Child abuse, if reported, controllable

They talked about ugly things . . . ugly things like child abuse, including neglect and starvation . . . ugly things like incest . . . for more than an hour Friday in the Municipal Court Chambers of Ruidoso Village Hall.

"They" being Norman Bloom, Jr., District Attorney for the Twelfth Judicial District and Mrs. Phyllis Morgan of the Social Agency of the Health and Social Service Department (HSSD) of New Mexico.

Both speakers are from Alamogordo . . . both are charged with handling child abuse cases in Lincoln and Otero counties. Listening were law enforcement personnel, judges, hospital representatives, members of the media and other invited parties.

It turned your stomach, listening to them. Some of the "for instances" were that bad.

BUT — when they got around to explaining the situation . . . and what is involved in child abuse cases . . . the whys and wherefores . . . what is done . . . what isn't . . . the picture changed. The reprehensible aspects of child abuse did not change . . . but there is more to it than meets the eye . . . or the gossip that greets the ear.

What they talked about was:

—Private individuals reporting instances of child abuse are protected by law from legal action and their anonymity is guaranteed IF the reporting persons do so without malicious intent. Medical personnel are required by law to report cases of child abuse.

—Suspected child abuse cases in the Ruidoso area should be reported to Maria Foster, Children's Probation Officer, Ruidoso Village Hall, phone 257-2101; police, sheriff or NM State Patrol; District Atty. Bloom or Mrs. Morgan in Alamogordo.

—Abe DeLeon of HSSD, Alamogordo, will be in Judge Austin Pritchett's Magistrate's Court chambers in Ruidoso Village Hall each Thursday from 1 - 2:30 p.m., for consultation on child abuse cases. DeLeon will be dealing with all aspects of child abuse.

During the informal discussion District Attorney Bloom noted that his office is employing methods utilized in Colorado to handle child abuse and that efforts are being made to inaugurate Colorado's system in New Mexico.

He also said that jailing offenders didn't solve the problems . . . that four years is the median age under which children are taken from the home and that above four every effort is made to leave the child with his natural parents . . . that foster parents have adjustment problems due to the child's outlook towards them.

"Pressure," Bloom said, usually economic and in all income levels, "in all its various aspects" leads to potential child abuse situations. It was, he said, usually a case of "lack of common sense in child rearing and a lack of education in these matters" that leads to child abuse.

Social workers with HSSD do, Bloom said, investigate the family thoroughly and make the decision to remove the child under the provisions of NM law in which temporary separation orders for a period of up to one year may be issued.

"The problem and solution," Bloom said, "is to return the child to a home where he is wanted and loved."

Bloom added that some parents have a "nobody cares" attitude about their problems and that the "social worker lets them know that somebody cares."

Mrs. Morgan said "98 per cent of the child abusers were themselves abused as a child," including physical and emotional neglect and incest involvement.

An abused child, she said, "is not always a battered child" but that suspected instances of "battered child syndrome" involving evidence of old broken bones, scars, etc., are thoroughly investigated.

She also noted that economic pressure, regardless of family income, "can lead to child abuse, especially a psychologically abused child."

On the issue of incest, Mrs. Morgan noted the attitude of some offenders is, "What's the problem? I was raised that way."

Mrs. Morgan said, "Any child under 18 is eligible for our services," and that the purpose of social workers is "to solve the problem and teach parents their responsibilities."

As to the incidence of child abuse in Lincoln and Otero counties, Mrs. Morgan said HSSD investigates "an average of 13 reported cases a week" and that affidavits "calling for legal action" are issued about once a week.

Both Bloom and Mrs. Morgan stressed that the majority of child abuse cases, physical, emotional or psychological, are unintentional and are rectified by social workers working with the parents.

In regard to law enforcement personnel becoming involved in a suspected child abuse case, Bloom said, "If the officer, in his judgment, when he can't contact HSSD or a social worker, suspects child abuse and believes something should be done . . . he should do it to protect the child."

In the final analysis, Mrs. Morgan said, "it is a lack of common sense in child rearing, a lack of education, that leads to child abuse." She explained that the "lack of education" in this instance, referred to knowledge of child rearing.

The purpose of the informal discussion, Bloom said, was not to alarm the area residents but to make them aware of the existence of child abuse and to ask for the cooperation of everyone in reducing instances of child abuse to a minimum.

Tom Jones tells realtors new dam is needed now

"If Ruidoso doesn't pass this $5 million water bond issue," Tom Jones, Eagle Creek Water Association president, told the MLS realtors Tuesday morning, "we'd better put gates on all village entrances and lock them."

Jones, in presenting the 1,100 million gallon storage dam proposal on Flume Canyon, to be voted on Oct. 8, said, "Three times in 10 years we ran out of water . . . or so close to it —" in noting that the plan calls for trapping the peak water runoff in the mile-long impoundment to avoid the problems resulting from the drouths of 1971 and 1974.

"The spillway on the dam must be built to handle a rainfall of 26½ inches in six hours," Jones said, to meet the specifications for an earth fill dam and to prevent disaster from dam collapse.

In stressing the need for passage of the bond issue, Jones noted:

— Ruidoso's water consumption is increasing at the compound rate of 6½ per cent per annum.

— Alto Reservoir has a capacity of 80,000,000 gallons, as compared to more than one billion gallons in the proposed reservoir.

— There are 32,000,000 gallons in Alto Reservoir, or barely enough to provide a minimum of one month's supply at present usage rates.

— Under the bond issue, money the Village would pay for water would be earmarked for upkeep and expansion of the existing system.

— In substance, Ruidoso will have prepaid water for about 33 years.

— The proposed dam will provide water to accommodate a village growth of 2½ times, or up to a permanent population of 10,000, plus the normal ratio of summer visitors.

— The plan will provide new transmission lines that will obviate the necessity of using the Hollywood well.

— General Obligation bonds must be issued, because there would not be enough income from Eagle Creek to service the debt on the investment required.

— From passage of the bond issue, it is estimated that construction would begin in about 15 months.

— Prior to construction a special use permit would have to be obtained from the Forest Service providing free access to 102 acres of land involved.

— The one per cent per month increase in the cost of the project has been figured into the $5 million bond issue.

— The proposed dam would be three times bigger than Bonito and ten times bigger than Alto reservoirs.

Jones supported his presentation with charts and graphs showing water availability and use over a 20 year period and a projection curve on increased usage to the Ruidoso population level of 10,000.

Skeen talks to Ruidoso faculty

Republican Joe Skeen, candidate for governor, told Ruidoso school teachers Tuesday he wants classroom teachers and local school boards to have a bigger voice in designing educational programs and channeling state appropriations to meet local needs.

"I do not believe we can accomplish the task we are asking our teachers to perform — namely, to give our children the skills to be able to find a productive role in our economy — by sending down pre-packaged programs from Santa Fe, that cannot possibly meet the needs of every school district in the state," Skeen said during a meeting at Ruidoso's Nob Hill School.

BASED ON 1973 ASSESSED VALUATION OF VILLAGE

Water bond cost projected

The projected tax increase to Village of Ruidoso property owners, to finance the $5 million general obligation water bond issue to be voted upon October 8, has been prepared by financial advisor Darrell Fowler of Stern Brothers Investments of Albuquerque.

Property taxes (assessed valuation) in New Mexico are based on 1/3 of the market value of the property.

The tax payments, in one sum, include all state, county, school and municipal assessments.

The property tax rate in Ruidoso for 1973 was $41.24 per $1,000 of assessed (taxable) valuation. A taxable valuation of $10,000 cost the property owners $412.40.

In Ruidoso the approximate tax breakdown for 1973 was: Municipal $15.12, school $11.19, state $7.30 and county $6.74.

If the $5 million bond issue is approved by the voters, the total would be broken down into three issues: Series A $1 million; Series B $2 million and Series C $2 million.

Series A would be issued about Jan. 1, 1975, with series B andC to be issued as required to fund the project, with issuance of the entire $5 million (or any portion necessary) to be completed within two years or by Jan. 1, 1976.

The $5 million total would be authorized in the election but if the entire amount is not needed, only the amount of bonds needed would be issued.

The tax increase, per each $1,000 of assessed valuation, is projected as:

Series A	$5.42
Series B	$6.84
Series C	$6.67

The total tax increase over the next three years, if the entire $5 million in bonds is issued, would be $18.93 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

These tax increases will be less than shown, because, as the assessed valuation for the Village of Ruidoso rises, the tax rate per $1,000 will decrease.

Based on the 1973 tax rate of $41.24 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, the tax rate after each series issuance would be:

Series A	$46.66
Series B	$53.50
Series C	$59.17

The bond issue would be spread over a 20-year period.

ALL-WESTERN ART SHOW HELD HERE

An estimated 2500 people viewed the first All-Western Art Show and Auction held last week end at the Chaparral Convention Center here, according to James Cecil, director of the show. He noted that plans are now being made for next year's show and that it will continue on an annual basis. Over 500 paintings and pieces of sculpture were on display for the event and 80 pieces were auctioned on Saturday night.

Special guest artist was Slim Pickens, who also had three bronzes in the auction. Pickens and J. Shirly Bothum of Clarkston, Washington, met for the first time in 15 years at the event and stated that the last time they had seen each other was in Salem, Oregon, when they were both riding the Rodeo circuit and Pickens had saved Bothum from injury in a bull riding incident.

Top price paid for a painting went for an Olaf Wieghorst work entitled "The Catch Rope," a 20x24 oil which brought $16,500 at the auction. The work was purchased by the Rose Gallery of Santa Fe.

"The Buffalo Hunt" by John Hampton was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Skipper Rigdon and will be displayed at their home in Ruidoso Downs.

Among buyers and collectors at the auction were Sid Huntley and Lee Bedford. Some of the works purchased by these men will be on display at the Ruidoso State Bank and Security Bank.

Lincoln County fair underway

The Lincoln County fair, at Capitan, including judging Friday, and afternoon and evening rodeo performances Saturday, opened Thursday morning with Junior Livestock, Home Economics and 4-H entries.

Friday's program includes judging of market calves and lambs, rabbits and poultry, Junior and Open Home Economics, flower and art show, horticulture exhibits, beginning at 10 a.m. A 4-H horse show and Junior horticulture exhibit judging will begin at 7 p.m.

Saturday's activities include:

—7 a.m. breakfast for all Junior exhibitors in fair building.

—8:30 a.m. judging of beef cattle and breeding sheep.

—10 a.m., parade.

—11 a.m., special lead sheep class.

11:30 a.m., Junior livestock sale.

1:30 p.m., roping and riding events.

—3 p.m., trophy and award winners announced.

The parade will feature prizes for floats, costumes, best dressed cowboy and cowgirl and decorated bicycles.

A Junior rodeo, for Lincoln County contestants from 14 years old through high school, will begin at 1:30 p.m., Saturday. Events include pole bending, goat tying, barrel race, tie down calf roping, steer riding and rescue race with an entry fee of $1.50 per event. For ages 9-13 there will be a barrel race, pole bending, steer riding, girls' goat tying and breakaway calf roping. For eight years and under, events include barrel race, pole bending, barrel crawl and flag race. A special event will be open team roping for eighth grade through high school students. Buckles will be awarded to each all-around boy and girl in the three age groups with cash prizes for three places.

An adult contestant rodeo starts at 7:30 p.m., with events including open team roping, open tie down calf roping, married ladies' barrel race, man and wife rescue race, breakaway roping for those 60 years and older, modern cowboy and bulldogging.

Shuttle bus will operate to race track Labor Day

A shuttle bus service will be in effect at Ruidoso Downs Race Track during Labor Day week end, according to General Manager Al Rosa.

"Patrons can simply park their automobiles in a specially designated area adjacent to the Villa Motel and catch a bus to the races," Rosa pointed out. "There won't be any need to even park on the track grounds. And the buses will take the patrons right up to the main entrances of the grandstand and All-American Turf Club."

The project is sponsored and directed by the Ruidoso Jaycees as a fund-raising effort.

The special parking area, called the "Pinecliff Depot," is located just a few minutes from the track. After the races, the buses will return to the Pinecliff Depot.

Complete charge for the round trip is $2.50 per person — and this includes $1.25 general admission.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday (Aug. 30 - Sept. 1) the buses will leave from the Pinecliff Depot between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 12 noon. On Labor Day (Sept. 2) the races will get going at noon in deference to the nationwide telecast of the All-American Futurity and the buses will leave from the Pinecliff Depot between 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

Voter eligibility on bond issue defined by law

To clarify voter eligibility in the October 8, 1974, $5 million bond issue election, to construct, enlarge, improve and extend the water system in the Village of Ruidoso, there are two classes of electors:

(a) qualified, resident, registered electors of the Village; and

Ed Lanes Arizona bound

No longer, after Monday, will Ed Lane's hearty laughter ring out from Judge Austin Pritchett's chambers, nor from the Ruidoso PD rooms . . . no longer will Ed's "from A to Izzard", his all-inclusive cliche, cause friendly listeners to smile as he concludes an ancedote . . . 'cause come August 26 Ed and his wife of 54 years, Hazel, will be leaving Ruidoso . . . "with everything from A to Izzard packed" . . . to live in San Manuel, Ariz.

Ed is one of the few Santa Fe RR engineers to be propelled into the national limelight . . . to be quoted in Time . . . quoted in a book "Day of Trinity" . . . all because he stopped at Belen to oil the squeaking wheels of an old steam engine he was wheeling to El Paso . . . when, with oil can in hand . . . he was on eye witness to the first atomic bomb explosion at Trinity Site, July 17, 1945 . . . the bomb he hauled there.

He didn't dispute his often quoted, "It was the prettiest orange that you ever saw," in referring to looking up to watch the three separate mushrooms of the blast form, but of the experience he said Monday, "Everyone knows all about that . . . from A to Izzard . . . so why bring that up again?"

But Ed does recall the national furor and the role he played in finally having the truth come out . . . and, in retrospect, he savors the moment as his most cherished once-in-a-lifetime experience. And well he should.

Of Ed's accomplishments, Mrs. Lane is most proud "of all those years spent working with the Sun Carnival at El Paso and of his work as a division inspector of parade floats" in connection with the annual Sun Carnival football games.

Ed's claim to fame in Ruidoso . . . and he definitely does not lay any claim to any local fame . . . is his service as constable. "I was Ruidoso's last constable." He paused. Grinned. Offered no explanation. Then there was his service with the White Mountain Jeep Club, American Legion, Ambassadors Club and Elks in addition to years of ser-

WINNER OVER 440 YARDS WILL GRAB $172,936.89 OF $519,300 PURSE

All-American Derby sprint Sunday

The prestigious $519,300, 1974 All-American Derby, paying a whopping $172,936.89 to the winner of the 440-yard dash, will be run August 25 at Ruidoso Downs race track.

The field of 10 quarter horses, by name, qualifying time, odds in trials, trainer and regular jockey, includes:

Rocket Elaine, filly, 21.72, 6.20-1, H. C. Werner, Jr., Wayne Morrison.

Pass Over, filly, 21.73, 2.30-1, Charles W. Cascio, Jerry Nicodemus.

Timeto Thinkrich, colt, 21.73, 1.10-1, Jerry Fisher, John Watson.

Easy Request, colt, 22.06, 12.-30-1, H. C. Werner Jr., Wayne Morrison.

Mrs. Pat, filly, 22.09, 3.0-1, Merl E. Fitzgerald, Frank Henning.

Easy Rita Jet, filly, 22.13, 24.90-1, J. B. Montgomery, Jim Bannowsky.

Easy Jet Arrive, colt, 22.15, 3.50-1, Kenneth R. Stroud, Don Knight.

Bangaway Jet, colt, 22.15, 41.20-1, Ruth Claflin, Willie Lovell.

Laico Bird 2, filly 22.17, 2.80-1, Jimmy R. B. Jones, Jesse Yoakum

Does It Easy, colt, 22.21, 26.60-1, Marilyn M. Asmussen, Keith Asmussen.

Trial winners were Rocket Elaine, Easy Request, Easy Rita Jet, Laico Bird 2 and Does It Easy. The betting favorite in the trials was Timeto Thinkrich, the sensational colt with earnings, to date, of $519,457.

In the trials, the balance of the field finished: Pass Over, 2nd; Timeto Thinkrich, 3rd; Mrs. Pat, 2nd; Easy Jet Arrive, 2nd, and Bangaway Jet, 4th.

The purse breakdown of the All-American Derby is: 1st, $172,936.89; 2nd, $83,092.80; 3rd, $43,104.39; 4th, $22,850.52; 5th, $20,773.20; 6th, $20,253.87; 7th, $19,734.54; 8th, $19,215.21; 9th, $18,695.21, and 10th, $17,657.22.

The consolation of the All-American Derby, offering a gross purse of $81,015.48, will also be run Sunday. The field includes, Miss Flicka Reb, Rose Bug, Jet Captain, Twin Jet, Mr. Gobar, Jettison Deck, Miss Conclusion, Go Benny Go, Crusen On and Moon Diego.

In other track action, Friday's program spotlights some 20-odd trials for the $1 million All-American Futurity, with a 10 a.m. post time.

The $6,000-added Ruidoso Sprint Championship at six furlongs will be the highpoint of Saturday's program.

BULLETIN

The Ruidoso Noon Lions Club announced Thursday verbal confirmation from the NM State Planning Office, through the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, the approval of $8,800 in matching funds to construct a Pony League baseball park on White Mountain School property. The field will be ready for the 1975 season, with ground preparation to begin in September.

Ruidoso BPO Does slate Tag Day for August 24

Members of the Ruidoso B. P. O. Drove of Does No. 152 will be holding a Tag Day for Muscular Dystrophy on Saturday, August 24, in conjunction with the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. They will be accepting contributions from residents of Ruidoso for the medical crusade against the crippling, mysterious disease known as muscular dystrophy.

The relentless advance of this muscle-wasting disease greatly shortens life expectancy at all age levels. In children, who compose the great majority of its victims, it is nearly always fatal. MDAA hopes its all-out scientific research program will find the answer in time to save those now stricken.

Pointing out that MDAA gives grants to more than 200 research projects in the United States and foreign countries, the B. P. O. Drove declared: "We believe everyone in Ruidoso will be glad to make a contribution toward the support of this research program. A solid response from our community will give a tremendous lift to the overall national drive." The campaign in Ruidoso climaxes careful planning and preparation by the Ruidoso Drove.

A non-profit national voluntary health agency, MDAA maintains a nationwide network of some 122 free clinics and provides, through its affiliated chapters, a wide variety of patient services to victims of dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases, such as diagnostic and re-evaluation examinations and therapy at no cost. Also, as a part of its patient service program, wheelchairs, braces, lifts, and other orthopedic appliances are provided free of charge. These clinics are available to all those suffering from muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases.

Yellow Goose seeks salvation

When the Ken Cole family returned from their vacation Saturday, the 17th, they found a big, old, yellow bus, named, the Yellow Goose, in the church parking lot, in front of the parsonage. On one side was a large sign: "Welcome home Coles. P.T.L." On the other side, was a sign: "How can I be saved? Salvage me. P.T.L", and "Donation to the church building fund. P.T.L."

The Rev. Cole spent most of the night trying to figure out who P.T.L. was. Finally his wife said, "Praise the Lord!" — "That's it!"

Upon investigation, it was found the bus belonged to The Pathfinders, of Roswell; and, when it threw a rod in Ruidoso, Mr. Joe McKinnon, of that organization, inquired around town for some group which might be able to use it — and so it found its way to the First Christian Church, where it will be saved — or salvaged.

LYNETTE KANSEAH ACHIEVES GOAL

Mescalero Happenings

By JO KAZHE

On Saturday, August 17, a dinner was hosted by Mrs. Adrianne Hanks and Mr. Pete Kazhe to honor Mrs. Lynette Kanseah and family.

Mrs. Kanseah recently received her B. S. degree from the University of New Mexico in Las Cruces, and will be teaching the first grade at Bent-Mescalero school for the 1974-75 school year.

Lynette was born and reared in Mescalero, the daughter of Darcie and Isaac Kazhe. She is married to Berle Kanseah, secretary-treasurer of the Tribal Council, and they have two sons, Waddell and James. She is also the great granddaughter of Rogers and Siki Tuclenny (pictures and stories about them are in the book "Victorio").

This is not an overnight success story — it has taken several years of perseverance, dedication and hard work for Lynette to reach this goal. It has also been a hardship for her husband, sons and family, but they all are extremely proud of her. The story does show that race, color or creed need not be a hindrance if a person has the ambition and will power to reach his or her goal as Lynette Kanseah did. Congratulations Lynette, Berle, Waddell and James! We are very proud of all of you.

(From Last Week)

Miss Rene Cooper was crowned Miss Mescalero Apache III Monday evening. Miss Mescalero Apache II, Miss Perlita Rocha, placed the crown on Miss Cooper's head. This ended a year's reign for Perlita and began one for Rene.

Rene is a five foot petite beauty, 17 years of age. She will be a senior in the fall, when she begins her studies at Menaul High School in Albuquerque. After completing her high school studies, Rene plans to further her education and pursue a legal career. Miss Cooper is the daughter of Mrs. Fern H. Cooper and Samuel Cooper of Mescalero.

The first runner up is Miss Faye Kaydahzinne. Faye is presently a sophomore at Eastern New Mexico University. Her major is physical education, with a minor in sociology. Faye is the daughter of Mr. Elhart Kaydahzinne.

The second runner up is Miss Naomi Treas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Shendo. Miss Treas will enter a training program at the Gallup Indian Medical Center to train for a laboratory technician's career.

The third runner up is Miss Gailda Evans, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Lester. Miss Evans is currently enrolled at SIPI in Albuquerque to further her education in Business Education.

The fourth runner up is Miss Norma Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blake. Miss Blake plans to attend ENMU in Portales.

Tribal President Wendell Chino, was master of ceremonies for the event.

Quite a number of people from Mescalero attended the North and South game in Albuquerque last Saturday. Ronald Antonio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willeto Antonio of Mescalero, played on the South team. Ronald recovered a fumble made by the North team and enabled a team-mate to score for the South team. We're all very proud of Ronald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Louella and Jenifer, spent a few days in Las Cruces visiting relatives. While there Mrs. Smith and sisters, Mrs. Margie Garza and Mrs. Bea Mellendrez, gave a surprise birthday dinner for their mother, Mrs. Josephine Prelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lalo Garza were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith. They also enjoyed the races at Ruidoso Downs.

Miss Kim Kazhe and Miss Molly Gayton will be leaving August 15 to fly to Toronto, Canada, to attend a church convention. The trip is sponsored by the Mescalero Reformed Church.

STUPH & JUNK . . . by

Cale Dickey

Penny wise . . .

It was refreshing to read that President Ford is cautious about spending a dollar . . . his own or someone else's.

Shades of LBJ and the undying devotion he showed towards saving the taxpayers a smoleon or two by traipsing around the White House flipping off unused electric lights.

From what I've read . . . written by people who oughta know . . . Prexy Jerry is mighty interested in curbing inflation . . . so interested, in fact, that he curbs his own spending by running around sans pocket money. 'Course, if'n a dire emergency arises, he can always bum a nickel or two from a friendly Senator, Congressman or even a hapless aide, who'd best be prepared for such emergencies. Or I'd gather this display of prudence in an aide would be a desirable attribute . . . assuming he wishes to continue being known as an aide who's fast with a buck . . . to loan at no interest, if you please, to our chief executive.

Think of the fun Will Rogers could have had with that . . . and I suspect that our own Ab Gunter will, "Ain't it the truth" on the subject with a few choice words.

But, you know, Prexy Ford is taking advantage of his honeymoon with Congress and the press, just like a hungry rabbit scooting over a hill on a moonlight night to indulge himself in some luscious carrots from an unprotected garden. And it's conceivable he might jump into the tar pots of national turmoil and emerge as pure as the driven snow. Conceivable . . . but highly unlikely . . . 'cause someone, somewhere, is waiting with baited breath to lower the boom on him . . . and if someone isn't, Ford's in a lot more trouble than he thinks he is.

As of the nonce it seems that Ford will bow his neck . . . flex his muscles . . . and by jinkies . . . try and get something done to get the U. S. prosperity booming again . . . and if he can wheedle, tease or coerce Congress into getting on that bandwagon . . . who do you suppose will get elected U. S. President in 1976?

Happiness is . . .

—Seven four-year-olds crowded into a three four-year-old mudhole.

—Discovering the old jalop isn't ready for the junk heap just after you've made the last payment . . . and she's yours to have and to hold until it does di integrate.

—Discovering that beer can be kept ice cold just a few inches below the surface of those gleaming White Sands.

—Getting back from a sojourn to Sunspot with no new dents in your car . . . indisputable testimony to your expertise behind the wheel . . . or to the fact that your rabbit foot really works.

—Getting a late refund from Uncle Sam after they'd checked your return and discovered they'd short changed you.

—Having a law enforcement officer stop you, only to learn that he's askin' you for help.

—Having the savior-faire not to say, "I told you so," when you find yourself in that highly enjoyable situation.

—Wheeling your '70 car down the street, knowing you're getting 20 miles per gallon . . . and not envying those behind the wheel of their gas guzzling '74's.

—Hearing a rumor about yourself that you've been a good guy . . . when you and only you, know it's true.

—Having a traffic judge dismiss a ticket.

—Finding six double yolk eggs in a dozen guaranteed to be fresh from the farm.

—Passing up an offer to get more than a fair return on an investment and then learning that the con men were caught and given their just due.

—Getting home in the wee hours of the morning and finding a forgiving wife.

BRIEF BIT: Figuring the cost of water by the gallon makes you realize that there's at least one bargain available . . . and without which, where'd we be. . . . CD.

Chamber Board goes on record in support of water bond

The board of directors of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce went on record, last Monday evening, in support of a $5 million bond issue by the village of Ruidoso for the building of a raw water storage dam on the upper Eagle Creek. The vote on the issue was taken after hearing Eagle Creek Water Users trustee Tom Jones explain plans for the project. Vote on the issue is slated for October 8. (See details of the report elsewhere in this issue of The News).

The board also issued bids for the annual Aspencade barbecue that will be held Saturday, September 28 following the parade and called for entries in the parade by September 20. The parade on Sept. 28 will feature floats, bands, Shrine clubs and motorcycles with another parade for Sheriff's Posses, riding clubs and horses set for October 5. It was noted that the Grand Marshal for the parade would be Illustrious Potentate Al Swartzman, of the Ballut Abyad Temple in Albuquerque. Permission has been granted for the stabling of horses for the October 5 parade at the Race Track barns for a nominal fee. Trail rides will be featured in the Oct. 5 event.

Ken Buckley, committee chairman for the tennis tournament, reported that the games would be held at Alto Alps, Alto Village and the School House Park this year and are slated for September 20, 21 and 22. Trophies have been ordered.

The Aspencade dance will be held September 28 at the All-American Sales Barn.

Ladies of the Chamber Auxiliary presented a plaque to Dick Mound for his service as president of the chamber for two years.

A report on July activity for the WATS line showed that 595 reservations were made for a total of 1719 days. 119 requests for information were received and 58 walk-in reservations made.

Bank balances show a total of $14,769.47 for the period.

Hagerman scrimmage set for Friday

A scrimmage between the Ruidoso Warriors and the Hagerman Bobcats will be held at Warrior Stadium at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, August 23, according to Activities Director Dub Williams. This will mark the first action for the Warriors this year with the first game slated for September 6, when the Warriors will meet Carrizozo here.

A donation of a towel or bar of soap has been requested for those attending the scrimmage.

County convention delegates elected by local precincts

Democrat party precinct conventions were held in Ruidoso August 20 in the judge's chambers at the village hall for the election of delegates to the County Convention, which will be held in the commissioners' room of the courthouse at Carrizozo August 27, 7 p.m.

Delegates elected and certified were: Precinct 11 — Mrs. Charlotte Jarratt; precinct 12— Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Poorbaugh; precinct 14 — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jorren and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Visitors at the meet were: Mr. and Mrs. Roman Nunez from precinct 17 and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elliott from precinct 12.

Candidates at the meet were Rolla Buck, Austin Pritchett, Roman Nunez, Bill Elliott and Carl Jorren.

The importance of unity in the party and moving away from a radical point of view were stressed at the meet.

Judge Austin Pritchett chaired the meeting.

It was noted that the county convention would elect delegates to the state convention slated for Albuquerque, Sept. 14 and that the state convention would select delegates for the national convention to be held in Kansas City December 6, 7, and 8.

Voter . . .

(b) non-resident, municipal electors as defined by the 1965 New Mexico Municipal Code.

Resident voters must register at the Village Hall by 5:00 p.m., Sept. 13.

Non-resident voters must file a Certificate of Eligibility at the Village Hall by 5 p.m., Sept. 23.

Any previously registered eligible voter, if they voted in the last general election, does not have to register for the Oct. 8 election.

No absentee ballots may be cast in this election.

Advance betting windows open for Futurity race

Advance wagering on the upcoming $1 million All-American Futurity will again be offered at Ruidoso Downs, reminds General Manager Al Rosa.

The advance betting windows, located at the east end of the grandstand and in the All-American Turf Club, will open on Friday (Aug. 30) and will remain in business until the post time of the 9th race on Monday, Sept. 2 (the day of the All-American Futurity).

Advance wagers will be offered in the amounts of $2, $5 and $10 — win, place or show.

The Labor Day program, due to the coast-to-coast telecast of the All-American Futurity, will get underway at the early starting time of 12 noon. The All-American will be sheduled as the final race of the day.

All-American Floricade set at Chaparral for August 28

The Altrusa Club's All-American Floricade will be in full swing Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, at the Chaparral Motor Hotel. The gala show of flower arranging and auctioning will begin at 8 p.m.

Sis Koegler will again serve as commentator for the fourth annual Floricade. Mrs. Koegler, who spends her time between Midland and Ruidoso, is the owner of Midland Floral Co. She has been commentator each year since the inception of the event. As in previous years, the floral arrangements created by the designers will be auctioned at the conclusion of the program.

Designers for the Floricade will be Chris Bradshaw of El Paso and George Otto of Alamogordo. Ray Littlefield will serve as stockman and the Master of Ceremonies will be Joe Koegler. Doris Littlefield is the Floricade Chairman for the Altrusa Club.

All materials used have been donated by various segments of the floral industry so that the entire proceeds will go to the scholarship fund. Those contributing to the event are: Stonehurst Wholesale Florists of Amarillo; Irwin Greenhouses, Canyon, Texas; Greenleaf Wholesale Florists, El Paso; Johnny's Wholesale, Artesia; Smithers-Oasis Company of Kent, Ohio; and East Texas Foliage Company of Henderson, Texas.

The Floricade is Altrusa's 1974-75 project to raise money for annual scholarships given to local high school graduates and Grants-In-Aid provided for women needing vocational training to enable them to return to work.

Two scholarships in the amount of $200 each have been awarded for the current school year to Joni Ratliff of Ruidoso and Rene Carpenter of Ruidoso Downs. Both girls are attending New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Tickets for the floral spectacular may be purchased from any Altrusan or at the following shops: Ruidoso Flower, Casa de Regalos and The Aspen Tree.

Members of Altrusa Club will be in the Winner's Circle Friday, Aug. 23, to help kick off All-American Week at Ruidoso Downs.

A tribute to Mrs. Zeke Scott

Dear Lord,
We loved her, one and all
and now she's felt your final call.
she was warm and good and most of all she raised 10 children and loved each one.
She gave of her life with few regrets,
the love she knew would amount to tons,
for her love filled the hearts of everyone.
Complain? Never! she held no grudge, she just looked after the others as they crossed their bridges.
Her life revolved around her kinfolk,
she stayed young to feel their prime.
She never gossiped, pried or poked,
and for stranger or neighbor, she always had time.
She's left us now, to be with You,
I'm sure she's happy in her world so new,
but God, be with those she left behind,
for there's an emptiness in each heart that will have to mend in time.
Dear Lord, be with our granny tonight and join her with grandad in your heavenly light.
and love her as we do, for she's only out of sight.

TV show to be filmed this week

A film crew from TV station WFAA, Fort Worth, Texas, will be in Ruidoso Thursday thru Saturday, filming early morning sessions at Ruidoso Downs Race Track for a show next week on that station. The show, hosted by Susie Humphries, is titled the "A. M. Show" and is seen from 7 to 8:30 a.m. each morning.

The show will feature gate training, time trials, tote board, and the figuring of odds at the races. Also slated for filming are interviews with R. O. Anderson and Wendell Chino.

The chamber of commerce office will serve as a focal point for the operation.

ED LANES . . .

vice as an Episcopal church warden and serving as chairman of the Ruidoso cleanup committee.

"During our 13 years here," he chuckled, "I've managed to keep busy," and with a sidewise glance at his wife, and in lowered voice, "and out of mischief."

Mrs. Lane, too, has been active, especially in "Women's Club, Order of Eastern Star, and in the Episcopal church and its Altar Guild."

Ed looks back fondly on the time he drove the first diesel locomotive into El Paso. "It was the Santa Fe President's and Director's Special . . . and I was picked to be the engineer and they even cleared the tracks for me." Ed closed his eyes . . . and it was obvious he was sitting in the cab, with his hand on the throttle.

He briefly recalled his elaborate model train and the hours of pleasure he'd derived from it . . . touched on his investigative years, both with the Civil Service in El Paso and with the Lincoln County Sheriff's department . . . and at some length of his fondness for the members of the Ruidoso PD.

Ed did acknowledge participating in some of the rescue operations of the Jeep Club but it seemed as though his memory failed him when it came to recounting his part in any of the actual rescues. "Which is," a friend at the PD said, "characteristic of Ed."

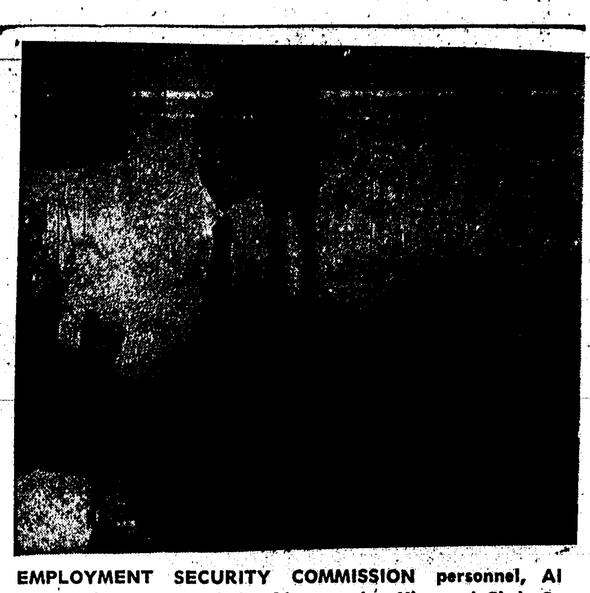
One highlight of Mr. and Mrs. Lane's married life was their junket to Chile, S. A., aboard a freighter that "stopped at just about every port and let us go ashore," when, after his retirement, they visited their son, Robert, there.

The Lanes will be living near their son, who is in the Magna Copper Co., laboratories at San Manuel.

Until Monday, when the moving truck comes, Ed will continue his daily habit of visiting his friends at village hall . . . he'll chat with Judge Pritchett . . . pass the time of day with the policemen on duty . . . greet the village employes . . . just as if nothing was happening . . . just as if he would be coming back . . . day after day.

"You know, I'm going to miss them," he said, "I've got some mighty fine friends up at city hall."

And know what, Ed? Those folks at city hall are going to miss you, too . . . from A to Izzard.



EMPLOYMENT SECURITY COMMISSION personnel, Al Stacy, left, manager of the Alamogordo office and Chris G. Cuellar, ESC representative at a trailer office adjacent to Hollywood Post Office, were discussing job placement opportunities here Monday morning. In Cuellar's first week here he filled three sales clerk and two waitress openings. To date, Cuellar said, employers have listed 20 job openings. The telephone of the Ruidoso office is 378-4699 with office hours 9-5, Monday through Friday. The office, serving all of Lincoln County, does not handle unemployment insurance claims. MAT cattlemen sale, tour ready

The Mescalero Apache Cattle Growers Association has scheduled its 13th annual cattle sale and range tour Aug. 24.

"This is one of the most unique sales in the entire cattle industry," says W. A. Ljungdahl, extension livestock specialist at New Mexico State University. The tour of the reservation precedes the sale and representative groups of cattle are shown to buyers of cattle. Nearly 3,000 head will be offered on a contract basis. Steer calves and heifers will be sold in lots of 125 head and old cows in lots of 50. One lot of 50 old bulls will also be sold.

"The Mescalero cattle are reputation Herefords of excellent quality," Ljungdahl says. "Top registered bulls have been used for years. This was the first herd in New Mexico to be brucellosis free. Health certificates are available for out-of-state shipments."

Dates for delivery begin Oct. 1 and continue until Dec 15. Buyers will be notified in advance when they may accept delivery.

The program will begin at 7 a.m. at the Mescalero Cattle Growers Association office in Mescalero with coffee and doughnuts. The tour will proceed to three locations on the reservation where cattle will be observed.

At 11 a.m. the auction will be held at the Mescalero Community Center. It will be "fast moving" and will finish by noon, Ljungdahl says.

Hollywood Notes

Pot plants found

Four marijuana plants, growing in containers, were found in a lightly populated area north of Rudioso Wednesday afternoon by Orlando Montes, Lincoln County deputy sheriff, of Ruidoso. Montes acted on information received by a local resident.

Season football seats

According to Ruidoso Warrior Booster Club officials, persons having reserved seat tickets for last football season will have first choice on the same seats this year. These members will be contacted this week.

Although all seats were sold last year, there will be a few cancellations this year and anyone wishing these seats should contact Jolinda Perryman at 257-4593 and leave their phone number and number of seats desired.

The $10 per seat season ticket includes $5 in Booster Club dues.

Guidelines given for school lunches

Following are the Income Guidelines as set forth by the State Department of Education, for purposes of determining eligiblity for Free and Reduced-Price meals in the public and non-public schools of New Mexico for Fiscal Year 1975. In schools participating in the Special Milk Program, the guidelines for free milk are the same as those prescribed for free meals.

Under authority given to the State Agency, the maximum benefits have been made available for free and reduced-priced meals, having been set at levels 25% above the Secretary of Agriculture's minimum guidelines for free meals, and 75% above the minimum for reduced price meals.

Family Size	Free Milk & Free Meals	Reduced Meals Price
1	$ 2,910	$ 4,077
2	3,830	5,355
3	4,740	6,632
4	5,640	7,892
5	6,480	9,065
6	7,310	10,237
7	8,060	11,287
8	8,810	12,337
9	9,510	13,317
10	10,190	14,262
11	10,860	15,207
12	11,530	16,152

NOTE: For each additional family member, add $670 for free milk and meals and $1,190 for reduced-price meals.

Income includes the following:

(1) Monetary compensation for services, including wages, salary, commission or fees;
(2) Net income from non-farm self-employment;
(3) Net income from farm self-employment;
(4) Social Security;
(5) Dividends or interest on savings or bonds, income from estates or trusts, or net rental income;
(6) Public assistance or welfare payments;
(7) Unemployment compensations;
(8) Government civilian employee or military retirement or pensions or veterans payments;
(9) Private pensions or annuities;
(10) Alimony or child support payments;
(11) Regular contributions from persons not living in the household;
(12) Net royalties; and
(13) Other cash income, including amounts received or withdrawn from any source including savings, investments, trust accounts, and other resources which would be available to pay the price of a child's meal.

The following hardship conditions may be considered in exercising discretionary authority on the part of the local school administrator, and may be deducted from the family income before determining eligibility.

(1) Unusually high medical expenses;
(2) Shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income;
(3) Special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child; and
(4) Disaster or casualty losses

In applying guidelines, school food authorities may consider both the income of the family during the past 12 months and the family's current rate of income to determine which is the better indicator of the need for free and reduced-price meals.

How About The Fruit Crop?

A lot of folks are asking about this years fruit crop — mostly out of their kind heart, and also because they would like to put up some fruit this year.

Everybody hopes that the orchard people — a hardy and hard working little band — have a good year every year.

Also most everybody knows we have as fine apples, pears and peaches as you can find anywhere. The peach crop in recent years is not very large — but what there are make wonderful preserves, jellies, and are great for eating out of the hand.

You see a few peaches at the stands up and down the Ruidoso, and they are going fast. There are still (at this writing, August 12), some peaches over toward Bent, on the Tularosa side of the divide.

They say that plums are ripening, also over toward Bent.

They speak of September as the pear month. Yet somehow this season things have stepped up a bit for some reason — maybe the rains.

I met Joe Gutierrez, a fruit grower from Hondo, in Ruidoso and he handed me a fine Bartlett Pear, saying that he has already begun picking pears and that there will be some for sale right away. I forget how many bushels he estimated.

The Bartlett pear is the favorite pear for eating and canning through the years. There are other varieties of pears grown in the valleys that make grand preserves. Among these are the Anjou, Kieffer and Duchess.

Bartlett pears are ripening at the Mayme Perry Ranch and also the Bonnell Ranch at Glencoe.

When the fruit blossoms are hit hard in the spring the word spreads fast that the fruit crop will be slim in the fall.

Yet as the weeks roll by and fall approaches, you see that somehow quite a bit of fruit has survived through the cold snap.

I was talking to Mrs. Johnnie Montez at their fruit market in Glencoe and she said that very soon they were going to begin picking Jonathan apples — that later on there would be Golden Delicious, Red Delicious, Winesap, and a lot of Rome Beauties.

Prosperito Gonzales says that there are quite a few apples down his way. Prosperito always says that it looks like a very green summer and fall with a winter that is a little early. (As we mentioned before.)

Prosperito bases this judgment on early acorns and pinon cones, and cool nights.

I am going to make a little round up and down the vale to get the fruit picture and bring it to you the next time or two.

The main fall apples are Jonathan, Golden Delicious, Winesap, Red Delicious and Rome Beauty.

The Jonathan is an old favorite a 1-purpose apple from ... Jellies, baked apples, and eating raw are what the "Johnnie" ...ines.

The Golden Delicious is said to be the best all-around apple you could find. Applesauce, baking, apple preserves, apple jelly and great apple pies — here is where the Golden is in its glory and eating raw also.

The Winesap and Rome Beauties are very good keepers for the winter, partly because they ripen a little later than the others.

The Winesap has always been a wonderful apple for cider as well as anything else within the circle of an apple's ability.

The "Rome" is a grand apple for baking and applesauce.

The apple has long played a great part in our lives. The work of this fruit as a health bringer is legendary. Vinegar, for one thing is important in much of our things on the table such as pickles and relishes.

You might think this is a little early to be talking about apples; but remember, August is a little bridge month between summer and early fall.

We are not going to rush the days by, yet we need to be ready when the apples show their colors.

The Orchards and Vineyards Of The Wilderness

The orchards of the wild are not set off in perfect rows, yet some of these fruits are very wonderful. Among these are two kinds of wild cherries, Algerita berries, Elderberries, wild currants, wild plums and wild strawberries and raspberries.

These are a few of the wild fruits that grow from lower to higher places on the slopes of the White Mountain.

We can go into these a little more in the weeks ahead. Have a little trip around to see the wild flowers. They give a great lift to your spirits. The Golden Rod, that emblem of the fall, is beginning to bloom, and the crimson-purple Wild Four O'Clock is out in the morning and evenings, a sure sign of a green summer.

THE PA'NTER'S BRUSH (formerly House of Signs) is now being operated by John and Manon Beauvais on Highway 70 on the edge east of Ruidoso Downs. The Albuquerque couple will specialize in custom design art work, commercial signs, banners and signs on trucks, walls and bulletins. Beauvais, holder of an art degree from UNM in 1967, is an artist and lithographer. Marya, left, modestly admits to "helping daddy with his painting." (Ruidoso News Photo)

HUMANE SOCIETY OF LINCOLN COUNTY

Bambi and BoPeep welcome two newcomers to the zoo at the Ruidoso State Bank, "Donald and Ronald."

Dogs and cats being poisoned, 3 dogs and 1 cat this week.

Two dogs at the shelter now under quarantine — having bitten people.

More dogs and cats running loose off the premises of the owners, no collars, no rabies tag, no city license tag.

Quote from U. S. News and World Report of Aug. 26, 1974 — "America's 600 Million Pets Center of Growing Controversy," "Approximately 13.5 million neglected pets are destroyed annually in animal shelters." "The AKA says 14 of every 100 dogs and 9 of every 100 cats in animal shelters will be adopted."

Why not protect Man's Best Friend?

An average of 4 dogs a day, during the summer season in our village, are run over and killed.

Christian Church sets groundbreaking event

The Ruidoso First Christian Church has announced that groundbreaking and dedication ceremonies for the new addition to the church will be held at the building at 9 a.m. on Monday, August 26.

The new building will cost an estimated $75,000 and will be located just west of the present sanctuary.

Members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies.

CASCIO LEADS TRAINERS BY TWO; WERNER IS SECOND

Tie for jockey-of-week

Frank Henning

Leroy Coombs

When it came time to pick the Jockey of the Week at Ruidoso Downs, track officials decided it was a toss-up between veterans Frank Henning and Leroy Coombs.

Both reinsmen hit the winner's circle six times and both had a stakes win.

Henning scored his biggest victory on Saturday when he guided Chicory Moon to a powerful win in the Three Bars Handicap.

On Sunday, Coombs took over the spotlight when he coaxed Scenic Dancer to an impressive come-from-behind score in the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby.

Henning's weekend record came to six wins, two seconds and three thirds, while Coombs' efforts showed six wins, three seconds and two thirds.

Henning remained in third-place in the seasonal standings with mark of 45-41-32 from 336 starts. His win percentage stands at 13.3.

Coombs, on the other hand, moved from fifth-place in the seasonal tally to fourth with an overall record of 42-42-37 from 318 spins. Coombs' win percentage is 12.6.

When it comes to win percentages for the weekend, Wayne Morrison batted 1,000 with three wins from as many tries. All of his wins came in the trials for Sunday's All-American Derby.

In the trainer competition, H. C. Werner tightened the girth on three winners and moved within two victories of the seasonal frontrunner, Charles Cascio.

Werner's seasonal record now stands at 32-19-12 from 155 starters.

Cascio was held scoreless over the weekend.

Both J. B. Montgomery and Carl Wooten also had three wins apiece.

Racing action in the high country resumes on Thursday and continues through Sunday.

On Thursday, it'll be the trials for the upcoming $60,000 (est.) Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity at six furlongs. Friday's card highlights the trials for the world's richest race — the $1 million All-American Futurity.

On Saturday, attention will focus on the $6,000 added Ruidoso Sprint Championship at six furlongs, while Sunday's docket brings out the $517,300 All-American Derby at 440 yards.

First post Thursday, Saturday and Sunday is the usual 1:30 p.m. However, on Friday, due to the expected large number of All-American Futurity trials, there'll be a morning post — probably 10 a.m.

White Mtn. School supply list

Selection of children for the kindergarten program at White Mountain School will begin August 28. All parents of kindergarten age children are urged to apply. Applications are available at White Mountain School.

Children who show greatest need will be given first priority. This will be based on socio-economic status, development deficiencies, language handicaps and other factors on which the school district places priorities.

The following information should be considered for the kindergarten program:

A child must be five years old prior to 12:01 a.m. November 1, 1974.

A child with a 6th birthday in December, who has not been enrolled in a kindergarten program should be given first priority to enroll.

There will be two sessions each day beginning September 9, 1974.

For other information, contact Mike Gladden, Principal at White Mountain School. Phone 257-4109.

Supplies needed for the kindergarten are as follows:

1. Two Husky pencils.
2. Box of eight large size crayons.
3. One pair of scissors.
4. Elmer's School Glue.
5. Large box of Kleenex.
6. Man's old shirt (to be used for painting smock).
7. Piece of cotton fabric, 9" x 24".

Registration slated for Kindergarten

The Ruidoso Community Kindergarten has announced that registration for the school year will be held on Thursday, August 29 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the education building of the United Methodist Church. Children who are five years old before November 1 are eligible for the kindergarten.

The non-denominational kindergarten program is designed to prepare the children for the first grade.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Howard Tate — 257-4211 or Mrs. Pat Valliant — 257-2560.

Ruidoso covered against flooding

The National Flood Insurers Association (NFIA) has announced that flood insurance has become available for residential and non-residential properties in 67 more areas of 28 states. Damage from flooding is not covered in standard property insurance policies.

Private insurance agents and brokers are authorized to offer flood insurance to interested owners of residential and non-residential properties. Coverage on contents also will be sold to owners and occupants of such buildings.

The insurance industry is participating in this program through the National Flood Insurers Association, an organization representing about 125 insurance companies. These participating companies act as the servicing organizations on behalf of the Association for the benefit of all agents, brokers and other companies.

The new flood coverage is being offered in accordance with requirements established by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under the terms of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973. The government also participates in the flood program through premium equalization payments, so that subsidized cost will be in the range of the average insured's pocketbook.

The federal act requires that communities interested in becoming eligible for flood insurance must take action to restrict unwise land use in flood-prone areas. They must ask HUD to arrange for detailed studies of the flood hazard in the community so actual rates can be established.

The amount of flood insurance available at subsidized rates under the government's emergency program is limited to $35,000 for single-family residences, with maximum of $100,000 on all other types of residential and non-residential properties. Low-cost flood insurance for contents is limited to $10,000 for single family residences and $100,000 on all other types of residential and non-residential properties. Tenants may insure contents separately.

The NFIA advises that anyone who is interested in buying the flood coverage should contact his regular agent or broker for further assistance and information rates, policy limits and conditions and other important details.

The areas eligible for flood insurance and the servicing organizations for these areas follows: Village of Ruidoso thru CNA Insurance Co.

BROKER'S LICENSE

Ain't It The Truth

by Ab Gunter

Went by a friend's business the other day and while I wuz there he commented on the fact he wuzn't going to vote fer me next election. I thanked him fer the kindness and ast him just why he was bein so nice to me. He said the city wuzn't patronizin him and he said he knew why. I ast him to explain, he said it wuz the "under the table" stuff that wuz the reason.

I ain't quite shore what he is referrin to "under the table" but the only thing I get under the table at the council meetin is a kick frum one of them councilmen or the mayor fer talkin too damn much!

MRS. B—

By CECELIA BARRON

I have had the most pleasant surprise of my life. The past week I had some relatives visit me, whom I had not seen in years. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Upshaw, a retired druggist, from Waxahachie, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. Alva McGaffey, a retired banker, of Hutchins, Texas. Mrs. Upshaw is Mr. McGaffey's sister. I used to go to their place, ten miles from Dallas, on weekends when I was a youngster. They tell me now, the city limits of Dallas comes near their home.

My aunt had died and left my uncle with a bunch of boys like stairsteps, with no one to help bring them up but the housekeeper and Mrs. Upshaw who was married at that time. It was always so much fun to go there as they lived in a large colonial type home and there was always something going on.

One little boy had ponies for us to ride and one boy had a goat that he drove to a wagon, while another looked after the cows; and after the Negro boys milked, we would ride the delivery wagon to the dairy. Some evenings we took our sandwiches and went to the lake, where I had my first boat ride.

This was also where I drove my first gearshift car. They had a big black Buick, with the little jump seats that let down from the back of the front seat; and I was turned loose alone with it in a large wheat stubble, to go around and around until I learned to change gears.

One boy was interetsed in radio and had built one of the first sets (they were called crystal sets in those days). We were allowed five minutes each, to sit with the earphones over our heads and listen to the sweetest music come out of the air. For all we knew it could have come from Heaven. We were always glad when bed time came for the little ones — then it gave us longer periods to listen; then too, we could always hear best late at night. I do not recall any certain program but I do remember: at the end of the broadcasting session, the operator would say, "Shut 'er down Edd."

It was so nice hearing from Mrs. Lineol White and good to have them back in our village again.

Also it was good to talk to Mrs. Glenn Hinkle up Sun Valley way; but sorry she is having so much trouble with her arm. She is like the rest of us; never knows when to quit work; but I know her garden and flowers are beautiful since the lovely rains, and I am anxious to see them.

I talked to Sue Bratton and she and Mr. Bratton are getting ready for an extended trip to Alaska. We might guess it to be their delayed honeymoon. I know they will have interesting things to tell when they get back.

—MRS. B.

Hodgkin's Disease/Lymphoma

Cancer. A scary word. But one type of cancer is slowly yielding to medical science. Hodgkins Disease, a form of cancer which most often occurs in persons between the ages of 20 and 45, is curable in more than 90 per cent of its victims if caught early enough.

This type of cancer affects the lymphatic system which plays a major role in helping a person fight infections. The lymphatic system is one part of our blood circulatory system. It consists of lymph nodes, or glands, located throughout the body and connected by ducts which contain a milky fluid.

Hodgkin's Disease first shows itself through a painless swelling of the lymph glands in the neck, armpits, or groin. These glands are normally no larger than peas, and they manufacture a type of white blood cell that fights the spread of infection. When a person has Hodgkin's Disease, these cells multiply in a variety of abnormal forms and leave the body with fewer normal white cells to fight infections.

The most common first symptoms of Hodgkin's Disease is a painless lump or a swollen lymph gland in the neck of an otherwise healthy person. As the disease progresses, more swollen glands, persistent tiredness, fever, loss of weight, and itching may develop.

Since each of these symptoms may occur in minor diseases, only a qualified doctor can make a definite diagnosis. A thorough examination and laboratory tests will determine if the symptoms indicate Hodgkin's Disease.

The most effective treatment for early stages of Hodgkin's Disease is the use of high energy X-rays or medications.

This form of cancer does respond to modern treatment. Even though its causes have not yet been determined, it can be controlled for long periods of time and even cured if diagnosed early enough.

Medical research has not yet found ways to prevent cancer, but it can be treated if caught early enough. Regular checkups with your doctor or clinic are essential to catching any cancer in its earliest stages. If you or any member of your family experiences a painless swollen gland, see your doctor . . . just in case. It could save a life.

U. S. ARMY EUROPE

SP14 Joe E. Baker and his wife, Nikita, are on a three year tour of duty with Co. A, 2nd Battalion, 4th Infantry Division in Dudwigsburg, Germany. Baker recently re-enlisted for 6 more years with the U. S. Army.

Baker's brother is Tommy Stevenson, a resident of Ruidoso.

Range Conditions

Scattered showers have improved local areas of the county. Range feed extremely short, critical in some areas. Most producers still feeding hay or supplement. Livestock fair to good condition. No unusual death losses on cattle. According to the local weather reporting station, the Mosquero area is 10.36 inches short of moisture — Aug. 1 to July 24 . . . Pasture feed green but no growth as yet. Most of county has had some rain but not nearly enough to grow feed. About 60% ranchers still supplementing.

Otero County: Good rains have been received in the Sacramento Mountains. Forage is improving rapidly on these areas. The rain has tapered off the further east, as the country becomes lower. Most of the rain has fallen on the higher country. Some local flash flooding has occurred. Stockmen are terminating feeding in these higher areas.

Summer Bowling Results

Nellies' Team, consisting of Nellie Wilson, Leo Long, Ted Bennett and Charlie Novack, stayed in front to take first place in the Race Track Mixed League for the 1974 summer season. Second place went to the Mutuals Team with Ed and Dot Beard and Tony and Vicky Dyseven. Three Bees Stable took third place. Team members for the Three Bees are Annie Keith, Sissie and Billy Burress and Terri Sheehey.

High average went to Jack Kannady with 197 and Walt Hughes with 171. High series went to Jeff Von Rosenberg with 633 and Walt Hughes with 609 for the women. High game goes to Tom Dawson with 235 and Judy Kannady who scored 244 in the last night of league competition. High handicapped series went to Benny Roller with 671 and Monette Coffelt with 663. High handicapped games go to J. C. Hughes with 262 and Margaret O'Quinn with 258. Most improved bowlers are Doyal Roberts with 16 pins gain and Jan Parrot with an improvement of 23 pins for the summer.

200 pins were presented to Jack Kannady, Tom Dawson, Jeff Von Rosenberg, Tony Dyseven, Ted Bennett, Charlie Novack, Ed Beard, Benny Roller, and Doyal Roberts for scoring a game over 200 during league play. Women who scored 200 or better are Judy Kannady, Walt Hughes and Vicky Dyseven. They were also presented with 200 pins.

600 series pins went to Jack Kannady, Jeff Von Rosenberg and Walt Hughes. 500 series pins were presented to Walt Hughes, Judy Kannady, Doris Roberts, Vicky Dyseven, Pat Dawson and Annie Keith for bowling three games totaling over 500. A triplicate patch was presented to Suzie Von Rosenberg for bowling three consecutive games of 137 on July 23.

These awards were presented by Mr. Al Rosa, general manager of Ruidoso Downs and Sunland Park Racetracks. Mr. Rosa sponsored the league and was presented a plaque in appreciation for his sponsorship. A buffet dinner was held at the Chaparral Hotel in the Maid of Cotton Room prior to the awards presentation.

Final results for the Wednesday Afternoon Ladies' League are as follows: Finishing in first place was the team sponsored by the Ore House, consisting of Tommie Martinez, Rhonda Cox and Judy Fair. Second place went to Western States with Aleda Wright, Cleoma Little and Dana Stevenson. Third place team was the Gutter Girls with Monette Coffelt, Kathy Rausch, and Sandy Farris.

High individual average went to Pat Dawson who finished the season with 146. Cleoma Little was second with a 145 and Tommie Martinez had a 141. High series went to Cleoma Little with 492. Second high series was scored by Tommie Martinez with 491 and third went to Pat Dawson with a 471. High game was bowled by Tommie Martinez with a 206, the only 200 game bowled in the league this year. Second high game went to Kathy Rausch with a 191 and Pat Dawson had a 180. The most improved bowler for the season was Judy Fair with a total improvement of 15 pins. Rhonda Coy improved 12 pins and Kathy Orona improved 8.

The Gutter Girls team scored the high team game and team series with 473 and 1369. Western States finished second in both divisions with 457 and 1275.

Is COMPETITION a four letter word?

It depends.

There are times when competition does get low and dirty. Then, it can, and should, fall into the four letter category. This kind of dog-eat-dog thing turns most of us off. And, leaves a bad taste in our mouths for the whole system.

But, please, don't let a few ugly trees spoil your view of the whole forest.

Remember, that there are businesses, national manufacturers and local retailers, who have competed with each other for years and years in an ethical, positive way. Each works for his share of the market by improving his products, merchandising and services. (Most businessman realize that the throat you cut may, eventually, be your own.) And, look what they are competing for: the consumer's favor! Yours and mine! We are constantly being courted with more attractive products and services at competitive (there's that word again) prices. So, the end result is that we can get more, better and for less.

Now, with a benefit like that, competition can't be all bad.

At the Ruidoso State Bank we want to make it our business to help your business.

Lambert recalls first All-American victory

LOOKING FORWARD TO THE ALL-AMERICAN — When the $1 million All-American Futurity unfolds Labor Day at Ruidoso Downs, Trainer Cliff Lambert will be looking on with special interest. Lambert was the first jockey to win the classic when he guided Galobar to victory in 1959.

If there's one man who can testify to the magnificent growth of the $1 million All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs, it's Trainer Cliff Lambert.

After all, Lambert was the first jockey to win the classic back in 1956. He set the landmark when he guided Galobar to a half-length victory.

Lambert was also on Angie Miss, who finished seventh in '60, and Mr. Three Bars the fourth-place finisher in '61.

But unlike today's million dollar purse, the inaugural running "only" offered a purse of $129,686.

"That may not sound like a whole lot of money compared to today's purse," Lambert said. "But I'll tell you, it was by far the richest horse race around this part of the country."

However, Lambert, like most observers in those days, never dreamed the All-American Futurity would someday blossom into the world's richest race.

"I always felt the All-American Futurity would be a great asset to the quarter horse industry," Lambert explained. "But to be truthful, I thought the highest the purse would ever reach was around $200,000."

Today, Lambert is regarded as one of the finest trainers in the Southwest. Last year, Lambert didn't waste any time throwing his stable weight around and took home the trainer title at Ruidoso Downs.

So far this year, Lambert is right back in the thick and is listed high in the top 10.

"I've been around horses all my life. My father owned a few race horses he competed on around the small bush tracks in the Midwest. I first started riding in competition when I was nine years old. I remember we had a Shetland pony who was half quarter horse. That's who I won my first horse race with. In fact, we raced him three years and he never lost at 100 yards."

When Lambert turned 16, he was off to Fonner Park in Nebraska to try his hand on a recognized race track.

"I had some pretty good seasons," Lambert recalls. "But later on when I reached my early 20's, I began to have problems with my weight. So eventually I started to lean more and more to training.

"It came to the point that I was riding a half year and training the other half. It wasn't too bad as far as my jockey career went, but every time I'd start to build a decent stable, my commitments forced me to go back to riding."

Lambert continued the role of half-jockey and ha[illegible]ained until 1961, capturing riding championships at Bay Meadows and Los Alamitos tracks.

"In 1965, I left the Southwest and became the quarter horse racing secretary and steward at Seminole Downs, Florida. The following year, I took the job as quarter horse racing secretary at Evangeline Downs in Louisiana.

"The funny thing is, in 1966 I had an offer to ride Go Dick Go, who went on to win the All-American Futurity that year."

In '67 Lambert left Evangeline and returned to Ruidoso Downs and the Southwest to pursue a training career.

"Once I started to train horses on a full-time basis, things began to really look up. Each year my stable would get stronger and stronger until I finally began to win plenty of races. My first real great year came in 1968 when I won the Ruidoso Downs trainer title for the first time."

And while Lambert has developed many fine stake winners, he feels the key to operating a successful stable is versatility.

"The dream of any trainer is to have three or four big handicap horses. But that, unfortunately, is not the usual case. I think if you have a couple of horses who are able to compete in every class, you'll come out ahead. Even though big stake winners are in demand, you should also have good horses who can compete in the lower claiming and allowance races."

Ironically, though Lambert is best known for his exploits with quarter horses, he now trains mostly thoroughbreds.

"It really doesn't make that much difference to me," Lambert said. "I think the important thing is to understand the horses you have. While quarter horses require a little different training technique, I really can't say I would rather have one over the other."

When it comes to recalling his most exciting moment in racing, it doesn't take Lambert long to reply.

"No doubt about it," he said with a smile, "winning the All-American Futurity has been my greatest thrill. I remember the race like it was yesterday. When we crossed the wire, I couldn't believe it. I remember I rode the following race and won easy. Heck, I was so high I could have won on a Shetland pony. It took me a couple of weeks to get over the win."

THE START OF IT ALL—Cliff Lambert, one of the top trainers in the Southwest, was a jockey of considerable fame during the early years of his racing career. His top accomplishment was a victory in the first All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs in 1959. Here's a view of the victory ceremony with Lambert aboard Galobar. Winning owner Hugh Huntley is holding the trophy with Newt Keck, winning trainer. The gross purse of the first All-American Futurity was $129,686. The 15th renewal on Labor Day will pack a purse of $1,030,000.

Your Social Security

"We continue to hear about and observe instances where misleading information is given our senior citizens concerning 'Medicare supplement' plans," Mrs. Christine Graves, social security field representative, cautioned. Sometimes this is in the form of a mail-out, and sometimes it is through a personal contact by a representative of an insurance company, or as was reported recently, by former representatives of a well-known insurance company. In this last situation, these ex-agents took deposits of from $6 to $18, and some sums up to $280, depending on the defenselessness of the individuals involved.

"Some of the advertising refers to 'registered' Medicare supplement plans, displays an American eagle, is printed in red-white and blue, or otherwise tends to indicate a governmental connection. Such is NOT the case. Although there are many good insurance plans which do supplement Medicare, none of these is sponsored or recommended by or has any connection with the federal Medicare program. Also, none of these companies nor individuals has a 'list' of Medicare beneficiaries.

"We have no quarrel with legitimate Medicare supplement plans, but any instance of representing a 'federal connection' should be brought to the attention of the nearest social security office," Mrs. Graves emphasized.

Inside the Capital

By FRED BUCKLES

ALBUQUERQUE — Richard Sims of Albuquerque, formerly of Guadalupe County, says he will announce his candidacy for the 1976 U. S. Senate Democratic nomination Nov. 20.

Sims, 44, says Democratic U. S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, Santa Fe, "has consistently voted for bigger government spending, foreign aid giveaways and ineffective programs such as the Office of Economic Opportunity."

Sims says: "Sen. Montoya's positions are too liberal and too out of touch with the New Mexico people." He says: "Harold Runnels is the only New Mexico Congressional delegation member really in touch with what New Mexico people think, feel and want."

Sims is a strong supporter of Alabama Gov. George Wallace and governor-running State Sen. Jerry Apodaca, Las Cruces Democrat. Born in Pastura, Guadalupe County, he attended Santa Rosa High School.

He was in the cattle and sheep ranching business with his father, George Sims, at Pastura in 1949-55. He managed a Santa Rosa service station in 1955-57. Sims was in ranching again in 1957-65 in Santa Rosa and Roswell.

An insurance agent, Sims was a Western States zone manager from 1965 to July 6 this year for Combined Insurance Company of America, Chicago. W. Clement Stone, Chicago, a heavy contributor to former President Richard M. Nixon's campaigns, controls the company.

Sims is the first declared prospective Democratic primary opponent of Sen. Montoya. Already campaigning hard for 1976 re-election, Sen. Montoya has been in two-thirds of New Mexico's 32 counties this year.

Two 1976 Democratic presidential prospects pressed their campaign bids in Albuquerque at the National Legislative Conference and a series of other events. Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen would run well on New Mexico's conservative East Side, soundings showed.

State Rep. Dan Berry, D-Funice, said of Sen. Bentsen: "Definitely, New Mexico would go for him. He is strong on free enterprise. He wants more local control and less federal control."

Sen. Odis Echols, D-Clovis, and Rep. John J. Mershon, D-Clouderoft, said Gov. Wallace would carry Curry and Otero Counties if he runs again in the New Mexico presidential primary. Wallace carried 19 of 32 counties, won 8 of 18 national convention delegates and polled 49,000 votes in the 1972 New Mexico primary.

Sen. Echols was master of ceremonies at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for Sen. Apodaca's governor campaign. Texas Sen. Bentsen was principal speaker. Apodaca said the dinner, attended by 90, netted $8,000 for his campaign.

Sen. Echols warmly endorsed Apodaca for governor. Echols placed third in the 6-man Democratic governor primary won by Sen. Apodaca.

Rep. Colin McMillan, R-De-Baca-Chaves, said he will run for House Republican leader in the 1975-76 Legislature if he is elected to a third term in the House Nov. 5. He faces Roswell Democrat James F. Thompson.

A Roswell geophysicist, Rep. McMillan is GOP House whip now. A speaker's race is underway between Speaker Walter Martinez, Grants, and Rep. George Pennington, Bloomfield. Both are Democrats.

Republican Rep. McMillan said: "House Republicans are not asking for any committee assignments, commitments or back room deals. We want even-handed treatment and a balance between political philosophies."

Rep. McMillan said House Republicans might team with Pennington's Democratic supporters in the speaker's race "if we were assured of fair treatment." The speaker names all House committee members.

Rep. Berry, a conservative, said Watergate and Nixon's resignation as president will exert no effect on the general election in Lea County. Berry said: "It was strictly for the person. Southern New Mexico people vote strictly for the person."

Berry, a Democrat, says: "Federal government is just too big." He noted Secretary of Interior Rogers C. B. Morton told the National Legislative Conference the U. S. Interior Department has 58,000 employes and he cannot control all policies.

In the hot speaker's race Rep. Berry said: "I'm not ready to say we should try a Democratic-Republican coalition but I might a month from now." He said the powerful House Appropriations - Finance Committee should be realigned. Moderate-liberal Democrats have controlled the House since 1971.

Rep. Berry predicted Republican Joe Skeen, Lincoln County rancher, would carry Lea County heavily over Sen. Apodaca in the governor's race if the election was held now.

Sen. John Morrow, D-Colfax-Union - Harding - San Miguel, agreed strongly with Alabama Gov. Wallace's states' rights stand. A rancher, Sen. Morrow said more authority in government should be delegated to states.

Sen. Mrorow said: "Local people can solve their problems better than someone who knows nothing about their problems."

Former Sen. Skeen whacked Sen. Apodaca's announced plan to set a voluntary limit on campaign spending. Skeen said in a speech at Jal, Apodaca spent more money than other candidates in the Democratic governor primary. Apodaca reported $130,028 in campaign expenditures.

Skeen campaigned for governor this week in Colfax, Bernalillo, Santa Fe, Quay and his home Lincoln County. A full schedule was set Tuesday in Lincoln County for conservative Skeen.

Sen. Apodaca campaigned this week in Lordsburg, Deming, Silver City, Hobbs and Las Cruces.

Sen. Montoya said an appropriations bill passed Aug. 15 by the U. S. Senate contained $2.5 million for a Los Esteros Lake construction project in the Santa Rosa-Fort Sumner area.

Apparent low bidders on State Highway Department contracts last Friday: Lincoln-Torrance Counties, 17.7 miles on NM-42 from US-54 at Corona toward Willard — Broce Construction of New Mexico Inc., Tucumcari, $484,760.

Taos County, slide area repair, on NM-150, Red River-Twining about 1.2 miles from NM-38 junction - Garden Bridge Co., Albuquerque, $323,333.

Curry County - Clovis area crushing and stockpiling, K. Barnett and Sons, Clovis, $166,770.

Carrizozo soldier earns commendation

Army Chief Warrant Officer George E. Nicholas, son of George V. Nicholas, Carrizozo, N. M., was presented his second award of the army commendation medal at Ft. Hood, Texas, recently.

The medal was awarded for meritorious service. Such service can be over an extended period of time or for outstanding achievement in a single situation. In either case, the recipient must have demonstrated skills and dedication far above the average.

CWO Nicholas earned the award while assigned as a section leader in Troop C, 7th Squadron of the 1st Cavalry Division's 17th Cavalry at Ft. Hood, Texas.

His wife, Mary, lives on route 3, Belton, Texas.

In Passing . .

By AL LANE

Two more weekends only remain of what will probably prove to be the best season in the history of Ruidoso (seems to me that we said the same thing last year). With the world situation as it is, no wonder people all over the country are looking for some place to "get away from it all" — and what better place than in the tall cool pines of Ruidoso? Many new businesses have been started in the village this year and several others are now in the planning stages. From year to year the changes are fantastic . . . Upper Canyon area looked as though it had snowed last Thursday afternoon when about 1 inch of hail fell there. Still some white showing that night in shaded spots. Maybe a promise of the ski season to come? . . .

President Gerald Ford saying that he will cut federal spending to help with the inflation problem — we can think of nothing that has contributed more to inflation than the federal government. With its giveaway programs and myriad of employes there seems to be no end in sight to deficit spending. An individual would have been long since bankrupt. Unfortunately, the government ways seem to have spread to the populace with almost all people now spending money that they haven't earned yet. We wish Ford good luck in his efforts! . . .

It is hard to believe the number of people who attended the annual Arts and Crafts Fair this year. They kept coming, even after racing started, and continued throughout the three day event. Many comments that the quality of the items for sale in the booths was better than ever this year . . .

Think Aspencade! The annual Aspencade will be held September 28 and 29 this year and will feature a motorcycle show and motorcycle races. The following week end will be for horsemen and sheriff's posses. The cool, colorful time of the year in Ruidoso is proving to be one of the most successful of events in the year . . .

We may as well pull together. We're in it together. Support your Chamber.

Tax Tips When You Buy Real Estate

When you buy real estate, your tax status changes the minute you write the check. Property taxes paid at the settlement can be deducted on the tax return for that year. Usually, these taxes are pro-rated between the buyer and seller. You can include your share plus any taxes you may be required to pay in advance.

The other settlement expenses generally are not deductible, however, most of them can be added to the cost of the real estate when you sell it. The effect will be to reduce the profit subject to income tax. Among these are: lawyers' fees, property surveys, title search and title insurance, transfer taxes and "points".

It should be noted that, what the IRS calls "basis" is quite important to establish. It is the purchase price of the real estate which includes your down payment, mortgages, and those non-deductible settlement costs. The basis determines what your profit or loss will be when you sell.

Letter to Editor

Editor, Ruidoso News

I have sent the following letter to Mr. Rickman, State Highway Dept., with a copy to the Ruidoso City Council:

Dear Mr. Rickman:

We have a serious problem in Ruidoso with which we need your help since it concerns the highway which is our Main Street. It is the need for some pedestrian crosswalks.

We understand highways need as little interference as possible — and a lot of drivers obviously feel a pedestrian has no business on one — but there is no other way to get to the other side.

Since I've been working in the vicinity of the Ruidoso State Bank, I have to cross the highway about four times a day (along with a lot of other people). Believe me, it's a traumatic experience. We not only have to watch out for those drivers who seem to view a pedestrian as a chance to put a notch on the steering wheel; but those who whip out of the bank or the H & J parking lots unexpectedly. There is an urgent need for a crosswalk to serve this area.

There is also a need for one or two in the congested part of town — where Brunell's Department Store, Skateland, many varied shops, the bars and several restaurants are located.

I am sure the primary concern of the State Highway Department is the safety of New Mexico citizens as well as of tourists and summer residents; and some crosswalks might prevent a tragedy "waiting to happen" — until some better way might be found for people to get across the street without risking their lives.

Please give this your prompt consideration because it is something which can't be done too soon. Our summer season is almost over; but "off-season" traffic gets heavier all the time.

Sincerely,
Emadair Jones

Local firemen attend school at New Mexico State University

Firemen from around New Mexico returned home August 15 with a week of intensive training under their belts.

Sponsored by the State Fire Marshal's office, the Firemen's Training School drew approximately 650 participants to the New Mexico State University campus this year.

Ranging from teenagers to 20-year veterans, the firemen completed short courses in a variety of fire fighting and fire prevention skills.

The 19th annual school had about 25 women enroll this summer.

T. K. Hudson, chief of fire services for the state, and training school coordinator, noted that the school was expanded this year. He said previously there was only one firemanship course, which was divided into three courses this summer. Firemen enrolled in one of the courses, according to their level of expertise.

The fire prevention class was also divided into two courses this year, he added. The advanced prevention class concentrated on "conserving life and property through intelligent inspection."

Hudson said a large percentage of those attending the school are volunteers. "Of the 208 recognized fire departments in the state, only eight have a fully paid staff," he added. Even some of the larger towns like Santa Fe and Portales have volunteer departments, he continued.

The coordinator explained one of the purposes of the school is to have participants return to their communities and train other firemen who were not able to attend. Fire departments were allowed only $500 to send members to the school, he stated.

Some 40 instructors and assistants taught at the school this year. Hudson noted the state was able to get almost all instructors from within New Mexico, something they have not done previously. He figured this shows the quality of firemen and fire chiefs in the state is improving.

A group of 16 firemen from Juarez, Mex., put in an appearance at the training school. The group gave a special ladder demonstration for the other firemen during the week.

Several NMSU students who are with the university's fire department also attended the school.

There were only one or two minor injuries during the week's training, Hudson said. "We came off very fortunate, considering the dangers involved in the activities of some of the classes," he added.

Plans call for the Firemen's Training School to be held on the NMSU campus next year for the 16th time, he affirmed.

Those from Ruidoso attending the school were Rick Hall, Kenneth Hazel, Kenneth Shows, and Ed Smith — Firemanship I; and Jesse Reynolds—Firemanship III. Each will receive a certificate.

Trailer club here

The Paso del Norte Airstream Trailer Club of El Paso held their annual rally at River Ranch Campground, five miles east of Ruidoso Downs, over the weekend. The group, camping in 38 trailers, toured Ruidoso Downs race track, including the barn area and the swimming pool for exercising horses.

U FIX IT—

In the upper canyon on two lots sits this cabin just crying for someone to work it over, maybe add to it, and make an excellent summer, even a year around home out of it. The owner will help with the financing.

PONDEROSA—

This mobile home is on pavement, not too far into Ponderosa, has two bedrooms and is furnished. A 16x20 room has been added, exposed beam ceiling, excellent fireplace and has quite a good view. A 32x10 screened porch makes a good game room.

REAL ESTATE • INSURANCE

We invite your attention to our newest listings. These properties have just come on the market. When you begin looking for your place in our beautiful country, dial 257-4075 and ask for one of our professional salesmen. These people will be able to locate you places that you did not dream were on the market. There's always a Coke handy or coffee in our office . . . come in and discuss your needs and let us take it from there!

Beautiful 3-bedroom, central heat and natural gas located on three beautiful river lots. You'll need to call for details as there is no sign on this property.

We have several motels on the market. These places are wonderful for family operation as well as good income. They are well established and enjoy year 'round occupancy. We have details on income, living quarters, etc., to present for your scrutiny.

Need rental property for cedar.

One of the best businesses in the area. Owner will sell on terms. Please come by the office for full information on this income producing buy.

If seclusion is your "thing", you will love this lovely 3-bedroom, 2-bath home setting in the pines. This place is beautifully done with exposed beams, a country kitchen and all the comforts of the city, but the beauty of privacy and surrounded by pines.

Purchasing real property is indeed, not a simple procedure. May we urge that you contact a licensed agent or broker for your protection. Whether you are looking for a home or a business, these steps are simply "good business". We at Perteet-Parks feel that we enjoy one of the best reputations in New Mexico for honesty and integrity in dealing with our customers. Give us a call, if we don't have what you want, we will try to help you locate it with one of our cooperative offices.
