Plans For Annual Fall Aspencade Firmed Up

Plans for Ruidoso's 22nd annual Aspencade, the colorful, event-packed fall festival which attracts thousands to this mountain village, were firmed up Wednesday morning during a special meeting of the committee in charge.

The Aspencade, scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1-4, will include a wide variety of activities arranged to offer something of interest for all.

There'll be the golf and bowling tournaments, plus a mini-golf tourney, a fishing derby for the youngsters, a two-day Jeep race, trail ride and auto tour, as well as a parade of floats and riding groups, barbecue, square dance festival and regular dances each night of the Aspencade. Art lovers will find a central exhibition of outstanding works something they don't want to miss.

While the opening three days will find plenty of activity for everyone, the Aspencade will reach its climax on Saturday, Oct. 4. A mammoth parade will unroll at 10 a.m., moving east on Suddarth Drive from the Mechem Drive intersection to Schoolhouse Park. Trophies will be awarded to winners in the various categories, with out of town judges to make the selections.

In the place of honor in the parade will be the newly-selected Aspencade Queen, who will be named the preceding night, Oct. 3, in a pageant of beauties to be held at the high school gym. The contest is an official preliminary to the Miss New Mexico Beauty Pageant, and is open to entries from the four counties of Lincoln, Otero, Torrance and Sierra. The winner not only will be eligible to enter the state beauty pageant next summer, but will wear the titles of "Miss Ruidoso" and "Aspencade Queen" for the opening year.

Big Jackpot of Prizes Included In Initial List For Aspencade Here

The initial list of generous prizes to be awarded holders of lucky Aspencade tickets was announced today by Lee Onsrud, chairman of ticket sales.

Onsrud says he anticipates many, many more prizes to be added before the signing of the annual fall festival, scheduled for Oct. 1-4.

One of the most coveted will be the Canadian Centennial, Model 30-30 gold-plated deer rifle, courtesy of Gambles. The rifle will be on display within a few weeks at Ruidoso State Bank, according to Onsrud.

Five hundred dollars in cash (real green money) is being donated by Dan Dee Cabins, and any car owner would be happy to receive a car wash, lube, oil filter change, air filter change and oil change, which is being contributed by both Gateway Shell and Sonny's Epic.

A scenic airplane ride for two will be furnished by Sierra Blanca Aviation, and Nunley Drug, Ruidoso Drug and Prescription Pharmacy are each donating $20 gift certificates.

The Ruidoso Downs Race Track adds 12 season passes to the list of prizes.

Tickets now are available at the Chamber of Commerce, Ruidoso State Bank, Interstate Securities Co., Gateway Shell, Ruidoso Natural Gas, Ruidoso Insurance Agency and Ruidoso News. Don Driver also has a supply of the tickets.

Local Navy Chief Has "Pull" With Apollo Astronauts

Navy Chief Stanley Robnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Robnett, Ralph Drive in Paradise Canyon, was one of the crew assigned to helicopter Recovery One, which transported the Apollo 11 Astronauts from their spacecraft to the USS Hornet.

Robnett's principal job was to operate the hoist, which lifted Astronauts Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins from the lift raft alongside the command module into the helicopter.

Robnett, three other crewmen, a NASA doctor and a swimmer were the only men to come in direct contact with the returning astronauts. All wore special flight suits and oxygen masks to protect them from the possibility of contamination. A biological isolation had been broken during the recovery, he and the helo crew would have had to join the astronauts for their 21-day quarantine period.

He was on the crew of the up-range recovery helicopter earlier this year, during Apollo 10.

Robnett is married to the former Betty Hogland of Melrose. Their four children are Stephen, 10; John, 8, and twins, William and Michael, 4.

School Plant Planning Workshop For Administrators Opens Monday

The first annual Ruidoso Workshop in Education Administration will open Monday, Aug. 4, with sessions to be held at White Mountain Elementary School.

The five-day meeting will be devoted to school plant planning, with those completing the course receiving a one semester-hour graduate extension credit.

The workshop for administrators is being conducted by the Department of Education Administration of Southern New Mexico University, with Dr. J. V. Payne as director.

Workshop consultants will include Dave W. Brennan, school plant planning specialist of the New Mexico State Department of Education; Dr. Edward Pizo, superintendent of schools at the Coffey Creek School District, Arapahoe, Colo.; and school plant consultant for Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., of New York City; Dr. Emmett Shockley, superintendent of schools at Deming; and Kern Smith, Carlsbad architect, who has designed numerous public and private schools in the state as well as higher educational institutions.

Meetings will get underway Monday at 1 p.m. with the afternoon session devoted to financing a building project. Tuesday morning's meetings will be on agencies and services available, with the afternoon's topic to be the role of the architect in school planning.

Designing facilities for educational purposes will be discussed during both morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday. Planning of school facilities will take up Thursday's meetings, followed by a group work session on developing criteria for an educational facility.

Group projects devoted to designing schools and a critique of criteria and plans will conclude the workshop which adjourns at noon. Accommodations for those attending the workshop will be at Holiday House.

Prelude For Sunday Finals—

'Rainbow' Trials Here Friday

There's a rich pot of gold at the end of the "Rainbow Futurity" and 122 entries start in quest of it Friday when the "Rainbow Futurity" trials are run in 14 divisions at Ruidoso Downs. The test is for two-year old quarter horses at a distance of 400 yards. Post time will be at 1:30 p.m.

The ten fastest qualifiers will make up the field for the finals which will be unreeled Sunday, Aug. 10, with shares of an estimated purse of $140,000 dangling at the finish line.

Much like the movie characters seeking the Wizard of Oz who lived somewhere over the "rainbow", one entry in Friday's trials will be seeking a berth which could send him on toward the second leg of the "Tres Coronas", the triple crown of quarter horse racing.

Easy Jet, the brilliant chestnut colt owned by Walter Merrick of Sayre, Okla., has one leg of the "Tres Coronas" tucked safely in the trophy case by virtue of winning the 350-yard Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity at the Downs June 18. To become the first "Tres Coronas" winner, he must annex the "Rainbow Futurity" crown and then wrap up the big All-American at 400 yards on Labor Day.

The task will not be an easy one for Easy Jet. Last Friday he posted the fastest time in the LaMesa Park Futurity trials at Raton. This Friday he must try to qualify for the "Rainbow" in the fifth division before shipping back to Raton to run in that state's futurity finals on Sunday. If he successfully accomplishes both, he can rightly be called the youngest "iron horse" in the industry.

Not only will the physical pressure be on Easy Jet, but he will face the haunting desires of the other 121 entries, including seven of the other nine Kansas Futurity finalists, Miss Three Wars, Rock N' Eagle, Prissy Olena, Black Mood, Four To Go, Breadstick and My Talent.

Many newcomers will be seeking the lucrative Rainbow Futurity title, including Hell's To Betsy, who nudged Easy Jet to ride the Oklahoma Futurity crown at Raton.

Friday's racing guest will be Mark Storm, famous Houston artist born and reared in Lincoln County, who will be honored following the running of the 11th trial division.

Thursday's racing will spotlight a field of nine three-year olds in the "Gene Lambert Purse" slated for the 11th race. The test will be an allowance race over six and a half furlongs.

The feature attraction will be in honor of Gene Lambert, popular vocalist who has been appearing most recently with the famous Bill Willis group.

Navajo VIII, although not assigned the topweight, likely will go to the post as the favorite on the strength of his fine third place effort in the "Rio Grande Stakes" July 20. The chestnut colt, owned by Dennis and William King, Albuquerque, made a brilliant showing in that big race against such tough competitors as Jim's Feet and Sheila Sheila.

Topweight of 117 pounds will go to Three Rewards, Barlaris, and the popular Can't Touch Me, Both

Three Rewards and Can't Touch Me are rounding into better form, while Barlaris, always a threat, will be looking for a well-deserved trip to the winner's circle after several close calls.

Carrying the light weight will be Miss Tony Lee at 110 and Mountain Miss at 112. The latter will have James Curry on top, his first out since being injured in early July. Rounding out the field will be Texas Wine, fancied by many followers; Aromaten, in the money her last two starts; and Joyful Hostess, considered tough at any time.

A $3,500 claimer at five and a half furlongs will hold down the

Brazilian Rancher Visits RD Stables

A Brazilian rancher and horseman, interested in top quarter horses, visited stables at Ruidoso Downs this week during a quick three-day trip to the area especially for that purpose.

John Coachman of Sao Paulo, after his inspection tour, said he was "quite impressed" although no purchases had been completed.

Coachman has a large cattle ranch or "fazenda" about 300 miles from his headquarters in Sao Paulo, and also owns a horse ranch with some 1,000 acres. Most of the racing stock in Brazil, he said, is thoroughbreds, although quarter horse interest is on the increase.

While here, Coachman and his wife were guests of the Phil Richards of Nogal. They arrived in the area Sunday and left Wednesday on their return trip.

ADMIRE'S DRAWING—Reproduction of an original watercolor of the pageant grounds at Old Lincoln by artist Paul Hollister is admired by Bill Ward, curator of the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission. The 9x22 inch reproductions, in color, will be available for purchase during performances of the Billy the Kid Pageant Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Area Projects Tops Agenda—SCMRA Sets Tuesday Meet

Projects of importance to the area will be up for discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the South Central Mountain Resources Area steering and executive committees, to be held at the Four Winds Restaurant in Carrizozo.

The executive committee will convene at 10 a.m. to review new project proposals on Corona's Recreational Park, pollution, hunting service and telephone extension.

Members of the steering committee, meeting at 1 p.m., will hear a report from the executive committee, new project proposals, progress reports on current proposals, and a discussion on county planning and zoning.

Heading up the executive committee are Robert Scribner, chairman, Robert Bell, vice chairman and W. W. Gallacher, Jr., secretary-treasurer, who were named at the last meeting of the group held in Alamogordo.

Progress reports on proposals by the SCMRA as given at the last meeting of the SCMRA include, among others:

Alto Post Office Cabin—A letter received indicated the request has been referred to "Finco" who is prime developer of land on which cabin is situated. No letter from Finco had been received in reply at that time.

White Oaks Area Plan—A meeting was scheduled for early July to review planning progress with committee members and Merle Clark, State Planning Office. It also was expected to determine means of implementing the plan at this session.

New project proposals as heard from the executive committee and accepted by the steering committee include a nursing home at Carrizozo, work towards improvement of the 5.3 miles of Highway 70 near Glenoco, work towards orderly planning and development of subdivisions within the SCMRA. Objectives, and actions of the SCMRA for the fiscal year of 1970 adopted include:

Continuation of assistance to members of SCMRA by developing and receiving new project proposals through assigning priorities to new proposals, contacting representatives of specific agencies to get assistance for proposals and expand activities with all organizations.

Marylanders Commission Ruidoso Artist For Dead Son's Portrait

A large oil portrait of a young man who loved Ruidoso, and who lost his life in a tragic accident June 17, soon will be on its way to the bereaved parents.

Commissioned to do the portrait was Kathy Whitfield of the Artist's Shop, who points under the name of Lee Travis. The 24x36-inch painting was done from only a color photograph, as she had never seen the youth. Those who knew the young man say it is even more life-like than the picture.

Because the parents, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. R. M. Worthington, share in their late son's love for Ruidoso and have the highest regard for the talents of the artists in Ruidoso, they asked Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Bush of Alto, long-time and close friend, to arrange for the portrait. Mrs. Bush plans to forward the work to the Worthingtons at Bethesda, Md., within a few days.

The son, Robert, Jr., 19, learned to ski at Sierra Blanca while spending last Thanksgiving week at the Bush home with other members of his family. He said his younger brother, Gary, spent many a happy hour on the ski slopes, and it was Robert's hope that his parents would choose Ruidoso for their retirement home.

Robert lost his life while sky diving in Pennsylvania on the occasion of his 39th jump.

"They could have had the portrait made in the East," Mrs. Bush said, "but they knew of the many talented artists in Ruidoso, and wanted, for sentimental reasons, to have the painting done here." Mrs. Bush, who had known Robert since he was a child, said the artist had done a superb job in capturing the young man's image. "I know it is something his parents will treasure always," she commented.

The two families became close friends when both were stationed at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, from 1954 to 1962.

ON EVE OF OLD LINCOLN PAGEANT—A TRIBUTE TO 'BILLY THE KID'

(Editor's Note: With interest centered this weekend on the folk pageant, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid," the News is pleased to have Dan Storm, who has been associated with the production for 20 years, reminisce on those years and to pay a tribute to the memory of Billy the Kid.

Storm is well-known to News' readers as author of a column "The Silver Lining," which appeared regularly some time ago and which recently has been revived on special request of the News.

The pageant will have its first performance this Friday night at 8 p.m. at the pageant grounds in Old Lincoln. Following presentations will be Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.)

TWENTY YEARS OF PLAYING COWBOY

The great American writer, Booth Tarkington—author of "Parade" and other American classics—once said, "I am that fortunate fellow who has realized his boyhood dream—all I ever wanted was to be a story writer."

Well, I can say that one of my favorite pastimes as a boy was dreaming about being a cowboy some day, and playing cowboy.

It is twenty years now that the late Wilbur F. Coe came up to my place and said, "Danny, you have got to come over to Lincoln and help us put on the Billy the Kid Pageant."

When I got over there I had the notion I wanted to play the part of Billy, the kind-hearted guard whom Billy the Kid was forced to shoot when he became panic-stricken and bolted after The Kid had begged him to keep his head, that he would not be hurt if he would not break and run.

They told me I was to play the part of Goss, the old German cook who had a part in The Kid's escape. At this, I must have wrinkled my nose, as the old saying goes, I did not think I fitted the part.

Right then LeRoy McKnight came up and said, "Danny, I'll give you my part of Buckshot Roberts. He was a little short guy like you, I'll play Goss myself."

The way things turned out, LeRoy made the part of Goss into a starring role by his great gift as an actor and brought down the house year after year.

This year the part of Goss has been handed down to Leo Jolner who also plays the part of Sheriff Brady and does a splendid job as both of these pioneer figures. Leo is one of the original actors of the first quarto-centennial pageant of 1941 which was held with the streets of Lincoln as a stage and in which Peter Hard played the part of Billy the Kid.

And this will be my 20th year as Buckshot Roberts, outside of 1958 when St. Balas of Lincoln stood in for me (and did a great job) while I was on a trip to Europe with my father, the late Lynn W. Storm.

To say that these twenty years have embraced some of the happiest days of my life would be putting it mildly. Those of you who have worked and played in the pageant with me, those of you who have come from near and far to see the show, those of you who have never even seen the show but who yet have lent your support—how can I ever thank you?

The annual Billy the Kid pageant is more than a show. It is offered as a tribute to the pioneers of our country. It is a communal effort to some of our local history and evening's enjoyment to those who come from near and far. It is an annual time of happiness—a gathering together of old friends and new. It is a turning back of the clock to the frontier days. And as we turn the clock back a hundred years or so we stop and wonder and ponder over the things we have now that we did not have then. And we study and weigh the things we had then that at times seem to be slipping away in this day and time. We come to realize that there are some ways of life that our forefathers held dear that we had better hold onto for dear life.

There are not too many left in this world who remember Billy the Kid, but back through the years, over at the pageant in Lincoln or most anywhere else, wherever an old timer would start talking about what he remembered of Billy the Kid, you would soon have a crowd gathered of folks young and old listening with mouth and ears open, hanging on the old timer's every word. Why?

Because the story of Billy the Kid is a great story. It has all the elements. Just like when you make good corn bread: you have to have baking powder, lard, salt, sugar,

Local Couple Scheduled To Leave This Weekend For Peru

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, among 17 from across the United States participating in the second annual International Work-Study Year for Seminary students, are scheduled to leave this weekend to begin their service in Huacayo, Peru.
 According to Mrs. J. H. Cooper, Ruidoso, mother of Mrs. Roberts, the couple expected to complete an intensive four-week school in conversational Spanish at Cuernavaca, Mexico, this week and were scheduled to leave immediately for their assignment.
 The Roberts' left Ruidoso July 6 after a brief vacation here following an orientation session at the United Methodist Missionary Conference at Greensville, Md.
 Mrs. Cooper said her daughter, in her letters, spoke of the "marvelous friendships" of the people of Cuernavaca and at the language school. Although the course has been an intensive one, they have been able to spend nearly every weekend with missionary friends in Mexico City, touring the many historic sites. Weather, she writes, includes rain every night, but seldom if ever in the daytime.
 Participants in the Work-Study Year were approved by the Board of Missions, World Division of the United Methodist Church, through its joint committee of missionary personnel.
 The appointment of the seminarians is for one year, and each will be involved with an academic program (including directed reading and a major paper) and in some specific phase of mission in the country of assignment. The Roberts' will serve in the field of community development and service.
 The participants were selected initially by a committee from their respective seminaries, with final approval through the Board of

NEWS 'N NOTES

The month of August is upon us. With the opening of school just three short weeks away there isn't a better time to talk about sandwiches. Many mothers will soon be busy preparing a sandwich lunch for their school children every morning. Also, August is National Sandwich month. Sandwiches can be anything from a very dainty tea snack to the heartiest of "hero" type meals on a bun.

Good cooks name sandwiches for any hour. It's worth waking up to an enjoyable breakfast—scrambled egg and bacon sandwich for instance. A sandwich may be the answer to a problem eater at breakfast. Lunch is ordinarily the meal we think about sandwiches for. EBD-of-the-day meals can be relaxed if served sandwich fashion.

For a different grilled cheese sandwich try this one: Butter a slice of white bread and arrange two or three slices of garlic salami on top. Add thin slices of Swiss cheese or mozzarella. Top this with another buttered slice of bread and press together. Butter the outside of the sandwich. Sauté in butter or broil until brown on both sides and oozing with melted cheese.

Serve hot sandwiches immediately following preparation. Refrigerate cold sandwiches. Carefully made sandwiches may be stored for 12 to 24 hours at temperatures under 50 F. Spread a coating of soft butter or margarine to the edges of bread slices to avoid the picking up of moisture from salad type fillings. Use butter or margarine, too, with honey, jelly or preserves.

For busy mothers, making large quantities of sandwiches ahead on a day that isn't too rushed may be the answer. The sandwiches can be individually wrapped, put in large plastic bags, tightly tied and frozen.

The fillings largely determine the quality of frozen sandwiches. Only freshly made fillings should be used. Sandwiches should be frozen as soon as they are made and eaten soon after they have thawed. These precautions are necessary because bacteria grow easily in many of the ingredients used for fillings, and sandwich making involves much handling of the food and provides chances for contamination.

Suitable for freezing are fillings made of meat and poultry, hard-cooked egg yolk, cheese, peanut butter, pickles, or olives. Anything should be omitted that may soak into the bread, as jelly or salad dressing, cooked egg white, which toughens, and vegetables, which will wilt. There will be less sogginess if the bread is spread to the edges with butter or margarine.

Drive there with care—arrive alive.

SEEK "RAINBOW DERBY" CROWN—Ten of the world's fastest and finest three-year old quarterhorses go to post in Sunday's 11th race at Ruidoso Downs seeking the coveted "Rainbow Derby" crown and proportionate shares of the glittering $150,000 purse. Tabbed as the richest quarter horse derby in existence, the "Rainbow Derby" field was filled by fine trials run last week. Top Bug, owned by Clary Spenser of Edmond, Okla., led the qualifiers by stepping the 400-yards in 20.05 seconds. Interesting feature of the big derby is the lineage of the qualifiers. Six of the stars, Top Bug, Dixie Man, Lady Bug's Moon, Jet Deck Junior, Hustling Miss and Speckle Sue Deck are descendants of Top Deck, while Miss Dinah Chick, Shawnee Chick and Three Lilies claim Three Bars bloodlines. The 10th qualifier, Clovis Bid, is a Double Bid colt, Double Bid is co-holder, with Savannah Dandy, of the Ruidoso Downs track record of 19.9 seconds for the 400-yards.

Qualifying Rounds Set Monday For Annual Cree Meadows Invitational

Deadline for entering the annual Cree Meadows Invitational Golf tournament Aug. 4-7 draws nearer with players scheduled to tee off for qualifying rounds Monday, announced Stormy Edwards, manager and pro.

Eighty-five entries have already been received for the tourney, now in its 22nd year, which always draws top amateurs from around the country.

Some of the top notch golfers scheduled to compete this year are Sunny Edwards, Ralph Petty, LeRoy Gooch, Ken Newton and Tom Choate, all of Ruidoso, while others sure to be in top contention include Charlie Edwards, Dallas; Buba Brooks, Lubbock; Danny Skarda, Portales; Glenn Batson, Littlefield, and defending champion, Bill Aldridge, Alamogordo.

Tom Winton of New York holds the distinction at present of traveling the farthest for the tourney and Kellus Turner of Odessa probably as the entrant who has attended most often with at least 10 visits.

Monday evening a Calcutta dinner served by the Lions Club will be held at the clubhouse for all those who wish to come.

The tournament, which expects to have nine flights with matched play in all flights, will wind up Thursday with championship matches being held and prizes awarded.

Edwards said the public is cordially invited to all of the four-day activities.

Vehicle Damaged In Car-Truck Mishap

A mishap involving an automobile and a pickup truck occurred at 9:30 p.m. Friday, when George Locke, driving a 1968 Plymouth sedan, attempted a left turn from the outside lane of Sudderth Drive and failed to see the oncoming pickup.

No injuries were reported, according to police records. Damages were estimated at $23 to the sedan and $300 to the pickup, driven by Arthur Hagemaster of El Paso.

A citation for failure to use due care was issued to Locke, resident of Palestine, Texas.

Public Cautioned To Be On Lookout For Bears In Area

A caution to residents and especially summer visitors to be on the lookout for bears was issued today by Charles Cockerell, district wildlife officer.

The officer explained that persons often put out table scraps to feed the bears, and as a result, the animal lose a lot of their natural fear of humans. Normally, bears in the area are harmless but there is the chance that they can be inadvertently aroused and cause harm, especially to children.

"People don't realize how strong and quick bears are," Cockerell said. "They see them lumbering along and are lulled into a false security. It pays to be careful."

Mrs. Baynard Malone, who with her family resides in the far Upper Canyon area, said she had noted five different bears within the past few days close to her home, and that they now were appearing in mid-day instead of during night hours. One even was seen asleep during the day by a pond not far distant from the house. She expressed her concern especially for children living in the area, noting that it was disturbing to have the bears out and around during the day.

One of the bears in that area was successfully captured in a trap put out late Tuesday afternoon by Cockerell.

Youth Is Injured In Gun Accident

A Ruidoso Downs youth is recuperating from an accidental gunshot wound of the foot, suffered last Thursday evening.

He is Billy Bob Goodrum, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goodrum.

According to the official report, Billy Bob, while at home, was pulling the hammer of a .22 calibre pistol back with his thumb and letting it snap forward when the hammer evidently released too fast, discharging the pistol. The bullet severed his right foot in the area of the instep, passing through the flesh. There was no apparent damage to the bones. The youth was taken to the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital for emergency treatment.

Exhibition By H. C. Zachry Will Open This Friday At Gallery III

An exhibition of paintings and drawings by H. C. Zachry, noted Southwest artist, opens this Friday, Aug. 1, at Gallery III in Ruidoso and continues through Aug. 22. The 28-year-old Abilene, Texas artist's talents span from abstraction to minutely detailed realism. "My technique is dictated by the subject," Mr. Zachry points out. "as I try to capture the 'feel' of a given situation. If a cowboy is saddling a bronc horse, I fuse with details in the painting. Everything must be just right, just so. My rodeo days taught me that when a cowboy rides a bronc, he fuses with details, too. He wants everything to be just right. On the other hand, when you see a chaparral, he is usually moving quickly, visible for only an instant - a flash of color and motion. Here the flow and freedom of abstraction allows you to capture the 'feel' of the situation." Obviously there are many who agree with Mr. Zachry's views and concept for his paintings grace the walls of prominent art lovers throughout the Southwest. Reared on a ranch near the Red River in North Texas, he is now enjoying rapid acceptance as a painter of the southwest. He paid his college expenses with winnings on the rodeo circuit. Awarded a bachelor's degree in advertising art from Texas Tech, Lubbock, he also completed a work in fine art. During this time he studied with the nationally known watercolorist, Dr. Clarence Kincaid. Mr. Zachry's study with this master painter did much to stimulate his desire to paint the rugged southwestern landscape and its inhabitants. "Battered cabins nestled in the trees, bones of old wooden windmills, events and action that make up the day-of-our-modern cowboy - this is the Southwest I know and love," he says. "These are the part of America that are slowly fading from the American scene. I want to paint them while they are still here and still fresh."

Attempt Made To Open Mail Box; PO Door Broken

An attempt was made to open a mailbox at the Ruidoso post office during the early hours of Tuesday morning. The person or persons involved gained entrance to the post office lobby by kicking out the front door, according to police reports. Although the mail box showed evidence of tampering, it was still locked when officials checked shortly before 7 a.m. after receiving a report from an unidentified forest ranger that the glass in the door was broken. Police records also showed that a cigarette machine had been taken during the night hour's Sunday from the Maytag Coin-Op Laundry on Sudderth. The theft was discovered by owner C. C. Hicks when he opened up the building about 7 a.m. Monday. About $20 was taken from machines at Gateway Laundry, sometime before 8:45 p.m. Saturday when the loss was discovered, from 15 to 30 warning lights were stolen Monday night between 10 p.m. and midnight from the site of the village sewer construction job and Jack Vall reported a double barrel shotgun in a new scabbard, and a Smith and Wesson .38 calibre police special revolver missing from his home. The loss was noted about 7 p.m. Saturday.

REPRESSIVE, -ILLOGICAL

Needless repressive regulations often end in a wave of indignation and modifying legislative action. Such seems to be the case with federal regulations of firearms and ammunition. As of a recent date, 50 bills to alter or repeal the 1968 gun law have been submitted in Congress. Seven pending bills would repeal the entire 1968 Gun Control Law. The author of one of these, Representative Long of Louisiana, said, "It has been made abundantly clear . . . that the act does not serve to keep dangerous weapons from the hands of criminals and incompetents as its proponents claimed, but rather works, unnecessary hardships on the law-abiding and peaceful citizens who has legitimate uses for firearms." Another congressman pointed out that, "The amount of records keeping and regulation required in ammunition sales defies all the rules of logic and surpasses any legitimate need . . ."

Sentiment is growing for stiffer penalties against criminal use of firearms. Governor Reagan of California, who opposes repressive controls, has declared: "we must amend our laws to make it clear that the criminal who arms himself with a gun will be dealt with severely in every case. We must strengthen the penalties for the illegal use of such weapons without interfering with the legitimate use of firearms by law-abiding citizens."

Citizen ownership of firearms is both a right and a tradition in the United States. It symbolizes independence, as well as individual responsibility - inseparable elements of freedom under representative government. Firearm or ammunition regulations that fail to take into account this fundamental truth have no place in the law of the land.

FOLEY, ALA., THE ONLOOKER: "The driver does not exist who already knows so much about driving that he couldn't learn something that might save his life or the life of someone else . . . Highway safety, to a great extent, is up to us."

who teamed with Barney Aldaz to win third, and Fermin Chavez, first, while at right is Preacher Dodds, who took second place.

Billy the Kid-

buttermilk, sweet milk, butter, corn meal and so on.

WHAT KIND OF A FELLOW WAS BILLY THE KID?

This year's Billy the Kid is Earl Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor of Lincoln, and great-grandson of George W. Coe, close companion and good friend of Billy.

Earl is Kid number five, the others being Peter Hurd, Johnnie Davis, Johnny Thomas and Earl's brother, Tommy.

When I look at Earl, a clean-cut youth, honorable and upright in every respect and a credit to the youth of today—I think of Billy the Kid and I like to think that if it had not been for several tragic turning points in his life, the Kid might have turned out to be a whole lot pay for blessing of his good qualities the young fellow who plays his part today.

During the Civil War when Grant's fellow generals complained that he was a heavy drinker, Lincoln made his famous reply, "I wish that I knew which brand he drinks so I can give it to my other generals."

In other words, if a man has courage, people will feel more charitably toward his failings and will try to put up with his faults as best they can as sort of a price to ties.

Or as Shakespeare said, "A friend should bear his friend's infirmities."

No one who knew him ever said The Kid did not have courage.

The Kid has come down to us in legend, history and by word of mouth as an extremely fascinating personality and colorful character who, in spite of some human failings, had something about him you could not help but admire and like.

In this he was like Alan Stewart, the dauntless little Scotchman in Robert Louis Stevenson's great story, "Kidnapped."

One thing that made the Kid well come everywhere was that he was light-hearted and full of fun. He was also very courteous and this endeared him to the Spanish people.

The old folks around the country used to say he loved children and was kind to old people. In keeping with the tradition of the West, he had a great respect for women. He would not use rough language around women or children.

In talking to the pioneers of this part of the country, you formed a picture of the Kid as full of life and very human. His hatred was intense and his temper violent. His love was deep and his devotion lasting. Most of his troubles came from taking up for his friends. He did not juggle at the price of friendship. As the old Mexican saying goes, "No amigos con medanos." He did not drink by half cups.

So many of the things that the Kid did are things that you and I have often felt like doing but instead hesitated because of the trouble we see as sure to follow our action. The Kid was not a trouble-maker himself; but he never seemed to bat an eye at the prospect of all kinds of trouble when once he bowed his neck and decided he had no way out but to take a certain course of action.

The average person upon hearing that a friend had been cursed, beaten or mistreated some way would sympathize with his friend saying, "We'll get him some day." Or "I wish I had been there," or "He will pay for this."

But the Kid, instead of dropping the matter, would start looking for the trouble-maker and when he found him would say, "I do not like the way you treated my friend." And then he would administer whatever remedy he thought best—all the way from a scolding in multi-lingual language or two or three back handed blows on the chops, to a fifty-four slug.

Sometimes today we hear of people in the great cities walking by not raising a hand to help while a girl or woman is killed right on the street. This would not have happened in the days of Billy the Kid. The most notorious outlaw or gunman would have given his life if necessary to help a helpless person in trouble.

Back in the early 1930's, before any of us had heard of television, there was a national program on the radio called "We, the People." On this program famous people of legend, song and story were interviewed. The managers of this program flew George Coe back east on the plane to be on the program.

Some of us in the neighborhood listened to the radio down at George Coe's rock house which still stands by the side of the highway just down from the Glencoe post office. The reception was not too good, but George's voice was clear and unmistakable. I remember catching just a few words:

"He was not a bad boy. He was a good boy. He was forced into doing what he did . . . He was my good friend."

George W. Coe was one of the finest Christian gentlemen that has ever been my good fortune to know. And George was free to admit the Kid was his good friend. Surely this should speak for itself and carry great weight when we ask, "What kind of a fellow was Billy the Kid?"

WHY THE STORY OF BILLY LIES CLOSE TO THE HEART

ROBERT BURNS, the great Scotch poet, said, "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

Justice has not always been on the side of the just; and getting a fair trial has never been easy—much less in the Kid's day. In ancient nations such as Rome, justice and power were mixed together in the same bowl. Most of the people were slaves with no rights whatsoever and were at the complete mercy of the ruling class.

England took a great step forward in establishing justice for all. Justice right down the middle. No more, no less. Just what you have coming.

The thing that sets the United States of America above all nations in all ages is that the American is for the under dog. Deep in the soul of our country abides the quality of mercy.

We are watching "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid." Here is a slim boyish youth weighted down with iron. Guided by two giants armed to the teeth. He is waiting for the sheriff to bring lumber for a scaffold. This could be your boy, your brother.

A public hanging! The stabbiest most degenerate spectacle ever to disgrace the human record. Do not ever let anybody tell you differently. Deep in the human heart burns a revulsion for capital punishment.

A youth waiting in Irons to be burns a revulsion for capital punishment.

The whole scene is nauseating to the American stomach. Is there any wonder that hats fly in the air and shouts of "Hurrah!" break forth and echo through the streets of Lincoln when Billy the Kid escapes and rides free?

THE KID'S PLACE IN AMERICA'S STORY

I think that future generations of America will be kind to the Kid. I am convinced that he was the tragic victim of harsh laws of fortune; that if the break had come his way he might have been an outstanding citizen; and that as the years go by he becomes more secure in his place as the leading, legendary hero of the American West.

Some say the Kid lived to be an old man, Quen Sabe? But this is another story.

Get the message across with a want-ad in the Ruidoso News!

Pageant Parade Entries Assure Colorful Event

Entries already received for the colorful parade Sunday afternoon, Aug. 3, preceding the matinee performance of the Billy the Kid Pageant at Old Lincoln, indicate it will be bigger and better than ever.

Bill Ward, curator of the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission, says a wide variety of units have already indicated they will be on hand for the parade which unrolls at 1:30 p.m., and more are expected.

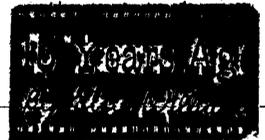

Confirmation has been received, he said, from both the Chavez County and Eddy County Sheriff's posse, as well as from Group 6 of the New Mexico Mounted Patrol, Alamogordo.

Woody Wood of Roswell has notified Ward that he will have an old-time buggy in the parade, and possibly a covered wagon as well. A twirling group from the Roswell YWCA will participate, and a large number of antique cars are expected to add to the authenticity of the parade theme, "The 1880's".

Ruth Harker of Oscura will again thrill onlookers when she rides her classy horse with its elaborate trappings, and Fern Sawyer Dunn will appear on horseback in authentic period costume.

The parade will be led by the thrilling 62nd Army Band from Ft. Bliss, and in a piece of honor will be the Lincoln County Centennial Queen, Miss DeeAnn Jackson of Ancho.

Meanwhile, cast rehearsals for the pageant, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid" are progressing well, and are being held each Tuesday and Thursday night at the pageant grounds. Full dress rehearsal has been scheduled for Thursday night, July 30, just prior to opening performance on the following evening. Additional performances will be Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

News Items From Ruidoso News Issue of July 29, 1969.

Tickets went on sale Tuesday morning for the Charity Day sponsored by Ruidoso Downs Race Track. Proceeds from the gate receipts sold for Friday, Aug. 20 will be presented to the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital, Jim Hensley announced.

In the Junior 4-H Contest in Artois this week, Lane Vance of the Ruidoso Club took a blue ribbon in the dress review and Judy Lou Evans a red ribbon in the dress review. The livestock team composed of Judy McKnight, Anthony Freese, Jeff Shaw and Douglas McKnight received a red ribbon.

Ralph Brown and R. H. Hedgecock are reported to have entered a new field—that of buzzard hunting. Last Wednesday morning the two were flying when a buzzard decided to pay them a call—through the windshield of their plane. Both are reported to be in better condition than the bird.

COMPLETES RACE—Barney Aldaz, Lincoln, 75 years young, turns in the mail pouch to Mrs. Mary Phillips, postmaster, to ride the 41-mile Pony Express Race Saturday. Aldaz, and his partner, Roy Payton who rode half the distance, came in third.

Mark Storm Back in Annual Visit

Mark Storm, leading western cowboy artist who spent his boyhood and trained much of his back and for his painting in Lincoln County, has returned for his annual visit to the land of his youth. Mark will take part in the Billy King Pageant at Old Lincoln County Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, singing the singing song and doing a rope trick set in a scene of two.

In a display at the Lincoln Museum is Mark's famous oil painting of Billy the Kid playing cards with Gus and Bell just before making his escape. Mark, who plans to sell the picture purchased and presented to the Museum. Has bought his paints and brushes and "touch the picture up a little." His portrait of the Kid is said to be the most authentic likeness ever to be put on canvas.

Mark also will be present as honored guest at the Ruidoso Downs track Friday afternoon and will be honored following the running of the eleventh trial division of the "Rainbow Futurity" trials.

Centennial Polo Match, Halted By Rain Resumes Aug. 15

A heavy downpour which hit the San Patricio area late Sunday afternoon halted the International Centennial Invitational Polo Match underway at the Peter Hurd Polo Field just as the fourth chucker of play concluded.

The game, which sent the many onlookers scurrying for cars and umbrellas, struck about 5:45 p.m. after threatening for most of the afternoon.

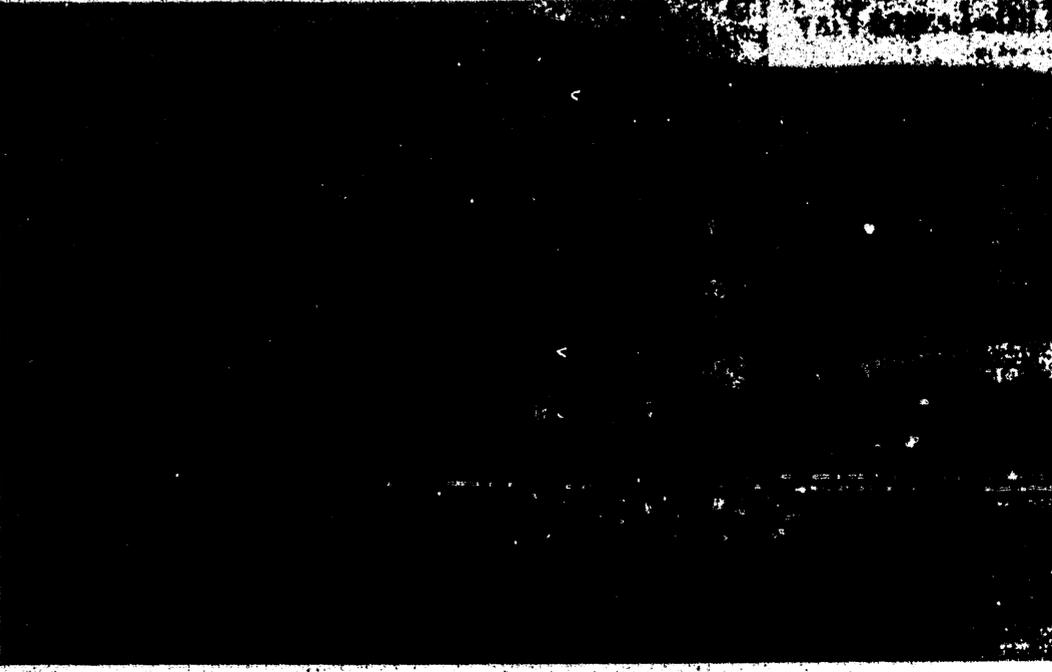

The match, which will be resumed at the top of the fifth chucker Friday, Aug. 15, at 2 p.m., pitted the San Patricio team against a top team from Juarez, Mexico. The San Patricio foursome was leading 3-1 when the match was called.

Sunday's game, which started with a 2-0 score in favor of San Patricio due to handicap, opened with fast action on the part of the local team. Bob Chipman claimed honors for the opening goal, scoring for San Patricio, then Tom Babers led to Chipman twice in quick succession to make the score 4-0 at the close of the initial chucker.

Early in the second chucker, Chipman was clipped by a mallet, much to the dismay of the vocal San Patricio supporters, but was able to resume play. Only goal in the stanza was made by Beto Mueller to get his Juarez team on the scoreboard and make the count 5-1.

Mueller opened the third chucker with a beautiful shot, which was good, then had help for another score from teammate Humberto Bermudes when Mueller's shot hit the goal post. San Patricio's Floyd Heinz scored during the fast action, then Humberto Bermudes made good a goal attempt on a foul to have the chucker conclude on a 5-4 score.

The opening chucker of the second half saw only one goal made, and that by Juarez' Oscar Bermudes, to bring the count to 9-5. The Aug. 15 contest will open with the fifth chucker with the San Patricio team holding a four point lead.

FAST ACTION - Typical of the exciting action at Sunday's International Centennial Polo Match between teams from San Patricio and Juarez is the scene above. The ball is just under the hoof of the grey horse in the center, ridden by a Juarez player.

Other players in the tilt included Terry McNatt for San Patricio, and Jaime Bermudes for Juarez. Danny Thompson of El Paso was referee, and Bobby Hill of Midland was announcer.

During halftimes, longtime residents of Lincoln County were recognized by Ralph Dumas, Lincoln County Centennial chairman. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson, Captain; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sifton, Nogal; Mrs. Ernest Bobod, Albi; Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lindamood, Albi; Mrs. Margarita Salazar, Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Swaid, Corona, and Mr. and Mrs. Elario Gomez, San Patricio. Nationally-known artist Peter Hurd, for whose field the championship match was played, who spoke briefly in welcome to the crowd.

During the afternoon, women of St. Jude's church at San Patricio served home-cooked Mexican dinners in the old school house where young performers from the area entertained with Spanish music.

Sunday's action was preceded Saturday by two handicap match games involving teams from El Paso, Albuquerque, Juarez and San Patricio. In the opening game, Albuquerque topped the Juarez squad 1-3, with San Patricio taking the second match 11-5 over El Paso.

J. T. Michelson and Windy Curry were top scorers for Albuquerque with three each, while Tommy Higgins and George Landreth accounted for singles. Scores were racked up by the New Mexico team in every chucker. Juarez was blanked in the second, fourth and sixth chuckers, with Oscar Bermudes accounting for a point in each of the first and third chuckers, and Jaime Bermudes adding one in the fifth. Others on the team were Humberto Bermudes and Beto Mueller.

All four players on the San Patricio team contributed to the 11-5 win over El Paso, with each scoring once in the fourth chucker. In addition, Terry McNatt accounted for three in the second, and Chipman one in the first and two in the sixth. The other two players, adding their scores in the fourth, were Bob Chipman and Tom Babers.

Pat Joyce scored four of El Paso's five points, with Bobby Hill accounting for the other. Making up the remainder of the team were E. V. Higgins and C. H. Barry.

Local Artist's Sketches

John Meyer, Lincoln County artist who owns a ranch near San Patricio, was the topic of a column in a recent issue of Time magazine.

The article called attention to Meyer's other talented articles at Cape Kennedy the past week and to sketch his impression of Apollo 11's blast-off to the moon. Meyer is a prize and associate of famed Peter Hurd, who has lived at San Patricio and was at Cape Kennedy for the historic start of the moon flight.

The Time article was forwarded to the News by former publisher Vic Lamb, now owner of a variety of office supply and photography store in Sedona, Ariz., who still keeps an eagle eye open for happenings concerning Lincoln County.

Rusty and Kathryn Phipps, children of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Phipps of Las Cruces via visiting with Mrs. H. H. Kitcher at the Tee Pee Cabins this week.

In addition to the parade, Saturday's highlight will include a barbecue, to be prepared by the Elks Lodge, at Cedar Creek Campgrounds, with serving to get underway at 5 p.m. Tickets at $1.50 for adults and $1 for children are available now at the Chamber of Commerce.

Preceding the barbecue and at the same site will be a variety of games for all ages—sack races, horseshoes, softball and bingo. A trail ride for those owning horses or desiring to rent a mount will follow a pre-determined route thru the mountains, and an auto tour for those who wish to travel in their own cars to see the beautiful aspens and scenic views will end at the barbecue site in time for the meal. In addition, a reunion of old timers of Lincoln County will also be held during the afternoon at the campgrounds.

Saturday night will feature a square dance festival, with three outstanding callers already secured. An innovation this year and an event expected to prove one of the most popular of the Aspenade, is a Jeep race over a rugged obstacle course. The race will be conducted both Wednesday and Friday afternoons, Oct. 1-2, with combined times of the two best to determine the winners.

Youngsters up to 14 years of age will want to vie for trophies and other prizes in a fishing derby also set for Wednesday and Thursday at Alto Lake. An all-day Jeep tour has been scheduled for Friday, Oct. 3, with participants limited to those driving four-wheel vehicles. Members of the White Mountain Jeep Club will serve as guides, while other club members will prepare a meal to be served at mid-day in the mountains to those participating.

The composite schedule of activities as announced includes: Wednesday, Oct. 1—First day of fishing derby, first heat, golf tournament, opening of art show, golf tourney and dance at night. Thursday, Oct. 2—Art show, all-day golf tourney, second heat of Jeep race, all-day fishing derby, afternoon and evening square dance, mini-golf tourney, and dance at night. Friday, Oct. 3—Art show, Jeep tour, continuation of fishing derby and golf tourney, bus tour, fishing derby, mini-golf tourney, and dance at night. Ten Qualify For Aug. 3 Derby; Duke's Strings Wins Handicap

A field of 44 lightning-fast three-year old quarter horses was trimmed to ten finalists during the running of "The Rainbow Derby" trials held at Ruidoso Downs last Friday. The ten qualifiers will face each other Aug. 3 in the richest derby in the world when they battle for shares of the estimated $200,000 purse.

Top Bug, owned by Clary Spencer of Edmond, Okla., turned in the fastest time of the ten qualifiers by winning the fifth division of the trials in 20.05 seconds for the 400-yards. The fifth division proved to be the strongest in the trials by sending four competitors into the final: Top Bug, Shawnee Chick, Hustling Miss and Speckle Sue Deck.

The second best time was hung up by Dixie Man, who took the second division in 20.05 seconds. Owned by John R. Adams of Guyman, Okla., the chestnut colt was a surprise winner over Jet Deck Junior, who qualified with his third place showing.

Ranking third in the time trials was Lady Bug's Moon, winner of the first division in 20.08 seconds. Piloted by jockey Boyd Morris, the Marvin Barnes-owned and trained entry, is eyed by many as the one to beat when the final chips are down.

In addition to the top three pacesetters, other qualifiers and their times are, Jet Deck Junior, 20.09; Miss Dinah Chick, 20.12; Shawnee Chick, 20.20; Hustling Miss, 20.25; Speckle Sue Deck, 20.28; Three Lilies, 20.30; and Clovis Bid, 20.32.

Other top action during the four-day race week just concluded was the exciting win by Duke's Strings in the $7,500-added "Billy the Kid Handicap", run last Sunday. Owned by John R. Adams of Lordsburg, Duke's Strings let frontrunners' Ninky Dee, Little Sure and William D., share the early glory in the seven furlong race before coming off the pace to catch William D. at the wire.

Race fans will have to wait to take a look at the California horse, Quasimundo, who was a late scratch for the big handicap.

National Jamboree 'Once-In-Lifetime' Experience For Scouts

LEAVING RUIDOSO JAMBOREE BOUND!

LUNCH AT PHILMONT SCOUT RANCH

Home again, tired but happy after attending the seventh National Boy Scout Jamboree at Barragut State Park, Idaho, are four Lincoln County scouts, unanimous in the feeling that it was a "once-in-a-lifetime" experience.

Bill trying to sort out memories of the Jamboree are Larry Craig and Mike Waltrip of Malheur Scout Troop 10, and Bronson Cummings and Bill Shreeve of Captain Troop 138. Accompanying them is one of two scout leaders from the Conquistador Council was Marvin Craig, scoutmaster of the Ruidoso troop.

The Jamboree exemplified the fact that people can live together without trouble and communicate peacefully, for that is just what 40,000 boys who came from all parts of the United States and 22 foreign countries did for seven days.

They played, slept, ate, worked and prayed together. And together they listened to man's first trip to the moon's surface and watched man take his first step on the moon. All three astronauts making up the Apollo crew are former Scouts.

All the boys had at least one thing in common—the scouting spirit. Boys who could not speak English—representatives from Japan, Spain, Thailand, Okinawa and other countries, still were able to communicate with each other and exchange feelings and thoughts.

Theme of the Jamboree, "Building to Serve", helped to bring all more closely together, and to implement the belief in helping each other wherever they may be.

Most impressive was the opening show in the huge arena when all lights were extinguished and all 40,000 Scouts lit a candle, holding them in unison above their heads. The traditional service represents the light that shows the way in scouting with adult leadership and youth participation.

Astronaut Frank Borman, representing the President of the United States, who was unable to be present due to the Apollo flight and his current Asian tour, brought a brief message from him saying that "with 40,000 boys such as are represented here tonight there can be no generation gap, but only a bright future for our country."

Scouts at the Jamboree also heard brief talks by the three astronauts, and in turn, each troop complied with a scroll signed by each scout which is being forwarded to the astronauts.

Training becomes one of the major activities for the scouts at the Jamboree. Lincoln County Scouts took a majority of membership classes offered from the "Native Scout" tactics. The county contingent of scouts from the Jamboree is a fine group of scouts.

Scoutmaster Craig highly praised the driver, Marvin Craig, for his cooperation, as well as his skill at the wheel. "We had no transportation trouble in all our only delay was at the Lake City to repair the air conditioning unit," he said. Harris and Craig started in Cub Scouts many years ago in Roswell, and Harris' son was one of the Scouts making the trip. Serving as adult leader in addition to Craig were Stan Scott, a post office employee at Roswell and Dick Davidson of the Roswell PCA who attended the 1961 Jamboree at Irvine Ranch in California as a Scout.

Pvt. Merle Miller Named As Top Trainee At Bliss

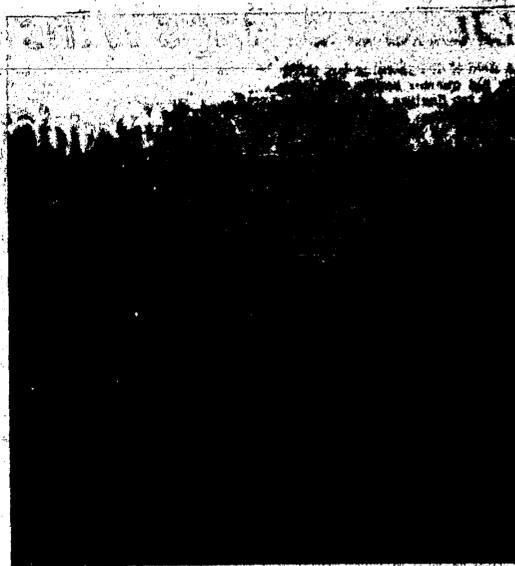

Army Private Merle A. Miller, 21, son of Mrs. Edna E. Miller, Hollywood, was chosen his 10th combat training company's outstanding trainee July 3 at Ft. Bliss, Tex. Pvt. Miller was selected by his instructors for demonstrating exceptional ability and initiative in classroom and field instruction throughout his eight weeks of training.

He also was the only trainee to earn a perfect score on the physical proficiency test held at the end of his training cycle. The right test, based on skills that require coordination and endurance, is designed to evaluate a soldier's physical capabilities and to determine whether he has the stamina needed in battle.

The son of V. A. Miller, Alamogordo, he entered the Army last May. His wife, Wanda, lives in Alamogordo.

trip and the Jamboree activities of the local group, and shares it with News' readers:

Thursday, July 10, we left Ruidoso at 8 p.m. (including Larry Craig, Mike Waltrip and myself) proceeded to Captain, picked up Bronson Cummings and on to Lincoln to pick up Bill Shreeve. We then proceeded to Roswell for a meeting of the Jamboree leaders to finalize all plans.

At 8:30 a.m. Friday we were up for breakfast—9 o'clock saw us start loading equipment for departure at 10 a.m.—off we go, Jamboree bound!

Our first stop was at Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N. M. Philmont is the one and only National Boy Scout Ranch and serves scouts and scouters from all over the U. S. Also scouts from foreign countries attend the ranch on a limited basis. Boys from all over the country serve on the staff at Philmont. I talked with three boys in the Trading Post from Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New Jersey and they have all worked there three summers or more.

After lunch at Philmont we continued on to Fort Carson at Colorado Springs. Had good old GI food for supper and part of our group went to the movies while the rest went bowling.

Saturday, July 12, up at 5 a.m. for clean-up of barracks. Breakfast at 6 o'clock, normal GI style, 40 minutes in line to get to the serving line and they are just running out of everything and another 15 minutes until more food is ready. 7:15 of to the U.S. Army Academy just north of Colorado Springs. Toured the Academy for about two hours, then off to Denver where we stopped just long enough to have the bus serviced. On to Estes Park for lunch and then to Rawlins, Wyo., for supper and a night's rest at the Jersey Memorial Center.

Sunday, July 13, up at 6 a.m. for clean-up and early check-out. Pack bus, breakfast and on the road. Lunch in Jackson, Wyo., and a quick tour of the Jackson Hole area, then on to the Grand Teton National Park. While waiting for our reservations to be confirmed by the Yellowstone Park Co. at Jackson Lake Lodge office we spotted a large bull moose. Reservations confirmed at Fishing Bridge Lodge in Yellowstone National Park.

Supper, overnight and breakfast Monday, July 14, at Fishing Bridge, then a tour of Yellowstone all morning. During our trip through Yellowstone saw several bear, moose, elk and deer. Lunch at Gardiner, Mont., then proceeded through the beautiful ranch country of the Roseman area and on to Butte. Sleeping accommodations were at the Anscoville Co. Columbia Gardens Pavilion. Went to supper and took troop bowling before bedding down for the night.

Tuesday, July 15, arose at 5:30 a.m., packed bus, had breakfast and off to the Jamboree. Arrived at Sandpoint, Idaho, for lunch and haircuts for the boys who attended them, then on to the Jamboree. Arrived at our campsite at 3 p.m., over 30,000 boys already here—what a sight that has to be seen to be believed. Set up our display that lasted over 30 minutes. Thursday, among many other varied activities we went swimming and canoeing in Lake Pend O'Reille, which is roughly a 3-mile hike each way from our camp site. Then had a campfire ceremony at the campsite.

Friday, July 18—swimming and canoeing during day and attended an inter-troop campfire with Troop 7 of the Southern Coastal Council of South Carolina.

Saturday, July 19—Skill-O-Rama preparations in morning and participation all afternoon. Big Arena show for evening in the Friendship Arena with tree climbing, log cut-

Every employer paying wages subject to the social security tax should file complete and accurate reports with the Internal Revenue Service, reminds Bob Noble, social security field representative. These reports provide the wage information necessary to figure the social security benefits due employees and their families when the employee dies, becomes disabled, or retires. Reports for April, May and June are due July 31.

Non-farm employers and those hiring household help should report at the end of each calendar quarter. The reports are filed on IRS Form 942 if they prefer. Farm employers should report wages paid during the calendar year using IRS Form 943. These forms are the basis for crediting employees' wages and figuring the social security tax due. Reports and taxes are sent to the Internal Revenue Service.

Employers having questions about wage reports should contact the Internal Revenue Service or see Noble Aug. 7 at the Council Room in the Ruidoso City Hall. He will be there from 10 to noon and 1 to 3 p.m.

Dividing a home pool by depth lines can be a life saver. Swimmers who go in over their heads may find themselves in more than just deep water. Panic and tragedy may ensue.

VISIT FOX CAVE

Located seven miles east of Ruidoso Downs race track on U. S. Hwy 70, Fox Cave was once used as a hide-out by the kid and roving bands of Apache warriors. The store offers a wide variety of curios, novelties, jewelry and other items, plus the historical atmosphere of the Old West.

ed by a movie of the walk by Eagle Scout Neil Armstrong. The evening concluded with various entertainment, closing speeches and another spectacular fireworks display. Total attendance including visitors was 60,000.

At this point, Craig's responsibilities left little time for note-taking. The group broke camp Wednesday morning, leaving at 8:25 a.m., just 25 minutes behind schedule, and traveled to Missoula, Mont., for lunch then on to Pocatello, Idaho for the night. Thursday, they drove on to Salt Lake City, touring the Mormon Temple Square and went swimming in Salt Lake. "The first and last time for most of us," Craig commented, explaining that salt content is now about 37 percent. The night was spent in Moab, with the group arriving in Roswell about 9:30 p.m. Friday. Following a report session with Scout officials, the local contingent arrived back in Ruidoso Monday, for lunch then on to Pocatello, Idaho for the night.

Sunday, attended church services in the morning and took Deer Bell trail in the afternoon. At the evening International Campfire our guest was Santiago Olaywan of Daguna Council in the Philippines.

Monday, July 21 — Conservation trail and Highpoint trail for all but leaders and Green Bar and campfire for all 47 troops of Camp Arthur A. Schuck with entertainment by local troop talent.

Tuesday, July 22, leaders and Green Bar up at 5 a.m. to take High Point Trail, back at 8:15 and discovered troop just getting up. (When the cats are away the mice will play). Swimming in the Big Arena show for final closing with 35,000 plus visitors in attendance.

Another exciting show with Astronaut Frank Borman giving a rundown on the moon walk follow.

San Patricio Rider Gallops To Pony Express Race Win

Days of the western mail rider were brought to life vividly last Saturday with the staging of the first annual Pony Express Race, culminating at Old Lincoln Town.

One of the many feature events of the Lincoln County Centennial, the punishing 41-mile ride over rugged roads drew seven team entries and was shared in by some 1,000 spectators who either gathered near the old Wortley Hotel in Lincoln or watched along the route.

Declared as winner of the race was Fernan Chavez, 26, of San Patricio, who dashed into Lincoln a mile from the finish line, two hours and 36 minutes after the start. The race was staged at White Oak, where the Pony Express mail was first carried by mail carrier Mr. Mary Thompson in 1846.

Second place in the physically demanding race for both horse and rider went to Preacher Dobbs of White Oak, while coming in third was the team of Barney Aldaz of Lincoln and Roy Payton of Captain. Fourth was Zane Leslie Jr., of Captain, now serving in the U. S. Army.

A cash prize, trophy, and two pairs of boots donated by Tony Lama was awarded Chavez for his first place victory. Trophies and cash prizes went to second and third place winners, with a cash prize going to the fourth place rider.

Carried by the riders were some 650 pieces of mail, divided among the contestants, who had been sworn in as official mail carriers by Postmaster Roy Harmon at White Oak. The letters had been cancelled with a special Lincoln County Centennial marking.

Chavez, who had trained for 30 days for the competition, appeared none the worse for his long, swift ride in which he led all the way. "I feel good about the race," Chavez commented after delivering his pouch of mail and learning he had won, and said his only trouble came on the third lap when his mount gave him a little difficulty. Chavez, a horse trainer and also employed by C. & L. Lumber in Ruidoso, was assisted along the way by Sonny Sanchez in transporting fresh horses to the various transfer places.

Sixty-one year old Preacher Dobbs, who rode the entire dis-race and most satisfied he and his partner, Roy Payton, placed in the top four.

Mrs. Phillips, who lives near Lincoln and has served as postmaster there since 1951 said she considered it "quite an honor to officially accept the mail." In serving as postmaster, she has followed in the footsteps of a great-great uncle who was the first postmaster at Dallas, Texas.

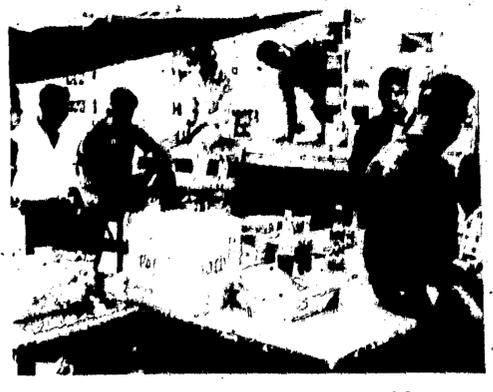

Bill Ward, who with his wife serves as curator of the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission, was general chairman of the Pony Express Race and declared it was very successful, "even beyond my hopes." The popularity and enthusiasm with which it was received prompts plans to hold the race annually in the future in connection with the summer "Billy the Kid" pageant staged each August at Lincoln.

DISPENSE REFRESHMENTS — Members of Explorer Post 135, Camp Sierra Blanca, pause for a brief rest after setting up their refreshment stand at the Centennial polo game Sunday at San Patricio. The 13 youths were kept busy until a downpour late in the afternoon caused the game to be cancelled, according to Joe Payne, post advisor and boys' supervisor.

AT POLO MATCH — Famous artist Peter Hurd takes time out at Sunday's Centennial Invitational Polo Match game to greet his granddaughter, Gabriella Rogers. It was a frivolous remark made at Hurd's home back in 1935 that got polo started on Hurd's San Patricio property.
