Ruidoso State Bank Wins Sewer Bond Bid for Ruidoso Downs

Sewer bond bids were opened by the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso Downs at a special meeting held Thursday evening in the Village Hall. Darrell Fowler of Stern Bros., fiscal agent for the village, attended the meeting to advise the trustees on details of the bond issue. Apparent low bidder on the $300,000 bond issue was the Ruidoso State Bank with an effective interest rate of 6.4333%.

Ruidoso State Bank's bid ran as follows: Bonds maturing 1974 to 1982 — 6½%, 1983 to 1986 — 6¾%, and 1987 to 1991 — 6½%. Net interest cost on the 20 years of bonds will run $241,250 for the entire issue.

Three bids were opened at the meeting — Ruidoso State Bank, Security Bank and Kirhner, Moor and Co. of Denver. The bid of Ruidoso State Bank was accepted by a unanimous vote of the council. Delivery of the bonds is expected in about four to five weeks.

Actual construction of the 1.6 million dollar project is expected to begin in about 10 months.

U. S. Forest Service Turns Down Mescalero Land Exchange Plan

The U. S. Forest Service, it was learned here Friday, June 23, has denied a proposed land exchange with the U. S. Department of the Interior and the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe involving 2,240 acres of the Lincoln National Forest.

A 200-plus page formal Final Environmental Statement, regarding the proposed exchange and prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Forest Service Southwestern Region, Albuquerque, was reportedly filed with the Federal Council on Environmental Quality June 21.

A letter accompanying the formal printed environmental statement and signed by Kenneth L. Evans, Forest Supervisor, Lincoln National Forest Regional Office, Alamogordo, stated in part, "the Environmental Statement sets forth that a land exchange with the Mescalero Apache Tribe is not in the public interest and that the Forest Service will not enter into negotiations with the Tribe.

The U. S. Department of Interior and the Mescaleros have thirty days in which to appeal the land exchange denied by the Forest Service.

The Final Environmental Statement, according to a page titled "Distribution of Final Environmental Statement", lists a total of fifty-five recipients of the printed statement. The recipients include New Mexico Governor Bruce King and Texas Governor Preston Smith, U. S. Senators from New Mexico and Texas, U. S. House of Representatives, State Representatives, state and federal agencies, New Mexico municipalities, county officials, the Sierra Club, wildlife and conservation associations, Cattle Growers Association, the Souhtwestern Minerals Exploration Association of Tucson, Ariz., and a number of other agencies and organizations.

The distribution list does not include any representatives of the news media.

The land exchange involves 2,240 acres of Lincoln National Forest lands, north of Ruidoso, most of which are included in the Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Area. The famed ski area is currently under a 30-year special use-permit to the Mescalero Apache Tribe by the U. S. Forest Service. The Tribe has around twenty-three years remaining on the 80 acres of unspecified land.

In September, 1971, the Mescalero Apache Tribe formally requested the land exchange to be made to the U. S. Department of Interior to be held in trust for the Mescalero Apache Tribe. The Tribe claimed that the land exchange was necessary to finance their proposed $4 million dollar Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Area expansion program.

The Forest Service responded to the Tribe's request with a formal Environmental Draft, dated January 7, which questioned the ability of the Mescaleros, under the supervision of the Department of Interior, to manage the lands. The forest service also questioned the environmental factors, future water rights and public land use if the exchange were made.

During a formal public hearing, January 22, held in the Chaparral Motor Hotel Convention Center, Ruidoso Downs, attended by over 200 people including U. S. Forest Service leaders and Mescalero Apache Tribal officials, Wendell Chino, Mescalero Apache Tribal Council President, told the large gathering, "The obvious efforts (by the U. S. D. A. Forest Service) to raise questions and doubts to undermine the leadership of and the management capabilities of the Tribe must be answered before some of the other issues raised in the Forest Service Statement are answered."

The most recent U. S. Forest Service environmental statement states, "the proposal could significantly affect several aspects of the environment. These include the only sub-alpine area on the forest, key wildlife and plant communities, several free-flowing streams, downstream water quality, a municipal watershed, an outstanding scenic area, a large unroaded and undeveloped area and an existing wilderness."

Reportedly the lands in question for exchange originally were legally owned by the Mescalero Apache Tribe under a title honored by both the United States and the Mexican governments. In 1873, an Executive Order created the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation and excluded within its boundaries the lands in question.

A second Executive Order in 1876, adjusted the reservation in favor of private mining interests and removed from Indian status most of the immediate mountain lands north of the present Mescalero Apache Reservation. The lands became under the control of the Forest Service on July 26, 1902.

In 1968, the U. S. Government reportedly paid the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe at the rate of forty-three cents per acre for the lands removed for mining interests in 1876. These lands are included in the proposed land exchange request.

FOR THE BIRDS — Gary, 10, left, and Lee Vega, Jr., 11, sons of Lincoln County Chief Under Sheriff and Mrs. Leandro Vega, Jr., Carrizozo, hosted two Bald Eagles, about two months old, for over a week and, in spite of their facial expressions, went all out for the birds. Found near Three Rivers, the two eagles were turned in to the Lincoln County Sheriff's office last week to be held for the New Mexico State Department of Game and Fish. Chief Under Sheriff Vega permitted the boys to keep the two "hungry" ones in their home even though the birds consumed two pounds of hamburger daily (not on the county budget) and were very . . . very active with their better than four foot wingspan.

Nine Upper Canyon Businesses Form New Inn Keepers Assn.

Nine Ruidoso businesses, all located in the Upper Canyon area, last week, formed an association for the purpose of promoting and advertising tourism and recreation in the Upper Canyon Area.

Named The Ruidoso Upper Canyon Inn Keepers Association, the members held their first organizational meeting recently and elected L. C. "Cowboy" Stokes, owner and manager of Sherwood Forest, as president. Mrs. W. E. Hartness, Mountainair Lodge, was elected secretary-treasurer of the newly formed association.

Stokes announced this week that all businesses in the Upper Canyon area of Ruidoso, from the circle, west of the Ruidoso Post Office on Sudderth Drive to the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation boundary at the extreme north end of the Upper Canyon, are welcomed and encouraged to join the association.

One of the first projects of the association is to install special designed signs at designated areas. Thunderbird Signs of Ruidoso, reportedly, has been contracted to install the special markers.

The nine businesses include Story Book Cabins, Dan Dee Cabins, Noisy Water Lodge, Sherwood Forest, Whispering Pines Cabins, Cowan Cabins, Whispering Pine Restaurant, Mountainair Lodge and Chateaux Village.

Record Handle Seen At Ruidoso Downs

CAPITAN NEWS

by Bartley McDonough

We are in the process of forming a band for the stampede parade. This will be known as the stampede parade band. All those who play musical instruments are invited to play them in this parade. The only requirement is that you be at the Capitan Schools band room by 10:30 a.m. on July 4. A practice will be held on June 3 in this same band room. It is set for 3 p.m. We must have a band for this parade and we need YOU.

Danny Duane Drum, a 1966 graduate of Hedley High School, Hedley, Texas, and a 1970 graduate of Abilene Christian College, has been contracted by the Capitan Schools for the 1972-73 school year to teach science and social studies. Drum taught in Causey last year. He has also taught in Washington, D. C.

The Capitan Schools have also contracted Wayne W. Huffman for the 1972-73 school year to teach industrial arts. Huffman comes to Capitan from Winslow, Ariz., where he taught for two years. He is a graduate of Northern Arizona University.

Parade chairmen Doris Engelking and Janice Eldridge are looking for more participants for the stampede parade on July 4. They know that the antique car club from Hobbs will be here along with posses from Chaves and Lea Counties. The High Chaparral Riding Club from Ruidoso is another entry. Several floats are being built, but more entries are needed. Trophies will be awarded to the following: the best organized group, best antique car entry, most original entry, best dressed cowboy, best dressed cowgirl, cash prizes to bicycle entries. The 1st place float will receive a beautiful trophy and a $25 cash prize. Trophies will also be awarded to the 2nd place float and the best bicycle entry. The parade chairmen stress the need for a band. The band needs all the help it can get from anyone.

Airman Apprentice Sidney McDonald, a 1971 graduate of Capitan High School, is currently serving as a plane captain on the USS Ticonderoga, an aircraft carrier now operating in the South China Sea. He has completed one year of a three year enlistment.

A late bid by the Willard Blue Angels fell short last Sunday allowing the Ft. Stanton Pirates to tuck away their second victory in the Bean Valley Conference, 14-13. Pitcher Richard House went all the way for the Pirates and had a good day at the plate. The following are the Pirate players with their at bats, their runs and their hits in that order: Ronnie Smith, 5-1-1; Ben Dalton, 4-1-1; Ronnie Chambers, 4-3-1; Richard House, 5-5-3; Ervin Aldaz, 5-3-3, including two home runs; Robert Griego, 4-0-0, Johnny Chambers, 5-0-3; Gilbert Archuleta, 4-0-1; Tony Padilla, 3-0-0, and Vick Ramirez, 0-1-0. The Pirates are not scheduled this weekend. We failed to mention last week that Richard House was credited with three home runs in the second game of the season. Sorry, Coach!

Short Items: Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Freeman have donated $1,000 to the Capitan Schools for library books. —The new telephone number at the Idle Hour Enchantment is 354-2283. The new telephone number at the Chuck In is 354-9292. —Buy your refreshments from the Capitan Lions at the Smokey Bear Stampede. All profits goes back into community projects. —Bill Randle and Fletcher Hall have replaced Jack Shaw and Gerald Dean on the city council. —Approximately 60 volunteers were on hand Saturday, June 24, for workday at the rodeo grounds. —Teachers Emma Gene Hall and Ofelia Salas are attending summer school in Las Cruces. —The present helicopter pilot on the Smokey Bear District is Stan Nash of Great Falls, Mont. He is scheduled to leave here June 28. His crewman has been Gary Martin of Boise, Idaho. —Irene Coleman is working at the school under the Neighborhood Youth Corps Program this summer.

Tryouts for queen of the Capitan Junior Riding Club were held Thursday, June 22, at the rodeo grounds. Judges Nancy Knight of Ancho, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barham of Carrizozo, selected Nancy Hunter as the new queen. The first runner-up is Donna Joiner. The second runner-up is Kimber Murray. These three winners each received a trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Lykins of Roswell. Nancy Hunter also received a Navajo blanket with tool leather plaques. Other queen candidates included Karri Murray, Wendy Wylie, Sandra Lacy, Lilly Montes, Leola Montes, Sis Lovelace, and last year's queen, Elizabeth Jenkins. The new queen will be a junior this fall in Capitan High School.

As of June 27 the Capitan Schools needed to employ 3 elementary teachers (1 preferred to be a male), 1 resource room teacher and 1 reading teacher—both under Title I program.

Presbyterian Youth Camp Sessions Set At Chimney Spring

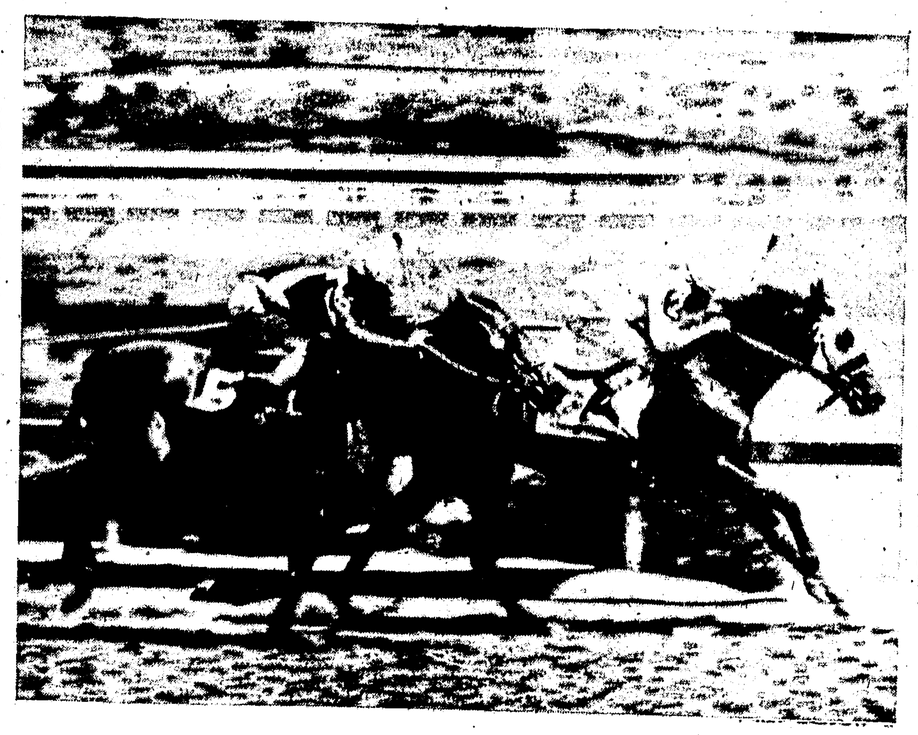
Presbyterian Camp Chimney Spring near Cloudcroft, N. M., which is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Churches of West Texas and New Mexico, will begin July with a heavy schedule of Youth Camps that will continue through most of August. Six, week long, graded, camps for boys and girls from the 5th grade through high school will begin with a special camp for underprivileged children on July 1.

Of interest to area people will be a special worship service conducted by visiting ministers at the camp open air worship center each Sunday at 10:00 a. m. from July 2 through August 27. The camp is located between Cloudcroft and Mayhill just off Highway 83 near Burgett Nursery.

Permanent staff members for the summer season will be Rev. Frank Crown, Camp Manager; John Stone, Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morris, Watchman; Mrs. Ann Adkins, Cook; Miss Hazel Boyd, Program Assistant. Each week-long camp (limited to 75 campers) will have its own director and staff to work with the campers.

Camp manager, Frank Crown, had this to say about the type of philosophy and program that the Presbyterians are conducting at Camp Chimney Spring: "This church-sponsored camp for boys and girls provides opportunities for Christian learning and guidance that cannot be achieved elsewhere in the church's program of Christian education. A camping set up such as we have here at Chimney Spring capitalizes on the natural interests of junior high and high school age boys and girls in doing things together in the out-of-doors. We put them in small groups in a rustel setting where, through their simple outdoor living, they can actually have an experience in a Christian community living close to the realities of God's world. In camping, Christian principles are not just discussed, they are lived and evaluated. For the past four years, we have utilized the 300 acres of this heavily wooded camp area and the surrounding national forest to a great advantage in conducting our summer programs."

These camps are not limited to youth in the Presbyterian Church. Area youth interested in attending one of these camp sessions may receive information from Frank Crown in Ruidoso.



SCRIBNER HORSE WINS AT RUIDOSO—Certainly Everett, No. 2, owned and bred by Robert G. Scribner of Ruidoso, gained the rail soon after the start and was on top the rest of the way in the five and one-half furlong fourth race over a muddy track at Ruidoso Downs on Friday. Jockey Frank Henning put up a good hustling ride on the California-bred Everett's Son colt to beat leading rider Willie Lovell on Kay Jean, No. 6. Kay Jean is owned by Bonnie I. Calloway of Hobbs. James I. Ricken conditions the Scribner home-bred which returned $25.20 to win.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of the title and of a general summary of the subject matters contained in Ordinance No. 13-1-7, duly adopted and approved by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico, on June 22, 1972. A complete copy of Ordinance No. 13-1-7 is available for public inspection during the normal and regular business hours of the Village Clerk in the office of the Village Clerk, Village Hall, Ruidoso Downs New Mexico.

Warrior Boosters Hold Regular Meeting Thursday, June 22

The Warrior Booster Club met Thursday, June 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Library for their regular meeting.

President Wayne Estes conducted the meeting, with minutes of the previous meeting read by Mrs. B. F. Baur, secretary. Mrs. Jo Perryman, treasurer, gave a report on the club's finances.

The members voted to borrow money to buy a clock for the gym, a wrestling mat and uniforms for the wrestling team, and a telephoto lense for the camera used to photograph football games. It was also decided to build a new concession stand for the athletic field with volunteers needed for this project.

A discussion was held on the football and basketball schedules for the coming year. A vote of thanks was given basketball coach Phil Hood. The club discussed ways of getting local merchants to participate in the school athletic programs.

The club will hold a Bake Food Sale Saturday, July 1, at H & J Foodbasket. The sale will start at 9:30 and continue until sold out. Parents of students involved in athletics are urged to bring baked goods for the sale. A Race Day at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track was discussed, with a date to be set later.

It was announced that reserved seats for all home football games are now on sale, and may be obtained from Jo Perryman. She noted that all of the "big" games will be played at Ruidoso this football season, and urged everyone who wants reserved seats to get them early.

The Warrior Booster Club will meet twice a month, the 2nd and 4th Thursdays. Anyone interested in athletics is invited to attend, and parents with children in the school athletic programs are especially urged to attend and support the club.

Five Full Days of Racing Set For Fourth of July Holiday

The finale of the $205,600 Rainbow Quarter Horse Derby on July 4 sports ten of America's finest and most accomplished three-year-olds going for the winner's $66,666 purse. Mr. Jet Moore, owned by Robert W. Moore of Oklahoma City, Okla., posted the fastest qualifying time of 19.87 seconds for 400-yards.

The ten contenders collectively have earned purses of $947,451 in their eighteen months of racing. July 4th's huge purse will bring the total well over the million dollar mark for the illustrious ten quarter horses.

The big five-day holiday weekend begins Friday and will reach its climax on Tuesday with the 8th running of the Rainbow Derby, America's richest three-year-old quarter horse race. New Mexico Governor Bruce King is expected to be on hand in the winner's circle following Sunday's featured $5,000 added Governor's Handicap at six and one-half furlongs. The second division of the Rainbow Derby will headline Monday's card as the second fastest ten go for a purse of $31,231.

Mr. Jet Moore, a son of the famed Jet Deck, owns a hard-to-match lifetime record of 16 wins in 21 starts. He is the early favorite to capture the winner's portion of $66,666. The Oklahoma bred was third to Some Kinda Man in the $54,650 Ruidoso Quarter Horse Derby. Keith Asmussen is the regular rider with three time All-American winner, Newt Keck, as trainer.

Alamitos Angel, owned by Myron and Jacquelyn Palermo of Lake Charles, La., is a real consistent filly. She was second to Some Kinda Man in the Ruidoso Derby. Last year the Alamitos Bar filly won the $54,335 Kentucky Quarter Horse Futurity at Latonia Raceway, Kentucky. She has won two of three starts this year and has one second. Alfred Fontenot is the trainer with Sidney Detlege of Dayton, Texas, the regular pilot.

Regardless of what does happen Tuesday, last year's All-American winner and Ruidoso's favorite, Mr. Kid Charge, will move into coveted third place among leading money-earning quarter horses. He will be topped only by Walter Merrick's Easy Jet and Floyd Jones' Laico Bird, both winners of the famed All-American Futurity.

Will Whitehead of Del Rio, Texas, is the owner with J. B. Montgomery the trainer. Jerry Burgess is slated to ride the $4,100 purchase in the 1970 All-American sales. Mr. Kid Charge's total earnings to date are $274,197.

Duplicate Bid won her division of the trials in the good time of 20.21. The Duplicate Copy filly is owned by Bess Fish of Houston and trained by the veteran Jake Cascio. Leading rider Willie Lovell will be aboard the filly who was second to Mr. Kid Charge and beat Mr. Jet Moore in the Ruidoso Derby trials. Last year, Duplicate Bid won the $153,700 Sun Country Futurity at Sunland Park.

Savannah Jet, a daughter of Jet Deck who is owned by Louis and Shirley McKee of El Paso, won her trial division. The winner of Sunland's $18,600 West Texas Derby this year was second to the aged Cinder Leo and fourth in the Ruidoso Derby this year. She is trained by Bubba Cascio.

Some Kinda Man qualified ninth with a time of 20.34, being third in the trials to Alamitos Angel and Sidly. The grullo coated son of Go Man Go has been slightly raced but was the winner by one-half length of the $54,650 Ruidoso Derby, leaving behind Alamitos Angel, Mr. Jet Moore, Savannah Jet, Shift 'N Sand, Duplicate Bid, and Mr. Kid Charge. When right, this B. F. Phillips, Jr.-owned colt is hard to beat. He is also trained by Bubba Cascio.

Come Six, second in last year's All-American to Mr. Kid Charge, finished second in his trial to Duplicate Bid. In 1971, the Azure Te gelding won six of nine starts and seeks to regain his good form of 1971. H. C. Werner, Jr. of New Braunsfels, Texas is the lessee and trainer.

Shift 'N Sand was second to Mr. Kid Charge in the trials and posted a time of 20.28 Last October the black son of Pistol Bar won the $45,235 All-American Congress Futurity at Balmar Park, Ohio, in which Come Six was third. He was trained by Jimmy D. Millar and Robert L. Cadenhead of Mineola, Texas, and is one of the three finalists trained by Bubba Cascio.

Sidly, owned by John Hamilton of Tyrone, N. M., and trained by Geral Marr of Tularosa, produced one of his best races in the trials. He qualified with a time of 20.32 behind Alamitos Angel but beat Some Kinda Man. He is from the All-American winner, Goetta, which was owned by Californian Hugh Huntley and trained by Newt Keck.

The only New Mexico-bred to qualify was Helen Mathieson's Top Top. The Ike Danley-trained gelded son of Top Gain had won five of thirteen starts in 1971. The Las Vegas-owned three-year-old was second to Savannah Jet.

Here's how the finished in the trials and times for each horse: 1. Mr. Jet Moore, 19.87; 2. Alamitos Angel, 20.12; 3. Mr. Kid Charge, 20.29; 4. Duplicate Bid, 20.21; 5. Savannah Jet, 20.27; 6. Shift 'N Sand, 20.87; 7. Come Six, 20.38; 8. Sidly, 20.32; 9. Some Kinda Man, 20.34, and 10. Top Top, 20.35.

The 1972 Rainbow Derby gross purse of $205,200 presents the three-year-old quarter horse with a golden opportunity in their second year of racing. It is America's richest combination race and was a stepping stone for winner of 1971, Bunny Bid, to gain the AQHA title of Champion Quarter Running Stallion of 1971.

Apache Earth Science Society to Join Rocky Mountain Federation

The Apache Earth Science Society, Ruidoso, during their last regular meeting, June 27, voted to make a formal application for membership in the Rocky Mountain Federation of Mineralogical Societies. An official of the Apache Earth Science Society announced that a representative of the R. M. F. M. S. will meet with the local society, during their regular July 18 meeting.

Membership in the R. M. F. M. S., it was noted, assures the local group of special seminars, qualified speakers, motion picture films and slide films pertaining to related mineralogical subjects.

Tuesday night's meeting also included a special slide film presentation by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holbert, Ruidoso. The program consisted of slide films, taken by the Holberts, of specimens of petrified wood and agate. Mrs. Holbert served as narrator for the program.

The society also agreed to construct several display cases to house various specimens of gems and minerals. The display cases will be on view for the public at both the Ruidoso State Bank and The Security Bank. No date was announced for the viewing.

Mrs. Marge Garner, Ruidoso, was appointed society secretary, during the meeting following the resignation of society secretary Mrs. Scotty McGuire.

The next regular meeting of the Apache Earth Science Society has been set for Tuesday, July 11, in the fellowship hall of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount, Ruidoso.

READY FOR TUESDAY'S RAINBOW—There's a pot of gold waiting at the end of Tuesday's rainbow at Ruidoso Downs. The occasion is the eighth running of the Rainbow Quarter Horse Derby—the richest sophomore quarter horse event in the world. Tuesday's renewal offers a first-place purse of $66,666 out of a record gross of $205,200. The probable favorite, shown off here by pretty Cathy Hine of Ruidoso, is Mr. Jet Moore. The colt, owned by Robert Moore of Oklahoma City, has already earned $187,737. In last week's elimination trials, Mr. Jet Moore won easily and covered 400 yards in the top qualifying time of 19.87 seconds. Cathy is a business education major at Eastern New Mexico University.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Neighbors At Odds

Grouchy Mrs. Baxter, an apartment dweller, had two reasons for cooking cabbage so often. First, she liked cabbage. Second, she liked to waft the cooking odors out of her open kitchen door, into the apartment of the new neighbors across the hall.

When the neighbors finally haled her into court, Mrs. Baxter insisted she had a right to cook whatever and however she pleased.

But the court ruled that she was guilty of committing a nuisance, by maliciously inflicting discomfort on others.

Psychologists tell us that hostility grows as living space shrinks. One of the law's touchier tasks is to mediate between neighbors at odds. And, as the above case indicates, evil intent may make the big difference in court.

This is shown even more clearly by the law's changing attitudes toward spite fences. Such fences, erected deliberately to block off the daylight from a neighbor's house, used to be tolerated as a lawful exercise of property rights.

But now they are forbidden almost everywhere. As one court commented, in condemning a spite fence 11 feet high:

"The right to enjoy the sunshine is a natural one, and no man can shut out the light of heaven for no better reason than to gratify his malice toward his neighbor."

Nonetheless, when we choose to live in an urban environment, we are also choosing the reasonable degree of vexation that goes with it.

In another case, a family had a ventilating fan that blew cooking smells out of their kitchen, in the general direction of the house next door.

But this time, when the neighbors went to court to complain, the judge took due note of the fact that the houses were 27 feet apart. At this distance, he said, the degree of annoyance was too slight to awaken the law's disapproval.

The judge said he would not interfere "without some evidence that (the cooking odors) were revolting to a point beyond the effect of ordinary neighborhood exhalations."

County Agent's Column

By RALPH DUNLAP

Use a fly repellent if you brand your calves or mark lambs, as screw worms are occuring in epidemic numbers in Texas. Screw worms have broken out in all the Texas counties bordering the Rio Grande except El Paso County. By mid-May there had been 2292 cases reported whereas in 1971 there were 444 cases. There are enough sterile flies being released to help the spread of the screwworms. If you have some worms get a sample, put in rubbing alcohol and send it in. You can get a kit for samples from the County Agents office or livestock inspector.

R-R-D

The first generation of fall webworms will be hatching soon. Fall webworms are the wooly caterpillars that feed on leaves and make their unsightly webs on poplars, cottonwoods, elm, mulberries, willows, pecans, and many other ornamental and fruit trees in New Mexico.

When the web nests and caterpillars are small, they can be removed from the trees by cutting a few twigs and leaves. Since the worm doesn't leave the web until full-grown, make sure you get the entire web and then destroy the worms by stepping on them or throwing them in a garbage can with a tight-fitting lid.

Many insecticide sprays such as carbaryl, diazinon, and naled or one of the general garden sprays will control the worms. Check all your broadleafed trees closely at least once a week during the summer. When you see the first webs forming, wait about 10 days and then spray the entire tree. If the webs are already covering several leaves, spray immediately.

Fall webworms from last year spent the winter in the pupal stage (resting stage between worm and moth) in protected places such as the cracks between the soil and the foundations of buildings. Many die during the winter but females that survive emerge during late May and early June. Each female moth can lay several clusters of eggs containing 75 to 200 eggs per cluster. The eggs hatch in about a week and the young caterpillars start feeding. The caterpillars live about 30 days, drop to the ground and pupate. The pupal stage lasts about a week and then new moths emerge to start the second generation. Most of the caterpillars that pupate in the summer survive. Therefore if the first generation of caterpillars is not controlled, then large numbers are not controlled, then large quantities of eggs in August and September.

The moths have pure satiny white wings and the abdomen has yellow and black markings. They are attracted to light at night but are seldom seen in the daytime. For more complete information on the fall webworm and its control ask your County Agent for a copy of Circular 439 "Fall Webworms and How to Control Them", or write the Bulletin Office, Box 3AI, NMSU, Las Cruces, New Mex. 88001.

The pleasures of summer are many, but so are its potential dangers—like rabies. Rabies is most commonly found in wildlife, and you're most likely to visit areas where there are wild animals during summer vacations, outdoor excursions and camping trips.

Bats, foxes and skunks are frequent rabies victims. To avoid being bitten, learn to recognize the signs of rabies in animals. Any wild animal behaving abnormally is reason for caution. You should suspect rabies when animals normally seen only at night are sighted in the daytime. Animals with rabies infection lose their fear of human beings, develop attacking tendencies, wander aimlessly and display depressed behavior. You're most likely to find rabid bats on the ground, trembling or in a stupor.

Don't handle paralyzed or sick animals. Report the animal to a conservation officer or game warden. They can observe suspected animals or confine them in a safe place. If you are bitten by a wild animal, wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water and go directly to a physician, who will advise you if and when treatment should begin. Try to apprehend the animal if it can be done without additional danger.

All animals, except bats, should then be confined in a safe place for 14 days for rabies observation and diagnosis under the supervision of a veterinarian. A bat should be sent directly to diagnostic laboratory for diagnosis. If it is necessary to kill the animal, care should be taken not to damage the brain, which is needed for laboratory examination. Dead suspect animals should be kept refrigerated, but not frozen, for examination.

R-R-D

Mike Perry with the New Mexico Department of Agriculture, found range caterpillars hatching east of Corona and Pine Lodge and White Oaks. The range caterpillars were just emerging from the egg. Ranchers in this area should do some more looking on their ranch to see if they are hatching. Aerial application of Sevin 4 in an oil emulsion will control the range caterpillar. This insecticide takes up to two weeks to kill the caterpillar.

The range caterpillar not only eats the grass but also has a spine on each segment that causes a blister on anything they touch. This stops livestock from grazing heavily infested areas. Birds also avoid the range caterpillar because of the spines.

Little Bo-Peep of nursery rhyme fame would be in her glory at the 1972 New Mexico State Fair Sept. 14-24 in Albuquerque. But, her sheep would have given her trouble in a new featured fair event entitled the "All-Breed Ladies Lead Sheep Class". The new class is for both sheep and sheepherdess, and the appearance of both will have a great deal to do with who takes home the prize money. And, the prize money—oh, how sweet it is! First place winner will take home $150; second place earns $100, and third place wins $50.

There's more. If garments worn by winners are made by them, the first placer will win an additional $25 each.

The "All-Breed Ladies Lead Sheep Class" is sponsored by Sheep to Shawl, a group organized in late 1970 to help promote projects featuring wool. Mrs. Janice Gnatkowski, Ancho, is chairwoman of the organization. The Lincoln County Extension Service of New Mexico State University is assisting.

The girls must be New Mexicans or reside in El Paso County, Texas. They must be between 16 and 21 years old, and their major articles of clothing must be made of wool.

The girls must show at halter a yearling (two-tooth) ewe, shorn in the current calendar year. Purebreds of any breed are eligible, and registration papers are not necessary. The girl must have owned the ewe for at least 90 days before the class is judged, and must provide proof of ownership. This means animals must be acquired soon. Verification of animal ownership, and the home sewing of apparel, should be made through county Extension offices of NMSU.

The object of the new class, says Mrs. Gnatkowski, is twofold—to present a fashion parade of imaginatively attired girl sherpherds, and to present well-behaved, halter-led sheep. The intention is to present a class of sheep in the most attractive manner so as to promote beautiful sheep and improve the image of a sheep show.

Girls in the class will be judged on their mode of dress, which must be appropriate, attractive and add elegance to the class. They will be judged on costume, poise and appearance, as well as their ability to control and present their sheep.

The standard procedure will be used in judging sheep. That procedure stresses the overall quality of the animal.

The SILVER LINING

By DANIEL A. STORM

It seems back somewhere in my high school days I remember something out of one of Shakespeare's plays.

Something happened that part of them wanted to be forgotten and the other bunch did not. As they were arguing the case, one fellow—surely out of a guilty conscience for his part in it all —became a little over-anxious and tipped his hand. He burst out, "Let the dead past bury its dead!"

And the leader of the opposition, a much more intelligent man, with the calmness that comes from a clear conscience, looked at the first speaker and said, "The past is not dead."

On Wednesday, June twenty-first, the truth of this saying was brought home by words of the featured speaker of the evening, Dr. C. L. Sonnichsen, that brilliant and charming man who has spent half a century at least bringing to light colorful and precious episodes of the living past.

The beloved professor — who strikes you as being so un-professor-like on account of his light-hearted, laughing and smiling approach to his audience (and to life itself surely)—this beloved professor, I say, brought out the important thought that history is more than the battles, kings, and great turning points of the past—although these are important to be sure. History is the complete story of all of us, great and small, humble and proud, famous and obscure. All have had their part in the show.

Also, history is taking place right now in our every-day life. It is important and a very worthwhile thing, Dr. Sonnchsen brought out, that we cherish and try to conserve all we can about our people: photographs, letters, newspapers, tools, household uten-ils, toys, books, and "a thousand things other than this."

Just as one little example, anything made by a blacksmith is now quite a valuable little historical item.

So we owe Dr. Sonnchsen a rousing vote of thanks for bringing these things to our attention.

Up on the barker's stand along with the good gray Doctor, not so gray after all, there was Bob Scribner, president of the Historical Society, and Truman Spencer, Jr., a big wheel in the organization also. Both of these boys are walking history books themselves. They should write their memoirs. Any man who can fly a plane is worth listening to in my book.

Truman told an interesting little bit of history. On his place on a great big rock is written 1771 in old time Spanish writing with an arrow pointing to what used to be a spring. Surely this must be part of a record of an early Spanish expedition. Truman is trying to track down records of this trip by the early Conquistadores.

High School Graduates
A Likely Looking Group

This is a little late, but the 1972 Ruidoso High School graduates are high-type young citizens one and all. If this is any sample of our youth nation-wide, then our country is in good hands.

Also the speaker was outstanding. What was his name, McAdams?

Did you ever have a nightmare in which the speaker does not show up and they look over the crowd and point to you and say,

"Mr. Goodey-Goodey, would you please come forward and say a few words in the absence of our speaker? I have had this dream not once but many times. Only I was not called Mr. Goodey-Goodey. I always wake up in a cold sweat scared half to death. Now here is the pattern in most every graduation speaker I ever heard, and this last fellow was no exception.

He is picked because his is a success. From start to finish in his life he has done everything right. His theme is:

"Look. If you want to succeed, do as I did. If you don't believe it, check my record." (This is as it should be).

How would it be if one of these substitute speakers would get up and say:

"Young people. I have made every mistake in the book, and some that are not. I have stumbled and fallen on the pathway of life not once but many times, and got up to stumble on. I would like to spare you those hard falls: don't do as I do. Do as I tell you."

Well, so much for day-dreaming on this warm day in June. I wish the graduates of Ruidoso High School all the success and happiness in the world.

The Mescalero Celebration

One of the most ancient and colorful Indian celebrations on the North American Continent will be held once again for four days around the Fourth, just over the hill in the pine-fringed ancestral homeland of the Mescalero Apache Indians.

Your life is not quite complete until you have heard the age-old chants and seen the dances around the fire at night.

Some of the Bee-Dalth-Tli-cah (White Eyes) used to call this fire dance the Devil Dance. But according to one of my old Indian friends, the late Daniel Nichols, this is the Dance of the Mountain Gods.

Dan said that in the long ago, the Apache tribe was traveling rapidly, in some kind of dire emergency. In the band there was one blind warrior and one that was lame. In their haste the rest of the company left these two behind. Night came on and the blind and the lame one found themselves in the mountain, hungry, cold and lost.

They prayed to the mountain Gods. "Oh, mountain God, help us."

Presently there appeared a small group of light-stepping people, broad of shoulder, muscular of arm, dressed exactly like those who will dance around the fire this second to fifth of July at night. (It runs in my mind that these dancers are ceremoniously dressed and decorated with symbols of the mountain together with other traditional sacred symbols of the Apache Race.)

The outstanding feature is the headdress perhaps signifying height, loftiness, the sacredness of the Heavens. On the arm of the dancer, naked from the waist up, are painted streaks of lightning, and on the point of the shoulder a four-pointed star and on the back a simple cross —these last two I take it are for the sacred number four of the Apache.

Anyhow, this little group of mountain Gods took the lame and the blind Indian to their caves in the mountains where they were fed on venison, and good broiled mescal hearts, and many other nourishing and appetizing Indian fare; and dressed in good buckskin clothes, with long boots turned up at the tips.

The Apache people have never forgotten this good turn of the Mountain Gods, and have remembered them in their ceremonies to this day.

Have a happy Fouth of July!

MRS. B—

By CECELIA BARRON

You know, they are making some of the new cars almost human and they are prettier than we are; also have more sense than some of us. They cry when we do not fasten our seat belt — even the back seat — and I understand, one company is to put out a car that the seat belt will automatically wind around you like a snake and fasten. Eeek! When the key is left in the ignition or a door is left open; they are sure to tell you about it. If they keep training them at the factory so they will not pollute the air and teach them to drive themselves; it will be fine as man is not doing such a good job.

I saw a three wheel motorcycle 'putting' down the street a few days ago. That may be the answer to transportation for the oldsters who have quit driving and are having to ride their two white calves. We do not hear so good any more; therefore the noise would not bother us and I suppose everyone would get out of the way when they saw us coming; lessening the danger of accidents.

Speaking of vehicles: I had a brother who invented an Auto Ball; which received wide publicity and a picture was carried on the front cover of Popular Science magazine in 1938. During World War II, the war department took the patent over and placed my brother's name on the Scientific and Research roster. He worked for a time with the Technical Field board on mechanized warfare but the invention was never put to use by the war department. All he wanted to do was: try to invent some kind of sphere for travel, so people could drive down the highways without butchering each other. If he were living today he could possibly be rolling around the moon or Mars in his Auto Ball; but he was born seventy years too soon and lived in another generation.

We have come a long ways, baby, whether for good or bad: from the ancient two wheeled Grecian chariot and the Mormon's hand carts, to the space missiles and vehicles. I believe it must have taken more God-given courage and fortitude for the Mormons to push their carts over the Rocky Mountains than the space men to ride their capsule. Therefore, one wonders what next: Will we really be flying on a magic carpet or be there before we start? Maybe it all depends on where we start from or where we are going. Think that one over.

By FRED BUCKLES

SANTA FE — Seldom has the State Democratic Party been so divided.

Democrats fought over a national committeeman's election, putting party brass on the nation convention delegation and a Lea-Eddy-Chaves Counties district appointment for district attorney at the State Democratic Nominating Convention in Albuquerque.

Liberal Bernalillo County Democratic Chairman Rudy Ortiz, 42, defeated retiring U. S. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, 76, of Albuquerque, for national committeeman — 839½ to 650½. Ortiz will begin a 4-year term immediately.

The result could cut deeply into party harmony. Many longtime Democrats and Republicans, too, soundly whacked the vote and cited Sen. Anderson's 40 years of outstanding service to New Mexico and the Democratic Party. Ortiz is New Mexico McGovern campaign chairman.

The county-by-county vote included: Colfax, 19-5 for Anderson; Curry, 44-3 for Anderson; DeBaca, 6-0 for Anderson; Guadalupe, 12-0 for Ortiz; Hidalgo, 9-0 for Anderson; Lea, 48-26 for Anderson; Lincoln, 7-5 for Ortiz.

Also, Luna, 19-0 for Anderson; Quay, 13-10 for Anderson; Sierra, 10-3 for Anderson; Taos, 29-3 for Ortiz; Union, 10-1 for Anderson, and Valencia, 35-29 for Anderson.

The State Democratic Central Committee recommended ex-Asst. Dist. Atty. Lee Cathey of Carlsbad over Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Fleming of Roswell — 76 to 43 — for appointment by Gov. Bruce King to replace the late Dist. Atty. Pat Hanagan of Roswell.

Cathey will go on the general election ballot, replacing Hanagan who was unopposed. King had agreed to follow Democratic Party recommendations. But some Lea-Eddy-Chaves Counties Democrats held only counties in the district should have made the choice.

Ortiz cast 34 of Bernalillo County's 41 Central Committee votes for Cathey. Some Democrats charged this was a bid for Eddy County support in the then pending national committeeman's decision.

A Hobbs lawyer rounding criticized the choice of Cathey, an experienced Democratic politician, over Fleming. Fleming resigned as assistant district attorney soon after the Democratic action.

Lincoln County Democratic Chairman Fern Sawyer of Nogal was picked on the National Democratic Convention platform committee. She went to Washington for the committee's pre-convention meetings to draft the vital platform.

Curry County Democratic Chairman Janie Moberly of Clovis was bumped off the national credentials committee by a McGovern supporter, Dr. Nan Smith of Santa Fe. The credentials panel began hearing challenges of nearly 30 per cent of the 3,016 national convention delegates Sunday (June 25) in Washington.

Larry Ingraham of Tucumcari strongly endorsed at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting in Albuquerque campaigning caravan style in the general election by New Mexico Democratic candidates for top offices.

Luna County Democratic Chairman Tony Viramontes predicted Democratic U. S. Senate candidate Jack Daniels of Hobbs will carry Luna County narrowly over Republican nominee Pete Domenici of Albuquerque in the general election Nov. 7. Viramontes said incumbent Democratic U. S. Rep. Harold Runnels of Lovington will win Luna County over Republican Ed Presson, 29, of Silver City in House District 2 in the main event.

Viramontes reserved judgment on the Luna County presidential winner in November until after the National Democratic convention picks a nominee. Republican President Richard M. Nixon whomped Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey by more than 500 votes in Luna County in 1968.

In the New Mexico presidential primary June 6 Alabama Gov. George Wallace easily carried Luna with 900 votes. Humphrey was second with 493 and McGovern placed third with 456. Three other candidates trailed far behind.

DeBaca County Democratic Chairman H. P. Roy, Fort Sumner, headed the DeBaca County delegation at the state convention. Dick Pollard of Fort Sumner was also a DeBaca County delegate.

Union County Chairman Karl Butt, Clayton area rancher, led the Union County delegation. With Butt were Claude C. (Pal) Austin, Clayton High School principal, and Candido Archuleta, DesMoines.

National Democratic Convention delegates and alternates picked at the Albuquerque state convention included: Lee Nance, 44, Clovis, supervisor of orderlies at Memorial Hospital, Clovis; Mrs. Rena Rosequist, 41, Taos, and Juan A. Cruz Solano, 32, Clovis, commercial furniture manufacturer, on the McGovern slate.

Mrs. Charles Moore, Tucumcari; John Hemery, Deming; and National Committeewoman Fern Sawyer, Crossroads, Lea County, were named on the Wallace slate. Mrs. Sawyer, national committeewoman from New Mexico 20 years, was re-elected to a new 4-year term.

New school superintendent salaries approved after annual budget hearings include: Carrizozo, James Steinepreis, $13,000, up $640; Corona, Lewis Stratton, $12,000, up $500; Ruidoso, Pat T. Valliant, $13,860, up $660; Hondo, Ernest J. Booky, $12,400, up $400; Capitan, Ira Caster, $12,238, up $638.

Also, Jal, Carl W. Martin, $15,986, up $761; Eunice, $16,000, up $194 (Supt. L. W. Byous resigned to become Clovis Schools Superintendent); Clovis, $19,000 (unchanged — Vernon R. Mills retired); Fort Sumner, James Fincke, $13,700, up $500; Lordsburg, Bill Carnell, $13,685, down slightly by $151; Deming, Emmett Shockley, $17,935, up $935; Santa Rosa, Louis Flores, $14,548, up $758; Vaughn, Tom Tenorio, $12,938, up $438; Tucumcari, Horace Wood, $17,146, up $632; Truth or Consequences, Basil F. Burks, $15,116, up $581; Texico, A. D. McDonald, $13,600, up $600; Grady, Leck Jones, $11,900, up $200.

State Oil Conservation Commission Chief Pete Porter says increasing oil imports have depressed the domestic industry so the U. S. Must depend now on foreign oil sources. Pete says this is a major factor in the energy crisis.
