CARMICHAEL JAILED

James Carmichael, sought since the alleged attempt to burglarize the Wm. R. Hickman residence in Ruidoso July 3, was apprehended July 16 in Tempe, Ariz., by city detectives.

In the incident at the Hickman home, Thomas L. Sanders and David A. Schlitz were killed and Carmichael, who was in the home at the time, fled.

A warrant for Carmichael's arrest was issued by Judge Austin Pritchett, Div. III Magistrate's Court of Lincoln County, listing his address as 120 N. Beverly, Mesa, Ariz.

Carmichael is being held in Maricopa County jail, Tempe, awaiting extradition proceedings.

Best N.M. Jaycees

The Ruidoso Jaycees, president Dick McEneny announced Tuesday, were honored at the Miss New Mexico Pageant at Hobbs, July 13, by being selected as the state's outstanding chapter in preparing the "best local Miss New Mexico Pageant".

McEneny, in noting that nine of the state's 33 chapters participated in local pageants, said, "This award speaks for itself as to the quality of the 21 men making up our local membership, especially when you consider we were competing against chapters with memberships exceeding 100."

The Ruidoso Jaycees, McEneny said, are "currently ranked No. 6 in the state in performance of chapter goals and we are competing against chapters with memberships of upwards of 250. Incidentally, we're inviting all of the men in our area between the ages of 21 and 35 to join our chapter and help us in our efforts to become New Mexico's No. 1 performance chapter." The local chapter meets at 8:00 p.m. the first and third Tuesdays of every month in the Hollywood Shopping Center.

The trophy won by the efforts of the local members is inscribed: "1974 Miss New Mexico Outstanding Local Pageant, Presented by Hobbs Jaycees".

CHINO SEEKS LAND SWAP

Wendell Chino, Mescalero Apache Tribe president, was in Washington, D. C., July 16 consulting with government officials on the proposed transfer of 2,200 acres of federal land to the U. S. Department of Interior, to be held in trust for the tribe, to expedite the development of the Sierra Blanca Ski area and of recreational projects underway or in the planning stage.

The acreage Chino is negotiating for is presently controlled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under U. S. Forest supervision.

The transfer would enable the tribe to proceed with their plans to increase area employment and boost the local economy.

STORAGE PROBLEMS 'SHOULD BE SOLVED SOON' —KANNADY

Village water supply improving gradually

Ruidoso's water supply is no longer in the critical shortage stage, due to recent rains which have reduced the demand.

As of Monday, village engineer Jack Kannady told The Ruidoso News, the 3,700,000 gallons in storage is considered adequate, "if all conditions remain," static until "early in August when the majority of our water problems should be solved."

In explaining the present water situation, Kannady noted:

—3,000,000 gallons are stored in the five million gallon Alto Hill tank.

—700,000 gallons are stored in the one million gallon Forest Heights tank.

—Three tanks, with 1,500,000 gallon capacity, will be sterilized "by the end of the week", and then filled. The tanks are located in Pinecliff, Indian Hills and at the Upper Canyon plant.

These five tanks, recently completed in the expansion program, will give the village a storage capacity of 7,500,000 gallons of treated water.

The Alto Hill and Forest Heights tanks, Kannady said, "will basically serve the village proper," with the other three new tanks serving their respective areas.

Including the five tanks in the old system, the five new tanks will provide the village with a total storage capacity of 10,000,000 gallons of treated water. "This will insure," Kannady said, "a full 10 day supply of water" sufficient to meet any forseeable "emergencies." With all ten storage tanks full, Kannady said, "We should be able to supply a demand of up to a million and a half gallons daily and still keep up with that demand."

Some problems will continue to exist in the water pressure fluctuation, he said, "especially in those outlying areas" in which it has always been a problem, "but with the new system in operation, the water pressure should be more stable."

The recent rains, a village spokesman said, have reduced the demand for water, especially for gardens and yards, and, as a result, outside watering restrictions have been eased to permit residents to resume watering from village lines.

"With the exception of the Upper Canyon tank," Kannady said, "the other storage facilities will be full in about three weeks, or a little more if the present water conditions do not change."

YFU sponsors needed here

Youth for Understanding (YFU), teen-age international student exchange program, seeks homes for two students, a boy and a girl, to attend Ruidoso High School during the 1974-75 term, regional director James Aneff, Jr. of Abilene, Texas, said here Tuesday.

Families willing to host a foreign student under the YFU program are asked to contact Mrs. Bob Reid of El Paso by telephone, 915-566-8527 or by letter to 2922 Taylor Ave. 79930; or Aneff at 3301 Curry Lane, Abilene, Texas 79605, or by telephone at 915-692-3700.

Aneff, with two students from Brazil and an El Paso student who will attend school in Brazil this year, has been contacting families in Ruidoso this week who have expressed interest in the program. The four have also been talking YFU to the doctors attending the Ruidoso Summer Clinic at Ruidoso Downs.

Each year 3,500 students from 25 foreign countries live with a U. S. family while attending school under this U. S. State Department sponsored program.

"We want very much to have a boy and a girl from a foreign country live in Ruidoso and attend school," Aneff said, "and all we need is to have two families volunteer to take them into their homes, to be one-of-the family for one year."

DOWNS RACING ACTION

Chicory Moon and Mr. Bee Bug are the standouts in Friday's trials, among a field of 20 three-year-old and up hopefuls in the running. Out of the 10th and 11th races the photo-electric timer will determine the 11 entries in the $50,000 (est.) World's Championship Classic to be run July 28.

Tiny's Guy will be the headline attraction for [illegible] final elimination [illegible] 440-yard, $301,500 [illegible] Quarter Horse Futurity, set for August 4. It wil be Tiny's Guy's tenth start on the heels of an unbroken string of nine wins.

Sunday's Billy the Kid Handicap, a $6,000-added seven-furlong sprint, will have Never Phil and Mr. Tattoo in action against the field of 11 competitors.

Downs track sets horse sale

The second annual Summer Sale, slated to be held at Ruidoso Downs Saturday, July 27, will put about 105 head on the auction block.

This will mark quite a gain over last year, when the Summer Sale debuted with 47 head bringing an average price of $7,426.

"Without doubt, the Summer Sale is destined to become one of the great sales in the Southwest," said Al Rosa, Ruidoso Downs general manager. "Both in terms of quantity and quality, the 1974 sale represents a significant growth over last year's successful debut."

The upcoming sale will be held in the All-American Sales Arena, a modern facility located on the track grounds. The one-session event will get going at 7:30 p.m. Tom Caldwell, the well-known auctioneer from California, will be back at the gavel.

Except for quarter horse yearlings, the sale is open to thoroughbreds and quarter horses of all ages.

"A significant aspect of this year's sale is the big emphasis on thoroughbreds," Rosa said. "About half of the 1974 entries are thoroughbreds. Obviously, this indicates a growing need for a sale of this type in the Southwest."

Thoroughbred mares represent the largest category in the upcoming sale, Rosa pointed out.

A probable standout in the sale list is the quarter horse mare, Miss Bar Special, which was consigned by J. J. DiPaolo of Ruidoso. The mare will go on the auction block with a Truly Truckle foal by her side. Miss Bar Special is also bred back to Truly Truckle, thus making an appealing three-in-one package. Truly Truckle, a thoroughbred, is the sire of the world champion Truckle Feature.

Another key prospect among quarter horses is Go Joan Go, a Go Man Go mare consigned by Max Prestridge of El Paso. Go Joan Go is in foal to Truckle Feature.

The Thoroughbred stock represents such well-known sires as Binary, Cosmic Bomb, Old Pueblo, the California stakes winner Lucky Mel, and Terrang, a winner of nearly $600,000.

A two-year-old quarter horse in training which figures to catch the eye of the buyers is Jet One Eleven, a graduate of last year's All-American Yearling Sale.

The colt was consigned by Wayne May and Gerald Marr.

About 2,500 to 3,000 buyers are expected to be on hand for the Summer Sale. Most of the stock will begin arriving on July 24.

Later in the season, the All-American Sales Arena will be the site of the All-American Yearling Sale, the world's most prestigious sale of quarter horse yearlings.

The All-American Sale is apparently headed toward a host of new records. The sale drew 458 entries. About 425 — a new record, by far — are expected to pass under the gavel. The bloodlines represent such fabulous sires as Easy Jet, Rocket Wrangler, Three Oh's, Go Man Go, Azure Te, Top Moon, Tiny Watch, Truxton King, Rebel Cause, among others.

The dates of the All-American Sale are Aug. 29, 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

RPD investigating series of incidents

Incidents of burglaries and vandalism occurring the past week being investigated by the Ruidoso Police Department include:

Ray Clark reported larceny of over $100 in his home July 12, with horse tack and shoeing equipment being taken.

Nunley Drug reported windows were shot out with a pellet gun, July 14.

In excess of $625 was taken in $20-10-5 bills in a burglary of the Holiday Steak House July 15.

Windows in the H & J Food Basket were shot out July 15.

Wally Tyocke Construction Co. reported the loss of 40 sheets of pressed wood from a building site in Black Forest, July 15.

Traffic safety survey of intersections to be made

Village has authorized annexing investigation

The village council authorized a study to be made relative to the proposed annexation of a Paradise Canyon subdivision at the July 11 meeting.

Representatives from the subdivision noted the existence of water service and availability of other village services, in requesting their area be annexed to the Village of Ruidoso. After being informed annexation action would require a request by at least 50% of the property owners involved in the tract estimated at between 30 and 40 acres, the group was instructed to have the concerned property owners meet with the village attorney, village engineer and other officials to determine if they want to take the legal steps necessary to be annexed to the village.

In other action the council:

—Heard an explanation from Burroughs representatives on proposed new equipment to facilitate the handling of the rapidly increasing paper work load for the village. Village officials viewed the equipment Friday morning.

—Was advised of steps being taken by W. M. McKinney in protesting the quality of Cable TV service and that McKinney was contacting state and national offices with his complaints.

—Granted a request by C. Richard Cothrun, Chamber of Commerce manager, to use the basketball courts for an outdoor display during the Arts and Crafts Fair here, Aug. 9-11. Cothrun noted that this year's showing in Ruidoso "will be the second largest outdoor arts and crafts show in New Mexico." A request for screening inside the doors of restroom facilities near the courts was taken under advisement.

—Was advised by village manager Jim Hine that the Lodger's Tax collection for June amounted to $1,767.66, with 100% cooperation from all concerned businesses. Costs, Hine said, amounted to $246.80, leaving a balance of $1,502.86 for the month. Future expenses, Hine noted, will be much less because most of the original costs will not be repeated.

—Authorized payment of Municipal league dues of $1,999; S. E. N. M. Economic Development dues of $100 and Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce dues of $75.

—Delayed naming a representative to the Citizen's Conference on New Mexico Courts, Oct. 17-19 in Albuquerque, until the July 25 meeting.

—Approved advertising for bids for two new pickup trucks, one for the village and one for the water department.

—Authorized an expenditure

MR. AND MRS. MEL PATTON

Morrison - Patton Wedding held July 10

Community United Methodist Church was the scene Wednesday, July 10th at 8:00 p.m. for the candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Susan Morrison and Mel Patton in marriage. Vows were repeated before the altar, decorated with an arrangement of white glads and daisies. White tapers in floor candelabra entwined with ivy and blue daisies, and floor baskets with arrangements of white glads, and white and blue daisies completed the decor. Rev. Ken Cole officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Morrison and is a member of a pioneer Ruidoso and Lincoln County family. The groom is the son of Mrs. Betty Patton of Ruidoso and James K. Patton of Westminster, California.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress designed and fashioned by her mother. It was styled with fitted bodice, shoulders and deep cuffs of pont d' venice lace over crepe, the full colonial sleeves were chiffon. Re-embroidered lace medallions outlined the neck, dropped shoulders and waistline and the very full chiffon skirt flowed into a cathedral train. Her three tiered veil of silk tulle was gathered to a seed pearl encrusted lace cap. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, daisies, lily of the valley and stephanotes, with satin streamers and ropes of pearls entwined. For something old, she wore a gold and diamond pin which had belonged to her great-great grandmother Wingfield. Something new was her dress; borrowed were diamond earrings belonging to Mrs. Bill Tucker, her garter was blue satin and mink, given to her by the groom's mother. For luck, she wore a penny given by her maternal grandmother.

Shirley Waltrip attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Renee Carpenter. Both attendants were dressed identically in gowns fashioned by the bride's mother. The gowns were of Alice blue crepe styled along colonial lines. The high neckline and wide cuffs were trimmed with navy blue lace. They wore navy blue picture hats, the crowns of which were encircled with light blue daisies. Both carried colonial bouquets of royal blue daisies tied with light blue velvet ribbon.

The altar candles were lighted by Bill Morrison, brother of the bride and Van Patton, the groom's brother.

Ringbearer was Josh Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Riley.

The groom wore a powder blue formal jacket with white trousers and ruffled white shirt. The groomsmen were attired in powder blue formal jackets with navy trousers. Reeves McGuire served as best man. Danny Wimberly was groomsman. Ushers were Dick Underwood and Joe Bob McGuire. Pianist was Ruth McGuire.

The bride's mother wore a full length gown of creme delustered satin with sleeves of imported ecru ribbon lace. Her accessories were navy and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of chiffon in soft shades with green predominating. Her corsage was a pink orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Cree Meadows Country Club with approximately 165 in attendance. The bride's table was spread with white and blue lace over white. Low candelabra entwined with ivy and blue daisies flanked the tiered wedding cake which was decorated in ivory and blue. The bridal figure atop had been used on the cake at the bride's parents' reception. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Bill Tucker, Mrs. Darrel Waltrip, Diorly Langford and Joni Rattliff. Mrs. Dan Wimberly presided at the guest book.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a backless dress in rose and yellow plaid with a deep sailor collar of white organdy. She wore a white ribbon picture hat, and her corsage was Japhet orchids.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Las Cruces, New Mexico, where the bridegroom attends New Mexico State University on a football scholarship. Both the bride and groom are graduates of Ruidoso High School.

Out of town guests included: Winona Guye, maternal grandmother of the bride, of Tatum, New Mexico; Della Hale, paternal grandmother of the bride, of Chama, New Mexico; Nona Lee Earp, maternal grandmother of the groom, of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kushmaul and Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Swindler, Kathy and Laurie Swindler, all of Dallas, Texas; Mrs. C. Wayne Estes and Danny Estes of Denver, Colorado; and Mrs. Wanda Briley, Sharla Briley, Wade Briley and Lane Briley of Visalia, California.

STUFF & JUNK . . . by Cale Dickey

Tourists . . .

The bride . . . that's Kay, you know . . . and I . . . what with being recently transplanted from Minnesota's sunny climes and all . . . did decide . . . may more we undertook . . . to take a fast peek at Cloudcroft and that 6% grade easing down toward Alamogordo Saturday. Ah, but that's a hair-raising experience . . . though, to date, I really lack proof to substantiate that allegation.

Anyhow . . . blithely did we proceed toward Cloudcroft . . . and much did we rubberneck enroute . . . when suddenly, before our eyes, did materialize Cloudcroft . . . right around a bend in the road . . . virtually unannounced. And the streets we did traverse . . . and we did gape . . . and pause for a bit of refreshment . . . and we did gab with the uh . . . purveyor of the thoroughly iced . . . uh . . . tea . . . without lemon.

We further ogled a church . . . the roof of which seemingly was supported by odds and ends of stone . . . more or less tied together with cement . . . uh . . . concrete . . . nestled 'neath a towering pine, neatly framing the tiny white cross atop the steeple. And we wondered how many worshipers take a moment to reflect upon the setting of their house of worship before availing themselves of what awaits within.

After loitering there . . . and elsewhere . . . to the point where we feared the local constabulary might begin to show an interest in us . . . for Alamogordo we departed.

Now a 6% grade really doesn't seem steep . . . and it really wouldn't have bothered us any . . . IF . . . it hadn't been for some road signs advising truck drivers that an escape route, in the event of brake malfunction, had been prepared for their departure from the highway some distance ahead.

Being as I am subject to accepting a challenge . . . I bore down on the gas pedal of the old jalop until, with much groaning, rumbling, shaking, snorting and protesting . . . and that 6% grade . . . it finally achieved the posted speed limit. The bride, meantme, was so enamored of the scenic beauties unfolding before her eyes that she failed to observe my ploy . . . and, with a sneak peek in the rear view mirror, and one at friend bride . . . I did ease the shift lever into N. Well . . . as nothing got in our way . . . or snuck up behind us . . . I forgot about the speedometer and . . . the bride's shrieks . . . and did successfully negotiate the curves . . . and stuff . . . until, before our very eyes, suddenly appeared that bit of mecca for truckers . . . that escape route.

I'll now freely admit that that escape route is a boon . . . and I think it'd work . . . providing the truck'd hold together long enough to bounce to a stop . . . in one piece. If'n the bride'd been holding a pint of cream, during the 200 yards we traveled that . . . uh . . . road . . . we'd have had butter. Talk about getting shook . . . why, the bride was so shaken that she was still shakin' her fist at me Sunday.

The rains came . . .

Some time the last of June . . . and since about July 5 . . . the rains came. The honeysuckles are blooming . . . the bees are buzzing . . . hummingbirds humming . . . fire fighters of the Forest Service shilling . . . and happy home owners are busy fertilizing their hitherto patched yards.

Meantime . . . it's joyous to watch a mud puddle full of four-year-olds puddling . . . and stuff . . . if'n they ain't yours.

Some attractions are funny . . . you know . . . cats for catnip . . . dogs for their neighbor's rhubarb . . . bees for beeswax . . . and mud puddles for four-year-olds.

Anyhow . . . seems everyone's enjoying the rain . . . even mothers of four-year-olds . . . after same are bathed and safely abed. Then there's the horse players who can pick their muddiers . . . and smile all the way to the bank.

The point being . . . ain't it great to build up a big heap of glowing charcoals . . . without fear of reprisal from the minions of the law . . . and to plop and observe the effect on the neighbors of the wafting odors emanating from same . . . and to further observe the neighbor's expression when you invite them . . . to use your fire.

BRIEF BIT: The risk involved in trying to cook someone else's goose is that you might wind up eating crow . . . —CD.

An excerpt from the "Meter", which is published by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company, reads, "As far as electricity is concerned, it is not a matter of 'try it you will like it.' It is more like 'try to do without it, you will hate it.'"

NOSKER ADOBE — The lower portion of this building is the remodeled adobe on the Kenneth Nosker ranch that dates from the early settlement of Lincoln County. The historic old adobe has seen considerable change in the area since the Lincoln County War. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Nosker adobe part of history

"There's a lot of varied history in this area," Kenneth Nosker, Glencoe area rancher, stated in part. He and his family have done much to preserve Lincoln County history by protecting an adobe house on their property and maintaining a longhorn steer.

Almost everyone involved in the Lincoln County War stopped by or in a small adobe house on their land, according to Mr. Nosker. John Tunstall, the first man killed in the war, was brought to the house which was then owned by the Newcombs. Before taking the body to Lincoln, it was brought, slung over a horse, to this house which was the closest to where the killing took place. Noskers assume that Billy the Kid, being a close friend of Tunstall's, must have visited the Newcomb house, as probably did Pat Garrett and others of Lincoln County fame.

The house, built in the 1850's while New Mexico was still a territory, was originally a homesite built by the de Sanchez family. In the next years, the 26 by 56-foot house was used by various owners as a way station, general store, and residence.

Noskers used the house as a natural cold storage room for their harvest of apples. By leaving the door open at night and closing it in the early morning, they trapped the cool night air.

Now, to preserve the house, Noskers have re-plastered and painted both the inside and outside of the three-foot thick walls. The ceiling beams were supported, rubbed with log oil and paneling was placed between each beam. Without this paneling, dirt from the wood slab and mud roof would fall onto the floor. The fireplace was rebuilt, the cistern filled, electric lights installed, and the windows which had been filled, were uncovered and glass panes set in.

Noskers are presently using the adobe house for a playroom-den, aging room for hams, and a community room for their neighbors. On the top of the reinforced adobe house, Noskers have built an office which they will open soon for selling retail hams, bacon, German and country sausage. Along with butchering, Noskers also custom cure pork.

Mr. and Mrs. Nosker have three children: Dennis, Renee (McCoy), and Ralph.

NEXT WEEK: Charlie, the longhorn steer.

Ice cream social set by RD ladies

The Ruidoso Downs Ladies' Auxiliary has announced that an Ice Cream Social will be held at the Community Center July 23 at 7:30 p.m. and an admission charge of 50c per person will be made to be donated to the Village Beautification Project.

Ice cream, cake and drinks will be served at the event. The date has been changed from that previously announced.

The event is open to the public and your support is urged.

Chamber Board names Cannon

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce board of trustees named Charles Cannon to the board last Monday evening, to replace Gerald Bormeil, who had resigned because he is moving from the area. Cannon will begin his tour of duty at the next Board meeting.

The board heard a request from Wheeler Gaton, representing the Mescalero Apache Tribe, for assistance in establishing a ceremonial dance festival, with prizes to be given to the best dancers for June of 1975. He noted that invitations would be issued to Indian tribes throughout the Southwest to participate in the festival. Further study of the plan is now underway.

Billie Clarke was present at the meeting to request that the chamber sponsor a Sun Duchess to the annual Sun Carnival held in El Paso on New Year's Day. The board agreed and named Lisa Boyer as the Ruidoso representative.

John Winniford spoke to the group concerning the Bi-Centennial celebrations slated for 1976 throughout the country and noted that Ruidoso should try to be designated as one of the cities named for the event. The requirements for being designated will be studied further before a decision is made.

It was noted that the Aspencade dance will be held this year in the All-American barn.

Bank balance for the chamber at the end of June stood at $10,929.78.

Purses boosted at Downs track

The third increase of the '74 racing season went into effect Thursday and covers eight race days through July 28, according to general manager Al Rosa.

"Except for stakes, each race in this period will get a $100 increase," Rosa pointed out. "The new increase represents a total of $9,300. We're especially proud of the fact the minimum purse at Ruidoso Downs has been increased to $1,700, which is the highest in this part of the country."

The latest purse boost is the result of Ruidoso's soaring business trend which has bulged the daily betting average up close to the $270,000 level and pushed the mutuels into a 17 percent increase over last year's record pace.

With a $1,700 minimum purse, Ruidoso Downs is even ahead of Centennial Race Track in Denver. The latter offers a $1,500 bottom purse. Santa Fe Downs offers a minimum $1,600 for thoroughbreds, $1,400 for quarter horses.

At the same time last year, Ruidoso Downs' minimum purse was $1,200. A statistic which most dramatically illustrates the spiraling purse trend at Ruidoso is the fact the current daily purse distribution, not counting stakes, is $24,250. This is a thumping daily gain of $5,690 over both the same time last year and the start of the current meeting.

The average purse (excluding stakes) is now $400 fatter than what it was at the start of the meeting. The new condition book offers allowance horses — except for non-winners of two races — a purse spread of $2,400 to $3,000. The lowest allowance purse for four-year-olds and up is $2,500.

IN A VIRTUAL SEA OF MUD Scenic Dancer sloshed to a 1¼ length win in Sunday's Peter Hurd Handicap at Ruidoso Downs . . . and if you think the track wasn't sloppy, take a look at that pile of mud oozing upward just in front of his left rear hoof.

IN BLACK AND WHITE, thereby hung two tails on Sudderth Drive on a sunny afternoon last week . . . and not by so much as a twitch of those tails, did the owners of same give one iota of recognition to the presence of a Ruidoso News photographer. Which only goes to prove that even this end of a horse can be photogenic.

Ruidoso Police Department expands telephone service

The Ruidoso Police Department, Chief Paul Lukens announces, has installed new telephone service to facilitate handling the increasing volume of emergency calls.

The two new numbers, 257-7365 and 257-7366 are reserved for incoming calls, only. The present number 257-4333 will continue in use until new telephone directories are issued, Lukens said, after which it will be discontinued.

Billy the Kid rides again Aug. 2-3-4

By SCOTTIE KING
NM Tourist Division

LINCOLN, N. M. — When Billy the Kid rode into Lincoln, N. M., in 1876, he was a slim 17-year-old possessed of notable personal charm.

He had already escaped from two jails — in fact, no jail would ever hold him. He had been a member of an outlaw gang, and had a good start on the notoriety that has made him the most famous of all the Wild West's bad men. And got him killed at the age of 21.

Every year, the first weekend in August, the Kid rides again in Lincoln. The town is being restored to look the way it did when Billy helped fire the Lincoln County War in 1878. The pageant that keeps his legend alive, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid," recounts the history of Lincoln during the infamous local civil war over property and government contracts that had repercussions all the way to Washington, D. C.

This year the pageant will be presented Aug. 2 and 3 at 8:30 p.m. and Aug. 4 at 3 p.m., as usual the highlight of the old Lincoln Days celebration. But a lot of other good things happen at Lincoln, too.

The Fifth Annual Pony Express Race takes off from White Oaks ghost town at 8 a.m. on Aug. 3. Anybody can sign up to race the 41 miles to Lincoln — but each contestant must bring his own string of four horses, one for each of the four laps. Ralph Dunlap of Lincoln is in charge.

Riders will carry the mail as in frontier days — your mail, if you want to get in on it. To have mail carried in this race, address a letter to yourself (or to anyone you want to send it to), put a regular first class or air mail stamp on it, and put it in a bigger envelope.

Enclose a note in the bigger envelope asking that the letter be included in the Pony Express Race from White Oaks to Lincoln. Also enclose 25 cents for the official Pony Express Seal which certifies that the letter did indeed travel by pony express.

Address the big envelope to the Postmaster, Carrizozo, N. M. 88301, and your letter will be carried in the race. Probably you'll have a collector's item.

The Old Fiddlers' Contest, in which players compete for prizes by making lots of foot-stompin' music, has earned itself a big reputation. This year it begins at 1:30 p.m. on Aug. 3.

A colorful, old-time costume, old-time vehicle, old-time anything parade starts at 1:30 p.m. on Aug. 4. Everyone who has anything he considers old-time and interesting enough to show off can enter. Pat and Bill Ward at Lincoln take care of all events except the Pony Express Race.

So the welcome mat it out in Lincoln, N. M., where there's a lot to see besides the pageant, races, parades, and fiddling.

A player piano in a saloon-turned-museum will tinkle an all-but-forgotten tune for a quarter. In the dining room at the tiny old Wortley Hotel, restored to its 1870's comfort and folksiness, there's no menu. The waitress tells you what they're serving that day, perhaps two choices. The food is the old-fashioned, home-cooked kind, and it's plentiful and delicious.

Lincoln has always been a village, but it still lives today, while White Oaks, once a booming gold town and the mercantile center of southeastern New Mexico until the gold ran out at the turn of the century, is a ghost town — a good poking around place.

As for Billy the Kid, there are those who say he really wasn't so bad because he fought on the side of rancher John Tunstall and lawyer Alexander McSween in the war. They were the "good guys" to some people, and the other side, headed by merchants Lawrence Murphy and James Dolan, were the "bad guys."

But no matter how you sort them out, the fact remains that after the Lincoln County War, Billy the Kid struck out on the life of crime that made his legend. It led at last to jail in the courthouse at Lincoln and, after his final escape, to his death by the gun of Sheriff Pat Garrett in Fort Sumner, N. M., in 1881.

Today he lies buried with two fallen comrades, Tom O'Folliard and Charlie Bowdre, in a marked grave near Fort Sumner, where aficionados of his saga can pay homage to the famous young outlaw, whose charm, they say, was as legendary as his gun.

A PORTION OF THE 115 REGISTERED general practitioners and medical specialists attending the 17th annual Ruidoso Summer Clinic of the NM American Academy of Family Physicians in the Chaparral Motor Hotel are shown during a Tuesday morning session. The topic, to which they were giving their undivided attention, was "New trends in anti microbial therapy particularly as related to maternal therapy and newborn treatment", with James Burkeholder, M. D., associate clinical professor, department of pediatrics of Texas Tech University School of Medicine, as speaker. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Nicodemus... week's top jockey

Jockey Jerry Nicodemus only rode two days out of the four-day weekend at Ruidoso Downs but still managed to capture the Jockey-of-the-Week honors.

Nicodemus hit paydirt seven times while riding on only Thursday and Friday — the two days of trials for the upcoming $301,592 Rainbow Quarter Horse Futurity.

On Thursday, Nicodemus saddled up on 12 mounts and posted a record of 2-4-2. On Friday, the veteran pilot really let loose when he scored five times, took home second-place money twice and had one third from the same number of mounts.

Nicodemus now holds a commanding lead in the seasonal jockey standings with excellent marks of 42-37-22 from 195 starts. His win percentage is a sparkling 21.5 percent.

Johnny Cox, who slipped off the standings a week ago, climbed back into the top ten over the weekend. Cox had an excellent weekend at the helm with marks of 6-5-2 from 25 starts.

Cox is ranked seventh in the overall standings with a record of 19-17-29 from 133 starts.

On the trainer end of things, Bubba Cascio tightened the girth on four winners over the weekend and edged one victory ahead of H. C. Werner, Jr. He now has sole possession of first place in the seasonal standings.

Robert Shultz is the only newcomer to the top ten this week. Shultz replaced J. Doyal Roberts, who failed to collect a win. Shultz is in ninth place with a record of nine wins, five seconds and seven thirds from 41 starters. His win percentage stands at 22.4 per cent.

Racing action in the high country kicks off Thursday and extends through Sunday. Saturday's 12-race agenda brings out five final trial divisions for the upcoming Rainbow Derby, while Sunday's docket highlights the $6,000-added Billy The Kid Handicap at seven furlongs.

First post each day is 1:30 p.m.

NOTHING CHEAP ABOUT HIM — Nevada Phil, a five-year-old gelding owned by Bob Arnett of El Paso and Delbert Basden of Amarillo, is one of the biggest bargains on the Southwest racing scene. Two years ago, Nevada Phil was purchased in California for a rock-bottom $500. So far during the current Ruidoso Downs meeting, he's won two key events — the Inaugural Purse and the 21st running of the Governor's Handicap. On Sunday (July 21), Nevada Phil takes on the big boys again in the $6,000-added Billy The Kid Handicap at seven furlongs. The gelding is shown off by pretty Eilene Smith, a track employee.

At the regular meeting of the Ruidoso Municipal School board of trustees, held last Tuesday evening at the school, the Ruidoso Jaycees, represented by Dick McEneny, were given permission to hold a magic show at the high school gym the afternoon of October 11 and an evening show October 12. The afternoon show will be for school children. The board will charge $25 rent for the gym, for clean up and utilities and the balance of 25% of the proceeds will be donated to the Band Boosters.

Opening of bids for the building trades house, built during the school year, was held with no bids to open. The board decided to accept all bids, regardless of amounts, for consideration. Bidding will be left open until an acceptable bid is forthcoming.

The board decided to study the program further and will possibly only rough-in a house next year, with the purchaser to complete the finish work and appliance installation. Discussion was also held concerning approaching contractors in the area to give a weekly critique on the progress of the building and the work being done. Superintendent Pat Valliant will study the matter further and report to the board at the next meeting.

The resignations of Ann Primer and Lana Bailey were accepted and the board approved the hiring of Janette Clem as high school aide, Paula McIntyre to replace Linda Skellett as 2nd grade teacher, and Nicky Forney as 3rd grade teacher. Principal Mike Gladden noted that there were 92 applicants for the 2nd grade position.

A letter from Harry Wugalter was read to the board discussing the naming of the trustees as a board of finance for the schools. The move would mean that school funds would come directly to the schools instead of being funneled through the County Treasurer's office. The board would not have to wait for reports from the treasurer's office on the schools' financial condition and could immediately invest funds received to draw more interest for he schools uhti. used. The purchase of new panels for the Burroughs bookkeeping machine and a check writer and protector were approved to prepare for acceptance as a board of finance.

The board voted to rent a safety deposit box for the school use and will require that a majority of the board be present before the box can be opened.

Valliant was instructed to look into a conflict of Merri Beth Ries as girls' basketball coach and also cheerleader sponsor. A report will probably be made to the board at the next regular meeting.

Valliant also reported on progress on liability insurance for board members and noted that the State Association of School Boards had called for bids on the insurance and would open the bids August 8. If the terms are suitable, the Ruidoso board will participate in the plan.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held August 12, 8:00 p.m. at the school administrative offices.

Plea entered, hearing set, in pending cases

Schnaufer of Ruidoso.

Melvin Montoya, charged with embezzlement and two counts of violating the Alcohol Beverage Act, allegedly occurring at the Coe Ranch Restaurant from Feb. 1 to April 22, 1974, appeared before Judge Austin Pritchett, in Magistrate's Court July 15, with Montoya's counsel, Atty. Albert Rivera of Alamogordo. A preliminary hearing on the felony charge and trial on the misdemeanor charges will be held in Magistrate's Court, Ruidoso, Aug. 5.

'Skip' drivers face arrest

The Ruidoso News

RUIDOSO (N. M.) NEWS — FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1974

Individuals who "skip" on a traffic penalty assessment will find that within four weeks it will be a reasonable probability that a warrant for their arrest has been issued by the law officer who originally fined them.

The disposition of minor traffic violations by mail has been the objective of a penalty assessment system originated in 1969 and administered by the Administrative Office of the Courts. This system became automated July 1 of this year and promises to speedily follow-up on non-remittances or "skips" as was previously beyond the system's capability.

The intended result of the penalty assessment system has been to reduce the number of minor traffic cases processed in the Magistrate Courts. The individual receiving a citation, in most cases from a State Policeman, has the option of either signing a pledge to appear in court and enter a plea or of signing a pledge to accept the penalty assessment and remit it through the mail.

If the individual signs to accept the penalty assessment and does not remit the fine through the mail, the Administrative Office of the Courts notifies the State Police. The Policeman who originally issued the violation obtains from the Magistrate Court a warrant of arrest and brings the charged individual to Court for disposition of the original traffic violation, as well as failure to remit the penalty assessment.

Until July 1st, remitted penalty assessments were processed through a completely manual system. Inasmuch as an estimated 80,000 to 85,000 remittances are received per year, the manual system slowed the processing to the extent that the follow-up of non-remittances was a tedious, lengthy process.

This is no longer the case. The State Police maintain a computer program that captures data on all penalty assessments issued by their officers, or 98% of all penalty assessments received by the Administrative Office of the Courts. Using this master issued file, the Administrative Office of the Courts now matches receipted penalty assessment remittances against this master file of issued penalty assessments by keypunching the necessary data for computer application.

In addition to State Police cooperation, the Department of Automated Data Processing is providing contracted services in the automated program's maintenance.

The new penalty assessment system allows computer "aging" of citations and readily available information of "skips" on a bi-weekly basis, allowing speedier processing of these non-remittances.

Magistrate, Municipal court cases

Orba W. Clayburn, 41, of Silver City, fined $100 on charges of impersonating an officer and 10 days in Lincoln County Jail at Carrizozo, with fine and jail term deferred until about Oct. 1. Clayburn was released from custody.

Lester Robert Mauncy of Roswell, charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance, will appear in Magistrate's Court, Ruidoso, July 8 at 10 a.m. Mauncy was released upon posting a $500 bond.

Municipal Court cases, appearing before Judge Sam Nunnally:

He is serving the jail sentences in Lincoln County Jail in Carrizozo.

Kanseah Kennedy of Mescalero, pleaded nolo contendre to a disorderly conduct charge July 1 and was fined $25, which was suspended.

Runnels asks study of food stamp program

U. S. Rep. Harold Runnels, D-NM, noting claims by New Mexico welfare officials that complex federal laws and regulations are responsible for a high error rate in the distribution of food stamps in the state, says he would be interested in introducing corrective legislation in Congress if the State official's claim can be supported by fact.

A recent report by the Health and Social Services Department stated over one-fourth of the 25,700 New Mexico families receiving food stamps were not eligible for the assistance. The report further claimed over 40 per cent of the food stamp recipients had been given the wrong amount of food stamps.

"The federal food stamp program has grown to a mammoth, expensive program affecting 13 million persons, one in every 16 Americans, at a cost of $2.5 billion annually," said Runnels.

"Here in our own state, food stamps represent the largest single expenditure by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A total of $34.4 million was spent for food stamps in New Mexico during 1973. It is estimated, according to the news accounts I read, that errors for the last six months have cost some $3.8 million. If this is true with the New Mexico food stamp program, then it is quite possible that the error rate is even larger in other states.

"Therefore, I have asked the Health and Social Services Department to provide me with further information on the claim that federal regulations are the cause for the high error rate," Runnels stated.

"If these claims can be supported by fact, then I want to bring this information to the attention of the proper Congressional committee, and I certainly would consider sponsoring legislation to correct the situation.

Forest Service lifts restrictions on fire, smoking

Southwestern Regional Forester Wm. D. Hurst announced that smoking and campfire restrictions on National Forests in New Mexico were lifted at 8 a.m., July 9, with one exception.

The only National Forest area where the restrictions remain in effect is the Carson National Forest west of the Rio Grande, including the Canjilon, El Rito, Jicarilla and Tres Piedras Ranger Districts which were not sufficiently moistened by recent rains, Hurst said. The restrictions limit smoking and campfires on developed camp and picnic grounds.

In Arizona, Hurst said, the Coronado National Forest in the south was reopened to normal use. Campfire and smoking restrictions remain in effect for the Apache-Sitgreaves and Kaibab National Forests. The closure order for the Coconino, Prescott and Tonto National Forests will continue until the fire danger is reduced by rain.

Your Social Security

"Quarterly wage reports and social security contributions for household workers are due by July 31," Mrs. Christine Graves, social security field representative, emphasized.

"People who pay a household worker $50 or more in cash wages in any 3-month calendar quarter must send a report of the wages, along with the social security contribution, to the Internal Revenue Service within one month after the end of the quarter. Wage reports and contributions for the April-May-June quarter are due by July 31," Mrs. Graves stressed.

People who employ household workers may file the wage report on a form available at any Internal Revenue Service Office — "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees (for Social Security)."

The social security contribution for a household employee is 5.85 percent of covered cash wages, and the employer pays a matching amount. "It's acceptable if the employer pays the full 11.7 percent contribution," Mrs. Graves explained.

A free copy of the leaflet, "Social Security and Your Household Employee" may be secured at any social security office.

PRICING YOUR HOUSE RIGHT

The value of your house is not what you think it is — or what the buyer thinks. It is determined chiefly by the location, the neighborhood, and the current market. An overpriced house sitting on the market for months becomes almost impossible to sell. So first, you must get in line with the market. That means a realistic appraisal.

Nobody — but nobody — is more acutely aware of the current housing market than your local Realtor. A capable Realtor can bring in his own appraisal expert or even a team of salesmen who will individually price your home and then reach a fair consensus. Or you can hire a qualified independent appraiser. You may be pleasantly surprised to find out that you were intending to price your house for less than its fair market value.

If possible, your price should include curtains, draperies, refrigerator, air conditioner, dishwasher, built-ins. It's a better package deal and may hasten the sale.

Profits support the American Habit.

Americans are creatures of habits. Ours go back over two hundred years. We've become addicted to trying to do something better, faster, easier and less expensively than anyone else. And, expecting to be rewarded for doing it.

The free enterprise system provides the reward. No other does it so well.

In business, this reward is called "profits." And, it comes in the form of money. And satisfaction. And pride. Take away profits and you take away incentive, ambition and vitality. Take away profits and you take a lot of independence out of America.

At the Ruidoso State Bank we want to make it our business to help your business.

CHILD ABUSERS CAN BE HELPED

Are you a parent who feels you need help because of a problem with child abuse? Or, do you know someone who does have this problem?

Abuse is more than just disciplinary or punishment; it means actually hurting or beating a child to the point of injury.

Everyone is a possible child abuser, and New Mexico's child abuse rate is as high as many other states. Albuquerque's reported incidence is as high as New York City's.

Child abuse by a parent is a complex problem, but generally one of two factors is present: in some cases, either the parent may have been abused as a child, or he may be under great stress in coping with everyday problems. He or she may not know how to be a parent. Social Service Agencies in each area of New Mexico can provide help to such parents.

Child abusers are human beings; they are people with problems. They are not monsters. Most don't want to hurt their children, and certainly the majority want to be good parents. The abusing parent can be helped by lessening the stress he feels through homemaking services, friends-to-mothers programs, or foster parent programs. Guidance and education about child abuse can also be given.

Child abuse is expensive in many ways. The abused child's emotional development often is severely crippled. Such a child may eventually be an abusing parent himself, and is more likely to have trouble with the law later in life. Medical and hospital bills to treat the abused child are costly. The deaths which occasionally occur can't be measured in dollars, but represent a very real loss.

New Mexico needs more resources for abused or neglected children. Although there are foster care programs in several areas, there aren't enough to treat all the families who need help. Facilities which are appropriate for abused teenagers who are not delinquents are especially scarce and very badly needed.

If you know a child you feel is being abused, or if you need help yourself, there are several things you can do. First, contact your local Social Service Agency which has the legal responsibility for dealing with child abuse. The person who reports abuse is protected by law from any "revenge," and the agency never reveals its source of information.

You also can call a 24-hour number in Bernalillo County and your information will be relayed to the appropriate local person. The number, which is not toll-free, is 268-5800.

Technically, New Mexico does have a mandatory Report Law which requires that anyone with knowledge of child abuse must report it to the Social Service Agency. Failure to report it is a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of $25 to $100.

Regardless of the legal implications of child abuse, it is the child who is the recipient of such battering that must be protected. Help is available to a parent who needs assistance because of the problem, or to one who is aware of such a problem existing.

State board to hold Ft. Stanton meeting

The Department of Hospitals and Institutions monthly board meeting will be held in Fort Stanton at the Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School on July 29, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. Giron, Secretary of DHI, advises that one of the items on the agenda will be consideration of patient rights in the several health care programs sponsored by the Department.

By FRED BUCKLES

ALBUQUERQUE — Six weeks after the primary, election results were finally ready for certification by the State Canvassing Board.

Delays underscored a need for improved training of election officials. Results from only 8 of the 32 counties were not returned by the State Election Bureau for corrections.

The 8 counties: Colfax, Taos, Catron, Luna, Lincoln, Otero, Quay and Socorro. The last 6 counties with questions and corrections in election results resolved: Sandoval, Guadalupe, San Miguel, San Juan, Bernalillo and Mora.

County clerks are required to attend seminars before each election. But the multitude of corrections needed in primary returns underline a requirement for improvements, Returns of 24 counties were sent back from Santa Fe for corrections.

The State Canvassing Board should have certified primary results June 18. Certification was expected finally this week.

The National Lieutenant Governors Conference in Albuquerque pushed New Mexico Lt. Gov. Robert Mondragon into the limelight for a week. The exposure boosted Mondragon's campaign for the U. S. House in District 1.

A Democrat, Mondragon, 33, opposes incumbent Republican Manuel Lujan Jr., Albuquerque. Mondragon was born in Guadalupe County.

The conference adopted a watered down version of a resolution offered by Mondragon on campaigning financing practices. Strong language was stricken by the resolutions committee and the full conference.

The final version said: "The nation is experiencing the sad effects of existing campaign financing practices. Candidates are at times suspect of biasing their representative functions in favor of special interests, at the expense of the majority of the individual voters.

"The National Conference of Lieutenant Governors urges all of the states to adopt campaign financing reform laws requiring disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures, pre-election reporting and limits on contributions by individuals and groups."

Lt. Gov. Mondragon was conference host. Thirty-one lieutenant governors attended. Vice President Gerald Ford told the conference at a Santa Fe session the Nixon administration's new federalism is effective. Ford said all states except one showed a budget surplus in fiscal 1973-74.

Senate Republican Leader John Conway, Lincoln-Otero, heard Ford's speech. Conway said afterward Ford is running for president in 1976. Conway said Ford is the Republican presidential frontrunner "because he's getting the most national exposure at this time."

Conway, 39, a lawyer, seeks reelection in District 39 — all of Lincoln County and part of Otero County. His general election opponent is Alamogordo Democrat Rolla Buck.

Sen. Conway says he finds no voter trend to oust incumbents.

New Mexico Democrats elected Hobbs businessman Ben Alexander, 54, as new state chairman. Alexander succeeds Mike Anaya, Moriarty businessman. Anaya resigned to spend more time on personal and business matters.

Alexander was picked by State Sen. Jerry Apodaca, Las Cruces, the Democratic governor candidate, and elected by the State Democratic Central Committee.

Anaya gave certificates of appreciation for service to county Democratic chairmen and other party officials. Among county chairmen receiving certificates were: Fern Sawyer, Lincoln; James Duran, Taos; Ted Howden, Valencia; Bobby Allen, Sierra; Ben Beckner, Union.

Also, Hilario Torres, Sandoval; Frank Encinias, Guadalupe; Rep. Alvino Castillo, Colfax; Mike Garrett, Curry, and Grayum Steele, DeBaca.

Rep. Castillo, Colfax-Union, is chairman of the Legislative Insurance Study Committee which met in Santa Fe. He said the committee will write a major workmen's compensation bill for the 1975 Legislature.

A major issue in the legislation: Whether the present exclusion of agricultural and domestic employes from workmen's compensation should be removed. A committee task force will report in September. Then the panel will write the proposed legislation in October-December.

The Land Use Advisory Council approved a questionnaire for use in a survey. The survey will gather input from 73 public agencies and private organizations on information desired in a land use inventory.

Sen. Bill Lee, D-Lovington, and Rep. John Bigbee, R-Guadalupe - DeBaca - Lincoln - Torrance, are on the council. Both are ranchers

The State Environmental Improvement Agency announced grant assistance payments for sewage treatment facilities. Among payments for municipalities are these: Santa Rosa, $231,450 federal and $23,475 state funds; Fort Sumner, $4,500 federal and $750 state funds.

The Advisory Hospital Council allocated $207,000 in federal Hill-Burton grant funds to Holy Cross Hospital, Taos. Hill-Burton money is for health facility projects.

CLOUD COUNTRY EXPRESS — The Cloud Country Express, a converted London double-decker bus, was in Ruidoso over the Fourth of July weekend taking visitors for a four of the Cloudcroft area. The eye-catcher is equipped with a snack bar and a public address system. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Deer applicants must send $1

An error on the Game and Fish Department's Form B application blanks — the form used by applicants for either sex deer validations and entry permits — should be brought to sportsmen's attention.

The error printed states: "Send no money for validations or permit."

Corrected, it should read: "Send $1 application fee for each applicant."

Though the error is being corrected by overprinting most of the forms, a number of them have been distributed to license vendors and cannot be recalled and corrected.

Signs will be posted at vendor stations notifying applicants of the error.

It is especially important that the fee be included, as the application unaccompanied by the fee will be returned to the applicant.

AZURE TEEN'S OWNER HAS A PROBLEM

What's for an encore?

RUIDOSO DOWNS — After winning what surely amounts to the toughest three-year-old race in quarter horse history, what do you do for an encore?

The answer, according to Richard Harper of San Antonio, Texas, is aim at even bigger worlds to conquer.

Harper's magnificent filly, Azure Teen, pulled off quite an upset in the July 7 $377,960 Rainbow Derby at Ruidoso Downs. She nipped Timeto Thinkrich, the All-American Futurity winner, and collected a paycheck of $124,195.

"I wasn't sure we could win it, and to tell you the truth, I would have been pretty happy just to get in the top three," a jubilant Harper said after the race. "This is the greatest win we've ever had. Our plans now are to aim the filly at the All-American Derby."

The All-American Derby, booked for Aug. 25 at the mountain track, figures to attract essentially the same competition. The main difference is the fact the purse will be even bigger — more than $500,000.

As the field reached the halfway point of the 440-yard Rainbow sprint, Timeto Thinkrich was in command and inching into the clear. But Azure Teen made up ground steadily on the outside and snared the win by a nose.

Luke Myles, the winning pilot, described the race this way: "We got off to a pretty good start, but the filly was slipping for the first 200 yards; she got her footing as we neared the grandstand. That's when I really started to ride her. In the last 50 yards or so I knew we could catch Timeto Thinkrich. When we hit the wire, I felt we'd won."

Mrs. Harper was in the winner's circle to help her husband collect the victory trophy, and couldn't hold back happy tears. Bubba Werner, the winning trainer, was elated beyond words. "I couldn't be happier," Werner said.

Attesting to the quality of the Derby was the fact the total earnings of the field was over $1,200,000.

Azure Teen left the gate at 8.30-1 in the betting and returned $18.60, $8.00 and $3.80. She clocked the distance in 21.78 seconds. It was an off track.

Timeto Thinkrich, owned by the Vessels' Stallion Farm of Los Alamitos, earned $59,673 and paid $5.60 and $3.40. His total earnings are now $517,412. He is, by far, the richest quarter horse of all time.

Mr. Hay Bug, a 7-2 shot ridden by Jerry Burgess, held on for third and earned $30,955. The colt was unable to subdue Timeto Thinkrich in the early going. The show price was $3.00 even.

Saturday's Derby Consolation was won by I'm Kipty in a clocking of 21.97 seconds. The filly earned $11,561 and returned $5.40 to win. Ken Hart was up.

Ralph Petty, Jr. named Santa Fe bank prexy

Abe Silver, Jr., Chairman of the Board of the Bank of Santa Fe announced today the election of Ralph F. Petty, Jr., as President effective immediately.

Petty, who has served as Executive Vice President of the Bank, is a former State Representative from Lincoln county, with a varied background in finance, working the past 24 years in retailing, motel management, automobile sales, as well as banking.

He came to the Bank of Santa Fe in 1972 as Vice President from Ruidoso where he served as Executive Vice President of the Security Bank.

A graduate of Carrizozo High School, he attended the University of New Mexico.

Petty was selected in 1972 as one of the outstanding young men in America, and was nominated for Who's Who in the West and Who's Who in America.

Petty has a strong background in civic activities and service to New Mexico. He has been active in the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Jaycees and served two distinguished terms in the New Mexico State House of Representatives.

He is married to the former Gayle Cruch, a registered nurse, and they live at 1206 Bandolina in Santa Fe.

Silver, in announcing the promotion of Mr. Petty, said that he and the entire Board were very pleased with Mr. Petty's strong performance in the Bank over the past two years, and felt that his background in service to both the community and the State would enrich the contribution of the Bank to Santa Fe and to the surrounding area.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
"FRESH" CLERK

Lois, shopping for sandals, paid no attention to the fact that she and the shoe clerk were alone in the store. But suddenly he seized her in a lustful embrace. Outraged, she struggled out of his grasp and escaped through the front door.

Her complaint afterward to the owner of the store got the man fired. Then Lois followed up with a damage suit against the owner himself.

"After all," she pointed out in court, "he was this fellow's employer. Surely an employer is responsible for the way his employees treat the public."

But the court turned down her claim. Reason: the salesman had acted not in the line of duty but for his own private gratification.

Generally speaking, you cannot hold management liable for an employee's misconduct if it was not related to his job. This rule has been applied not only to amorous advances, but also to beatings, gunplay, defamation of character — even practical jokes.

Thus, a motorist who was sprayed with gasoline by a mischievous gas station attendant was denied compensation from the station proprietor. The court said:

"The attendant was employed to service automobiles and not to hose customers."

On the other hand, you may indeed have a claim if the employee, while doing his duty, simply overdid it. For example:

A bartender ejected a noisy patron with so much vigor that he broke the man's arm. Could the victim collect damages for his injury from the company that owned the tavern?

In this situation, the court ruled that he could hold the company legally liable. The difference was that ousting noisy customers was part of the bartender's regular duties. An employer must bear the responsibility, said the court, for the employee who does his job not wisely but too well.

In Passing . .

By AL LANE

If you were not at the Innsbrook Village Sunday, June 30, you missed a chance at some real culture and some fun. The Roswell Symphony Orchestra, sponsored by Roswell Savings and Loan, played selections ranging from modern to classical for a large crowd of people seated on the grass. The scene was reminiscent of the early part of this century when band concerts in parks were a popular form of entertainment. The group seemed to be having fun with the new experience and had already learned to bring clothespins to hold their music as they played. We understand that the orchestra draws musicians from as far away as Lubbock and El Paso to participate. Good music in the tall pines is hard to beat. . . .

"It droppeth as the gentle rains from Heaven"—Although we missed our traditional 4th of July shower, the Ruidoso area has been blessed with gentle showers for several days and already the forest is taking on the deep green of summer. Soon the myriad of wild flowers will burst into bloom. We can't refer to them as spring flowers because they bloom in summer, a[illegible] July rains come — but they will be beautiful. . . . The traffic light at the corner of Sudderth and Mechem doing a fine job of moving traffic this summer. Don't know what we would have done without it. . . .

Lone time Ruidoso businessman and wife, Clayton and Helen Bennett honored by the Ruidoso Downs Race Track with the Bennett's Indian Shop feature race, recently. Their shy and retiring daughter Betty was also there . . . Girls of the Ruidoso Religious had good luck with their bake sale recently at H. [illegible] Grocery basket. . . . You won't believe the action on the Ruidoso tennis courts unless you see it. The courts are almost always occupied. Will be nice when the courts at the school are finished. The project is a combined effort of the village and school. . . .

WHEN A FELLOW'S ENTERED in the 1974 competition dancing at the Mescalero Apache Tribe's four-day ceremonial, he has to keep those bells on his legs ringing . . . and he has to concentrate on the drums . . . and he'd better know what one foot is going to do before he does it . . . 'cause these intricate steps are just plain hard work . . . in a fun sort of way.

Ruidosoans complete Medicolegal course

Two Ruidoso men have completed the second annual Medicolegal Investigation of Death course and now are deputy investigators for Otero county.

Ray Clarke and Jerry Foster, along with 36 course participants, police officers and physicians from throughout the state, were part of the investigating program sponsored by the University of New Mexico School of Medicine.

The deputy medical investigator in each county works under the direction of a physician district medical investigator with the support of the chief deputy medical investigator in Albuquerque.

Deputy medical investigators have replaced the coroner system. Dr. James T. Watson, chief medical investigator for the state and a professor of pathology at the UNM medical school, said that the deputy medical investigators are not criminal investigators and that their main concern will be the "what" not the "who."

The deputies are especially trained in decision making — when should an autopsy be ordered, are there signs of child abuse, is there faulty machinery involved, etc. The investigators have received intensive training in such areas as drug related deaths, stabbings, deaths due to heat, cold, electricity, asphyxia, hanging, firearms, etc.

The course involved staff members from the medical school, medical examiners from Detroit and Dallas, district attorneys, detectives, psychiatrists, attorneys and crime laboratory experts.

GI Bill students' payments extended

Some 55,000 summer school-going veterans whose GI Bill eligibility was extended by two years under a law signed by the President on July 10, will receive education assistance checks by the end of July, according to J. C. Robison, Director of the VA Regional Office in Albuquerque.

The former eight year deadline on using school benefits expired June 30 for veterans separated from military service between January 31, 1955, and July 1, 1966, VA explained. Those veterans who happened to be in summer school at the time the Public Law 93-337 was enacted can now be paid legally for training beyond the former expiration date of June 30.

"In the average restaurant," comments a publication of the Farmers Elevator Mutual Insurance Company, "the waitress who puts the meal on the table gets more as a tip than the primary producer gets for the food which makes up the meal."

The SILVER LINING

by DANIEL A. STORM

"The quality of mercy is not strained;

It droppeth as the gentle rain from Heaven

Upon the place beneath. It is twice blest:

It blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

— William Shakespeare

We who live in this part of the world — who sometimes go through dry times — we know the truth of these words of the great Shakespeare.

Often indeed is "the gentle rain" a Heavenly mercy for the creatures of Mother Earth.

On the hillside there is a little pinon tree that through the last few weeks has been making the battle of its life. Clinging to its dry and rocky bank and thrusting its roots deep into the earth so powder dry, somehow it kept the spark of life aglow. Just before the rains, many of its needles withered to a sombre brown; and it looked as though the plucky little tree had fought its battle against the odds all in vain.

It seemed the tree was actually in agony, gasping for breath, seeming to ask its numberless companions for help. For miles in many directions on the rounded hillsides, the other pinons and cedars were green and lush with a firm grip on life, their roots deep in the ground, standing together for shade. They had been through this before, and they would survive.

But the little pinon, out in the bare spot, if it could express itself might say:

"I wonder why I was given this barren wind-swept place to tough it out, where there are so many good places they could have dropped me."

And surely Mother Earth might answer:

"Be patient and you will understand."

Then came the showers over the hill, and more still. You looked closely at the little tree, tiny new green was coming into the needles at the ends of the twigs. The rains had come in time, and the little pinon now had the upper hand in his battle for life. Later on Mother Earth must have told him:

"I placed you here on this barren place because I needed someone with a stout heart, someone whose love of life was so deep and strong that he would never give up but keep on and on, through winter cold and summer heat — through flood and drouth."

Practice Begins For Billy The Kid Pageant

Once agan it is time for folks from all over the county to gather at Old Lincoln to begin practicing for "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid", to be held the first weekend in August.

Last Friday the first get-together was held at the pageant gounds in Lincoln, and practice dates were set on Tuesdays and Thursdays at seven o'clock in the evening.

It is something we look forward to every July; to meet for the practice of this neighborhood home-made historical pageant which has become world famous.

It is wonderful to turn the clock back for a while to the early days of the southwest, and to meet old friends, and new ones too, in bringing back the early history of our country and in honoring the pioneers of the American West.

The recent rains have begun to turn the countryside of Lincoln into a green wonderland. There is something picturesque and colorful about the setting of Lincoln.

It is always a pleasure to round the bend in the Bonito River and have the neighborhood of Lincoln burst suddenly upon your sight.

The other evening there was a rainbow, the glory of July in this area, arching itself over the little frontier village.

LITTLE TINY GOES TO THE MOUNTAINS

I have given the littlest calf several names: "May Berry", because he was born on the first day of May; "The Mongoose," on account of his lightning-quick reflexes and coordination; and "Kid McCoy", because of the many tricks he plays in the boxing bouts with his larger companions. (The little calves strike their blows with their heads, jumping, sparring, side-stepping, rushing and shoulder blocking.

When the rains started, all the calves got together and seemed to say,

"Let's not any of us go up the hill, till we all go."

But one by one the calves left with their mothers. Then a calf called "The Bandit" on account of a mask across his face, who is also the athletic instructor, finally went up the canyon with his mother.

This was too much for "The Kid" and his companion "Hill Bill." Every evening they would bed down just as close to the back fence as they could lie.

I figured the "Kid" was too little to make the long trip — or maybe I just hated to see him go — so I kept them in the pasture by the house.

Then the other evening I opened the gate. The Kid who was gazing under a bush, suddenly hit the ground with all four feet and was out the gate. And with a look over his shoulder at his mother and his partner calf and his mother, he struck off up the trail, leading the way to greener pastures on high.

State Planning Office Recreational study set

The State Planning Office will soon begin a county by county study of in-state and out-of-state demand for outdoor recreational activities as they relate to the four seasons of the year.

The study will be financed by a $45,167 grant to New Mexico from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. The grant, to be matched with state funds, will finance the project for two years.

Approval of the grant was announced by Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr.

Ain't It The Truth

by Ab Gunter

Did you ever sort of wish you had been a little nicer or visited a little longer with a friend you aint goin to see no more. Ive had folks that Ive thought a lot of come by and visit an I always try to spend as much time as I can visitin, showin em around our beautiful country an really makin everybody welcome.

Our neighbors and friends rite here in town are entitled to the same treatment cause you can see a friend one day an then "No Mas Amigo". So I am goin to try an be a little nicer an visit a little longer with my neighbors cause a feller never knows what tomorrow might bring.
