VOLUME NO. 31 IN OUR 31ST YEAR RUIDOSO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO 88345

MONDAY, SEPT. 20, 1976

A 'MOSCOW MULE' could be a Russian jackass, but, for observance of the first Lincoln County Mule-O-Rama. In Ruidoso Oct. 8-10, these copper mugs, with decals applied Sunday by the Ruidoso High School DECA class, are being sold through the Chamber of Commerce as practical mementoes of all the fun anticipated for Mule-O-Rama hijinks and mule races.

'Moscow Mule' mugs for Mule-O-Rama

Mule-O-Rama, three days of hilarity with mules Oct. 8-10, will feature a genuine "Moscow Mule" memento in copper, under the auspices of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

"The mugs, to which commemorative decals were attached Sunday by members of the Ruidoso High School DECA (Distributive Education) class, are being sold by the Chamber," manager Richard Cothran said, "at $3.00 each."

"All proceeds from the mugs will go to the Lincoln County Mule-O-Rama Association, to help offset the huge expenses being incurred in bringing Mule-O-Rama, its races and events, to Ruidoso this year.

"Merchants desiring to sell these mugs, on a consignment basis, are asked to contact the Chamber office, as this one item will do as much to promote future Mule-O-Ramas as any one thing we can do."

Interest in the races and competitive events have brought inquiries, and entry requests, from across the nation and Ray Reed, committee member, said, "from foreign countries where mule owners have asked for entry blanks."

ARRAIGNMENT TUESDAY

Sam C. Stoneman indicted on cattle larceny charges

Sam C. Stoneman, 34-year-old former New Mexico Livestock Board inspector, was indicted on three counts of larceny of livestock by the Lincoln County Grand Jury September 13. He will be arraigned Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in District Court by Judge George L. Zimmerman.

Stoneman's indictment on two counts involved cattle stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Donn Pose and the third count was for theft of livestock from the Harvey Cattle Company.

A $50,000 bond was set on the Lincoln County warrant and Stoneman remains in the county jail. Eight counts of larceny were filed against Stoneman in June and he was arrested in Hoisington, Kansas, September 1.

The charge is a third degree felony punishable by two to 10 years in prison, a $5,000 fine, or both, on each count.

Committee seeking input on new building designs

Public input concerning the appearance of Ruidoso, and the design of future commercial buildings, is being sought by the newly formed Architectural Plans Review Committee (APRC).

The committee, operating under the provisions of Ordinance 76-2, was authorized by the Ruidoso trustees to act on all commercial building plans submitted to village inspector Chuck Brown prior to issuance of a building permit. APRC will act on all applications within 10 days of their submission to Brown.

Committee members include Mike Waldron, Jim French, vice chairman, Rex Skellett, Mike Mulholland and chairman Alden Deyo.

In announcing the request for suggestions from residents to guide the committee, three major points were stressed:

— In order to get the maximum in business use and acceptability of any new enterprise, by both local residents and visitors, the entire appearance of the business must be taken into account. Advice will be made available to the applicant in order to get maximum acceptable appearance. Professional talent is available in Ruidoso, not necessarily limited to APRC members, for this purpose.

— APRC is available to advise and help commercial building permit applicants achieve exterior appearance compatible with our mountain location. This includes exterior design, materials, colors, signs, lighting and landscaping as well as location of the building on the lot, use of natural features such as rocks, trees, grade, parking and access. Applicants are urged to contact the committee prior to preparation of final plans.

— APRC would appreciate all thoughts and suggestions local residents make on this subject, especially in regard to the types of architecture that seem appropriate to this area and that will increase the attractiveness of our village.

Suggestions may be mailed to: A.P.R.C., P. O. Drawer 1428, Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345.

Bicentennial biography contest deadline October 1

Residents of the Ruidoso Municipal School District — if they have a relative, famous or infamous, living between 1775-1800 — can compose, in not more than 1,500 words, a biography of said ancestor and enter it in the local Ruidoso Community Bicentennial Project contest by October 1. There are two divisions, the first for biographers 12-18 years old and the second for everyone over 18.

The categories include:
— Most interesting famous personality.
— Most interesting non-famous personality.
— Most interesting "skelton-in-the-closet", or shady character.

A typewriter must be used to submit entries. The biographies must be written in English, typed double spaced, on 8 1/2 x 11-inch paper and only one side of the paper may be used.

There must be a title page containing the author's name, address and phone number; age division and title.

Entries are to have the title typed in the top right hand corner of each page. The author's name is not to appear on the biography, except for the title page.

The biographical facts and lineage must be authenticated.

The committee will award one prize in each category in each age group and will,

if deemed necessary, award honorable mentions.

The famous personality category speaks for itself.

The non-famous personality could result in considerable research.

The "skelton-in-the-closet" or shady character offers the most interesting possibilities, because any individual perpetrating shenanigans of a magnitude to claim public attention in those days, certainly left behind a legacy of confirmation of those deeds.

Entries are to be submitted to the Ruidoso Bicentennial Project, c/o Ruidoso Public Library, PO Box 3595 H.S., Ruidoso, N.M. 88345.

PUMP HAS 1,500 GALLON PER MINUTE CAPACITY

Emergency water treating equipment is stored here

The threat of disaster from contaminated water in any Lincoln County community was virtually eliminated Thursday morning with delivery of a 1,500 gallon-per-minute diesel powered pump and water treatment system at Ruidoso Village Hall.

The unit was acquired by the Lincoln County Commissioners, as Civil Defense surplus, and transported here from Palo Pinto, Tex., by Guy Henley, county road superintendent.

Storage of the equipment in Ruidoso was determined by the commissioners on the basis of population and that the village area would be the most likely to be affected by water contamination in case of emergency or disaster.

"This equipment," Bill Seelbach, chairman of the Lincoln County Disaster Defense Task Force, said, "will be available to any community in the county."

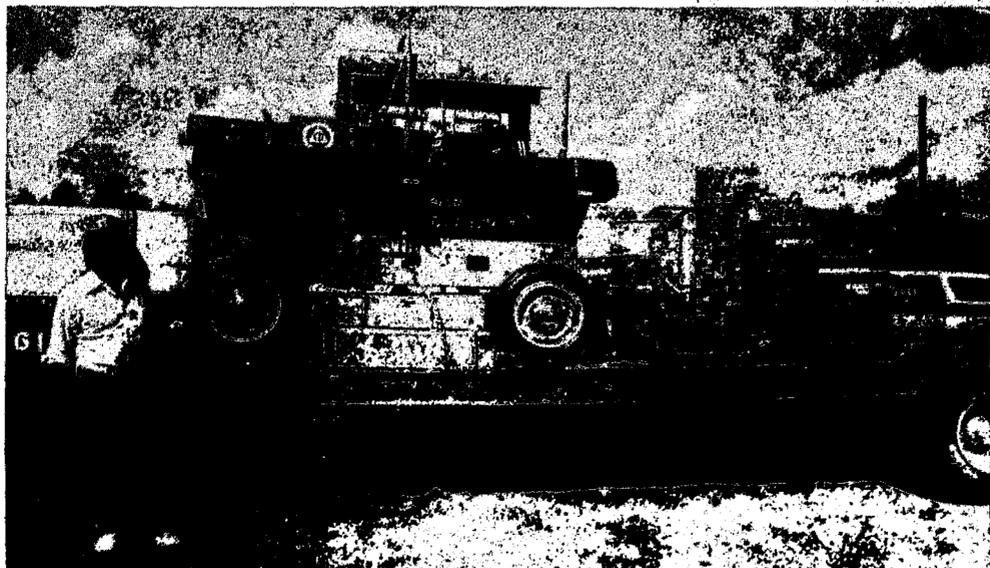

"The pump will be stored in the main fire hall at Ruidoso and the treatment unit in the Ruidoso Water Department at village hall."

The pump and purification unit can be used, village manager Jim Hine said, "only for emergencies."

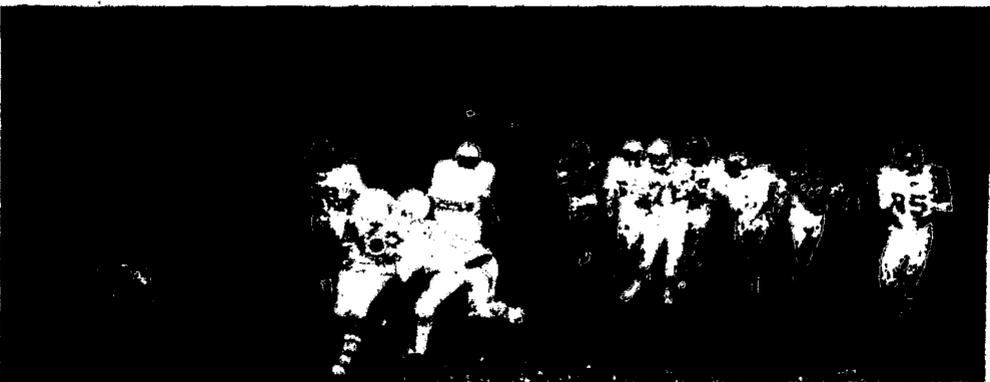

Emergencies, other than contaminated water supply, would include any disaster or situation where substantial quantities of water could be provided by the pump through its eight-inch line.

"This unit comes," Seelbach said, "with enough spare parts to virtually rebuild the system and can deliver enough purified water to handle any disaster that we can visualize."

This equipment was made available to the county and municipalities cannot acquire it through Civil Defense or government surplus outlets.

EMERGENCY WATER purification system was checked out Thursday morning by Bill Seelbach, chairman of the Lincoln County Defense Task Force. The portable pump/treatment unit, owned by Lincoln County, will be stored in Ruidoso as standby equipment.

ENSOR DOWNED after 25 yard gain — 2 yards short of TD.

Dexter 7 — Warriors 6

BY BILL WILSON

Pass interceptions, penalties, fumbles — all of this coupled with a fired up Dexter team spelled defeat for the Warriors Friday.

On the first play of the game a Demon defender picked off an Ensor pass to stop the Warriors before they could get anything started. But the Ruidoso defense was stingy too, as the Dexter team was forced to punt.

Neither team could get their offense cranked up through most of the first quarter.

In the waning moments of the first period, Warrior quarterback, Josh Ensor, tucked the ball under his arm and scampered 25 yards downfield to the Demon 2 yard line, then on the next play handed off to Steve Hightower who plowed his way into the end zone for the Warriors' first TD of the season. The attempted run for extra points fell short and the Ruidoso team led 6-0 as the first quarter ended.

The Dexter Demons didn't take this lightly as they took the kickoff and marched to a quick TD within two minutes after the Warriors' score. The kick for extra point was good and the Demons led 7-

6. The next ten minutes saw both teams bog down on their offensive struggle as defense took over. The half ended with Dexter on top 7-6.

Second half action found the Warriors fired up but couldn't make the big gain on fourth down attempts. Defensively the Warriors looked great with Frank Apocaca, Mark Strassburg, Mike Pritchett and Daryle Watkins coming up with big plays stopping the Demons.

Neither team could put together a scoring threat during the second half and the game ended Dexter 7, Ruidoso 6.

Aspencade Cup Observed Trials here Oct. 2

The First Annual Aspencade Cup Observed Trials — motorcycle competition attracting riders from throughout the southwest — will be run on a Two Rivers Park course Oct. 2.

"The trials" information chairman T.H. Thompson said, "are a test of the skill of the rider and the rider's ability to control the motorcycle over rough terrain."

"The speed, over the two mile course of hazards, will vary between two and five miles per hour, with five miles an hour not likely to be attained.

"The course will be laid out to provide maximum viewing by the public, with the public invited to watch these trials, at which no admission will be charged."

Contest divisions include Juniors, boys and girls to age 14, followed by Beginners, Novice, Semi-Expert, Expert and Powderpuff classes.

Semi-Expert and Expert competitors will have to contend with the river, the rocks and the slick logs. "These events really put the riders to the test," Thompson said. "One of the logs they'll have to cross must be 30 inches in diameter and considering it is in the river, this will probably be the point where riders will lose a lot of points."

Throughout the course logs, with diameters varying from 8 to 24 inches furnished by Jim and Deanne Woodbridge, will be strategically placed, Thompson said. "The more advanced the rider, the bigger the logs, the more rocks and toughest dips and turns on the trail."

The trials, with Chamber of Commerce members and area citizens as judges, will be run between 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Following the competition the trophy presentation, with four awards to a class, will be at the "head shed" or park pavilion.

"As co-sponsors of these trials with the Aspencade Motorcyclist Convention, the Chamber of Commerce," manager Richard Cothran said, "extends a welcome to everyone in this area to kick off the Aspencade celebration by watching this motorcycle competition. Advance inquiries indicate at least 150 riders, from as far as Dallas, will be performing in these trials which, with the special motorcycles used, will offer some excellent viewing."

The runs will conform to the N.M. Trials Association (NMTA) rules with the Trialsmaster to be Ronnie Shoemaker, NMTA.

Pro-Am at Alto

Fall webworms active again

The second generation of fall webworms has started. Even if the first brood in June or July was controlled, watch your trees closely for the second onslaught, says John J. Durkin, Extension entomologist at New Mexico State University.

Many shade trees throughout New Mexico are infested each year by fall webworms. These woolly caterpillars, which feed on leaves, make their unsightly webs on poplars, cottonwoods, elms, mulberries, willows, pecans and many other ornamental and fruit trees.

When the web nests and caterpillars are small, remove them from the trees by cutting a few twigs and leaves. Since the worms don't leave the web until full-grown, be sure to get the entire web. Destroy the worms by stepping on them or by placing them in a garbage can with a tight-fitting lid, Durkin says.

Another "non-chemical" way to kill the worms is to spray them with the bacterial disease, Bacillus thuringiensis. It is available under such trade names as Dipel and Biological Worm Spray. It should be applied to foliage around the web or colony that will be eaten within a few hours after application, the NMSU entomologist says.

Chemicals that effectively control webworms are Sevin (carbaryl), Diazinon (Spectracide) or Dibrom (naled). Many "general garden sprays" that contain O,O-Diethyl (2,2,2-trichloro-1-hydroxyethyl) phosphorate will also control webworms.

This year's weeds may help next year's garden

Some of you were very enthusiastic about gardening last spring, says Ricardo Gomez, Extension horticulturist at New Mexico State University. You put a lot of work into land preparation, planting and watering. Then you worked hard to keep those weeds out of the garden.

Finally, you got some early produce from your efforts. However, then you left on a vacation or it got too hot to do much, and as a result you just had a patch of weeds on your hands. Maybe you're so discouraged, you haven't given it another thought and the weeds are still growing.

If this happened to you, don't give up, Gomez says. You still can have the area ready for next year. First, don't let the weeds get any larger or go to seed. Water the area thoroughly and pull the weeds.

However, don't throw the weeds away — compost them. If composted properly, the weeds, together with deciduous tree leaves, can benefit your soil, control weeds and make it easier for you to manage your garden next year.

Fall is the best time to incorporate compost and organic material, such as manure. This allows for decomposition during the winter, so your plants aren't burned.

HOW MUCH IS A BILLION DOLLARS

How much is a billion? Some conservatives have made a cliché of trying to illustrate graphically how much a billion is. Their aim is to shock the populace into demanding a cut in the billions spent on government, and thereby to produce a cut in the billions exacted in taxes.

It cost two billion dollars.

Christ, who was still on earth one billion minutes ago, taught us to show social compassion for one another. And, He, like the doctor, was blessed with the ability to heal — although Christ did it for free and even found time to make house calls.

Back one billion hours ago, when humans were still living in caves, they were living like the animals they were. They had yet to discover the beneficial instrument of government and the taxes which are most assuredly the dues we pay on civilization.

One billion dollars, in terms of government spending, was yesterday, but a billion is also the rent we pay on all our tomorrows.

The how-much-is-a-billion argument is poppycock. It is not how much a billion is that matters, but how many billion it truly takes to support a reasonable amount of government. In a wealthy nation of 210 million, a billion dollars wouldn't pay for a fraction of our national defense, for the education of our children or the health of our people.

How much is a billion dollars? That depends.

A billion dollars will buy only a dozen B1 bombers.

A billion dollars will buy only one nuclear aircraft carrier.

A billion dollars would buy one 10-minute office call at a doctor's office for a third of the people in America.

A billion dollars would increase the medical benefits of senior citizens by a lousy $3.80 a month.

But a billion dollars, to use an illustration the Burley doctor will understand, can also be an enormous amount. It is enough to buy every doctor in the United States a new Cadillac every three years.

How much is a billion dollars? That depends.

The doctor begins in the traditional fashion by wondering "if congressmen and bureaucrats in Washington (have) lost sight of what a billion dollars is." And then he provides the latest illustration:

"One billion seconds ago, the first atomic bomb had not yet been exploded."

"One billion minutes ago Christ was still on earth."

"One billion hours ago, men were still living in caves."

"Yet one billion dollars ago, in terms of government spending, was yesterday!"

But there is always another side to the coin, even to a billion coins:

The first atomic bomb ended World War

II. It cost two billion dollars.

THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM

Yes. Unless you know something we don't, it's impossible to do everything you like to do at the same time. Or all the time, for that matter. And anyone who tells you different speaks with forked tongue. That's why, in choosing a resort condominium, you should consider Interval Ownership.

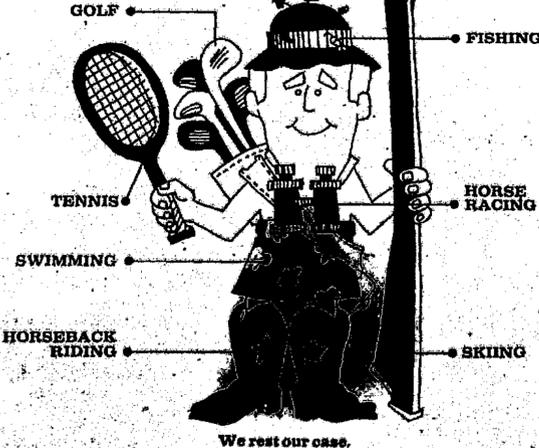

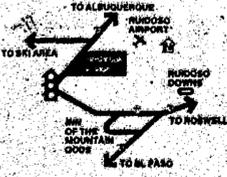

A PLAN FOR ALL SEASONS

Interval Ownership (or "Time sharing") is a plan by which you pay only for the time you use. And what you pay reflects a proportion of ownership in both the building and land. If your thing is schussing through the white stuff, purchase a week or two in Winter and ski Sierra Blanca. Or, if the green stuff is more your cup of tea, you might want some time during racing season at Ruidoso Downs. Or both, or for all seasons, forever. Well, we could go on and on. But why labor's point? There are lots of these time sharing things around. It's just that ours is the best.

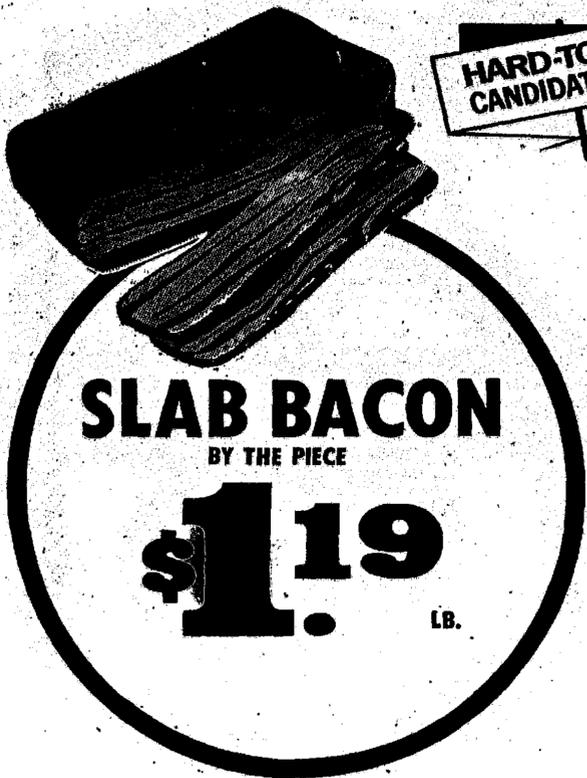

Fully maintained and equipped, elegantly appointed Townhouse Chalets. Private supper club, game rooms, golf, tennis, fishing, and a partridge in a pear tree.

Extension club to meet

The Ruidoso Hondo Valley Extension Club will meet September 22 at 11:30 a.m. in the home of Mara Tittsworth in Hondo for a covered dish luncheon. The program will be a discussion of birth defects and the March of Dimes.

Happenings

by Jerry

The traffic has unsharpened — the swelling crowds are gone — the thundering hoofbeat has quieted — at least we thought it had! If you happened to pass by the track and heard hoofbeats and in fact — saw horses racing with a jockey on board — you weren't seeing things!

The movie crew for "Casey's Shadow" is still filming and races were being staged. The crew filmed "staged races" most of one day last weekend trying to get just the right action of a horse breaking down just at the end of a race.

Late that afternoon filming for a scene in the winner's circle took place. Being an extra for that scene at the last minute was really a fun experience!

Just being part of the crowd running into the winner's circle following the winner of the All American in the movie (Walter Matthau) is all you had to do to be an extra. No lines to speak — just keep looking happy and excited!

Of course after a few practice sessions and shooting the scene over and over from different camera angles to get it just right — your jaws may get a little tired of grinning and you may not really feel that happy!

The amazing thing was the way Matthau kept himself "up" for the scene — time after time! Running in place on the sidelines was one of the things he did in preparation — so that he is really out of breath when he speaks his lines.

He chewed on a large piece of bubble gum to look as though he is chewing tobacco and when there was a close up it was decided to add "Tootsie Rolls" for color to make it more authentic. At one point Matthau remarked that he would probably have cavities from so much candy!

Another interesting thing about seeing Matthau work was hearing him talk in his natural accent and then have his lines come out in a Louisiana drawl!

Guess it's all in a day's work for Matthau — but it was an interesting and exciting day for us!

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jerrel Wallander

Wooldridge-Wallander vows

Before an altar flanked by two candelabras and baskets of mixed flowers, Marilyn Wooldridge became the bride of Richard Jerrel Wallander in a ceremony at 3:00 p.m. September 12 with the Rev. Mr. Ken Cole officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Wooldridge of Ruidoso. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jerrel Wallander of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The bride chose a long muslin empire styled gown with lace front and back. She carried a bouquet of blue, white and yellow flowers.

Matron of honor was the sister of the bride, Mrs. John Genduso, Oceanside, Calif. She wore an empire styled gown of blue flowered cotton and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Lt. Daniel Gaston, U.S.M.C., Santa Ana, Calif., served as best man. Usher was Blaine Hess, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Red Men Club and was hosted by the parents of the bridegroom.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jerrel Wallander, Sherril and Anne Wallander and Mr. and Mrs. David K. Lawrence, all of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Roswell High School and Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas. She is employed by the Post Office in Lubbock.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School and attended Texas Tech University. He is employed by United Van Lines in Lubbock.

Following a honeymoon in Ruidoso, the couple is at home in Lubbock.

Volunteers lend hospital helping hand

The Volunteers, extending a helping hand to the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary, were organized last June. The Jr. Auxiliary is open to young people 13 through high school age.

Meetings are held the second Monday of each month at 4:00 p.m. in the conference room at the hospital. Orientation was held for three new members, Gina Haines, Betty Waldron and Jonetta Montgomery, at the last meeting.

Virginia Campbell and Lou Horton, members of the Hospital Auxiliary, are co-chairmen of the Volunteers. They schedule the hours that the teens work. Marie Comler, a nurse, is the hospital coordinator.

During the school year, hours are arranged for after school and on Saturdays. After a member of the Jr. organization has worked 25 hours they are given an emblem and after 100 hours they receive a pin.

Britt Porter, El Paso, Texas, volunteered 634 hours last summer, enabling him to receive a high school credit in El Paso through the cooperation of Ruidoso High School.

Some of the duties performed by the Volunteers are taking the courtesy cart around to the rooms, manning the refreshment cart, taking patients to X-ray and in general giving a helping hand to the nursing staff.

Pink Shop merchandise service to all rooms was instituted last week. On Monday — Friday the Pink Ladies make the rounds of the rooms and on Saturdays the Volunteers man the cart.

The newly formed organization chose tops of green and white for their uniform. Robin Nunley is president of the Volunteers. New members are needed in the volunteer group and any teenager who is interested in joining should contact a member of the Volunteers or the Pink Ladies.

PINK SHOP CART service is available to patients. Jonetta Montgomery, left, and Gina Haines, enrolled as Volunteers this week, paused while making their rounds of the rooms.

Hospital auxiliary meeting

The Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary met September 7 in the conference room at the hospital.

Twenty-one members attended the meeting with one new member, Katherine Finley, and one associate member, Delle Lanford.

Virginia Campbell gave a report on the Volunteers and announced that a 500 hour pin was being sent to Britt Porter. The Volunteers will man the Courtesy Cart Saturdays.

A discussion followed on the ever present need for volunteers. It was asked that anyone who could give some of their time to contact the Pink Shop at the hospital or Mabel Johnson, president of the auxiliary, at 257-4831.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, October 5 at 10:00 a.m. in the conference room.

Present home matches view to a "T"

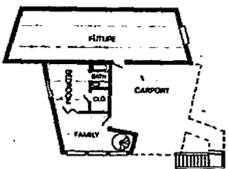

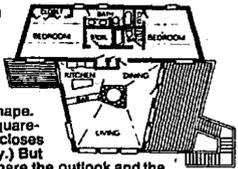

This original design takes full advantage of both a waterfront view and factory engineering.

The primary living area of this unique cedar home angles forward with view windows on all sides — forming the vertical in what is basically a T-shape. (That distinctive, square-topped roof peak encloses the fireplace chimney.) But the bedrooms also share the outlook and the drama, with ceilings that angle upward to a peak of 13 ft. on the view side.

Access is via a lower-level family area and spiral staircase, or an outside stairway to the upper-level deck. Total living area: 1,856 sq. ft., plus 515 sq. ft. of deck.

autumn and Indian Summer. Although summer still smiles over the land, there are a few little messengers of the approach of fall. Along the wayside you can see the fall colors of gold and purple as the purple New England Aster blends its colors with the sun flower and the yellow Autumn Daisies.

From the hillside comes the laughing call of the woodpecker, telling us that he will be looking for a hollow tree or a barn or a house to start drilling for the doorway of his winter home.

Still, all in all, the signs are for summer weather to extend into the season of Autumn more than usual this time. The first day of Fall is September 22. And what a glorious time of year lies ahead!

Young Swallows
Take Flying Lessons

Not so long ago back in the summer the female swallow who built her nest right near the door seemed to be having some kind of trouble. She would try to fly to her nest and then retreat just as she was almost there. It turned out that there was a wasp's nest hidden just above the nest, and every time the bird would try to land in the nest, one of the wasps, the trigger-man of the bunch, would make a dart at her. So I had to remove the wasp nest so the swallow could raise her young from the eggs. After a while there were the infant swallows, and the mother began feeding them and they grew and thrived. Meanwhile the wasps had made a new nest on another part of the house.

When the little swallows were half grown, I saw the mother being driven away again. Another wasp nest in a more hidden place than before was keeping the mother bird from feeding her young. So again the wasp nest had to be removed. This nest full of young birds kept growing, and one by one left the nest and began practicing flying, beside themselves with joy flying all around the house, with their parents chirping encouragement.

I thought that this was the last of the young swallows for this year, but back ten days or so during a cold rainy spell, I saw both the mother and father feeding a nest of young swallows at the back of the house.

There was a cold blast out of the north blowing chilling rain over the world, and it seemed that the Fall of the year had arrived early. Even during the rain the two swallows worked overtime to feed the nest full of young. There were no other swallows anywhere to be seen and I wondered if they had gone south.

Would these little fellows learn to fly soon enough to make the trip down to Mexico?

Then the weather brightened up, and only the day before yesterday, September 12, the nest was empty and the young swallows were flying around the yard, chirping with delight, proud of themselves as they circled through the air. The older swallows flew close by calling out encouragement. The whole band of thirty or so joined in celebrating the new-found wings of the latest of the young swallows.

Two days ago they were in the nest being fed by their parents, and in a few days they will be ready to make the long trip down to Mexico.

The swallows are great little friends and I welcome them each summer. In their exact timing of when to arrive and when to leave, the skill they have in building of their mud nests and up-side-down mud houses, and the miracle of the young birds flying like veterans when they first dive out of the nest — all these things show us how "God works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform."

old time favorite Shenango on a tree in the yard of his home place. Every year there are a few of these apples; Robert's mother, Mrs. A. N. Runnells, told me not long ago that there were a few Shenango this year.

Why Are Apples Good For You?

Apples are good for you in many ways, raw or cooked. The juice is a tonic in the form of fresh cider. And the vinegar, which is a more advanced form of the apple juice, is used in our pickles and in salads and in a number of other ways. Our ancestors used to mix honey and vinegar with water to make a tonic.

An apple has the advantage of being something fresh, ripened through the summer and fall in the health-giving sun. The pure mountain air has had its influence also. Some of the reasons apples are good for you are yet to be discovered.

Yet what difference does it make why they are good for you, just so you know so well that they are?

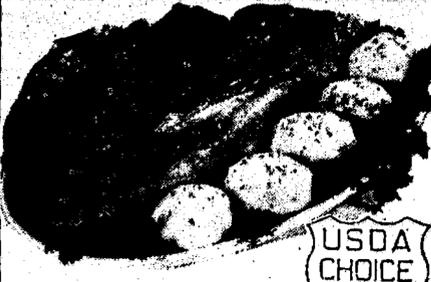

The apples are getting better and better each day, so begin making the rounds to visit your apple-growing neighbors, and tell everyone about our apples.

A Letter From Mrs. Rena Croissant

Shady and I received recently a letter from Mrs. Rena Croissant, whom we met last year at the Aspendace. Rena is one of the very first who began coming up to Ruidoso, and she hopes to be present at this year's Aspendace. Shady and I were delighted to hear from our good friend, Rena.

Happiness Is In The Air

We are now in a beautiful time of year, with the feeling of happiness everywhere growing stronger day by day. The recent rains have added a new touch of green everywhere as the season of Summer takes a new hold on the world. The growing season for grass, herb, bush and tree is running full tide, promising an abundant harvest of everything and a beautiful fall,

ANNOYING MINUTIAE

Jimmy Carter chiding President Gerald Ford for staying in Washington, D.C., and not hitting the hustings.

Gadzooks ... what a politician Carter must be ... and naive ... 'cause who amongst good sincere ... as opposed to honest ... politicians wouldn't be overjoyed not to have their opponent getting out and amongst the voters ... leaving the field to him alone?

Besides ... how does Carter know how much time he'll spend in D.C. ... if he's elected ... he might yacht on the Potomac ... ski at Sun Valley ... and sail skiffs off the Atlantic coast ... in addition to keeping an eye on his peanuts.

Senator Joe Montoya's constant harping about the "clout" he has in and around the Congress ... and how he's the man who "knows" how to get for New Mexico those things New Mexicans want ... why you'd think ... to listen to his ribs, that we weren't being represented by two Congressmen ... which statement might in itself be the basis for a good old political argument ... depending upon whose press releases you're keeping abreast of.

Gov. Jerry Apodaca's insistence upon consecutive terms for governors ... without the least taint, or hint of taint, of politics involved ... and his, to date, unwillingness to let the two term deal apply to his successors ... yup, it looks like the governor's letting his political ambitions show ... besides, there's talk in some circles ... and not only Republican ... that maybe Jerry's accomplishments to date don't rate another four years of skiing in Colorado and campaigning in California.

President Ford's smugness ... as his standings in the ratings via polls slowly rises ... that he's going to be a shoo-in for his first elective term ... 'course he blames the Demo controlled Congress for not passing his legislation to cure unemployment ... and vetoes measures that might ... though most of the vetoed legislation could have been drafted to insure returning incumbents to the duties, pleasures and fringe benefits of being a member of the Congress.

Discovering the makings ... which you'd forgotten you had ... for a big pitcher of ice tea ... just after you'd advised your invited guests that you were fresh out of the fixin's.

Getting a note of appreciation for your business favors ... instead of a nasty note ... when you've overlooked sending the creditor a little something on account.

Reading in the newspaper about "for instances" wherein the politician you like the least has had another attack of foot-in-mouth disease.

Discovering a single wrinkled, twisted, slightly torn and bedraggled cigarette in the trunk of your car when you've been fresh out for two hours and the nearest supply is 20 miles of tortuous rocky road away.

Finding out that the ball point pen which'd given up the ghost the day before contains just enough ink to write a check to get you out of a jam.

Getting your watch back from the jeweler and being told that it only needed cleaning and oiling and no parts.

Running out of flint for your lighter while on the bank of a creek and finding out that your non-smoker partner has a packet in his tackle box.

QUESTION: DO YOU THINK AN ANIMAL CONTROL TEAM AND SHELTER IS NECESSARY FOR THE RUIDOSO RUIDOSO DOWNS AREA?

What's Your Opinion?

"No way! If we had a dog catcher, I couldn't dig around in the trash or chase skunks and cars."

"Gee whiz, I'm too little to cross the street by myself. Ask me when I'm bigger — if I get bigger — these strays keep hassling me."

"I couldn't care less. I'm just here during the summers."

"That would definitely take away our freedom to run and prowl. My owner doesn't care what I do so why should anyone else have authority over me? I like things just the way they are — no control and no enforcement."

"No, I have to stay penned up in my own yard and if we had an animal control officer, my friends down the street couldn't come over and jump our fence to visit me."

"By having no dog pound, we can do as we please. My pals and I can carry germs and fleas, get sick or injured and nobody is going to lock us up for it. Besides, I hear you people don't want to spend money to hire anyone or to build a shelter so we're not worried about it."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I have to travel on the Gavilan Canyon road twice a day and I'm getting tired of stopping to move debris off the road — long, jagged boards with nails, tree branches, bottles and broken glass. Can't something be done to ensure those taking trash to the dump don't lose half their load on the way?
It's a dangerous situation. Someone is going to have an accident, either by swerving to avoid something on the road or by a blowout. And there's the nuisance of frequent flat tires.
I want to make people aware of the situation and see if something can be done. Thank you.

Recreation demands increasing

America is undergoing changes that affect the way we relate to our work, our institutions, our families and ourselves, says Jose E. Herrera, Extension community development specialist for New Mexico State University.

Since we live in a technically advanced society, a person must find the time and opportunity to acquire the personal enrichment that can come from outdoor recreation, Herrera says.

Increased mobility, more leisure time and greater affluence have opened new recreation vistas to people who had limited opportunities in the past. Popular areas have become crowded often to the point of diminished enjoyment.

People's recreation habits and patterns have changed, Herrera says. Recreation activities have been affected by technological change because portable equipment and facilities now make possible instant, movable recreation areas.

Changes in recreation tastes are illustrated by the increased participation in camping. The public is receptive to new and unique recreation approaches. This is seen in legislative actions, water supported issues, activity attendance, equipment sales and the suggestions that citizens make to recreation agencies.

Youth's poultry contest is open

The World Poultry Science Association (WPSA) is sponsoring a youth essay contest open to any boy or girl ages 16 through 21.

D. W. Francis, Extension poultry specialist at New Mexico State University, says the title for essay competition is "How Can the World Poultry Science Association Aid the Poultry Industries of the World?"

The winning essay will be published in the WPSA Journal. The winner will receive a grant from the WPSA's Cliff D.

Carpenter Youth Program Fund to help defray expenses to travel to the World Poultry Congress, Sept. 24-28, 1978 in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Maximum amount of the winner's grant is $1,500. The winner must attend the World Poultry Congress. Second and third places are worth $250.00 each.

Francis says that anyone wanting to enter the essay contest should write W. R. Jenkins, chairman, Youth Programs, U.S. Branch — WPSA, Cooperative Extension Service, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Game birds give variety in meals

Game birds provide double pleasure — the sport of hunting and a new variety and flavor of table meat, says D. W. Francis, Extension poultry specialist at New Mexico State University.

To enjoy the distinctive flavor of game birds, you need to give them proper care in the field. Following correct cooking methods also enhances the bird's flavor. Too often, game birds develop an off-flavor from improper handling.

As soon as possible after the kill, remove the bird's entrails and crop (crop). Allow air to circulate in the body cavity. Cool the bird as quickly and thoroughly as possible. Keep the meat cold until it is cooked.

Francis explains that prompt cleaning of the body cavity and cooling will help prevent growth of dangerous bacteria and retain the natural meat flavor.

FRAMED CHRISTMAS TREE, with twinkle lights, made and displayed by Mrs. John H. Montgomery, is to be given away Dec. 7, in a program sponsored by the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary (The Pink Ladies). The tree is on display at the hospital Pink Shop where details are available.

State woman named director of Homemakers

A New Mexican, Mrs. Jalle Martin, Cimarron, was elected director of the western region, National Extension Homemakers Council (NEHC), at its annual conference held recently at West Virginia University.

As regional director for 1977-80, Mrs. Martin will act as a liaison between the national organization and councils in 11 western states. She will also represent her region on the NEHC Executive Committee and Board of Directors.

The western region includes Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming.

A member of the Ute Parakeet Extension Club, and past president of the Silver Spruce Extension Club, Mrs. Martin has held all offices on the county level. Between 1974 and 1976 she was president of the New Mexico Extension Homemakers Council, and served on the NEHC nominating committee.

She holds the office of grand representative to Kansas in the Order of Eastern Star for New Mexico, and is a past president of other community groups. She has been director of her church choir for 12 years.

NEHC has some 570,000 members nationwide. Open to all persons without regard to race, creed, sex or national origin, it provides informal adult education to its members. The annual conference attracted over 2,000 members and their spouses, and featured speakers Olive Farquharson, president of the Associated Country Women of the World; and Douglas Edwards, CBS news correspondent.

the aforesaid Section 10(a) and all applicable and pertinent Department of the Treasury regulations relating to arbitrage bonds. The Board further covenants that the proceeds of the Bonds will not otherwise be used directly or indirectly so as to cause all or any part of the Bonds, to be or become arbitrage bonds within the meaning of the aforesaid Section 10(a) or any regulations or rulings pertaining thereto.

Section 13. That this Resolution shall be and remains irrevocable until the principal of and the interest on the Bonds authorized to be issued by this Resolution, and in fact, actually issued, shall have been duly paid, satisfied and discharged, as provided herein.

Inside the Capital by Fred Buckles

SANTA FE — Democrats concede their candidate, Raymond Garcia, is the underdog in northern U.S. House District 1 against well-established incumbent Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., a Republican.

Both are Albuquerqueans. Lujan, 48, seeking a fifth term, is conservative. Garcia, 45, is liberal. The race offers voters a clear-cut choice.

An insurance executive, Lujan is staging his usual low key, understated campaign with little emphasis on issues. He stresses one-on-one contacts in the heavily Democratic district.

Edward Lujan of Albuquerque, his brother and campaign manager, says: "The big emphasis will be on philosophical differences between him and Garcia." He says $15,000 to $40,000 of a $70,000 campaign budget has been raised. Maxie Anderson is campaign committee chairman. Mrs. A. Otto Miller is co-chairman. Both are Albuquerqueans. Lujan press secretary Jeff Dearnard says

Garcia has embraced "the entire Democratic platform." Lujan hits the Democrat-backed full employment Humphrey-Hawkins bill. He says it would cost $100 billion a year. He also opposes the Kennedy national health insurance bill. He says its price would be $60 to $100 billion annually. The insurance industry would manage national health insurance in cooperation with the federal government under terms of a bill Lujan is co-sponsoring.

Lujan says the two plans together would cost $200 billion a year, equal to about half of the total $413 billion recommended fiscal 1978 federal budget. He strongly opposes gun control. A Catholic, Lujan opposes abortion. He fights repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act. He says repeal would deny states the right to pass right-to-work laws and would force employees to join a union to get a job.

Lujan will confine campaigning to week-ends until Congress adjourns Oct. 2. Last week-end he pressed the flesh at a White Rock barbecue, an Albuquerque GOP reception and the opening of his campaign headquarters in Albuquerque. He is scheduled in Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Taos and Espanola Sept. 24-26.

Edward Lujan says: "Manuel is actually limited to a four-week campaign after Congress adjourns." Edward says Manuel and President Gerald Ford "are compatible philosophically." He claims: "They will help each other on the ticket."

Ford, then House Republican leader, campaigned in 1972 in Albuquerque for Lujan at a Lujan fundraiser.

Democrats admit Garcia, a printer and former three-term State House member, faces an uphill battle to oust Lujan. But they say Garcia could unseat Lujan if a Democratic landslide develops. Lujan beat Democrat Tom Morris, a 10-year incumbent then, in a startling upset in 1968 by 10,400 votes.

Lujan's winning margins have since been impressive — 34,300 in 1974 over Robert Mondrago, 24,164 in 1972 over Eugene Gallegos and 26,589 over Fabian Chavez in 1970. Current voter registrations show 59 per cent of District 1's strength is in populous Bernalillo County — 150,413 of a 256,827 total. Bernalillo County will decide the race.

Combined registrations in Bernalillo, Santa Fe and Los Alamos Counties account for 74 per cent or 188,807 of the district vote. Democrats outnumber Republicans 2-1 in the district but so far this has not been a severe handicap for Lujan.

Lujan appears to have weathered the New Mexico GOP Ford-Reagan storm without substantial loss of intra-party support. He backed Ford before Kansas City although he is a longtime Reagan admirer. His wife, Jean, was an outspoken Reagan supporter.

Garcia charges Lujan is ineffective and does not reflect views of District 1 voters.
