Ruidoso water supply 'critical'

The village of Ruidoso is faced with a critical shortage of treated water.

"We are asking the cooperation of all residents in conserving water," A. E. Nash, water superintendent, said Wednesday, "by eliminating all outside watering as well as restricting all other use of water to an absolute minimum, until such time as we can meet the demand."

The problem lies, Jack Kannady, Sr., village engineer, said, "in the fact that the water use is so great that we have not been able to put the new storage tanks completely into operation." Kannady noted that the new pumping system is functioning perfectly and that the present crisis resulted "from the fact that delays in completion of the new pumping system prevented us from having 6,500,000 gallons of treated water in storage May 1 as planned."

Kannady and Nash pointed out that the prevalent rumor "that the village is dangerously short of water" is not true.

"The fact is," Kannady said, "we have an abundance of water . . our problem lies in the fact that we cannot provide enough treated water, because the demand for water is exceeding our capabilities to treat it."

"If the people will cooperate," Nash said, "by conserving water in every way possible so that we may fill our storage tanks to their 6,500,000 gallon capacity, we will then be able to meet the daily demand. But, at the present use rate, this is impossible."

The need to conserve water, until the storage tanks are filled, is dictated by the necessity of having an adequate emergency supply on hand in the event of fire.

To point up the absolute necessity of conserving water, Kannady noted that it would take "48 hours of non-stop pumping, with the water cut off to all users, to give us a reasonable reserve to meet emergencies."

Users will be notified of the lifting of restrictions on the use of water "at the earliest possible moment," Nash said, "and all that we're asking is that everyone make a point of conserving water."

C-C mail increases

The Chamber of Commerce mail load has increased substantially.

During May, 1973 the Chamber of Commerce office received 286 letters from 23 states. During May, 1974 the office processed 510 letters from 25 states.

Extensive advertising was begun on May 12 of this year. This possibly accounts for some of the increase in mail activity.

TRASH HAUL SUCCESSFUL

Tom Holbert, Municipal Environmental Enforcement Officer, said Wednesday that a total of 45 big loads, carried by village trucks, and 62 pickup loads, taken to the airport dump site, "made our cleanup drive very, very satisfactory . . . and that the cooperation of everyone to make the drive successful far exceeded our original expectations." Holbert noted that cleanup work at the dumping area is progressing on schedule.

Chamber office open more hours

Effective this coming Friday, June 28, the Chamber of Commerce office will remain open until 11 P. M. on Friday and Saturday nights.

The purpose of these extended hours is to further assist visitors to our area in securing lodging. Many people still arrive in Ruidoso without reservations and they have to spend hours looking.

The Chamber of Commerce asks for the lodging establishments to call in their available accommodations after 5 P. M. on Friday and Saturday.

Further, they ask that anyone seeking lodging be sent to the Chamber office in person. This method will hopefully cut down on the telephone load for the one girl who will be operating the office.

If this program proves successful, it will be continued through Labor Day. This puts the Chamber office open 67 hours per week.

Lincoln evaluation jumps

Lincoln County assessed valuation, according to the proposed county budget, this year jumped from $47,005,464 to $48,600,000, but it was pointed out that a figure of $47,619,828 would be a much more reliable figure since a reduction in corporate assessment of almost a million dollars and the loss of assessments from personal property and inventory, due to a change in state statutes, amounted to almost two million. Exemptions for head-of-family and veterans amounted to $1,419,147, therefore the county is fortunate that it has remained on an even keel with last year's assessed valuation. Many counties throughout the state are reported to have lost ground on property valuation with the removal of assessments for personal property and inventory.

It has been noted that figures in the proposed budget will probably be changed considerably by the State Department of Finance and Administration at the county budget hearing this week. Remember that evaluation figures for the county are on a basis of 33 1/3% of true market value.

The total county budget estimate for 1974-75 shows an increase of about 15½% from $505,878 last year to $584,680 for the coming fiscal year.

Various departments (except those with fixed budgets) run as follows (percentages are rounded): Administration: 9% increase from $43,500 to $47,425. Maintenance and Operating of Buildings and Grounds: 8% increase from $27,660 to $29,896. Recording and filing (Clerk): 18½% increase from $30,276 to $35,969. Property Assessments: (including two new employees required by state) 14% increase from $69,912 to $79,758. Collections (Treasurer): 17% increase from $25,728 to $30,214. Law Enforcement (Sheriff's Department): 16.5% increase from $88,292 to $102,971.

A whopping increase of 45% was shown in the County Road Fund from $311,736 to $454,000. The line item Capitol Outlay accounted for almost $100,000 of the estimate. A total of $240,000 was carried over from the 1973-74 budget to the new year.

Total improvements and new land placed on tax rolls for 1974 amounted to $9,270,951 with the 33 1 3% valuation coming to $3,090,317.

Mill levy for the county will remain the same as last year but with ¾ mills being added for county hospitals.

It was noted that the county still has three years to pay on a loan from the state for the reappraisal completed last year and that state law required the county to go on to a computer system by 1976. The county will not buy the computers but will lease time from an established firm for use of the computer.

Lincoln County now has a total of 15,000 taxpayers.

The county budget hearing, with the State Department of Finance and Administration, will be held at the Lincoln County Courthouse Friday, June 28 at 9:00 a.m. The meeting is open to the public.

THE BOTTOM OF THE GLASS DOOR of Brunell's Shoes & Boots, in mid-town Ruidoso, was shattered Tuesday night in a robbery that owner Herb Brunell estimated resulted in a loss "of less than $1,000" early Wednesday morning. Taken in the robbery were a sleeping bag, back pack and frame, Levi garments for outdoor wear, other clothes, portable radio, stereo speakers and under $20 in change from the cash registers. Officer Fred Sweeney of Ruidoso PD CID was investigating the break-in. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Ruidoso Valley woman killed in car mishap

Mrs. Gladys G. Hale, 65, of Glencoe, died Saturday afternoon at the scene of a head-on collision at Fox Cave, nine miles east of Ruidoso.

Mrs. Hale, long-time Hondo Valley resident, was alone in her car, traveling west, when the collision occurred with a car traveling east, driven by Pablo Gonzales Rangle, 53, of Hereford, Tex. Rangle, also alone, was taken to a Roswell hospital from Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital Saturday evening. His condition Sunday evening, was reported as critical.

The accident happened about 4:30 p.m., and Mrs. Hale was pronounced dead at 5 p.m., by Jerry Foster of Ruidoso, Lincoln County Assistant Medical Examiner.

Jeff Darden of the New Mexico State Police is investigating the crash and reported that one witness saw it.

Services for Mrs. Hale are announced on an inside page of this issue.

FAA approves $40,000 study for airport site

The Federal Aviation Administration has approved Planning Grant Program funding of $40,000 for site selection and master plan studies of a new general aviation airport to replace the existing Ruidoso Municipal Airport which, the FAA states, cannot be adequately developed.

The purpose of the master plan study is to determine the extent, type and nature of development needed at an existing or proposed publicly owned airport to provide the most suitable facility for a community.

Ruidoso PD receives $7,722 LEAA grant

The Ruidoso Police Department has received an LEAA grant of $7,722 in assistance monies to the Criminal Investigation Bureau.

'Failure to Yield' drivers face citations, fines and jail terms

Area drivers, Ruidoso PD personnel are convinced, are not acquainted with the provisions of the law concerning their obligation to pull to the side of the road and stop when an emergency vehicle, with lights flashing and/or siren sounding, approaches them.

— When an emergency vehicle, with warning systems operational approaches, the driver of any other vehicle, is required to pull off the road, on the right side and stop until the emergency vehicle has passed, REGARDLESS OF WHICH LANE THE EMERGENCY VEHICLE IS IN — meaning if the emergency vehicle is westbound, drivers in both the westbound and eastbound lanes, regardless of separation of lanes by a median, are required to stop, as mentioned above.

— Emergency vehicles include Police, State Police, Sheriff, Ambulance, Forest Service and Fire Trucks.

Paul Lukens, chief of Ruidoso PD, reminds drivers to be alert after one vehicle has passed them, "because it is often the case that there may be two or more such emergency vehicles on the road at the same time, separated by a considerable distance."

The maximum penalty for being found, or pleading, guilty to a "Failure to Yield" charge is $300 fine and 90 days in jail, plus the loss of two points under the New Mexico driving laws.

Lukens suggests drivers keep watch for emergency vehicles in their rear view mirrors, be alert for flashing red and or red and blue lights, and for sirens, further suggesting that windows be slightly lowered, to make sirens more audible.

"The Ruidoso officers," Lukens said Tuesday, "have been ordered to crack down on violators of the "Failure to Yield" law, because we want to avoid accidents and fatalities or injuries which, under present conditions, are bound to occur."

Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs hold stated budget hearings

Public hearings for approval of the proposed 1974-75 fiscal budgets of the villages of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs were conducted Thursday morning in the council chambers of each municipality.

The proposed budget for Ruidoso for 1974-75 is $572,948 or a reduction of $32,447 from the 1973-74 figure of $605,395. The Ruidoso Downs budget for 1974-75 of $129,562 is up $26,156 over the $103,406 budgeted for 1973-74.

Ruidoso Downs' figures, by departments with the 1973-74, then 1974-75 figures, include:

Administration and Central, $26,959, $36,054; Police Protection, $29,854, $31,730; Fire Protection, $300, $300;

Streets, $17,652, $18,688; Sanitation, $18,461, $25,090 and Revenue Sharing, $10,180. $17,700.

MISS INDIAN AMERICA XX WILL BE HONORED AT RITES

Puberty ritual ceremonial set July 4-7 at Mescalero

Three young maidens of the Mescalero Apache Tribe will participate in the annual puberty ceremonial at Mescalero, July 4 to 7, during which Claire Manning, Miss Indian America XX, will be an honored guest.

The ceremonial begins at sunrise July 4, with the erection of the "Big Tipi" as the focal point of the rituals. The three selected participants will enter the tipi with their attendants and medicine men as the initial ritual gets underway.

At the conclusion of this opening ceremony, inaugurating the four-day observance of the traditional puberty ritual, the sponsors of the girls will give presents of fruit, candy and cigarettes to the public.

At 8 p.m., daily, teams of Mountain Spirit Dancers, each representing one of the maidens, will perform in conjunction with the rituals. Following this the three girls will dance around the big fire and later in the tipi, to end that day's ceremonial.

Miss Manning, 22, is a Shoshoni-Piute from Owhyee, Nev., who was crowned Miss Indian America XX at Livingston, Texas, breaking the tradition of crowning the Miss Indian America at Sheridan, Wyo.

She will be the head lady dancer at the evening ritualistic performances at the ceremonial grounds, two miles east of Tribal Headquarters in Mescalero. Miss Manning will be honored at the July 4 noon luncheon.

Miss Manning will also be honored by Ruidoso Downs race track, Friday, July 5, when she will make an official visitation to the track. The 10th race, as a co-feature, will be the Miss Indian American XX purse, track manager Al Rosa announced Wednesday.

During All-American Indian Days at Sheridan, Wyo., Aug. 1-4, Miss Manning will reign over the Miss Indian America Pageant, at the conclusion of which Miss Indian America XXI will be crowned.

The three maidens being honored are DorLynn Murphy, 13, sponsored by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Zuazua; Tina Kirgan, 12, sponsored by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kirgan, and Jacqueline Second, 13, sponsored by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Second. All attend Tularosa Public Schools where Tina is in the seventh and DorLynn and Jacqueline in the eighth grades.

In addition to the ritualistic performances open to the public, the activities during the four days will include rodeo events each afternoon at 1:00, followed by Indian competition dancing at 3:00. All competitive dancing, as well as the ritualistic performances, will be accomplished in traditional and colorful ceremonial garb. There will be two divisions of contest dancing July 4-6, with the finals slated July 7.

Ralph Zotigh, a Kiowa from Albuquerque, will be the head singer for the dancing competition with Henry Stoneroad, a Pawnee-Cheyenne from Ignacio, Colo., as announcer

Indians from tribes in Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Arizona, Texas and New Mexico will be contesting for dancing prizes, with entries arranged on an invitational basis.

The evening performances, a tribal spokesman said, "are the most colorful because they are centered around an open fire."

The public is invited to view all activities, excepting strictly personal and private ceremonies within the Big Tipi, during the four days which are devoted solely to honoring the three midens and their sponsors.

The girls' sponsors will serve meals at 8 a.m., noon and 6 p.m., daily.

Letter to Editor

Dear Mr. Lane,

I'm probably not the only person in town who has noticed the great increase in business thus far this summer.

There's got to be several reasons for this growth. One of these reasons is the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

I would like to publicly commend Richard Cothrun and his staff for their never ending support and promotion of our area.

Richard, Emma, Ginny and Shannon are certainly good will ambassadors for our community.

Richard, his staff and the directors have my full support, and best wishes for continuous success.

Sincerely,
Charles E. Cannon

Gladys Gloree Hale funeral services held June 25

Funeral services for Gladys Gloree Hale of Glencoe were held in the First Presbyterian Church, Ruidoso, Tuesday, June 25.

Mrs. Hale died Saturday in an automobile accident on Highway 70 near Fox Cave. She was 65.

Born in Glencoe, N. M. January 5, 1909, to Jesse Frank and Grace Mabel Coe Allison, she spent most of her life in the Lincoln and Chaves County area. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Ruidoso. She served in the Women's Army Corps from March 29, 1945 until October 18, 1946. She was a member of the Capitan Round Table and one of the most active volunteers in the Cover-All. She spent her life giving of herself to anyone who needed help. She was on her way to put flowers in her church for the Sunday service when she was killed.

CONCENTRATION is the key to exemplifying this feminine version of Rodin's "Thinker", as Doy Rutherford of Ruidoso studied the available facts on an upcoming race at Ruidoso Downs Sunday . . . and, as it turned out, she "boxed" the right horses, though it did take a photo finish to substantiate her judgment. (Ruidoso News Photo)

STUPH & JUNK . . . by Cale Dickey

Good ol' judge . . .

Comes now Judge Austin Pritchett, latest winner of S&J's dirty sox award . . . (for good guys only) . . . 'cause the good ol' judge did display his compassion . . . and he did bring happiness to a man and a boy.

Seems a visitor from India did attempt to catch a Rio Ruidoso trout . . . and that a G&F fuzz type did perceive his efforts. Alas and alack . . . our visitor lacked a license . . . and he lacked $25 for bond . . . and he did surrender his fishing gear . . . and did believe this discharged his obligation . . . and he did depart for El Paso . . . to resume his studies . . . and forget about trout fishing in Rio Ruidoso.

When said law breaker did not appear in court, Judge Pritchett invited him . . . via officially served summons . . . which considerably affected said fisherman's aplomb. So the culprit called the judge . . . and explained . . . and the judge listened . . . and understood . . . and said, $10 for court costs . . . and he'd forget the whole thing . . . except for disposition of said rod, reel, line and lure . . . and said violator promptly told the judge what he could do with said gear. And it ain't what you're probably thinkin'.

Anyhow . . . the good ol' judge was left holdin' the fishin' tackle . . . and he did ponder the disposal of same . . . and he did select a small boy, without a fish pole but with a hankerin' for one . . . and said boy is now a happy fisherman . . . so good on you, you good ol' judge . . . and may your dirty sox give you pleasure.

Any takers? . . .

Seems the Moorhead, MN, Senior High School is in need of a special education teacher . . . and the school board did examine the special education program . . . and they did determine that indeed, there was a shortage of instructional personnel . . . and further that the situation should be remedied by filling the vacancy. Which, after all, seems logical.

Then came forth the director of special education and he did announce that there was an opening for . . . and I quote . . . "an additional educable mentally retarded teacher at the Senior High."

About which there are three points to meditate . . . the length of the line of applicants . . . the quality of same . . . and the number of same now employed.

Shoo-in . . .

Tiny's Gay was the favorite . . . and a shoo-in in Sunday's Kansas Futurity.

But therein doesn't lie the tale.

Comments ranged from, "How many times did you have him?" to the softly spoken . . . and "softly" is used advisedly . . . "I blew it". And such is the lot of those as bet their hunch that the winner just has to be other than the favorite.

Most disenchanted of all viewers of the Futurity was one stewart gentleman . . . with a double handfull of tickets on Tiny Gay's nose. Seems at the moment the gates opened he was [illegible] with a violent attack of sneezes . . . in fact he [illegible] three times during the [illegible] seconds it took the colt to cover the 870 yards . . . and missed the whole show. But he did smile all the way to the cashier's window.

Demo-fun . . .

The U. S. Supreme Court has been delving into pornography . . . and Monday freed a Georgia theater operator, from an obscenity conviction resulting from the showing of "Carnal Knowledge" . . . because . . . juries do not "have unbridled discretion in determining what is 'patently offensive'."

Which only goes to prove that one man's pornography is merely photography to another . . . like, man, do you like your lemon pie meringue doused with gooseberry sundae top-ping . . . or do you like your rain" strawberries stemmed . . . or your cherries pitted? And who do you know that's ever been absolutely honest when they tell you they're "praying for forced to view pornography against his (her) will?

The Ruidoso News

RUIDOSO (N. M.) NEWS — FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1974

LENNOX, S. D., INDEPENDENT: "The pollsters seem to keep busy these days asking people if they approve or disapprove of the President's performance of his official duties. This may serve a good purpose, but we wonder if they couldn't ask a new question for a change, like do you or do you not approve of your congressman or senator's performance in office? . . . If we supposedly have three equal branches of government, why not give equal attention to the actions or inactions of the legislative or judicial, along with the executive?"

Local alcohol program to be used as model

The Alcoholism Treatment Program operated by Southwest Mental Health Center (SWMHC) in 7½ counties of Southwestern New Mexico will be used as a model for a similar program in Baton Rouge, La.

Oliver B. Perry, assistant director of the Alcohol and Drug Council of Greater Baton Rouge, Inc., obtained a copy of the program plan upon recommendation of James Hawkins of the National Council on Alcoholism. Perry told SWMHC Director Joe B. Alexander that Hawkins reported the Southwest Mental Health Program was one of the two best such programs in the United States. The other is in Little Rock, Ark.

Hawkins inspected the Southwest Mental Health Center's program in February and told center personnel then the program was a first class treatment program.

Headed by Ms. Arden Eckels, the program has resident counselors in seven of the 7½ counties serviced by Southwest Mental Health Center. In addition, the program includes an intake facility and halfway house in Las Cruces. Since July 1, 1973, the program has served 460 persons.

Counties served by the Alcoholism Treatment Program and the resident counselors in each are: Dona Ana, Lupe Flores, Sig Frey and Tina Tarango; Otero, Mary Simmons; Lincoln, James Lucero; Sierra, Richard Chavez; Grant and South Catron, Patsy Ybarra; Luna, Dolores Martinez; and Hidalgo, Mary Orona.

(Editor's Note: The following letter was issued to James Lucero, Jr., the Lincoln County Alcohol Worker, as a commendation.)

TO: James Lucero, Jr., Alcohol Abuse Worker, Alcoholism Treatment Program, Southwest Mental Health Center, 575 North Main, Las Cruces, New Mexico.

1. It is with the utmost pleasure that I forward to you the basic letter lauding our Alcoholism Treatment Program.

2. Without your hard work, loyalty and dedication to an ideal, this program's status could not have been achieved. A program is only as good as its staff. Our program is one of the two best in the United States. This rates you the best.

3. A copy of this letter and endorsement will be placed in your personnel file.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"All My Worldly Possessions"

People who write their own wills often have a weakness for flowery phrases. Unfortunately, literary style does not count in the interpretation of legal documents. Take the case of a well-meaning widow who left "all my worldly possessions" to a beloved friend.

Clearly, this included her personal belongings. But did it also include a sizeable piece of real estate that she owned?

Several relatives turned up in court, insisting they were entitled to the realty. After years of litigation, the beloved friend lost out. The court said that, as nearly as it could figure out from the context, the widow had not intended the disputed language to cover real estate.

In another homemade will case, the phrase "personal tnings" proved to be a stumbling block. A woman left "my jewelry and other personal things" to her two sisters.

But a brother promptly laid claim to her stocks, bonds, and cash, which he said were not "personal things." However, there was evidence that the woman had often spoken of the securities and the money as her "things." Accordingly, the court decided they were all included in the bequest to the sisters.

Even the plainest of words can turn out to be ambiguous when put under close scrutiny by rival claimants to an estate. Major court battles have been waged over the meaning of "house," "farm," and "barn," not to mention "if," "and," "or," "to," and even "et cetera."

True, homemade wills sometimes do work out satisfactorily. But generally speaking, disposing of an estate is no job for an amateur. The person who writes his own will won't be available when it goes into effect to explain what he meant. Too often, that becomes the business of the courts.

What Can You Do For Heat Exhaustion?

Heat exhaustion is a danger on hot days, especially if you don't know how to handle it.

Thanks to New Mexico's low humidity, the more severe form of heat stroke is rare, although heat exhaustion can be serious enough itself.

Symptoms of heat exhaustion include a feeling of being tired, weak, dizzy, or faint. A person's skin may be blushed, even sweaty, and his temperature rapidly rises.

If this should happen to any member of your family or a friend, get him into the shade immediately. Cool him off and give him salt and water. After you have done this, let him rest.

The important thing is not to let heat exhaustion turn into heat stroke, which is fatal 50 percent of the time. Heat stroke happens when the person's heat control system stops working and his temperature quickly rises. In New Mexico, cases of heat stroke most often happen during fall football practice.

The best way to prevent either heat exhaustion or heat stroke is to adjust to your surroundings and the amount of work or play you do on hot days. Three to four weeks of gradually working up to heavy physical activity can prevent serious heat exhaustion. Remember, too, that sunburn can be a problem.

If you think that you might be overworking in a hot place, take a teaspoon of salt or six salt tablets in water per day, but don't let the heat get to you!

Inside the Capital

By FRED BUCKLES

SANTA FE. — Gov. Bruce King and his would-be successors — Democrat Jerry Apodaca and Republican Joe Skeen — attended a little-publicized national conference here that could produce jobs and economic development for New Mexico.

Use of a 1965 New Mexico law to form a development credit corporation and provide capital for businesses creating new jobs could result. New Mexico's 73 banks were invited to the conference of the National Association of Business Development Corporations in Santa Fe.

New Mexico Development Director William Simms explained banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies and other financial institutions can pool resources, spread the risk and encourage new businesses to form.

Simms said he has tried twice previously without success to interest large Albuquerque banks in forming a New Mexico development credit corporation. Development credit corporation directors from 22 states at the national conference explained how such corporations function to the New Mexico bankers, King, Apodaca and Skeen.

The risk is spread widely because each participating financial institution supplies only part of capital. A single financial institution can invest in a development credit corporation's capital stock only up to 5 of one per cent of its own capital and surplus. A single bank can loan only up to 5 per cent of its own capital and surplus via a development credit corporation.

Development credit corporation executive directors of Maine, Missouri and Pennsylvania said credit corporations in their states show great diversification in types of businesses aided with capital.

They said appeal is broad to banks, businesses, organizations and many segments of the economy. In some states existing industry is helped most.

The executives emphasized the development credit corporations loan capital to businesses that cannot qualify for conventional loans but their prospects are favorable.

The New Mexico law calls for 9, 12 or 15 development credit corporation directors. The corporation would be regulated by the state banking commissioner and chartered by the Corporation Commission.

Simms said formation of a New Mexico development credit corporation would immediately qualify it for long-term, low interest Small Business Administration loans on a 100 per cent matching basis.

For example, the SBA would loan $4 million if the credit corporation loaned $4 million to a business.

The proposal might be especially useful in smaller New Mexico cities to attract and expand industry and create needed jobs.

Sen. Apodaca pushed two proposals before the Legislative Tax Study Committee: Immediate exemption of the state gross receipts tax (sales) on drugs, medicines and medical expenses and a property tax exemption for senior citizens living on fixed incomes.

Joe Skeen heated up his general election campaign, too. Skeen was set to attend the dedication of Carrizozo Recreation Park and golf course Saturday. Skeen's campaign schedule also emphasized Albuquerque and Farmington. He is a Lincoln County sheep rancher.

Legislative committees spent $628 of taxpayers' money on long distance phone calls outside the state WATS (Wide Area Telephone Service) system in May alone. Among the seven committees' bills: Legislative Council, $214; Health and Aging Study Committee, $103; University Study Committee, $58; Tax Study Committee, $20; School Study Committee, $189.

Three Probate Code Study Committee members attended two separate estate administration workshops in Denver at a total cost of $1,104 to taxpayers. Committee members at the workshops were Rep. Tom Foy, D-Bayard; Sen. R. E. Thompson, D-Roswell, and Sen. Jack Morgan, R-Farmington, all lawyers. A completely revised probate code will be introduced in the 1975 Legislature.

The University of New Mexico is training family practice doctors in a new program with special qualifications to serve isolated areas.

The family practitioners are trained to handle about 90 per cent of cases that enter their offices. The other 10 per cent would be referred to specialists. Each of the 250 future doctors attending UNM will received "old-time family doctor" type of medical training.

Three doctors who have received medical degrees began family practice training last year. Twelve more resident doctors will begin training in July.

Sen. Robert McBride, 37, of Albuquerque, announced he is a candidate for Senate Democratic leader. Sen. C. B. Trujillo, 42, of Taos, is also in the race for the key majority leader's post. Sen. Tibo Chavez, Belen, is vacating the top post after eight years. McBride faces a GOP general election opponent Nov. 5 — John R. Earnshaw of Albuquerque.

Reconstruction of US-70-80 through Lordsburg was nearly finished 16½ years after original rebuilding failed in 1957-58 before it was completed. Final inspection of the 4.2-mile project was set early this week.

(Former Sen. Joe Skeen of Picacho, Lincoln County, the Republican governor candidate, details in this guest column for vacationing Fred Buckles what he would do if voters elect him Nov. 5.)

By Former Sen. Joe Skeen

PICACHO — A former governor of New Mexico recently said from his new observation post in far-off Oregon that New Mexicans are interested in politics but not in government.

He may be right and, if so, it's a sad commentary. New Mexicans should be interested in government — specifically, good government. They should hunger for it because it affects all their lives.

I'd like to take this opportunity to tell you what I will do if the voters of New Mexico elect me governor.

I will try, above everything else, to give this state productive, performance-oriented government. Since government is something that comes entirely from people, that means people have to make up that government. I will select people to operate administrative departments that are competent and qualified on the basis of performance and their ability to get things done.

If I am elected governor, no one now in state government who is performance-oriented need fear for his or her job. I will retain those whose competence is proved, without regard to party or their position for or against my effort to be elected.

But everyone who is unproductive, who can be removed, will be removed, to be replaced by someone, also regardless of party or political bent, who will produce for the people of New Mexico.

"Spoils" government is the kind in which the state payroll is used to strengthen one political party or one faction of a party. I don't believe in it.

I think you want and deserve productive government. If you elect me, my first order of business will be to give you a government oriented to performance, not just existence, for the first time in many years.

I speak my mind frankly, as you can see. Now, let me do that about our three toughest problems.

EDUCATION: We now spend 75 per cent of our state tax money to buy what is largely a daytime baby-sitting service. Our high schools graduate functional illiterates who have to be retaught the basics before they can handle advanced materials, in college or on the job.

We need three things: Real commitment and a sense of responsibility from you — and you have seldom been asked for that; leadership with the courage to set attainable goals and end floundering and a demonstrated dollar's worth of solid, meaningful education for every dollar we spend.

CRIME: We need courts and police who will back our people's demand that laws be observed and enforced. That means better investigative capability, including a top quality state crime bureau to help local police, and an end to the traffic, both ground and air, which brings illegal drugs into our state every day.

We can't allow anything to become a foothold for organized crime to penetrate New Mexico. That's why I'm against legalized gambling.

JOBS: We need an administration that performs instead of just reacting to economic crisis. It's aim should be simply this: Controlled growth from within. We can play a bigger part than any other state in providing self-sufficiency to the U. S. in energy — and that means more jobs. But we have to have somebody in office with the nerve to tell it to the federal government like it is instead of kowtowing to their wishes.

Finally, the industries which are already here have to help us to attract their suppliers to New Mexico to build satellite plants that give our small communities a fair share in the state's economic expansion.

Those are some of my basic ideas. I'm not trying to make them sound fancy or to "sell" you anything. I want you to know, as clearly as I can, what I believe must be done. Then, if you agree with me, you'll know whom to vote for.

The purpose of a campaign shouldn't be to "snow" you with fancy slogans or slick advertising. It should be to let you know the candidates as they really are.

I've been around New Mexico all my life and people in every corner of the state know me well. Before this campaign is over, I'll make every effort humanly possible to see that as many more of you as I can reach get to know Joe Skeen as he is.

I'll do that because I believe New Mexicans are deeply interested in good government, and I know they want to choose a leader as governor who will see that they get it.

BURLEY, IDAHO, SOUTH IDAHO PRESS: ". . . we can put the idea of an energy 'crisis' behind us if we look our energy 'problem' squarely in the face. We are still going to have to drive our cars less and conserve energy in other forms or our demand for fuel will again threaten to outstrip supplies. If that happens, we will be back at the 'crisis' point — and facing the nationwide rationing which President Nixon described so well as a $1.5 billion plunge into hiring 17,000 to 20,000 new federal burgaucrats. The choice is up to us."

FISHING REPORT

Recent rains in the area have made possible the long-awaited opening of the Costilla Grant, which includes Latir Lakes. The New Mexico Game and Fish Department reports that fishing is fair and recommends the use of four-wheel drive vehicles.

Trout fishing in New Mexico is generally best in the early morning and late evening. Warm water fishing is best for white bass at Elephant Butte and Caballo Reservoirs and at Alamogordo and Conchas Lakes for largemouth bass and walleye.

SOUTHWEST AREA:

Rio Grande below Elephant Butte Dam — Trout fishing good early morning. A few northern pike being taken. Catfishing in river picking up.

Elephant Butte Lake — White bass fishing good for small, 6"-8" size. A few big ones being caught. Crappie fishing slow. Black bass and catfish good. Northern pike fishing fair.

Caballo Reservoir — Fishing fair for small white bass at the head of the lake. Larger white bass near the dam. Catfishing fair on cut bait.

River below Caballo to Texas line — Fishing slow, some catfish being taken on cut bait. Small white bass being taken on spinners directly below Caballo Dam.

Bear Canyon — Crappie fishing good on minnows.

Lake Roberts — Fishing good early morning and late afternoon. Also late in the evenings using spinners and worms.

In Passing . .

By AL LANE

We report (with a good deal of relief) that the Ruidoso Post Office is now nearing the completion of its enlargement project. Lists of residents wanting mail boxes have been growing for the past two years but it looks as though now there will be plenty for all. Parking for customers will be provided in the back of the building (with a door from the back side) and thus the major parking problem will also be alleviated. Now if we could only get some mail drops along Sudderth Drive for the convenience of our visitors, we would have it made . . . City fathers requesting that residents and visitors please use as little water as possible for a while. The village is attempting to begin filling the new water tanks as soon as they can and with the "rainy" season just around the corner, we should make it through the summer ok. No outside water of any kind is being allowed until an announcement is made to residents. Everyone's cooperation is ESSENTIAL to conserve water . . .

We are surprised that no bears have been reported in the village so far. With the dry conditions in the hills and little food, they usually come into the village to raid garbage cans . . . We hope that the Ruidoso Downs Beautification Project trees in the highway median hold up well. With everything so dry they will need lots of water . . . Marie Erickson stopping at the circle above the post office to pick up cans and bottles in the circle. More power to you Marie . . . Tom Mc Neil has taken over the Ice House and is busy distributing ice around the village . . . We saw Mrs. Morris Porter's bright and smiling face in the grocery store recently. She tells us she is looking forward to a busy summer here in Ruidoso. Watch for her license plate . . .

Letter to Editor

To The Editor:

As a young citizen of Ruidoso, I would like to voice my opinion on Mr. Cothrun's statements to the Village Council. Being born and raised in Ruidoso, I feel my opinion should be heard as well as an outsider's. I, myself, feel that Ruidoso is a very clean town and has done well by both its permanent and temporary residents. As in every town, people who are there for a short time feel they may do as they please away from home; after all, they don't see the mess they leave. It's easy to criticize, but how much trash has Mr. Cothrun really picked up? He showed two pictures of trash behind his office, but what did he do about it, other than show it to the Council?

Large accomplishments come from small beginnings. Both Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs had their clean-ups and it sounds to me that all our efforts were not appreciated by Mr. Cothrun. I would like to know another way to make a beginning on a clean-up other than collecting trash in our own areas, and wherever we find it.

I don't feel that Mr. Cothrun is qualified to decide whether a person's residence or place of business should be condemned or not. Two of the residences that he described are occupied. I wonder if he knows if these people are well on their feet to be able to move to another residence, or to upgrade the present one? I don't know and I don't think Mr. Cothrun knows either. Who has the right to drive around and judge whether one place looks nice and another doesn't?

And if he's so sold on these small towns in Arizona, why doesn't he go up there and end it!?

Sincerely,
Ruth Guthrie

TAX-FREE HOUSE SALE IF OVER 65

A homeowner who is 65 or older may be able to avoid all income taxes on the profit from the sale of his home if he meets certain requirements. The two main ones are:

The house must have been used as the taxpayer's principle residence for five of the eight years preceding the sale.

The adjusted sales price of the house must be $20,000 or less. If sold for more than $20,000, you can still avoid tax on the gain attributable to the first $20,000 of the sales proceeds.

If husband and wife own the house jointly, only one has to be 65 or older for the rule to apply. Unfortunately, this tax exclusion can be used only once.

You make the election to exclude the profit by attaching a signed statement to this effect with your tax return. Check with an accountant or Internal Revenue Service for details and form numbers.

Show me a man who fights competition, meets payrolls, pays taxes and faces bankruptcy.

And I'll show you a man with motivation.

Maybe you've heard the story. About the rabbit who was being chased by the hound and trying desperately to get to the safety of his hole. A little bird sitting on a limb yelled down, "Rabbit, do you think you're gonna make it?" The rabbit answered, "think nothing, I gotta make it." Business management is not unlike that sometimes. There is usually somebody or something nipping at your heels. Like a competitor who has found a way to do something better for less. Or, a profit predator, like taxes or inflation, trying to head you off. These problems have to be overcome if you are to stay in business.

This system, tough as it is, sure does turn out some fast rabbits. Only those who perform, make it.

This analogy holds in business management, too. Competition and other pressures tend to weed out the inept, force efficiency, produce better products and services and keep prices in line. Business, in keeping one step ahead of its competitors, makes a winner out of the consumer.

At the Ruidoso State Bank we want to make it our business to help your business.

MRS. B—

By CECELIA BARRON

I have never seen anything so beautiful as the expression on a child's face, when he brings home a good report, or rewards he has earned during the long school year. My grandson, Coy, age ten, received the achievement award and a certificate of perfect attendance, at the end of the school term. He also won a trophy for the fastest model car of '74 in his Cub Scout Pack No. 180. He is very adept in building models and most anything that happens to come to his mind.

He bought a U. S. S. 934 John Paul Jones ship model with money he had earned cutting grass; and would not stop — even to eat his dinner — until it was finished. But first, he took his five dollar bill to the bank to get it changed into one dollar bills; as he said: he did not trust other people with changing his 'big bill', and he was only going to spend a dollar at a time. He is very thrifty about his money.

The original John Paul Jones destroyer was completed in 1956; having a length of 418 feet, 6 inches and a beam of 45 feet. It has a displacement of 4,300 tons, fully loaded. Her crew consists of as many as 22 officers and 315 men. All of the structure above the deck is aluminum; which reduced the weight and increased the stability, power and speed of 35 knots. The ship is the first in the U. S. Navy to be provided with more firepower aft than forward and consists of three 5-inch guns; four 3-inch 50 calibre anti-aircraft guns and four 21-inch torpedoes; also anti-submarine equipment consisting of two hedgehogs and depth charge racks.

Here is an invitation I received from my grandson:

Dear Mee Ma:

I am going to get a tent for my birthday. Our pack is going to have a cook-out. Would you like to go? It is Wednesday, 12, at 6:30. I am going to get two arrow points, a bear badge and a Webelos badge.

—Coy

Well, I did go and had a wonderful time with the boys and their parents.

We had another invitation to go with my youngest granddaughter's class, to the Imagine Meadows Children's School and Camp. It is high in the mountains between Colfax and Grass Valley, Calif. The journey up through the tall pines and firs was too wonderful for words. We went through the old historical mining town of Auburn and many gold discovery sites. Banks of wild sweet peas and clouds of gold Scotch broom growing up the side of the mountains were lovely to behold. We saw many trucks loaded with immense logs, coming down from the logging camps.

When we arrived, the children at Imagine Meadows were having a delightful time in the natural swimming hole. Tame mallard ducks were swimming with them and two beautiful dogs — a black husky and a red setter — were diving in after sticks the children threw in.

After the swim, we all had a picnic lunch in a grassy meadow, under the trees. My granddaughter, Kelly, decorated the cakes as usual: a large sheet devil's food cake with white icing and a quaint wishing well of various colors and a lemon sponge cake, with lemon icing and colored drops of cereal scattered over. It was good to see the children enjoy the outing as some from Sacramento seldom ever have a chance to get out of town. Mrs. Lois Jacobs — a specialist in learning disabilities — is marvelous with the children; firm, but tender and kind. Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt, who own Imagine Meadows, were lovely people and graciously wonderful to invite all of us.

Now I will see if I can entreat my oldest granddaughter to type this, as her nimble fingers can do more than my decrepit ones.

—Mrs. B.

Your Social Security

Basis supplemental security income (SSI) payments will be increased starting in July, according to Mrs. Christine Graves, social security field representative.

The SSI program pays monthly checks to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 and over or blind or disabled. The amount people get depends primarily on other income they might have.

"Eligible people with no other income at all who live in their own household have been getting supplemental security income payments of $140 a month for one person and $210 for a couple, Mrs. Graves said. "Starting in July, these amounts will go to $146 and $219 under a recent change in the law enacted to keep supplemental security income payments in line with the cost of living."

Payments will also generally be increased to people who have other income and get reduced supplemental security income payments, according to Mrs. Graves.

Those who get supplemental security income payments don't have to do anything about their checks. Any increases due will be added to checks automatically.

People can get information about supplemental security income at any social security office.

Salvation Army asks help in fund drive

Who are the people in our community who most need help? The family without food for tonight's meal? The young boy arrested yesterday for petty larcency? The young mother with insufficicent clothes for her young children? The unfortunate girl who soon will become an unmarried mother? The elderly man without a job?

All of these people, if they asked The Salvation Army for help, would receive prompt assistance. Why? Because The Salvation Army's job is people: and no individual with any problem, large or small, is turned away.

Help The Salvation Army to continue this humane work for all people in need, by contributing generously to its current fund-raising campaign. Please, send your donation large or small to: Mr. J. C. McDonald, P. O. Box 3337, Hollywood Station, Ruidoso, N. M. 88345.

"Ranch Survival" Meet Set For Capitan: Early weaning and semi-confinement programs relating to the range sheep business will be among subjects covered at a "Ranch Survival" meeting Wednesday, July 31, 1974 at Capitan. Lincoln County ranchers are urged to participate in the meeting beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the County Fair Building.

The meeting comes at a time when a number of ranchers are facing difficult times, Dunlap says, and the meeting information is designed to help them meet problems within the year ahead. The session is sponsored by the New Mexico State University Cooperative Extension Service. It will feature a three-man team of Extension specialists plus a panel of Lincoln County ranchers and livestock industry representatives.

The Capitan "Ranch Survival" meeting is among the first of a series to be conducted across the state between now and the end of the year.

Local panel members will take a look at the ranching outlook and conditions in Lincoln County. Panel members include: Walton Wilson, Cattle Grower, Ancho, N. M.; Ivan Watson, Agriculture Advisor, Roswell, N. M., Roswell State Bank; J. P. McKnight, Land Feeders, Picacho; Farrell Watson, Chairman of Feeder Committee, New Mexico Cattle Growers and Feedyard Operator, Roswell, N. M.

James M. Sachse, N.M.S.U. Extension Sheep Specialist, will discuss early weaning and semi-confinement of range sheep. He will be joined on the program by Wallace M. Cox, Extension Assistant Livestock Specialist, and Gene Ott, Extension Farm Management Specialist.

All three specialists will be concentrating on possible solutions to problems created by the drought, high operating costs and low prices paid to ranchers for their products. Cox, among the other things, will deal with early calf weaning as it can benefit both the calf and cow.

Ott will relate the latest outlook for livestock for the immediate months ahead. Also he will discuss credit and financing and ranch enterprise alternatives.

R-R-D

Water adjudication and what it means to the water users in the Hondo, Bonito and Ruidoso Valley was discussed by Richard Sims, attorney for the State Engineers' Office in Santa Fe.

Mr. Sims discussed water rights and adjudication for over two hours with the 125 people attending the meeting at Hondo. He said that the water in the area has never been locally adjudicated and this will be the largest adjudication ever done in New Mexico. They are presently adjudicating 3,000 parcels in the Taos area. The Hondo Basin is expected to have over 5,000 parcels.

Water users in the Bonito area will be receiving a summons from the State Engineers' Office within a month. This summons will give the number of acres the engineer's office feel that the water user is entitled to and the acre feet of water that can be used. If the water user does not agree with this adjudication proposal, he should then contact the State Engineer's Office. Plans are to have a representative of the State Engineer's Office located in the Hondo area. If the water user agrees with the adjudication proposal, he signs and returns it to the State Engineer.

Mr. Sims said that it would take several years for the adjudication to be completed.

Area students at conference

Three Ruidoso area high school seniors joined about 80 other state seniors June 18-21 at a NMSU, Las Cruces, conference designed to prepare students for leadership in the fourth quarter of the 20th century.

Area participants included, Joseph Ventura, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Ventura, sponsored by the Carrizozo Rotary Club; Raymond Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, sponsored by the Chaparral Lions Club and Anona Chavez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trinidad Chavez, sponsored by the Nash Foundation.

Students considered problems of society, economy, politics and environment.

NMSU president Gerald W. Thomas said he "hoped the conference will help young people recognize their responsibilities of leadership and citizenship."

Camping fees in effect for forest campgrounds

Beginning June 22 or soon thereafter, camping fees will be instituted for 89 National Forest campgrounds in Arizona and New Mexico, Southwestern Regional Forester Wm. D. Hurst announced.

The action results from a new law signed by President Nixon June 7. Camping fees were eliminated last year, but the new law, Public Law 93-303, amended the Land and Water Conservation Funds Act to reinstate them.

All Southwestern campgrounds meeting the law's specifications are listed below. The fee is $1.00 per camping unit except for a few $2.00 areas indicated. The law requires a fee at federally operated campgrounds with tent or trailer spaces, drinking water, access roads, refuse containers, toilet facilities and devices for containing campfires where they are allowed. The charge system does not apply to picnic areas, he said.

Hurst noted that restoration of the fees will benefit the vacationing public because money collected is used to improve and manage recreation facilities.

In our area the campgrounds where fees will be collected are:

Lincoln National Forest — South Fork Campground, Nogal Lake Campground, Pines Campground and Deerhead Campground — $2.00.

NEWBERRY, S. C., OBSERVER: "Leave it to youth. A new teenage pastime, I'm told, has sprung up. The young people drive into a closed gas station, uncork their car's gas tanks, stick the dry nozzle in the filler pipe and stand by. Immediately, a line of cars forms behind them. When the line is long enough to suit them, they hang up the hose and drive off. Doggone those cute kids!"

Knights of Columbus Hold Institution banquet Sunday

Degree work of the Knights of Columbus was exemplified on Sunday, June 23, at St. Eleanor's Hall beginning with a Mass at ten o'clock and followed by the Admissions degree. The afternoon schedule included the Formation and Knighthood degrees.

An institution banquet was held at the All American Turf Club at 8:00 p.m. Principal speaker for the occasion was Hon. Clarence Blair, State Deputy of the New Mexico State Council. Approximately 80 people attended the banquet. Joe Koegler, Grand Knight of the local council, was master of ceremonies. Father Flavio Santillanes pronounced the Invocation and Benediction.

Among those in charge of the various activities were John Baca and Romeo Klein, chairman and vice-chairman for the banquet, Jack DiPaolo, John Massey, Dick Mound and John Howden.

"I want to thank all of the members of the various committees who did so much to make the day a success," said Chairman Baca. "And we also wish to extend our thanks to Al Rosa and Bill Thomas for their help."

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Council will be held July 10.

Interstate Securities named for telegraph

The Western Union Agency has been moved to Interstate Securities offices on Sudderth Drive in Upper Ruidoso, according to G. D. Housh, district manager of the telegraph company. The service had formerly been handled by the Chamber of Commerce, but was dropped due to a lack of time.

"We are looking forward to our association with Max Scott and his staff at Interstate Securities," said Mr. Housh.

Services will be provided between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Telegrams may be sent or picked up in person at the agency during these hours.

Residents of Ruidoso may use a 24-hour a day, seven days a week service by telephoning toll free, 800-325-5400, which is Western Union's centralized telephone bureau.

The SILVER LINING

by DANIEL A. STORM

Gladys Allison Hale

One of the fairest flowers of the vale of Glencoe has been gathered by Our Lord to grow in the Garden of Heaven.

Just the day before she left us for Heaven, I had a wonderful visit over at the home of her beloved aunt, Mayme Coe Perry, "The Queen of Flowers." And here was Gladys, like a Guardian Angel around this sacred home, beautified by many a rose and other flower, and Gladys more beautiful than any of the flowers.

Having served in the Armed Forces during World War II, Gladys was also a true and stalwart soldier in the battles of every day life. She was always doing kind things for others, and her bright smile kept shining for one and all despite whatever hardship might come her way along the pathway of life.

The Reverend James R. Breuning delivered a beautiful and fitting sermon, taken from the one hundred and twenty-first Psalm:

"I to the hills will lift mine eyes,
From whence cometh my help".

In his sermon the Rev. Mr. Breuning touched upon the inspiration of hills in the lives of people, and the good spiritual influences of living amongst the hills.

Our sympathies go out to the devoted brother and sister of Gladys, Earl Allison and Jewell Allison Bonnell.

The good Spirit of Gladys brought out the best in all of us as we gathered at her services; and there was a feeling everywhere of the kindness of friends and the great goodness of our Blessed Lord.

We rejoice that Gladys has gone to greater service with God in Heaven.

Arsenia Gonzales Curry

Services were held June 15 in Albuquerque for another true and beloved daughter of our hills. Arsenia, the daughter of the late Prospero Gonzales and Telesfora Miraval Gonzales, was the widow of the late Charles Curry who lived many years on the Gonzales Ranch in Glencoe.

This couple raised a fine family of boys and girls; and after living here in the valley and then at Alamogordo, Arsenia moved to Albuquerque to be near her children.

The late Charles Curry was the son of former governor Curry of New Mexico. Arsenia will be kindly remembered by people all over Lincoln County. Her younger brother, Prosperito Gonzales, still lives on the old Gonzales' Ranch where the Gonzales' children were born.

Our sympathies go out to the children of Arsenia; and we rejoice that she has gone to serve the Lord in Heaven and to rejoin her loved ones who have gone on before.

Two Very Interesting Letters

The Silver Lining a few days back received two very interesting letters. One is from Mrs. F. L. Mehlhop, P. O. Box 218, Dexter, N. M. 88230.

Mrs. Mehlhop tells that an account of the late Sam P. Butler, who worked for the V. V. Ranch in Lincoln County, will be published soon. The story is to come out in "True West Magazine," this fall. Mrs. Mehlhop thought old timers would like to read the story.

The other letter is from D. C. Sanford of Ruidoso Downs. Mr. Sanford has been working cattle most of his life, and was interested in the question of which cow looks after the little calves.

Mr. Sanford says there is no set rule, except that cattle like company. He says it seems the cow tells her calf, "You lie here."

Or she may say, "You can come with me to that bunch over there or you can lie here."

Littlest Calf Finds A Dinner Plate

At first it seemed Little Tiny, the littlest calf, did not want to eat his calf feed. Then, a few days ago, he was walking around the field and saw a good sized hub cap lying around. He began nosing this and looking at me. So I poured some calf feed into this plate-like hub cap and the little calf began eating.

So now he has a dinner plate that he found himself, and he lets his little companion eat out of the plate with him. After dinner the two have boxing lessons, and run foot races.

The Longest Day

Hardly noticed, the longest day came and went, and now we are gradually getting into the shorter days.

Just the other evening, June 25, it seemed that the night and the day stopped just a moment in passing. And also the wet and the dry season met just briefly.

At dusk, the half moon was bright in the West all silver-gold. Then down in the western horizon up the valley there was a copper-gold sunset cloud. Night and day were both in the world.

Suddenly the bright cloud faded and all the west was gray. The half moon brightened in the sky. Day had peacefully gone over the western hill leaving night in full possession of the world.

Then the dust of the dry day was still in the air of twilight; the smell of the parched grass was in the hot breeze. Then out of the north, where the big dipper and the north star were beginning to appear, clouds, gray and moist-looking, came moving in. The lightning flashed over the hill golden-red, and for a moment the dry and the moist weather met together in the peaceful evening.

Alamogordo band sets Carrizozo visit

In a joined community effort to celebrate the June 29 Grand Opening of the Carrizozo Golf Facilities, the Carrizozo Community Association for the Performing Arts will present the Alamogordo High School Band. The band, directed by Mr. Harold Van Winkle will be playing a medley of light classical and marching tunes at the 10:30 a.m. dedication program. Mr. Paul Payton, CCAPA program chairman for June, says that this sixth CCAPA program will add to the other outstanding events planned by the town of Carrizozo on this Grand Opening Day.

Carrizozo Community Association for the Performing Arts has established a memorial fund to administer special contributions. A perpetual list of names in which the memorial funds have been made will be included in each of the annual reports. Those interested in the Memorial Fund should contact CCAPA, Box 225, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301, or by contacting the Secretary, Mrs. Barbara Ward at 648-2844.

The election of two new directors to the CCAPA Board, Mrs. Carolyn Cantrell and Mr. Jim Steinpreis, was announced by Mr. Tom Ward, president. Mrs. Cantrell is marketing director for Scott Industries, Inc. She is first vice president for the Carrizozo Woman's Club and treasurer of the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital Auxiliary. Mr. Jim Steinpreis, superintendent of the Carrizozo Public Schools, is the incoming president of Carrizozo Rotary Club and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Two Oktoberfest activities have been scheduled by CCAPA; an old fashion Fiddling Contest on October 5, and a senior citizens group specializing in Spanish folk dancing, on October 12.

The Board of Directors and all its members cordially invite interested individuals to become Charter Members. Charter memberships will be closed June 30, 1974.

The SILVER LINING

by DANIEL A. STORM

Gladys Allison Hale

One of the fairest flowers of the vale of Glencoe has been gathered by Our Lord to grow in the Garden of Heaven.

Just the day before she left us for Heaven, I had a wonderful visit over at the home of her beloved aunt, Mayme Coe Perry, "The Queen of Flowers." And here was Gladys, like a Guardian Angel around this sacred home, beautified by many a rose and other flower, and Gladys more beautiful than any of the flowers.

Having served in the Armed forces during World War II, Gladys was also a true and stalwart soldier in the battles of every day life. She was always doing kind things for others, and her bright smile kept shining for one and all despite whatever hardship might come her way along the pathway of life.

The Reverend James R. Breuning delivered a beautiful and fitting sermon, taken from the one hundred and twenty-first Psalm:

"I to the hills will lift mine eyes,
From whence cometh my help".

In his sermon the Rev. Mr. Breuning touched upon the inspiration of hills in the lives of people, and the good spiritual influences of living amongst the hills.

Our sympathies go out to the devoted brother and sister of Gladys, Earl Allison and Jewell Allison Bonnell.

The good Spirit of Gladys brought out the best in all of us as we gathered at her services; and there was a feeling everywhere of the kindness of friends and the great goodness of our Blessed Lord.

We rejoice that Gladys has gone to greater service with God in Heaven.

Arsenia Gonzales Curry

Services were held June 15 in Albuquerque for another true and beloved daughter of our hills. Arsenia, the daughter of the late Prospero Gonzales and Telesfora Miraval Gonzales, was the widow of the late Charles Curry who lived many years on the Gonzales Ranch in Glencoe.

This couple raised a fine family of boys and girls; and after living here in the valley and then at Alamogordo, Arsenia moved to Albuquerque to be near her children.

The late Charles Curry was the son of former governor Curry of New Mexico. Arsenia will be kindly remembered by people all over Lincoln County. Her younger brother, Prosperito Gonzales, still lives on the old Gonzales' Ranch where the Gonzales' children were born.

Our sympathies go out to the children of Arsenia; and we rejoice that she has gone to serve the Lord in Heaven and to rejoin her loved ones who have gone on before.

Two Very Interesting Letters

The Silver Lining a few days back received two very interesting letters. One is from Mrs. F. L. Mehlhop, P. O. Box 218, Dexter, N. M. 88230.

Mrs. Mehlhop tells that an account of the late Sam P. Butler, who worked for the V. V. Ranch in Lincoln County, will be published soon. The story is to come out in "True West Magazine" this fall. Mrs. Mehlhop thought old timers would like to read the story.

The other letter is from D. C. Sanford of Ruidoso Downs. Mr. Sanford has been working cattle most of his life, and was interested in the question of which cow looks after the little calves.

Mr. Sanford says there is no set rule, except that cattle like company. He says it seems the cow tells her calf, "You lie here."

Or she may say, "You can come with me to that bunch over there or you can lie here."

Littlest Calf Finds A Dinner Plate

At first it seemed Little Tiny, the littlest calf, did not want to eat his calf feed. Then, a few days ago, he was walking around the field and saw a good sized hub cap lying around. He began nosing this and looking at me. So I poured some calf feed into this plate-like hub cap and the little calf began eating.

So now he has a dinner plate that he found himself, and he lets his little companion eat out of the plate with him. After dinner the two have boxing lessons, and run foot races.

The Longest Day

Hardly noticed, the longest day came and went, and now we are gradually getting into the shorter days.

Just the other evening, June 25, it seemed that the night and the day stopped just a moment in passing. And also the wet and the dry season met just briefly.

At dusk, the half moon was bright in the West all silver-gold. Then down in the western horizon up the valley there was a copper-gold sunset cloud. Night and day were both in the world.

Suddenly the bright cloud faded and all the west was gray. The half moon brightened in the sky. Day had peacefully gone over the western hill leaving night in full possession of the world.

Then the dust of the dry day was still in the air of twilight; the smell of the parched grass was in the hot breeze. Then out of the north, where the big dipper and the north star were beginning to appear, clouds, gray and moist-looking, came moving in. The lightning flashed over th hill golden-red, and for a moment the dry and the moist weather met together in the peaceful evening.

Noticed where this feller Kissinger is thinking of resigning if he don't get better response from the folks he's dealin with an they don't quit bad mouthing him.

Somebody told me confidentially they figerd hed run for President of the World one of these days. I don't see how he could ever figer on winin and if he did win how he would figer on runnin the durn thing.

My Grandma had fourteen kids and used to have to bust their britches ever morning. I ask her one time why she did this. Grandma said if they aint done it already they will before noon an if they don't do it today, theyll do twice as much tomorrow so it sort of evens up over the year.
