DEMOCRATS LOSE ALL LOCALLY CONTESTED RACES

GOP's win county offices

Lincoln County voters — though there are 3,281 Democrats and 2,257 Republicans registered — Tuesday swept Republican candidates into every contested office on the county ballot, as 60 percent or 3,545 of the 5,827 registered voters went to the polls.

The sole Democratic survivor was Mike Kimbrell, running unopposed for a second term as county treasurer.

INCUMBENTS DEFEATED, in unofficial returns, in their reelection bid included:

Sheriff Bill Elliott 1,359 to challenger Ernest Sanchez' 1913. Write in Democratic candidate "Red" Meador polled 28 votes.

County Commissioner George Stoneman, District I, 1,345 to challenger "Cotton" McKnight's 1,846.

County Commission chairman John Sudderth, District III, 1,003 to challenger Ben Hall's 1,892.

IN NON-INCUMBENT RACES: Republican Barbara Lovelace tallied 2,087 to turn back Democrat Barbara Ward with 1,066, for county clerk.

Republican Archie Witham garnered 1,696 votes to defeat Democrat Sunny Hirschfeld who polled 1,345 votes for probate judge.

INCUMBENT COUNTY ASSESSOR, Republican Marion Schlarb received 1,720 votes to turn back challenger George White with 1,508.

IN THE DISTRICT II COUNTY COMMISSIONER'S RACE, incumbent Lee Straley, who had previously announced he would have to resign the office due to a change-in-residency, received 1,003 votes against the 363 votes for John Hightower and 455 for Stirling Spencer, running as write-in candidates.

IN MULTI-DISTRICT CONTESTS, with other counties involved in the voting, incumbent Republicans were returned to office in unofficial returns, including:

District Judge Tom Sandenaw totaled 6,989 votes to 5,162 received by Democrat challenger Bill Payne. Sandenaw received 5,479 Otero and 1,510 Lincoln votes with Payne having 1,744 in Lincoln and 3,418 in Otero.

For State Senator, incumbent John Conway garnered 4,356 votes to 2,904 polled by Democrat challenger Bobby Dan Crenshaw. Conway drew 2,183 Otero and 2,168 Lincoln votes to Crenshaw's 1,738 in Otero and 1,166 in Lincoln.

For State Representative, incumbent John Bigbee polled 3,863 votes to turn back the bid of Democrat challenger Jose Villanueva with 2,639. In the breakdown Bigbee polled 1,794 Lincoln, 1,182 Torrance, 81 DeBaca and 806 Guadalupe votes to Villanueva's 580 in Lincoln, 556 in Torrance, 108 in DeBaca and 1,395 in Guadalupe.

COUNTY VOTERS approved all four amendments, voting 1,197 to 311 on the first; 987 to 539 on the second; 795 to 752 on the third and 815 to 723 on the fourth.

IN OTHER CONTESTED RACES, county voters favored:

Republican Pete Domenici with 2,375 votes in his bid for a second term in the United States Senate, over Democrat challenger Toney Anaya's 1,001.

Republican Joe Skeen with 2,396 for governor against 898 for Democrat Bruce King.

Republican C. Jack Emmons with 1,752 for state auditor against 1,222 for Democrat Alvaro Castillo.

Republican Joe Haymes with 1,760 votes for Commissioner of Public Lands to 1,226 for Democrat Alex Armijo.

Democrat Shirley Hooper had 1,696 for Secretary of State to 1,334 for Republican Nila Baer with 1,334.

Democrat Jan Hartke had 1,636 for State Treasurer to 1,222 for Republican Majel Bowman.

Democrat Columbus Ferguson polled 1,551 votes for Corporation Commissioner to 1,220 for Republican George McKim.

For District Magistrate, Division II, Lincoln County, Republican Alfred Montes won with 1,568 votes to 1,383 for Democrat Jim McEuen.

For Judge of the Court of Appeals, Republican Charles Rawson polled 1,415 to 1,390 for Democrat Mary Walters for the eight year term; and for the six year term, it was Republican David Lee 1,299 to 1,295 for Democrat Leila Andrews.

The consensus of opinion of observers at Democratic headquarters in Ruidoso Tuesday evening was that the biggest upsets at the county level were the defeat of Stoneman and Sudderth for reelection as commissioners, Sheriff Elliott's loss to Sanchez and White's defeat by Schlarb for county assessor.

Village offices closed Friday

All village business offices in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs will be closed Friday in observance of Veterans Day, one of the official state holidays for 1978.

Also observing the Veterans Day holiday Friday will be Ruidoso State Bank and Security Bank of Ruidoso.

Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs post offices will be open Friday and closed Saturday.

A glance at the state races

Thursday morning's unofficial returns, with 1,177 of 1,187 precincts reporting, uphold the trend established Wednesday. (D means Democrat, R means Republican.)

Bruce King-D, holds a 173,189 lead over Joe Skeen-R, with 169,229. Early morning news reports indicated the Republicans may challenge King's 3,960 margin, by questioning the returns from some of the larger precincts in the northern part of the state.

In other races the tallies are: United States Senate, Pete Domenici-R 181,932, Toney Anaya-D 158,210; Congress, District 1, Manual Lujan Jr.-R 116,675,

Sewer project construction set for next spring

Construction of the Regional Wastewater System (RWS) to serve Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs could begin as early as April 1, 1979.

Approval to seek Step III (construction) funding for RWS was granted by the Joint Use Board (JUB) at a November 1 meeting.

RES engineer Quinton Daniel, Alamogordo, advised the board that all requirements of Step II, engineering and project design, have been submitted to the state Environmental Improvement Division (EID) and the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for final approval.

"We expect to receive EID and EPA approval within four weeks," Daniel said.

The villages of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs were authorized by JUB to make application for federal and state funding, totaling 87 1/2 percent of the total project cost, presently estimated at between $5 and $6 million.

The cost breakdown for Step III is 75 percent federal and 12 1/2 percent state funding with the remaining 12 1/2 percent split on the basis of approximately two-thirds from Ruidoso and one-third from Ruidoso Downs.

The funding includes installation of interceptor lines from the present Ruidoso treatment plant to the new plant near Biscuit Hill, east of Ruidoso Downs; interceptor lines in Ruidoso Downs; acquisition of land and right-of-way easements.

The two villages will be required, under terms of the grants, to fund the additional sewer lines that will be required in each community to tie into the RWS interceptor lines.

Daniel advised the board that "It's possible for the project to go to bid in mid-February; and counting the four to six weeks necessary for contractors to review the plans, it'd be possible to begin construction as early as April 1, weather permitting."

JUB membership includes G. H. Stoneman, chairman, and Lloyd L. Davis Jr.; Norman Wheeler, Jim Roberts and Dorothy Pope.

Young nimrod bags 10 point buck 'painlessly'

After practice sessions using the 30.06 "cannon," Greg Nunnally, 12, usually complains of an aching shoulder, but after shooting a ten point buck with it Wednesday morning, he felt no pain.

He didn't even feel the ten stitches in his side from surgery less than a week ago and he was feeling sharp enough to "pick out the biggest of the bunch," his dad, Sam Nunnally, said.

"There were a bunch of them, two other bucks — one a six pointer, three does and three fawns. But they all took off, they didn't want any part of it," Greg said.

His third year with a hunters' safety certificate, Greg has been hunting all his life with his parents.

The Nunnally's plan to butcher the approximately 225 pound buck for venison.

Park improvement funded

Improvements on Two Rivers Park will be scheduled early in 1979 pending final approval of federal and state grant funds totaling $90,000.

Village trustees Frank Sayner appeared before Governor Jerry Apodaca's Recreation Priorities Advisory Committee in Santa Fe, October 18, seeking allocation of the $90,000 in grant monies.

"I advised the committee," Sayner said, "that the proposed improvements on the 11 acres comprising Two Rivers Park are primarily intended to benefit Ruidoso's citizens. I stressed that this project wasn't intended, in any way, to serve our community as another tourist attraction."

The project proposal submitted by Sayner calls for the installation of additional restrooms, shelters, picnic facilities including barbecues and tables, new playground equipment, more parking space and seeding extra acreage to grass.

"The plans also calls for," Sayner said, "cleaning the river of debris to improve the fishing and viewing and, as a special attraction, construction of wheel chair ramps so that the handicapped may enjoy angling for trout."

The final plans, designed by Ruidoso architect Jim French, will be submitted to the village trustees for approval at a later date.

In a recent letter to mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr., from Governor Apodaca, the governor said: "Your complete project proposal with all required documents will be funded on a first-come, first-served basis. However, all projects must be submitted to the Natural Resources Department, Administrative Service Division, to that New Mexico's apportionment of the Land and Water Conservation Funds may be fully utilized."

Concerning the grant funds, Sayner said: "Approval of the money, being the project was approved by the governor's committee, is only a matter of routine at the federal level, being it is an outdoor recreation project falling within the guidelines of the committee."

Tribe's elders honored during special ceremony

The Mescalero Apache Tribe (MAT) honored its elders Wednesday in a ceremony especially for them at the Mescalero Community Center.

The ceremony, the first MAT "Golden Age Day" included a reading of all the elders' past accomplishments, a short skit by a group of school children, a presentation of gifts from the school children to the elders, an address by keynote speaker tribal president Wendell Chino, a luncheon, Apache Social Dancing and a song honoring the elders. All of the elders are over 65 years of age.

In his address Chino cited the important role the elders had played in the salvation of the tribe. He said the ability of many of the elders being honored Wednesday to provide their family with food and clothing was instrumental in strengthening the ties between family members.

"They (elders) always provided for themselves and their children," Chino said.

Chino continued his praise of the elders, saying that their wisdom was invaluable to the younger generation.

"Advice from the elderly people is so important," he said. "There is always a place for outwardly advice — elderly wisdom, elderly influence."

Chino said that his own life would be worthless if it wasn't for the Indian influence from the elders.

"I think that for any man or woman to represent a tribe is a great honor. It is through your support that I have been able to provide leadership and reach some of the highest officials in the Indian world," he said.

He continued, "Many people want to know what I consider the greatest success in my life. It is that I am well rounded and well taught. Without the Apache influence in my own personal life, I think I would not have strength to represent Indian life and Indian issues we consider so dear."

After Chino's address, members of the tribal council spoke of the value of the heritage the elders represent. Many of the council members spoke in the Apache

Ski season awaiting snow

Winter ski season is rapidly approaching, but Ruidoso's two ski areas have been forced to play a waiting game.

As in past years, Sierra Blanca Ski Resort is waiting for a heavy snowfall; however, the new Ruidoso Ski Area is waiting for electricity to enable them to begin making snow.

Two heavy snowfalls the end of October gave Sierra Blanca Ski Resort about a two-foot base on the slopes, according to Roy Parker, area manager.

"The snow is icy now and not good for skiing, but it's an excellent base."

Parker said the rains in the past weeks have melted the snow on lower slopes, but "the upper slopes are OK."

The area will open on the Friday of the week of a heavy snow.

Ruidoso Ski Area is involved in a power struggle with Otero County Electric Co-op, and until the necessary electricity is available, the snowmaking machinery will stand idle and the slopes will remain bare.

According to co-op spokesman Joe Chambers, the delay has been caused by a tangle of paperwork from both parties and weather.

"With the rain, it's been too muddy and we couldn't get our equipment in on a safe basis. We hope to complete the job today (Wednesday)."

Ralph Rush, spokesman for the area, hopes to have the lower slope covered this weekend and with the help of a little natural snow he hopes to cover all the runs.

"Hopefully, we'll have it all open by next weekend."

According to Rush, man made snow is the same as natural snow, except it has a slightly higher moisture content.

The snowmaking machinery is chiefly a large, powerful fan, spray nozzles and nucleators which preform tiny water droplets.

The droplets come out in a spiral and freeze, then pass through the fine mist from the spray nozzles and are blown out becoming snowflakes.

Regardless of their type of waiting game, both ski areas have a "maybe tomorrow" attitude of hopefulness.

TRIBAL PRESIDENT Wendell Chino Wednesday praised the elderly Mescalero Apaches for their contribution to the tribe's development.

THE MESCALERO APACHE TRIBE Wednesday paid tribute to their elderly members, for services rendered over the years to the tribe, in special 'Golden Age Day' ceremonies at the Community Center.

Employment information figures have been issued

One in four New Mexicans employed during 1977 was between 16 and 24 years of age, reveals a report published by the Human Services Department Employment Services Division (ESD). "Young People in the Labor Force," just released by the ESD Research and Statistics section, offers an in depth analysis of the employment and unemployment situation of New Mexico's young people. "All sorts of interesting information is included in the report," said W.A. Anderson, ESD Director. "For instance, the 117,000 young people employed last year in our state showed a 90 percent increase over the number of young people working in the state during 1976. The report discusses the types of jobs held by youth, 16 to 19, and young people, 20 to 24." Young workers tend to hold different kinds of jobs depending on their age and sex. Over half of the employed 16 and 17 year olds in New Mexico worked in the wholesale and retail trade industry in 1970, with most of the females in this area working for eating and drinking places and the males spread between food stores, gasoline services and eating and drinking places. Fewer males and females worked in this field as they reached their 20s. As far as specific occupations, almost half of the women from 20 to 24 worked in clerical and kindred jobs, and one fifth were service workers. Over 17 percent of young adult males worked in the craftsmen and kindred occupations, especially in the construction crafts. The report says young people suffer unemployment at higher levels than their share of the labor force would indicate. People 16-24 accounted for half the state's unemployed in 1977, and the 16-19 age group suffered the highest jobless rate of any group in the state. A number of factors contributing to high youth unemployment are mentioned, including the unusually large number of young people entering the labor force, stemming from high 1945-60 birth rates. Other factors included a large proportion of youth looking for work while attending school and the fact many young people lack experience and skills. "Our Research and Statistics section has also recently published 'Veterans in New Mexico,' a publication which can help state employers interested in participating in special employment programs for veterans," Anderson said. The booklet includes statistical and general information on veterans and veteran programs, noting that New Mexico's veteran population was estimated to be 117,000 at the end of March 1977. This includes a higher proportion of young veterans than does the national veteran population. Both "Young People in the Labor Force" and "Veterans in New Mexico" are available at no charge from ESD Research and Statistics, P.O. Box 1928, Albuquerque, New Mexico, 87103.

Placards available for handicapped drivers

The Motor Vehicle Division of the Transportation Department has announced that two special placards are available to persons certified as having a physical condition which makes walking difficult. The placards will entitle recipients to special parking privileges as provided for by law.

The placards issued by the Central Office in Santa Fe, will be assigned to qualified persons under provisions of the New Motor Vehicle Code and may be used on vehicles other than those owned by the recipient. This will afford the disabled person to use the device for parking privileges on a vehicle owned by the recipient while in use by him or while the recipient is being transported by another driver. The placard can be used by the recipient on a vehicle owned by an employer if the vehicle is used in the pursuit of his/her employment.

Sizes of the placards are 4 by 7 inches and will have a yellow background with red lettering. Two types will be issued. One device will be made of aluminum, issued to those recipients who are permanently handicapped. The placard will contain the universal handicap insignia followed by four numeric digits, and will have the

REACT team membership drive launched

Ruidoso's REACT Team 4223 is conducting a membership drive in Lincoln County, encouraging interested Citizens Band Radio operators to join this public service organization in observation of National REACT Month. REACT is an international communications system.

Ruidoso mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr., and Ruidoso Downs mayor Norman Wheeler have issued proclamations designating November as REACT month in the two villages.

"We are interested in meeting serious minded CB radio licensees," membership drive chairman Rosemary McGarvey said, "who would like to join us in serving the public."

The local team maintains a volunteering monitoring watch on CB emergency Channel 9.

The requirements for REACT membership include:

— Legal CB operations under a valid Federal Communications Commission license or pending application.

— A CB base station and home telephone for monitoring purposes.

— A sincere interest in serving the public good.

"The local team cooperates with all law enforcement agencies and disaster preparedness groups," McGarvey said, "and is affiliated with REACT International, a non-profit public service organization."

Membership information is available from McGarvey at telephone number 378-4262.

Forest permits available Monday to cut yule trees

James R. Abbott, Forest Supervisor for the Lincoln National Forest, has announced the locations in which applications for personal use Christmas trees will be available.

Two National Forests in New Mexico, the Lincoln and Gila, will sell Christmas tree permits through the mail for the first time this year, Abbott stated that persons who plan a trip to the Forest to cut their own tree must first apply for and receive a permit through the mails. There will be no permits sold at Forest Service offices as has been done in the past. Complete instructions, along with maps and answers to most questions, are contained in the application forms which will be available starting November 13 at Forest Service offices in Cloudcroft, Mayhill, Carlsbad, Ruidoso and Alamogordo.

The sale-by-mail Christmas tree permit program was established by the Lincoln and Gila National Forests to better serve the public as well as to give people an equal chance at the limited number of permits which are available. The Lincoln National Forest in Alamogordo will issue 7,150 permits, while the Gila National Forest in Silver City will issue 5,870.

Applications will not be available to anyone until November 13, to ensure that everyone has an equal opportunity to obtain a permit. On the Lincoln National Forest, there is no way to get a permit to cut a Christmas tree for your family other than by submitting an application through the mail.

Preschool children require immunization

Many New Mexican preschool children are "just a single step away" from full protection against diseases like polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles, mumps and rubella, according to Dr. Jonathan Mann, chief public health physician for the New Mexico Health and Environment Department.

"While we have a significant 'immunization gap' in the preschool population of New Mexico," Mann continued, "we can close the gap if parents of unprotected children get just one more shot for their children."

According to the recent Health and Environment Department survey of immunization levels throughout the state, about 11,000 New Mexican preschoolers are not protected against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough or tetanus. In addition, between 17,000 and 18,000 preschoolers are not protected against measles or rubella (German measles).

"Our survey shows that very few preschoolers have no shots at all," Mann said. "Our problem lies in the fact that a large number of preschoolers lack one or more shots of the entire series of shots needed to produce reliable protection."

As one example, Mann cited the need for at least three doses of polio vaccine for assurance of a high level of protection against the disease. Another example involves the combination "DPT" vaccine, which protects against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. At least three shots of this vaccine are also needed to protect the child.

The Ruidoso News SPORTS

Season's end forces coaches to suffer withdrawal pains

BY JOHN NEYLAND
Sports Writer

When the alarm clock rang Monday morning waking Ruidoso football coach Darrel Stierwalt, it signaled more than the dawning of a new day. It signaled the beginning of a new way of life.

You see, for the past few months, Stierwalt has spent most of his spare time looking at overexposed films of his team, or that of his next opponent. Looking at films all day and much of the night isn't much fun. In fact, it's downright tedious, what with all the forwarding and reversing the film goes through to determine what actually took place. The eyes don't much like it.

But for Stierwalt, that is a way of life. He has grown used to looking at the films. He may not have liked it at the time, but he sure misses it now.

Now, he walks around like a chicken without a head. He doesn't know what to do with his spare time.

"I'm sorry the season's over," he said. "Football coaches don't know what to do without a season."

One thing Stierwalt will do to keep his hand in the till, so to speak, is to have his players undertake an extensive weight training program Monday. Stierwalt hopes this will give his charges some of the size they lacked all year. It will also give Stierwalt the opportunity to think football.

What many coaches would think about after an 1-8 season is quitting. That thought will never enter Stierwalt's mind. He will not quit. To see where his team gets their fighting spirit one doesn't have to look far; they get it from Stierwalt and his coaching staff.

What Stierwalt will be thinking about is the good and the bad of the season. He will learn from the bad that came out of it. He will smile with the good. One might wonder what on earth is good about an 1-8 season. They would be right to think there isn't much to be shown for a season like that. But there are the intangibles.

"It's been a rewarding season for me," Stierwalt said. "I enjoyed taking a young club and bringing it as far as we came. Compared with where we were at the first of the year we've come a long way. I feel sorry for the seniors," he said.

He especially felt sorry for them during the Estancia game. There they were getting the socks beat off them, but they were still trying. After the game, they couldn't hide the hurt that had been festering all season. You can only expect so much from 17 year-olds.

"After the game some of them were crying like little kids," he said.

Seeing that, Stierwalt knew he didn't want his team to go through another season like this year. But it will be tough. The Warriors will be moving into class AAA next year. No matter how you slice it, that is a tougher league.

But Stierwalt isn't moaning and complaining. If the Warriors were going to be in class AA again next year, Stierwalt wouldn't have any worries. But they're not. And it just means that Stierwalt and his staff and his team will have to prove themselves all over again. Such is the stuff great teams and coaches are made of: repeated challenges.

Something to think about

Every year parts of New Mexico are becoming more reachable by man. Unfortunately, man usually leaves some sign that he has been there. Here are some things to remember.

Hunters, do you want to mark that nice campsite so you can find it again next year? Just leave a few aluminum cans laying around. It will take them 409 years to decompose. You'll never have trouble finding your campsite again. Pleasant thought, isn't it?

The tracks of the deer and the hunter will disappear with the first wind and rain. The glass bottle just tossed away will last for one million years.

You've been hunting all morning and have worked up quite an appetite. So, you grab the sandwich from your pack, take it out of the bag and eat it. The bag it was in that you tossed away will be there for 225 years. Think about it.

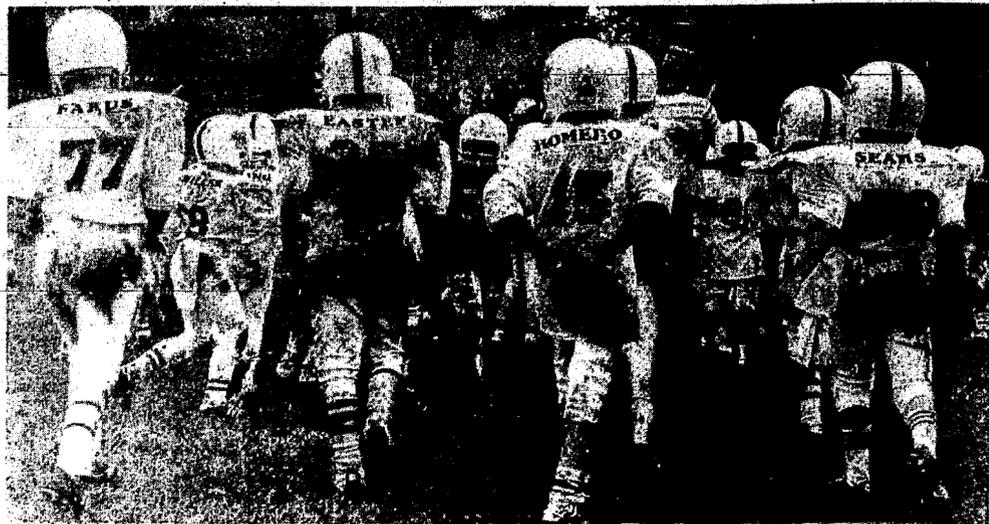

Evans captures racquetball title

Rick Evans slammed Jim Paxton 15-11 and 15-5 in the finals of the Sierra Swim and Racquet Club racquetball tournament Sunday.

Both players had earned their way into the finals by sweeping their semifinal opponents. Evans downed Frank Potter 21-15 and 21-12 while Paxton turned back Jack Walsh 21-3 and 21-6. Other tournament results:

FIRST ROUND
Harold Huffman defeated Jell Heuberg 21 14 Don Foster defeated Dave Boehm 21 19 Stan Lorke nipped Lynn Holley 21 20 and Joe Harver beat Chuck Beedoe 21 5

SECOND ROUND
Rick Evans beat Huffman 21 14 Potter defeated Foster 21 6 Walsh edged Locke 21 20 and Paxton defeated Harvey 21 6

THE HORNETS AND THE LIONS MEET AT MIDFIELD to offer their congratulations to each other for earning a spot in this Saturday's Super Bowl. Both teams have identical 3-3 records, the Lions on the basis of Saturday's 18-2 whipping of the Hornets. In the 10-12 year-old league, the undefeated Colts will meet the twice beaten Broncos for the Super Bowl title. The Colts earned their spot in the bowl by defeating the Cowboys 30-0 and the Broncos shutout the Steelers 18-0 for their berth. The games will be at Warrlor Stadium.

Ski swap to benefit junior racers starts Friday

Get out your checkbook! The Ruidoso ski swap is scheduled for this weekend and those demo's you used last year may be there or someone else's skis you've coveted may be for sale.

The swap will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday through Sunday in the hangar behind Lyle's Furniture Warehouse off Highway 37.

Participants will be charged a commission, a portion of which will go the the junior racers.

The swap was organized, not only to help out the junior racers, but also to help out those persons who want to dispose of superfluous equipment and still make enough to buy new equipment.

Ski shops including Ray Heid's, Alpine Ski Haus, Rush Rentals, Alto and Mountain will have a variety of new equipment which may be only a year old for sale.

Spokesman for the swap, P.J. Fillo, said there will be skis, boots, poles, bindings, clothing, including hats and gloves, and anything having to do with skiing displayed at the swap.

She predicted all kinds of brands and sizes plus men, women and children's equipment, ranging from new to collector's vintage and from good used to not-so-good used.

Representatives of ski shops and junior racers will be on hand at the swap to advise and help out buyers.

The swap was organized by Fillo, Pam and Ron Price and John Shirey.

For more information call Fillo at 257-5974.

Denny's Tire and Auto perched atop standings

Denny's Tire and Auto regained first place on the heels of a 5-3 week in the Monday Nite Mixed Bowling League.

Dropping to second, just one game behind the leader, is last week's co-leader, Jaurequis' at 16-8. Dropping further behind the lead is last week's other leader, Win, Place and Show, now at 14-0.

Jack's Burgers moved into fourth place with a 13-11 record. Hair Affair followed at 12-8 with Timber's Townhouses next at 12-

12. Western Auto is at 8-8, virtually tied with Dairy Queen at 6-6.

Ruidoso Music and Clarke's Chapel of Roses bring up the rear with 5-19 and 5-15 records, respectively.

In last Thursday's issue of The News, it was mistakenly reported that the Hornets downed the Lions 8-0. It should have read the Lions 8 and the Hornets 0.

Ruidoso State Bank grabs first place

Ruidoso State Bank grabbed sole possession of first place in the Ruidoso Ladies Bowling League by virtue of a 3-1 week. The wins vaulted them past last week's co-leader Pioneer Savings and Trust, which suffered an 0-4 week.

Despite the lead, Ruidoso State Bank is hardly uncatchable. Two teams, Apache Music and Hughes Body Shop share second place, two games behind the leader, at 18-10.

Pioneer Savings and Trust and K-Bob's are tied for fourth, both with 17-11 records. Casa de Regalos, the leader two weeks ago, continued its slide, falling five games behind the leader at 15-13.

Brunell's and Valley Plumbing shared the number seven spot in the standings with even 14-14 marks. Barney Rue Sand and Gravel follows at 12-16. Big-T is at 10-18. Rounding out the standings are Minit-Mart with an 8-20 record and Las Tres Tiendas with a 5-23 record.

News from the County Agent

If you want to make your fireplace more efficient, consider a thermal grate and thermal glass fireplace doors. You can use a thermal grate to hold the wood and help circulate heat into the room. These grates are often made of hollow pipes which move air closer to the fire. Some grates even have fans to pull air through the pipes. Thermal glass fireplace doors can work in conjunction with a thermal grate. These can be installed in an existing fireplace to make it more efficient and safer. The morning after chill is one of the worst features about a fireplace. It is caused when the chimney flue is left open all night. As the fire dies out, the flue becomes a monster that draws warm air from the house up the chimney.

If you don't want to stay up a half the night babysitting your fire, make a fireplace lid to cover the opening. Use a piece of heavy-gauge steel which is large enough to cover a portion of the surrounding brick. Bend the edges so it will fit closely against the bricks. Although you can also make this cover out of asbestos board, it is brittle and may crack as you use it. Add a handle on the front and use steel shelf brackets as feet. Paint the entire operculum front with black, heat resistant paint.

If you want to do a little more work, install a fresh air duct in the fireplace. A burning fire sets up a draft that can keep pulling furnace heated air out of the rest of the house. Unless you supply combustion air from outdoors, that cozy fire often uses up more warm air than it gives back. If all this sounds discouraging, maybe you should put your fireplace in "cold storage" and go to an alternative source of heating. Close the damper and stuff insulation tightly around it. A closed damper usually does not fit tightly enough to keep warm air from leaking out of the house. An unused fireplace with a closed damper can still account for an average annual heat loss of 1,652 kilowatt hours.

Dying of Trees Around New Homes: Many homeowners who move into new subdivisions with established trees are distressed to find that their trees are dying after they have been in the new home for six months or so. The deaths of these trees may be attributed to several factors. One of the most common is a change in the soil grade around the tree. When several inches of soil is added about the tree's root system, it often excludes oxygen and kills the roots, of course, the rest of the tree soon dies, too. On the other hand, grading three or more inches under the spread of the tree disturbs many of the feeder roots and causes them to die. As a consequence, death of the tree.

Construction equipment, such as heavy concrete trucks and bulldozers, compact the soil and kill the roots. In addition to this, when new subdivisions go in, there is a change in water table due to construction of streets, storm sewers and deep ditches which remove water from the lots, water that ordinarily would have soaked into the soils supplying water for the tree roots.

These are some of the factors that cause the loss of trees in new subdivisions or where new homes are constructed. Home buyers, as well as those planning to build, should realize these factors in their plans for a tree-shaded homestead.

Ruidoso C.B. Club Doings

BY THE ZOOKEEPER

The Ruidoso CB Club meeting November 6 was one of the most interesting that we have had in some time. The slide show about the Handicapped Skiers was very well put together and Diana Grover made it very interesting with her comments.

We had several guests attending the meeting, and we have two new and most welcome members. A big welcome to Big Foot, and his wife Little Foot. Glad to have you in our club.

One of our visitors, Cactus King, celebrated his birthday and was surprised with a birthday cake.

All members that can make our next meeting please do so, for as you know, with the upcoming ski season and bad road conditions close upon us, we will be setting up our Channel 3 for the skiers and also Channel 19 for highway conditions. New members that have not worked these channels during the winter will appreciate the discussion that will be given on procedure in how to handle emergency traffic on the CB.

If you were at the meeting Monday, everyone was glad to see you, but if you were not able to come, we missed you. See you soon.

Guayule law may benefit Southwest

President Carter Saturday signed into law a bill sponsored by United States Senator Pete Domenici that will provide $30 million for research and development of guayule, the rubber-bearing plant that could be an agricultural and economic bonanza for the Southwest.

Guayule is indigenous to Mexico and portions of the southwest United States. It thrives in arid regions and yields a high quality latex. It was produced extensively during World War II when America's supplies of natural rubber from the South Pacific were curtailed, but the government abandoned the project after the war.

Geothermal space heating demonstration ideas sought

Energy and Minerals Department Secretary Nick Franklin announced today the Department is requesting proposals for geothermal space heating demonstration projects.

The 1978 New Mexico Legislature appropriated $200,000 for such projects with these conditions:

1. Not less than 100 per cent matching funds must be provided for the project from available federal or private resources.

2. The proposal must provide for a geothermal space heating demonstration project.

3. Expenditure from the appropriation is contingent upon the plans and feasibility of the projects being approved by the Energy Research and Development Review Committee.

"A large number of areas in New Mexico offer significant geothermal potential, and we are very fortunate that the Legislature made these funds available," Franklin said.

"I'm optimistic that we will receive a number of worthwhile proposals."

Franklin said the proposals will be judged competitively by the committee and that evaluation of the proposals will be based on several factors, including: (1) Need for geothermal space heating in the area where the proposed project would be located; (2) Geothermal potential in the area where the proposed project would be located, and (3) Amount of outside funding the project would attract to New Mexico.

Franklin said the Department, working in conjunction with the Energy Institute at New Mexico State University, will be responsible for overall project management and administration as well as quality control.

School Scoop

A Weekly Activities Column
Written by Ruidoso High School Journalism Students

Ruidoso schools will be out three days for Thanksgiving this year. No school will be held Wednesday, November 22 through Friday, November 24.

A National Schools Assembly program will be presented to the high school students November 13 at 10:30 a.m. Kit Beecher will present "A Walk in the Wild" featuring live reptiles, birds and mammals. The charge for all students will be 50 cents.

Scrapbooks were presented Friday morning in the gym to seniors and coaches in varsity football and volleyball during the pep assembly. Pep Club girls were asked to make the scrapbooks at the beginning of the year and they all worked hard for the Warrior they chose to support. A few students and coaches were surprised when the girls asked for the scrapbooks back, because the football players still had a game and the volleyball girls had just played their last game the night before the pep assembly.

Varsity volleyball girls receiving scrapbooks were Susan Miller made by Gwen DiPaolo; Ruth Guthrie by Mickie Padilla; Kelly Thomason by Christi Mount; and Donda Pippin by Leona Sealy.

Varsity football players receiving scrapbooks were Truman Bob by Debbie Jo Almager; Steve Cox by Susan Miller; Mark Dutton by Connie Turner; Jeff Elliott by Kelly Thomason; Troy Garrity by Shawna Holly; Pat Herrera by Delores and Joanne Herrera; Ray Herrera by Kim Sanchez and Kim Prophet; Lynn Holly by Connie Howard; Pat Mathews by Patti Neal; Jacob Salas by Lisa Delhotel; Jovian Smith by Cyd Wright; Dirk Strassburg by Donda Pippin; John Whitlock by Gena Ratliff; Borde Williams by Susan Hirschfeld, and Tim Riley by Lou Ann Wilson.

Coaches honored with scrapbooks were Sergio Castanon by Tina Killen; Marge Andrus by Lynnette Yoder; Darrel Stierwalt by Carrie Cottrun and Debbie Looten; Barry Nelson by Lorie Heckman; Bob Elder by Bonnie McClendon; Chris Zurzolo by Natalie Yoder, and Bruce Hancock by Anne Fox.

Two new students were enrolled this week, they are Paul Kirkwood, a junior from Pecos, Texas and Debbie Weise, also a junior, from Carlsbad.

Class rings will be delivered at 11:15 a.m., Wednesday, November 15 in the library. Juniors should check with Raymona McAdams for the total amount owed.

Senior announcements will be ordered at 12:15 p.m., Wednesday, November 15 in the library. Seniors must bring a $15 deposit at the time of ordering their announcements.

Today the band traveled to Roswell to compete in the SENMMEA marching band festival. This contest was scheduled Saturday but it was postponed due to rain. The band will play "High Chaparral," "Gallant Men" and "Night Fever."

The girls' volleyball team ended their season last Thursday with a loss to Lordsburg in the first round of the district tournament. The Warriors lost 3-15, 15-13, and 5-15.

Ellen Bizzell was named to the district All-Tournament team.

Girls' basketball will start at 3 p.m. Monday in the gym. All interested girls are urged to participate. Coach Castanon is looking forward to a good season. Their first game is December 1 against Cloudcroft at 6 p.m., in Cloudcroft.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Birthday of Mrs. A.N. Runnels

Today, November 9, is the birthday of Mrs. Lula Runnels of Bonito City. We all wish her a happy birthday and many happy returns of the day.

Good Moisture For Mother Earth

This is being sent to you on November six. It has been a rather unusual Fall. Jack Frost has paid us one visit here in the vale, and yet an evening or so ago you could still hear a cricket singing his Indian summer serenade while strumming a few chords on his little guitar.

A day or two ago the sun came out after several days of slow rain, and as I journeyed up the valley the mountain side to the south showed a picture I have not seen in a long time. The mountain was shining and sparkling in the early afternoon sun. It seemed there were numberless mirrors of irregular shapes set amongst the gold and crimson oak brush, from top to bottom and all along the hill sides.

This was water from little rain-springs running down over the little cliffs, rock banks, rock ledges and large stones — all hid from your notice among the brush of the mountain unless brought out at times like this. The ground has taken in all the moisture it can hold, and releases the rest of it in little spring revulets, tiny runnels, and miniature lakes and on the rocky places and in the ground. Mother Earth is smiling with Joy. For this is one of the moisture-filled Autumns that have blessed us in a long time.

The good thing about this moisture is that it has fallen rather slowly with most of it soaking into the ground. Think what this will do for the springs, wells, and streams — and for the growing things from the tiniest herbs and blades of grass up to the giant pines and other evergreens waving their tops up near the blue sky.

Today, November six, with the sun out in the clean-washed sky, you can see the green grass growing in the warm and sheltered places. A pure little incense of rapidly-growing young blades of grass reach you — a little breath of Spring in the Indian Summer.

More Blue Jays And Snow Birds

The lone Stellars Jay who came to the house a few days ago has spread the word, and now there are dozens of these little Favorite American winged citizens all around the place feeding and singing with the Pinon Birds, their cousins which they must resemble in size and coloring. You can tell them from the pinon Jays by their little black caps. We might call the Stellars Jay "The Pine Blue Jay."

A few moments ago, the north wind blew in gently, and riding on its waves came a little band of snow birds. They always are happy to arrive here, and are welcomed by the Jays, blue birds, and others of our winged friends who spend the Fall with us. More and more snow birds will be moving in for the Winter, and many other bird friends will be passing through. It is great to see them so tame, and friendly. They deeply appreciate the feed we give them, and our many other acts of kindness.

The snow birds know that I am also a Native Alaskan, and they feel at home here. The snow birds are messengers of good will, and are great favorites everywhere.

Indian Summer Rainbow Scene

There are times when I wish my brother Mark were along with me to capture with his paint colors some scene that I will remember always. Sometimes it is of a little calf with its mother, or a bird drinking in a stream with the sunlight colors on the water, or a sun-rise or sun set.

The other day I was going out the old road toward the east, because the crossing is a little high with rain water.

There is a point from which you can see the Vale of Glencoe and the valley beyond for several miles with the mountains on either side.

There was a light mist in the world, and just as you came onto this point all the valley of Glencoe, and San Patricio on beyond, stretched away to the foot hills.

Lombardy poplars in light gold, pointed to the sky amidst the giant mellow gold of the cottonwoods; and every color of the river trees made a tracing of the river as it went winding through the orchards, colored gold, amber, crimson, orange and every shade of Indian summer. Beyond, and on either side were the foot hills in oak brush colors near at hand and in soft shades of lilacs and purple farther on.

Over the whole Indian Summer scene a bright rainbow arched from hill-side to hill side, all across the valley. This is something you might see once in a great while, and which you remember always.

Thanks to Arvel And Inez Nash

I want to thank Arvel and Inez Nash for their very welcome birthday greeting. These two good friends bring lots of sunshine into the world, and we wish them all the happiness in the world, and all God's blessings.

Santa Fe — Down to Earth: Now that the General Election is over, New Mexico can get back to business as usual — and hopefully — that means making some solid interim plans for the continuing operation of State Government.

If recent tradition is followed, it means a transition office will be set up for the new Chief Executive within the confines of the Merry Round House, where he can meet with present State officials and also interview prospective candidates for positions within the new Administration.

It's also a time when the general population gets a little insight into what's in store for the State for the next four years.

Will the new Governor set up a horizontal staff like outgoing Chief Executive Jerry Apodaca, where no one person serves as immediate Administrative Aide, but a number of people are delegated specific duties and are answerable directly to the Governor.

Or will the staff return to the traditional format with a vertical power structure and all staff members going up the ladder to the Administrative Aide and then the Chief Executive.

And maybe, too, we'll know as soon as possible just who will be in line for the twelve cabinet positions — each of which carries an annual salary of $40,000.

The first question is who stays and who goes — and the follow-up is who takes the place of the guys who have to pack their bags.

It's a far cry from the days when a new Governor had to set up an interim office in an available storefront or maybe an empty suite of rooms in a distant office complex.

But, on the other hand, the size and complexities of State Government has grown four-fold since those days too.

Conference Post-script: The Governor's Career Conference for Women in State government attracted about 1500 persons... far more than when the organizers expected. And many women were turned away because of fire code and space restrictions.

Most women attending the confab were pleased with its workshops and ideas. And some reporters indicated that attending women returned to their agencies with a new vigor and desire for excellence.

But, there were some rumbles of unhappiness. There were those male bosses who found their agencies functioning at half speed without their female employees around.

And there were those government entities, like the Attorney General's office, that had their females turned away by lack of space. They were openly critical of the way things were handled.

And there were some gripes from conference supporters. For example at least one state legislator was fuming because the female employees of two government offices were not given details and the conference and did not attend. That one might come back at some future date. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Spending Ceiling: Senate Majority Floor Leader C.B. Trujillo of Toas says he supports the concept of a spending lid on state government expenditures during the coming years.

Trujillo notes that while state spending has increased noticeably in recent years, the average person's income has often increased at or below the national inflation rate.

This item could become an important one in future years as the executive and legislative branches take a close look at the dollars spent to operate New Mexico government. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Interstate Like? Some prominent New Mexico legislators are supporting the idea of an "interstate-like" road status for US 70 from Clovis to Las Cruces.

If the federal decides to go with the four lane idea on this stretch, about ten percent of needed monies would have to come from state coffers.

While lending their backing to the idea, certain key legislators fear that New Mexico's road construction budget is outdated and cannot provide the needed funds to produce new dynamic roadways frequently maintained.

The lawmakers say if US 70 is to attain the so-called "interstate look" the state had better place some immediate concern in the highway construction fund area.

Health Follow-up: Several months ago this column predicted the State Health and Environment Department would author a small traveler's guide affecting diarrhea.

Well that's happened and the small-wallet size card is in the making at this time.

The card will offer some precautions and management of what is commonly known as travelers' diarrhea. It will suggest when travelers should seek medical advice. And it will even offer a formula for "poison" which can help control diarrhea disease. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

Before getting into the main body of my letter, I would like to preface with a statement, to wit, that I am in no way opposed to the organized and sanctioned motorcycle rallies or conventions which have been held in Ruidoso in recent years.

In fact, I think it an extremely healthy and attractive economic event for the Village and I heartily commend Mr. Til Thompson and others for their efforts in originating and developing this affair. It would be difficult to place either a monetary or public relations value on it since any such attempt doubtless would be underestimated.

However, does this rally or convention have to occur at Aspencade time? Why could not the two events be separated, thus pleasing both the cyclists and those who wish to observe the Aspencade in an entirely different mood and framework? If the cyclists wish to continue having their get-together during the first week in October as they have the past two years, well fine and good. Personally, as a 10-year resident of Ruidoso, I think the first week in October is too early for the aspens and other foliage in the valley to reach its zenith. I dare say, year in and year out, that the middle of October would come closer to seeing the peak of color.

Almost every small town in America has its own special day... either as an official birth date or a special observance. In most cases it is a time in which old times are remembered, old acquaintances are renewed, and the firmness that traditions offer strengthens faith in the future.

I believe that these factors were in the minds of the originators of Aspencade; perhaps we have ventured away from the original intent. I believe Aspencade is very unique in that it is a salute to Mother Nature and that the magnificent dress she dons for our pleasure should be observed through events more pastoral. Mother Nature's autumnal motif is of regal hues... and, normally, regality is held in awe and, yes, in reverence.

I believe Aspencade for Ruidoso should be a "community thing" with all elements having the opportunity to participate within a planned and goal-oriented framework. I think churches, the schools, civic and professional clubs, independent groups, and just plain citizens should be encouraged to "do their thing" in an overriding atmosphere of fun and fellowship.

In order to accomplish this, perhaps a formalized non-profit organization should be formed whose sole purpose would be the perpetuation of Aspencade somewhat along the aforementioned guidelines, along with the spreading of the promotional word wherein the community would not only retrieve some absent friends of longstanding but would make new friends among nature lovers throughout the State, the Southwest and the Nation. I firmly believe that Aspencade could truly become the "Best of the Bigtime Splendors".

I would appreciate hearing either personally or through the Ruidoso News comments from other Ruidosians. If such a movement materialized, I certainly would offer whatever talents I might possess to its development and promotion.

RUSSIA'S NUCLEAR ENERGY

An intriguing dispatch from Moscow says the Russians are planning to heat homes with steam from nuclear reactors in plants located relatively close to their cities. Their technologists say they have found an "engineering solution" to what is considered the greatest potential danger in nuclear plants — a loss of coolant accident and reactor meltdown with a disastrous release of radioactive material into the atmosphere.

Further, the Russians see no problem in disposing of radioactive waste from their growing number of nuclear power plants and the steam-heating plants soon to be built. They will concentrate it into a glass-like substance and bury it in salt deposits or abandoned coal mines in remote areas.

Considering the endless debate in America about nuclear safety, this makes us wonder. Do the Russians know something that we don't? Or have they just decided to live dangerously?

Probably the answer lies somewhere in between. The fact that the new nuclear steam plants will not have the heavy concrete containment domes characteristic of our own nuclear plants does suggest a technological innovation. As for safety, Soviet standards are presumed to be lower than ours. American astronauts, for instance, have hinted they would not like to risk their necks in a spacecraft as primitive as the Soviet's Soyuz.

But with world supplies of energy the topic of the day, it is interesting to watch these Soviet developments. The Russians believe their nuclear steam plants will achieve a 30 percent reduction in the consumption of oil, gas and coal to heat homes and buildings.

Obviously they looked at their fuel inventory, weighed all the risks, and came down on the side of the nuclear option. —Carlsbad Current-Argus

In view of the recurring problems concerning the autonomy of Indian tribes in New Mexico, it seems one of the first battles Attorney General Jeff Bingaman should launch, after being sworn into office in January, is to establish, through state and federal court action, just exactly to what extent our Indian tribes can continue to flaunt the state laws the rest of us must live with. —CD

OK HIGHWAY GUYS

You hear a lot of comments about the streets in Ruidoso... and how whole herds of streets need fixing... and talk about pot holes a desert terrapin couldn't climb out of... which isn't good, 'cause we ain't got no terrapins.

Anyway... on the thumb hand side... if'n it wasn't for the State Highway Commission... the State Highway Department... and those good old District Highway guys out of Roswell... maybe Alamogordo, even... most of us'd need crawler-type vehicles instead a 4-wheel drives to get around town. Even though it does seem wings'd be better... sometimes.

What's happened... see... is that all those highway guys have been cooperating with Ruidoso... not forgetting Ruidoso Downs... officials... and there've been cooperative agreements... and state personnel and equipment... and materials... that have made such improvements possible as are going on in Paradise Canyon... Carrizo Canyon Road... Hull Road... and such places... and, once completed, we don't have to thank our lucky stars... nope, by jinkies... it's those highway guys as rate the thanks.

And there's a lot more cooperation in the offing from these same highway guys... and, if'n we can overlook a mile of inconvenience while they cooperate with the street departments of our villages... we'll come to realize we've got some dandy fine streets to drive rattle-free over.

If'n it wasn't for the willingness of local officials to cooperate with these good old guys from the highway department... and vice versa... all our streets... including Sudderth/Mechem... would probably be as bad, if not worse, than those aforementioned havens for non-existent terrapins.

Course our twin village treasures ain't exactly escaping scot free... but... for value received... and our labors in kind, kind of defraying the expenses... we're getting by... and getting some good buys in our street repairs... which result in fewer replacement of shock absorbers.

And ere the influx of skiers from less snowy climes... we'll have stoplights in a couple of touchy traffic zones on Sudderth... which'll give all of us a fighting chance to progress on our merry way... sans fender benders. So, you good old highway guys... thanks for your helping hand.

ON GAS MILEAGE

Once in a while, whilst reading news releases whilst quaffing a soothing ice tea, I stumble onto something that answers my questions about all this confusion about how far a car'll go on one gallon of gas.

Take, for instance... just the other day I read where MPG... that's miles per gallon... is not interchangeable with C.A.F.E... that's Corporate Average Fuel Economy... see... already yet the confusion's less.

So... MPG specifies the fuel economy of a single car... C.A.F.E. pertains to all the vehicles a manufacturer makes, besides it delineates the amount of gas all said vehicles sold the same year consume. See... it's all clear... and simple... and explainable to the average precocious ten year old mathematical genius.

But... to eliminate the MPG... C.A.F.E... conundrum once and for all... take a 20 MPG and a 40 MPG vehicle... drive 'em both 100 miles... the guzzler uses 5 gallons of gas... the thrifty model 2.5 gallons... simple... no? And now for figuring the C.A.F.E... add the 5 and 2.5... add 100 miles and 100 miles, to see how far both cars traveled... then divide the 200 miles by 7.5 gallons... and... presto? ... your C.A.F.E. figure should be 26.67... that's miles per gallon... simple... no?

And... if'n you've a fleet of cars... like dad's... mom's... brother's... sister's... maybe uncle's and aunt's... you can figure out your C.A.F.E. as opposed to your MPG... before you have to bother to expostulate: "Oh, brother"... which might or might not be apropos.

Course that doesn't explain why 20 plus 40 divided by two comes to an average MPG of 30... which is pretty close to C.A.F.E. 26.67... but then the guy figuring out the MPG and C.A.F.E. formulas was probably in cahoots with writers of governmental gobbledegook... trying to figure out some way car manufacturers can hedge on upping the miles per gallon vehicles are supposed to be making by or before 1985... no?

BRIEF BIT: If'n someone'd develop a smooth-skinned cucumber, maybe the first pickle'd be a lot easier to extract from the jar... CD

LEGISLATORS WANT RAISE

New Mexicans will vote November 7 on a proposed constitutional amendment which would provide a $300 monthly salary for state legislators, in addition to the $40 per diem paid during a legislative session and for attendance at interim committee meetings.

This amendment would give the legislative retirement program constitutional recognition.

Legislators are a persistent group. Legislators' compensation has been the subject of constitutional amendment proposals 12 times in the last 53 years, or an average of once about every 4 1/2 years. In 1971 voters approved an amendment to increase legislative per diem from $20 to $40.

In 1974 voters rejected a proposal to create a Legislative Compensation Commission, which would have had the authority periodically to review and set compensation, expenses and allowances for legislators.

While we understand the legislators' motivation for increasing their compensation, we, nevertheless, cling to the old precepts of republican government — that to be designated by ones peers to represent them in the government is an honor, and should be treated as that, rather than as a job for which one should be paid.

If the latest proposal is approved in the general election in November, legislators would receive a salary of $3,600 a year in addition to the $40 per diem. Total compensation over a two-year period would be $10,800 or, an average of $5,400 a year. Legislators now receive $2,400 in per diem in odd-numbered years, when the regular session lasts 60 days, and $1,200 during even-numbered years, when there are 30-day sessions.

After all, voters cannot overlook what the United States Congress has done to create higher and higher salaries for its members, not to mention fringe benefits which are completely beyond reason. Furthermore, members of Congress now have set up a law that permits salary increases without a vote by the individual congressman.

Who is to say that the ethics of state legislators would be any better than those of our congressmen? —News-Bulletin, Helen—

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

SUE WETHINGTON took her first trip as an apprentice in Saturday's first race and nearly hit the winner's circle. The pert blonde was aboard Eddie's Ambition in the 5½ furlong tour and the pair finished in front at the wire. But they caused interference in the stretch run and were disqualified to second. Sue, daughter of well-known jockey Arthur Anderson, has been galloping for the past 1½ years.

PENTIMENTO accomplished her final victory in Saturday's fifth race. The sophomore filly captured a neck win in the 350 yard bout; then broke down and had to be destroyed. A strong stakes competitor, Pentimento had career earnings of $33,458. Jockey Darrell Blevins suffered a hard tumble in the accident, and was sent to the hospital for X-rays. But he was uninjured and resumed his riding chores Sunday.

JOCKEY JOHN CUSHING, who took a rough spill a week ago, was released from Providence Memorial Hospital last Friday. The young rider suffered a broken collarbone and a bruised lung, but is healing well. Cushing plans to leave for his home in Stroud, Oklahoma sometime this week for a two to three month recuperation period.

THREE LADY JOCKEYS competed in one race Friday and that's more distaffers in one field than ever before at Sunland. Betty Harless guided heavily favored Cash For Cans; Judy Slane rode Knave's Jimmy; and Marie Trigary piloted Ted R. Harless mount to capture the show spot with her 35-1 outsider for a $17 mutual return.

SPARKLING FLASH GO, victor in Saturday's 350 yard third race, became the first horse at the current meet to score three victories. The sorrel colt, trained by Greg Henson, has been to the gate three times and found the winner's circle every time for a perfect seasonal score. Jack Wallace has ridden the sophomore in each journey against middle claiming competition.

THOROUGHbred OUR STAR SAM crushed a predominantly quarter horse field in an 870 yard race Saturday and had high odds to boot. The gelding got off at 21-1, moved briskly to the lead and fended off competition by a two length margin in the quick chase. Mutual returns on the six-year-old reflected $43.60, $12.60 and $10.60. Danny Summerow was up. Our Star Sam paired with Reckless Ronny in the quiniela returned $166.

JUDY SLANE, a lady jockey new to the Sunland scene but not to racing, brought in a 28-1 outsider for third in Saturday's ninth race. Judy piloted Turquoise Princess to a strong come-from-behind finish in the two-year-old allowance bout for an $8.60 show payoff.

DON HOWARD, who's been among the top ranking riders all season, lost his apprentice bug a week ago. But the promotion to journeyman hasn't deterred his skills at all. Since the change, Howard has scored three wins, three seconds and four thirds.

THE FAVORITES had a hard time finding the winner's circle over the weekend as off track conditions persisted. On Friday, four found the top spot. Then on Saturday, only two responded to strong backing and on Sunday, only three.

THE EIGHTH POST POSITION was the lucky choice for the second half of the Daily Double all three days of the racing weekend. On Friday, the 5/8 combo returned $29.20. On Saturday, the 10/8 pair paid $65. And on Sunday, backers of 4/8 received $109.60.

SUNDAY'S HANDLE of $263,860 was the highest so far this season. The output lifted the seasonal average to $223,239. At the same time last year (13 race days), the average stood at $220,042. The current figure is a gain of 1.45 percent. Fans are currently betting $18,945 per race.

THE NO. EIGHT POSITION toured the winner's circle seven times over the racing weekend to lead in that category. Here's the complete seasonal breakdown: No. 1 — 23; No. 2 — 16; No. 3 — 11; No. 4 — 18; No. 5 — 19; No. 6 — 18; No. 7 — 15; No. 8 — 18; No. 9 — 10; No. 10 — 10; No. 11 — 0; No. 12 — 0.

Space art display open to public until January

Over 6,000 people have visited the Alamogordo since October 6 when the International Space Hall of Fame (ISHF) space art display "Beyond Tomorrow" made its world premiere there. The display produces a visual trip into the future and has been nationally billed as the "most thought-provoking exhibit of the 20th Century". This is the first time ever the exhibit has been on public display.

Space Hall sources feel much of the success of the exhibit is the direct result of a national trend toward interest in space science and the future. "Beyond Tomorrow is a realistic version of Star Wars and Battleship Galactica," noted Nolan Conner, ISHF Director. "There have been so many technological advances in the past 20 years that the future, as represented by these paintings, is no longer a distance unknown, but life in just another 50 years."

Capitan claims two titles

TIGER TRI-CHAMP

Before a packed stadium, the Tigers won the big one of the night as they beat the Carrizozo Grizzlies. The Tigers came up with some plays to please the Capitan fans and the parents proud on Parents' Night.

The win gave Capitan a District 3A title as Capitan, Grizzlies and Reserve all have 1-1 records. The three teams will advance to the playoffs. The two will be chosen by the officials of the three schools.

The first half of the ball game was a Tiger defense fight for the most of the time. The Tigers were backed up in their own field most of the time. The Grizzlies the ball with good field. However, the first Grizzly possession was stopped at the 14 yard line by Mark Earmello recovered the first Grizzly fumble of the night.

After Capitan's second fumble, the ball back to Carrizozo, the Tigers held Carrizozo on downs. The game continued in much the same fashion.

The Grizzlies possession after the kick off was stopped this time by an interception by Jack McGarry. The Tigers took the ball in for another touchdown. Greer caught his second TD pass of the night - this time thrown by Aldaz. The extra point kick was no good making the score 16-0.

Shortly into the fourth quarter, Carrizozo got on the scoreboard with a 41 yard pass play good for the touchdown. The attempt for the two point conversion failed and the score remained 18-6.

The rest of the quarter saw Carrizozo recover two Capitan fumbles but they were unable to capitalize on the turnovers. Each time they returned the favor by throwing an interception. The first one was intercepted by Billy Page and the second by Marc Stewart.

After the interception by Stewart, the Tigers were able to hold onto the ball, run out the clock, and beat the Carrizozo Grizzlies.

The Tigers had a total of 200 yards of offense. Stewart had 88 yards of that on 20 carries and Sanchez had 55 yards on 19 carries.

Capitan started out the match with 5 straight points by Cooper. After 2 points by Clouderoff, Story came back with 5 points to give Capitan a 13-2 lead. Abercrombie then served out the game for the 15-2 win.

The second game was a little closer but the end results were the same. For Capitan, Cooper and Cline had 5 points, Story - 3, and Womack and Lamb - 1 each.

The Tigerettes will now play in the regional tournament to be held in San Jon today. They will play the host team, San Jon. Clouderoff will play Amistad. The winners of these two matches will play tonight. Both winners will advance to the state tournament to be held in Silver City, November 16-18.

The All-District team for District 5 was announced at the District Tournament. Capitan placed five on the team: Lisa Lamb, Donna Cooper, Cindy Cline, Sally Abercrombie and Debby Womack. Also on the team from Clouderoff were L. Nestle, K. Rodolph, and D. DeHerrera; from Carrizozo - Lisa Crenshaw and Lisa Ferguson; and from Lake Arthur - C. Olivas and G. Funk.

Other matches in the district tournament saw Number 4 Lake Arthur beat Number 5 Hondo for the right to play Capitan. Number 3 Clouderoff beat Number 2 Carrizozo to advance to the finals. Carrizozo beat Lake Arthur for third place.

Congratulations to the Tigerettes and coach Bill MacVeigh and good luck at regional!

made its world premiere there. The display produces a visual trip into the future and has been nationally billed as the "most thought-provoking exhibit of the 20th Century". This is the first time ever the exhibit has been on public display.

Space Hall sources feel much of the success of the exhibit is the direct result of a national trend toward interest in space science and the future. "Beyond Tomorrow is a realistic version of Star Wars and Battleship Galactica," noted Nolan Conner, ISHF Director. "There have been so many technological advances in the past 20 years that the future, as represented by these paintings, is no longer a distance unknown, but life in just another 50 years."

Numerous space scientists and writers contributed to the production of the thirty-five paintings which make up the series. Artist Roy Scarfo co-authored the book "Beyond Tomorrow: The 21st Century" with Dr. Dandridge M. Cole before deciding to make a visual reproduction of the material it contained. Scarfo had worked extensively with General Electric and the New York Times in the science and space art capacity before attempting the paintings.

The decision to premiere the exhibit at ISHF was made because Alamogordo has generally been accepted as the birthplace of the United States Space Program and is now the home of the International Space Hall of Fame. "Many people felt that the Space Hall was simply a memorial to past achievement in space science," Conner said. "The 'Beyond Tomorrow' art exhibit has helped change that image for a lot of people."

The exhibit will continue on display at the Space Hall of Fame until January of next year. "We had only planned on displaying it for a month," noted Conner, "but our response has been great enough to extend the exhibit through December."

Following the display at the Space Hall, "Beyond Tomorrow" will be shown extensively throughout Australia. It will not be on display again in the United States for several months.

Shortly into the second quarter, Sullivan came up with a Carrizozo punt to stop a Grizzly drive. After another punt, the Grizzlies again had the ball position at the Tiger 22 yard line. However, another fumble recovery, this time by Adam Aldaz, gave Capitan the ball again. The first half ended with neither team scoring any points.

TIGERETTES DISTRICT CHAMPS

The Capitan Tigerettes lived up to their Number 1 seeding as they brought home the district championship for the first time. They won two matches in the district tournament without the loss of a single game and will advance to the regional tournament.

The Tigerettes' opening match was against Lake Arthur. Capitan came out on top 15-4 and 15-2. For Capitan in the first game Cindy Cline had 8 points, Donna Cooper - 3, Debby - 2, and Kathleen Story and Regina Lobb - 1 each. In the second game Lisa Lamb had 6 points, Story - 4, Beth Long - 2, and Cooper, Sally Abercrombie and Debbie Castillo - 1 each.

In the championship match, it was Capitan against Cloudercroft for the third year in a row. However, this year the results were different as Capitan won 15-2 and 15-11.

The Grizzlies possession after the kick off was stopped this time by an interception by Jack McGarry. The Tigres took the ball in for another touchdown. Greer caught his second TD pass of the night - this time thrown by Aldaz. The extra point kick was no good making the score 16-0.

The Tigres had a total of 208 yards of offense. Stewart had 88 yards of that on 20 carries and Sanchez had 55 yards on 19 carries.

Tiger punter Harvey Martin punted 3 times for an average of 30 yards and Carrizozo punted once for 55 yards.

It was a good team effort by the Tigres as they all were heroes. Congratulations to the team and their coaches headed by coach Jack Cisco.

Capitan started out the match with 6 straight points by Cooper. After 2 points by Cloudercroft, Story came back with 5 points to give Capitan a 13-2 lead. Abercrombie then served out the game for the 15-2 win.
