

DOG-GONE BASKET CASE — Neither whistling nor tapping on the door caused this pooch to give up basket-basking in the sun, in a pretty red sweater, in this car parked at village hall.

Furthermore, after a cursory peek and without even one "woof", the photographer was ignored and, with a couple of quick turns in the basket, the pooch-nap resumed.

YULE LIGHTING TO BE LEFT TO INDIVIDUALS

Cable TV franchise action due in January

The Ruidoso trustees Tuesday, after concurrence that the village retain the right to determine regular service rates to be charged by Cablevision of Lincoln County, authorized village attorney John W. Thompson to prepare a new Cable TV franchise with Atty. John Conway, Alamogordo, representing the company, for consideration by the trustees at the Jan. 25, 1977, board meeting, if that deadline can be met.

Cablevision, to meet Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations must, Carl Kelley, local Cablevision manager, said, have the new franchise approved by the village by March of 1977.

In referring to Cable TV subscribers on fixed incomes, trustee George White said, "We should never relinquish the right to set the rates," in noting that many subscribers regard "television almost as a necessity and not a luxury."

Atty. Conway said that the trend throughout the country is for Cable TV companies to determine their basic service rates and that "the rates and the demand for service will reach their own level," in requesting that the trustees give serious consideration to allowing the company to set their rates under the new franchise.

Atty. Thompson said, "There's been a case on rate setting and the board can set the rate."

(In each instance the "rate" is applicable only to regular cable service on existing channels. Future services, pay television, music, added channels, would be available as options to the subscriber at rates to be set by Cablevision of Lincoln County.)

FCC regulations call for issuing franchises not to exceed 15 years, which has necessitated drawing up the new franchise by next March.

Under the existing franchise the fee paid to the city is prorated on the gross service receipts, starting at two percent with the present rate being three percent which would be increased to four percent for the last five years of the existing 25-year franchise.

The board, without official action, concurred that the three percent rate of payment to the village would be acceptable in the new franchise. Kelley noted that the FCC favors the three percent payment and that this is the fee generally paid throughout the country.

Trustee Sherman Atwood said, of future installations, "I insist that all lines go underground whenever possible, with the council to grant a variance whenever it is needed."

Kelley said that was the intention of the company and that all of the new lines in the replacement program were installed underground. "The only thing that will prevent us from going underground would be to encounter solid granite, or something like that. We are now successfully going underground under highways and other instances where we used to go overhead."

To clear the air on recently completed work by Cablevision, trustee Ab Gunter, Mayor pro-tem, said, "Weather permitting, all damage done will be repaired by the company," in referring to conditions outlined in the present franchise.

Downs trustees are asking bids on All American Park

Village of Ruidoso Downs trustees agreed Monday to call for bids on the multi-purpose court, perimeter fence, portable bleachers and playground equipment for the proposed All American Park "in keeping with State purchasing laws."

Village clerk Virginia Spall said, "We will bid all items over $1,250." The park, to be completed by April 1, 1977, has been funded through the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and the State Planning Department. The $32,000 proposed project includes $4,000 cash funds to be paid by the Village and $4,000 force account — village employees to contribute that amount in labor.

An assistant attorney general had recently cautioned the governing body, by letter, on their move to name Wally Hjalmski as supervisor of the turn-key job without apparently securing the required bids. Mayor Norman Wheeler said Hjalmski will still serve in a supervisory capacity for the park project.

In other action, occupation license tax structure was discussed. Mayor Wheeler said the Village currently collects $1 per $1,000 gross receipts for an occupation license from businesses within the corporate limits. There has been some controversy over this structure and "to go to a flat rate would cost the Village $2600 to $3000 in revenue. Being in the situation it's in, the Village needs all the revenue it can get."

Mayor Wheeler said some of the "bigger businessmen" have complained about having to pay the $1 per thousand when the Village doesn't collect tax from Ruidoso Downs Race Track. "I've contacted senators and legislators in this area," Wheeler said, "to get our fair share from the race track and it sounds promising. The way I understand it, we can get it (the tax) from reserved seats, admissions, the Jockey Club, concessions, cafeteria and the feed stores."

Council agreed to table action on changing the occupational tax structure until the December 27 meeting "in hopes of having a full council." Trustees Don Clark and Albert Richardson were absent at Monday night's meeting. Trustee M.H. "Boots" Nelson expressed concern that "people will criticize us if only the three of us make a major decision of this kind."

The trustees agreed to close village hall December 31 in observance of the New Year. Mayor Wheeler said, "All the city employees have done a terrific job, worked a lot of overtime and a day off for them would be great." He also commended trustee W.R. "Pappy" Johnson: "Pappy plowed every street in this town the night of the big storm and didn't get paid a dime. He worked from eight that night until two the next morning and did a tremendous job getting at least a foot of snow off our streets."

The council also:

- Adopted Ordinance 76-5 regulating trash containers.
- Passed Resolution 76-11, budgeting an increase for anti-recession funds "to be used in the street operating fund".
- Passed Resolution 76-12 to include the park grant in the budget.

- Accepted Meleton Sanchez's bid of $115 for a 1954 Dodge dump truck.
- Agreed to purchase snow tires for the garbage truck on state contract.
- Approved purchase of copy paper from a salesman in Atlanta who "has to relocate the paper after the county cancelled its order."

Next regular meeting of Village of Ruidoso Downs governing body will be at 7 p.m., Monday, December 27 in council chambers.

February school election to fill two board of education vacancies

Ruidoso Municipal School board confirmed Tuesday that an election will be held February 1, 1977 to elect two board members to serve terms of six years each. Terms are expiring for board president Dave Parks and Dr. Howard Tate. Neither of the incumbents indicated Tuesday evening whether or not he would be running for re-election.

Deadline for registering to vote in the election is 5 p.m., Tuesday, December 21. Those wishing to have their names placed on the ballot must declare their candidacy with the Ruidoso Municipal Board of Education at the office of the Superintendent of Schools no later than 5 p.m., Tuesday, December 28.

The election will be held at the Home

Economics building located on the high school campus and polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Absentee voting will be allowed for the first time for this election and any registered voter residing in the school district is entitled to vote.

Boundaries for the voting district are: bounded on the south by Otero County, on the east by Hondo School District No. 2, on the north by Capitán School District No. 28 and on the west by Capitán School District and Otero County.

In other action the board "accepted with regret" Sam Pilgreen's resignation due to relocation. Pilgreen is the junior high and high school art teacher. The board unanimously agreed to hire Kim Tezak as the new art teacher.

Secretary Stormy Edwards said that the board had mailed invitations to bid auto fleet insurance to five agents, in addition to publicly advertising for bids. He said the agencies had either ignored the invitations or refused to bid. Pertec-Parks & Associates submitted an option from Western Insurance Co. that "if no bids can be obtained, we will provide standard coverage."

Parks said, "Most companies have withdrawn from the market and the standard coverage will be at a higher premium than before — I can't say in what amount."

Bid on board members' liability is a $500 deductible, $1 million limit, at a premium of $1,067 through St. Paul Insurance Co., Pertec-Parks & Associates, agent. The board unanimously agreed to accept the option through Western Insurance and the bid from Pertec-Parks.

The board also:

- Approved the school ski program.
- Approved 1977 meeting dates.
- Was introduced to the high school staff.
- Approved budget increase and transfer.

School superintendent Pat Vaillant announced that the administration office will be closed December 24, 30 and 31. It will remain open during the rest of the regular holiday vacation.

Next meeting of the school board will be at the administration office at 7 p.m., Tuesday, January 11. All meetings are open to the public.

Courthouse boilers will be repaired

"The consensus of consultants, experts and insurance investigators is to repair, not replace the heating system at the county courthouse and we should be open for business today," said county manager Les Olson.

The ailing boilers quit functioning last week and the courthouse shut down, for all practical purposes, due to no heat throughout the building. During the emergency commission meeting Friday, tentative plans were made to tear out the old equipment and replace it with a new 10-section boiler.

"Boiler number two," Olson said, "was determined to have had a catastrophe, which means it is covered by insurance. There was a malfunction of the low water cutoff and the automatic control failed to shut off the furnace."

"American Boiler Corporation out of Albuquerque can repair both boilers for $2,550 and have at least one functioning today. Then the insurance company will review the figures and determine how much of the cost is to be covered."

"I'm still advising people who have business at the courthouse to call before they make a trip over here."

Olson said these repairs on the equipment will buy time until the next fiscal year and "perhaps avoid a hasty decision to replace the boilers."

Grand Jury indicts two

The Lincoln County Grand Jury Tuesday indicted two men on charges filed with Magistrate Jim Wheeler recently. Indicted for possession of controlled substances was Barney Earl Sawyer, 19, of Silver City.

Sawyer was arrested about 3:45 p.m., Dec. 8 after being stopped for a routine traffic check by NM State Policemen Tim Sharpe and Jeff Darden on US Highway 70 at Hondo.

At a first appearance hearing Dec. 9, before Magistrate Wheeler, Sawyer was charged with possession of controlled substances, to-wit: six pounds, six ounces of marijuana, in bricks, with a street value of $3,150 and 229 barbiturate capsules with a street value of $1,145; and with intent to distribute. Bond was set at $10,000 and Sawyer was held at Lincoln County jail until his indictment. The marijuana charge is a fourth degree felony, the barbiturate charge a third degree felony. Ed Marshall, 72, Ruidoso Downs, had bail set at $1,000 cash, in a Dec. 8 first appearance hearing before Magistrate Wheeler on charges of aggravated battery. He was ordered held at Lincoln County jail pending posting bond.

The Grand Jury Tuesday indicted Marshall on charges of aggravated battery and he is free on a $1,000 bond. Marshall was charged in a Dec. 7 incident in which Merdith Tissnolitos, Mesalero, suffered a knife wound in his abdomen. Tissnolitos was not seriously injured.

Cady facing charges on conspiracy

Gerald Cady, 40, Alto, manager of the Artesia Municipal Airport pleaded innocent to charges of conspiracy to distribute a controlled substance during arraignment in Carlsbad Tuesday.

He is free under a $2,000 bond with no trial date being set.

Cady's arrest took place Monday at the Artesia airport when he was served with a warrant following the handing down of a Grand Jury indictment in Eddy County last Thursday.

The alleged conspiracy is said to have occurred about Oct. 2, 1975.

Student ski program set January 18

If the "Think Snow" incantations work, Ruidoso school kids will head for the Sierra Blanca slopes January 18 because the school board, "in cooperation with the management of Sierra Blanca Ski Enterprises, has approved the continuance of the ski program for this year."

Although school won't be dismissed, students in grades four through twelve who wish to participate in the ski program will be excused from Tuesday afternoon classes. The program will run from January 18 through February 22, 1977.

First timers will be required to take instruction at the ski course the first two times out — at $1 per lesson. Ski fee is $2 and ski rental, at most shops, is $2 — up $1 from last year. The rental increase is due to extra employees the shops hire to assist hundreds of students with their ski needs.

Transportation to and from the ski area is the responsibility of the individual student. The Board of Education and Sierra Blanca accept no responsibility for accidents "of any nature."

After the ski course opened in 1961, superintendent Pat Vaillant and former teacher Ken Newton approached the Sierra Blanca management about a ski program from which the kids could benefit and at a price they could afford. Getting the go-ahead there, they went to various ski shops with the same request. The villagers then donated their time to transport students and the community effort is still going strong.

Approximately 500 students a year participate in the school ski program.

Cable TV franchise

The trustees decided not to install the old Christmas decorations downtown to encourage "individuals to decorate their homes and businesses". Village manager Jim Hine said, "The idea is to get away from the garish lighting giving Christmas season in other localities a strictly commercial aspect." Hine noted that the village has already "installed a cross, a Noel sign, and halo effects on water tanks and other locations," in an effort to encourage individuals to decorate, "in the theme of Christmas, not strictly as a business promotion."

In other action the trustees:
— Directed that EMCO devise a financing plan for the lease/purchase of trucks and containers for the new refuse system and submit it to the council for action. State law prevents the village from financing the system from unencumbered funds or from borrowing money to make lease-purchase payments.

— Acknowledged receipt of a letter from D. James, Ruidoso, requesting that the village continue to set Cable TV rates.

— Granted Co-Con an extension of 60 days to complete the Gavilan Canyon water lines, due to a delay in delivery of fixtures and parts for the pressure stations. Administrative assistant Frank Potter advised the trustees that the installation is virtually complete, except for the pressure stations with "perhaps 60 to 80 feet of pipe yet to be laid."
— Approved abandoning 15 inches and 18 inches of land on Lots 19-20, Block M, Ruidoso Pine Lodge, to make obtaining a clear title to the lots possible.

— Set the naming of two judges and two clerks for the Jan. 18 special election for Dec. 28.
— Set Dec. 28 as the date for adoption of Ordinance 76-9, "Declaring Drinking of Alcoholic Beverages in Public as being unlawful, and a Violation of Municipal Code."
— Were advised by Hine that $3,687 in "anti-recession" funds would be used to continue the services of a mechanic's helper in the village vehicle/heavy equipment shop.

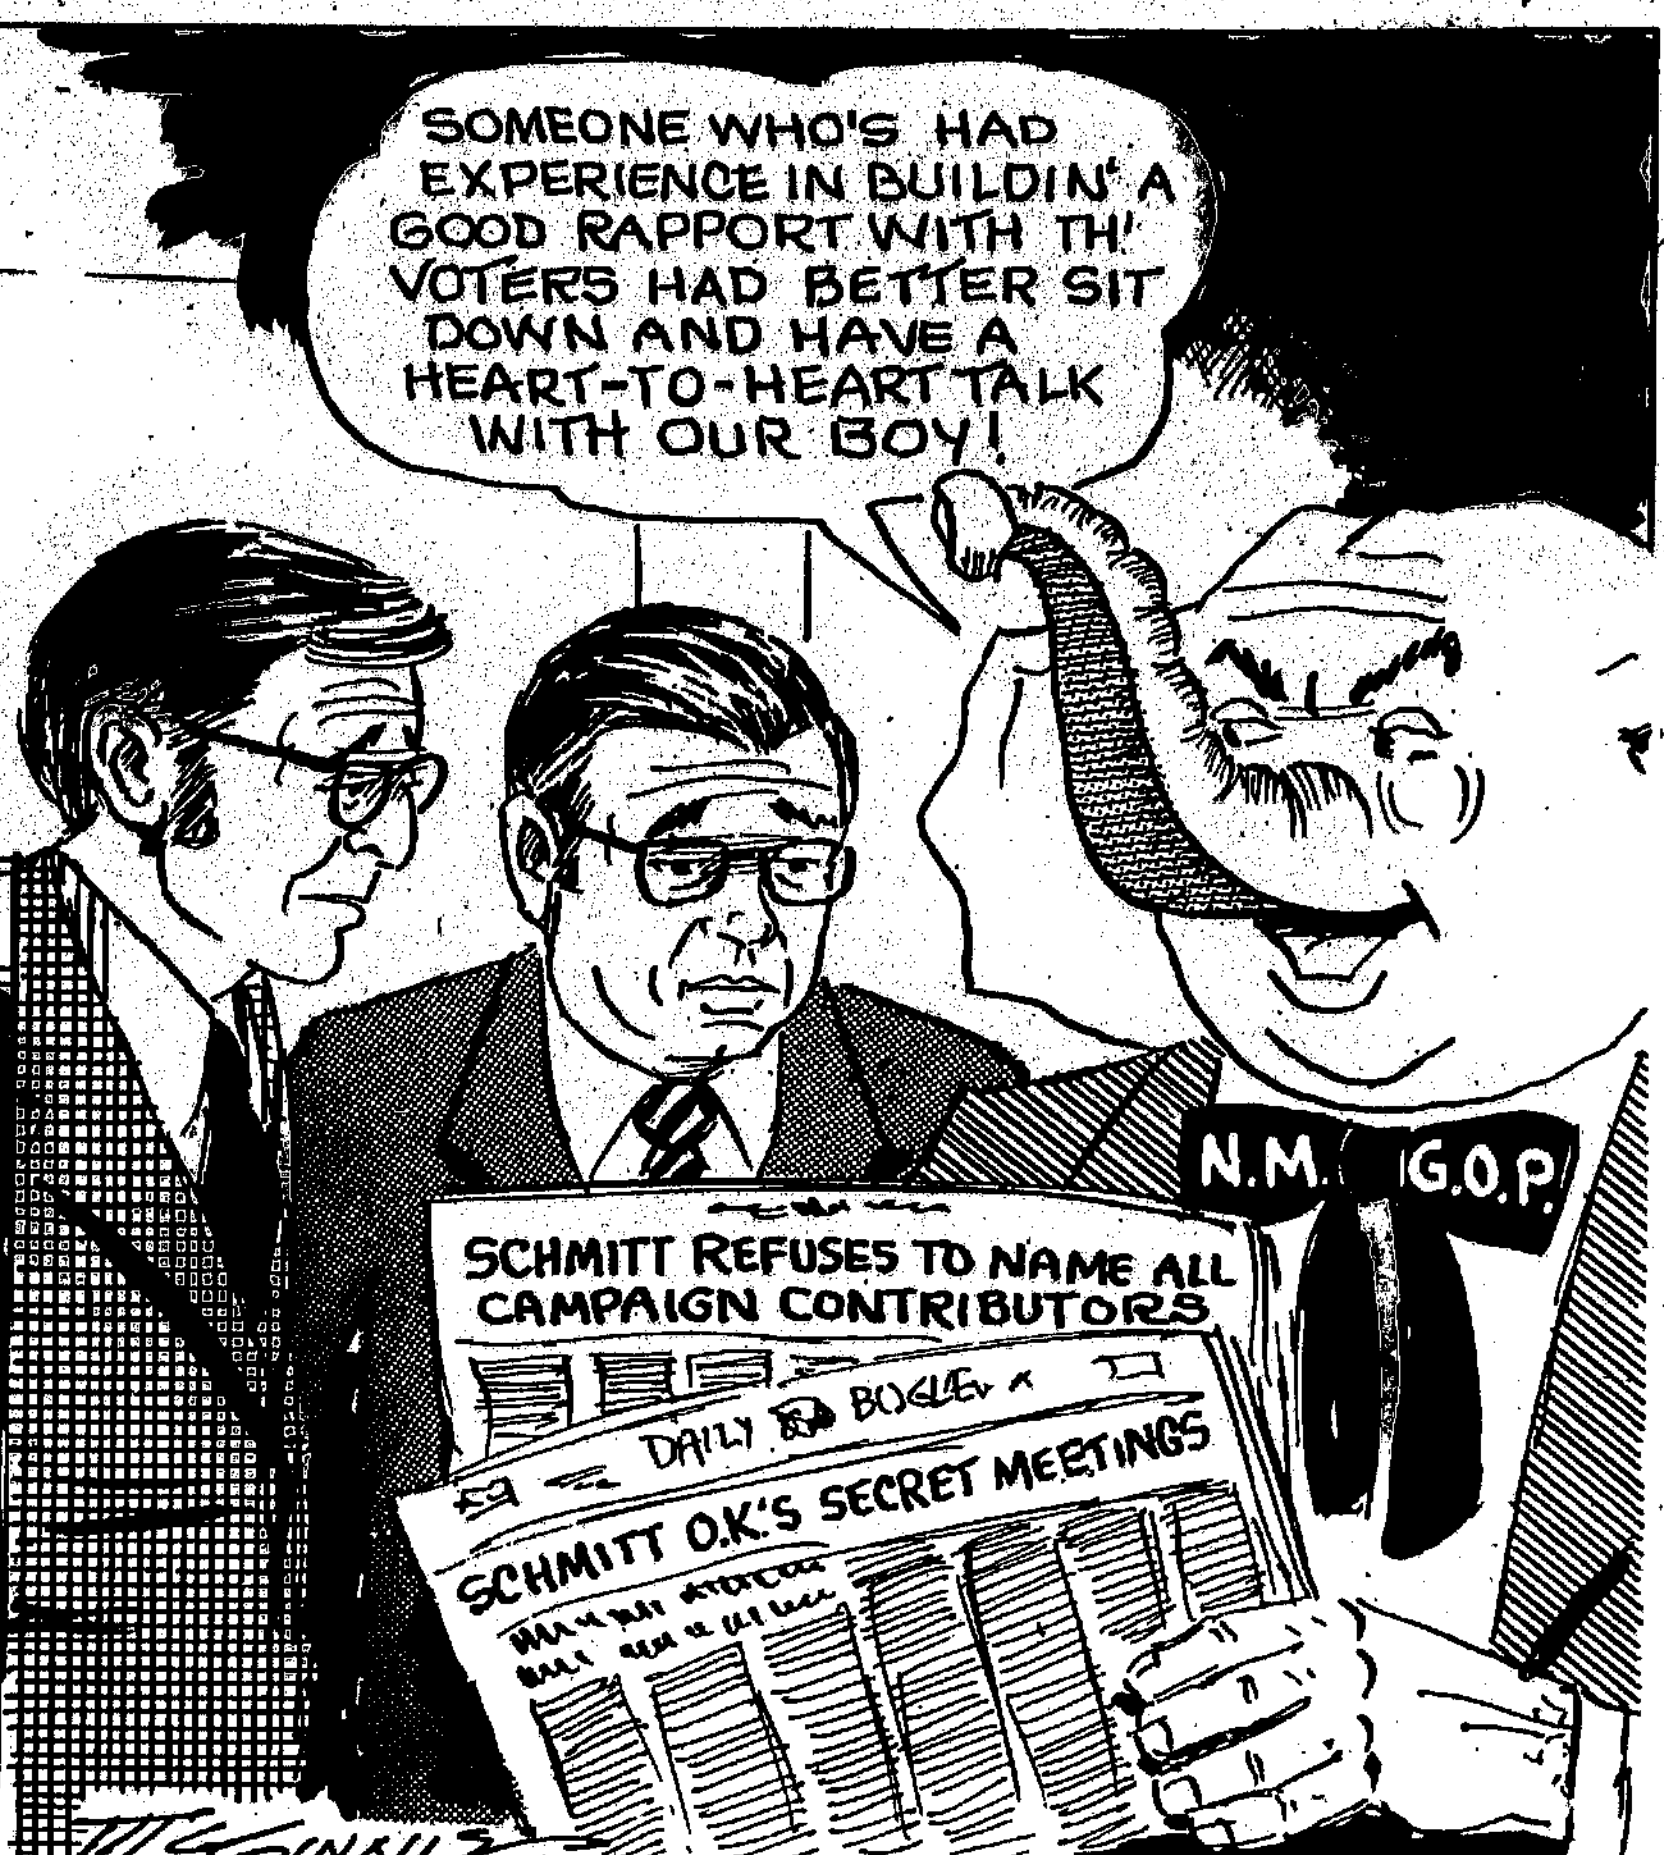

— Authorized airport manager Tim Morris and Potter to meet with a representative of Standard Airways, El Paso, Tex., concerning a proposal to provide daily flight service from Ruidoso to El Paso.

Court Report

Appearing recently before Judge Jim Wheeler in Magistrate's Court were:
Ronald R. Ash and James E. Bundy, both of Ruidoso, charged with cutting, splitting and removing wood from private property. Ash was fined $15 and $10 costs on three counts with $15 suspended on one count. Bundy was fined $15 and $10 costs on one count with $15 fine on each of three counts suspended.
Appearing before Judge Sam Nunnally in Municipal Court recently were:
Nathaniel Sago, Mesalero, fined $100 on charges of criminal trespass.
Harold Kayway and Gertrude Lefthand, of Oklahoma, received $50 suspended fines on charges of criminal trespass.
Joaquin Tanguma, Lubbock, Tex., was fined $300 on DWI charges.

Book Review

"I Ain't Well, But I Sure Am Better" takes the reader through another phase of positive psychology self development, ala author Jesse Lair.

Struck down in his early 30's by a massive coronary, Lair proceeded to re-evaluate his priorities and change his life style — from high pressure account executive to college professor and author. He first wrote, "I Ain't Well, But I'm All I Got" in his quest to "know thyself." In "I Ain't Well . . ." Lair reaches beyond himself to stress the value of close friendships. He questions why people spend so little time with others who are supportive and good friends. Lair repeatedly points out in his writing that his ideas are not cure-alls for everyone, but they work for him. Each reader can most likely benefit and learn from portions — if not all of — Lair's viewpoints.

His philosophies bog down and become rather redundant in the latter part of the book and he doesn't say anything too earth-shatteringly new, but he says it with sincerity and gut level simplicity. It's a book worth reading and is available in paperback. If the Ruidoso Library doesn't have it on hand, chances are they can order it for you.

Santa Claus can really make a morning's fun

A roomful of five-year-olds at Ruidoso Community Kindergarten in the Methodist Church were sitting around Wednesday morning writing numbers, solemnly coloring and quietly doing whatever it is kindergarteners do.

The calm was suddenly shattered by a piercing siren and the arrival of a Village of Ruidoso fire engine. "Do you suppose it's a fire?" asked teacher Pat Tate. She and assistant Jane Bennett looked out the window and exclaimed, "Oh, look who's come to see us!"

The seated scholars quickly unseated themselves and scurried to the window. At the same time, the front door opened and there stood Santa.

The crowd gathered around the bearded fat man in the red suit faster than a keg of two-penny nails to a magnet. They squealed, "Were you on TV," "Are you really and truly Santa," "Did you get our letters?"

Santa said he did, indeed get their letters; yes, he'd been on TV and he wanted to know if they'd all been good. He plopped down beside their Christmas tree and chatted with them — about six at the same time, because that's the way kindergarteners chat.

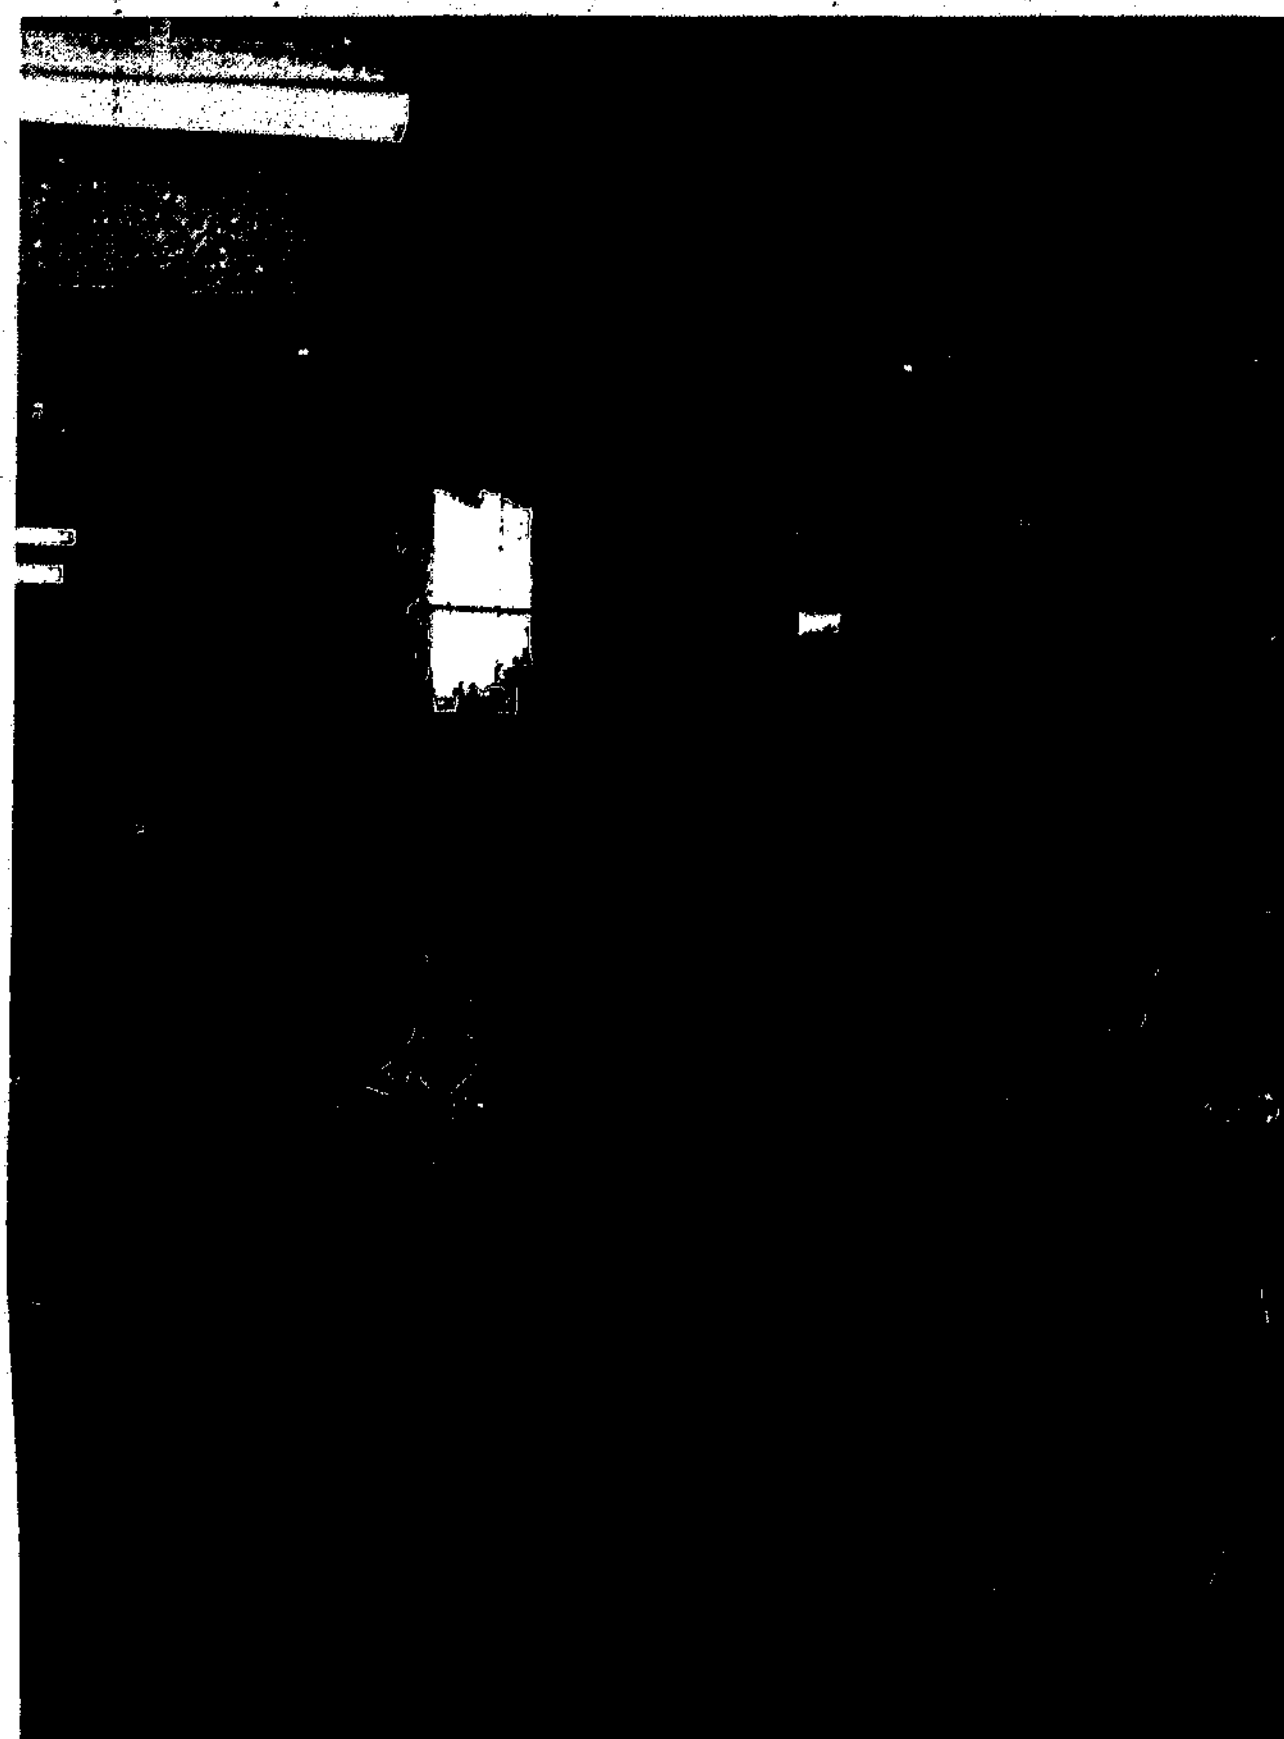

He then abruptly stood up, began a shuffling march and started singing Jingle Bells as the delighted kids lined up behind him, giggling, clapping and criss-crossing the room in a congo line.

All too soon his brief visit ended... the cherubic faced group sent him on his way, waving goodbye and extracting his promise "to come back next year."

The fire engine rolled Santa out of sight. He was gone, but in his place were wee faces shining with the awe and magic of his visit.

BLM proposes new mining claim rules

Persons who hold unpatented mining claims on federal land will have three years to register these claims with the U.S. Bureau of Land Management if regulations published last week are adopted. The recording is required by the Federal Land Policy & Management Act which became law in October 1976. The BLM has allowed a 30-day public comment period on the proposed regulations. Comments should be made directly to BLM, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Previously, holders of unpatented mining claims on federal lands were not required to record their claims with the federal government. The only record of a claim was usually filed in local county courthouses. The proposed rule making would enable the public and the Bureau of Land Management to know where claims are located and how many exist without searching county land records or making an on-the-ground inspection.

Owners of existing unpatented mining claims, mill sites, or tunnel sites would be required under the proposed rule making to file a record of their claims with Bureau of Land Management by October 1979. Notice of new claims would have to be filed with the Bureau within 90 days. Proof of the annual assessment work also would be filed with BLM.

Claims within units of the National Park Service (NPS) would have to be recorded with NPS by September 28, 1977. Owners of a partial interest or owners by transfer also are required to record their claims.

Failure to record a claim constitutes abandonment of the claim under the new regulation.

A copy of public comments will be available for public inspection in Room 5555, Interior Building, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Body, organ gifts sought

It's the gift of vision. It could be the gift of life. It is the donation of your corneas, your kidneys or other parts of your body after death.

If the subject of donation of organs for transplantation after death is something you have been thinking about, you might be interested in a new booklet prepared by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in cooperation with the American Medical Association. For a free copy of Donation of Bodies or Organs for Transplantation and Medical Science, send a postcard to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 556E, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

In our lifetime, we've seen transplantation become a medical reality. About 25 kinds of tissue and organs are being used with increasing frequency for transplantation. But, one of the reasons more can't be done is the shortage of enough suitable organs and tissues from human donors.

Each state and the District of Columbia now has an anatomical gift act which is law. Basically the law provides that any person at least 18 or 21, depending on the state, may donate all or part of his or her body after death for research, transplantation or placement in a tissue bank.

If you decide you want to donate your body for these purposes, fill in and carry with you at all times a Uniform Donor Card. This is a special card with your name, birth date, and a statement of your wishes. You must sign it in the presence of two witnesses. You don't need to and shouldn't send the card to any other person or organization. And, if you change your mind about being a donor, you only need to tear up your card.

You may also want to mention your intention in your will. (This would become effective without having to wait for the will to go through probate.) If you change your mind about being a donor, you'll also want to remove it from your will.

Donation of Bodies or Organs for Transplantation and Medical Science (free) is one of over 200 selected Federal consumer publications listed in the Winter edition of the catalog, Consumer Information. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the catalog is free. For your copy send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Weed burns Ruidoso

The Warrior girls played Weed here, Wednesday, Dec. 8. The varsity team was not quite able to pull through, the score being 19 to 21 at the half. The final score was 37 to 55. B team also lost 23 to 51. The girls had a rematch with Weed on Dec. 15.

Teams introduced

The first Pep Assembly of the Basketball season was held last Friday in the Warrior Gym. The 76-77 girls and boys Varsity teams were introduced to the student body. They are as follows: Diana Padilla, Sarah Davis, Kristie Perryman, Julie Gooch, Lorena Herrera, Melanie McGuire, Sandra Sanchez, Kelly Cothorn, Lori Swain, Kathy Wynn, Donna Posey, Jackie Tully. Their male counterparts are Carl Botella, David Cummins, Dennis Jefferson, Mark Williams, Pat Walsh, Hector Aguilar, Jeff Wahlegemuth, Borde Williams, Kirk Eubank, Kim Nelson, Daryl Watkins, Elmo Silva, David Hoffer and Jeff McGarvey.

Coach Thurman Sanchez gave a pep talk and Dennis Jefferson spoke on behalf of the team. Warrior cheerleaders lead the students in cheers and chants followed by the traditional fight song.

FHA, OEA Carol

There were around 30 FHA and OEA girls that turned out to go caroling Monday night, Dec. 13. The girls and their sponsors Miss Jean Spurlock and Mrs. Kathryn Williams caroled at the Hospital, R.K. Knox's, Ike Kennedy's, Tom Hansen's houses and others.

They returned to the home economics cottage and had hot chocolate, roasted marshmallows and cookies furnished by FHA.

Seniors ordering announcements

The seniors are ordering their graduation announcements Friday, Dec. 17. A 10 dollar deposit will be needed. They will also be measured for caps and gowns. The seniors will be discussing ideas for their class song, their colors and the class motto.

Free Throw Saturday

The Knights of Columbus are sponsoring K of C Free Throw Saturday, Dec. 18 at 1:00 in the Gym. Students from 7-12 grades will be able to attend.

DECA holds breakfast

All DECA students, approximately 50, attended the first 1976 DECA breakfast. The breakfast was held at Whispering Pines Wednesday, Dec. 15, from 7:30 to 9:00.

Guest speakers at the breakfast were Lynn Willard, President of Chamber of Commerce and Richard Cothron, manager of Chamber of Commerce. They spoke on business production in Ruidoso and future plans of Ruidoso leaders in businesses.

Special guests were Larry Scarborough, Cliff Owen, Tom Hansen, Pat Vallant and Buz Browning.

Jr. High

Warriors lose

The Ruidoso eighth grade basketball team traveled to Alamogordo Dec. 13, and played against the Alamogordo Chaparral B team. The Warriors were defeated after a tough battle with the final score 68 to 24. The high score players were Don Dale 10 points and Scott Neal 8 points.

School Board

There was a School Board meeting held Tuesday, Dec. 14. All High School staff members were in attendance and concluded with a tour of the High School rooms to review the facilities.

RHS slinks past Tuli

"Poise" and "outstanding playing on the part of the whole team" pulled the game together for the Ruidoso High School Warriors in the last few minutes. The fighting Warriors came up on the top of a 55 to 53 decision against the Tularosa Wildcats Tuesday, Dec. 14, leaving the RHS team undefeated with a 7-0 record. The end of the first quarter saw the Warriors enjoying a 10 point lead. This margin was maintained throughout the third period. The Wildcats, however, fought back to tie the Warriors in the last few minutes of the last quarter. A see-saw battle was waged between the teams with the Warriors finally emerging the victor. High point scorer for the Warriors was Kirk Eubank scoring 22 of their 55 points. Kirk was also the high rebounder for the night. Other high point scorers for RHS were Dennis Jefferson with 18 points and Kim Nelson with 8 points.

Drama Club presents special

The RHS Drama Club will present a Christmas skit, on Friday, Dec. 17, during the Christmas assembly at RHS. The eighth grade class will present the skit entitled "A New Angle On Christmas."

After the Christmas holidays, the high school drama class will be presenting "The Clown Who Ran Away" to the White Mountain School.

DENNIS JEFFERSON takes a fast break for two points.

KIRK EUBANK drives hard for a two-handed dunk while playing against Elida.

Shifters plan holiday ride

This semester the RHS Alpine Shifters gained affiliation with the League of American Wheelmen, a nationwide organization for touring bicyclists. The league offers patch awards as added incentive to encourage year-round biking. The awards are given through the year during most major holidays to clubs which sponsor rides during those holidays.

Monday, Dec. 20, Mr. Bill Streeter, Mr. Galen Farrington, Brian Cupp, Jim

McGarvey, David Hoffer and Mike Fannin will depart from the ranger station on Highway 37 at 8 a.m. on a 20 mile ride to Captain.

The Shifters will start regular practice after the Christmas holidays in preparation for their first race, tentatively scheduled for the third week in February.

PRICE REDUCED — UPPER CANYON LOCATION. An unbeatable combination — the price has been lowered to only $22,500 on this cozy 2 bedroom cabin on 2 lots in the popular "Canyon." Easily accessible, too.

ALTO AREA ACREAGE. Large tracts of prime, forested land in one of Lincoln County's most rapidly developing areas. Several options available, starting at $650.00 per acre. Your inspection at earliest convenience strongly urged!

ELBOW ROOM is just one of the advantages of this 5-acre tract in "the country." Property is gently sloping with outstanding mountain views. Good restrictions, horses allowed. Good owner financing. $13,000.00.

SMALL HOUSE IN NEGLECTED CONDITION, but that's why it has such a low price tag! It's basically sound in construction and is located on an easily accessible street near the center of town. 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths — over 1,000 square feet. $14,750.

AIRPORT WEST. Beautiful lot with good access in this preferred mobile home development. Priced to sell at $5,450.

MODESTLY PRICED 3 BEDROOM HOME in good area. Well-constructed, only 1 year old, and partially furnished for the low price of $27,500.

THE INVESTMENT POTENTIAL of this property is tremendous! Large (6,300 square feet) commercial building on bustling Sudderth Drive. Also included in price are 3 apartments. Owner will finance. $85,000.

$17,500 WILL BUY this nice 14x75 mobile home in Airport West. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths — a perfect ski retreat at an excellent price.

HONDO VALLEY PROPERTY WITH RIVER FRONTAGE. Mobile home with 2 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths sits on almost 5 lovely acres. Small acreage is rare in this tranquil valley, so let us show you this one today. $26,500.00.

HOME WITH A VIEW? We have it! This handsome 3 bedroom, 1 1/2 bath house is less than 1 year old, and the Sierra Blanca view [though considerably older!] is spectacular! $46,500.

Woman's Club has challenge

Members of the Ruidoso Woman's Club December 8 heard the Rev. Noble Wiltshire speak of his impressions that "Christmas season is a time for re-evaluating personal goals for self and the community" and were challenged by Wiltshire's statement "to create an atmosphere in Ruidoso conducive not only to an ideal retreat village for tourists, but for an ideal location for the adults and youth of the community — ideal for long lasting influence for good and healthful living."

Mrs. Dwain Phillips and Mrs. Jack

Fowler presented the Christmas musical program.

The Club House was decorated in a holiday theme by Mrs. Fred Berger, Mrs. Vernon Carver and Mrs. C.S. Richardson. Mrs. W.H. Daubs, president, presided over the business meeting and Mrs. Barbara Duff introduced the guest speaker.

Mrs. Helen Olson, who recently moved from Scott City, Kansas to Ruidoso, was introduced as a guest of the club.

Lutheran Church Mission planned

Plans to organize a Lutheran Church Mission in the Ruidoso area, following a publicity campaign during the past several weeks, are continuing.

The first meeting towards accomplishing this goal was at the Wally Hjalmskist home with a Bible study hour and discussion of plans geared toward the forming of a Lutheran Church here.

Interested persons will next meet at the Ralph Michels residence, Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m., for Bible study and planning for the future.

Directions to the Michels residence are available by telephoning 338-4538 after 4 p.m.

"We hope," Hjalmskist said, "to have a large turnout at our Friday evening meeting and we hope that everyone that has expressed an interest in our plans will attend."

Altrusa held Yule dinner

The Altrusa Club's Christmas dinner party was held Dec. 8 at Cree Meadows Country Club with Pat Healy providing the motif in table decorations and favors.

Norma Phillips was at the piano and sang Christmas carols with Jane Deyo also playing the piano. Hostesses were Sallie Buckley, Judie Cothrun and Phillips. Members enjoyed a period of group singing.

This year's gift exchange consisted of a contribution to the Brighton Fund, as the club is planning on sending a delegate to the International Altrusa Convention in Brighton, England, in July of 1977.

The next meeting will be Jan. 5 at 7:30 p.m., in the Ruidoso State Bank with Sarah Lee Beumer as program chairman.

Clinton Baker in Antarctica

Navy Airman Clinton W. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyverne N. Baker of Box 3902, Ruidoso, is participating in "Operation Deep Freeze" in the Antarctic.

He is a member of Navy Antarctic Development Squadron Six (VXE-6), the air arm of the National Science Foundation. Operating with Navy Task Force 199 from the forward staging base at McMurdo Station, Antarctica, VXE-6 flies LC-130 "Hercules" ski-equipped transport planes and UH-1N "Huey" helicopters. Their mission is to support scientific research in Antarctica by resupplying remote installations with personnel, food stuffs, equipment and mail during the austral summer.

This marks the 22nd year that the Navy, and his squadron, have supported the U.S. Antarctic Research Program conducted by the National Science Foundation. This year's major scientific project is the physical, chemical and biological study of the Ross Ice Shelf. Another task will be the recovery of a "Hercules" which crashed during a previous "Deep Freeze" deployment.

Also joining the scientists and support personnel will be two Coast Guard icebreakers, U.S. Air Force transports, cargo and fuel ships from the Navy's Military Sealift Command, and units of the Royal New Zealand Army and Air Force. The combined forces, designated Task Force 199, are under the command of Capt. Claude H. Nordhill, USN; a veteran of three prior "Deep Freeze" deployments. Operations at McMurdo Station are continuing until mid-February when the Antarctic winter begins. About 80 Navy personnel and a smaller number of civilian scientists and support personnel will "winter over" at McMurdo.

A 1976 graduate of Ruidoso High School, Baker joined the Navy in September 1975.

DMV's suggestions for snowdriving

The department of Motor Vehicles' Traffic Safety Division has released a list of precautionary measures that motorists should take when having to contend with driving in snow.

Reduced visibility and inadequate traction are going to make it more difficult for drivers to keep their eyes and their tires on the roads, said D.K. Kelly, Chief of the Traffic Safety Division.

Kelly said motorists should study the following tips for safe winter driving which have been urged by the National Safety Council's committee on Winter Driving Hazards and endorsed by leading police officials around the country:

— Avoid the dangerous habit of "peep hole" driving which is caused by only partially clearing the windshield, side windows and rear windshield obstructed by frozen moisture. Take the time to do a complete cleaning job on all windows.

— Invest in a good, effective windshield scraper and brush device to keep in the car to clear off those parts of the windows not covered by automatic wipers. Keep this handy item clean and free of dirt, ice and snow.

— Clean off the headlights, parking lights, tail lights and even those tiny little side lights on the fenders if your car is so equipped, because dirty glass on these surfaces may reduce their illumination power by as much as 25 percent.

— Replace streaking wiper blades which have gone dead from exposure to sun, wind, and oily road film. Make sure there is an adequate amount of anti-freeze in the windshield washer solution and check to make sure that the blade tension against the windows is adequate.

— Carry a good supply of clean rags or reinforced absorbent paper towels to clean off fogged-up windows in the interior of the auto and consider the use of any of a number of commercial chemical solutions which inhibit the condensation of moisture on glass.

"And never underestimate the hazard of bad weather driving at night," warned Kelly. "Rain or fog distort vision and cut down illumination. Driving into the swirling flakes of a snowstorm is one of the most dangerous of all motoring hazards."

Kelly also urged motorists to put into practice the following tips for safe winter driving:

— Get the "feel the road" by accelerating carefully to see if the wheels spin and at what speed they do this. Then brake gently to see what, if any, skidding characteristics there are to the road surface. Reduce your speed accordingly.

— Increase your "following distance," the distance you allow for vehicles ahead of you. Remember that it takes three to nine times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

— "Pump" your brakes to slow down or stop. Don't jam them on. An intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps you maintain steering control.

— Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires.

— Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. Hang them up to dry after each use to prevent rusting.

— Check the windshield ventilator and defroster to make sure it directs the maximum amount of heated air over the interior surfaces of the windows to keep them fog free.

Kelly said that the first good pre-winter move for any motorists is to put your car in the hands of a competent mechanic for a complete checkup to make sure the car is able to give its best performance in any emergency.

Try midget bulbs on Christmas trees

Christmas lights are beautiful, but can be expensive. Those tiny exterior Christmas lights, called midget lights, are also beautiful, but they use less energy than the larger ones, says Charles Hohn, Extension agricultural engineer at New Mexico State University.

Christmas lighting looks best if it's tasteful and well planned. Good planning means careful selection of the features to be highlighted, Hohn says. If the effect is difficult to plan, try experimenting with a special tree, around a front window or door.

Midget lights are more energy efficient than standard sized Christmas bulbs. Most 20 and 50 light sets use only 18 watts. A sparkling display of 250 midget lights uses less electricity than a single 100-watt light bulb, Hohn says.

To figure how many bulbs to use, try using 60 for each small bush. Fifty bulbs will give the bush a lacy effect. For larger shrubs and trees, try this formula — multiply the height of the tree by the width by three. Double that figure for midget bulbs.

For some people, part of the Christmas spirit is exterior lights. To give the best effect, plan the light display carefully. To save energy, use the lacy little midget bulbs, Hohn says.

Don't Forget Ruidoso's Christmas Stocking! Register for the Lincoln to be Given Away Dec. 24

Inside the Capital by Fred Buckles

SANTA FE — If even a substantial part of the huge $82.5 million in proposed capital improvements are funded by the 1977 Legislature, your chances for a tax cut could go flying.

The projected unappropriated state surplus is $87.7 million. It is subject to legislative action in the session opening Jan. 18. Among the proposed capital improvements are a Los Lunas minimum security, diagnostic and treatment center, $21.6 million in state severance tax bonds; $940,000 for a basic classroom complex for the University of New Mexico's Northern Branch at Espanola and $625,000 for instructional facilities at Eastern New Mexico University's Clovis Branch.

The vast array of proposed capital improvements — some of them "Christmas Tree projects" — will be screened by the State Finance Department and Gov. Jerry Apodaca before recommendations are sent to legislators.

The State Environmental Improvement Agency received a permit application from James Hamilton Construction Co. for a new asphaltic paving mixer plant in Hidalgo County eight miles south of NM-9. The deadline for comments in Santa Fe is Dec. 31.

David Underwood, Truth or Consequences banker, is a director of newly chartered Southwestern State Bank, Alamogordo. State Banking Commissioner Herbert Hughes approved the new bank. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation approval is also required.

An agreement for relocation services for implementation of land acquisition for Belen Valley State Park is on the State Park and Recreation Commission agenda Friday in Santa Fe. A joint powers agreement for a sanitary landfill between the commission and Taos County is also on the agenda.

District Judge Garnett Burks Jr. continued a temporary restraining order halting a merger between Kodiak Industries of California and Fortuna Corporation of New Mexico. Fortuna owns Sunland Park and Ruidoso Downs race tracks. Fortuna would become a part of Kodiak and be relieved of its assets if the merger, approved by minority stockholders at a meeting at Sunland Park in November, is allowed to stand.

Asst. Supt. Gerry Washburn of Tucumcari Schools is set to ask the Legislative School Study Committee to weigh changes in standards for public schools emergency capital outlay Friday in Santa Fe.

Election campaign reports showed Rio Arriba County Republican Party spent $2,339.37 and received $2,168.42. Rio Arriba County GOP Chairman Tony J. Montoya, Espanola, signed the report. The Sedillo '76 for Sheriff Committee, Truth or Consequences, listed $1,718.74 in expenditures and receipts in the sheriff's campaign of Charlie M. Sedillo.

Robert McNeill, general counsel for the State Health-Social Services Department, said the state expects "some major progress" toward meeting terms of an informal agreement before Santa Maria El Mirador Home for Retarded Boys is re-licensed at Alcalde, Rio Arriba County.

Cruz Trujillo, Tierra Amarilla, is a Ford elector for New Mexico. The four Republican electors met Monday in Santa Fe. The State Canvassing Board finally certified general election results. Republican Gerald Ford beat Democrat Jimmy Carter by 10,271 votes in New Mexico.

A one-fourth percent municipal gross receipts tax will be effective Jan. 1 in 17 New Mexico cities. Among them are — Capitán, Clayton, Clovis, Corona, Ruidoso, San Jon, Texico, Truth or Consequences, Tucumcari and Vaughn. Union County adopted a one-fourth per cent county gross receipts tax, effective Jan. 1. Revenue will help to pay indigents' hospital bills. Taos, Rio Arriba and Santa Fe Counties already impose a similar tax.

U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici, R-Albuquerque, will be in Tucumcari and Clovis today. In separate Tucumcari meetings Sen. Domenici will talk with city officials and businessmen and ranchers. At Clovis Domenici will meet with area farmers and ranchers on water and agricultural problems. He will also address the annual Clovis Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Four Corners gas producers suggested a self-imposed price restriction to offset projected New Mexico natural gas price hikes. Four Corners Gas Producing Association, representing more than 200 Four Corners area gas producers, proposed the self-imposed price curbs. Farmington petroleum geologist Jack Cole offered the suggestion at a State Energy Resources Board hearing in Farmington on a state energy plan that Gov. Jerry Apodaca will send to the legislature in January.

The State Employment Security Commission said the five highest unemployment rates in New Mexico in October were Mora County, 19.1 percent; Rio Arriba, 16.7; Taos, 12.0; San Miguel, 9.3, and Torrance, 8.2.

U.S. Rep. Harold Runnels, D-Lovington, underscoring his concern for the nation's economic downturn, asked the House Democratic Caucus to endorse a third budget resolution. Runnels says the move would speed up adoption of a major tax cut early in 1977. U.S. Sen.-elect Harrison Schmitt, R-Silver City, met with agricultural community leaders at an information seminar in Las Cruces. Bureaucratic regulations, hampering food production were hit.

Reflections . . .

by billie surmick

The time is irrelevant: Bishop Liberius of Rome, some 1600 years ago, decreed December 25 to be set aside for observance of Christ's Mass. This date coincided with Sol Invictus — sun-god worshipping — and it is thought the church chose this particular day to show victory of Christianity over paganism. The place is unimportant: During the great reformation, Puritans placed a ban on Christmas being celebrated in the church. Pilgrims brought the same anti-observance philosophy to this country and Christmas wasn't officially celebrated in America until the 1800's. The tradition is immaterial: Santa Claus, stockings, trees, gifts, cards or roast turkey are only the trappings. The heart of Christmas, which is love, will heat as long as people continue to have faith and hope.

Rumor has been rampant around Lincoln County for about a year that a government installation is to be constructed near Oscura Peak. Washington sources say the rumor is "ridiculous" . . . area contractors are submitting bids . . . Sure will be interesting to see what a non-existent project manned by phantom employees will look like and what it will be used for.

Ruidoso Realtors don't just take their cut from the economy and run. Each member contributes a portion of sale commissions for scholarships and an annual holiday awards party to honor top producers. A cross-section of villagers also get to enjoy a gala evening of dinner and dancing — compliments of the Board of Realtors.

The cooling courthouse in Carrizozo is another graphic example of when to cross that fine line between replacing or repairing.

Conditions on Sudderth have caused damage to another vehicle. A pickup drifted over the "center line" Saturday night, meeting another pickup and demolishing a sideview mirror while passing. A matter of inches could have demolished a driver, or two. The offender kept right on going, not realizing in the midst of flying dust and rocks that he'd sideswiped somebody. Perhaps the louder crunch of a more serious accident — car or pedestrian — will get someone's attention.

A professional woman in Lincoln County was working at Democratic Headquarters in Dallas when JFK was assassinated. "Believe it or not," she relates, "I was on the phone to Washington a month before Kennedy made his visit to Dallas trying to persuade him not to come." Her theory is that JFK was planning to announce the end of America's involvement in Viet Nam and a small handful of people with big money put an end to his plans.

We were standing in the checkout line last week to pay for Christmas decorations. A lady we know dashed in, plopped a box of lights on the counter and told the cashier they didn't work and she went to get another box of lights. When we got home, there among our purchases, were the returned lights. The absence of a cashier's tape made it impossible to determine whether we'd been charged for the lights. One thing's for sure — they don't work.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We would like to say thank you to the merchants and private individuals who helped us in our recent fund-raising campaign. Through their generosity we will be able to buy extra supplies and equipment we needed. Their appreciation of our volunteer services makes us proud to be part of this community.

WHO NEEDS WHOM?

Statistics are factual, informative and boring . . . but, in this day and age when detente is almost a household word, it seems that Russia is more so the bread basket of the world than the United States . . . and that it might behoove our give away enthusiasts . . . who want to clothe and feed nations who take our larder as their just due, giving us nothing but lip and trouble in return . . . to refer some of these leeches to the Soviets . . . 'cause they're No. 1 in production of many items necessary to sustain life and provide some comforts.

Take the following figures for 1974 in thousands of metric tons . . . with Russia first and the US second: Barley, 54,206 vs. 6,708; Butter, 1,360 vs. 436; Cotton Lint 2,661 vs. 2,513 (there we're almost in the ball park); Milk, 91,800 vs. 52,352; Oats, 15,302 vs. 9,007; Potatoes, 81,002 vs. 15,431; Sugar, 6,522 vs. 5,136; Wheat, 63,913 vs. 48,607 and Wool, 461 vs. 65.

It'd appear that we should start selling our surplus for hard cash . . . and let all of the commie sympathizers and detractors of Democracy get their handouts from the Soviets . . . 'cause it ain't the US of A that's trying to convert the world to another political philosophy . . . even though some of our emissaries won't stop trying to convert the peoples of other nations to our way of living.

Maybe Jimmy Carter . . . now that the Electoral College has done its thing . . . can put peanuts on a par with oil . . . and create a monopoly of a magnitude that'll have the OPEC nations coming to us on bended knees. Which he could possibly accomplish faster than talking the Democratic congress into slashing taxes . . . and, with a country full of rich peanut farmers, who'd care about taxes . . . and maybe we'd have enough peanuts to manufacture all of the gas and oil we'd ever need . . . and eat apple butter and jelly sandwiches.

And should production disaster strike the United States . . . and famine and nakedness become a reality . . . which nations would launch a shuttle service to get us back on our feet . . . name one and you should run for president in 1980.

THOUGHTS OVER ICE TEA

Wouldn't it be nice if the Mesquero Apache Tribe'd dam the Rio Ruidoso . . .

On the off-hand chance you'd really like to have a say in how the Ruidoso schools are run, to really get in there and pitch to make those changes you think would benefit everyone from students to taxpayers, declare your candidacy for the school board before Dec. 28, campaign hard, get elected . . . and have at it. — CD

Stuph & Junk

. . . by

and declare all water they didn't want to use as surplus . . . and give that surplus to their friendly neighbors in the Ruidoso area?

Take a murderer on death row . . . is carrying out the death sentence a more cruel and unusual punishment than forcing that person to exist for years in a small cell until death of natural or other causes occurs?

The Cottontail Ranch Club of Las Vegas, Nev. . . where, as I understand it, the action is XXXXX and not on film . . . offers a "Honorary Madame" certificate, suitable for framing, for milady . . . who has everything. Same club sells a money clip . . . the device is pictured holding $100 bills . . . which may or may not be of significance.

Feeding your feathered friends through the long winter months is an activity that is strictly for the birds . . . 'cause those who package the feed ain't doing it only for a song.

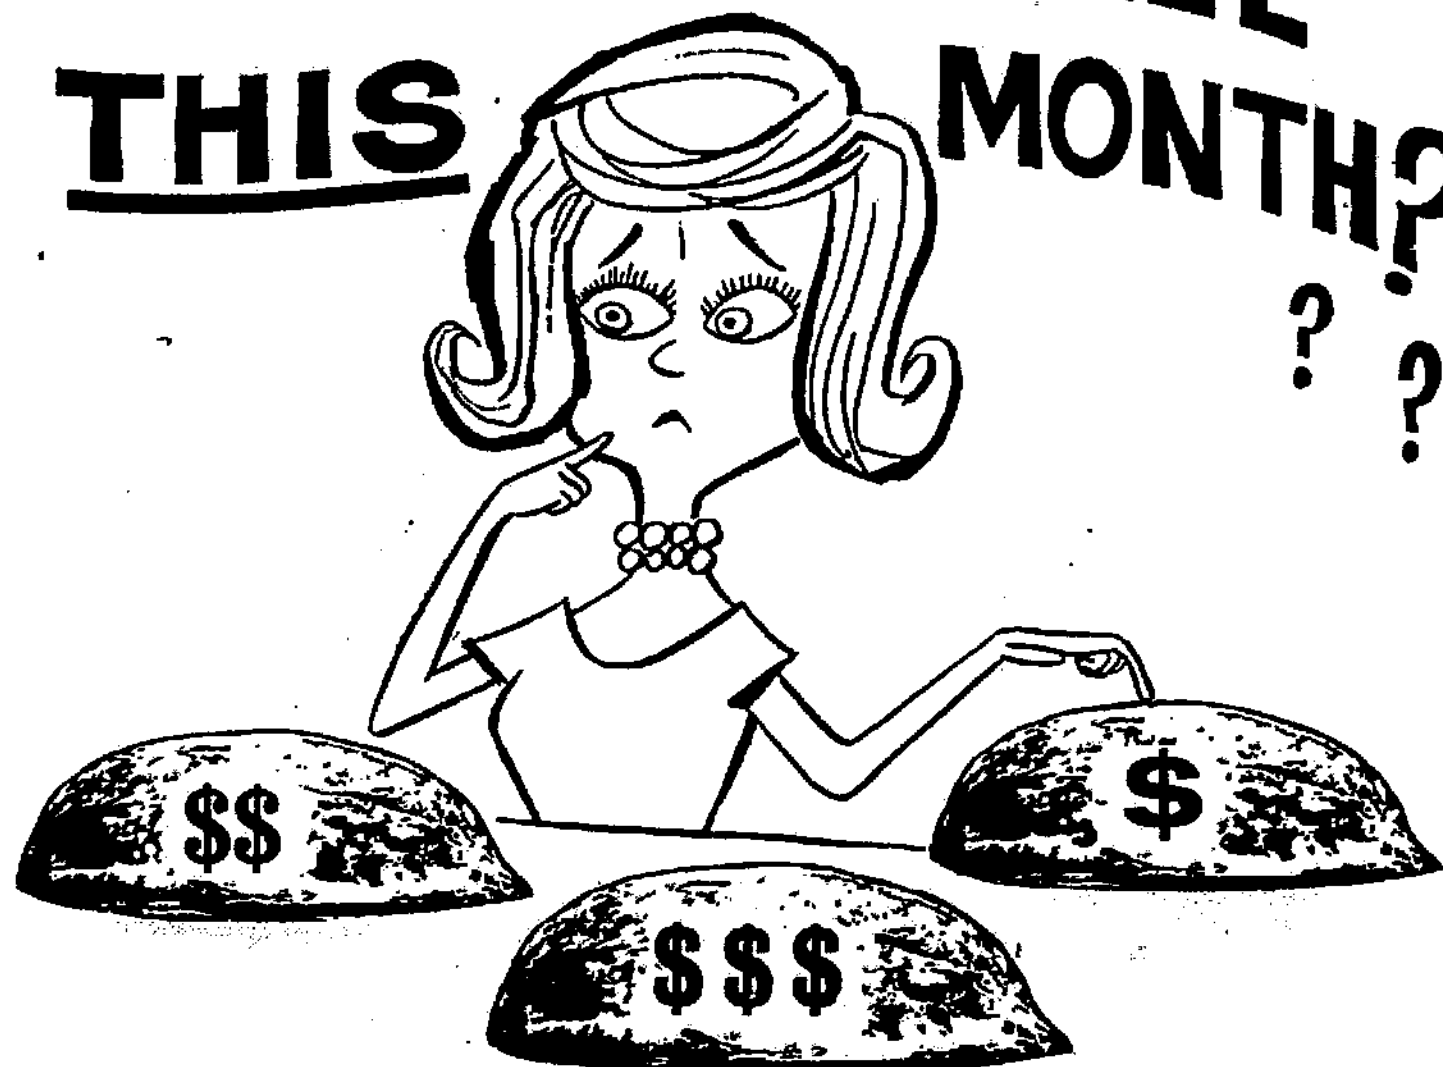

If'n the NM Highway Department bounces in here next spring . . . and lays a mat on Hwy. 37 through Ruidoso . . . a real, genuine thick asphalt mat . . . and slaps on a seal coat that'll seal the road . . . why, it's a safe bet you'd not hear a single complaint from these parts . . . once the work was finished.

Should you think that the dog problem here is of considerable magnitude . . . give a thought to the problems that'll exist if the village doesn't come up with a site to dispose of our garbage by February . . . and keep all the environmentalists, and those of like ilk happy . . . even if such a thing isn't conducive to a thriving rat population.

Thanks to the fact that Congress, many years ago, didn't accept the metric system . . . the lot of the lumber of booze is going to become confusing . . . especially to the two-fifths-a-day chap forced to switch to liters.

BRIEF BIT: It's the bad luck plaguing a person each day that provides the enthusiasm to wait . . . often breathlessly . . . for tomorrow's good fortunes . . . CD.

WHICH SIZE ELECTRIC BILL THIS MONTH?

Take away the guesswork with the Equal Payment Plan.

When you're planning your budget, you know what your house payment will be . . . you pretty well know what your grocery bill will be . . . wouldn't it be nice to know what your utility payment will be, too? With Community Public Service Company's Equal Payment Plan, you can do just that. Your yearly usage of electricity is estimated and divided into twelve equal monthly payments. Periodically, your account will be reviewed and if your usage is over or under the original estimate, you will be contacted and an adjustment will be worked out. In most cases, however, the estimate is pretty close to your actual usage . . . and it sure makes it easier on you when bill paying time rolls around each month. If you're interested in the convenience of the Equal Payment Plan, give us a call.

Range bandits bite the dust

Like a black plague, the black grass bug swarmed across improved wheatgrass pastures of northwestern New Mexico last spring. These pests — more commonly known as Labops — sucked the life from the grass, robbing ranchers of much needed forage for their livestock. Often numbering over 250 bugs per square foot of forage, the Labops reduced grass production by 50 percent or more, says George Dickerson, crop specialist with New Mexico State University's Agricultural Services Department.

In an effort to combat this pest, Dickerson worked with Extension Agents Paul Trujillo and Lee Martinez, Rio Arriba County, and William Van Hess, Dulce. They applied several insecticides on the Don Berryman Ranch near Cebolla and on the Jicarilla Apache Reservation.

Excellent kills were obtained using either Dyllox, malathion or methyl parathion. Significant increases in grass production were noted in some of the plots that were sprayed. Since these were all experimental chemical applications, ranchers should contact local Extension agents to determine what chemicals are registered for use on range land for this purpose.

Hatching in early spring after the snow melts, the Labop nymph goes through several stages in its life cycle (instars) before becoming an adult. The optimum time to apply an insecticide is in the nymph stage, after all the eggs have hatched. The nymphs should not be allowed to reach the egg-laying adult stage, Dickerson says.

The adult Labop is predominately black in color, with a white lateral stripe along the outer margin of the wings. About one-quarter inch long and one-sixteenth inch wide, a single Labop could be hard to detect. However, the Labop is gregarious in nature and hundreds of them may occupy a single clump of grass. The bug's bulging eyes also help the researcher identify it.

The Labop sucks sap from plants with its piercing-sucking mouthparts, leaving a yellowish or whitish irregular spot on the leaf blade. Heavy infestations may cause the plant leaves to dry up and die.

Due to forage reduction, root reserves may be depleted and the plant may die in periods of prolonged drought. Besides reducing feed supplies for livestock and wildlife, forage reduction can also damage the area's watershed holding capacity.

Because the pest lays its eggs mostly in the dry grass stems, close grazing to remove dry forage is helpful. Burning the dry straw in the spring may also offer a means of control.

A rancher may also consider leaving some stands of sage, pinon and juniper in newly seeded areas of wheatgrass. This environment tends to encourage natural predators such as spiders, lizards and snakes, Dickerson says.

1976 Small Business Person of the Year

[No. 9 of a Series]

It's still possible to realize the American dream of going into business and making a success of it.

Donald and Patricia Fullerton did it. They are two of the 1976 Small Business Persons of the Year selected by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

"If I hadn't tried to do this, I would always have been dissatisfied. I would always have wondered if I could have done it," Ron Fullerton says.

His words reflect his maverick spirit and a dream which led him from a secure job in Dallas, Texas from which he resigned, to a trailer in Anchorage, Alaska. He had always wanted to start his own paint manufacturing company and in 1971, he did.

The Fullerton-owned Alaskan Paint

Manufacturing Company, the first in the state, began as a real family affair. Ron and Pat made the paint and their three children put on the labels. By tailoring the paint to the Alaska climate, they manufactured a high quality, but at necessarily higher prices. At first customers resisted, but when they saw how the paint held up, business picked up. Within a year after starting, they got their first large order and big break. By mid-1972 they had grossed $142,000 and were really on their way.

In 1973 the Fullertons moved into their own building in Anchorage, conducting both a wholesale and retail operation. In 1975 they opened a retail outlet in Fairbanks. The company continues to grow. There are now seven full-time employees in addition to the Fullerton family. Construction is underway on the second expansion of their plant. Sales last year totalled over $900,000.

The Fullertons have totally geared their products to the Alaskan environment. Labels depict typical Alaska scenes and product lines include colors such as Aleutian night, moose brown, glacier blue and Arctic Ivory.

"You can't divide your work from your life," the Fullertons say. In Alaska they have found their niche in life.

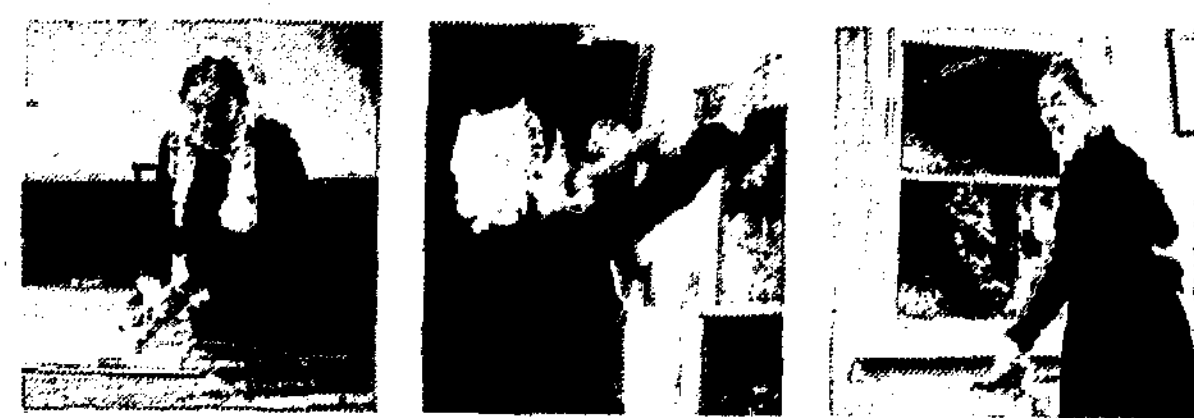

The U.S. Small Business Administration helps people start a small business by providing counseling, financial, procurement and management assistance.

KNOW YOUR FOOD

MEAT COOKING KNOW HOW

Various kinds of meat—beef, pork, veal, lamb—can be grouped into two broad classifications of cooking methods. One group will be tender when prepared with dry heat, such as uncovered in an oven, on a broiler grill, over a charcoal fire, or in an uncovered frying pan. The other group will require moist cooking in order to be tender. Moist cooking includes braising, stewing, pot roasting and cooking in liquid. It's important to know which method of cooking is required for each cut of meat purchased. If you have any questions on the cooking method, just ask the meat man behind the counter. He'll be glad to tell you.

Generally, meats that require moist cooking are the more thrifty cuts, such as chuck roast, stewing beef, round steak, flank steak, rump roast, short ribs, corned beef and beef shanks. Cooked properly, these meats are very flavorful and delicious. In preparing pork of any kind, always keep in mind that it should be cooked well done for safe eating. A good cookbook will list the method and time required for cooking the various cuts of meat.

Some basic meat cooking methods are explained here:

- ROASTING: Season meat with salt and pepper; place fat side up on rack in open pan. Insert meat thermometer, if desired. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast in slow to moderate oven (300° to 350°F.)
- BROILING: Set oven regulator to broil; place meat on grill about 2 to 5 inches from heat. Brown on one side; turn and brown other. Broil to desired doneness. Season after cooking to help retain meat juices.
- PAN-BROILING: Season meat and cook uncovered in heavy, ungreased or lightly greased frying pan. Brown on both sides, pouring off fat as it accumulates.
- PAN-FRYING: Season meat and cook in small amount of hot fat in skillet, turning to brown both sides. Do not cover.
- BRAISING: Brown meat on both sides in small amount of hot fat in skillet. Season with salt and pepper. Add small amount of water or other liquid; cover and simmer on top of stove or in the oven till done.
- BOIL: Brown meat first, if desired, in heavy pan. Season with salt, pepper, etc., cover with liquid. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer, covered, till tender.

Game and Fish counting eggs

The N.M. Department of Game and Fish is counting its eggs — fish eggs, that is — which will be hatching soon.

The department received 500,000 rainbow trout eggs from Montana this week, and has taken more than four million rainbow eggs from brood stock at Parkview Hatchery.

Dick McCleskey, assistant chief of the department's Fisheries Division, explained that the eggs from Montana were part of a trade — New Mexico walleye fry for Montana rainbow eggs. If the eggs were purchased commercially, McCleskey said, they would have cost more than $2,500.

In addition, the department received the first shipment of what will total one million kokanee salmon from Colorado, with whom a trade was also made. McCleskey added that in exchange for our state's walleye fry we will also be getting one million cutthroat trout eggs from Colorado.

Each year the department also takes eggs from brood stock at Parkview Hatchery, said McCleskey. He said indications are that Parkview will produce more than seven million eggs this year, setting a record for eggs taken from the hatchery.

The eggs being incubated now will probably be ready for planting as catfishes in the state's waters in about a year, McCleskey added.

Game Commission accepts bond bids

The State Game Commission has accepted bids on $2 million in Fish and Wildlife Conservation bonds to be used in capital improvements projects by the Department of Game and Fish during the next several years.

The bonds are to be retired in ten years at an interest rate of 4.82 percent, according to Game and Fish Department Director William Huey. One dollar from each hunting and fishing license sold by the department is set aside for bond retirement. None of the bond money has yet been earmarked for any special projects.

Meeting in Albuquerque on Wednesday, the commission also adopted a commercial fisheries regulation, a new falconry regulation conforming to federal guidelines, and regulations for a special antlerless-only deer hunt in Agua Chiquita Canyon in Otero County.

The Jan. 15-16 hunt, for which 400 licenses will be issued by public drawing, is limited to a small area and was proposed to alleviate crop depredation problems. Applications can be made on Form E, available from license vendors or game and fish offices, and must be received no later than 5 p.m. Dec. 30. Applications can be made in person at game and fish offices or by mail only to the Santa Fe office. Eligible applicants are those who have a 1976-1977 deer license with the tag still attached and who did not hold an entry permit during the 1975 and 1976 seasons.

Fisheries Division Chief R. L. Brashears told the commission the commercial fisheries regulation would allow the department to monitor commercial fishing operations closely and at the same time open up some new employment and income opportunities in the state.

Brashears said fisheries biologists expect that removal of the larger rough fish in commercial quantities will provide more room and more food — in the form of smaller sizes of rough fish — for game fish species.

The commercial regulations include suckers, buffalo, bullheads, carp, carp-sucker and gizzard shad as commercial fish and allows the department to tailor permits to the conditions of each lake and its fish population.

No game fish can be kept under a commercial operator's permit, according to the regulation. Any game fish caught will be returned to the water if still alive or processed and turned over to the Department of Game and Fish for disposition if dead.

NMMI offering classes to area senior citizens

The New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell is offering classes in a Continuing Education Program of Study to a limited number of senior citizens of Lincoln County, under a tuition free plan.

The classes, to begin Jan. 12, continue for 15 weeks on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 7:15 to 10:15 p.m.

Tuesday classes include ceramics, jewelry, weaving, conversational Spanish and flower growing at NMMI.

Classes on the principles of bank operations, money and banking and installment credit will be conducted at the Ruidoso State Bank Tuesday evenings.

Wednesday classes, at NMMI, include ceramics, jewelry and retirement living. The latter is a group counseling approach to adjustment to arranging leisure time activities, with enrollment open to all ages.

Lincoln County Senior Citizens director Charlotte Jarratt has announced that, due to a gift of gasoline from Ruidoso Energy Marketing, Inc., transportation to the NMMI classes will be free.

"The vans will leave the Senior Citizens Center in Ruidoso at 5 p.m.," Jarratt said, "and will schedule pickups of Hondo Valley students en route to NMMI. In addition, should some of the seniors need to visit doctors or have other business in Roswell, one van will leave earlier in the day as occasion requires."

Gwen Robbins of NMMI will explain the program and enrollment details at the Center in Ruidoso at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 16, as well as the use of Adult Education monies to pay tuition fees. Class enrollments, for NMMI and Ruidoso, will be accepted at this meeting.

"All prospective students," Jarratt said, "are not only encouraged to attend the informational meeting but to remain for the evening program including a party for everyone having a December birthday and a demonstration of belly dancing by Saylida and her students. This evening is open to everyone 18 years and older and, if you haven't seen Saylida, plan to come."

Court Report

Appearing before Judge Sam Nunnally recently in Municipal Court:

Robert Morsen, Ruidoso, fined $35 on careless driving charges.

Juan Gonzales, Ruidoso, fined $100 on attempting to elude (police officer) charges.

Raymond Wilson, Mesalero, fined $200 on assault and battery charges with 10 days in county jail suspended.

Gene Kazhe, Mesalero, fined $300 on DWI charges.

Emily Botella, Mesalero, fined $50 in charges of riding with a DWI.

Raymond Wilson, Mesalero, fined $100 on failure to give immediate notice of an accident, with 10 days in county jail suspended.

Cleanliness a must for holiday feasting

Although cleanliness procedures in the kitchen are a daily safeguard against foodborne illness, they are especially important during the holiday season. In order to maintain a healthy environment, you should make plans to serve and store holiday foods in quantity, says Mae Martha Johnson, Extension food specialist at New Mexico State University.

Your major concern should be keeping food cold or hot enough to prevent the growth and spread of harmful bacteria. Consider the number of guests, the menu and the quantity of food. Be sure you have adequate refrigerator space, heating units and hot serving aids to maintain correct temperatures.

Extend cold storage by cleaning out the refrigerator. Use or discard leftovers. If necessary, have a neighbor keep non-party needs temporarily. Insulated picnic hampers and cold chests, packed with ice, can keep foods cold for several hours, Mrs. Johnson says.

Perishable foods should not be allowed to stand at room temperature for more than two hours. These include cream pies, creamed vegetables, seafoods and dishes made with eggs, meat or poultry.

For example, a holiday favorite meal may include roast beef with pan drippings. If not served correctly, it can be a perfect medium for bacteria to grow and develop. The inside of the meat should be hot. Heat the pan drippings to the boiling point before serving. Don't let the meat stand at room temperature more than two hours; refrigerate leftovers promptly. If gravy or drippings are kept for a second meal, boil them a few minutes before serving.

Sanitary food handling is also important. Wash hands, utensils, countertops and cutting boards with sudsy water before and after working with any food, especially raw meat or poultry.

Salmonella bacteria may spread when these items are prepared in conjunction with other foods. For instance, if a knife is used to cut raw meat, then used for chopping salad vegetables, the knife and cutting board should be washed thoroughly with hot water, soap and a scrub brush. If this is not done, the bacteria from the meat would transfer a team of Salmonella to the vegetables, though bacteria on the meat would be destroyed in cooking.

You should follow certain precautions when preparing a holiday turkey. The larger the bird, the longer it takes to defrost. It can be thawed in the refrigerator. If it must be thawed more quickly, seal in a water-tight plastic bag and immerse in cold water. Defrosting at room temperature invites possible bacteria growth.

Cook the turkey thoroughly and at one time, Mrs. Johnson says. Never partially cook poultry with the idea of finishing later. Bacteria may survive. Stuffing is especially vulnerable to bacteria growth. It is safest cooked separately. However, if it is cooked in the turkey cavity, be sure cooking is complete. Also, prepare the mixture and stuff the turkey just before putting into the oven — never the night before. If using commercially frozen stuffed poultry, do not defrost before baking.

Clean chimneys prevent fires

With more fireplaces in use because of soaring fuel costs, chimney fires are becoming more common, says Charles Hohn, Extension agricultural engineer at New Mexico State University.

Chimney fires start when the soot on the chimney walls burns. When ignited, this soot burns like charcoal. The easiest way to prevent chimney fires is to stop burning soot-producing materials and to remove soot already on the chimney walls.

Soot problems develop when homeowners burn plastic coated cartons, quick starter resins, leaves, plywood or gift wrapping. The top soot producer, however, is greenwood. It burns with a slow, smoldering fire which releases running sap. This sap causes glaze to form on the flue.

Green wood is heavier than dry wood. If you split a green log, the exposed wood will feel wet. It's best to gather your wood at least six months before the heating season begins. Remember to store the wood in a shed or covered stack so it can dry out.

Check your chimney for soot buildup. Because of their rough surfaces, brick and stone fireplaces will almost always have a buildup problem. However, smooth tile liners are not immune.

To inspect the chimney, open the damper as wide as possible and look up the chimney. You may need a mirror to help you see. Soot accumulations will usually be heaviest at the lower end of the chimney. You should also use a flashlight from the roof and look down the chimney.

If your chimney has a buildup problem, clean it before you build any more fires. You can either do the job yourself or hire a professional chimney sweep.

Professionals use brushes and high-powered vacuums to remove the soot. Do-it-yourselfers can use an old-time solution — a small fir tree tied to a rope. Pull the tree up the chimney to remove the soot. If a fir tree is not available, substitute a burlap bag filled with straw. After weighting the bag with stones, drag it up the flue. You can also use a six-foot heavy chain looped to a rope. Lower the chain into the chimney and swing it against the sides.

When you are finished, put the fallen soot into paper bags and dispose of it. Checking the fireplace now will insure safe and comfortable fires all winter, Hohn says.
