4 Man Caused Fires In Area In Past Week

By HUGH STILES

An internationally seasoned and colorful Ruidoso area resident for many years, who has made the ranks of local prominence for an equal number of years, recently made the front page lead story of The Journal, the leading Wood River, Illinois newspaper. The noted publication serves thirteen communities in Illinois.

The local Italian paesano and amigo of the mountains, mixed with a few ob-sec-got-toes, is none other than that area astrophysically ageless Jasper "Jack" DiPaolo.

Unknown to DiPaolo, I came across a copy of the Illinois paper and read where the local personality, over twenty-five years ago, offered a helping hand to one Roscoe E. Duncan, currently Chief of Police of Roxana, Illinois.

The front page story revealed that Duncan and DiPaolo were naval shipmates on the U. S. LST 1032 and as members of the crew were, eye-witnesses to the victorious and historic raising of the American flag on Iwo Jima. The emblem was erected while the battle was still raging.

Shortly after the war Duncan became a cook in a St. Louis hotel and DiPaolo a union business agent. DiPaolo reportedly saw a picture of his Navy assault landing craft crew friend in a St. Louis paper and phoned him to come to Roxana so he could get him a good paying job.

The end results of DiPaolo's deed was that Duncan remained in Roxana and eventually became the chief of Police, a position he has held since 1969; which according to Duncan, was all directly tied to the helping hand of DiPaolo.

DiPaolo is currently both a land developer and general contractor in the Ruidoso area and without question is still offering a helping hand to both those in need and his community.

Many Ruidoso residents, some still with dry cracking skin from the lack of moisture last year in Ruidoso, now are beginning to express deep concern over the future water situation in Ruidoso. Current dry conditions undoubtedly have prompted their concern as has a lack of visual accomplishments by the village fathers towards "doing" the one million dollar voter approved water improvement project. Red tape might just be turned into red blood if the situation is not corrected much speedily.

The often quoted lines in the famous poem, The Ancient Mariner, has no application to Ruidoso. The lines state, "Water, Water everywhere and all the boards did shrink, water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink." Well, maybe the last few words of the poem may have application this summer, we certainly hope not.

I did come across a bit of poetry, written by Matthew Arnold, that possibly could be applicable. His writing states, "We do not what we ought; What we ought not, we do; And lean upon the thought That chance will bring us through."

Ruidoso Library Board Sets Observance Of Library Week

The Ruidoso Public Library Board met Monday, April 10. Mrs. Dave Parks was re-elected President of the Board and members of the Board are: Mrs. Tom Hobert, Mrs. LeRoy Gooch, Mrs. Gerald Keeton, Mrs. Jo Leland and Mrs. John Thompson.

The Board is inviting all interested persons to visit the Library during regular hours in observance of National Library Week, April 16-22. Refreshments will be served during these hours.

Tentative plans were made for the establishment of a weekly children's hour during the summer months.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 1, at 7:00 p.m. at the Library.

Four men caused fires occurred over the past weekend, three in the Ruidoso area and one near Bonito Lake.

The fire which started in the upper canyon was caused by dumping hot ashes on top of combustible forest fuels. This careless method of disposing of ashes has caused several wild-fires during previous years. People should use extreme caution in disposing of ashes by dumping them into a metal container, soak them with water and stir until they are completely wet.

This season is starting out as critical as the 1971 season which broke several records relating to extreme droughts in the Southwest. The combined prevention efforts of all people living or visiting this area will be necessary to avoid the possibility of a disastrous wildfire this spring and summer.

Committee for the campaign consists of Dub Williams, Ab Gunter, Frank Potter and Mike Richardson.

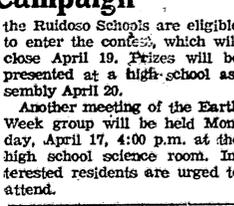

The committee announced that trash bags would be furnished for the project and that residents may call the city office for a crew to pick up old auto bodies and larger appliances.

Property owners are urged to clean up their own lots and assist on neighboring lots. Bags of refuse should be placed in customary garbage pick up points with aluminum cans and returnable bottles separated. From other debris. The high school student council will collect the cans and bottles as a fund raising project. Aluminum cans can be distinguished by a round bottom and no seams. Old auto bodies will be disposed of by a Roswell salvage dealer.

A central trash pick up station will be set up near the Chamber of Commerce office. Pickup trucks and trucks are needed for the project and volunteers will be gratefully accepted.

Ruidoso Downs Village Council Names Richardson To Board

Village marshal Jerry Russell submitted his resignation to the Ruidoso Downs village council at the regular meeting of that body Monday evening in the village hall. Council members noted that he had accepted a position with track security at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track. Mayor Jesse Harris asked that trustees consider possible applicants for the position and submitting names to him.

Albert Richardson, well known village resident, was named by the mayor to fill the council seat vacated by the resignation of H. D. Pope. The trustees unanimously approved the appointment. Richardson stated that he welcomed the opportunity to serve the village.

Correspondence was read inviting the board to a land use planning meet to be held in Ruidoso April 12 and to an Economic Development District meet at Artesia April 19. The clerk noted that a regional meet of the Municipal League is scheduled April 19 at the Villa Inn.

SAFeway STORES, INC. P-Z Accept Firm's Plan

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning commission late Wednesday night, unanimously approved a preliminary plot plan for Safeway Stores, Inc., El Paso, Texas, which included a proposed building totaling 18,000 square feet of floor space.

The preliminary plot plan, presented to the commission by Ruidoso Village Building Inspector Chuck Brown, also included the proposed building site, to be located in the Gateway area of Ruidoso, and facilities for a large paved off-street parking area.

James L. Hine, Ruidoso Village Clerk-Manager, who has corresponded with the large nationally known grocery store chain, and Brown, both reported that no other details of the company's proposed plans for locating in Ruidoso were available, as far as the Ruidoso municipal offices were concerned.

Early in the P & Z Commission meeting Mike Richardson, Lincoln County Environmental Improvement Agency officer, presented a film slide program on Land Use Planning regarding soil conservation and soil surveying. Richardson recommended that the commission seriously consider requesting the Soil Conservation Service to make an intensive soil survey of the Ruidoso area.

The commission agreed to request the Ruidoso Village council to contact the State Soil Conservation office in Albuquerque requesting that a survey be made as soon as possible.

In other action the commission accepted a portion of a preliminary plot of a planned development in the upper canyon area of Ruidoso as presented by Jack Kennedy, Sr. for Irvin Kibell, Lubbock, Texas. The commission approved the preliminary plan subject to the Ruidoso Fire Department's recommendation regarding fire protection. Kennedy also presented the Final Plat of the Thunderbird Heights subdivision which was approved by the commission subject to provisions of an access road.

The Planning and Zoning Commission also approved, subject to presenting the covenant restrictions, the Final Plat of Unit 1 of Alto Alps. The unit, reportedly designed for condominiums, is a part of a thirty-eight acre tract located north of Ruidoso just west of State Road 37 near AWO.

Those attending the meeting included commission members Stormy Edwards, commission chairman, George Shoemaker, Frank Potter, Bucky Morrison, Dean Jansen and Cowboy Stokes.

Others in attendance, in addition to Hine, Brown, Richardson and Village Engineer Jack Kennedy, were Ruidoso Mayor Leon Farrar, and village trustees Earl Allison and Warren Tucker.

Special Meet To Consider Alto Fishing

The question of public fishing in the Ruidoso-Captain owned Alto Lake Reservoir will be considered Tuesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. during a special called joint meeting of the Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Association board of directors and officials of the villages of Ruidoso and Captain.

The special meeting, to be held in the Captain City Hall, is open to the public and called by association president Tom Jones, Ruidoso. It is the outgrowth of action by the Ruidoso Village council Thursday, April 6th.

The Ruidoso council, meeting also in a special session, formally agreed to provide adequate personnel, maintenance and sanitation facilities to police the Alto Lake site area if the Eagle Creek Association would open the lake for fishing.

The eighty million gallon Alto Lake Reservoir was closed to fishing early in the spring of 1971 by the association during the critical dry conditions in the area at the time. In fall of the same year the lake was dredged and the lake site area cleaned by the association and the lake has been since closed to fishing.

Jones told the council Thursday night that he would consider calling a special joint meeting of all of those involved if the village agreed to provide facilities and manpower to keep the lake area clean and acceptable by the New Mexico Department of Public Health and Sanitation.

In other action by the Ruidoso council, the council unanimously voted to issue an immediate call for bids on the installation of 800 feet of 6-inch pipe, water pump and controls, 10 feet by 12 feet building and pressure tank for the newly purchased Cherokee well in the Pinecroft area. The estimated cost of the project is $8,000.

The council also accepted the apparent low bid of $1,470 by the Hall Excavating Co., Ruidoso, to remove around 4,000 cubic yards of dirt from the Gavilan Water Reservoir. The dirt and silt is to be removed reportedly to install a special plastic sheet sealer for the bottom of the reservoir.

Hall was expected to begin work on the project Monday, April 10, and complete the work in ten days. A total of four Ruidoso contractors bid on the project.

Career Clinic Set For April 18

The Ruidoso Rotary Club has completed plans for a Youth Career Clinic for high school juniors and seniors to be held April 18 at the high school gym.

According to committee chairman Barney Waldrop, businessmen have been procured for all occupations and professions represented at the clinic. Youths interested in attending the meet have been notified by the school counselors and teachers and businessmen will be advised as to whether they will be needed for the clinic.

A general assembly will be held in the gym and then groups will be broken up for individual sessions of questions and answers from the consultants. It is felt by the committee that the young people will receive a better insight into the professions by the first hand information from people actually engaged in the business in which the students are interested.

ed to send a thank you letter to Hank McWilliams and Fred Wenger at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track for their support and help in the recent village clean-up campaign. The board also discussed a welcome sign at either end of the village to be constructed in conjunction with the track.

Enforcement of the Green River Ordinance was ordered by the board. The ordinance deals with peddling and retail sales in the village without a permit.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held April 24, 7:30 p.m. at the village hall.

Jockey Club Facilities Now Being Enlarged

Cecil Jennings, manager for the past nine years of the Ruidoso Jockey Club at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track here, reported this week that the renovation and remodeling of the private club is now almost completed. The facilities of the club, which is by membership only, are located on part of the second and third floors at Ruidoso Downs race track.

Jennings stated that the seating capacity of the club has been enlarged to 1,720, which includes the addition of 520 in the new wing. Thirteen seller and six cashier windows have also been added in that area, Jennings said, and the renovation of the club also includes the refurbishing of the entire club with the cost of the complete remodeling costing more than $400,000.

Your Social Security

April 15 is recognized by most everyone as the deadline for filing Federal Income Tax Returns. For people receiving social security benefits this same date should also be recognized as the deadline for filing annual reports of earnings with the Social Security Administration. These are separate reports and the filing of a tax return does not serve as a report of earnings for social security purposes according to Mrs. Christine Graves, social security field representative.

Although April 15 is the deadline for filing the annual report, for this year it will be April 17. This is because the 15th is on Saturday and the next work day is the 17th.

Some people receiving social security benefits may be notified by mail to file an annual report, but others who may also be required to make a report may not be notified. Any beneficiary who received some social security benefits in 1971 and who worked and earned over $1600 in a year is required to file an annual report, Mrs. Graves said. An exception to this rule is the beneficiary who was age 72 in January 1971 or earlier. These beneficiaries are not required to report.

Any doubts or questions about filing an annual report should be resolved by calling the nearest Social Security Office.

Mrs. Graves may be contacted at the Council Room in the Ruidoso City Hall the second Wednesday of each month from 10:30 noon and 1 to 2; or at the County Commissioners' Room, Lincoln County Court House in Carrizozo, the fourth Wednesday of each month from 10 to noon.

Ruidoso Based Firm Has 20 Year Contract

A Ruidoso headquartered firm, Lincoln Management, Inc., and headed by Ruidosoan Ken Newton, was announced this week, has been awarded a twenty year concession contract at New Mexico's newest race track, Santa Fe Downs Race Track, near Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Lincoln Management, Inc., the concession firm, uses the theme "Fun For Refreshments For Sports Events." was also recently awarded a ten year concession contract at Delta Downs Race Track, Lake Charles, La.

Delta Downs Race Track, a new track, the fourth for Louisiana, is currently under construction and has a cost estimated reportedly in excess of three and one-half million dollars. The new horse race track will open with its inaugural meet in mid-November of this year for a ninety day 1972-73 meet.

Newton is also a member of the Delta Downs Race Track twelve man Board of Directors. Formed in 1967, Lincoln Management, Inc., now has assets that exceed two million dollars and will employ around eighty-five people during the sixty-one day 1972 racing season at Santa Fe Downs, which began May 19.

Lincoln Management is a major stockholder of Santa Fe Downs Race Track, Inc., having recently purchased a large block of shares in addition to previously purchased shares of stock by the firm. Newton is listed as the firm's president; Mrs. Ken Newton, vice-president, and Mrs. Perk Long, secretary. All are from Ruidoso.

The Ruidoso based firm reportedly grossed approximately one-half million dollars in concession last year at Santa Fe Downs, the track's first year of operation.

Newton stated that Lincoln

KEN NEWTON

Management, Inc., concessions contract at Santa Fe Downs includes all food and beverage sales in the grandstands, the Turf Club and the Jockey Club and the Horsemen's Cafeteria. The firm also handles all the concession and parking facilities.

Newton, former Ruidoso High School Athletic Director and head football coach, also stated, in reference to the firm's concession equipment at Santa Fe Downs, "all of the physical equipment at Santa Fe Downs was designed especially for the new track's overall plant."

The company reportedly has one of the longest beverage distribution lines in the nation, piped over 173 feet from the central distribution point. The beverage systems, as installed by Lincoln Management, Inc., piped into 18 separate customer service outlets through a special constructed four-inch sized line that totals over 600 feet in length of distribution.

Lincoln Management's Delta Downs Race Track concession's contract includes all beverage and food accommodations and in addition provides the Louisiana track with daily racing programs and tip sheets.

The company's first concessions contract was at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track in 1967. They operated the concession at the famed Downs race track through the racing seasons of 1967-68-69 and 70.

County Agent's Column

By RALPH DUNLAP

Green weeds are starting to show up in many areas. Annual peavine is often among these weeds. It can poison livestock if eaten in too large amounts. The first symptoms are lack of coordination, especially crossing of hind legs along with rapid breathing. It is preferred that the livestock be moved to another pasture but if not, increasing the supplemental feed, especially alfalfa hay, will often stop the livestock losses.

The annual peavine grows close to the ground and has 11 to 17 leaflets. It has a legume or pea like flower. It can often be mistaken for flaxseed at a glance. The losses are more prevalent in soils with a caliche layer in the soil.

Start your pest control program off with a delayed dormant spray or oil or oil plus lime-sulfur (calcium polysulfide) when the weather warms but before the leaves are unfolded on deciduous trees. This spray will control many of our most troublesome pests of ornamentals such as scales, spider mites, bud mites, and blister mites, some aphids and powdery mildew. A delayed dormant spray should be applied during the time leaf buds are swelling up until some green tips are showing. On broad-leaved evergreens, such as euonymus, the spray should be applied just as new growth begins. Check weather forecasts before applying oil. Don't apply your spray if the temperature is predicted to drop below freezing within 48 hours after application.

Choose a warm, calm day to do your spraying. Never spray if temperatures are below 40 degrees. Be very thorough. Kill by smothering the eggs or immature pests, therefore, a continuous film must be laid down over the bark and in cracks and crevices. A very fine mist is the best spray to use to achieve thorough coverage.

To improve the effectiveness of the oil spray against scale insects, add Spectracide, ethion, or malathion. This is a must for control of euonymous scale and European elm scale.

Before buying a dormant spray material, read the label completely. Oil-lime-sulfur combinations should not be applied to evergreens, and lime-sulfur should not be applied to apricots. Blue spruce are discolored by oil sprays for two or more weeks after application.

R-R-D
New Mexico Apple Growers had a grant recently approved for $15,800 to finance a coding moth pheromone trap demonstration program.

The development of a synthetic coding moth sex attractant or pheromone has made possible a new approach to coding moth control. It will allow the grower to use traps to time his sprays better, and at the same time reduce the number of sprays needed.

The coding moth hatches in broods a great deal like chickens. The traps when observed daily can be observed by the grower to see when the coding moths emerge. The moth larvae hatch about 10 days after the moth emerges. Temperature can vary the time from emergence to when the eggs hatch.

The growers can spray after most of the moths have emerged but before the eggs have hatched for the most complete control. Growers interested should contact the County Agent for how the program will work.

The wool incentive price will be about 27¢ for the wool sold in 1971. The average price of wool was 19 cents a pound. The wool incentive program set 72 cents per pound as the support price for wool.

Early summer is the time to treat your lawn with insecticide to control white grubs. White grubs are the larvae of several species of May and June beetles. They are whitish to gray, have brown heads, and usually lie in a curled position. Grubs feed on grass roots an inch or two below the ground. As they feed off the roots, the lawn will gradually die out in irregular spots.

Grubs come from eggs laid in the ground by several different kinds of tan to dark brown to green beetles commonly called May or June beetles. The beetles are strong fliers and are attracted to manure and rotting grass clippings where they lay eggs. Grubs frequently cause damage to lawn areas that have been mowed. The grubs or eggs may already be in the manure or the adults will be attracted to the treated area. The adults are also attracted to lights, therefore, lawns near street lights or lighted patios often become infested.

Preventive treatments for grubs give the best results. Valuable lawn areas and lawns in light soils that are heavily watered should be treated every two to three years. New lawn areas should be treated prior to planting or soon after the lawn is established. This is especially important if manure is mixed in the soil or used as a top dressing.

Chlordane should be applied as granules, dusts or sprays. Mow the lawn just before applying the insecticide. After applying the insecticide, give the area a heavy application of water. If grubs are already present, several waterings may be necessary to wash the insecticide into the infested area. Two or three weeks may be required to bring a heavy infestation of large grubs under control. For additional information on turf pests and their control ask your county extension agent for a copy of "Control of Lawn Pests."

NM Farm Bureau Defends Recent Livestock Prices

The president of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau, A. W. Langenegger, has joined the mounting numbers of agricultural people defending the current 20-year high in beef prices.

In the past several weeks some members of Congress and others have attacked recent rises in farm prices. Critical comment has centered on the cattle industry, implying that the current rise in farm prices is not in the national interest.

"Such statements distort the farm price situation by omitting relevant facts," says Langenegger. "The facts are that although live cattle prices are now back up to 1951 levels, farm food prices increased only 6% totally during that 20-year period. This is far below the increases justified by farm productivity."

Langenegger also pointed out that while farm food prices rose

6% in this 20-year period, wholesale food prices rose 20% and retail food prices have risen 43%.

"If food prices had gone up in proportion to take-home pay, consumers would average $286 more per person for food this year than they did 20 years ago."

"Contrast this to the sharp rises in farmers costs: 2.3 times higher for wages to pay hired help; 1.9 times higher for machinery and production expenses; and 3.8 times higher for real estate taxes."

Langenegger also reminded that raw farm products prices are dictated by demand and set competitively from unplanned and unrestricted output.

"Perhaps the best way to put the situation in proper perspective is to compare current 20-year record beef prices with prices received by other areas of our economy," Langenegger says. "During this same period money paid to wage earners increased 340%; money paid to government employees increased 430%; business and professional income increased 200%; and dividends increased 300%."

"It must be emphasized that the criticism is over farm beef prices that are EVEN with those of 20 years ago," the Farm Bureau president emphasized. "but what other prices are just getting up to the levels of 20 years ago? The cost of many things people buy have set a record high every one of the last 20 years. And if you deflate present beef prices in line with today's cheaper dollars, today's beef prices are a long way under the levels of 20 years ago."

"When you consider that farmers' costs have doubled while total net income has risen only 3% during this period, it is obvious that the farmer is not being unreasonable in expecting prices equal to 1952 levels," Langenegger concluded.

State Official Gives Rotary Drug Talk

Dr. John Hughes, Director of Psychiatry for the State Department of Hospitals and Institutions, gave a program on drugs for the regular weekly meeting of the Ruidoso Rotary Club Tuesday.

Dr. Hughes is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. He has been New Mexico Director of Psychiatry since June 1971.

Dr. Hughes noted that too rigid or too lax an attitude in rearing children seem to contribute to the use of drugs, but that there was a wide range of middle ground for the maintenance of discipline with teenage youths. He also noted that he primarily dealt with youths on hard drugs and seldom with those using marijuana.

Visitors of the program included Clyde Anderson, Club Keith, Ken Gessner and Tommar, Rotary Executive Secretary. Rotarians visiting the club included Dick Carter, Frank Phelps, Joe Carter, Tom West, John Turley, Tom West, and Bill Castagna, all of Albuquerque.

In his formal announcement, Zimmerman said:

"It is now evident that the eligible voters of Otero and Lincoln Counties will be given a chance in this primary election to vote on the question of whether the present judges should be retained in office. Heretofore Dona Ana County voters outnumbered and outvoted the combined voters of both Otero and Lincoln County in the 3-man judicial race in 1964 and in the two-man judicial race in 1966. Judge Zimmerman polled more votes in Otero County and Lincoln County combined than his present opponent. He welcomes the chance to place his judicial record against the judicial and political records of his opponent as it is time for a change to effective and efficient law and order."

GRASSROOTS OPINION

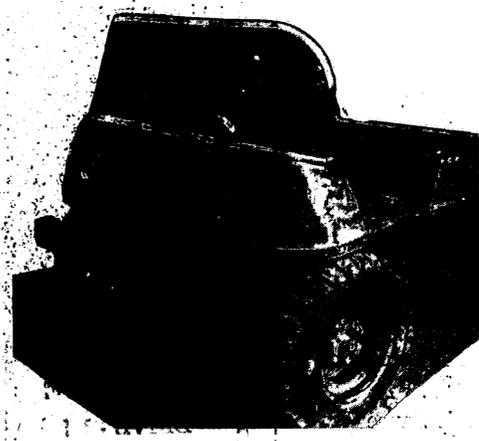

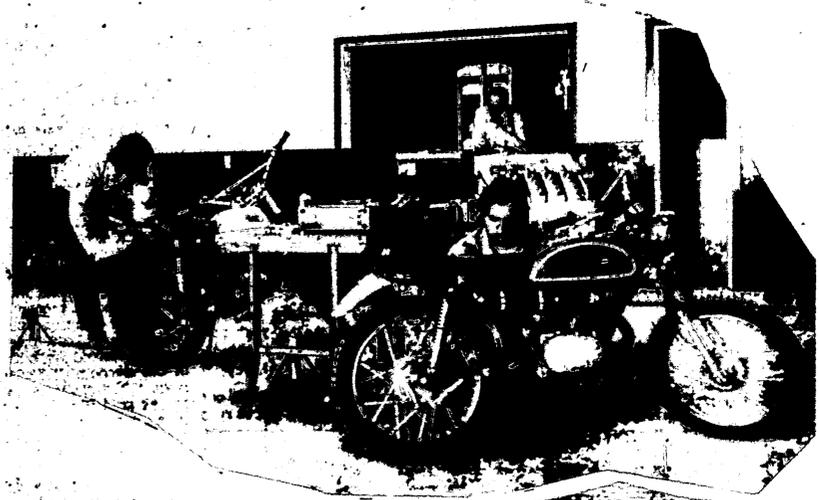

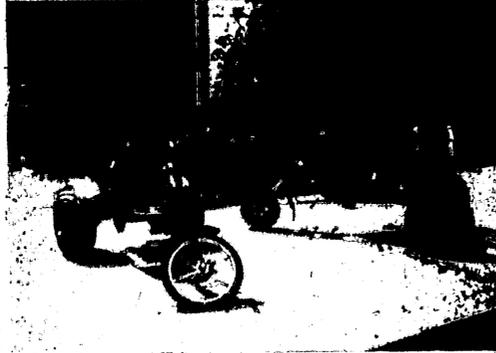

HINCKLEY, ILL., REVIEW: "We probably will make a few people unhappy, but we cannot see the government subsidizing culture, when the people do not want it. The director of the Kennedy Center has said that unless Congress provided funds to bail the center out of a financial mess, they would have to charge admission to the center. This, in our opinion, should be pretty low on the list of places for Congress to dole out our money. Perhaps they should charge for admission—and if it doesn't pay off, then maybe the 'good' arts should find a less grand location for the enrichment of our people."

 George L. Zimmerman recently announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of district judge, Tenth Judicial District, subject to the June 6 primary election.
 Zimmerman was appointed as district judge of the former Third Judicial District, comprised of Dona Ana, Otero and Lincoln Counties by Governor Jack Campbell in February, 1963, to take office March 1, 1963.
 The Alamogordo attorney was elected to the tri-county judgeship in a three-man race in the primary election of 1964 and served until January 1, 1967. He is a graduate of the University of New Mexico law school and has resided in New Mexico since 1947.
 During his twenty-one years as attorney and judge, Zimmerman has lived in and practiced law in both Lincoln and Otero Counties, having heretofore lived in Carrizozo and Ruidoso before moving to Alamogordo in September, 1956.
 The former judge is a graduate of the National College of State Trial Judges and is admitted to practice in the United States Supreme Court, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals, the

Tax News

Q) Last year I purchased a $5,000 certificate of deposit having a redemption value at maturity in three years of $5,000. Can I wait until this certificate matures before paying tax on the interest?

A) No. Starting Jan. 1, 1971, deferred interest became taxable annually on a monthly pro rata basis if the maturity of the deposit or account is more than one year. For example, if you purchased the certificate of deposit on July 1, 1971, you must include in income $160 of the total deferred interest of $860 on your 1971 return.

Q) Who is eligible to file as a "Head of Household?"

A) To qualify as a head of household and thus be eligible to compute your tax at the special rate, you must meet the following conditions:

1) You must be unmarried (or, legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance) on the last day of your taxable year;

2) You must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one relative who must live with you (except for your parents), or be your dependent, or both;

3) Your father or mother has to be your dependent, but need not live with you. Your unmarried child, grandchild, stepchild, or foster child must live with you but need not be your dependent. Any other relatives must both live with you and be your dependent.

Local Officers Attend Weekly Training School

Norman D. Bloom, District Attorney for Lincoln and Otero Counties, is scheduled to address the Ruidoso Police Department personnel Friday morning, April 14, according to Ruidoso Police Department Chief Paul M. Lukens, Jr.

Friday's seminar, to be held in the council chambers of the Ruidoso Municipal Building, is a part of a weekly law enforcement training program for Ruidoso Police Department personnel.

The officers, last Friday, heard Ruidoso Attorney Leiland Stone conduct a seminar on facets of legal communication regarding law enforcement. Other areas related to law enforcement agencies are scheduled to conduct special studies for the department.

Chief Lukens, in a Friday, named RDP Officer Rex Skales as Supply and Safety Officer within the RPD. The department also reviewed several cases that occurred during the week and discussed new police uniforms. An Albuquerque based uniform clothing company representative demonstrated newly designed available police officer uniforms to the group.

Increases will not be allowed except as justified on the basis of cost increases, taking into account productivity gains. Thus, many price adjustments will be below 2.5 percent and some will be above 2.5 percent as justified on the basis of cost increases and productivity gains. The 2.5 percent figure is the goal the Price Commission is aiming at as the average price increase across the economy.

Q) Are small service firms, such as laundries, restaurants and playation repair shops, exempt from price controls as are retailers with sales of less than $100,000?

A) No. This exemption applies only to retail firms and not small service firms.

Q) Is a department which is a jewelry consignment store exempt from price controls as are retailers with sales of less than $100,000?

A) No. This exemption applies only to retail firms and not small service firms.

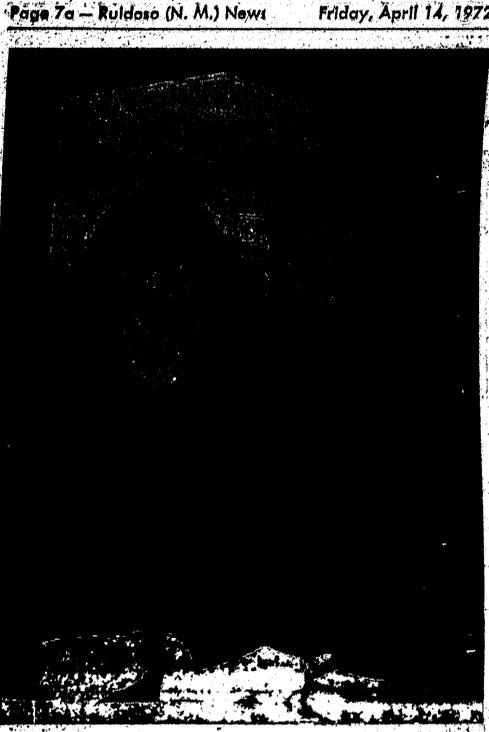

Q) A concessionaire whose parent company has an annual sales volume of more than $200,000 is subject to the posting requirements if the store in which it operates has an annual sales volume of more than $200,000. A concessionaire whose parent company is less than $200,000 is not subject to the posting requirements if the store in which it operates also has an annual sales volume of less than $200,000. A concessionaire whose parent company has an annual sales volume of more than $200,000 must post price lists regardless of the annual sales volume of the retail establishment in which it operates.

Q) Are the new Farm, F-1, F-2 and F-3 price controls at Internal Revenue Service offices?

A) Yes. These forms are now available at the offices of many cities throughout the country. A F-3 is filed only once to detail base prices and margin data, by each I and II firm which have raised prices or rates to more than a 10% increase. A F-1 is a report of price increases, sales, costs, and profits and must be filed quarterly by the I and II firms.

Q) What is the purpose of the pharmacists' report of price increases?

A) The pharmacist or pharmacy owner, like other retailers, must comply with Federal Price Commission regulations and post prices if sales total $200,000 or more.

Staggered Terms For Officials?

Residents of Lincoln County are faced this year with an important decision concerning the election of an almost complete slate of new county officials. With progress of the county reaching a hot pace, the necessity of selecting candidates who are far-sighted and well informed is pointed up. Reappraisal of county property will be accomplished in 1973 and an adjustment in county spending and taxation will be only one of the major issues faced by the new county officials.

With only one month (treasurer) available for re-election to office in the county courthouse, we note the need for legislative action to stagger terms of some county officials for continuity in local government. Many county officeholders, especially those elected to the county commission, will be required to do a great deal of homework preparing for their term of office. We would predict that a great deal of time will be spent by the commissioners hearing complaints and questions regarding the reappraisal of property. On the whole, the reappraisal should be a boon to the property taxpayer, since much of the property in the county will be reappraised at a more true value and some will enter the rolls that have never been there before.

We would urge that the residents of the county learn everything possible about all of the candidates before making a decision and voting. If a particular candidate's name is on the ballot, ask the office seeker before the election how he stands on the issue.

We have been told by one tax-commissioner that the possibility exists that voters may be required to use paper ballots if there are too many candidates for voting machines. The additional expense could amount to as much as $10,000. This problem may be the first to face the county commission upon taking office since no provision has been made in the budget for such an eventuality. This is only another point in favor of staggered terms for county officials.

CAPT. JOE MOORE

Training Exercise Draws Joe Moore

Captain Joe C. Moore, son of Mrs. Ruth M. Moore of Ruidoso, recently participated in a giant joint services training exercise at Ft. Hood, Texas.

Captain Moore is a U. S. Air Force pilot with the 510th Tactical Airlift Wing at Dyess AFB, Texas.

More than 23,000 Army, Air Force, Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard personnel took part in the largest joint operation conducted in the United States since the Vietnam buildup in 1966. The exercise, dubbed "Chamber Hail," was the first in a series of large-scale maneuvers planned by the U. S. Readiness Command.

A mythical overseas command established at Ft. Hood provided the setting for Gallant Band. The command was reinforced by U. S.-based armor, division and Air Force tactical airlift, fighter and reconnaissance units, which were employed in simulated combat operations.

The Tactical Air Command provided F-111 and F-4 Phantom fighter-bomber, RF-4 Phantom reconnaissance, C-130 Hercules and C-123 Provider cargo transport and OV-10 Bronco forward air controller aircraft for the two-week exercise.

Captain Moore, who has served in Vietnam, is a 1963 graduate of Ruidoso High School. He received his B. A. degree in Education from the University of New Mexico and was commissioned into the Reserve Officer Training Corps program.

The Captain's wife, Leta, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bell of 4501 Canyon St. NE, Albuquerque.

LAWYER THE FAMILY

Poisoning Child's Mind
"Your father is a mean, nasty man. Stay away from him or he will whip you with a great big strap."

Laura, recently divorced, kept drumming this warning into her five year old son. She had been given custody of the child at the time of the divorce, and she meant to tighten her grip on him by any and all means.

Actually, her ex-husband was devoted to the boy. When he found out about Laura's tactics, he hauled her into court. The judge took the matter so seriously that he changed the custody order, transferring the boy from his mother to his father.

As a general rule, the law condemns efforts by one divorced parent to poison the mind of the child against the other. It condemns "implanting in his tender mind the seeds of hate and the cancerous beginnings of malice toward those whom he should cherish."

Likewise, the law frowns on the use of the child as a pawn in financial bargaining. For example:

A divorcee constantly belittled her ex-husband to their small daughter. But she also let him know that she would stop as soon as he agreed to a large cash settlement.

Again, a court denounced her tactics and switched custody from mother to father. The court said she had no right to use the child as a kind of blackmail weapon for her own benefit.

Of course, in these highly emotional situations, it may be difficult for a court to separate fact from fiction. As a result, judges sometimes fall back on solutions that are admittedly less than perfect.

In another case, at the time of the divorce, custody of a child had been divided between husband and wife. Later, in a court hearing, each accused the other of "poisoning the child's mind against me."

After due deliberation, the court decided to leave custody just as it was—divided. Even though this meant exposing the child to parental crossfire, the court said at least it gave each parent "equal time" to defend his character.

No Closure Planned For Turkey Hunt

The fire danger is extreme in two of the state's prime spring turkey hunting areas, but U. S. Forest Service officials do not plan any wide scale closure to public use. Both the Lincoln and Gila National Forests report a very high fire danger however the situation is not as bad as last year when the forests were closed.

The two southern New Mexico forest areas have already imposed some restrictions. In the Lincoln National Forest campfires are restricted to designated campgrounds and smoking is permitted only while traveling on paved highways. The Gila requires campfire permits for those camping outside of established campgrounds and all smoking is prohibited for those hiking in the forest away from traveled roads.

Some weekend check stations may be set up where fire danger is highest.

seasons open April 15 in a variety of areas over the state. A special permit is required. Lucky hunters were determined by a public drawing held by the Department of Game and Fish.

ROS COE MANNING

Administrator For Ft. Stanton Hospital Tells Retirement

Roscoe Manning, the administrator at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School for the past four years, today announced his retirement, effective April 30.

In a joint release, Department of Hospitals and Institutions Secretary Bill Giron also announced the appointment of Gerald Myers to succeed Manning.

Myers presently is serving as assistant administrator at Fort Bayard Medical Center near Silver City.

Manning has been with the state hospitals system since 1965. Before his appointment as administrator at Fort Stanton, he was director of administrative services at Los Lunas Hospital and Training School.

In 1966, Manning was sent from Los Lunas on temporary leave to coordinate the change-over in programs at Fort Stanton from a tuberculosis hospital to a facility for the mentally retarded. Two years later he returned as permanent administrator.

A native of Illinois, Manning moved to New Mexico for his health in 1939. Prior to his employment with the state, he was administrator of the Las Vegas Hospital.

In announcing his retirement, Manning said, "Due to the expected new programs to be developed at Fort Stanton, my retirement at this time will enable my successor to become actively involved in planning as well as implementation."

He added that he was very proud of the staff at Fort Stanton and its accomplishments. Manning and his wife Leona plan to retire in Ruidoso.

Myers has been assistant administrator at Fort Bayard for the past four years. Prior to that he worked as assistant director of personnel and administration with the Department of Hospitals and Institutions central office.

Recently named as a member of the American Academy of Medical Administrators, Myers also is a member of the American Hospital Association and the N. M. Personnel Directors Association.

AQHA Announces Successful Year

The American Quarter Horse Association, the world's largest equine registry, enjoyed another successful year in 1971 with growth in all facets of the industry.

Registrations for owners of American Quarter Horses in this and 41 other countries totaled 73,594. This brings the total registration figure to well over 800,000, exceeding the combined total registered by the three other leading equine associations.

Transfers of ownership, the barometer of activity within the industry, was up 3.2 per cent over 1970. The transfer total was 111,007, a new record.

The American Junior Quarter Horse Association continues to be the fastest growing group of its kind in the world. There are currently more than 4,000 members from 40 states and two Provinces in Canada.

The AQHA will hold its First National Finals Show and Third Annual Convention in Amarillo, Texas, Aug. 9-12, 1972. More than 600 invited entries will compete for $25,000 in awards at the unequalled event.

More Quarter Horses compete at more shows, in more places, before more people than do all other breeds of horses combined. There were 1,480 AQHA sanctioned shows for adults last year in the U. S. and Canada. Additionally, there were 1,361 approved youth shows. The total number of entries was 248,207.

Quarter Horse racing continues to make great strides with new records being set in 1971. The number of races increased 14.3 per cent to 8,504, with the total mutual handle taking a healthy jump of 12.5 per cent to $115,745,600. The gross purse was $11,321,291 for an increase of 20 per cent and the number of starters for Quarter Horse races in 1971 was 11,522, up 9.8 per cent.

The AQHA will hold its 1973 Convention in Dallas, Texas and in 1974 will travel to Honolulu, Hawaii for the annual meeting.

The SILVER LINING

By DANIEL A. STORM

Shortly after I landed in the hospital, my friend Conrad Keys brought me a book entitled "The Ben Lilly Legend" by James Frank Doyle. Ben Lilly was one of the greatest hound dog men and bear hunters of all times, and he was "give up to be" the champion panther hunter. Mr. Keys is a wonderful woodsman himself, and had met Ben Lilly several years ago when the great hunter was getting up in years.

Well, right when I was about in the middle of this Ben Lilly book, I came a life-long friend, to meet me up, who is a cut or two above Ben Lilly as a panther hunter. And this fellow told me of a round he had just had with a panther that made the stories in the book seem tame.

Last of the Mountain Men Once in a great while we meet a fellow who seems to have stepped out of the pages of the past.

Among the first men to push west into the wild Rocky Mountain country were buckskin-clad fellows that came to be known as "Mountain Men." These buckskin men were hunters, trappers, explorers and guides. The names of some of the more famous of this breed of men have long been known by young and old in our country. It seemed that these fellows loved danger. Mostly they went alone into the wilderness—the wilder the better for them.

Why did they go mostly alone? Surely because they were not friendly. They made the trust of friends. And were the jolliest care-free fellows you could meet—full of jokes. To them life was one day after another of fun, come what may. Was it because they wanted to go where they wanted when they wanted whenever the notion struck them? Was it because they could very seldom get anyone to go with them? Quen Sabe?

Anyhow with their long rifles at their side they were at home in mountain, plain or desert; and were ready for all comers, man or beast. If the ammunition gave out they would tackle what ever was in front of them with a club or bare handed if they had to. It was always best to have these men on your side. And when you did you had little or nothing to fear.

The Panther That Got Away To get back to the panther story. You have heard of calf ropers and steer ropers. But how many mountain lion ropers have you heard of?

This fellow, after his dogs had brought the panther to bay, threw his loop and caught the animal around the neck. Then he began going up the rope over hand toward the animal.

"Why were you doing that?" "I wanted to take him alive so I could tie him up. This way I could put him in the back of the pick-up."

The panther roper said that as soon as he would get about half way down the rope, the lion would make a run straight at him and then would, "Jump plumb over me, and land on the other side and run all the slack out of the rope."

After several attempts to climb down the rope, the roper finally got within reach of the panther.

"That Rascal kept jumping right over my head and getting on the other side. Finally, I guess he must have got tired, and I got close enough to get hold of him, and tied him up."

"What do you mean—tied him up?" "Just tied him up like a calf and put him in the pick-up. I took him to Captain and sold him to an old boy that wanted to use him to teach his dogs to run all right. He ran plumb off from the pack. I'll bet that booger thinks twice before he lets anybody get close to him with a rope again!"

This panther-roping mountain man lives not far from here. He was born and raised just below the Bonito Dam. They threw away the panther when they made this boy. He is the real McCoy, cut out of the same cloth as Kit Carson, Daniel Boone and David Crockett.

How would you like to see the color of his eyes? Just go up to the Parsons Hotel on the upper Bonito and you will receive a hearty welcome from the one and only Arvel Runnels—Last of the Mountain Men.

Herbert Reddy I have just heard the news (twelve o'clock Tuesday) of the death of one of our most beloved and honored friends, Herbert Reddy.

Herbert, the youngest man for his years I have ever known, was always an inspiration to all of us with his courage and cheerfulness. He will be long and affectionately remembered here in Lincoln County and wherever he was known through his long and colorful life.

Now Herbert has gone to rejoin his comrades of the Spanish-American War, and his countless other friends and to be forever with Our Lord.

Estimated Tax Due In April For Corporations

Calendar year corporations whose 1973 income tax liability for 1972 is expected to be at least $5,540 will generally have to pay estimated taxes by Monday, April 17, 1972.

Although no declaration is required to be filed with the Internal Revenue Service, a worksheet may be obtained from IRS offices for computing the estimated tax. The worksheet, Form 1120-W, "U. S. Corporation Worksheets for Computation of Estimated Income Tax," should not be filed with the IRS.

Installation of corporation estimated tax must be deposited in a Federal Reserve bank or an authorized commercial bank using Federal Tax Deposit Form 503.

Publication 542, "Corporations and the Federal Income Tax," which furnishes detailed information on this subject, can be obtained free, in person or by mail, from your IRS district office.

Scout Council Sets Drug Abuse Program

Operation Reach, an action project related to drug abuse prevention has been announced in the Council of Scouts of America.

Dick Cooper was named by the council president to head a committee to administer the program.

Operation Reach is a promising new and positive approach to drug abuse prevention developed by the Boy Scouts of America," Cooper explained. He and five other local leaders and young men took part in training recently in Lubbock, Texas.

The council team conducted training sessions for council and district trainers who, in turn, will provide training for Senior Patrol Leaders and Scoutmasters and for Post Presidents and Advisors.

In April and May meetings will begin in each Troop and Post for members, parents and leaders.

The purpose of Operation Reach is to give youth and their parents reliable information about drugs and drug abuse and to encourage young people to take a stand against drugs and to help each other find wholesome alternatives. The plan aims itself at those aspects of the drug abuse problem that are in keeping with the ongoing purpose and methods of the Boy Scouts of America, Cooper explained.

SANTA FE — Reuben Pankey of Monticello, Sierra County, is the early favorite for the Republican U. S. House District-2 nomination against retiree Howard M. Overstreet of Truth or Consequences and Ed Presson, 29, of Silver City.

A rancher, Pankey began active campaigning in the huge 18-county district this week after completing two years as president of New Mexico Cattle Growers Association.

The district counties: Curry, Roosevelt, Lea, DeBaca, Chaves, Eddy, Lincoln, Otero, Socorro, Sierra, Dona Ana, Luna, Hidalgo, Grant, Catron, Valencia, McKinley and San Juan.

Overstreet has been a candidate for public office several previous times. He is not expected to mount an all-out campaign throughout the district.

Pankey benefits from his deep roots in the Republican Party. He has long been active in the state party organization. Pankey was on the State Board of Finance in the Republican Gov. David F. Cargo administration. He was Cargo's representative on the Public Land Law Review Commission. He is 52.

Presson has been active in Republican politics since he supported Edwin L. Mechem for governor in 1958. Presson was a high school student at Silver City then. Presson is conservative on government finance.

He favors foreign aid loans but opposes U. S. gifts to foreign countries. Presson says President Richard M. Nixon should have ordered wage and price controls much sooner. He opposes farm subsidies. Presson says: "I don't think it's right to pay a guy anything for growing nothing."

Presson was on Nixon's campaign staff in 1960 and 1968. He worked for U. S. Rep. Manuel Lujan, Jr., R-Abuquerque, 2 1/2 years and for an Ohio Republican Congressman six months. He says he is "a little right of center."

Massive candidate filings in Santa Fe alone recorded 276 hopefuls for 69 offices April 4 with filing fees and one-year party affiliation and residency requirements apparently removed for salaries offices by a U. S. District Court decision and Atty. Gen. David Norvell's interpretation.

But a suit was filed in the State Supreme Court demanding the high tribunal rule all candidates must pay filing fees or have their names removed from the long primary election ballot June 6. A hearing is set today (Thursday) on the suit filed by Santa Fe lawyers Fred M. Standley and Harry Bigbee. They represent A. L. (Happy) Apodaca of Las Cruces, a Democratic State Corporation Commission candidate, Apodaca paid the filing fee.

Many candidates for judicial and district attorney offices also paid filing fees. Four U. S. Senate candidates — Democrats Jack Daniels, Jesse Kornegay and Tom Morris, and Republican Pete Domenici — paid the fees.

The suit does not affect non-salaried legislative and State Board of Education candidates who paid $50 filing fees.

Filings set up lively primary and general election races in reapportionment Senate and House districts.

In Senate District 6 — Taos, Mora and San Miguel Counties — incumbent C. B. Trujillo of Taos faces Philip G. Vargas of Taos and Carlos D. Lopez of Mora County in the Democratic primary. S. Pete Sahd of Penasco is unopposed for the Republican nomination. Sahd, a businessman, has long been active in the Republican Party. He was a U. S. House District 1 primary candidate in 1968.

In Senate District 7 — Colfax, Union, Harding and San Miguel Counties — incumbent John L. Morrow, Capulin, is opposed by ex-State Rep. E. Kelly Mora, Raton, in the Democratic primary. State Rep. Carol Tinker, Las Vegas, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for the newly aligned Senate seat.

Incumbent State Rep. Alvin B. Castillo, Raton, and Jose C. Torres, Eagle Nest, are Democratic primary opponents in new Colfax-Union House District 68. Republican John Bonneyman King, Capulin, is unopposed in the primary.

A hot scrap is expected in new Senate District 8 — Guadalupe, DeBaca and San Miguel Counties — in the Democratic primary between Ray Leger and ex-State Rep. Fidel (Chief) Gonzalez of Las Vegas. Leger is West Las Vegas Schools superintendent. Republican incumbent Junio Lopez, Las Vegas, is unopposed in the primary.

State Sen. Emmett Hart, D-Tumacacari, did not seek reelection in the newly reshaped Quay-Curry Counties District 26. Democrats Victor P. Stout, Clovis, and D. F. McCasland, MoAlister, Quay County, are primary opponents. Ex-Tucumcari Mayor Kenneth Schlentz and Peter C. Witt, Clovis, are matched in the GOP primary.

Two incumbents in new Senate District 31 — Roosevelt and Chaves Counties — have no primary opposition. They are Sens. Bobby E. Wood, Portales Democrat, and James L. Brulin, Roswell Republican. They will meet in the general election Nov. 7. Wood formerly represented Curry and Roosevelt Counties.

Incumbent Clifton Moreland, Tucumcari, and Louise E. Gallegos, Logan, are Democratic opponents in a new Quay-Union House district.

In a Luna-Hidalgo Counties House district incumbent Democrat William J. Upton, Deming, and Mrs. Thelma Inmon, Deming Republican, are unopposed in their party primaries. Upton seeks a second House term. He is a former state banking commissioner.

Mrs. Inmon, a former Democrat, represents Hidalgo, Luna and Grant Counties on the State Board of Education. But the state board was sharply realigned under reapportionment and Mrs. Inmon did not seek reelection.

Rep. Ralph Petty, D-Ruidoso, did not try for reelection in a new House district of Guadalupe, Torrance, DeBaca and Lincoln Counties. Incumbent rancher John Bigbee, Encino, and Antonio D. Sanchez, Santa Rosa, are matched in the GOP primary. A. F. (Lalo) Padilla, Vaughn, and Paul Joseph Davis, Jr., Moriarty, entered the Democratic primary.

In realigned House District 8 incumbent Fred Luna and Joseph A. Baca, Jr., of Los Lunas are Democratic primary opponents. Gene A. Sals of Los Lunas and Sidney S. Gottlieb, Jr. of Cubero are matched in the Republican primary.

Incumbent Republican Maurice Hobson and Democrat Page Carter of Alamogordo were the only candidates filing in new Lincoln-Otero House District 52. Rep. John J. Mershon, Cloudcroft Democrat, is unopposed for reelection in Lincoln-Otero House District 51. No Democrat or Republican filed in the district.

Cowbells Schedule Anti-Litter Drive

The Canyon Cowbells of Lincoln County are launching their first efforts to break the litter habit with a "Trash-A-Thon" April 15 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Ancho turnoff on Highway 54. The State Police are setting up a road block there in the morning and in Carrizozo in the afternoon. They have secured two sizes of trash bags and the two folders from the Bureau of Land Management, for distribution. A Cowbell or 4-H member will give each motorist the trash packet.

Several county 4-H clubs have volunteered to help the Cowbells in the drive of picking up litter along Highway 54 toward Carrizozo and possibly on 380.

blackeyed peas, celery sticks, homemade bread slices, applesauce. All the above meals are served with 1/2 pint milk.

They are hoping for other volunteers. Material that can be recycled will be taken to Howell or Albuquerque. The Highway Department has given five trash barrels and Lincoln El Paso Natural Gas Plant has donated 10 barrels to collect the litter in. Later the barrels will be decorated and put at ranch turn-offs along Highways 54 and 380 to accommodate passing motorists. The Highway Department has agreed to empty the barrels.

Vernelle Highower and Ann Ferguson spoke before the Rotary in Carrizozo Thursday asking them to join in becoming Concerned Johnny Horizons and help save our country from litter and pollution. If we all become Johnny Horizons we can make Lincoln County more beautiful.

We have decided if "we bend a little and pick up a lot" the roadways will be more beautiful and we will too! Here are seven ways to fight

- pollution—
1. Break the litter habit.
 2. Organize collection and recycling of paper, glass, tin, aluminum, and all things that make waste such a threat.
 3. Insist on re-usable and returnable packaging materials when available.
 4. Keep your auto well tuned to cut down noxious fumes.
 5. Conserve electrical power: 15 million tons of pollutants enter the air every year through electric power generation.
 6. Don't waste or pollute water.
 7. Support ecological research.

If you get rid of envy you will be surprised to see how nice people are in your community. N. DeVans Williams, Holmes (Fla.) County Advertiser.
