1,500 SHRINERS ARE EXPECTED HERE FOR JAMBOREE WEEK-END OF JULY 13-14

Around Town

—By Nosey Waters—

We saw a few hundred thousand acres of New Mexico real estate Sunday through the courtesy of both Ralph Brown and E. H. Hedgecock. These two local pilots flew their ships to Cline's Corners Sunday to aid in the search for a Cessna plane that dove into the ground, taking its four passengers to their death, last Thursday during heavy weather. We went up with Brown, who also had A. E. Beavers along as a passenger, to help look for the ship. Later we moved into Hedgecock's plane and helped him look. We covered a pretty good section of Central New Mexico, but had to highlight it out of there with a rain front closing in. After our return to home base here, the plane was found, with no survivors. It had crashed within a mile of Cline's Corners in an area that no search planes had previously passed over we later learned.

The home folks last week-end had one topic of conversation—and that was the very wonderful, the very fine new Adobe Plaza that has opened here with some new business and come old ones in a new home. The idea, as developed by the Griffiths, Bruce, Dan and Georgia; and the Roomeys, Bernard and Marie, and then with the adaption by the various lessors of their own ideas in decorations, furnishings, etc. It is truly a conversation piece—a definite asset to our community, and something no other town in New Mexico can boast. Our congratulations to everyone who has had a part in it. From time to time the News will be carrying news photos and articles on this sparkling new feature in our village.

Later this month Ruidoso will get some statewide publicity when the New Mexico Cotton Ginners will again hold their yearly convention here, and pick the 1963 state Maid of Cotton. The girl picked for 1963 being the state maid in Ruidoso was later chosen as the national Maid of Cotton, Miss Shelby Smith of Albuquerque, and it is entirely possible she will be here for the 1963 selection. Ruidoso's entry in this year's contest is Miss Denese Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Short.

Ted Sutherland, an honor graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell 54 years ago, was invited last Saturday to review the first class and the alumnae at commencement exercises at N. M. I. He said Mrs. Sutherland will be observing their 52nd wedding anniversary on June 14—real soon now. Mrs. Sutherland was telling of some of her experiences when her father was superintendent of the Mescalero Indian Agency several years ago, and recalled that when the Chiricahuas arrived from Oklahoma at Mescalero, they came by train to Tularosa, and many of them wore heavy blankets and lots of extra clothing—or so it seemed. It was later discovered they looked like they were overdressed because they smuggled dozens of their dogs to Mescalero with them from Ft. Bill. The Mescaleros observed the 50th anniversary of that event with a big program on the reservation last week-end.

The City of Alamogordo reported at least 1,000 fishing permits were sold last week-end at Bonillo Lake. Most reports reaching here were that fishing was good. Representatives of the Sierra Blanca Co., Ruidoso Racing Association and the local C. of C. staged a press party for radio, T. V. and newspaper people in Lubbock recently and it was reported as quite a party.

Ruidoso will be the mecca for an estimated 1,500 Shriners the week-end of July 13-14. It was announced here this week by Jake McDonald, an official in the Ruidoso Shrine Club. McDonald said Ruidoso's club would be host, with Artesia, Roswell and Alamogordo clubs assisting.

The affair will be the first of a series of annual Shriners' Jamborees in Ruidoso, McDonald said, and except for a dinner-dance the evening of July 13, there will be no special program for the week-end. "The Shriners will be 'on-the-town' while here, dining and playing where they wish. They'll all wear fezes and will, of course, be attending the races and enjoying other recreational facilities in our area," he said. McDonald said in later years when the Jamboree is held here, a parade will be included.

He said Shriners from Southern Arizona, West Texas and all of New Mexico will be in attendance. "We are sending out invitations to 2,000 Shriners and we're expecting the great majority of them to attend the Jamboree here," he added. He said temples in Phoenix, Tucson, Dallas, Ft. Worth, San Angelo and other large cities of the area, as well as club members in the towns in between will be represented at the gathering here. He said Austin Priester, El Paso's potentate of the El Malda Shrine Temple, is to be on hand as well as Sidney J. (Red) Rayman, potentate of Ballut Atyad Shrine Temple in Albuquerque. "The Khiva Temple in Amarillo will also be represented," he added.

Monday morning at 9:00 a.m. the business meetings will get under way at the Holiday House. The 12:00 noon luncheon at the Holiday House will be followed by a welcome to Ruidoso. The Monday noon luncheon for the ladies will be at the Chaparral followed by a style show presented by the Chaparral Dress Shop.

Monday afternoon the CPA's will hold a technical session at the Holiday House where Dixon Fagerberg, Jr., former vice-president of the CPA Institute will speak on the topic, "Audit of Government Entities." Jack D. Kinsolver, C.P.A. will also have pertinent remarks on "Practice Management."

The evening dinner for the CPA's Monday will be at the Chaparral. Dancing will follow.

The Tuesday morning session will begin at the Holiday House at 8:00 a.m. and will include the election of officers for the coming year and any unfinished business.

NEW PHONE NUMBER FOR CITY OFFICES

An additional telephone number has been assigned the city hall here. Ruidoso Telephone Co. has announced. The old number, CL 7-3895, will still serve for emergency calls, such as police and fire reports, but the city offices, including the water, sewer and other departments, can be reached by dialing CL 7-3875.

CPA'S MEET IN RUIDOSO

The annual meeting of the New Mexico Society of Certified Public Accountants will begin with registration Sunday, June 9, at the Holiday House in Ruidoso, immediately following the last race at the Ruidoso Downs track. Following the registration there will be a cocktail hour and barbeque at the Lions Club Hut.

Monday morning at 9:00 a.m. the business meetings will get under way at the Holiday House. The 12:00 noon luncheon at the Holiday House will be followed by a welcome to Ruidoso. The Monday noon luncheon for the ladies will be at the Chaparral followed by a style show presented by the Chaparral Dress Shop.

Chiricahua Anniversary Is Observed

Fifty years of peace since their arrival on the Mescalero Reservation was observed in a semi-centennial celebration and observance by the Chiricahua Apaches last week-end. Indians from Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona and throughout the state, as well as interested spectators from the Mescalero area were on hand for the two-day festivities at the Mescalero Apache Ceremonial Ground.

Opening with an exhibit of Apache arts and crafts Friday morning at 9 a.m., the two-day observance featured a meal of beef, potatoes, beans and fried bread for guests at noon.

A military band from Ft. Bliss, Tex., began the afternoon activity with a concert of various types of music.

(Ruidoso News Staff Writer)
A $400,000 apartment complex, announced last week by Carl DeBord, executive vice-president of Ruidoso Enterprises, is now under way with the clearing of a three-acre site and the preparations for the footings of the 32-unit apartment building which will begin this week, on part of the 19-acre, owned by Ruidoso Enterprises, Inc., adjoining Cree Meadows northeast of the city.

The officers of Ruidoso Enterprises, Inc. are W. A. Hart, president; Carmon Phillips, secretary and treasurer; Carl DeBord, executive vice-president; and Pearl Carter, a board member. The building is owned and will be operated by the corporation.

DeBord stated that A. E. (Chink) Beavers has the contract for leveling the 30,000-square yard site and that Autrey and Collins, contractors from Roswell, have the general contract for the structure. John Porter, Jr., who has been with the construction firm more than 13 years, will be superintendent of construction. He supervised the construction of the Villa Inn Motor Hotel here which was also built by the Roswell firm.

The apartment complex will have 16 one-bedroom apartments, 14 two-

WALKER AFB OFFICER FACES CHARGES HERE

Major John S. Mallory of Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace H. M. Graham in Ruidoso Saturday at 9:00 a.m., June 8.

Major Mallory, released to Walker Air Force Base on $3,000 bond, is charged with entering without breaking in the night time with intent to commit a felony, Graham stated.

The Major is reported to have terrorized seven young ladies staying at the Peterson cabin in the upper canyon early last Saturday morning. According to State Policemen Bob Miller and Ken Shockey, Mallory apparently undressed in his car after parking it near the Peterson cabin. Mallory allegedly wrapped a towel around his head in a turban fashion and wearing only the towel, shoes and a shirt entered the cabin, the officers said.

Mallory was arrested and handcuffed by Miller and Shockey after a short struggle. Miller said that the sweaty, naked Major was a little hard to hold when he tried to escape from the officers. Miller said that the girls had locked themselves in the bathroom and that the Major had apparently tried to cut off the lights by tearing the light meter box from the wall and that he was apparently trying to force his way into the bathroom when they arrived.

Ruidoso Village officers Paul Lukens and J. H. Anderson were also called to the scene and assisted the state policemen. None of the girls were injured or harmed in any way.

FATAL CRASH—Four persons perished in this plane crash about a mile northeast of Cline's Corners Thursday last week when their plane was caught in a fog and the pilot was unable to retreat from the heavy weather. Bodies of the four were removed from the wreckage late Sunday after the crashed plane was discovered by an aerial patrol earlier that day. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miles and Al Lindsey, Albuquerque, and Harry Ingman, Lubbock. Miles was an officer with the National Holding Corp. Two Ruidoso planes aided in the search Sunday, but were forced back home by threatening weather. This photo was made by the News camera Monday, courtesy R. H. Hedgecock who flew a News staffer to the scene.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE V.S. CITY HALL—A full blown feud between Brown Air Service and the Ruidoso Municipal Airport is providing visiting airmen into Ruidoso with more service than is ordinarily found at any airport. The private company owned by Ralph Brown and the city employees with the municipal airport building continually vie for the business of every plane that lands at the newly remodeled and enlarged port. At night is a former golf cart converted to use to direct planes off the landing strip to Brown Air Service facilities on the northwest side of the field. Pat Lamb and Johnny James, Brown's employees, are shown with flags used to get pilot's attention and direct them to lower photo is of Phillip McKinney and Alfred Nash, city employees, who use flags, also to attract business for the municipal facilities, located on the southeast part of the field.

Your Minister Writes...

BY W. A. VANZANT
 Gateway Assembly of God
WHAT IS RIGHT—To be joined to the church and added to the Lord—or joined to the Lord and added to the church
 Scripture reading: 1 Cor. 8:17. But he that is joined to the Lord is one spirit.
 Any farmer knows the difference. He does not put grain into the barn to cure or harvest it. He puts it there to preserve it. If a farmer were to put a load of unthreshed grain into the barn before it was properly dealt with by God's laws of harvest and permit great pressure of tonnage, that farmer is inviting trouble. That unthreshed grain will soon produce a disturbing element of heat and ferment. The result will be waste and danger. The farmer lets God deal first with his grain. He lets God's sun and breeze deal with the grain. When it has been properly dealt with he puts it into a secure place.
 Mister, it is a stubborn fact, from which the church has learned many painful and profitable lessons, into whose midst is thrust a man who has not been thoroughly saved by the son of righteousness. Put that man in the place of authority—or responsibility—but that sinner under pressure—give a chance for that selfish, ambitious heart to reach out—and, mister church member, I am going to warn you—you are inviting trouble—real trouble.
 "When you attempt to mix sinner and believer into one body you are simply fermenting a disturbance that will eventually lead to an explosion." It always does. It always will.
 It is as simple as this. The business of the church is identical with that of the Lord, Jesus Christ proclaimed: Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? When this nation declared war against Spanish oppression the United States government sent this message to Admiral Dewey: Find and destroy the Spanish fleet of the Pacific. Those orders were short and to the point, find and destroy... What if Admiral Dewey had formed alliances for pleasure and amusement? What if the Admiral had overpowered and brought as a prize of war the enemy fleet to an American harbor? He would have disobeyed orders. There was no room for compromise. He carried out orders.

ON THIS PAGE are reprinted several chapters from the book, "History of Lincoln County Post Offices," published last year co-operatively by postmasters of the county. Copies are still on sale by postmasters in all parts of the county, or at the News office.

CARRIZOZO
ROY HARMON

The Carrizozo post office was named for the Spanish word "Carrizozo" meaning tall grass which grew in the surrounding country and for which a nearby mountain was named. Shortly after the turn of the century Fredrick M. P. H. became Carrizozo's first Postmaster. His commission was dated May 11, 1902. Prior to this time the area had been served by the White Oak and Nogal post offices.
 Carrizozo probably would have been no more than a siding and junction with the old Capital branch of the El Paso and Northeastern Railroad if the people of White Oak had cooperated with Mr. Eddy who was vice of the railroad and sought to tie in with the Rock Island Railroad. Eddy decided to bypass the town of White Oaks and start the town of Carrizozo. Records of the office show that Hurl served as Postmaster till September 30, 1905. Peter E. Lacey then took over and served until March 1907.
 Ira O. Wetmore, a man who had taken a great interest in the building of Carrizozo, succeeded Lacey and served until 1909 when William Riley, long-time resident of Lincoln County, was appointed. Riley was an excellent penman and the letters kept by him are unusually beautiful and have been admired by many who have seen them. The Riley family still live in Carrizozo and are buried in Lincoln County. They are Mrs. A. Springer, Jr. and Mrs. Ed Harris. Mrs. Nellie Riley, his wife, lived until the latter part of 1958 and the character and esteem in which this lovely lady was held is summed up by the name by which she was widely known - "Mamma Nell".
 In August 1912 Arthur J. Riland, a prominent Carrizozo business man, was named Postmaster. He served only until Dec. 1913, but he was a pharmacist and opened a drug store in Carrizozo until his death in 1917. His willingness to help everyone, especially those less fortunate, made him one of the most beloved men who ever lived in Lincoln County.
 The year 1914 saw a well known newspaper man appointed Postmaster. He was John A. Haley and at the time he assumed charge of the office he was busy engaged in publishing a year book about Lincoln County. The book contained the names of all of Lincoln County and of leading citizens, a brief history of the county and articles about each community, all of which became more interesting as time goes by. During Haley's term as postmaster, the post office was a central accounting office for Lincoln County. Aileen Lindamood, who is the present postmaster at Alto, is the daughter of John A. Haley and Georgia Orme Johnson, Edith Crawford and Mrs. Era B. Smith, who served as clerks in the office under him still reside in Carrizozo.
 The Lincoln County News carried an interesting item in 1913 concerning the parcel post service which had been established on January 1 of that year. The article told of John Board of Carrizozo mailing a dog to a friend, Les Harmon, at White Oaks. Dogs are not accepted for parcel post and it would be interesting to know just when that part of the parcel service was discontinued. In 1922 Haley was succeeded by Mrs. Elizabeth O. Gumm, a well known teacher whose husband was a member of a pioneer White Oak family.
 Herman E. Kelt was named to head the office on the death of Mrs. Gumm in May 1933. After serving ten years he resigned and Mrs. Era B. Smith who had served as clerk under John Haley became acting postmaster. Mrs. Smith edited the Lincoln County News but found that it was too much to carry on both jobs and she resigned and Herman Kelt was appointed Carrizozo's second class office shortly after he assumed charge. Mr. Kelt has the distinction of having served the longest of any Postmaster since the establishment of the office. He has an elaborate record as a Postmaster and as a citizen of his community. On Oct. 30, 1957 he took optional retirement.
 Roy Harmon is the present Postmaster. He succeeded Mabel Vi who was acting postmaster after Mr. Kelt. Harmon was Assistant Postmaster in the office who took time out in World War II to serve with an army in the China Burma India theatre. He began as a clerk in 1938 and is the first career employee to become Postmaster at Carrizozo.
 Following are some of the clerks who have served in the Carrizozo post office:
 Mrs. Alan Johnson, Mrs. Edith Crawford, Mrs. Era Smith, Mrs. Era Haley, Dink Kahler, Elsa Charles, Morgan Lovelock, Manuel V. Lopez, Don B. Hough, John Kelt, Bill Kelt, Leo Carl, Clara Bell, Myrtle B. Hough, Catharine Cornett, Thelma Wrye, Florence Grubb. Present Clerks: Fred B. Chavez, Lillian Littleton and Rosalia Kirkstrick.

GLENCOE
GLADYS NOSKER

The first mail service to Glencoe was without benefit of Post Office apartment. When someone from the neighborhood was in Fort Stanton they would pick up mail for everyone in the community and leave it at Jay Coo Ranch near the Bonnell Ranch. First official mail service came by stagecoach from San Antonio, New Mexico via Fort Stanton to Glencoe.
 Jasper N. Coo, the first Postmaster of Glencoe, sold his first stamps November 14, 1901 and mail was received and dispatched twice a week. By the time money order service was begun at the office on April 1, 1906 mail came three times a week. Now it arrives six days a week and comes from Tularosa.
 The Glencoe office has been moved several times and destroyed by fire and flood. In 1920 when Mrs. Ora G. Pully was Postmaster the coming of the new highway made a move of store and office to a new site on the highway necessary. When Buck Nosker became Postmaster in 1941 it moved it about one mile east. On September 29 of that year it was destroyed by flood and temporary quarters set up in the Woman's Club building at the Bonnell Ranch. A new building was raised on the Nosker property facing highway 70 which fire destroyed in 1944. Again temporary service was set up, this time in a trailer house. The building was placed on the same foundation and the Post Office is still there as Lady L. Nosker appointed Postmaster in 1949, did not move it.
 Although the Glencoe Post Office has been established since 1901 it is always been a fourth class office. The families served by the office are from the same farms that were homesteaded in the early days and most of these farms are still owned by the same families.
 The seven Postmasters who have served are:
 Jasper N. Coo, Nov. 14, 1901
 Frank B. Coo, Jan. 22, 1902
 Ira G. Hough, Dec. 5, 1903
 Guy C. Pully, Dec. 1, 1913
 Wade King, 1938
 Buck E. Nosker, 1941
 Gladys L. Nosker, Nov. 21, 1949

pany space located in the Long Shopping Center at the "Y" on Highway 70. The two businesses are located in the rear of the building occupied by the Morris Implement Company. . . . We envy Mayor Warren Tucker—he's got the biggest bunch of Indian Paint brushes in his yard of any we've ever seen. . . .
 Carlton Wilson, United Press International's Albuquerque Bureau manager, and Albuquerque Journal photographer, Ray Cary, were in Ruidoso Sunday to write features on the Ruidoso track. One of the stories concerned the ten year old, Sierra Hot Shot, trained by Bill Thompson. Wilson and Cary arrived at the track just before the fourth race and barely in time to place a bet on the Hot Shot. "Just for sentiment," Wilson said, "since we're writing a story about him." The two split the ticket and after the race wished they'd placed just a little more "sentiment" on the well known winner.

SOUTH FORK
CORRINE McNATT

At the close of the Civil War, ex-soldiers discharged from the various units of the Union Army, particularly The California Column, began to settle in New Mexico. Some of these men drifted into this area and began to farm small patches of ground and trap for their living. They thus created a need for postal service to market the furs they trapped. The first Post Office established in what is now Otero County was located on the South Fork of the Rio Grande, near present-day Ruidoso. At that time it was in Lincoln County. The nearest town with a post office and the postal distribution point for South Fork was the settlement of Mesilla on the Rio Grande, one hundred and twenty miles to the west. Once a month a mail carrier made the long, hard trip from Mesilla to South Fork with the mail. He traveled on horse back and if the mail was heavy he led a pack horse. There is no record of the name of the first mail carrier. A Mr. Rockwood H. Blake was the first Postmaster.
 In the year 1860, when the Post Office of South Fork was established there were a score or more of the ex-soldiers living within a radius of some 15 miles of South Fork. A few of these fellows could read and write but most of them could not and it was a part of the Postmaster's duty to write their letters and read their mail to them.
 In 1874, the South Fork Post Office was moved to Blazer's Mill and Dr. J. H. Blazer served as Postmaster for the next eleven years. Those were troubled times, the Lincoln County War was in full swing and Blazer's Mill and the South Fork Post Office were the scene of at least one bloody battle of that war.
 Sometime during the year of 1885, the Post Office was moved again. This time to the home of the Indian Agent, and re-designated Mescalero, New Mexico.
 These Postmasters served this office:
 Rockwood H. Blake, Sept. 28, 1875
 John H. Riley, Feb. 23, 1876
 Mrs. Clara Godfrey, Mar. 19, 1877
 John Ryan, April 16, 1879
 Josephine Carter, Feb. 26, 1880
 H. Blazer, Aug. 5, 1880
 David M. Easton, Sept. 7, 1880
 Joseph H. Blazer, Jan. 9, 1884
 Hansford B. Cowhart, July 24, 1889

BONITO CITY
AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Bonito City, a silver mining town about 1850, was located in the widest part of Bonito Canyon, the site of which is now covered by Bonito Lake. Mrs. Chas. Metcalf was appointed postmaster August 24, 1882. Its population was around 500 inhabitants.
 Lewis W. Bourne became postmaster February 12, 1894 and was a great grandfather of Mrs. Blye Skinner Cox who still lives at Nogal. The incident most remembered about the town was the tragic Mayberry murder there. The entire family was wiped out with the exception of one daughter.
 The office was discontinued January 31, 1911 and the mail was sent to Patons.
 List of Postmasters:
 Chas. Metcalf, Aug. 24, 1882
 Harman Condrub, April 16, 1901
 George Braune, Jan. 8, 1910
 Jacob G. Huber, May 29, 1884
 Jacob G. Huber, April 3, 1889
 Chauncey R. Booker, Feb. 2, 1909

MANNIE BADILLO AND JOE DRYDEN

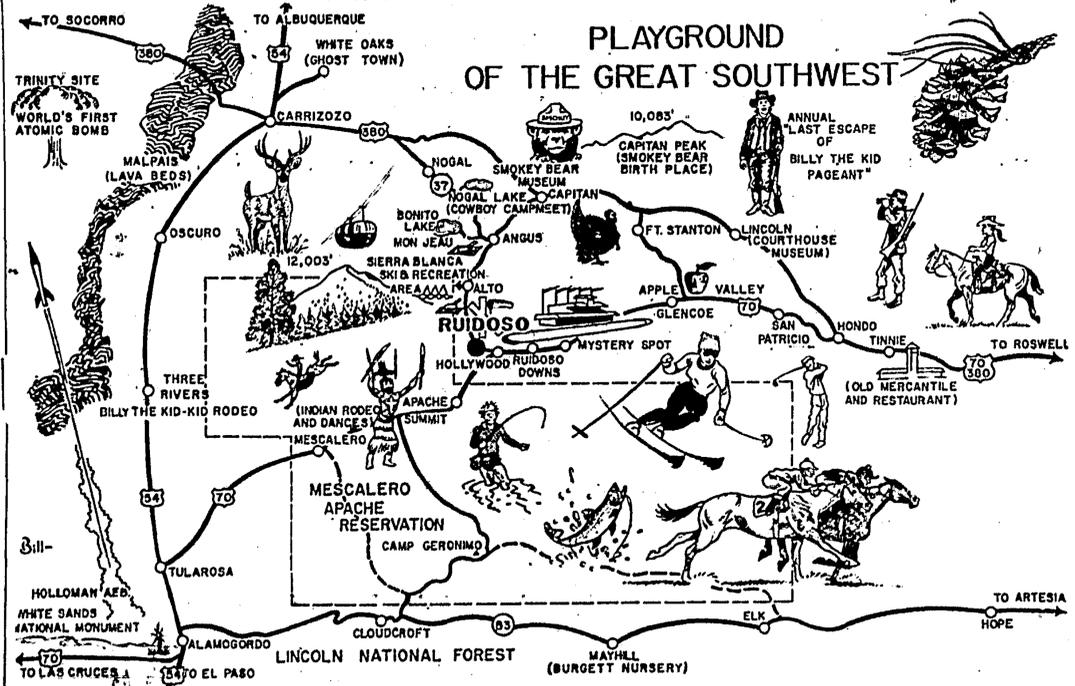

The first Postmaster of Ruidoso was Frank Lesnet who took office in May 1882. He was a grandfather of Mrs. Aileen Lindamood, who is now postmaster at nearby Alto. At the time the office was established it was in a building across from the old Dowlin Mill. Lesnet used to sell pigs, grain and various other products to increase his earnings. When it was necessary for him to be away from home Mrs. Lesnet and her two children would ask a neighbor to stay with them to help protect them from wild animals and Indians. After several years the Lesnets moved the post office to the still standing Old Dowlin Mill where they lived upstairs and conducted the post office down stairs.
 The office remained in the mill until around the turn of the century when a Mr. Prude was Postmaster. He moved it into a building on Highway 70 somewhere across the street from where Clayton Bennett is now. During this time the mail was brought from Fort Stanton by either stage coach or pony express.
 Isaac N. Wingfield, who became postmaster in 1921, was the son of Charles Wingfield, the third postmaster. During his term of office the post office was moved to upper Ruidoso across from the Wingfield home, the location of the recent Munsey Real Estate. Wingfield rode horseback to and from Ft. Stanton to get the mail. He used two horses and the trip took all day so mail delivery was two or three times a week depending on the weather.
 By 1937 when Jack Hull became postmaster the mail came from Tularosa, via Hollywood, to Ruidoso. At that time the Fourth Class office served about three hundred patrons, had twelve post office boxes and stamp sales ran about $25.00 per week. Gradually the community became a summer resort. Many homes were built and people started moving in. On July 15, 1938 it became a Third Class office and a clerk was added to the office. It was moved to just east of the Adobé on July 1, 1947 and became a Second Class Office at that time. When Hull retired in 1957 the office had grown to serve 2500 patrons in the winter and ten times as many during the summer.
 A new, large and modern post office with 3000 square feet of interior floor space was built in 1961. The building is located conveniently on Main Street just east of Monie's Riding Academy. New bank type counters and screen line and more boxes were installed. With modern fluorescent lighting, enlarged floor space and large maneuvering area this plant should take care of Ruidoso needs for a long time. The present building was occupied in February of 1961 and dedicated May 7, 1961.
 Mail now comes in and out via Star Routes to and from Roswell, El Paso, Alamogordo and Tularosa.

MESCALERO FOREST FIRE HALTED

Apaches from the Mescalero Reservation and U. S. Forest Service personnel fought a forest fire to a standstill Tuesday and hoped to have it out soon if the weather remained calm.
 Reservation Forester Ed Mouser said 45 men battled the blaze which apparently was caused by lightning. He said 74 acres of timber were burned over.
 A strong northeast wind had blown the fire toward Ruidoso, some 15 miles away. Mouser said four Caterpillar tractors were used to stop the fire.
 The fire was at the edge of a prime timber field, Mouser said. No estimate of the value of the lost timber was available.
 Earlier in the day, the wind whipped the fire into "fingers" Mouser said, making it difficult to fight.
 Mouser was on hand as Abe sat behind the pipe and gave forth with words of wisdom to the bettors. . . . And Bill and Kathy Walls of KJBC Radio in Santa Rosa visited the press box to have a good time. Bill, primarily to enjoy the races, Kathy primarily to agitate the PR man . . .
 Continued bad weather, including unprecedented rains, some hail storms, quite a few tornadoes, etc., has kept our Texas friends at home for several days. Very little of the expected traffic at the airport materialized last week-end because of

$340,000 CITY BUDGET PROPOSED FOR '63-'64

A budget of about $340,000 for 1963-64 was proposed at the regular meeting of Ruidoso Village Trustees last Thursday. Mayor Warren Tucker and Trustees Jodie Filleman, Lloyd L. Davis, Jr., and Bill McCarty were present for the session which forecast receipts of $143,500 in the utility funds and $190,125 in the general fund.

Jack Kannady presented an amended plat of a re-plat on lots 30-40, block G; lots 8-12 and 28-39 and the south 1/2 of lots 22-25, block J, Ruidoso Pine Lodge.

After a discussion and review, the plat was approved with all trustees voting "aye."

Carl DeBord appeared before the trustees to find out the status of the petition for annexation of a portion of Paradise Canyon. After the discussion, Trustee Davis made a motion that the Village attorney draw up legal papers regarding the land in question, whereas said land would be annexed to the corporate limits of Ruidoso. The motion was seconded by Trustee Filleman and all trustees voted "aye."

The Trustees approved the following budget for 1963-64, with all trustees voting "aye":

way. However, they were very frightened, the officers reported.

Mailroy was released by Ruidoso Village officials under $9,000 bond to Captain Don Harrington of the Judge Advocate's department of Walker Air Force Base, Roswell.

Capt. Hoover Wimberly of Alamogordo told the Alamogordo News that seven girls were in the cabin—all of them known as "Golden Girls," working for the new El Paso National Bank as guides in the new building in that city. Another woman was in the group as a chaperone. When the officer rushed into the cabin, it was reported one of the girls and the older woman went to summon police.

CHIRICAHUA—

acted as moderator for the program, introducing the band, recognizing various members of the audience and addressing the group briefly.

Chino compared the May 31 observance with Memorial Day, which was noted on the Reservation as everywhere on May 30.

Among the several visitors recognized Friday afternoon were artist Allen Houser of the American Institute of Indian Art; representative of the United Scholarships for Indian Youth Fund, Miss Tillie Walker; Mrs. Lena Earls of Baylor University in Waco, Tex., and Mrs. Eve Ball of Ruidoso.

After supper Friday the observances resumed with "The Chiricahua Apache Story," a pageant of several scenes, telling the progress of the Chiricahua from the aboriginal homeland, through their traditional home and camp life, into the period of the Indian Wars, captivity and finally their arrival and acceptance at Mescalero.

Narrated by Wheeler Gayton, the pageant was written by Wendell Chino, directed by Mrs. Gayton, with scenery by Wheeler Tissonothos and costumes by the Chiricahuas.

Members of the cast included Wilma Magooch, Edna Comanche, Evelyn Galnes, Amelia Nalche, Mary Botella, Margaret Robinson, Lena Morgan, Flora Spitty and baby, Mabel Blake, Clarice Rocha, Annie Guydekton, Velma Chee, Clara Mae Johnson and daughter, Wendell Chino, George Martine, Clayton Blaylock, Jasper Kanseah, Jr., Carlos Sundayman, Ila Chee, Eileen Gaines, Della Sago, Lavina Galerio, Pauline Murphy, Robert Sago, Freddie Kaydazine, Clefart Galerio, Albert Plata, Romie Evans, John Gallerio, Amos Galnes, Roy Balache, Christian Nalche, Dan Nicholas, Freddie Comanche, and Wheeler Tissonothos.

bedroom apartments and two three-bedroom apartments and approximately 18 of the apartments will be furnished, DeBord said. The American Furniture Co. of El Paso has the contract to furnish the deluxe apartments each of which will be different and no two will be alike, DeBord said. There will also be a large recreation room, and a utility room with the latest in automatic washers and dryers. There will also be lockers and storage space to accommodate the guests.

A large irregular shaped swimming pool will be enclosed and heated for year-round use. A large paved parking area is designed to accommodate 72 cars.

The site for the apartment complex was chosen because of the spectacular view DeBord said, which overlooks the golf course and has the vista of the mountains capped by Old Baldy in the distance. "The complex was so designed that each apartment has this magnificent view," DeBord said. The building itself will also fit in and harmonize with timbered landscape and will be of brick veneer with cedar paneling and was structurally engineered and designed by Jack Shipman of the Shipman Engineering Co. of Roswell, DeBord said.

It also stated that the company would furnish a sub-leasing service for their guests, for those who might not wish to live in Ruidoso the year around, since the apartments will be rented only on yearly contracts or longer. They also do not plan to rent to families with children under 13 years, DeBord said, although the apartments are all sound proofed with light weight acoustical concrete.

The contractors will strive to complete two units of the complex by August first, for display to the many summer visitors who are interested in living in Ruidoso, DeBord said. "Now, they will be able to live here in this beautiful setting for no more than it would cost them to live in any West Texas or New Mexico city."

The financing for this project has been arranged through the T. J. Pettis Mortgage Investment Co. of Houston, Tex., through their Lubbock branch, DeBord said, and is an indication of this firm's faith in Ruidoso's future. The completion

EXPECT 100 AT SALES MEET HERE

The Price Supply Company of Amarillo, district Admiral dealers, will have a conference June 7, 8, and 9, with headquarters at the Holiday House, John Heard, dining room manager announced this week.

Heard said Jim Lawson is the representative of the Amarillo group which will hold its banquet Saturday night, June 8. Approximately 100 are expected, Heard said.

Conveyor Belt Injures Lee Lawing

Friday at the rock crusher plant on Highway 70 below the Ruidoso "Y", Lee Lawing's right arm was entangled in a conveyor belt. Lawing was given emergency treatment for extensive lacerations of his right arm and hand, at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital and was then taken by private car to Eastern New Mexico Medical Center in Roswell for treatment by a specialist where it was reported, Monday, that he was doing as well as could be expected, but that he would probably be there several days.

DUKE CITY BUILDERS HIT MILLER

Mayor E. E. Miller, when interviewed last week in regard to a critical letter from Martin and Luther, general contractors, who were apparently low bidders on installing the Ruidoso Downs water supply system at the March 23 bid opening, stated, "The Martin and Luther representatives may have said that he might be interested in purchasing the bonds maybe, but that he certainly didn't say he would buy them."

"The new water system for Ruidoso Downs has been in the emergency bracket for some time and the Village had to have action, not maybes," the Mayor continued, "and the contract had to be definitely financed with the bond sale and we wouldn't give the contract to anyone who wouldn't guarantee it. We were already delayed too long with a lot of maybes and criticisms."

The Mayor stated that he felt the Trustees made the best deal they could for getting immediate action on the water system and that the present contractor is rushing the date of the complex is set for October 15, DeBord said.

completion of the new water system which the Mayor says is of vital importance to the Village, now.

The Mayor also stated that he didn't appreciate business concerns or others sending correspondence to him who mailed copies to newspapers first. A copy of the May 23 letter of Martin and Luther to Mayor E. E. Miller was mailed to the Ruidoso News and is printed below:

Albuquerque, N. M. May 22, 1963

The Hon Mayor E. E. Miller Ruidoso Downs, N. M.

Dear Mayor Miller:

This letter is an inquiry regarding the Public Bid Opening for March 23, 1963, advertised at Ruidoso Downs to install a Water System. The bids were opened, and our employee informs me that our firm was the apparent low bidder at the figure of $89,611.00. He was called into the Village meeting some thirty minutes after the bid opening and was asked if our firm would be interested in purchasing the Revenue Bonds. At that time he stated we were extremely interested in same.

I recently read in the newspaper that this Water System was contracted to a firm called "D. Construction Company", Ruidoso Downs, for the sum of $111,079.00. Needless to say it was shocking to find the contract let to a competitive firm.

The following is an unofficial tabulation by our representative of the figures at the Public Bid Opening:

Martin & Luther, $89,611.00; G & L Construction, $93,109.00; Reitzel Construction, $9,234.00; Jackson Plumbing Co., $9,400.00; McCormick Construction, 108,289.00; Big 4 Construction, 110,050.00; D Construction Co., 111,079.00; Individual Income, Inc., 111,229.00; Merritt Construction Co., 116,906.00.

If these figures are incorrect would you send me an official tabulation for my files.

Sincerely,
Gerald A. Martin

Owners and trainers rebelled, saying the surprise scorches were a form of intimidation. About 100 horsemen voted last week not to enter races at Ruidoso Downs June 7, 8 and 9 in protest to the commission requirements.

Chairman Floyd Higdon of Catbird issued a commission statement after today's meeting at a Ruidoso motel that said:

"The State Racing Commission will continue its inspection of stables, tack rooms and shed rows through its board of stewards or other authorized representatives on inspections as is deemed necessary to insure clean racing in New Mexico."

"The inspection will be at the discretion of the board of stewards. It will be mandatory for the board of stewards to conduct searches and inspections at stables where the official state laboratory has reported cloudy or positive tests."

Higdon said the key change was the elimination of "routine checks" required by the commission. He said there would still be spot checks, but no specific number.

Ruidoso News

Friday, June 7, 1963

Commissioner Charles Loughridge, a Santa Fe horse breeder, said the commission "does not want to intimidate or cast a reflection on the 99 per cent of honest horsemen."

"We are still going to search any barn for just cause," he said.

Three representatives of the owners and trainers agreed that the relaxed inspections would be acceptable. Dub Phillips of Ruidoso, their spokesman, said "we are in accord with the commission."

Phillips and the two other representatives, C. D. Wooten of Plainview, Tex., and Bill Thompson of Albuquerque said they and other owners would enter races at Ruidoso Downs this week-end.

Other owners and trainers said that stables should be searched when a saliva or urine test on a horse after a race showed traces of drugs or proved "cloudy" because of vitamins, pain killers or other medication in the animal's system.

Former Racing Commissioner Willis Lovelace of Corona, now an owner of race horses, was one of several

Fishing Fever

Izaak Walton never had it so good!

With 2,327 miles of fishing streams, 114,969 acres of fishing lakes — and fish planted by the millions — no wonder "fishing fever" is a highly contagious disease in New Mexico.

It is difficult to determine whether going fishing is the excuse for getting out in the open air, or whether getting out in the open air is the excuse for going fishing.

All over New Mexico — from the artificial lakes of Lea County to the tiny mountain brooks of the high Sangre de Cristos, Nature and the Game and Fish Department are preparing a royal welcome for the followers of Izaak Walton. And thousands will soon be taking advantage of the opportunity of getting fish for the pan and solace for the soul.

For, as old Izaak himself said: "You will find angling to be like the virtue of humility, which has a calmness of spirit and a world of other blessings attending upon it."

At Kennecott's Chino Mines Division this stream of water means nothing to fishermen. But it is important to copper production. It contains dissolved copper as a result of seeping through overburden on the dumps. The copper is recovered at the Precipitation Plant in troughs loaded with scrap iron.

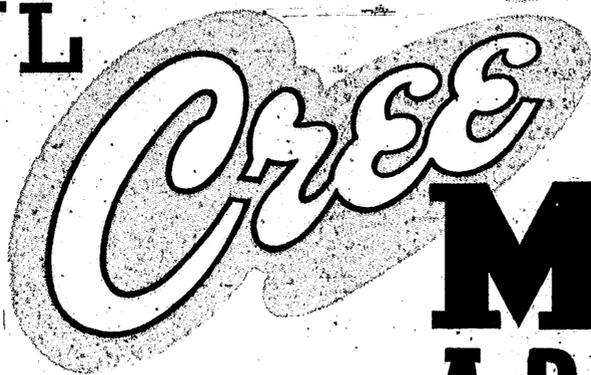

Chino has asked George Fitzpatrick, editor of New Mexico Magazine, and Harvey Caplin, an outstanding photographer of the New Mexico scene, to collaborate in a series of advertisements highlighting the qualities which have made New Mexico.

Barn No. 80 in the south end of the barn area at the Ruidoso Downs track was nearly destroyed by fire Monday night. One quarter horse belonging to K. D. Brokaw was injured by the fire and had to be destroyed. Ron Shriver, chief of the Ruidoso Downs Volunteer Fire Department, reported Tuesday.
Shriver said the fire call from the barn area came at about 8:30 p.m. while the volunteer firemen were having a training session. Shriver said that the excellent work of an unidentified trainer in fighting the fire with a small hose saved the area and that the trainer had the fire under control when the two fire trucks arrived.
The exterior and interior of part of barn 80 was charred. Shriver said a 1957 Ford belonging to Leo McLoron, son of one of the trainers, was badly damaged in the blaze. No other horses suffered injuries. Shriver said, and Tuesday he was still trying to learn the man's name who did such a good job fighting the fire Monday night.

Sales Groups, Visitors Honored In Special Races This Week-End

Ruidoso Downs has a series of special races on the card for this week-end, most of them honoring visiting sales groups or other organizations. Late entries for Sunday is the reason no information is available in the News today for races on that day.

Double Header Friday
With the New Mexico horsemen and state racing commissioners having smoked the peace pipe and ironed out their differences over certain restrictions, Ruidoso Downs will resume racing as usual Friday with a pair of well-matched feature races.

Both will be short, swift dashes, with a field of eight going in the 400-yard Little Maverick Rodeo purse, and seven thoroughbreds and quarter horses carrying on their eternal struggle for speed supremacy in the 870-yard Ruidoso News purse.

In this one, Jim Hughes' Gin Rummy shortens up from some five and one-half furlong speed bursts in an attempt to blitz such rugged rivals as Paul Smith's Roman Red, a $56.80 upset winner opening day; Wanda Graham's Unsurpassed, Olin Nix's Jay's Bull, Maurice Martin's Flash Sam, Circle 8 Ranch's Bob's Handie, and Bill Thompson's Fly Sheriff.

Unsurpassed, a handy winner last out over the 870 "route" will pack high weight of 119 pounds and Jockey Roy Lumm, while Gin Rummy gets in with 117 and Joe Sherman.

Back to the Maverick companion feature, this one represents Racing Secretary Jimmy West's first fling at grading a quarter horse feature and he appears to have them rather tightly-matched, Hank Penn's Jo Jo Chicago drawing top weight of 124 pounds, three more than Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nader's Swift Windling Wind.

Both will have to don their best running shoes, however, to outleg such other swiftness as J. B. Chambers' Jet Flash, second-string speed merchant to mighty stablemate Jet Deck; Hugh Huntley's Oink Brown, also capable of bringing home the bacon; T. C. Lindsey's Panama Missy, Kemper Chafin's Burning Match, Mack Hastings' First Gal, and S. T. Jones' Palleo's Vandy.

Even Vic Lamb, editor-publisher of the Ruidoso News, may have to resort to the slide-rule in attempting to come up with the winner of the race honoring his newsy weekly publication.

With the meeting back on the regular Friday-Saturday-Sunday racing

IN ADOBE PLAZA—Too & Mim's Sweet Shop, featuring a fountain service, ice cream and ice cream novelties, along with the famous Thelma Lu's candies, is one of the several stores with unusual decor and fixtures in the new Adobe Plaza here. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Littlefield, owners, are shown behind counter. The store's name came from a family nickname for the pair "Too" for Mrs. Littlefield, and "Mim" for Jim.

Littlefields Open New Sweet Shop

One of the brightest spots in the new Adobe Plaza is "Too & Mim's Sweet Shop," opened last week-end by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Littlefield, residents here the last seven years.

Old-time wire soda parlor chairs and tables, original cabinet and counter work by Littlefield in the fixtures, and a full line of fine candies and confections make this spot one of the main attractions in Adobe Plaza. Besides an array of tasty and different sundaes and ice cream dishes, the place also features Thelma Lu's candies in a wide variety. The Littlefields can handle mail orders on the latter line, sending gift packages to any address.

The Littlefields came to Ruidoso to settle permanently in June, 1955, when they bought the Idle Hour Lodge. Prior to that they had been summer visitors from Lameca, Texas, where Jim was in the wholesale automotive business and also operated the White Auto Store for more than 10 years.

The Littlefields moved to Lameca from their home in Fort Smith, Ark., where Jim had been engaged in the wholesale and retail oil business.

The Littlefields have one daughter, Mrs. Dick Collins of Lameca, whose husband is one of the partners in the Collins Department Store there.

After the Littlefields sold the Idle Hour Lodge here in 1961, Jim was associated with the Ruidoso News a few months but which he left to open his new business.

schedule, first post will be 1:30 p.m. each day, with Sunday's running of the $2,000-added Quality Oil Company Handicap at 400 yards topping the week's stakes slate.

As usual, each day's many racing features will include Daily Double wagers on the first two races, quinella betting on the fifth and 12th, and fascinating jackpot potential of the "Big Q" on the eighth and ninth races.

Triple Header Saturday
A potent two-horse entry from Scottsdale, Ariz., Sound of Rum and Acme Gin could well quench the thirst of form players seeking a solid favorite when they head a select field of six sprinters going after the six-furlong Vergie Abeyta Appreciation purse here Saturday.

One of three outstanding features on Saturday's 12-race card, the Ver-

RACE RESULTS Thursday

Miss Independent came streaking home the winner of the Memorial Day feature at Ruidoso Downs Thursday, beating such favorites as Gertie's Mac and Atomic Girl.

Miss Independent turned the six furlongs in 1:12 3-5 and rewarded her backers with $19.80, $7.80 and $3.80.

gie Abeyta will be supported by the six-furlong New Mexico Flying Farmers and Ranchers purse and a sprint over the same distance honoring the Admiral Dealers.

While most railbirds couldn't exactly explain what rum sounds like, Sound of Rum made noises like an early winner when he overcame considerable difficulties first time out here to finish an impressive third under high weight of 123 pounds in the inaugural Handicap. On that occasion, Sound of Rum chased Nell's Alibhai and Miss Independent under wire as they sped a brisk six furlongs in 1:13 4-5.

Sound of Rum sheds six pounds off that effort but still will carry top weight of 117 pounds and Jockey Robert Ford—his ever-consistent stablemate, Acme Gin has proved a most effective tonic at helping his owners meet the feed bill, having finished in the money 21 of his last 25 starts, including a third and a second in two tries here. In his last out, Acme Gin, assigned 115 pounds Saturday, was a game second to Miss Independent in the Memorial Day Handicap.

Helping to make it a contest will be Loramer Stable's Mom for Sure, 115 and Larry Byers; Double L, Farm's Py to Market, 110 and Lowell Kreider; Hugh Fitzsimmons' Royal Music, 115 and Arthur Anderson, and Phil Richardson's Spring Victory, 114 and Louis Meaux.

The Flying Farmers and Ranchers dash drew a well-matched field of nine, with Fitzsimmons' Mighty Venture, Irene Till's Nudge Me and Dub Phillips' Bull, Jr., packing high weight of 122 in the Admiral Dealers sprint, in which they hope to reap some handsome 12th-race Quinella profits for their favorite charity, W. H. Carson's Long Blue, Richardson's No Extras, Patten Brother's Don E., and Jane Markham's Little June Bug share heavyweight honors at 122 each.

Bill Thompson Sees 10-Year-Old Win At Ruidoso Downs Sunday

Bill Thompson, a burly owner and trainer, could lay claim last week-end to being one of the shrewdest men in the racing business at Ruidoso Downs.
The 34-year-old Albuquerque horseman watched his Sierra Hotshot win first place in the fourth race with a smile of a man whose judgement to take a risk had been proved right.
For Hotshot had been converted from a claiming race pickup to perhaps the biggest winner at the southern New Mexico track.
"Hotshot has nearly 50 wins in 10 years of racing," Thompson said. "But five years ago everyone had given up on him but me."
As a two-year-old, the California horse won reigning competition at Madison Square Garden. Horse show owner Don Brokaw, an Apple Valley, Calif., merchant, used the horse to get started in racing.
Hotshot helped Brokaw accumulate a stable that Thompson said was worth $1 million when the California man sold out a few years ago.
But after a series of successes, Hotshot developed a bad habit of breaking out of its lane.
"If the horse was on the inside, it would break to the outside," Thompson said. "If it was on the outside, it would head for the inside."
The horse was banned from tracks in California. Brought to New Mexico to race in its first race and out of its lane in its first race and was ruled out of state tracks.
Thompson thought he could correct the horse's habits. He bought Hotshot for $400 and got permission to race it one time with the provision that if he broke lanes again it would be permanently off New Mexico tracks.
"I trained it for a month with a special racing bit," Thompson explained. "The bit would clamp down on his bottom jaw."
Sierra Hotshot won its next three starts and made its debut many times in its original investment.
The short range horse won races from 350 to 550 yards, and until last Sunday had never entered a longer race. Hotshot won the 870-yard event at Ruidoso Downs and returned backers $840.
It was the third first-place of the week-end for Thompson, who owns nine other horses. His "Mr. D. C." won on Friday and "Five-O-Two" took a first on Saturday.

Death Calls Champion

The untimely passing of Hustling Man last Friday stunned the entire quarter horse racing world equally as hard as it hit Owner J. B. Ferguson, a personal sportsman from Wharton, Texas, and vice-president of Ruidoso Downs Racing Association.
Hustling Man already has been laid to rest in the infield at Ruidoso Downs, scene of his greatest triumph when he won last year's $222,350 All-American Futurity, richest stakes event in quarter horse history.
"Sure, he was insured for $100,000," said Ferguson, striving to restrain his emotions over the tragic loss of one of the finest and gamiest quarter horses ever to set hoof on a straightaway.
"But no amount of money could replace him," Ferguson continued. "It was almost like losing a member of the family. My only regret is that he never had a chance to demonstrate his true greatness as a 3-year-old against older horses. I was never looking forward to anything more in my lifetime than to see Hustling Man run against the great Jet Deck."
But fate has decreed otherwise, just as it worked against Ferguson in four previous attempts to corral the greatest of quarter horse racing prizes—the All-American Futurity. Strangely, when Hustling Man achieved this goal, it was in the 13th start of his career, indicating that Lady Luck was swinging her affections and made its debut many times in its original investment.
Hustling Man was a son of Go Man Go, unquestionably the fastest and zaniest campaigner ever to assault a straightaway. And his mama, Diamond Mae, possessed the same speed-wacky ingredients that gained her parents the dubious distinction of perhaps being disqualified out of more win purses than any two champions in the sport's history.
Such action undoubtedly deprived Hustling Man's folks of numerous speed records, since a search of the American Quarter Horse Racing Association records ironically shows them holding only one track record each—Go Man Go, 21.8 here for 440 yards, and Diamond Mae a share of the 17 flat mark for 330 yards at Pomona, Calif.

VISITORS CAN SEE 'FABULOUS FRONTIER' ON TOUR OF LINCOLN COUNTY SITES

By A. E. HUNT
(C. of C. Manager)

Note: The Petroleum Industries Committee, New Mexico Restaurant Association, New Mexico Motor Hotel, Innkeepers and Resort Association and the New Mexico Motor Club (AAA), sponsored Vacation Planning Week in New Mexico, May 27 through June 2.

Governor Jack Campbell has, and many Mayors, including Mayor Warren Tucker issued proclamations to this effect. The American Petroleum Institute's current newspaper advertising "See America Best—By Car" is featuring three quarter page advertisements in state newspapers, from May through September.

The following trip itinerary from Ruidoso was submitted to the Petroleum Institute for such an advertisement for Ruidoso. Readers are invited to make suggestions or to submit tours of their own making to be submitted to the Institute Committee, which will pay for the advertisement.

A Days Journey in Old Lincoln County "The Fabulous Frontier"

This day or week tour in the "Playground of the Southwest" is through unsurpassed mountain scenery. Modern, exciting, recreational activities are encountered in a fascinating historical setting replete with lingering reminders of the Old West.

Start the outing at the junction of Highways 70 and 37 on Sudderth Drive. The first stop only one mile away from the junction, is the Old Dowlin Mill famous for 100 years. First built to grind the wheat and corn of pioneer settlers before the Civil War. The old water wheel is still running and flour and meal are still made for visitors. The mill became a social center for early settlers. It was frequented by soldiers stationed at nearby Ft. Stanton, and by hunters and trappers and is noted for its famous visitors past and present. Kit Carson, General "Black Jack" Pershing, Lew Wallace, Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett are among those who stopped for dances, poker and rest, or to meet their friends at the early day center, still a major attraction.

After leaving the Old Mill stop by the Chamber of Commerce office just up the road. You will be greeted cordially and supplied with maps and brochures describing places of interest in the area. The secretary will also be glad to answer any question you may have about events, places and people.

When you leave the Chamber of Commerce you may want to take the side road to the left and drive two miles to Carrizo Lodge with its unique history and museum. It is the scene of nationally known square dance schools, and borders on the Indian Reservation (Mesquero Apache).

After returning to the highway (37) continue on Sudderth Drive, through downtown Ruidoso. It is a bright new resort city. Ample parking space will tempt you to stop in front of or in convenient parking lots, provided by many restaurants, motels, curio shops, lounges and stores of every kind, along the way.

Ruidoso is a bright new resort center—a mecca for tourists, from near and far. It is also becoming a retail trade center for many irrigated farms and ranches large and small which cover the county. You will see much new construction under way for new shopping centers and office buildings. Residential development is going on rapidly and many fine houses are under construction. Follow the main road past the post office to the traffic circle and turn right into Upper Ruidoso. This is a picturesque, heavily shaded drive up the Ruidoso River (Nolsy Water) through tall pine trees to the Indian reservation. If you choose to drive into the reservation you will still be traveling up the river, which you will cross numerous times, through a picnic and fishing area, maintained and stocked by the Mesquero Apache Tribe.

The temptation to stop and fish is almost irresistible but if you can tear yourself away return to Highway 37 and turn left on Mechem Drive toward Captain. Two miles out you will pass a U. S. Forest Ranger Station on your left. Turn left below the station and enter Cedar Creek Campground Area. Good facilities for outdoor camping, free, courtesy of the Lincoln National Forest are available for campers. The five mile scenic drive up Cedar Creek to the half shelter at the end of the road is rewarding. If you are lucky you may see deer, turkey, or even a bear before you must turn back.

When you return to 37, turn left and proceed to Alto. You will want to pause at the crest above and look back over the route you have come. It is a magnificent view of changing a most unbelievable panorama spread for your enjoyment. Turn left at Alto and take the road to Moon Jeau Lookout, maintained at 10,000 ft. altitude by the Forest Service to watch for fires day and night, over a far flung expanse of tall Ponderosa pine and fir forests reaching the horizon in every direction.

Return to Alto which is a picturesque hill country post office and store. Turn left on 37 and drive over the hill to Angus. Turn left again and drive seven miles to Lake Bonito. Beneath the waters of Bonito is the old mining town of the same name. It was covered in the early nineteen hundreds when the Southern Pacific Railroad impounded the river to provide water for steam locomotives on the El Paso Division of their lines.

This beautiful mountain lake is now a source of water for the City of Alamogordo, and Holloman Air Force Base.

From the lake return to Angus and turn left on 48 toward Captain, the birth place of Smokey Bear. Visit the Smokey Bear Museum at Captain. It is of particular interest to children.

From Captain take Highway 380 to Carrizozo, present county seat of Lincoln County. Take time to visit the Valley of Fires, a new State Park nearby, the latest and one of the most extensive lava flows in the nation. Also near Carrizozo just off 34 is White Oaks, one of the most interesting ghost towns in New Mexico. The old mine pits are still open—much machinery is still in evidence. Many of the buildings of a one time thriving gold mining town, with hotels, newspapers, and fine stores and homes are still standing. The White Oaks cemetery is the last resting place of many prominent citizens of the time including a former Governor of New Mexico.

Drive back to Captain and continue on 380 to the Ft. Stanton road. Turn right and you will reach the Old Fort in two miles. Ft. Stanton was built in 1835 by the U. S. Army to protect early settlers against Indian attack. It was captured and burned by the Comanches during the Civil War. It was rebuilt at the close of the war and used by Colonel Kit Carson to subdue and round up the Apache Tribes there in the 70's. The fine parade grounds and the military cemetery are points of interest. Ft. Stanton is now a State Hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis. Many of the patients are Indian children. It is interesting to note that at this place where many Indians suffered captivity, Indian children are being restored to health.

Back on the highway turn right. It is 8 miles to Lincoln, the original

County Seat of Lincoln County, which was once the largest county in the U. S. It covered an area larger than many states.

There is much to interest you in Lincoln village. The State of New Mexico has set up a Memorial Commission which has restored the Old Courthouse and Jail, the Tunstall Store, and the Wortley Hotel. The first two are maintained as museums, and are among the richest depositories of Southwestern lore extant. The Wortley Hotel was restored and modernized and is operated for tourists.

The Last Escape of Billy the Kid is re-enacted as a folk pageant each year and draws thousands of visitors. A Past Draw Contest in which modern gunslingers seek to outdraw the legendary time of Billy the Kid is also an annual affair, in Old Lincoln village.

Down Highway 380 at Hondo turn right onto Highway 70 for the return trip to Ruidoso. This is a beautiful narrow valley where apple orchards crowd the winding highway against the hills. In season, a riot of fragrant blossoms envelope the valley. San Patricio, Bonnell's Ranch and Glencoe are stops on the Old Stage route that once wound its way up the valley to Ruidoso.

You will want to stop at Fox Cave, an unusual modern store in a rocky mountain side cave. The final stop on a day's journey may well be at Ruidoso Downs, known as the Shangri-La of horse racing in New Mexico. It is one of America's most unusual and picturesque race tracks. High in a setting of pine clad mountains this por-fact 5/8 mile oval is the fastest growing race track in America. Ruidoso Downs is the summit of summer horse racing in the Southwest. Climate, scenery, western hospitality, the finest horses and largest purses all combine to make it tops 185 Miles.

Back to your starting place you will find that you have just tackled the scenic, historical and recreational attractions of the Ruidoso area. A week instead of a day is needed to visit and enjoy this great Playground of the Southwest. This is the "Fabulous Frontier" described by New Mexico's great historian, William Keeler, in a book by that name. You should have purchased it while in the Old Court House at Lincoln today. A companion volume "Violence in Lincoln County" can be purchased at the same place.

The White Sands, Carlsbad Caverns, the original Atomic Site, the Bottomless Lakes, Cloudcroft and other world famous attractions are within a day's drive of Ruidoso. For a perfect vacation, spend a week in Ruidoso, see them all. They spend another week relaxing in the tall cool pines, by the river, before returning to the hot flat lands.

In 1863—Few People Could Afford a Checking Account

A century ago, the man of means, in his mansion, signed his personal check with a flourish. He was one of a small group. Members of his circle—the "400" of the time—had personal checking accounts; but few other people did.

In 1963, however, Americans have some sixty million checking accounts in commercial banks! Obviously, these Americans are not all people of wealth. They are doctors, lawyers, merchant chiefs—and miners, farmers, clerical and industrial workers: People in every walk of life.

How has such an amazing change come about? It began with the passage of the National Currency Act, in 1863. This Act, by establishing a system of Federally-chartered banks, created the simultaneously competitive and cooperative relationship that has existed ever since among national and state-chartered commercial banks.

In turn, this "dual banking system" has given birth to ever speedier and more efficient methods of clearing and handling checks . . . to more and more varieties of checking service—such as no-minimum-balance accounts—that meet the needs and fit the circumstances of more and more people.

Today, almost everyone can afford the bill-paying and budget-book-keeping benefits of a checking account.

And this is just one among many truly significant contributions made by America's banks, during the past one hundred years, to progress—through service.

The Republican Party may be trying to become the "togetherness" party. The New York governor's wife lives in the same apartment building in New York City that he occupies.

And now Richard Nixon (the original vanishing American, especially at the polls) has taken an apartment in the same building.

To those mountain climbers who set out to scale Mount Everest just "because it's there." They'd look pretty silly trying it, if it wasn't.

WHO WILL WIN THE STRUGGLE FOR WORLD SUPREMACY?

Mr. Sutherland's subject as he spoke to 682 at the climax of the three-day convention "The rapid Communist expansion breeds fear; the seriousness of the struggle for supremacy is heightened by the race for space control. There is fear on both sides and many wonder how the struggle will be settled without unpopulating the earth." Mr. Sutherland stated, "In ending, he said, 'All nations, regardless of their noble purpose will must surrender their sovereignty or be crushed by God's Kingdom, a government that will bless all people and relieve their heavy burdens, regardless of race or previous political or religious affiliations'."

Of This and That
"Things I've been hearing about or seeing . . . maybe, something I've clipped from some source or other. Sometimes I say I file them away but really I can't say that I file them. When I get too systematic or some one disturbs the way I have things piled on the corner of my desk, I can't find a thing. When I file the items or articles, I can't find what category I filed them under. Is "under" a preposition? If it is it is something I should not have ended a sentence with. It's a bad habit for me to be in. It's something I want to get away from. No telling what it would lead to. Seems like it's a rut my mind runs in. Now, with a few prepositions out of the way, I want to tell you about the first item coming up for consideration. Phillips Brooks said this years ago. It is about . . .

The Ideal Life
And, now, here's Phillip Brooks: "The Ideal Life is in our blood and never will be still. Sad will be the day for any man when he becomes contented with the thoughts he is thinking and the deeds he is doing, where there is no forever beating at the doors of his own soul some great desire to do something larger, which he knows he was meant and made to do."

Religion in Colleges and Universities
Perhaps it has come to your attention . . . this matter of religion in the institutions of higher learning. Too bad students do not get a better foundation in our elementary and high schools. Dr. Robert C. Beckett, chairman of the Department of Religion at Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia. He says, "Just now, many universities which have no church relationships are adding courses in religion to their general curriculum. This is happening at a time when they are discarding more courses than are being added. They state their reasons in terms which express a conviction that their work would leave a notable gap in the education of the student if it did not include studies in religion. There has been more real coming together of various denominations in this present generation than has been for many centuries. Each year there is increasing concern for ecumenical Christianity. Don't let that word, "ecumenical" throw you. When we speak on the subject, some people are for it right away. They think we are talking about the "ecumenical church." Ecumenicity means "led together." Especially in Africa, the diversities of the background of the forms of religion demand that the well-informed persons know how the major traditions came to be, and the religious and non-religious barriers which exist between them.

A knowledge of the content of the Bible is indispensable to an educated member of our culture, not only in America, but also in the world. Without this, he cannot fully understand our literature, our philosophy, our institutions of his own concept of himself. Such an initiation into the ventures of the mind and spirit can provide a personal basis for the integration of all one's learning.

Now, just two observations that have come to me through the years: Many students begin college with the assumption that religion is simply a matter of personal opinion. They soon learn, and sometimes with a surprising shock, that there are intellectual disciplines that have long been associated with the study of religion. Faith and knowledge bear complementary relationships. That's just the way it works out. No man ever learned very much in any field without faith.

big trout were caught by the folks and many of them caught their limit. The folks started coming in Friday and many camped out up Bonito Canyon.
