildcat Mountain. The view on this scenic cable car ride is something to remember.

Ruidoso abounds with fine riding stables, where horses for all age groups are available. The area is ideal for this outdoor recreation, with its many attractive canyons and trails.

Fishermen can try their luck in the Rio Ruidoso, Eagle Creek or on up in White Mountain Park. Trout now are reported biting in most of the streams. There is also lake fishing at Bonito and Nogal lakes.

For the ladies, who like to do a bit of shopping even on a holiday, Ruidoso has some of the most modern and attractive apparel and gift shops in the Southwest.

Thousands of visitors also are expected to attend the Mescalero Apache Indian Ceremonial, which is underway from July 2 to July 5. There the crowd may witness ancient Indian rituals and dances, an Indian Rodeo. The public also may join the tribe in the feasting on the Ceremonial Grounds.

A Western Rodeo also will be held July 3-5 at the Capitan Fair Grounds. Events will include bulldogging, calf roping and all the other traditional Rodeo bill of fare. On the night of July 4, there will be a Cowboy Dance at the old Capitan Gym.

THE SILVER LINING

By Daniel A. Storm

Around the Fourth like it is now I always get lonesome and sentimental-like, almost like I wanted to cry sort of—I am remembering and longing—my countless friends and loved ones near and far, here in these green hills and vales and throughout the wide world, and in the Beautiful World Beyond—all of you are in my heart today.

Mrs. Jim Jackson, are you still in Ruidoso?

I have had the best rains on this little place in many a moon. The Spring is wonderful with its new leaves and blades; the fall and winter—we know how fond we are of these times of the year.

But I wish I could tell you how the world is transformed by the magic waters from the sky, the life-awakening showers of the summer time. How the little apples and peaches grow before your very eyes and smile with rosy cheeks through the crystal drops still shining on their little round faces. How the new leaves glow in the green and golden air as the trees spread their branches widely to the sky in prayer and rejoicing for the new life from on high.

Right now I want to tell you something funny—if you could be here with me, you would sure laugh.

Isn't it funny how crazy everyone is about a jeep. Well, to show you how human these little fellows are, two of the little guys are out there now in the old beat-up Mexican jeep.

You have seen children playing in an old car, turning the steering wheel, sifting the gears and pulling everything they can get ahold of.

That is the way these litt'e chipmunks are doing. Now they are running round and round the steering wheel. Now they are chinning the bar and one of them is turning a bin wheel on the lower end of the steering wheel. I wonder if I can still do that—not on the steering wheel, I mean the horizontal bar.

One of these little friends in his striped shirt is now down under the jeep going all around under there seeing if it needs a grease job.

No matter where I park this old jeep, these Chipmunks spend all their spare time there. But the funny part is when I looked under the seat to get a crescent wrench.

My friend, Eitego Polaco, a very clever and ingenious man, built me two little wooden tool-boxes under the seat and fixed them in such a way that they are practically impossible to get out.

Well that little guy was looking up at me much as to say, "What can I do for you?"

Little Mr. Chipmunk was living down there in one of the tool boxes in a tiny house he had made out of saddle blankets, feather quilts, silk socks. He had been riding up and down the road, and off in the rough mountain sides under there for I don't know how long.

I thought he might fall out and get hurt so I took his little nest box and all—what a job— out of the jeep and began building him a new little house. He didn't like this, the little chipper didn't—but I was doing it for his own good.

Do you know Ruidoso is going to have the most modern sewer system in the world—nothing but the best for our City in the Pines.

Well there are some little cement forms about a foot or so shaped each way that were used in building a part of one of the big cement tanks. Mr. Holliday gave me these and they were out in the wood pile. They were just right for a little house for chipmunks, real modernistic too.

So, I nailed up a little house and put the chipmunk's nest in there together with all his vittles and belongings.

A few hours later I was out there and was horrified with what I saw. The chipmunk was lying on his little striped back holding his rib with tiny hand and doing a bicycle act in the air with his feet.

The little fellow has eaten something that has poisoned him—thinks I. When I ran out there I found different.

He was laughing himself almost to death at the crazy-looking house I had built him. He moved in though, with another little chipmunk. But they still like to clamber around on the jeep. The next thing I know they will drive it off.

Many years ago on the second of July, my Mother's birthday, she and I and my three younger brothers first came to this country. We stayed four days at Mescalero at the celebration. So I wish to send kind remembracnes to my beloved Indian friends for their friendship through the years.

My native state of Alaska is having a big celebration, let's join with them. May God bless you and keep you all.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Vic:

It is with deep regret that I am forced to announce the abandonment of the construction of FHA housing on the Green Meadows Addition in Ruidoso. This abandonment is forced by the lack of interest of local people in this type of housing. This project has been pursued since August, 1958. During this period we have had some ten to twelve applicants who have expressed an interest in this type of housing. Of this number a substantial number could probably not qualify for FHA housing, due to various reasons.

I wish to extend my thanks to the Ruidoso News for the very fine cooperation that they have given me in publicizing this project. Particularly, I want to thank them for the article that they ran in the paper two weeks ago, asking for people who were interested in FHA housing in Ruidoso, to clip the coupon and send it in. We did not have one single, solitary bonafide reply to this news story.

Lack of interest of the local people combined with the very difficult situation in the mortgage market today, on FHA housing, makes it completely impossible that this project be followed through.

Sincerely,

s/ Dan D. Swearingin

"MOUNTAIN WITH A PERSONALITY" AT RUIDOSO, SUBJECT OF ARTICLE

"Several mountains in New Mexico are called 'Baldy,' but in south central New Mexico the term applies to one, and only one, mountain. This 'Baldy' is distinguished for having a personality all its own, according to Vic Lamb, in his article, "Mountain with a Personality," in the July issue of New Mexico Magazine.

"Ruidoso's Baldy," Lamb writes, "has a different appearance for every hour of every day as the light changes and as clouds go scudding by, casting somebre shadows in patches . . . in the early morning Baldy is first to catch the sun's rays, and evening sunsets over its crest defy description."

Sierra Blanca is a 12,003-foot peak that may be seen for hundreds of miles—even from Sandia Crest at Albuquerque, the article says; "it is claimed as their own personal mountain by many thousands of residents of south central New Mexico."

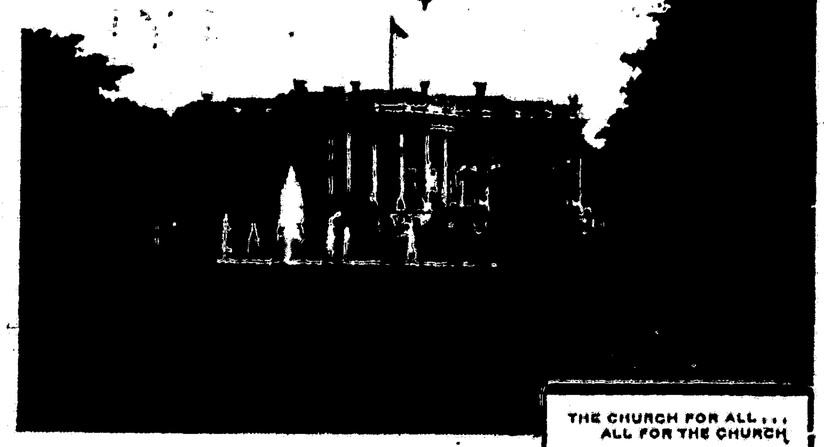
A Nation's Prayer



ALMIGHTY GOD, in Whose love and eternal care this world has found its sole meaning and ultimate destiny, bless this House.

In the exercise of a holy freedom our people have chosen that man who with his helpmate here abides. Whether we support or oppose his policies, lead us to uphold him in his sacred duty, to the preservation of our Constitution and the safeguard of our liberties.

Strengthen him and his counsellors in the fulfillment of their trust. Enlighten both his supporters and his loyal opposition in every search for the best solution to the problems that beset our nation and our world. Preserve the peace, never letting the flame of freedom flicker for one moment in our hearts.

And guide the families of our land to the Sources of Light and Life and Love, multiplying the influence of the Bible, extending the witness of the Church . . . that the Blessing we invoke upon this House may permeate every home in a dedicated America.

Amen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

PIONEER STORE AND POST-OFFICE—Lindy's Country Store, at Alto on State Road 37, is one of the landmarks in Lincoln County. The road by the store has been in use since 1877. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lindamood operate the store and postoffice. The postoffice was established in 1901.

Lindy's Country Store Is Historic Landmark On Eagle Creek; Has Had Postoffice Since 1901

Travelers out of Ruidoso on the scenic loop drive of State Road 37 northward into our beautiful mountains will find, nestled in a bend in the road, a cozy, typical country store at the community of Alto, only five minutes from our village. The store is operated by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lindamood, and is an historical landmark in Lincoln County. The neighborhood of Alto is as old as any community in southern Lincoln County.

The News asked Mrs. Lindamood to prepare for us a history of the store and postoffice, and from her notes, we gleaned:

The postoffice was established on May 2, 1901, according to records dug up from the dusty archives in Washington, D. C. State Road 37 which passes by the Alto store, was a dirt road in its early days and was used as early as 1877. It is now paved to and beyond Alto and a construction project is underway now to pave a connecting link into Capitan on State Road 48 from Angus (Bonito crossing). This road is one of the most scenic in all the Southwest. At Alto, a turn to the west will take you up into the grandeur of Eagle Creek, with Eagle Creek Lodge, a settlement of many summer cabins, some six or seven miles upland. Also, you may take off from the Eagle Creek Road and go up to Monjeau, a 10,000-foot observation point which gives the viewer a panoramic look at all the White Mountains and many hundreds of miles of Southeastern New Mexico terrain—including rolling grassland, the lava beds near Carrizozo, and mountain ranges far to the north and west. In the fall, some of the most breathtaking aspens in scenery found in the state is viewed by many hundreds of people on tours out of Alto into the Eagle Creek and Monjeau country.

Mrs. Lindamood's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leggett first used the road, part of which is now known as State Road 37 to travel from Ft. Stanton over the High Mesa country to Alto, then down Gavilan Canyon into Ruidoso in 1877. They made the trip in a Studebaker hack drawn by two big bay horses, Mrs. Lindamood, the postmaster at Alto, and known to hundreds of regular summer visitors to this area as Aileen, said her grandmother often told her the story of that trip. Her grandfather was in the Army and stationed at Ft. Stanton under Gen. John J. Pershing. It was at Ft. Stanton that the general (later to become commander of the A. E. F. in France in World War I) learned the game Black Jack, which gave him his nickname. When her grandfather received his discharge from the Army, he decided to remain in New Mexico. He came to Ruidoso and bought the Dowlin Mill (now known as Carmen Phillips Old Mill Trading Post) and he was the first postmaster in the old mill from 1892 until 1896—another fact gleaned from records in Washington.

According to the pioneer newspaper, the Lincoln Independent, published in Old Lincoln, in its May 21, 1880 issue, the VV ranch was the subject of an article and it described the early day cattle spread as being established and in operation in the Alto country even before it had a postoffice.

Before 1900, Eugene Manlove Rhodes taught school in a log building only a few hundred yards up Eagle Creek from the present Eagle Creek Store. The log cabin looked very much like the one that stands adjacent to the Alto Country Store now. Rhodes' school was near the Gilmore home. Picnickers in the fall often pick apples from the old orchard, some of the trees still bearing luscious fruit. It is difficult to spot the foundation of the old Gilmore house—but you can find it after a thorough search. Rhodes became the U. S. first widely known western writer.

Wm. H. Walker was Alto's first postmaster and while he served in that position, he built the old house that now stands in the rear of the Alto store. His son, Henry Walker, now lives in Roswell, and he told Mrs. Lindamood that his father built the house in about 1900.

Charlie Peebles' family and son, Lawrence Peebles, and his family, are still living on the ranch on Little Creek where Charlie's grandfather settled in 1884.

Mrs. W. N. Hightower has made her home up Eagle Creek canyon since 1901 and, although a widow, she still has her home in the canyon.

When the B. L. Luck family moved to Alto in 1912, the postoffice and store were in the log cabin, mentioned previously. In 1918, James A. Easley had the store and postoffice across Eagle Creek to the south. This old building was razed several years ago. Mr. Luck was postmaster in 1922 and moved the store and postoffice back to the old log cabin. In 1926 Luck moved the store and postoffice into the building it now occupies. When the Luck family moved to California in May of 1963, the Lindamoods took over with "Lindy" as storekeeper and Aileen as postmaster.

"Lindy" is a native of Iowa, graduated from the University of South Dakota. He was a salesman for Armstrong Cork Co. out of Pennsylvania, traveling throughout the midwest for 27 years. Mrs. Lindamood is a native New Mexican, and her father, John Haley, one-time editor of the Carrizozo Newspaper, was prominent in politics in the state. He was a hardworking Democrat, and also a strong supporter for progress in Lincoln County, devoting much of his energies in the newspaper field to that end.
