Ladybug's Moon sold for $1,276,000

Ladybug's Moon — the stallion who won the Kansas and Ruidoso Futurities in 1968 and missed the All-American Futurity by a nose the same year — hit the national spotlight last week when he brought a world record price of $1,276,000, from one individual to another, in Madill, Oklahoma.

The leading sire of money-earning two-year-olds in the United States this year, the chestnut sorrel stallion was sold to George E. Middleton of St. Louis, Mo. by Marvin and Lela Barnes of Ada, Okla.

Homeowners in Ruidoso for six years, the Barnes spend 5-6 months of the year here and currently have five horses running at the track — Chicka Bug, Flick Bug, My Squaw, Bea Bug and Lela Barnes Bug (who ran in the Rainbow Derby finals Sunday).

The mare is the dam of foals earning over $500,000, including Top Ladybug, winner of $195,943.86 and Barnes Lady Bug, $112,787.97. Ladybug's Moon added another $191,537.19 to the mare's credit.

The million dollar stallion draws on another strong bloodline through his sire, Top Moon, who also fathered Bugs Alive in '75, winner of the 1975 All-American Futurity and great-grandson of F.L. Ladybug.

Among the top sires in quarter horse racing, Ladybug's Moon has had a finalist in almost every major futurity since he went to stud and his colts raked in over $1.4 million in only four colt crops to go to the track.

"I've admired this horse for sometime,"

Middleton said at a press conference announcing the sale May 13. He said his decision to buy the stallion came while I was in a hospital bed after surgery.

"I began thinking about what stallion I'd like to own if I could purchase any of them," Middleton said, "the answer was Ladybug's Moon."

After he'd recovered from his operation, Middleton contacted the Barnes and negotiations on the horse began.

The $1,276,000 price was set on the basis of what Barnes said he felt it would take "for my wife and I to live comfortably the rest of our lives."

"I think Ladybug's Moon is worth every dime of it," said Middleton, who hopes to develop the stallion into "one of the greatest sires to ever live."

Ladybug's Moon is currently stabled at the Lady Bug Stallion Station in Madill and stands for a fee of $2,500 to Register of Merit mares and producers, and $3,500 to all other mares.

The stallion's Cinderella's story begins about 15 years ago with a car salesman, a beauty instructor and an old mare with running blood in her.

"My husband and I had always loved horses and owned them as a hobby on the side," Mrs. Barnes said of the couple's humble beginnings in the race business. "We paid $1,000 for F.L. Ladybug and had already sold her four times when we decided to get serious about horse racing."

It cost the Barnes $4,000 to take the mare out of trading stock. For years they gave up fancy clothes and big cars to pay for such non-luxury items as horse tack, feed and fence.

"We had no money or connections at the tracks," Mrs. Barnes said, "yet our horses still started coming in. It just goes to show you anybody can make it in the race business with the right bloodline."

Although the Lady Bug line has won at tracks all over the country, Mrs. Barnes said their main income has come from Ruidoso Downs. "We really appreciate the honesty at this racetrack, which makes it possible for an average person with a good horse to win at Ruidoso Downs."

Now out of the breeding end of the horses business, the Barnes plan to continue their career in racing by promoting the Lady Bug line and running Lady Bug colts in hopes of taking the All-American Futurity, according to Mrs. Barnes.

Quarter horse movie may be filmed here

Columbia Pictures of Hollywood, CA, has contacted Al Rosa, general manager of Ruidoso Downs Race Track, with a proposal to film a movie on quarter horse racing here. The script will be reviewed by Rosa prior to contractual meetings. "This would be a wonderful thing for Ruidoso Downs and Ruidoso," Rosa said, "as well as the quarter horse industry and I am anxious to study their proposals as soon as they are submitted to me."

Big ticket deal by C-C during Aspencade '76

During recent Aspencades the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce has materially contributed to the happiness of one individual through the presentation of an authentic, and expensive, Squash Blossom necklace and silver and turquoise appointments.

During Aspencade '76, Oct. 1-3 — to tie in with the nation's Bicentennial — the Chamber will make 200 people happy, because, manager Richard Cochran said, "We'll award 200 prizes, cash, merchandise and gift certificates, and, in the spirit of '76, each of them are valuable. This is not cheap promotional gimmick, every prize is worth taking home."

Tickets will soon be available — big tickets, huge tickets, outlandishly sized tickets — in support of this Aspencade give away. The tickets are so big, in fact, that the Chamber imposed on Ruidoso's own Pat Healey to design them — to give you an idea of the immensity of the project.

"Merchants and individuals desiring to participate in this Aspencade feature should," Cochran said, "contact the Chamber immediately to be included. The tickets will be sent to the printer soon and we don't want to have any supporter of Aspencade '76 left out as an active sponsor."

Watch A Native grabs K. Derby

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Watch A Native, a 15-1 shot owned by Sam Henderson of Odessa, Texas, rambled to a stunning upset in Sunday's $72,475 Kansas Quarter Horse Derby at Ruidoso Downs.

Jockey Richard Bickel got the colt off to a quick start in the 400-yard dash, then took command about a dozen jumps away from the gate. From then on, there was no catching him.

Watch A Native was well in control when he crossed the mid-way point of the homestretch. He kept pouring it on over the final yards and swept under the tape with a half-length margin.

It was quite an afternoon for Trainer Clifton Dean, the man who launched both Watch A Native and the runner-up finisher, Native Creek. The latter is the property of Tom Roden of Odessa. Both Watch A Native and Native Creek were sired by the thoroughbred, Sparkling Native.

Gary Sumpter was up on Native Creek. Third went to Go Fantasia, owned by Paul Travis of Metamora, Mich. Jerry Burgees was at the controls.

Sunday's crowd of 4,950 established Windy Ryan — last week's top qualifier — as an odds-on favorite. But the people's choice looked a bit restless in the gate, broke a little sluggishly, was never able to get into contention, and ended up far back.

Watch A Native, who was seventh-best on the list of qualifiers, zipped over the Derby course in a speedy 20.09 seconds and hauled in a paycheck of $36,237. The income gave Watch A Native plenty of momentum in his quest to duplicate his '75 earnings of almost $92,000.

Fans who backed Watch A Native hauled in sweet mutuels of $32 to win, $13.40 to place and $8.40 to show. Native earned $12,320 and dished out tote prices of $5.60 and $4.80. Go Fantasia made $7,247. The show price was $6.20.

Lela Barnes Bug, a 60-1 outsider, was in front at the first call but the filly's advantage melted away quickly. Most of the field jumbled up in one group on the inside, another group on the outside. This left Watch A Native all to himself in the middle of the track.

Go Fantasia took deadaim on Watch A Native and tried to collar that one early in the race. But the filly clearly wasn't up to the challenge, and began weakening as she neared the wire.

Native Creek, on the other hand, displayed good closing punch, and was really wheeling at the end. But he never managed to menace the winner.

Here's the way the also-rans checked in, with purse-money earned: 4th—Windy Ryan, $5,073; 5th and 6th (deadheat)—I'm Gorgeous and Hyfonjet, each earning $3,261; 7th—A Zure Request, $2,174; 8th—Oh Who, $1,449; 9th—Lela Barnes Bug, $724; 10th—Southern Gentlemen, $724.

Racing in the cool pines resumes on Friday and extends through Monday (Memorial Day). First post each of the four days is 1:30 p.m.

'Hot Shots' forest fire fighting experts

The Smokey Bear Hot Shots, a highly trained and fully mobilized fire fighting crew under the direction of Andy Hale, stand ready 24-hours a day to put 28 men onto any fire in the Lincoln National Forest.

"Primarily their duties are fire suppression," Hale said. "While not engaged in actual fire fighting the crew begins their day with a physical fitness program, then work on assigned projects such as fuel break construction and fuel hazard reduction to reduce the fire potential around the Village of Ruidoso."

During inclement weather the crew undergoes rigid training in fire fighting subjects and techniques.

The Hot Shots use a rented bus, "The Yellow Fire Fighter", for transport to a fire.

"In comparison, the Hot Shot Crew is to a larger fire what the smoke jumper is to a small fire," Hale said. "They provide an added protection to the forest resources and Ruidoso. Their goal is to be the best fire crew to be found anywhere."

Should occasion demand, the Hot Shots can be assigned to fires anywhere in the National Forest.

"This unit is one of the best," Hale said, "and they've proved it this fire season by getting potentially disastrous fires under control before they had a chance to really spread."

GOING NATIVE — Watch A Native, reaching out in a long stride, hit the finish with a half-length in the $72,475 Kansas Quarter Horse Derby at Ruidoso Downs. Richard Bickel is up.

Native, Creek finished second. Watch A Native paid $32.

State Maid of Cotton contest here July 10

The search for the 1976 New Mexico "Maid of Cotton" is officially underway. Girls between the ages of 19 and 23 inclusive, who meet other basic qualifications, are eligible and welcome to compete. Joe Clark, chairman of the state Maid of Cotton Committee, said.

Other basic requirements for contestants are that they must be at least 5'5" tall and never have been married. Contestants must have been born in a cotton-producing state or moved to one prior to age 7, maintained continuous residence there or elsewhere in an area of cotton production up to the time of moving to New Mexico; and must now be a resident of the state.

The 1976 contest will be conducted at the Inn of the Mountain Gods Saturday, July 10. The contest is the grand finale and highlight of the annual meeting of the New Mexico Cotton Ginners' Association. There is no admission charge. Preliminary judging will begin at 2:30 p.m. and the finals at 8 p.m. Judges will select first and second runners-up and the 1976 Maid of Cotton.

The state winner receives an expense paid trip to the National Maid of Cotton contest in Memphis, Tenn., in late December. She will also receive $500 for the purchase of a wardrobe for the national contest. The New Mexico Maid of Cotton will represent the state's cotton industry at various functions throughout the year, including an appearance at the State Fair in Albuquerque in September, where she will be a feature attraction.

Miss Marci McSherry, Deming, is reigning Maid of Cotton. She was second runner-up in the 1975 national Maid of Cotton contest. "We were extremely proud of Marci's showing in Memphis," Clark said. "She has been a great asset to our state cotton industry and stole the show at the State Fair in Albuquerque. We feel Marci was one of the strongest contenders we have ever sent to Memphis and were disappointed that she didn't win. However, there's always next year and maybe '76 will be our year."

Members of the state Maid of Cotton Committee, each representing a segment of the cotton industry are:

Joe Clark, ginners, chairman, Mesilla Park; Ivy Clark, pageant coordinator, co-chairman, Mesilla Park; Ellis Parks, ginners/Chaves County coordinator, Roswell; Wesley McClellan, ginners/Luna County coordinator, Deming; Tommy Simpson, producers, Las Cruces; DeVaun Richins, producers, Artesia; Paul Francis warehousemen, Artesia; Bernard Greenwade, merchants, Roswell; Dan Payne, crushers, Roswell/Lovington; R. H. (Bob) Squires, cooperatives, El Paso.

Happenings

by Jerry

The pounding of the hoof beat is back in Ruidoso land with the opening of races on May 15th. There may still be snow on the mountain but the skiers are gone and it is the land of the horseman once again!

The topic of conservation at the office or on the streets is "Did you win?" — "I had the first half of the Big Q but I missed the second half!" — "I almost had the daily double but my horse was beaten at the wire by a nose!" — "My horse stumbled!" — "Did you see the spill that jockey took" and on and on.

And you know that racing has resumed! The traffic on Sudderth bulldozers and many vehicles have a horse trailer behind them. Stetson hats and cowboy boots are seen everywhere.

Other outdoor sports are being enjoyed — tennis, golf — but it is the king of sports that predominates and breathes life back into our quiet streets — and so begins our busy and hectic summer.

A group of about twenty-five friends traveled out to wish Fern Sawyer a happy birthday last week. The group went in a Winnebago and several cars to surprise Fern. Happy birthday Fern and congratulations on being named to the Cowgirl Hall of Fame!

It is not unusual when you hear about mis-spelling someone's name, and other goofs so often made in writing for a newspaper, but not everyone takes time out of their busy schedule to say thanks. Mrs. Marie Erickson wrote a note of thanks about a recent article done about her and even sent one of her poems which was called "Retrospection". It is a lovely poem. Thanks for sharing it with us Marie.

It is people like you and others — Lincoln and Rachelle Fox who take the time to thank you — Mary and Til Watts who wrote a note of thanks a while back — and Jack Wallace who sees you at the race track and runs to give you a big hug because he liked your article. that really makes your job worthwhile.

That is the best part about writing about people — getting to know them!

Breath of life campaign chairman named

Mrs. Pat Neal, of Ruidoso, has been named chairman of the 1976 Breath of Life Campaign of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

As chairman, Mrs. Neal will lead volunteers in raising funds to support research, care and education programs benefiting children who suffer from lung-damaging diseases.

The announcement of Mrs. Neal's selection as campaign chairman for Ruidoso, was made by John Milkovic, president of the New Mexico chapter.

The campaign begins June 19th, with the Rainbow Girls assisting in local events.

"There are millions of reasons why I'm involved in the Breath of Life Campaign, and they are the millions of children in the United States whose lives are threatened by lung-damaging diseases, such as cystic fibrosis," Mrs. Neal said.

"For many of these children, breathing is a struggle," she pointed out. "Some of these children don't even have the breath to blow out the candles on their birthday cakes. These children need our help, which we can provide by supporting the programs of the New Mexico chapter and its national C/F Foundation."

Among the programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation are support for over 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers across the nation. "These Centers provide diagnosis, treatment and referral to children who have these lung-damaging diseases as well as those who suffer from gastrointestinal disorders related to C/F," the campaign chairman said.

The Foundation also funds research to find a cure and control for C/F, the most serious of these lung-damaging diseases, and to develop better treatments for children suffering from all lung disorders.

Cystic fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children, affects one out of every 1,500 babies born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent.

"The parents don't have C/F, but they are among the 10 million carriers of the gene in the United States," she said and added that one goal of Foundation-supported research is a test to detect these carriers.

Although incurable, C/F can be treated, Mrs. Neal pointed out. "Because of advances in treatment during the past 10 years, children with C/F have a brighter future," she continued. "More than one-half are living past age 18. Just 15 years ago, most children with cystic fibrosis didn't reach school age."

The treatments that prolong the lives of children with cystic fibrosis also alleviate, and often cure, children with other lung-damaging diseases, she said.

"We certainly don't need more reasons than these to actively support the Breath of Life Campaign."

Carrizo art course offered

Dennis McCarthy will offer an Oil Painting Workshop structured for the beginner, intermediate and advanced painter May 31 through June 11 as part of the Carrizo Art and Craft courses.

McCarthy received a MFA from Kansas City University, Guadalajara, Mexico and studied extensively with Frederic Taubes. In 1975 he conducted the first week of the summer Taubes Art Course.

After a stint as a commercial artist he began a teaching career at Kansas City University and for the past 19 years has taught at St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kansas. He was named to Outstanding Educators of America for 1975.

During the past 6 years he has been teaching painting and drawing classes in the OWC activities in Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas and since 1958 he has conducted classes for adults under the auspices of the AAUW branch in Atchison.

The prospective groom has an Associate of Arts degree from Grays Harbor Junior College in Aberdeen, Washington. He is employed by the United States Postal Service at the University Park branch office on the New Mexico State University campus.

Visitors

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Shira, now of Tulsa, Okla., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Wilkinson in Ponderosa Heights, last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fritch of Opolis, Kansas, were also visitors. Mrs. Fritch is Mr. Shira's sister.

Warren to teach drawing

Jerri Warren will conduct a Drawing and Sketching Workshop May 31 through June 11 as part of the Carrizo Art and Craft Courses summer program.

The workshop has been designed to offer the basic fundamental art of drawing and sketching. The general approach will be traditional techniques, stressing composition and design of drawing and sketching in pencil, charcoal and graphite material.

Jerri Warren is an instructor in the Department of Art at West Texas University. She has a B.S. Degree in Art and Masters Degree in Art Education. She has worked in the field of Commercial Design. She has taught Art Appreciation, Figure Drawing and Composition, Design, Watercolor, Oil and Art Fundamentals.

Her specialization is the beginner and non-artist student. She believes that most people can be taught to draw with a fair degree of accuracy and to acquire some competency. The workshop will include personal assistance, demonstration and instruction in outdoor drawing and sketching of trees, landscapes and buildings.

The Dreamer

THE DREAMER

Have you noticed that extra touch in beauty all through the countryside every way you look? The rains of May have added new richness and different shades to the green of bush, herb, grass and leaf, over hill and vale. And blossoms of orchard, yard and garden have an added splendor and bright charm to their colors and hues that give your heart a little leap of joy within you as your eye catches sight of the springtime color-message that they send you from the hillside.

Out in the fields, hillsides and mountain dells the native wild flowers are blooming early and they have radiance this year that brings you a touch of Heaven itself.

The World Shines
Forth In Special

brighter just through the magic of the rain. A bluebird just flew by and the flashing blue of his wings is still more blue, shining in the sun. The red on the little song finch shines in a rose-like glow. And there is an orange and black Baltimore oriole. The black is shining velvet and the orange is almost as radiant as a blazing fire. The pinon jays, those beloved New Mexico birds, are flying in little bands rejoicing. Maybe they think there will be pinon nuts this fall. They could be right. I will watch for pinon cones and let you know later.

It is a thrill to hear the pinon birds calling all in a chorus, as they all make a turn in the air flashing their navy-blue silken coats in the sun. They have a number of joyful little calls sounding something like "hurrah, hurrah," as they are flying.

There are a few out on the hillside now in a pinon tree trying to tell me something. They sound like they are calling somebody's name, "Ray-fer, Ray-ford, Ray-bur." There is a cool breeze blowing out of the north sending a breath of winter through the warm sun of the day. It is like springtime in some northern countries like Scotland or Norway. There are high clouds rising on the hill horizon to the south and west.

What were the pinon jays trying to tell us? Now I hear the dove whose call is one of the most peaceful sounds in the world. As you lie under a tree in the summer listening to the call of the dove, you can hardly keep from going to sleep. The dove has two calls, one for dry weather and one signaling a rain. This one is now sending out sounds like the rain call.

A Word From Jack Frost

Dear Friends of Lincoln County, I have not sent you a message for awhile. But I have been thinking of you and wishing you all the best of everything.

The boys and I up here at North Pole City have played all the cards in the deck to bring you some moisture in May, which is usually a dry month — dry right when you need it to be wet.

Well, we did get some rain to you; but before we knew it, some hail broke out of the pen and got down your way. Also some frost we were holding up went over the wall and reached your part of the country.

These break-outs and break-throughs will happen no matter what you do. But I think that after you add things up, you will have a very good year.

I guess I will not see you now until the fall. And until then, I wish you all the happiness in the world.

Yours ever the same,
Jack W. Frost

The Lilacs

The fruit blossoms, especially the apple, are blooming later this year; and I notice new little clusters of blooms are appearing on the branches each day — as if they must keep searching forth their pink and white buds and petals for sheer joy.

The lilacs are truly a sight this year. Seldom do you see their spire-shaped cluster of lavender-purple so heavy and full upon the bush, and the fragrance so far-carrying on the summer breeze.

The lilacs are a special flower of our brother, Joe. Lynn likes especially the sweet pea, and Mark always liked the Indian paint brush. I remember John Alsays liked violets of the woodlands of Alaska; and our father especially fond of roses.

The Scotch blue bell, the blue flax, the forget-me-not and wild rose of the mountains have always been special favorites of our mother.

Of course we all love all the flowers. They are an endless source of joy in our lives.

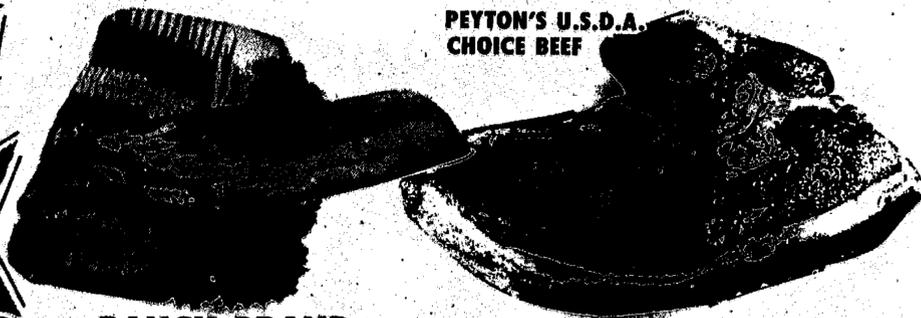

The White Lilac

Just a few moments ago, here in the yard, I noticed something that had escaped my eyesight amidst all the bright colors of mid-spring time. (This is being written on May seventeenth.) I have something rare in the flower world that was given to me a few years ago by Mayme Perry, the "Queen of Flowers". This is a bush of white lilac.

It has a special charm all its own and a pure fragrance matching its color. At night, especially on moonlight nights, it is very cheerful, after the other bright colored flowers have faded from sight — sleeping in the dark of night. The moonlight gives the white lilac and other white flowers a light glow of gold.

SANTA FE — Leo Catanach charged Corporation Commissioner Charles Rudolph pushed John Elliott's candidacy in calls to Democratic chairmen on the state phone network from his office.

Santa Fe County Commission Chairman Catanach, 45, is matched against ex-SCC pipeline division chief Elliott of Santa Fe and Mountain Bell employe Joe H. Barela of Albuquerque in the Democratic primary June 1 for a SCC nomination.

Rudolph said: "I categorically deny it. I haven't made a single call for John Elliott from my office or home." The three Democratic SCC members — Chairman Columbus Ferguson, retiring Floyd Cross and Rudolph — support Elliott, a 9-year SCC employe. Rudolph denied the politically powerful SCC members pressured the 95 SCC employes to back Elliott. He said the staff was warned not to pick in working hours.

Elliott, a former Tucumcari jeweler, would propose a constitutional amendment, if he is elected, empowering the SCC to insert "yellow pages" revenue in phone companies' rate base. A 1972 State Supreme Court decision banned the SCC practice. Elliott says: "In 1974 'yellow pages' profits of phone companies in New Mexico topped $3 million and their total revenue exceeded $5 million from this source." He would computerize records of more than 15,000 corporations in the SCC. He would push to completion computerization already begun.

Elliott would increase training of firemen in New Mexico and improve fire equipment, steps to cut fire insurance rates indirectly. He supports a bill that will go to the 1977 Legislature to create a state ambulance fund from part of the state tax on life and health insurance premiums. Elliott says: "No New Mexico ambulance service is operating at a profit. This would make ambulance services self-sufficient." He said Albuquerque Ambulance Service said in 1975 its monthly loss is $11,000.

Elliott, 54, and Barela, 43, fear a light primary vote for lack of primary races and low interest in the presidential races. The total was 153,293 in the 1972 primary and 186,050 in 1974.

Catanach says: "I expect to win with 40 to 45 per cent of the vote." Catanach predicts he will carry Santa Fe, San Miguel, McKinley, Grant, Lea, Dona Ana, Sandoval, Socorro and Quay, Elliott's former home county. "I expect to break even with Elliott in Roosevelt, Curry and Otero," Catanach says, "and to split Bernalillo County with Elliott and Barela."

Catanach says: "The SCC members have not been in business in 20 to 25 years. I would inject the professionalism of a businessman in the SCC." Catanach has owned a Santa Fe abstract firm 22 years. He would retain retiring State Insurance Supt. Ralph Apodaca as a consultant. Catanach claims: "A small businessman has a hard time getting SCC information if he wants to form a corporation." He calls "for more coordination between the SCC and Public Service Commission." Both regulate utilities.

Catanach says he is spending $15,000 on his primary campaign but only $500 in contributions from others. He claims: "Barela works for Mountain Bell, regulated by the SCC, and that's a big no-no. The SCC has been very liberal allowing Elliott to work in politics and that's a no-no."

Barela, an $18,500-a-year Mountain Bell communications engineer, says: "About 60 per cent of my support will come from Bernalillo County. My strongest Bernalillo areas are the North and South Valleys." He estimates 48,000 to 50,000 votes in a low total of 96,000 to 100,000 will win the SCC Democratic nomination.

He says: "I'm offering my expertise from my Mountain Bell job in SCC service." Barela polled 17,793 votes in the 1972 SCC primary and 34,289 in 1974 in two unsuccessful previous tries. But he says: "I'm going to win this time because I'm better known and I've shown the people I'm determined to be a SCC member."

Barela says: "The SCC should get more involved in policing corporation charters, ambulances, wrecker services and commercial buses." He hit wrecker service SCC-set restricted service areas. Barela said: "Wrecker service should be brought back to free enterprise." He says he will spend $5,000 on his primary campaign. He says SCC appointment of a state insurance superintendent to succeed Apodaca is critical "as far as the people, doctors and hospitals are concerned because he must have expertise on new malpractice and hospitalization insurance legislation." At stake is a 6-year SCC term at $24,000 a year. Cross' resignation will be effective June 30. Gov. Jerry Apodaca says he will appoint the Democratic primary winner. The unopposed Republican SCC entry is Albuquerquean Jimmie W. Glenn, 35. He is New Mexico director of the Indo-China Refugee Resettlement Program. The GOP has not elected a member of the powerful SCC in some 40 years.

Stuph & Junk

... by Cale Dickey

HOW DIVIDE THE PIE?

The lambasting of the Village of Ruidoso trustees by the Lincoln County commissioners . . . Bud Payne and John Suddeth, at least . . . with a barbed assist from ambulance operator Phil Embury . . . can't possibly be construed as a step toward promoting peace and harmony between the entities. The county, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs had to cut their budgets drastically. Cutting budgets means programs suffer. So . . . not being enough pie to go around . . . fasting will indeed be the order of the day.

There isn't much the village dads can do about increasing revenues. Perhaps the county commissioners should concentrate more on getting their tax revenue producing procedures up to date . . . and spend less time ridiculing the actions of others who are in exactly the same budget bind as the county.

Even the goose that lays the golden eggs . . . that makes many things possible in Lincoln County . . . needs love . . . and an aggravated goose might tend to snap back at an aggravating gander.

There just has to be a more logical approach to trying to solve a problem of continuing ambulance service than squawking like a bunch of frustrated geese when the big geese take over the feed trough.

GOOD ON YOU BOYS

Stuph & Junk's "Dirty Sox Award" . . . for good guys only . . . goes now to Dan Ellis, 12, and Ronnie Stallings, 14, for their combined efforts to give 20-month-old Paul A. Germany a new lease on life . . . 'cause these lads action's in pulling Paul out of the Rio Ruidoso and getting him breathing again, was an extremely unselfish act.

It speaks well of the upbringing of these youths . . . 'cause who could fault two young boys for ignoring a crying three-year-old, they both knew, who was obviously on his way home . . . more than likely troubled by some monumental development that frequently disrupts the life of a three-year-old.

So . . . good on you, you good young guys . . . you've shared an experience that saved a life . . . and there're not too many of us in that boat.

SMOOTH TIMES AHEAD

The way it's being told up around village hall, drivers on Suddeth and Mechem will have it a bit smoother . . . 'cause it seems that along in June the state highways crew are going to do a little fixin' . . . not that the thoroughfares need it.

Only thing to puzzle over is the scheduling . . . seems, out here, in the boonies . . . boones made famous, and that's an understatement, by those ponies running around in circles, or in straight lines . . . that the road repairs have to be made when the tourists and horsey-types are happily enjoying life here.

It's not that there'll be mass complaints about having the streets resurfaced . . . and we'll all enjoy the fruits of the street fixer-uppers labors . . . but seems, by jinkies, that a little juggling of schedules could have been accomplished to have that work done between May 1-10.

'Course joy should reign unrestrained that it's being done at all.

Let us all hope . . . seeing that the local police budget had to be slashed to the point where previously enjoyed services have had to be eliminated . . . that drivers'll keep a light toe on that old accelerator . . . 'cause the emergency room of Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital isn't really all that interested in being any busier than they are.

BRIEF BIT: A politician favoring elimination of Revenue Sharing just has to be guilty of not doing his homework . . . take a bow, Don Trubey . . . CD

My Side of the Mountain by Randi McGinn

REPREHENSIBLE RAPE

"If my daughter were ever raped I'd take the matter into my own hands before I'd submit her to the humiliation of a court proceeding . . . that statement by a prominent Las Cruces attorney sums up the failure of 4 of 5 violated women who never report the crime of rape.

Why such outrageous statistics on one of history's most severely punished crimes? Mainly because of the changed attitude of courts and law enforcement officers in prosecuting the crime.

With the purported sexual revolution an image of a swinging, physically liberated woman has developed . . . a woman who is free with her affections . . . a woman who asks for sex, either verbally or more subtly . . . a woman who, in effect, can't ever be raped because she initiated the action.

It is this image that has severely damaged a rape victim's credibility in the courtroom and thus made prosecution of the crime nearly impossible.

Women report they are often discouraged from the start by the attitude of the law enforcement officers they report to. "The officers interrogating me kept making innuendos and asking me whether I enjoyed it," one tearful rape victim said.

But the initial report is only the first ordeal for the woman who wants to take her assailant to court.

Once in the courtroom its the woman's reputation that goes on trial and in most cases she is automatically found at fault until proven innocent beyond a shadow of a doubt.

"Unless a woman has an almost nun-like reputation and is severely beaten I won't even consider the case," a New Mexico District Attorney said, "and chances are we'll still lose out."

If she risks taking the stand, a rape victim will find her past sexual activity scrutinized under cross-examination. Defense attorneys have been known to call witnesses to the stand to testify both legitimately and nonfactually, of affairs with the plaintiff.

With the risk of those kind of skeletons, both true and false, being dragged out of the closet in open court, no wonder most rape victims suffer in silence . . . no wonder so many assaultants go free to rape at will, with little fear of prosecution.

Isn't it about time we put the punishment where it belongs . . . on the rapist, not the victim?

Rape is a violent violation of a person by another stonger than herself. It need not involve extensive physical abuse to leave permanent mental scars on a person and yes, it can even happen to a woman with a "bad" reputation and still be a crime.

Let's take the rape victim off the stand and rebalance the scales of justice.

Fiesta de San Juan set at Old Lincoln

The traditional Fiesta de San Juan will be celebrated in Old Lincoln Town June 26-27.

conjunction with the church activities. Local artists and craftsmen, many showing for the first time, will display their work.

The observance will begin with a 10 a.m. Mass daily in the Catholic Church commemorating San Juan Baptista, patron saint of the church in Lincoln. Area Catholic Churches will participate in the rites.

A Lincoln bronze sculptor, Glenn Dennis, who has had six shows across the country so far this year, will have several of his pieces in the show. Dennis completes all phases of his work from design, to molds, waxing and casting the bronzes in his foundry in Lincoln.

Widows and widowers of veterans who died as a result of service-connected disabilities are eligible for education assistance from the Veterans Administration.

Almost 90 per cent of the nation's 29.5 million living veterans served in the armed forces during periods of armed conflict, the Veterans Administration reported.

County wool judges win state contest

Lincoln County's 4-H Senior Wool Judging Team won the state contest in Roswell, May 15.

Members of the winning team were Gary Lovelace, Raythe Gipson, Brian Sisneros, Tim Procter and Carlos Pacheco. Pacheco, of Tinnie, was high individual and Gipson, of Hondo, was third.

The county's Junior Team, David Parker, Roby McDaniel and Jamie Gipson, won a red ribbon for their judging efforts in state competition.

David Parker of Capitan was a third high individual in the junior classification.

Closed tennis tourney starts

The Ruidoso Closed Tennis Tournament begins today with both men's and women's singles and doubles play.

Sponsored by Ray Heid and the Ruidoso Tennis Association, the tournament will run through Friday on courts around the city.

Mixed doubles competition will run Thursday and Friday. Entry deadline for this final event is tonight at 5 p.m.

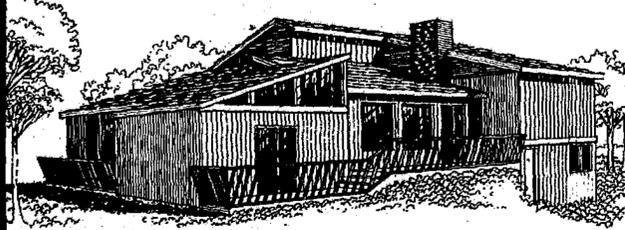

Thefts reported

Thefts under investigation by the Criminal Investigation Division of the Ruidoso Police Department include: John L. Murrell residence, house and electrical furnishings valued at $955.

Vic Hammill, 23x15 sail with 562 on it in red lettering, valued at $150.

M. A. Silvers, food, linens and electrical appliances valued at $140.

Designed around a "4-story" garden.

This natural-cedar custom home provides separate levels for each of 4 basic family activities. But its most striking feature is a large central atrium — a 22-ft-high, year-round garden court which faces the entry-level foyer, but can be seen and enjoyed from every level.

The entry level also includes garage, large game area, storage room and half bath. Four steps up are the dining area, kitchen, laundry and family room. Level 3 is devoted to a formal living room, located in the center of the illustration above; 4 bedrooms and 2 baths occupy the 4th-level quiet zone. Containing more than 3,000 sq. ft., plus garage, this made-to-order plan is a dramatic example of the design flexibility inherent in our pre-cut, engineered homes. THE MAKINGS OF A GOOD JUDGE

Long ago somebody wrote the Ten Commandments for any Judge. Any person who occupies the position and has the awesome responsibility of passing judgment on his fellow man should always:

1. Be kind.
2. Be patient.
3. Maintain dignity.
4. Try not to take himself too seriously.
5. Remember that a lazy judge is a poor judge.
6. Try not to be dismayed when reversed.
7. Remember that there are no unimportant cases.
8. Try to use his God given common sense.
9. Try not to lose his sense of humor.
10. Remember that he should pray for Divine Guidance.

If elected, I pledge to you to be guided by these rules to the utmost of my ability.

Slogan, poster winners announced by Library

The picture depicted a little boy about to light the fuse on huge pile of dynamite. The explosives were placed next to the Ruidoso Public Library. The caption under the scenario? . . . "Before you blow it up, read a book."

The poster and slogan was one of nearly 40 submitted to the Library this week in the summer reading program theme contest.

Open to students at the White Mountain and Nob Hill Elementary Schools, the contest was to come up with slogans to advertise the annual children's summer reading program.

First place winners selected by judges Orby Neatherlin, Betty Cuddy and Shirley Neuhouse, were second grader Vicki Myers from White Mountain School and eighth grader Catrina Rue from Nob Hill.

Ms. Myers slogan was "Reading Makes You Blossom" and depicted large flowers with books in the center of their petals. Ms. Rue used a Bicentennial background of flags and fireworks for her slogan "Get a Bang Out of Reading."

Runners up in the contest were fifth grader Jeff Nunnally from Nob Hill with his slogan "Play a Game Called Reading" and second grader Sharon Nesmith from White Mountain with "Get Smart This Summer — Read."

The winners will have their posters and slogans reproduced as circulars to promote the summer reading program around town.

A special award was given to fourth grader Beatrice Montoya from Mescalero for her picture of an American Flag and the slogan "Red, White and Blue and Reading Too." The design will be used as a reading list card for children in the summer program.

READING MAKES YOU BLOSSOM — that's the slogan and poster by White Mountain second grader Vicki Myers that was selected by judges Orby Neatherlin, Betty Cuddy and Shirley Neuhouse to help advertise the Ruidoso Public Library's summer reading program for children. The poster, along with that of Nob Hill winner, Catrina Rue, 8th grade, will be reproduced as circulars to be distributed around Ruidoso.

The Veterans Administration health-care system provides care in 171 hospitals, 213 outpatient clinics, 85 nursing homes and 18 domiciliaries.

GENE PEIRCE, Republican candidate for U.S. Senator campaigned in Ruidoso Tuesday while on the hustings in Lincoln and Otero counties. The former three-term New Mexico State Representative and director of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, spoke at a Republican banquet in Cloudcroft that evening.

Adamson attended S&L class

Rod Adamson, branch manager of Ruidoso Pioneer Savings and Loan, attended the Third Annual Intermediate School for savings and loan associations at Texas Tech University's College of Business Administration last week. Representatives of 61 savings and loan associations from eight southwestern states attended the school.

Family tree class offered

In conjunction with Ruidoso's Bicentennial Trace-Your-Ancestors project, the Ruidoso Public Library will conduct a six-week class in Genealogy to help Ruidosians trace their family trees.

Classes are free of charge and will begin Thursday at 7 p.m. at the library. "The classes will cover a variety of subjects so a person can come to just one class or attend them all," Vicki Hall said. Ms. Hall will conduct the classes with the help of librarian Mopese Barron.
