Around Town

—BY NOSEY WATERS—

Lois Lane, graduate of Ruidoso High and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Lane, was in receipt of a letter from the president of the college she attends, Central in Kentucky, congratulating her on her fine scholastic record. Seems she made the dean's list three semesters in a row. Her brother, Joe, New last week to Germany after a visit here. He left by air from El Paso, then went to Ft. Dix, N. J., from where he was flown to Europe. He's working with missiles. . . Thanks to the sheriff's department, and to the local justice of the peace, Austin Fritchett, for looking into the report we reprinted last week concerning a visitor here saying a "constable" had stopped cars at Alto and was charging folks with various traffic violations and telling them they could pay him instead of taking the time to go to a justice's office and remit their fines. The disgruntled visitor stretched it some, Deputy Ernest Sanchez says. Sanchez reports it was a State policeman and he advised the visitor he could mail a check back to a justice of the peace rather than try to find him. Glad the affair wasn't the hoax that the visitor reported to several people around town . . .

Enjady Sentenced To Six Years

U. S. Judge H. Yearle Payne Friday sentenced Zino Wayne Enjady, 27, of Mescalero, to six years in prison following Enjady's guilty plea to voluntary manslaughter in the beating death of his estranged wife, Brenda Enjady, 25. The defendant originally was charged with murder within the confines of an Indian reservation on Sept. 23, 1967, after Mrs. Enjady was found dead in her bed. She had shared a house with her father and brother in the Mescalero housing project, west of the village of Mescalero. In a Sept. 25 arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Mrs. Tom Charles, Enjady had waived his right to a preliminary hearing and was confined in lieu of $5,000 bond. The preliminary investigation was conducted by the Otero county sheriff's office, then assumed by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Federal Bureau of Investigation when it was discovered to involve a federal reservation.

Ruidoso Delegate To Teachers Meet Goes Uninstructed

Teachers of Ruidoso, members of the Ruidoso Education Association, met Tuesday afternoon to vote on and answer a questionnaire from the New Mexico Education Association regarding several matters of school finance. The local group voted to send Mickey McGuire as its delegate to Santa Fe where an N. M. E. A. meet was held Wednesday, and at which some views were being aired concerning a possible strike of teachers to force a called session of the legislature to provide additional moneys for school operation. McGuire was an uninstructed delegate. Supl. George P. White of the local schools said the meeting held here was quite passive in nature, that he believed the local group had a realistic view of the work done by the state legislature and showed no signs of entertaining an idea of a strike.

Delegation To Race Commission To Talk Ruidoso Downs

Two dozen members of Ruidoso All-Seasons, Inc. in a two-hour regular monthly meeting last Thursday at Whispering Pine Coffee Shop & Dining Room moved to sponsor sending a delegation to the next meeting of New Mexico Racing Commission, to be in Albuquerque March 5. The association is joining with other civic groups to prepare a statement to be given the racing panel members supporting Ruidoso Downs race track and pointing out its part in the economy of this area and for New Mexico as a whole. The decision to speak up for the race track came following brief talks by Vic Lamb, board member of All-Seasons and Tex Barron, general manager of Ruidoso Downs. They told the group the local race track is frequently the subject of complaints and other harassment by numerous individuals and attorneys within the state and that no one had yet appeared before the board to express confidence in it point out its contribution to recreation, the economy and welfare of the state. Lamb was named chairman of a committee to ask for an audience with the commission and make plans for the delegation's presentation. He spoke before the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce in its Monday board of directors meeting, asking that group to assist in getting a shower of telegrams and letters to the commission presenting the same viewpoints to be expressed by the Ruidoso delegation. Other matters before All-Seasons last Thursday included discussion of plans for hosting the National Pilots Association convention here in October, naming a committee to have Ruidoso included in a world-wide tour guide, plans for soliciting new members to bring the total membership to 40, and postponement until the next general meeting, March 13, of discussion of an assessment for 1968 tourist promotion. Participating of All-Seasons in a large order of big tourist posters for displaying in a four state area in airports, motel lobbies, travel agency offices, etc., was discussed and laid aside until further study could be made of the project. President Ed Wimberly reviewed the 1967 operation of All-Seasons and had a hearty approval expressed by several members of his report that this first year had produced results in several ways, but had proved a disappointment in lack of patronage of the air-tour ski package plan—a matter he said he intended to discuss with American Airlines officials who had encouraged the idea here. He said he wanted an explanation of what had been done with more than 60,000 brochures printed to advertise the package plan which had not produced results as anticipated. Mrs. T. C. Delaney was in Roswell early this week where she went to be with an aunt who was hospitalized for medical attention.

Home-Grown Play To Aid Band Fund

By SANDY WHITE
Co-Publicity Chairman for the Band Boosters Club
The Band Boosters Club met Monday night and it looks as though things are rolling right along. Many proposed projects were discussed and several were accepted by the members. The way I see it, the village of Ruidoso is going to have some outstanding entertainment offered in the near future for your enjoyment. A variety show made up of several excellent acts will be put on sometime in March. In April we will serve up a musical "mellodrama". The Band Boosters were fortunate enough to have a sneak preview of this play at the meeting. It was presented by the Sierra Blanca Players of 1968 and let me tell you it's a real knee-slapper. The story was written by two local playwrights, Betty Bennett and William H. Yeager. The title of this bit of literary genius is "Hanky Panky in Harmony Valley" or "What Is An Ambergis Mine?" The setting is right here in our own locality in the 1880's. The cast of characters, and I do mean characters, are as follows: Ghost of Indian Squaw, Betty Bennett; Sucky McBad (the villain), David Travis; Sleeping Dog, Father Eubanks; Ima Goodguy, Mickey McGuire; Miss Puppy, Ramona McAdams; Bartender, Dub Williams; Tippler T. Totaler, Doc Luther; Darling Dingbat, Joan Marie Griffin; Senile De Brawl, Carmon Phillips; Falling Rock, Ed Osborn, and Squating Bird, Billy Yeager. I'll be giving you specific dates later on, but keep both shows in mind, as I'm sure you won't want to miss them. Now this is your old pal Sandy the Sidewinder leaving you with these words of wisdom, "Hanky Panky in Harmony Valley" is a real rib-tickler so be cautious when you attend the show as it could prove to be your undoing—Oh, who cares, what better way to go than to die laughing!"

18 Nominated For 7 Places On CC Board

Eighteen men were nominated for members of Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce to pick seven new directors in voting next month. Ballots are to be mailed to members next week, manager Don Stark said.

The 18 persons to be voted on are Don Blaugrund, Paul Briesch, Ray Clarke, Wayne Estes, Ken Ocasin, C. H. Hutanus, John Hall, Jim Kerley, Jake McDonald, Ray Nunley, Lee Onsrud, Elmer Pirelli, Frank Pope, Roy Sammer, Jack Siddens, Don Swalander and Dr. Dale Wynn.

Terms expiring this year are Bill Adkins, Hall and Sammer, who are up for re-election, T. C. Delaney, Don Driver, Bob Crosby and Dr. James A. Beall.

Hold-over directors are Max McCoy, Ralph Petty, Jr., Reggie Hughes, Van White, Walt Wiggins, Ed Hyman and Ray Heid, with Charles Findley, president, to serve on the new board.

Nominating committee was composed of Hyman, Hughes, Stansell Jones, C. M. Whitlock and Dan D. Swearingin, with president Findley and manager Stark sitting in on selection.

Don Driver, chairman planning for the 1968 annual banquet, recommended the chamber hold it on May 10 at the Chaparral Motor Hotel, and said Chris Fox, pioneer community leader in El Paso, will be the principal speaker. A band will be engaged for entertainment during the banquet. Tickets will be $3 per person.

Among other items talked in Monday afternoon's monthly meeting was the necessity to have a representation from the chamber of commerce at a meeting of Ruidoso citizens with the state racing commission in Albuquerque March 9. Manager Don Stark and several officers of the C. of C. said they would attend, and the chamber further voted to sponsor a landline of telegrams in support of Ruidoso Downs to be sent to the commission on its meeting day.

Officials of Trans-Texas Airlines, which has Roswell on its schedule, are to be invited as guests of the Chaparral and the C. of C. for a visit here during the ski season.

Manager Stark reported among several items the chamber was working with officials of Holiday Inn on a franchise here, that he had worked with Holloman AFB officials on locating a rest and recreation retreat here to feature cottages, volleyball courts, picnic areas, a softball diamond, etc., and also told the board he was working with Community Public Service and the state Department of Development in trying to secure a new industry for this community that would employ upward of 200 people. On the latter project he said the possible site in New Mexico had been narrowed down from 20 communities to just three and Ruidoso is one of the three.

Max McCoy, sitting in as vice-president in the president's absence, said he had attended a meeting of the Alamogordo C. of C. recently.

Board member Dr. James A. Beall reported on Ruidoso's fine attendance at the recent U. S. Highway 70 association meeting in Roswell, which is at work on getting interstate designation for the popular east-west transcontinental highway through here.

Emily Petty of Carlsbad has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Louis Smith of Ruidoso Downs.

Mrs. Ethel Neal, formerly of Phoenix, Ariz., has moved to Ruidoso where she is now the manager of the Midway Courts.

HOTFOOT IN THE MOUTH—Janice Stierwolf tasted something hot from the cooking pot in Home Ec class and Manuel Camin, a teacher who roves the campus of Ruidoso High school with a camera, caught her expression as she realized hot is hot. Janet Butts doesn't seem so sympathetic from her amused expression. This is one of a number of photos by Camin on RHS activities—a full page appears elsewhere in today's News.

Tells Legion, Auxiliary
At a joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary last Thursday, George White, Superintendent of Ruidoso Schools and Commander of Post 79 here, spoke on Americanism.

White stressed the need of Legion and Auxiliary members, and educators to take the lead in spreading Americanism.

The following goals, said White, must be goals in furthering Americanism in this country: preserving our heritage of freedom and wealth; fostering community service; promoting educational activities; sponsoring immigration and naturalization endeavors; aiding youth programs; observance of patriotic holidays and alertness to subversive activities in the nation.

CAPTAIN SCHOOLS 'SAVED' BY $20,000 PRIVATE GIFT
A $20,000 private gift from a Carrizozo couple is the only thing that kept Captain schools out of financial trouble this year, Supt. Duane Darling has told a Carrizozo civic club.

Darling said the money came from Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Spencer. He said the Captain school budget for 1967-68 showed total income from local sources at $28,401 of which $20,000 came from the Spencers.

He said many small school systems in the state barely have sufficient funds with which to operate and that Captain schools need added revenue.

I just wanted to express to you that we enjoy very much reading the paper which my relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clayton send to me.

We visited my niece and her husband, the above named, in October 1967. We spent the week-end at their cabin and parts of New Mexico around Ruidoso. We enjoyed it very much. The scenery and everything is simply beautiful. We love it.

We plan to spend our vacation

Canyon Echoes
Mrs. Billie Clarke has just returned from a vacation trip to the Bahamas and she is now a member of the Empire Club which owns a plane and makes excursions all over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith of Ruidoso Downs have returned from a one week stay in Lubbock, Tex. where Mrs. Smith was a patient in the Methodist Hospital under the care of Doctors Hull, King and Gordon, heart specialists. While the Smiths were away Lawrence Tafoya looked after the Smith Motor Service for them to make emergency wrecker calls and operate there again the week of July 4-'68. The people were so nice to us everywhere we went. My husband and I think there is no place like Ruidoso for a vacation, and hope to be there again in July-'68.

Yours truly,

The Candidates Speak

Each of the Candidates in the Ruidoso Municipal Election Have Been Invited to Write of Their Views for this Special Column in the Ruidoso News.

Wayne Estes, candidate for four-year term as village trustee: I would like to present myself to the voters of Ruidoso for election to a four-year term as trustee. Realizing the obligation of the office, I want to list some of the committees and groups with which I have served.

1. A term on the Village of Ruidoso Street Improvement Committee.
 2. Four years on the Cemetery Committee, two of these as chairman.

3. Two terms on the Chamber of Commerce board of directors. During my last term, the present Chamber building was built and we hired a year around manager for the first time, a major contribution to the present effectiveness of our Chamber of Commerce.

4. Served as chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee.
 5. I have been a member of the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department for 18 years. I've served three years as assistant chief and three and a half years as chief. As a result of several years of hard work by many people, during my last year as chief, the town was re-rated, resulting in lower fire insurance premiums for most businesses and residences.

6. Immediate Past President of the Sierra Blanca Ski Club, I'm now serving as Junior Racing Chairman.

I have been a resident of Ruidoso since 1947, fully intend to remain here, and feel that I should offer my services to the community.

I realize that I don't have any pat solutions to problems now facing the Village, but I hope that with my knowledge of past and present problems, I can help work out effective answers for the continued growth of Ruidoso.

I am affiliated with no particular group, bound by promises to no one and therefore, I sincerely hope to give fair representation to every citizen, big or little, in the Village of Ruidoso.

James A. Beall, candidate for trustee, two-year term: I am presently serving on the village council by appointment. After enjoying the opportunity to serve during some most important business transactions and decisions, I would like to ask the voters of our community to give me their appointment for an additional two-year term.

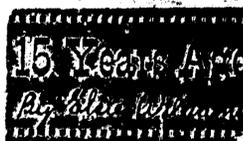

Many important questions are pending for council consideration and development—I pledge my very best effort to these and all phases of city business. I shall also work for a college or higher educational facilities for our area, and will strive for a closer relationship with the Mesalero Apache Indian Reservation and all of Lincoln County.

Jim and Gene Hengley of Phoenix, Ariz. have purchased a sixty percent interest in Ruidoso Radium Association which operates Hollywood Park race track here. The two bought stock owned by Fred Carson and Bert Chubbuck, both of Friona, Texas and Ed Davis of Amarillo. Hollywood Park race track will have 28 days of racing this year beginning June 13 and through Sept. 7, on week-ends.

The Village Council of Ruidoso last Friday night accepted a letter of resignation from W. D. (Dick) Ratliff who was serving his second term here as mayor. Ratliff listed pressing business interests which require most of his time, as the reason for resigning.

With only a few more than 50 votes cast Tuesday, the three incumbent Ruidoso Municipal School district trustees up for re-election this year, Dr. W. D. Horton, Ralph Bonnell and Warren Tucker, were re-elected to office. They were unopposed on the printed ballot.

Ted Sutherland of Ruidoso won a couple of "Firsts" with his fleece at the New Mexico Wool Growers meeting in Albuquerque last week. Other Lincoln County winners were Fred McTeigue of Hobbs and the Fuller Ranch at Pecos. A modernization project costing $5,000 is underway on the Central Bar & Grill in Ruidoso which was recently purchased by U. C. Cooke of Oklahoma City from Tommy Hicks. New manager for the place will be Leslee Davis, who with Bud Sheff, was among those pioneering in the opening of the Hollywood Park race track here.

Ken Knapp, candidate for mayor: My platform goals are concise, honest and within realistic capabilities. —To assure that productive efficiency of all village departments is being achieved and maintained to permit adequate supervision of functional responsibilities. —Proficiently increase the overall tourist industry through coordination of purpose of promotional and civic organizations, businesses and individuals in the area. —Augmentation of present recreational and other economic stabilizing facilities in the area, within our capabilities and limitations. I will ardently pursue a program to reduce unemployment by creating an employment utilization board and a "do it ourselves" beautification program for Ruidoso. —Toward the successful fulfillment of these objectives, I promise to unselfishly pledge myself, my knowledge and capabilities, and to impartially exercise the authority and perform the duties of the office of mayor of Ruidoso in an unbiased, straightforward and devoted manner toward the betterment of the community of Ruidoso and environs.

Ken Knapp

Mining Was a Thriving Business in Lincoln County Almost 70 Years Ago

(Editor's Note: Mining was a big industry about 70 years ago in Lincoln County as noted in this chapter from the recently republished book "Old Mines and Ghost Camps of New Mexico," first published in 1905 and compiled by Fayette Jones in a period of five years from 1900 to 1905. It has numerous historically valuable photos illustrating the state-wide story. It recently was re-issued, with copies of the original type being used, by Ed Bartholomew of Ft. Davis, Tex., noted Southwestern historian who has thousands of such manuscripts, old books on the early west, copies of pioneer legal documents as well as photos. He gave the Ruidoso News exclusive permission to reprint the Lincoln County chapter, but no other reproduction will be permitted, he declared.)

In the early days, prior to 1870, the whole of the country stretching from the White mountains to the Jicarilla was known as the Sierra Blanca region.

Many old ruins were noticed at the time of the first prospecting, of which but little or nothing is known of the former inhabitants. Traditions among the Indians and Mexicans have it that those ancient people worked rich mines of gold and silver somewhere in the Sierra Blanca, the localities of which are at the present time unknown.

Prospecting for placer gold was carried on in a desultory manner by Mexicans in this region, as early as 1800.

Among the oldest claims in the White mountain region is the Sierra Blanca lode; this was located about the year 1808. The vein is encased in what appears to be a kaolinized augite-andesite; and seems to have a width of nearly thirty feet. Gold is the principal metallic value of the district; no active mining is being conducted at present.

The first authentic account of the discovery of gold was in Dry Gulch which heads above the American and Helen Rae mines; this was about the year 1805. Billy Gill is credited with being the discoverer of the first quartz lode, called the American mine; this was in 1808. Operations on this lode were conducted from Ft. Stanton, presumably by soldiers.

A number of the early prospectors, at the hands of the Apache Indians, laid down their lives in this region in pursuit of the seductive yellow metal; two of the unfortunate were buried where they fell, near their prospect pits.

No systematic prospecting was done in the Noyal district, until the year 1880; the district at that time formed a portion of the Mesquero Indian reservation, which was, in part, thrown open in May, 1882. The following October the Rockford mine was opened and some very rich ore, running $80 per ton, was encountered.

M. M. Gayford and Company in 1883 erected the Rockford mill; cleaning up $3,000 in a sixty-day run. Litigation followed and the property has remained practically unproductive ever since. The Rockford and two other claims, known as the Clipper and Cashier, constitute the Rockford group.

Milling of ore from the American mine started in October, 1884, by Gill, in connection with Joseph Fletcher who owned a mill.

The mill was equipped with Cornish rolls, and in eleven months time $23,000 was produced by only two miners working in the mine.

In 1885 Godfrey Hunter purchased the property for $11,000; a little later disposing of two-thirds his interest for $25,000. New York parties afterward acquired the property, but never were able to make the proposition pay. The production of the mine, all told, is estimated at $85,000, to January 1904.

No claims in the Noyal district are better known than the Helen Rae and Cross-cut; located by three "tenderfeet," R. D. and Harry George and Chas. Epps, in 1890. Much of the ore from these two claims was phenomenally rich which was taken out by surface trenching along the lode and by shallow shafts. After taking out considerable gold in 1890, the three partners, the following year, after some cause failed to do their assessment, and two prospectors by the name of Storms and Murphy in 1892 jumped the property. A little later these two men sold out to John Rae, from which name the property is now known. Rae founded out with mortar and pestle from $100 to $300 per day from the Cross-cut; and in one instance one single pan of the ore yielded $1,100 in gold. A shaft sunk on the Helen Rae twenty-five feet deep gave $3,300; $10,000 was mortgaged and panned out, and 125 tons milled $4,804, making a total of $14,804 taken out by Rae in less than one year. The ores turned base at no great depth; this consequence induced Rae to sell the property, which he did to Rolla Wells for $15,000. Wells in turn passed the mines over to M. D. Gayford in 1901, who is connected with the American Gold Mining Company, and who now in 1904, operates the property. The Ixex is also a property with much to commend it.

The strike of the veins in this part of the district is nearly north and south and the dip is about 80° toward the west. Formation is andesite, syenite and bird's-eye porphyry, with veins cutting through; goaization has advanced to a considerable degree.

Noyal village, which owes its birth to the mining in the early '80's in that region, is located at the junction of Dry gulch and Noyal canyon, north of the Helen Rae and American mines.

Bonito (Parsons) District
Over the divide from Noyal towards the south, a few miles, the Bonito mining district is situated, and lies in Lincoln county.

Near the divide which separates the two districts, old workings, presumably of Spanish origin, are to be seen; turquoise appears to have been the object of their efforts. Kaolinization has taken place and the formation is almost a counterpart of those at the Cerrillos and Burro mountain turquoise mines; some fairly good turquoise fragments were picked up.

The prevailing types of rocks in this district are much the same as on the Noyal side of the mountains; bird's-eye porphyry and syenite are the chief classes.

The most noted mine in the Bonito district is the old Fargos (now Hoptel) mine. This property at one time had a considerable production. The postoffice of Fargos is about one mile below the mine.

The main lodes have a general north and south strike; while the subsidiary and more recent lodes cut through the older system nearly at right angles. Gold predominates in the primary lodes, while lead-silver is the distinguishing characteristic of the later or cross lodes. On the whole, the various classes of ore are very low grade.

A few of the localities are the Eda, Blamark, No. 1 and No. 2, Lady Francis, Jennie Lind, Buckshot, George Washington, Martha Washington and the Cros and Raven groups.

Among the early prospectors and pioneers of Bonito district are C. C. Bourne, R. C. Parsons, Col. G. W. Pritchard, Ed. Beard and others, who came into the region in 1881.

The old Bonito camp or postoffice is now practically abandoned, only two persons linger in that once lively little mountain village.

Eagle Creek and Rio Ruidoso Districts

Southeast of Bonito a few miles and a little west of south from Fort Stanton are these isolated districts; little or no production has ever been credited them. This region lies in Lincoln county, and was first prospected in 1885 by John A. Holder, John C. Hightower, Capt. Brazzell, Charles Berg and Sam Dougherty. Porphyry and granite are the prevailing types of rocks at the center of the districts, flanked by limestone toward the outer edges. Copper and silver ores appear to predominate; some gold and lead ores are encountered occasionally.

The veins are principally contact fissures and have a general north and south trend.

Principal among the prospects are the Comanche, Chance, Return, Virginia, and Modoc.

White Oaks District
Of New Mexico mining camps none, perhaps, is better known than White Oaks.

It seems that the Mexicans had washed gold in a small way in the lower part of Baxter gulch, as in Jicarilla, for a number of years prior to the rich discoveries which made the camp famous.

Not until the fall of 1879 was the news heralded abroad that the discovery of fabulous rich gold ore had been made on Baxter mountain.

A number of prospectors had been prospecting the immediate vicinity for placer gold, among them were George Wilson and his partner Old Jack Winters, and George Baxter. While the party were eating dinner, Wilson took his lunch in his hand and strolled up the side of Baxter mountain, where he climbed on top of a large "blow-out" and with his pick chipped off a piece of the rock, and on examination was much surprised to find that it contained gold. He immediately reported his find to those below and staked out the North Homestake, which was the first lode location made in the camp.

On this same afternoon, Wilson relinquished his rights in the property to his partner, Jack Winters, for $40, a pony and a bottle of whisky. Not a great while after this deal, the discoverer of the lode mines of White Oaks disappeared and was never heard of again.

Winters' who became the sole owner of the Homestake shortly afterward died, leaving the property to his heirs; who sold their interests to James M. Selgurst for $50,000. This gentleman, during the first year took out enough gold to pay for the mine, the building of a mill and had a surplus of $10,000. It is said that $35,000 was taken out in two days; this particularly rich strike was not made until the spring of 1880. The mine has produced $400,000. The town of White Oaks was surveyed in May of that year; Las Vegas being the nearest railroad market point. Soon after this first strike the South Homestake, Little Mack, Old Abe, Comstock, Rip Van Winkle and other properties were located, which since became producers of more or less importance.

No mine in White Oaks district is more intimately connected with, or interwoven in the fabric of the history of the camp, than that of the Old Abe.

This mine has been the barometer of life and trade of White Oaks, from its earliest inception as a producer. The Old Abe mine was discovered in the winter of 1879-80; the true vein was not found until November, 1880, when pay ore, in large quantities, was uncovered. The first thirty-five feet in depth proved the value of the ore to average $30.50 per ton. A twenty-stamp mill was erected which began operating in April, 1883; about five years later cyanide was added to treat the tailings and a canvas floor concentrator has recently been installed.

John Y. Hewitt, one of the first owners, has been identified with the Old Abe mine through all its vicissitudes down to the present writing.

The Old Abe vein is a true fissure varying in width from 3 inches to 16 inches; but attaining the extreme width of 22 feet in the chamber known as the "fish pond," which lay between the 7th and 8th levels. The ore is now primarily a sulphide; although near the surface it was mainly free milling.

A total depth of 1,375 feet is reached, which is the deepest mine in New Mexico. Practically no water has been encountered and is said to be the deepest dry mine in the world. The total output to January 1, 1904, is $275,000 in gold; but little more than a trace of silver is present in the ore. Virgin gold in gypsum is one of the remarkable occurrences in the Old Abe.

The Little Mack has turned out some of the richest ore in the camp; at present the property is tied up in litigation. This property has produced $50,000.

The Lady Godiva was located in 1889 by B. H. Dye. Some beautiful specimens of wire gold have been taken out and the mine has had a considerable production.

The Boston Boy is another property of much merit and was located in 1899.

Next to the Old Abe in production stands the South Homestake, which is credited with $500,000.

In the Comromise, most beautiful specimens of magnet and wire gold have been found; the property is idle due to litigation.

The Rita, Henry Clay, Little Homestake, Comstock, Rip Van Winkle, Bristol, Thunderer and Little Nell, possesses many qualities which go toward making up a mine when properly developed. The total production of White Oaks camp up to January 1, 1904, is $2,860,000.

There are five gold mines in the White Oaks district, one of these, belonging to the North Homestake, is composed of two 5-foot Huntington's; the others aggregate 50 stamps.

Successive lava flows to the west of the camp are observed, which would show that much igneous activity had at certain intervals, visited the region. The older or primary eruptions must have genetically influenced and made possible the mineralization which exists in particular and favored zones.

Of the White Oaks range, Baxter mountain seems to embrace the gold bearing area; all of the principal mines of the district lie in a very circumscribed area and on the east slope of the mountain.

To the east is Potosi peak, in which vicinity a good quality of coal is found; other indications of coal exist near White Oaks. Considerable deposits of iron ore occur in certain localities to the northeast; Lono mountain is nearly encircled by a good class of iron ore. Splendid building stones from the Cretaceous sand rocks are near by.

Baxter mountain received its name from George Baxter, one of the pioneer prospectors of the district.

Jicarilla District
The Jicarilla mining district lies to the northeast of White Oaks about ten miles and is about seven miles southeast of Ancho, a station on the El Paso and Northeastern Railway, in Lincoln county.

Ancho peak is the highest in the district; Monument peak, near by, is a close second. The elevation at the postoffice, as determined by the writer, February 4, 1904, by barometric pressure, is 7,475 feet above tide water.

The most prominent land mark in the district is Jack mountain, which occupies the northern end of the range, and is conspicuous for its precipitousness on its north and west faces.

Quite a large deposit of iron ore exists in the vicinity of Jack mountain; the percentage of silica is said to be rather high.

The country rocks is an altered granite, due to kaolinization of the contained feldspar.

At one time the Jicarilla mountains were evidently much higher; at least 1,000 feet appears to have disintegrated, exposing the granite core over the major part of the district; in fact, the process is leveling seems to be going on now at as rapid a rate as in the past.

No large veins occur in the region and the seams and seams in the basal core run in every conceivable direction; in these seams the gold has its origin. Due to disintegration of this network of small veins would account for the placer gold found so prevalent throughout the district. Usually the gold is fine and does not have the appearance of having been transported far; inasmuch, the particles are angular and in some instances still adhere to the associated quartz vein-stuff. Thus, as the process of weathering progressed the gold, owing to its specific gravity, remained near its source, while the wind and water carried away the constantly forming detritus of the decomposing rocks. The nature of the detritus on the mountain slopes, always sharp and angular, supports the theory of the genesis of the gold, and its accumulation is due to a concentration process resulting from the weathering of the mountains.

Placer mining was conducted in the Jicarillas by the native Mexicans as early as 1850; they would cart the dirt in one direction and bring water from another, and there separate the gold in a sort of wooden bowl called a "batea."

Many of the old pits and dumps were still visible in 1880, at the time of the advent of the American prospector.

The American Placer Company inaugurated and operated a large dredge, during the season of 1903, in one of the gulches west of the postoffice; the process proved too expensive to pay.

Numerous claims in both placers and lodes are located and held over the entire district; so far, the principal production has come from the placers. The fineness of the placer gold is about 920.

The following is a list of the principal claims existing in the Jicarillas January 1, 1904, viz:

Mountain Boy group; Geneva group, Iron King group, Admiral Dewey and Belmont, Good Luck, Belle of Memphis, Belle of New Mexico, Summit, Ready Relief, Old Co. grade, Little Giant, Eureka, Zulu, Richmond, Central, Revenue, Exit, Annex, Prince Albert, Dark Cloud, Queen Victoria, Jicarilla, Placer Company, Knickerbocker, Democrat, Cleveland, Hawkeye, Juana Gulch Placer, January, Jane Anderson and Comery lode.

A belt, or zone of copper has recently been found to pass through on both the east and west sides of the district; these are receiving some attention at the present writing.

Red Cloud (Gallinas Mountains) District
Owing to the great distance, heretofore, from transportation, this mining section has developed but little; the building of the El Paso and Northeastern Railway, has eliminated this obstacle and it is expected to witness a revival of mining in this region in the near Book Co., Ft. Davis, Tex. 79734, at future. The district occupies a por-$4.00 per copy.)

Burl V. Baker, lot 8, blk. 14, Pinecliff. They just didn't grasp that this was a stare-in.

Bud and Lucille — like most everyone else in Littlefield — would have understood perfectly why twice daily I walked the six feet from the cabin to the woodpile and lugged in log after log until they were piled mantel high beside the fireplace. But the amused cabin owners shook their heads, mumbling, "But the wood is only six feet away . . ."

Well, the fat's in the fire now. Ruidoso has found out I'm nuts. I don't mind talking about it in Littlefield. Why should I, Littlefield has known it for months.

You see, Ruidoso doesn't altogether understand about my fire-place "stare-ins."

Like the six day-and-night "stare-in" I staged up there recently, at Story Book Cabins.

Really, the owners of the cabins, 30 minutes, stalk out in the cold, Reuben and Roberta Larson, and clomp six feet through snow and Roberta's mother, Edna Dunn — all trudge back again. You can't even Stewart here share my love of utel watching flames dance in a fireplace. They just didn't realize that six feet can absolutely ruin a stare-in. The hippies, the beatniks, the demonstrators have their sit-ins and well, you know, And there is a proper way to stage each kind of "in."

It's no different with a stare-in fireplace — that's what I'm talking about, in case you're not in the groove — change shapes and forms constantly.

But there are times when it gets you.

As long as the chaperes are snugly little bear cubs or baying hound's head, everything is A-okay.

But three separate times the savage red eyes of a bull alligator — with its mouth open for limbsnapping — glowered me into a smelting heap in one corner of my chair.

But the most chattering discovery of my stare-in career was made during this last one.

Twice during those six days I plainly and clearly heard those logs weep. A thin wailing sound suddenly filled the room — for several moments.

I had to tint my hair the first day I came home.

Then I was the one wailing. Because my beautiful stare-in was over.

129 Students Leave Local Schools In 5 Months; Board Surveys Reasons

By MARCO VALEN

(Ruidoso News Staff Writer) Why do Ruidoso school children leave the school system? This was the subject of a survey taken recently by the Ruidoso school system under the direction of George P. White, Superintendent.

The survey was brought to the attention of the Board of Education at its last regular meeting. The only conclusion reached was that there appeared to be no clear picture of the ways and wherefores of students leaving. Out of 129 students who left the school since September 1967, 100 left for employment reasons of their parents, and only five dropped out. Another interesting fact learned by the survey was that of these, 47 left for cities of 30,000 or more population.

Construction workers, cafe workers, race track personnel, garage mechanics and service station attendants numbered the highest among parents in leaving the area for employment elsewhere. White says that it is an unusual occurrence for the school population to drop, while the village population increases. He states that utility hook-ups have increased which indicates a population increase. The enrollment in the Ruidoso schools is now 800. The school board originally budgeted for 650. The trend of fewer students in the public schools is very noticeable this year throughout the state. This year total student enrollment in public schools throughout the state changed from a 3% increase to only .04%, the board was told.

gators, monkeys and even a roaring lion!

I can see that in order to make outsiders understand I'm going to drop, to stylize myself. Like letting my stungly locks grow ankle length, then wrapping them around my waist cumberbund fashion.

But, really, stare-ins make good sense.

Lugging the logs gives you good exercise twice a day and avoids further frustration of your frazzled nerves by missing part of the fiery scene every 30 minutes. That's like leaving the room when a TV show is blaring.

You see, logs and flames in a fireplace — that's what I'm talking about, in case you're not in the groove — change shapes and forms constantly.

Warriors Top Seeded in Sub-District

Ruidoso's Warriors, defeating Cloudcroft Friday night at Cloudcroft, ended up with a record that put them top-seeded in the mountain sub-district of 3B allowing them a bye in opening rounds of the district meet in Artesia which got underway Wednesday. Ruidoso's first action will be at 2 p.m. Thursday when the Warriors meet Captain, also drawing a bye. Dexter was to play Hagerman and Carrizozo and Hondo were to meet opening day Wednesday.

Earning a sub-district top seeding in the Plains division of 3B was Eunice, who will meet the winner of Carrizozo-Hondo match Thursday, 8 p.m. Cloudcroft, also drawing a bye along with Lake Arthur, was to meet Lake Arthur 3:30 Thursday. Finals are set for 8 p.m. Saturday, with consolation 6:30 p.m. that afternoon.

Eighth Graders Win Dexter Tourney; Freshmen Fall Out

Ruidoso high school's eighth grade basketball team, with a very credible standing for this winter, ended season play in a tournament at Dexter last week-end, bringing home championship honors. The locals defeated Dexter in the opening game 44-31, then took the crown in the finals over Mountain View of Roswell, 36-32. Scoring high for Ruidoso was Norman Kahke who hit the hoop with fair regularity, and Steve Wimberly on offense, Corky Conley's work on the back boards, Marvin Barcus and Allen Payne on defense came in for compliments from the Ruidoso coaching crew. Ed Osborn coached the 8th through its successful season.

The freshmen, also entered at Dexter, dropped the opening match to Mountain View 64-34, and later were washed out of the tournament in playing for third place when Berrondo set them down by about 20 points in the final score. The tourney also ended the regular season for the freshmen.

Lyna White Submits Winning Design For Cathedral of the Pines Use

Lyna White's design of a pine tree with the marks identified with the lively arts and letters of Old King high was declared as first prize win-

IN POSTER CONTEST - Lyna White, right, won first prize and $5 cash from Tom Loudon, president of Cathedral of the Pines in judging of 127 posters entered to select an emblem to be used by the association Thursday night last week. Others entering were, from left, Richard Volquardsen, honorable mention; Bill White, second with $2.50 cash; Zoe Ann Shaw, honorable mention, and Bobby Grimmer, third, $1.50 cash. Fourth place winner Danny Bell, was not present. All in the finals were given tickets to be honored at Cathedral of Pines first program to be held at some time in future.

tion, Tom Loudon. Other winners were: Bobby Grimmer, 3rd, $1.50; Danny Bell, 4th, $1.00; with honorable mention going to Richard Volquardsen and Zoe Ann Shaw. They were picked from 127 designs entered by White Mountain school students and students of Mrs. David Travis' art class in high school.

During the meeting, for entertainment, pupils of Mrs. Tommy Perret's dance class presented four numbers, and those taking part were Cathy Hine, Sandra Petty, Carrie Isham, Delana Phillips and Mrs. Perret.

Named on a nominating committee by president Loudon to pick four directors for the association were Ken Knapp, Dr. Kathleen Doering and Turt Shaw.

Mrs. Tom Loudon was named corresponding secretary in an election held during the meeting.

Loudon called on A. J. Thompson for a report on planning of programs for future meetings, and for attractions that might be offered, stating these were being considered: inviting a military band from one of the services' centers in the area; forming a town band for regular concerts in the city park; puppet shows, picnics for former Texans, Kansans, Oklahomans and other states during summer months; square dances—and a proposed meeting with the Lincoln County Art Association to discuss art shows.

Mrs. Thompson, heading a theatrical programs committee, reported on corresponding with little theatre groups in nearby towns and with drama departments of colleges and universities in the area concerning performances here, or summer work shops in Ruidoso.

Several new members joined the association during the evening. Memberships are $1 per person and now numbers more than 100, Loudon reported recently.

Thompson's pre-first graders making string pictures this week. One tiny girl drew her pig and when asked what is was it's an animal nobody knows the name of. They have also been coloring their interlocking records that have been made for them. Two that they had fun with are "Flight of a Lebec" and the "Sorcerer's Apprentice." These students are studying numbers in arithmetic.

Cheney's first grade students are learning plus and minus arithmetic and are learning to in books other than their text. Most of the students will be studying numbers in arithmetic.

Rayburn's first graders are learning money in arithmetic and making Uncle Sam pictures. They are also studying consonant and one group of the students in this class is finishing reading books.

Jones' first graders have their citizens of the month, month they are Kristi Perry and Byron Carpenter. They are studying evaporation in science learning to count money in cents. They have learned all about sound and have a spelling. This week they are concentrating on studying Georgia Washington, in celebration of Washington's birthday. Jenny Penna has a new sister. The students wish to Mrs. Wayne White and Mrs. Perry, Jr. for their help at Lentine party last week.

Lathan's second grade students are studying plants. They are a large pot of tulips which are studying and have sprouted seeds on wet paper towels. Lathan's students, along with first graders and Mrs. Jones' pre-first, enjoyed the even by Mrs. Veda Tadlock and banks last week.

Moore's third graders are studying the solar system and planets in science and in arithmetic, they are solving story problems and learning facts, tables of 18 and 16, plus, minus, multiply and divide. In English, they are studying plural and singular subjects and S-form and simple form verbs.

Mrs. Samelson's fourth grade students have just finished studying India. Debbie and Patricia are doing an investigation with an apple to determine how much of the weight of an apple is moisture. Gretchen, Ruth, Cindy and Robert are experimenting with water. They made a model purifying plant. The children are enjoying geometry. They are also preparing a unit on George Washington. The entire class has been concerned about Ronnie Lawing and are thankful that he is better. Cammie Yeager brought snapshots made in Japan to share with the students and Allan Temple and Johnny Baca are working on making a special reading book.

Mr. McNeill's fifth graders have started an art project, using thread and paper to make mathematical art. This week ends another six week period and tests will be the latter part of this week and the first part of next week. The children are concerned about one of their number, Ronnie Lawing. There is still not much news concerning the extent of his injury. He was hit near the eye by a television antenna last week-end.

Mrs. Dunn's sixth grade students are turning in their salt maps and drawings. They are also reviewing for six weeks tests which are the last of this week. Mrs. Dunn has been absent part of this week and Mrs. Adams has been substituting for her. The sixth grade boys report that the basketball game they played Saturday night during half-time of the varsity game ended with a score of 3-1 in favor of the seventh grade boys.

Mr. Dunsagan's sixth graders have just finished the last of their achievement tests for this year. They report the basketball team is composed of starters Scott Wagner, Joey McGuire, Carl Connie, Sheridan Lester and Hartan Butts and the other members are Joe

Capitan News

(By CHAPLAIN KLINE)
Creation of the newly mythical youth town of OCOCO in Lincoln County last Sunday at the five-town meeting in the sparkling new Carrizozo Recreation Center, gave a great light of understanding, which removed much darkness of ignorant prejudice, and brought brotherhood to the 163 persons present.

OCOCO derived its name from an acronym, using alternately the last and first letters of Hondo, Corona, Ruidoso, Capitan and Carrizozo.

OCOCO elected a Board of Stewards and Stewardesses to promote the purposes of this thriving new youth town. Included in these purposes are: finding faster ways to see and use God's opportunities, streamline social gatherings for swifter county community spirit, befriending youth in institutions (or near) Lincoln County.

On this Board of Stewards and Stewardesses are: Corona — Pete

Gnatkowski and Connie Sultemeyer; Hondo — Lloyd Montes and Lydia Gomez; Capitan — Jim Wright and Patsy Grantam; Carrizozo and Ruidoso will elect their's March 3.

President and first lady of OCOCO for one day were: Robert Chipman and Lucy Herrera of Hondo. These one-day officers were elected as candidates by three mixed groups from all towns. Final election was by all present. Stewards and Stewardesses were elected by separate towns as their representatives.

Bowling, pool and ping-pong were all in full use from 2 to 4 p.m. A record player was provided by the Fred English family. Prizes of boxes of chocolates were provided by Paden Drug and Thornton Grocery of Carrizozo. Also by Jenkins Grocery of Capitan. Carrizozo High School provided projector for showing color film "God of the Atom".

Highlights of the afternoon was the good council given by Al Ortiz, for twenty years a leader of New Mexico Boys' State, and for many years its director. Al is also Chief Probation Officer of New Mexico. He gave great emphasis to the value of humor and happiness in society and in the life of every person. He repeatedly pointed to God as the giver of all things we like best, and that serving God and country brings to us all that is worth most, as we live like brothers.

Al publicly invited Chaplain Kline to bring Presy Torres, of Hondo, to Boys' State this June as Al's personal guest. Applause made clear the enthusiastic approval of this invitation. At the conclusion of Al's session on Brotherhood, all present stood and applauded in respectful appreciation for his humble but persistent leadership of young persons of every sort.

Many people in the five towns of Lincoln County helped to make this Youth Brotherhood County

Twenty-five 4-H members and parents will be attending the Dairy Judging Contest being held at Thatcher's Dairy in Albuquerque Saturday.

Caravan so helpful. Back of all of the ideas which resulted in OCOCO, is a group of 32 adults in Capitan who met several times with nothing but faith in God and each other for support. The 21 adults present from Capitan High District last Sunday were: Lee and Alma Ingalls, Bud Smith, Herbert Traylor, Virgil Loomis, Tony Otero, Barbara Otero, Frank and Nora Silva, Angie Province, Mrs. Elmer Votaw, Floyd and Louise Strickland, Pat Sparks, Bert and Myrtle Pfingsten, Clay Baxter, Rita Curtis, Allen Curtis and Chaplain and Mrs. Kline.

AROUND HIGH SCHOOL

Recently the Ruidoso High V. I. C. A. elected two new officers, Mike Allen being moved up to president and David Volquardsen elected vice-president to fill the spot Allen left vacant.

Juniors are already planning their annual Junior-Senior prom—snow and until our faithful highway crews came along the going was a bit rugged. But they cleared the pavement and shortly afterwards we could drive without chains.

Guests From Many Places At High Country Lodge

The guest list last week at High Country Lodge included people from far and wide areas—Canada, Beverly Hills, Calif., New York (Manhattan), the state of Maine and even a skier from Italy who enjoyed Sierra Blanca after the Alps. Adding to their pleasure this week-end was the skiing conditions—they were excellent and yet they could go up without chains.

Forest Service
Uses Fire As Tool
By BUD STARKEY
(Ruidoso Ranger Station)

I've discussed the idea of using fire as a tool and in the process pointed out some of the benefits. However, let's look at some of the benefits of using fire:

1. The basic advantage is that per acre costs of hazard reduction are lowered. This allows treatment of greater acreage for the same amount of money.
2. Some of the trees in thickets will be killed. This will benefit the supervisors usually. Moisture and space to grow will be available. This will promote healthy fast growing trees and lessen the chance of loss to disease.
3. The patchy removal of litter will encourage the growth of grasses and forest. This will be of benefit to the deer and turkey populations.

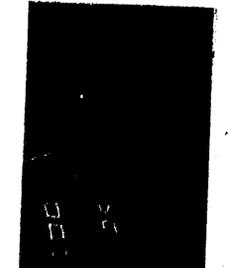

4. The possibility that a campfire or careless act will cause a disastrous spring season fire will be greatly lessened.

5. The aesthetic value may be temporarily lowered, however, this condition disappears within a few months and a thrifty healthy timber stand will provide aesthetic value for many years to come.

A wildfire or prescribed burn is not a pretty thing. On a prescribed burn the ugliness is soon gone. Nature will quickly heal when the burn is light.

One final question that has been asked me: Why will law enforcement action take place on an individual who lets his campfire escape when we will burn the forest ourselves. The answer is that in most instances the campfire is the result of a negligent act. Slash disposal is the result of a planned and prescribed effort to reduce the volume of fuel in a given area.

Next time you have a chance, stop by and observe the burning operation, you will notice most slash piles are totally consumed and the fire has crept outward from the piled areas. Take time and notice the amount of litter left where the fire has crept. If you have any questions ask whoever's in charge of the burning operation. Above all don't allow yourself to be trapped into thinking that you can play with fire at any time of the year. Our dry windy spring weather will soon change your mind. Fire is safe only when the conditions are such that it will do what is intended with no additional damage.

These articles are intended to show that fire can be used professionally to accomplish worthwhile objectives. They are not intended to belittle the severe damage fire can do. Fire is not to be "played" with. Surgery is fine for a physician. No one would propose that everyone should perform surgery for the good of humanity. Fire, too, must be properly prescribed by people with professional training and experience.
