NEWS 'N NOTES

By MARY ELLEN PAYNE
(Lincoln County Home Agent)

Temperature and humidity are among the many things which contribute to a comfortable home environment. Doors and windows are usually open in warm weather and closed in cold weather so we depend on a heating system to keep us warm. So far we can't control the weather outside the house. However, we need to be aware of what happens inside when a house is closed and heat dries the air.

Most of us work best and are more comfortable in air that contains 35 to 40 percent relative humidity. This refers to the amount of moisture in the air compared to the total amount of moisture the air is capable of carrying at a given temperature. Sometimes the air inside the house becomes dry enough to cause damage to furniture. Furniture warps, cracks, or becomes unglued; wallpaper may peel or crack; the piano may be out of tune often.

As for people, they are subject to a static shock when they touch a metal object; nasal passages feel dry; and people may be cold even when the room temperature is high.

To increase the relative humidity, pans of water can be kept near a heating unit or in the furnace; doors and/or windows may be opened occasionally to ventilate the rooms. In extreme cases of low humidity, a commercial humidifier may be used.

Among these are Tom Knight with his horse-proof gate latch, Fred Pingsten and his portable head gate, Massey Hereford and their method of attaching tin on metal pipe and Max Penix and his hydraulic windmill repair rig.

There are many other home-made innovations to make ranch work easier illustrated in the circular which is available at the County Agent's office in Carrizozo. Just ask for circular 429, Buenas Ideas for Ranch Equipment.

Be just as careful with your credit cards as you are with your cash. Know how to take care of the cards and what to do if you lose them. Credit cards are used instead of money to buy goods and services, and cards are accepted as payment without any other identification. The person whose name is on the credit card gets the bill. One way of protecting yourself from credit card losses is to be sure you get your card back after you use it and then put it away safely in your wallet or purse. Never keep credit cards you don't intend to use. Inform your bank, store, or oil company to close the account.

Before discarding a credit card cut it into pieces. Don't throw away a credit card without first making it impossible for someone else to use it.

If you lose a credit card, immediately inform the company that issued it. A good idea is to keep a list of all numbers of the family's credit cards in a safe place—not in a wallet. If a card is lost, the information needed to identify the card is available and the account can be stopped immediately. Americans are paying more money every year because of the illegal use of credit cards. Some estimates of this loss go as high as $5 million dollars a year.

Two Major Personnel Changes For Sunland's Spring Season

Two major personnel changes at Sunland Park were announced today by General Manager Art Johnson.

A. C. Kemp, who held the post of racing secretary for the past three years, will switch over to track steward.

Kemp's vacancy in the Racing Office will be filled by Pete Drypolder, who has been serving as since 1968.

Both changes will become effective during Sunland's spring season, which starts Dec. 26.

Kemp has been with Sunland since the track opened in 1959. His first position was that of stall superintendent. Over the years, he also served as assistant racing secretary, director of racing, and for three years, as steward.

Hollywood Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wimberly, Sara Ruth and James were in Phoenix, Ariz. during the Thanksgiving Holidays to visit Mrs. Wimberly's mother, Mrs. Seth Overstreet.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McMaisters from Lubbock, Texas spent the holidays in their home in Hollywood. Mr. McMaisters joined Lee Wimberly in his camp for several days of hunting while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones had Thanksgiving dinner for family and friends including Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Debbie, Ann, Nell and Kathy, and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Jones. Tommy Jones was here for the holidays from Lubbock, where he attends Texas Tech and Laura was home from Las Cruces where she attends NMBU.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul West and daughters returned home Monday after spending the Thanksgiving holidays in Casper, Wyo. visiting relatives.

Mica Cathy Hine returned to Portland Monday where she attends ENMU after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hine.

Edd Hepp from El Paso was here on business last Thursday.

One of the most well-known racing officials in New Mexico, Kemp also serves as steward at Ruidoso Downs and Racing Secretary at the Albuquerque State Fair. He started his career as an official when he accepted the post of patrol judge at La Mesa Park in 1954. Before that, he was associated with racing as a jockey, and later as a trainer.

Drypolder, considered one of the brightest young officials in New Mexico racing, started in the pari-mutuel department at Sunland Park in 1961. He later held such varied positions as clocker, morning-line maker, chart-taker and money-room manager.

Between 1963 and 1969, Drypolder served at Ruidoso Downs in such capacities as entry clerk, line-maker, clerk of the scales and assistant racing secretary.

In 1969, Drypolder was named director of racing and steward at Laramie Race Track in Kentucky. Earlier this year, he held the post of assistant racing secretary at Centennial Racing track in Denver, then took over as racing secretary for the track's successful quarter meetings.

Johnson, in commenting on the personnel changes, noted that the elevation of Drypolder to racing secretary is expected to "help infuse new ideas and appealing innovations into Sunland Park's racing program."

In another change, Tom Dawson, who capably held the post of assistant publicity director since 1968, will now take over as assistant racing secretary. Previously, Dawson held the position of assistant racing secretary at Ruidoso Downs and the New Mexico State Fair.

Taxpayers Newsletter

Taxpayers Office—

The Santa Fe office of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico is now located in the Shelby Building, 219 Shelby St. The new location is a half block from the La Florida and less than a block from the capitol grounds. The new location not only offers easier access to the capitol but much more convenience for visiting firemen. Executive Director Bob Huber extends a welcome to visitors.

Public Land Law Review—

Executive Director Bob Huber attended a three-day conference in Reno, Nevada the week of Nov. 10, 1971. At this time, Huber received information from the recent Public Land Law Review. The conference attracted representatives from throughout the West, including the Congress, state and local government, and the public. The conference was the first of a series of conferences to be held in the West to discuss the economic importance of public lands, future planning, policy and environment, administrative procedures, and finally, implications of the report by the Public Land Law Review Commission. With the extent of public lands in New Mexico, the conference was of vital interest to this state.

Franklin Jones—

Revenue Commissioner Franklin Jones has announced his retirement from the Bureau of Revenue. At a meeting of the Legislative Finance Committee, Jones said he wanted a new commissioner on board by Nov. 1, 1971. He then said he would leave the post by Jan. 1 or March 1, 1972, depending on whether or not the new commissioner wanted him to stay for the 1972 Legislature. Jones also said the new commissioner should be paid $30,000 a year, but Jones' salary would remain at $23,500, the figure agreed on when he took the post. Jones told the committee the Bureau of Revenue should be operating at top efficiency by the time the new chief comes aboard.

Zero-Base Budgeting—

The Legislative Finance Committee this year is attempting to put across Zero-Base Budgeting, a new concept in figuring budgets for the state's hundreds of state agencies and commissions. In previous years agencies have presented budgets to both the Legislature and the executive department based on their budget of the year before. It was repeatedly noted that if the old budget was padded, the new one undoubtedly was. Under the new procedure, however, the agencies first must explain what the function is, then justify its request for each expenditure based on that explanation. It has been hoped that the new budgeting concept will show surplus items and hold the agencies to their duties. It will take several years to reap savings from the new system—or until agencies can be found in the system.

Legislative Finance Committee came from a New Mexico lawmaker last month after hearing a budget request from the Railroad Authority. The request called for $182,000 to be raised in the current fiscal year and was labeled a deficiency appropriation. The story behind the request and the remark from the lawmaker centers around the narrow gauge railroad in New Mexico and Colorado, the same one purchased earlier this year jointly by the two states. Money for the purchase came from the legislature of both states, about a half million. But the New Mexico Legislature at that time was promised that any future funds would come from private or federal sources. In fact, the legislature was promised it would get the state money back eventually because of all the support for the little train project. Doubts now exist about projected revenue figures from the railroad, maintenance money that will be needed in the future and whether or not the little train can ever be a money-making project.

Land Office Checks—

Land Office spokesmen have announced a cross-check of state records pertaining to oil and gas productions, and one legislator called for the opening of other records by new law as a further cross-check on the industry. The Land Office spokesmen said they were establishing future programs to check OGC production receipts against sales and Land Office income. One spokesman said he believed there was a variance now between $500,000 and $600,000 annually. "We don't have an actual check on production," he said. "We are trying to work it up on a computer." One of the cross-check is increased revenues, plus picking up supposed of services, who has observed over two decades of change and growth in Ruidoso, is Laverne Walker. She has been with the village for over twenty-one years and currently is a member of the main office staff. Following Mrs. Walker up, in length of service, are Blair Halladay, Sewer and Sanitation Department head with 15 years, and Arvel Nash, Water Department head also with 15 years of service.

Ruidoso residents, both permanent and seasonal, have good reason to be proud of their village employees. It is difficult to find a village in the United States, equal in population and geographical area, that can boast of such competent and dedicated public employees. We agree with Mr. Hine. The Village of Ruidoso is very fortunate to have the calibre of personnel.

Listed below are the forty-six employees of the Village of Ruidoso. They are without question a most vital part of Ruidoso's Decade of Destiny.

state losses on gross receipts and severance taxes through the shifting of state royalties. Legislation along these lines plus increased budgets for the Land Office to run the cross-checks may be seen in the coming session.

Planning Office—

As forecast earlier this year, the Planning Office came under fire before the Legislative Finance Committee for excessive payroll padding and busy work. The committee was told a $23,000 report on New Mexico recreation, one that has been the laughing stock of the capitol, was produced in order to garner $1.4 million in federal funds from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. One lawmaker comments: "I wonder what the $1.4 million is really for."

Fire Conditions Extremely Hazardous Now, Residents Are Asked to Exercise Caution

BARN FIRE—Shown above is Ray Clarke's barn in the Meander Drive area which was totally demolished by a fire last Friday afternoon. Reported at approximately 8 a.m., the fire destroyed several tons of hay, saddles and riding equipment. Spontaneous combustion was the apparent cause of the blaze. (Ruidoso News Photo)

WELCOMES WASHINGTON DELEGATION—Members of the Mesquero-Apache Tribe and the Ruidoso Valley Ambassadors were on hand Wednesday at the Ruidoso Municipal Airport to greet Undersecretary of Commerce Eusebio Cichanas, Washington, D. Ruidoso Fire Chief Sam Nunally told the News this week that fire danger in the area at the present is extremely hazardous and asks that residents exercise extreme caution during this critical period.

Nunally said, "I'm sure that most residents are aware of the situation, but I think it's necessary to remind them of the restrictions which are currently being enforced."

Until further notice, residents are prohibited from burning fireplaces and all outside burning is prohibited.

Nunally said five fires have been reported in the Ruidoso area this week as well as several others in the county. Three potentially serious grassfires were reported, one near the airport and two in Fountains Heights, and one residence fire and one barn fire which did considerable damage were also reported.

"Adding to the complications, many of the volunteer firemen have been hunting this past week crippling the department considerably," Nunally added. He reminded hunters to be extremely cautious this last weekend of the hunting season.

Nunally warned residents against using inflammable material for Christmas decorations and suggested that they set their Christmas trees in locations where they can keep water.

First Annual Timberon Property Owners Association Held

The first annual Property Owners Association meeting was recently held at Timberon, in southern New Mexico.

Developer, Johnny Mobley, Ruidoso, reported to the group that construction was continuing on schedule, weather permitting. He stated that airplane tie-downs will be placed in the apron area shortly. Also, the center line and fairways for the first nine holes of the Timberon golf course have been started. The fairways should be cleared this winter and the lakes excavated for the water system. By late spring the first nine holes will be basically constructed.

Timberon is a 9,000-acre recreational development high in the Sacramento Mountains of Southern New Mexico. It is surrounded by 300,000 acres of National Forest. The Nation's first "Purely Private" hunting and fishing preserve features a large lodge, 6,000 ft. airstrip, all-weather roads, water and electricity to each home-site, fishing ponds and golf course, now under construction.

For a free inspection tour of Timberon call the Timberon office in El Paso collect (915) 632-6384. To reach Timberon, drive south to and suggested that they set their Christmas trees in locations where they can keep water.

ATTENTION AREA RESIDENTS

The Ruidoso Police Department in cooperation with the Ruidoso Fire Department advises all area residents that the following official village ordinance and traffic codes will be strictly enforced effective immediately.

The village ordinance fire potential in the area and the number of fire alarms in the past week has caused the fire department to request residents to refrain from burning fireplaces and absolutely prohibit any outside burning whatsoever.

The fire department also requests that parents instruct children regarding the extreme danger of playing with matches.

The ordinance and traffic codes which will be enforced with children to be issued to offenders in the future, to these individuals who are unacquainted with the law to follow fire trucks, emergency vehicles, and in the case of approach- ing fire trucks.

SECTION 54-2 — VILLAGE TRAFFIC CODE: FOLLOWING FIRE APPARATUS PROHIBITED—

The driver of a vehicle other than an emergency vehicle shall not follow any fire apparatus or other authorized vehicle traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than 500 feet, or drive into or park such vehicle WITHIN THE BLOCK where the fire apparatus has been stopped in answer to the fire. Penalty for the above offense can be a fine of $300 and/or 90 days in jail.

SECTION 54-3 VILLAGE TRAFFIC CODE: CROSSING FIRE HOSE—

No vehicle shall be driven over any unprotected fire hose when laid down on any street or private driveway to be used at a fire alarm or fire without the consent of the fire department official, or at the direction of the police officer. Penalty for offense can be a fine of $300 and/or 90 days in jail.

SECTION 28 VILLAGE TRAFFIC CODE: OPERATION OF A VEHICLE ON APPROACHING OF AUTHORIZED EMERGENCY VEHICLE—

Upon the approach of an authorized emergency vehicle equipped with at least one lighted lamp exhibiting red light visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of 500 feet to the front of such vehicle, and when the driver is giving audible signal by siren, sirenless whistle, or bell:

The driver of every vehicle shall yield the right of way and immediately drive to a position parallel to, and as close as possible to, the right hand edge or curb of the roadway clear of any intersection, and position until the authorized vehicle has passed, except when otherwise directed by a police officer.

Penalty of the above offense can be a fine of $300 and/or 90 days in jail.

Hardin, who was apparently unfamiliar with the road and lost control on a curve, was pinned under the truck for more than two hours before wreckers lifted the cab.

Funeral services are pending with the Mullins-Hamilton Funeral Home in Alamogordo.

At the regular meeting of the Ruidoso Rotary Club on Tuesday, Dec. 1, Rev. Frank Crow of the First Presbyterian Church in Ruidoso, presented a message on the subject of pride in America. He strongly protested the idea that America, as a nation and a people, is guilty of the poverty and crime that exists in the world.

He eloquently pleaded for appreciation of America, rather than a feeling of guilt about racism, disorder, drug abuse or the neglect of youth.

"He expressed the idea that we have individual sins enough of our own, without feeling guilty for the whole world's sins," a Rotary spokesman said.

Warriors Split Two Games As The 1970-71 Basketball Season Opens

Ruidoso split a two game contest in Tularosa last Tuesday night to open their 1970-71 basketball season. The Warrior varsity was downed 76-32 by the more experienced Tularosa Wildcats. In the first game on the twin bill the Ruidoso Freshmen edged out the Tularosa Freshmen by one point. With the score tied 39, and 34 seconds to play, the Freshmen collected on a free throw to claim the win. Thurman Sanchez is the Warrior Freshman coach.

The Warrior varsity, playing for the first time under new head basketball coach Phil Hood fielded an inexperienced team minus any seniors and with only Bill Ray Davis as a veteran with limited experience last year. Davis was high point man for the Warriors with 12 points while Tularosa's K. Jones tallied 17 for the winners.

In spite of the very deciding loss the Warriors displayed a lot of potential that most observers believe will develop as the season progresses. The Warriors play Socorro Friday night in Socorro.

All my life I sort of had a mope to or a rule to govern my doings by an that was to Meet a Stranger. I try to meet someone that I have never before met before at least once a week. A couple of days ago I was in Wattle's havin a cup of java and seen a bird there I figured I'd never met an ought to. I got to talkin to this gent and the more I talked the more that I realized I had known him for a long time, all my life and my folk had known him all his life. He now lives in Odessa and I had seen him there but didn't realize the association.

I figer we all would be better off by bein as friendly as possible to our neighbor and do our best to make them welcome here in the mountains as we chore want em to come back when we got mow, race homes or comethin. The only trouble I ever had with bein friendly was one time my little woman claimed I was bein too durn friendly with one of them young blondes from the Flat Land and advised against it or else I could figer on gettin off the welcomin committee till I recovered from rollinpinitis.

The SILVER LINING

By DANIEL A. STORM

Here before the fireplace on his sheepskin rug with his little feet stretched close to the blazing log, little Shady Logan, the little Storm Ranch Coyote, (half collie and half coyote) lies dreaming. But this is because this is the right kind of firewood; for him to be sleeping so peacefully without fear of sparks jumping out on him. This is a pinon log. If Shady sees me carrying pinon wood into the house he settles down close to the fireplace; but if I bring in some other kind that pop and send out sparks, he turns away from the fireplace, goes into the kitchen, or a bedroom, or back behind the sofa into his wolf's den.

Yes, I know that the crackling and popping of cedar, juniper and Douglas fir is a cheerful sound on a cold winter's night or through a snowy day. But Shady Logan hates anything resembling gun fire; and sparks from burning wood are to him little incendiary bullets being fired by a lurking enemy.

Yet, "thinking it over slowly," as the old Mexican saying goes, a dog is not a bad judge of fireplace wood after all. A pinon fire is ever so quiet and peaceful. And what could bring us more "Sweet Content" than to be dozing before the fireplace and knowing you can trust this wood not to throw out sparks. Then quite aside from this, there is a certain magic spell of soothing comfort about a pinon fire, that is something all its own. The "Poor Man's" Heating Fuel.

When you start talking about the pinon tree you are touching pretty close to the heart of New Mexico. For hardly is there a spot in the length and breadth of our land where the pinon is not to be found growing; or if not, can not be seen not too far away upon a hill shading the hillside with many a soft and shadowy hue, and tracing a special New Mexican skyline found nowhere else in the world.

There was a time not too long ago when wood was considered the poor man's fuel, and pinon the poorest of the poor. Growing oftentimes where other trees did not grow, this wood was in great abundance, and was mostly used where you could get oak, juniper, wild cherry, walnut, apple and cedar.

What with firewood becoming more and more scarce, and with the pinon tree coming more and more into its own, all that is changed.

This attempt at verse is offered as humbly as the pinon tree offers its services: Song of the Pinon Fireplace Wood Once from the humblest Adobe dwelling. The smoke of me came swilling. I was firewood for the lowly and the poor. But things are not the same any more. The world has changed around And, since wood does not abound, Stacked round the door. A cord or two of me turns out to be A mark of pride and princely luxury.

NMSU Professor Praises White Mountain School

William F. Farley, Associate Professor of Education at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, recently visited White Mountain School with a class of 15 students and was highly complimentary of the situation he encountered there. The class was made up of people, not necessarily "college age" such as housewives, etc., who are interested in the teaching profession.

The professor and prospective teachers were at the school for an entire day and visited all the classrooms as well as the library, special education class and other facilities.

November 23, 1970
Mr. Sid Miller
White Mountain Elementary School
P.O. Box 430
Ruidoso, N. M., 88345
Dear Mr. Miller,

Our visit to your school was most interesting and educationally rewarding. Most impressive was the enthusiasm exhibited by the teachers and the students. Seldom does one see today a truly enjoyable school situation as you have there. From the many schools we have visited recently, yours was the only one we could truly say we saw an air conducive to true learning.

Thank you very much for allowing us to visit with you, the teachers and the students. Yours is a "school" and not a full time "babysitting" service.

Sincerely,
William Farley,
Associate Professor

Cerebral Palsy Assn. Receives New Charter

The United Cerebral Palsy Association has received a new charter that will enable it to expand its programs and services to the entire state of New Mexico. Mrs. Barle P. Fritz, President, said today.

The existing organization, the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Albuquerque, Inc., is being re-incorporated as the United Cerebral Palsy Association of New Mexico, Inc., and expects to serve the entire state of New Mexico instead of the three county area previously served. All other United Cerebral Palsy Association affiliates which previously operated in the state have been inactive, and have been officially dissolved. The Board of Directors is also being reorganized so that the interested individuals from other areas of the state may serve on the board and represent their own locality.

At the present time, the organization sponsors a monthly Cerebral Palsy Clinic, and has been actively supporting one of the special education classrooms under the Albuquerque Public Schools, Summer "Camperships" have also been offered. Other activities include participation in community planning efforts which will provide better services and care for the cerebral palsied, from birth through adult years.

The United Cerebral Palsy Association of New Mexico, Inc., because of this expansion of services, is interested in learning of cerebral palsied children and adults throughout the state. Parents and interested persons may contact the organization office at 4807 Menaul, N. E., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87110.

4-H Roadrunner Club Elects New Officers

The 4-H Roadrunner Club, Home-living II, met Tuesday, Nov. 24 in the home of Mrs. Della Bonnell and elected new officers. Those elected include Cindy Roberts, president; Sheila McClellan, vice-president; Ruth Bonnell, secretary; Gretchen Annala, reporter; Tricia Tadlock, scrapbook; Debbie Jones and Debra Clarke, song leaders; Lesah Parks, Laine Perry and Sheri Arnett, telephone committee; and Debbie Johnson and Beverly Perry, refreshment committee.

Names were drawn for Christmas gifts, with members of the club required to make their own. The Christmas party will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Annala.

CORSICA, S. D., GLOBE: "One hears considerable these days about tax reform. To the person who talks reform it means that he hopes someone else will pay more taxes so he may pay less. We, the people, have long since passed the stage where reform will do any good. The reform will only mean different inequities. What would help, would be tax reduction. This is possible but not probable. The only way there could be tax reduction would be to have the different governments quit throwing money away. That it is not likely to happen. Too many people get the checks of course someone has to put in the money, but why think about that? It's easy to rob Peter to pay Paul."

THE SPOILER IN ACTION—Sun Valley's Corky Fowler swings down the slopes on the new Hart Spoller, an easy-turning ski for novices and intermediates. Constructed of fiberglass and lightweight metal, the Spoller is a "forgiving" ski that makes learning easier for beginners. It holds well on ice, responds to the skier's direction and is maintenance-free. The Mountain Ski Shop and the Sierra Blanca Ski Shop in Ruidoso are two of very few outlets in the country for this new ski.

Wool has been selling in Roswell the past week for 35 to 37 cents per pound. About 500,000 pounds of fine staple wools were sold. This price is about 90 cents per pound on a clean basis. Wool established a new record as this is the first time the price on wool is lower than synthetic fibers.

Your evergreen shrubs need special treatment to prepare them for winter. You can improve their hardiness if you give them some loving care as the cold weather arrives. The foliage of evergreen shrubs often "burn" or become brown during the winter. This is caused by desiccation or drying of the leaves. You should act now to prevent such damage. Water the soil around your shrubs thoroughly this fall before the ground freezes. If dry weather occurs during the winter, apply more water whenever the soil is not frozen. Evergreen plants lose water from the leaves whenever the temperature is above 40 degrees. The greatest losses occur during the warm windy weather. Adequate moisture must be present in the soil to replace that which is lost by the leaves. Apply a two-inch organic mulch of sawdust, wood chips, pine needles or peat moss around your shrubs. This will conserve moisture and help prevent the soil from freezing. Thus, more water will be available for your plants and the possibility of winter burn will be reduced. Broadleaf evergreen shrubs of questionable hardiness may need extra protection during the winter. They may be enclosed in burlap, or you may erect a plastic film screen around them.

Woolgrowers are going to be asked if they would be interested in a ram performance testing station. This was the outcome of a discussion at a meeting at the Arizela Experiment Station last week. This would give the ranchers who raise their own rams a chance to compare the performance of their own ram with others. They would be under the same feeding conditions. If you are interested let me know. Also recommended were investigations into methods of blast control on sheep and cattle or irrigated pastures including alfalfa.

Achievement Records were discussed by Angel Gomes of the State 4-H Office last week. The proper way to fill out the record was reviewed in the morning. The leaders then filled out a Standard Report form in the afternoon. Leadership and project activities along with church, school and other work done were emphasized. Pictures and newspaper clippings should be identified and help tell the story of the 4-H members' record.

The SILVER LINING

By DANIEL A. STORER

But this is because this is the right kind of firewood; for him to be sleeping so peacefully without fear of sparks jumping out on him.

This is a pinon log. If Shady sees me carrying pinon wood into the house he settles down close to the fireplace; but if I bring in some other kind that pop and send out sparks, he turns away from the fireplace, goes into the kitchen, or a bedroom, or back behind the sofa into his wolf's den.

Yes, I know that the crackling and popping of cedar, juniper and Douglas fir is a cheerful sound on a cold winter's night or through a snowy day. But Shady Logan hates anything resembling gun fires, and sparks from burning wood are to him little incendiary bullets being fired by a lurking enemy.

Yes, "thinking it over slowly," as the old Mexican saying goes, a dog is not a bad judge of fireplace wood after all. A pinon fire is ever so quiet and peaceful. And what could bring us more "Sweet Content" than to be doing before the fireplace and knowing you can trust this wood not to throw out sparks. Then quite aside from this, there is a certain magic spell of soothing comfort about a pinon fire, that is something all its own.

The "Poor Man's" Heating Fuel When you start talking about the pinon tree you are touching pretty close to the heart of New Mexico. For hardly is there a spot in the length and breadth of our land where the pinon is not to be found growing, or if not, can not be seen not too far away upon a hill shading the hillside with many a soft and shadowy hue, and tracing a special New Mexico skyline found nowhere else in the world.

There was a time not too long ago when wood was considered the poor man's fuel, and pinon the poorest of the poor. Growing often times where other trees did not grow, this wood was in great abundance, and was mostly used where you could get oak, juniper, wild cherry, walnut, apple and cedar.

What with firewood becoming more and more scarce, and with the pinon tree coming more and more into its own, all that is changed.

This attempt at verse is offered as humbly as the pinon tree offers its services: Song of the Pinon Fireplace Wood Once from the humblest Adobe dwelling

The smoke of me came swirling, I was firewood for the lowly (and the poor) But things are not the same any more.

The world has changed around And, since wood does not abound, Stacked round the door, A cord or two of me turns out to be A mark of pride and princely luxury.

"Oh, Pinon Tree, Oh, Pinon Tree!" These words adapted from the song beginning: "Oh, Christmas Tree, Oh, Christmas Tree," may have a ring of prophecy.

There was a time when they would laugh at you if they said you could not have a Blue Spruce for a Christmas tree. Then, on the other hand, if that day you told someone you would have a pinon tree for a Christmas tree, you would get the laugh again.

I am just a plain and humble Pinon Tree. But I'm more important than I ever used to be. I once was fairly good For Stove and fire-place wood But being your Christmas Tree was not for me.

Most nearly all needle-type evergreen trees, like the pine, Douglas Fir, Blue Spruce, White Fir, White Pine, Balsam, and others start out with a Christmas Tree form and keep this same shape all their life, so that in old age, they look like a giant Christmas tree. The pinon, on the other hand, for reasons best known to itself, will grow up like a Christmas tree for a certain height, and then suddenly spread out and turn into a tree with a wide, spreading top. This sudden change in form is one of the ways of the Pinon that sets it off from all the rest of its companions. Maybe in this form it feels it has other work to do.

Yet while the Pinon is offering itself to the American home as a Christmas tree, it makes a beautiful, fragrant, and long-lasting one. And the fact that the tree is a rugged grower gives us hope that we will have Christmas trees from now on.

Then Hurrah for the little Pinon A tree that we claim for our own.

NMSU Professor Praises White Mountain School

William F. Farley, Associate Professor of Education at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, recently visited White Mountain School with a class of 15 students and was highly complimentary of the situation he encountered there. The class was made up of people, not necessarily "college age" such as housewives, etc., who are interested in the teaching profession.

The professor and prospective teachers were at the school for an entire day and visited all the classrooms as well as the library, special education class and other facilities.

Sidney F. Miller, elementary principal, recently received the following letter from Farley.

November 23, 1970
Mr. Sid Miller
White Mountain Elementary School
P. O. Box 450
Ruidoso, N. M., 88345
Dear Mr. Miller:

Our visit to your school was most refreshing and educationally rewarding. Most impressive was the enthusiasm exhibited by the teachers and the students. Seldom does one see today a truly enjoyable school situation as you have there. From the many schools we have visited recently, yours was the only one we could truly say we saw an air conducive to true learning.

Thank you very much for allowing us to visit with you, the teachers, and the students. Yours is a "school" and not a full time "babysitting" service.

Sincerely,
J. William Farley,
Associate Professor

Cerebral Palsy Assn. Receives New Charter

The United Cerebral Palsy Association has received its new charter that will enable it to expand its programs and services to the entire state of New Mexico. Mrs. Bartie P. Fritz, President, said today.

The existing organization, the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Albuquerque, Inc., is being re-incorporated as the United Cerebral Palsy Association of New Mexico, Inc., and expects to serve the entire state of New Mexico instead of the three county area previously served. All other United Cerebral Palsy Association affiliates which previously operated in the state have been inactive, and have been officially dissolved.

The Board of Directors is also being reorganized so that the interested individuals from other areas of the state may serve on the board and represent their own locality.

"At the present time, the organization sponsors a monthly Cerebral Palsy Clinic, and has been actively supporting one of the special education classrooms under the Albuquerque Public Schools, Summer 'Camperships' have also been offered. Other activities include participation in community planning efforts which will provide better services and care for the cerebral palsied, from birth through adult years.

The United Cerebral Palsy Association of New Mexico, Inc., because of this expansion of services, is interested in learning of cerebral palsied children and adults throughout the state. Parents and interested persons may contact the organization office at 4307 Menaul, N. E., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87110.

4-H Roadrunner Club Elects New Officers

The 4-H Roadrunner Club, Home-living II, met Tuesday, Nov. 24 in the home of Mrs. Della Bonnell and elected new officers. Those elected include Cindy Roberts, president; Sheila McClellan, vice-president; Ruth Bonnell, secretary; Gretchen Annala, reporter; Tricia Tadlock, scrapbook; Debbie Jones and Debra Clarke, song leaders; Lesah Parks, Laine Perry and Sheri Arnett, telephone committee, and Debbie Johnson and Beverly Perry, refreshment committee.

Names were drawn for Christmas gifts, with members of the club required to make their own. The Christmas party will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Annala.

CORSICA, S. D., GLOBE: "One hears considerable these days about tax reform. To the person who talks reform it means that he hopes someone else will pay more taxes so he may pay less. We, the people, have long since passed the stage where reform will do any good. The reform will only mean different inequities. What would help, would be tax reduction. This is possible but not probable. The only way there could be tax reduction would be to have the different governments quit throwing money away. That it not likely to happen. Too many people get the checks. Of course someone has to put in the money, but why think about that? It's easy to rob Peter to pay Paul."

THE SPOILER IN ACTION—Sun Valley's Corky Fowler swings down the slopes on the new Hart Spoiler, an easy-turning ski for novices and intermediates. Constructed of fiberglass and lightweight metal, the Spoiler is a "forgiving" ski that makes learning easier for beginners. It holds well on ice, responds to the skier's direction and is maintenance-free. The Mountain Ski Shop and the Sierra Blanca Ski Shop in Ruidoso are two of very few outlets in the country for this new ski.

Wool has been selling in Roswell the past week for 35 to 37 cents per pound. About 500,000 pounds of fine staple wools were sold. This price is about 90 cents per pound on a clean basis. Wool established a new record as this is the first time the price on wool is lower than synthetic fibers.

Your evergreen shrubs need special treatment to prepare them for winter. You can improve their hardiness if you give them some loving care as the cold weather arrives. The foliage of evergreen shrubs often "burns" or become brown during the winter. This is caused by desiccation or drying of the leaves. You should act now to prevent such damage. Water the soil around your shrubs thoroughly this fall before the ground freezes. If dry weather occurs during the winter, apply more water when ever the soil is not frozen. Evergreen plants lose water from the leaves whenever the temperature is above 40 degrees. The greatest losses occur during the warm windy weather. Adequate moisture must be present in the soil to replace that which is lost by the leaves. Apply a two-inch organic mulch of sawdust, wood chips, pine needles or peat moss around your shrubs. This will conserve moisture and help prevent the soil from freezing. Thus, more water will be available for your plants and the possibility of winter burn will be reduced. Broadleaf evergreen shrubs of questionable hardiness may need extra protection during the winter. They may be enclosed in burlap, or you may erect a plastic film screen around them.

Woolgrowers are going to be asked if they would be interested in a ram performance testing station. This was the outcome of a discussion at a meeting at the Artesia Experiment Station last week. This would give the ranchers who raise their own rams a chance to compare the performance of their own ram with others. They would be under the same feeding conditions. If you are interested let me know. Also recommended were investigations into methods of blast control on sheep and cattle or irrigated pastures including alfalfa.

Achievement Records were discussed by Angel Gomez of the State 4-H Office last week. The proper way to fill out the record was reviewed in the morning. The leaders then filled out a Standard Report form in the afternoon. Leadership and project activities along with church, school and other work done were emphasized. Pictures and newspaper clippings should be identified and help tell the story of the 4-H members' record.

Capitan News

By BARTLEY McDONOUGH

The students of the Capitan Grade School held their 17th Annual Thanksgiving Program, Tuesday afternoon, November 24, in the Capitan School Gym. Robert Richardson led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The 5th grade gave a Thanksgiving choral reading. All the grade school students then sang America. This was followed by a Thanksgiving Prayer offered by Chaplain Alfred Kline.

The 1st and 2nd graders were dressed as Indians. The girls did the Maiden Dance while the boys did the Dance of the Braves. This was very clever.

The 3rd grade followed with "Nothing's Impossible." Three problems included arithmetic, reading, and writing. Grades 4-6 then sang "This Land Is Your Land."

The 4th grade did a skit entitled "Is This The Way?" The 5th grade did a skit entitled "Thanksgiving Celebration." Bert Shroenest was the key member in this skit. He was assisted by his various classmates who were dressed in various colorful costumes. The program ended with the traditional singing of "Over the River and Through the Woods." Mrs. Leola Plington was in charge of the program. The overflow crowd went away thinking that this was the best Thanksgiving program given at the school in many years.

Members of the Capitan Woman's Club will have a progressive dinner Friday evening, December 11. Stops along the way will be at the homes of Doris Engeling and Judy Summerfield. The main course will be served at Kathy Dean's home. Special guests will be club members' husbands. Each club member is to bring a gift for a boy or a girl to be given to the Ft. Stanton Hospital.

The top four officers in this organization are — President: Kathy Dean, vice president — Tommie Allen, secretary — Daylene Huey, and treasurer — Leanita Langford.

Rachael Evanno Lacy was born November 28, 7 p.m., at the Ruidoso Hospital. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lacy. Rachael weighed 7 lbs. Calendar of events: December 4 — Hondo (basketball) there — 6 p.m., December 5 — Hagerman HERE, 8:30 p.m., December 11 Clouderoff HERE — 8:30 p.m., December 12 — Lake Arthur there — 6 p.m., December 17-19 — Clouderoff tournament. The Christmas break will be December 23 — January 3.

SHORT ITEMS: The Capitan Lions Club recently paid for the repair of a school picnic. — The B team's cheerleader uniforms were made by Wiley Jean Austin's mother. The tentative date for the Christmas band concert is December 22. — Former Capitan coach, Melvin Romero, was visiting in town last weekend. Romero is not coaching this year. He is a guidance counselor for Las Cruces High School. — A shower was held in Capitan last Saturday for Peggy Rae Darling. — Warrant Officer William O. Clark is due back in the United States on January 15, 1971. Mr. Clark will have completed a year's duty in Viet Nam as a helicopter pilot upon his return. — Report cards were due to go out, Wednesday, December 2. — The state convention of Lions International will be in Ruidoso the last of next May. — Neo Vallejos and Kenneth Stone of the Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Association were finishing up work this week — natural gas for the Carrizozo Schools. This duo has quite a backlog to catch up on both in Capitan and Carrizozo.

If you haven't done so already, make it a point to visit The Store adjacent to Jenkins' Grocery. The store contains primitives, collectables, antiques, tinware, old trunks and picture frames, crockery, and other items. In addition, there is a TV repair shop located at The Store. The business is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Beck.

Next meeting of the Capitan Board of Education is December 7 — 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office. School Menu: December 7 — sloppy joe, spinach, carrot-apple salad, homemade buns, chocolate pudding, milk. December 8 — meat pattie, mashed potato, gravy, apple salad, hot rolls, butter, cookie, milk. December 9 — enchiladas, pinto beans, combination salad, butter dips, fello, milk. December 10 — barbecued weiners, baked potato, hot rolls, butter, applesauce and cookie, milk. December 11 — hamburger, lettuce, onion, tomato, pickles, green beans, buns, brownies, milk. The fire alarm sounded at 2:23 p.m. last Saturday with smoke west of town. A fire had started 2 miles west of Capitan and was rapidly spreading north of Highway 380. The fire appeared to be controlled by sundown or maybe a little earlier after burning out 101 acres. During the afternoon a B-17 slurry bomber from Alamogordo was called in. Luckily the wind died down somewhat after dark.

The Smokey Bear Officials were greatly appreciative of the cooperation given by the local people. Thanks for a job well done also goes to the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department and the Camp Sierra Blanca Boys. Doing an outstanding job on this fire were members of the Game and Fish Department. A fire broke out at White Oaks a little later on the same afternoon. The cooperation of hunters in the area, local people, members of the Game and Fish Department, and the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department, helped keep this fire down to eight acres.

A Smokey Bear District official said, Monday, November 30, that the BI or bulldip index stood at 188, which is extremely high. Visitors to our great outdoors are urged — 1. never leave a fire unattended. 2. bring a shovel and a little water with which to put their campfire out. 3. protect fire from wind and keep it small. 4. keep a clean area of about 10 feet around the campfire. 5. wild animals often dig up buried garbage. It is better to bring garbage back to a garbage can in or near town. 6. smoke in a clean area and make sure your smokes are dead out. 7. always BE CAREFUL!

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our thanks to everyone who helped control the grass fire on our property last Saturday.

— Jack and Ethel Robinson

Your Social Security
Young people who work during the coming holiday season are earning more than the money in their pay envelopes.

"They may be building very valuable work credit toward social security protection for themselves and their future families," according to Bill Riggs, social security field representative.

Eligibility for social security retirement, disability, survivors and Medicare hospital insurance benefits are based on "quarters of coverage" — 2-month periods during which a worker and his employer contributes to social security. "People in most jobs get a quarter of coverage if they earn $50 or more within this 3-month period," Riggs explained.

"In many cases, social security credit based on holiday jobs later provided just enough coverage to bring a young family needed income upon the severe disability or death of a parent."

"A father or mother, 23 or younger, protects the family with survivors benefits after only 6 quarters of work credit."

"A young worker, disabled between 24 and 31, needs work credit for half the time between age 21 and the time he had to stop working."

"If disability starts before age 24, only 6 quarters of credit are needed in the 3 years preceding disability," Riggs concluded.

For Christmas — Get the best in Indian Arts and Crafts — Beads — Necklaces — Apache Hand Crafts Indian Dells, Bennett's Indian Shop — west on Highway 70.
