

MRS. B

By CECELIA
BARRON

Mrs. Cloe Caldwell called and said Mrs. Minnie Mae Everett is doing fine since she returned to her home in Odessa, Texas. Minnie Mae was in the local hospital awhile until her daughter, Mrs. Duff, moved her home. It was interesting to learn Mrs. Caldwell and her husband, a retired service man, live in my old home down by the river. I lived there back in the fifties, and loved the place; the river rippling and bubbling down under my bedroom window. I followed a winding trail up the banks of the river and over the bridge to the postoffice, three times a week. I love those memories as the village was not so congested then.

The Brittons have had as their guests, their son Merton Junior and wife Elner, from Albuquerque. They are motorcycle enthusiasts and ride their wheels all over the U. S. and visit some very interesting places.

I enjoyed having Neil Parks and her traveling friend, Tilda Spence, for lunch Saturday. Mrs. Spence lives near Knoxville, Tennessee. She told about their 'tree houses' being built upon piers; and then the ground was concreted under them, so one could drive their cars under them. The lots are only 20x40. It seems there is a colony or commune of them. It was good visiting with them and discussing various subjects, including the Bible and church, besides 'breaking bread' together. Nell and I are almost twins, just about a month's difference in our ages and we reminisced on the by-gone days. Nell played some beautiful old hymns and we sang in our very own tremulous, sonant tones. It was fun.

It is strange that we find out something we like is related to something we abhor. Like: the tomato and potato are a relative of the tobacco plant, and not too long ago was called a 'Love apple' and was considered poisonous.

And when we eat a banana, we are inviting mosquitos to bother us. The insects crave two chemicals found in the fruit.

Did you know our congressman costs us $610,000 annually? Wonder if he is worth his salt? Pretty expensive salt, don't you think?

Thinking well is wise. Planning well is wiser. Doing well is wisest.

He that laughs last, laughs longest. Richard Nixon is getting richer by the minute, or with each laugh, or by each interview, or by every TV appearance.

You know, there are 'ways and means' for us to get along in this world. I read where a retired woman, in Florida, has been living in a tent two years, on her half-acre wooded lot; waiting for financial details to be settled so she can build. She has adjusted very nicely and said it was a joy to be outdoors and be alive. She loves nature and the life around her.

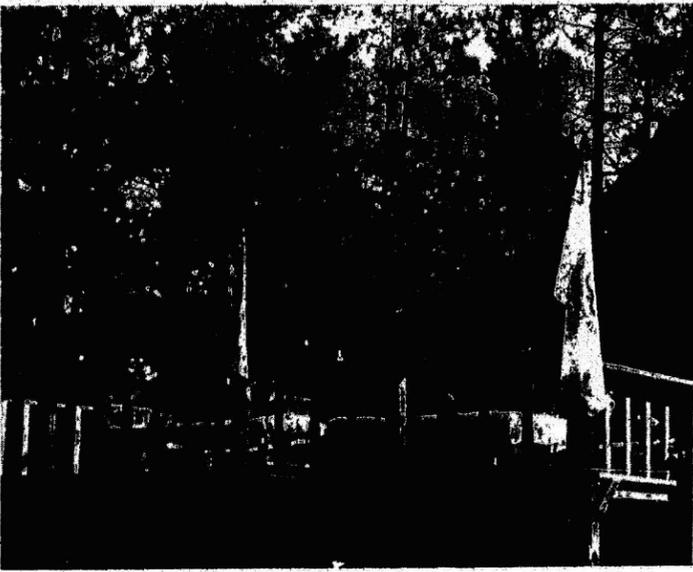

Also a man once planted too many turnips. He found after they were pulled, washed, trimmed and trucked, they were losing money. So he gave free turnip greens to all who would pick them. He still had the turnips to make seed and he distributes seed to area farmers who plant them, making more turnip patches for free greens.

James Maxwell decided the rings that circle Saturn are made up of billions of particles orbiting the planet. (Perhaps as we have in our outer space). Some astronomers think the rings are the remains of satellites, broken into tiny pieces by the planet's gravitational pull.

Then there is Erick Von Daniken, an author, who believes alien astronauts visited the earth in ancient times — maybe from Saturn. He concluded that the mentioned gods and fiery chariots were astronauts in space ships. They took Ezekiel for rides in space and used nuclear weapons to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah. Von Daniken decided these prehistoric visitors left behind the great monuments, from Egypt to Easter Island. Works, he said, could not have been created without help, as their size and weight are so tremendous.

In closing there is: 'A Little Garden' by Marion Schoeberlein. A little garden is a world Where flowers talk with you; Where bees say prayers and butterflies Watch everything you do. A little garden is a world Where God in his sunbonnet, Sits down with stones and stars to write The earth a lovely sonnet. Then someone said, 'True forgiveness includes total acceptance.'

BICENTENNIAL ENTHUSIAST — The Gabriel Brillante home in Ruidoso sports three flags daily. Shown on his balcony are the New Mexico flag, the United States flag, and a Bicentennial flag, that he tells us, was hard to come by. Perhaps the community needs a little of his enthusiasm. Woman's Club luncheon and games

Visitors at the Ruidoso Woman's Club Monday, August 18, were Frankie Cassle, Hamlin, Texas; Bettye Ratliff, Texas; Marcie Nevills, Big Lake, Texas; Mrs. Carl Freeman and Mrs. Clyde Kelley, both new residents of Ruidoso.

All interested women are always welcome — and urged — to attend the covered dish luncheon followed by card games at the Ruidoso Woman's Club every Monday afternoon. It is not necessary to bring your own group. Just bring a covered dish, and a group will be found for you.

The Woman's Club building is on Carrizo Canyon Road, one block south of Sudderth. You can call 257-2717 or 257-2340 for information or re-arrangement.

Honeymoon Club

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ruffner stayed at the Alpine Lodge while honeymooning in Ruidoso. The bride is the former Debra Wilhelm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilhelm, Lovington, New Mexico, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ruffner, Hobbs, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dennis, Lubbock, also stayed at the Alpine Lodge while honeymooning in Ruidoso. Mrs. Dennis is the former Sheryl Ann Betenbough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Betenbough, of Illinois. Mr. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Dennis, Ashtabula, Ohio. The couple were married in the Rosevelt Baptist Church in Lubbock, Texas.

Torrez baby arrives

Joe and Priscilla Torrez, Hondo, are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Angela Cristina, August 19. She weighed 6 lbs. 4 1/2 oz. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Torrez, Hondo, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gomez, San Patricio.

Wt. Mt. kindergarten registration told

White Mountain School will be offering two kindergarten sessions beginning Monday, Sept. 8. Children in this program must be five years of age before October 1, 1975 according to New Mexico state law.

All applications should be in by Friday, August 29, 1975.

More than half a million adults, juniors and teens serve as volunteer leaders in 4-H projects and activities.

Mrs. Terry Gene Richey

Lordsburg rites unite Belinda Ball Terry G. Richey

Miss Belinda Lucette Ball, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Ball, Ruidoso, and Terry Gene Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Richey, Lordsburg, were joined in marriage in First United Methodist Church of Lordsburg on the evening of August 8.

The chancel was decorated with white and yellow arrangements of daisies, carnations and gladioli.

The bride, who had created her own gown and accessories of white satin and lace, carried a white Bible with a nosegay of white daisies. Her attendants wore lavender gowns and carried white daisies and lavender carnations.

A sister of the bride, Mrs. David Driskill, El Paso, was matron of honor. Another sister, Miss Dacia Ball, Ruidoso, and an aunt, Mrs. Danny Carpenter, Grand Prairie, Texas, were bridesmaids.

Randy Richey served his brother as best man, and other groomsmen, were Rocky Umphris and Walter Strain, of Lordsburg. Ushers were David Driskill, El Paso, Texas, and John Grassham, Albuquerque.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Lordsburg home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Arnis, uncle and aunt of the groom.

Out of town guests included grandparents of the couple, Mrs. Paul Richey, El Paso; Mrs. Charles Arnis, Organ; the Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Ball, Tulsa, Oklahoma; and Mrs. C. H. Herrin Sr., Irving, Texas. Among others were the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Richard Whitman of El Paso; and Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Bell, Ruidoso.

The bride was valedictorian of the Class of '74 at Ruidoso High School. The groom is also a 1974 high school graduate.

Following a wedding trip to Tucson, Arizona, the couple will resume studies at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, where they will reside in an on-campus apartment. The bride is majoring in piano pedagogy and elementary music education, and the groom is a business major.

GREENSBURG, KANS., KIO- WA COUNTY SIGNAL: "Apparently the Russians aren't going to sell our wheat back to us at a huge profit. At least that's the latest report out that we have read. That would be a pretty good trick to sell us back our wheat that they haven't even touched yet and make about $4.00 per bushel to boot. And we Americans are supposed to be such sharp wheelers and dealers. The USA bought Alaska from Russia for less than two cents an acre and I suppose they want to get even."

GOING STRONG

by Gerry Johnson

Retirement by Choice, Not Force

"To Dr. John Prins, "mandatory retirement" are dirty words.

"Forced retirement at a set age is just for the convenience of management," the University of Puget Sound (Tacoma, Washington) professor said. "I believe retirement is a question for an individual. Some ought to retire earlier, others later."

In 1956 Dr. Prins reached his 65th birthday. The life insurance company he was working for decreed that was it. He had to retire.

Dr. Prins left the insurance company, but he did not retire. He had spent a year teaching night classes at the University so at 65 he became a full time professor.

A note of bitterness creeps into his normally cheerful voice when Dr. Prins discusses those who put an end to his 35-year career with the insurance company.

"Every now and then I send them articles which have been written about what I am doing," he said. "But I really think they are too feeble to read them." He's back to chuckling.

When pressed for his age, Dr. Prins admitted to being 83 and a half. He wasn't being coy. He said he disliked telling his age because "when you hang an age on a person, people without imagination look at the age and not the person."

Dr. Prins teaches in the School of Business and Public Administration. He has several classes, one with over 150 students. Off and on for 12 years, he was director of the School of Business.

"The University said one person could not monopolize the job as director. Only a King — not a Prins — gets to rule for life," he said.

A native of Holland, Dr. Prins runs the University's cultural exchange program with Holland.

Dr. Prins came to this country in 1912 and graduated from the University of Washington in 1916. He was still a Dutch citizen during World War I and served as an observer of prisoner of war camps in Russia.

"I was in Moscow when the revolution broke out," he said. "It was quite an interesting time. I also traveled through Siberia, examining the POW camps. Holland was a neutral country and they were selecting 'neutrals' to be observers."

During World War II, Dr. Prins, by then an American citizen, took a leave from the insurance company to serve in the U. S. Navy. "I went in the Navy when I was over 50. I lied about my age a little bit to get in."

Dr. Prins served as a Navy intelligence liaison officer with the British admiralty during the planning of the invasion of Normandy.

"I was the first U.S. Navy officer to set foot in Holland. I had been away 35 years, but I had a feeling of coming home," he recalled.

But Tacoma is home now and Dr. Prins is happy in his job. He said he gets a great deal of satisfaction in his work.

The conversation then went back to forced retirement. Dr. Prins is not alone in his view on the subject. Pollster Louis Harris, in a survey made for The National Council on the Aging, found 86 percent of the people feel that workers should not be forced to retire because of age.

As Dr. Prins said, "Think of the tremendous power that is lost in the United States by the forced retirement of people at 65 — all that wisdom thrown out just as people are reaching the height of their careers."

A CLASS REUNION is a lot of fun for Herman Dahle, just as it would be for anyone, but for Mr. Dahle, getting there was half the fun. Mr. Dahle recently rode his bicycle on the 325-mile trip from his Madison, Wisconsin, home to his alma mater, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, for Alumni Day. "Bicycling has restored my faith in people," the 67-year-old Mr. Dahle said. Mr. Dahle has survived two heart attacks and rides a woman's bicycle because a plastic socket in one hip prevents him from lifting one leg more than pedal high. He figures he still has managed to log over 25,000 miles on a bicycle in his lifetime.

Army Notes

Editor's Note: This is the thirteenth in a series of articles featuring highlights of the United States Army's 200 years of service to this Nation. Davy Crockett and Benjamin Harrison, Generals Stephen W. Kearny, Jonathan M. Wainwright and Franz Sigel were involved in this week in history.

On August 17, 1786 Davy Crockett was born on a mountain top in Hawkins, Tennessee. A great hunter and story teller, Crockett served as an Army scout under General Andrew Jackson. After three terms as a Congressman he left for Texas where he heroically fought to his death at the Alamo.

Brigadier General Stephen W. Kearny entered Santa Fe, New Mexico unopposed, on August 18, 1846. His men had marched for 50 days over prairie, mountains and desert. General Kearny proclaimed civil government and announced the annexation of New Mexico to the United States.

On August 19, 1945 Japanese envoys met with American representatives in Manila to agree on release of prisoners of war. General Jonathan M. Wainwright and several thousand U. S. prisoners were set free from Japanese prisoner camps in China. Their bitter confinement had come to an end.

Benjamin Harrison the twenty-third President of the United States, was born on August 20, 1833 at North Bend, Ohio. The grandson of William Henry Harrison — our ninth President — served in the Civil War and rose to the rank of brigadier general. He defeated Grover Cleveland in the 1888 election. His book "This Country of Ours" — about the federal government — was used as a text at schools and colleges for years.

A bronze equestrian statue stands on Riverside Drive in New York City to honor the memory of General Franz Sigel who died in that city on August 21, 1902. A graduate of the Karlsruhe Military Academy and in the forefront of the revolutionists in Germany, he left his country for the United States in 1853. When the Civil War broke out he organized the Third Missouri Infantry and helped save St. Louis for the Union. He rose to the rank of major general.

On August 22, 1776 the British landed 15,000 troops on Long Island, New York. This set the stage for the battle of Long Island — a battle in which 1400 troops of the Continental Army would be lost in their fight for freedom.

An Army crew made the first transcontinental nonstop helicopter flight on August 23, 1956. The twin-rotored H-21 refueled several times while in flight during its 31-hour and 45-minute flight from San Diego to Washington, D. C.

TODAY'S LOGIC

By James W. Phelps

Arabs; (2) the capital needed to develop more oil would be available to our oil companies and (3) the capital needed would not have to come from higher taxes.

KEEP PRICES HIGH
Last week's column discussed the need for eliminating price controls on American oil. The results would be: (1) the oil companies would be able to charge as much as the

It's probably asking too much of our control minded politicians to let the free market take over, but that is the very best solution.

When government bureaucrats set the price they destroy the freedom of both the buyer and the seller. The seller is deprived of part of the value of his goods. The buyer is deprived of his right to buy because there won't be enough to go around. Or he may succeed in buying by spending an hour or so waiting in line. If his time is worth anything, waiting in line increases his costs without benefiting anyone.

They distort the market and cause more harm than good. But in the case of oil I would recommend that the U. S. establish a minimum price on imported oil. Yes, I said minimum, not maximum. We should not permit the Arabs to reduce the price of their oil. If they did, we should impose a tax equal to 90% of their reduction.

Everyone is well aware of what happened when the Arabs raised their prices. They really had us over a barrel. So low all our American oil companies would go broke. Our companies would have to stop producing oil and stop all drilling and research.

No one, however, seems to be concerned about what would happen if they drastically lowered their prices.

Carlsbad Caverns tells fall, winter times

Park Superintendent Don Dayton has announced that new visitor hours for the fall and winter season will go into effect at Carlsbad Caverns National Park following Labor Day.

Starting on September 2, the park visitor center will open at 8:00 a. m. and trips into the main cavern will be offered continuously from 8:00 a. m. to 3:15 p. m. daily. Bat Flight Programs will be continued throughout the month of September, and during this period, the visitor center will remain open until 6:00 p. m. each evening.

Although Big Room trips which enter the Cavern by elevator will be offered until 3:15 p. m. daily, visitors wishing to make the complete three mile walk-in trip must be at the Cavern's natural entrance no later than 2:00 p. m. in order to have time for the complete trip.

Concessions facilities at the park, including the restaurant, nursery, gift shop and kennel will open at 8:00 and close at 4:30 p. m. daily under the new schedule.

Supt. Dayton stated that primitive lantern tour of New Cave in Slaughter Canyon will also be available on a reduced basis thru the fall and winter months. Present plans call for the lantern trips, which are by reservation only, to be offered twice daily thru the month of September, with tours scheduled at 9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. However, starting on October 1, the primitive lantern tours will be offered on weekends only, with hours for the Saturday and Sunday tours remaining the same. For New Cave reservations visitors should call (505) 785-2233.

$13 Million in BLM Funds for New Mexico

New Mexico this week received more than $13 million from a record $76.4 million distributed to 23 states by the Bureau of Land Management.

Arthur W. Zimmerman, the Bureau's New Mexico State director, said the payment of $13,005,117 represents the state's share of BLM revenues for the first half of 1975, and compares with $11,062,250 for the same period last year.

Except for Alaska, each state having national resource lands under Bureau administration received semi-annual payments of 37.5 per cent of federal revenues collected within that state from mineral leasing, rentals and royalties. Alaska receives 90 per cent.

The total paid to the 23 states represents an increase of $2.7 million over the same period of 1974 - which totalled $73.7 million. The New Mexico state treasurer will distribute the funds within New Mexico in accordance with state law.

In Washington, BLM director Curt Berkland said of the record payment: "Interest in the National Resource Lands is at an all-time high, and this is reflected in the size of checks being sent to the states. Payments during the past two years were more than double the annual totals for previous recent years, largely because of increased receipts from oil shale, geothermal and other mineral leasing activities." Between 1920 and 1974, allocations to States from BLM mineral leasing receipts, excluding income from Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) oil and gas leasing activities, totalled nearly $1.1 billion. In addition, the OCS receipts have helped to support an Interior-administered grant program that has aided more than 14,000 recreation projects in States and territories with more than $3 billion in Federal need money.

This year's $76.4 million payment represents the states' share of revenue collected from mineral leasing apart from OCS income, grazing leases, and sales of public lands and materials during the period that ended June 30, 1975.

An editorial in the El Paso Times, August 18, 1975, suggests that the First World Congress of Sorcery in Bogota, Columbia, August 24-28, might be pointing the way to acceptance of "astrologers, clairvoyants, witches, mediums, and the like" as respectable members of the establishment!

That an editorial writer would equate magic with miracles and state that "admonitions such as Moses gave the children of Israel in Deuteronomy 28:19 'There shall not be found among you anyone who practices divination, a soothsayer or an auger, or a sorcerer, or a charmer, or a medium or a wizard, or a necromancer. For whoever does these things is an abomination to the Lord', have always proved fruitless," is amazing. We wonder what sort of fruit such an admonition is supposed to bear? Isaiah 2:6 states, "For thou hast rejected thy people, the house of Jacob, because they are full of diviners from the east and of soothsayers like the Philistines."

Chronicles 10:13 "So Saul died for his unfaithfulness; he was unfaithful to the Lord in that he did not keep the command of the Lord, and also consulted a medium seeking guidance."

Revelations 21:8 "But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the polluted, as for murderers, fornicators, SORCERERS, idolaters and all liars, their lot shall be in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death."

There are warnings all through the Bible concerning sorcery, witchcraft, "and the like". If one doesn't wish to consider the Bible as relevant, he might consider what happened to Bishop Pike. He might try reading Hal Lindsey's "The Devil is Alive and Well on Planet Earth," or, especially, Mike Warnke's "Satan Seller." He might try talking to some of those who have been into the occult. We say "have been", because those who are in the middle of it probably are "riding high." The devil is a master of guile and persuasion and the only one in the universe who is more powerful is Jesus Christ. We had all better think about what the END will be for those who choose one or the other — or the difference, in the present, between a feeling of fleeting, sensual pleasure and one of deep and abiding joy. HONEST TALK

Sitting in on that last meeting of the NM Racing Commission was certainly refreshing... why, the goings on were enough to re-install my faith in the ability of my fellow man to express his convictions.

The acid... non-corrosive, more or less... dripping from heated words pouring from the mouths of commish chairman George Maloof... our own genial Ruidoso Downs general manager Al Rosa... Philip Baker and J. W. Eaves of Santa Fe Downs... and not forgetting Art Smith, who got in his two cents worth for the horsemen... was calculated... barbed... sincere... and very refreshing.

The way these men conducted themselves... always as gentlemen... but, mind you, gentlemen that were disturbed... reminded me that gentlemen can still get down to the nuts and bolts of a problem and remain gentlemen.

Could be the participants had stomach soothers handy... or wished they did... but by jinkies, it's been a long time since I've heard a spade called a spade... or, in the case of some of these gentlemen, a club... and I think that's the way to get things done... right out in the open... no innuendoes... just plain talk.

Good on you... you good old guys of the commission and the racing game.

Last week we mentioned the problems that George Washington faced in getting supplies and munitions for his troops. Two hundred years ago in August, his patience was also tried by the nature of the forces under his command.

Almost all the soldiers were minutemen or local militia. If they had any training at all it had consisted mostly of occasionally drilling and marching. In addition, military discipline did not exist. While he was attempting to hold the British in Boston and to supply his troops, Washington also had to begin a training program that would make them ready for combat when it came.

Training problems were difficult enough, but they were compounded by the short enlistments of most of the soldiers, some of which were as short as three months. Obviously, very little could be done with soldiers in such a short time; even if they were trained their enlistments would end shortly after training was completed.

The real issue was that these were citizen soldiers who had literally put down their hoes and picked up their rifles to defend their colony. Now when a protracted war seemed obvious, these men had crops in the fields and families to support. Therefore, it was very common for soldiers to go home when they felt like it. From the beginning Washington had serious problems with desertion.

This whole matter was further complicated by the absence of any national patriotism. The colonies might be united on paper and in the Continental Congress, but the citizen's loyalty was still to his home colony. The concept of continental unity — the idea of being an "American" — was to come later.

Probably a man with less patience and dedication than Washington would have given up very early. However, it is to his credit and the benefit of the future United States that Washington stayed with what appeared to be an impossible task.

In the Spanish Southwest, John Peyton and his associates also faced what appeared to be an impossible situation. Peyton and the Emergency livestock loan program change

The Roswell office of the Farmers Home Administration has received procedures implementing the recently amended Emergency Livestock Act. The local supervisor, Richard Floyd, briefly explained these changes. The Act now permits commercial lenders to advance credit to $50,000 to each borrower. Changes allow approval of the line of credit; extends terms to 7 years; broadens eligibility depending upon the livestock status of the applicant July 25, 1974; allows the guarantee to apply to 90% of the amount due; permits applicants to apply through 12-31-76; and broadens the acceptable security requirements. These changes were signed by President Ford June 16.

Bicentennial Day competition set

Need a project for your church, club, civic group, or even your family? Would you like to have one, and still have a chance to win upwards of $1,500 in cash?

New Mexico State Fair Manager Finlay MacGillivray suggested that the Bicentennial Day competition planned at this year's fair would be the perfect answer. The day will be celebrated on Saturday, Sept. 20.

"This would be an ideal project for a Boy Scout troop or

The intent of the program is to assist qualified livestock men sustaining economic losses severe enough to cause equity problems. Mr. Floyd explained the loans are processed by the bank or other commercial lender and presented to the local office for guarantee.

Interest and terms are set by the borrower and his bank.

Persons desiring more information are encouraged to come to the local office in the Roswell Federal Building or by discussion with their banker.

for a civic club," the manager said.

There are competitions in the bicentennial celebration for costuming, home living and other activities of the 1776 era.

"It would seem that a scout troop or a club could work up some pretty good ideas along these lines, get a chance to win some money and at the same time, learn quite a bit about American history in the process," MacGillivray continued.

The costume competition is open for authentic dress for singles, couples and families.

The home category will show off life in that era.

The third category shows other aspects of life in colonial times.

Each category will provide a $200 first prize, and $100 cash to second place winners. In addition, first place winners will also receive a piece of Nameware.

Further details about the contest may be obtained by contacting the entry office at the New Mexico State Fair. The deadline for entries is Wednesday, Sept. 3.

The 1975 New Mexico State Fair — The Biggest Show In New Mexico — will be held in Albuquerque Sept. 6-20.

Recreation . . . The closest thing to home

Recreation is an important part of the training program at the Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School. Under Bonnie McEuen, the recreation director, students are provided a variety of activities designed to develop physical coordination, promote social skills and provide fun and relaxation.

Many retarded people have problems with vision, eye-hand coordination, balance, muscle tone, posture, walking, and a host of other physical activities. Things we learned automatically must be taught to a large number of retarded citizens. Through such activities as hiking, swimming, marching, moon walk, tumbling, and dancing, Fort Stanton students learn how to control and use their muscles, coordinate their movements, and improve their perception abilities.

Social activities make up a large portion of student training time. Small groups of students walking, dances, parties, and movies are but a few of the social activities available to residents of the Fort. In addition to being fun, these programs bring students together to learn proper behavior and manners. Many retarded citizens are capable of managing their affairs in the community, except for their ability to get along with others. Through the Recreation Department, residents learn how to act around other people, how to greet one another and social graces such as dancing.

Retarded citizens also have difficulty from time to time, coping with the pressures and stresses found in any human relationship. Through the help of the staff psychologist, Mr. Dave Lentz, and other members of the Fort Stanton family, students learn how to handle frustration, anxiety, disappointment, jealousy, and many of the other feelings which we all experience in our relationships with other people.

Most important to the students in the Recreation Program, of course, is fun. Train rides, bus rides, sports, games, picnics, and parties are enjoyable to people of all ages. Through the Recreation Department, the residents of the Fort experience the pleasures, joys and companionship with others so necessary to a meaningful and rewarding life. Time out from school, vocational training, and self-help training is necessary to healthy development.

At times, recreation programs bring students into contact with people living or working in Lincoln County, and like all of us, the students enjoy meeting new people and making more friends. Students have been visited by Captain FHA, Hondo 4-H, representatives of the Ruidoso Elks, Ruidoso Garden Club, Roswell I.O.O.F. Lodge, Corona Church Choir. Also during the past year, residents of the Fort have performed their talent show before audiences around the country, students have helped build floats for the Captain Fourth of July parade, and the Billy The Kid Pageant, and Lincoln County Fair Parades. Through the Ruidoso Garden Club, many retarded students have enjoyed the company of a substitute grandmother, and of course, there is the Recreation Department staff, headed up by Mrs. McEuen. Through the effort and attention of Mrs. Gloria Aldaz, Mrs. Leona Helms, and Mary Lamay, the students have received considerable care and attention. The job is often demanding, requiring evening and weekend work.

For the students of Fort Stanton, Recreation is the closest thing to home. Good times, shared with others, expand the horizons of the retarded; while helping them learn to care for themselves.

Big Money

It will take an investment of between $40 and $50 billion a year from now on for the U.S. to achieve a reasonable level of self-sufficiency in petroleum, according to Dr. James S. Cross, economist and vice president of the American Petroleum Institute.

"Heard the latest physical fitness rumor? The team will march in half-time parades!"

Works by the renowned artist Adrian Volpe are now on display at THE ANDERSON COLLECTION. "Happy Hunting Ground", pictured, was executed in 1929 and won the gold medal at the Paris International Art Show. W. A. and Eileen Anderson extend a cordial invitation to the public to this very special exhibit.

The Dreamer

The Fruit is Beginning to Color
The other day I was down by San Patricio, and the orchards were beautiful bordered by the green hillsides, all along the way.
Here and there among the apple trees I could see glimpses of gold and red.
There are quite a good number of Golden Delicious apples and Red Delicious with some Jonathan and Winesap
in this area. Folks told me down that way that everybody

had some apples — some more than others, that there are apples in Glencoe, San Patricio, Hondo, Tinnie and Picacho.
I heard there were some orchards heavily loaded over in Nogal Canyon. You know where that is. Between Ruidoso and Carrizozo.
I have not heard about the Upper Bonito, but I am almost sure there are apples in the old orchards up that way. They hardly ever fail — some of the trees a hundred years old way
above the Dam.
I noticed apples ripening in the village of Lincoln; and they tell me there is quite a bit of fruit over the hill toward Bent and Tularosa, and up on the way to Cloudcroft.
So have some baskets or boxes ready. There is going to be some fruit to help us
through the winter.
The main varieties of apples are Red Delicious — good for eating and salads; Golden Delicious, good for everything; Winesap, good for cider, and apple sauce and eating raw.
Jonathan, good for practically everything, and Rome Beauty, good for baking and apple sauce.
All apples are good for eating raw, and pies and cob-blers. Did you ever try fried apples? You fry them just like you do potatoes. There are many, many ways you can prepare an apple, and all are good for you.
These abundant rains will make the apples full of flavor and health qualities. There is nothing like the rain to give life to the growing things.
Gardens Are Good Everywhere I go, there is the magic of the rain — and this shows up especially in the gardens. There are more gardens in the valleys and in the yards in the homes in the villages and towns than I ever saw. There are summer squash, cabbage, and green beans. Roasting ears will be along soon. The roadside markets are beginning to blossom forth with all kinds of good things fresh from the field and orchard.

An Early Fall?
The squirrels and deer and pinon birds and many other creatures of land and air, are busy picking up the acorns,
which this year are very abundant and also very early. The ground under the oaks is covered with acorn hulls and acorns. There are so many that the creatures can not keep them all picked up. The squirrels are carrying them off green. Maybe this means they are getting ready for an early fall. A rainy summer often brings an early fall, and then a long sunny Indian Summer, a favorite time of year.
The Call of
The Pinon Jay.
One sound that you will remember forever and a day,
and will always long to hear when in some far-off land, and that is the call of the Pinon Jays as they gather in flocks in the late summer and early fall, sending their calls out in one chorus as they circle
low above the tops of the Pi-nons and Cedars. These little chiruses of the pinon birds are New Mexico's songs of Joy.
These blue-coated, friendly birds have several different calls; and this time of year and on into the fall sometimes they sound like little human or spirit voices calling from Heaven. These little bands of "Pinoneros" (Pinon Nut Hunters) as the Spanish call them, are happiest of all in the time of the year when the pinon nuts are ripe. It is then that you hear them calling from glen to glen all through the vale, hardly able to contain their joy in the autumn weather.

The Pinon Jay is the totem
of my Brother, Lynn. You know what a totem is, do you not? Your totem is your partner and friend in the animal or bird world. The Indians say that we all have a totem, an animal or bird who is our kindred spirit of the woods, fields and skies who watches over us, shares our joys and sorrows, and brings us good luck.
I knew my Brother, Lynn
was going to pay me a visit,
the way the pinon birds were calling. And sure enough Sunday evening, August 17, here
he came, with his wife, Maxine, and we all had a grand visit. Shady Logan acted as if he were expecting Lynn and Maxine. He sure was happy to see them.
