

Hunters warned 'though fire danger is low

Although the early snows will decrease the severity of wildfires, a threat of fire danger still exists, Steve Makowski, Smokey Bear Ranger District fire management officer, said Monday.

High winds may dry out the southern facing slopes which would bring potential fire danger.

Makowski said most autumn fires are caused by hunters' warming and cooking fires, which are permitted if one person remains in camp to watch the fire.

"An unattended fire is a citable offense," he said, reminding hunters to use all fire precautions, especially, drowning and stirring the blaze until it is completely dead.

"This year, we also are asking the hunters to pack their trash out. In past years the Forest Service has provided special trash pens throughout Smokey Bear District of Lincoln National Forest, but because of the time, number of personnel and expense involved, the pens will not be put up this year.

"It will be the hunter's responsibility to bag up the trash and dispose of it properly," he said.

"Statistics show, not everyone will 'bag' a deer, this hunting season; however, everyone could 'bag' a load of trash and dispose of it properly," Makowski added.

"The effort expended to leave a clean campsite is minimal, while the tax dollars necessary to clean up debris is tremendous," he said.

"According to scientists at Penn State University, unsightly litter lasts a long time. An aluminum can will not decompose for almost 500 years.

"An ordinary plastic wrapper will last 225 years and a glass bottle left in the woods today could still be there thousands of years later."

Makowski added, "A legacy for future generations should not be a countryside filled with old bottles and aluminum cans. If all a hunter 'bags' on his hunt is trash, the knowledge that he left a clean campsite should be rewarding.

"A sanitary landfill is maintained for trash; Lincoln National Forest isn't."

Lodger's tax money at issue

Mayor's motorcycle misgivings muffled

BY JOHN NEYLAND
Staff Writer

The Village Trustees Tuesday voted to allow funds from the Lodger's Tax to be used in the promotion of the annual motorcycle convention, but Mayor Lloyd Davis expressed his displeasure that such monies are used in the financing of private money-making ventures.

Not making a motion to change the current allocation procedures and saying that it is "only my opinion," Davis said that he thought public money should be used so that the village benefits from its use, not just one person.

"I do not believe that any organization should be allocated funds whether it be legal or not legal, Davis said. "I'm speaking of Mule-O-Rama — anything where it's run by one person."

Davis' comments were made during discussion of whether Aspenade promoter Til Thompson be allowed to receive $5,000 in promotion money from the Lodger's Tax.

Despite Davis' comments, the trustees voted that Thompson be granted the funds for promotion, but that they not be granted in advance.

Also concerning the Lodger's Tax, the trustees discussed how they can make a delinquent account pay up, although at this time there is only one delinquent account in the village.

"There is only one delinquent account and under the privacy act I can't disclose its identity," Village manager Jim Hine said. "We are to have priority to go in and audit their books" if an account is overdue.

The trustees, in other action, discussed the possibility of remodeling village hall. The hall has been condemned in the past and a remodeling job will cost a great deal.

"I think that's going to be a costly expenditure," Frank Sayner said. "That whole jail is in miserable condition."

The trustees would like to move into a new village hall sometime in the future but Mayor Davis questioned the likelihood of such a move.

"I don't know that it's wise to spend money on the old one," Davis said, "but, I don't know if we have any choice."

After a short discussion, the trustees decided to "back off until the next meeting" before making any motions.

In further action the trustees called upon village street superintendent Jack Lamay concerning the purchase of several new machines and crew to aid in the improvement of village streets.

Among the items Lamay wants to purchase are a grader, an oil storage tank, and an additional truck. He also wants to hire an additional crew of two.

Mayor Davis encouraged the purchase of these items, if only one at a time, because, he said, he believes a major investment now would save money in the long run. He explained the village had spent $2500 renting a grader so far and if that had been put down toward a purchase initially, "we'd be far down the road towards having one."

Davis also explained that owning certain machines would help Lamay and his crews keep the streets in good condition. This would serve also to keep the village's machinery in good condition.

"It's our staff that hits it (chuckholes, bumps etc.) 25 times a day," Davis said. "We should improve streets because it's hurting our people."

Davis explained that the only way Ruidoso may ever be able to upgrade its roads is by purchasing the machinery. He said if the village provides the machinery and labor, the state will foot the bill. It is the only way for Ruidoso to move "down the road to firm street maintenance," he said.

The trustees then made a motion to call for bids for the machinery Lamay requested. The motion carried.

In other trustee action: — Sayner told of the plan for Ruidoso to receive over $90,000 in state and federal funds for improvements on Two Rivers Park. The improvements will include rebuilding of tables, restrooms, paving and landscaping. All Ruidoso has to do to insure the reception of the funds is "provide one-fourth in kind services," Sayner said.

— Heard problems of the Animal Control Officer that they needed a mechanical answering service so they can receive calls even when out of the office and that they also need in-car radios for two-way communication. Currently, they use Citizen Band radios.

— Discussed the possibility of hiring an interim building inspector while current building inspector Chuck Brown is recovering from surgery. "Within a week I think we'll do that," Davis said.

— Voted that Bill Uihline be appointed to the Lodger's Tax Committee filling a vacancy.

— Announced a meeting at Ruidoso Downs Municipal Building November 6 at 7 p.m. to discuss application for Step 3 funding concerning the Joint Use Board for Ruidoso/Ruidoso Downs sewer facilities.

Armed pair sought after Alto robbery Wednesday

Two unidentified males robbed the Victor Pioletti home in Alto at gunpoint about 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The pair went to the home on foot seeking assistance and once inside, one tied Pioletti while the other ransacked the home, according to deputy Chris Volquardsen.

The pair left with numerous items including furs and jewelry.

The sheriff's department spokesman said the two probably have left town, adding they have a possible lead on their identities.

The two were both white males, one with long, dark curly hair and blue eyes, a brown shirt and leather jacket, and the other with reddish hair, a short beard, light tan pants and white tennis shoes.

FAA representatives to meet with airport commission

Area Federal Aviation Administration coordinator Bill Howard and state aviation department official Bob White will attend the monthly Sierra Blanca Airport Commission meeting at 2 p.m. Friday in the Ruidoso Downs village hall.

At the meeting, which had been scheduled for Thursday the group will discuss organizing an appeal to the Bureau of Land Management decision to deny their request for land on which to build a regional airport.

Airport gets grant of over $53,000

The Ruidoso Municipal Airport has been granted over $53,000 by the Department of Transportation. Under the Airport Development of Aid program, the airport will receive $53,605 to build fences and an equipment storage garage.

Ad deadline changed for ski tabloid

The advertising deadline for The Ruidoso News annual ski tabloid has been changed to Monday, November 13 at 5 p.m.

The change was made so that full distribution of the ski promotion tabloid can be made during the Thanksgiving season.

Advertisers are asked to contact Carmen Edwards or Caron Snow, telephone 257-4001, for rates and information.

In addition to being included with The News, as a special section when released, copies of the tabloid will be distributed during the peak season to familiarize skiers with the services and attractions available in Ruidoso.

P&Z approves Camelot road

The Planning and Zoning Commission gave tentative approval Wednesday evening to the proposed road connecting Camelot Subdivision Mountain Tracts with Sudderth Drive.

The road would cross over the mountain, through Schoolhouse Park and enter Sudderth Drive at the fire department substation where a stoplight presently is being installed.

The tentative approval allows development engineer Tim Collins, Burke-Collins "to explore the proposal on a preliminary basis."

For final approval, he must show the grade of the road is not too steep for fire suppression equipment, the scar from the road can feasibly be revegetated and adequate drainage provided.

Before the commission gave tentative approval, chairman Mike Waldron said, "I would like to admonish the board to remember a few points when making a decision.

"There is no estimate on the landscaping costs which puts a burden on our decision making capability on how to insure sufficient bonding on the developers.

"There also is a problem of longevity. There usually is a two year responsibility period (on road maintenance). With this issue, we might need to place a different period on it."

He added, the commission must "prepare to protect" the village interests. A similar request had been tabled by the commission two months earlier to allow village attorney Ron Harris and Collins to further review the issue.

An opinion was needed from Harris because the road will cross a public park. During Wednesday evening's session,

Collins said the road through the park would allow the village access to the upper portions of the village land, enabling it to enlarge the park.

In other business Wednesday, the commission:

— Reconsidered a replat of Lots 1 and 2, Block 11, Cree Meadows Country Club subdivision as requested by the village council.

Owner of the lots Truett Doyle, who wants to divide the two lots into three, will

Ruidoso schools aid learning disabled

In the past, children with learning disabilities were considered mentally retarded, but today with new diagnostic techniques, these children are receiving training enabling them to live productive, happy lives.

"Special education used to be synonymous with mental retardation," Karen Tillman, diagnostician and counselor for the Ruidoso School System said Tuesday.

Persons with learning disabilities are known for becoming successful as adults because of the hard work of having to overcome obstacles.

They are often gifted although they are learning disabled. Famous persons who overcame the obstacles of learning disabilities include:

— Albert Einstein, who was thought mentally slow, failed math and his first college entrance exam.

— Winston Churchill, who couldn't learn in school, had a private, specially trained tutor.

— Hans Christian Andersen never learned to read or write.

— General George Patton was 12-years-old and former president Woodrow Wilson was 11 before they learned to read.

— Former President Lyndon Johnson's daughter, Lucy, still cannot read adequately.

— Former vice president Nelson Rockefeller overcame being a severe dyslexic and today can conduct press conferences in three languages. For his daily briefs, he listens to tapes instead of trying to read long reports.

"Twenty years ago, children with learning disabilities were identified as retarded because educators didn't have the diagnostic tools to identify (learning disability)."

"A child who doesn't learn is seldom retarded; the incidence of retardation is less than two-percent while incidence learning disability is 12 to 15 percent.

"In the Ruidoso School System, there are 150 special education students, and 112 of them having learning disabilities."

She added, "We don't stay away from the term special education. We tell parents that it means anything which can't be taken care of in a regular classroom."

Mrs. Tillman listed exceptionalities in children which require special education as: a behavior disorder or emotional problem; communication disorder which might need speech therapy; gifted children whose needs are not met by the regular classroom curriculum; hearing impairment (from hard of hearing to deafness); mentally handicapped; multiple disabilities; learning disabled; physical impairment; or visual impairment.

Included in such exceptionalities requiring special education are the learning disabled which "are determined by an average or above average intelligence in a child and evidence of a process disorder which results in academic deficiency."

Mrs. Tillman defined a process disorder in the learning disabled as a problem with a sensory mechanism including auditory or visual processing of information.

"An auditory problem would not mean a hearing problem which would require a hearing aid, but instead would indicate an auditory problem where the child hears but cannot remember what he has heard, or he might hear a distorted sound," she said.

"A visual process problem would not indicate a sight problem, but how the child saw, his perception might be different. He might see distorted images or have difficulty remembering what he saw.

Another learning disability is "poor organization of visual and auditory input."

"A word of several syllables may be unintelligible to such a child."

"The biggest implication (of the process problems) usually is in reading."

"If a child doesn't see the symbol or letter as others see it or if he doesn't remember what he sees, then not enough will carry over for the child to learn to read."

Mrs. Tillman said, "A child can be taught the sound for 'B' but if he has an auditory problem, he doesn't associate 'B' with the sound and so can't sound out words."

Prospects for teaching the learning disabled are good because of their high intelligence, Mrs. Tillman said.

"The children learn to compensate and with training build their process skills. They become 'try harders.'"

"If we identify an auditory problem, we work on deficit skills, but teach in the visual learning channel. Once you begin working on the problem, it's not unusual to make two to three years progress in a short time."

Mrs. Tillman said educators are sometimes able to help children with learning disabilities in both auditory and visual channels through kinesthetic learning.

"They are taught to trace sandpaper letters and use the sense of touch to learn."

She said there are numerous theories on the cause of learning disabilities with the predominant theory being slight brain damage.

Other theories range from a chemical imbalance in the body to diet as the cause.

"There are studies to give some credence to all the theories."

Because most children with learning disabilities are of average or above average intelligence, there are additional problems.

"Because such a child is bright, he may be overlooked. The child will make a remark in class or at home which gives the impression of intelligence. So, a parent or teacher will wait until there is an obvious academic problem before acting. Usually the child is behind then and has to play a catch up game.

"You can teach a child at the level he is capable of learning, but the child may (have difficulties) in remembering."

"With the learning disabled, you develop their memory skills, so they can retain information."

Mrs. Tillman compared learning disabilities with a savings account.

"You know your savings account has money in it, but without the passbook, you can't get at it."

"With a learning disability, the child is taught, but cannot process the information at will."

"A learning disability also is like a car with dirty spark plugs. It will run, but it doesn't run efficiently."

"A child with a learning disability can learn, but his efficiency level in learning is so poor he can't keep up with the class."

An additional problem with learning disabled is one of self concept Mrs. Tillman said.

"One of every nine fails to learn and so learns to fail."

"These are children who are bright and realize their differences."

In our culture there is a great deal of emphasis on good grades and normal behavior, Mrs. Tillman said.

A child with a learning disability will "sense he is falling behind and often becomes a behavior problem."

"In the past there was a high incidence of juvenile delinquency among the learning disabled."

"A New Mexico study showed 90 percent of the juvenile delinquents seen in juvenile court had a learning disability."

Mrs. Tillman added, children with learning disabilities were dropouts and discipline problems in the past.

"There have always been problem kids, but their problems weren't identified."

"We feel we are at least headed in the right direction at this time. We don't solve all the problems, but we solve many of them."

ATTENDING THE LITERACY workshop sponsored by Altrusa Club last weekend were, left to right, seated, Mady Holstein, Karen Phillips, Gerry Owen and Ruth Wimberly, all

Literacy Council formed

The Lincoln County Literacy Council was formed last week as a result of the literacy workshop sponsored by Altrusa Club at La Junta Guest Ranch.

Officers are Katherine Finley, president, Ruth Wimberly, vice president, Gerry Owen, secretary-treasurer, and Liz Munro, Ruidoso coordinator.

The council will organize tutoring sessions in the home or at the library for illiterate adults and teenagers.

For more information contact the coordinator at 257-5323 or the council at P.O. Box 139, Alto, 88312.

Approximately 20 persons from Ruidoso, Roswell, Fort Stanton, Capitan and Alto attended the two day Laubach Literacy International Workshop taught last weekend by Betty Townsley, Earla Martin and Jane Clarke, all of Roswell.

Scholarship students to the workshop were Nancy and Kathy Finley, Capitan, who received scholarships from Katherine Finley, Alto; Gail Stackpole, Carrizozo, who received a scholarship from Mary Ellen Payne, county extension agent.

Attending the 15 hour course were Ruth Wimberly, Gerry Owen, Mady Holstein, Karen Phillips, Liz Munro and Jean Singer; all from Ruidoso; Lorenzo Calpert, Fort Stanton; Gail Stackpole, Carrizozo; Patsy Mulkey, Corona; Beverly Merritt, Yesso; Kathy and Nancy Finley, Capitan; Katherine Finley and Betty Montero, Alto; and Arlene Crawford, Milly and Jim Ray, Julie Evers and Diane Hammond, Roswell.

Saint Anne's dollhouse wins best of show

The miniature adobe dollhouse made by Saint Anne's Guild of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount won the best of show ribbon at the Museum of Albuquerque Foundation doll and miniature show October 28 and 29.

The dollhouse was entered by Mrs. Dennis Henry, Las Cruces, who won it at the Christmas in July Bazaar, July 29.

According to Cathy Annala, guild spokesman, there was no category for the dollhouse and therefore, it couldn't receive a first or second place prize.

But, ballots were passed out to each visitor to the show, and the dollhouse was selected as "best of show" or the "people's choice," she said.

There were a total of 45 exhibits in the show, Mrs. Annala said.

The dollhouse, which presently is on display in Las Cruces will also be on display November 18-19 at the Episcopal convention in Roswell.

Duplicate Bridge Club meets

The Duplicate Bridge Club will meet Monday November 6 at the Adult Recreation Club at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Ruidoso meets Estancia; eye upset of the year

The Ruidoso Warriors travel to Estancia for a meeting with the class AA number one ranked unit Friday with 13 seniors making their final appearance.

Despite what has been a disappointing season for the Warriors, head coach Darrel Stierwalt thinks his kids can pull off the upset of the year. In fact, he believes the poor season may help the Warriors against Estancia.

"I'm hoping he'll take us lightly," Stierwalt said. "I don't know if he'll prepare for us the way they should. With all the talent he has they don't have to prepare much."

"Our morale has been real good," he added. "Some of the seniors are starting to realize this is going to be their last game. That makes them kind of sad. I noticed it last night. Overall, we're up for the ball game. We all want to get a shot at number one."

"We've got nothing to lose," Stierwalt said, "and everything to gain so it'll be an all-out effort. We'll give it everything we've got and knock off the number one team."

Knocking off number one is not going to be an easy task for the Warriors. It hasn't been an easy task for anyone. Estancia is undefeated and averaging over 24 points per game. Their defense is as stingy as their offense is powerful. They are giving up barely three points per game.

"They have an excellent ball club," Stierwalt understated. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised if they won state championship."

One of the reasons they are in the running for the state championship, and one of the reasons Stierwalt has such respect for them, is their fullback.

"Their fullback is a tremendous kid," he said. "Not only is he a good football player but he won the state championship in the shot put and the discus. There's not an ounce of fat on him."

"That's just what Estancia needs in their triple option wishbone offense. The key to the wishbone is establishing a strong inside game until the defense concentrates on that. When that happens, the halfbacks take over and run outside."

"They'll run that fullback at us until we stop it," Stierwalt said. "If we don't stop it he'll keep running at us."

Stierwalt believes the key to stopping him will be up to his tackles. If they do a sound job though, Estancia will turn to its outside game.

The tackles have got to stop the fullback," he said. "If we commit anybody else to the fullback, he'll hurt us on that outside option. They have some real good halfbacks."

In an effort to shut down, or slow down, Estancia's wishbone, Stierwalt has made a few changes in his defensive alignment. He hopes his defense can confuse Estancia's quarterback on his keys.

"We'll play a 5-2 invert," he said, "with the cornerbacks helping out on the run. We won't give the quarterback the same read everytime. We'll screw up that key by changing responsibilities, make him pitch early or maybe he'll think he has a clear path and when he tries to turn up field we'll stick him."

To combat the triple option, Stierwalt his coaches have been working against one all week in practice. His only fear is that the players don't learn their new assignments by Friday.

"Everybody has a certain man on the triple option," he explained. "That's the only way to defend the triple option. That puts a lot of pressure on the outside."

Stierwalt is hoping the Warrior offense can put a lot of pressure on Estancia's outside so the Warrior offense, can go to work on the middle.

"Their defense is extremely tough," he said. "We'll try to get to the outside."

Stierwalt will also try to take advantage of Estancia's aggressive defense. He plans to run a lot of counters, hoping to get Estancia's flow going one way and then have his backs cut behind it.

"We'll run a lot of counters and counter options," he said. "We'll show flow one way and come back against it. We'll come back across the grain. We'll throw the football and make them adjust to our passing game. We'll make him come out of his five defense. Then we'll try to run to the weakside if he adjusts. If he doesn't, we'll keep passing."

Although this has been a disappointing season for the Warriors, there has been one bright spot in the haze. Stierwalt has had the opportunity to play some of the underclassmen. He will do the same this week.

"We'll stay with the two platoon," he said. "I'm pleased with the results from it."

Stierwalt hopes his troops can put together a solid performance in the final game of the season. So far, Ruidoso has looked good in spots, but never for four quarters.

"I'd like to put it all together," he said, "play a complete game for four full quarters. Nothing would please me more than to have a big upset."

Little man handles big job

BY JOHN NEYLAND
Sports Writer

Scott Neal has a dream. That dream is to play professional football. Although his size is not of the usual awesomeness as most of the National Football League players, Neal has beaten the odds before. Like this year.

Although Neal only weighs 137 pounds, he mans one of the outside linebacking positions for the Ruidoso Warriors. Linebackers generally come in packages the size of elephants and pack as much punch as a ton of dynamite. But Neal doesn't let his lack of size hinder him.

"I don't take my size away from myself," he said. "Coach (Barry) Nelson told me one time that size doesn't mean a thing. Even in basketball if you get position on a big man you can do anything you want with him."

Neal doesn't use his size as an excuse either, which would be acceptable under the circumstances. But then, Scott Neal doesn't make excuses. Period.

"My size doesn't really bother me any," he said. "They (opponents) don't necessarily run over me because of my size. When they do it's either like I didn't do my job on that play or they just got a good run."

The only complaint Neal makes about his size is that, when he is in the lineup at quarterback, he can't always see over his own line while trying to pass.

"It's hard to see over the line," he said. "We have a couple of pass plays when the receiver cuts in I can't see him so I just throw the ball where he's supposed to be."

Although Neal doesn't have the quarterback job sewed up next year, he is the backup to senior Borde Williams now. He hopes he can nail down the job when Williams graduates in the spring. If he does, he thinks the Warriors will have a different look next year.

"I'd like to be quarterback," he said. "I like to run a lot. We have a couple of plays like run-pass options. I like to run those. The coaches'll use me as a runner more if they let me play quarterback. I think we'll mix it up a lot."

Whatever success Neal has at the quarterback slot, he will give due reward to Williams.

"Borde has taken me under his wing," Neal said. "I'm real tight with Borde. We go around together and stuff. He helps me out."

Neal also points to the men in his family as having helped him a lot, although in different ways. His older brother, now an athlete at Eastern New Mexico, led Scott by example. His father is an inspirational leader.

"My brother used to go to school here," Neal said. "He played in the North-South All-Star game in Albuquerque. He caught a touchdown pass. I went up there to see that."

"My dad inspires me a lot," he said. "I get up a lot when he comes to the games. He's kind of disabled. When he comes that really helps me out. He used to play football in high school and was real good. He played fullback and called the plays so he knows what's going on. If he sees something I do wrong he tells me after the game."

But Neal doesn't attribute his success to his brother or his father. In fact, he doesn't quite know what to attribute it to.

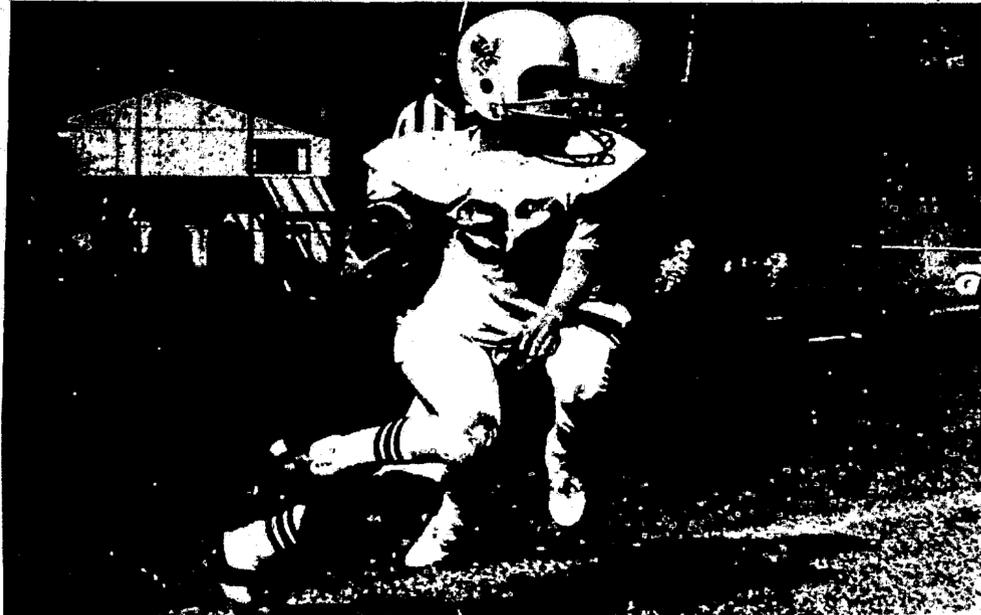

"I guess I'm doing my job from my position. I like playing linebacker. I don't know if coaches look at me like I'm a freshman or if I'm just a player," Neal said.

The coaches probably don't look at Neal like he's a freshman. The reason is simple: he doesn't act like one. The way he acts is like a man who knows how to handle a little bit of celebration.

"I don't really think I'll get the big head. Like I said, my dad helps out and stuff. My dad said if you're good you don't need to say it. Other people will say it for you. A lot of people that aren't good go around bragging they are. My parents always told me if you think you are good just keep it to yourself," Neal said. "That's really helped me out. I was brought up real well."

So I asked Neal if he thought he was good. He didn't say.

Ruidoso volleyball season on the line

The Ruidoso girls volleyball team travels to Hatch today for a pair of games they must win if they expect to earn a spot in the post season playoffs. Considering their two losses last Saturday, the Warriors face an uphill struggle all the way.

Head coach Sergio Castanon was hoping for a sweep of last Saturday's games so the Warriors would earn the number one seed for today's tournament. The number one seed would have meant the Warriors would only have to play one game, that being the finals. As it now stands, the Warriors will have to play, and win, two games Thursday to make the playoffs. As dim as their hopes seem, Castanon hasn't thrown in the crying towel, however.

"We're not going to give it to them," he said. "They're going to have to take it from us."

All season long Castanon has maintained the Warriors have the ability to be a solid volleyball team. He hasn't changed his tune, but time is running out on the Warriors.

"I know we have talent," he said. "We've just got to put it all together."

Putting it all together, Castanon hopes, would happen if the Warriors could jump out to an early lead against their opponents. "If we can get on top of them early we'll do okay," Castanon said. "I'll start my best servers first so we can get some points and some confidence. We're going to have to work hard at the net and back line — pick 'em up before they hit the floor. We're going to have to make all of our serves."

WHAT IS A PROBATE JUDGE?
The Probate Judge presides over the Probate Court. It is the function of the Probate Court to assure that the property or estate of a deceased person goes to those persons entitled to it and to no one else.

WHY AM I A CANDIDATE FOR THAT POSITION?
I filed for the position of Probate Judge because, as a practicing attorney with extensive experience in probate matters both under the new and the old probate code, I am firmly convinced that a lawyer's legal training is an absolute requirement to properly perform the duties of Probate Judge.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Indian Summer On the Eve Of Halloween

This is being sent to you on October thirty, the eve of Halloween; and all the world is bright with the colors of this season, so full of happiness. Jack Frost, that great friend of children, always helps out the Halloween season by painting all over the country-side one Indian Summer picture after another, featuring full Halloween colors.

The true Indian summer began the day after my birthday on the twenty-seventh. In the morning of the twenty eighth the world was covered with a silvery frost which turned all the leaf colors into deeper shades.

All in a day, the river trees came out in their full Autumn colors. The oaks, a deep bronze-gold, the poplars and cottonwoods a soft sunlight gold, and the Box Elder and Walnut a light gold. In the oak brush on the mountain sides the Indian Summer

Halloween colors are shining all across the mountain world, in light and deep cherry red and crimson and many shades of amber, orange and light yellow and gold—all Halloween colors. The grass in the mountain meadows is all touched with light red and orange, and the large apricot tree is perfect Halloween decoration, a tree of solid orange golden leaves shining in the afternoon Indian Summer sun as if lighted from the inside like the pumpkin jack-o-lanterns we used to make in childhood. We would hollow out a pumpkin and put a funny face on it to be lighted up by a candle on the inside.

We would carry these Jack-o-lanterns around the neighborhood from house to house where we would have Halloween games like diving for apples in a tub of water, or trying to bite apples suspended on a string. We would also feast on all kinds of good things like pumpkin pie, and blueberry pie, a great feature of Alaska, the land of many wild berries.

Halloween goes back in our lives a long ways. Among the ancient Celtic people, the year ended on October thirty-one, and there were celebrations for a good harvest and of storing food for the winter. The harvest was shared with all the people; and the spirits of the loved ones of the celebrators returned from Heaven to take part in the gladness times, sharing the warmth, good cheer, and happiness of the day.

The Halloween traditions that have been such a delight to children were brought across the water by the Scotch, and especially the Irish along in 1940.

In the church traditions Halloween comes on the eve of all Saint's day, the time for honoring all saints. And this message will reach you on Thursday, November second, which is all soul's day, the time of honoring all souls.

So you see this is a very sacred season of the year.

November, The Thankful Month

As I write you these words on the eve of Halloween, my heart is full of gratefulness for the happiness of October, I thank you for helping make my birthday month so full of joy.

And we all will feel the blessing of Thanksgiving day daily increasing in our hearts through these Indian Summer days. Today the West wind has begun to stir the golden autumn leaves all up and down the vale. We are in a world of amber and light crimson fields, soft green hills outlined against a blue sky, distant mountains all in a purple haze—all decorated with every shade of orange, yellow, amber and gold, trimmed here and there in crimson of the woodbine and mountain maple.

Over all the Indian Summer mountain land the gentle wind breathes a song of deep contentment, lulling us to dreamy happiness full of brightly glowing memories of childhood days.

Indian Summer has a spirit all its own filling our soul with songs of gratefulness, and bringing the blessed spirits of our loved ones in Heaven close to us in fond rejoicing.

Bird Messages

This is the time of year when the world can change its moods from day to day, and we have many little seasons with a season.

For just a while, there was a gold wave of air suddenly moved in from the north. The wood peckers came from all directions making their Autumn calls from the hill sides. One after another they came pounding against the house, asking if they could carve a door for a house for the winter. Then they could be heard with their rat-tat-tat out on a hollow tree, busy making a winter home.

Out under the cedar tree the snow birds were all in a little group chirping with delight, talking things over. Are they talking about snow?

Now there is a light cloud out to the south. Still it is warm outside, seventy in the shade. There could be a little snow on its way somewhere. Whether it arrives or not, the Indian Summer mood will remain in the world, made more beautiful by the magic snow.

Enjoy the Indian Summer, keep smiling, and God bless you.

Student duties when riding buses outlined by school

(Second of a series)

In addition to listing regulations regarding other drivers and bus drivers, the Ruidoso School System has announced a series of responsibilities for students riding school buses.

These responsibilities and regulations are listed in a brochure which will be distributed to each member of the school system this month.

"Parents should be willing to read the rules, observe them and see that children are given instruction (on) their responsibilities," Superintendent of Schools Pat Valliant said.

"There is no substitute for training to develop safe habits in pedestrian and vehicular traffic. Much of this can be done prior to a child's entering school and carried on through the years."

Bus coordinator Donny Weems said the school system would not assume responsibility or assume liability arising from accidents caused in whole or part by student disobedience of bus loading or riding rules.

Student transportation is a privilege, not a right extended to qualified students. Those who do not obey the rules may have their transportation privileges revoked by school officials.

The regulations governing students very simply can be divided into lists of do's and don'ts.

STUDENTS SHOULD:
— Obey the driver promptly. The driver is in full charge of students when they are riding on the bus. When a teacher or school administrator is on the bus, they also are

Good reasons to vote against Bruce King

Bruce King could have reduced your taxes when he was Governor, but he didn't. He kept pouring it on and piling up a big surplus.

During his administration, state government spending went up $136 million . . . New Mexico dropped from 47th to 49th, among the states, in per capita income . . . and unemployment jumped from 8% to 10%.

We can't stand any more progress like that.

Good reasons to vote for Joe Skeen

Joe Skeen's first priority is to cut taxes. He'll start by removing the gross receipts tax on food, drugs and health services. Then, he'll rework the property tax system to bring relief where it's long overdue.

He's committed to cutting back, not expanding, government. Joe Skeen will insist that every state agency toe the line and deliver more service for less money. And, he'll sign a Right to Work bill to attract new industries and more jobs.

November 7th, we'll step back . . . or move ahead. The choice is yours.

SKEEN
GOVERNOR

A man you can believe in.

School Scoop

A Weekly Activities Column
 Written by Ruidoso High School Journalism Students

The art students at Ruidoso High School are preparing for a month long exhibit of their work in Santa Fe. The work will be on exhibit at the Educational Finance and Cultural Affairs Department from the middle of November until the middle of December. One of the students who will be exhibiting his work is Eugene Botella, a senior Mescalero Apache student. Most of his works deal with the Indian culture of which he is a part. He will be exhibiting a variety of artwork including silk screen, water color and pencil drawings. Miss Kim Tezak seems to have high hopes for Eugene to become a great artist.

Thanksgiving holidays will begin Wednesday, November through Friday. The students will have an extra day for the holidays this year.

There is only one new student this week, Don Miner, a junior from Mountain Grove, Missouri.

The Roswell Symphony Orchestra performance at the high school last Monday, was attended by the high school, middle school and elementary students.

Saturday, November 4, the RHS Warrior Pride Band will travel to Artesia to compete in the SENMMEA District Marching Band Festival. Jal is in Ruidoso's classification. Ruidoso will be competing at 2:00, with Lou Ann Wilson and Kelly Richardson performing their twirling acts at approximately 5 p.m.. This is considered the most difficult marching contest in the state.

The success of the 23rd Annual New Junior Talent Show was due to the cooperation of the junior class, the sponsors and the performers. Nadine Walizer and Marty Rose were awarded $25 for the best act. They performed a disco routine to the song "You Should be Dancing." The juniors were crowned Halloween King Greg Pipplin and Queen Amy Boone. Crown bearers were Craig Sears and Jennifer Parker. Other candidates in the order of how much money they raised were as follows: seniors, Mark Dutton and Kelly Hamilton; sophomores, Rick Dolsen and Lou Ann Wilson, and freshman, Chris Lopez and Connie Rue. The juniors were proud to receive a letter from Gayla Pearson commending them for a job well done and they appreciated the assistance she gave to the performance.

Tuesday, October 24, the RHS girls' volleyball team traveled to Hondo to take on the Eagles. The JV won by the scores of 15-5 and 15-10. Varsity won 15-7, 12-15 and 15-2.

Saturday, Ruidoso traveled to Hatch to play two very crucial district games against Animas and Lordsburg. The Warrior girls lost to Animas by the scores of 15-1 and 15-6. In the second match, the girls lost to Lordsburg 15-11 and 15-12.

Today, the girls travel back to Hatch for the district tournament. Their first game was at 10 against Lordsburg.

Boys' basketball practice will get underway Monday, November sixth. A scrimmage will be held November 28 against Goddard, at 6 p.m. in Roswell. The first game will be at New Mexico Military Institute, December second.

The beginning of girls' basketball practice will depend upon how the girls do at the district volleyball tournament this Thursday. The first girls basketball game will be at Clouderoft, December first.

Wrestling will begin Wednesday, November first. All boys interested should be in the gym at 3 p.m.

Coach Ames hopes to have a strong team and enough people to have a good "B" team. Returning wrestlers are: Dirk Strassburg, Wes Atkinson, Keith Sullivan, Ray Herrera, Steve Cox, Robert Langston and Godfrey Enjady.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION NO. 78-16
WHEREAS, Section 14-17-4, New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1953 Compilation, as amended, provides for the removal of ruined, damaged and dilapidated buildings or structures and for the removal of ruins, rubbish, wreckage and debris from any premises within the limits of municipalities, providing that the municipality shall have a lien for the cost of such removal and providing the procedure incident to such removal.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico:

That Maude Francis Pitts, Trustee, is the legal owner of the following described premises situated in the Village of Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico:

Lot 8 Block 6, Unit 7, Palo Verde Townsite, Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico, and that Rey Neil Jefferson is the occupant therein.

That the buildings or structures situated upon the said premises are so ruined, damaged and dilapidated, and/or are so covered with ruins, rubbish, wreckage or debris that the same, in the opinion of the governing body constitutes a menace to the public comfort, health, peace or safety and requires the removal from the municipality of the buildings, structures, ruins, rubbish, wreckage or debris.

That a copy of this Resolution be served upon the owner, occupant or agent in charge of the building, structure or premises. That if the owner, occupant or agent in charge of the building structure or premises cannot be served within the municipality, copy of this Resolution shall be posted on the building, structure or premises, and a copy of the Resolution shall be published one time in the newspaper.

IMMEDIATE OPENING FOR INDUSTRIAL SALES
REPRESENTATIVE

You don't have to be an engineer or technical person to enter a challenging and highly rewarding career selling industrial lubricants to businesses right in your community.

Sales experience (fleet, construction, farm, food, and manufacturing) or a mechanical background helpful. We train you in salesmanship, products, and applications in a thoroughly professional, company-paid program. Field training follows, right in your territory.

No investment except your full-time effort, and you get an exclusive, fully-protected territory with hundreds of prospects for products that repeat and repeat year after year. You represent a company on the move; the quality leader in the lubricant field for over a quarter century.

Feel dead ended? Stop day-dreaming and start building your lucrative career today, right in your own area, and be home nights with your family while doing it.

Act now, while one of our choice territories is still open in your area. Send your resume, giving experience and personal data. It'll get our prompt attention.

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

By Karen Halloran

JOCKEY JOHN CUSHING took a rough spill in Friday's eighth race and suffered injuries that may keep him out of action a couple of months. The young rider was aboard Crazy Jane in a 5 1/2 furlong sprint when the filly apparently lost her breath just ahead of the wire and collapsed. Cushing was pinned under the horse. He sustained a broken collarbone and rib damage and is currently in Providence Memorial Hospital.

ANOTHER HUGE BIG Q PAYOFF resulted from Saturday's final races. The only person to match the 5/10 (Percinette/Norse Bound) combo in the 11th race with the 4/3 (Slidin Billy/Current Dream) paid in the 12th walked away with the whole pot of $17,141.20. That nearly equals the seasonal mark of $17,231.40 set October 8. The odds on the equine four-some ranged from 8-1 to 13-1.

SECO BELL wiped up the competition with a maiden win in Sunday's first race. The filly, by Silent Screen out of De Soto Queen, made her racing debut in the 6 1/2 furlong event and led from the first call. By the wire, the freshman had distanced the field by nearly 10 lengths and was cruising easily. The win return was $6.80.

THE HIGHEST QUINELA PAYOFF of the season rang the cash register at $617.60 in Friday's 12th race. No. 5, Hey George at 6-1 romped in with a near two-length win. Then No. 1, Sunkist Fault took the runner-up spot with slim backing of 45-1. Hey George returned $14 to win. The place payoff on Sunkist Fault was $51, also a seasonal high.

JOCKEY LEROY COOMBS had no trouble hitting the winner's circle over the racing weekend with cruising victories. On Friday, he brought in some Kinda Class with a 3 1/4 length lead in a 400 yard bout. Then on Saturday, Dupalady Bug had a three length margin in a similar test. On Sunday, he switched to longer frays and brought in Seco Bell (9 1/4 lengths) at 6 1/2 furlongs and Fyrol (4 1/2) at a mile.

LADY JOCKEY MARIE IRIGARAY hit the top spot on the tote board once again riding Slidin Billy. She guided the colt in Saturday's 12th race at a mile and had a

NMSU names brush control specialist

Kirk McDaniel, Las Cruces, is the new Extension research brush and weed control specialist at New Mexico State University (NMSU). He is a member of the Range Improvement Task Force, says Angel Gomez, acting Extension associate director at NMSU.

McDaniel will lead NMSU's educational program in brush and weed control for ranchers and government agencies. He will also conduct research with various brush management systems.

A native of northern California, McDaniel received his bachelor's degree in range management and wildlife management from Humboldt State University, California. He earned a master's in rangeland resources from Oregon State University and his Ph.D. from Texas A&M in range science.

While at Texas A&M, the specialist developed a natural vegetation classification system using satellite and computer technology. He also conducted research on range improvement following honey mesquite control.

McDaniel has also worked as a range technician with the United States Forest Service and as a range aid with the Bureau of Land Management.

3 1/2 length score at the wire. The four-year-old went off at 8-1 odds and offered an $18.40 return.

FLORENTINO YANGUEZ captured his last win as an apprentice in Sunday's 11th race aboard Don's Klu. The rider lost his "bug" after guiding the gelding to a sharp nose victory at 4-1 odds for a $10.80 win return.

IN STEWARDS' RULING; Jockey Patrick A. Valenzuela, was fined $50 for failure to have control of his mount, Fleeting Dancer, during the running of the 10th race Saturday, October 21, 1978.

THE NO. FIVE AND NO. SIX POSITION toured the winner's circle six times over the racing weekend to lead in that category. Here's the complete seasonal breakdown:

No. 1-15; No. 2-12; No. 3-8; No. 4-12; No. 5-15; No. 6-16; No. 7-14; No. 8-9; No. 9-9; No. 10-8; No. 11-0; No. 12-0.

Taxpayer Revolt?

It began in New Mexico in 1971—and it was led by our Governor.

Bruce King came into the Governor's office in 1971 with promises to keep to the taxpayers of New Mexico . . . and he kept them. Bruce King balanced the state budget, stopped deficit spending by state agencies, and gave taxpayers the experience and sound economic planning that has led to state income tax rebates and tax reduction.

With Bruce King as Governor again, the tax revolt will have its biggest supporter in the Capitol. Bruce King has pledged to fight any attempts to increase the number of state employees and is committed to further reduce taxes—especially property taxes and the elimination of gross receipts tax on food and medicine.

Bruce King's opponent was the minority leader of the New Mexico State Senate when the Republican administration pushed through an income tax increase. That's a story we don't want repeated. Keep the tax revolt going. Let's elect Bruce King again.

Federal employment study report released

The first report of the New Mexico Occupational Statistics Program, "Staffing Patterns for Federal Government," has been published by the Employment Services Division (ESD) of the Human Services Department. Part of a three year study of occupations in the state, the report reveals the extent of federal employment in New Mexico by county and job category and discusses federal expenditures.

ESD Director W.A. Anderson said the report indicates federal agencies spent about $2.3 billion in New Mexico during 1975, the year covered in the study. "Much of this was spent in areas like defense, atomic energy, social security, public assistance and education, and over a third of all spending was in Bernalillo County," Anderson said. "Federal civilian workers accounted for about seven percent of all workers, and received salaries totalling $391,000,000 in 1975."

In the same year, 28,600 federal employees worked in New Mexico. It's projected that 29,100 will be employed in 1985, but the report says the rapid growth of federal employment obvious in recent years will level off. Possible cutbacks in areas like the postal service and military installations are forecast, though the report stresses federal employment and expenditures will continue to have a major impact on the state.

The Occupational Statistics Program is surveying 6,000 state employers to prepare reports. Periodic publications will provide profiles of occupational resources by industry, with manufacturing featured in the next scheduled report. "Since the reports identify areas of the state in which people with specific skills live, the study will be valuable for people considering relocation," Anderson said. "Industrial recruiters and school administrators, among others, will also be able to use the reports for planning."

Copies of the Federal Employment Report are available from the ESD Research and Statistics section, P.O. Box 1928, Albuquerque, New Mexico, 87103.

State acquires folk art

The State of New Mexico formally acquired ownership of the Girard Foundation Collection of folk art from Alexander and Susan Girard of Santa Fe in a gift agreement signed October 19 in the office of Gov. Jerry Apodaca.

The outright gift of approximately 106,000 objects, largest private folk art collection in the world, was accepted by the 1977 New Mexico legislature in a resolution praising the Girards for their generosity, and attorneys have worked since then to finalize the agreement. The resolution also directed that the collection should be housed, preserved and exhibited at the Museum of International Folk Art in Santa Fe, a division of the Museum of New Mexico.

The gift papers were signed by the Girards; Harry Wugalter, secretary, Educational Finance and Cultural Affairs Department; and Tibo Chavez and Mrs. Edmundo Delgado, president and secretary of the Museum of New Mexico Board of Regents.

and it's a great tribute that Mr. and Mrs. Girard have elected to place it permanently in New Mexico."

In accepting the gift, the 1977 legislature also approved construction of a $1.5 million wing at the Folk Art Museum for the collection. Building plans are well underway and call for a 27,000 sq. ft. addition to the existing 40,000 sq. ft. building. Acquisition of the Girard Collection will increase permanent holdings from 19,000 to 126,000 objects.

This outstanding collection began in the early 1930s with an emphasis on toys. It has grown and expanded in scope to include scores of categories of folk art, such as dolls, games, masks, embroideries, woodcarvings, miniature people and furniture, simple paintings, good-luck charms, puppets, nativity scenes, mobiles, and ornate jars and boxes. Objects come from every continent, spanning centuries of cultural development.

Girard, 71, is an award-winning architect and designer of international renown. He may be best known for his revolutionary idea in the early 1960s of painting Braniff International aircraft red, green and other bright colors. But since beginning his professional career in 1929, he has also designed office and civic buildings, restaurants, apartments and private homes across the United States and Europe. His interest in collecting folk art began early as a natural adjunct to home decorating.

Under terms of the gift agreement, Girard will also donate his design talents to develop new exhibitions when the museum's addition is completed.

Portions of the collection have been exhibited throughout the country, including the Nelson Gallery of Art in Kansas City, the theme exhibit "El Encanto de un Pueblo" for HemisFair '68 in San Antonio, the Folk Art Museum in Santa Fe, and the Governor's Gallery in the state capitol building, Santa Fe. Life, Time and House Beautiful are among the national publications that have recognized the Girards and their collection.

A representative sampling of it is on display now at the museum in "Fantasy And Enchantment: Selections From The Girard Foundation Collections." Several thousand objects from North and South America, Asia, Africa, and Europe appear in captivating displays designed by Girard himself.

"It is a completely unique collection and one which could never be duplicated," commented Chavez. "Many museums throughout the country have coveted it,

GOV. JERRY APODACA (right) congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Girard on donating their 106,000-piece collection of folk art, largest private collection in the world, to the state-administered Museum of New Mexico.

- PROMISE 1. Immediately comply with federal guidelines for racial balance of the department. No discrimination in hiring race, sex or national origin.
- PROMISE 2. I will, at my Personal expense, publish "a condition of the Sheriff's Department report" every three months consisting of: money spent, miles patrolled, hours worked, number of arrests, etc. Taxpayers have a right to know how their money is being used.
- PROMISE 3. Deputies in all areas. 1 female deputy and 1 civil deputy in addition to 1 deputy in each area, Corona, Carrizozo, Capitan, Hondo, Ruidoso. The Corona and Hondo deputies being in low crime areas will be used to the best interest of all taxpayers but live in that area.
- PROMISE 4. Listen to taxpayers. I will, at my personal expense, publish in conjunction with condition of Sheriff's Department report a questionnaire requesting views and comments of taxpayers regarding operation of the Sheriff's department.
- PROMISE 5. Continue a hard line stand on narcotic dealers and drug trafficking as I have in the past. I made cases on 10 major dealers in 10 months.
- PROMISE 6. Trained Deputies-Reinstated "in-service" law enforcement training programs for deputies that were started by me as under sheriff. Well trained personnel give the taxpayers more for the tax dollar.
- PROMISE 7. To be an administrator and law enforcement officer worthy of the confidence of the taxpayers of Lincoln County.

Capitan Tigeretts seek volleyball title

The Capitan Tigerettes began in earnest their quest for a district title last Saturday as Capitan was host for the District Round Robin Tournament. There are five teams in district and this tournament determined each team's ranking for the district. Capitan came out on top at they finished the day with a record of 4-0. This means the Tigerettes will have a first round bye in this Saturday's District Tournament. Capitan will play either Hondo or Lake Arthur at 4:00 p.m. Saturday in Cloudcroft.

After Capitan, the standings after all matches played on Saturday were Carrizozo 3-1, Cloudcroft 2-2, Lake Arthur 1-3, and Hondo 0-4.

Capitan played Hondo to open the tournament. The Tigerettes were victorious by scores of 15-2 and 15-0. For Capitan in the first game Debby Womack and Debbie Castillo scored 4 points each; Donna Cooper, Kathleen Story, and Cindy Cline, 2 each; and Beth Long, 1. In the second game Jackie DeWeber had 8 points; Cline, 5; Sally Abercrombie and Sandy Cranwell, 1 each.

Capitan's second match was against Lake Arthur and the Tigerettes won 15-10 and 15-3. Scoring in the first game was Womack, 5; Story and Cline, 4 each; and Cooper and Lisa Lamb, 1 each. Second game scoring was DeWeber and Long, 4 each; Abercrombie and Womack, 3 each; and Cooper, 1.

The third match was against the Carrizozo Grizzlies. Capitan won 15-0 and 15-5. In the first game for Capitan, Abercrombie scored 12 points and Cline, Lamb, and Womack 1 each. Second game scoring was Womack 9, Cline 3, and Abercrombie, Cooper, and DeWeber, 1 each.

The final match was against Cloudcroft and Capitan won 15-12 and 15-12. Scoring in the first game was Cooper, 7 points; Lamb, 4; Abercrombie, 3; and Womack, 1. In the second game Story had 9 points, Womack 3, Cline 2, and Lamb 1.

Other scores during the day were: Carrizozo over Lake Arthur 15-4 and 15-0; Cloudcroft over Hondo 15-3 and 15-9; Carrizozo over Cloudcroft 16-14, 8-15, and 16-14; Lake Arthur over Hondo 15-10 and 15-12; Cloudcroft over Lake Arthur 15-6 and 15-8; Carrizozo over Hondo 15-6 and 15-7.

So, the Capitan Tigerettes will be looking forward to bringing home the District Championship after finishing in the runner-up spot to Cloudcroft for the past two years.

BULLDOGS BITE JUNIOR TIGERS

The Junior High Tigers finished their football season on October 24th. They traveled to Roswell to take on the Berrendo Bulldogs, one of the Roswell mid-schools.

The Junior Tigers seemed at first to be overwhelmed by the big boys. Berrendo scored once in the first quarter and once again in the second quarter to take a 12-0 halftime lead.

Capitan came back in the third quarter, scoring on an 80 yard touchdown drive. The touchdown came on a pass from halfback Grady Le Eldridge to quarterback Robert Parker. The extra point try failed making the score 12-6.

The momentum swung to Capitan in the fourth quarter but they couldn't get that second TD before time ran out. The game ended with the score still 12-6 in favor of the Bulldogs.

The boys had a good season with everyone performing well and each one improving his own performance, according to Coach Jimmy Bizzell. The boys are looking forward to their high school career which will start next year for most of them.

CAPITAN PLAYS TO 6-6 TIE

The Mountainair Mustangs and the Capitan Tigers battled each other to a 6-6 deadlock in the cold, damp air on Wednesday, October 25.

Mountainair scored their 6 points in the first quarter on a pass from the quarterback to an end.

Capitan came back in the second quarter to score with 2:33 left on the clock till halftime. The score came on a 32 yard run by Marc Stewart. The extra point was no good as the kick went off to the right side.

Mountainair took the second half kickoff and looked like they were going right in for the score. The Mustangs had a first and goal from the three yard line. With the aid of a penalty against the Mustangs and some good Capitan defense, Mountainair was kept away from the goal line. On fourth down the Mustangs tried a field goal but it was no good and the score still stood at 6-6.

Both teams had possession of the ball several times throughout the remainder of the game but neither team could make it to the endzone. Mountainair was inside Capitan's five yard line twice in the last two minutes of the game. However, their own fumbles and Capitan's defense gave Capitan the ball both times. The last fumble recovery came with 20 seconds remaining on the clock and Mountainair in range for their field goal kicker.

Capitan had a total of 159 yards in total offense while Mountainair had 247 yards. Stewart had 95 yards on 14 carries for Capitan.

In the kicking department, Capitan punted five times for a 25.8 yard average while Mountainair punted three times for a 25.2 yard average.

In the kicking department, Capitan punted five times for a 25.8 yard average while Mountainair punted three times for a 25.2 yard average.

This Friday is the big showdown. Capitan will have the opportunity to put the district into a three way tie. If Capitan beats Carrizozo, each team in the district will have a record of 1-1. Then a vote of the three coaches will determine the two teams that will advance to the play-offs.

If Carrizozo should beat Capitan, then Carrizozo and Reserve will advance to the play offs, with Carrizozo the district winner and Reserve in the runner-up spot. In any case, this district's winner will play Melrose and the runner-up will play Texico.

Friday night will also be Dad's Night at the Capitan-Carrizozo football game. The fathers will be introduced before the game. This should be an added incentive to the boys to win the big one!

Everyone come out and boost the Tigers to a share of the district title and a spot in the play offs!

JUNIOR TIGERS HONORED

On October 17, the Junior High Football Team was honored with a Steak Fry and all the trimmings. The supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Parker and was given by the parents of the boys on the team. About eighty players, coaches, cheerleaders, and parents enjoyed the supper.

Voting for write-in candidates is simple

The question has been asked The News as to the procedure used in voting for write-in candidates in the November 7 general election. The instructions on the sample ballot say:

"To write-in the name of a write-in candidate, lift up the write-in slide cover bearing the numeral corresponding to the designated office and write in the name of the write-in candidate. Once the voter lifts a write-in slide, however, he cannot change his mind and use a candidate pointer in that office. This prevents over-voting."
 An example: County Commissioner, George L. Straley Jr., has announced he will resign in January, if elected. To vote for a write-in candidate: Raise write-in tab No. 25, corresponding to Straley's 25A position, and write in the name of the candidate you are voting for. Should you want to vote for other than Aivino E. Castillo 6A, or C. Jack Emmons 6B, candidates for State Auditor, raise slide cover number six and write in the name of your candidate.

Wilderness Wisdom

Dear Wayne — My son has decided he'd like to have a desecrated skunk for a pet. I'm very opposed to the idea, but my arguments aren't very convincing. I know skunks sometimes contract rabies and I thin this possibility could be very dangerous. He says it is absurd to think a pet skunk could get rabies. Is he right? Alma W., S. Carolina

Dear Alma — A rabid animal is certainly very dangerous, and skunks can be affected with rabies, pet or not. But chances are, a pet skunk would not be allowed the freedom to roam the fields and woods, and it would be very rare for a house pet to be stricken with the disease. I believe this fear is largely unjustified.

I've mentioned before that I am generally opposed to keeping wild animals as pets, but since a pet skunk would likely be one which was born in captivity, I suppose that's a bit different. Or is it?

Dear Wayne — I recently read a short article which declared the wild turkey the most difficult of all game birds to hunt. It attributed this to the turkey's keen eyesight, and to its ability to recognize colors. I was under the impression that all animals except man were color-blind. Am I wrong? Bernie M., Illinois

Dear Bernie — I'm afraid so. Several birds have the ability to recognize color, and the wild turkey is among them.

The turkey also does possess keen eyesight. I recently heard the statement, "If wild turkeys had a keen sense of smell to go with their eyesight, you'd never be able to get close to them". I'm not sure I totally agree, but it expresses the opinion of an experienced turkey hunter.

Dear Wayne — I have a young English setter bird dog that seems very adept at filling his paws with thorns and briars. It could be that he's just more aggressive in heavy cover than most dogs, but his paws stay bloodied and sore most of the hunting season. Is there anything I can do to ease the punishment to his pads? Ira L., Delaware

Dear Ira — Perhaps he will learn with age to exercise some caution when treading prickly places. There is one remedy you may wish to try. Dog boots. They are made from tough leather and are complete with individual toenail holes.

They are available in different sizes and are adjustable. Most outdoor magazines display ads for such boots.

Dear Wayne — I recently purchased a large, canvas umbrella tent and naturally want to get the maximum years of service from it. For whatever reason, there weren't any instructions with it concerning care and maintenance. Is there anything special I should do to maintain it? Brainard K., Indiana

Dear Brainard — The cardinal rule is to never, ever, fold and store it when the canvas is wet or damp. To do so will rapidly promote mildew and rot. Along with that, it should be kept clean and free of dirt. The abrasiveness of sand and dirt that grinds into the fabric will tend to strip the waterproofing wax from the canvas and break down the fabric.

Upon returning from an outing, you might set the tent up, sweep it out and allow it to dry in the sunshine. When the tent is taken down, throw it across a line for a couple of hours to permit the floor bottom to dry. Then fold it and store in a dry place, but don't lay it on a concrete floor.

Dear Wayne — If you should become burned during an outing, such as from an accidental tent fire or a campfire, what is the best emergency firstaid? Some advocate bandaging the burn while others say leave it exposed. Jonathan O., California

Dear Jonathan — Apply a liberal amount of burn ointment or antiseptic salve to the burn, then bandage it lightly with gauze. Don't use cotton next to the burn. The bandage serves to seal the burn from air and to keep it clean. If blisters should form around the burn, they should not be broken.

Dear Wayne — I have seen that there are companies which sell materials and instructions for do-it-yourself construction of down-filled articles such as sleeping bags and garments. I am interested in making a vest from such a kit. Is this project within the capability of a person that has only a passing acquaintance with a sewing machine? Manfred E., Oklahoma

Dear Manfred — I wouldn't recommend the project if you are totally unfamiliar with the basics of sewing. But for someone who has a sewing machine (a necessity), and knows how to use it, the kits can be completed without major problems. All kits come with easy to follow directions which should yield a quality garment at a substantial savings.

Tan deer hide for home rugs

With deer hunting season just around the corner, many lucky hunters will want to save their deer hides for rugs, clothing or wall hangings, says Susan Wright, Extension clothing specialist at New Mexico State University.

Some hunters will want to leave the hair on their deer hides. Miss Wright recommends the following home tanning process for any kind of mammal hide.

Skin the animal, fleshing the skin carefully.

Salt the flesh side of the skin with table salt. Fold the skin with the flesh side in and place it in a leak-proof container in a cool place. The salt will cause the accumulation and drainage of water.

If you want to tan the hide with the hair on, skip this step. To take the hair off, soak the untanned hide in strong milk of lime, making sure the solution doesn't splash on your hands or in your eyes. The lime loosens the hair so it can be easily pulled away. After the hair is out, wash the skin thoroughly to remove all traces of lime.

Now place the skin in a pickling solution of one and one-half ounces of commercial hydrogen sulfate or about 30 cubic centimeters of concentrated hydrogen sulfate per gallon of water. Add salt to saturation. Make certain the skin unfolds and is covered by the solution. Let it remain in the solution for several days or until the flesh side is white.

Rinse the skin in cold, clear water. While the skin is still moist, work it over with a fleshing and trimming knife to remove any remaining flesh. Make the skin uniform in thickness.

Treat the skin with an alum solution of one-quarter pound of alum, one-half pound of salt and one-half ounce or 15 cubic centimeters of carbolic acid in one gallon of water. Treat the skin for several days to a week, depending on the thickness of the skin.

Rinse the skin in clear, cold water and drain. Then apply a warm, mixture of equal parts of sulphonated neatsfoot oil and water to the flesh side of the skin.

Work the skin on the stake until it is soft and dry. Remove excess oil with sawdust. To have clothing made, the hunter will probably want to ship his hides to a reputable company that does custom work. Most of these companies will accept the fresh hides that have been salted down and folded together, or hides that have been stretched on a wall to dry for seven to eight days.

In both cases, the hides should be carefully fleshed, and there should be no folds left in the skin during the drying or salting process. A salted hide should be shipped in two or three heavy plastic bags. A dried hide should be rolled, tied and wrapped in burlap, Miss Wright adds.

Employment Services sets intensive training sessions

In response to suggestions from New Mexico employers, the Employment Services Division (ESD) has begun holding intensive training sessions around the state to help agency employees more effectively meet employer and worker needs. ESD Director W.A. Anderson, whose division is part of the Human Services Department, said the three day sessions deal with all aspects of job placement and employer services, including order taking, applicant counseling, screening and referral.

"Our counselors and interviewers, who work directly with employers and applicants, should be able to handle their jobs more effectively after the special in depth training," Anderson said. "The training includes speakers from programs like the Job Corps and CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act). This helps our placement workers familiarize themselves with all the ways we can serve clients."

The first training session were held in Albuquerque during October, and featured a panel of employers discussing ways in which placement workers could improve services offered to employers. Training will be completed in other areas of New Mexico by mid November. Representatives from each of 35 area offices will attend various sessions and share information with all agency placement workers after they return.

The Job Service Improvement Program, designed to give employers a direct voice to help make Job Service more responsive to their needs, suggested the special training. "We intend to continue responding to employer and job seeker suggestions to help our agency be more effective in serving clients," Anderson said. "As a government service agency, our first responsibility is to the public."

Range scientist serving NMSU

Chris Allison, Las Cruces, is the new Extension range management specialist at New Mexico State University (NMSU). He will be assuming many duties formerly assigned to Jerry Schickedanz, the new coordinator of NMSU's Range Improvement Task Force, says Angel Gomez, Extension's acting associate director at NMSU.

The new specialist will lead Extension's range management educational program for ranchers, urban groups and government agencies. He will help producers implement beneficial range management practices and will promote continued communication between public land users and management agencies.

Allison holds a bachelor's and a master's degree in range science, both from NMSU. He earned a Ph.D. from Texas A&M in range animal nutrition.

Prior to joining the NMSU Extension staff, Allison was a range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

VOTERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY:

I would like to express my personal appreciation to you for the support and co-operation which you have shown me and my Department the past 20 months.

I feel that I speak for each member of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department and we say THANK YOU from the bottom of our hearts. Your support and confidence shown us in the manner our officers maintain the Dignity, Honor and Pride in discharging the duties of our position as your Public Servant, dedicated to BETTER LAW ENFORCEMENT through courtesy and respect, makes us realize you have the deepest confidence in our system.

We ASK and NEED your continued support to help us reduce crime and make our County second to none in Law and Order.

Yours for Better Law Enforcement,
SHERIFF BILL ELLIOTT

A FEW REASONS TO RE-ELECT SHERIFF BILL ELLIOTT:

A WORKING SHERIFF:
 I work along with my Deputies throughout the entire County. I am available at all times by phone or radio and I am in contact with my Department through radio 24 hours each day. It is the policy of my Department to ANSWER EVERY CALL, regardless of its nature.

A CERTIFIED, QUALIFIED, DEDICATED DEPARTMENT:

You the voters asked for a CHANGE IN THE Sheriff's Department - when I took office I immediately began a reorganization program. It has taken me 18 months to weed out and reorganize and come up with a Professional Department. During these months I have put ALL Deputies in uniform and driving marked cars (INCLUDING THE SHERIFF). I introduced a Manual of Rules and Regulations (the FIRST for Lincoln County) and a CODE OF ETHICS which our Department abides by. Many of these rules were adopted and placed in the State Sheriff's Manual this year. There has been a turnover in personnel and in most instances because either Department or moral rules have not been followed.

SHERIFF DEPARTMENT PERSONNEL:

My Department consists of:
 8 UNIFORMED DEPUTIES - one as a Civil Deputy; one is a Forest Service Deputy.

All Deputies are assigned THROUGH OUT ALL OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

4 JAILER/DISPATCHER DEPUTIES

1 COOK

2 SECRETARIES - one in the Ruidoso sub-station; one in the Carrizozo Office.

In this Department we have:

5 Female employees - one of which is the FIRST CERTIFIED FEMALE DEPUTY in history of Lincoln County.

3 Spanish employees

RUIDOSO SUB-STATION:

In this office the Civil Papers and Worthless Checks are processed along with the regular SHERIFF Department calls for the Ruidoso area. I have set up a complete Record System and NOW have a record on file of every incident that has happened since I took office, January 1, 1977.

Having set a record on PROCESSING WORTHLESS CHECKS our files show:

1977...PROCESSED $11,879.00

RECOVERED $9,988.59

1978 so far PROCESSED $11,154.51

RECOVERED $7,230.39

TOTAL PROCESSED $23,033.51

TOTAL RECOVERED $17,218.95

CARRIZOZO OFFICE:

I rearranged and reorganized this office and now have a Radio Room that will meet the needs of the County and one that my Jailers/Dispatchers are safe in. I have a CERTIFIED JAIL which is rated excellent for equal and good treatment, cleanliness, good food and efficiency, by the Department of Corrections. Also in this office we now have a complete record system with reports available at all times. We keep a complete Personnel file and each officer keeps Daily Reports. Our Department has a record of every call, miles patrolled, gallons of gas used, hours worked.

SPECIAL EMPHASIS:

Open Door Policy. I have initiated a Drug Abuse Program, and have a special emphasis on Narcotic Control; Subdivision Patrol, Citizens Emergency I.D.; Special Patrol-for-all-five-Schools-throughout-the-County for their various programs and events.

Vanpool program initiated to serve state's workers

New Mexico has inaugurated the first vanpool program in the country geared specifically to state needs, according to secretary Nick Franklin of the Energy and Minerals Department.

The Energy Department, in cooperation with the Highway Department, has developed an information package on vanpooling complete with assistance in funding, organization and matching up riders and drivers through a computerized system.

"The goal of the National Energy Plan was to cut back motorists' gasoline consumption by 10 percent by 1985," Franklin said, "but, instead, consumption has increased 7.7 percent over the previous year."

He said that commuting trips account for approximately 33 percent of all gasoline consumed by automobiles in the United States.

"If we can't move the commuter closer to his work, then at least we can do something about the fact that 80 percent of these commuter trips are made in private autos with an average occupancy of 1.4 persons per trip," he said. "The something we can do is to promote and to provide incentives for vanpooling where ever possible."

Franklin said it is significant that the national average of 1.4 to only 2 persons per car would reduce energy consumption by as much as 400,000 barrels of oil per day.

A federally funded loan program administered through the New Mexico Highway Department provides interest-free loans for 90 percent of the purchase price of a new van to be used in a not-for-profit vanpool in the state. The remaining 10 percent matching money must be provided by the vanpool members or by the sponsor.

Vanpools can be managed through cooperative vanpools, third-party vanpools (managed by a bank, a credit union, a leasing agency or a vanpool committee), owner/driver vanpools or employer-sponsored vanpools.

"This is the most flexible program possible," Franklin said. "It allows a program not only to develop from a point of destination but also from a point of origin. This is important because often it makes more sense to organize vanpools by where people live than by where they work. Work places are often more concentrated and centrally located than residential areas. If a vanpool is formed through neighbors, the vanpool driver doesn't have to detour as much to pick up all passengers."

According to Olivia Gallegos, Vanpool Coordinator for the Energy and Minerals Department, vanpool participation can save the individual a considerable amount of money.

Existing vanpool programs in New Mexico operate at a cost of less than 2 cents per passenger per mile, Gallegos said. A car with only the driver will cost 16 to 20 cents per mile and even with two people commuting together, the cost is still 8 to 10 cents per mile per passenger.

"Whether it be a neighborhood group, employer sponsored or a profit or non-profit private undertaking, the unique aspect of this program is that it can save money for the individual as well as save energy for the nation," Franklin said. "The loan program is an extra bonus, and, though there are limited funds, those interested in establishing a vanpool program should get their application in to the Highway Department."

The State Highway Department administers the loan program and provides a computer capacity for matching riders and drivers. The Energy and Minerals Department has developed materials on organizing vanpool programs and will help coordinate the program through the Department's Energy Extension Service. Franklin will be presenting certificates of completion to those qualifying as New Mexico Vanpool Coordinators.

Santa Fe — The Party's Over: The General Election campaign is almost all over except for the shouting as New Mexico voters get set to go to the polls November 7 and cast their ballots in a number of Statewide contests and some "pistol-hot" legislative contests.

The recent television confrontations between Republican gubernatorial candidate Joe Skeen and Democrat hopeful Bruce King did little to add to either man's vote totals, although campaign staffs were breathing big sighs of relief that their candidates did not pull any mammoth boners.

Surprisingly, this reporter talked to a number of undecided voters in the Albuquerque Heights area and found no one who had any "mean-mouthing" for either candidate.

Most of the "undecideds" we queried said they liked both men and were just waiting to make up their minds which candidate they liked the most.

The wall-leaners, of course, will question just how many of those undecided voters will ever make it to the polls.

At this point in time, both candidates hope they have peaked in the gubernatorial contest and hopefully can maintain a plateau—without losing any votes—between now and election day.

This reporter still feels the race between King and Skeen will be closer than most of the polls have predicted. And as we've said right along, the contest between Toney Anaya and Pete Domenici will be WAY closer than the pollsters crystal-balled.

LFC-Retirement Study: The Legislative Finance Committee is digesting its quarter-million-dollar contract study of public retirement plans in New Mexico.

The LFCers have been reading through a lengthy report by Howard Winklevoss of Philadelphia, which contains some pretty heavy recommendations—ten pages worth, as a matter of fact.

One recommendation that will trigger some headlines later is the suggestion that the LFC evaluate "the salary structure of judges and articulate a policy as to whether or not the pension plan is to be used as an instrument of increasing the jurists' compensation."

Another recommendation—a major one—is that New Mexico adopt an overall set of pension planning principles and establish a permanent pension commission to monitor those ideas and any proposed changes.

The contract study also recommends exclusion of Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) employees from participation in the retirement system of New Mexico... with the proviso that service credit could be brought in if the employee is permanently hired by the state.

With these sort of recommendations and Senate Majority Floor Leader C.B. Trujillo's observation that retirement legislation will be one of the most "humane" matters of the 1979 session, the meeting of the lawmakers in January unquestionably will generate reams of headlines in the retirement area.

Don't Say We Didn't Tell You.

The Great Wall of Santa Fe: Months ago this column commented that the next governor would have to decide the future of the governor's reception room art gallery.

Initiated by first lady Clara Apodaca, the gallery has emerged as one of the more important public relation functions of the governor's office. Plus the gallery has attracted thousands of visitors each month.

When the Apodaca administration first proposed the idea, it received static from some Round Housers who balked at the idea of using the reception room walls to hang paintings and works of art.

The answer to that objection came in the fashion of a false wall—built out from the existing wall.

It's been the bief of most wall-leaners that when Apodaca left office, the false wall would be dismantled—should the next governor decide against continuance of the art gallery.

But now the gossip crowd has learned that when the governor's office was recarpeted several years ago—the carpet was laid only to the false wall—not the original one.

In short, if the next governor dumps the art gallery—it's going to cost a pretty penny to restore the reception area to its original state. Including more new carpet! Don't say we didn't tell you.

All About Voting Records: There's been much written and broadcast recently about candidate voting records. But the birdies say such records are really useless.

The singing birdies chirp that voting records do not reflect those times the office-holder ditched votes by getting sick—and they do not mirror a true posture when

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:
 Amendment Number 4 misleads voters. On the November 7, 1978 ballot the above amendment will read as follows:

"Proposing an amendment to article 4, Section 10 of the constitution of New Mexico to provide limitations on the reimbursement of legislators for expenses incurred in their duties."

To the average taxpayer the above simply means that the State of New Mexico will do a better job of controlling the expenses of the legislators. I asked several friends to read the amendment and tell me what it meant—all concurred that it meant a tighter control of expenses.

It was an amendment that got the yes vote, not the bill's main substance.

Just more food for election day thought as the November 7 general election nears!

Together Again: Attorneys Toni Ihara and Ralph Warner have authored a book titled, The Living Together Kit, which gives some "legal rules affecting unmarried couples."

The California-based writers paid a visit to New Mexico to promote the publication.

The book says that New Mexico is one of the 19 states which has decriminalized most "private consensual acts between adults" in consenting circumstances.

The book lists New Mexico as one of 37 states not recognizing common law marriage.

This is not true—the amendment will give each legislator an annual salary of $3,500 payable at $300 per month plus certain expenses to replace the $40 per day plus certain expenses they now receive for their work. The $40 per day is paid for those days worked and nothing more since the legislature works 30-60 days each session.

At the end of each session each legislator goes home to his regular job after having been paid $40 for each day spent in Santa Fe as a legislator.

The New Mexico system of having "Citizen Legislators" does mean that a man must have income of a private nature since he cannot live off of the income as a public servant. But this is an established custom and each man running for an office knows in advance just what he will receive for his efforts.

There is a strong argument for an annual salary in that more qualified men of more moderate means can run for office but there is also a strong argument against the annual salary. The plan to pay $3,500 per year will open the door for an ever increasing amount as the years pass. Many states now find themselves with higher and higher annual salaries paid to legislators who are in session most of the year along with the usual additional expense of travel, meals, etc.

It is regretted that those responsible for the wording of Amendment No. 4 could not have been more explicit and truthful in just what the amendment means. There is no doubt that the present wording and interpretation by the general public will result in its passing without any difficulty. For Myself—I will vote—"NO"—

editorial

Joe Skeen should be elected governor next Tuesday. He has confronted the issues and problems that face New Mexico in the coming decade with a positive determination. He has taken a forthright stand on the right to work issue, home rule and local taxes, liquor licensing, education, water, and energy. He will provide a fresh approach to these and other problems that must be dealt with if New Mexico does not want to be dragged kicking and screaming into the '80s. His opponent has held up the past as his strong suit, and we're not that impressed with the past. This difference of Skeen looking to the future and King living with the past is, we think, the important difference between the two candidates. We urge you to go to the polls Tuesday, and we urge you to vote for Joe Skeen.

ON SECOND THOUGHTS

News reports Sunday surely sounded as though Begin and Sadat were having some second thoughts on peace agreements to end the 30 years of conflict that have plagued the two nations.

Seems as though there has been a lapse of time in which to give some second thoughts to matters agreed upon at Camp David when Our Jimmy was shepherding Begin and Sadat through preliminary peace talks.

Hard on the heels of the disclosure that the two heads of state had jointly received the Nobel Peace Prize... for their efforts to promote a lasting peace... came the announcement that snags had surfaced on the hoped for sea of tranquility... and that the boat of peace was in danger of springing a leak by ramming one of the said snags headon.

It doesn't seem possible... in the light of Camp David's developments... that the Israeli/Egyptian peace will founder... cause, by Jinks, Our Jimmy did up and get them to agree to parley... and also to establish that long sought peace.

Maybe Our Jimmy'd best load up two huge sacks of peanuts... one roasted and salted... the other green... and lie himself to the camps of the Palestinians... where he could exert his powers of persuasion... and if he succeeded, he could treat them all to delicious and satisfying properly prepared peanuts... if not, he could introduce them to green goobers, which might react in such fashion that the Palestinians would be more interested in potions to soothe their digestive tracts... than their efforts to disrupt the peace.

On the other hand... getting back to that Nobel Peace Prize... it seems as though Our Jimmy should have been entitled to one third of same. After all, it was through the efforts of Our Jimmy that Begin and Sadat did agree that peace and harmony should prevail between their nations... at least that's the way I read it. Why, a low blow like that for Our Jimmy could sour him on continuing to press for peace... which is unlikely, 'cause if'n he can't solve our domestic problems and become a hero... he might go down in history as the doggonest peace maker that ever sat in the Oval Office.

TUESDAY'S VOTING DAY

The polls will be open... for county, state and national offices... from 8 a.m.-7 p.m., Tuesday, November 7.

Voting is one of the few privileges Americans have left... a privilege that hasn't seriously been tampered with by the bureaucracy... though there are rumors that some liberties with the voting procedure have been taken in Cook County, Illinois... a fact the late mayor of Chicago, Richard Daley, denied with vehemence... and to anyone who'd listen.

Back to New Mexico... and the races, the outcome of which should be of vital interest to every taxpayer. If'n you don't like them as is in... go cast your vote to oust them.

Who represents you in Washington, D.C... or during the legislature in Santa Fe... or enjoys an elective office at the county level... if'n you've a tendency to gripe about taxes... for instance... should, in itself, cause you to take time to head for the polls and vote.

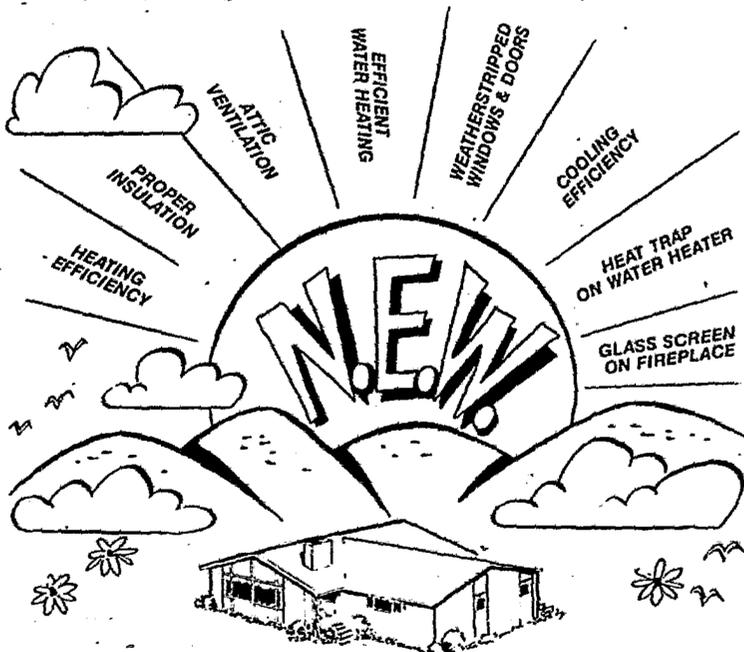

Staying away from the polls and not letting your vote count can be risky business... something numerous Cubans, Russians and Red Chinese know. And they probably long thought they'd never lose their privilege of voting.

TOUGH WINTER AHEAD?

As a weather forecaster, I'd make a great suffer... but I've been spying on some chipmunks and squirrels... loading up with goodies out of bird feeders. Talk about your puffy cheeked critters... why they stuff so much of that stuff into their cheeks, it looks as though they're inflated... like huge balloons.

I'm thinking maybe it's because they suspect it's going to be a long, hard winter... with a scarcity of food. On the other hand it might be these freeloaders... stealing from the bird feeder... are taking the easy way out of stocking their larders. If so, can't say as I blame them.

BRIEF BIT: In Tuesday's election, who'll have the last hurrah isn't nearly as important as who'll enjoy the last guffaw... CD

TEXTS OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON AT THE NOVEMBER 1978 GENERAL ELECTION.

UNDER LINED MATERIAL IS NEW WORDING [BRACKETED MATERIAL IS WORDING BEING DELETED] CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE 6, SECTION 32 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF NEW MEXICO AUTHORIZING THE JUDICIAL STANDARDS COMMISSION TO RECOMMEND THE DISCIPLINE OR REMOVAL FROM OFFICE OF ANY JUSTICE, JUDGE OR MAGISTRATE UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.

Section 1. It is proposed to amend Article 6, Section 32 of the constitution of New Mexico to read: "There is created the 'judicial standards commission', consisting of two justices or judges and two lawyers selected as may be provided by law to serve for terms of four years, and five citizens, none of whom is a justice, judge or magistrate of any court or licensed to practice law in this state, who shall be appointed by the governor for five-year staggered terms as may be provided by law.

In accordance with this section, any justice, judge or magistrate of any court may be disciplined or removed from office for willful misconduct in office, [or willful and] persistent failure or inability to perform [his] a judge's duties, or habitual intemperance, or he may be retired for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties which is, or is likely to become, of a permanent character.

The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and may permit the introduction of additional evidence, and it shall order the discipline, removal or retirement as it finds just and proper, and shall reject the recommendation. Upon an order for his retirement, any justice, judge or magistrate participating in a statutory retirement program shall be retired with the same rights as if he had retired pursuant to the retirement program.

All papers filed with the commission or its masters, and proceedings before the commission or its masters, are confidential. The filing of papers and giving of testimony before the commission or its masters is privileged in any action for defamation, except that the record filed by the commission in the Supreme Court continues privileged but, upon its filing, loses its confidential character, and a writing which was privileged prior to its filing with the commission or its masters does not lose its privilege by the filing.

Section 2 The amendment proposed by this resolution shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next general election or at any special election prior to that date which may be called for that purpose.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER 2 A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE 6, SECTION 15 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF NEW MEXICO TO ALLOW CERTAIN RETIRED JUDGES AND JUSTICES TO BE APPOINTED TO SERVE AS DISTRICT JUDGE PRO TEMPORE.

Section 1. It is proposed to amend Article 6, Section 15 of the constitution of New Mexico to read: "A. Any district judge may hold district court in any county at the request of the judge of such district.

B. Whenever the public business may require, the chief justice of the supreme court shall designate any district judge of the state, or any justice of the supreme court when no district judge may be available within a reasonable time, to hold court in any district, and two or more judges may sit in any district or county separately at the same time.

C. If any district judge is disqualified from hearing any cause or is unable to exercise the duties of any cause in the district, the chief justice of the supreme court may designate any retired New Mexico district judge, court of appeals judge or supreme court justice, with said designees consent, to hear and determine the cause and to act as district judge pro tempore for such cause.

D. If any judge shall be disqualified from hearing any cause in the district, the parties to such cause, or their attorneys of record, may select some member of the bar to hear and determine said cause, and act as judge pro tempore thereon.

Section 2 The amendment proposed by this resolution shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next general election or at any special election prior to that date which may be called for that purpose.

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE 8 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF NEW MEXICO TO PROVIDE FOR THE ACCRUAL OF REAL PROPERTY TAXES DURING THE LIFETIME OF CERTAIN ELDERLY TAXPAYERS. THE PAYMENT OF WHICH IS TO BE HELD IN ABEYANCE UNTIL DEATH OR THE TRANSFER OF THE PROPERTY.

Section 1. It is proposed to amend Article 8 of the constitution of New Mexico by adding a new section to read: "To prevent hardship on and the loss of the principal residence of elderly property owners, the legislature may enact laws holding in abeyance during the lifetime of the owner property taxes, imposed on the owner-occupied single family residential dwelling of a taxpayer over the age of sixty-two years or by a person, regardless of age, whose income consists of benefits or compensation directly attributable to a condition of total disability. The provisions of this section shall apply only if title to the owner-occupied single family residential dwelling has been held by the owner-occupier for at least five years.

Section 2 The amendment proposed by this resolution shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next general election or at any special election prior to that date which may be called for that purpose.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER 4 A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE 4, SECTION 10 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF NEW MEXICO TO PROVIDE LIMITATIONS ON THE REIMBURSEMENT OF LEGISLATORS FOR EXPENSES INCURRED IN THEIR DUTIES.

Section 1. It is proposed to amend Article 4, Section 10 of the constitution of New Mexico to read: Each member of the legislature shall receive: A. as per diem expense the sum of not more than forty dollars for each day's attendance during each session, as provided by law, and ten cents for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government by the usual traveled route, once each session as defined by Section 5, Article 4 of this constitution.

B. per diem expense and mileage at the same rates as provided in Subsection A for services at meetings required by legislative committees established by the legislature to meet the needs of the state.

C. a salary of three hundred dollars per month to begin on January 1, 1979, and D. no other compensation, perquisite or allowance except legislative retirement as established by law.

Section 2 The amendment proposed by this resolution shall be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the next general election or at any special election prior to that date which may be called for that purpose.

TEXTOS DE ENMIENDAS CONSTITUCIONALES SOMETIDAS PARA VOTACION EN LA ELECCION GENERAL DEL 7 DE NOVIEMBRE DE 1978.

MATERIAL SUBRAYADO SON PALABRAS NUEVAS [MATERIAL EN PARENTESIS CUADRADO SON PALABRAS BIENDO ELIMINADAS]

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUMERO 1 RESOLUCION DE AMBAS CAMARAS PROPONIENDO UNA ENMIENDA AL ARTICULO 6, SECCION 32 DE LA CONSTITUCION DE NUEVO MEXICO AUTHORIZANDO LA COMISION DE MODELOS JUDICIALES A RECOMENDAR LA DISCIPLINA O REMOVIEMIENTO DEL PUESTO A CUALQUIER JUEZ DE LA CORTE SUPREMA, JUEZ O MAGISTRADO BAJO CIERTAS CIRCUNSTANCIAS.

SECCION 1. Se propone enmendar el Artículo 6, Sección 32 de la constitución de Nuevo México que lee:

"Está constituido la 'comisión de modelos judiciales', consistiendo de dos jueces de la Corte Suprema, o jueces y dos abogados escogidos como pueda ser proveído por ley para servir por términos de cuatro años, y cinco ciudadanos, ninguno de los cuales es un juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado de ninguna corte o licenciado para practicar ley en este estado, quienes serán nombrados por el gobernador para términos variados de cinco años como pueda ser proveído por ley. Si una posición en la comisión llega a ser vacante por alguna razón, el sucesor será escogido por la autoridad original de nombramiento en la misma manera como el nombramiento original fue hecho y servirá por el resto del término vacante. Ningun acto de la comisión es válido a menos que tenga una concurrencia de una mayoría de sus miembros. La comisión escogerá un miembro nombrado por el gobernador para servir como presidente.

De acuerdo con esta sección, cualquier juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado de cualquier corte puede ser castigado o removido por mala conducta [de-intento] en el puesto, fallas persistentes o incapacidad de ejecutar [sus] los deberes de un juez, o intemperancia habitual, o él podrá ser retirado por incapacidad que interfiera seriamente con la ejecución de sus deberes que es, o pueden llegar a ser, de carácter permanente. La comisión podrá, después de una investigación que se crea necesaria, ordenar una audiencia que tendrá lugar antes de la comisión, acerca del acto de disciplina, removimiento, o retiro de un juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado, o la comisión puede nombrar tres jueces de la Corte Suprema o jueces de las cortes de registros para oír y tomar evidencia en el asunto y reportar sus resultados a la comisión. Después de la audiencia o después de considerar el registro y los resultados y el reporte de los jueces, si la comisión encuentra una buena causa, esta recomendará a la Corte Suprema la disciplina, removimiento o retiro de un juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado.

La Corte Suprema revisará el registro de los procedimientos en la ley y factores y podrá permitir la introducción de evidencia adicional, y ordenará el castigo, removimiento o retiro como se encuentre justo y propio o rechazará totalmente la recomendación. A orden de retiro, cualquier juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado participando en un programa de retiro legal será retirado con los mismos derechos como si él se hubiera retirado conforme al programa de retiro. A orden de removimiento, el juez de la Corte Suprema, juez o magistrado será removido de su puesto, y su salario cesará en la fecha de la orden.

Todos los documentos registrados con la comisión o sus jueces, y los procedimientos ante la comisión o sus jueces, son confidenciales. El registro de documentos y el testimonio dado ante la comisión o sus jueces tienen garantía en cualquier acción por difamación, excepto que el documento registrado por la comisión en la Corte Suprema continúa garantizado pero, al registrarse pierde su carácter confidencial, y lo escrito que estaba garantizado antes de registrarse con la comisión o sus jueces no pierde su garantía por el registro. La comisión promulgará regulaciones estableciendo procedimientos para audiencia bajo esta sección. Ningun juez de la Corte Suprema o juez que sea miembro de la comisión o Corte Suprema participará en cualquier procedimiento que concierne a su propio disciplinaje, removimiento o retiro.

Esta sección es alternativa, y acumulativa con, el removimiento de jueces de la Corte Suprema, jueces y magistrados por jueces y el control original superintendencial de la Corte Suprema.

Section 2 La enmienda propuesta por esta resolución será sometida a la gente para su aprobación o rechazo en la próxima elección general o en cualquier elección especial antes de la fecha que se pueda fijar para ese propósito.

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUMERO 2 RESOLUCION DE AMBAS CAMARAS PROPONIENDO UNA ENMIENDA AL ARTICULO 6, SECCION 15 DE LA CONSTITUCION DE NUEVO MEXICO PARA PERMITIR CIERTOS JUECES Y JUECES DE LA CORTE SUPREMA RETIRADOS A SER NOMBRADOS PARA SERVIR COMO JUEZ DE DISTRITO PRO TEMPORE.

SECCION 1. Se propone enmendar el Artículo 6, Sección 15 de la constitución de Nuevo México que lee:

"A. Cualquier juez de distrito puede llevar a cabo una corte de distrito en cualquier condado a petición del juez de dicho distrito. B. Cuando negocio público requiere, el juez jefe de la corte suprema designará a cualquier juez de distrito del estado, o cualquier juez de la corte suprema cuando ningún juez de distrito pueda estar disponible dentro de un tiempo razonable, para llevar a cabo una corte en cualquier distrito, o dos o más jueces pueden ocupar el puesto en cualquier distrito o condado separadamente al mismo tiempo.

C. Si algún juez de distrito es disqualificado para oír cualquier causa o está incapacitado para disponer prontamente cualquier causa en el distrito, el juez jefe de la corte suprema puede designar a cualquier juez de distrito de Nuevo México, juez de la corte de apelaciones o de la corte suprema, retirado, con el consentimiento de dichos designados, para oír y determinar la causa, y para actuar como juez de distrito pro tempore para tal causa.

D. Si cualquier juez es disqualificado para oír cualquier causa en el distrito, los partidos de tal causa, o sus abogados de registro, podrán seleccionar algún miembro de la abogacía para oír y determinar dicha causa, y actuar como juez pro tempore en ésta.

Section 2 La enmienda propuesta por esta resolución será sometida a la gente para su aprobación o rechazo en la próxima elección general o en cualquier elección especial antes de la fecha que se pueda fijar para ese propósito.

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUMERO 3 RESOLUCION DE AMBAS CAMARAS PROPONIENDO UNA ENMIENDA AL ARTICULO 8 DE LA CONSTITUCION DE NUEVO MEXICO PARA LA ACUMULACION DE IMPUESTOS DE PROPIEDAD REAL DURANTE EL TIEMPO DE VIDA DE CIERTOS CONTRIBUYENTES ANCIANOS, EL PAGO DE CUAL SE MANTENDRA EN SUSPENSIÓN HASTA SU MUERTE O TRANSFERENCIA DE LA PROPIEDAD.

SECCION 1. Se propone enmendar el Artículo 8 de la constitución de Nuevo México añadiendo una nueva sección que lee:

"Para prevenir injusticia y pérdida de la residencia principal de ciertos ancianos, la legislatura podrá promulgar leyes que suspendan la selección de impuestos sobre la una familia, residencia, dueño ocupada, durante la vida de un contribuyente que es mayor de sesenta y dos años de edad o de una persona, sin importar la edad, cuyo ingreso consiste de beneficios o compensación directamente atribuidos a una condición de incapacidad total. Las provisiones de esta sección aplicarán solamente si el título de la una familia, residencia, dueño ocupada, ha sido retenido por el dueño-ocupante, por lo menos de cinco años.

Section 2. La enmienda propuesta por esta resolución será sometida a la gente para su aprobación o rechazo en la próxima elección general o en cualquier elección especial antes de la fecha que se pueda fijar para ese propósito.

ENMIENDA CONSTITUCIONAL NUMERO 4 RESOLUCION DE AMBAS CAMARAS PROPONIENDO UNA ENMIENDA AL ARTICULO 4, SECCION 10 DE LA CONSTITUCION DE NUEVO MEXICO PARA PROVEER LIMITACIONES SOBRE EL REEMBOLSO A

LOS LEGISLADORES POR GASTOS INCURRIDOS EN SUS DEBERES. SEA RESUELTO POR LA LEGISLATURA DEL ESTADO DE NUEVO MEXICO:

Section 1. Se propone enmendar el Artículo 4, Sección 10 de la constitución de Nuevo México que lee: "Cada miembro de la legislatura recibirá: A. como gasto por día la suma no mas de cuarenta dólares por la asistencia de cada día durante cada sesión, como es proveído por ley, y diez centavos por cada milla viajada al ir y venir del puesto de gobierno por la ruta que se usa normalmente, una vez cada sesión como es definido en Sección 5, Artículo 4 de esta constitución: B. gastos de per diem y millaje a la misma tarifa como es proveído en Subsección A por el servicio en juntas requeridas por comités legislativos establecidos por la legislatura para satisfacer el intermedio entre sesiones.

C. un salario de trescientos dólares por mes comenzando el 1 de Enero de 1979; y D. ninguna otra compensación, prorequisito o pensión excepto retiro. Ley. Section 2. La enmienda propuesta por esta resolución será sometida a la gente para su aprobación o rechazo en la próxima elección general o en cualquier elección especial antes de la fecha que se pueda fijar para ese propósito.

What Kind of Man Do We Want As Our Senator?

We Want A Senator Who . . .

- has worked with local farmers and the Department of Agriculture to solve the problem of range caterpillars and has pushed legislation through the Congress to set up a federal program to spray infected areas in Lincoln County;
- moved legislation through the Congress setting up a program to provide Lincoln County with $328,000 of federal money to replace taxes that were lost from federal lands;
- helped obtain the body of Smokey the Bear and bring it to the Village of Capitan to establish an Historical State Park;
- worked with Carrizozo to bring a doctor into the area;
- had the courage to fight against the Panama Canal give-away and to cut $100 billion in federal spending requests by the big spenders in the Senate;
- and, who won the "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" for his work to cut federal waste, and the "Defender of Individual Rights" honor from the National Rifle Association.

Preserve chile for year around food

This is fresh green chile time in New Mexico. However, you can have chile all year-round if you freeze or can it now, says Mae Martha Johnson, Extension food specialist at New Mexico State University.

Large, firm pods are easier to peel. They should be bright green with shiny, smooth skins and thick flesh.

Immature chile will have thin flesh and underdeveloped flavor. Wilted or shriveled chile is difficult to peel.

Refrigerate chile in plastic bags to preserve the quality and nutrients. Green chile is an excellent source of both vitamins C and A.

Canning and freezing will cause some loss of vitamin C but the vitamin A retention is very good, Mrs. Johnson says. Drying green chile destroys the vitamin C; but again, vitamin A remains stable.

Chile for canning or freezing must be peeled to remove the tough outer skin. This is done by piercing the chile with a sharp knife and placing it near a heat source. You can use a very hot oven, broiler or an outdoor barbecue grill.

Heat the chile until the skin is blistered enough to pull away from the flesh. Turn the pods frequently to insure even blistering of the skin.

Chile may be blistered, cooled and frozen without peeling if you have enough freezer space. Pack in moisture-vapor proof containers and freeze.

The skin is a little easier to remove after the chile has been frozen, the specialist says.

If your freezer space is at a premium, peel chiles immediately after blistering. Remove seeds and veins and freeze the chile either whole or chopped. To peel, loosen the skin from the top of the pod and pull it away from the flesh.

For chopped or diced chile remove the stems and seeds. Whole chiles intended for chile rellenos are frequently frozen with the stems. Remove seeds from whole chile through a long slit down the pod's side.

Chile is a low acid vegetable which can be safely canned only in a pressure canner. Pack peeled chile loosely into hot jars leaving one inch head space. If salt is desired use one-half teaspoon per pint.

Add boiling water to the jar, leaving one inch head space. Adjust lids and process in a pressure canner. Half pints should be processed for 30 minutes and pints for 35 minutes. Don't can chile in jars larger than one pint, Mrs. Johnson says.

You need an internal temperature of 240 degrees Fahrenheit (116 degrees Celsius), to destroy botulism organisms. The amount of pressure needed to achieve this temperature depends on the altitude.

For altitudes of 2000 to 4000 feet, use 12 pounds; 4000 to 6000 feet, use 13 pounds; 6000 to 8000 feet, use 14 pounds; and 8000 to 10,000 feet, use 15 pounds of pressure.

To be sure there is no danger of botulism poisoning, make sure your processing equipment is in good condition, your pressure gauge is accurate and the food is processed for the recommended time.

As an added precaution, boil chile and all other home canned low acid food for 15 minutes before even tasting it, Mrs. Johnson says.
