School tells tax figures on bonds

According to figures released by Stearn Brothers, fiscal agents for the Ruidoso Municipal School District, the average cost in taxes per month for school patrons would be about $1.44, if the $1,650,000 proposed school bond is passed in October. For example: Actual value, $30,000; appraised, $24,000; assessed, $8,000; increase per $1,000 of assessed valuation, $2.16; yearly tax increase, $17.28.

The average tax rate for the past eight years has been $8.01 per $1,000 of assessed valuation and with the passage of the bond issue this rate would increase to $10.17 for the next seven years.

The need for added classrooms was indicated in the spring of 1974 when an increase in enrollment reached a critical point and a barracks building, storage rooms, teachers' lounges and cafeteria areas were pressed into service as classrooms and study areas. The enrollment then was 1131. A discussion was held by the board of trustees and it was agreed that no bond issue would be proposed until the 1975-76 school year was about to begin — to see if enrollment might decrease.

In preparing the school budget for the 1975-76 year, the board had estimated that enrollment would reach 1166 but, after one week of school, 1220 students are now attending the school system.

After a great deal of study by the board of trustees, the Teachers Advisory Committee and the school architect, plans have now been formulated to move the kindergarten, first and second grades to the Nob Hill school; grades three through eight to the White Mountain site; and have only grades 9 through 12 at the present high school site. The plan would require new buildings at White Mountain and remodeling of both the high school and Nob Hill school. The White Mountain site is the only school property that still offers room for expansion.

The bond election for the proposed building program will be held at the High School Library from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. on October 7.

CORONA MAYOR DEPLORES NOT HAVING DEPUTY SHERIFF IN AREA

School route work set at Corona

Mayor Ken Fuller of Corona and a delegation of school bus drivers and board of education members headed by school Supt. Kenneth Anderson sought help from the Lincoln County commissioners Friday, at the regular board meeting.

Regarding the school bus roads, Supt. Anderson said, "Some of our roads are dangerous and slick when icy during the winter. I've tried them with chains and it's impossible to travel over them."

The school delegation presented a priority list of 13 school routes that need repairing, including three cattle guards that need replacing on county roads, to the commission with the request that road work be accomplished in the order of priority assigned.

The bus drivers noted that certain sections of the road "were very dangerous when wet or icy" due to a complete lack of gravel, poor grading and being in a general state of disrepair in portions.

The commissioners agreed to send a road crew and equipment into the area beginning Sept. 15 and advised the school delegation that the county had scheduled three months of road work in the Corona District.

Mayor Fuller, in discussing the fact that Sheriff Leandro Vega Jr. has not appointed a deputy sheriff, to fill a vacancy, said: "Corona has bent over backwards to cooperate in all ways to provide a car for a deputy sheriff, as well as a portion of his salary. We've gone more than any village in the county, to this end, and we still don't have a deputy."

"There's a deep feeling of discontent, a bad feeling, among our people. There is now a feeling of isolation and resentment being registered again. We want a deputy sheriff and we want Corona to have the feeling they are a part of Lincoln County."

The commissioners noted that the deputy sheriff to serve Corona had been provided for in the 1975-76 fiscal year budget but that Sheriff Vega, at this time, "hadn't been able to fill the post," chairman R. C. Nunez said. Nunez also noted that the responsibility to fill the deputy's post at Corona lay with Sheriff Vega.

Fuller also asked for county help on digging a solid waste (sanitary landfill) disposal pit on a 10 acre site that is fenced.

"The fence will prevent blowing of trash," Fuller said, "but what we need is county equipment to open the new pit."

On the pressing problem of erosion on the school grounds, Fuller asked, "Can we buy crushed gravel from the county, to improve the grounds, especially the play area?"

The commission deferred immediate action on the requests, but advised Fuller that the landfill and erosion problems would be investigated.

In other action, the commission:

— Agreed to have a blasting expert study the Bonita Road, and to obtain an engineering study of the problems involved with road repairs near Bonita Lake. The possibility of a joint powers agreement with Alamogordo, the US Forest Service and Lincoln County will also be investigated. Smokey Bear District Ranger Ray S. Page said, "The Forest Service requires 60 days time to arrange for use of gravel pits on Forest Service land."

— Approved a petition to form a joint Mental Health Authority with Otero County, under the newly enacted State Law 399. They also agreed to become the Mental Health Authority for Lincoln County and to appoint members from Lincoln County to serve on a committee to be named from Otero County. At the present time Lincoln County is not to be financially bound in connection with the proposal.

Directed that the county road crew report to the County Barn at 7 a. m. on work days and that the county "blade men" be "on the job at 7 a. m." each work day. They further ordered that all road employees continue working until 3:30 p. m., each day, and that they have 30 minutes for lunch. All road employees will be driving home from work on their own time.

— Agreed to station one caterpillar, one loader and two trucks at Bonito through Sept. 19 to stockpile road material while the crusher is stationed there. Effective Sept. 22 all road crews and equipment will move to the Trinidad Site, near Corona, and work three months in that district before moving into the White Oaks

District.

— Named Guy Henley acting road superintendent, pending the naming of a new superintendent at the Sept. 26 meeting. Applications for this position are being accepted by County Manager Les Olson through Sept. 19. Tommy LaMay, by his request, is being reassigned to his previous position as maintainer operator. Olson is to negotiate salaries with Henley and LaMay and report the result, for commission action, Sept. 26.

— Approved a request for gravel on a road at Angus.

— Authorized investigation of a request for a new culvert on Zalazar Road in Baca Canyon.

— Accepted for dedication as a county road, a road serving White Mountain Development Co., in a new subdivision.

— Adopted, on first readings, Ordinances 75-1 and 75-2, with second readings and final approval set for Sept. 26. 75-1 is an ordinance governing the establishment of all future ordinances in the county and 75-2 is an animal control ordinance to be enforced by the Lincoln County Sheriff.

— Authorized a right-of-way survey in the Barney Luck subdivision by Lincoln Engineering Co., of Carrizozo. No positive decision as to how much of the 1.4 miles of right-of-way remaining to be surveyed would be immediately surveyed was reached.

Cable TV won't be sold

"Cablevision of Lincoln County will not be sold," Wm. L. Schloss, president of the local business and chairman of the board of Omega Communications of Indianapolis, Ind., said Thursday to The Ruidoso News. Schloss also said, "after an in depth study of the economic factors in the Ruidoso area, and the realization of the growth potential here, we decided to expand and improve the system here. "We are launching a five year plan immediately, that will include expansion over a larger geographic area and improving the quality of reception in our present system."

veloping a master plan for improving and enlarging our system."

"During the past few weeks Atty. Bobby Mayfield of Las Cruces, representing Jeffrey Silverman of New York City and Jerry L. Baker and Associates of Santa Fe, had obtained approval of the franchise transfer from Cablevision of Lincoln County to Silverman and Baker from the governing bodies of Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitan and Lincoln County as well as from the residents of Alto. Mayfield, at the Lincoln County commissioners meeting, said, "The sale should be consummated by Sept. 10, at a price of $1,050,000", and that Silverman will invest $175,000 in initial improvements to upgrade the system."

"I have complete confidence in our existing personnel and Carl Kelley has the most experienced technical background in the state. He holds the State of NM Certificate No. 3 as a certified electronic technician, one of only four issued. He also holds a first class FCC license as well as a NM State Electrical Contractor's license."

Al Stelk, Cablevision vice president, said, "We have just spent more than $50,000 on testing and construction equipment and are now de-

GAME AND FISH MOVES TO REDUCE KILL

Deer hunting stratified

The NM Department of Game and Fish has announced "A new approach to deer management that will reduce hunting pressure during opening weekend and reduce the deer harvest."

The plan is one of stratified deer seasons, i. e., establishing three shorter hunting periods with licenses to have a stamp affixed thereon bearing the dates during which deer hunting is permitted. Hunting areas in the state have also been defined (Area A, Area S, Area M) and hunters may go afield only in the area designated on their validated license.

Licenses may be validated at the time of purchase; if not, a Game and Fish officer, or personnel at a Game and Fish office or hatchery may validate them.

All licenses must be validated before hunting during the Nov. 8-23 or Oct. 25-Dec. 12 deer, bear or turkey hunts.

Changes in areas cannot be made later than the day before the hunt opens, i. e., Nov. 7 in Area A, Oct. 24 in Area S. Also, a hunter hunting unsuccessfully in one area cannot have his license validated for another.

Archers and muzzleloader hunters are governed by special regulations obtainable at the time of license purchase.

Before Nov. 8 and after Nov. 23, a license validated for an Area A hunt period is good for hunting deer, bear and turkey in any open season for those species, except seasons in Area S.

A license validated for the Area S hunt period is good for hunting deer, bear and turkey in any open season except seasons in Area A during Nov. 8-23 and seasons in Area S other than the one for which the license is validated.

Cougar hunters will be required to have a cougar license as well as a validated deer license and may hunt cougar only during the hunt period marked on their deer licenses.

For archers and bowhunters, if the license was bought unvalidated before the validation procedure was established, a person hunting in a special bow or muzzleloader hunt with an unvalidated license would not be in violation of the regulation. There is one exception: Part of the bowhunt in Area M falls in the period Nov. 8-23. A hunter in Area M Nov. 8-23 must have a validated license and may hunt only in the hunt period marked on the license.

No opposition to MAT bus service

No opposition was voiced Thursday at a public hearing conducted at The Inn of the Mountain Gods by the NM

State Corporation Commission (SCC) on the application for a certificate of public convenience to establish a bus service to be operated by the Mescalero Apache Tribe. THE MAT is seeking the certificate to provide transportation for guests of the Inn to the Sierra Blanca Ski Area and to Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

John Elliott, hearing officer, and Charles R. Rudolph, SCC member, conducted the hearing and questioned all witnesses. Gea E. Fettinger and Kim J. Gotschalk, attorneys for the petitioner from Alamogordo, asked questions of all witnesses, including Sam Miller, MAT vice president; Bill Adriance, Inn public relations man; Sgt. Jack E. Johnson of the NM State Police; Charles F. Brown, Ruidoso village inspector; Roy Parker, general manager of the Sierra Blanca Ski Area and Fred R. Heckman Jr., MAT economic development director.

Dude Browning, local contract carrier transporting guests of four lodges to area attractions, said, "I have no objections" (to the MAT's requested bus service). With the understanding that "they haul only customers that are registered at the Inn."

Testimony included: Sgt. Johnson's statements on ski run road traffic. "There will be no adverse problems at all from the buses if they are operated by qualified drivers." He suggested the use of "studded snow tires on the buses." Johnson also said that the uses of buses would alleviate some of the traffic and parking problems at both the ski area and racetrack.

Parker said "We had 118,000 lift ticket sales last year, compared to 20,000 in our first year of operation," 11 years ago. "We have the most heavily used ski area in New Mexico and can comfortably park 600 cars and jam 850 cars into the parking area and on the road." He said, "There are three and one-half persons, average, per car and the use of the three buses would save the parking of from 30 to 40 cars."

Of planned developments at the ski area, Parker said, "The bus service puts us in the resort market, with the market being people from over the nation. Our expansion plans, including a new ski area that is laid out, will enable us to handle 3,500 skiers daily comfortably."

Heckman said, "The three buses form part of a complete service package to aid off season tourism." This is directed at groups that will be coming to the Inn by air, bus or train that will depend upon the bus service. The bus service would also, he said, be used to transport groups with private cars who might not want to drive to the ski area, or to avail themselves of the convenience offered by the bus service.

He pegged the cost of the three buses, which are designed to operate on mountain roads, at $217,147.

Under questioning by Elliott and Rudolph, Heckman said, "The Tribe has $15 million invested in the complex at the Inn and will have over $19 million invested by 1976. The MAT has $3 million invested in the ski area."

"We will add 56 rooms to the Inn, for a total of 200, which will enable us to handle more than 700 guests."

"The MAT's total expansion plan will total $25 million, or more, when all of the improvements are completed."

After 90 minutes of testimony, Elliott said, "This hearing is adjourned and until the commission meets to make a final decision on the application the buses may continue to operate under temporary authority."

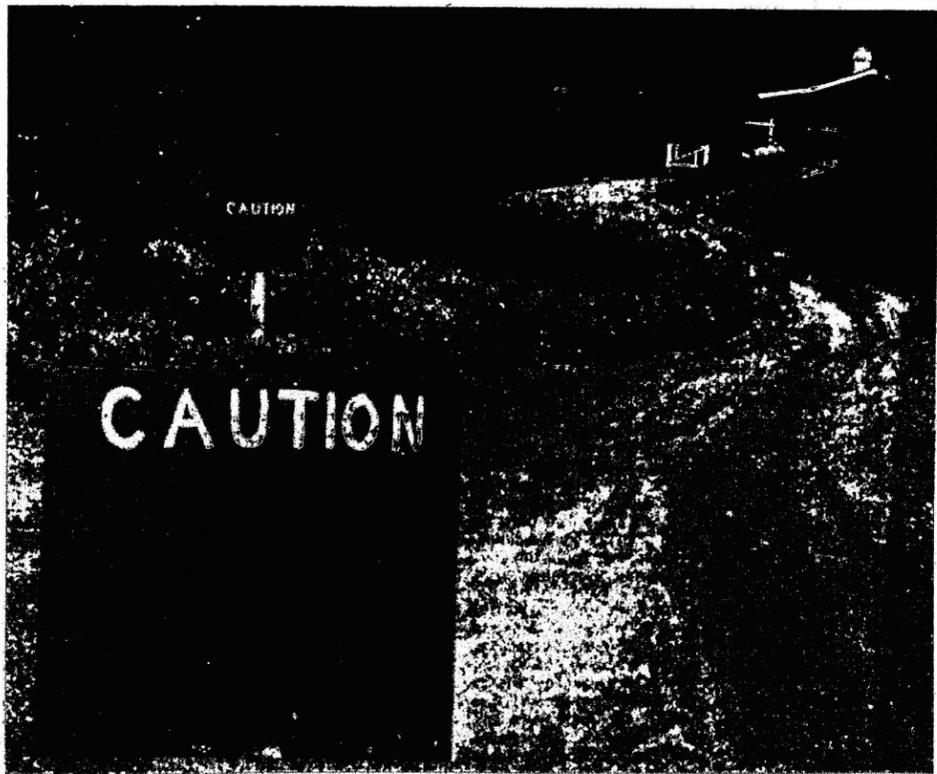

Elliott said that the final decision "should be reached within two months."

High school diploma can be earned

Registration for the Adult Learning Program of Lincoln County, funded by the state, will take place Tuesday, September 16, from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m., at the Recreation Center in Carrizozo.

The program is free, and open to any adult 18½ years and older who wants to obtain a high school diploma.

Study skills and subject material are taught to help an adult pass the General Education Development test and receive a high school diploma from the State Department of Education. The G.E.D. tests will be given in Carrizozo at the end of the program.

Are you tired?

May I speak for the Silent Majority? The Silent Majority is that group of people who still work for a living, pay outrageous taxes, fear God, attempt to discharge their responsibility to their country, and are generally referred to as "square." There are many of us left, but our numbers are dwindling rapidly as we gradually lose the will to resist. We are tired of many things, in addition to just being tired. We are tired of politicians in whom we cannot put our trust. (There are still a few outnumbered men in Washington trying to do the right thing.) We are tired of feeding those too lazy to work — who claim that we "owe" them anything — and who contribute nothing to their family, community or nation. (They are also one of the reasons for the run-away inflation because they use only the best in food and living.) We are tired of becoming involved in every petty quarrel of the most obscure foreign nation. We are tired of paying for the United Nations and being treated as though we do not exist. We are tired of some petty, appointed bureaucrat telling us every step that we can take — from how our children are educated to who may work for us. We are tired of officials who want more money for themselves and less work. (They used to be servants of the people.) Yes, we are tired of a multitude of other things that are thrown at us — BUT, we may have a surprise for many of those officials who do not take their jobs seriously. We just may do what the Texans did — TURN THE RASCALS OUT! We still have the best nation in the world and it is our responsibility to keep it that way, but when you get enough of us stirred up — LOOK OUT!

BY EMADAIR JONES

Not long ago, I heard a man leave a group of friends with a wave and, "Ya me go." I liked that mixture of Spanish and English.

Our Spanish and Indian heritage is part of what makes New Mexico "the land of enchantment"; and the Spanish is what makes it unique. Contrary to what the liberal news media would have everyone believe, Anglos have good points, too. It is the combination of the best in all the races, which make up America, which has made her a great country.

Unfortunately, the "divide and conquer" strategy of the communists has been working much too well in our country. Now, if they can just get those of other roots — English, Scots, Irish, Welsh, French, German, Italian, Swede, Finn, Japanese, Chinese, etc. — to fighting for their separate "equal rights" — they'll have it made.

It seems pretty obvious that the majority of people in this country are opposed to subjecting their children to the hardships and dangers of being bussed for miles in order to go to a school picked out for them because of their race. The people who insist upon this call the rest of us "racists."

Now, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare threatens to take a hand in school discipline, because they think there is a disproportionate amount of discipline meted out to members of minority races. So — school children should be disciplined, not according to what they do, or how often, but according to race, creed, etc. The people who want to do that call the rest of us "racists."

Time was when the poorest man or woman in America could look forward to the possibility of someday being rich, if he or she had enough energy and ability. That dream is fast fading. The more laws and regulations our government imposes in an attempt to force all the people to "do right," the less chance there is for an individual to climb out of whatever category he or she happens to be born into.

MANUEL PAYS

Spell back Congressman Manuel Lujan was tooting down I-25, en route to a Republican lunch in Socorro, when one of NM's friendly State Police had occasion to pull him over to the shoulder and lay a speeding ticket in his palm. And what'd Rep. Lujan do with this piece of evidence that he'd been caught violating the 55 m.p.h. speed law? Why, Rep. Lujan pocketed it... and carried it with him to the lunch... and took it out of pocket... displayed it... and, by jinkies, let it be known all around that he was going to pay it... just like any other citizen that sometimes runs afoul of traffic laws. Congratulations Congressman Lujan.

The annual tennis tournament, sponsored by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, has been canceled for the past two years. Seems the weatherman will not cooperate with the chairman of the committee, Ken Buckley. A great deal of work is involved in setting up the tourney, recruiting chamber members to work on the project and drawing up a schedule. It is too bad that bad weather has canceled the tourneys to be cancelled — on the second day both times. All we can say is "keep up the good work, you'll hit one day."

Many businesses in Ruidoso are taking a much-needed rest after the record summer season. Lots of clean-up and repainting being done to prepare for the winter season. As in the past, lots of residents are taking an off-season vacation...

We understand that the Marine Drum and Bugle Corps will lead the Aspencade Parade this year. The groups are being brought in by the Ruidoso Rotary Club, who hope to slate a concert in the evening. Bands always make a parade, and we sincerely hope that all the local bands in the area will participate this year...

Quote from letter received by chamber from Marguerite Stubbe and Sue Wallace: "Even though I did not win the beautiful Cadillac, I still think the party at the Inn of the Mountain Gods was "great." I know that a lot of time and effort on your part and that of your co-workers went into the party as it was so well arranged — drinks, food and entertainment were delightful, the guests very friendly and everyone appeared to be having a wonderful time. My guest, Sue Wallace, joins me in expressing our thanks for a most entertaining evening."

"And now a personal note for Beautiful Ruidoso. Not only is Ruidoso restful and beautiful, but we have found everyone so friendly, pleasant and most accommodating in every way..." How's that for a testimonial?...

Two-Wheeled Traveler

By Galen Farrington
 "Appliance is a wonderful word; it suggests a power source divorced utterly from the mechanism and its operator. A machine, on the other hand, is alive; the driver (operator) can communicate with the thing one-on-one. Appliances do not really communicate; they simply function."

The above quotation was taken from a recent issue of "Cycle" magazine, one of the more popular motorcycling publications. But the quote has direct meaning to the dedicated bicyclist as well. Last year a third teacher joined the ranks of commuting bicyclists and from the very beginning he never referred to his transportation as "my bike" but rather, "my machine." I always thought the term added flavor and I picked up on it. When I or most two-wheeled travelers think of the automobile, something is formulated in the mind as being appliance in nature. That is, the automobile simply functions. It is so "blase" as to be pathetic. I have never driven a car as a commuter on a regular basis because of this very fact, there is no positive excitement involved. For many (especially city drivers) the only excitement is tension and the prospect of cultivating an ulcer. At this point I should say that the auto is here to stay; motorcycles and bicycles will never replace them, only supplement them.

Many people ask why they should buy a bike to get to and from work when the auto is so easy and that is the problem as I see it; the car is too easy. With all of the appliances we have to serve us from the electric toothbrush to the automobile there is little challenge or daily excitement left for most of us.

Many ask me if the hills don't simply wear me out so much that I can't function properly when I arrive at work. On the contrary, I feel more alive having gotten my blood flowing rapidly through a body which had been relatively motionless for six to eight hours. Sometimes I think of the aftershave-slap in the face commercial on television and really feel sorry for the guy because only his face feels good. I guess his arms and legs are simply appendages with functions given them when absolutely necessary.

One finds that on a machine the shortest route is not the most desirable. A longer route is sought to add more time to the pleasurable experience when one accustoms the body to the only slight rigors of traveling on two wheels. Days become like fingerprints, no two ever alike. You are subject to the whims of nature. You note the gradual seasonal changes and prepare for the elements.

As with most things we ultimately come down to financial feasibility. Most people in this area would find a quality 10-speed bicycle suited to their pedaling needs. Initial cost would be approximately $175 and if you rode it to and from work, you would have saved that much in auto operational expenses in one year at the least. This is not to mention the mental and physical health benefits derived. And if your two wheels must have an engine between them a four stroke, 100-125cc motorcycle is the most practical for commuting. Chris rides her 125 Honda to work most days and looks forward to the thrill every morning. At over 100 miles per gallon of fuel and very low insurance rates, it is a realistic, fun way to beat inflation, especially if your initial cost is as low as in the case of a used bike. But when we come down to the bottom line nothing is economically feasible if you don't use it.

Finally, the last excuse is that it is too difficult to pedal a bicycle in the hills of Ruidoso. Most people that say that to me haven't given themselves a real chance. Admittedly, it is no easy task pushing those pedals 'round and 'round up some of our grades but the pain goes away with the perseverance of a few weeks promising the healthful reward of a job well done.

As you whiz along on your two-wheeled transport a tear will momentarily be shed as drivers of their appliances pass with apparent rapidity, ignorant of their surroundings. And then a hill looms in the distance, a quick change of gears, and the appliances are forgotten as your machine responds to the increased pedal force and you and your machine relate to one another with that one-on-one relationship, befitting the "life" beneath you.

"RACING SADDLE" by Gary Myers, Ruidoso, was named first place winner of water color painting in the professional art show at the 1975 New Mexico State Fair, which opened Sept. 9 in Albuquerque.

mission to take a force of 1100 volunteers into Canada. By the end of December the force had reached Quebec, but the assault ended in disaster.

Approximately 100 men were killed or wounded, 300 were captured, and Arnold was injured. This was the first of many unsuccessful attempts to take Canada.

CANADA INVADED

When the thirteen American colonies were debating their relationship with Great Britain and were moving gradually toward separation, the British colony of Canada was of major concern to Americans.

Because of events since that time Americans tend to think of Canada as a totally separate province that was not at issue. Such was not the case. Each British colony in America was separate from the others; the fact that thirteen of them were able to unite together to form a unified resistance was, in some ways, accidental. We have already noted, for example, that Georgia was late in joining the other colonies.

Many Americans believed that the Canadians were just as unhappy with British rule as they were. They thought that a show of military force would cause the Canadians to rise in rebellion and join Americans. Probably one of the most serious and long-lasting misjudgements in all of American history concerned Canada.

Simply stated, Canadians were not interested in joining the Americans. Several times throughout our past we tried to get Canada to join us in opposition to Britain, but each time we failed.

Early after hostilities began, plans were made to get Canada to join the other colonies. Two hundred years ago this month Benedict Arnold got General Washington's permission to take a force of 1100 volunteers into Canada. By the end of December the force had reached Quebec, but the assault ended in disaster.

Approximately 100 men were killed or wounded, 300 were captured, and Arnold was injured. This was the first of many unsuccessful attempts to take Canada.

In New Mexico John Peyton described the climate as one of the best he had found. He said that the air in Santa Fe was "dry, pure, and bracing." He described the temperatures as mild both in winter and summer. No diseases had appeared that were native to the area. In fact, he believed that the fever he had was a result of traveling through the southern area of the Rio Grande and that he recovered so quickly because he moved rapidly into the climate near Santa Fe.

...He said that survival was more likely in Santa Fe than east of the Rockies. His description of Santa Fe is very clear: "The seasons are mild and agreeable, the atmosphere constantly pure and elastic; and the sky clear, unclouded, and brilliant."

Flavorsome Meat Loaf

Give liver a new image and a new flavor and it will win new friends. If you doubt it, bring to the table Mini Liver-Sausage Loaves.

One taste of these individual miniature meat loaves, baked in muffin pans and topped with pizza sauce, will alter negative attitudes about liver that some members of the family may have, says Reba Staggs, home economist, National Live Stock and Meat Board. Thus liver skeptics as well as those who already enjoy this nutritious variety meat can benefit from the valuable vitamins and minerals it supplies.

Mini Liver-Sausage Loaves
 1 lb. beef liver, sliced 1/2 inch thick
 1 lb. bulk pork sausage
 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
 3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 1/4 cup instant minced onion
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 cup milk
 2 eggs, beaten
 1 can (8 oz.) pizza sauce

Cook liver in lard or drippings to lightly brown both sides, about 5 minutes. Reserve drippings for sauce. Grind liver and combine with pork sausage. Add bread crumbs, minced onion, salt, nutmeg, milk and eggs to meat, stirring lightly to combine thoroughly. Pack mixture into 16 small or 12 medium muffin pans, filling each approximately 3/4 full. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 40 minutes. Serve with pizza sauce. 8 servings.

Woman's Club luncheon and games

Every Monday, at the Ruidoso Woman's Club, there is a covered dish luncheon, followed by card games. All interested women are invited and encouraged to attend. Just bring a covered dish. The clubhouse is on Carrizo Canyon Road, one block south of Sudderth.

Extension Club

The Ruidoso Hondo Valley Extension Club will hold a joint meeting with La Junta Extension Club Wednesday, September 17, 12:00 noon, at the home of Mora Titsworth, Timmie.

The program will be on patriotism.

Absentee policy explained by school

There has been some concern expressed by a few parents over the new attendance policy at Ruidoso High School. Please be assured that the policy is intended to be the hallmark of fairness for all. It was developed after a twelve month study by a concerned faculty committee. They considered similar policies of other New Mexico School Districts and consulted State Department of Education legal counsel.

The intent of the policy is to review the reasons for absences by an impartial body and allow those students who have valid reasons to continue.

The Ruidoso Hearing Authority will review many cases automatically. If, for example, a child is ill and misses three weeks of school, the information will be considered and there should be no parent involvement to have the matter cleared.

Special consideration will be given to those whose parents are tied to the unique nature of our summer economy when the matter of a vacation comes up. However, the parent should call the principal several days prior to departure.

It is not our intent to exclude a student without justification. All factors are to be considered.

We would appreciate comments from parents as the year progresses as the policy will be reviewed after one year.

If you have further concern, please call the office at 257-7324 and visit with me.

Mrs. Stephen Charles Secrest

Rawley - Secrest rites solemnized

Miss Jena Lucille Rawley became the bride of Stephen Charles Secrest at 8 p. m. Saturday, June 6, in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Farmer's Branch, Texas, with the Reverend Richard S. Hall officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Rawley, Jr., of Ruidoso. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Secrest, Dallas, Texas.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory satin applied with lace. A garland of white roses on her head secured a train length matilla of ivory lace. Her bouquet was of white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Miss Vicki Lynne Keathley of Dallas was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Klar Fisher, sister of the bride; Stephanie Secrest, sister of the bridegroom; and Tana Chambliss. Andrea Fisher, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Attendants wore formal gowns of apricot jersey and each carried a long-stemmed apricot rose surrounded by baby's breath.

Serving as best man was David Wayne Secrest, brother of the bridegroom. Grooms-men were John Lowe, Rodney Kruse, and Lanham Lyne. Mac Rawley and Joe Rawley, brothers of the bride, served as acolytes.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of deep apricot crepe-backed satin.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in pale apricot jersey.

The altar was decorated with candelabra and floral arrangements of apricot carnations and white mums. The church was lit with over 150 luminaries in the Spanish tradition of festivities.

Music was furnished by the Camp Crucis Choir, accompanied by six guitars.

A reception in the church parish hall followed the ceremony.

The bride is a 1975 magna- cum-laude graduate of Texas Tech University, where she was a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society. She plans to continue her work as an artist.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas Tech University, where he was a member of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity. He plans to continue his studies in graduate school at Michigan State University.

The couple will be at home in East Lansing, Michigan.

Did you know you could actually lose up to 10,000 miles of tread life in one busy day of extremely bad driving? Former Ruidoso teacher retires after 44 years

R. V. Traylor, who taught school in Ruidoso prior to 1942, has retired after thirty-three years as an elementary school principal in Lordsburg. Twice, during those years, he served as interim superintendent, while also serving as principal. He refused the job of superintendent because he preferred being principal.

Mr. Traylor was well known as an innovative educator; and was honored as Lordsburg Citizen of the Year in 1974.

He plans to go hunting, fishing, traveling and doing all the things he has never had time to do before.

MRS. B

By
BARRON

It was nice having Mrs. Minnie Mae Everett, from Odessa, Texas, only for a short stay; and glad she is feeling better. Her cousin, Mrs. Jessie McCormick of Monroe, La., came with her; and will go on to Hawaii to visit a few weeks. Mrs. Everett took her to El Paso to board the plane. I enjoyed having them 'break bread' with me, and visit a while.

It was good talking with Mrs. Agusta Kathman. She still gets around and cares for her home and yard better than most of us; even though she is bothered with arthritis. But I know there are times she gets lonely, even though she never complains. If those who still drive, would just go by only for a few minutes and say 'hello', I know it would cheer her up; and you will feel better having done so. There are many more in our village just like her, who would like to see something other than their four gray walls, from sunup until sunset - or hear other voices besides their own. I knew Mrs. Kathman in Portales, while Mr. Kathman was still living and enjoyed them very much.

Mr. Juan Ordorica is making me a new garden spot for next year. There are not many places up here where the pines do not shade the ground. My old garden is so rolling, that the terraces have become washed or flattened. Anyhow, it is getting to where it is hard for me to climb up and down the mountain. He and his son plowed up the ground with a rototiller and later will spread some fertilizer, for winter snows to mellow and season into the ground. I am keeping my fingers crossed as to whether we will have water to use in the dry months. (As we didn't this summer).

I think there is nothing better than going out in your very own garden and gathering greens, radishes or onions; no matter if the cost is high. The satisfaction of working in the soil and exercising in the fresh air is invaluable.

I have never had any luck with tomatoes in this high altitude (7,000 ft.), and if anyone has, I wish they would let me know how it is done. Which brings to mind, an article I once read: That smoking around your tomato plants may be injurious to them; especially cigar and pipe. It states: tobacco often carries a virus disease (tobacco mosaic) that will infect tomato plants. How about that?

I also read an interesting article about the first garden book printed in English, by Thomas Hyll, in 1563. I don't know if one should take all of his advice, but his general idea is good.

He states: 'If you want your parsley to be crinkled or curled, bruise the seed or after it comes up roll a small weight on it, or jump up and down on it with your feet.'

He gives detailed instructions as to where to choose a location: -'take heed that the air be not evil and infested with vapors - as it corrupteth the plants and dulleth men's spirits that walk therein.' (Thus we hear of the first pollution).

'The ground also must be sweet,' cautions Hyll, 'tried by tasting.'

He says, 'the ground must be dug after harvest, to be burnt and consumed by the cold and sharp hoary frosts. Then before planting time it shall be weeded, stoned, dug and dunged; and after that dug again.' He states: dung from animals is best and ashes are good to keep away flies and all kinds of worms.

And, 'What so ever you will sow, let it be sown when the moon increases; but the seeds should be gathered in the wayne (his spelling) of the moon. While the seeds may be good for eating; they will not come up, through some malice of celestial bodies.'

Then a good part of his book is devoted to culture and uses of different kinds of plants.

Such as: 'Dry roses put in the nostrils comfort the brain', - or 'to eat raw onions, harms the head and brains, and makes us have bad dreams.' (This may be what ails all of us). But on the other hand, 'onions bruised and mingled with honey, gets warts by the roots.' Also, 'eaten with salt and bread, they protect against the infection of the air.' (There is hint of smog again).

'Make a sauce of garlic, parsley, mint and vinegar and eat it with bread, then man may go safely by stinking places.'

Hyll said a mustard seed has many uses: 'chewed it will cure a sore tongue, or the powder will cure sores in other places, or put in the nostrils, provokes sniffing (colds) and purges the brain of 'superfluties.' (Whatever that is).

He said, 'If you wish to make cucumbers sweet and tender, steep the seeds in sheep's milk and honey.' I suppose this is why ours are sometimes bitter. Huh?

'Ancient husbandmen affirm: that if you bury a speckled toad in an earthen pot, in the middle of your garden, he protects against bad weather. And if thick mists harm the plants, burn heaps of chaff and shrubs through the garden and smoke will help.'

Also, 'if you steep all seeds in the juice of the roots of wild cucumbers before you sow them, it will protect them from all evils, beasts, flies, worms and monstrous things.'

So, here's to good gardening next spring.

FIRE THE POLICE
The mayor of Detroit wants to cut the police force by twenty percent.

And which major U. S. city has the highest murder rate in the Nation?

Detroit, of course. Apparently it's more important to protect the welfare cheaters than the law abiding citizens. Otherwise they would economize by eliminating the cheaters instead of the police.

The mayor of New York has fired firemen. He has eliminated 14 fire companies in a city that has a terrible fire problem.

Since he cut the costs of the fire department 85 people either burned to death or died from smoke inhalation in the areas where the fire companies were eliminated.

He also wants to fire some policemen and correctional officers in order to cut costs.

That, apparently, is better than cutting out free unlimited long distance phone calls for the murderers, robbers, rapists, and other fine people in prison.

Would you believe $750,000 paid by New York City for long distance phone calls for prisoners?

Is that what our founding fathers meant when they wrote the freedom of speech provision into our constitution?

It may be free speech for the prisoners, but it's certainly not free for the taxpayers who pay the phone bills.

If your city is thinking about cutting costs by firing firemen or polishing off policemen, tell them what you think.

There are important and essential reasons for government, and fire and police protection are two of those reasons.

Paying welfare cheaters and providing the comforts of home to criminals should not even be on the list.

The political liberals are bankrupting and destroying our cities.

But, what is worse, on the national level they are bankrupting and destroying our country.

Firing the police in our cities is nothing compared to the dismantling the liberals want to do to our nation's defenses.

Keeping the Armed Services is not enough. We need the B-1 bombers, the Trident subs and Anti-Ballistic Missiles.

Not giving our Armed Services the equipment they need is like taking the bullets away from our police.

We are getting ripe. We may soon be plucked.

How To Make Your Car Unique

With it becoming more difficult to tell one car from another, many motorists are finding they can give their cars a personality that will distinguish them from the rest, and aid in reflecting the owner's identity.

The Automotive Parts and Accessories Association says that this can be tastefully accomplished by the judicious and simple application of decorative tapes and decals. These are readily available from most, if not all, automotive stores and departments.

Following the simple instructions, these decorative devices can be applied in one afternoon to give a car that "one of a kind" look. No tools are needed.

Some car owners like to go hog wild in this direction and dress up a tun car to the point that it becomes a psychedelic manifestation of the ego.

Whatever the extent of their use, they do allow a difference to be expressed, making any car unique.

Warriors fall to Eunice

Red and white intermingled with Blue and Gold at Warrior Stadium Friday night as the Eunice Cardinals came to town with a tough defense and consistent offense to take home a 12-0 victory over the Warriors.

After receiving the opening kickoff, the Big Blue was unable to gain a first down and was forced to kick on fourth. The Cardinals moved the ball to the Ruidoso 25 through a series of pass and running plays with the big gainer being a 25 yard pass by quarterback Matt Frazier to end Monty Bean. This put the Cards on the Warriors' 16 yard line but through 3 downs without gaining yardage, quarterback Frazier rolled out on a fourth down pass attempt but was interrupted by Ron Lowrance, who downed him for a big loss and the Blue and Gold home team took over. After a first down fumble by Ruidoso QB Steve Williams, Danny Brown rambled to his own 44 yard line and a first down. Two more running plays ended the first quarter with neither team showing any big scoring threat.

Ruidoso opened the second quarter with a Williams to Seelbach pass play and an interference penalty against Eunice put the ball on the Cardinal 40. Warriors' first and ten. After an incomplete pass and a one yard gainer by Montoya, "fumblltie" again possessed QB Williams and was recovered by the red shirted Cardinals. After a loss of two yards on two plays, Eunice quarterback Frazier elected to keep the pigskin on an option play and weaved his way to the 15 yard line but a clipping penalty put the ball back to the Ruidoso 45 yard line. The next play saw the Cardinals overcome the penalty by way of a pass from Frazier to Barreet and a TD. The point after was not good and the Red and White Cardinals from Eunice led 6-0 with 9:03 left in the second quarter.

The Cardinals after TD kickoff was scooped up by soph Josh Ensor of the Warriors and returned to his own 31 yard line. The Blue and Gold offense went into action but a stubborn defense from the Southeast Plains held and the Warriors were forced to punt. On the ensuing runback Warrior Clifton Neal delivered a tackle that turned Cardinal back Dave Cottrel end-over-end. Defensively, both teams seemed to come alive as neither could move the ball. With slightly over a minute before the half, Frankie Montoya pounced on a Cardinal fumble and the Warriors began to move downfield. Senior Warrior back Danny Brown weaved through the red and white for 28 yards to the 46. Then Montoya took his turn for 9 yards to the Eunice 45. After incomplete passes by the blue and gold, the Cardinals took over as time ended the first half.

Second half kickoff unleashed by Clifton Neal was picked up by Cardinal Cottrel on his own ten and behind good downfield blocking, hauled in on the Eunice 49. Numerous plays and numerous penalties to both sides finally netted the Cardinals a first down on the Warrior 38. Quarterback Steve Prather of the Red Birds found Dean Crowell on the Warrior 10 with a well placed pass and the senior back from Eunice scooted in for their second touchdown of the evening. The left-footed place kicker for the Cardinals couldn't find his mark and the visitors held a 12-0 lead.

Danny Brown received the kickoff for the Warriors and breezed to his own 38 yard line before being forced out of bounds. The next 3 downs saw only 5 yards gained on a draw play by Montoya. After the Warrior punt the Redshirts managed two first-downs and a fumble by kicker Monty Bean gave the home team the ball on their opponents' 27. After two running attempts by Lanny Brown and QB Williams, a pass to Mike Seelbach netted 5 yards but the Warriors were short of the first down mark and the Cardinals took over on downs. Warrior defense led by Lowrance brothers and Frankie Montoya held and forced a short punt by the Cardinals which ended the third quarter with Ruidoso in possession on the Eunice 31 yard line.

Teams swapped punts and the next series of downs, for the home team were short-lived as the Cardinal defense forced a fumble and recovered the ball on their own 43. Eunice managed a first down but like a thorn in their side, the Lowrances were there and Ruidoso took over. Both teams rambled back and forth at mid-field, unable to move against each other. With 32 seconds left to play and the Big Blue Warriors in possession, Clifton Neal hauled in a Steve Williams pass on his own 40 and with the goal line in his sights, weaved, bobbed and twisted to the foe's 15 before a shoestring tackle stopped him short of his destination and time ran out before the Warriors could put together another drive.

Gina Klinekole enters Indian Miss contest

Gina Ruth Klinekole, a Mescalero Apache girl from Tularosa, has entered the competition for Miss Indian New Mexico, planned in connection with activities at the popular Indian Village at the 1975 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

The 18-year-old Miss Klinekole will be competing to succeed another Mescalero Apache girl, Rene Cooper, who currently holds the title.

The winner will be crowned in festivities starting at 4 p. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 17, which is Indian Day at the 1975 exposition. The announcement will come after two days of competitions.

Gina, a graduate of Tularosa High School, is currently a freshman student at Eastern New Mexico University, where her major is psychology guidance and counseling.

She's the daughter of Bruce and Virginia Klinekole of Tularosa and is sponsored by Mescalero Tribal Summer Recreation.

Gina will perform the traditional Apache chant, accompanying herself on native drum, in the talent portion of the competition.

The 1975 New Mexico State Fair — The Biggest Show In New Mexico — continues in Albuquerque through Sunday, Sept. 21.

The Dreamer

by Danlle Storm

This part of this dreamy message is being sent on a misty-moisty day in early September, Sunday, the seventh. All day the weather could not make up its mind whether to be summer or fall. It is evening now and ever so still. Even the tall grama grass, like close-growing miniature gold clubs standing on end is so still that it looks to be in a picture of a field. The same for the pinon and cedar. Such a still evening! And so quiet too. The light, grey clouds also motionless above like a soft ceiling — they hold the silence and the stillness of the world captive. Not even the sound of a cricket yet. Wait a minute. There it is: Trull. Trull. Ever so faint and slow breaking the evening stillness.

The Swallows — Have They Gone?

A minute ago I happened to look out on the REA wires and there was blank place where the swallows usually rest just before dusk, telling me good-night. These tame little birds are lots of company to a Ridge Runner over across the creek. And suddenly there was a little pang of loneliness inside when I realized that maybe my little bird friends had quietly "folded their tents like the Arab and silently stolen away." If I do not see them around tomorrow I will know they are getting settled in their winter home in Mexico.

Harry Whiteley

As I stepped into the Hollywood Food Mart, Beth Brown told me last week that her brother, Harry Whiteley, had been called by Our Lord to That Bright and Happy Shore. Harry, always a sunshine and helpful fellow will be remembered always in Ruidoso and in Lincoln County. His friends are countless; and we extend our sympathies to these friends, and to Harry's loved ones. May they take comfort in knowing Harry has gone to join other friends and loved ones in the Place of Peace and Joy that Our Lord has prepared for us.

The Beauty of Fall Begins Early This Time

When the swallows leave for Mexico, the snow birds are more than likely packing their bags to get on board the Klondike express, The Yukon Cannon-Ball, or the Northern Lights special, or some other branch of the North Wind, Rocky - Mountain, Pacific and Southwest Air Ways, and come flying in here with the snow not far behind.

Already the gold and purple of Autumn is making its beginning. The purple New England Asters are beginning to bloom by the wayside. And the Goldenrod and Sun Flowers are beginning to flash their colors.

This is the time of the arrival of the Blue Bird. They are everywhere here to cheer us — both kinds, the American Blue Bird with the dark blue coat and the red breast; and the Western Blue Bird who is all light blue.

Austin Bryant

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bryant are great friends of our little citizens of the sky and trees. Austin was telling me the other day about some young robins taking turns bathing in the little pool in the yard. Then they all lined up for singing lessons. The parent bird would give the notes and the young birds would try to imitate the sound, "Just like a boy learning to whistle," said Austin.

Jack Frost Sends A Brief Message

Dear Lincoln County Friends:

Just a word to tell you not to get worried about this show of early fall. In a wet year we have these signs. But also in wet years it is really not as cold. It is wind that makes the weather cold, and this comes in dry winters.

I am trying to work out a beautiful Aspencade season for you all. (There I go. I have been around Ruidoso so long that I have picked up the Texas drawl).

You can look forward to a beautiful fall, autumn, and Indian summer. Do you know the difference between these three seasons? If you do not, get the Ridge Runner to tell you.

Well, if there are any severe weather changes on foot, I will let the Ridge Runner know, and he can tip you off.

Keep smiling, and be helpful wherever you can. With best wishes I remain,

Your Friend,
Jack W. Frost

Dreaming By The Pinon Fire

A dreamer is right where he belongs when he is in front of a fireplace fire, especially a pinon fire. There is something about pinon wood burning that casts a spell on you. The fire is so quiet, the flame so golden, the aroma like incense from a far-off, story book land. You can be there in front of the dreamy pinon fire living now in the days of long ago and now in the days far ahead. Your whole life past and the infinity of your life ahead are all close around you by the pinon fire.

Fermin Chavez

Fermin Chavez, born and raised in the Vale of San Patricio, was called Home by our Heavenly Father last week. A true "Caballero" (horseman and gentleman), Fermin is remembered by a wide circle of friends. I have known the boy all his life. His friends and loved ones may take comfort in knowing Our Lord in His infinite power and kindness has Fermin in His loving care and protection.

A Safe and Sound Winter and Fall

With the frost and ice of the fall and winter, let us be doubly careful on the highway. Let us look out for the children waiting for the school buses on the highway and streets.

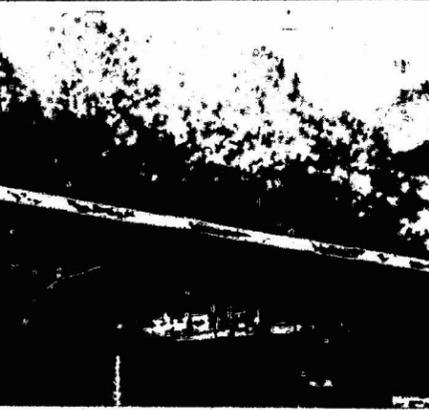

Let us have a happy, safe and sound fall and winter. Keep smiling and be thankful to the Lord.

Tire traction will do just so much to stop you safely in traffic. Traffic safety experts recommend maintaining one car length between vehicles for each 10 miles of speed. In other words, at 50 miles an hour, stay five car lengths back.

Insects are causing problems around the home and garden. The elm leaf beetle is causing many elms to lose part or all of their leaves. This pest can be controlled with Diazinon, but control over the entire area is necessary, otherwise the beetles move from the nearby trees and you still have the problem.

Aphids, Harlequin bug and tomato fruit worms are among the pests causing problems in the garden. They can be controlled with Sevin or Malathion. Be sure to observe the waiting periods before eating any vegetables out of the garden after spraying.

RRD

Lambs for October delivery have been bringing $40.00 per hundred weight for straight Mutton Lambs.

October calf contracts are reported from nearby areas to be $35.00 per hundred weight for reputation steer calves. Contracting activities have been very slow to develop in this area with no definite local trend developing.

Wyoming reports 600-750 pound yearling steers contracting for $33 to $36 per hundred weight and heifers for $28 to $30 per hundred weight.

RRD

Keep Bugs Out: Keep ants, spiders and cockroaches from entering the home by spraying the outside foundation. Spray or dust the appropriate pesticides around the foundation on walls, porches and steps. When fighting ants, try to find their nest. When they come from behind a wall or under the floor, some flooring or carpet may need to be removed from there before the nest can be sprayed. You can use Lindane or Diazinon.

A number of sprays are effective against spiders. Remember, however, that spiders are not only shy and retiring but are beneficial. They kill flies, mosquitoes, mites and other bothersome insects. Unless they become too numerous, a homeowner can leave most spiders alone.

Cockroaches feed on a wide range of food. They enjoy cheese, bread, meat, garbage and bookbindings. The best prevention is a clean house. Also watch for cockroaches that may come in from outside. Many pesticides, both contact and residual types, are effective against cockroaches. Spray or dust window and door frames, around drainboards, around and under sinks, in cracks and holes, near pipes and in cupboards and under rugs.

The Fork in The Future

In the next hundred years the human race will have to make a decisive choice to live with high technology or give it up.

Our advanced technology is something new in history with 90 percent of all the scientists who ever lived, still alive and thinking.

The computer, currently in infant stages, is growing amazingly, with new processes for storing, processing, and retrieving data invented almost daily. Even the pocket calculator does more each year for less than half the price.

In a dozen other fields, from nuclear physics to astronomy, and studies of the genetic code in biology to the theory of plate tectonics in geology, progress is plunging on at a rapid pace.

As long as we keep our advanced technology, we will be piling up facts about our universe and ourselves. We'll be perfecting all sorts of machines from artificial hearts to space vehicles and inventing new devices for uses not yet dreamed of.

Presently we have not learned to live with this sort of technology, while the new things in the world are already demanding wholesale changes in our social institutions, our traditions and beliefs, and our entire style of life. If we fail to make these changes, we are likely to lose not only technology, but our whole civilization.

War is the first of the demands we must give up. Old-style war was harmful enough with stone axes, longbows, machine guns, and tanks. The new-style war in our nuclear age could kill us all.

Second, we must give up uncontrolled breeding. When human infants were in danger from leopards, smallpox, or enemy tribes, large families were essential for survival. Now our greatest danger is our own mushrooming population.

Bad habits of squandering resources of our planet must also be given up, in addition to learning to respect our environment.

We must somehow rise above most of our age-old divisions of nation, race, class, and faith and learn to act for the good of all mankind. This will not be easy, but the penalties for failure are almost too cruel to contemplate.

In "Tricentennial Century" columns to come, we will take a closer look at alternatives ahead and the choices we must make.

Dr. Jack Williamson, English professor, Eastern New Mexico University.
