

Regional airport facing land use protest

BY MARY WORMLEY
Staff Writer

A land use protest over acreage needed for the proposed regional airport near Fort Stanton, raised by New Mexico State University (NMSU), Las Cruces, officials last week may become a stumbling block to airport development, even though a vital application for conveyance of title to lands needed for the airport is now under consideration by Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) officials in Washington, D.C.

At the commission's Thursday afternoon meeting, chairman Richard Hall said the same day the airport application was forwarded from the regional to national FAA offices, a meeting was held in Albuquerque to "resolve the question of support of the project and to identify supporters and opponents regarding development of the airport on Fort Stanton land."

The meeting was attended by members of the airport commission, and representatives of the state departments of transportation and agriculture.

A member of the College of Agriculture at NMSU, which presently is leasing the land from the Bureau of Land Management, told the group at the meeting in Albuquerque they were in opposition to the site location of the proposed airport as it interfered with or invalidated range and grassland experimentation underway.

According to Hall, the agriculture representatives claim the proposed airport site of 170 acres in the Fort Stanton mesa area is in the heart of grazing rotation experiment which have been underway for 19 years.

"They feel they are in midstream on the experimentation and that the years of work would go down the drain," a commissioner said.

The college of agriculture has another 10 years on the mesa under provisions of a contract with the BLM.

IN CONJUNCTION with the protests of the agriculture representatives, Hall told the commission Thursday the New Mexico Stockmen's Association has issued a statement in opposition to the proposed airport.

Also during the commission's Thursday afternoon meeting, Hall said a courtesy copy of a letter from Henry L. Newman, director of the southwestern regional FAA offices, was sent to Frank Gregg, director of the BLM offices in Washington, D.C.

In the letter Newman wrote, "We have carefully considered the (request of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission) and have determined the use of the requested land is reasonably necessary for airport purposes and conveyance of the property to applicants also is necessary to permit its use for these purposes."

He added, "The current airport situation in the Ruidoso area is reaching the critical stage. Action is needed now. The applicants are anxious to proceed. Your early advice that the transfer can be made is needed to facilitate an early commencement of all prerequisites to development of this badly needed airport."

In other business, the commission:

—Heard a report from Wyndham Runningwater that the Mescalero Apache Tribal Council has approved a resolution granting the commission to act on its behalf.

—Heard a report from Les Olsen, county liaison, that each of the five governing bodies, with representatives on the commission, had approved budget transfers of $500 to the commission.

—Heard a report from Hall, that airport commission letterheads had been received from Southern New Mexico Economic Development District offices.

The next meeting of the commission will be at 2 p.m., August 3, in the library.

P & Z turns down development proposal

BY VICHOGSETT
Staff Writer

Plans which would allow a zone for the construction of townhouses and condominiums in the Sleepy Hollow subdivision of the Upper Canyon Area were met by residential opposition and subsequently vetoed down by the Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) Wednesday night.

During the regular P&Z meeting engineer Tim Collins and attorney Mel O'Reilly, both representing Ruidoso Land Company, asked for a zone change from R-1 to R-2 for about 44.7 acres in the subdivision.

Additionally the pair sought commission approval of a plat for Sleepy Hollow Townhouse and Condominium tracts. Both requests were denied by the commission.

O'Reilly and Collins emphasized that their client had no plans for construction of condominiums nor had they been approached by any builders desiring to purchase tracts for condominium and townhouse development. They said however, the land in question had the potential of accommodating about 457 condominium units.

Planning commissioner Martin Rose, who stepped down for discussion of the matter, read a contingent of Upper Canyon residents who said they were opposed to the development because high density housing would destroy the scenic and environmental qualities of the Upper Canyon.

Reading from a prepared outline, Rose listed points of opposition including increased traffic on already narrow roads, loss of water pressure, possible overuse of sewer lines, potential increased fire hazard, destruction of trees coupled with an increased likelihood of flood and possible erosion problems. At one point he suggested designating the area as a historical zone. His comments were met by cheers and applause of approval by the Upper Canyon residents.

Collins countered each point. He said sewer and water lines would be installed by Ruidoso Land Company and indicated the sewer lines would be tied into larger city mains outside the area. He added that water pressure in the area would be increased because of plans to loop the proposed subdivision's water system into two existing lines.

Collins said fire hazard would be decreased because the company would construct roads and fire hydrants in the area.

"Nothing we do will increase the amount or intensity of rain in the area," Collins said in response to Rose's comments regarding increased erosion.

O'Reilly said single family units could be constructed under the present zoning for the area. He added that construction of single family houses would cause more destruction of vegetation in the subdivision because the houses would have to be more spread out and would require a greater number of roads through the area.

Concerning increased traffic on existing narrow roads, O'Reilly explained the problem was already present and had developed during a time when unchecked growth was occurring in the Ruidoso area in the absence of planning regulations.

One resident of the Upper Canyon said she thought the area was a nice place, steeped in Ruidoso history. She said she was in favor of retaining the present flavor of the area.

Commissioner L. Ray Nunley split somewhat with her assessment.

"This board is not here to preserve old houses, 20 foot streets and sentimentality; it's here to preserve Ruidoso," Nunley said. "We can not maintain a status quo; Ruidoso has to grow."

Following a poll of the land owners in attendance, which showed that of the 27 tract owners affected by the proposal, ten in attendance were opposed to the subdivision, several Upper Canyon property owners said they represented many other owners who were also opposed to seeing condominiums and townhouses allowed in the Upper Canyon.

O'Reilly reiterated his statement that Ruidoso Land Company had no plans for construction of condominiums or townhouses.

"We're not planning on putting any units in there," O'Reilly said. "We want this area set aside for development of condominiums and townhouses."

However he added that condominium projects today are designed to fit into the environment of a given area while destroying as little as possible of the natural vegetation.

Commissioner Rex Skellett agreed with O'Reilly.

"History has proved that condominiums and townhouses preserve the land better

CONDO TRACTS BLOCKED — Upper Canyon resident Bill Uihlein, right, tells Dan Boyce, left, of Ruidoso Land Company, why he is opposed to the land company's plans to establish tracts for the construction of condominiums and townhouses in the Upper Canyon area. Uihlein's comments were made during Wednesday's Planning and Zoning Commission meeting which was attended by about 20 residents of the Upper Canyon who said they were also opposed to establishment of the tracts. The commission later voted to deny a zoning change request which would have allowed condominiums and townhouses. (Ruidoso News photo by Vic Hogsett)

Cree Meadows granted mobile home clubhouse

The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission Wednesday gave permission for an owner of the Cree Meadows Country Club to park a mobile home next to the Cree Meadows club house to be used as a temporary clubhouse.

The existing club house was destroyed by a July 2 fire which also gutted Janos's restaurant housed in the same building.

Owner Bob Hickson told the commission the Cree Meadows Country Club was in desperate need of a suitable temporary club house pending reconstruction of the gutted building.

He said the only quarters he could find on such short notice was a 22x70-foot (doublewide) mobile home. He added that the mobile unit came complete with wood siding and skirting.

"Once it's set up it won't look like a trailer," Hickson said.

The commission voted to accept

Hickson's proposal with the stipulation that the trailer be moved within 180 days or 15 days after a new clubhouse is built.

In moving for acceptance, commissioner Rex Skellett directed a media representative to publicize the action as a "hardships" issue.

"We don't want 5,000 people on our backs screaming about a trailer in Cree Meadows," Skellett said.

Sympathetic to Hickson's cause, the commission was at first at a loss as to how the trailer could legally be allowed in the area.

Village attorney Ron Harris instructed the commission that if the trailer was uninhabited, then it was not covered in the zoning regulations.

Harris said he was unsure as to the legal definition of "uninhabited."

Hickson said, however that his plans did not include anyone living in the unit.

Fall in pool foils man's escape

Robert Smith 23, Ruidoso, who eluded officers for about 40 minutes by hiding in a large pool of water early in the morning of July 5, was finally physically subdued, arrested and subsequently charged with residential burglary.

Lieutenant Guy Bowers, Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, related details of the incident to The News Friday afternoon:

— A neighbor of T.A. Spencer, Agua Fria, phoned the Ruidoso Police Department (RPD) dispatcher at 1:55 a.m., July 5, to report a suspected break-in at the Spencer home, because the caller had heard the sound of breaking glass.

Bowers, accompanied by John Cupp of the New Mexico Mounted Patrol and Sergeant Fred Sweeney, RPD, drove to the Spencer home where they saw a man run out of the house.

"He made a dash into the darkness," Bowers said, "and then we heard a splash as he fell into a large shallow pool of water, just the other side of a wall he climbed over."

— Sweeney heard him breathing, as he searched through the tall weeds, brush and reeds surrounding the pond and saw the man laying on his back with just his nose and mouth out of the water.

— Officer Robert Jarvis, RPD, was called by Sweeney to assist in the pursuit of the suspect.

"The man," Bowers said, "kept moving around in the pool until he made it to dry ground. He started running and was tackled by Jarvis and handcuffed, after which he was taken to the Ruidoso jail by Jarvis and Cupp."

Bowers, with Holly Barron, RPD officer, searched the premises early Wednesday morning and found a carving knife that Spencer had reported missing from one of the three drawers that the suspect had opened.

A Criminal Investigation Division (CID) officer of RPD assisted with the investigation in the Spencer home.

"The officer determined that the suspect had removed a screen from a bathroom window, then broke the glass," Bowers said, "to enter the home. Spencer was sleeping and did not hear the intruder."

At a first appearance hearing Thursday, Magistrate Jim Wheeler put Smith under a $10,000 bond, with no ten percent allowed, on charges of residential burglary filed by Bowers. Smith was ordered held in the Ruidoso jail.

Smith appeared before Magistrate Wheeler at a preliminary hearing on the charge of burglary Friday and the bond was reduced to $5,000 with ten percent allowed.

At this time a CID officer advised Wheeler that Smith was wanted on a fugitive warrant, charging burglary, from San Diego, California, and Wheeler set bond on this charge at $5,000 with 10 percent allowed.

Smith was then remanded to the Lincoln County jail, bound over to District Court on the charge of burglary of the Spencer residence.

"Due to the cooperation of all the officers involved," Bowers said, "the arrest of the suspect was made fairly easily, once he decided to leave the pond and run for it."

The Drake wins Hurd Handicap

The Drake toyed with fellow three-year-olds at Ruidoso Downs before administering the coup de grace in Sunday's 12th running of the Peter Hurd Handicap.

The colt, shouldering the top load of 123 pounds in the six furlong sprint, fearlessly stayed well off the pace in the early going.

Hopeful Journey, as usual, went winging along the front end and got some early competition from the 10-1 outsider, Keeper of My Heart. One Bold Scout, the 8-5 second favorite with 122 pounds on his back, stayed within striking distances.

As the field skinned down the backstretch, The Drake was well out of the picture — perhaps as much as 10 lengths in arrears at one point.

Hopeful Journey was able to keep the lead to herself until the top of the stretch, then cooked out in predictable fashion. Jockey Willie Lovell aboard One Bold Scout asked his mount for all he had, and was inching toward the front when he reached the top of the lane.

But by this time, jockey Gilbert Villacscas had The Drake in overdrive. The colt delivered a mighty surge around the turn for home, then had each of his foes in tow when he straightened out for the stretch drive.

With those high octane strides, it was apparent no one would catch the people's choice in the final furlong. The Drake opened up at will and flashed across the finish with nearly a four length lead.

The competition chalked up crisp fractions of 22.2-5 seconds for the first two furlongs, and 46.1-5 for the half. But The Drake's final clocking of 1:12.3-5 seconds was most impressive of all. The mark was only a second short of the track standard. But it was the swiftest so far this season.

The Drake, trained by Doyal Roberts for J. C. Childers of Borger, Texas, collected $5,085 out of the $8,475 gross purse. The win pushed his 1978 earnings to $18,724, and gave him a current Ruidoso scorecard of three wins out of five starts. The mutual returns: $5.20, $3 and $2.60.

Tunstall marker dedication set at slaying site

A day of activities has been planned by the Lincoln County Historical Society on July 15 for the Lincoln County War Centennial Commemoration.

At 10 a.m., July 15, a marker in memory of John Tunstall, a victim of the war, will be dedicated at the site of Tunstall's slaying near Glencoe.

"The site of the Tunstall marker is in a pine timbered canyon of Lincoln National Forest" accessible by a steep road which is "graveled and negotiable by regular passenger cars except in the case of rain or snow," Nora Henn, spokesman for the group said.

"This dedication has been postponed twice for those very reasons, but with any luck at all some of us can pull it off next Saturday morning."

Those interested in attending the dedication should meet at Glencoe turnoff on Highway 70 at 10 a.m., and bring picnic lunches.

After lunch, the group will travel to Lincoln to hear speaker Peter Hendrickson, a history professor with New Mexico State University branch in Alamogordo, discuss "The Nature of Violence," at 2 p.m., in the old schoolhouse.

An authority on the Lincoln County War, he also will discuss weaponry of that era. All interested persons are invited to the festivities.

ALL BY HIMSELF — The Drake, the public favorite ridden by Gilbert Villacscas, found himself all alone at the wire in the Peter Hurd Handicap at Ruidoso Downs. One Bold Scout manages to peek into the picture.

Ruidoso State Bank launches promotion of Sierra Blanca

The Ruidoso State Bank, in commemoration of the institution's 25th anniversary, commissioned Ruidoso artist Gary Myers to paint Sierra Blanca in its fall colors as well as snow covered.

"Beginning today," bank vice president Lamar Osbourn said, "we're offering everyone a piece of the mountain, with matched sets of the painting available at $30 at the bank or from Bear Claw Gallery."

Myers said, "The limited edition high quality lithographs of the paintings are being personally inspected by me, to insure the purchaser of the excellence of the reproductions, and each of the 500 sets available will be numbered and signed by me."

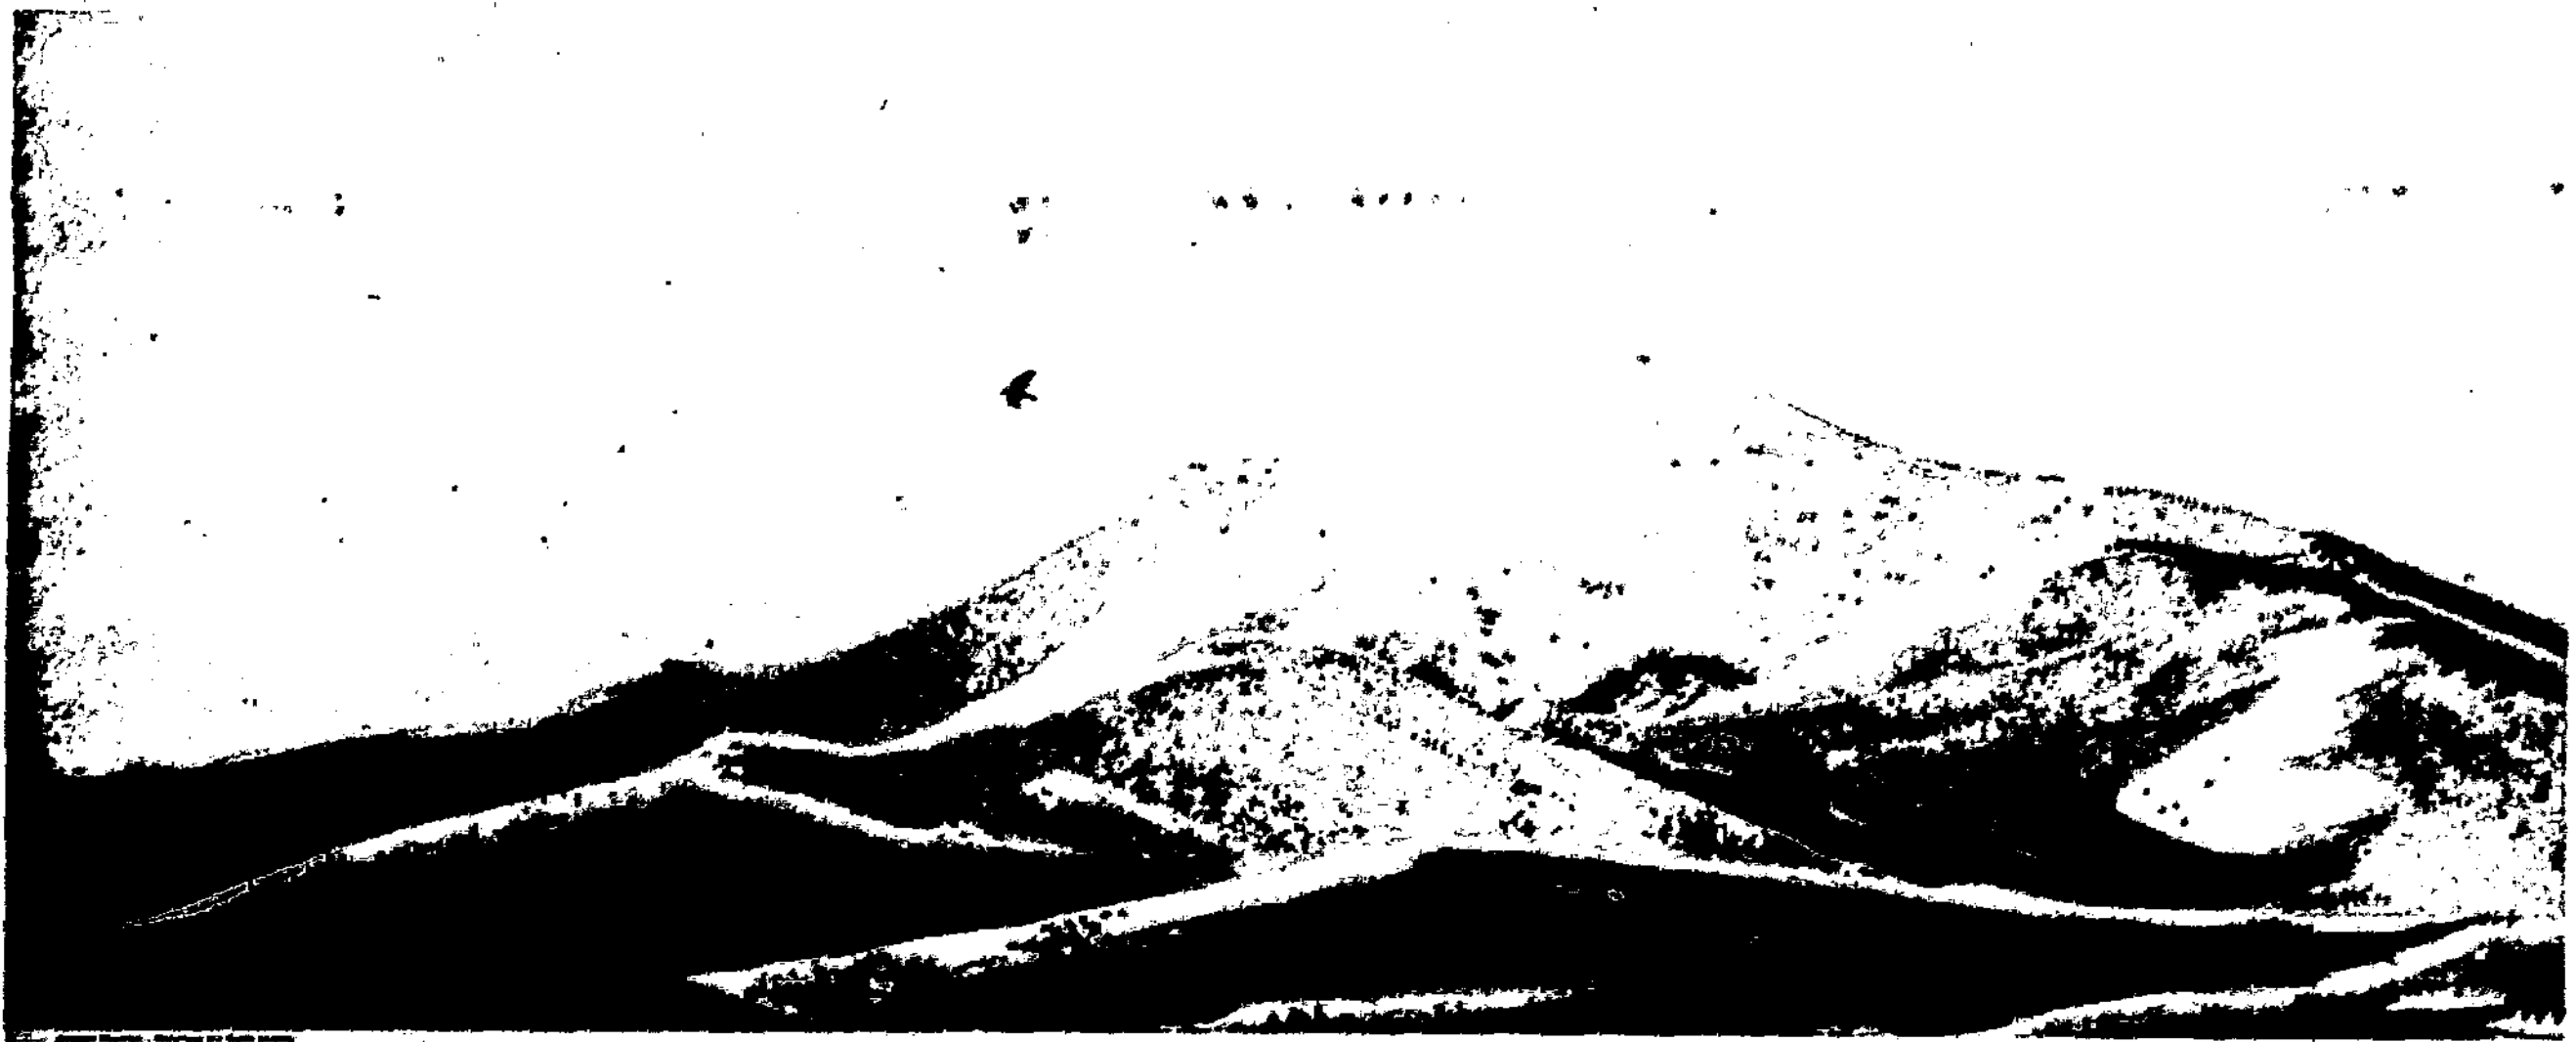

Osbourn also said: "To our knowledge, high quality paintings of Sierra Blanca are not readily available and the bank's officers decided that we would make these lithographs easily obtainable as our contribution to promoting the Ruidoso area and the recreational opportunities existing on Sierra Blanca."

LIMITED EDITION LITHOGRAPHS of Sierra Blanca, in fall and winter dress, were inspected, numbered and signed by artist Gary Myers Friday as Lamar Osbourn, vice president of Ruidoso State Bank, looked on. Myers was commissioned to do the two paintings to commemorate the bank's silver anniversary and to further promote Ruidoso as a year around recreational area.

One Bold Scout handed out $3 both to place and show, and picked up a satisfactory runnerup check for $1,004. Make It Me, a 27-1 longshot directed by Stuart Dolphus, rallied from deadlast to finish third. Make It Me hit the wire 1 1/4 lengths behind One Bold Scout. The show price on Make It Me was $5.00.

In the 5 1/2 furlong co-feature, Jimmylin took charge in the upper stretch and rolled to a 2 1/4 length victory under Leroy Coombs. The win payoff was $5.20.

than individual houses," Skellett said.

In moving to deny Ruidoso Land Company's request, commissioner Jim French said, "I personally think it would be a disaster to increase the density of the area." His motion was seconded by Skellett who said he would vote for denial because of citizen opposition to the project.

The commission split on the subject with commissioners Mike Waldron, Denny Lovern and Mike Mulholland voting to accept the proposal and Skellett, Nunley, French and Betty Patton voting to deny the proposal.

Action on the Sleepy Hollow tract followed a similar zoning change request for a tract in Flume Canyon made by Collins on behalf of Arden Hawkins. Hawkins proposal was to split one lot in half with one of the new lots being developed for multifamily housing.

Flume Canyon resident Jack Spall said such a move was contrary to the deed

LARGE JOHN SAVED enough punch for the end and rolled to a half length win in Saturday's mile headliner at Ruidoso Downs.

Large John and Sailor Bin traded leads in the final furlong, but Large John had enough muscle when he needed it.

The winner, piloted by apprentice Don Howard, hit the finish with a half length lead in a clocking of 1:41 2/5 seconds. The mutual returns were $11.20, $6 and $4.00.

Large John is the property of J. Royce Lankford of Hagerman.

Sailor Bin, a 14-1 outsider, refunded

$11.40 and $6.00. Kimi Jorene contributed to the early pace as a 26-1 longshot, then held on for third. The show return was $12.

The favorite, Mona Raw, turned in a sluggish performance, winding up a well trounced seventh without getting into contention.

THE FIRST EDITION, the impressive colt who became the first horse in history to win both the West Texas Futurity and the Sun Country Futurity at Sunland Park, tossed his hat into the Rainbow Futurity ring at Ruidoso Downs.

The colt, owned and trained by Billy Rex Hardy of China Spring, Texas, jetted to a 1 1/4-length win in Friday's sixth race at Ruidoso. The sprint was one of 19 second day qualifying heats leading to the $430,000 (est.) Rainbow Futurity, the second leg of the Triple Crown for two-year-olds.

The First Edition clocked the 400 yards in 20.52 seconds, but the time was merely academic. In order to advance into the final qualifying round July 14, a hopeful had to finish either first or second.

Friday's win pushed the First Edition's career earnings over $114,000 and put his total scorecard at 9-2-0 from 11 starts. Willie Lovell is the pilot.

Racing as a staggering 1-4 favorite, The First Edition returned $2.20 across the board.

Here are the other survivors from Friday's qualifying stanza (winners in parentheses): Budget Balancer, (Dickeys Fireman), Air Marshal, (Barnstormer), Oh Three High, (Lucks Chidelight), Loom Deck, (Oh Oh Lady Oh), Easy Hop, (Top Deck Bunny), My Easy Venture, (Son Of Talent), Fast Lily, (Larkin Royal), Kepas Oh, (Regal Pass), Kaweah Sunrise, (David Star), Dominos, (Tweedy Pass), Mr. Revellie, (Six Te), Flying Passem, (Miss Jetta Bar), Mr. Afton Bug, (Moon Mania), Rocket Bar One, (Rin David Run), Itty Bitty Bar, (Easy Capri Lil), Kita Ship, (Flaming Amy), Four Leaf Clover, (Tiffy Oh), Easy Jets Dream, (Oh Shinee), Shes My Thing.

GENTLEMENS FEATURE, the filly who recently earned $164,502 for her longshot nose win in the Kansas Futurity at Ruidoso Downs, is now closing in on the Rainbow Futurity.

Gentlemen's Feature kept her Rainbow hopes alive by blasting to a powerful 2 1/4 length win on Thursday's program at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly went in the 11th race, which was one of 19 first day elimination trials leading to the regionally televised grand finale July 30.

Under the new Rainbow qualifying format, the top two finishers from the 18 races Thursday and the 19 Friday will advance into the final round July 14.

Gentlemen's Feature, the property of Gerald and Darlene Blue of Amarillo, clocked the 400 yards in 20.50 seconds and returned $2.00 as a heavy favorite. J. C. Wiley was in the saddle.

Here are the other survivors from Thursday's opening round (winners in parentheses): (Miss Royal Cynthia), Ferns Jet, (Vespero), Speck A History, (Say Lady), Sure Oh, (Pass Em West), Sunny Te, (Miss Power Point), Dot Dot Dot Dash, Flicka Bic, (Common Wealth), Lark, Rocket Lights, (Gentlemen's Feature), Roon A Go, (Miss Top Dial), Trahey Man, (Oh Jet Van), Hi Torque, (Jealous Woman), Lady Sweet Thing, (Third Act), Em Bar Gann, (Whatta Brisk Bug), Moonview, Holme Maid, Copasetti, (Precisely You), Trucklin Moon, (Azurelana), Paris Pike.

Ruidoso hosting water seminar this Thursday

Ruidoso will host the first in a series of seminars concerning water supply systems and the enforcement of the Safe Drinking Water Act July 13 in the multipurpose room of the Ruidoso Public Library.

The seminar is sponsored by the Health and Environment Department's Environmental Improvement Division (EID) in cooperation with the New Mexico Municipal League, the New Mexico Water Supply and Pollution Control Association and the American Water Works Association, and will be held from 1-4 p.m., at no charge.

According to an EID news release, the purpose of the seminar will be to explain municipal manager's roles in implementing the Safe Drinking Water Act which became law June 24, 1977. The main thrust, the release states, is to familiarize managers with key provisions and requirements including costs and to present a suggested plan of action.

An EID spokesman said the seminars are aimed primarily at utility engineers, city managers, municipal clerks, public works directors, city engineers, water superintendents, consulting engineers and state and federal personnel.

The EID took responsibility for primary enforcement of the Safe Drinking Water act April 1 of this year.

The act allows for periodic testing of water systems to insure the purity of drinking water within the state.

School board meets Tuesday

The Ruidoso Board of Education will meet at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the administrative offices.

Agenda items include taking action on hazardous walking conditions on school grounds, approval of personnel matters and a report from superintendent Pat Valliant.

Johnson-Johnson vows exchanged

MR. AND MRS. JUNIOR JOHNSON

Mary F. Johnson, El Paso, and Junior E. Johnson, Panama, California, exchanged marriage vows in a ceremony June 24 at First Presbyterian Church with the Reverend Frank Crown officiating.

For the ceremony "Near You" and "Because" were sung by Lisa Powell, who was accompanied by Jane Deyo.

Given in marriage by Bill Thomas, the bride wore a blue gown trimmed with white lace.

Bridesmaids were Lorretta Calle and Linda Goodall, El Paso, and groomsmen were "Rip" Russell, El Paso, and Jack Shaw, Ruidoso. The usher was Van Autrey.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church.

Decorations were a white and blue cross and white and blue flowers and the bride's table featured a three tier cake.

Hostesses were Mrs. June Haggin, El Paso, Clarbell Parker, Ruidoso, Jean Osburn, Alamogordo, Roxanne Schaffer, El Paso, Sandy Reynolds, Ruidoso, and LaRue Shaw, Ruidoso.

A special guest at the ceremony was Jess L. Pafor Jr., an aide to Congressman Richard C. White.

PEO luncheon here Wednesday

Chapter AR PEO Sisterhood of Ruidoso is hosting a dutch treat luncheon, to which all visiting PEO members are invited, at noon Wednesday at O'Bannions, on Suddarth Drive.

ARTIST STEVE EDWARDS shows an etching (News photos by Mary Wormley.) and the plate from which it was made Sunday.

Etching demonstration in progress

Artists Steve Edwards and Lois Carson, El Paso, Texas, will be demonstrating etching technique at the Artisan's Shop and Gallery from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., today through Saturday.

"Visitors are invited and we will explain the press, various papers we use and techniques," Carson said, adding etchings are different from lithographs or offset reproductions.

The husband-wife team, which also uses media of watercolor, acrylics and oils, specialize in etchings of cowboys, Indians, wildlife and southwestern landscapes.

Their technique begins with a rough sketch of an idea which is then transferred to a metal plate.

The sketch is refined and scratched on the plate with an etching needle, "until I have a proof I can live with."

Edwards then links the plate by dabbing it with his fingers and wiping the excess off with cheesecloth. "By controlling the ink on the plate, I can achieve areas of intense black down to pure white."

The next step is to place high quality, wet rag paper on top of the inked plate and then place the two between blotter paper.

Edwards then runs them through an antique Massey press, which exerts a great deal of pressure and transfers the ink from the plate to the paper.

The paper is dried, colored with acrylics and then signed and numbered.

Hill-Owen vows exchanged

Wedding vows of Debbie Hill, Golden, Colorado, and Wayne Owen, Ruidoso, were exchanged in a garden ceremony June 10 in Golden.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Hill, Golden, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Owen, Ruidoso.

Officiating at the evening wedding, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Piety, was the Reverend Don Canter, Golden Church of Christ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white sundress with an inlaid panel of white lace down the front and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Marcia Hill, sister of the bride, Golden, served as maid of honor, wearing a floor length blue sundress.

Serving his brother as best man was Bart Owen of Ruidoso. Ushers were Greg Hill, brother of the bride, and Mike Sullivan, both from Golden.

The flower girl was Leah Guyer, niece of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a blue, street length dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a multi-colored street length dress. Both wore corsages of pastel daisies.

After the ceremony, a reception was held on the covered patio and yard of the Piety home.

The couple will be at home in Las Cruces, where the bridegroom will attend New Mexico State University, after a wedding trip to Tamarron Resort, north of Durango.

Both attended Abilene Christian University in Texas and both now are employed in Las Cruces.

The parents of the bridegroom held a rehearsal dinner for the bridal party the evening before the ceremony in Golden.

ARTISTS LOIS CARSON and Steve Edwards demonstrate their technique in etching.

Obituaries

Annie Mae Eckert

Services for longtime Ruidoso resident Annie Mae Eckert, 82, who died July 5, were held Friday at Clarke's Chapel of Roses chapel with the Reverend Wayne Joyce of the Ruidoso Baptist Church officiating.

Burial followed in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Born January 4, 1896, she lived in Lincoln County for 40 years and was a member of the Ruidoso Baptist Church.

Survivors are her niece Mrs. Allen Heard, Winters, Texas, and two grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Palbearers were Claude Peterson, R.H. Hedgecock, Roy Stierwalt, George Westfall, C.L. Wright and E.E. "Brother" Miller.

Arrangements were by Clarke's Chapel of Roses.

Social Security information

"People need to be aware of the basic principles of social security in order to follow the current debate over the program and understand some of the proposals for change," Gordon Lunsford, social security field representative, said today.

"The principles that have characterized the social security program over the years are: (1) coverage would be compulsory; (2) universal; (3) contributory; (4) that benefits are related to earnings; and (5) that benefits are paid as an earned right with no 'means test'."

"Because social security is compulsory it can be assured of future participants and, therefore, of continued income. This enables it to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis without the necessity of maintaining huge cash reserves."

"About 90 percent of the jobs are covered by social security, and recent social security law changes authorized development of plans for bringing in the remaining 10 percent of the jobs that are not now covered."

"The contributory aspect is important in that a worker's social security taxes represent his basic share of the cost of the program, and supports the concept of benefits relating to earnings, and the principle that benefits can be paid without a means test or test of need."

"The latest social security Advisory Council, an independent group of experts from various fields, has emphatically affirmed that the principles mentioned above are sound and can be relied on to help assure the continuing effectiveness of the program."

Lunsford may be contacted at the Lincoln County Senior Citizens Center in Ruidoso on the 1st, 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month between the hours of 10 - 12. Also, Captain, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs residents may make toll free calls to Roswell by dialing their Operator and asking for Enterprise 7780.

The Dreamer

BY DANNIE STORM

Birthday of Gerald And Geraldine Tully

On July twelve, Gerald Tully of Glencoe, and his twin sister, Geraldine (Mrs. Murray Morgan) of Alamogordo will celebrate their seventy-fifth birthday. They have been my friends for more than half a century.

Gerald looks little different from the way he did when I first saw him in 1925 at his home in the valley of Glencoe. And he is living the life of a ranchman and cowboy much as he has all his life. He has been a rodeo roper since his youth, and has risen to the very top in his day as a steer and calf roper.

When I asked him a while back how long he had been roping, he said that he began when he was about five years old.

Gerald and Geraldine were born at Fort Stanton, and moved over to the valley at the age of about one and a half years.

When we first came here I used to walk down to the J.V. Tully general store and post office for mail and groceries. Here, Mr. J.V. Tully senior, and daughter Geraldine were two of the first people we met when we first arrived in the vale. Geraldine and her father were always very friendly and helpful.

Gerald has always been deeply fond of horses, and from an early age was taught by his father the value of this noble creature. Fine horses have always been a tradition at the Tully Ranch, and Gerald grew through the years to appreciate more and more the fine qualities of our good friend, the horse. He is very kind and patient with his horses; and gives them every consideration in good treatment. The horses respond, and are perfectly trained for work in the hills, on the ranch and in the rodeo arena. Gerald gives his horses much of the credit for his rising to the top in the roping world.

"Old Man" Roping

Gerald's son, Gerry is following in his father's foot-steps as a rodeo roper; and this has encouraged Gerald to continue his Rodeo career. There is a new kind of team steer roping that has grown popular the last few years that Gerald calls "Old man" roping. Two ropers may enter this competition if their combined ages add up to more than one hundred years. So the contest goes by the name of "Over one hundred." The team of Gerry and Gerald have won several prizes this year already in this type of contest.

The "over one hundred" is featured in Denver, Marfa, Texas; Phoenix and Magdalena, New Mexico. Gerald entered the Marfa roping and came home with the trophy. He was teamed up this time with a young fellow named Tom Jones.

The ages of Gerry and Gerald add up to just a little over one hundred.

How to Stay Young

Gerald is certainly one of the youngest men for his age that you ever saw. And I asked him how he remained youthful and active. I suggested that some of the secret might be his old door life. He agreed, saying that it is true he has been out doors all his life. Then he gave the credit to his devoted wife, Wynema.

Surely his four children, Toni, Pam, Tricia, and Gerry are a great inspiration to him; and he says, of course, the Good Lord has been good to him.

We wish Gerald and Geraldine many happy returns of the day. And we know their father, mother, and sister Susan, in Heaven, are happy that Gerald and Geraldine have reached this milestone in life in such good health and with so many blessings.

Elk slayers fined

Almost $1,600 in fines and civil damages have been assessed against four Santa Feans convicted of the unusual killing of a bull elk near Los Alamos, and the person whose information led to their being cited has $250 from the Operation Game Thief reward fund.

Operation Game Thief coordinator Dan Pursley, Department of Game and Fish, said the four men were convicted last week by Los Alamos magistrate Otis Farmer on charges of illegally killing an elk May 13.

Gilbert Baca, 25, admitted being the one who actually shot the elk, according to Game and Fish reports. He was fined $700 and given a five-day suspended jail sentence. Carlos Quintana, 24, and Joe Lujan, 22, were fined $350 each. Tony Mendonca, 33, was fined $50. The judge also assessed $10 court costs against each defendant, and the Game and Fish Department has assessed civil damages of $300 for the state's loss of the elk—a total $1,790.

Los Alamos District Conservation Officer Lee Duff issued the citations and was aided in the investigation by Santa Fe District Supervisor Ed Kinsey and Reserve Conservation Officer Charlie Warner, Los Alamos.

Duff said the men shot the elk with a .22 caliber rifle early in the morning of May 13, killing it instantly with one shot. The case is unusual in that a rifle of that caliber normally would only wound the animal, which might die later, Duff said. Apparently, the bullet struck the animal in the head or upper spinal cord.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor

I attended the town meeting June 26 at the Chaparral regarding outlaws groups and after listening to various people, have a few comments.

It was somewhat disheartening to see only one of our local elected officials take enough interest in the welfare of our community to attend. I personally feel all should have been at the meeting to better understand the community's feeling and acquire first-hand knowledge in order to better cope with the problem in the future.

As for some of the comments I heard, I can well understand everyone's concern, however, I feel that the proper way to deal with the situation is for everyone to pull together and not in opposite directions.

Because of our "Civil Rights Act of 1968", we can't do what we would like. But, there are ways to legally "Run Them Out" - by them, I mean ANY trouble-makers.

1. Be prepared to stand up for yourself.

If any problem occurs, call the police. Once you call them, be prepared to sign a complaint. If you fear retaliation, work with other citizens to provide standby moral and physical help while you once again call the police. Be prepared to sign a complaint again and again. The police will respond to your calls and after a time, any potential troublemakers will get the message.

If they find that you will stand for your rights, all the fun of harassment is gone and the troublemakers will go on. If all of us work together on this score, our problems will leave town. They cannot stand a concerted effort of townspeople.

2. Be prepared to help in an organized way.

I feel a meeting should be called with law enforcement people, and volunteers scheduled to help, by manning telephones, radios, etc.

There are some ex-law enforcement people here who could be of help in running radios, telephones, etc. This would provide much needed backup, and even free experienced officers in some cases for street duty.

I feel that an organized group can be of immense help with coordination of effort with the police. Things such as an organized CB patrol would provide added eyes and ears for law enforcement. It would also provide extra patrol for protection of businesses and homes.

This sort of effort could be set up on short notice and be very effective. In short, coordinated effort - not hysteria, is the answer. Our law enforcement agencies can and will help, but remember their hands are tied beyond a point. It requires all of our help and cooperation and willingness to stand up and be counted instead of throwing "hysterical" stones.

At that Monday night meeting, the people from the state offices were trying to explain what they could and would do, but unfortunately, not everyone understood what the state officials were saying.

It was stated that, at the time of the meeting, the state was not intending to call up the national guard or put the State Police Tactical Team on alert. However, and this is the point, John Ramming was trying to make sure the option was left open and conceivably, the state could and would change that plan in five minutes. The two weeks mentioned in the meeting was to set down a long range plan—not an immediate response plan.

One last comment—For those inclined to physically help the law enforcement people, join the Mounted Patrol. This is an arm of our State Police and can be of immense help in situations such as this. Anyone interested in joining can contact me or any other Mounted Patrol officer. But if you do want to join - be prepared to work at it and spend the time necessary to provide a viable arm to law enforcement.

If we learn from the past and apply these lessons instead of living in the past, all of us in concert can remedy our problems in a way that we can be proud of - not ashamed after "the dust settles." John D. Cupp

editorial

If the apparent frenzied activities of home builders in Ruidoso is an indication, the residential housing boom is still looking up. Considering the availability of land and the expansion potential of village services, perhaps the builders should really start looking up, looking up the sides of 10, 20, 30 or more story condominiums, because the day will come when the only way left to build will be up.

NON-FREE ENTERPRISE

The veils inherent in operating an absolute monopoly ... involving such matters as price fixing because the buyer has but one source of a product ... has been substantiated in legal proceedings. Ergo, competition tends to make life simpler ... sometimes cheaper ... for the buyer ... and if one manufacturer markets a superior product ... the competition, not the public, suffers.

The antitrust judgment against Eastman Kodak Company, to the tune of $87.1 million, including $5.6 million in legal fees, in favor of Berkey Photo Incorporated ... signed by federal Judge Marvin E. Frankel in New York recently ... could have the poker players in the card game looking at their hole card.

It must be that Kodak's staff of product developers are vastly superior to those of its competitors ... 'cause the judge ruled that Berkey, and other competitors of Kodak, can buy Kodak's color photographic paper sans Kodak's identifying marks ... thus enabling suppliers of this type of paper to sell Kodak's product under their own label. Presumably, this would result in buyers getting a bargain ... 'cause Kodak's competition ... again, presumably ... wouldn't have manufacturing costs of their own product to contend with.

On the thumb hand side ... Kodak could discontinue marketing color photographic paper under their own label ... supply all of such paper to all competitors ... and enjoy greater profits under a monopolistic operation whereby they could sell all the paper they could produce without retail marketing costs.

Then there was the stipulation that Kodak ... beginning September 1 ... must disclose new product information disclosed to its own color print and processing division to Berkey and all other competitors. 'Tis possible, then, Kodak could become the sole source of new products ... which could make Kodak richer than their fondest dreams ... 'cause there'd be no competition.

Yup ... In the midst of such economic confusion in the United States ... it's small wonder that our peanut farmer fr...

Georgia is having his problems trying to bolster the value of the dollar abroad ... where peanut consumption might, in Our Jimmy's opinion, increase considerably ... and well he might be confused ... 'cause Kodak's operation ain't peanuts.

But ... cheer up you shutterbuggers ... under any name, if the brand's Kodak ... according to the judge's ruling ... you'll be getting the best ... not necessarily for less ... but the best nevertheless ... so let's hear it for the judge ... for Berkey ... and for non-free enterprise.

ON SHOOTING BIKERS

What effect the wounding by gunfire of four members of motorcycle groups in Questa will have on Questa's citizenry remains to be seen ... should the seriously wounded cyclist die ... or be permanently crippled ... the effect on the two Questans allegedly inflicting the gunshot wounds could be an eye opener ... that'd have the pair eying the world through the limited viewing opportunities provided by prison cell.

'Course ... if all members of so-called outlaw motorcycle clubs get the idea there's an open season on such bikers in New Mexico, the sacrifice of said duo duly mentioned above might make them martyrs ... in due course. And what better place to reflect on impending martyrdom than in a sanctuary where they'd be free from reprisals ... maybe.

It'll be interesting to see what happens in the wake of this incident ... who knows but that a set of guidelines will develop that could be beneficial to anyone concerned with the possibility of acting as unwilling hosts to those choosing to ride choppers in bands as their means of self expression.

In view of the publicity Ruidoso has received, through the efforts of citizens genuinely interested in solving the potential powder keg situation that could easily develop here ... should the bikers return ... and what's to prevent them ... let us hope that keg'll be defused before the fuse is torched.

BRIEF BIT: Considering California's Proposition 13, the happiest man in New Mexico, come January 1, will be Governor Jerry Apodaca ... hands down ... CD

Merle Haggard will continue to hold onto his top of the ladder in country music. MCA has released his LP "I'm Always on a Mountain When I Fall," which is of course the title of his current hit single.

The album also contains several cuts which could well become single hits, the best of which is probably "It's Been a Great Afternoon." This track features the usual commercial style of Haggard but is also complimented by some fine lead guitar work and even greater dobro licks.

Haggard wrote the "Afternoon" track, plus such other tunes in the LP as "Love Me When You Can," "The Dream" and "The Immigrant." The LP also contains the Haggard version of the Hank Cochran country standard "Don't You Ever Get Tired of Hurtin' Me," plus the flip of the "Mountain When I Fall" single, which is the Jeannie Seely and Hank Cochran tune "Life of a Rodeo Cowboy."

Merle Haggard
Haggard also shuffles through his version of the current Johnny Cash/Waylon Jennings hit "There Ain't No Good Chain Gang." Haggard's version is pleasing but doesn't come close to the Cash/Jennings rendition. Some fine piano backing and close harmony adds the right touch to another Haggard song on the album, "The Dream."

Merle dips into one of our nation's current problems in "The Immigrant," which tells the story and the problems of some of our illegal citizens.

Haggard finishes up this set of songs with "Mama I've Got to Go to Memphis." This song was written by Leona Williams, the newest addition to the Haggard road show, and a country vocalist of merit on her own. This group of Haggard efforts was produced by Cochran and Fuzzy Owens and was recorded at Nashville's Fireside Studios.
