Previous winners of the All-American

DERBY FULL OF CASH — Dash For Cash (upper left) looks like the betting choice in the grand finale of the $566,042 All-American Quarter Horse Derby at Ruidoso Downs Sunday. A week ago, the colt won by three lengths and set the top qualifying time for 440 yards. Mito Wise Dancer (upper right) won his heat by a head and now holds an eight-race win streak. I'm Gorgeous (lower left), another main contender, recently won the $338,208 Rainbow Derby. Reller's Image (lower right) streaked to a neck win last week and set the second-top qualifying time. The winner collects $188,491.

'Casey's Shadow' boon to quarter horse racing and New Mexico' — Rosa

The movie "Casey's Shadow", being filmed here by Columbia Studios, will be a boon to the quarter horse racing industry and to tourism in New Mexico, Al Rosa, president of Fortuna Corporation and general manager of Ruidoso Downs Race Track, said to The Ruidoso News Tuesday.

In a telephone interview Rosa said: "Casey's Shadow will put quarter horse racing in front of the public for, we hope, a considerable amount of time in theaters across the country."

"I'm confident people like Ray Stark, the executive producer and director Martin Ritt as well as stars as Walter Matthau and Alexis Smith don't pick losers in their motion pictures."

"The expertise that is evident in the planning and filming of this movie will, hopefully, definitely increase the image and popularity of quarter horse racing and will give the sport tremendous exposure to people who have never heard of quarter horse racing."

"Not only the race track but Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs and all of the businesses will benefit from this movie, as indeed, will all of New Mexico as the film will enhance the state's reputation as the quarter horse capital of the world."

Rosa also said that the All-American Network, in televising major races at Ruidoso Downs, has been a contributing factor to the further enhancement of quarter horse racing.

"Though TV coverage of the $1,030,000 All American Futurity is only a once a year occurrence, this has obviously helped us tremendously," Rosa said. "Predictions are that the Labor Day spectacular will be viewed by 30 to 40 million people and this is due to the solid backing of Budweiser, Carnation Albers, Cadillac, U.S. Tobacco Co., Faberge and Radio Shack who, by their continued support, obviously feel this broadcast is very worth while and of continuing interest to sports fans across the nation."

Last water bonds sold

The final $2 million of the $5 million General Obligation Water Bonds, to finance the Eagle Creek reservoir and water distribution system to serve Ruidoso, were sold Tuesday.

The village trustees accepted the low bid of Quinn and Co., Inc., and Associates of Albuquerque in the gross interest cost amount of $2,193,393.75, less a $300 premium, at an effective interest rate of 7.0179%.

The first series runs from 1979-90 at a maturity rate of 7.25%, and from 1991-95 at a rate of 7%.

Also bidding was Kirchner, Moore and Co., of Denver, Colo., in the amount of $2,211,818.75 and an effective interest rate of 7.07782%.

At the time of the bond election, October of 1974, Ruidoso voters were advised that the total $5 million issue would increase taxes about $28 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The total tax increase, for municipal

DI PAOLO ROAD NOT COUNTY RESPONSIBILITY

County commissioners study road system woes

Road department policies, procedures, effectiveness and efficiency were discussed at length Tuesday by Lincoln County Commissioners.

"We've got to have full utilization of our limited equipment and men," said commissioner John Sudderth.

Les Olson, county manager, presented the weekly record-keeping system of mileage, hours, down time and work accomplished currently being used by the road department employees. He also reviewed a heavy to light use priority map involving some 1,500 to 1,600 miles in roads for which the county is responsible. "We are trying to build flexibility and mobility into our road department to respond to wash outs and other emergency situations," Olson said.

He reported a minimum of another seven weeks will be required for the department to finish work in Gavilan Canyon. Olson said equipment is being concentrated to spend approximately four months on each road project rather than being scattered all over the county. The road superintendent will start making weekly visits to each of the six blade districts and blademen are being reassigned to work the same districts in which they live to cut down travel time and expense.

Sudderth asked that a special meeting be called before the end of the summer season to decide road project priorities. Commissioner "Bud" Payne voiced his opinion that school bus routes be top priority. Sudderth said the 151 families living in the Cedar Creek area had not received proper road maintenance and this area will also receive high priority.

THE COMMISSIONERS voted to refuse J. J. Di Paolo's easement dedication in exchange for realignment of the existing road through Di Paolo's 40-acre tract in Fort Stanton Ranchettes subdivision. "Mrs. Di Paolo was dead right when she told us during the last meeting that the county had no jurisdiction over the existing road," Sudderth said. After researching the situation, the district attorney's office issued a statement to the commissioners that the easements in this subdivision were never dedicated to the county, but were deeded to the original

Downs council briefed on movie procedures

The itinerary for the filming of "Casey's Shadow" was presented to the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso Downs Monday by Phil Goldfarb, unit production manager, Columbia Pictures.

"We want an open line of communication, to advise you of our movements and activities," Goldfarb said, "and to have the least negative impact possible on your community."

The council briefly discussed whether the moviemakers should apply to the Village for an occupation license and decided, after consulting former village attorney Richard A. Parsons, that they would waive the requirement as it may be inapplicable.

Goldfarb explained when the crew is working at full operating capacity, approximately 90 actors, technicians and drivers will be involved in addition to the 500 to 750 local extras. Mayor Norman Wheeler said, "If we have any problems, we'll definitely have to derive revenue."

Goldfarb said they would expect to be billed and pay for any services they might require such as maintenance equipment or extra policemen, but that he was not anticipating requiring these services. He told the council second unit filming is now in progress and principal photography, with the actors, will start August 28. He said

Scout troop reactivates; Court of Honor set

A reactivation meeting for Boy Scout Troop 59 is set for Monday at 7 p.m., in the Scout Hut at village hall.

All boys interested in Scouting are invited to attend.

A Court of Honor is scheduled Aug. 31 at Carrizo Lodge at 7:00 p.m., with David Ellis, Mike Fanning, Greg Collier, Steve Zimmer, Kyle Kannady, Steve Jarvis and Brent Jarvis to receive merit badges earned at summer camp. A meeting of parents of Scouts and committee members will follow.

An application for an Eagle Scout award is pending for David Ellis, which will be the first awarded in Ruidoso in several years.

Warrior/Wildcat tilt set Saturday

The Ruidoso Warrior/Deming Wildcats scrimmage, Saturday at 5 p.m., at Warrior stadium, will give local football fans an opportunity to assess Warrior prospects for the 1976 season.

"We're asking all fans to bring a donation of a bar of soap or a towel," Warrior mentor Doyle Howell said, "and to leave them at the gate on their way to the bleachers. This gesture has been a tremendous boost to the Ruidoso school's athletic programs in the past and we're hoping for a record turnout — fanwise and donationwise — for this preview scrimmage."

The season's opener will be Sept. 3 as the Warriors host Carrizozo.

'SOMEONE HAS TO get the quilting done', Ammel Bevil of Nogal Canyon said as she sat in the parlor of the Hoyle House in White Oaks Saturday, adding a nostalgic note of authenticity to the Bicentennial Day observance tour of White Oaks, Jicarilla and Ancho. The White Oaks Historical Association and friends, sponsors of the day, plan to make the tour an annual event. Additional photos of highlights of the tour appear on inside pages.

Season football tickets on sale

Reserved seat season tickets for all regularly scheduled RHS Warrior home football games, at $10 each, are on sale.

Tickets are available through Jolinda Perryman, telephone 257-4593.

ELIMINATION TRIALS for the $1,030,000 Labor Day All-American Futurity — 22 races — will be run Friday with a post time of 10 a.m.

Each of the 219 hopefuls will be photo-electronically timed over the 440 yard dash, and those racking up the 10 fastest times will advance into the Labor Day spectacular which will be televised live to a projected audience of 30 million.

Friday's trials will also determine the fields for the first, second and third consolation of the All-American.

The horse which figures to take the main spotlight Friday is the brilliant johnny-come-lately, Real Wind. She'll go in the fifth race with the veteran Gary Sumpter calling the shots. Real Wind sports a perfect five-for-five record. Last time out, she turned in a sizzling length win as the betting favorite in the $368,784 Rainbow Futurity. Her share of the purse amounted to $120,858. In addition, the filly vaulted to the top of the quarter horse juvenile division.

Earlier in the meeting, she copped a 350-yard dash as the favorite, then came back to bat out two impressive scores in the elimination trials for the Rainbow. Real Wind is owned by retired school teachers J.D. and Elsie Kitchens of Ft. Sumner, N.M.

Another standout is Lord Winsalot, who'll go in the first race with Jackie Martin back at the controls. The gelding was a kingpin early in the meeting. He won his second-elimination round for the $413,130 Kansas Futurity, then powered his way to a two-length victory in the finale as a 6-5 favorite. His victory share came out to $135,907. Lord Winsalot is owned by Jim Jay of Arkoma, Okla.

Megahertz, who finished second to Real Wind in the Rainbow Futurity, goes in the third race. The runnerup slot yielded a paycheck of $58,205, and that put Megahertz right near the top in the juvenile division. Earlier in the season, he ran fourth in the Kansas Futurity.

Heid's open starts Monday

Ray Heid's annual open tennis tournament will be played Aug. 30 - 31 and Sept. 1.

Entries in men's singles and doubles and women's singles and doubles close Friday with entries for mixed doubles closing at noon Monday.

Each match will be furnished a linesman and tennis balls.

purposes only, is expected to be just under $25 per $1,000. As the assessed valuation for the Village of Ruidoso increases, this tax rate will decrease.

The approximate interest rates being paid on the $5 million bond issue are 6% on the first $1 million; 6.95% on the next $2 million and 7.01% on the final $2 million.

Future tax notices will reflect a tax increase exceeding the $25 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, with this difference due to the $1,650,000 school bond issue to construct a junior high school and to update present facilities.

to the county when the exchange agreement was made with Di Paolo.

Jay Johnson, mayor of Capitán, complained to the commission that residents in Fawn Ridge Subdivision have extended driveways to encroach upon the county entrance road and "it's nothing but a mess." He said property owners have covered the ditches, there are no remaining lines and drainage is becoming a problem. The commissioners and road superintendent agreed to inspect the road.

The commission was advised that potential lots in Sweetwater Subdivision, east of Carrizozo, are being reverted to acreage and grazing land. It was agreed to no longer assess the one cent per frontage foot for road maintenance as the law applies only to subdivisions.

In other action, the commissioners:
— Agreed to haul a bulldozer from Nevada for the Village of Capitán for mileage and per diem compensation.
— Took no action on the manager's suggestion to increase the one cent per frontage foot subdivision road levy.

— Tabled a request to revamp the air conditioner compressor on the annex building.

— Approved a resolution to include $10,490.00 in CETA carry-over funds in the budget for seven employees through September 30.

— Approved a capital outlay and revenue resolution to cover new road equipment purchases and sale of existing equipment.

— Tabled a request to increase salaries of three county appraisers.

— Will consider obtaining state land on which to relocate the Hondo sanitary landfill.

— Decided to poll school superintendents on whether school buses should be supplied with emergency radios.

— Considered chairman R. C. Nunez's request for carpeting in the county manager's office and county commissioners chambers in correlation with possible heat loss savings.
The next regular meeting of the Lincoln County Commissioners will be Tuesday, September 7 at 10 a.m. filming would be exclusively at the race track through September 22 when the crew will move on to two days' shooting at the Hollywood Inn, one day at the ski area, Coe Ranch, Rose Ranch, pick-up shots and then to Louisiana for four to six weeks.

In other action, the council rejected all bids on a pickup truck for the water department. After opening the bids, the trustees discussed whether the specifications should have been for a half or three-quarter ton and decided they needed a three-quarter ton. Auto dealers had bid on one or both, making the bids inequitable. New bids will be called for this week.

The council also:
— Agreed to Cablevision's request to transfer the franchise from a corporation to a partnership.

— Approved a picnic liquor license for the Chaparral Convention Center musical show September 3 - 5 allowing the Chaparral Motor Hotel license to be used.

— Tabled a request from the RDPD that the village adopt an ordinance requiring the Controlled Substance Act to allow marijuana cases involving less than one ounce to be heard in municipal court.

— Tabled a call for bids on the All American Park. Trustee Don Clark said, "For the benefit of the media, I'm advising extensive work has been done and the park will be completed (March, 1977) on time."

— Agreed to purchase a new flag for city hall.

— Approved purchase of tires for the patrol cars.

— Heard a request from Pete Woods for a culvert to divert high water near his welding shop.

— Commended fire chief Ray Walker and the volunteer firemen.

— Were advised by village clerk Virginia Spall that representatives from the State Highway Department will take photographs of the village streets this week and supply applications for financial assistance.

— Received quotes on water meters.

— Approved Harley A. Parnell's application for building inspector and agreed to pay his travel expenses to Santa Fe to take the state examination.

— Agreed to send second notices to three property owners on notification of abatement in the condemnation process of the recently passed clean-up resolution. If no response is heard within 10 days, police will post a condemnation notice on the properties and issue warrants, Wheeler said.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip B. Chilson

Miller - Chilson wedding

Tina A. Miller and Phillip B. Chilson exchanged wedding vows August 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Ruidoso, with the Rev. E. W. Campbell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller of Ruidoso and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Chilson of Beaverton, Oregon.

The altar was bedecked with two large baskets of daisies and pom poms with white candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white gown with square neckline, long fitted sleeves and bouffant skirt of chantilly lace ending in a long cathedral train.

For something old she wore a ring belonging to her paternal grandmother and something borrowed was a necklace belonging to her sister. Her wedding ensemble was something new and she wore the traditional blue garter.

She carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Mary Scrivner, Ruidoso, sister of the bride. She wore a blue floral gown with ruffled skirt.

Bob Herako of Cleveland, Ohio served as best man. Terry Haake was the usher.

The bride's mother chose a long blue silk gown with long sheer sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length peach polyester gown with long chiffon sleeves. Both mothers wore pom pom corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was centered with a daisy arrangement and the wedding cake. Hostesses were Judy Sullivan, Teresa Williams, Carol Ward and host Tony Tune.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Ruidoso High School and attended Eastern New Mexico University.

The bridegroom is a 1974 graduate of Sunset High School in Beaverton, Oregon and is an administrative specialist in the Air Force stationed at Holloman Air Force Base.

After a wedding trip to Beaverton, Oregon, the couple is at home in Alamogordo.

Jan Holloman — Jace Ensor recite vows

Jan Holloman became the bride of Jace Ensor in a formal, double-ring ceremony July 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of Christ in Clovis. Mark Littlejohn, Lubbock, Texas, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ribble Holloman, Clovis, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Ensor, Ruidoso.

The couple repeated their wedding vows before an altar centered with an arch entwined with pastel majestic daisies and greenery. In the background was a 14-branch candelabra flanked by two five-branch candelabras and two tall candle trees entwined with greenery, and two palms. Votive candles, yellow ribbons, and greenery marked the family pews. At the close of the ceremony the couple lighted the unity candle which was a three-branch candelabrum holding yellow tapers.

The church chorus provided a medley of vocal selections including "Hand in Hand", "Whither Thou Goest", "I Love You Truly", "Processional", "Twelfth of Never", "O Perfect Love" and "Recessional". Clayton Fuchs sang a solo, "The Wedding Song".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of polyester organza with a tucked yoke, sprinkled in seed pearls, and a high neckline with lace ruffle trim at the shoulder. Lace also trimmed the flounce hemline with chapel train. The lace trimmed fingertip veil was held in place by a Juliet cap.

The bride carried a cascade of white daisies, white miniature carnations, and baby's breath with bows and streamers of white ribbon on a white lace covered Bible. As the bride approached the altar, she paused to present her mother with a long-stemmed yellow rose. Upon leaving the altar after the ceremony the bride again paused and presented the bridegroom's mother with a long-stemmed yellow rose.

Following tradition, the bride wore for something old, a brooch which had been worn by her mother at her wedding and which belonged to her late maternal great-grandmother LaRue. Something new was her bridal attire. Something borrowed was a Bible from her maternal grandmother McDaniel, which belonged to her late grandfather McDaniel. Something blue was her garter. Pennies minted in their birth years were worn in her shoes.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo.

The maid of honor was Julie Holloman, Clovis, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mickey Newman, Clovis, Sandra Littlejohn, Lubbock, Tex., sister of the groom, and Sharon Bacon, Tulsa, Okla., sister of the groom.

The maid of honor wore a pale orchid floor length gown of polyester with lace trimmed yoke, high neckline and bishop sleeves. The bride's attendants wore identical dresses in pastel pink, blue and green. Each wore white picture hats trimmed with satin ribbons to match their dresses and carried nosegays of dyed daisies and baby's breath with matching streamers.

Serving as best man was Dennis Ensor, Arlington, Texas, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Scotty Holloman, Clovis, brother of the bride, Josh Ensor, Ruidoso, brother of the bridegroom, and John Bacon, Tulsa, Okla., brother-in-law of the bridegroom. They wore tuxedos of white coats, black pants, and colored shirts matching the bridesmaids' dresses.

Candlelighters were Jon Alvin Ensor, Ruidoso, brother of the bridegroom and Curtis Davis, Clovis. They wore tuxedos of black pants, white coats and apricot shirts.

Kenda Kelley, Clovis, was the flowergirl. She wore a long yellow embroidered dress and carried a basket of pastel daisies.

Ringbearer was John Christopher Bacon, Tulsa, Okla., nephew of the bridegroom. He wore a white coat with black pants and yellow shirt and carried the rings on a white lace heart-shaped pillow.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Holloman chose a floor length pale aqua lace trimmed knit dress with a long lace coat. The bridegroom's mother wore a long lace trimmed orchid polyester knit dress. Both mothers wore white daisy corsages.

The maternal grandmother of the bride, Nora McDaniel, St. Vrain, wore a floor length, lace trimmed blue dress. Maternal grandmother of the bridegroom, Lena Kelso, Idalou, Texas, was attired in a floor length pale green figured dress. Both grandmothers wore white daisy corsages.

Ushers were Ray Duke, and Brent Davis, both of Clovis, and Scotty Holloman and Josh Ensor.

Patty Brown and Patty Johnson of Clovis registered the guests and handed out "thank you" scrolls.

A reception followed in the fellowship room of the church. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over white satin was centered with a four tiered, hexagon shaped cake accented with white daisies, and supported by white columns. The top tier was adorned with a lacy heart and wedding bells. The cake was baked by a life-long friend, Wilma Barnes.

A silver candlestick with a yellow taper encircled by the bridesmaids' nosegays was at the end of the table. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl encircled by yellow daisies and greenery.

Assisting at the serving table were Dona Gerries, Huntsville, Alabama, Debbie Gunnels, Clovis, Kenna Moore, Friona, Texas, and Janie Duke, Clovis.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a mint green taffeta cloth accented with pink flowers and ribbons, featured a silver coffee service and chocolate cake made in the shape of wedding bells decorated with brown and yellow daisies. The cake was made by Ima Gene Swinney, a life-long friend.

Serving at the bridegroom's table were Bonnie Ensor, Arlington, Texas, sister-in-law of the bridegroom and Paula Martin, Farwell, Texas.

Hostesses were Marie Duke, Myrl Davis, Bonnie Johnson, Lois McCready, Jo Jones, Marlene Newman, Nellie Maberry, Earlene Gunnels, Ima Gene Swinney.

BARRIE TINKLER

Houston artist at work in local gallery

In a world which classifies artists by the type of work they do, or by the media they work in, Barrie Tinkler of Houston stands apart by constantly varying both the medium he works with and the subject matter he uses. Varying might, in fact, be an understatement since his scope is so broad; he also sculpts, does murals and has even designed theatrical sets.
Tinkler's subject matter is as diverse as the materials he works in. A skilled portrait painter, he says, "Portraiture is the most demanding of arts. It requires technical finesse with both intense involvement and high detachment. A portrait likeness should be a lively work of art... a true blending of artist and sitter."

His Indian works are strongly influenced by the time he spent working in New Mexico and he mixes the Indian character with the rituals and symbols that make up his culture.

Another of Barrie Tinkler's strong areas is in the realm of allegorical and visionary art. Some of his works are the mysteriously spiritual representations of the many facets of living and life.

His work is currently on display at the End of the Trail Gallery at the Municipal Airport, Ruidoso, and he will be doing portraits at the gallery every afternoon through Labor Day. "I enjoy painting portraits with an audience," he says and invites anyone interested to come and watch.

Tinkler holds a B.F.A. from the University of Houston and has studied under Guido Fulfot of Trieste, Italy, Emil Bistrom of Taos and Frederic Taubes. He has had exhibitions at the Museum of Fine Arts, Coffey Gallery, David Gallery, Houston; Tucson's Knox-Campbell Gallery and the Navajo Gallery in Taos.

News from the County Agent

I just wish that the results of all research were as easily seen as the Range Caterpillar research plots. Three chemicals, Sevin, Dylox and Dimilin, were put on at varying rates to show the results of the different chemicals at different rates. The results both good and bad could readily be seen. Dimilin was put on at rates of 1/8 ounce, 1/4 ounce, 1 ounce and 2 ounces. The one ounce per acre killed 99% of the range caterpillars. Dimilin is an entirely new type of insecticide as it stops the chitin production of the insect. The insect is unable to molt its skin and grow so therefore it dies. This is an experimental insecticide which will require many more tests before it will be released.

Dylox killed 99% of the Range Caterpillars when applied at the 4 ounce per acre rate. Lesser amounts did not obtain adequate controls. Sevin applied at 8 ounces killed 95% of Range Caterpillars. All these insecticides were applied when the Range Caterpillars were about three quarters of an inch long or in the second instar.

Pears are in good supply in the Hondo Valley area now. Bartlett pears are the major variety available. They are good for eating out of hand or canning. Pears have a very short harvest season. If you want some pears, plan to get them in the next few days.

It's fair time in Lincoln County. The best of the Junior Livestock will be on exhibit this Friday and Saturday at the fair grounds in Capitán. The judging will start at 8:30 a.m. Friday with swine and continue until late evening when the horses are shown. The Junior Livestock Sale will be Saturday August 28, 1976 starting at 11:30 a.m. A pet show has been added to the Lincoln County Fair, starting at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. No pet is allowed on the grounds before 1:30 p.m. Only ribbons will be awarded. Dr. Lynn Willard is assisting with the Pet Show. Some of the classes are:

- 1st — CATS
- 2nd — DOGS
- 3rd — OTHER PETS
- CATS: long-haired kitten 6 mos. & under; long-haired cats over 6 mos.; short-haired kittens 6 mos. & under; short-haired cats over 6 mos.; Special Awards — Best Groomed and Best of Show.
- DOGS: sporting & working puppies 6 mos. & under; sporting & working dogs over 6 mos.; terriers, hounds & non-sporting puppies 6 mos. & under; terriers, hounds & non-sporting dogs over 6 mos.; toys, puppies 6 mos. & under; toys, dogs over 6 mos.; mixed breeds puppies 6 mos. & under; mixed breeds dogs over 6 mos.; Special Awards — Best Groomed; Best Behaved; Tallest Dog; Shortest Dog; Longest Tail and Best Trick.

There will also be a Best of Show Award and Unusual Pet.

The Fort Stanton Experimental Ranch, located east of Capitán, will hold its first field day September 3. The 26,000 acre ranch — operated since 1962 by the NMSU Animal and Range Science Dept., is the site for range, beef cattle and wildlife research. The tour will begin at the Donita Corral at 9:00 a.m. and last until about 12:30 p.m. The entrance to the ranch is 4 1/2 miles east of Capitán on Highway 380. Turn south on Highway 214 and travel one mile to the ranch turnoff. Dr. L.S. "Bill" Pope, the newly appointed dean and director of the NMSU College of Agriculture and Home Economics, will speak during the tour. This will be one of the first chances for New Mexico ranchers to get acquainted with Dr. Pope.

Dr. Gerald Thomas, President of NMSU, and Dr. Arnold B. Nelson, head of the Animal and Range Sciences Dept., will also give opening remarks.

During the tour, participants can see the results of various research projects, such as the supplemental feeding studies and calving dates of beef cows. Range research — including rotational grazing, effects of drought on vegetation and deer habitat — will be inspected. A nutritive evaluation of fertilized ranges, vegetational responses to nitrogen and herbicidal treatment of golden eye and snakeweed are other research reviews planned for the tour. When the tour ends at about 12:30 p.m., lunch will be provided by an agri-business firm connected with the ranching industry of New Mexico.

The Fort Stanton Experimental Ranch is part of the NMSU Agricultural Experiment Station network which also has six branch stations and two research centers located throughout New Mexico in addition to the main campus research facility. The land is leased from the Bureau of Land Management. Fort Stanton is an excellent research ranch because the climate and topography is similar to much of New Mexico's range lands.

The topography consists of fairly level mesas dissected by rather steep canyons. The land is covered with herbaceous species on the mesas and canyon bottoms with pinon, juniper and oak on the slopes. Average annual precipitation is just over 15 inches.

County Council

Since the inception of the Capitán Junior Riding Club six years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Lykins have made monthly trips from their home in Roswell to devote time and energy to the youths in this organization.

They help with the announcing, bookkeeping, donate trophies "and are truly interested in the welfare of the kids", according to Doris Engleking, Capitán village clerk.

But certain people aren't quite so interested in the Lykins' welfare. They broke into their four mobile homes near Encinosa last week and ripped off everything that wasn't tied down.

Sheriff's department deputies said they have two suspects under surveillance.

The Lincoln County Extension Council is planning to mobilize a preventive public health program to immunize New Mexicans against influenza. Mrs. Paul Pacheco, council president, has announced.

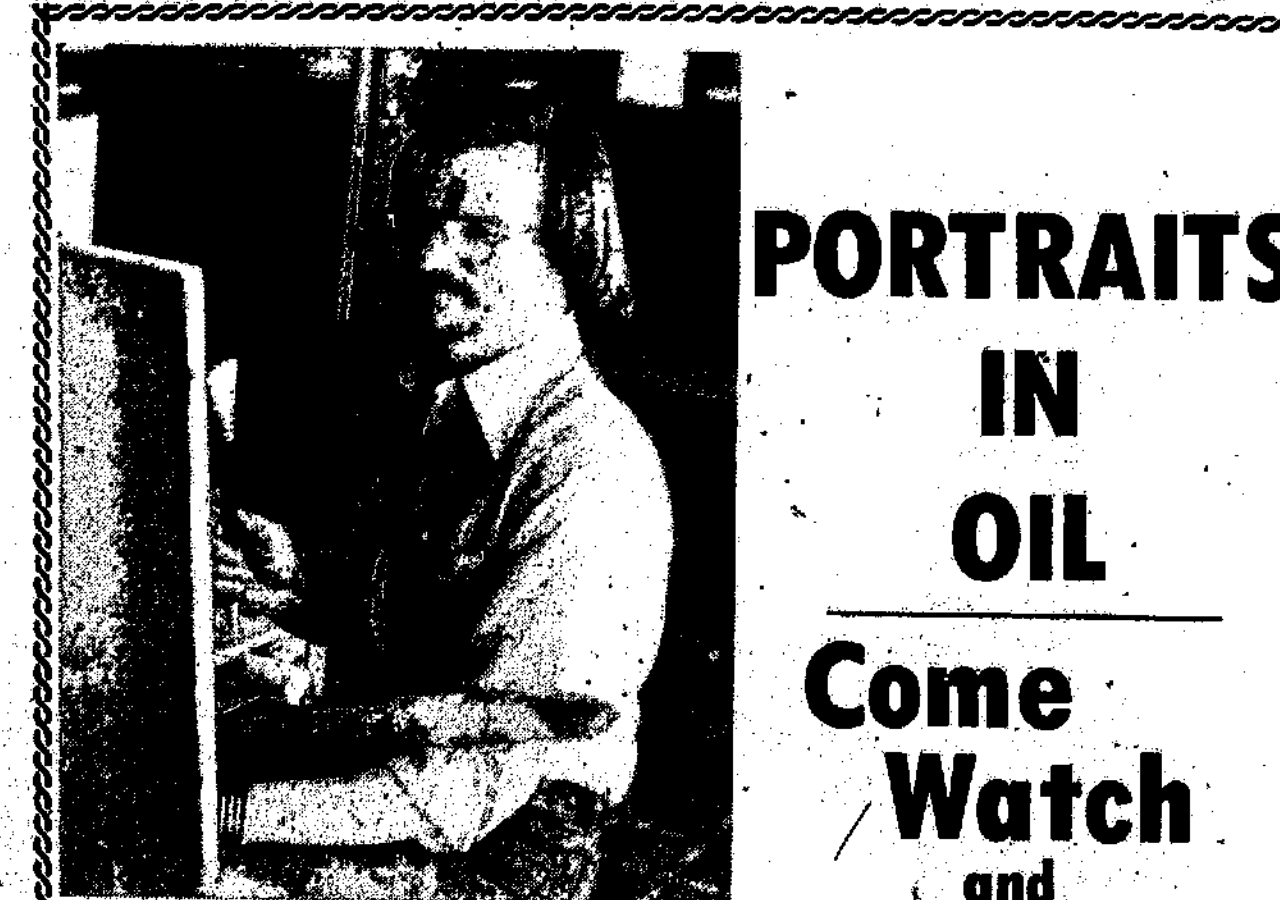

Extension clubs, statewide, have been requested to participate in this program by Dr. Eugene Ross, associate director of the Extension Service, NMSU. Leg Yates, family life specialist, will contact councils in the state to promote immunization against swine flu.

Council representatives helping plan the immunization program include Lorena Radcliff of Ruidoso-Hondo Valley, Amelia McKnight of La Junta and Earlene Tubbs of Carrizozo extension clubs.

Mrs. Pacheco has also announced that a needlepoint square designed by Nancy Knight and made by Bunte Richardson is hanging in the Governor's Mansion.

THE NAME OF the dead man in this log-protected grave near Jicarilla cannot be determined from the wooden marker within, but it is thought that he was an early day rancher or prospector.

WIDOW'S WALK, atop the Hoyle House in White Oaks, remains as evidence of the beauty that was built into it.

Serving breakfast at school suggested

The State Department of Education feels strongly that students should "begin satisfying their daily dietary needs at breakfast. Children who come to school hungry may find it difficult to stay alert and learn," New Mexico's education department School Food Service Director Gretchen Plagge says. "Breakfast is also important," she adds, "to improve the nutrition and dietary practices of students."

Because school breakfast program legislation is so new, New Mexico's State Department of Education and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service are trying to inform school administrators about the availability of the program — providing the morning meal to students of high school grade and under in public and private nonprofit schools.

"We hope," Mrs. Plagge reports, "that before fall session begins this year, we can increase the number of schools offering breakfast. We want any school that possibly can to offer breakfast. The school breakfast program is of value in our schools for our students. We are meeting and talking with principals and school board members, or to whoever can help get this meal served, now in order to interest more schools in the program."

Mrs. Plagge explains that the breakfast program is similar to the National School Lunch program and that "with minor adjustments to existing scheduling of food service personnel, many schools find that they can easily manage to participate in the breakfast program without having to hire additional help or make special equipment purchases. As with school lunch, there are funds reimbursements from USDA's Food and Nutrition Service for serving these breakfasts, plus, schools get USDA-donated foods and other assistance. USDA and my office offer guidance about starting and operating the program."

"We have had a lot of help promoting this breakfast program," Mrs. Plagge added, "from the National Children's Foundation. Their Field Representative Carlos Romero took it on as a project. The Children's Foundation office in Santa Fe is another source of information for school administrators seeking to find out about the breakfast program."

Solar greenhouse set for State Fair

A solar greenhouse will be displayed and demonstrated at the upcoming 1976 New Mexico State Fair Sept. 15 - 26 in Albuquerque, as one of the exposition's unique exhibits.

Built by the Solar Sustenance Project of Santa Fe and the New Mexico Organic Growers Association, at the suggestion of the Albuquerque Council of Garden Clubs, the special exhibit will be located behind the flower building all 12 days of the 1976 fair. Entrance to the project will be through the west side of the flower building.

The unit is a small scale working model made to disassemble and will be used as an exhibit for other functions. A similar structure is appropriate for apartment dwellers and renters as it can easily be disassembled and moved to another location.

Bill Yanda, who pioneered the construction of solar green houses in New Mexico says the fabrication of the unit is straightforward and simple, within the skill range of the most inexperienced person. He estimates that the cost of the average structure comes to about $1.90 per square foot, and the price can be considerably less for the experienced scrounger.

The operating principle of the greenhouse during the winter growing season is that it provides a considerable amount of heat for the home in the daytime and at night the household heat helps to keep it warm. The solar greenhouse receives all its warmth from the sun, which is free and available in abundance in the Southwest.

A unit like this could provide families with some security for the hard times ahead.

Advantages of the greenhouse: Lengthen the growing season for instance, it is possible to have fresh tomatoes from May 1 to January 1, add heat to the house, allow certain plants to be grown all winter, provide an area to get many vegetables and flower seedlings up early, insulate part of the house and add a pleasant living space to the home.

Demonstrations will be held several times daily during the fair, with several special showings planned on particular days. Special demonstrations will be set up for individual groups and schools who are planning to attend the fair as a body. Details for such special demonstrations may be made by contacting Sarah McDonald, 1312 Lobo Pl. N.E., Albuquerque 87106 or by phoning her at 268-5504.

Project Conserve launched in state to cut fuel costs

Governor Jerry Apodaca has announced the start of Project Conserve, a program designed to save energy and cut fuel costs by up to 20%. The program is jointly funded by the Federal Energy Administration and the State Energy Resources Board. New Mexico was the first state in the country chosen to participate in this state-wide pilot program.

To initiate Project Conserve, homeowners will receive a questionnaire containing questions about the construction of their home and the use of fuel. The completed questionnaire is sent to the Federal Energy Administration in Washington where a computer analysis is made of each homeowner's energy use with recommendations for energy savings.

In early September questionnaires will be mailed automatically to all homeowners in the state and will also be distributed by Chambers of Commerce as well as by school children from grades one through three, youth groups, Community Action Agency personnel and through an exhibit at the State Fair.

The questionnaire contains 29 questions relating to such housing characteristics as the age of the house, the number of windows and doors, the type of fuel used and the average thermostat setting. Questionnaires will be available from the first of September through the end of October. Persons who are unable to obtain one through the above mentioned channels or who need assistance in completing it should call the toll free number (800) 432-7970.

Once the questionnaire is completed, it is mailed to the Federal Energy Administration. The information is then fed into a computer and analyzed to develop specific recommendations for each home. The computer program used to perform this analysis is calibrated to the homeowner's region according to housing characteristics, average heating/cooling degree days and types and costs of materials. Each homeowner receives a personalized statement listing how he can save money and fuel.

For each action recommended, the statement estimates the amount of fuel that will be saved, the amount of money by which the homeowner's annual fuel bill will be reduced, the cost, if any, associated with the recommended action for both do-it-yourself and contracted work, and the payback period on the investment.

The program has built in consumer protection since an action is not recommended if only insignificant energy savings will occur. In addition, the service is voluntary and confidential, and it is being provided to the homeowner at no cost. The information provided on the questionnaire is strictly confidential. By law, the homeowner's name and address must be destroyed as soon as the analysis is complete and the personalized statement has been addressed for mailing.

Most of the homes at which the program is primarily aimed — single-family, detached dwellings — were built in the days when energy was plentiful and cheap, and consequently the heat loss from this type of dwelling is enormous. A recent study sponsored by FEA has shown that in 1975, Americans wasted more fuel than was used by 3% of the world's population. In fact, as a nation, we annually consume twice as much fuel as we need to maintain our current standard of living.

Studies of energy-use patterns have shown where and how most of our energy is being used. Subsequent efforts have been aimed at determining what can be done in each area to eliminate waste. In other words, a well thought out conservation effort encourages people to take the actions that will do the most good. The Energy Resources Board feels that Project Conserve is such a program.

FLOWER SHOW WINNERS — Taking top honors at the Ruidoso Garden Club Flower Show recently were: Myrl Rose, Award of Merit; Jimmie Sample, Horticultural Award; and also the Sweepstakes winner; Madeline Murray, Tri-color Award; Shirley

Newhaus, Creative Award and Wildlife Exhibit and Marti Yoder, show chairman. The theme of the show was "Sing Out America" and 78 Blue Ribbons were awarded in the Horticultural Division and 10 in the Artistic Division. The youngest Blue Ribbon winners were Lisa Bennett, age 8 and Phyllis Deal, 11.

by Fred Buckles

Kansas City — A disappointed, all-Reagan New Mexico delegation returned to New Mexico from the Republican National Convention with most delegates pledging support for the Ford-Dole ticket.

Mrs. Cobby McKinney, Clovis, said she is "ready to fight the Carter-Mondale ticket." She predicted Republicans will carry Curry County. She said Sen. Walter Mondale's liberalism will hurt the Democratic ticket in conservative Curry. The Curry County GOP will stage a meet at the candidates dinner rally Saturday. Speakers will be GOP candidates Harrison Schmitt, Silver City, for U.S. senator; Don Trubey, Portales, for the U.S. House in District 2 and Albuquerquean Jimmie W. Glenn for the State Corporation Commission.

Mrs. Gertrude Willoughby, Bosque Farms, Valencia County, can support the Ford-Dole ticket. But she will be Eastern Valencia County coordinator for Schmitt. On major platform issues Mrs. Willoughby said: "Education should be left to the states. States should have more authority."

Mrs. Debbie Hill, 22, Roswell, supported the federal equal rights amendment at Kansas City. Mrs. Hill said: "That's the only way equal rights for women can be enforced."

John L. Peters, Clovis, a Reagan alternate, said: "For me the high point of the convention was President Ford's acceptance speech, coupled with Reagan's speech immediately afterward. The low point was Reagan's loss of the presidential nomination when West Virginia voted." Peters is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel.

Peters said: "The New Mexicans I know are Republicans first, then Reaganites, then Ford supporters in that order. New-Mexico Republicans will back the party in the general election."

Reagan alternate Fred Collins, 55, a Northern Eddy County rancher in the Hope area, said: "The New Mexico Republican Party can unify behind either Ford or Reagan in the general election campaign." Collins favored a Ford-Reagan ticket. He has lived in New Mexico 47 years. Collins raises Brangus cattle and owns a pig farm.

Mrs. Tillie Simion, Red River, a pre-convention Ford supporter and a convention visitor, said of Kansas Sen. Bob Dole: "He is an aggressive campaigner, plain-spoken, easy to talk to. He will add to the ticket." Mrs. Simion was born in Ringo, Kans., in Dole's home state. Mrs. April Westbrook, Hobbs, a Reagan delegate, endorsed the Ford-Dole ticket.

Reagan delegate Jack Morgan, Farmington, blasted Reagan strategy that attempted to force Ford to name his vice presidential choice 11 hours before voting started on the presidential nomination. A state senator, Morgan was the only New Mexico delegate to vote against the Reagan-supported move. Morgan's vote was based on principle. He voted with the delegation for Reagan for the presidential nomination. Reagan phoned Morgan before the vote on the vice presidential issue but did not change Morgan's stand on the key rules test won by Ford backers.

Sam Laughlin, Artesia, a Reagan delegate, said Reagan would have attracted a heavy democratic crossover vote in New Mexico. Mrs. McKinney was a New Mexico coordinator for the colorful Reagan presidential nominating demonstration that lasted 45 minutes.

Former Gov. Tom Bolack, Farmington, Ford's New Mexico finance chairman, said efforts will be made to bring Ford to

New Mexico for campaigning. Bolack collected $75,000 in New Mexico for the Ford campaign, 50 per cent more than the quota.

Efforts were begun immediately after the Ford-Dole ticket was named to bring New Mexico Ford and Reagan supporters together for the main event campaign. U.S. Treasurer Francine Neff and U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici, both of Albuquerque, stayed with the New Mexico delegation at its motel. Both were strong pre-convention Ford supporters but they made no effort to convert New Mexico Reagan delegates at Kansas City.

Anderson Carter of Lovington, Reagan's national field operations director, predicted two days before Ford won the presidential nomination that Reagan would win with 1,140 votes, 10 more than minimum.

Democratic presidential hopeful Carter is desirous of attaining complete friendship with Russia. Good. President Ford's foreign policies generally provoke Congress to criticism. Bad. Spanish, English, French and Japanese were spoken back and forth across the table at a recent dinner attended by seven of us on the other side of the border. HANG TOUGH, BUD PAYNE

If'n you've been minding your p's and q's, newwise, of late . . . you know that good ol' Bud Payne has developed writer's cramp to the point where he isn't signing any checks in his official capacity as mayor of Carrizozo . . . a position to which, as I understand it, he was drafted . . . but, as a good citizen, accepted in the hope that he could be of service to his town.

It seems that the bookkeeping, over the past short while, is giving the State auditors a case of the rampaging heebiejeebies . . . which is the worst kind.

Now it seems that mayor Payne has several likely alternatives . . .

— Approach Gov. Apodaca and have Carrizozo declared a disaster area.

— Contact NM's Congressional delegation to have president Ford declare Carrizozo a disaster area . . . and in view of NM's support of Ford's candidacy, help would immediately be forthcoming, because Ford might need our four electoral votes.

— Take pen in hand and write mayor. Abe Beame.

TAKE YOUR CHANCES

Should you wonder . . . and lots of people have . . . why people get involved in drug peddling . . . it's a matter of economics . . . with the chances of getting caught being compared to the chance of getting your hands on a lot of money.

For instance . . . it takes about $12,000 to buy a kilo of heroin wholesale and if you stuff it into 10,000 caps and peddle it on the street you wind up with $50,000 . . . you pay maybe $150 for a kilo of marijuana and you roll it into 1,755 joints you gross $1,000 . . . hashish goes for $1,600 a pound in bulk and by finding customers you can gross $4,480.

If you just want a little sideline you can buy 100,000 bennies for $1,100 and dole'em out by the handful to reap $10,000 . . . or 1,000 uppers'll cost you maybe $60 and, if you make the right connection, you come up with $700.

Why, if an enterprising soul was of a mind to, said soul could invest his welfare funds shrewdly and in no time at all . . . if'n he didn't get caught . . . he could struggle along without food stamps. Let's hear it for private enterprise.

Food stamp policy changed

Changes in food stamp program regulations, extending eligibility of Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients, and retaining procedures for exchanging old series stamps for the new series have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

These changes bring USDA regulations into line with recent amendments extending the provisions of Public Law 93-233 through June 30, 1977. Under this legislation, which must be extended annually, SSI recipients are not eligible for food stamps if they live in a state that "cashes out" their food stamp benefits. Food stamp benefits are "cashed out" by increasing SSI payments to include the food stamp bonus the recipients would otherwise receive. All other SSI recipients are eligible without regard to income or household resources.

Massachusetts is the only remaining state authorized by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (DHEW) to "cash-out" food stamp benefits to SSI recipients. However, federal legislation was signed August 10 to enable California to continue "cash-out" effective July 1, 1976, and the state has requested DHEW authorization to do so. Food stamp regulations will be amended in the near future to bring them into line with DHEW's final determination.

Previously, New York and Nevada had also been eligible to "cash-out" food stamp benefits, but DHEW recently determined that these states were no longer qualified. This means SSI recipients in these states became eligible to receive food stamps on July 1, 1976, when the DHEW decision took effect.

To assist SSI recipients in the states making the transition to the Food Stamp Program, these amendments waive certain food stamp certification procedures. State agencies will be given the option to waive the interview requirement for certain households containing SSI recipients and use an abbreviated application form.

In addition to regulation changes concerning SSI eligibility, these amendments also extend indefinitely procedures for exchanging old series food stamps (in 50-cent, 2-dollar and 5-dollar denominations) for new series (1-dollar, 5-dollar and 10-dollar) stamps.

When the new stamp series was introduced in March 1975, USDA anticipated that all exchanges could be completed by June 30, 1976. However, since requests for exchanges are still being received, the June 30 deadline is being removed and exchange procedures left in effect for as long as needed.

Outarusty, owned by Diane F. Robinson of Albuquerque, is being retired, according to trainer Harold (Whitney) Nolen. The nine-year-old cracked a sesamoid bone during his last race at Ruidoso Downs August 8. And, according to Nolen, it would risk further injury to keep him in competition. Outarusty's racing career spans eight years and includes an impressive 24 wins. The gelding broke his maiden late in 1969 at Sunland Park. The next year he won five races in classes ranging from $4,500 claiming through allowance to the top in the El Paso Herald-Post Handicap. In '71 he added his second Herald-Post Handicap crown and also won the Ruidoso Mile. In '73 he capped his second Ruidoso Mile in a clocking of 1:39 seconds flat — a track record for that distance that still stands. His other credits include wins in the Winham Lad Handicap in '73, the Capin Fleur Handicap in '74 and a division of the Governor's Handicap in '75. The gelding's win earnings alone are up around $50,000. His running mates have been such speedy customers as Sister Fleet, The Breaker, Noble Kingdom, Static Image, Bold Gringo and Report Card. Nolen says Outarusty will be transferred to his permanent home on the Robinson ranch near Albuquerque as soon as he is well enough to travel.

49 sophomores took a shot Saturday at 10 starting berths in the $566,042 All-American Derby. Dash For Cash ripped off a speedy 21.71-second clocking in a three-length win and set the fastest 440-yard time of the day. Jerry Nicodemus did the riding for owners Anne and E.F. Phillips, Jr. of Frisco, Texas. Charles Cascio does the training. Others as they qualified: Reller's Image, 21.91; Mito Wise Dancer, 21.91; I'm Gorgeous, 21.95; Hyjonijet, 21.98; A Zure Request, 21.97; Speckled Trace, 22.05; Southern Gentlemen, 22.08; Azure Fair, 22.08. Miss Hay Bug and Delilah Go both had 22.10 times. Miss Hay Bug got the starting slot on a shake.

Other trial notes: Cascio and Nicodemus teamed up twice more with A Zure Request and Hyjonijet to get the top qualifying jockey and trainer honors. H.C. Werner Jr. and Jockey J.C. Wiley collected two berths with Reller's Image and Mito Wise Dancer. Trainer Don Farris and Jockey Ronald Banks collected two with I'm Gorgeous and Southern Gentlemen. I'm Gorgeous is the top money maker of the field this year with earnings of just over $117,700. Dash For Cash is second, boasting $113,173. Mito Wise Dancer won his trial heat by a head and stretched his win streak to eight. Males are the majority in the finale field. There's five colts, a gelding and four fillies. Azure Te is the top qualifying sire. A Zure Request and Azure Fair are both his offspring. Eight of the qualifiers hail from Texas, one from Michigan and one from Oklahoma. The largest slice in the history of the Derby — almost $188,000 — goes to the winner. From there it's graduated down to about $15,863 for last place. The finale will be run Sunday Aug. 29.

FOUR DAYS OF SPECTACULAR RACING

The $550,000 [est] ALL AMERICAN DERBY highlights Sunday's action. This weekend is full of hot racing action and you won't want to miss one day of the excitement. Thursday starts the weekend off with Thoroughbreds battling six furlongs in the RUIDOSO THOROUGHBRED FUTURITY TRIALS. Special early post time for Friday is 10:30 as the nation's finest two-year-old Quarter Horses compete during the ALL AMERICAN FUTURITY TRIALS. Then Saturday it's back to Thoroughbred action in the $8,500-

Owner — Trainer Coy Hendrix has been suspended and barred from race tracks in New Mexico. The action was taken when a urine sample from the Hendrix-trained Coys Off Limits, who finished third in the 11th race Sunday, Aug. 15, proved positive for the drug Pentasovine (Talwin) or a derivative. His case has referred to the New Mexico State Racing Commission. In addition, all horses owned or trained by Hendrix are "denied entry pending transfer to a trainer or trainers approved by the stewards."

Assistant trainer Forrest Arceneaux, groom Robert Williams and exercise boy Jerry Taylor were suspended and ruled off the grounds pending their appearance before the stewards to answer charges of participating in a "serious disturbance" in the barn area Aug. 14.

Carlos Rivas clicked in both halves of the Daily Double Thursday. He was aboard Sweet Poppy for a neck score at 400 yards in the first race. In the second, he piloted Timaway to a 3/4 length victory. The Daily Double paid $76.40.

Fans playing numbers could have had a heyday with eight and ten on Thursday. Horses launched from the eight slot won the first three races of the day, came in second in the ninth race and finished third in the last two. The 10 horse came in third in the first three races and again in the sixth and ninth. Ten also won the seventh race and finished second in the last. The five hole had its day Saturday. Four winners and a third were launched from that slot.

Speedy Spirit, a gallant campaigner in allowance company at Ruidoso Downs and Sunland Park, pulled up lame early in Saturday's feature race. The mare suffered ligament damage in a front leg, but, luckily, she'll be saved for broodmare duty. Speedy Spirit had been to the post 25 times this year. She'd won only once — finished second 10 times.

Four film crews from Columbia Pictures were on hand over the weekend as filming began on the multi-million-dollar production, "Casey's Shadow." Each of the crews was equipped with a $250,000 Panavision camera. General background scenes are being shot. This weekend, the principal actors, including Walter Matthau, are expected to arrive. Shooting will continue at Ruidoso Downs for about a month. Last week, the call went out to Ruidoso residents interested in working as extras. The main story-line concerns a down-on-the-heels Cajun trainer (Matthau) who, by pure luck, gets control of a brilliant but injury-plagued quarter horse, and nurses the colt, against numerous obstacles, into the $1 million All-American Futurity.

Bounding Time turned four furlongs in 45 1/5 seconds in Thursday's fifth race — just 3/5 seconds shy of the track mark. It was his first time in competition. Reller's Goldie sprinted to a six-furlong 11-length victory in Thursday's feature. Her time was a speedy 1:12 seconds flat, which missed the mark by only two fractions. Good Catch sped 400 yards in 20.04 seconds in Friday's fourth race for a 2 1/4-length win, missing the record by only .39.

Horses to watch: Sun Fall for an impressive hike and a nose triumph in Thursday's third race; Mr. Glory Oh for his second straight victory in as many lifetime starts in Thursday's sixth race; Jets Baby for his second score over Chica Barbara (the favorite) in Friday's seventh race; Switch Hitter for some strong moves to win going away by 3 1/2 lengths in Friday's eighth race; Time To Tell for an easy 5/4-length score over allowance foes in the seven-furlong feature on Saturday; O'Honey Bee and Booties Klu for regaining composure after being shut out in Sunday's fifth race (they finished first and second respectively).

Jockey/Trainer of the week

Jockey Carlos Rivas stayed in high gear all weekend to get the weekly rider crown at Ruidoso Downs.

Rivas notched nine wins from only 30 outs, three better than his closest rival. The work was "spread pretty" evenly throughout the four-day period. Rivas booted home two winners and three seconds from eight rides Thursday. Friday he collected two wins and a second from only five tries. Saturday's seven attempts netted two wins and two seconds. He wrapped up the weekend Sunday, with the final three wins, a second and a third. The total tally comes out to 30 percent in the win column.

Rivas' work put him even further out of reach at the top of the jockey ranks, where he's been most of the season. He now boasts 65 winners from 317 mounts — 13 ahead of Willie Lovell.

Victor Escobar did some fine work for his final week as an apprentice. Victor made six trips to the winner's circle, including two in feature events. He guided Reller's Goldie to an 11-length victory against allowance competition Thursday and clicked on Time To Tell to the tune of 5 1/4 lengths in allowance company at seven furlongs Saturday. Escobar is in fourth overall with 40 wins.

Three trainers were tied at three apiece in the conditioner tally. Charles Cascio, E. Jolly Driskill and Harold Nolen each hit the mark. But Cascio got the honor on percentage. He took nine starters to get his, Driskill took 11 and Nolen 12. H.C. Werner Jr. is still at the top with 35.

A full slate is on tap for this weekend. Thursday action gets rolling at the usual 1:30 p.m. Five trials for the $90,000 (est) Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity highlight the program.

Friday, matters get rolling at an early 10:30 a.m. to accommodate trials for the $1 million All-American Futurity. Saturday, the Ruidoso Sprint Championship offers a $10,000-added purse at six furlongs.

The whole bundle is wrapped up Sunday when 10 qualifiers settle the $566,042 gross purse in the finale of the All-American Derby. First post reverts back to the regular 1:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM

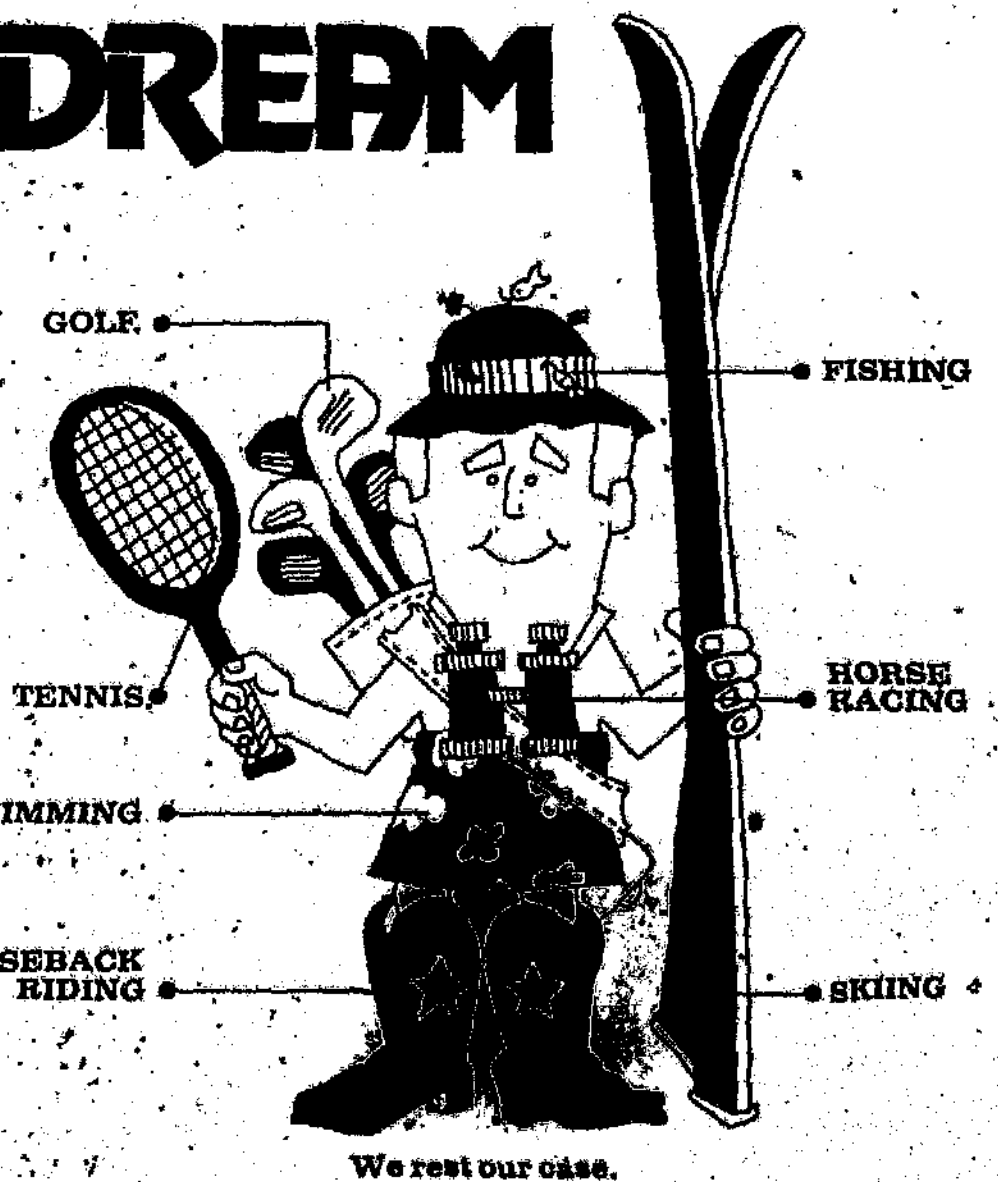

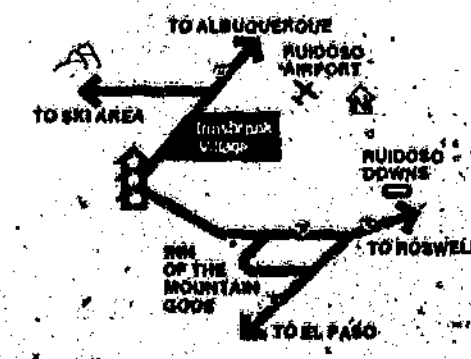

Yes. Unless you know something we don't, it's impossible to do everything you like to do at the same time. Or all the time, for that matter. And anyone who tells you different speaks with forked tongue. That's why, in choosing a resort condominium, you should consider Interval Ownership.

A PLAN FOR ALL SEASONS
Interval Ownership (or "Time sharing") is a plan by which you pay only for the time you use. And what you pay reflects a proportion of ownership in both the building and land. If your thing is sunbathing through the white stuff, purchase a week or two in Winter and ski Sierra Blanca. Or, if the green stuff is more your cup of tea, you might want some time during racing season at Ruidoso Downs. Or both, or for all seasons, forever. Well, we could go on and on. But why bother a point? There are lots of these time sharing things around. It's just that ours is the best.

Fully maintained and equipped, elegantly appointed Townhouse Chalets. Private supper club, gameroom, golf, tennis, fishing, and a partridge in a pear tree.

TAKE A DEEP BREATH.

NOW THANK A TREE.

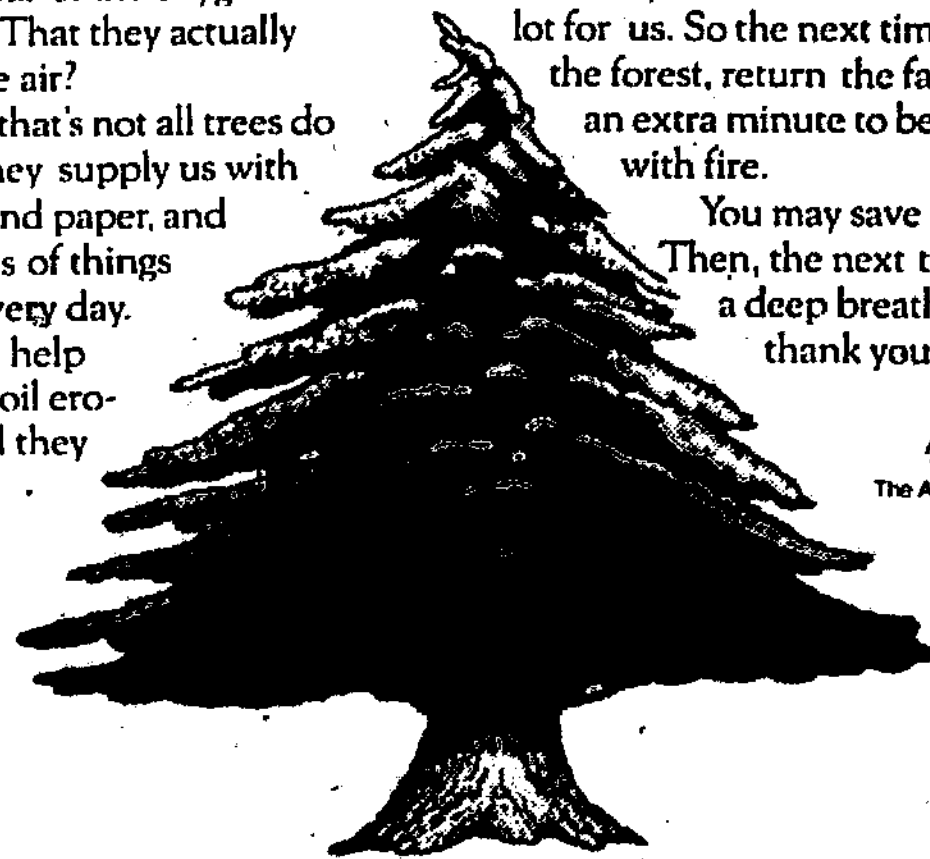

Did you know that trees supply a great deal of the oxygen we breathe? That they actually purify the air?

And that's not all trees do for us. They supply us with lumber and paper, and thousands of things we use every day.

They help prevent soil erosion. And they provide shelter for our animal friends. When you think about it, trees do a lot for us. So the next time you're in the forest, return the favor. Take an extra minute to be careful with fire.

You may save a tree's life. Then, the next time it takes a deep breath, it can thank you.

1974 will be a vintage year for one dining spot in Ruidoso. This was when Ross and Jerry Bligham opened the doors of Cousins' Restaurant. Next week they will be celebrating their second anniversary and if you are looking for one of Ruidoso's top places to eat, this is the place.

Dining at Cousins' is a unique, relaxed experience with courtesy and service just a part of their outstanding offering. On the menu there is something for everyone from char-broiled hamburgers to steak and lobster, and everything in between. Portions are adequate for the most hearty eaters and preparation exactly to your taste. The recipes are all their own or from old family recipes and every item is prepared fresh in the kitchen.

All of their desserts are homemade and tasting is the only way to describe them. The cheesecake from their kitchen is by far the most popular dessert item and mouthwatering it is.

Service, atmosphere and good food are awaiting you at Cousins'. It's located approximately one and one-half miles north of the stop light between Ruidoso and Alto, and truly as their slogan indicates it is "one of Ruidoso's most recommended restaurants"

A MODERN PARABLE

A fifty-five foot boat comes ashore, having been adrift on the stormy Atlantic for a weekend. Think of the agony — the families certain that the crew is dead. Think of the danger — the boat that comes safely to shore in a favorable wind might have been blown out to sea.
What good is a ship that won't weather a storm?
What good is a faith that won't weather the storms of life? If you're adrift, lay hold of a faith which gives the desolate a haven to dwell in. The Presbyterian Church of Ruidoso invites your participation in worship. Eleven o'clock Sunday morning atop Nob Hill.

SAFEWAY MEAT Insurance Policy

For years and years, Safeway has taken the risk out of your buying meats. It's assuring to know that you are completely insured 100% on all your meat purchases and knowing that Safeway's long time policy is:

"If ever a purchase of Safeway Meat fails to please for any reason whatsoever, just tell us. We will refund your money promptly and courteously."

There's No Need to Return The Meat.

There's no excess fringe on Safeway Meats. All cuts of Safeway beef, pork and lamb are close-trimmed of excess bone, fat and waste before weighing to give you more meat value. It's your assurance of good eating meat on the table for your money. For example, on this steak, the less tender flank muscle has been trimmed off along with excess fat, leaving just enough fat to enhance the flavor.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Another Grand Walk Back in the Hills

You remember last time we talked about our Dad and his long trips on foot, and how I remembered how he said these trips had always helped him a lot, giving him a great lift in mind, body and spirit.

With this in mind I took a nice walk quite a ways back into the land of the pino, cedar and juniper and oak brush. This went so well that last Friday we made a much longer foot journey.

In the early morning all the signs were right for rain. It was sultry, the wind was out of the east, and the clouds were moving in on all sides. There would not be too much worry about hot weather and being thirsty.

A long time ago, from a friend of mine named Ace Parker, I got a hold of a World War I ammunition bag, made of canvas. This can be thrown over the saddle horn with weight distributed on both sides. Or you wear it, with weight distributed front and back. In this I can carry staples, pliers, hammer, small hatchet, and binoculars.

I have misplaced my old canteens so I carry water in a quart orange juice bottle. One bottle would be enough this time on account of the good rain that was shaping up.

Would this trip be too long for Shady Logan, the little half coyote — half collie spirit dog? He is past fourteen years old, and they say every year for a dog is equal to seven for a man. He had made the other trip fine, but he had been very thirsty. Another trip so soon would tire him too much. So, throwing the canvas sack over my shoulder, I started off up the hill after telling Shady to stay and watch the house.

About a hundred yards away I turned and looked back. There he was, looking out of the window, the white streak showing plainly in his golden forehead. He looked so lonely and pitiful that I thought the anxiety of waiting would be worse than the trip. Once I had a little dog that almost had a break-down when we left him in the house most of a day.

I turned back and the tail began swinging with joy. I opened the door and out he bounced and led the way up the hill.

It's Raining

All Around

Up the hill and onto the first ridge we swung along the old wagon road. It was raining all around the world, on all sides of us. Across the blue distance you could see a cloud over the Sierra Blanca and purple streamers of rain coming down. Here and there the sun shone through other smaller rain streamers, casting the White Mountain and its smaller brothers and sisters near and far in mantles and veils of golden-tinted hues of lilac, violet and magenta. (I have been reading "Nevada" by Zane Grey, in which the much-beloved story-teller paints his word pictures of Arizona sunrises and sunsets and vast views of mountain and desert.)

That is one of the best things about walking in the mountains — you can see so far. And God speaks to you across the purple and golden distances of His world.

A minute ago I mentioned an old wagon road. There is no road now, but the pathway of the road is still there making easy travel part of the way along the flat top of the ridge. Time was, a hundred or so years ago, when travel did not follow the winding valleys as the highways do today.

People struck out on horseback, in wagons, and in buggies pretty much in a straight line, across these ridges and mesas on top of the hills. Like the old road which goes straight over the hill from San Patricio to Lincoln. The old timers say the foot hills country was easy traveling.

Saving The Water

Farther and farther we went up another high oak-brush hill and onto another big ridge. Now and then a cool breeze would fan us blowing from a cloud bank not far distant. Then the clouds would drift by and the sun would come out.

Something told me to save the water. On the way back we will have a good drink. We are a long way from the house, and it just may decide not to rain.

In late afternoon, about four-thirty, we were ready to turn back. We could take our time resting and sipping the water. I would give most of it to Shady. So I dropped the heavy fence-pilers into the ammunition bag lying in the shade. Shady had been guarding this bag closely, dozing and from time to time opening his eyes.

There was a clinking sound when the pliers landed in the bag. Shady jumped up, looking at me across his sharp coyote nose, with his sharp ears standing up. His look plainly said, "Now you've done it." I realized I had thrown the pliers on the water bottle and broken it.

There is no anger like being mad at yourself. Then came a little sense of panic the same as you feel when you realize you are lost in a strange place — or when you get tired swimming across a lake or river. Then there was nothing in me but shame and worry. How could the little dog make it home without water? Yet he seemed not in the least worried, smiling as we started back.

I borrowed another page out of our Father's book. Instead of going on the usual way I took a short cut. Starting out in a brisk walk, to save time and beat the thirst, I left Shady trailing. With far more judgment and self control than his ridge runner pard, he paced himself along, well aware of the distance back home.

Straight down a steep hillside covered with tall oak brush we went. The brush was way over my head, and it was a fight to get through in places, but Shady found little tunnels running through and was waiting under a tree while I was still only half way down the hill.

Across another canyon we toiled and up another hillside. Shady rested often under a cedar or pino. Clouds came and cooled us off but no rain. I picked some alpine mint and chewed it, but Shady had nothing. Finally we got on the last ridge, and Shady trotted on ahead. I tried to call to him to wait, but my mouth was so dry I could not make any sound. He stopped in a clearing and waited anyhow. And I cut the thorns and outer husk from part of a cactus and chewed the pulp. This is always something you can do when you are out of water.

The sun went down, and in a hurry I tried another short cut and ran into rough going, cliffs and rocks. Shady led me out of this back onto "Moose Head Ridge", the one that can be seen from the house. And we followed the ridge down to the house.

Just as we came into the yard, Shady began drinking from the metates in the yard, and just then down came the cool drops of rain. The Rain Spirit was bringing me a little message teaching me a lesson. As the drops came pattering down, they seemed to say, "We want you to be grateful for simple blessings like a drink of water. And we want you to take enough water always in a canteen."

This was at seven-thirty in the evening. I was a shade on the weary side, but the trip did not faze Shady.

So it's seven man years for one dog year? I hope I can make this trip as good as Shady Logan did when I am ninety-eight years old.

Again I say, "Don't do what I do. Do what I tell you. Carry plenty of water and do not walk to far."

Good Samaritan fund given boost

Local writer Eve Ball was named this week to the National League of American Pen Women and will hold membership in the Albuquerque branch.

Mrs. Ball, author of "In the Days of Victorio", "Ma'am Jones" and various other works, said, "It's a nice group of women and one can learn a lot by attending their meetings." She was the 1974 Golden Spur Award recipient for creative writing.

She qualified for the 6500-member organization by submitting samples of her published work and proof of sale on the open, competitive market.

The NLAPW was established to encourage the production of creative work and is headquartered in the Pen-Arts Building, near the White House in Washington, D.C.

Eve Ball named to 'Pen Women'

The Good Samaritan Nursing Home fund was given an approximate $1,000 boost by proceeds from last week's fish fry and country store.

Kentucky Fried Chicken sponsored the fish fry and the Golden Age Club presented the country store.

State's rehabilitation program served 1,741 during fiscal year

New Mexico's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) exceeded its 1976 goal of 1,700 closures by rehabilitating a total of 1,741 New Mexicans during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. The year-end totals were announced recently by Dr. Robert A. Swanson, DVR Director.

The 1,741 closures reflected a 4.5% increase over the previous year's total of 1,666.

Of the 1,741 rehabilitated citizens, 41% (721) were classified as "severely disabled." This category includes such disabilities as blindness, deafness, spinal cord injuries, moderate and severe mental retardation, psychotic disorders and other highly disabling conditions.

New Mexico's high percentage of "severely disabled" rehabs (41%) is well above the Southwest region (Akr., La., Okla., Tex., and N.M.) figure of 31% for fiscal 1976. Nationwide figures for fiscal 1976 are not yet available, but in 1975 the national figure was 34%.

"The goals and priorities of DVR in New Mexico are consistent with the Federal Rehabilitation Act, which mandates that severely handicapped persons be served first," Swanson said.

While the agency's is to give top priority to serving the severely disabled, an effort which requires far more time and money, less severely disabled persons are never denied services, he said.

"The effort is much greater for the severely disabled, but the rewards are much greater for both the individual and society," Swanson said.

Among the 1,741 citizens rehabilitated last year were 312 persons who were recipients of some form of public assistance, Dr. Swanson noted.

"As far as the taxpayer is concerned, this is a very important statistic," he stated. "These 312 persons were either removed from the welfare rolls completely or else had their payments reduced because they became wage earners."

The figure of 312 Public Assistance rehabs was up 15.5% from last year's total of 270.

According to Swanson, rehabilitated clients experienced an average earnings increase in excess of 350% as a direct result of rehabilitation services provided by DVR.

Before rehabilitation, 1,321 of the 1,741 persons earned no income. The remaining 420 earned an annual total of $1,707,628.

Following rehabilitation, 1,472 rehabilitated persons earned annual salaries totaling $7,701,980. The remaining rehabs were housewives and unpaid family workers who had been helped to become more independent and productive, Swanson said.

During the year, 6,516 persons were referred to DVR for services. Individuals are referred to the agency by physicians, other agencies, public schools, through self-referral and by other organizations.

A primary indicator of the growing volume of work for the agency is the fact that DVR had a total of 13,492 open cases during the year.

"Out of this large number of open cases, we actually provided services, in one form or another, to 6,192 clients," Swanson said. "Of course not all of these people were rehabilitated, but we were able to help most of them in some way. Since we are an agency that provides helping services, the number we serve is a very important figure."

DVR services are provided to develop, preserve or restore the ability of handicapped persons so they may become vocationally and socially competent.

Rehabilitants came from all geographic areas of the state. The breakdown of rehabilitated clients for each area is as follows: Area I (Santa Fe) — 323; Area II (Albuquerque - northeast quadrant) — 204; Area III (Las Cruces) — 318; Area IV (Roswell) — 369; Area V (Special Programs — Albuquerque) — 287; the New Mexico State Penitentiary — 24; Area VII (Albuquerque - southwest quadrant) — 114; and Services for the Blind — 103.

BLM brochure on west available

A new brochure entitled "The Dominguez - Escalante Expedition: Exploring the Interior West" was released today by the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

The free illustrated brochure describes the perilous journey across northwestern New Mexico; western Colorado, eastern Utah, and northern Arizona undertaken in 1776 by two young Franciscan Fathers, Francisco Atanasio Dominguez and Silvestre Velez de Escalante.

Accompanied by a small band of Spaniards and Indians, the priests set out from Santa Fe, New Mexico on July 29, 1776 on what has been described as "one of the most ambitious endeavors in the history of the Spanish-American West." Their mission: to establish an overland route between the Spanish stronghold of Santa Fe and the main presidio at Monterey, California.

On their seven-month, 2000-mile journey, the party was plagued by internal strife, fierce blizzards and choking heat, and nearly unbearable hunger and thirst. With Monterey calculated to be less than a week away, the men cast lots and decided to return to Santa Fe.

Upon their return, Dominguez — whose unsympathetic inspections of Spanish missions along the route had revealed an intolerant attitude towards local missionaries — was removed as head of all New Mexico missions and reassigned to isolated missions throughout Mexico and New Mexico. Escalante died in Mexico at age 30.

Though the men had not accomplished their mission, their epic struggle with the uncharted west was not fruitless. The interior West had at last been penetrated, and the expedition's journals and maps would prove invaluable to those who would finally open the route between Santa Fe and California some forty years later.

Approximately one-third of the Fathers' historic expedition crosses BLM-administered national resource lands. As part of the nation's Bicentennial celebration, the Bureau is marking their route with signs and permanent interpretive sites at seven significant points along the trail.

The brochure includes a detailed map of the expedition route and descriptions of each interpretive site.

Copies of the new brochure are available at BLM offices in Albuquerque, Socorro, Las Cruces, Roswell and Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Resources must be protected

Today, we must make plans for tomorrow's use of resources, says Jose E. Herrera, Extension community development specialist with New Mexico State University. We must produce enough food and fiber for seven billion people while using the same amount of land.

Certain essential minerals will be used up in 10 to 15 years. In addition, we may be paying "higher prices" and "getting along with less than we have had in the past," Herrera says.

In order to meet this demand, an international approach is needed. Buyers from Europe, Africa, the Middle East and the Far East buy beef, soybeans, cotton and lumber from the United States to fill their needs. We need oil, tin, phosphorus and potash from foreign countries to produce food and fiber. New technology is also needed.

Now is the time to start improving the situation, Herrera says. We should build better, more durable and longer lasting products. Planned obsolescence is suicide.

We must recycle minerals — such as zinc, copper and lead — which are in short supply. Using more glass, aluminum and iron — which makes up 40 per cent of the minerals in the earth's crust — would also help.

By encouraging non-mineral consuming work — such as science, the arts and cultural activities — existing minerals will last longer.

Research must find immediate alternate energy supply to replace oil and coal in the future. Because they may be essential to produce food and fiber, we must reclaim surface ruined lands.

Finally, we must intensify research and train more young people at universities to meet the coming needs for knowledge on a rapidly changing earth.
