The winning pictures of the "Snow in May on Old Baldy" contest — brainchild of KRRR's Ed Hyman — were picked Monday with $50 first prize to Bill Pitt, $25 second to Herb Brunell and $15 third to Wm. W. Dean.

Judging of more than 100 entries, was on the basis of showing the snow on Sierra Blanca in May with originality, in also depicting spring in the valley, the sole criteria. Judges were Hyman, Glenn Pike of The Ruidoso Magazine, Ken Green and Cale Dickey of The Ruidoso News.

"Perhaps the rules should have been explicit," Hyman said, "to incorporate the idea that though there was snow on Sierra Blanca it was indeed spring in the valley. This may well be the first picture contest to help promote Ruidoso as the Playground of the Southwest, in which event we'll develop some hard and fast rules and classifications."

Sixty-four seniors graduating Friday

Commencement exercises for 64 Ruidoso High School seniors will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Warrior football stadium.

The Bicentennial class of 1976 has chosen the red rose and the colors red, white and blue for its graduation ceremony and will use the motto "A man is no greater than his dream, his ideal, his hope and his plan. Man dreams the dream and fulfills it, it's the dream that makes the man." The class song is "Oh Very Young" by Cat Stevens.

Valedictorian for this year's class is Marvella Mayo. Ms. Mayo will give the farewell address at commencement and salutatorian Ruth Bonnell will deliver the welcome address.

Other speakers at the ceremony include W. C. Williams and Galen P. Farrington who will talk on "Some Thoughts from a Teacher."

Diplomas will be presented by Supt. Pat

Valliant, school board president Dave Parks and awards will be presented by counselor James Sanchez.

Memorial Day Handicap running Sunday

Weekend action at Ruidoso Downs will be highlighted by the running of the first three-year-old thoroughbred stakes, the $5,000-added Memorial Day Handicap at 5 1/2 furlongs, Sunday.

The Memorial Day 'cap — even though it'll run a day ahead of time — figures to be quite an affair. Racing secretary Tom Dawson had the names of 19 hopefuls on his desk when nominations closed.

Heading up the list is Curra Call, the brilliant gelding owned by C. M. Bogle of Dexter, N.M. Curra Call kicked off his career at such big-league tracks as Hollywood Park and Del Mar on the West Coast. But his first win came on the California fair circuit, where he ripped up maidens by eight lengths.

The gelding made his Southwest debut at Sunland Park in mid-March and banged out a six-length score over allowance sprinters. In his encore appearance, he sped to a three-length win in the Daily Racing Form Handicap at six panels.

His only recent disappointment came during Sunland's closing weekend, when he finished third to King's Riches as an odds-on favorite traveling six furlongs. King's Riches is also included among those nominated to the Memorial Day 'cap. Another standout is Tracy Dias, winner of Sunland's $26,125 Eyes of Texas Futurity.

The other nominees: Brud's Boy, Curra Call, Maggie Burner, Peter Pistola, Mist A Dance, Freedom To Be, Henow, Lefty

Right, Paye Lue, Sun Mex, Sona Bird, Windy Tour, Trukin Louie, Foolish Der-vish, Bushafire, Icanutit, Fully Tiptoe.

Brud's Boy looks like a dangerous factor in view of his two sharp sprint wins at Sunland. Another sharp-shooter is Henow, who clicked by a length last week with a bold stretch move.

The four-day turf weekend kicks off on Friday and extends through Monday. First post each day is 1:30 p.m.

Saturday's program centers attention on the 50 survivors from last week's initial qualifying stanza for the upcoming $375,000 (est.) Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity. Five 350-yard trials will com-

Downs trustees okay occupational license

The Ruidoso Downs trustees Monday passed an Occupational Licensing Ordinance to control the operations of itinerant vendors.

License fees were set at $25 for the first day of business and $10 a day thereafter, up to a period of two weeks.

The ordinance requires the licensee to have a gross receipts number or a copy of the application for the number. Applicants must state the nature of the business and the length of time it is to be operated.

Penalties, under the ordinance which is in effect, for non-compliance have been set at $300 fine or 90 days in jail, or both. The trustees, after being advised by village attorney Richard Parsons there is an ordinance in effect governing cleanup in the village, approved action to institute the cleanup immediately.

In order for punitive measures of the ordinance to be imposed, Parsons said, "the property must be deemed as a public menace or a health hazard. The owner or occupant must be notified as to the intent of the Village and a hearing must be granted, if so requested."

"If, after notification by the Village authorities, the owner or occupant does not voluntarily clean up the property then the Village may go on to the property and remove any debris and litter that constitutes a menace or hazard."

In other action the trustees—

—Approved a $50 donation to the Ruidoso Public Library to help defray increased costs of additional summer help.

—Discussed the need and authorized negotiations for playground equipment for the new All-American Municipal Park.

RHS "ACTORS", Bart Owen, Jack Walsh, Shawn Griffith and Dawn Griffith, received outstanding awards for their performance in the play, "The Waiting Room."

Drama students receive awards

Awards were given last week to RHS students for their performance in the play "The Waiting Room" presented at the 1976 Southwest High School Theatre Festival at U.N.M.'s Rodey Theatre January 15-18.

Certificates of Merit were presented to Jack Walsh, Bart Owen and Shawn Griffith and a Certificate of Distinction to Dawn Griffith.

Others appearing in the play were Susan Miller, Donda Pippin, John Hall, Mike Buckley and Kelly Taylor. Student Assistant to Mr. Ken Newsom was Francine Brillante.

The play was about how four blind, elderly residents of a private hospital cling to the belief that their sight will be restored by the "Doctor" in whom they have unshakable faith. Told that they may

"wait" for the cure in a room newly decorated in Oriental style, and faced with the truth of their situation, they are unable to accept the fact that their only cure lies in "waiting" for the certain death that is... one by one... claiming them all.

Student Council meets

RHS Student Council members held their last meeting Wednesday, May 19, in the high school library.

They discussed and voted on purchasing a flag pole which will be standing in front of the high school office. Also there was discussion and approved voting on giving six $100 scholarships awarded to graduating seniors. A scholarship committee made of faculty members will select six seniors to receive the awards.

A hamburger fry is scheduled for Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. at Cedar Creek. This will be the last Student Council function for this year.

American Society chooses students

The Society of Distinguished American High School Students' Annual Awards Program which offers merit awards and renewable college scholarships to well known colleges and universities throughout the United States has announced its list of 1975-76 members from Ruidoso High School. They are as follows:

Gretchen Annala, Ruth Bonnell, Debra Clarke, Jacque Haddix, Debbie Jones, Danny Masters, Marveta Mayo, Gina Petroni, and Gary Whitten.

These honor students were nominated because of their excellence in academic and civic activities.

DECA holds banquet

The RHS DECA Club held their fifth annual DECA Banquet on May 20. The banquet started at 7 p.m. and was held at the Redman's Club.

Outstanding members of the club were chosen and they are: 1st — Tammy Tadlock, 2nd — Janette Richardson and 3rd — Deb Clarke.

Special awards were presented to the advisory board, which consisted of Tom Hansen, Cliff Owen, Larry Scarborough, Buz Browning and Gala Pearson.

The banquet also recognized all of the local DECA employers and there was a presentation of slides from the Chicago DECA Conference.

SCHOOL IS OUT!

Well here it is the end of school. Soon the halls of Ruidoso high will no longer echo with the sound of little feet running to class.

Thursday, May 26 will be the last day for the seniors at RHS and Friday is the big day, graduation!

The schedule for the rest of the classes will be as follows: Monday, May 31 — they will be off for Labor Day, they come back Tuesday, June 1, Wednesday, June 2 they will be off for a teachers work day, and Thursday, June 3, they come back to pick up their report cards.

The seniors would like to say good-by and to thank all the teachers for putting up with them for all these years.

Prom held Saturday May 22

On Saturday, May 22, a very special event happened at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. The junior class of Ruidoso High School presented "The 1976 Space Odyssey" to the seniors. At seven o'clock in the evening the clock's pendulum chimed as the banquet got under way.

The invocation was given by Arlene Gonzales. Jim Lowrance was Toastmaster of the evening. Junior class president, Wanda Sanchez, read the beautiful Welcome, "Poem To The Seniors". The senior class president, Gary Whitten, gave the acceptance speech followed by Francine Brillante with the hilarious class prophecies. The daring class wills were read dramatically by Mike Seelbach. The wills were received with an open mind and a good sense of humor.

After the programs were presented the juniors, seniors, and the sponsors ate their wonderful dinner with a tremendous appetite.

Mr. Dub Williams, Miss Ramona McAdams, and Mrs. Katharine Travis presented to the anxious audience, "Wild Kingdom". Using animal pictures representing each senior student of '76, the teachers used this chance to show their version of the "sweet" senior class.

The dance followed after. The crowning of the king and queen, prince and princess was done during the first break. Prince Kirk Eubank and Princess Sandra Sanchez ruled over the crowd with King Frankie Montoya and Queen Cheryl Durham radiantly reigning over the entire prom party.

A movie at the Mt. Vue Drive-In was a treat after the dance, "Hearts of the West" was presented.

Breakfast at the Holiday House was served to the classes at 4 a.m. At 5 a.m. the entertaining and wonderful evening and early morning celebration finally ended for most of the celebrators with the memories of the night's activities lingering in their minds.

The entire senior class would like to give their thanks to the hard working juniors who presented to them a beautiful prom.

NHS-Student Council hold installations

National Honor Society and Student Council officers held their installation Friday, May 21 in the RHS gym. NHS installation was a candle light ceremony. Incoming members were Jeanne Brown, Mike Seelbach, Kevin Lane, Phillip Linburg, Charlie Colvill, Liza Cabot, Patti Hall, Alfred Romero, Patricia Reaves, Donna Clarke and Kim Leskonvansky.

In Student Council outgoing officers are Rick Tate — president, installing Liza Cabot, Debbie Jones — Vice-president, installing Jerry Garcia, Cathy Wilson — Secretary-treasurer, installing Julie Gooch and Cindy Roberts — Business manager installing Van Patton. The old officers gave their congratulations and wished them luck for the coming years.

Girl slugs home run to open LL season

Kody Taylor, budding cleanup hitter with the Security Bank Little League nine, belted a home run — and struck a big blow for "Girl's Lib" — May 24 in pacing her teammates to a 5-4 win over the Redman's Club.

This is the first year girls have been accepted in the Little League baseball program and Kody did indeed do her part to make this addition auspicious.

Official Little League sanction has also been obtained this year to allow the league's winners to advance into state tournament play and advancement to regional and national competition.

Score for the opening week's play include:

Major League:
May 18 — Ruidoso State Bank over the Redman's Club, 12-0. Winning pitcher was Billy Woodul.

May 20 — Redman's Club over the Elk's Club, 7-6. Winning pitcher — Scott Neal. Losing pitcher — John Frye.

May 21 — Ruidoso State Bank over Security Bank, 8-7. Winning pitcher — Mike Dale. Losing pitcher — Don Nunley.

May 24 — Security Bank over the Redman's Club, 5-4. Winning pitcher — Kelly Wood. Losing pitcher — Scott Neal.

NOTE: Clinics in Capitan, Hondo and Corona will be discontinued during June and July, and will start again in August.

Anyone interested in Family Planning or Well Baby Clinics phone 648-2412 for an appointment.

May 25 — Tie game at the end of six innings. Called because of darkness. Ruidoso State Bank, 4, Security Bank, 4. Pitchers — Billy Woodul (Rds. State) and Brad Miller (Security). Double play by Ruidoso State from Woodul to Mike Dale to Bill Richardson.

Minor League:
May 24 — Bert Mount over Gibson's, 8-7. Winning pitcher — Sean Dunlap. Losing pitcher — Tony Rue. Rue also hit a homerun in the game which brought in three runs for Gibson's.

May 25 — Coca-Cola over Clardy's, 10-8.

Legion installs officers

Romeo Klein was installed as commander of Robert J. Hagee Post 79, American Legion, at ceremonies conducted by George P. White, past district commander, in the Legion Hall, May 20.

Also installed were William G. Shrecengost, first vice commander; Ernest Hughes, second vice commander; Elton E. Beinbauer, chaplain; Russell G. Loomis, adjutant-treasurer; Forrest Wilcox, Sgt.-at-Arms; Robin Byrd, historian and White as service officer.

Klein announced that the Legion's summer bingo games will begin May 29 in the Legion Hall on Sudderth and continue each Saturday, with play starting at 7:30 p.m.

Post meetings are held the third Thursday of each month, at 7:30 p.m.

Racing sidelights

CAUGHT IN THE ACT of studying The Racing Form is celebrated Ruidoso Downs trainer Bubba Cascio. He was merely checking up on the opposition.

BY CALE DICKEY
News Editor

Racing fans pay no attention to newspaper photographers and the resulting pictures give an insight into the concentration employed while picking a pony to wager on ... or enjoying a victory smile.

One humorous incident, not recorded on film, occurred just before the first race Saturday.

A couple, probably nearing their eighties, armed with The Racing Form, program and notebooks, were discussing the first race. He said, "I pick 7 and 3." She demurred. "8 and 4." He grimaced. Left. Returned with tickets. "I got 'em five times."

While the race was being run, excitement prevailed at their table. When the race was over, the strain of awaiting the photo finish result was apparent.

7 and 3 were flashed on the tote board. They looked at each other and, simultaneously, said, "Oh, shucks." Or something.

Bicentennial observed by Hondo students

The primary classes of Hondo Elementary School presented a Bicentennial program, with most of the materials selected, organized and written by the students, for their parents and friends May 14.

The program included patriotic songs, original stories and poems with Yankee Doodle, The Virginia Reel and Missouri Hoedown as early American dances.

Prize winners included Tony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Chavez, best poem; Niki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Olson, and Gabriella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gomez, program cover design.

A LAST MINUTE PEEK at the old program is sometimes a necessity when there's a big decision to be made and the betting windows are about to close.

WHEN YOU'VE MADE a good choice, as proven when the race has been run and won, you just naturally look at the program again ... and smile.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

The State of New Mexico school law requires that children may not enroll in school if they are not immunized. They must be immunized for diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus (lock-jaw), polio and measles (both rubeola and rubella).

Please check with your physician or local Health Department if your child's immunizations are not complete — do not wait until school starts in August — get their immunizations completed now.

AND THAT'S THE WAY IT WAS — Historical writer Eve Ball recounts stories of the Old West to a class of Ruidoso High School students. The students were studying the Lincoln County War under teacher Dean Hood and took this opportunity to utilize the firsthand experience and numerous interviews of Ms. Ball to find out the true story of the battle.

Baccalaureate services held

Baccalaureate services began at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 23. The procession was played by Mrs. Jessie Lee Hawkins, with the invocation given by Reverend Father Flavio Santillanes. Tana Locke read the scripture from Matthew 22: 34-40. Reverend Kenneth Cole gave the sermon.

Reverend Noble Wilshire gave the Benediction. The graduation commencements will be held Friday, May 28 at 8 p.m. on the Warrior field.

Designed around a "4-story" garden.

This natural-cedar custom home provides separate levels for each of 4 basic family activities. But its most striking feature is a large central atrium — a 22-ft.-high, year-round garden court which faces the entry-level foyer, but can be seen and enjoyed from every level.

The entry level also includes garage, large game area, storage room and half bath. Four steps up are the dining area, kitchen, laundry and family room. Level 3 is devoted to a formal living room, located in the center of the illustration above; 4 bedrooms and 2 baths occupy the 4th-level quiet zone. Containing more than 3,000 sq. ft., plus garage, this made-to-order plan is a dramatic example of the design flexibility inherent in our pre-cut, engineered homes. Legion, DAV Memorial Day service Sunday

Memorial Day services will be conducted Sunday at 8:30 a.m., at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso, with the Rev. Mr. Wayne Joyce of the Ruidoso Baptist Church as the speaker.

The ceremonies will be conducted jointly by members of Robert J. Hagee Post No. 78, American Legion and Coe-Curry Chapter 22, Disabled American Veterans.

"The public is invited to this service," Legion commander Romeo Klein said, "honoring those who have died in the service of our country in all of its wars."

Swimming pool opening Monday

The Ruidoso Municipal Pool, in Schoolhouse Park on Sudderth, opens for the season Monday.

Pool hours have been set from noon to 5 p.m., daily.

Lessons will be given between 10 a.m. and noon, with scheduling information available at the pool.

Lifeguards and swimming instructors are Vonnice Yoder, Vicki Veater and Donna Bruss; with Ms. Bruss handling private lessons and water ballet instruction.

Admission will be $1 per person, per session, with $25 season tickets available.

"The heating system is ready," pool manager Barry Nelson said.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners request written sealed bids to be received on or before June 18, 1976 for the following:

A. One (1) Solar Energy System to be installed on Captain Mountain.

Based on 12 volt two-way radio 5 watt continuous, 255 watt key down 20% duty cycle (110) watt output.

Battery supply capacity of at least 800 amp hours at 12 volts. Battery to be tested to 40°F.

Solar array to be located on Captain Mountain, latitude 32° 36' 43", longitude 105° 21' 28".

(1). Solar panels must be of modular construction which would allow field replacement of 12 volt modules, if a bad cell were to occur or disconnection of one or more cells if ever required.

(2). Unit to be provided with voltage control for battery charge regulation.

(3). Solar panels to be built and wired in parallel, not in series (so if one panel were to quit functioning the whole string would not quit, like some Christmas lights).

Batteries to be supplied will be similar to C&D Model KCPA 410 Photovoltaic.

C. The system to be installed on Captain Mountain, Lincoln County, New Mexico, on stand that will have a minimum of eight feet (8') ground clearance. The stand to be located about 200 feet from the building where the batteries are to be stored.

Bids will be opened at 10:00 a.m. Send bid to P.O. Box 711, Carrizozo, New Mexico. For further information call 648-2313.

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Underinflated tires waste $ millions

Motorists may waste more than $100 million in needless tire wear this summer unless they pay more attention to proper inflation than usual, the Tire Industry Safety Council said.

Estimates by the U.S. Department of Commerce are that tires underinflated by four pounds of air pressure have tread life cut by ten per cent, and underinflation by 12 pounds can cut 40 per cent. The Department also has estimated tire consumers spend $4.9 billion a year on new replacement tires.

"Even with only five per cent excess wear, underinflation would cost tire users $250 million this year," Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr., Chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council pointed out.

This means at least $62.5 million would be lost during a quarter-year. But, turnpike records show that passenger car travel doubles or even triples in peak summer driving months compared with winter.

"Underinflated tires waste gasoline, too, because they use more energy," Lovell said.

Government surveys have shown that more than one out of four cars has at least one seriously underinflated tire.

Correct inflation pressure for your tires can be found in the car owner's manual or on a sticker attached to the door or glove compartment. Maximum inflation pressure is molded into the sidewall of the tire.

Pressure in tires should be checked before starting out when tires are "cold." Up to four pounds of air pressure should be added if driving for long periods at high legal speeds, but maximum tire pressure must be observed.

Other tire safety and maintenance tips for summer drivers suggested by the Council are:

"Bald" tires with less than 1/16th inch of tread remaining are skid-prone and get more flats. They should be replaced.

Vacation luggage and recreational equipment are often heavy. Don't overload the tires or the vehicle's suspension.

Don't let air out of "hot" tires after driving. Some air pressure build-up occurs naturally with use and will subside as the tire cools.

Rotate tires according to patterns in the car owners manual or as recommended by tire manufacturers.

Remove foreign objects such as stones, glass fragments, or metal from tire tread before it becomes imbedded and possibly damages the tire.

Check wear patterns on tires as clues to proper wheel alignment, balance, and condition of brakes and shock absorbers.

Beware of "summer ice" when rain falls on top of oily road film, particularly after long dry spells.

These tips and other are listed in the Consumer Tire Guide. Motorists may obtain a free copy by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business size envelope to Tire Industry Safety Council, Box 1801, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Tricentennial Century

The Future Fate Of Capitalism
Suppose you had dreamed up a perfectly wonderful invention? A new machine, let's say, that would turn tap water into knockless motor fuel or high proof alcohol or everlasting paint.

Here in America, with a little luck and good legal advice, you could patent the process, borrow funds and hire labor, build a factory, organize a sales force, market your product, and earn a private fortune.

According to Walter Prescott Webb, your freedom to do that was one of the gifts of the great frontier. Born about the time of Columbus, it seems to be in danger now, with the free lands gone and the frontiers closed.

Over most of the world, private capitalism is dying or dead. In the socialist states, the industrial managers would frown over your new invention and declare that they saw no place in the current five-year plan for increased production of fuel or alcohol or paint. Even where some economic freedom still exists, your new enterprise might be stifled by bureaucratic regulation, union demands, and pyramiding taxation.

You would face still other hazards, likely to grow through our coming century. One threat lies in the economics of specialization and mass production. To make efficient use of specialized labor on the production line, your new firm might need to be enormous. Being enormous, it would acquire a power inviting or even demanding official regulations. The great corporations have to be policed.

There is less justice in another threat, that from the rising tide of equalitarianism. If it proves impossible at last to lift all the billions of the world's exploding population to the same high economic level, at least it will always be possible to pull everybody down to the same level, finally to universal famine. Even here in America, the banks and the great corporations are already denounced as enemies of the common man. "Profit" has become a dirty word.

Such trends seem likely to run through our next century, in spite of all the evidence that the capitalistic nations can maintain higher living standards than the controlled economies, in spite of reports from the socialized nations that the state farms are less productive than the tiny private lots. Politicians will no doubt keep climbing into power on the ancient formula, "Tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect."

Yet I think there is hope for the survival of some sort of economic freedom in Robert Ardrey's notion of the territorial imperative. As human animals, we need territory. Private property is a very basic sort of territory, offering the essential identity and security that Ardrey says we require. Threatened, it offers us a vital stimulation.

Human nature, in the long run, may well triumph over all the equalitarian hordes, the trust-busters and the nationalizers and the regulators and the tax collectors, to keep alive some kind of system in which the able individual will be rewarded for providing us with a better motor fuel or a cheaper alcohol or an everlasting paint. /Dr. Jack Williamson, English professor, Eastern New Mexico University.

Control pinon insects with water

Pinon needle skin insects can be controlled easily and safely if you act before they hatch, usually before the second week of June. John J. Durkin, Extension entomologist, New Mexico State University, says strong blasts of water, used at the right time can control these pests.

Signs of scale insect infestation are yellowing or browning of the foliage, short needles, black peppered scales on the needles and premature needle dropping.

Durkin says the insects lay eggs in bark cracks and around the tree base. The egg masses look like white cottony webbing.

It is when all the eggs are concentrated in one location, before they hatch, that this "no insecticide" treatment can be used.

Strong blasts of water will wash the eggs of the tree. Durkin reminds that the trunk, branch crotches and underside of the branches all need to be washed.

Rake and destroy all litter from around the tree. Although the litter can dry a day or two before raking, Durkin warns that it must be destroyed before the eggs can hatch.

prise Saturday's final elimination round. Icancutit, a chestnut gelding who's been chasing some swift company, puts his speedy tactics on display in Friday's features.

The six-furlongs encounter for three year olds offers a $2,000 allowance purse. Icancutit will break from the No. 6 post in Friday's feature, with Jerry Burgess in command at 116 pounds. Two weeks ago, the gelding made his seasonal bow in a 5½ furlongs sprint, was launched as a 4-1 shot, but faded to sixth after holding second deep in the stretch.

During the spring, Icancutit made three ventures at Sunland Park. He got away flying each time, but was hard-pressed to hang on. He kicked off his Sunland campaign in a 5½-furlong dash in early April, and led until the final stages. He ended up a close third. Then he was back to take on the stakes star, Smooth Stuff, and finished third after setting a quick pace.

On May 2, Icancutit again tried to steal the race with early speed, but conked out after the final bend and finished fourth.

Here's the way the field lines up for Friday's topper: 1—Clemenistic, 104; 2—Fols Wish, 116; 3—Relics Goldie, 108; 4—Like Dottie, 109; 5—Lady Monitor, 113; 6—Icancutit, 116; 7—Potomac Miss, 104; 8—Infinite Traffic, 114; 9—Shame on Mane, 116; 10—Service Over, 118.

Service Over, the property of the Bloss-DuPont Stable of El Paso, is a stakes winner who'll be making his first seasonal appearance. His record show three wins—all at Sunland Park in '75. He started off with a maiden win at 4½ furlongs, then moved up to swifter company for a score in the El Dorado Futurity. The last triumph came over allowance competition.

Willie Lovell, Ruidoso's defending jockey champ, will be aboard Service

Clemenistic made two visits to the Sunland winner's circle during the spring season. The roan filly batted out a length win at 5½ furlongs, then was back to claim an easy 2¼-length score over $5,500 claimers.

Another tough cookie is Potomac Miss, the property of Guy Bowers of Pampa, Texas. The chestnut filly posted her maiden win at Sunland on Feb. 8, hitting the tape with nearly three lengths to spare. Her encore victory came in mid-March, when she upset $7,500 claimers at better than 12-1. She ended the six-furlongs dash with a ¾-length lead.

Infinite Traffic, who'll have Gary Sumpter calling the shots, turned in a steady campaign in Sunland. He had a hard time finding the winner's circle, but he did manage, at one point, to get in the money in nine straight pins. His outing was staged on April 30, he ran a crisp second—beaten only a head—a 6-5 favorite. That performance figures to get plenty of attention in Friday's affair.

Saturday's program will be topped by five second-round elimination trials for the upcoming $375,000 (est.) Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity. On Sunday, three-year-olds take center stage for the Memorial Day Handicap. (This year, the event will be run a day in advance of the actual holiday.)

Nominees for the Memorial Day 'cap: Brud's Boy, Curra Call, Maggie Burner, Peter Pistola, Mist A Dance, Freedom To Be, Henow, Lefty Right, Kings Riches, Paye La, Sun Mex, Tracy Dias, Sona Bird, Windy Tour, Trukin Louie, Foolish Der-vish, Bushafire, Icancutit, Fully Tiptoe.

Schautteet wins Junior net title

Kevin Schautteet, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Osbourn of Ruidoso, won the Boys 11-14 singles title against a dozen competitors in the Ruidoso Junior Invitational Tennis Tournament last weekend.

A freshman at Ruidoso High School this year, Schautteet beat Tim Draelos of Silver City 6-3, 6-4 in the finals of the junior tournament to take his division.

Schautteet and his brother Kyle also made it to the semi-finals in Boys 11-18 Doubles, but were defeated by Ruidoso's Paul Easter and Alamogordoan Mark Gressett 6-1, 6-2.

Easter and Gressett took second place in doubles behind David Price and Fred Skinner from Alamogordo. Price and Skinner swept the pair in the finals, 6-2, 6-0.

Gressett won individual honors in Boys 15-18 Singles with a 6-1, 6-0 win over Silver City's Matt Draelos.

Carol Core of Roswell won first place in Girls 11-16 Singles over teammate Margaret Mitchum 6-1, 6-2. Mitchum defeated Ruidoso's Kenna Newton 7-5, 6-3 in the semi-finals and Core beat Julie Gooch, also of Ruidoso, 6-1, 6-0 to advance to the finals.

Other high finishers from the Ruidoso area include Dirk Strassburg. Strassburg defeated Kyle Schautteet in three sets, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, to advance to the semi-finals where he lost to Tim Draelos of Silver City in another tough three setter, 5-7, 6-1, 6-3.

28 junior players (18 years old and under) from around the southern part of the state competed in the tournament which was held at courts around Ruidoso.

SANTA FE — A primary election campaign that appears to have stirred little voter interest moved into its final days. The election will be Tuesday.

Crystal balling our forecasts of winners: U.S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya will easily capture his Democratic renomination battle over Albuquerquean Rich Sims. U.S. House District 1 will see ex-State Rep. Raymond Garcia defeat artist-media consultant Quinn Mizer for the Democratic nomination. Both are Albuquerqueans. Garcia is a Penasco native.

The Democratic race for the State Corporation Commission nomination will be close but Santa Fean John Elliott enjoys an edge over Leo Catanach and Joe Barela. Elliott quit as SCC Pipeline Division manager to run SCC member Floyd Cross is retiring.

Ex-astronaut Harrison Schmitt of Albuquerque and Silver City will cop the Republican U.S. Senate nomination. His opponents are ex-State Rep. Eugene Peirce of Albuquerque and Arthur Lavine of Moriarty. State Supreme Court Justice Dan Sosa of Las Cruces will win the Democratic nomination for an eight-year term on the high court over District Judge Harry Stowers of Albuquerque.

An average pay raise of $1,019 or 9.26 per cent was approved for Hagerman teachers at the annual school district budget hearing. The new average teacher pay at Hagerman is $12,021. Dexter teachers were increased $900 or 7.55 per cent to an average of $12,813. The boost for Lake Arthur teachers was $742 or 7.52 per cent to $10,612.

The State Public School Finance Division said Hagerman Schools listed more than $600,000 in capital outlay needs. Needs span a media center, science facility and vocational space. Local bonding capacity could supply $300,000 of the projected total. Dexter Schools forecast a need for almost $700,000 in capital outlay. A major remodeling project and a new vocational facility are among Dexter Schools capital improvements requirements.

Valencia County Assessor Lucy Keys Brubaker, 49, is an alternate for Arizona

Rep. Morris Udall on the New Mexico delegation to the national Democratic convention. Her husband, Dr. Richard E. Brubaker, is a physician. They live in Belen. Mrs. Brubaker was an uncommitted delegate to the state party convention in Albuquerque. But she swung to Udall when uncommitted delegates in U.S. House District 2 were insufficient to elect a delegate to the New York parley.

Mrs. Brubaker says of Udall: "I like his philosophy. He's from a neighboring state. He's very warm, very appealing, very sincere." Active in politics 30 years, Mrs. Brubaker was Valencia County clerk in 1967-70. She says Jimmy Carter's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination "has peaked and Udall's chances are good."

The State Park and Recreation Commission certified need at a meeting in Capitán for the State Board of Finance to sell $400,000 in state severance bonds to develop a series of mini-parks ranging from Cochiti through Albuquerque to Belen. The facilities will be part of a network identified as Rio Grande Valley State Park.

The state park commission approved an agreement with the State Highway Department for $10,000 in fencing to solve livestock grazing problems at Rio Grande Gorge State Park. The park commission ordered additional study by its staff on recreational potential of the Los Esteros area seven miles north of Santa Rosa. The U.S. Corps of Engineers plans $331,000 in recreational site development related to farm construction in the Los Esteros area.

Dr. William P. Stephens, director of the State Department of Agriculture, underscored potential range caterpillar infestation spanning 10 million acres in nine counties — Chaves, DeBaca, Colfax, Union, Lincoln, Harding, Guadalupe, Mora and Quay. Threat of a grasshopper infestation on range land totaling 500,000 acres was also reported by Dr. Stephens in Chaves, Lea, Union, Lincoln, McKinley and Roosevelt Counties.

He said 20,000 acres of Durham wheat — 500 to 600 carloads — will be shipped from Sierra and Dona Ana Counties to the Houston area from Gulf Coast ports. He said the wheat was grown in quantity in the Dona Ana-Sierra sector for the first time.

California Gov. Jerry Brown's Democratic primary victory in Maryland in the presidential joust sparked a New Mexico drive for $5,000 to qualify him for federal campaign money. Brown contributions were solicited in Espanola, Los Alamos, Fort Sumner, Truth or Consequences, Deming and Lordsburg among other New Mexico cities.

Gov. Jerry Apodaca, president William (Bud) Davis of the University of New Mexico and other state officials rafted down the Chama River on a four-hour trip in Rio Arriba County.

The highest bid at a State Land Office sale of oil and gas leases in regular sale oral bidding was $100,000 by Superior Oil Co., Midland, Tex., for 638.48 acres about 20 miles southwest of Eunice.

TEQUILA TICKLER

• Up in North Dakota ... where it's too cold in winter and too hot in summer to grow cactus ... larger gatherings of those with conviviality in mind serve up a potion called "Cactus Juice" ... a beverage of great potentiality if the indulger's attitude is in need of adjustment.

It's more prevalent in the western hills where oft the weary horsemen will dismount after a hot, bouncy and dusty trail ride ... bent upon a little whistle wetting and appetite whetting refreshment ... and, by jinkies, these stalwarts just ain't about to ask for Orange Blossoms.

To whomp up a big bowl of Cactus Juice ... first you get a big bowl. Pour in one gallon of tequila. Add one quart of lime juice. Fresh squeeze ... not out of no bottle. Stir. Add one quart of tequila. Stir. Dump in one gallon of grapefruit juice, preferably pink, always squeezed from fresh fruit. Don't stir. Ease a big chunka ice into the bowl. Add one quart of tequila. Stir. Add one cup of salt. Stir until you can't see no salt. At this point ... sample one small spoonfull ... and correct the seasoning by adding just enough tequila to give the Cactus Juice some pucker power. Serve the libations up in big, cooled mugs ... and watch the people's facial expressions change.

TEETOTALER'S TEA

Comes now Dr. Julia F. Morton ... a scientific detective ... and Dr. Morton does proclaim that one of the chief suspects causing cancer of the esophagus is ... get a firm grip on your strainer ... tea.

Seems the stuff in tea that'll tan deer hides ... tannin ... is more than likely a cause of cancer of the esophagus. Fellow by the name of Sir Thomas Lipton'd have taken umbrage at such aspersions a few decades ago.

Gadzooks ... if'n this is so ... think of the quandy members of the WCTU'll find themselves in ... in convention assembled. Cyclamates preclude the use of certain beverages ... coffee is suspect in stomach upset and untoward kidney function ... and now tea might be detrimental to longevity.

What you hear tinkling at WCTU con-flabs will just about have to be distilled water ... with, naturally, ice cubes of same ... which'll keep everyone healthy ... but between periods of griping about the taste of their thirst quencher, or lack thereof, how'll they find time to attack demon rum?

'Twas a low blow Dr. Morton dealt tea sippers ... not to mention all those tea leaf pluckers on the sunny slopes of India, China and Japan ... and now comes the greatest tragedy of all ... this could sound the death knell for tea leaf readers ... and opens up a new quandy ... how do you want the egg in your beer?

WHO'LL LAUGH BEST?

The burgeoning attempt by aspirants to unseat incumbent U.S. Senator Little Joe Montoya is commencing to border on the ridiculous ... 'cause seems as though all of Montoya's opponents insist on attacking him ... with the end result being Montoya's getting his name constantly before the voters ... at no cost to his nibs.

A quick peek at the opposition ... based on news reports and rumors ... has it that one aspirant allegedly is using fabrication ... another has been known to have math problems when it comes to keeping an accurate tally of strokes taken in a golf match ... and another is an out-of-this-world traveler.

Somebody's better regroup ... or that gufaw you'll hear out of the east come early November will be Montoya's victory chuckle.

BRIEF BIT: With 52 per cent of the state's student population being minority groups ... a whole new can of worms might open up come fall ... CD

RABIES FACTS

Nearly one-half of rabid dogs in New Mexico are owned and unvaccinated against rabies. Rabid dogs bite an average of 4.7 persons each, and these unvaccinated pets therefore resulted in anti-rabies treatment for over 70 persons during this 10-year period.

One-half of the rabid cats in New Mexico are owned; 90 per cent are unvaccinated. Insect-eating bats throughout the United States carry rabies; about 1-2 per cent of bats will be positive for rabies even if they do not appear sick in any way. In New Mexico, a total of 88 rabid bats have been detected in the 10 year period, 1966-75, reports the State Health Agency.

Conclusion of the Agency's study were: 1. Stricter enforcement of existing state laws requiring vaccination of all dogs and cats would help protect the human population from rabies.

2. Bat bites are potentially dangerous; bat bites should be reported to a physician promptly. — Deming Headlight

SWINE FLU

For those who are still skeptical about the danger of the new flu virus on its way to America (expected next winter), it's well to recall what happened when the last similar flu virus spread itself over the world — in 1918 and 1919.

World War I began in the summer of 1914 and lasted more than four years. The carnage of death was staggering, especially in the trenches of France, and forever changed the western world.

Yet in the war's last year the flu virus appeared and in 1919 claimed more lives than were lost by all the armies in the four years of war! That's how serious this flu virus is, and why Americans should resolve now to be inoculated with the swine flu virus. Congress has passed a bill to provide the vaccine.

Every American should take advantage of this protection; the elderly and enfeebled face the greatest risk. — The News-Bulletin, Belen

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As a regular reader of the RUIDOSO NEWS, I was most interested in the recent stories about the controversy involving the WATS line service. May I comment as an individual who has more than a casual interest in Ruidoso that I think this is one of the finest things that community has done. I have used it on several occasions myself to make reservations for friends. On other occasions, I have given the number to friends to use in making reservations. In every instance, I have found the service to be efficient, cordial, cooperative, full informative, and in every way efficient. I simply fail to understand the controversy.

I have even called on week-ends when I knew the town was going to be full — like on the weekends when we televise the Kansas, the Rainbow and the All American, and although accommodations were extremely tight, they have always made an effort to accommodate me and have never said anything like "The town is jammed, we just can't find anything for you." They will say, "Things are extremely crowded, but we will scout around and see if we can't find something and get back to you."

In addition, we have regularly "plugged" the Ruidoso WATS line number on our telecasts at no charge to the community. It is something you simply couldn't pay for. And the publicity is certainly widespread. In my opinion, it would be a serious mistake for the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce to alter or discontinue the WATS line service.

Cordially,
Thad M. Sandstrom
President

Dear Editor:

I have been working with trees all of my life as I am a woodcutter. I note that we are not doing our job in our county in caring for our beautiful pine trees and forests.

Trees are almost human in that they live and die of disease and neglect and must be cared for, pruned, watered, and loved.

Presently, there is a beetle infestation of many trees in Lincoln County, and I am petitioning that the people of this county take a little of their time to examine their trees to determine if they are infected with bark beetles. If the trees are infected, please spray them with "Lindane", which can be obtained at any feed store or nursery. Thousands of trees are dying or about to die of this beetle infestation. These beautiful pine trees can be saved before the bugs destroy the cambium jacket or girdle the tree.

If you see a dead limb on your tree, it takes only a few minutes to remove it. Also, do not put too much dirt or cement at the base of a tree as it cuts off oxygen from the roots of the tree.

The pride and beauty of Ruidoso and the county will always be our pine forests with eternal green majesty. Perhaps, we in Ruidoso and county should form a tree club to save this most valuable of natural resources which we take for granted. If anyone reading this letter is interested in joining such a club, call me at 257-2882. I am reminded of a poem of my childhood:

Woodman spare that tree!
Touch not a single bough!
In youth, it sheltered me,
And I'll protect it now.

Nunnally takes training course

Ruidoso Municipal Judge Sam Nunnally completed a training session, required of all municipal judges by state law to keep their operations current, at Albuquerque last week.
The course is sponsored by the Municipal League National College of State Judiciary of Reno, Nev. All court operations, including simulated trials with participating counsel, were covered, Nunnally said.

THE DONUT SHOP

Taking a stroll downtown and need a lift? Hungry, but don't want to cook breakfast? Got a special occasion that needs refreshments? — then there is a little shop on the lower level of the 4 Seasons Mall that awaits you with all the "goodies" — THE DONUT SHOP.
The shop, formerly located across from the Post Office, has just recently moved into their new home and the owners, Mrs. Rose Garms and daughter, Tyline Bundick, feel they are now more centrally located to serve the public. There is a parking lot at the lower level for your convenience and ease to reach the shop.

Almost any type of baked goods can be had from the Donut Shop and Mrs. Garms tells us that special orders are prepared for birthday cakes, wedding cakes or any other special occasion.

They are a work of art and tasty too! Other offerings include donuts (of course), sour dough bread, twists, cookies and sweet rolls. Then there are brownies, etc., etc., etc.
Stop in for that morning coffee and a donut, or whatever —
The Donut Shop is open everyday except Tuesday from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

The Wild Rose
This is being sent to you on Monday, May 24. Every day in this month of May is more beautiful than the last. One by one the blossoms of summer have come out, sending their colors and perfume to delight the world.

There is a little patch of wild roses out in front of the house that usually blossom out in the middle of May. I look forward every year to these little single-petaled pink flowers with their golden center smiling on their small bushes. They are among the world's very favorite flowers, growing all around the world in the temperate climates. And here on the slopes of the Sierra Blanca they begin at the bottom of the pinon and cedar country all around the mountain country and extend away on up through the pine and quaking aspen country blooming on the edge of the summer snow. Here the blossoms seem of giant size on the tiny stems; and here the wild rose is known as the Alpine Wild Rose.

This delicate pink dweller of the hills and fields is the original flower from which are descended all the glorious roses of many colors which are the pride and joy of our gardens.

It has been so cool this spring (the north wind is blowing brisk and cold right now) that the wild rose did not show its buds from day to day through the month of May, and I began to wonder if they are going to bloom at all. Then on Saturday May 22, I looked out and sure enough, there were the little pink flowers with the morning sun shining through their pink petals. Shady and I went out to the rose patch. He went up and smelled one of the blossoms and then smiled up at me. The color and the perfume of these welcome little messengers of summer brought back many memories made sacred by the years.

What magic power flowers have to bring back the happiness of many years ago, so clearly that you live those moments over again! With the blooming of the wild rose, the joy of the month of May receives an enchanted blessing.

Pappy Johnson and His Calf, Dan

One of my heroes, President Teddy Roosevelt, once said that surely God would let horses go to Heaven because they brought so much happiness into our lives.

The friendship between horses and dogs and mankind is an old and heart-warming story. But not everyone knows that a steer can be the gentlest and most devoted of pets. For centuries past, our forefathers used oxen as work animals, pulling plows in the fields and covered wagons across this continent. These animals were our friends.

Last fall I sold Pappy Johnson of Ruidoso Downs two calves. One was the best animal I ever raised, a red hereford. The other was a dark little fellow with a white face.

Pappy named the red calf Dan and the dark one Logan after the Ridge Runner and Shady Logan. Some steers are unusually gentle, and Dan was one of these. Pappy, who moved here to regain his health, made a great pet out of Dan. And the calf took a great liking to Pappy. Dan would come running when Pappy called and would hold up his nose to be rubbed. They would tussle and shove each other around playfully. All in all they became great friends.

Pappy would call me of an evening telling me of the funny things of Dan would do. Dan was his pride and joy. And I was happy that my calves had a good home where they lacked for nothing in the way of care. And on top of this, Old Dan was doing good in the world by helping Pappy get well and be happy.

Little Tiny

Several days ago, the last of the cows went up the hill to have her calf. She was a two year old called Gentle Annie. She was gone for an extra long time and then came in with a full bag. Shady and I followed her to find the calf but the cow gave us the slip and we came home at dusk without finding the little fellow. Three days passed and I was worried. The third night I could hardly sleep.

The next morning I was driving up to the Knoll and there cuddled in a rut in the road, taking a sun bath, was a tiny red calf sleeping. Up she jumped and ran to her mother's side looking back as if to say, "Are we supposed to know this guy?"

Then the little calf became completely unafraid and came walking up to Shady and me. I was so grateful that I fell on my knees and thanked God, realizing that I had worried over nothing.

Pappy Calls About Old Dan

That night I was thinking of how lucky I am, with calves when the phone rang. Pappy told me that Dan, the perfect yearling, the very picture of health and animal perfection, had suddenly fallen to the ground without sound or movement while happy with his two steer companions in the field.

Pappy was calm over the phone, but I knew he was hurt; for long ago I had felt the painful and sudden blow, so hard and so unexpected, when you realize how a creature has wrapped itself around your heart strings.

The next day I went to see Pappy and he said, "I loved that animal," and as he said these words the tears flowed from his eyes and he sobbed, "He was my friend. And he loved me."

I told Pappy that he had nothing to regret, that the animal never lacked for anything, either in care or friendship. Then I said to Pappy, "Surely the Lord will let us see our pets in Heaven. Do you think so?" "Yes, I do," said Pappy.

Pappy does not need to feel alone. We are all made alike. We all have a tender spot in our hearts for God's creatures. This is one thing I have always admired in our native Americans, the Indian people.

My heart goes out to Pappy. And we come back again, as we have so often, to our trust in God who "sees the sparrow's fall" and looks after all his creatures with loving care in this world and in the life hereafter in Heaven.

Shady Logan, the little spirit dog, who has an insight and understanding of things beyond my ken, has run in from his pallet in the sun and lies on the couch in the sun room, looking me straight in the eye, and smiling. Somehow he knows this message is coming to a close and we are ready to go up the creek. I wish you could see this little creature. He says with his looks as plainly as if he is speaking: "Have faith. Have faith. Have faith in God."

Treat your dog for snake bites

What can you do when your dog gets a rattlesnake bite? The USDA has licensed the first antivenin specifically recommended for treating dogs, says Bill Ljungdahl, Extension livestock specialist at New Mexico State University. The treatment covers bites from rattlesnakes, copperheads, cottonmouth water moccasins and other related snakes.

Dogs receive more snake bites than any other domestic animal. This is easy to understand when you realize that dogs are often in the field. They are used as hunting dogs, ranch dogs for handling livestock and as watch dogs. Family pets can receive a bite while running loose on a family outing.

Dogs are wary of snakes and will give a warning if one is in the area. For this reason, they are good companions for children and often receive the bite instead of the child, says Ljungdahl.

The new snakebite treatment for dogs is identical to the antivenin used for humans. The product is restricted for use by or under the direct direction of a licensed veterinarian.

After the producing pharmaceutical company set the dose needed for different sizes of dogs, the licenses were issued. During the testing period, 16 veterinarians in the Southwest had uniformly successful treatment on dogs with mild symptoms. There was about an 80 per cent recovery rate among dogs with acute symptoms of snake bite.

Although there may still be a few fatalities from snake bites, the risk will be greatly reduced. Early treatment is very important for a successful recovery.

Antivenin is processed from the serum of horses immunized with snake venom. Venom is used for the Eastern and Western diamondback rattlesnake, Central and South American rattlesnakes and the South American fer-de-lance. When injected intravenously, the antivenin neutralized the venom in the victim.

Under the Virus-Serum Toxin Act of 1913, all veterinary biologics distributed interstate must be licensed by the USDA. They require that vaccines, bacterins, toxins, antitoxins and related products be safe, pure, potent and effective.

your national parks

Right Around Home

BEN MOFFETT

If you are planning a vacation Right Around Home, write the National Park Service, P.O. Box 728, Room 8-2, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501, for a trip planning guide to those parks within an easy drive of your home.

Super view at Grand Canyon

"The Grand Canyon is a mile deep, ranges in width from one to 18 miles and is nearly 280 miles long. Men can measure its size, but not its impact on the human spirit."

Thus begins the official National Park Service folder on Grand Canyon National Park in north-central Arizona. And judging from the number of visitors to the park each summer, its impact on the human spirit must be great indeed.

It is the most popular park by far in this part of the country and it is important to plan in advance your visit to most national parks, it is absolutely essential when visiting the Grand Canyon.

Planning should begin by writing the Superintendent, Grand Canyon National Park, Box 129, Grand Canyon, Ariz. 86023. He can provide answers to the many questions about this big, busy, beautiful park.

Here are some of the most frequently asked questions about Grand Canyon:

Are campground reservations needed?

You can make reservations at Mather campground between June 1 and Sept. 1. Write Grand Canyon for a reservation form and stipulate whether you plan to stay at Mather or down inside the canyon. For overnight stays in the canyon, permits are required and you should write for a permit reservation well in advance. Requests must be received at least two weeks prior to arrival and the earlier you are the better your chances. Other campgrounds are filled on a first-come-first-served basis and are generally filled by early in the morning during the summer.

Can I go into the canyon on a mule?

Yes, on guided mule trips to Plateau Point (1 day) and Phantom Ranch (2 days) if you are age 12 or over and weigh less than 200 pounds. Trips are year-round weather permitting. Reserve a mule well in advance from Fred Harvey, Inc., Grand Canyon, Ariz. 86023.

When facilities are available?

Grand Canyon Village provides for most visitor needs — hotel and restaurants, medical services, hiking equipment rentals, guided hiking tours, bank, service station, garage, laundry, showers, post office. Accommodations are also available a mile outside the park at Tusayan on Arizona Route 64. For rates and reservations at hotels and lodge write Fred Harvey (address above) or the Grand Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Box 507, Grand Canyon, Ariz. 86023.

Is the Grand Canyon open year-round?

The South Rim roads and most facilities are open year-round. The North Rim is closed in winter and this year opened operations May 15.

What are some interesting things to do at Grand Canyon?

Scenic roads, trails and overlooks provide something for everyone. There are interpretive programs by park rangers at the visitor center and at other locations. The Yavapai Museum provides geological exhibits complemented by an excellent view of the canyon. The Tusayan Pueblo ruin and museum are popular. The pueblo was built about 1185. The North Rim also has hiking and horse trails and interpretive programs.

Of course, the big drawing card will always be the SUPER VIEW. With its impact on the human spirit and speaking of SUPER, when you visit the Grand Canyon please remember to Safely, Use, Preserve and Enjoy the Resources.

The varying weather conditions in this part of the country can affect the amount of electricity required to keep your home comfortable. Predicting the exact amount of each month's electric bill can be as difficult as predicting the ever-changing weather. Community Public Service Company has a helpful plan, called the Equal Payment Plan, that can help you in your monthly budgeting. Your yearly electric usage is estimated and divided into twelve equal monthly payments so you know each month how much your electric bill will be. It's a nice and easy way to help smooth out your budgeting from month to month. Periodically, we will review your account and if we find that the original estimate was too high or too low, you will be contacted to work out an equitable adjustment. Big share of food dollar goes for marketing costs

USDA food stamp use study released

How much of the consumer's food dollar ends up in the pockets of the farmer?

Returns to farmers for raw products raised represent one of two major components of the food dollar, says Gene Ott, Extension farm management specialist at New Mexico State University.

The other major component is known as the farm-to-retail price spread and includes the costs of transportation, processing and packaging.

Farmers received an average 42 cents of each dollar spent by consumers for food in 1975, Ott says. This was one cent less than in the preceding year. It was four cents less than the 46 cents received in 1973, when the farmer's share was the highest in more than 20 years.

Since 1973 farmers have received a slightly higher portion of the farm-food dollar than in the 1960s when it ranged from 37 to 41 cents, the NMSU specialist says.

The farmer's share of the food dollar varies greatly among products. For example, the farmer gets less than 25 percent of the retail cost of highly manufactured products such as corn flakes, bread, canned tomatoes and frozen french fried potatoes.

On the other hand, the farmer gets from 50 to 70 percent of the retail price of most animal products such as milk, eggs, butter, beef and chicken.

The wide variation in the share going to farm producers is largely due to the differences in the amount of processing and other marketing services performed before a product reaches the consumer, Ott says.

Eggs, for instance, reach the kitchen in essentially the same form as when they left the farm. In contrast, the flour in bread must be milled from wheat, combined with other ingredients, and then bake, sliced and wrapped before it is ready for sale.

The largest share of the food dollar goes to pay for all the services involved in processing and distributing food.

The farm-retail price spread or marketing share — which is the difference between the average retail price per unit sale and the farm value of the equivalent quantity sold by farmers — was 58 cents of each dollar in 1975. The figure was slightly higher in the previous three years but below the 1965-72 average of 60 cents.

Labor is the largest cost incurred by firms processing and distributing farm food products and has accounted for about half of the marketing bill in recent years, Ott says. Thus, about 30 cents of the consumer dollar goes to labor in processing and distributing food.

Food containers and packaging materials are the second largest cost component of the marketing bill. In 1975 the cost of packaging amounted to about 12 percent of the total cost of marketing farm foods.

The third largest component of marketing costs is truck and rail transportation, which amounts to about eight percent of the food dollar.

Food production, processing and distribution are important to many industries that serve the American consumer, Ott says.

A comprehensive study of food stamp households — "Characteristics of Food Stamp Households, September 1975" has been released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The study of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service shows that in the 50 states and District of Columbia:

—Size of food stamp households averages 3.2 persons. Households of one — and two-persons made up 46 percent of all households.

—Gross income for all households averaged $296 a month.

—Total amount of deductions from gross income averaged $77 per month for all households.

—23 percent of all households had gross incomes above poverty levels in effect for September 1975.

—64 percent of all households were headed by females.

—6 percent of food stamp participants were 65 years old or older.

—1.3 percent of food stamp participants were students over 18 years of age. Size of these households averaged 1.1 persons.

—15.4 percent of households worked full time, and 4.6 percent of the households heads worked part-time (less than 30 hours a week).

—42 percent of all households received income from the Aid to Families With Dependent Children Program, 22 percent of all households received income from salaries and wages.

Records of 11,237 households were samples, providing a carefully selected cross-section of types of counties and people. The study reports findings in detail for the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Data for Puerto Rico are also included; they show that they household and economic characteristics of food stamp participants there are quite different from what they are in the 50 states.

Copies of the study are available from the Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

'Most Wanted'

JOSEPH MCDONALD

Joseph Maurice McDonald, wanted on a Federal warrant for interstate transportation of stolen property and conspiracy, issued on October 6, 1975, at Los Angeles, California, has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

McDonald has been indicted on charges connected with the interstate transportation of a large amount of extremely valuable collector's stamps which were stolen during an armed robbery of a Boston, Massachusetts, business on March 17, 1971. A witness, scheduled to give testimony against those involved in handling the stolen stamp collection, was found shot to death on January 13, 1976.

Born, July 14, 1917, in Boston, Massachusetts, McDonald is a white male American, who is 5'9" tall, weighs 165 to 175 pounds and has a medium build. He has gray hair, blue eyes, and a fair complexion. McDonald has a pockmark on his right cheek and a scar on his right leg below the knee.

He has been employed as a laborer and truck driver and has used Social Security Number 022-05-6671. McDonald, who has been convicted of unlawful carrying of firearms and assault and battery with a deadly weapon, should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

Anyone with information concerning McDonald should take no action other than to contact the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be found on the first page of most local telephone directories.

NATHANIEL DOYLE, JR.

Nathaniel Doyle, Jr., has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." He is wanted on a Federal warrant issued October 1, 1975, at Columbus, Ohio, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for armed robbery; and on Federal warrants issued January 23, 1976, at South Bend, Indiana, and March 2, 1976, at Fresno, California, charging him with bank robbery.

Born November 24, 1945, at Springfield, Ohio, Doyle is a Negro male American, who is 5'11" to 6' tall, weighs 195 to 200 pounds and has a large build. He has black hair and brown eyes. Doyle has a scar on his upper lip, burn scars on his left and right forearms and on his right index finger. He has a hyperpigmentation condition in the center of his face. Doyle exhibits a well-dressed appearance and is known to visit expensive hotels and gambling casinos where he likes to be associated with persons in the entertainment field, while passing himself off as a former professional football player.

He has been employed as an auto mechanic and a waiter. Doyle, who has been convicted of armed robbery, allegedly engaged in a gun battle with California police authorities following a bank robbery, and he should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

Anyone with information concerning Doyle should take no action other than to contact the nearest office of the FBI, the number of which may be found on the first page of most telephone directories.

Yellow plants may need iron

When ornamental plants yellow at this time of the year, it usually means that there is an iron deficiency in the soil. Known as iron chlorosis, this deficiency causes ornamentals to become light green, yellow or white in the areas between leaf veins, says Douglas Bryant, Extension horticulturist at New Mexico State University.

In junipers, arbovitae and other conifers, the needles or scales turn yellow. The more severe the deficiency, the paler the color. Acute shortage causes browning and eventually death of the plant.

Most soils contain sufficient iron. However the iron is often unavailable to the plants because of high soil pH or excess lime in the soil. Symptoms resembling iron deficiency may also be induced by over-watering, poor drainage or compacted soil, Bryant says.

There are two principal types of iron-containing materials which can be used to supply iron to plants. There are iron chelates (pronounced Key-lates) and organic compounds containing iron in soluble form, such as ferrous sulfate (also called coppers).

Either of these materials are available at most garden supply stores. Iron-containing materials can be worked into the soil near the base of the shrub or tree, or may be dissolved in water and sprayed onto the foliage. Follow the instructions and rate recommendations of the manufacturer. It is important to make applications at the first appearance of chlorotic symptoms. Recovery is usually slow in severe chlorotic plants.

Soil conditions which make iron unavailable to plants may also have a similar effect on zinc. Plants suffering from zinc deficiency usually develop a "witches-broom" type growth at the terminals. Terminal growth is weak, thin and short. Leaves are light-green to yellow, small, distorted or puckered. Small dead areas often appear on leaf margins, which fall out leaving a jagged appearance.

Pecans, peaches, plums, flowering quince, apple and pyracantha are especially susceptible to zinc deficiency. Zinc can be applied in the form of zinc sulfate or zinc chelate, available from your garden supply stores.

Yellowing of the foliage may not always be caused by iron or zinc deficiency. Drought, or excess water may cause leaves of some varieties to turn yellow. Heavy or compacted soil is often a cause of yellow leaves on plants. Infestation of mites or leafhoppers will induce symptoms resembling iron chlorosis. Examine your plants for these maladies before applying iron or zinc.

Cut flowers need care

Flowers that are properly cared for when freshly cut will make longer lasting, more attractive arrangements, says Ricardo Gomez, Extension horticulturist, New Mexico State University.

Always use a sharp knife or shears to cut the flower stem. A dull cut will crush the stem and plug up the plant tissue. This keeps the stem from carrying water.

He stresses using a clean container for the flowers. Used containers should be thoroughly cleaned with a household bleach solution to get rid of any bacteria.

After the flowers have been cut, put them in warm water and make sure that several inches of the stem is below water. Remove any leaves that are covered by water.

Then cover the flowers with a plastic film to prevent moisture loss and put them in a refrigerator or cool room for four to six hours.

The flowers are now ready to be put in an arrangement.

Be sure the stems are covered by about one-fourth inch water and keep the arrangement out of hot or cold air drafts and away from direct sunlight, advises Gomez.

Jockey/Trainer of the week

Jerry Nicodemus isn't giving anyone else a toehold on the Jockey-Of-The-Week title at Ruidoso Downs.

Nicodemus zeroed in on the crown again this week with seven winners — one better than Carlos Rivas and Dave Morris.

Nicodemus copped the title last week with his work in the trials for the Kansas Derby. This week he did his best in the first elimination round for the upcoming $375,000 (est.) Kansas Futurity. "Nic" rode eight hopefuls on Thursday, but his efforts produced only one trip to the winner's circle aboard Fancy Wares. Her 17.97% time for the 350 yards was the second fastest in the two-day eliminations.

Nicodemus made up for lost time on Friday, piloting 10 youngsters. He collected four trial triumphs. All four — Mr. Jetson, Donna Dodad, Mr. Surejet and Ettabell — made it past the first elimination cut.

Nic capped the weekend with two winners on Sunday. The work firmed up his hold on the overall standings. He now boasts 12 wins from 34 trips to the gate. That gives him a percentage of over 35 percent.

Carlos Rivas, who did some fancy riding with four winners on Saturday and two more on Sunday, held onto second. His tally stands at 10 wins from 31 mounts.

H.C. Werner Jr. took over the lead in the trainer standings and also copped the weekly crown with six weekend winners. All of those were in the hands of jockey Dave Morris — five of them in elimination trials on Thursday and Friday. Werner now has 7 wins from 22 tries.

Ruidoso Downs will be dark on Thursday. The four-day weekend picks up on Friday and continues through Monday (Memorial Day). Racing each day begins at the regular 1:30 p.m.

On Saturday the 50 youngsters gleaned from last week's first elimination round will face the second test on their way to the grand finale of the Kansas Futurity. Only the 10 fastest will make it. On Sunday, the 5½-furlong Memorial Day Handicap will offer a $5,000-added purse to three-year-olds. The race, this year, falls one day ahead of the holiday.

236 head had hoped to make it passed the first round of eliminations for the upcoming $375,000 (est.) Kansas Futurity last Thursday and Friday but only 50 qualifying slots were allocated — 25 each day. Here's the survivors: Thursday—Comin' Easy, Fancy Wares, Ole Sport, Megahertz, Mr. Tiny Dial, Little Elegance, Comingforth, Southern Streaker, Some Kinda Trouble, Smooth Johny, Whispering Campaign, Sage Oh, Something Smooth, Gentle Thoughts, Raise The Roof, Boston Venture, Feather My Nest, First Touch, Cargin Fool, April Te, Shawne Bug, Flight Director, Mirajo Eagle, Etta Quest, Mr. Tee Total; Friday—Mr. Jetson, Lord Winsalot, My Squaw Bug, Louton's Angel, Donna Dodad, Easy Dandy Dan, Cutie Kiss, Swinging Breeze, My Easy Credit, Some Kinda Night, Missie Jet Moore, Mr. Bo Charge, Bar Face Kid, Rockafella, Mr. Surejet, Jodeck Point of View, Moore Jet Folks, Sirens Song, Trojan Warrior, Playfellow, Quick Peek, Ladies Kinda Man, Tinky Decketta, Ettabell.

These 50 go into the second qualifying round on Saturday, May 29. Only 10 will emerge eligible for the grand finale, which will be decided on Sunday, June 13, before a regional TV audience of around six million.

Other trial notes: Comin' Easy, an Easy Jet colt owned by Jeanene Rose of Houston and trained by H.C. Werner, Jr. set the fastest 350-yard qualifying time (17.83% seconds) during Thursday's fourth race. Mr. Jetson (18.15) had the fastest clocking on Friday. He won the seventh race by a nose over Lord Winsalot. Friday's ninth race trial was the most productive. Five head — Louton's Angel, Easy Dandy Dan, Some Kinda Night, Missie Jet Moore and Playfellow — are still in the running. Two of the original four $7,500 supplements — Comin' Easy, the top qualifier, and Smooth Johny, a length winner of Thursday's 11th heat — made it passed the first round. Etta Quest, who qualified while winning Thursday's sixth race by a length, has a pretty tough act to follow. Her half brother, Wheatland, was the 870-yard champ at Los Alamitos last year. Jerry Nicodemus emerged as the top qualifying jockey. He assured nine horses a berth in the second eliminations. Dave Morris pulled in second with five qualifiers.

Horse to watch: Swinging Breeze for regaining composure after tripping at the start of Friday's third trial race and scoring 1¼-length win to qualify for the second eliminations; Mr. Surejet for recovering from a bad start and notching a half-length win to qualify in Friday's sixth race; Sweet Rockette for some extremely sharp moves and a nose triumph in Saturday's 870-yard sixth race; Sea Deb for a gallant challenge to the favored Kilgore for a nose second in Saturday's six-furlong 12th race; Freedom To Be for refusing to give in to the challenging favorite Lefty Right in Sunday's seventh race (he won by one-half length); Joy's Royalty for performing like a seasoned veteran with a four-length win at 16-1 odds in Sunday's four-furlong first race — his second time out.

Miss Beau Key took an impressive hike in class to notch a ¾-length win in Sunday's fifth race. On April 23 the filly outdistanced a $3,500 class by a length as an 8-1 shot. Sunday's group was a $5,000 class and she won as an 8-1 shot again. Walter Hodges was up.

Disaster Area became the first two-time winner of the meet with his ¾-length victory over $2,500 claimers in Saturday's 400-yard second race. He won at the same distance and price last week by a nose.

It was noses all the way down the wire in Saturday's 870-yard sixth race. Sweet Rockette won by a nose. Tax Rebellion was second by a nose and Royal Circle finished a nose in front of Rugged Drive in third.

Jockey David Massa was suspended for three days (May 28-30) for careless riding on Easy Dandy Dan in Friday's ninth race.

Jockey Carlos Rivas had a productive day on Saturday, notching four wins and two seconds from eight rides. His winners were Kristi's Lark in the first race, Gallant Lover in the eighth, Henow in the 10th and Livemup in the 11th.

The sturdy Black Pipe, one of the oldest campaigners on the Southwest circuit (10-years-old), continues to roll in the money. The gelding, who's trained by Paul Smith for William Heffelfinger of Plainview, Texas, pulled in second against $1,500 claimers at 5½ furlongs in Sunday's third race. Last year he posted six wins, four seconds and a third from 12 starts for earnings of almost $8,000.
