

News begins home delivery

The Ruidoso News is beginning home delivery in one area of Ruidoso today with other areas to be added soon, News publisher Ken Green has announced.

The first route will be north of Sudderth between Mechem and Gavilan Canyon. The area encompasses nearly 700 homes.

The News will be delivered Monday and Thursday afternoons by adults in automobiles for $2 per month.

"We have new four-wheel drive vehicles ordered, and as soon as they get in and as we hire additional route drivers we will add the areas west of Mechem, the Upper Canyon, south of Sudderth, the eastern half of Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs and Alto to our home delivery system," Green said.

He said The News had been studying home delivery for the past year. "The way our community is scattered, the winter weather and the mobility of some of our residents makes house to house newspaper delivery a real challenge," Green said.

"There are only a few areas in town where we may, someday, be able to use carrier boys. Right now we'll go with the adults until we get the routes established, and then, later, we'll study the prospects of creating some smaller neighborhood carrier routes. Ruidoso, in January, isn't the neatest place in the world for a boy on a bicycle to deliver papers."

"We're sure this added service to our readers and advertisers will be well received," Green concluded.

Page 12 of today's News shows the area of the News' first route. If you live in this area, call 257-4001 to start delivery of The Ruidoso News to your home.

MORRISON SLAMS ARCHITECTURAL COMMITTEE

Teen Center hassle rages

The president of the Ruidoso Noon Lions Club went before the Ruidoso Downs board of trustees Monday night bearing bitter criticism for Ruidoso's Architectural Plans Review Committee and a tentative offer to construct the club's proposed teen center in the racing community.

For his troubles club president Bill Morrison received a vote of support for the club project from the trustees and an offer of land for the teen center from one of the board's members.

"The new architectural board (Ruidoso) mayor Davis appointed has been giving us a lot of problems," Morrison said. "We want to know if the city of Ruidoso Downs would be interested in having our teen center or civic center, or whatever you want to call it, down here. All we want from you is a place to put it."

Morrison suggested a tract of village-owned land adjacent to the ball park. In return he said the club would donate the building, upon completion, to the village, contingent upon the receipt of federal funding for youth related activities.

Before the board voted to support the project, trustee Lois Beavers offered to donate a tract of land owned by her and her husband lying near the village's ball park.

Morrison said the architecture committee had blocked construction of the teen center on several points including the club's proposal to erect a metal building, the location of the building and what to put in the building.

"We're tired of the people on the architectural board telling us what to do," Morrison said. "They're supposed to be an advisory board."

"The building we came up with would cost about $75,000," he added, "but when the architectural board got through with it, we were up around $150,000."

Morrison said he could not commit future club presidents to a 40-year loan, and he reiterated that the architectural board served in an advisory capacity.

School proposes $2.83 million budget

The public school finance division of the state department of Educational Finance and Cultural Affairs gave tentative approval to the Ruidoso Municipal Schools' $2.83 million budget for fiscal year 1978-79 at a Monday afternoon meeting.

The total budget is $2,836,555 with estimated revenue of $358,993 from local sources, $103,419 from federal sources, $1,670,482 from state, $45,273 from federal projects funding and $492,965 from other sources.

Al Clemmons, administrative assistant to the chief of public school finance, reviewed and commended the lengthy budget, but could not give final approval until state officials hold budget hearings in each school district in the state.

Final approval of the budget, which was increased about $570,000 over last year's total, should be given in the near future.

The largest expenditure on the budget was $1,442,757 for direct instruction which includes $916,735 for teachers' salaries, an increase of 21 to 22 percent over last year's salaries.

In addition to the substantial salary increases, the budget includes hiring of three additional personnel: a teacher at the mid school, a special ed teacher and an instructional aide to manage the Nob Hill Elementary School library.

Other expenditures include $80,812 for administration; $238,796 for instructional support; $9,501 for health services; $128,254 for pupil transportation services, which includes $110,734 for private operators; $187,925 for operation of plant; $52,192 for maintenance of plant; $270,774 for fixed charges; $9,000 for food services, and $59,785 for capital outlay.

An increase of nearly 40 percent in noninstructional student support also was included in the budget. A total of $20,383 of the $21,383 line item will be used to purchase athletic equipment for the physical education and athletics departments at White Mountain Middle School.

Attending the budget hearing were Pat Valliant, superintendent of schools, principals Donny Weems, Sid Miller, Mike Gladden and Tom Hansen, school board members Dave Parks, Don Swalander, C. L. "Bones" Wright and Lamar Osbourn, several students, faculty and staff members.

WARD: 'WE WILL FILE ON MIKE TAYLOR AND THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'

Local committee formed to hold mule racing here

Nomination of a working committee to investigate the possibility of holding mule races here this fall was the first action item by the recently formed group of mule enthusiasts at their Tuesday meeting.

The committee, to be chaired by Briscoe West, consists of Richard Coltrun, Bud Rouse, Mike Hernandez, Mike Hernandez Jr., Pete Wood, Harold Mansell and Don King with Ed Hyman offering to assist with promotion.

The committee will investigate the feasibility of continuing mule races as a community affair, possibly under direction of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, with no connection to the Lincoln County Mule-O-Rama Association (LCMA) and their past Mule-O-Rama races.

The group also requested committee member Coltrun to contact both the Chamber and the LCMA to discuss "working together."

Hyman read a statement from Bill Ward, president of the LCMA, to the group:

"After meeting with you concerned citizens two weeks ago, I will have to admit I left that meeting with a lot less faith in you people than I ever thought would be possible.

"My attorney advised against Mule-O-Rama Association officers attending any more meetings of such a nature.

"I told you people I would meet with our Mule-O-Rama officers and I did so. We feel the Mule-O-Rama has been good for the Ruidoso area. It is very unfortunate that one man could have almost ruined such a good thing and that we have been opposed by so many.

"Regardless of all this, we think the Mule-O-Rama is worthwhile and we will pay off our indebtedness, continue with the Mule-O-Rama and the Mule-O-Rama futurity.

"We will file on Mike Taylor and the Ruidoso Hondo (sic) Valley Chamber of Commerce. We cannot file on the Village of Ruidoso as they are protected under the Bacon Act.

"We feel there might be a conspiracy."

Few of the nearly 30 persons attending had any comments regarding Ward's statement, but the question of whether the LCMA planned to hold mule races in the fall and if they would interfere with committee plans for races did arise.

"The races can't continue without a home," Rouse, proprietor of Western Highlands, formerly Gateway Meadows, said. "We will not allow it if it's under the same management as last year. We would allow it if it were in other hands.

"I'd like to see the Chamber run it; they have more access to people. I'd still like to see it small. It's a fun thing... but it could get too big."

Don Driver asked Rouse: "If the LCMA got straightened out, would you consider (allowing them to run the races)?"

"No."

"Under no circumstances?" Driver asked.

"No, I don't think they are capable," Rouse said. "There are a lot of good people in the association, but there's a lot of good people in the world who can't run a business."

Rouse suggested the group of mule enthusiasts approve signing a five-year contract with Western Highlands to run mule races during the fall.

Later in the meeting, the group requested the committee consider the proposal and report back.

Harold Mansell warned the group, "If we pursue the races and it is turned over to the Chamber of Commerce, the LCMA would be ignorant not to file an injunction to stop it."

"I'm not going to say Ward is ruthless, but I know him and that's what I'd do in his case."

During the meeting, Ollie Cuddy, representing the Lodger's Tax Committee, asked the group, "Is it imperative to have races this year?"

The group, en masse, answered affirmatively, and Cuddy then asked, "Shouldn't you let it sit and see what happens?"

"If we did," Hyman said, "We'd lose two years."

"But what did you do in two years (to salvage)?" Cuddy asked.

"We'd lose our following," Jerry Kilmer said.

"I don't know about all of you, but I would just like to see my mule run," Hyman said.

The committee will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the Ruidoso Downs Village Hall.

DeSoto resigns Security Bank presidency

Bill DeSoto, president of Security Bank of Ruidoso since April of 1976, tendered his written resignation as president and director, effective April 30, to the board of directors at the April meeting, Richard Hale, executive vice president, has announced.

DeSoto told The News "I have no plans for the immediate future."

Hale said that DeSoto's successor has not been named.

Arts and crafts chairman sought

The special events committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce will meet at 4 p.m. Friday to consider applications for the position of arts and crafts fair chairman.

Bill Hirschfeld, special events committee chairman, said all interested persons should contact the Chamber at 257-7395 or stop by the office to apply.

"We have a committee, but no chairman," he said, adding the chairman will receive a commission from the fair receipts.

"It'll be a lot of work and require total involvement in the promotion of the show."

Hirschfeld said the fair would be held July 28-30 in the Chaparral Convention Center, with 112 booths planned.

Downs' junk car owners facing fines

Violators of Ruidoso Downs Village ordinance governing junked cars have seven days to get rid of the cars or secure a 48 hour village permit before the police department begins issuing citations.

According to Police Chief Lynn Martin, those found guilty of keeping inoperable, dismantled or partially dismantled vehicles without a current village permit may find themselves facing a fine ranging from $10-$200, levied at the discretion of the municipal judge.

Martin said that each day the vehicles are left within the village at a place not zoned for junked cars could constitute a separate violation.

"The ordinance will be enforced," Martin said.

The village has established a lot where inoperable, dismantled or partially dismantled cars can be taken. They will be hauled off the lot following proper accumulation.

BID LETTING PLANNED

Dam progress deemed likely

Pending receipt of final approval of construction plans for Eagle Creek Dam from the Soil Conservation Service, expected about May 1, Dick Wright, of Mann Engineering, Roswell, Tuesday evening notified the Ruidoso trustees that "we are shooting for an advertising date of June 1," to ask for bids for construction.

"We expect," Wright said, "it will take from 30 to 60 days to obtain the bids, after which the village has 60 days to accept."

The Forest Service, Wright told the trustees, "is preparing the special use permit and have the plans for the road construction project."

Sand and gravel from the pit at Glencoe, Wright said, "has been accepted by the government."

Crews from Mann Engineering are, Wright said, "continuing to put in construction stakes for both the highway and the dam."

THE TRUSTEES unanimously accepted a resolution, from a draft prepared by village attorney Ron Harris, to expedite acquiring Tort insurance protection for the village "under emergency clauses" in the insurance law. Purchasing agent Frank Potter was authorized "to purchase by order, without bids, (insurance) to protect the village against Tort claims." Present coverage lapsed, Potter told the trustees, due to increases in premiums quoted by the present carrier.

"We must declare an emergency under Purchasing Act laws," Harris said, "and certify (the emergency) to proper authorities."

TRANSMISSION AND PIPE lines to service Alto Crest Water Plant No. 3, Jerry Campbell, Boyle Engineering representative, said should be 82 percent completed by the end of May, considering "that the equipment suppliers' strike could cause some possible delays." The target date to have the plant operating is July 1, Campbell said.

In other business the trustees: — Set a public budget workshop, for village department heads, to review budget proposals for fiscal 1978-79 at 5 p.m., Tuesday, in the multipurpose room of the Ruidoso Public Library. No official action on any budgets, or line items, will be taken.

— Were notified by village manager Jim Hine that applications have been filed with Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) for grant and loan monies to correct septic tank/sewer problems in the Ponderosa Heights area. The $950,000 proposal includes a FmHA grant of $500,000 plus a $300,000 loan; $100,000 in a state grant plus $50,000 in connection charges.

— Accepted the bid of Elmer Fox Westheimer and Company, Roswell, in the amount of $8,621.25 to audit the village books on or before November 30, 1978.

— Accepted a report that all plans are approved for the Regional Wastewater

Deputy patrolling forest areas

Under a cooperative program, Lincoln County Sheriff's deputy Frankie Silva is serving the Smokey Bear District of Lincoln National Forest.

The Forest Service provides funds for Silva's salary and covers vehicle costs and in return he "patrols areas of considerable use in the forest like dispersed camping areas and the campgrounds," Charlie Mook, prevention officer for the district, said.

"He also assists on state and private land adjoining forest land and enforces state laws" and with "his deputy sheriff commission, Silva can enforce state and county laws on national land."

Although he cannot enforce national laws, Silva can enforce state laws which run parallel to the national laws and he can gather necessary information on a violation and turn it over to federal authorities.

"Having someone on patrol has proven to be a deterrent to violations of the laws," Mook said.

Appointed by Sheriff Bill Elliott, Silva also assists with attempts to locate persons camping on national forest and assists in detection and, if necessary, suppression of wild fires on state, private and federal land.

Silva patrols from Three Rivers to the area around Bonito Lake and also Eagle Creek and Cedar Creek areas.

"We've had very good cooperation with the Lincoln County sheriff's department," Mook said.

Tanker crews held training exercise here

A training exercise for Forest Service tanker crews was held Monday afternoon near the Ruidoso Municipal Airport under the direction of the Forest Service and the New Mexico state fire marshal with the assistance of the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department and Ruidoso Natural Gas.

For the exercise gas was pumped through a system of pipes and ignited. The class then extinguished the fire. In conjunction with the exercise, the class practiced fighting fires wearing breathing apparatus.

A lecture on equipment use and care also was presented.

"We had two individuals from Kaibab National Forest attend the course for Model 70 tanker training," Steve Makowski fire management officer said.

Middle School skiers entered national race

A team of skiers from White Mountain Middle School competed recently in a national race sponsored by Pizza Hut, Incorporated, in Steamboat Springs, Colorado.

Sean Skellet, 12, received a bronze medal in his age class and Eric Strobel, 12, placed fourth in his class. Also qualifying to compete in the national race were Russell Isaacs, 13, and Sam Mize, 13.

Qualified skiers who were not in the Sierra Blanca Sports Club junior racers were coached every Sunday for six weeks by Doug DeCoursey and Mike Crocker.

"After the six weeks of practice, we had a race at Sierra Blanca and the winners of the age classes went to Steamboat," Crocker said.

"At Steamboat, the kids got to meet Billy Kidd and wax their skis with him. They really liked him ... he seemed to always have time for their questions."

Duplicate bridge play set Monday

The Duplicate Bridge Club will meet Monday, May 1, beginning at 7:30 p.m., at the multipurpose room in the Ruidoso Public Library. Anyone interested in bridge is welcome to attend.

Winners in recent play were, first place, Lois Fox and Shirley Tilford; second place, Hima Collier and Raymond Snare.

Kindergarten registration May 1 to 12

Kindergarten registration for the 1978-79 school year will be held from May 1 to 12 at Nob Hill Elementary School, principal Donny Weems announced.

To be eligible for kindergarten, the child must be five years old prior to September 1, 1978.

The child's birth certificate and immunization records must be brought to registration.

DAR sets final meeting of year

The Sierra Blanca Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met last Tuesday with Juanita Bush as hostess.

A business meeting was conducted by regent Florence Loudon and a program on "The Spanish American War" was presented by Dorothy Parnell.

Guests were Mrs. Pauline Heck and Tom Loudon.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., May 16 at the Ruidoso Public Library. The last meeting of the year, the May meeting will feature the film, "Home and Country."

The public is invited.

In the Service

Navy Fireman Kenneth W. Knapp has been assigned to the USS Roanoke as a replenishment officer, for an extended tour of duty in the Western Pacific, as a member of the United States Seventh Fleet. The son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp of Capitán, he is a Capitán High School graduate and joined the Navy in November of 1977.

Carrizozo health center possible

Carrizozo residents can look forward to a new health center as the result of action taken by the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners during a special meeting Tuesday.

The facility will be housed in the to-be-remodeled doctor's office directly north of the existing Carrizozo-Lincoln County Hospital at a cost of about $50,000 for remodeling and additions, according to architect Tom P. Rogers, with Dick Waggoner and Associates.

According to a county release, the existing building will cost the county about $28,000 to be paid for in three fiscal years.

Funding for the venture, according to county manager Les Olsen will come from the Carrizozo hospital mill levy and a temporary budget transfer from the county's general fund.

Plans for development of the facility include the transfer by July 1, of the existing health facility to the Zia Therapeutic Center of Alamogordo to be used as a learning center for developmentally handicapped adults.

According to Zia director George W. Cardell, clients for Zia's program will initially come from Fort Stanton Hospital. He said six of Fort Stanton's patients will live at the Carrizozo facility with about 20-25 adults scheduled to commute daily between Fort Stanton and Carrizozo.

He added that activities at the Zia Center in Carrizozo will include the learning of living skills and work within a sheltered-workshop atmosphere.

Tuesday morning the commissioners, with G. H. "Shorty" Stoneman absent, voted to accept the proposal presented by architect Rogers, contingent on issuance of a state license.

Transfer of the Carrizozo hospital will hinge on approval of the venture by the state's Health and Environmental Department. Cardell said verbal approval of the project has been accepted from the state agency. He added the Health and Environmental Department had initiated the proposal for Zia administration of a Carrizozo facility, and he felt the agency's approval was a matter of processing the proper request.

Included in the remodeling project for the Carrizozo health clinic will be the purchase, through an established state contract, of a modular building to be erected at the rear of the existing doctor's offices, according to commissioner George "Lee" Straley.

System, to serve Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs, and that construction could begin about January 1, 1979.

— Approved transferring approximately one-tenth of an acre of former park land in Skyland addition to private ownership, for a price of $300, on request by Buck Meyer of Ruidoso.

— Unanimously approved the purchase of one Chevrolet Nova, or comparable car, at the April 25 quotation, to replace an older sedan now used for traffic control by the Ruidoso Police Department.

— Accepted, for consideration, recommendations to increase building permit fees in Ruidoso, as submitted by village inspector Chuck Brown.

— Took no action on a proposal to increase the fees for water meter connections.

— Authorized Jim French, local architect, to develop a master plan for village parks and to investigate funding programs available through the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

— Authorized Potter to head an investigation into areas in the village in which street paving might be done under the assessment district method.

— Were advised by Potter that interest is being shown in the $25 per load pumping charge for septic tanks in Ponderosa Heights by owners. Septic tank owners in other areas of the village may contact Potter to sign up for this proposed service, offered by Ernest Burgess.

DOCTOR'S OFFICES, north of the Carrizozo-Lincoln County Hospital will be converted to a new health facility, due to be occupied by July 1. A modular building will be added to the rear of this building. According to architect Tom P. Rogers, many of the exterior design features of the existing building will be left with prime remodeling to be performed on the interior.

SOUTH ELEVATION

THIS ARCHITECTS RENDERING of the south side of the proposed Carrizozo Health Clinic, was prepared by Dick Waggoner and Associates, architectural firm on the project. The right part of the building is the old doctor's office north of the present Carrizozo health facility. The left part of the building will be a newly purchased modular edifice. According to county officials, the building will be near completion at the end of the state's fiscal year, July 1.

According to a county release documenting the cost breakdown of the Lincoln County Health Center, the portable building will cost about $29,000. The remainder of the remodeling and addition will go toward remodeling the existing building, architect's fees and a 15 percent contingency fund.

Cardell said he thought the transfer of the building will help Lincoln County.

"I feel that this will enable the Department of Health and Environment to expand its services to Lincoln County; it will expand the services at Fort Stanton," Cardell said.

"They're going to run people away from Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs if they keep telling them what to do," he said.

"We have worked for years with the city of Ruidoso and we're right back where we started. Now I understand you people don't work that way. When you decide to do something you go ahead and do it. Our Lions Club is tired of the constant bickering we've faced up in Ruidoso," he said.

Citing a need by the twin communities for a building that could handle large conventions, Morrison said the club intended to construct the building despite all objections.

Before the vote to support the project was taken, Morrison told the trustees, "We're going to build it — if you all don't go along with (the project), we'll take it outside the city limits."

In other Monday night action the trustees:

— Voted to appoint village clerk Virginia Spall as the village's purchasing agent.

— Approved the state's department of finance's fixed schedule for the preparation of municipal budgets.

— Heard a planning and zoning commission report from Max Olyver.

— Gave a tentative voice of approval for George Mize's proposal to have the Mystery Spot annexed by the village.

— Heard trustee Juanita Burke's sanitation report.

— Voted to issue a business license to Johnny's Auction Service.

— Voted to issue occupational licenses to Marion P. Gayden, feed and hauling service; Preston Frambrough, sawdust hauling, and the Thief's Den.

LINCOLN COUNTY COMMISSIONER George L. "Lee" Straley, left, discusses some of the design features of the proposed Carrizozo Health Clinic with architect Tom P. Rogers, Tuesday morning. The pair discussed ways of saving some of the woodwork in the present building.

Four cancer eye treatment demonstrations were held last week in Lincoln County. Demonstrations were given by Larry Foster, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist on using the Electrothermal Cancer Eye Probe. This unit uses a 12 volt system to provide heat to the treated area in the 2 MHz radio frequency range. Researchers at Los Alamos found that cancer cells are more sensitive to heat than regular cells.

The electrothermal unit was developed to heat the area with cancer cells to 122° F. for 30 seconds. The Los Alamos scientist wanted an animal for testing this instrument and contacted the Extension Service at New Mexico State. The cattle in the area were mentioned as a possible test animal. Cattle like man has cancer erupt spontaneously, so it made a good test animal.

Larry Foster, has been working with them for two years to develop a cancer treating instrument that was portable and yet effective. It takes about a month before the cancer dries up and falls off. About three days after the treatment, the animals show a burn effect as a result of the treatment. This clears up in about two weeks.

The cancer eye treatment allows the cow to raise a calf to weaning. It is recommended that the animal be sold as soon as possible after weaning the calf. Research in beef cattle has shown that the tendency to have cancer is inherited. This treatment allows the rancher to have a saleable animal whereas the untreated animal cannot be sold. More cattle are condemned for cancer eye condition than any other illness. Pneumonia is next.

Jerry Schickedanz, Extension Range Management Specialist visited with the ranchers on their poisonous plant problems. He helped them understand some of the plant poison symptoms and how it could be treated. Some plants causing death loss were shown to the groups.

'Babe' Evans Beta Sigma Phi sorority 'Woman of the Year'

Mrs. Jesse "Babe" Evans was named as the Beta Sigma Phi "Woman of the Year" at the annual Founders' Day Dinner held Monday evening.

"Mrs. Evans has served her community for 28 years as a cook for the Ruidoso Municipal School," Sandy Knox said.

"She has missed only two days of work in all those years and then only to attend a state cooking school in Albuquerque. She has always had time to listen to our children, to share their joys and lend a sympathetic ear to their troubles, big and small."

"She always takes the time to cut an apple or peel an orange and "mother" each and every one," Sandy said.

An engraved silver tray, necklace and corsage were presented to Mrs. Evans "in appreciation of her years of faithful service."

Also at the dinner, which was hosted by Xi Psi Chapter, four girls of the year and a pledge of the year were honored.

Selected for outstanding service to her chapter and presented a gift were Jo Leland, Alpha Alpha chapter; Patti Hornbuckle, XI Alpha Rho chapter; Judy Brown, Gamma Rho chapter, and Sandy Knox, XI Psi chapter.

A yellow rose and gift were presented by Gamma Rho to their pledge of the year, Beth Sayner.

A spokesman for the sorority thanked the Evening Lions' Club for use of their building for the dinner.

Witnesses to attend assembly in Texas

A circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses from west Texas, New Mexico and eastern Arizona is scheduled May 6 and 7 in the El Paso County Coliseum, Texas.

Clifton Keith, local presiding minister, announces the cancellation of meetings May 4 and 7, that an "expected 50 members" from the local area "may attend this semi-annual gathering in El Paso."

The Saturday meeting opens at 9:55 a.m., with the Sunday session beginning at 9 a.m.

THE TENSION of high performance tricycle racing is broken by Julie Gooch as she approaches the finish line during the senior heat tricycle race at the high school Monday.

SENIOR RICK MOUND displays the competitive concentration and easy form that carried him through three heats of intense tricycle racing Monday at the high school. He rode his high performance trike to the glory of overall winner in the event.

Twirp Week brings out the pedalers

Ahh! Springtime. The birds and flowers have returned, the fruit trees are blooming and students at Ruidoso High School are participating in Twirp Week. Monday, "the world's richest tricycle race" was held in the student parking lot at the high school between seniors and faculty.

Other Twirp Week activities included a powder puff football game Tuesday night and a gong show last night. Today the students at the school will ignore the Emancipation Proclamation they have so diligently studied by conducting a slave sale held in conjunction with slave day tomorrow.

It's all done in fun as evidence by the happy grins on the faces of these seniors and faculty

BELL HELMET CLAD Galen Farrington, high school faculty member, is prepared to survive the most extreme crash. Farrington above exhibits the personal form that allowed him to, well, limp across the finishing line.

MARGE ANDRUS propels herself to a near-dead heat during Monday's tricycle race held in conjunction with Twirp Week.

FACULTY MEMBER Bruce Hancock was right in there among the top finishers during the faculty heat of the "world's richest tricycle race" held Monday in conjunction with Twirp Week activities at the high school.

All-American Futurity generates large cash flow

The All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs is generating cash like no other race in history.

The financial pulse-taker of the All-American is Dorothy Dillard, the track's nomination secretary.

Dorothy is currently keeping tabs on both the 1978 All-American and the 1979 version. In each case, Dorothy reports, the cash flow is moving at a tremendous pace.

The long path to the '78 edition began January 15 of 1977 when a record (at that time) 1,380 yearlings were nominated at $50 each.

March 15 of this year, the sixth payment ($400) came due, and 655 head were kept eligible. That put the current All-American pot at a whopping $1,065,100. Which means the 1978 All-American is a stunning $136,675 ahead of the financial pace set by last year's edition.

A year ago at this time 578 hopefuls were kept in the running, and the balance stood at $928,425. The 1977 All-American jackpot finally topped out at $1,723,400. Of this, $1,030,000 went into the All-American finale and three consolationis, and $693,400 was retained for this year's three-year-old counterpart, the All-American Derby.

With such a stunning cash holdover, the 1978 Derby is projected at $850,000 — which means it'll remain firm in its position as the world's second richest horse race.

An All-American Futurity innovation this year is the boosting of the ceiling from $1,030,000 to $1,280,000. The new purse structure will direct $1,030,000 into the Labor Day grand finale, and will hand the winning owner $437,500.

An interesting sidelight is the fact the winning horse will automatically catapult toward the top of the list of all-time money makers. (For example, if one uses the all-time totals at the end of 1977, the All-American winner of 1978 — not counting any other cash he might have accrued — will jump into 11th place on the quarter horse money list.)

Even a second place finish in the All-American Futurity will trigger a cash bonanza. The runnerup slot will be worth $177,500 — which is more than the winner's share of many of thoroughbred racing's major classics.

Here's the remaining purse breakdown for the All-American: 3rd — $82,500; 4th — $58,750; 5th — $46,250; 6th — $43,750; 7th — $41,250; 8th — $40,000; 9th — $37,500; 10th — $35,000.

January 15 of this year, the long process leading to the '79 All-American Futurity got underway when 1,563 yearlings — a record — were nominated.

Two months later, the second payment ($100) came up, and 1,478 were kept in the running. That put the current total at $205,250, and also kept it ahead of the pace established a year ago by the 1978 All-American.

Last year at this time, the 1978 All-American was rocking along with $180,800 in the bank. (A total of 1,271 yearlings were kept eligible by payment of that $100 fee March 15). Two years ago at this juncture, the 1977 All-American had $152,875 in the bank.

Contributing to the growing national popularity of the All-American is the fact the classic, since 1973, has been televised from coast-to-coast. In 1978, the nation wide audience is projected at 30 million viewers. Win Elliot, the well known CBS radio sportscaster, and Dave Johnson, track announcer at Santa Anita, will again head the telecast team. The telecast is produced by the All-American Network of Topeka, Kansas.

The 1978 Ruidoso season will kick off Saturday, May 13, and will cover 71 race days through Labor Day. Over $6 million will be disbursed in purses. The current Ruidoso purse record was set last year at $5,868,515. In fact, purse records have been set each year since 1972.

Also indicative of Ruidoso's spiraling growth is the fact daily wagering averages have been established in eight of the past nine years. In 1969, for example, the daily betting average was $242,039. Last year, the daily average topped out at $417,198.

The Ruidoso stakes schedule, in addition to the All-American Futurity, offers a handful of the world's richest races. The $325,000 (est.) Kansas Futurity and the $450,000 (est.) Rainbow Futurity are the first two jewels on the Triple Crown for two-year-olds, and precede the All-American Futurity.

Ruidoso also offers a Triple Crown for three-year-old quarter horses. The triad consists of the $150,000 (est.) Kansas Derby, the $450,000 (est.) Rainbow Derby and the $850,000 (est.) All-American Derby.

The main thoroughbred fixtures are the $125,000 (est.) Ruidoso Futurity, the $25,000 (est.) Ruidoso Derby, the $40,000 (est.) Rio Grande Futurity, the $35,000 (est.) Kindergarten Futurity, and the $17,500-added Ruidoso Mile.

Some wool from Lincoln County topped the sealed bid sale at Roswell early last week. Several clips sold for 96 cents to $1.00 per pound. These wools were low shrinking reputation clip fine wools. Wools were bringing about five cents above last year. Estimated clean price for these wools was from $1.80 to $2.10 per pound. The higher priced wools have established a reputation for having a uniform staple fine wool that has very little waste in the manufacturing process.

The wool sales late last week were off from earlier with prices about the same as last year. Most of the prices were from 70 to 85 cents per pound.

Getting your tomatoes off and growing: If last year's tomato crop did not do too well, don't give up. Most tomato varieties aren't adapted to New Mexico's high altitudes and dry conditions. You should select adapted plants to at least have a fighting chance.

At elevations of 5000-6000 feet use Big Set, Better Boy, VF145 or Early Girl. At higher elevations, varieties such as Earliana, Early Girl, Fantastic or Manitoba are best. Cherry tomatoes do well in all areas. Remember that tomatoes do not tolerate freezes and need to be protected if planted early. Protect them under hot-kaps or similar greenhouse-type artifacts.

Cold nights also tend to slow or even stop tomato development. Get a jump on the weather by using black plastic (polyethylene) mulch or transplants. You can make use of solar heat by setting the tomato plant in a 12" deep hole covered with transparent plastic.

Whether starting from seeds or transplants, sow about one and half times as many tomatoes as you finally want. Diseases usually kill many of the plants. When transplants are set out, make sure they have been hardened-off — gradually acclimatized to the outside environment. If the transplants are spindly, they may be buried so that only a short top shows above the soil. By the way, tomatoes are almost the only vegetable you can plant in this way. Tomatoes, like all other members of the nightshade family (tomato, peppers, eggplant and potato) should not be planted in the same place year after year. If they are, it could increase the incidence of diseases and nematodes.

Social Security information

"About 25,817 needy aged, blind, and disabled people in New Mexico received $33,310,000 in supplemental security income (SSI) payment in 1977," Gordon Lunsford, social security field representative, said today.

"Of that amount, $11,617,000 was paid to aged recipients (65 or over); $632,000 to the blind; and $21,061,000 to the disabled.

"Nationwide, 4.2 million persons are receiving SSI. Payments totalled $6.1 billion in 1977, including $4.7 billion in federal funds and $1.4 billion in state funds.

"SSI is a federally administered program that pays monthly checks to people in financial need who are 65 or older and to people in need at any age who are blind or disabled.

"The aim of SSI is to provide monthly checks so that needy people can have a basic cash income — $177.80 a month for one person, and $268.70 for a married couple. Not every person gets that much, however: Some get less because they have other income. Some get more because they live in a state that adds money to the federal payment.

"SSI is not the same as social security, even though the program is run by social security offices. The money for SSI checks comes from general funds of the U. S. Treasury, and not from the social security trust funds."

Lunsford may be contacted at the Lincoln County Senior Citizens Center in Ruidoso on the 1st, 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month between the hours of 10-12. Alto, Captain, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs residents may make toll free calls to Roswell by dialing their Operator and asking for Enterprise 7780.

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

THE FIRST EDITION, the colt who picked up that $41,896 winner's slice in the recent West Texas Futurity at Sunland Park, is now focused on the upcoming Sun Country Futurity. In Saturday's elimination trials, The First Edition sped to a 1 1/4-length win in the top clocking of 17.64 seconds for 350 yards. He now holds a career record of seven wins out of eight starts. If he bags the $159,824 Sun Country, the winner's slice of $55,938 would boost his winnings to some $110,000 — and make him something of a kingpin in these Triple Crown races at Ruidoso Downs this summer. Here's how the rest of the Sun Country field qualified: Say Lady, 17.69; Stubby Accident, 17.74; Plenty Tough Man, 17.75; Diamond Te, 17.75; Oh What Fun, 17.78; Kraig Oh War, 17.79; Barnstormer, 17.81; Tiffy Oh, 17.82; Sweet Nightynite, 17.82.

somehat the same story with Barnstormer, another Azure Te offspring. He debuted in the fifth trial and won by a length.

THE SUMMIT, an Easy Jet product owned by Walter Merrick of Sayre, Oklahoma, was a trial disappointment. In his racing bow a week before, he flashed to a thumping 4/4-length win. He failed to break with the same alertness Saturday, then had to scramble in order to take second.

A PAIR OF DEADHEATS surfaced Saturday. In the featured Sunshine Handicap, Ghost Light (7-1) and Bionic Babe (9-1) matched noses in a three-horse blanket finish. It was one of very few times in Sunland history that a stakes race ended in a stalemate. Jerimi Johnson, an 8-5 favorite who's earned almost $36,000 so far this year, appeared to have more than he could handle in the Sunshine and turned in a sluggish fifth. The afternoon's second deadheat came in the nightcap as Proven Britches (20-1) and Becky's Flapper (5-2) fought to a draw over second place. The tie triggered double quinella and double Big Q payoffs.

TRIPPY DIP, a juvenile filly who recently won at Sunland by over eight lengths, went in the finals of the rich Phoenix Futurity at Turf Paradise over the weekend. But she ran a disappointing eighth. The winner was Fleet Fannie.

TRAIL DRIVER, the perennial handicap contender at Ruidoso Downs, operated as an odds-on favorite in Saturday's 11th race, but had to go wide into the stretch and couldn't make up the deficit. He ran third, two noses off the lead.

JOCKEY JERRY BURGESS was fined $100 by the stewards for failing to have control of Saurkraut in the first race April 16 (Saurkraut ran first, but was disqualified and placed second).

JOCKEY JUDY CASELLA made her first start at a recognized race track in Sunday's fourth race at 350 yards. She was aboard the 103-1 longshot, Acomo, who finished last.

EASY KISS, the roan filly who won the first consolation of the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs last summer — and went on to bank almost 80 grand in 1977 — made her local debut in Sunday's fourth race. She won by a half-length under Jerry Nicodemus and paid $3.20. James Feature, who ran 8th in the All-American grand finale, took seventh behind Easy Kiss this time.

LAST MONTH, Coursing's Boy was claimed at Oaklawn Park for $4,000. In Sunday's co-feature at Sunland, the unaltered eight-year-old ran as the 8-5 favorite in a $6,250 claiming sprint and was acquired by Carolyn Varnadore. Coursing's Boy showed good luck in the stretch, but finished a frustrating fourth after getting into tight quarters near the wire.

THE NO.3 POST POSITION produced seven winners over the weekend to lead in that category. Here are the seasonal totals: No. 1 — 101, No. 2 — 107, No. 3 — 102, No. 4 — 100, No. 5 — 113, No. 6 — 109, No. 7 — 86, No. 8 — 70, No. 9 — 52, No. 10 — 45, No. 11 — 0, No. 12 — 2.

TRAINER JOLLY DRISKILL planned to ship eight two-year-olds to Sunland early this week, aiming at Saturday's trials for the $300,000 (est.) Riley Allison Futurity. Later, Driskill will campaign a 35-head contingent at Ruidoso Downs. He finished second in Ruidoso standings last year with 37 wins. Included among his 1977 stars was Bloody Blade, winner of the Allison Futurity.

JONETTA MONTGOMERY has been named Rainbow Girl of the Year for Assembly No. 52, Ruidoso. This is an achievement award for fulfilling her Assembly duties during the past year. The Ruidoso High School senior is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery.

Natural resources meeting scheduled at Capitan May 4

The problems, trends and needs of natural resources in Lincoln County will be appraised and discussed in the Capitan Public Schools Cafeteria, May 4, at 7 p.m.

The concerns that individuals and resource-related groups express at this meeting will be used to help develop a five-year program for the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District and the USDA Soil Conservation Service are sponsoring the meeting to fulfill requirements of the Resources Conservation Act which President Carter signed last November.

The Resources Conservation Act requires USDA to use public opinion as well as scientific data to appraise the natural resources on all private land; develop a five-year program to meet identified needs; and to evaluate progress toward achieving those goals.

For more information contact Bert Pfingsten at 653-4350 or Greg Haussler, 354-2220.

News from the Home Economist

4-H Club members and leaders from various areas of Lincoln County were given training in "Consumer Decision Making" recently by Extension Home Economist, Mary Ellen Payne. The young people and their leaders were taught how to make wise buying decisions for orange drinks, T-shirts, snacks and children's toys. Those present learned that price is not the only thing to consider. A consumer must look at the intended use of the product, how well it is made or how it will meet a nutritional need, and of course the price in relation to the other factors. They gave oral reasons for their decisions on the class of children's toys.

Three teams of young people will be selected to take part in district and state contests for Consumer Decision Making.

RUIDOSO CB'S
CHANN 19

Deputy Sheriff Ray Garner (Hilltopper) spoke at the Monday night meeting of the CB Club, and on behalf of Sheriff Bill Elliott (Papa Bear), asked the club's volunteer cooperation to assist the sheriff's office when called upon. Instructions were given as to how to make effective observations and what to report to law enforcement officers. The club members feel it's quite a privilege to be deemed competent enough to be of service to the community.

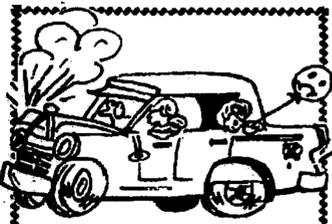

Galloping Goose, Zookeeper and Mother Nature will be handling the arrangements. More horsemen are arriving in Ruidoso everyday, and we notice that a great many of their vehicles sport antennas, so this seems an appropriate time to mention that we take our radios quite seriously here. If any of you should need help at any time, please break on channel 19 for a local base, and you'll be in good hands. Remember too, our local Police Department monitors 19, and you can find a cop when you need one!

Til next week, the Band Aid's clear and standing by...

Yours and Ours

BY CARROL W. CAGLE

SANTA FE — State energy officials believe New Mexico had a lucky break because the winter of 1977-78 was a mild one.

But they remember other ones. And more specifically, they are concerned that future winters might result in curtailments of scarce fuels, especially natural gas, for some communities.

So they have decided to try to devise an "emergency fuel allocation" plan as part of an overall New Mexico energy plan now in the early stages of development. Hearings are planned for the fuel allocation part of the plan, as well as for specific fuel components of the plan which energy chief Nick Franklin has decided to make one of his top priorities.

Franklin, who for more than three years was Gov. Jerry Apodaca's top aide, now is cabinet-level secretary of the Department of Energy and Minerals.

The department is new as of March 31, as are all the 12 cabinet units created as part of Apodaca's government reorganization plan. But in a way, it's the "newest" of all because it involves centralization of previously disparate agencies dealing with the wide array of energy production in New Mexico.

Jack O'Leary, a vigorous mover and shaker within the bureaucracy, started the idea of a state energy plan when he headed the successor agency, the Energy Resources Board, but O'Leary returned to Washington to be number two man in the U. S. Department of Energy before the plan got off the ground.

Franklin, who now heads what at least potentially could be the most powerful department in Santa Fe, seems to assume he'll only be in the job through the end of the year and that a new governor will put his own person in as secretary.

But he has taken up where O'Leary left off in pushing the development of a state energy plan.

Franklin says the plan will deal with emergency fuel allocation priorities — looking toward future winters — with community assistance for those areas hard-pressed because of "energy boom" activities, and with policy papers on the array of New Mexico's energy resources.

These papers will be subject to industry and citizen input, Franklin says, at hearings throughout the state.

The first such hearing was scheduled for this week in Alamogordo with Chairman Aubrey Dunn, D-Otero, of the Senate Finance Committee hosting the parley. It's on natural gas supplies.

Franklin and his aide, Ernest Coriz, say other hearings may be scheduled for southeastern and northwestern New Mexico on proposed petroleum policies, for the Grants area on coal and uranium, and for Albuquerque on geothermal and solar energy.

Franklin says he decided development of an energy plan would be "a priority for my tenure over here," but added that whatever is finally printed "only has as much authority as the next governor wants to give it."

It will have "policy alternatives" that the next governor can choose from to develop his own energy plan "mix," Franklin and Coriz said. And some of the alternatives may involve going to the 1979 or subsequent Legislatures for legal authority.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have been waiting for a printed apology and correction concerning a front page story which ran Thursday April 20. Perhaps this letter will serve as a stimulus.

"Chamber withholds action on art show proposals" was the headline. The first paragraph said that the coordinator of the Professional Crafts Show had not reported her plans to the Chamber's Special Events Committee. The article went on to outline her plans. Then it was stated that a "member" of the committee pointed out that the coordinator had not worked through the committee, so therefore she could not present her plans to the board.

Now the truth: Mary Myers was elected by unanimous decision of the Special Events Committee to be the coordinator of the Professional Crafts Show. There was definite need for a coordinator to make decisions so we, the committee, could be free to take care of other items. The plans which Mary presented, and which were outlined in the article, were fully discussed and decided upon by the committee. Her job as coordinator was also discussed and decided upon.

It was untrue and misleading to say that Mary had not worked through the committee. Mary has been gracious enough not to speak up in her own defense. I am demanding a statement of correction and apology from the "member" of the committee who made the false statements.

Being an artist and craftsman, I am concerned about the success of the Professional Crafts Show. Mary was making good progress until this unfortunate incident took place.

SKYTRAIN DID IT

When Freddie Laker began Skytrain service between London and New York the question was whether enough people would accept inconvenience and no-frills flight arrangements for the sake of a very low fare. After the first six months of operation, the answer is clearly yes.

During that period almost 98,000 passengers turned up at the airports not long before flight time, took their chances getting a ticket, got one, and were whisked across the Atlantic. Laker Airlines' net profit was $1,498,000. Laker is going to expand to two flights daily.

There's one other little thing: the experiment has forced competitive service by other airlines. The Skytrain is arousing success both for Laker and for the traveling public. — Alamogordo Daily News editorial

Following the announcement that a 280 acre public sanitary landfill will be located within 1.5 miles of the proposed regional airport, Bureau of Land Management and University of New Mexico officials, opposed to the airport, should have problems explaining how an airport can possibly disturb the ecology of the mesa more than a 280 acre dump, open to the public. —CD

TRUCKS AT LEGAL SPEED

Comes now Bennett C. Whitlock Jr., president of the American Trucking Association, Inc., (ATA), urging that federal funds be made available to help enforce the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit.

And Whitlock's disturbed that the proposed Federal-Air Highway Act of 1978 doesn't include funds from the Federal Highway Trust Fund to aid states in enforcing the 55 mile speed limit.

And it was Whitlock who last week said, "The ATA strongly supported the 55 mph speed limit."

Now bully for Whitlock's ATA drivers for wanting to save fuel ... and lives ... by cruising those 18-wheelers down the highways at 55.

With the question being, how come there are no ATA truck drivers operating on New Mexico highways? Or perhaps my speedometer wasn't registering 60 the last time I hid behind an 18-wheeler through what I suspected to be a radar zone ... figuring if the truck made it, I might.

I've no quarrel with the truckers driving 60 ... or more ... actually I'm envious, 'cause if I kept my clunker at 60, I'd be a bigger hazard on the highway than a herd of camels practicing a circus act.

HIGHWAY HOT LINE

Fred O'Cheskey, new top honcho of the state highway department, is, by jinkes, going to have him some communication with the citizens concerning their gripes about the highways ... and he'll have a toll free phone in May, strictly for listening purposes.

O'Cheskey suggests, however ... possibly as a money saving gesture ... that complaining citizens contact their district office before bending his ear on the hot line.

Here I thought there always was a "hot line" to the highway department ... got that idea, somehow, during the time Governor Apodaca was busy attacking his, and other, appointees serving on the highway commission.

'ERRORS' FORGIVEN

Miracles are not passe ... with, or without, Our Jimmy's assistance ... the Internal Revenue Service is now saying, in the event the taxpayer makes an "error" in computing how much tax he owes, all'll be forgiven ... if'n said error-making taxpayer'll file a Form 1040X ... admitting his error ... and kind of make amends.

Further, said errant taxpayer has three years to file the form from the due date of the original form filing, or two years from the date of the tax payment that was in error ... whichever is later.

Now ... saying you suspect ... even might have made ... an error could possibly have crept into your figuring ... like failing to report income, carelessly claiming deductions ... or confusing the amount of credit claimed ... and just in case this error could possibly be in your favor ... get that old 1040X and fill it out and file it.

On the other hand ... maybe you could wait and see if'n the IRS caught your "error" ... 'cause if'n those 1040X's are as hard to fill out as the 1040's ... it might take longer'n three years to get the job done.

CAMPAIGN SIGN LAW

Fred "Hot Line" O'Cheskey is now tangling with the politicians ... seemingly assuming politics had nothing to do with his present position ... and is advising all political candidates that it's a no-no to place campaign signs in the right of way or adjacent to the Interstate System or the primary highways in New Mexico.

Never knew Fred was as dedicated to keeping American beautiful as Lady Bird Johnson ... but if'n he keeps all those political signs out of public sight ... highway driving'll be a sight more pleasant ... no?

BRIEF BIT: Congress is now girding to study an inflation plan ... gadzooks, does this mean they're now going to plan inflation for us ... CD

TASTELESS CRITICS

Inmate rebellions against prison conditions — particularly the food served — are not new. Institutional food frequently does leave much to be desired.

But prisoners in the Schevenigen prison in the Netherlands seem to be a particularly difficult group to please. They staged a mass rebellion because of the fare the new French chef was preparing.

Cut out the rich pastries, venison and elaborate sauces, the prisoners demanded. All they want is good old meat balls and stew.

That was one request prison authorities were able to approve without hesitation. Meat balls and stew it is for the boys in Schevenigen. As for the new French chef, little has been heard from him. He is totally distressed, no doubt, by the obviously uncouth appetites of his clients. — Alamogordo Daily News

FAITH HELPS US APPRECIATE A FATHER'S WISDOM

Despite a variety of unflattering images depicting a father as either too stern or too spineless, the true picture is more likely that of a kindly, hard-working provider and protective shield for his family; the wise arbiter of right and wrong; the author of firm but loving discipline; and a tower of strength at all times. A father tries to conceal his anxieties while setting the example of character and courage for his children, and must provide the answer to any physical or moral crisis that may arise. The Bible is filled with passages in praise of a father's wisdom and guidance, and you should learn to honor and respect your father at the Church of your choice; not merely on special occasions, but every day of the year.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne — I have frequently seen pictures of caribou and reindeer. They appear to be the same animal, with different names. Are they one in the same, but with different names in different areas? Cora K., Missouri

Dear Cora — No, they are not. They are both of the deer family, but of two different species. The different characteristics of appearance are readily identifiable when they are seen together.

Dear Wayne — Would you state if you are opposed to or in favor of gun control legislation? Jerry Q., New Jersey

Dear Jerry — Ugh! I don't intend to get into a running battle about gun control in this column, but I will state my opinion, knowing full well that this road has been traveled before. And I realize there are valid arguments on both sides.

I am opposed to legislation which would ban or require registration of guns in an indiscriminate manner. I don't totally disagree with legislation which would ban the so called "Saturday night special," if it would stop there, but unfortunately the control is aimed toward a broader end.

I think it's time we faced the facts. It is not now, and never has been, a difficult matter for criminals to obtain firearms, regardless of the controls imposed. Thus, the hardships of gun control are imposed upon law abiding citizens; not criminals. The greatest deterrent to gun related crimes is to strictly enforce the laws already on the books and to deal more firmly with persons convicted of such crimes. We don't need more laws, only stricter enforcement.

Then there is the argument that if guns were banned, or strictly controlled, it would save lives during domestic quarrels.

An example might be the irate man who takes a gun and forthrightly eliminates his brother-in-law from the family. But if he was enraged to the point of murder he would likely carry it out with another implement if a gun wasn't handy. Maybe a knife, or poker, a tire iron, or perhaps a rolling pin. Shall we then, too, ban these basic implements?

The idea of legislation which would require total registration, or forbid a citizen to own a gun, has very serious implications indeed! In the history of man, a major factor in governmental control over its people involves the confiscation of their arms. Never, you say? But with total registration, the feat of confiscation could be accomplished very handily. While I'm certainly not suggesting that current legislation is aimed toward this end, the reality of future enforcement is definitely a possibility if we allow the initial groundwork to be laid. I'm only suggesting that we give the whole concept the serious thought it deserves.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

April Moves Along
April; the month of fruit blossoms, new leaves, and early spring flowers — this month, of the awakening of the world, is moving rapidly along.

And yet, spring itself is moving more slowly and calmly than usual. The Queen of Seasons seems not to be in a hurry.

There is still snow on the mountain so that the west wind down the vale is cool through the day and still cooler through the night. Then there is less west wind than usual, and more wind from the North. From somewhere among the snow-capped peaks of the Rocky Mountains away to the north comes a cold blast on the wings of the north wind as it sings its little song around the eaves of the house, and out through the big apricot tree. This tree is waving its new green leaves with pride over the few young apricots which are growing rapidly in the mellow sun and the cool air fresh from the mountain.

Blossoms Holding Back A Little

I notice that the apple trees are holding back a few blooms in reserve. This may be on account of the cool nights — especially in the upper reaches of the apple belt. I know that the old apple trees on the upper Bonito above the dam are just now beginning to bloom. These trees were planted years ago by the pioneers, and every year the trees faithfully bloom and bear fruit. They should do well this year on account of the good moisture in the ground from the winter snow. Some of the good old varieties are found in these old orchards along the upper Bonito — like Black Twig, Shenango, Ben Davis, and the old time varieties of Winesap.

Pappy Johnson, back home from the hospital in Houston, has been irrigating his apple trees and is getting ready to spray. Pappy says that his trees are blooming in a way that he has not seen in other years. Some blossoms are out and the petals already dropped; and on the same tree the blossom buds are just beginning to open.

Maybe the trees have learned through years of experience to hold some of their blossoms in reserve.

Signs Are Good For The Apples

The apple, and other fruit also, are heavily loaded with blossoms and young fruit this year. There is a good winter season in the ground. And the river is running full of good water for irrigation of the orchards and fields.

An apple is a marvellously healthful fruit wherever you find it; and the apple is grown in the temperate regions all over the world — the second most abundant fruit on the earth, next to the orange.

Our apples here on the slopes of the White Mountain have something special all their own to add to the apple world. The snow water, the high altitude, the good soil, and the abundant sunshine — all these advantages and many more besides bring us an apple of good flavor and many qualities good for our health.

A few years ago I read in an encyclopedia that there are thirty-five thousand varieties of apples in the world. There used to be a hundred or so popular varieties in the United States. There are close to that number today. In the local orchards the main varieties of apples are Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Rome Beauty and several kinds of Winesaps.

These are favorite varieties through the years and although each variety has its outstanding qualities, they all are fine for eating raw, cider, pies, baked, apple sauce, jellies, and jams and many other of the many ways of preparing apples.

So let us begin now to let the world know of the good fruit that will be ready in the late summer and the fall.

Swallows Arrive

The fourth of April, the little advance guard of the swallows came up from Mexico. Then he went back and returned again. Usually the main band follows the scout in a few days.

This time it was not until April twenty-one that the main band arrived. In the evening they were circling high in the sky catching the rays of the sun which had already set behind the mountain. These last rays of the sun turned them into birds of silver, like the silver birds flying over the sunrise mountain before the sun comes up.

I remember as if it were yesterday when my Mother first showed me the birds of silver light, flying like creatures from Heaven over the mountain in the early morning.

And whenever I see these birds of celestial light, God sends me a blessing and my Mother's spirit is fondly near. And my heart is filled with the happiness of Heaven.

Snow Birds Still Here

The snow birds are still here, a few of them, chirping happily and seeming in no hurry to leave.

And the little pair of swallows are perched together on the REA lines making plans for their nest and the raising of their young.

This is the first time I have seen the swallows and the snow birds here at the same time.

Let us rejoice and give thanks to God for the many happy days and all the blessings of spring.

An Energy Checked Efficiency Home is one that has been constructed with economy of operation in mind. Caulking and weatherstripping around doors and windows is one way a home can qualify under this program. Storm doors and windows can also be a part of an Energy Checked Efficiency Home. If the total glass area is 10% or less of the floor area, the home earns even more points toward qualifying as Energy Checked Efficient. When you see this sign in front of or throughout a home, you can be assured that we have inspected the home carefully and it has passed the test that can mean savings to you through years of lower operating costs.
