NOTHING UNUSUAL about a woman teeing off — with a tremendous swing — at Cree Meadows Country Club? It all depends on the circumstances — and Mary Ann Morrison of Houston scored a first for women Monday afternoon. See page five to learn how and why.

A JEEP CLUB RESCUE

Fishermen's tale . . .

You don't catch trout with a broken leg

BY CALE DICKEY
News Editor

Fish and fishing tales are rampant in these hills, but there was a little excursion Saturday that had a pleasant beginning, a thoroughly miserable middle interlude and a very happy ending — due to the dedication of the members of the search and rescue squad of the White Mountain Jeep Club.

Robert Chamberlin of Las Cruces and his old fishing buddy, Paul Trout of Ruidoso, decided, either late Friday or early Saturday to go in quest of trout in hitherto productive holes in the upper reaches of the Rio Ruidoso.

You understand that Trout is a trout fisherman par excellence and Chamberlin, by his own modest admission, is considerably more adept — and Saturday was the day to put the clincher to all of Chamberlin's claims.

The Izzak Waltonians arrived at the fourth crossing on the south fork of the Rio Ruidoso — a considerable piece up the trail from their car which was parked as far as they could coax it to go — along about 8:30 on a beautiful morning for fishing.

"I'm going to fish up high," Chamberlin said to Trout, "cause I've got trout holes up there that have trout in 'em bigger'n anything you've seen in years."

Trout's remarks about Chamberlin's expertise in catching trout are better omitted — what with this being a family newspaper, and all.

Chamberlin, with empty creel and full of hopes, disappeared up the trail. Trout got down to the business at hand — filling his creel with a limit of fat rainbows and maybe, if lucky, some succulent German Browns.

Trout, fishing down stream, took his time — and some "matching size" trout as he worked his favorite lunger pools. He reached the second crossing and waited for Chamberlin — waited until 6 p.m. Then he walked to the recreation area at the end of the road and waited until 8 p.m. By this time, Trout was concerned about his trout fishing buddy and he drove back to Ruidoso and advised the police department of his suspicions concerning Chamberlin's not returning to the car.

Chief of Police Paul Lukens was notified of the problem and at 9:45 p.m. called Lt. Phil Waters of the Bureau of Indian Affairs at Mesalero.

The White Mountain Jeep Club was alerted to assist with the search.

At 10:30 Sgt. Frank Mowat of the BIA met with Waters and Lukens and Jeep Club search directors Rex Skellett and Herb Brunell. Search plans were laid. Lukens and Skellett were to go up to the mountain ahead of the main party with those remaining to make a thorough search of the area on both sides of the trail.

The rescue operation began about 11 p.m.

At 3:18 a.m., Sunday Chamberlin was found — beneath a tree alongside the trail — with his right leg broken in two places above the ankle.

Chamberlin had broken his leg about 11 a.m. Saturday.

"I don't know whether my foot slipped on a wet rock in the trail, or if the rock turned," Chamberlin said. "All I remember is my right leg hitting, and hard, against a sharp rock."

At the scene, Lukens and Skellett learned that Chamberlin had managed to splint his leg and that he'd crawled about half-a-mile down the rocky trail to rest under the shade of a pine tree.

Lukens and Skellett busted themselves. They removed the crude splint. Cut off Chamberlin's boot.

"He looked toward the sky. He clenched his teeth. But he didn't say a word. Didn't moan. Didn't groan. Not a sound out of him," Lukens said.

Chamberlin was provided with hot coffee. "My, that tastes good," he said as he polished off the first cup and asked for a refill.

Police hustle

The Criminal Investigation Division (CID) of the Ruidoso Police Department — with assists from other officers — worked around the clock over the weekend to solve a burglary and a robbery, to make arrests on drug charges and to file aggravated battery charges against three men.

CID action resulted in the following arraignments on various charges.

The July 30 burglary of the Mountain Ski Shop, with $1,988.45 in merchandise stolen, was solved at the arraignment of Paul Easter of Ruidoso before Magistrate W. A. Hart Tuesday, when Hart accepted a plea of guilty from Easter on charges of burglary of the shop. Easter also pleaded guilty to a charge of escaping from custody of a police officer.

On counts of stealing a motorcycle from Wm. Hale McKinley and stealing a motorcycle from Bobby W. Arnett, Easter pleaded not guilty during arraignment. Judge Hart set Easter's cash bond at $10,000 and ordered him to be held in Lincoln County jail at Carrizozo pending preliminary hearing.

Arrested with Easter Monday was a juvenile, who was taken to the Lincoln County jail to await juvenile court proceedings.

The stolen merchandise was recovered in a Ruidoso residence.

A suspect in the theft of $1,500 in $100 bills from Sierra Blanca Motors July 12, Robert Hendrickson of Alamogordo, was arrested in Alamogordo Tuesday and was held there on narcotics charges.

Dean Jones of El Paso, arraigned before Hart Tuesday, pleaded not guilty to charges of trafficking a controlled substance: heroin; and to conspiracy to traffic a controlled substance. Bond was set at $20,000 and he was remanded to county jail pending preliminary hearing. Willis Leslie (Turk) Moore of Ruidoso, arraigned before Hart Tuesday, pleaded not guilty to charges of possession of a dangerous drug: amyl nitrate; and possession of less than one ounce of marijuana. Bond was set at $5,000 on the dangerous drug charge and $150 on the marijuana charge and he was remanded to county jail pending preliminary hearing.

In a Sunday night altercation originating in Chris' Lounge and continued on Suddeth Drive, several Mesalero residents suffered head and bodily injuries and two Ruidoso Downs men and a Ruidoso man were jailed, charged with aggravated battery.

In arraignment before Judge Hart Tuesday: Gregory Jefferson, alias Slim's Son, of Ruidoso Downs; Edward L. Moore of Ruidoso Downs and Nathaniel (J.J.) Winters of Ruidoso all pleaded guilty in self defense to aggravated battery charges. Bond was set at $5,000 each and all were remanded to county jail pending preliminary hearing.

Jefferson was specifically charged with aggravated battery with a steel car jack upon the persons of Judy Lester, Baldwin Lester and Melvin Yuzos, all of Mesalero.

Moore and Winters were specifically charged with aggravated battery with a pool cue upon the persons of Judy Lester, Baldwin Lester, Melvin Yuzos, one count; and Waldo Lester, Martha Fast Wolf, Baldwin Lester and Melvin Yuzos, of Mesalero, a separate count.

A CID spokesman said that additional arrests are pending in a forgery case, the stealing of two purses and drug charges and that warrants for the arrest of suspects have been issued.

ROBERT CHAMBERLIN

From the rescue pack a sturdy splint was taken and put in place. Chamberlin relaxed. Lukens and Skellett fidgeted. All three were considerably cheered when the balance of the search team arrived and Chamberlin was loaded onto a stokes — a basket stretcher.

The carrying job got underway at 4:25 a.m. and five tortuous hours later the entourage reached the end of the road and Chamberlin was taken to the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

"All the way down the trail," Lukens said, "there wasn't one sound from Chamberlin — a sound of pain, that is."

"When we'd ask him how he was doing, he'd look over the edge of the stretcher, look up at us and grin. Then he'd say: 'I'm doin' better than you fellows'."

"Now I know, in crossing the river at least 17 times and in having to put him down so we could rest about every 150 yards that Chamberlin suffered considerable pain. But never once did he show it. I'll tell you this much, there's still some mighty good men kicking around this country."

As to Chamberlin — well, he's resting up, in the hospital. And — he's putting in some of his time speculating as to how far up that south fork trail he can hobble on crutches — so he can get to some of those trout holes he told the rescue team about, while being carried down trail, before anyone can beat him to the lunger he said he always caught in those holes.

Mollie Bosh . . .

100 coming up . . .

'going on 110'

BY BILLIE SURMICK
Staff Writer

Mollie Bosh has been kind to the passing years. They, in turn, have descended gently around her — all 100 of them.

"I never dreamed I would live this long. I never really thought much about it and would just go year in and year out. It's hard for me to realize . . . and time just goes flying," Mollie said on approaching her 100th birthday, August 31.

She attributes her longevity to "Good companions, friends and enjoying and liking people. I've held up this long because I've always liked to be around people 15 years or so younger."

A member of the Nogal Presbyterian Church, the spy centenarian said, "I guess the Lord has a purpose for me although I'm not sure what it is. I know He's been with me and is still with me."

Born Mollie Lollar in Bonham, Texas, she had one brother who lived to be 85. Mollie married when she was 21 — in 1897 — and was widowed in 1915. She remained single for 15 years before remarrying and was again widowed in 1964. Her son, Marcus Lee, 67, lives in Alamogordo and her daughter, Clara Bennett, 62, lives in California. She has eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Although she abstains from smoking and drinking, Mollie said, "I have a little wine as a spring tonic because my son thinks I might need it."

She and her husband moved to Nogal in 1960 from Claunch, N.M. where they had a small ranch. "He was getting old and ready to retire. I persuaded him to go to Nogal where he could fish. He loved fishing. I bought me a pair of jeans and went fishing with him, but I wasn't very good. It took me forever to learn how to cast.

"This is the loveliest place to live. I'm so thankful to live in Nogal. The men are as kind as the women and they mow my lawn and look after me," Mollie said.

Neighbors dropped in and out Tuesday bringing a flower or dessert or just saying hello. They were anticipating Mollie's birthday tea in Ruidoso Wednesday. She asked their advice on what to wear and called each of them "honey" and had a love pat or touch for every one of them. One friend asked if she planned to nap that afternoon. Mollie said, "Oh no, honey, not when I have company. I'd much rather visit than sleep."

If she were granted one wish in life, Mollie said, "Maybe it's selfish, but I'd wish all my family to be Christians."

She labeled her daily activities as "simple" and said, "I hope to do some little kind act each day for someone — a bouquet, a little something to eat, a visit. I take care of my home, feed my cat and chop weeds like crazy. I love my flowers and tend my little tiny bit of garden."

In speaking of men, Mollie said, "I grew up on a farm before the days of cars and such. Of course, the men I knew were ranchers and farmers. They were good men, just about like the ones today. We didn't ever touch or kiss a man and were raised very strict. We wore plenty of clothes so the men would respect us more."

On today's women — "There's a lot of difference in women from when I was young, but not so in this community. Men don't respect women like they used to. I don't think much of women's lib. Women do have rights and their place, but I think they're pushing and trying to take over too much. They're neglecting their duties at home to get out and do other things," Mollie said.

She surmised that were she rearing children today and were educated that she would probably work outside the home. "I feel sorry for today's children," she said, "too many mothers work and the children need them. Some children do all right with other raising them, but as a rule, they should be with their mothers."

Mollie has a TV, but her falling hearing prevents her getting full benefit from it. "Those politicians are having a time of it. We have some good men running for president. Maybe Carter can do the job, but I intend to vote for Ford if he gets the nomination. He's already in office and should get a chance to finish his work. I took a daily newspaper for a while, but things got so bad to read about, I just quit. I like to keep up so I'll probably start taking it again," Mollie said.

This blithe spirit remarked she has traveled through Texas by bus and train, but has been no further west than the Arizona line and as far as Louisiana to the east. Although she enjoys traveling, she said her enthusiasm for it is not as great

Good Samaritan nursing home fund drive rallies

The drive for the proposed Good Samaritan nursing home — in critical condition a month ago — has rallied through massive doses of enthusiasm and a generous injection of funds.

In Monday night's fund raising committee meeting, it was announced donations during the past five weeks have almost matched the total collected throughout the past year. Contributions and pledges now add up to over $55,000. A total of $350,000 must be raised by the end of this year or inflationary costs may deal a death blow to the project.

The people are becoming better informed and many misconceived notions about the nursing home have been dispelled. Interest and contributions are gaining momentum. The importance and feasibility of having nursing home facilities in Ruidoso are being realized as more and more people are experiencing having to take their mother, father or other close relatives out of town or out of state for care, committee spokesmen said.

From August 20 through 28, a whirlwind of activities is scheduled to benefit the Good Samaritan fund.

Fish 'n' chips, donated by Kentucky Fried Chicken, will be available August 20 at the Senior Citizen Center, beginning at 11 a.m. Advance tickets for the three-piece dinner are $2.25 or $2.50 at the door. Tickets for a cord of wood, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodrige, will be on hand during each event.

A Country Store, sponsored by the Golden Age Club will exhibit many items and baked goods starting at 10 a.m. August 20-21 on the center grounds.

A Flea Market, sponsored by the American Legion, runs August 28-29 with booths available for rent. Donations of clothing and other usable items are being solicited for the event opening at 9 a.m.

"Womanless Wedding" will be performed August 27 at 7 p.m. with a reception to follow. Minimum donation is $2 per person.

A KRRR radiothon will also take place during the week and the dates will soon be announced.

The next meeting of the Good Samaritan committee, open to the public, is set for Wednesday, September 2 at the Senior Citizens Center.

END OF THE RAINBOW — Real Wind, launched as the betting favorite at just over 2-1, powered her way to a length win in Sunday's 13th running of the $368,784 Rainbow Quarter Horse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs. Real Wind, purchased for $2,000 by retired school teachers J.D. and Elsie Kitchens of Ft. Sumner, earned a thumping $120,858. See page six, for photos of the big race.

HER HOME NESTLES in Nogal's heart ...

Precut home matches view to a "T"

This original design takes full advantage of both a waterfront view and factory engineering.
 The primary living area of this unique cedar home angles forward with view windows on all sides — forming the vertical in what is basically a T-shape. (That distinctive, square-capped roof peak encloses the fireplace chimney.) But the bedrooms also share the outlook and the drama, with ceilings that angle upward to a peak of 13 ft. on the view side.
 Access is via a lower-level family area and spiral staircase, or an outside stairway to the upper-level deck. Total living area: 1,856 sq. ft., plus 515 sq. ft. of deck.

now since she has nobody to travel with. She recalled her grandfather going into Brownwood, Texas, for supplies and brought home coffee, flour and sugar in barrels. "Calico dress material was five cents a yard or we could buy a house dress for 50 cents. Although there was less thread on a spool then, it costs five cents," Mollie said.
 Upon remembering her first gray hair, Mollie quipped, "I didn't like it. I used color on my hair, but recently decided that if I'm going to be a hundred, I might as well let a little gray show." She cautioned this writer not to stand too close while photographing her "so all the wrinkles won't show."

 By February, 1975, Mollie weighed 70 pounds and was feeling under the weather. She had gall bladder surgery, at age 99, and said she thought the two-month recuperation period in the hospital too long. She now weighs 90 pounds and said she can eat anything she wants — even onions. "The doctor said I was a tough old gal and liable to live to be 110 ... I plan to." Happy Birthday, Mollie.

Singing sisters cut record

The Singing Sosebee Sisters — as they were known during their weekly broadcasts over Abilene, Tex., radio — cut their first record last month in Ft. Worth, Tex., with the Jimmy Rovitto Trio.

Mrs. John Jarratt of Ruidoso is the only one of the seven sisters not living in Texas. The other members of the singing group are Mrs. Arlie Brothers of Paducah, Mrs. Merton Ferguson and Mrs. George Woodard of Anson, Mrs. Wayne Satterwhite of Midland, Mrs. Clinton Woodlock and Mrs. J. Frank Woodard of Lubbock and Mrs. Alton C. Goodrich of Ft. Worth.

"We're not often all together at the same time at the same place," Mrs. Jarratt said, "but when we are, sooner or later somebody strikes up a tune and before we know it we are harmonizing again."

Originally from Anson, Tex., they performed at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville in 1972 and also sang with the congregation of the world's largest Church of Christ while in Nashville.

Though they feel church singing is one of the things they do best, their songs range from "To Each His Own" to "Tumblin' Tumbleweeds" and "Blue Eyes Crying in the Rain."

The sisters first sang as a quartet, with the others joining as they grew up. In addition to their KRBC, Abilene, weekly broadcasts, they appeared at the Texas Frontier Centennial in 1936, sang for conventions and singing groups and accompanied Omar Burleson, later a Congressman from Anson, when he was campaigning for county judge of Jones County, his first elective office.

"We've sent our first record to Lawrence Walk," Mrs. Jarratt said, "and as to the future — outside of singing together at every opportunity — we'll just have to see what happens."

THE SINGING SOSEBEE sisters cut their first record in Fort Worth, Tex., last month. Clockwise, from the lower left, Mrs. J. Frank Woodard, Mrs. Wayne Satterwhite and Mrs. George Woodard, Mrs. Merton Ferguson, Mrs. Arlie Brothers, Mrs. John W. Jarratt, Mrs.

Clinton Woodlock.

ROSES FOR LIZ — Liz Devine, nominations secretary at Ruidoso Downs, made the victory presentation for the first running of the First Lady Handicap at Ruidoso Downs. Liz wound up with a momento, herself — a bouquet of roses. Also on hand was Ron Rosa of the Ruidoso staff.

FIRST MIXED FOURSOME at a of Houston, George Marsh and Cree Meadows Invitational Golf Jim McVay of Ruidoso in Tournament, from the left, Butch Morrison and Mary Ann Morrison

Woman golfer playing Cree Meadows tourney

Mary Ann Morrison of Houston Monday invaded the heretofore men's only Cree Meadows Invitational Golf Tournament — and carded an 80 to qualify for first flight competition in the tourney winding up today.

Morrison — winner of the Houston City Championship 19 times and the Texas State Tournament eight times — had never played Cree Meadows, or at this altitude before entering the qualifying round. She is a scratch handicapper and, with her husband was Arizona bound when learning that the invitational was being played, decided "To enter, to see what would happen."

There might have been a raised eyebrow or two when she entered — but that qualifying 80 was solid and, as one tourney official said, "The men in the first flight have their work cut out for them."

Sen. Domenici poll shows concern over spending

Government spending ranks as the top issue among residents of Lincoln county who responded to a statewide survey by U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici.

The Domenici survey was taken in June, with all households containing registered voters receiving the questionnaire in the mail. Lincoln county residents ranked government spending as first over crime by a 74 to 40 margin. 142 responded to the survey in Lincoln county.

In third place among top concerns of Lincoln county residents was inflation. County residents then ranked energy, food stamps, education, unemployment, health and the environment, as the fourth through ninth most important problems.

"This survey was designed to give everyone possible a chance to make their views known on legislation that may come before the Senate," Domenici explained.

"I was heartened to see citizens support full disclosure by public officials and other reform measures, although I am worried by their overwhelming feeling that Congress cannot deal with America's problems."

"It is obvious from citizen support for reform and a new Presidential primary system that Americans are deeply discontented with the present state of politics in the nation. This means that we in Congress face the fundamental job of conducting ourselves so that citizens will once again have some confidence in their government," Domenici added.

In other questions in the survey, Lincoln county residents favored balancing the federal budget by a 138 to 3 margin; supported mandatory minimum sentences for those committing crimes with guns by 126 to 14; supported capital punishment for certain crimes, 130 to 9; opposed court-ordered busing to achieve racial balance in schools by 133 to 7; supported a Constitutional amendment to prevent busing by 123 to 19; favored a national Presidential primary system to replace the present state-by-state primary system by 100 to 33;

Supported welfare reform by 139 to 2; supported greater defense and military spending by 86 to 6; opposed more spending on social programs by an overwhelming 112 to 22;

Advocated that America reduce its funding to the United Nations by 124 to 13; favored de-regulation of natural gas and petroleum prices by 100 to 31; doubted the ability of Congress to deal effectively with national problems by a margin of 106 to 33; and supported full disclosure of finances by all public officials, including release of information about taxes, financial holdings, and business dealings by 116 to 25.

Sandenaw names election workers

Joe Skeen has been named advisory chairman of the Committee to elect Thomas A. Sandenaw Jr., of Alamogordo, District Judge of Division II.

Serving with Skeen are John Lattaazio, Otero County chairman; Cathy Annala, Lincoln County chairman and John Rolland, treasurer.

Sandenaw, a practicing attorney in Alamogordo since 1968, is an instructor in police science at NMSU, a member of the board of trustees of Midland Lutheran College, Fremont, Neb., a director of the Otero County Boys Club and served from 1971-76 as a part time U.S. Magistrate.

year, everyone under 18 years old must complete the course to hunt and/or discharge a firearm. This is a change from previous laws on hunting.

The classes will be in the main fire hall, on West Street off Sudderth, at 7 p.m., Aug. 17 - 18 - 19 and 24 - 25 - 26.

Registrations will be accepted Aug. 13 from 7 - 8:30 p.m. at the fire station.

"All students must register prior to the class," Tim Barraclough of the G & F Department said, "and it will help our instructors, Jack Spall and Bill Seelbach, if everyone needing to take this course will register Aug. 13."

The curriculum will include basic handling of firearms, target identification, game management, survival and first aid. Plans are underway to include bow hunting instruction and snake identification this year.

"Remember," Barraclough said, "if you're under 18 and haven't completed this course you can't hunt or discharge firearms, and this means you can't even go into the field on a plinking trip or shoot at targets."

"It isn't that we want to get tough but the law is the law and Game and Fish personnel must enforce it."

THE BONDS shall bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum, interest being evidenced until maturity by only one set of coupons. The interest coupons shall be payable to bearer, on July 1, 1977, and semi-annually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year.

EACH INTEREST RATE specified and evidenced by any coupon must be stated in multiples of one-eighth or one-tenth of 1% per annum. Bids involving supplemental coupons, or split interest rates will not be considered, and all bonds of one maturity must bear the same interest rate.

THE BONDS are the third and final installment of the $3,000,000 of the Village General Obligation Water Bonds that were authorized at an election held on October 6, 1974. The Village has issued General Obligation Water Bonds, Series 1975, dated February 1, 1975, in the aggregate principal amount of $1,000,000, which bond issue has subsequently been refunded, together with all of the Village's outstanding General Obligation Bonds, into Village of Ruidoso General Obligation Refunding Bonds, Series 1975, dated October 15, 1975, in the aggregate principal amount of $2,230,000, and Village of Ruidoso General Obligation Water Bonds Series 1976, dated April 1, 1976, in the aggregate principal amount of $2,000,000.

IT IS ANTICIPATED that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on said bonds, but neither the failure to print such number on any bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for said bonds in accordance with the terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on said bonds shall be paid for by the issuer, provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

NO PROVISION will be made for the registration of bonds for payment. The bonds of said issue shall constitute the Village's General Obligation Bonds, and shall be payable from general (ad valorem) taxes levied and collected in the Village, without limitation as to rate or amount.

BIDDERS ARE REQUIRED to submit an unconditional written bid for all of the bonds of said issue, specifying (a) the lowest rate of interest and premium, if any, above par at which such bidder will purchase the bonds; or (b) the lowest rate of interest at which the bidder will purchase the bonds at par. All bids must be submitted in the Official Bid Form, copies of which may be obtained from the Village's Financial Advisors, Stern Brothers and Co., P.O. Box 470, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87103. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside "Proposal for Purchase of General Obligation Bonds" and addressed to Mr. James L. Hine, Village Clerk, Municipal Building, Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345.

THE BONDS will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Village to reject any and all bids and re-advertise. The best bid for said issue will be determined by selecting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the Village would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the coupon rate or rates specified in the proposal, and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the Village.

The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. None of the bonds will be sold for less than par and accrued interest, and no discount or commission will be allowed or paid on the sale of the bonds. The Village reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

ALL BONDS shall be sealed and except for the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one received, which shall be accompanied by a deposit of two percent (2%) of the amount of the bid, i.e., the principal amount of the bonds, being $40,000, either cash or certified check drawn on a solvent bank or trust company, which shall be returned if the bid is not accepted; and if the successful bidder for said issue shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase within the thirty (30) days following the acceptance of the bid, or if all bids are rejected, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the Village, and in that event the Board of Trustees may accept the bid of the one successful bidder, or if there be two or more equal bids for said issue and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board of Trustees shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES shall take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids for said issue not later than twenty-four (24) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of bids. Delivery of the bonds of said issue will be made to the successful bidder at a bank in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or at the successful bidder's request and at his expense, delivery will be made elsewhere as requested.

The successful bidder will not be required to accept delivery of the bonds if they are not tendered for delivery within sixty (60) days from the date herein stated for opening bids; and the good faith deposit will thereafter be returned to the successful bidder upon his request.

FURTHER INFORMATION concerning the Village and said bonds may be obtained from the Village's financial advisors, Stern Brothers & Co., P.O. Box 470, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87103.

THE LEGALITY of the bonds will be approved by McCall, Parkhurst & Horton, Attorneys at Law, 1400 Mercantile Bank Building, Dallas, Texas 75201, whose unqualified approving opinion, together with the printed bonds and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings, including a certificate stating that no litigation affecting the validity of the bonds is pending as of the date of their delivery, was furnished to the purchasers without charge. McCall, Parkhurst & Horton were not requested to participate and did not take part, in the preparation of the Official Notice of Sale or Official Statement, and such firm has not assumed any responsibility with respect thereto or undertaken independently to verify any of the information contained therein except that, in its capacity as bond counsel, such firm has reviewed the information contained in the Official Notice of Sale to verify that such description conforms to the provisions of the bond resolution. The legal fees to be paid Messrs. McCall, Parkhurst & Horton for services to be rendered in connection with the issuance of the bonds are contingent on the sale and delivery of the bonds.

Senior Citizens planning second Bicentennial trip

Charlotte Jarratt, director of the Lincoln County Senior Citizens Center in Ruidoso, has announced that the 'Ojo de Amigos' Ambassadors are organizing their second Bicentennial Year trip — a tour of New Mexico.

Reservations must be made through Jarratt, at the center, by Aug. 9 at 5:30 p.m., which is also the deadline for payment in full of tour fees.

The detailed itinerary, subject to last minute unforeseen changes, has been finalized and copies are available to those signing up for the tour.

The tour begins Aug. 12 with free van or auto transportation to Albuquerque to leave the Senior Citizens Center at 8 a.m. Highlights of the tour, ending Aug. 19, include:

— The winding journey to Gran Quivira, along, Jarratt said, "The road of the cities that died of fear".

— From Albuquerque to Gallup with a swing into Acoma Pueblo. An evening Indian ceremonial will be the featured entertainment at Gallup. There will be a street parade the following morning.

— Two days in Durango, with a possible ride on the Silverton Train and/or a bus tour of the area.

— Visiting Charma and possibly Mesa Verde Park, via Chimney Rock and Pagosa Springs.

— To Los Alamos for two nights and to Taos Pueblo, with two nights in Taos.

— The return journey from Taos to Ruidoso through Santa Fe with a side excursion to Gallisteo.

"Anyone interested," Jarratt said, "can see me at the center and get complete details of this special Bicentennial tour of New Mexico."

Mule-O-Rama Aspencade fun

The first annual Lincoln County Mule-O-Rama will receive top billing in this year's Aspencade October 8-10.

In three years — October 14, 1979, an estimated $50,000 purse will be presented in the Lincoln County Mule-O-Rama Futurity which will be open to foals of 1976. In addition to mule races of various distances, the three-day annual event will offer performance contests, steer roping, cutting, heading and heeling, hide racing, barrel racing, pole bending and a mule sale.

Movie and TV personalities are expected to be on hand for a parade, old fiddlers' contest, chuck wagon chow and trail rides.

CORRESPONDENTS for 11 foreign publications toured the Mescalero Apache Tribe's Inn of the Mountain Gods and reservation operations Saturday and were briefed by tribal president Wendell Chino, center, on the business ventures and cultural development of the Mescalero Apaches.

Foreign writers tour Mescalero

Ten U.S. based correspondents for 11 foreign publications toured the Mescalero Apache reservation Saturday, on one leg of a week's tour of Indian reservations in the southwest.

The journalists, after a tour of Sierra Blanca Ski Resort, were briefed on the tribe's history, present attainments and future goals by MAT president Wendell Chino at a luncheon at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

During the afternoon the writers met with Chino and the tribal council and inspected many of the tribe's operations in and near Mescalero.

"I didn't expect to find a place like the Inn," Peter Flegelstahler of the Neue Zuercher Zeitung, Switzerland, said. "This is a marvelous resort and I'd like to see the ski resort during the winter. I'm very impressed with what I've seen."

Yoshiyuki Den of the Jiji Press, Japan, said: "I'm overwhelmed by the operations of this tribe and as to the scenery here, I could spend the next two months doing nothing but taking pictures. It's unbelievable something like this exists in a small range of mountains jutting up out of the desert."

Other journalists were Milos Krejci of Rude Pravo, Czechoslovakia; Levon Keshishian of Al Amram, Egypt; Leo Sauvage of Quotidien de Paris, France; Heide Neugebauer of Stern Magazine, Germany; Isle Schaffer of ADN News Agency, Germany; Jogindra Kumar Benerji of Deccan Herald and Hindustan Standard, India; Bert Van Velzen of Zuid-Oost-Pers, Netherlands and Iona Andronov of New Times, Russia.

The tour was sponsored by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Department of the Interior and the Foreign Press Centers of the U.S. Information Agency.

Inside the Capital by Fred Buckles

Santa Fe — With Gov. Jerry Apodaca's blessing a full-scale effort is being mounted to win voter approval to give Apodaca a chance to run for a second term in 1978.

Nino Trujillo, a close Apodaca friend, will be co-chairman of a $500-per-person fundraising dinner at Trujillo's Bosque Farms home in August for the campaign. Apodaca named Trujillo as chairman of the State Fair Board. The constitutional amendment will be on the general election ballot Nov. 2. Apodaca is limited to one term now.

U.S. Rep. Harold Runnels' income tax payments show he is a multi-millionaire and the wealthiest of New Mexico's members of Congress. Runnels, a Lovington Democrat seeking a fourth House term, paid more than $500,000 in personal and corporate income taxes in the last two years.

Eric Serna of Espanola, a staff assistant to U.S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya in Montoya's Santa Fe office, says he was on leave when he attended the Democratic National Convention in New York. Serna is paid $15,741 a year as a Montoya staff employee. He was an alternate in the New Mexico delegation at New York.

State Rep. Von Rue Crawford, R-Hidalgo-Luna, says he will sponsor a bill, if he is re-elected, to extend the period for new state residents to buy vehicle license plates from 90 days to six months. Rep. Crawford says: "These people would get a windshield sticker at city hall showing the date they arrived in New Mexico. This would accommodate winter visitors who stay four months now and receive a citation." Crawford faces Lordsburg Democrat Henry Alvarez, an appliance and convenience store owner, for re-election in November.

Rep. Crawford says: "Jimmy Carter will probably run pretty strong in Hidalgo and Luna Counties because of the heavy Democratic registration. Ford would run better against Carter down there than Reagan."

A proposed Bureau of Reclamation power hike at its Elephant Butte hydroelectric plant is causing a flap. The rate would be boosted 97 per cent on power sold from the Elephant Butte plant.

Power is sold to the City of Truth or Consequences and Plains Electric Generating and Transmission Cooperative, Albuquerque. The cooperative sells power to 11 electric cooperatives. Sierra Electric Cooperative, Elephant Butte, is among them. Facilities at Elephant Butte were to be paid from sale of water below Elephant Butte Lake and sale of electricity. Water entering the reservoir has been insufficient in the last 10 to 20 years to make payments. Instead of reducing the debt on the dam it has been increased. This is the stated reason for the Bureau of Reclamation to increase cost per kilowatt hour from about 8 to about 16 mills wholesale. This would amount to a 100 per cent increase in cost to Truth or Consequences. Public hearings have been held on the big boost.

Gov. Apodaca appointed Iven O. Thyngerson, a Virden farmer, as Hidalgo County commissioner, replacing Lloyd V. Payne who resigned. Both are Democrats. The appointment is effective immediately.

Thyngerson is the Democratic candidate for the commission seat. He and his wife, Nancy, have four children and six grandchildren.

A 3-day bike-a-thon from Taos to Santa Fe is set this month as a protest against littering of highways and the countryside. Fred Vigil of the State Environmental Improvement Agency is the leader. Cyclists will leave Taos Aug. 19 and travel to Santa Clara Pueblo via San Juan Pueblo. They will visit Los Alamos and White Rock, camp at White Rock the second night and cycle into Santa Fe the third day.

A federal grand jury in Albuquerque began hearing testimony on alleged civil rights violations in Rio Arriba County. Testimony will resume in September. FBI and Atty. Gen. Toney Anaya investigators will continue to look for possible violations.

The probe stems from a longstanding controversy between Rio Arriba County officials — Sheriff Emilio Naranjo specifically — and La Raza Unida political party members. Apparently, Naranjo, Dist. Atty. Joe Cruz Castellano, Rio Arriba County indigent hospital claims administrator Nelda Archuleta and other Rio Arriba County officials testified before the jury.

The year's best example of an unbiased opinion has to be the July 7 decision attempting to negate a proposed regional airport made by the Bureau of Land Management's NM Multiple Use Advisory Board who don't want an airport at Fort Stanton because it'd interfere with their grass and woodland studies and cave management. —CD

by billie surmick

If it's possible for a building to have character, the Old Parsons barn possessed more than its share. The walls seemed to reverberate strains of fiddle music and laughter from days long past. The weathered wood sagged and staggered from more than 60 years of the elements and civilization . . . until one careless person stopped by.

The Olypiad Torch, lighted with great ceremony and scientific technology by laser beam in Athens, got snuffed during a downpour in Montreal. First time ever in the history of the olympics, they say. With no accompanying fan fare, drum roll or pomp, a worker climbed a ladder, whipped out his cigarette lighter, lit a piece of paper and retouched the torch. Ho hum.

No. 3 son, 10-year-old Chad, is due in this weekend from a few weeks traveling through Arizona, California and who knows where. Our house will soon be full of noise and dirt again, thank goodness. Gonna hug him closer than this!

And still more on the New Army . . . "The Snake", a drag racer owned by driver Don Prudhomme, has cost the taxpayers $140,000 during the past three years to carry the word ARMY on it — part of the new image, no doubt. I saw the "image" blow up on the starting line at the Winter Nationals near Scottsdale, Arizona two years ago. The price of engines and advertising went up from $40,000 to $50,000 a year. Major Fred Shirley claims the Army gets "a lot of mileage out of the advertising space." Seems it gets a lot of mileage out of chipped beef on toast, too. Better known as SOS, cooks scrape this already-been-served meat from the plates, rinse and re-use it in the next gourmet delight. Considering the recent scandal over the Army paying top price (up to $4.50 a pound) for spoiled beef, it must be getting its money's worth. Wonder what the GI's are getting?

And how about these toad-floater, frog-strangler rains? Lots of high water rushed through the Capitan-Lincoln area where they were deluged with over two inches last Thursday. Our parched earth laps it up in a hurry and it's nothing compared to the Big Thompson river rampage near Loveland, Colorado — our old stompin' grounds. For a play by play weather description — from cloud build up to effects of the rain — Dan Storm says it best.

Clipped Comment

THE APATHETIC AMERICAN

Thousands of words have been exhausted by statesmen, churchmen and writers on the subject of apathy. To those who are guilty of apathy (few admit it) the words have left a nasty taste in their mouth — somewhat like a vitamin.

Just a few more words on apathy by this writer who realizes that it won't do any good but who also knows there is something inside of me which must come out.

Some would have people believe if they could return to the good 'ol days there would be no apathy. In the good 'ol days every one helped each other and their neighbor and they were honest with each other and were law abiding. In the good 'ol days they knew the meaning of freedom and really cared about America.

And at an election time it was a privilege — hard earned — to be 21 and to have the right to vote. Voting is no longer a privilege. It is something which Americans do if they have the time to make it to the polling place.

It is also at the polling place that many for the first time wonder who the man is that is running for office and the issues he is running on. It's an age old argument about voting — the fact that everyone should or that it is really worthwhile.

Many abuse the privilege. The older people would have you believe that it is the 18 year old who isn't well informed — who doesn't care about the United States. The younger people would have you believe it's the older people who are apathetic who watch the ballgame instead of going to the polls to vote and who made the country in the mess it is in.

There are two sides to every story and in this case both parties are to blame.

Too few, young or old, people really care enough to get involved. Examples are everywhere and one doesn't have to look past Minidoka county to find them. Over and over again it's the same people who serve on committees, attend public hearings and city council.

The same people who attend are few in number — at city council meetings one to

Should the campaign director for the Republican presidential nominee . . . whoever each may be . . . be of sneaky mind, there's one photograph . . . strictly the truth, of a black man sitting on the foundation that once supported his home . . . that could be widely circulated . . . and choice locations shouldn't be difficult to determine . . . to cause THE Jimmy Carter more anguish than his famous "ethnic" utterances along about the time he was starting to collect delegates.

Seems this old gentleman's home has been a part of the view from the Carter front stoop . . . or whatever . . . for a considerable time. Also seems . . . cording to the way I read the papers . . . that some Democrats decided the old gentleman's home . . . and the old gentleman and his family . . . should go . . . and this happened in Georgia, where there's never been a race problem . . . a fact that Lester Maddox can attest to.

Just how the request that the home and family move was phrased, will possibly remain confidential information . . . but apparently there was no misunderstanding of the request . . . on the part of the old gentleman and his family who lost their home . . . 'cause I just don't think his home'll be the same, sitting down the road several miles from where it was home for many years.

And the move'll mighty inconvenience Mrs. Carter . . . in the event she was of a mind to tote a poke of peanuts to the new location of her ex-neighbor's old home.

FREE AS A BIRD

There really isn't much that ties a bird to one place, discounting love, food, home, disposition . . . not taking migratory instincts into consideration.

This ability to wing off . . . on whim . . . or wind . . . possibly brought about the "free as a bird" cliché from envious earth bound people who couldn't fly until a couple of bicycle repairmen put wings and a motor on a tricycle.

Under the front porch of our abode . . . where the bride 'n I often quaff a refreshing glass of ice tea towards the cool of the evening . . . is a receptable dispensing deep red liquid refreshments to one of the motliest collection of hummingbirds free-loading beneath the towering peak of Old Baldy. Motliest, because there don't seem to be any two alike . . . and the hummers at our feeder tend mostly to be drab . . . except for one . . . the apparently self-appointed guardian of the food supply.

Seems his nibs . . . and I assume his nibs is a him . . . thinks the feeder is his and his alone. He's sort of a husky little guy . . . kinda greenish/goldish with a brilliant red patch under his bill . . . when he's of a mind to show it . . . and noisy . . . compared to the others he's a nectar swigging version of the Concorde.

This zealous little guardian does slurp his fill . . . and then to the nearby juniper he scoots . . . selecting a branch with an unobstructed view of the feeder . . . and the instant another hummer . . . be it he or she . . . hovers at a feeder opening, comes the attack . . . and with a roar that'd do justice to a lion with laryngitis, the guardian does drive the intruder away.

Sometimes the others get sneaky . . . and apparently send one as a decoy . . . and whilst the decoy is being picked upon, and stuff, the others get a wee sniffer of goodies.

Watching is fun . . . and I presume there's something in the balance of nature to bring this about . . . but from now on, whenever I hear "free as a bird" . . . I'm gonna smirk . . . to myself . . . 'cause life isn't all free nectar to some of our hummers.

RACE SUSPENSE

I used to figure that a game was only a game . . . and a horserace was a speed test . . . until that No. 7 started blinking on the tote board at Ruidoso Downs Sunday after an inquiry was instituted following Real Wind's $121,000 win in the Rainbow Futurity.

Why there was more excitement . . . and gripping of winning tickets . . . and squeezing of No. 2 and No. 6 tickets . . . and a deep hush, accentuated only by the groans of some and the mutters of others . . . that kept rising to fever pitch . . . accompanied by the wiping of some brows . . . until it was decreed that No. 7 had won.

Gadzooks . . . never knew before how jumpy horse race fans can get . . . why you'd think those little pieces of paper were worth money.

BRIEF BIT: There's no truth to the rumor that the police radar sets are going to be put in moth balls beginning Sept. 7 . . . CD two usually — and one would suppose it's apathy which tells one's conscience that nothing can be done by the people. That the decisions are already made. It's the same philosophy that keeps one from learning the issues and candidates and feeling there is no need to vote.

This writer is still in that idealistic stage where there is belief in the voice of people in getting change and in making America a better place to live. If things were better in the old days it was because people seemed to care — to care about their community because it was made up of neighbors and friends.

But enough said on apathy and this writer feels somewhat better although there is still a hope that these words have done something to cure that disease. But yet I guess it doesn't really do any good to try — one can't change anything including the way people are. — Minidoka Co. News, Rupert, Idaho

Cow's artificial stomach important to hay industry

A cow's artificial stomach is a very important tool to the alfalfa industry. By using this method — sometimes called the In Vitro Dry Matter Disappearance Analysis — researchers can learn how many digestible nutrients there are in the alfalfa. "Nutrients which may show up on a conventional alfalfa analysis aren't any good to the cow unless she can digest them," says Wayne Kellogg, New Mexico State University associate professor of dairy science and researcher using the process.

Kellogg will discuss this new method of hay analysis at the fifth annual New Mexico Hay Show scheduled for the Quay County Exhibit Center in Tucumcari on Aug. 7. The value of using visual as well as laboratory analysis when selecting hay will also be discussed.

With the water shortage in Quay County, grazing cattle on alfalfa has become very popular. Vic Worley of Worley Mills, Tucumcari, has cooperated with the Matador Ranch in fabricating no-bloat pellets for 2500 head of cattle grazing alfalfa. Worley will report on his experiences during this project.

Marketing alfalfa hay will be the final topic of the day at the Hay Show. Jim Gray, NMSU agricultural economics professor and advisor to the hay marketing program for years, will discuss his extensive research concerning the economics and marketing of alfalfa hay. This new research will update a 10-year-old study concerning the various factors affecting the hay market in New Mexico.

In addition to the educational speakers, the 1976 Hay Show program will feature a workshop of grading hay USDA-style. Producers and buyers will work on a one-to-one basis with experienced professionals to learn how to grade their own hay.

The hay competition, a traditional feature of the Hay Show, is expected to attract entries from across New Mexico and parts of Texas. The hay will be judged and scored by experienced hay buyers and producers before being awarded blue, red or white ribbons.

As in the past, many hay-related retailers will be on hand to display and discuss their machinery, new seed varieties, chemicals, herbicides and other production aids.

Fun and entertainment are always an important part of the New Mexico Hay Show, and this year is no exception. Fiddling, a horseshoeing demonstration and award presentations are only part of the activities planned for the day.

This will be a time for the entire family to enjoy the hay show in our new air-conditioned Quay County Exhibit Center, says Ted Peabody, Quay County Extension agent. The Tucumcari Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the noon barbeque.

The New Mexico Hay Show is sponsored by the NMSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Some fish baits better if broiled or roasted

If you're taking corn and marshmallows on your next fishing trip, the advice from those in the know is to broil the one and roast the other — but don't use them for fish bait.

To really increase your catch of trout, advises the N.M. Department of Game and Fish, learn to fish with natural baits — stone flies, hellgrammites, worms — or, better yet, learn to fish artificial nymphs.

In addition to practice, persistence and subterfuge also pay off with larger catches of trout.

1) Fish early in the morning, late in the afternoon, at night in the dark of the moon.

2) Fish with natural baits or artificial nymphs and flies.

3) Use a boat, if lake fishing, and keep your lure at this time of year at depths of no less than five and no more than 15 feet on smaller lakes during the day; fish shallow at night. On larger lakes, such as Heron, El Vado, Navajo, use a depth-marked, weight line that will take your lure to depths of from 30 to 60 feet, and once the fish are found, keep it there.

4) If you don't own a boat and don't know how to fish artificial nymphs or natural baits, make a new friend of someone who does.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

"The River of God is full of water: Thou preparest their corn, for thou providest for the earth.

Thou crownest the year with goodness; and thy clouds drop fatness.

They shall drop upon the dwellings of the wilderness; and the little hills shall rejoice on every side.

The folds shall be full of sheep; the valleys also shall stand so thick with corn, that they shall laugh and sing."

These lines taken from the sixty-fifth psalm of David are brought to mind by our world here on the slopes of the White Mountain. With every day a new rain somewhere close about, each day brings new picture of mid-summer mountain land.

Today you look up at the hills and all the little shelves on top of the rocky cliffs are crowned with little fields of velvet green. And tomorrow you wake up and look out to the hill sides, and you see something like mirrors placed everywhere among the pines and cedars. This is the water from the rains, shining as it runs down over the little rocky cliffs. The rain water seeping through the ground and the rocks makes many little springs everywhere. Moss comes to life on the rocks, adding more silken emerald to the hills.

Pinon Cones

Among the first to respond to the bountiful generosity of the clouds with their sky water is the pinon. They send their balmy incense floating on the moist breeze down from the hill. The new shoots are growing rapidly and the pinon breath is strong. You walk amongst the trees and see the clear pinon pitch standing in crystal drops on the new cones.

After you have been away from the land of the pinon and cedar for a while, the first thing that greets you when you get back is the silent, ever-so-powerful welcome — the smell of the pinon tree. Then you listen and the faint wind song whispers:

"We are so glad to have you back with us."

Farther up in the mountains it is the pine and the aspen that says, "Welcome home."

Once you have breathed the incense of the pinon and pine and heard the soft lullabies of the pine, pinon and aspen — no matter how far you may stray from these mountains, these little messengers and voices dwell ever in your heart letting you know you are remembered every day, and that there is always a longing in this land for you to return.

Lightning Safety
Some of the pointers on lightning safety are: Do not get under a big tree during a rain storm, or do not be walking out in a flat place where you are the tallest thing around. It is best to be inside during the thunder and lightning.

There are many other precautions also. For one thing, be sure not to go through a wire fence when there is a thunder shower close about.

I used to wonder why shovels, rakes, axes and hoes and so many tools have wooden handles. It may be that our forefathers learned something from the lightning. Why not have a metal handle on a rake and a pitch fork? The other day just during a very light thunder shower I was raking with a rake with a iron handle. The clouds were a ways off, but a little touch of lightning played along the handle and I thought I could hear "The Spirit of the Storm" telling me to put this rake away for a while.

Any tips you have on lightning safety pass them on. There are a thousand and one things to be careful about. So have the carefulness spirit with you always so that carefulness in all things becomes a second nature to you.

A Prized Gift From Europe

When I went up to the Christmas in July in the parish hall of the Church of the Holy Mount and saw all the beautiful things, Father Delbert Achuff showed me a reproduction of a bronze plaque in Westminster Abbey in London, England.

It is a religious scene dating back to the year 1442, and was brought home by Ramona McAdam and Gretchen Annala who have recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Remarkably distinct, the reproduction was made by placing some strong paper over the original and then rubbing with some gilt crayon — a real work of art. And it was thoughtful of Ramona and Gretchen to bring this beautiful gift to Father Achuff.

We want to thank Wynema Tully and all those who made the Christmas in July such a success. This is a much appreciated project which is growing in popularity year by year.

The Olympic Games

My TV is temporarily out of fix but I had a grand treat watchin' some of the olympic games at the homes of Father Achuff and my boyhood friend, Lee Lawing.

Countries from all over the world each had something wonderful to offer in the way of a great athlete. I was glad to see so many displays of good sportsmanship — for sportsmanship is the spirit of all athletics.

I ran all the way with Shorter and the East German boy in the marathon and was exhausted at the finish.

The Finnish lad, Viren, upheld the tradition of his people as great distance runners in coming in fifth in the marathon, after winning the five thousand and ten thousand meters earlier.

Puzzled by increasing utility bills??

Here's a big part of the answer.

INCREASED FUEL COSTS

Of all the many pieces of the picture that make up increased utility bills, the tremendous jump in the cost of fuels needed to produce electricity is the biggest part. When oil prices began climbing at such a fast pace a few years ago, users of fuels turned to less expensive forms of energy. When the demand for these less expensive fuels increased, so did the price. So in just a few years' time, all fuels have become expensive. It appears that fuel prices are going to continue increasing. This means increased electric bills to insure the dependable service you've grown to expect from us.

A MODERN PARABLE

In pioneer days a man was asked why a certain field was so full of mules. He was told: "These mules work in the mines during the week and are brought up into the sunlight on Sundays to keep from going blind." The members and officers of the First Presbyterian Church of Ruidoso invite you to join in worship on Sundays at 11 A.M. as they seek to bring their souls into God's sunlight and to keep their spiritual vision clear.

Mobile home registration guidelines are established

The Department of Motor Vehicles and the New Mexico Property Tax Department are establishing procedures which will ensure that all mobile homes located in the State are properly registered.

According to Motor Vehicle Commissioner, Jerry Manzagol, and the Director of the Property Tax Department, Cecil Pickett, all mobile homes having a minimum width of eight feet or a minimum length of forty feet are subject to a one-time registration fee.

The fee, which is distributed among the State's general and road funds, counties, school districts and municipalities, is five dollars.

In the near future, enforcement personnel from both State departments will begin spot checks in mobile home parks to determine if mobile homes are properly registered.

Owners who are found to be in violation of the registration requirements will be subject to the five dollar registration fee plus five dollars per year for each year since the vehicle was purchased for a maximum of three years.

Properly registered mobile homes are issued a license plate with the MH-prefix.

Jockey/Trainer of the week

Charles Mueller waited till the last minute to latch onto the Jockey-Of-The-Week title over the weekend at Ruidoso Downs.

Mueller and Willie Lovell fought a heads-up battle right down to the last race. Lovell was in the lead with four wins from 21 rides. Mueller held three winners from 19 rides.

But Mueller picked up a late assignment on Y So Fast in the closer. He took the mare to the front immediately and drew out to 1 1/2 lengths. That upped his total to four winners from 20 percent on top and just a silver better than Lovell's batting average.

Mueller still holds down the bottom rung on seasonal standings but he advanced on the rest of the pack. He now boasts 18 winners from 166 rides.

Lovell's work got him a little closer to the top rung. He has 44 winners — just three behind the leader, Carlos Rivas.

Trainer-wise, a new face appeared in the spotlight. Leroy Henson scored with three of the six hopefuls he sent to the track for a remarkable 50 percent.

H. C. Werner Jr. added two to his list to remain at the top with 30 winners.

Turf action continues Thursday through Sunday, beginning at 1:30 p.m. each day.

Stakes stars hold the spotlight most of the weekend. Ten starting berths for the finals of the $35,000 (est.) Rio Grande Futurity will be decided on Friday.

Saturday's agenda offers the 400-yard Three Bars Handicap for three-year-olds and up. The purse is $8,500-added. Sunday's wrapup is the seven-furlong Jockey Club Stakes, offering an added purse of $7,500.

GREAT STAKES RACING IN THE COOL MOUNTAIN AIR

Great stakes mean action-packed racing in the cool pines. Home of the world's greatest racing action, Ruidoso Downs means fun-filled excitement all weekend long.

This weekend come on out and join the sporting crowds. Thursday starts the action with post time of 1:30 P.M. Friday the Thoroughbreds

Ruidoso Hoofbeats

BY ED BEARD

Ruidoso Downs Publicity Department

A couple of chain reactions over the weekend caused some pretty spectacular accidents, but luckily no serious injuries. Saturday almost a third of the field was wiped out in the fifth race. Mickey Mouse Dancer, with Leroy Coombs up, clipped the heels of the horse in front in the turn for home. As they were falling they were hit from behind by fast charging Silver's Cascade, ridden by Willie Lovell, and Barbijay, with Mike Hiding in the saddle. All three horses and riders wound up in a heap at the top of the stretch. Coombs was the only one taken to the hospital. He was treated for cuts and bruises and held overnight for observation.

Water Hodges didn't really get moving on Silver Mark II in Saturday's last race. The gelding tripped up on his first turn past the stands in the six-furlong affair. A quick acting valet crew got Hodges off the track before the horses came around for the second time. Hodges was taken to Ruidoso — Hondo Valley Hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

Jeff Thrasher and Wayne Gee took some lumps during Friday racing. Thrasher went down on Bootee's Klu in the fourth race. He suffered a broken collar bone and will be sidelined for awhile. Gee was aboard Sweet Rockette when the mare fell in the turn for home of the 870-yard affair. Gee, received a cut on the head and bruises, but doctors report he's in good condition and resting comfortably.

Owner Jay Childers of Borger, Texas, looks like he's got a sharp investment in Countess Blade. Childers picked up the filly for a $10,000 bid in the recent Select Summer Sale at Ruidoso Downs. She faced her first test against maidens at four furlongs Thursday for a two-length victory as a 6-1 outsider. Mike Hiding did the riding for Trainer J. Doyal Roberts.

Miss Champion, a $5,000 purchase from the Summer Sale, also notched her first victory in Thursday's 5 1/2-furlong fifth race for maidens. The property of Bob and Ruth Kimbrough of Abilene streaked to a 2 1/4-length victory as the second favorite under Gilbert Villescas. Bill Hitt does the training.

In Saturday's sixth race, Dash For Cash took his first spin since his second to I'm Gorgeous in the Rainbow Derby. The colt notched a half-length victory at 400 yards as the heaviest favorite of the weekend (40 cents on the dollar). The week boosted his tally to 14-2-0 from 17 lifetime starts for earnings of $225,714. Jerry Nicodemus did the riding for Trainer Charles Cascio.

Three jocks notched doubles Friday. Henry Uriegas scored back-to-backs on Solid Star and Honors Bestored in the sixth and seventh races. Leroy Coombs collected his from Acid Queen in the first race and Texas Bully in the 10th. Willie Lovell got his on Rowdy Song in the eighth and Black Pipe in the 12th.

Former Jockey Agent Paul Eveler took up a new profession. The stewards report he's been issued a license as an exercise rider. Apprentice Jockey Victor Escobar picked up a $50 fine for failing to report to the stewards' office.

Stay and Dance, an eight-year-old mare who's owned and trained by E. E. Davidson of Hugo, Okla., streaked wire-to-wire in Thursday's 5 1/2-furlong ninth race against $2,000 claimers. It was her first victory in over two years. She won by 2 1/2 lengths as an 8-1 shot.

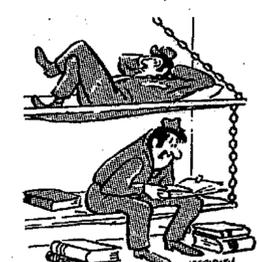

Into Space logged his second win in a row in Thursday's allowance 10th race at 5 1/2-furlongs. The gelding won going away by 2 1/2 lengths as an 11-1 outsider. Last week he won against maidens at Santa Fe as the favorite over the same distance.

Rebel Rainbow notched a big one in Thursday's feature. The four-year-old mare edged out allowance foes at 400 yards as the 2-1 longshot — her first win in over 1 1/2 years. Jackie Martin did the riding.

Big Q winners were hard to find Thursday and Friday. Thursday's rewarded only two patrons $6,364 each when they matched up Medina Mark (12-1) and Sea Deb (12-1) in the eighth race with Stay and Dance (8-1) and Rose Royalty (6-1) in the ninth. Friday's $5,801.10 payoff went to only three fans when they combined Rowdy Song (7-1) and Good O Jo (51-1) in the first half with Sundowner Kid (7-1) and Princess Grillo (5-1) in the last half.

There was a special touch to the 13th running of the Rainbow Futurity. Prior to the race, 3,000 balloons were released into the air and floated away. The balloons, naturally, were red, white and blue.

The sturdy Black Pipe continued his assault on younger foes in Friday's last race. The 10-year-old whipped out a 3/4-length score against $1,500 claimers at six furlongs under Willie Lovell. He was claimed in the process. R. Brownrigg paid the price and got an excellent deal, judging from past work, Black Pipe logged two wins, four seconds and a third from nine trips this year for earnings of just over $4,000.

THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM

Yes. Unless you know something we don't, it's impossible to do everything you like to do at the same time. Or all the time, for that matter. And anyone who tells you different speaks with forked tongue. That's why, in choosing a resort condominium, you should consider Interval Ownership.

A PLAN FOR ALL SEASONS

Interval Ownership (or "Time sharing") is a plan by which you pay only for the time you use. And what you pay reflects a proportion of ownership in both the building and land. If your thing is schussing through the white stuff, purchase a week or two in Winter and Ski Sierra Blanca. Or, if the green stuff is more your cup of tea, you might want some time during racing season at Ruidoso Downs. Well, we could go on and on. But why belabor a point? There are lots of these time sharing things around. It's just that ours is the best.

Fully maintained and equipped, elegantly appointed Townhaus Chalets. Private supper club, gamerooms, golf, tennis, fishing, and a partridge in a pear tree.
