We were able to attend the annual Big Game dinner last week and get a taste of some real fine cookery.

Never had tried bear meat before but found we liked it. In fact, we found ourselves going back for seconds. The editor went for the wild turkey in a big way. Next thing you know she'll be buying us a hunting license.

We think it is a fine community endeavor as well as being something out of the ordinary.

You may notice something different about the front page this week.

The two "ear" ads have been dropped to the bottom of the page. The idea is to give the editor more flexibility in displaying the news. Dave Parks and Mrs. Billie Clarke were very understanding about it.

With this new placement, the Ruidoso News will be keeping its ears to the ground.

Small world department: Mr. and Mrs. George Hancock turned out to be friends of the Snyder family of Denver City, Tex. We worked for the Snyders back in 1954 and 1956 when they were publishers of the Lodi (Calif.) Times.

After selling the paper, they bought the paper in Denver City.

Dropped in on the Hatch-Ruidoso game Saturday night in the final quarter. Looks like the Warriors will give a good account of themselves this year once the greenzone wears off.

Hatch had the better ball club that night but it seemed to be because of more experience, not talent or desire. Hatch should be a threat in its district.

Like we tell our advertisers, there's nothing like repeat business.

It seems the Marvin Wells of Roswell honeymooned at the Chaparral five years ago. They have traveled far and wide since then but are returning Dec. 21 to celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary at the Chaparral. Part of the intervening years were spent in Germany.

One thing about living here, we're getting an education in winter weather driving. Never knew what it was like to drive with chains on our tires before.

On the subject of tires, Wayne Wood tells us he has gotten orders for snow tires with white sidewalls. That has to be the height of something.

Music is again being heard in the Chaparral kitchen.

It seems Chef Jim Ruby had his portable radio stolen by a visitor who broke open the kitchen door.

However, in a day or two the radio arrived by mail from Oklahoma. With it was a $10 bill for repairing the kitchen door and a note asking forgiveness.

Alla Waktrip is enjoying a portable television set given her by Bennett's Foodliner as part of the store's 20th anniversary celebration. It seems Mrs. Waktrip couldn't believe it and it took her several days to call for the set. For the story behind it, talk to R. A. Bennett.

Gifts will be brought to the Ruidoso Rotary Club's Christmas party Monday night at the High Country Lodge.

However, the gifts will not be for the Rotarians and their wives but for patients at Fort Stanton hospital.

SANTA'S COMING

NORTH POLE—Santa Claus departed from here today on a special flight to Ruidoso.

A spokesman for Claus said he would arrive at Gambles' department store at 3 p.m. Saturday. All children in the Ruidoso area are invited to meet with Claus and discuss their Christmas needs.

Scouts Serve 400 At Game Supper

Approximately 400 persons feasted on bear, elk, antelope and other exotic dishes at the second annual big game dinner of Ruidoso Boy Scout Troop 59 Saturday night at the Elks Lodge.

Scoutmaster Marvin Craig said the unique event was a big success and netted the troop approximately $400. It is the main fund-raising event of the year for the Ruidoso Scouts.

Last year, approximately 250 persons attended the dinner. Next year, Craig expects 600, and is giving notice to local hunters that he is going to need a lot more game.

Dishes served by Elks Lodge members Saturday at the Scout benefit included bear, elk, antelope, deer, turkey and three kinds of fish: trout, bass and crappie.

"We served roughly 500 pounds of meat and 300 pounds of fish," Craig said. "Next year, we'll need a minimum of 500 fish, eight deer, three bear and all other varieties of game we can get."

To his knowledge, this is the only affair of its kind. No other Boy Scout troop has such a fund-raising event.

"I was thrilled Thursday night to get a call from El Paso from a man who wanted to make reservations for six adults and one child," Craig said. "Reservations aren't necessary, so we told them to come on."

The Roswell Elks Lodge, which attended in force last year, was unable to come this year because of a conflicting date. But members want to be sure to be there next year, Craig said.

Between 12 and 15 hunters donated game, according to the scoutmaster.

"We want to thank all the wonderful people who donated game, and all the Elks who worked so hard to serve it," he said.

BULLETIN

Ski conditions at the Sierra Blanca Ski Area were reported fair on the upper trails and good on the lower trails and slopes at press time Thursday morning. The base snow pack is 20 inches.

No new snow has fallen in the past 24 hours, and the weather was clear and sunny, but cold (18 degrees). The ski area is operating seven days a week.

Manager Roy Parker commented that the ski area had a good enough snow base from the earlier storms that the warm weather of the past week didn't hurt much.

"We're in good shape for this time of year," he added. Parker reported that about 1600 tickets were sold last weekend, representing an increase of 700 to 800 per cent over last year at this time.

Christmas Trees Offered for Sale By Forest Service

Bright and balmy week-end weather brought hundreds of southwestern families to the Lincoln National Forest last week-end to cut Christmas trees.

The Forest Service reported that 644 permits to cut trees have been sold in the past two weeks since the forest was opened for Christmas tree cutting. Most of them were sold last week-end because of the good weather.

Offices in both Ruidoso and Capitan will be open seven days a week Dec. 7 through 23 for sale of Christmas tree permits at $1 apiece.

Biggest trade is expected this week-end, just two weeks before Christmas.

Quite a few families from Roswell and even as far away as El Paso and Hereford, Texas, made the trip to the Lincoln National Forest to cut a tree, officials reported.

Most in demand are white fir and Douglas fir. In the Smokey Bear District, at a somewhat lower elevation, tree-seekers have been cutting the pino, New Mexico's state tree, which is bushier and holds its needles longer.

Texas Firm Plans Development On Eagle Creek District Land

Completion of the second phase of the Eagle Creek water supply project appeared assured today by the sale of property on Eagle Creek to Finco, Inc. of El Paso.

At a sale Saturday, the Texas firm bid $127,000 for three parcels of land owned by the Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Supply Association. Finco's was the only bid received for the property.

However, the bid was made on condition Finco be given an option to purchase an additional four parcels containing a total of some 127 acres for an additional $310,000. The options are for three and five year periods.

Members of the water company's board of directors were jubilant over the offer.

"Santa Claus came early this year," one board member commented. Tom L. Jones, association president, said completion of the transaction would mean the second phase of the water supply system renovation could now be completed. The first phase consists of building new intake and filtering facilities, five miles of new pipelines and installation of water meters. The second phase calls for construction of eight miles of pipeline north towards Capitan. "The association stands to gross $437,000 if options are exercised," Vic Lamb, association secretary, said.

Final legal details of the transaction are to be ironed out next week in Carrizozo between Jones, Reginald Hughes, association attorney, and lawyers for the corporation. William Parrah, Texas manufacturer and a major stockholder in the development corporation, was expected to be at the Carrizozo conference.

William D. Sanders, president of Finco, said plans are to develop condominiums, retail shops and cultural centers on the property.

"We are planning something on the order of A Pea, Colorado," Sanders said.

According to Sanders, the development will be designed to preserve the natural terrain and forest area.

"We are not going to bring in bulldozers and rip up the country," Sanders said.

First step will be to master plan the entire area, he added. Formulating the master plan will be John M. Cowan, director of architecture and planning for the company.

Cowan said it would take several months to complete preliminary work such as the taking of soil samples and gathering other data. He estimated construction would begin before the end of next year.

Sanders said the project would be designed to tie in with the adjacent Ato Lakes Golf and Country Club development of Don Blaustrand. The two shared complement a "hotter" he said.

The new project will be located on Eagle Creek and both sides of the 1 1/2 mile road named of the 1940's to the State Highway 37.

If a of Finco's options are exercised it will mean the Eagle Creek water supply system renovation project has been completed by construction of Ato reservoir.

Work on the current renovation project has been completed for the water but will not be done early in the 1970's.

Finco's proposal was accepted by a unanimous vote of the entire association board. The directors are Fletcher Hall, Valton Hall and Bert Chasley of Capitan; Jim Wimberly, Lamb and Jones of Ruidoso.

The association was formed in 1953 to obtain water rights and land on Eagle Creek water shed to supply water to Ruidoso and Capitan and also to satisfy an earlier water right of the Fort Stanton hospital.

At Saturday's meeting, a discussion was held on the possibility of Finco's leasing some of the land under option in order to accelerate the development planning.

Other representatives from Finco at the meeting were Frederick H. McCartney, vice-president of the company, and Tom Prandregal. The company officials flew in for the bid opening and conference.

Ruidoso Downs Shares for Sale

Up to 150 shares of stock of the Ruidoso Downs Racing Association will be sold at public auction at 10 a.m. Monday at the front door of the Chaves County Courthouse in Roswell.

The sale was ordered by the United States District Court to clear a $30,000 indebtedness of Eugene V. Hensley, major stockholder, to the First National Bank in Roswell.

Minimum bid to be accepted will be $200 a share. Bids of at least $300 a share were sought in an earlier auction on Aug. 10, but none were received.

Hensley has been convicted of income tax evasion. However, IRS officials in Albuquerque insisted that the IRS was not a party to the sale or connected with it in any way.

However, attorneys for the bank had a different story, commenting, "The heck they aren't."

Sealed bids are now being received for the stock in the association, which operates Ruidoso Downs, site of the All-American Futurity, "the world's richest horse race."

Voters of Ruidoso authorized the Village Council to buy the assets of Ruidoso Downs in an election approximately one year ago.

Asked whether this meant the village could buy the 150 shares being sold Monday, Mayor Lloyd Davis said it did not.

"The voters authorized us to acquire the full assets of the Ruidoso Racing Association, but the constitution of New Mexico precludes the city from buying stock in a corporation," Davis said.

Davis said that negotiations for (Continued to Page 6—Sec. A)

TOWN AIDS TROUBLED FAMILY

As Ruidoso area residents continued to offer financial and moral support, Charles Morrison, 31, of Ruidoso Downs, was returned to the University Hospital in Salt Lake City for treatment of his serious kidney ailment.

His mother, Mary Jo Morrison, offered one of her kidneys for her son after doctors recommended a transplant to replace his diseased kidney.

Mrs. Morrison, who is employed as a waitress at the Chaparral Motor Hotel and is the sole support of the family, has been forced to borrow money to meet the expenses of Charles's illness.

As she was in El Paso undergoing tests to determine if the transplant was medically feasible Dec. 1, word was received that her husband, Cecil Morrison, 60, father of Charles, had died at the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque.

Morrison, a disabled veteran, was buried Friday at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso.

Donations to the fund started by CHARLES MORRISON Ruidoso Downs village employees to help the family now total $360.50. Contributions are being received at the Ruidoso Downs City Hall, the Ruidoso News office, and both the Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs offices of the Ruidoso State Bank.

Those who have contributed since last week, and the amounts of their contributions, are: Ernest Blood, $10; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, $20; Edith Harris, $5; Anonymous, $5; Deming, N. M., $5; Rotary, $40; Irene Green, $5; Mrs. Ralph Brown, $5; Mayme P. Perry, $5; Ruth Moore, $5; Truck and Norma Lusk, Boyka, $5.

Mrs. Annie M. Eckert, $10; Alford Gray, $5; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harris, $10; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Harris, $5; Helen Kincaid, $5; Hope Roberts, $10; Paul Douglas, $10; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Collins, $10; J. M. Jolly, $5; Joe Trutt, $20; and XI Pea Sorority, $25.

Subdivision Rules Set for Passage

Final passage of an ordinance establishing new subdivision regulations is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) by the Village Council when it meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

James Hine, village clerk-manager, said the new ordinance basically updates the former subdivision ordinance. Passage has been recommended by the Village Planning Commission, and approved by the Council at an earlier meeting.

A major change is that the land improvements and design and construction standards are removed from the ordinance itself and included in resolution form in the subdivision regulation book.

This is to make it easier to change them, Hine said. A resolution can be adopted by simple majority vote of the Village Council. No publication or public hearing is required. New discoveries and new products may make changes desirable, Hine said.

Little interest was shown in the subdivision regulations at the formal hearing held by the Planning Commission, Hine said. He reported that only about seven people showed up.

One section of the proposed ordinance permits modification of standards and requirements for large developments—of 10 acres or more.

The modification is allowed if in the judgment of the Planning Commission the large development "provide adequate public spaces and improvements for circulation, recreation, light, air and service needs of the tract."

The ordinance further says, "Greater freedom may be allowed the designer of large scale improvements."

County Commission Stews Over Appraisal Woes

Incoming and outgoing County Commissioners worried about the great Lincoln County reappraisal snafu at a joint meeting Tuesday but reached no solution.

Some of the commissioners appeared to think the problem was not as black as it has been painted by school authorities.

Lincoln County schools are losing $43,000 a year because the county has not completed a property tax reappraisal and equalization program as required by state law.

To date, because the equalization has not been concluded on schedule, the schools of Lincoln County have lost a total of $86,000.

Lon E. Nelson and Associates of Santa Fe was hired by the county for a $5,000 fee to conduct the reappraisal of all properties in the county except ranching and corporate properties.

However, Nelson did not complete the reappraisal. He asked for an additional $18,896.48 before finishing the job. He charged that mistakes were made by Lincoln County and by the New Mexico State Tax Commission that cost him extra time and money.

The District Attorney on Sept. 20 filed suit in district court to force Nelson either to complete the reappraisal or to provide the money to hire somebody else to do it.

The defendant has disqualified both Judge Forrest Sanders and Judge Richard Stanley. The Supreme Court has designated Judge Garnett R. Burke of Socorro to hear the case, but a date for a hearing has not yet been set.

Charles Jones of Capitan, who will assume duties as a new county commissioner Jan. 3, opened the discussion.

"On this reappraisal thing, I wouldn't doubt we are going to be asked to dig up some money, but I wouldn't want to send good money after bad," he said. "As far as I can see, this guy (Nelson) is out."

Max Oliver of Ruidoso Downs, outgoing commissioner from District 3, said he is under the impression the state may pay costs for a new appraisal in Lincoln County.

Jones expressed concern that school superintendents in Lincoln County are "pressuring us," and wondered if their views were really those of all the people.

"They're getting along pretty fine," he said of the schools. "I guess they've had to drop some things."

Oliver declared, "Rather than drop one teacher aide or one trip to Sierra Blanca, they'd close the school. They can't find something they've never had. They never had this money before, so how can they miss it?"

He said the main trouble with the Ruidoso schools is that their attendance is falling every day, but they won't lay anybody off.

Holt Loveace, new commissioner from Corona, maintained that the whole matter is before the courts and the commission can do nothing about it until it is settled there.

Oliver said he thinks that Lincoln County may be the luckiest county (Continued to Page 6—Sec. A)

Luminarias to Light Ruidoso This Yule?

Cathedral of the Pines members are hopeful to add to the festive Christmas appearance of Ruidoso by making and stringing luminarias, the traditional New Mexico Christmas lighting.

The project was suggested by Mrs. A. J. Thompson and will be supervised by the board members.

The luminarias, which are made of paper and a candle, are being offered to buy for $1.00 in Ruidoso and to any other who will participate.

The price for the luminarias will be delivered to those phoning orders to Mr. Carl Erickson at 257-4434.

We hope to have Sudduth Drive lined with luminarias. Mr. Tom Lueders, Cathedral of the Pines member, said those using them should place one every three feet or so.

She said the American Legion, operating the Cathedral of the Pines organization, use its hall to assemble the luminarias. They may be purchased there daily and each evening from 10:30 to Christmas Eve.

The custom began in early days of Spanish colonization and has been carried on as a special New Mexico tradition.

A local group of New Mexico Mexicans organized the project to be a festive way to celebrate the holiday which is celebrated in the Cathedral of the Pines through the night and to any other who will participate.

Funds raised in the project will be used to finance the proposed Cathedral of the Pines, an outdoor amphitheater for cultural events.

BSP Group To Aid Ft. Stanton Patients

Gamma Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is a meeting held Dec. 9 in the Boarding Room of Community Public Services Co. discussed plans for the Christmas season with particular emphasis on what the chapter could do to help those less fortunate.

The group decided to collect toys, gifts and clothing for the patients at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School for the Retarded. Collection points for anyone wishing to donate items were designated at the home of Mrs. John Harris and at John's Enco Station in the Gateway Shopping Center.

Members also decided to give $25 to the Morrison fund this Christmas instead of giving food and gifts to needy families as has been the custom in past years.

It was announced that the Christmas party will be held Monday night, Dec. 16, in the home of Mrs. B. J. Patterson at a Cree Manor Motel. Mrs. Troy Farus was appointed as the new social chairman.

Mrs. Raymond McAdams presented the program for the evening which was a "Verse Making." During the social hour at the home of the meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. Herb Ford, and co-hostesses, Mrs. Kenneth Cole and Mrs. Max McCoy served refreshments of cake, coffee and Cokes to several members attending.

Christmas Gifts Still Needed At Ft. Stanton

Christmas gifts for the patients at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School for the Retarded are still needed and area residents are asked that gifts not be wrapped so they can be selected for individual patients.

Gifts may be clothing, smoking supplies, toiletry articles, framed prints or pictures, stamped embroidery work with thread, pen or pencils, coloring books and crayons, jewelry, sports equipment, boxes of candy, toys, cosmetics, jigsaw puzzles, stationery, handbags and zipper socks. Gift wrapping items are also needed. Gifts may be left at the Ruidoso Municipal building. Officials of Fort Stanton said that most of the patients will not be able to go home for Christmas. The hospital serves 86 girls and women and 113 boys and men.

Garden Club Slates Christmas Meeting Tuesday, Dec. 17

Davis, Sr. with members of the hospitality committee as assisting hostesses. They are Mrs. Ed Sanders, Mrs. Isla McLeod, Mrs. Melba Frankum, Mrs. Jimmie Cooper and Mrs. Carl Erickson. A film will be shown on Forest Environment, by Wayne White of the Ruidoso Ranger Station. Carols will also be sung and guests and new members are welcome to attend, it was announced. Those attending are asked to bring any ideas for programs for the year, and are also asked to pay their dues so that all names will appear in the yearbook which will be printed shortly after Jan. 1, it was reported.

Xi Alpha Rho Chapter Helps Needy Children

In a meeting of the Xi Alpha Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held Monday, Dec. 9, in the home of Mrs. P. T. Vallani, it was announced by Mrs. James A. Beall that a supply of new children's clothing has been purchased by this chapter and given to needy children at Nob Hill School. The chapter members said they particularly wanted to thank The Modern Toys and Toys shop and Sam Nunnally of the House of Shoes for their contributions to the project. Members of this chapter decided that each will bring a cash contribution for the next meeting to purchase additional needed clothing for the children.

Mrs. C. L. Wright presented the program for this meeting which was on "Floor Coverings". The hostess served refreshments of apple strudel, sherbet, mince, nuts, coffee and spiced tea during the social hour at the close of the meeting.

WHERE IS EVERYBODY?

Best advice to a new publisher in a small town is not to spout off about local issues or offer advice until he has a chance to find out what's what.

We are just about to violate this safe and sane rule. It's a beautiful town, with a lot of fine people and business, but, in heaven's name, HOW DO YOU FIND ANYBODY AROUND HERE?

We have had the experience on numerous occasions already of trying to find some local store or office, only to be told something like this:

"You know where Jones' garage can be? Well, you turn to the left and keep your eye open for a red dog house. You go past that and kind of angle up the alley, and it's over to your right, past the lopsided pine tree on the corner."

One advantage of this method of directing people to places is that only the highly-motivated ever get there.

Doing brief research, we have learned that sometimes a local radio station becomes sufficiently disgraced over the problem of finding people around here to issue numbers to businesses along Sudderth. In fact, there is one on our door—2230.

However, it seems there is nothing official about this, and these numbers seem to have lapsed into disuse.

The thing will eventually have to be done officially, on a proper-like, on the basis of plans of Ruidoso. Maybe the planning commission, as if it didn't have enough to do, could get an observer suggested the possibility of federal planning grant money for the purpose.

One thing is certain. It isn't going to get any easier to get a name and numbering system into effect as time goes on. It would be best to do it soon.

Letters To The Editor

Abelia Electors?
 Dear Editor:

The statement by Dr. Eugene O. Porter, the able and respected history professor at the University of Texas at El Paso in the EVERY DAY EVENTS column of the El Paso Times concerning the Electoral College is thought provoking because it suggested an original approach to the discussion which merits consideration. That is, that the Founding Fathers meant to create a federal union of sovereign states, not to propose that the Constitution should be amended abolishing the Electors but that the Electoral College itself should be changed in order to preserve the idea of a federal union of sovereign states, by instituting a percentage formula wherein each candidate in a presidential election gets the exact percentage of his popular vote in each state in terms of electors in the Electoral College.

That the Founding Fathers meant to create a federal union of sovereign states cannot be disputed. But, the intent of the Founding Fathers, the specific intent that is, is how the federal union would function or operate if the sovereignty of an individual state ceased to exist with the constitutional powers of the federal government had been studied and explored by scholars for a century and a half without anything like agreement. The best observation we have read so far was that the Founding Fathers "meant well." The proof of this is that not knowing what the future would foretell, they wisely wrote into the Constitution of the United States provisions for amendments. Up to now we have adopted 28 Constitutional Amendments!

Accordingly, to abolish the electors and to retain the Electoral College by instituting a percentage formula based on the popular vote in the individual states seems to be logical and fair but it would still disenfranchise the voters in the big states simply because we have had up to recently too many small one-party states.

For an illustration: In the last elections of FDR there was no such thing as a Republican party in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, South Carolina or Georgia. In the 1928 election, Mississippi with several electoral votes gave 98 percent of its popular vote to FDR although New York, Ohio and Illinois were much closer percentage-wise. So, that in the Electoral College of 1932 the spread of electoral votes in the Electoral College for Mississippi percentage-wise equaled that of New York, Ohio and Illinois combined!

It must not be forgotten that the big states such as California, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey and Massachusetts are two-party states whereas North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina have until recently been one-party states where either the Democratic or Republican parties have been of little or minor consequence respectively, but would have more weight in the Electoral College if a percentage-wise formula were adopted.

Dr. Porter is fearful that if the Electoral College is abolished, the idea of a federal union of sovereign states envisioned by the Founding Fathers would be destroyed. On the contrary, the election of a President of the United States by popular vote of the people would cement and strengthen rather than weaken the idea of a federal union of sovereign states and vindicate in truth as well as in theory, the noble ideal as expressed by Daniel Webster more than a century ago that the United States of America is one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

HURD ART HELPS PAY FOR ADOBE

Works of Peter Hurd, San Patricio artist, brought close to $1500 at an art auction at the College of Artesia, Sunday.

The auction brought a total of $5,000, assuring completion of an adobe art studio at the college. Part of Hurd's works alone raised enough money to finish the studio. All his works were contributed, with all proceeds to go toward the project.

William Rakocy, assistant professor of art, said he will recommend that the building be named the Peter Hurd Studio.

Prices for Hurd's works included $500 for a watercolor, $325 for a wash painting, and from $22 to $200 for rough sketches donated by the artist.

The art hut, partially completed by faculty and students, now will get a new roof, electrical works, a concrete floor, plumbing, window glass, and other work necessary for completion. It will be used as a studio and art gallery.

Rakocy estimated at least 100 persons were present to bid, plus some gallery bidders.

Other prices noted were $150 for a watercolor by John Meigs, and $200 for a composite drawing by Peter Rogers.

Georgia Cook of Ruidoso sold 10 works for prices ranging from $5 to $50.

The adobe studio is located just north of the intersection of 13th and Richy in Artesia.

EPISCOPAL PASTOR—The Rev. James Eubanks, a New Mexico native and the father of four children, is the pastor of the 60-member Lincoln County congregation of Episcopalians.

Meet the Minister

Pastor Sees Faith As Real Answer

(First of a series on Ruidoso area ministers.)
Asked why he chose the ministry as a career, the Rev. James Eubanks, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount in Ruidoso, smiled and replied, "When I'm asked that I usually say it's because I only have to work one hour a week."

Then, thoughtfully, he added, "Of course, that's not really true. I think I chose the ministry because I'm deeply concerned about the state of the world. I do believe that the Christian faith, as contained in the historic church, is the only real answer to the problems that confront us in this troubled world."

He thinks that those who have been leaving the church in recent years, "to get where the action is" are wrong.

I think the church has always been concerned with human welfare, poverty, hunger, the wise use of material goods and human personality—tremendous problems in a technological age," Father Eubanks said.

"These are the same problems the church has always faced. I think the answer still lies within the church."

He finds himself amused by people in Ruidoso who say they would like to go to a city and work in a gum.

"I tell them they haven't looked around their own community," he said. "We may not have 10,000 of them right in one block, but we have plenty of people with problems right here."

The advantage of taking this point of view is that you can stay in Ruidoso, a community the dark-haired, dark-eyed minister and his attractive wife, Greta, have become very fond of since they came here in July, 1967.

They live in the parish house adjoining the beautiful Church of the Holy Mount with their son, Eddy, 11, and three daughters, Daupine, 9, Myrtis, 5, and Patricia, 3.

Father Eubanks is vicar of the Episcopal Mission in Lincoln County. His congregation of some 60 communicant members is scattered throughout the county, and is very small as congregations go.

As a mission, the Lincoln County church is supported partly by funds from the New Mexico - West Texas Episcopal diocese. A parish is self-supporting.

In addition to the Ruidoso church, the Episcopalians have St. Anne's Chapel at Glenoco, where services are conducted every Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

The stone and wood Ruidoso Church is a local showplace. It was donated to the local mission by Mrs. Joe L. Crump of Midland, Texas, who built it some 15 years ago. She also contributed funds for the parish hall, which was built later.

The church is patterned after one in Jackson Hole, Wyo. Behind the altar, a window frames a view of the snowcapped 12,000-foot Sierra Blanca.

Father Eubanks is president of the Ruidoso Ministerial Association, which includes pastors of six Ruidoso area churches. He speaks warmly of the relationships between the ministers.

"I've never seen anything like it in any other community," he said. "We don't really do anything much, except hold a Thanksgiving service, but there is real concern among the ministers for each other, and real mutual support. Ruidoso is remarkable in having this spirit in the ministry."

Other communities, he said, say they ought to have this spirit but don't; "Ruidoso is way ahead."

Rev. Leon Bruce New Pastor of First Baptist Church

Rev. Leon Bruce has accepted the call to become pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ruidoso. Rev. Bruce, who formerly served as pastor of the Baptist Church at House, N. M., is presently teaching in Goddard High School in Roswell. His wife teaches at the Yucca School in Roswell. At the close of the first semester in January, Rev. and Mrs. Bruce will be full time residents of Ruidoso. At present they are here every week-end with Rev. Bruce conducting the services every Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Bruce have a daughter, Robin, and a son, Howard, who both are attending college at Arlington, Texas. Rev. Bruce is a graduate of Southwestern Seminary in Ft. Worth, Texas, and also served the William Road Baptist Church there as pastor.

Carrizozo Judge To Hear Charge Against Developer

A perjury charge against Robert L. Windham, president of Eldorado Villa Estates, Inc., will be heard before Judge R. L. Sherrill in Carrizozo at a date yet to be set. Justice of the Peace Austin Pritchett of Ruidoso said he has been disqualified from hearing the case by Windham's attorney, Charles Durett of Alamogordo.

The Ruidoso area developer is accused of perjury in connection with a statement made in a deposition in the case of M. T. Ramsey vs. Eldorado Villa Estates, Inc. Assistant District Attorney Bill Payne, who filed the charge against Windham, declined to elaborate on the details.

Ramsey is a former salesman for the development firm. He filed suit against Eldorado Villa Estates, Inc. for wages he said were due him.

Christmas Lighting Contest Deadline Is December 21

Deadline for entries in the Christmas lighting and decorating contest for Ruidoso is Saturday, Dec. 21, at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce office, it was announced this week by Van White, chairman.

White said all residents and business establishments are asked to decorate and enter the contest. A brightly lighted and decorated town would draw Christmas visitors here, White said. Judging in the contest will be held Monday, Dec. 23 with judges yet to be selected. They will not be residents of Ruidoso, White said. Certificates of award will be presented to winners in two divisions, residential and commercial.

When Nunez asked the commission whether it was going to do anything about the road leading to his ranch, outgoing Commissioner Joe McKnight said the county hasn't worked on any roads with locked gates.

Nunez said he knew this wasn't the policy, but he was against the lock being there anyhow. It was placed there by a neighbor, he said.

Charles Jones, incoming commissioner from Captain, assured Nunez that if he gets the key from his neighbor and opens up the road when the county blade is there, the county will maintain it.

Ruidoso Downs Leases Property

RUIDOSO DOWNS-The Ruidoso Downs Village Council voted to lease 10 acres for recreational use at its meeting Monday night.

The parcel, known as the Denton property, is across the street from the village hall. The lease will cost $15 a month and the land may be developed for a ball field and picnic area.

In other action the council voted to grant Melesio Sanchez a two-weeks paid vacation from his duties as refuse collector, Juan Beas will work as relief man.

Job Corps Men Would Appreciate Christmas Dinner

The Community Relations Council of the Eight Canyon Conservation Corps (Job Corps) learned in its last meeting that there will be nearly one hundred men at the Conservation Center who will not be able to get home for Christmas.

Efforts are being made in Alamogordo, Ruidoso, Tularosa and Clodorf to find families that will invite these young men into their homes on Christmas Day. Christmas can be mighty bleak and dismal just sitting around in some barracks a thousand miles from home.

Certainly, here in the friendly village of Ruidoso, there should be some families who would find satisfaction in sharing their Christmas day joys with these lonely young men.

If you would like to have a couple of these companions in your home, for at least a few hours, on Christmas Day, please call Dr. James A. Beall or Rev. Frank Crown and let them make the arrangements for you. It has been suggested that these men would be more at ease if two or more could be invited to each home.

in the state because the reappraisal was delayed.

Asked what he meant by this, Oliver commented, "Everywhere it's been finished, it's a mess. The taxpayers are unhappy. It's not satisfactory at all."

Don Stark, Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce manager and new commissioner from District 3, was more sympathetic to the schools' point of view.

"I can understand their wanting the money here, and not in the state coffers," he said. "They don't want to drop anyone from the payroll."

Because of the county's failure to complete reappraisal, 1.7 mills on the tax rate that would otherwise go to local schools goes to the state.

RUIDOSO DOWNS STOCK-

Purchase of the full assets of Ruidoso Downs have ground to a halt because of the apparent reluctance of the majority stockholders to sell.

These are Hensley and his divorced wife, each of whom own 2,000 shares of stock. Another 2,300 shares of stock are outstanding.

Davis feels that if the Hensleys would sell, the minority stockholders would probably do the same.

There would be "untold possibilities" for village improvement if the village could acquire Ruidoso Downs and its revenues, the mayor said.

One of the proposals is for a rapid transit from Ruidoso to the Sierra Blanca Ski Area, 17 miles away.

She confessed to forging the name of Frank Gallegos to a withdrawal ticket on a savings account for $200 on August 30, 1968.

Sentencing was set for Jan. 3.

Warriors To Face Press

The Ruidoso Warriors hit the trail to Socorro tonight (Friday) for a return tilt.

Last week the Ruidoso Warriors downed their counterparts from Socorro 72 to 1. Saturday night it was a different story as the Warriors fell victims to the Hatch Bears, 61 to 43.

Coach Curtis Kelley said he expected Socorro to repeat their full court press.

"They'll probably meet us at the dressing room door," Kelley said. According to the coach, the press gives his lads a hard workout and was partly responsible for the loss to Hatch.

"We were pretty tired after that game," Kelley said. He added his lack of reserve power was also a handicap, pointing out Socorro had a deep bench and kept going at full speed.

Scoring in double figures for Ruidoso were Jack Valliant with 22, Barry Nelson with 16 and Rick Scott with 14. Charley Saveda led Socorro with 21.

Kelley said the Hatch Bears had too much height and experience for the Warriors. Lack of scoring eye also hurt the Warriors, Kelley said.

Scott, with 10 points, was the only man to score in double figures with Valliant being held to 8 points by the Bears. Jackie Alvarez led Hatch with 29 points.

"Hatch just has a real fine team," Kelley said.

The Braves of Coach James Sanchez dropped both tilts, losing to Socorro 39 to 35 and to Hatch 55 to 34.

DEJECTION—The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Ruidoso five when this shot was taken late in the fourth quarter of the Hatch game. The Bears had caught the Warriors on a cold night.

DINNER TO BE RESET

Postponement of the annual Football Banquet until January was announced today by V. A. Miller, president of the Warrior Boosters.

The dinner had been slated for Dec. 12. The annual event honors the back and lineman of the year, members of the football squad and the cheerleaders. Those who won letters are given them at the dinner.

Miller was elected president at the group's regular meeting Thursday night. Named to serve with him were Jack Stagner, vice-president; Lou Horton, secretary, and Cash Skarda, treasurer.

Quail Season Ends Jan. 12

ROSWELL — A seven-day extension of the quail season and a decision not to open a javelina season this winter were among the major actions taken by the State Game and Fish Commission in its recent meeting here.

Also included on the agenda was the change of the permanent opening date on prairie chickens to the first Saturday of December and permission for the Department of Game and Fish to dispose of 15 surplus buffalo.

The quail season, originally set to end Jan. 5, was extended seven days through Jan. 12, 1969. The extension was due largely to the request of some sportsmen's organizations. The quail season opened Nov. 30 and bag and possession limits of 20 and 40 are in effect.

The Commission's decision not to hold a javelina season this winter came after a recommendation to that effect had been made by the Department's Game Management Division. Loss of a considerable number of javelina during the snow and severe weather last winter was the reason for recommending that the javelina not be hunted this year. The season usually opens on the last Saturday of February.

The reasons for changing the permanent opening date of the prairie chicken season from the first Saturday of October to the first Saturday of December was that many of the landowners required a later date and the birds are normally gathered around the maize and grain fields more in December, making it easier for the hunters to find them.

The Commission gave the permission for the Department to dispose of the 15 male buffalo, with details of the sale to be worked out in the near future.

OFFICIAL SKI REPORT

Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Ski Report - 12-13-68 Ski Season

1. The only official ski reports from the Sierra Blanca Ski Resort are available 24 hours a day by telephoning Area Code 505-257-4252. Note: Radio stations and newspapers will also be using this source to assure continuity and avoid misunderstandings.

2. These recorded ski reports will normally be changed twice daily, once in the morning (no later than 9 o'clock) and once in the afternoon (between 4:00 and 6:00 p.m.)

3. In the event that there is a change of skiing conditions during the day, i.e., additional snow fall, the recorded ski report will be so changed.

4. The recorded ski report will include the day and date; base snow depth in inches; skiing conditions rated as excellent, good, fair or poor; new snow in either past 24 hours and/or in past 10 days, and the weather at report time.

5. Ski Report Legend and Policy: Excellent - sufficient base to cover any and all obstacles on all trails, and some new snow within past 10 days.

Good - sufficient base to cover all trails. No new snow within the past 10 days and surface conditions may vary to some extent, particularly from top of mountain to the base.

Fair - Snow coverage not sufficient to cover all trails completely. Some obstacles may be showing on any or all trails.

Poor - Many obstacles (trees, spots, stumps, rocks, etc.) showing on all trails. Some lifts and some trails may be closed due to insufficient snow.

A. Trails and/or lifts may be closed at any time at the discretion of the management due to insufficient snow, difficult skiing conditions, or for any other reason the management deems necessary.

B. There may be times when all trails do not have the same conditions or the top of the mountain may not have the same conditions as the bottom. In this situation the report will be issued on the management's best judgment of the average conditions.

C. The New Mexico State Highway Department maintains the highway with the finest snow removal equipment available and as a result the highway conditions can easily change from bad to good within the hour. Thus it is impossible to report highway conditions. Chains may be required at any time, and we advise skiers to have chains with them at all times when driving to the ski area.

New Gun Laws Go Into Effect On December 16

A new law for control of the sale of guns and ammunition goes into effect Dec. 16.

It was passed by Congress in October.

Persons under 21 will be prohibited from purchasing pistols, revolvers and ammunition for such weapons, and persons under 18 will not be permitted to purchase any firearms or ammunition.

State will generally not be permitted to out-of-state residents, but a person from an adjoining state can buy a rifle or shotgun by com-

Motels Full For Christmas

Motels in Ruidoso appear to be booked solid for the Christmas holidays. William Patterson, secretary of All-Seasons, Inc., said, "It's a little unusual," Patterson said. "The snow has helped. The Houston Space City Ski Club is coming up in force, from Christmas to New Years."

He reported that All-Seasons has been getting five to 10 calls a day for reservations over the holidays, and has been successful in getting some of the people to postpone their winter vacations until after the first of the year.

Many of the Christmas vacationers inquire about baby-sitters, Patterson said. He asked that anyone over 14 who wants to make some extra money baby-sitting call All-Seasons at 257-4086.

Patterson said that All-Seasons has been making reservations for non-member motels as well as members, and hopes the non-members will eventually join.

"If this type of activity keeps up, it will be necessary for us to open up a tourist center," he said. "It has gotten off the deck, and may be a very successful operation for the whole of Ruidoso."

Saab Dealership Acquired Property For New Building

Tommy Perrett, Oils Spears and Jesse Perrett, owners of Aspen Motors, local Saab dealers, have acquired a corner lot on Sudderth for construction of a new building.

The lot was formerly Redmond's Trailer Court. Clearing of the lot has already started, and construction is scheduled to begin this winter.

The automobile dealers have been in temporary quarters at the former Security Printing Office at the rear of Wattle's Cafe.

Christmas vacation until Jan. 2.

Chico and Jovian Smith made perfect scores on spelling last week.

Mrs. Cole's second grade students are making decorations for Christmas. They started with paper chains which they will be using on their Christmas tree when it is put up. They are also learning to make snowflakes. One group is reviewing the green reader and in science they are growing beans both in sunlight and in the dark. Good Citizens for this period are Rachie Olson and Sherill Richardson.

Mrs. Moore's third graders report they have lost four students: Ramon Sanchez, Dolphina Tegeda, Randy Brown and Elizabeth Smith. On the honor roll for this class were Julie Gooch and Karen Marshall.

Mrs. Camelson's fourth grade students are making Christmas cards and studying Christmas customs of many lands. They use the encyclopedia to study the customs. They are using Christmas carols for reading lessons. In arithmetic they are studying magic squares and they performed several science investigations proving the water content of foods.

Mrs. Cunningham's fifth graders report Good Citizens for this period are Ruth Bonnell and Joe Winfield. They lost two students: Lena Tegeda moved to Roswell and Chris Sanchez moved to Albuquerque. Ref Goranson brought some Swedish Christmas records to school and the class really is enjoying them. Kim Baird, Cindy Roberts, Ginger Talbot and Ref Goranson went to Roswell over the week-end and Ruth Bonnell went to El Paso.

Mr. Dunagan's sixth grade students have decorated their room for Christmas. They have snow scenes, sunsets and fall scenes all over the room. They have had quite a few cases of flu. Two students are absent this week. They have drawn names for the Christmas party.

Nob Hill School

Mrs. Thompson's pre-first students are counting the days until Christmas on a calendar and are studying the numbers 1 through 5. They are in the Miami readers and are reading "Bill and Tim".

Mrs. Jones' first graders are beginning to study ordinal numbers in arithmetic and are learning many Christmas songs in music. Those children using the Miami system are now getting their first reading books and in science they did a balloon experiment to show how the force of energy overcomes the force of gravity. In art they are making Christmas presents for their parents and decorating their room for Christmas. In writing, they wrote letters to Santa Claus. Sandra Salas has a new puppy, named Jack, and Mike Avery went to Albuquerque for 4 days. Bolly Eckert and Michelle LaPine were both in El Paso last week-end and Scott Anzala met a tree while sledding and is now sporting a black eye.

Mrs. Godley's first grade students are busy writing letters to Santa Claus, making gifts for their parents and keeping up with their regular work as well. In arithmetic they are studying greater than and lesser than numbers and words through ten and in science they are studying gravity. Most of them are enjoying reading in the primer. It is quite a thrill to be able to sound out words for themselves, and a surprise to come to be able to do it, too. Joel Bonnell and his family went to El Paso over the week-end and did some Christmas shopping. Linda Lou Smith moved to Santa Fe. Charles Welland has been on vacation for two weeks in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Cheney's second graders are reading about heroes of early America. They have read about Kit Carson, Daniel Boone and Buffalo Bill. In art they have made gingerbread men and teddy bears and will start on different kinds of dolls this week. Joy Lynn Archuleta, Shaun Griffith, Barbara Langford, Pat Herrera, Elias Rue, Henry Sanchez, Jackie Tully, Judy White, Bobby Altman, Raynell

WHITE MOUNTAIN SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. McCarty's first graders are learning the ordinal use of the counting numbers and position within a set in arithmetic. In reading they are working on two syllable words. In writing they are writing letters to Santa Claus. They have also been busy making decorations for Christmas.

Mrs. Dunagan's second grade students are decorating their room for Christmas and have made and decorated a tree for the play area at White Mountain. All the decorations for this are made by the children and show great variety in design and color. They have written their letters to Santa and have a new record, "Just Can't Wait for Christmas," which they have been listening to and are learning the words to, so they can sing along with the record. They are learning about ten in arithmetic and using them in story problems. They have also examined a Braille alphabet and are studying about how blind people read. Nina Marshall is pledge leader for this week.

The third graders under the direction of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Newbrough, are busy making Christmas surprises for their parents this week. They would like to thank Herb Brunell, of Brunell's, for letting them have the material at a discount price.

Mrs. Spears' fourth grade students are making paper mache bud vases and paper flowers in art class. In the arithmetic contest, the boys won, 25-19. However the girl's won in baseball (spelling) by a score of 33 to 4. Beth Jones is still ahead in the racing contest in spelling. Our apologies to Norma Sheehan. We left her name out last week. She was on the "B" honor roll. The girls from this room have written and will attempt to produce a Christmas play.

Mrs. Morrison's fourth graders have moved across the equator to Africa in social studies. They are taking tests in English and have their Christmas tree. They will probably be decorating it the last of the week.

Mr. McGuire's fifth grade students presented a skit last week to the rest of the students in their building. Ricky Tate made a report on the car. Pam Wright made a report on sound and Debra Garcia and Wanda Thompson did some experiments showing sound waves, using water, a jar and a tuning fork. David Breish made sounds behind the curtain for the audience to identify. The Lippenkoft Reader group have begun making book reports. This group includes some students from Mrs. Mooley's room, also. Both rooms are decorating their rooms for Christmas.

Mr. Thompson's sixth graders have put up two bulletin boards. They are also getting donations of clothing, toys, books and other things for the patients at Fort Stanton. So far, they report good cooperation from the other students in their building. Cindy Wynn is the chairman for this project. Colly Parks received a medal for being the leader of the best patrol in this room.

Lincolmites Want To Keep Town Old

LINCOLN — New buildings shouldn't look too new in Lincoln, in the opinion of a committee of Lincoln residents.

A petition will be presented by the committee to the county commissioners urging establishment of a Lincoln historical district in which the exterior architecture of future construction would be controlled, Edward Penfield, committee member, said.

He added that the commissioners will be asked to appoint a governing board of the district. The proposal is the outgrowth of a study of the committee over a period of several months of how to solve the historic atmosphere in the city the city.

Committee members are: Bob Cumpston, Maurice Perry, Penfield, Walter Hunt, Dennis Mace, Mrs. Christobel Kamers and Ray Taylor.

New Mexico Leads Southwest Area In Income Boost

New Mexico is getting rich. Business Week figures show that New Mexico led the entire Southwestern area of the nation in personal income increase in the past year.

Southwestern states, as a group, ranked second out of nine national regions with an 11.6 per cent personal income increase, and a 10.2 per cent year-to-date hike.

New Mexico set the pace for the region. A 13.6 per cent rise tied for state for fourth place in the nation in the August tally. New Mexico realized a 7.1 per cent gain in the year-to-date increase.

Does Medicare Owe You Money?

The 1966 social security field representatives for this area, today urged everyone signed up for the federal health insurance part of Medicare, to spend some time between now and the end of the year in reviewing whether the program owes them some money.

This is most important for those older people who incurred expenses for covered medical services between October 1, 1965, and September 30, 1967. If a claim isn't made for reimbursement of those expenses by the end of December, it will not be possible to make a claim.

Anyone wishing help in completing one of these claims should take the Medicare card and an itemized bill from the doctor or supplier of medical goods, and contact a social security representative at the Roswell Social Security Administration Office, Room 126, Federal Building.

When a Speakerphone rings, you just push a button and talk. You can use both hands to consult files and do other work while you are talking over the telephone. Understandably, you get a lot more done between nine and five. Which helps you go home light-hearted instead of heavy-handed.

HIGH MESA MEETING SATURDAY

A meeting of the membership and Board of Directors of High Mesa College, Inc., has been set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday at the Holiday House.

President Paul H. Wrye said purpose of the section is to keep the membership posted on progress of the effort to establish a branch of Franklin Pierce College of Ruidoso, N.H., in Ruidoso.

Robert Scribner has offered to donate 100 acres of ranch land near Alto as site for the proposed High Mesa College.

Frank S. DiPietro, president of Franklin Pierce College, was scheduled to appear, but word has been received he will not be able to attend.

In a notice of the meeting, W. R. Hughes, Jr., member of the board of directors of High Mesa College, Inc., said members will be informed "in detail" about the feasibility study made by the New York City firm of Tumbly & Brown, fund-raising consultants.

Wrye has announced that the study found it was "all systems go" for the college. The report has not been made public, at the request of the fund-raising firm, Wrye said.

Plans now call for a drive to raise $2 1/2 million for the college to start next spring.

Meanwhile, word was received here that the parent college has been accredited by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The youth is held in the County Jail in Carrizozo in lieu of $1,000 bond.
