As a means of stimulating interest in a "Get Out the Vote" project in Roswell Tuesday this week, sponsored by the Roswell Junior Chamber of Commerce, a free prize was offered which included two one-day free skiing passes at Sierra Blanca here, with free equipment, lessons and lift rides and a luncheon . . .

R. Jack Stewart of El Paso, financially interested in Ruidoso and owner of property here, is general chairman for the Billy Graham Crusade now underway in the Sun City . . . He plays on Monday through Thursday night, then the Ruidoso dance band, the Mellotones takes over Friday and Saturday nights with Allen playing at intermission time. The dance floor has been enlarged at the Chaparral, too, Harry reported. He added he is serving free coffee to hunters during the hunting season in the coffee shop, and that the place will be open at 5 a.m. for hunters' breakfasts. Several other cafes here, including Wattie's, will offer that service . . .

Bill Tadlock tells us that sometime this month he'll be announcing the opening of a coin operated dry cleaning plant beside his coin-operated laundry in the Gateway. . . . The Hot Springs High School Tigers team from T. or C. got a standing ovation Saturday afternoon about 4:15 p.m. in Holiday House restaurant when the members walked in there for supper after changing from their uniforms, showering and dressing up for the occasion. About 75 of their home town fans were at the restaurant waiting for the players to come in and eat . . . Jim Withers, manager of Holiday House, recently made a tour of Texas, visiting with managers of large hotels and motels as well as travel bureau managers and Triple A offices, leaving literature on Ruidoso and talking up a storm for the local recreation facilities. He said everywhere he went people were asking for such information—they were having inquiries about us and wanted to know all they could about Ruidoso's growth, fun and excitement! Withers also has been doing some special advertising in newspapers and magazines in Texas and New Mexico telling of Indian Summer's delightful attraction for visitors. . . . Our apologies to the Jack Spalls who have bought Thelma Crosby's Sundries. In the announcement of the change of ownership, we printed their name as Jack Stall, we heard the "P" sound like a "T" when they spelled their name for us . . .

Cheer up, citizens — a crack has appeared in that old belief "You can't beat city hall!" The Ruidoso police erected a new stop sign at a street intersection in the northeast part of the city three weeks ago. They found it knocked down the morning after it was set up. They replaced it in a spot not so vulnerable. Again the next day they found it knocked down. A third time it was erected in a different place, and the next morning they found it down again—and the pole chopped in two with an axe. It's been about three weeks now and the sign hasn't been set up again . . . Local Elks are asking that hunters donate to them the deer hides from their bucks this season again. The hides will be salted, rolled and transported to the west coast where a tanning company will prepare them for use by hospitalized veterans who can earn some spending money for themselves with leathercraft. The hides can be delivered to Anderson Car Sales here, or you may call the Elks Lodge and someone will call for the skins . . .

MEXICAN TOURIST OFFICIAL TO CONFER WITH RUIDOSOANS

Ruidoso will play host this weekend to the Republic of Mexico's representative on Tourism for the state of Sonora when Hector Sanchez arrives here from Nogales, Mexico, accompanied by George H. Uribe, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Nogales, Ariz. The two men are coming at the special invitation of Jim Withers, manager of Holiday House, who visited in those two communities in September and worked on plans for them to visit this area.

Withers and the local Chamber of Commerce are planning an all-out welcome for the men, to include a buffet supper in their honor on Friday evening at the Holiday House, to which all C. of C. members, Tourist Bureau members, merchants interested in the tourist business and others have an urgent invitation to be on hand. Plates will be $2 per person.

Joining in the conference with the Ruidosoans will be members of the executive committee of the New Mexico Motor Hotel Association who are to hold a session in Ruidoso this week when plans for their 1963 convention in April and May will be finalized. Withers said it was likely the state group of motel operators might hold their 1963 confab in this city for the first time in the organization's history. An attendance of about 250 persons could be anticipated for this conference.

Saturday morning the visitors from the two Nogales, local citizens and the motel operators executive board members are to hear some short talks on tourist attractions in several areas. Sanchez will speak on tourism in Mexico, Uribe will tell of tourist attractions of the Nogales, Ariz., region, and Kingsbury Pitcher will detail the development of Sierra Blanca Recreation Area, changing this next year from a ski resort to a year around recreational facility. The new manager of Ruidoso Downs race track, W. L. McDonald is scheduled to talk on improvements planned at the local meet for the 1963 season and Vic Lamb, Ruidoso newsman, will tell of recreational facilities in the Ruidoso country. A representative from the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation is to be on hand also to talk of development of vacation fun plans for the reservation.

City Rejects Idea To Refund Bonds

In a special called meeting Nov. 1, Ruidoso's board of trustees voted not to go into the plan to refund city water and sewer bonds to secure a lower rate of interest, a proposal that had been outlined in previous session by representatives of a Denver firm. In the discussion, Trustee Jodie Filleman stated that due to other obligations, he did not believe the village could afford to enter into this recall of bonds due to the amount of money that would be needed to refund. Estimates on the amount needed was $52,000.00, it was noted. Trustees Lloyd L. Davis, Jr., and Ben Donathan agreed with Filleman, the village's minutes stated. Trustee Bill McCarty said he thought the proposition was interesting and thanked the bonding company for making the offer, but he also said he opposed the idea at this time. The council gave a vote of thanks for the work done by the company to this point in outlining the proposal.

HEARINGS SET FOR TEXAS TRIO

Preliminary hearings for three men held in connection with the robbery of a Carrizozo tavern will be held Nov. 19 in Carrizozo.

The hearing was postponed from Nov. 5 to Nov. 19 at the request of the district attorney's office.

Charged with armed robbery and grand larceny are Edward M. Frezee, 33, Jack Sisk, 24, and Jimmy Oakley, 27, all of Amarillo, Tex.

Bond of $20,000 was set for each of the three men by Justice of the Peace R. L. Sherill.

The three men were charged with holding up the Nike Tavern Oct 29. They allegedly fled into the nearby hills after they were stopped at a roadblock the same day.

FIVE ARE INJURED IN REAR END COLLISION

Five Mescalero Apache Indians received emergency treatment at the local hospital, then were removed to Mescalero hospital for further observation following the rear-end collision of a passenger car and pick-up on Sudderth Drive near School House Camp Ground Park shortly before noon Saturday.

Village Marshal Bob Jurney said a pick-up driven by Ronald Roy Stirwalt, 17, had stopped in the proper lane and the driver had given signal to turn left when a 1958 Ford tudor ran into the rear of the pick-up. Ruth Kahze, 48, driver, had a deep cut on the right knee; Elizabeth Cooney, 45, suffered a broken right leg and deep cuts on the face; Kenneth Kayitah, 48, facial cuts and bruises; Cecelia Smith, 33, had a broken right foot, and Archie Mardan, 32, received a broken right collar bone, ribs, cuts and bruises.

Marshal Jurney said the passenger car driver apparently did not see the pick-up was not moving and ran into it at a speed of about 30 to 40 miles an hour.

State Elects Campbell In Tight Race For Governor

Jack M. Campbell, Roswell, was elected governor of New Mexico over incumbent Edwin L. Mechem Tuesday. It was Mechem's sixth bid for the office by ballot, having won four times before. Lincoln County went counterwise to the state—going heavily for Mechem as it has always done in his governor's races.

Ruidoso precincts voted Democratic in all races, and the county voted for some Democrats on the state ticket but statewide, the vote was solidly Democratic for every major office.

The amendment to combine the governor and lieutenant governor as one office on general election ballots was favored in this county, and by the state with a 2-1 vote.

Judge Disqualified In Nosker Hearing

In a hearing held Monday in district court in Carrizozo, the attorney for Kenneth Nosker, C. C. Chase, Jr., disqualified the two third judicial district judges, W. T. Scoggin and Allen T. Walker, and the district court clerk reported that there will be a slight delay on this hearing until the State Supreme Court appoints a judge to sit in.

Nosker was to answer an accusation by District Attorney Dan Sosa following an investigation by the district office, of alleged irregularities in the handling of county money. Sosa had also called on the resignation by Nosker, or his removal as Lincoln County Board chairman.

Three Police Off City Staff

Ruidoso's board of trustees planned, for the third time in only a few days, to further investigate Thursday night this week the row underway in Ruidoso's village police force erupting when one man was relieved of his job and two others resigned.

Village Marshal Bob Jurney said he had removed T. J. Sanders as policeman, and when he left, then O. S. Montes and L. L. McDonald had resigned. "They resigned to the mayor, who is the police commissioner," Jurney said.

Ted Buck remained as a policeman, Jurney said, and he employed another man, Frank W. Jefferson, formerly of Odessa, where he had served a couple of years in police work.

In a called meeting of the council Nov. 1, Jurney was asked to explain his reasons for relieving Sanders of his job. Jurney stated he had the right, as marshal, to take the step he did, and detailed some of his reasons for the action.

Trustee Jodie Filleman made the motion that Jurney be upheld in his decision, but the matter saw a split in opinion by the rest of the council with Trustees Bill McCarty and Ben Donathan voting with Filleman, while Trustee Lloyd Davis and Mayor Warren Tucker were listed in the meeting's minutes as voting against approval to Jurney.

In a second special meeting Nov. 2 to discuss the police department problems, McCarty made the motion after a brief discussion that the entire hearing on this matter, to include charges, defense, etc., be tabled until the regular meeting set for Thursday night this week. Filleman and Donathan voted aye and Trustee Davis voted no.

Trustee Lloyd Davis' motion that the three officers be reinstated received no second.

Mrs. Robert O. Simpson and daughter, Joy, and Mrs. Nita Winegar, daughter Barbara and sons Kenneth and Richard, all of Loveland, Tex., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Hyatt.

Men will wrangle for religion, write for it, fight for it, die for it; anything but live for it.

Almost 3,000 voters pulled the handles on voting machines in the 1962 general election in Lincoln County Tuesday this week, again voting for Edwin L. Mechem for Governor, a habit followed in six elections.

Overshadowing the county voting was the re-election of Kenneth Nosker of Glencoe, chairman of the county board of commissioners, who faces a grand jury investigation for "irregularities" uncovered in an investigation by the district attorney's office. Democrats made an issue of the Republican incumbent's being under fire—yet Nosker claimed it was a "smear" campaign."

Sheriff Glen Bradley, a Republican, again led the ticket with the most votes in a contested race with Ruidoso's J. P. Bobo for re-election. New faces in the county family to be seen come 1963 will include Mrs. Louise Coe Runnels, Democrat, who defeated incumbent Lloyd Vinal for county assessor; Phoebe Mae Taylor, a Democrat, who won over Mrs. Gladys Knox for county treasurer; R. C. Nunez, a Democrat and former county commissioner, who was successful in a come back race over incumbent Ignacio Torrez for county commissioner in District 2. Re-elected as county clerk was Republican Alice King and Marvin Robert, a Republican, went back in as probate judge in a close contest with Malcolm Petree.

The margin between Nosker and and his opponent, Fred Cresswell, Ruidoso, was 64 votes, and the closeness of the Roberts-Petree race showed a margin of victory of only 20 votes.

Dr. Jack Redman, Republican, running for congress had a lone one vote lead over Joe Montoya, Democratic incumbent, for place 1 in Lincoln County, and you can't find a race any closer unless it is a dead heat tie.

County Passes Amendment

In the constitutional amendment voting, Lincoln county favored combining the offices of governor and lieutenant-governor in general elections, as the president and vice president are named in federal elections, by a 522 to 388 vote; and passed the renewable hospital levy to support the county's hospital by a vote of 617 to 324.

Herrera Wins At Hondo

In a heated race at Hondo, Junior Herrera a Republican, nosed out Joe Joiner who once held that position for justice of the peace in that area.

County officials re-elected without opposition included H. M. Graham, justice of the peace in Ruidoso; Allen Gray, justice of the peace in Ruidoso Downs; Bert Judd, constable in Ruidoso Downs, Frank Burapo, constable in Ruidoso; B. F. Chavelli, justice of the peace in Carrizozo.

Unopposed for county commissioner in district 1 was Democrat Charlie A. Jones, who polled a total of 1049 votes according to the unofficial tabulation released by County Clerk Alice King early Wednesday morning, and which is reprinted in a table elsewhere in today's News.

The dining room will be 50x30 feet in size with a kitchen 20x30 feet, Truitt said. It will be modernly equipped and will serve breakfast, lunches and dinner.

Mrs. Hale Attends Mental Health Clinic In Tucson

Mrs. Della Hale, Ruidoso, State President of the American Legion Auxiliary, attended the Western Regional Leadership Conference of the National Association for Mental Health, held at the Ramada Inn, Tucson, Ariz., on Nov. 1 and 2. Approximately 200 persons from twelve western and several eastern states attended. Attendance was by invitation only, and those from New Mexico attending were Mrs. Carter W. Kirk, Deming, president of New Mexico Mental Health Assn.; Mrs. Robert H. Lytle, Las Cruces, N. M., Division of National Assn for Mental Health, Capt. B. C. LaBalbo, Special Service Officer; U. S. Air Force, Sandia Base, Albuquerque, and Mrs. Della Hale, Ruidoso, President American Legion Auxiliary.

The purpose of the meeting stemmed from the report of the Joint Commission on Mental Illness and Health, Mrs. Hale reported. The commission was established by unanimous act of both houses of Congress to study the entire field of mental illness and health in the United States and to present findings.

Mrs. Hale said that among findings of the five year study were the following: Only a small percentage of the mentally ill are able to get prompt and adequate treatment, and that less than half of the patients in our mental hospitals are receiving any psychiatric treatment designed to improve their mental condition, also, that we as a nation, are not making maximum use of the knowledge we have about mental illness, and that the understanding, support, and participation of lay citizens provide the only substantial hope in conquering this massive problem on mental illness.

Mrs. Hale reports that she will be glad to present ideas for action or to assist in any way any organization or group interested in having a program on mental health.

Hunters, Don't Forget Manners on Farms

Some hunters forget their manners when they hunt on farms and in woodlands as guests.

Criticism of hunting as a fine recreation often starts because many hunters forget the landowner is our host and we make ourselves uninvited guests.

Generally, landowners permit reasonable hunting if they know who is on their land. Asking permission to hunt is small courtesy in return for a pleasant day afield, yet too few follow this rule. Landowners need profection from indifferent, careless, destructive hunters. Cut fences, trampled crops, littered trash and opened gates are some of the problems facing farmers in hunting season. When the trouble becomes too great, farmers post land to be protected from irresponsible hunters. Then everyone loses the enjoyment of the wildlife crop.

Here are a few common sense rules of hunting courtesy: ask permission to hunt, close gates, pick up litter after eating lunch, keep out of unharvested crops, keep away from buildings and livestock when hunting and above all, MIND YOUR HUNTING MANNERS.

Rayless goldenrod can be controlled with 2, 4D used in a 0.2% spray. It will take two annual sprays for complete control.

Ranchers know that rayless goldenrod, when eaten in quantity by cattle, causes the disease known as "trembles". Symptoms of the disease are inactivity, weakness, a humped-up stance, and trembling of the muscles, especially after exercise. The poison is dangerous to humans because it can be transmitted through the milk or meat.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
H. M. GRAHAM

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862—the same year that

IN NEW MEXICO, the Butterfield Stage Line was in operation. Actually contracted for in 1857 by the Post Office Department, the line was developed to carry the California mails overland. Extending 2,795 miles from St. Louis to San Francisco, the Butterfield Stage Line crossed New Mexico near Fort Cummings.

Even then, beer was New Mexico's traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for New Mexicans, and a good living for many of them—not only the employees of the Brewing Industry itself, but also for other businesses and suppliers who provide materials and services the industry must have to do business in New Mexico.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Hardworking Della Hale Is Described As Link Between Ruidoso's Pioneer Days And Future

HOMECOMING — For Ruidoso High's Homecoming observance, a bonfire in the city park in the Gateway attracted hundreds of students and fans Friday night before the 'big game' on Saturday with Hot Springs Tigers of T. or C. As the bonfire died down, the students began a snake dance (below) on Sudderth Drive.

By FREIDA BRYAN HYATT

With Della Hale the slogan for Ruidoso, "Playground of the Southwest," is a matter for chuckling. Wiry little Mrs. Hale was born in Ruidoso and grew up here. From her earliest recollection she knew hard work and plenty of it. Getting used to taking on any task that came up has resulted for this energetic daughter of pioneer Ruidoso residents success in business and in organizational activity.

A smile plays over Della's face and her eyes light up as she recalls the "early days" in the Ruidoso area. "For the immediate Ruidoso area," she relates, "the Old Mill was as far west as anyone lived. Going further west put you in another community altogether."

Della's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wingfield, were the first to homestead above the Old Mill. This later became the town of Ruidoso. These hardy settlers, the Wingfields, moved there in 1884. They lived in the Old Mill, focal point for business and social doings in those early times, from 1886 to 1892.

The couple took care of the Old Mill for Charlie Cree, who bought the establishment from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lesnett, grandparents of Aileen Maley Lindamood, another wiry little native who handles chores in nearby Alto. The Mill still stands.

Charles Wingfield and Ben Stewart homesteaded two rights consisting of 320 acres. It is now known as Wingfield Homestead. As a child, Della remembers that the folks in the region did a lot of farming and ranching.

"When my grandfather died," observed Della, "he had over 700 head of hogs. Bear were plentiful in what today is the heart of Ruidoso. Oats, wheat and corn were grown each year. The women dried apples. My mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Wingfield, had an orchard where the Alpine Court now is." As tourists know who come to this resort town now, this is strictly downtown Ruidoso.

"Most of the canning done then," adds Mrs. Hale, "was done in crocks. The settlers brought these with them in their wagons. People made trips to Roswell, 72 miles to the east, for bolts of goods to make clothes. It took a week to make the round trip. The excursion was made twice a year."

Little Della knew happy times, too. It wasn't all hard work. She attended dances in nearby Capitan.

Ike Wingfield went to school on the lane now called Meander drive, one of Ruidoso's prominent residential streets and within pitching distance of the Old Mill. His daughter evidently needed more room. More of the mountains to serve her as playgrounds when she went to school. At any rate, she went to school near the Parsons Mine. Most of the settlement in that part of the tall pines was on the Bonito River. The school girl's maternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Robinson, who lived near the Parsons Mine. At that time the "hole in the ground was a thriving gold mine.

All this was near Bonito City, the town that later was buried under Bonito Lake and still lies there.

"We had more social life up near the Parsons Mine," recalls Della, "for the community was more isolated. Early-day folks up there included the Robinsons, the Wingfields, the Lesnetts, and the Mayberry family. This was the family that was wiped out in a hotel in Bonito City at the hands of a berserk killer." Other pioneers, lower down in the Ruidoso Valley, were Bonnells and the Coes. Bonito Dam, another landmark of the area, was built in 1920.

Talking in 1962 about "way back when" Della points out: "It was a primitive life around Ruidoso then. Each person had his own water. The first electric light we got hold of was a Delco plant and we made our own power. My family had the first radio and the first TV in Ruidoso. I rode horseback to school. As a matter of fact, I did not go to school many of the years prior to 1923. Miss Ola Casey taught me one year."

During her childhood days her father had to shovel snow so that he could get around and get his work done.

The first post office in Ruidoso was opened in 1921. Before then the post office was located on what is now U. S. Highway 70. Mrs. Mollie Creeley was postmaster and it was called the Ruidoso Post Office. When the Charles Wingfields took care of the Old Mill the post office was in the building.

"Where the bars are now found in downtown Ruidoso there was a community called Ruidoso Springs. H. E. Carter, who later developed the beautiful Carter Estate across the highway from the Ruidoso State Bank, bought the land called Ruidoso Springs. This was in 1923. Today it is downtown Ruidoso.

The Wayne and Evelyn Estes home in Sudderth Drive was once the site of an adobe house. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wingfield built it and the house had a tree near it. From this tree the Wingfields used to hang hogs to cool. Most of the original homes in Ruidoso, says Della, were built in the late 20's and 30's and were of adobe.

In those days rodeos were popular in the Ruidoso Valley. The rodeo grounds were where Lualin's Garage now stands on Sudderth drive. Mrs. Opal Bowers of Roswell, Della's sister, was rodeo queen in 1928.

"We had heavier snow then than now," insists Mrs. Hale. "The Ruidoso River was swifter, too. Ranchers kept the trees burnt off so there would be more grass. When the forestry service came in the trees were permitted to grow and make a stand. On Sept. 27, 1935, thirty-six inches of snow fell before there was even a frost. The little saplings everywhere were bowed down with the snow."

Della Hale's two children live in Ruidoso. They are Buck Morrison and Mrs. Wayne Estes. Both are active in civic affairs. They are the only great-grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wingfield, who still live in the area.

Della's father was born in the Old Mill, the venerable building steeped in Billy the Kid history and the goings and comings of other famous people such as Gen. John J. Perishing.

When Della was a little girl her mother sold milk to tourists. It was the child's duty to open and close the heavy gate in front of the home. "Holding my hand out for a tip was what started me in business," says Mrs. Hale with a laugh. It was a heavy wooden gate and Della usually got a nickel for her effort.

The next business venture for the girl was conducting a soda pop stand next to the post office. This was during the 20's and Della cleared $50 during the summer. Ice was chopped on the river during the winter and stored in saw dust in an old building. This ice kept the soda pop cold in the summer and also served the family's needs.

The child worked in her daddy's grocery store, in the post office, and then taught school. After her marriage she operated a cafe. Later Mrs. Hale worked at the Hilton Hotel in El Paso from 1937 to 1942. She sold her cafe in 1946.

Hard work was something Della Hale knew about first hand. She raised hogs, fed chickens, and milked cows. "I worked to make a living for my children," is Della's comment of this period. Today Della Hale is a real estate broker and sub-divider on the original land homesteaded by her grandfather.

This small ball of fire has a first to her credit. She was the first to have a chinchilla ranch in Ruidoso.

In organization work Della Hale has gone to the top. She is president of the American Legion Auxiliary and heads the organization in New Mexico. In addition, Della is chairman of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Extension Club, year book chairman of the Ruidoso Woman's Club, and a member of the Xi Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

"I loved it then, as a little girl in early Ruidoso," Mrs. Hale concludes. "But it certainly is exciting now! Every day is more interesting to me." She is an avid reader. Further, this hard working woman likes the conveniences available in the home today. She also likes the challenge of a resort area that is growing by leaps and bounds. "I prefer to oversee the opening up of the land, lots taking shape—than selling the lots," is her attitude. Her actions speak for themselves. Della often gets a load of dynamite to develop the land. She hauls it in her car from El Paso to blast the land and clear her lots.

Della Hale is definitely a link between Ruidoso's past and her future.

SAFETY VALVE—To let off steam prior to the Homecoming game Saturday here, students of Ruidoso High School were allowed to hit labeled "Hot Springs Tigers" and it received several hundred blows this old auto with a sledge hammer three times for 25c. Car was as school spirit boiled.

Near 500 Post Office History Books Sold Since Introduced In July

(Editor's Note: To date, almost 500 copies of the book, "History of Lincoln County Post Offices," edited and compiled as a co-operative effort by numerous Lincoln County postmasters and other persons who had information available on histories of post offices of pioneer times, have been sold, it was reported this week. The book was printed in the News office this summer, and has proved popular with readers of a wide area. The histories cover almost 100 years for some offices, and included in the book is a listing of about 70 to 80 post offices that were in operation at one time or another, or are still in existence, in this county. Below is some of the typical copy found in the book which can be bought from any postmaster in the county.)

PICACHO

Peaceful Village
POLLY P. KIMBRELL

Picacho, a somnolent little village of about two hundred people on U. S. Highway 70-380 forty miles from Roswell, lies sprawled around the base of the rugged mile-high mountain peak which gave the little settlement its name. Long before Charles Goodnight and John Chisum drove their herds of longhorns across the Plains of Texas to the Pecos Valley in New Mexico the native people of the Rio Grande country had brought their small flocks of sheep and goats and established their little settlement. It nestled cozily on the winding banks of the Rio Hondo protected by the walls of Picacho peak.

Little is known of the history of some of the early postmasters. In 1894 the old adobe store, post office and hotel were owned by Robert H. Parsons. It sheltered important cattlemen, lawyers, judges who had stopped over on their way to hold court at Lincoln and Old Mesilla; and one of the Territory's later governors—George Curry—who came with his wife and sons. At this time the mail was brought from Roswell by a burro-drawn buckboard, driven by Old Romero, the mail driver, who carried the mail over the east lap of the route to Picacho. Here Old Romero changed his burro team for ponies and would haul the buckboard the rest of the way over rough mountain trails to Lincoln and settlements in the Rio Grande Country.

Romero drove the primitive way with no lines to guide the lazy burros. He kept in the middle of the rocky road using a long sharp metal tipped pole he called his "Palo De Caballo" (horse stick).

Martin Chaves in his long life time was the honored leader in important affairs. His practical advice was followed throughout the exciting era of Billy the Kid and the bloody Lincoln County War of 1877-1881. Another, and by far most picturesque character, was wide awake August Cline who was married to a Spanish lady. August Cline had white, shoulder-length hair and deep blue twinkling eyes. Though he never was postmaster this colorful German eccentric of Lincoln County was known throughout the territory as a big hearted friend. A most colorful patron of the Picacho post office.

Byrd D. Garner and Lawrence W. Garner were brothers and natives from Kentucky. They were soft spoken men and congenial with all the natives. When Byrd D. Garner was commissioned Postmaster in 1915 the mail was still brought by horse and buckboard and the driver was Porfiro Chavez from Lincoln. 1915 was a memorable year. The first mail car, or mail bus, was initiated. Charlie Porter, Gene Hedgecoxe and Paul McCutcheon drove the mail and when they came through they stayed at the old hotel and always managed to be on time for Mrs. Garner's wonderful home-cooked meals. Both of the Garners are now deceased.

Albert H. Pruit was born in Belton, Texas and moved with his family to New Mexico when he was just a young boy. He was former Mayor of Roswell and part owner of the well-known Joyce-Pruit Company. His wife Georgia Pruit, was born in Fredonia, Kentucky and was a half sister of the Garners, Byrd and Lawrence. Mr. and Mrs. Pruit moved to Picacho from Roswell in 1932. He operated the store and Post Office and Mrs. Pruit took care of the hotel and dining room. They were good friends to everyone and though both were claimed by death years ago one still hears old timers say, "Albert Pruit was the best friend I ever had."

During the grim years of World War II "Old Picacho" was vacant. It seemed as though the little village had been deserted but the post office did not die. At that time Viola K. Sandoval, daughter of W. E. Kimbrell, was commissioned postmaster. She operated the post office in her home just a few yards off the highway as did her sister Pauline Kimbrell who succeeded her. Viola is deceased and Pauline married Robert S. Mackey.

The historic old adobe store and hotel burned in 1946. The daughter of the late Albert Pruitt, Polly, and her husband, Fred Bowser built a new store and Post Office on the highway and Polly P. Bowser became Postmaster, Sept. 1, 1948, when the Honorable Jesse M. Donaldson was Postmaster General. Widowed in 1951, Mrs. Bowser married Richard H. Kimbrell. So, in this year of our Lord 1961, Polly Pruit Kimbrell is postmaster of Picacho and the once rocky mail route has changed to a modern paved highway; the buckboards have been replaced by modern cars and Picacho receives mail twice daily by a snappy, two-tone, olive drab Volkswagen.

TINNIE

ARTHUR CLEMENTS

The post office at Tinnie was established in 1908 under the name of Analla but was changed to Tinnie in 1909 in honor of the small daughter of Mrs. Oney Ramond. Mrs. Ramond was postmaster until April 7, 1914 when Henry D. Murray was appointed. He was followed by Andrew N. Coward, October 22, 1921. Mrs. Ramond again become postmaster January 6, 1923 and with the exception of a short break when Walter B. Rose was postmaster she continued until her retirement. Mrs. Virginia Raymond Guest, her daughter, followed her as postmaster and served until Arthur Clements was appointed December 12, 1959.

Robert O. Anderson of Roswell bought the building in 1959 and decided to preserve the old country store. He spent several hundred thousand dollars, adding a porch all around the building, a tower and a pavilion besides putting in the Silver Dollar Bar and a steak house. Many of the old things were in the place but a lot more were gathered from as far away as San Francisco by John Meigs an artist who lives at San Patricio. Meigs was commissioned by Mr. Anderson to plan and oversee the building. The building program is about finished but the search for antiques and other interesting memoriblia continues.

ANGUS

AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Though Angus is still a community the Post Office of Angus existed only fifteen years. Established March 10, 1898, it was discontinued May 15, 1913 and the mail sent to Alto. Only three Postmasters served this office. The first one, Porter G. Peters was followed by James Burell on March 17, 1909 and Mary A. Hagee on June 24, 1910.

Angus served the star route carriers as a place to change teams in their trek from Capitan to Ruidoso. The carriers were Charles Wingfield and Rube Copel and members of their families still in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs.

The old school house of Angus still plays an important part in the community life. The building itself is a source of great pride and is maintained by the Angus Community Association. Benefit pie suppers, teas and parties add to annual donations to swell the funds used in the upkeep of this favorite meeting place. Funerals are held there as the cemetery adjoins and makes a peaceful last resting place in its beautiful surroundings.

The Bonito Volunteer Fire Department holds monthly meetings in the building but perhaps its lingering spirit is best pleased when the joyful noise of the community sings are echoing down the valley.

Homecoming

One of the greatest homecomings of all times was held at R. H. S. this past week-end. The only thing which could have made it a bigger success would have been winning the game. The bonfire (wood was brought by class competition), was one of the best ever held with a wonderful turnout of students as well as adults. The snake dance, whitewashing of the school street and the dance afterwards was well received by all students.

The best decorated car in the parade was Kenneth Clark's Chevy decorated in blue and white. Second place went to Rita Smith. The dance, which was held at Leck's For Fun, was very nice with many teen agers, alumni and adults attending. The students who were home from college for Homecoming were: Joe Mosley, Texas Tech; Ben Donathan, Teddy McKinney and John Hawkins, ENMU; Jimmy Capps, U. N. M.; Clifford Watley, Manny Badillo Jr. and Clinton Dorsett, N. M. S. U.; Mack Cook and Idy Traylor, N. M. W. C., and Jedy Evans, Draughon's Business College.

At this time, we would like to thank each and every business in Ruidoso who helped us and contributed to our homecoming. We would also like to thank the adults who came out to our Bonfire and game, it was really great to have adults backing the school. But just because this was homecoming week-end, doesn't mean that we don't want you all the time, you are needed at our pep rallies and games just as much as the students themselves.

Wes Clark, Phyllis Burke Homecoming Royalty

Miss Phyllis Burke and Mr. Wes Clark were crowned Queen and King of the annual R. H. S. Homecoming this past week-end. Miss Burke is a Senior this year and is very active in Pep Club. She also serves as head "A" string cheerleader. Phyllis was elected by the Lettermen's Club, along with her two attendants, Miss Rita McCann and Miss Jo Ann Filleman, who are also Seniors.

Wes Clark serves as Senior Class Vice-President and is well liked by all R. H. S. students. He was elected by the female members of the Pep Club along with Jerry Watley and Gary Russell who were his attendants. Jerry and Gary are Seniors and are active in several organizations at R. H. S.

Bonfire

The bonfire has been heretofore mentioned but there are some details which were not mentioned. This year it was done in a different way. The class who gathered the most wood was to be given a Coke Party by the Student Council. This was to boost school spirit and to see who had the hardest working class. It seems that wood came piling in from all directions, in every shape and form mentionable.

About 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon, a group of Seniors noticed that it was getting out of hand and immediately went into conference with Principal Pat Valliant. The decision was made at this time that all students would be given a Coke Party and no more wood would be brought into the park. The Seniors went back to the park, very disheartened for they still had a couple of semi-trucks full of wood to bring in. In a few minutes, several city officials drove into the park and looked at the almost unbelievable sight. Bob Jurney stated that he wanted every name of every person who had something to do with all of the wood, for in case of a national disaster, he sure would know who to get in contact with. Bob Moore and Wayne Estes conferred for several minutes trying to solve the situation and finally decided to use only a portion of the wood there. One of the men said that if the kids would work that hard for a Coke, imagine what they would do for a dollar.

All in all, the bonfire was a lot of laughs for all as well as one of the biggest yet.

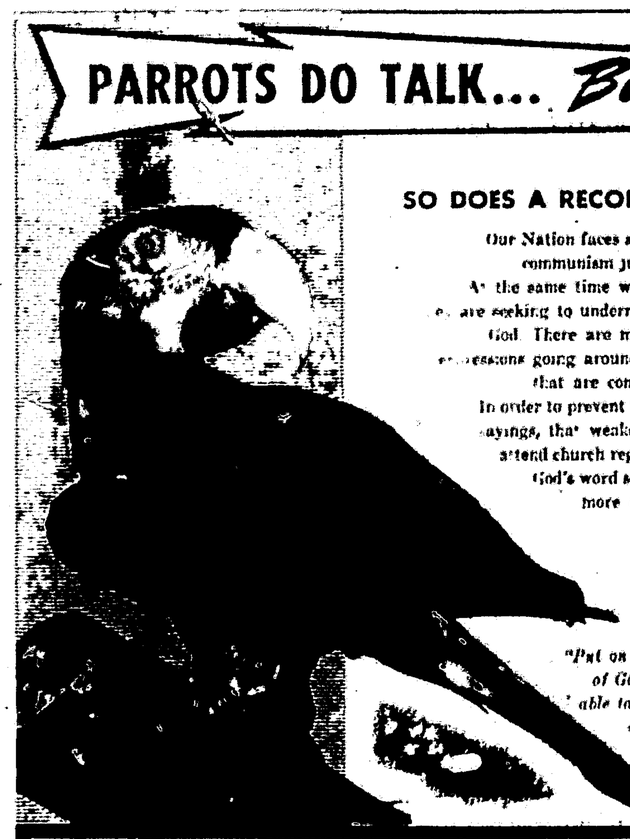
PARROTS DO TALK... But!



SO DOES A RECORD PLAYER

Our Nation faces a serious threat of communism just off our shores. At the same time within our nation we are seeking to undermine our faith in God. There are many sayings and expressions going around in our country that are communist inspired. In order to prevent "parroting" these sayings, that weaken our nation . . . attend church regularly, and study God's word so that the truth is more easily recognized.

"Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

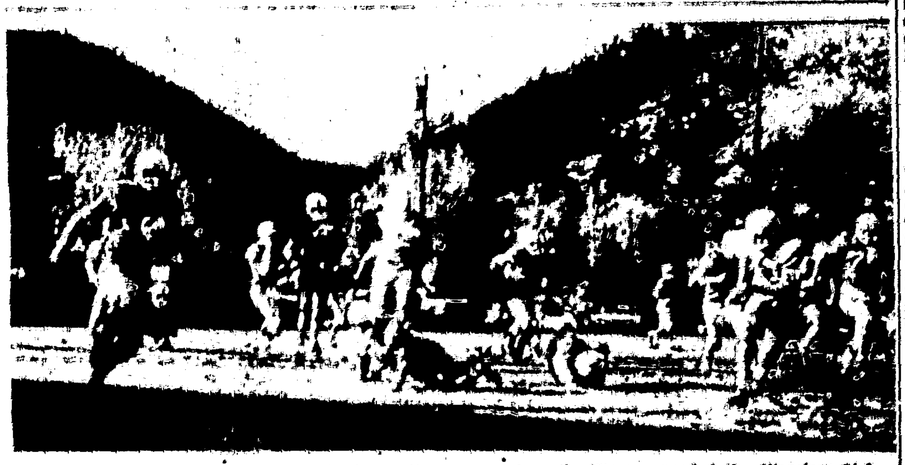
LANE GOES FOR FIRST DOWN — Quarterback Alf Lane rambled around left end and picked up a first down thanks to a block by fullback William Howard who laid two Tigers out of the action. The drive was later stalled as the Tigers defeated the Warriors 24-0 and spoiled the Ruidoso Homecoming.



LONG GAIN — Halfback Terry Goldsmith of the T or C Tigers broke through the Warrior defensive line in third quarter last Saturday afternoon to ramble 46 yards in the longest gain on the ground as the Tigers upended the Warriors 24-0. Alf Lane moved up to try for tackle but failed in attempt to bring Goldsmith down. The victory gave the Tigers the 3B District crown.

DROPPED FOR LOSS — Trying desperately to install a drive in final period in last Saturday's conference game with T. or C., quarterback Alf Lane was pulled down behind line of scrimmage. End Jerry Watley (80) for Warriors is coming up to block for Lane.

TIGERS BOUNCE WARRIORS 24-0 FOR 3B CONFERENCE CROWN

BY EDDIE SIDDENS
(Ruidoso News Sports Editor)

The Hot Springs Tigers claimed the 3B District title here last Saturday and also spoiled the Warriors Homecoming, 24-0.

The Tigers took advantage of two breaks, both of them on blocked quick kick attempts by the Warriors, to mark up their first two touchdowns. Both quick kick attempts were deep in the Warriors' end of the field and provided the Tigermen the chance they needed to ice away the game.

The first quarter started out to be what most fans had expected with the Warrior defense stopping the T. or C. crew on several downs. The Tigers took the lead after the first quick kick was tried on the Warriors own 10 yard line and blocked by the fast moving Hot Springs line. It took the Tigers three plays to move over the double stripe from the 10 with fullback Doug Fredricks packing the mail from the one yard line. Kick by Jake Candelaria was no good.

On the kick-off after the TD the Warriors began rolling with Bill Stirman returning the ball 20 yards to the mid-field stripe. From that point the Tribe moved to the Tiger four in just eight plays only to be stopped on a fourth down try on the four yard line. If the Warriors could have made a score the game could have taken on a different light, the fans predicted.

The Tribe had one more chance before the end of the half but a penalty and incomplete pass nullified any drive the locals tried to install.

Again in the second half the Tigers kept the Warriors in their own end of the field, where once again the big break came for the Tigers. The second costly quick kick attempt by the Warriors from their own 17 was partially blocked and defensive halfback Bob Middleton took the ball on the fly on the 25 and went over the goal line standing up. Candelaria's extra point try was wide.

Lightning struck the local crew late in the third period again when the Tigers' Terry Goldsmith broke through the line and raced 42 yards to the Ruidoso 41 and two plays later a jump pass from Max Padilla to end Candelaria was good for 36 yards and another touchdown. Candelaria's conversion was blocked and the score read 18-0.

In the last quarter the Warriors were able to move quickly to the Hot Spring's 41 where the Tigers picked up a Ruidoso fumble on their own 40. Once again passes proved the difference when on the first play after the recovery an aerial from Padilla to Sonny Nunn moved the pigskin all the way down to the Ruidoso nine yard line.

It took only three plays for the Tigers to collect six more points with Nunn going the final four yards for the marker. Candelaria's kick was again wide of the uprights.

The Warriors tried desperately to get into the scoring column in the final minutes but time ran out with the locals in mid-field.

The only consolation the Warriors received out of the contest was being the District runners-up, the first time since entering the 3B conference four years ago that they have finished so high up in the standings.

William Howard, Jerry Watley, Gary Russell and Jim Beall turned in outstanding performances on defense for the Warriors.

The Homecoming festivities were held before the start of the game and Phyllis Burke was crowned Queen for 1962. Also reigning in the Queen's court were Princesses JoAnn Filleman and Rita McCann. Wes Clark, outstanding lineman for the Warriors during the season was named King.

Before the game began, and at halftime, also, both the Ruidoso and the T. or C. school bands performed with precision marches and lively tunes.

'62 DEER SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

Another record breaking deer season is expected this year as approximately 10,000 red shirts will take the field after game in this area.

Hunters will find the deer scattered and in the higher and more difficult areas to reach, Dwight Bowden, New Mexico Game and Fish Department district officer said this week.

Turkeys are not as numerous either, in our local area this season as last year, but turkey are always found in the Sierra Blanca and Bonito regions.

Bowden also reported that the bear kill will probably be below average. This will be due to the great amount of natural food in the higher elevations and more inaccessible areas.

The season will begin Saturday morning, Nov. 10 and end Nov. 18. Hunting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Bowden also warns hunters to be especially careful this season and to be sure of their game before shooting.

Even though special permits are being issued on the Mescalero reservation your state license allows only one deer, no matter where it is killed, be stressed.

Bowden also urges hunters to be sure and know the area in which they will be hunting and tell their family where they are going so if emergency messages are received by the department the hunters can be found.

Gun Club Turkey Shoot Draws 75

The Ruidoso Gun Club's turkey shoot held last Sunday at the Cedar Creek rifle range was reported to be a roaring success as some 75 shooters were on hand to sight in their deer rifles as well as compete for turkeys.

Twenty turkeys were given to the lucky persons who had the highest scores on running deer targets provided by the Gun Club, R. H. "Coke" Hedgecoke, secretary of the club, said.

Grid Contest Winners Named

With only one more week left for the football contest appearing every week in the News, two new names were added to the list of winners receiving cash prizes for last week's contest.

Cy Leland, entering the contest for the first time, came out on top by picking ten winners to win the top prize money of $10.

Shirley Mobley nosed out Ken Newton, who has placed the last three contests on the tie-breaker score to collect second prize. Both picked Ruidoso to win over T. or C. but Mrs. Mobley had a lower score.

The tie-breaker has decided most of the winners in every contest so far this year.

Leland may pick up his $10 at Hollywood Cleaners in Hollywood. Mrs. Mobley can collect her prize money of $5 from Brunell's and Ken Newton will receive his $2.50 third prize from Dan D. Swearingin, Inc.

This week's contest will be the final time the contest will appear in the News and entrants should turn the pages into either Ruidoso Enco Station, Nob Hill Lodge or Whitlock Jewelry no later than 5 p.m. next Thursday.

Sports Spots

Kingsbury Pitcher, general manager of Sierra Blanca Corp., was present when El Paso Ski Club held "Sierra Blanca Night" Monday in Bassett Community Center there. Movies of skiing at Ruidoso last season were shown.

34-YARD TOUCHDOWN — End Jake Candelaria of the T. or C. Tigers pulled in a pass in third quarter last Saturday afternoon and rambled 36 yards for a TD. David Scott tried in vain to bring him down. Other Warrior in action is Jerry Watley. T. or C. won the all important district game for conference title.

All-American Futurity Nomination Blanks For '64 Now Being Sent To Prospects

Nomination blanks for the Ruidoso All American Futurity, the only nationally televised quarter horse race, will be mailed this month to quarter horse owners.

The nominations close Jan 15, 1963 for the $250,000 estimated purse to be run on Labor Day Monday, Sept 7 1964. There are penalties for later filings up to Aug 15, 1964.

The sixth annual running of the Futurity will be in excess of $25,000 over last year's All-American when the purse was $222,850.00.

Trials deciding entries for the Futurity are to be held Aug 29 preceding Labor Day.

The All American known as the richest race per yard in the world will pay the lucky winner an estimated $110,000.00.

'Zozo Wins Season Finale

Carrizozo scored in every period but the first to take a 19-0 victory over Mountainair at Mountainair last Friday night in the final game of the season for both teams.

The scores came on runs of 30 yards by Gilbert Lovato in the second quarter and a three yard jaunt in the third by Moore. The final TD was a pass from Doss to Gallegos good for 40 yards.

Carrizozo, the Class C defending champion for the past two years, lost out in the district race to Melrose but finished with a 5-3-1 record. Mountainair ended the season with a 5-3 mark.

HUNTING SEASON ADDS TO FOREST FIRE RISK IN THE AREA

By JIM McEUEN
(Fire Control Officer, Ruidoso Ranger Station)

The coming of the game season coupled with recent drying and curing conditions of the forest fuels, calls for everyone in the woods to be extremely careful with fire and to practice good woodsmen habits.

Campfires are safe if reasonable precautions are taken to prevent their spread. Always be sure your fire is NEVER left unattended. Never trust young children to attend the campfire during your absence. Never build a bigger fire than you can handle with firefighting tools available. Be sure to build your campfire in an open space away from fuel concentrations, stumps or dead logs. Be extremely careful to completely extinguish your warming fires—warming fires are commonly built by hunters away from camp, the hunters attention is distracted by the sight or sound of game and his warming fire is abandoned which later burns out of control. A good sportsman will always return and put out the warming fire before leaving the area. Be constantly alert to warn careless ones of unsafe acts in handling fire in the woods. Report unsafe fire violations to the nearest Fire or Game Warden before it's too late. A "stitch in time" might well save a disaster.

In conclusion, a bit of advice—THINK, most of us KNOW but we do not act. Be careful with fire—be careful with firearms—leave a clean camp, a green forest and come back again.

Tularosa Wallops Capitan

Tularosa's Wildcats ended their 1962 football season last Friday night with a whopping 42-6 victory over the Capitan Tigers at Tularosa.

The win gave the Wildcats a four-win, four-loss, one tie record.

The Wildcats poured it on in the first half with three markers on runs by halfback Freddie Gomez and fullback Manny Dominquez in the first period and a pass from Pete Kashe to David Walker in the second quarter. Dominquez kicked five of five extra points for the night.

Capitan scored early in the third frame after driving down the field via the aerial route. Ronnie Eldridge marked up the score from one yard out. A pass for the extra point was incomplete.

Kashe ran for another Wildcat TD in the same period from 23 yards away for Tularosa's fourth counter.

In the final quarter Dennis Marr got into the scoring column for the Wildcats on a four yard plunge through the center of the Capitan line.

The final touchdown came when Kashe sent his second scoring pass into the arms of end Dewey Shields to commence an 80 yard pass and run play. The same combination was successful for the extra point.

Lettermen Honor Exes At Breakfast

A breakfast honoring ex-lettermen was staged last Saturday morning at Wattie's by the Ruidoso High School Letterman's Club.

Several lettermen from past Warrior teams were present for the occasion as well as the members of the Ruidoso Quarterback Club.

Films of previous football games were shown the visitors. This marks the first year that Quarterback Club members have been in-

BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO START MONDAY

Practice for the 1962-63 Warrior basketball season will begin Monday, Coach Bob Lee reported this week.

Some 10 lettermen will return this year to bolster the roster of what should be one of the most experienced teams the Warriors have had in many seasons.

Returning are Gary Russell, Alf Lane, William Howard, Jerry Watley, David Scott, Bob Murry, Wesley Clark, Virgil Reynolds, George Pearson and Larry Simons. Bill Stirman will also join the team, although he is not a letterman.

Last year the Warriors were runners-up in 3B Sub-District. They lost out in the final game of the District Tournament to St. Peter's of Roswell.

Only one starter was graduated from the first five and prospects look good for a winning season, Coach Lee says. Mack Cook was last year's only senior.

The Warriors hit the hoop for a 41.10 point average per game last year and with another year's experience behind them basketball fans should see some high scoring contests.

Of the men returning, Lane, Russell, Howard, Watley, Murray and Clark are seniors.

The Warriors open the season November 30 at Canutillo, Texas, and below is a schedule of the '62-63 campaign.

There was a dance and party held at the Chaparral Hotel Tuesday night as an election or after-election get together. It started early and returns were broadcast all evening.

We are looking to the opening of the Ice-O-Rama. We truly need something like that and we are so glad that Ruidoso Downs was picked as the spot to build it in. They couldn't have picked a better place.

Rumors are flying so fast about a general change at the track that we were unable to check them all out. We hear that there will be a lot of new faces in all of the main jobs. As we said, they are rumors, but are coming in all of the time.

Mrs Henry McQueen of Hobbs visited friends in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. While visiting here she is the house guest of Aileen Thompson, operator of the dress shop in the Chaparral.

Your Minister Writes...

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
(Episcopal Minister)

These words are being written before Election Day Vacationing back east, at the time of writing, I have little knowledge of what is happening in the campaign back in New Mexico and of course no knowledge of how the results are to turn out. By the time you read this in print, the election will be all over, and we will know who are the winners and the losers.

Of course we will all be winners and losers. Here we are after the election, some pleased and some displeased. Perhaps we won or lost a dollar or two on an election bet, but we have all won or lost in terms of the future of our community, our state, our nation and the world. No doubt many of us had strong feelings about some of the contests and an intense loyalty to those who were "our" candidates. But now those who have been elected to office belong to all of us. They are no longer merely the standard-bearer of a party, or of a particular group of supporters. Whoever they are, they are the standard-bearers for all of us, until the next election.

More than that, they are, according to St. Paul, ministers of God! (See Romans, chapter 13). It is easy for us to fall into the way of thinking that, as one little girl put it, "God is interested mostly in religion." Of course this is not true. God, the Creator of all things is interested in science and business and religion and politics. He has his special ministers in all of these fields. God wills that His creature, man, would live in community. He wants our common life to be patterned in ways of justice and order, so that it can be for His glory. He wants us to live as fellow-citizens, not as hermits; in order and security, not in danger and chaos; in mutual trust and respect, not at each other's throats. Law and order in society are a reflection of God's law and order, which He wants to see worked out in His created world. Government is the instrument in His hands for producing and maintaining that law and order. So the men and women whom we have put into office this week bear this responsibility—a responsibility not merely to themselves and their own interests, not just to their political party, not even to the rest of us, but to God.

Our office holders are still the ministers of God even in those unfortunate cases when they are scoundrels. Do you remember from your Bible the great respect which David had for Saul, even when he was fighting against him, because he was the "Lord's anointed"? Christ before Pilate at His trial pointed out the divine sanction of the governor's authority. The emperor whom St. Paul describes as the minister of God was the infamous Nero. Note in the newspapers how our President Kennedy and Khrushchev in their official correspondence use all the forms of respect. "Mr. Chairman," "esteemed Mr. President." This is neither flattery nor sarcasm. It is a solemn recognition, in the midst of antagonism, that those who bear office bear a weighty and sacred responsibility for holding society together.

This does not mean that officials should never be opposed. It does not in any way justify any sort of despotism or tyranny. There is a place for civil disobedience, and place for civil disobedience, and cessary to ensure that the state is what it is meant to be — the means of carrying out God's justice. And most certainly it is even more unquestionably right to use all the legitimate means in our power to see that the right people do hold office. But above all those who are in office, in the exercise of their sacred responsibilities deserve our respect, our support and co-operation and the help of our constant prayers.
