There may or may not be any relationship to the historic Lincoln County War and the rumored conflict between two area television cable companies. About as close a relationship as possible would be the similarity between cows and cables, you see both are related to oddities. For example, a black cow eats green grass and gives white milk and as for the TV cable, through a black cable and into a colorless picture-tube come colors of all kinds. In truth the area has had a sufficient number of wars, social, economic, moral, and political to adequately and historically tell our posterity about the errors of our ways. It is possible to have cows and cables in the same area... they both leave their marks.

Our advertising man seems to continually stay in hot water. This time, not counting the fact that the prime coat of paint on his new house is a racing type green, he has mis-labeled a political hopeful in the forthcoming state election. He extends his sincerest apologies to primary election champion, Tom Hammon, who was labeled as a Republican in last week's NEWS. To set the record straight, Tom is not a Republican, Tom, while independent, Constitutionalist, Federalist or Confederate. The truth is he is a Democrat.

The Ruidoso Valley Noon Lions Club has agreed to erect a building to house a public address system, storage, and concession booth at the Little League Baseball Park next Monday evening at 8:00 p.m. All Noon Time Lions are asked to meet at the park for the night time project. Speaking of Little League activities we certainly appreciate Roger Marshall's help in giving us the current league standings, schedule and game scores.

Al Stubbs, Roswell Daily Record high superior potter, spent the week in Ruidoso filling in for Lincoln County Bureau Roswell staff writer and owner of a vicious but tiny Chihuahua, Jerry McComick. Jerry is vacationing and is expected back the first of the week, dog and all. Al's visit to Ruidoso was more meaningful to us because he managed to drop by our office for a little while. I must say he was at his cynical best as not once did he read our news or look over our notes. In turn we did not ride his motorized bicycle he left in storage over night in our shop.

I received a letter from Grady H. Dodd, Texaco Distributor in Ft. Worth, Texas recently. Grady informed me that in the High Sales Ruidoso News Purse at Ruidoso Downs his horse was picked to win first place. He also stated that it was really coincidental that he had just subscribed to the Ruidoso News just before learning about his horse being selected as a choice first in the eleventh race. He had several firsts including his horse and his subscription. I had a first also but won't take time to mention it.

Teacher Wins

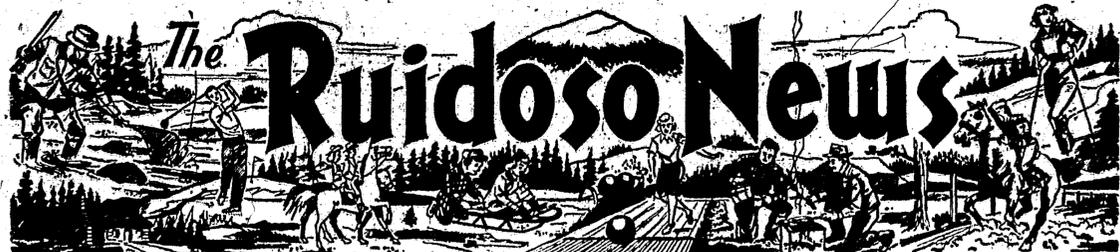

A Ruidoso teacher recently was awarded second prize in a creative writing workshop at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. Mrs. A. J. Thompson, who teaches pre-first here, won the prize for her short story, "Just Call Ahead", which she describes as a mild satire on present day life.

Prizes are awarded each year at the workshop by the Sunrock Oil Co. to the first 3 pieces and 2 honorable mentions. Instructors for this 16th annual Creative Writing Conference were Stanley Berne and Arlene Zekowski. Husband and wife, they are professors in the English department at Eastern and are both prolific writers themselves.

First place in the short story contest was awarded to Mrs. V. McGinnis of Clovis and third prize went to Gary Bassett of Alamogordo.

Eastern hosts these workshops each summer between the spring and summer semesters. Conferences are held in several disciplines including math, science, education and English.

School Board Hires Ruidoso Graduate As Assistant Coach

The Ruidoso Board of Education hired Darrel Stierwalt, a 1965 Ruidoso High School graduate, as an assistant football coach and social studies teacher at their meeting last Thursday night. Stierwalt, who recently received his B. S. degree from New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, replaces Travis Lee. Lee resigned to accept a position as head coach at Hot Springs High School in Truth or Consequences.

Stierwalt, 23, majored in physical education and minored in history at New Mexico State. He and his wife, Molly, have one daughter, Dana Dawn, 2.

The board also hired Pamela Sue Beard as a fifth grade teacher at Nob Hill. Lola Marie McNeil as a special education teacher in grades 1-6, and Mary Margaret Crocetto and Ruth Ann McQuire as instructional aids.

Mrs. Beard replaces Tom McNeil who has been hired as high school principal in Hobbs. She received her B. S. from Texas Tech University in Lubbock in May of this year. She also attended Lubbock Christian College for two years.

Mrs. McNeil is originally from Crosby County, Texas. She taught the third grade in the Ruidoso school system for two years in 1965-67, and was in special education at Bent Mesquero for the past three years.

Mrs. Crocetto is a 1964 graduate of Southern Utah High School and attended Eastern New Mexico University.

The board also approved and signed contracts for 1970-71 with high school principal M. B. McGuire and elementary school principal Ed Miller. It was noted at the meeting that there are still vacancies for 1970-71 for a complained English-Spanish teacher, a high school counselor and a teacher aid for the Johnson-O'Malley project.

Resignations were accepted "with regret" from Travis Lee, Tom McNeil, and elementary second grade teacher Mary Ellen Dumas.

In other action the board awarded a bid to Wimberly Electric of Ruidoso to install lighting fixtures in Nob Hill Elementary School for $2,823.

The next regular meeting of the board will be at 7 p.m., July 14. Calls for bids on school supplies, buildings and contents insurance, and on milk were authorized by the board, and a special meeting was set for 5 p.m. June 25 to open the bids.

The board also approved and signed the audit contracts for 1969-70 with Ruidoso CPA Bill Dean, and acknowledged receipt of $7,800 increase in the Johnson-O'Malley Fund for the system's Indian students.

"Kindergarten" Features Only New Mexico Horses

Ten finely tuned two-year olds will meet the starter in the second running of the "Rio Grande Kindergarten Futurity," designed for New Mexico bred and/or foaled thoroughbreds. To be contested over the abbreviated distance of four furlongs, the "Kindergarten" will carry an estimated purse of $25,000.

Although limited only to New Mexico horses, the "Kindergarten" field represents the finest in both quality and breeding. The breeding industry in New Mexico has grown by leaps and bounds since the inception of this restricted race, along with its "sister" race, the "Rio Grande Futurity" at 6 furlongs which will be run Aug. 15.

The list of finalists, which have qualified for the "Kindergarten" out of last week's trial races, represent ten very evenly matched individuals, many of whom have the credentials to become "any kind" of a horse. Since there were three trials, the first three finishers in each trial race automatically reach the finals, with one of the fourth place honors, also going in the finals period. Among the most outstanding performers in the trials was handled by a dandy race paper. The board has no desire to slur Wood's reputation, and his dismissal was made in complete accordance with the agreement made on his hiring.

The directors agreed to the appointment of Pat Baldwin, of the Ruidoso Mercantile to replace director Al Sparks who has moved to Abilene, Texas. V. A. Miller will replace Sparks as second vice-president, a position on the board which he also held.

The directors also reelected the Chamber banquet for September 12 and heard director Don Driver report that the recent Travel Show in the Western Plaza Shopping Center in Amarillo registered more people and received more response than the 1968 show.

DiPaolo added that he "regretted the harshness with which the mat-

Village Council To Close Off River For Children's Fishing Area

The Ruidoso Village Council unanimously approved a recommendation at the June 11 village council meeting to close off Twin Rivers Park and create a children's fishing area in Ruidoso.

Councilman Wayne Estes, who is chairman of the village recreation commission, made the recommendation which includes plans to construct horseshoe and tennis courts, a nature trail, two foot bridges across the river, and another large shelter in the park.

Estes' overall recreation program was approved by the council in which he recommended the promotion of a children's zoo in Ruidoso and the marking of the basketball courts in the Schoolhouse Park to provide for badminton, Volleyball, and other sports.

Attention was called to the fact that the village has $14,000 in the recreation program fund to finance the new proposal.

The council also heard Earl Johnson's report that Saturday, June 13, and Sunday, June 14 more than 70 street signs were erected at intersections on Sudderth Drive from the "Y" to the Sudderth-Mechum intersection in Ruidoso.

Chamber Directors Agree To Hold Alto Lake Clean-Up

The Board of Directors of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, faced with the possibility of the closing of Alto Lake Reservoir agreed Monday night to sponsor a clean-up day Saturday, June 20.

The chamber is asking all directors, chamber members, and any other interested citizens to meet at the Chamber office Saturday morning at 9 a.m.

Pickups and trailers are needed to haul the debris from the banks of the lake. They expect to finish the job by noon Saturday if enough people are assisting. The group will also possibly spend some time picking up trash on Highway 97 up to Alto Lake.

Chamber representatives say that the Eagle Creek Water Association is threatening to close the lake if something isn't done about the situation there. The chamber urges fishermen and other people who enjoy the lake to refrain from littering in the lake area and to use the trash receptacles there.

Ruidoso High School Gym Floor Completely Refinished This Week

The Ruidoso High School gym floor will have a new look for the 1970 fall semester beginning next September. The new look is the result of a Three Day Floor Maintenance Clinic held this week by the nationally known West Chemical Co. of New York. The company's regional office in Dallas, Texas programmed the project.

The floor has been completely stripped of the previous covering and when finished will have a surface that will last from seven to ten years, according to West Chemical regional director, Don Kilgore. Kilgore also stated, "The floor will conform to all NCAA requirements for the 1970-71 basketball season. Out of bound stripes and recently added four line stripes will be added as will the NCAA color scheme requirements."

Pat Valliant, Ruidoso School superintendent, and Bob Ford, Ruidoso High School maintenance chief, were instrumental in setting up the clinic which saved the school around $3,000.

West Chemical furnished over $2,000 worth of equipment to complete the refinishing process as well as provided nine of the company's district supervisors to operate the necessary equipment. The 97 year old chemical company holds an average of six such clinics per year throughout the United States and Canada. This is the first such clinic to be held in New Mexico and serves as a floor maintenance training school for school employees and West Chemical personnel.

Those attending the clinic included Dick Northrop, Dallas, Texas; David S. Clark, Ft. Worth, Texas; Jim Davis, Las Cruces; Nelson St. Clair, San Angelo, Texas; Mike Jacques, El Paso, Texas; Boyd Roberts, Lubbock, Texas; John Nugent and Kilgore, both of Dallas.

Tom Grady Elected "Father of the Year" By New Mexico Cowbelles

Tom Grady, N. M. man, Tom Grady has been elected by the New Mexico Cowbelles as "Father of the Year". The Cowbelles is the national organization of the New Mexico Ranchers Association.

Grady is a life long resident of New Mexico. His family came to the state in 1902, settled at Texico, 10 miles east of the present city of Clovis. At that time there was no town at Clovis, New Mexico. He grew up here and with his family engaged in ranching and stock raising.

In 1942 he moved to Roy, New Mexico where he made his home until 1962 when he again returned to Clovis and Texico.

Tom is the father of three children: Tom, Jr., who with his wife Betty has a daughter Kathy and son Randy; his wife Sarah and daughter Suzanne make their home in Amarillo, Texas. Chips from the Rangers Log

The Visitor Information Service, Lincoln National Forest, is now in full swing. This service is being provided to the public for their enjoyment by the Ruidoso Ranger District. It is hoped that visitors to the National Forests will use this service to gain a fuller understanding of the Multiple Use Management.

New this year on the Ruidoso District is the Cedar Creek Visitor Information Center. Located immediately adjacent to the Ranger Station on Highway 37, the new Information Center is open to the public daily except Tuesdays.

At the Visitor Center the public can learn about the Lincoln National Forest and the Ruidoso Ranger District. Multiple Use Management of the District will be explained. Information about the forest plants and animals as well as places to see can also be obtained at the Visitor Center.

In addition to the new Visitor Center, nature walks and night programs will be conducted on the Ruidoso Ranger District. There is no charge for these programs and everybody is welcomed. Persons attending talks are asked only to bring their own chairs and blankets in order to be comfortable. Every Friday a nature walk is scheduled at two o'clock at South Fork Campground. This is the Pine Cone Trail Walk. It is a short walk well suited to people of all ages. A Forest Naturalist will conduct the walk explaining the plants and animals found along the stream and mountainsides. Persons wishing to walk the trail without a Naturalist are welcomed. The trail is self guiding and starts at the VIB Shelter in the campground.

On Friday evening at 8:15 p.m. a Naturalist will present a campfire program in the South Fork Campground. Using slides or a movie the Naturalist will discuss Multiple Use Management and explain some of the interesting relationships between the forest environment and its inhabitants.

On the same evening and at the same time a Naturalist will present a similar program at the Cedar Creek Visitor Information Center. On Saturdays the Pine Cone Walk and different night programs at South Fork and Cedar Creek will be presented at the same times.

Also on Saturdays a walk will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. from the top of the Sierra Blanca Ski Area. This walk is a new experiment in the Visitor Information Service. Participants must be prepared to purchase a ticket to ride the Gondola to the top and walk the two mile distance to the bottom. No restrictions are placed on the participants. A Naturalist will guide the party through a portion of the White Mountain Wilderness. Along the way hikers will see a Major Ski Area, a watershed, and the largest Cork Bark Fir in the United States.

On Sundays only the Pine Cone Trail Walk is scheduled at 10:00 a.m. in the South Fork Campground. Groups who desire talks or walks other than those scheduled should contact the Ranger Station. Thursdays are set aside for these groups.

Both autos skidded 180 degrees and came to rest facing the east. Extensive damage was done to the Ford, and approximately $300 damage done to the Oldsmobile.

Investigating officer was Carl Jorren of the Ruidoso Police Department, assisted by Ruidoso Police Chief O. S. Montes, and by J. T. Jones, State Highway Police-

Citizens and Postal Workers To Honor Retired 'Zozo' Postmaster

A retirement party for Roy Harman, who has retired after 32 years of service in the Carrizozo post office, will be held Sunday, June 21 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Recreation Center in Carrizozo. The party will be hosted by the people of Carrizozo, postmasters of the Sectional Center in Carrizozo and the Lincoln County postmasters.

Harman was born on a ranch at the foot of Pass Mountain near White Oaks, attended school in White Oaks, 1 year in Captain, and graduated from Carrizozo High School in '25 and began working for the railroad as a call boy when he was still in school.

After five years on the railroad he began working at the Bar W Ranch at the beginning of the five more years. Then in February of 1934 he went to work for the post office in Carrizozo.

He stayed with the post office until August, 1943, when he enlisted in the Army. He remained in the Army until his discharge in October of 1945, during which time he served with the Army post office in the China-Burma-India theatre.

Following his discharge, he returned to Carrizozo where he began working in the post office on Nov. 13, 1945. On May 13, 1959, Harman was promoted to postmaster, a position he held until May 1, 1970, when he took voluntary retirement.

Harman and his wife, Carolyn, have one son, William E. Harman, who is a Captain in the U. S. Army. William returned from Vietnam in April, 1970, and has been reassigned to Germany where he and his wife, Barbara, and their son, Shawn William, 2, now live.

Harman says he has no immediate plans but will remain at home in Carrizozo for the present. He says he hopes to find part-time employment in the future.

Fred Cravez of Carrizozo was promoted to post master on Harman's retirement.

Tax Exemptions For Part-Time Workers

Students working for the summer, and other part-time workers may be eligible to exemptions from income tax withholding under the Tax Reform Act of 1969. Forms for claiming this exemption are available from Internal Revenue Service offices in New Mexico.

Any employee who has no income tax liability for the year should use Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4E, to claim the exemption, stated Marjorie M. Johnson, IRS District Director for New Mexico.

For 1970, a single person who makes less than $1,725 pays no tax. This is based on the $1,000 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $635. A taxpayer over 65 can earn wages up to $2,250 without incurring a tax liability, Mr. Johnson explained.

Anyone who qualifies can fill out the form and give it to his employer to claim the exemption from income tax withholding on his wages. Employers needing quantities of the new Form W-4E may obtain them from the IRS District Office in Albuquerque.

Schedule A (Form W-4), revised to reflect the liberalization rules that were also provided in the Tax Reform Act of 1969 for claiming additional withholding exemptions based on large itemized deductions, are also available from IRS offices.

Class of '65 Reunion Planned

Plans are being made for a five-year reunion of the 1965 graduating class of Ruidoso High School for late this summer. Anyone with current address of members of the class is asked to contact Lois Lane at the Ruidoso News, on Box 165, Ruidoso as soon as possible. Jim Swales, class president, reports that from the people he has contacted the best dates for the reunion are during two weekends, either August 28-30 or September 4-6.

Members of the class should express their preference for either of the weekends to either Lois or Jim. He may be contacted at Goodwin & Associates, 2172 Belle St., San Bernardino, Calif. 92404.

Wood Claims Concern Over His Dismissal

Many Ruidosoans are concerned over the firing of the chamber manager, according to W. R. "Woody" Wood.

Many businessmen and women who are presently chamber members are concerned over his dismissal and the lack of reasons behind this action. Wood says he has had many calls from Chamber members offering their support. Anyone interested is asked to call Mr. Wood at 257-4378.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Charles McCallan, Editor, Ruidoso News
I am writing this letter regarding the story in last week's paper saying to do with pituitary gland and hormone therapy of Ruidoso school boys. I know the story to be most untrue for I and several other citizens of Ruidoso witnessed at least the shooting of one boy being taken to a nearby veterinary clinic. The dog was shot separately in a very dangerous manner, in the presence of five young children. Also, the doctor who was supposed to shoot the dog, had never been a doctor, and in fact, I said, the man had the shorts he was in going to hunt so shoot the dog, he would not.

No need to sweat out another summer...

Timberon is here!

THE NATION'S FIRST 'PURELY PRIVATE'. HUNTING & FISHING PRESERVE FOR HOME OR HOLIDAY LIVING

Fly at our expense to... CLOUDCROFT COUNTRY!

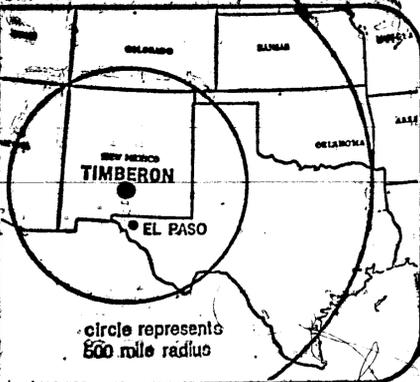

1. WHAT IS TIMBERON...

Timberon is a private mountain retreat created from 4000 acres of virgin, primeval forest. A truly private hunting & fishing preserve where nothing less than 3 acre homesites can be developed. (Except in the golf course and mobile home areas.) No city-sized lots here. The idea is to provide plenty of green grass, tall trees and room to grow. With anti-pollution restrictions, without overcrowding. Where herds of mule deer feel free to roam. Make Timberon your place for all seasons!

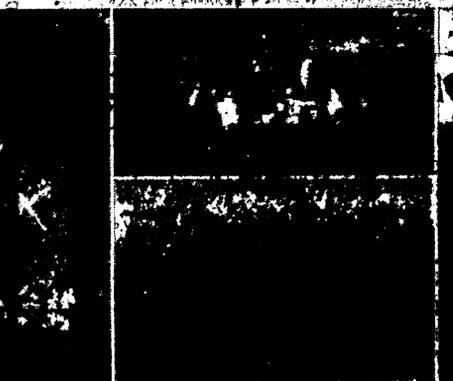

2. WHERE IS TIMBERON...

Timberon is located in Southern New Mexico's tall-timbered Sacramento Mountain Range—25 miles from the ski slopes of Cloudcroft and just 15 minutes by shuttle plane from Ruidoso. Where the air is always clean and cool at 7000 feet. And right next door, there's 300,000 acres of heavily wooded National Forest land just waiting to be explored!

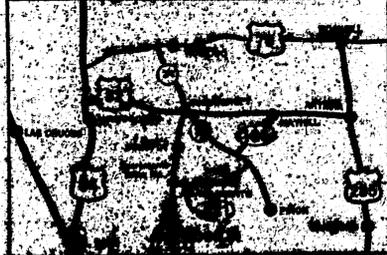

3. WHY TIMBERON NOW...

Some at Timberon are booming! Prices must rise as permanent improvements (most of which are under construction now) are completed. Several 3 acre homesites are now being offered for a limited time at special pre-development prices. When the 18 hole golf course, swimming facilities, 5000 foot airstrip, swimming and camp, Sportman's Lodge with several accommodations, and 50 acre game preserve are completed, homesites will double in value. Sooner or later you'll come up to Timberon. MAKE NOW!

Commissioners Meet Saturday Morning
 Lincoln County Commissioners met in a special meeting Saturday, June 13, with an architect and a consulting engineer to discuss an apparent settling or "creeping" problem in the new wing of the Lincoln County Courthouse.
 Commissioners Don Stark and Holt Lovelace were present at the meeting. Alamo, architect, Charles Nolan, and John A. Fulgenzi, consulting engineer from Amarillo, told the commissioners that the courthouse structure was basically sound and readjustments of the windows to give ample span would solve the problem. The commissioners agreed to bring in some

Annual Meeting and Party Scheduled At Alto Country Club
 The annual meeting of the members of the Alto Lakes Golf Course and Country Club will be held Saturday, June 20.
 Unique in its decor with the scenic surroundings, the club house has attracted the attention of many southwest interior designers and builders. The interior was designed and planned by a widely known former Southwestern interior designer who presently is a design consultant in his own firm, Davy Craig and Associates of San Francisco.
 Club members, arriving in advance of the weekend activities stated that "they were astonished upon seeing the truly amazing progress made on the construction and furnishings of the club house."
 The new practice putting green is completely grass covered and will be in use soon. The championship tennis courts, both from design and construction, are expected to achieve a reputation qualifying them as ranking with the best in the nation.
 On Friday, preceding the annual meeting, the Lakeside Corporation will host a gala party for Alto Lakes Country Club members and their guests. The 7:45 p.m. party will be held in the club house.

ALTO'S FIRST HOLE IN ONE

Petty's drive of 145 yards on a par-3 hole will go down on record as the first for the nationally known scenic course. LeRoy Gooch, left, general manager of the course, extends congratulations to Petty. The invited group also included Jack Jcanagry, Sharty Herabuckle, LeRoy Gooch, Ken Newton and Ralph Petty, Jr. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Susan Raye, Hee-Haw Television Star, To Appear This Weekend
 Area residents and tourists will have the opportunity to see Susan Raye of the famed Hee-Haw television show when she appears at the Chaparral Motor Hotel's Chaparral Jamboree Center. The television starlet will appear here Friday and Saturday night, June 19 and 20.
 Susan Raye, who coventeen before she paid much attention to the twangy guitars and the happy-mourful sounds and songs of country music. Now, only a few years later, she is a recognized country artist with a rewarding career and a Capital recording artist.
 Born in Eugene, Ore., in 1944, Susan had no early ambitions of being a professional singer, although she did join a rock trio during her senior year in high school. The group disbanded, unlamented, before Susan had graduated.
 Several months later, Susan's mother told her about an audition for a country singer on station KWAY in Forest Grove, the small town near Portland, Ore., where Susan was raised. Unfamiliar with country music but interested in the possibility of working in radio, Susan bought some country albums, learned some songs, and won the audition.
 For the next year, Susan Raye worked at KWAY, doing a live country program in the morning and serving as a disc jockey in the afternoon. As her local reputation grew, she started singing in clubs at night, and eventually became a regular on a Portland television show, Hoedown.
 In 1963, while working in a Portland club, Susan was "discovered" by Jack McFadden, manager of country music great Buck Owens. Buck flew Susan and her mother to his headquarters in Bakersfield, Calif., for an audition, and later the same year she joined him on a tour of Washington and Oregon.
 After the tour, Susan remained in Portland, continuing her television and personal appearances. But in 1968 she signed a contract with Buck and moved to Bakersfield. "I wanted to fully understand today's country music and to improve my own performance. In Bakersfield, I will be able to do this."
 A year later, in September, 1969, Susan released her first Capitol single, Maybe If I Close My Eyes, under the management and guidance of Buck. She has since released the hit country version of Just A Little Love In Your Heart and a duet with Buck Owens, We're Gonna Get Together.
 Now permanent member of the Buck Owens All American Show, Susan is also a regular guest on Buck's national television program, Hee-Haw. She has appeared in Las Vegas, both with Buck and as a solo artist, and she has played innumerable clubs. Under Buck's guidance, she continues to

Angel Eyes Wins Kansas Futurity

L. R. French's home-bred, Miss Angel Eyes, sired by St. Bar and out of the grand matron, Miss Olene, streaked to a one-half length triumph in this twentieth running of the "Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity", Sunday, June 14, at Ruidoso Downs. Complemented by a rousing ride by jockey, Frank Henning, the tiny "miss", trained by James Chapman, led virtually every step of the way, gradually edging away from her competition in the last 100 yards, to stop the clocks at 18.10 seconds for the 350-yard dash. The Frogs-ho-whed changer took down the first-place paycheck of $70,802.40, to amass total earnings of $76,930.40, making her the richest two-year-old quarter horse so far in 1970.

Running "heads" apart, for the next three positions were Tom S. Neff's See Him Go, second, Fast Jet, representing Herbert C. Lewis, third, and John Thompson's Full Moon Zetee, fourth. Although Miss Angel Eyes pulled ahead of these three runners in the final stages, the outcome was always in doubt until the final few feet. In a race of this calibre, one stumble or bobble on the part of any contender can completely obliterate all chance of victory, but in this case, each of the entrants seemed to perform flawlessly. This can be accredited to both prime conditioning on the parts of the trainers involved, and also to the expert reinmanship exemplified in this first gem of the "Tres Coronas".

Running in the also-ran category, but far from "also-ran" calibre, were Carter and Moore's Pacific Levan, fifth; Rocket Wrangler, owned by J. R. Adams, sixth; Bud Warren's Jet Charger, seventh; Three Dreams, form Bud Boachert's stable, eighth; Marvin Barnes' Miss Paula Squaw, ninth, and Kitaman, representing W. E. Steele, tenth.

The "Kansas Futurity Consolation" run on Saturday, June 13, proved as equally an exciting race as the "finals", with Luther Wilkerson's Jet Space getting up in the last 50 yards to pin a head decision on Jag's Reb, owned by Earl Eltek. Running a fast-closing third was Will Whitehead's Little Felix, followed by Sailing Bug, representing Alonzo Stanley, Jr. Other qualifiers in order of finish were, Pat Swindler's Joe Vigil; Ted Bare, owned by Gilbert Dance; Lincoln Land Farm's Go Maggie Go; Thomas and Stewart's Hank's Bid; and Dyna Go Go, from the stable of Robert W. Moore.

This was far-away the richest renewal of the "Kansas", with $24,500 in total prize money going on the line for both "divisions". This futurity has cut quite a path, since its "inaugural" running at Meade, Kansas, in 1961, with an approximate purse of $1100. After its first three runnings in Meade, the Kansas Quarter Horse Racing Association moved its futurity to Centennial Race Track in Denver. In the years from 1964 through 1967, the purse grew to the $4,000 mark. With the cancellation of quarter horse racing at Centennial, the "Kansas" was moved to Lameca Park, Raton, in 1968, where it was held for two years, attaining a total purse distribution of $3400. In 1969, the "Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity" had its maiden voyage over the Ruidoso Downs' straightaway. The combination of fine quarter horses, the cool mountain climate and extended cooperation seems to have found a "click" at Ruidoso Downs, for in eleven years, the "Kansas Futurity" has skyrocketed from a $17,864 purse in its first running here, to the point of being the second richest race now run at Ruidoso Downs, and one of five richest horse races in the world.

This year's field for the "Kansas" represented the most evenly balanced group to ever contest a futurity at Ruidoso Downs. There was not a horse in the finals for this race, which did not have a definite chance of snaring top honors. This is even more of a compliment to the winning horse, Miss Angel Eyes. The winning owner, Mr. French, along with his son and lovely wife, was in the winner's circle to accept well wishes, and congratulations from all onlookers, since this represented his first major victory, after many years in the quarter horse racing industry. The victory was even sweeter for the Frenchs, since Miss Angel Eyes is sired by their home stallion, St. Bar.

Even though the 18.10 seconds running for the "Kansas" was creditable AAA time, a faster time was altered because of the extreme headwind which "blew up" just before the start of the race. Miss Angel Eyes, who had earlier won her "consolation division" for the "Texas Futurity" at Olathe, Texas, returned $18.00, $2.00 and $5.40. See Him Go paid $4.60 and $3.00, while a show ticket on Fast Jet was worth $3.80.

Carol Cooper 6th In Sonora Chinchilla Show

Carol Cooper of Tinnie, placed sixth in the National Wool Judging contest in Sonora, Texas last week. She had a score of 582 points. The high point individual had 606 points. The Lincoln County team of Carol Cooper of Tinnie, Cristina Pacheco of Tinnie, Allen Sultmeier of Coronas and Ray Slenos of Tinnie, placed sixth with 1062 points. The contest was won by Kerr County 4-H team with 1783 points.

During the trip they also visited the Sonora Experimental Station, El Dorado Woolen Mills, El Dorado Wool warehouse and Sonora Caverns.

Good horse health for top performance and appearance is emphasized by the 4-H horse project. Spring should bring a total program of horse health care with particular emphasis on internal parasites. More horses die directly or indirectly from blood worms than any other disease condition, according to veterinarians. This means that every 4-H'er must learn how to identify a horse with parasite problems and find effective methods of treatment. Parasites harm horses by absorbing the food before the animal gets it, sucking the blood and lymph from the animal, eating the tissue of the host animal, causing a mechanical obstruction in the bile and circulatory system, producing nodules or tumors on the intestinal walls, providing a constant irritation and providing entry to various bacteria and viruses through openings in the duct walls caused by the parasites.

Several symptoms may appear when your horse has parasite problems. The appetite is usually reduced, and the hair coat becomes dull and rough. The horse loses his ambition and just stands lifelessly all day. Colic are very common targets for parasites. Colic may run as if playing, then stop in a lifeless, dejected position. They often cough and have many digestive disturbances. Their hair coat is also very rough and dull, and their eyes are dull. If your horse shows any of these signs of parasites, contact your veterinarian for proper treatment. One type of anti-parasitic drug won't kill every type of parasite your horse may have. Some effective drugs are thiabendazole, piperazine and trichlorfon. The three most common parasites are blood worms, round worms or ascarids and bots.

A public hearing to determine if certain chemicals are environmentally harmful has been called for July 8 at New Mexico State University, Dallas Rierson, director of the state department of agriculture, said today. The hearings will be held in the Agricultural Building auditorium beginning at 9 a.m. The following chemicals will be considered at the hearing to determine if they are environmentally harmful, as defined by the state Economic Poisons Act: aldrin, dieldrin, chlordane, endrin, heptachlor, toxaphene, 2, 4, 5-T, and mercury compounds used for seed treatment. Persons wishing to present oral testimony at the hearing may file an intent to be heard by writing to Hearing Officer, Economic Poisons Act, P. O. Box 3189, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, N. M. 88001. Written testimony will be included as a part of the hearing proceedings if presented before the close of the hearing.

Chinchilla Show To Be Held Here

The third annual Dress Felt Show of the Southwestern Branch of the Empress Chinchilla Breeders Cooperative will be held in Ruidoso Downs this year at the Chaparral Motor Hotel, June 27.

Calving difficulty is a major factor in subsequent decreased fertility in beef cattle, according to a study of 2971 calving records by the San Juan, Colo., Experiment Station. Uterine infection and retained placenta can cause a delay to normal cycling. To offset this, use bulls that have a history of low calving difficulty.

Tom Montgomery of Alto is chairman of the show and Jackie Smith of Alamogordo will be one of the judges.

Wife of Ohio Transplant Patient Thanks Ruidoso Scouts For Aid

Marvin Craig, Scoutmaster of Ruidoso Boy Scout Troop No. 59 has received a thank you letter from the wife of Larry Parks of Ashville, Ohio, who recently underwent a kidney transplant operation. Troop No. 59 sent 338 books of Green Stamps, 1,000 Betty Crocker Coupons, and $55.08 to a fund used for financing the young ministerial student's expensive treatments.

Mrs. Parks reports that Larry is doing amazingly well following his operation and is working again. He is currently assisting the contractor building a new sanctuary for the Ashville church which the Parks attend and supply preaches when he gets the chance.

Mrs. Parks wrote, "Everything went fine on the day of the operation and in three weeks and 3 days he was home. That in itself was a miracle, because the 30 other transplant patients over the last three years had stayed 6 weeks to 2 months. The hospital staff couldn't believe his recovery. We do thank you again for all your love and concern and will remember you in our prayers."

Parks, 23, was a ministerial student at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas in January at the time of his illness. He received a kidney in mid-February from his brother, Bob, 21, in the transplant operation.

"We hope you enjoy your stay in Ruidoso—Drive safely on your way home."

Heckman Gives Rotary Program

Fred Heckman, introduced by Ruidoso Rotarian Les Crews, presented the program at the Tuesday, June 16 meeting of the Ruidoso Rotary Club. Heckman is employed by the Mesquero Apache Tribal Council as a consultant for the development of tribal resources and the improvement of living conditions of the Tribal people.

He described the origin of Tribal government and the communal concern of the people for the common welfare of the tribe. He also pointed out that they received no per capita form of relief or federal help. Their income is from wage work and each individual family's share in timber sales from tribal lands and tribal cattle herds.

Heckman outlined for the Rotarians the long range plans for the development of industry and tourism, for the benefit of the Mesquero people and the neighboring communities.

Educational "Experiment" In Carrizozo Termed Success

By LOIS LANE

An educational "experiment" in Carrizozo this summer is being hailed early in the program by the educators involved as "remarkably successful." The program, unique in this area, is an experimental bilingual culture program for Carrizozo youngsters from kindergarten through third grade level, being the Miami Linguistics Program and offering instruction in Spanish as well.

The youngsters in the program, the majority of which are Spanish speaking, meet every week day from 8:30 until 11 a.m. They begin their day with a phonetics class according to the Miami Linguistics Program which was developed especially for the bilingual child. A singing period follows in which the students learn Spanish songs as well as English, and they then develop their communication and motor skills by learning various folk and rhythm dances. The last period of the program is then devoted to instruction in Spanish in which they are learning some of the most common phrases and expressions.

Ruidoso Superintendent Glen Ellison, the major promoter of the program, told the News that the purpose of the program is to give an awareness in the youngsters of the two different cultures in the school system. He said, "We are trying to make the students aware of the differences in the cultures and thereby create an appreciation and respect for, rather than a self-consciousness about those differences."

"In the Spanish instruction," Ellison continued, "the Spanish named youngster has a chance to excel immediately, and the non-Spanish student respects him for something he does easily and naturally."

Ellison, who has a pretty fair command of the Spanish language himself, feels that the Spanish-speaking children in his school system will gain from the program an assurance that their language can be appreciated. They will be encouraged in the program and throughout their schooling to speak Spanish whenever it is convenient. Even the youngest children in the program learn very quickly where Spanish can be understood—and where it cannot.

The program is financed with the excess of Title I funds received by the Carrizozo schools from the federal government not budgeted into the regular school year. Ellison learned the exact amount of the surplus funds in April and began immediately to organize the summer bi-lingual program, rejecting the much easier choice of simply spending the money on equipment. The Carrizozo Superintendent says, in spite of the extra work, that he always tries to direct his Title I funds in such a manner as to benefit the students themselves.

Instructors for the program are Mrs. Alma Sherrill, a veteran educator with over 30 years teaching experience to her credit, and Miss Grace Romero, who has been teaching in Carrizozo for six years.

Both teachers are very enthusiastic about the Miami Linguistics Program. They explained that the program, funded by the Ford Foundation, was begun in Miami to teach English to the Cuban refugees in Florida. Not only has it proved extremely helpful in improving the reading skills of the bi-lingual child, but it has also proved to be a great aid in helping children with any linguistic problems whatsoever.

Both teachers stressed the fact that the program is not for "slow" learners and a child's enrollment in the program by no means implies that he is an inferior student. The course entails intense phonetics instruction, focusing on the skills involved in the process of reading rather than on the use to which reading is put after the process is mastered. The entire program takes account of the fact that bi-lingual pupils are in the process of mastering standard English as well as learning to read, making it particularly appropriate for the children in Carrizozo whose preschool language was primarily Spanish rather than English.

Miss Romero accompanies the children on the guitar in a daily song fest in which the children learn Spanish songs as well as English. Miss Romero said, "I'm a firm believer that music is universal; the best way to unite cultures and teach people to live together is through music."

Both Mrs. Sherrill and Miss Romero also support the theory that a child's reading skills are improved as their motor skills are improved. "Developing a child's coordination also develops quicker mental reactions and sharper minds," they explained. The dancing period each day is not only fun for the children but teaches them such basic motor skills as marching in time or skipping.

Each Friday the children are taken on a field trip by their teachers, and Mr. Ellison. Last Friday the group went to Nogal Canyon for a picnic, this week they plan to go to the Alamogordo zoo, and plans have been made for a trip to Lincoln in the near future.

"SINGING NUN" — Miss Grace Romero (Sister Marie) is shown leading the children in the Carrizozo Bi-lingual Culture program this summer in their daily song period. A member of the Sisters of St. Casimir, she has been teaching in Carrizozo for 6 years. (Ruidoso News Photo)

"PHONICS DRILLS" — Mrs. Alma Sherrill drills her students in a phonics class which is part of a special bi-lingual program held this summer for Carrizozo children from kindergarten to the third grade level. The instruction is based on the Miami Linguistics program, designed especially for the bi-lingual child. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Reformed Church Synod Refuses To Endorse Civil Disobedience Move

The General Synod of the Reformed Church in America refused on June 10 to become a repository for the draft cards of Reformed Church young men opposed to selective service or the Vietnam War. The vote was a decisive one: 190 against, 54 for and 14 abstentions.

Mr. Clarence Buurma of Mesquero was a delegate to the 1970 General Synod which was held recently in Holland, Mich.

The lengthy debate which preceded the final action was an emotional one with supporters of the move calling on Synod to stand with the young men as they acted "in faithfulness to their Christian conscience." Some of those opposed described themselves as sympathetic to the young men, but unwilling to involve the Synod in an act of civil disobedience.

The mood of Synod was calm and conciliatory throughout the debate.

The stormiest moments of the afternoon occurred in response to a television crew which set up its camera and lights in anticipation of a lively session. A move to bar them from filming the proceedings was defeated 130 to 100.

Acting upon a variety of items in the report of its Christian Action Commission, the Synod:

Issued an amended statement on Vietnam urging support of an accelerated withdrawal of all U. S. forces from Vietnam. Deleted from the original recommendation was a call for immediate cessation of offensive action without negotiation.

Defeated a move for Reformed Church participation in the grape boycott.

During the morning session, the Synod gave enthusiastic approval to a report calling for greater implementation of Reformed Church positions on minorities. The document calls for additional scholarships and cultural programs for minority members and guarantees $50,000 for this purpose, to be raised by special appeals. It also pledges the church to use its purchasing power in support of Project Equality, and urges a greater minority representation on policy-making church boards and increased minority employment within the denomination. The report gave renewed support to open housing and to ministers suffering because of their stand on racial issues.

Meeting in night session, the Synod declined to act upon several petitions from classes (local judicatories) for withdrawal from the National Council of Churches, but did vote to withdraw the General Synod assessment for support of the National Council and replace it with voluntary contributions from churches.
