HALL CHARGES NMSU MISUSED INFORMATION

Airport appeal filing set

BY MARY WORMLEY
Staff Writer

The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) agreed Friday to appeal the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) refusal to grant land on which to build a regional airport, by attempting to negotiate the bases on which the decision was made.

The appeal is being coordinated in response to the October 26 letter from Art Zimmerman, state BLM director, explaining his decision to deny the request made by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) on behalf of SBAC for approximately 3,000 acres on Fort Stanton mesa on which to build a jet capable airport.

The BLM refusal was made on the grounds experimentation on the site by New Mexico State University (NMSU) is "more important" to the national interest.

At their monthly meeting Friday, the commission agreed to send a position paper to the area FAA offices in Albuquerque stating their intent to appeal and outlining their line of protest.

The area offices will then forward the letter to the regional FAA offices in Fort Worth which will then sent it to the Secretary of the Interior, who will review the final decision and appeal.

Bob Howard, area FAA coordinator, told the commission, "I feel the BLM's conclusions are shallow and easily attacked," recommending the commission "not try to show which is most important (the experiments or the airport)" but show the compatibility of the two projects.

"Both are important, which makes the area twice as nationally important," he said.

Howard told the commission the proposed airport was significant nationally as "the only way the FAA can participate in the airport development is because it is part of the national airport plan. The federal government feels it is necessary and will put federal funds in it."

According to Richard Hall, SBAC chairman, the main point of the appeal will be emphasis on the commission's "spirit of cooperation" and desire not to impact the experiment.

Zimmerman wrote in the refusal that use of the proposed site as a jet capable airport "would be incompatible with and too disruptive of other present and planned uses more beneficial to national public interest."

Hall said, "It is not in the best interest to allow exclusive use of a massive tract of land. SBAC has pledged cooperation, but NMSU has refused."

The commission also agreed to point out the existence of a double parallel airstrip and crosswind airstrip already on the proposed airport site.

"There has been no mention of the existing airport in the agreement between the BLM and NMSU and the university has avoided all references to its presence," Hall said.

"The airport was there first and the grazing experiments came afterwards and coexisted with it," Howard said. "The BLM's position now is that the two cannot co exist."

During the monthly meeting, the commission also discussed distribution of inaccurate material by NMSU prior to the public hearings in September and apparent disregard of the inaccuracies by the BLM.

"An erroneous chart was widely distributed by NMSU showing the airport layout superimposed over the pastures," Hall said.

"The distribution was deliberate misuse of erroneous material," he said, adding the airport layout was double, covering twice the land it would cover if it were proportionate.

Prior to the BLM decision, NMSU spokesmen were quoted as saying, based on the erroneous materials, the proposed airport would cut the heart out of their grazing rotation experiments.

In the BLM decision Zimmerman wrote, "...the proposed airport development would remove lands from the very heart of the research area..." prompting Hall to comment, the BLM has "paraphrased, pardon the expression, NMSU's propaganda."

"Anyone in such a position of responsibility should at least be responsible in letter writing."

"Phase I development (which covers 278 acres outside the pastures) is compatible with the research program," Hall said.

"It certainly does not destroy the data base or even create a serious impact."

HOWARD TOLD THE commission the comments and protests should be received by the Secretary of the Interior by December 29 or the decision would become final. He suggested the group might request an audience with the secretary. The commission agreed to individually compose comments on the weaknesses of the BLM decision and to submit those comments to Hall by November 27.

Hall will discuss the comments with Howard November 30 or 31 and then the appeal will be composed with some assistance from community volunteers. The next SBAC meeting will be at 2 p.m., December 7 in the library.

NEW MEXICO BOYS STATE GOVERNOR Malcom Green, Alamogordo, spoke at the recent District 5 American Legion and Auxiliary meeting in Ruidoso and received congratulations from Prospero Sanchez, Department Commander of the New Mexico American Legion.

Elks launch big game hide drive; set game feed

The Ruidoso Elks Lodge is conducting their annual drive to collect deer and other big game hides to benefit patients in the Albuquerque Veterans Hospital. Containers have been placed at these collection points:

- Gibson's in Ruidoso
- Hughes Body Shop, Ruidoso
- Ruidoso Downs Fire Department
- Ruidoso Elks Lodge
- Cummins Grocery, Capitán
- Rich Sealey, Exalted Ruler of the lodge, in announcing the hide drive, said: "We can use deer and elk hides and the antlers, as the veterans use the antlers to make jewelry and household items.

"We also can use cow hides.

"The lodge pays for having the hides tanned and delivered to the Veterans Hospital.

"All proceeds from the hides and antlers go to our hospitalized veterans."

Sealey also announced that the annual big game supper, with proceeds going to the Ruidoso Boy Scouts, will be January 20, 1979, at the Elks Lodge.

"We're soliciting any kind of wild game for this supper, deer, elk, bear or fowl. You name it and if you have it, we'll prepare it for our supper."

Details on meat donations for the supper will be announced.

Ad deadline changed for ski tabloid

The advertising deadline for The Ruidoso News annual ski tabloid has been changed to Monday, November 13 at 5 p.m.

The change was made so that full distribution of the ski promotion tabloid can be made during the Thanksgiving season.

Advertisers are asked to contact Carmen Edwards or Caron Snow, telephone 257-4001, for rates and information.

Program honoring elders at Mescalero Wednesday

"Golden Age Day" will be held Wednesday to honor 68 Mescalero Apache elders over 65 years of age, tribal spokesman Sam Cooper said today.

Festivities will begin at 10 a.m., in the Mescalero Community Center with presentations by Wendell Chino, tribal president, and all tribal council members, 4-H Club members, Bent-Mescalero and Headstart children, Ruidoso White Mountain Mid School band and Tularosa High School chorus.

At noon a meal will be provided for the elders and that afternoon Apache social dances will be held to honor the group.

Elders to be honored are:

- Lucy Morgan, Beatrice Valdez, George Martine, Christian Naiche, Katarina Sombrero, Margaret Robinson, Nora Blake, Hugh Coonie, Paul Guydelkon, Miguel Little, Mack Bignouth, Jennie Chihuahua, Lewis Chino, Lena Morgan, Franklin Torres, Amelia Naiche, Lizzie Comanche;

Leslie Magooshboy, Anselma Carrillo, Edna Comanche, Terecita Tortilla, Mary Prins, William Pellman, Barnabas Naiche, Sarah Peso, Belle Kazhe, David Kazhe, Jasper Kaseah, William Peso, Catherine Valdez, Bernard Little, Ernest Marden, Eleanor Kaseah, Roy Balatchu; Kenneth Morgan; Grace Astor, Richard Magoosh, Walter Scott, Bessie Ybarra, Josephine Duffy, Fern Kaydahzinne, Pedro Valdez, Evelyn Gaines, Ruth Kazhe, Isaac Morgan, Mabel Botella, Wesley Kazhe and Marjia Perkins.

Volunteers assisting with the festivities include:

- Community Foods, Headstart kitchen and Home Extension; noon meal.
- Headstart-Day Care, Community Foods and Community Health Representatives (CHR): transportation of elders.

- CHR: transportation from Betty Dare Home.

- Public Health: transportation from other cities.

- Title VII: invitations and gifts.
- Special committee volunteers and Traditional Counselors will record information from the elders.

Explorer's set member drive

The Ruidoso Explorer's Club will hold their annual kickoff membership drive at their regular meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., in the Elks Lodge on Highway 70 south.

Club members will serve refreshments. Incumbent officers will present the tentative calendar of events for the ensuing year, with proposed projects to be brought up for consideration.

Special activities scheduled include:
- Explorer's ski weekend in Ruidoso January 13-14, 1979.

- District conference in Ruidoso in February, 1979 with the date to be announced.

Age requirements for membership for boys and girls range from freshmen through seniors in high school, with the annual registration fee set at $5.25 per person.

The club's theme is "High Adventure" with planned activities including skiing, hiking, camping and a road rally.

"The Explorer's Club," a spokesman said, "extends an invitation to all those interested to come and join us for snacks, to see our ideas and to register as a member for a year of 'High Adventure' and activities."

Present officers are Kelly Hamilton, Chris Sealey, Kelly Jordan and Richard Harris.

Sewer funding meeting tonight

The Joint Use Board of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs will meet at 7 tonight, in the municipal building at Ruidoso Downs to discuss funding application procedures for Step 3 of the Regional Wastewater System.

Step 3 includes actual construction of the treatment plant to be located in the Biscuit Hill area east of Ruidoso Downs and installation of mains and service lines to be used in the new sewer system to serve Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs.

Hospital planning drive to update intensive care unit

Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH) representatives made a presentation before the Service Club Council (SCC) Thursday requesting aid with their proposed fund drive to update the intensive care unit (ICU).

Dr. Paul Whitwam, a staff surgeon at the hospital, made the bulk of the presentation which included a short slide show depicting other intensive care units and the ultra modern equipment in them.

"We need a sophisticated monitoring system," he said. "Not only to measure heart rates but whether they are regular or irregular. We need life saving type equipment. Without these we are unable to save lives."

Whitwam also said the unit would need to add more trained personnel to operate the equipment that the hospital received.

"No matter how sophisticated the equipment is, without trained personnel they're useless," he said. "We need not only equipment but trained personnel."

With the added personnel and equipment, Whitwam said, the hospital would not only be able to save lives but prevent death. That would be made possible because the hospital wouldn't have to send heart attack victims to better equipped hospitals such as in Albuquerque.

"We can get to the patients more promptly," he said. "They would be better off than shipping them elsewhere. Delay in time could cause a permanent disability."

Saving the time necessary to prevent that disability from occurring can also prevent death Whitwam said.

"Chances are one out of three that the attack victim will die from the first heart attack," he said. "Usually they die within an hour of the initial attack."

Whitwam also said the updated intensive care unit would benefit others than heart attack victims, such as serious automobile accident victims.

"We will be better able to treat trauma," he said. "Greater than 45 percent of accidental deaths are secondary to the automobile. Accidents are the number three cause of death. More than 100 million people are killed in accidents."

Hospital administrator Ken Moore backed Whitwam's pleas for the intensive care unit and outlined briefly what the hospital's long range goals are.

"We have a two-bed unit now," Moore said. "There are a lot of things we can do within the intensive care unit if we have proper type of equipment."

"We are checking to see if it's economically feasible to knock-out another wall to expand to three or four beds. The nurses would monitor the equipment within the intensive care unit, not in another room. Ideally we want to get in the situation where the nurses are in the same room (as the patient)."

In other discussions, Pat Delhotel reported that the Ruidoso Youth Concert at the high school October 30 was a success.

"It was perfect for the little kids," she said. "The kids just loved it. They lapped it up. I think it was a smashing success because you (the SCC) helped do this."

Likewise, Katherine Finley reported on the Literacy Workshop October 28 and 29.

"The purpose of the workshop is to teach individuals to teach other individuals to read. Any color, shape or size. All ages," she said.

"We now have 15 who can teach," she said. "We have a room at the library. Service is available for anyone who needs it. If you know anyone who needs help, say something. We'll conduct more workshops as needed."

In other action, the council:
- Discussed the trouble with the telephone lines at the Lincoln County Animal Control Center and the recent trouble people have had reaching them.

- Discussed a recommendation by the Guideline Committee concerning rules and regulations for the club to follow. No final measures were taken.

PEDESTRIAN JOE GREEN, 55, Ruidoso, driver. Green is in satisfactory condition at Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital (Ruidoso News photo.) sustained head injuries when he was struck while crossing Sudderth Drive Thursday evening. No citations were issued against the

Smokey Bear radio station now on the air

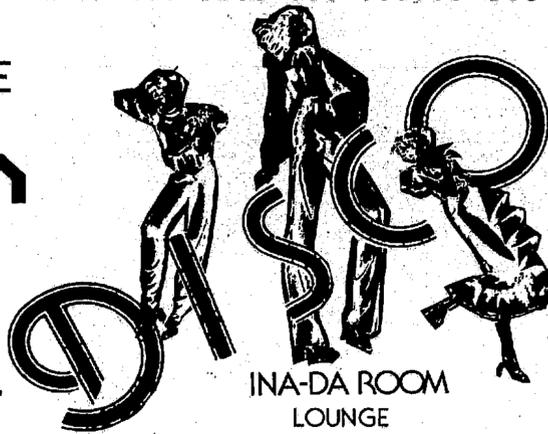

The informational radio station broadcast from Smokey Bear Ranger District offices returned to the air after a lengthy silence. The station on 16.10-AM band had been off the air since mid August when a short caused interference with other radios. The station will broadcast information on hunting, fuel wood and Christmas trees, Steve Makowski, Forest Service fire management officer, said Friday.

"Dear Lincoln County Voter:

We are your friends and neighbors--merchants, businessmen and women, retirees, ranchers, teachers, salesmen, and just plain folks. We are asking you for your vote and support for the re-election of SENATOR JOHN E. CONWAY. Here's why:

JOHN CONWAY is an effective legislator, with eight years as a State Senator, the last six years as minority leader. This experience has given him the expertise and leadership ability to get things done for his district.

JOHN CONWAY supports strong law enforcement. As a member of the Legislative Oversight Committee to the Organized Crime Prevention Commission, he is concerned about organized crime moving into New Mexico. He intends to continue to introduce legislation to strengthen laws against drug traffickers.

JOHN CONWAY fights our battle against higher taxes and inflation. Senator Conway has introduced and will introduce again legislation to remove the "tax on misery", the tax on prescription medicines. "Tax overburdens on middle America, the workers and small businessmen, are a direct cause of inflation, which I believe to be our most serious national problem."

JOHN CONWAY supports Right to Work. He has voted for Right to Work in the past, intends to continue supporting it, and is not afraid to stand up and be counted on this most important issue.

Please join us in going to the polls on Tuesday, November 7 to vote for JOHN E. CONWAY. HE'S OUR MAN FOR THE FUTURE OF LINCOLN AND OTERO COUNTIES, SENATE DISTRICT 39.

Sincerely,

Joe Skeen, Picacho

Area State Police officers qualify as pistol marksmen

Eight New Mexico State Police officers from Lincoln County participated in a recent practical pistol course in Alamogordo conducted by Sergeant Bobby Miller of the Otero County unit. In the first portion of the course, the officers fire 12 shots in 25 seconds from a distance of seven yards into a human silhouette target. The officer must fire six shots, reload and fire six more shots within the time limit. The second phase consists of firing 18 shots, six kneeling and six standing with the pistol in the left hand and six standing with the pistol in the right hand, in a time limit of 90 seconds.

Seasonal employment foreseen

With the holiday shopping season almost here, New Mexico Job Service is gearing up to help employers find extra workers and job seekers find temporary work or fulltime work. W.A. Anderson, director of the Human Services Department Employment Services Division which includes Job Service, said area offices around the state are preparing to handle heavy employment activity lasting through midwinter.

"Many employers count on tax supported Job Service to help provide seasonal workers," Anderson said. "At the same time, temporary work often provides important economic support to workers and their families during the holiday season when this is especially needed. Job Service is ready to fill employers' needs for workers with various types of skills and experience. Our applicant pool in all parts of the state has many people looking for part-time work, especially during evenings and on weekends, which are peak business hours for shoppers."

Employers should call their local area office to find workers. People looking for work should register with their local office, and if already registered should check to make sure their applications are on active status.

In another portion of the course, the officers fire 24 rounds in sitting, prone and standing, positions using both right hand and left hand, in a time limit of two minutes and 45 seconds.

All firing is double action except for the 50-yard portion, which is optional single action.

Lincoln County officers completing the course were Lieutenant K.G. Shockey, officers P.J. Darden and D. Kent Waller, all in Ruidoso; Sergeant Jack E. Johnson, Captain; officers Clayton Floyd and Jim A. Sharpe, both in the Hondo Valley, officers Melvin Dale Housley and Joseph Wade Steel, both in Carrizozo, and officer Jim A. Hiltley, Corona.

A score of 75 is required to qualify and all scored above 80. The officers must qualify at least four times a year.

Institute offers energy saving home analysis

New Mexico residents will have an opportunity to lower their fuel bills this winter by participating in a free service offered statewide by the New Mexico Energy Institute at the University of New Mexico.

The service is the Home Energy Analysis Program, which is based on a questionnaire which is available to anyone who owns or rents a house in New Mexico. Using this questionnaire, a home's energy consumption and losses can be computer analyzed. Individuals who participate in the program by completing and returning a questionnaire will receive a detailed, personalized report on the steps which can be taken to conserve energy in their particular homes.

Copies of the Home Energy Questionnaire are available directly through the institute or from any New Mexico Energy Extension Service office. For further information, contact the New Mexico Energy Institute at the University of New Mexico.

Short Story film tonight

The story in tonight's 8 o'clock film at the Ruidoso Public Library is "The Music School" by John Updike. The action occurs during a twenty-four hour period, in which a contemporary writer struggles to find a focus in his life. The implication of religion and technology, contemporary violence and social change all emerge in vivid images—as do the fragile moments of happiness the writer enjoys when he takes his daughter to the music school. John Korty, director of the award winning "Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," directed and wrote the teleplay for this film.

The American Short Story Series is sponsored by Altrusa and the Public Library. It is made possible by the New Mexico Humanities Council.

Library Laurels

by Kathy Moore

There has been an increasing public interest in posters. Ruidoso Public Library now has a sufficient number of posters which will circulate on a two week loan period. So, if you want to add a little color and warmth to your own room, school room or office, or if you want to convey a subtle message in a subtle, but not too subtle manner, simply place a poster in the appropriate place at the appropriate time.

For example, if someone at your house is dieting and not doing so well, you could provide a little humorous encouragement by taping on the refrigerator door the poster picturing a young man viewing the marvels of pastries and candies and relating Oscar Wilde's "I can resist everything except temptation."

MR. AND MRS. T. L. MAROLT

Blackwelder/Marolt vows said

Parula Ann Blackwelder and Theodore Lee Marolt were married in an afternoon ceremony September 6 at First Christian Church with the Reverend Ken Cole officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Sue Chapman, Ruidoso, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Marolt, Denver.

Given in marriage by her grandfather Jack Armstrong, Ruidoso, the bride was attended by maid of honor Karen Hernandez and bridesmaids Jill Blackwelder and Cindy Durham.

Best man was Peter Tronnier, Denver, and groomsmen were Dan Kelly and Vance Farrell.

Candlelighter was Tammy Blackwelder and music for the ceremony was provided by soloist Jack Wagner who was accompanied by Carl Mori.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club. The couple will make their home in Denver.

Out of town guests were F.C. Hart, the bride's great grandfather, Artesia; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bourland, Artesia; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wagner, Randy Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wagner, Roswell; Jack Wagner, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Mrs. Nancy Jones, Roswell; Celia Marolt, Aspen,

Rotary Club seeking home for foreign exchange youth

The Ruidoso Rotary Club will be able to bring Exchange Student Marco Fabio from Sao Paulo, Brazil to Ruidoso in 1979 if one more home can be located in Ruidoso this week.

Two homes have been located to date and another home will assure the local Rotary Club that Marco will have sufficient hosts here for a year. Marco will be completing his senior year in high school in December and would repeat his senior year in Ruidoso High School in 1979.

Those hosting Marco would be expected to include him as a member of their family for three months or a school semester. All indications are that he is a fine young man, 16 years of age. He comes highly recommended. A Ruidoso home with one or more male high school students would be preferred, although having students would not be necessary.

Those desiring more information on hosting a Rotary Exchange Student are encouraged to call 257-2993 or 257-5251. Detailed information on Marco Fabio will be shared.

Sylvia Turner, exchange student from Australia, who is spending 1978 in four Ruidoso homes will be returning home in January. Donna Clarke is currently an exchange student from Ruidoso in New Zealand, and Melanie McGuire is currently an exchange student from Ruidoso in Sweden.

OES schedules special events

Clara Jester, Ruidoso Chapter 65, Order of Eastern Star, and District Nine Instructor, will conduct a School of Instruction at 7 p.m., November 8 at the Eastern Star Hall.

There will be a Thanksgiving supper prior to the school at 5:45 p.m., commemorating the chapter's thirtieth birthday.

All local members of the order and visiting members are invited to attend these activities and those of the following day at 7:30 p.m., when Patricia Neal and Barbara Cloyd will be initiated into the order.

Living, dying seminar set

A seminar on the process of living and dying will be presented at 7 p.m., Thursday in the First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs.

Sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance and Southwest Health Care Corporation, the seminar will feature Dr. Dan Dansak and ministers from area churches.

Warriors tumble 42-3

The Ruidoso Warriors turned the ball over three times to Estancia and all three of them led to Estancia scores as the Warriors fell 42-3 Friday night in the season finale.

Estancia's first possession came after a Warrior turnover inside their own 30 yard line and a few plays later fullback Gene Autry galloped 18 yards for six points. The point after was good and Estancia had a 7-0 lead early in the first period.

Estancia made it 13-0 after another Warrior turnover deep in their own territory. Estancia quarterback hit split end Bo Lutrick for a touchdown a few plays following the turnover. The point after touchdown failed.

Estancia upped the count to 21-0 in the second period, driving for this touchdown. The score came on a short plunge.

The Warriors finally got on the board, also in the second period, when kicker Mark Dutton split the uprights with a 37 yarder.

"It was pretty," Stierwalt said. "It was high and true."

It was also true that the Warriors had done what they could ill afford to do against a team the caliber of Estancia. Ruidoso turned the ball over too many times.

"The fumbles really hurt us," Stierwalt said. "All of a sudden we're down 13-0 and the game is barely four minutes old."

The fumble that really hurt the Warriors came in the third period with the Warriors driving toward the Estancia goal. Running the option, quarterback Borde Williams was bottled up by the Estancia defense. He pitched the ball to running back John Cabot. The ball arrived at the same time as a host of defenders and Cabot fumbled. An Estancia defender was in the right place at the right time, scooping the ball up and rambling 75 yards for the score. The point after made it 28-3.

Then, in the final period, Estancia delivered the blow that nailed the coffin shut. On second down, split end Bo Lutrick grabbed a pass, shed two Warrior defenders and rambled 80 yards into the Warrior end zone for a touchdown. That made the score 35-3, but there were still some more fireworks to come.

Calling his own plays for the first time this year, Ruidoso quarterback Borde Williams marched the Warriors downfield. Then, from the Estancia three yard line, Williams sneaked the ball to the one. Three plays later, Estancia took over on their one, having stopped the Warriors short.

"Borde said he scored all three times," Stierwalt said. "It looked like he scored to me, the fans, everyone but the officials."

If that wasn't heartbreaking enough, on the next play Lutrick did his thing. He snagged a pass from the quarterback and trotted untouched into the end zone. That made the tally the final 42-3.

Although obviously disappointed, Stierwalt wasn't all that displeased with his troops.

"I know the score doesn't show it, but I thought we played a good game," he said. "We moved the ball against them. It was kind of like the Tularosa ball game. If they hadn't had all those long plays it might have been a different game."

Still, it wasn't lost on Stierwalt that Estancia is a good ball club.

"They did just about what they wanted," he said. "I think they'll win it all. I sure don't know who's going to stop them." If anyone is going to stop them, it will take a defense full of Pat Herreras, Friday night against Estancia, Herrera was super.

"Pat Herrera played the best game of his life," Stierwalt said. "He was quick as a cat Friday night." So was Estancia.

Pair wrest lead from idle team

Win, Place and Show and Jauregui moved past idle Denny's Tire and Auto into first place in the Monday Nite Mixed Bowling League. Both post 13-7 records. Denny's Tire and Auto is at 12-4.

Hair Affair moved into fourth place on the basis of a 3-1 record during the week. They are currently at 11-5. Jack's Burgers suffered an 0-4 week and tumbled all the way to fifth at 10-10. Also suffering an 0-4 week was Timber's Townhouses, now 9-11.

Western Auto also had an unproductive week, going 0-4 and falling into seventh place with a 7-11 record. Clarke's Chapel of Roses was alone in eighth at 4-12 on the basis of a 1-3 record during the week.

Staying in ninth place but making a move to get out of it is Dairy Queen. Before last week's play, they stood at 0-8. Now they are 3-9 after a profitable 3-1 week. Alone in last is Ruidoso Music at 2-18 after an 1-3 week.

Local businessman named to committee

H.T. "Shorty" Hornbuckle, prominent Ruidoso businessman, was named Lincoln County chairman and a member of the state's United States Olympic Committee by George Maloof, the New Mexico State State Chairman.

Hornbuckle will lead the effort in the county to support the 1980 Olympic team at Lake Placid, New York and Moscow.

Hornbuckle will participate in a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner in Albuquerque November 21. The principal guests at the black-tie dinner will be Ben Abruzzo, Maxie Anderson and Larry Newman, who this summer were the first to make a balloon flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

Malooof said that he was appointing as county chairmen people "who, like Maxie, Ben and Larry, inspired young New Mexicans to make the team and inspire others to support them."

"Traditionally the American Olympic team has been supported by the American public, so we are asking business leaders to support the fund-raising effort in Lincoln County. Young American champions already have their eyes on Lake Placid and Moscow for 1980, and we in business should provide a back-up team to give them our support," Hornbuckle said.

Past, present and future offers challenge to senior

BY JOHN NEYLAND
Sports Writer

Kelly Thomasson is like many high school seniors. She is preoccupied with her future, concerned with her past and unsure of her present. But Kelly Thomasson isn't afraid to meet the challenge each period in her life poses.

Of her past in Dallas and Lubbock, Texas, Kelly, an 18-year-old on the Ruidoso volleyball team, talks of her first experiences with sport.

"We lived in a big apartment in Dallas and we used to play hide and go seek in the yard," she says. "I can still remember running."

Running is what turns Kelly on the most about sports. She first became interested in track while in grade school and finally, "excelled in fifth and sixth grade." She was so good, in fact, that she was often allowed to practice with the boys after the girls got finished with practice. She received special attention from the coach.

"I loved it," she says. "I loved the attention."

Kelly stopped being the center of attention when she moved to Ruidoso from Lubbock less than three years ago. That's one of the reasons she went out for volleyball last year.

"When I first moved here I had this feeling that the people had all grown up together and so, to me, it seemed that it was hard to get in with other people," she said. "I didn't have anything to share with them and that made me feel like an outsider. So I now find myself doing things, like volleyball, so people will look at me."

One person she doesn't want looking at her while she is playing, however, is her boyfriend.

"I don't want my boyfriend to come to the games because I might screw up," she says. "I'm not that confident."

She doesn't let her lack of confidence prevent her from saying her piece, concerning volleyball or anything else.

"When we lose and the girls are laughing and giggling that makes me mad. Something snaps inside because I want them to remember it and not just blow it off easily. If there is something to say around other people, I'm going to say it."

Despite this outer confidence that she says she doesn't have, there lurks within Kelly a girl unsure about herself in relation to other people.

"I've always been told don't let what anyone else thinks affect you," she says. "Everyone is told that, right? But it still does. Even people who say they aren't affected by other people are. In that respect I do things that other people will approve of. When I do that, though, I get mad at myself."

Kelly thought for a moment. Then she changed her way of thinking.

"If you don't try so hard to please other people you'll be happier with yourself. Three-fourths of the time they don't give a damn about what you're doing anyway."

Then Kelly turned her thoughts to the ever-nearing future. She wants to return to Lubbock and attend Texas Tech. Considering her 4.0 grade point average, she shouldn't have any difficulty gaining admittance. What to study once she gets there is a problem, however. "I want to study law. I'd love to be a public defender," she says. "But I don't know if I want to spend that much time in school. I love to debate. I argue with my boyfriend a lot, put him on the spot. I like to see him get out of it."

Junior ski race officials elected

The meeting held Wednesday at Kings Supper Club to solicit new members for the Ruidoso-Sierra Blanca Junior Ski Racers drew approximately 25 people.

New board members were elected by acclamation after being nominated from the floor. The electees include Vivian Bowen, Johnny Mobley, L. Ray Nunley, Martin Rose and Sam Nunnally.

The audience was also informed that a new coach, Chuck Bent, will arrive in Ruidoso November 6. Assistant coach Joe Bob McGuire was in attendance at Wednesday's meeting.

New officers for the year were also elected. They include Vivian Bowen, secretary-treasurer; Lynn King, racing secretary and Francis Slatton, publicity secretary. A chairman will be selected by the board members at a later date.

The next meeting will be held November 8 at 7:30 p.m., at Kings. All those interested are invited to attend. For more information call 257-5742.

Ski Ruidoso brochure ready for distribution

Two brochures "Ski Ruidoso" and "Esqui Ruidoso" have been published and will be distributed locally, throughout Texas and to selected markets in Mexico beginning this week.

Fifteen thousand copies of Ski Ruidoso, in English, will be hand delivered and mailed to ski shops, ski magazine subscribers, travel agencies and sporting goods shops throughout Texas. Three thousand copies of Esqui Ruidoso, in Spanish, will be hand delivered to Guadalajara, Mexico for distribution to selected travel agencies previously agreeing to participate in a tourism promotion of skiing in Ruidoso.

The brochures, with four color photographs on each of the 16 pages, tout the facilities at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort and Ruidoso Ski Resort, opening this winter.

In addition to the Texas and Mexico distribution, 7,000 copies will be placed in selected locations as handouts to winter tourists. Copies of the brochure, which fold to fit a business envelope, will be available at the Chamber of Commerce and The Aspen Tree for individuals desiring to mail them to friends.

The brochure was produced by Community Publications of Ruidoso, with Glen Pike as publisher.

"A portion of the cost of mailing the brochures to more distant points in Texas," Pike said, "is being borne by Lodger's Tax funds, as an advertising and promotion venture to attract skiers and winter tourists to Ruidoso."

News from the Home Economist

Potatoes in main dish add color to any meal; russet, red, tan — changing leaves aren't nature's only fall display of many colors. Each variety of potato, though white inside, wears its own particular skin hue, too. Favorable weather and large plantings of a colorful variety of potatoes will yield an abundant harvest — greater than either of the past two years — according to the United States Department of Agriculture, (USDA).

Potatoes are being grown and harvested somewhere in the United States all year long. But the fall crop is the largest and may be stored for 9 to 12 months, allowing good supplies on the market all year long. This year's active harvest of the big crop is pushing shipping-point prices downward, reports USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Potatoes grown in Lincoln County are at their peak supply.

Baked, roasted, creamed hash browned, au gratin, curried, souffled, chips, shoestrings, dehydrated, canned — in whatever form or fashion you serve them — potatoes can be the star of any meal or snack. Try these main dishes along with a salad and dessert for hearty lunches or light suppers.

Potato Cheese Puff
3 egg yolks, beaten
1/4 cup milk
3 cups mashed, grated potatoes
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 cups cheddar cheese, coarsely shredded
3 egg whites, beaten stiffly
Combine egg yolks and milk. Add remaining ingredients, except for the egg whites; beat well. Fold egg whites into mixture. Bake in greased two quart baking dish in a 375 degree oven for 40 to 45 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean and the top is browned. Serve immediately. Yield: 8 servings - about 1 cup each.

Potato Kugel
6 potatoes, grated and drained
3 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup bread crumbs
salt and pepper, to taste
1 onion, grated
4 tablespoons melted shortening
Mix eggs with potatoes, bread crumbs, salt, pepper, onion and melted shortening. Turn into a greased baking dish and bake for 1 hour in a 375 degree oven.

Potato and Frankfurter Soup
2 cups diced potatoes
1 small onion, sliced
1-1/2 cups boiling water
2 frankfurters
1-3/4 teaspoons salt
pepper
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Cook potatoes and onion in boiling water until soft. Put through a ricer or mash slightly.

Cut frankfurters into 1/4 inch slices. Add frankfurters, seasonings and milk to potato mixture. Heat thoroughly, add parsley and serve.
For variety — salami or other lunch meat, cut in pieces, may be used instead of frankfurters. Allow one slice per person. Or sprinkle the soup with chopped cooked ham before serving.

Ruidoso C.B. Club Doings

BY THE ZOOKEEPER

The Ruidoso C.B. Club had their meeting and Halloween Party October 30 at the K-

Stob Steak House. It was a covered dish meal, and the food was plentiful and delicious. The ladies really outdid themselves. All the costumes were terrific and special mention must go to Desirable Allen and Propwash. Their costumes were out of this world.

As you recall, the handicapped skiers were our project in the spring. At our next meeting Diana Glover is going to show slides of the kids at the ski meet in Canada. I think everyone that worked to send them will enjoy this.

Special get well wishes to Fikit Man, who is in the hospital. Get well real soon. If you were at the meeting Monday, everyone was glad to see you, but if you were not able to come, we missed you. See you soon.

The Dreamer

BY DANNIE STORM

November Arrives Right On Time

This is being sent to you on the first day of November. And it is a perfect November day. The thirty-first of October was the first day of the new moon; and, true to the old sayings, we had a weather change. From the Indian Summer day of the thirtieth; we changed into an early Autumn day of all-day cloudiness. There was low-hanging mist drifting over the hill tops, and light little clouds of fog wandering down the vale, and drifting up into the little mountain glens. The air was fresh and mild, and all the birds did not give signs of cold weather; yet they were busy feeding and calling to one another all along the valley and the mountain side. They were telling of still another weather change.

So during the night, here came that gentle message — the lullaby of the rain drops on the roof, that dreamy sound, so welcome, always lulling you to pleasant sleep.

Now today, the first of November, it is just a little after high noon, and the cloudy sky, the air and the earth are fresh with the tiny rain drops and heavy mist and fog. The rain clouds wander up and down the vale; back and forth from hill top to hill top, the mist clouds float. Now and then the rain drops almost stop. And all the misty world is still. The soft fog is a still veil of very light gray hanging in the upper end of the vale, and in the upper ends of the little canyons and glens.

Every leaf, branch and twig of ever green, and every blade of grass is laden with a full load of shining drops large and small, generously given by the rain, mist and fog. The golden and bronze colors of the leaves are clean washed and pure, a slight ever so welcome to your eye under the low clouds and amongst the veils of mist.

Now the north wind breathes gently, and the still picture moves ever so slightly bringing the world into a brief awakening from its dreaming under the mists.

A crow gives his call, telling us a message of clear weather over the hill. The snow birds are chirping happily talking of snow on the mountain. And here is a blue-feathered friend we have not seen for a long time here at the house.

The Blue Jay

One of our favorite birds is the Blue Jay, whose navy blue coat can be seen flashing as he flies from one pine tree to another, sending his clarion, bugle-like call all through the mountain forest. Once in a while he leaves his beloved pines and comes down to visit his cousins of the Pinon country, the Pinon Jays. He is called the Stellars Jay, and you can tell him from the Pinon Jays by his little black cap, of which he is very proud.

There he is now out at the Cedar tree his pure dark blue coat in full Autumn color. He is chatting with the pinon birds, tossing his head from time to time. His little top knot is just like a little Scotch bonnet, the kind our mother delighted to wear. This favorite American bird is a dear friend of all our family. We have known him in Alaska, Oregon, California and now here in the land of the Pinon and Pine. When he visits down this way, it usually means an approaching weather change in his higher country of the pines. There are several members of the Jay family among which is the beautiful Texas Blue Jay, that bird of many shades of blue. I wish he would pay us a visit once in a while along with his fellow-Texan, the Mocking Bird.

Thankful Weather

You remember that in February and November we have days of all four seasons. So this is only one kind of November day, a very special kind.

In this cloudy-misty world with the slow rain falling, you are somehow especially grateful. You think of crops safely in the barn, of fruit and vegetables stored for the winter, of stacks of firewood near the door. You are grateful for the simplest things, like friends, your health, and life itself.

You are thankful for a roof over your head to shelter you from mist and rain, for a little fire in the fire place, the brisk air brings a keen appetite, and you are grateful for something to eat.

Then your thoughts wander up and down the vale, all through the neighborhood, and out over our state, our nation, and the world. And your heart goes out to people everywhere, and you hope that the blessings for which you are so grateful may be cherished by everyone. And you

Strict regulations govern school bus drivers' actions

In addition to regulations governing drivers of other vehicles and passenger behavior, the state Department of Education, school transportation division has compiled a list of regulations governing bus drivers.

"School children in New Mexico are provided with the safest possible equipment," Pat Valliant, Ruidoso schools superintendent, said.

"Drivers are trained, not only in operating procedures, but in many related areas ... there are certain practices which must be followed by each bus driver."

Valliant added, "It is our hope that parents, students and other drivers will assist us in making our school transportation as safe and efficient as possible."

State regulations governing school bus drivers are:

— Each schoolbus contractor must have a properly executed contract on a form provided by the state director of school transportation. The driver must observe all conditions of the contract.

— The school bus contractor and driver must observe all state laws, rules and regulations and any local board of education policies. They also must follow instructions of the school administrator in charge of transportation.

— It is the duty of school bus drivers to enforce all regulations governing the conduct of students from the time they enter the bus in the morning until they alight from it at the school building and from the time they enter the bus at the school building until they alight at their regular assigned stop. A school bus driver should not knowingly permit any student off the bus at any point other than at their assigned stop without the permission of the school authority.

— Drivers shall not transport any persons who are not school students assigned to their bus or school employees while making regular routes. School employees or unassigned students must have prior approval of the administration.

— Drivers shall not permit students to place heads, arms or other parts of their bodies out of the bus, nor shall any person be permitted to ride on the outside of the bus.

— Drivers should not wait for students unless they are observed making an effort to reach the bus. Drivers must use good judgment and not impede traffic unnecessarily. Buses shall be brought to a complete stop before taking on or letting off students and on morning routes, a complete stop will be made at all established stops whether students are there or not, unless a parent or guardian has notified the driver that the student will be absent.

— The school bus driver and/or contractor shall at all times be loyal to the administration in carrying out school policies and regulations. They should at all times strive to achieve the results desired and expected by the local school district.

— The driver and/or contractor shall report to school officials any complaints which parents or students may make regarding transportation service which they are not in a position to rectify. They also may make recommendations to school administrators for improvement of the school transportation program. All hazards, whether potential or existing, on the route and all causes for failure to operate on schedule should also be reported.

— Only with explicit written permission of the local board of education and the district's liability insurance carrier and with adequate seating available, may a driver transport their nonschool enrolled children.

— The driver shall provide safety instructions and emergency evacuation drills to all students of the bus, emphasizing loading and unloading procedures, at least twice each year, with one session at the beginning of the school year.

— School bus drivers and contractors shall make all reports required by the state transportation director and the local school administration.

— The driver shall not allow the transportation of animals, firearms, knives, explosives, breakable glass items or other dangerous objects on the bus. No item that will block the aisles or be tossed about inside the bus during an accident situation should be permitted on the bus.

— Regulations for transporting musical instruments inside the bus are: no instrument shall occupy needed seating space or be placed in the driver's compartment, none of the larger instruments will be carried on the bus and all instruments carried by students should be under their control at all times and carried in the lap, between seats or in a vacant seat. The aisle should not be blocked at any time.

— Drivers shall not permit students to place heads, arms or other parts of their bodies out of the bus, nor shall any person be permitted to ride on the outside of the bus.

— The driver shall adhere to the established route schedule approved by the local school district as closely as safe conditions will allow.

— Drivers should not wait for students unless they are observed making an effort to reach the bus. Drivers must use good judgment and not impede traffic unnecessarily. Buses shall be brought to a complete stop before taking on or letting off students and on morning routes, a complete stop will be made at all established stops whether students are there or not, unless a parent or guardian has notified the driver that the student will be absent.

— The school bus driver and/or contractor shall at all times be loyal to the administration in carrying out school policies and regulations. They should at all times strive to achieve the results desired and expected by the local school district.

— The driver and/or contractor shall report to school officials any complaints which parents or students may make regarding transportation service which they are not in a position to rectify. They also may make recommendations to school administrators for improvement of the school transportation program. All hazards, whether potential or existing, on the route and all causes for failure to operate on schedule should also be reported.

— Drivers shall report all serious discipline cases to the proper administrator in accordance with the local school district policy. The driver shall, however, have authority to temporarily suspend a student's transportation privilege up to a maximum of one trip for a serious discipline problem. The school bus driver is exclusively in full charge of all pupils when they are riding the bus. If a teacher or school administrator is riding the bus, the driver and the school staff member are authorized to enforce student discipline.

In any event, the state board of education disciplinary regulations shall be observed. The driver should not attempt to correct a student while the bus is in motion and a student shall not be put off the bus while enroute for misconduct unless the student is endangering the lives of other passengers. If this action becomes necessary, an immediate report to the school administration is required. Corporal punishment shall not be administered by the driver nor should the driver touch a student for disciplinary reasons unless for the protection of the driver or other students.

— School bus drivers shall report all accidents involving their school bus in accordance with accident reporting procedures outlined by the state.

— The driver shall not permit any unauthorized person to occupy the driver's seat or tamper with the vehicle in any way.

— The driver shall conduct a daily pretrip inspection before each trip to make certain that all equipment is satisfactory for safe operation. The driver should also make a running brake test before transporting students. The driver shall not operate any bus that will endanger the lives of the students. Any mechanical defect should be reported to the supervisor

HOSPITAL SERVICES FOR PERSONS UNABLE TO PAY

The State Health Planning and Development Bureau has made an initial determination that the sum of $32,250, as the level of uncompensated service to be made available by Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital in the period April 1, 1978 through March 31, 1979, is a reasonable volume of services to be made available to persons unable to pay which meets a need for such services in the area served by the facility and which is in the financial ability of the applicant to provide. This determination has been made pursuant to the requirements of the Public Health Service regulations, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare (42 CFR Sec. 43.111). This initially established level of uncompensated services will be equal to 3 percent of the sum obtained from subtracting Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement from the facility's operating cost. This is a method established under Section 53.111(c).

"Uncompensated services" means services which are made available to persons unable to pay, without charge or at a charge which is less than the reasonable cost of such services as defined by Title XVIII (Medicare).

Persons wishing to object to the level of uncompensated services established for Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital may do so by mailing a statement of their objections to the State Health Planning and Development Bureau, P.O. Box 968, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87503 within 20 days of the publication of this notice.

or contractor as soon as possible for repair. The driver and/or contractor is responsible for seeing that the bus is in condition to pass required inspections at any time.

— Drivers shall close all doors prior to and while the bus is in motion.

— Drivers shall not leave the driver's seat without stopping the engine, setting the emergency brake, putting it in low or reverse gear and removing the keys. If a bus is equipped with a diesel engine or automatic transmission, the driver shall follow the manufacturer's recommendation for parking in gear.

— The driver shall keep the bus clean, well ventilated and properly heated at all times.

— The school bus shall not be filled with fuel while the motor is running and/or while students are on the bus.

— School buses shall not be backed on school grounds unless absolutely necessary and then only with assistance from a responsible individual. It may be necessary on a route to back up a bus; however, it is the responsibility of the driver to do so safely, again with the assistance of a responsible adult or older student.

— Buses shall not drive faster than 55 miles per hour; however, weather, road, traffic, light conditions, district/company policy or the posted speed limits may require that the vehicle be driven at a slower rate of speed.

— The driver shall not permit any passengers to occupy any area in front of the passenger seating area while the bus is in motion. No one will be seated on the heater-control area to the left of the driver and the driver will not carry on a conversation with students while driving. All students will be seated when the bus is in motion. Standing is not permitted.

— The emergency door or windows shall not be fastened or wired in any way as to prevent operating it from the inside or outside while the vehicle is in operation. A school bus shall be taken out of service immediately if the emergency door fails to function.

— Under no circumstances shall the driver of a school bus be allowed to use alcoholic beverages or habit forming drugs during duty hours or prior to duties that would cause the driver to be intoxicated or smell of liquor. Violations of this kind will be cause for the driver's immediate dismissal. The driver will not smoke while students are on board the school bus.

— Drivers shall not permit the use of their bus for any event or operation which would involve liability without the approval of the local school district. In compliance with the state statutes specifying: any school bus used for any purpose other than regular "to and from" school bus routes and school sponsored trips shall have the school bus lettering covered. This also includes school buses used as private vehicles. Trailers will not be attached to the bus at any time.

— No advertisements or announcements of any description shall be exhibited either on the interior or exterior of the bus. However, safety regulations may be posted in compliance with regulations.

— Additional equipment shall be carried on the bus consistent with circumstances in which the bus operates. Loose items such as spare tires, chains, jacks and tools should be securely stored or fastened if they are carried inside the bus. Chains or spare tires shall be utilized when road conditions are such that their use will enhance the safe operation of the bus.

— All school bus drivers are expected to obey all traffic laws, ordinances and rules of the road. Drivers shall not operate their bus in such a manner as to cause on board accidents by jerking, stopping suddenly or swerving unnecessarily.

— It is not recommended that school buses turn right on a red light, even though a complete stop is made and the intersection is clear of cross traffic.

— Any school bus driver or contractor who knowingly, or willfully violates any of these regulations shall be subject to discharge or suspension. The safety of students, efficient operation and maximum realization of educational values demand that these regulations be carried out.

THIS MONTH the school district will distribute brochures to each student detailing these regulations and those regarding other drivers and students.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:
 That the BLM decided "No" on the proposed Sierra Blanca Airport should come as no surprise to progressive minded people who look forward to having our Recreational Playground modernized somewhat.
 They not only will tell the ranchers when and where to "graze" their cattle, they needs must inform their fellow Americans when and where to land their aircraft. What next? And whom might their confederates be sir? None other than our good Land Grant University. Two hundred people they say made comments on this proposed Jewel, from all over the State, and a majority was "agin" it.
 It is too bad that this Airport is not now in existence, and to witness the landing of one chartered plane, say from Houston, filled with skiers for a weekend, and watch some 200 college kids unload and head for the Sierra Blanca Ski Run. To breathe some of the purest air known to man, to have fun, and to leave a few bucks where it will do the most good. And last, but not least, be better citizens for it. How would these kids vote?
 Or, to see our Forest Service Fire Control planes, take off and fly down upon any fire outbreak in the area, dump their slurry before it has a chance to get away, (as it does not) and be back to their tie down in record time. How would the 200 home owners who just lost their homes near Los Angeles vote?

The BLM was perfectly willing to set on their haunches when the Ft. Stanton Lands were up for grabs when the GSA made their abortive effort to administer these Grazing Lands. The Federal Law being violated meant nothing to them then, and now they would quote from a 1976 Federal Land Policy Act, as a means of blocking the Airport. A plague on both their houses!
 An Airport was there when the lands were set aside for the College, it would appear our institutional heads would have enough foresight to build their experimental project around it. Far from ruining the project, it might just modernize it if we did have an up to date Jet Airport. What is wrong with shipping cattle to market by air, local and foreign.
 We're flirting with the idea of pulling a plane out of our school at the local airport some day amid the mangled bodies of our kids. How would the 200 home owners who were wiped out in San Diego vote? Or those home owners in Tucson? Those giant birds will float in to the proposed airport, land and take off without ruffling a feather among the local populace. We will neither see them nor hear them. Negative thinking never got us nowhere. Who in their right mind could be "agin" this thing. Frankly, I'm "fer" it.

Sincerely,
 Jim Tully

POSTAL WOES

The Postal Service will survive the current confrontation with its labor unions, probably by sweetening its wage-hike offer. The predictable result will be higher postal rates or a large tax subsidy, or both. Unfortunately, there won't be anything in the new contracts about better mail service.
 That, in a nutshell, is the trouble with the Postal Service. The American people continue to pay more and more for a mail system that offers them less and less service.
 Since 1971, the cost of sending the average piece of mail has risen by 80 percent. During the same period, many parts of the country have experienced a decline in the number of daily mail pickups. Multiple deliveries to downtown businesses have been drastically reduced. The forwarding of mail has been substantially slowed. And the long-ago promise of two-day delivery anywhere in the country is a joke best not mentioned to the millions who wait four and five days, or more, for even cross-town mail.

 Meanwhile, postal employees collect wages and salaries that, according to one authoritative study, exceed compensation for comparable workers in the private sector by $2 billion a year.
 The postal reform of 1970 was intended to shape up the old Post Office Department by depoliticizing it, converting it to a quasi-independent agency and placing it on a self-sustaining financial basis. As we have said before, the reform hasn't worked.

Removing political patronage from the postal system has succeeded only in insulating it from citizen complaints and the will of Congress. As for making the system financially self-sustaining, the annual operating deficit of $165 million in 1970 swelled to $1.2 billion by 1976.

As we see it, any realistic effort to improve postal service must entail either a return to congressional-executive branch control or allow, even encourage, the private sector to assume distribution of some classes of mail.

A return to political control of the system would not help unless Congress did what it failed to do in 1970: give the postal system a clear mandate for specific service objectives and a workable financial plan to pay the tab. Moreover, repoliticizing the system is not likely to work unless Congress enacts some reasonable restriction on the powers of the postal employee unions.

Full automation and the improved productivity it would bring are not likely to be achieved so long as 650,000 postal employees retain the muscle to defy court orders and shut down delivery of the mail.

Benjamin F. Bailar, who resigned as postmaster general earlier this year, concluded that new technologies available in the private sector will leave the postal system with a shrinking share of the country's communications market. He's probably right. Satellites, microwaves and other space-age gadgetry may some day transmit more written messages than letter carriers and sorting clerks.

If that is the shape of the future, Congress would do well to begin studying ways the existing government monopoly could be gradually cut back to accommodate faster and ultimately cheaper mail service provided by private enterprise. — Carlsbad Current-Argus

Stuph & Junk

... by
 Cale Dickey

AN OWIE INTERLUDE

My time, Monday through Thursday of last week, was spent subjecting my body to the various indignities associated with a substantially thorough physical examination ... limited in extent to the various devices and methods available through the facilities at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

The results indicated the possibility of survival exists ... providing I can cope with the aftermath of said examinations.

Among the problems uncovered were: Diverticulosis ... which doesn't mean overindulgence in an exotic Italian cheese. In substance ... the way the probing physician ... and I do mean probing ... explained it ... I've grown some extra appendix-like outcroppings ... to which persons over 45 are subject. Meaning ... I'm presuming ... I'm undergoing normal deterioration of the digestive system. On the bright side ... I was informed there's nothing to be concerned about ... until such time as problems arise ... in which event, I'll have problems.

Emphysema ... which won't be causing any material discomfort as long as I continue to breathe normally. The doctor suggested that perhaps I should forgo indulging in Camels ... and take up climbing walls ... which I'm hesitant to try ... 'cause as a mountain goat I'd be a whiz at hanging wallpaper. Besides ... if it wasn't for the Camels, what'd nurture that healthy cough I've developed over the past 50-odd years ... if it'd disappear, it'd be akin to losing a virtually lifetime existing condition ... which'd leave me feeling as though something was amiss ... or missing.
 Post bulbar ulcer ... sizeable, the doctor said. And ... it appears to me ... if you're going to consider having an ulcer ... this is the kind to get. No dietary restrictions ... ice tea is acceptable as a nerve soothing tonic ... and they've recently released some pills that'll heal said ulcer.

I also learned that ... whilst contemplating as to what some of the various tests might consist of ... you shouldn't turn your back on anyone.
 But ... everything considered ... friend doctor so advised me ... I'm in pretty good shape ... which is good news ... to me. However ... I also think there are more relaxing ways to spend four days off the job.

A DAY TO CHOOSE

Tomorrow's election day ... and it's just about the only time the long suffering taxpayer has an opportunity to express an opinion on who will be serving in elective offices ... and if the constitution should be amended.

As to state and national offices ... and the amendments ... it isn't likely that Lincoln County's 5,827 voters ... that's the number qualified to vote tomorrow ... will elect anyone ... or approve or defeat any amendments ... unless there's a vote that's so close that one vote would result in electing a candidate or affecting an amendment.

On the positive side ... based on the reports that the gubernatorial race will be a barn burner ... YOUR VOTE could decide whether King or Skeen will occupy the governor's mansion the next four years. There's only one way you can pick our next governor ... go vote for the man you prefer tomorrow ... and, win or lose, at least you'll know that you participated in the elective process.

Where the votes really count is in the county and judicial district races. Lincoln County's voters ... and no one else ... will decide who will hold county offices ... who will be our judges. The candidates have had their say ... now the final say is up to you ... the voter.

If you don't like the way an official has handled the duties of office ... vote to get the rascal out. If you approve of an official ... vote to keep that person in office.

Political affiliation ... at the county level ... isn't of the importance it is at the state or national level. It's seldom that politics rears its ugly head in county affairs ... and when it happens, it's usually a bit messy. On the thumb hand side ... such incidents provide conversational fodder ... so even these events aren't a total loss. So vote tomorrow ... gripe the day after.

BRIEF BIT: Looks as though Our Jimmy should start figuring out a method to spice the SALT talks with a liberal sprinkling of the pepper of obstinancy ...

FOR COUNTY ASSESSOR LINCOLN COUNTY

Dear Voter,

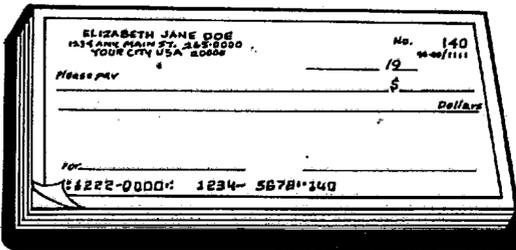

I am asking for your consideration and support on November 7th for tax assessor. I know that we share with every citizen in Lincoln County a growing concern about property tax increases. As a person who has been active in local, civic and community affairs and a taxpayer in Lincoln County for many years I know I can do something about the problem. I will work for lower taxes and my door will always be open to anyone who has an appraisal problem.

If you are concerned about property taxes, you can help.

PLAIN TALK ON ISSUES

BOBBY DAN CRENSHAW

NATIVE OF LINCOLN COUNTY

EDUCATION . . . Bobby Dan Crenshaw has been a college instructor and administrator in specialized education. He believes in quality education. It is a good investment to avoid social problems of the future. However, his opponent voted against the last sixteen (16) bills supported by the New Mexico Education Association.

SENATE STATUS . . . During the last legislative session, only five votes were necessary to elect the Minority Floor Leader. During the next eight years, it is highly unlikely that Bobby Dan's opponent would ever be the chairman of a major committee in the New Mexico Senate. This is not the situation for Bobby Dan Crenshaw. So, District 39 would be wise to start now to develop a senator who can achieve a powerful influence.

NUCLEAR WASTE . . . New Mexico should not be the dumping place for the nation's nuclear garbage. Bobby Dan's opponent does not feel this way. People have the right to decide their own destiny.

GUN CONTROL: Our constitution guarantees the citizens of this country the right to bear arms. Guns do not kill people ... people kill people.

COMMON SENSE calls for stronger penalties for criminal acts involving firearms.

RIGHT-TO-WORK . . . Under the present law, employees vote on what they want. And the present labor law was established by the people by a statewide vote. If left to the legislature, both sides will be in continual power struggle. If the people want a change, the voters themselves should decide the issue once and for all by a referendum vote.

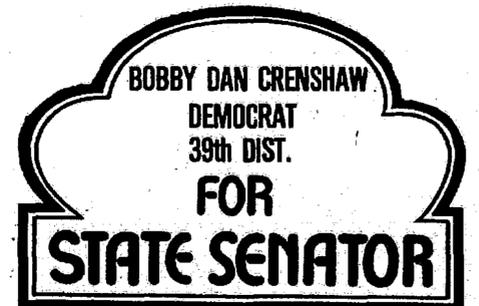

MINORITY PROBLEMS . . . Bobby Dan speaks fluent Spanish, he has worked with mentally disabled children, and he has many relatives in District 39 who are senior citizens. He is aware of the various problems.

A KEY ISSUE

IF THE PEOPLE OF OTERO COUNTY ARE WORRIED ABOUT THE HIGH COSTS OF UTILITIES, THEY SHOULD KNOW THAT BOBBY DAN'S OPPONENT IS A LAWYER EMPLOYED AND PAID BY THE COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY, WESTERN STATES TELEPHONE COMPANY, SEVERAL INSURANCE COMPANIES, AND SECURITY BANK AND TRUST. THESE INTERESTS HAVE ENOUGH PAID LOBBYISTS IN SANTA FE.

WE NEED A NEW SENATOR NOW WHO WILL WORK TO KEEP TELEPHONE BILLS, ELECTRIC BILLS AND INSURANCE RATES DOWN.

Right to Die Act forms available

As surely as autumn follows summer, death follows life.

But the timing of death rarely is as certain as the timing of autumn, which can be counted upon to begin every September. In fact, the timing of human deaths, such as that of Karen Ann Quinlan—two years ago, can raise anguishing questions of ethics, religion and law. It was Quinlan's father who attained national notoriety in his efforts to put an end to the life-support systems doctors were using to prolong her life.

There is the "right to live" issue which is treated by opponents of abortion. And then there is the "right to die" issue, which has found support among opponents of medical procedures which prolong the life of patients diagnosed as terminally ill. Such patients should be allowed to die their natural deaths without extraordinary preservative treatment and without liability being placed upon attending physicians, nurses and hospitals for stopping the treatment, right to die supporters say.

In 1977, the New Mexico Legislature listened to the right to die arguments and added to the state code a law called the Right to Die Act. The law gives terminally ill persons the right to have "maintenance medical treatment" — medical treatment designed solely to sustain life processes — withheld if their desire to do so is filed in writing.

Some New Mexico residents have expressed concern over the lack of general knowledge of the law among the state's populace.

Right to die declaration forms are being made available through the information and referral section of the Department of Human Services in Santa Fe.

Charlet Polteyint, supervisor of the section, told The News that over 100 of the forms were requested in the last month. The requests came after a good deal of publicity concerning the right to die law, she said. Previous to the publicity in mid September, only about half a dozen requests had been received through Polteyint's toll-free telephone number. That number is 1-800-432-8217.

The Department of Human Services right to die declaration form reads: "In the event that I am certified in writing by two physicians, one of whom is the physician in charge of my treatment, as suffering from a terminal illness pursuant to the provisions of the Right to Die Act of New Mexico... then maintenance medical treatment, as defined in that act, shall not be utilized for the prolongation of my life."

Polteyint adds that right to die forms also are being distributed by the New Mexico Hospital Association (NMHA).

"But it's difficult to get forms from hospitals," Polteyint said. "That's one reason we're making them available. Hospitals are not set up for giving them out and they don't advertise the fact that they have them."

Last year a chapter dealing with the right to die law was added to the NMHA handbook, Polteyint said.

Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital administrator Ken Moore said right to die forms are available through the hospital.

"We've had a few people fill them out, but we haven't had that many people in terminally ill situations here," Moore said.

He said the hospital does not really enter into the right to die issue, adding: "But it does make it somewhat easier on the physicians. Nobody down here feels like taking the part of God. It's a very touchy situation."

"I think it's important for people to be able to make the choice on their own. The problem is that a lot of people go on and sign these things (right to die declarations) but when it actually comes down to the point where they're going to die, they decide they really want to live. They can always change their mind, but they'd better let someone know," Moore said.

Polteyint said it does not matter whether the form issued by her department or the one available through the NMHA is used.

It is only necessary that two persons, who may be family members, witness and sign the declaration, she said.

"It's not necessary to have an attorney, but you can have one if you want to. You don't have to have the form notarized either," she said. "But you should make family members, close friends or the executor of your will aware of the document and give someone a copy to retain in a file along with your other important papers."

"Your doctor should also be aware of your declaration and you should have an understanding with him that he will cooperate. Sometimes several doctors may be called in to assist in an illness, so one special doctor should be advised," Polteyint advises.

"There seems to be more interest in the act among senior citizens," Polteyint said. "Maybe you've got to be 60 before you start thinking about death."

The law includes a prison term and a fine of $10,000 as penalties for concealment, destruction or falsification of a right to die declaration. But, Polteyint said, the law could have been stronger and more specific.

"We get calls from paramedics who say, 'Should we resuscitate on the spot?' The act doesn't say anything about emergencies. And it may be that, in an emergency, you may not be able to tell someone you have filed a right to die form," she said. The law permits two persons to testify that the patient who has filed a declaration of right to die has told them he has changed his mind, thereby canceling the declaration, Polteyint said. She added that it took a court ruling to determine that parents can sign right to die declarations for minors.

Vote for the man who votes for you.

Congressman Harold Runnels thinks we need a constitutional amendment to require a balanced federal budget. Until we get one, he'll continue to vote against bills to raise the national debt—a debt you pay with your taxes.

He has also voted against the recent congressional pay raises.

And against general foreign aid bills (we've got enough problems here at home).

Harold Runnels has fought to end inequities within the federal tax system, particularly for retired social security recipients, single people, and working couples.

He supports full employment through private enterprise instead of government. And he supports tax incentives for energy conservation, and the development of alternative energy sources. "People need a cheap source of energy," Runnels says, "and they're not going to get it with fossil fuels."

Harold Runnels thinks like us and votes like we think. And that's a good reason to vote for Congressman Harold Runnels November 7.

1978 ELECTIONS

CBS News will present live coverage of the November 7 elections, from CBS News headquarters in New York.

Walter Cronkite (pictured) will anchor the coverage. Joining him in reporting the results by region of 35 Senate races, 36 gubernatorial elections and all 435 House of Representatives contests will be Harry Reasoner (East), Roger Mudd (South), Dan Rather (Midwest) and Lesley Stahl (West).

Former CBS News National Correspondent Eric Sevareid, now a consultant to CBS News, will provide analysis of the returns from historical and social points of view throughout the evening.

Correspondent Bruce Morton will report from the Trend Desk on the issues that played a part in the decisions voters made on this important election day.

According to Sylvia Westerman, Vice President of Special Events and Political Coverage, "Inflation, taxes, President Carter's energy program and his foreign policy are all areas that will affect how the American public votes this year."

FIRST YOU CRY

'First You Cry,' the dramatic new motion picture-for-television starring Mary Tyler Moore and Anthony Perkins in the true story of NBC News Correspondent Betty Rollin and her experience with a mastectomy that shook her emotions, her marriage and her outlook on life, will be broadcast on 'The CBS Wednesday Night Movies,' Nov. 8.

Special guest star Richard Crenna and guest stars Jennifer Warren (pictured standing with Ms. Moore), Richard Dysart, Don Johnson and Florence Eldridge also appear in the film, based on Miss Rollin's best-selling book of the same title.

The real-life account begins when Miss Rollin learns, ironically while working on a television documentary about breast cancer, that she herself has the disease.

She uncovers strengths and weaknesses about her own personality in the ensuing ordeal, which her sense of humor and practical nature eventually help her to surmount. Forced to confront problems concerning her marriage and herself, she makes vital decisions involving new values about her life.

CHiPs

Five college boys, intent on settling a grudge against California Highway Patrol Officers Jon Baker and Ponch Poncherello (series stars Larry Wilcox, left, and Erik Estrada), attempt to turn a CHP Open House into a "pot party" in "The Grudge," on NBC-TV's action-adventure series 'CHiPs,' Saturday, Nov. 11.

Furious when college authorities "ground" their whole fraternity after five of its members—Chris, Freddy, Todd, Turk and Davey—are charged with marijuana possession following a traffic accident, the irate students begin a program of CHP harassment. The climax is the anonymous donation of a batch of marijuana-laced brownies to the CHP Open House.

Co-starring are Robert Pine as Sgt. Joe Getraer, Brianne Leary as Sindy Cahill, Brodie Greer as Barickza, David Gilliam as Chris, Damon Douglas as Freddy, Dirk Blocker as Turk, Dennis Kort as Todd and Chip Zien as Davey.

by Joey Sasso

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Adrienne Barbeau, who played the liberated daughter on 'Maude,' has decided it's time in her career to stop hiding her charms. The actress has chosen to capitalize on her ample bosom with a poster showing her in a lacy corset. She told me that she hopes the poster will boost her career by turning her into a "sex object—a pinup girl." "Done right, I told myself, a sexy poster might be a shrewd professional move," she said. "I considered the professional opportunities that opened up for Cheryl Tiegs and I thought—why not me?" Linda Lavin, star of the TV show 'Alice,' and her husband Ron Leibman, finally have bought a house in Pacific Palisades, Calif., so they can live in the same place for the first time in years. Leibman, who returned from the East, now appears in the new series 'Kaz.' Lavin, who prefers to give her age in round numbers—40—says she'd like to settle down and "surround myself with people who are positive, who react to adversity with grace and good humor. She discussed her years in psychoanalysis with me and said, "I want to stop being so involved with myself. What I really want is to somehow get into the outside world." Top designer Bob Mackie reveals his perfect woman would have Goldie Hawn's hair, Carol Channing's eyes, Marie Osmond's neck, Barbra Streisand's hands, Ann-Margret's shoulders, Raquel Welch's bust, Mitzl Gaynor's waist, Cyd Charisse's legs, Bernadette Peters' skin, Tina Turner's feet and Cher's belly button.

INSIDE THE TUBE: Actress Lee Grant, building a $500,000 home to replace the one destroyed in this year's Los Angeles floods, had to buy a second-hand color TV set. Can't afford a new one, she says. "CHiPs" co-star Erik Estrada, who has become Hollywood's newest and most desired sex symbol, has finally found the girl of his dreams. Estrada, who has consistently told his millions of female fans he is available as a date but never as a marriage partner, confides he's succumbed to the charm and beauty of 25-year-old Kathy Lauder and a trip to the altar is inevitable. Stewardesses across America are furious over the low blows that television's newest jiggle entry 'Flying High' has dealt their profession. "The show is an insult to the intelligence and morality of every flight attendant," fumes Patricia Robertson, president of the Association of Flight Attendants. "It's outrageous the way the show concentrates more on bosoms than brains and on sex than safety."

TV BACKSTAGE: The nicest thing that happened on the new series 'Sword of Justice' wasn't even in the script. Along came pretty Melinda Naud, co-star of 'Operation Petticoat' to guest on an episode, and when star Dick Rambo met her something sparked—love at first sight. Now they're together every minute. Michelle Phillips' friends can't get over the change marriage has made in her life. It seems like only yesterday Michelle was the swingiest of the swingers, always out on the town with Beatty, O'Neal or Nicholson. Now, she's become housewife extraordinaire since her marriage to Bob Birch. The next step? The Birches want a baby to complete their domestic scene. Hard to believe but it's supposed to be true: Lee Majors takes a suitcase full of wifey's (Farrah you-know-who) photos and hangs them all over his room when he travels without her. Cheryl Tiegs, co-star of 'Good Morning, America' and socialite photographer Peter Beard never leave each other—except to work. They shock onlookers with their fondling, cuddling, giggling and kissing in public.
