Week of activities to raise money for handicapped skiers

The week of February 11 to 17 will be proclaimed as Sierra Blanca Handicapped Skiers Association Week and mark several days of fund raising activity for the group.

Highlight of the "Have a Heart for the Handicapped" week will be a race among teams of handicapped skiers paired with well known Ruidoso figures on February 14, Valentine's Day.

Fund raising activities for the association, which sent five skiers to the International handicapped competition last March, will include:

February 1-13, sale of tickets throughout town. Prizes of a one year membership to Sierra Swim and Racquet Club and the Inn of the Mountain Gods Racquet Club plus a year's pass to Sierra Blanca Ski Area and Ruidoso Ski Area will be awarded to four lucky persons February 13.

Saturday, February 10, volunteers will canvass the town for donations and will be found in conspicuous places throughout the village to gather donations. Volunteers will be recognized by their heart design T-shirts.

Monday, February 12, a pre-race party will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club for review of the race competitors, who include John Hall, Preston Isaacs, Bill McCarty, Johnny Durham, Denys McCoy, Mel O'Reilly, Frank Potter, Don Swalander, Bill Pipplin, Ed Jungbluth, Figgy Griego, Lloyd Davis, Ken Green and Jerry Bigham. Considerable speculation may ensue.

Tuesday, February 13, a western dance at 7:30 p.m. at the Winners' Circle featuring continuous music by Clay Mac and back-up band Lynn Martin Music Company. During the dance, the prizes will be given away and then a door prize of two pina colodas at Playa de Matzafian (a three day-three night, all expenses paid trip) will be given away.

Also, during the dance, a formal dinner party for 10 will be auctioned.

The purchaser and guests will be picked up in a chauffer-driven limosine and taken to a home where a formal dinner in the most correct etiquette will be given, complete with maids, footmen, butlers and cooks.

The unique twist to the dinner party, which should make it entertaining, is all the servants will be well known Ruidoso figures.

Wednesday, February 14, the Am-Cap race among teams of handicapped skiers paired with prominent Ruidosoans kicks-off at 1:30 p.m.

Teams will tear down "Easy Street" at Sierra Blanca Ski Area.

As handicapped skiers week and Valentine's Day approach, remember to "Have a Heart for the Handicapped."

LINCOLN COUNTY BAR Association officers elected Wednesday are, left to right, Ron Harris, president, Karen Parsons, secretary-treasurer, and Archie Witham, vice president.

Bill Payne endorsed by bar

The Lincoln County Bar Association was formed Wednesday and as the first item of business voted to endorse Bill Payne as a replacement for Thomas A. Sandenaw, 12th Judicial District, Division II judge.

Elected as officers of the association were Ron Harris, president; Archie Witham, vice president, and Karen Parsons, secretary-treasurer. The association, to be composed of licensed attorneys residing in the county, agreed to meet the first Wednesday of each month beginning March 7. During that meeting the group will discuss bylaws and dues.

Sandenaw says pay too low

Thomas A. Sandenaw Jr., District Judge, Division II, Twelfth Judicial District, announced last Friday he is resigning that office effective March 1.

Sandenaw told The News Tuesday that the major reason for his resignation was the question of salaries for district judges.

In a prepared press release, Sandenaw said, "Since I first ran for office in 1976, the salaries of district judges in New Mexico have increased from $31,000 to $35,317. Take home pay is only 62% of that amount."

"New Mexico's national ranking (in salaries) has improved from 35th to 28th. But during the same time frame, salaries in Arizona have increased from $30,000 to $43,500; in Nevada from $30,000 to $43,000 and in Colorado from $33,000 to $38,500."

"When I filed for re-election in April 1978, I was hopeful that New Mexico would increase judicial salaries. It has become obvious, however, that significant increases are improbable in the near future. This is particularly true in light of President Carter's request that inflationary guidelines be kept and that increases in spending be kept below seven percent."

"Having dealt with the financial realities for over two years, I feel compelled to take this action. I do so, however, with regret.

"It has indeed been a privilege to serve the people in Otero and Lincoln Counties as their district judge. I have made a number of decisions during my tenure. These decisions have been significant and meaningful for the people in this judicial district. No decision has been personally more difficult than the decision to resign from this position.

"I have been particularly pleased to have an opportunity of working with the supporting personnel within the district court and in sharing the caseload with Judge (George) Zimmerman in a judicial district where a large number of cases are handled annually, and in an efficient manner."

Sandenaw indicated he will return to private law practice, in a partnership with Thomas Overstreet in Alamogordo.

He said the office would be filled by an appointee of Governor Bruce King. He would not speculate on King's choice, but did confirm that the Otero County Democratic Central Committee had met Monday night to decide on recommendations to be made to the governor.

The Lincoln County Central Democratic Committee met Wednesday night in Ruidoso. They voted to recommend Bill Payne as Sandenaw's replacement.

Two, $1 million races

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M.—The most glittering stakes schedule in Ruidoso Downs history is in the works for 1979.

That's the report from General Manager R. Wood Erwin, who notes that the mountain turf resort will now become the first track in history to offer two races with purses topping the $1 million plateau.

The All-American Quarter Horse Futurity, a Labor Day fixture, will again reach a gross of $1,230,000 according to Erwin. That figure represents the grand finale, plus three consolation races and $30,000 in nominating and breeding awards. But the amount of money riding on the nationally televised grand finale alone will again be $1,030,000. The winner will take home a tremendous $437,500—the largest bonanza in turf history.

"But we're extremely proud of the fact the All-American Derby, the three-year-old counterpart of the All-American Futurity, is now moving on course toward a 1979 gross purse of over $1 million," Erwin added.

This year, the All-American Derby will be run on Sunday, August 26. The All-American Futurity closes out the season on Monday, September 3.

The new stakes schedule, Erwin continues, also reflects a number of sizeable increases in added money. For example, the Ruidoso Mile—one of the premier handicap events in this part of the country—goes from added money of $17,500 to $25,000. The mile is carded for Saturday, September 1.

The Ruidoso Sprint Championship (August 28) offered an added purse of $12,500 last year. This year, it'll be $15,000 added. The distance is six furlongs.

The 570-yard Brigand Handicap (September 1) will be boosted from $10,000 added to $12,500 added.

There's a new wrinkle, so far as the All-American Futurity is concerned. The trials will be split in two days, Thursday and Friday, August 23-24. The top five

Village Trustees raise building permit fees

The Ruidoso Village Council voted to increase building permit fees and heard a report on funding applications to build a new administrative building during their routine Tuesday evening meeting.

The council voted to increase building permit fees for commercial construction to either a minimum charge of $20 or 20 cents per square foot, increase residential construction to a minimum charge of $20 or 10 cents per square foot, and remodeling etc. to a minimum charge of $10 or five cents per square foot.

The council also heard a report Tuesday from village manager Jim Hine regarding the funding applications for construction of a new village administrative office.

The council approved architect Jim French to work on the project in efforts to expedite the application.

The new offices have been proposed for location in the municipal airport building because the present village hall has been condemned by the state fire marshals and by the insurance carrier.

In other business Tuesday, the council: —Approved low bid of $1,778 from C and L Lumber for 250 6"x8"x8' cedar posts for street signs.

Cand L also bid $3,480 for redwood posts and T-Bird Home Center bid $2,879 for redwood and $1,973 for cedar.

—Named Bette Romans as director of the senior citizen's center, replacing Charlotte Jarratt.

—Approved the recommendation of Frank Potter, village administrative assistant, to abandon federal aid avenues for widening and repair of Juanita Street between Skateland and Four Seasons Mall.

The village will seek instead a cooperative agreement with the State Highway Department for widening the entrance and federal disaster aid for repair of the bridge.

The street has been determined as the third busiest intersection in Ruidoso by the State Highway Department.

—Approved an ordinance prohibiting overnight-camping-in-village-parks.

—Heard a report from attorney Ron Harris on pending suits.

—Approved a condemnation resolution on three properties for zoning enforcement officer Emory Hatcher.

One building in Skyland has burned to the ground, another in Skyland has been abandoned and partially burned and the other in Town and Country is a debris strewn lot and residence.

Owners of the properties will receive a copy of the resolution and be given a time period in which to clean up the area.

If it is not cleared in the time period, the village can clean the area and file a lien on the costs.

—Heard the opinion from Al Junge that all the details of the suspension of Bill Cantu had not been released leaving chief of police Paul Lukens "with egg on his face."

Mayor Lloyd Davis said, "There were extenuating circumstances...prompting a secondary effort on everyone's part. 'There's no egg on anyone's face unless on mine and if so I accept it.'"

Potter, Hine and Harris explained personnel procedures usually are not brought before the village council.

Hightower named county commissioner

John Allen Hightower, 55, was sworn into office as Lincoln County Commissioner in ceremonies Monday in Carrizozo. He was appointed to the office by Governor Bruce King, following the resignation of Lee Straley early this month.

One of the basic concerns of county residents, and consequently, of his office is road conditions, Hightower said Tuesday. He said this would be especially true of the district he represents, since it covers about two-thirds of Lincoln County and 900 miles of roads.

"I was sworn into office Monday and spent the day looking at roads," he said, "so I've started off with a bang." He added he would be looking at more roads Thursday in the northeast part of the county.

Hightower, a lifelong resident of the county, had previously served on the Carrizozo Board of Education, the Selective Service Board and is currently a member of the county Planning and Zoning Commission, a post he will resign shortly to take the new office.

A rancher in Ancho area, he and his wife Vernelle have two married sons, who also reside at the ranch.

He had waged an unsuccessful write-in campaign for the commission office last year, after "Straley had announced his intention to resign the post. Straley had been unopposed for the office in the general election.

Counseling center open in Ruidoso

The Lincoln County Counseling Center opened Wednesday at Four Seasons Mall in Ruidoso. The center is part of a five-county mental health program funded by the state Department of Health and Environment, Lincoln County and other sources, and provides individual, group, marriage and family counseling.

The current staff of the center includes Don Hoover, director; Sandra Taylor, marriage and family therapist; Paul Gallegos, alcoholism and outreach therapist; Carrie Raventon, R.N., and Susan Pfeffer, administrative assistant. Appointments are required and may be

Federal flood funds and office for county

Federal disaster funds have been designated for five New Mexico counties, including Lincoln, to provide recovery assistance in the aftermath of December 1978 floods.

President Jimmy Carter signed a disaster declaration late Monday, which determines the eligibility for the funds. The other four New Mexico counties to receive the aid are Catron, Grant, Hidalgo and Sierra.

According to a spokesman for the office of U. S. Senator Pete Domenici, damage estimates for the entire state were set at "some $20 million" following the floods. No specific amounts have been set by Washington officials, however. A representative of the Federal Disaster Assistance Agency (FDAA) said the monetary aid would be "whatever it takes to get the job done." The FDAA administers the funds. An FDAA office will soon be established in Las Cruces, where information and assistance efforts will be coordinated.

Additional offices will be established in Ruidoso to serve this county and in Silver City to serve Grant, Hidalgo, Sierra and Catron counties.

Personal assistance will be forthcoming from other federal agencies as well. Farmers and ranchers who suffered losses may be eligible to receive funds through the Department of Agriculture.

The Small Business Administration will be assisting eligible homeowners and business people. A special unemployment compensation program is also being established by the Department of Labor, for persons who were put out of work as a result of the floods.

Tax refunds are also a possibility, and the Internal Revenue Service will be advising citizens in the affected areas of such benefits.

Federal officials will be meeting with local governments in the near future with regard to damage of public facilities.

Senator Domenici said Tuesday he was "gratified" at the presidential action. Domenici and Governor Bruce King had corresponded with the president's office during January, requesting the declaration.

The Roswell Symphony Orchestra will present the fourth concert of the season on Sunday, February 4 at 7 p.m. in Pearson Auditorium in Roswell.

Under the direction of John Farrer, the orchestra will perform four major works, including Tchaikovsky's Variations on a Rococo Theme, featuring Farry Karp on cello; Weber's "Overture to 'Der Freischutz,'" Faure's "Elegy," and Strauss's "Death and Transfiguration." Karp is a member of the Pro Arts

Parents Anonymous meets each Thursday

Weekly meetings of the Parents Anonymous organization are now being held each Thursday night in the Ruidoso area. Parents Anonymous is a nationwide self-help program for persons with child abuse problems.

The organization was founded in 1970, with the first chapter in Redondo Beach, California. Membership now numbers about 8000 persons in 800 chapters throughout the country.

The program features group meetings and 24-hour service availability as a means of preventing child abuse.

For more information, telephone 257-7504 or write Parents Anonymous at Box 325, Ruidoso, 88345.

Presbyterian church group visits Ruidoso

Guests of the retreat center at First Presbyterian Church January 26-28 were the senior high classes of University Presbyterian Church in El Paso.

Twenty eight persons, who were in Ruidoso for skiing and other winter activities, were sponsored by Mrs. Helen Earl, Dr. Bill White and Joe Klingstedt.

University Presbyterian Church also will sponsor a troop of Boy Scouts at the retreat next weekend.

Dear All,
I hope that everybody had a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!
My Christmas was very nice and not much different. Most everybody celebrates on Christmas Eve. Their Santa Claus is called "Tomte." As in the U.S. Tomte comes to all of those who have been kind.

On the 24th we were with my Swedish father's family, opened presents & ate, afterwards we went home & my mother's family came to our house. We ate again! and opened more presents. The Swedes eat very much at Christmas. To give a few examples; smoked eel, herring (lots & lots), ham, blood pudding, etc. - sounds good doesn't it. The best TV I've seen since I've been here was on Christmas, and that wasn't much.

New Years wasn't as exciting as usual. I was at home and watched Dick Clark on TV. My family & I toasted with Champagne at 12:00. Here in Sweden firecrackers are the big thing at New Years. At 12:00 firecrackers start cracking, that goes on for about an hour. I'm really trying to sell Ruidoso. People are really shocked when they see pictures of the snow & big mountains! Everybody thinks New Mexico is all desert.

Believe it or not I can hear Parker's ski report here; (for about 12c). I call on a pay telephone to hear. Today is the best skiing all season. Got to go now & do a little studying.

Love,
Melanie

If you're a smart shopper you will be keeping up with the latest developments in food prices and food supplies. For February the U.S.D.A. says that the supply of beef is adequate, but 2 to 4 percent below the February 1978 level. Pork on the other hand is 2 to 4 percent above year - earlier levels. Broiler Fryers are plentiful. Marketing rates are to be up 8-10 percent from a year ago.

Generally what these supply figures mean, is that you should look for price differences in line with the availability. Look for good buys, specials, or more reasonable prices at least, on the foods that are in good supply. Since meat is one of the big items in a family's food budget that is the area to consider first.

In other areas, potatoes are in plentiful supply and should have good prices. Potatoes are a good buy nutrition-wise. Penny-for penny, that have more energy-giving value than any other vegetable. One medium potato (about a 2/3 cup serving) supplies only 90 calories, but contributes one-fifth of the vitamin C needed daily, worthwhile amounts of the B vitamins - thiamine and niacin - as well as the minerals - iron, phosphorus and potassium. Potatoes are high carbohydrate sources, too.

To maintain quality and reap their full goodness, follow these suggestions when purchasing, storing and preparing potatoes:

- Buy potatoes that are clean, firm, smooth and well-shaped. Avoid those with blemishes, decay and green sunburn.
- Store them at room temperature or cooler (50-70F) in a dark and dry area where air circulates. If this kind of storage place is available, it's economical to buy in larger quantities. Check often to remove injured or defective spuds to avoid further spoilage.
- Wash and remove sprouts or decay, when preparing for use. If pared, keep peeling thin. Precious nutrients are just below the skin.

- Boil in the least amount of water possible. More vitamins are retained when left whole. However, if time is a factor, cut into small pieces, and don't overcook. Although the larger amount of exposed surface tends to increase loss of nutritives this may be offset by shorter cooking time.

Now take a look at some delicious ways to utilize more potatoes while the prices are so low!

QUICK POTATO SOUP
2 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 1/4 cups boiling water
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1-teaspoon-salt
Pepper

Add to potatoes and onion to the boiling water. Cover, and cook for 15 to 20 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Mash the potatoes slightly with a fork to thicken the soup a little, if desired.

Add milk, butter or margarine and seasonings. Heat.
For a touch of color, garnish each serving with chopped parsley, grated cheese, croutons, diced crisp bacon, or finely cut watercress or chives.

Makes 4 servings about 1 cup each.
Variation: Cut 2 frankfurters into 1/4-inch slices and add them to the soup with the milk.

New materials available: Come to the Lincoln County Extension Office and take a look at our bulletin racks. We have many good booklets. Some of these booklets are: Food Safety in the Kitchen, Cookery Magic with Spices and Herbs, Tips for Energy Savers, Home Slaughtering and Processing of Pork.

Assembly of God revival announced

The Reverend Inreal Leon M. will be the evangelist for a February 4-11 revival at Apache Indian Assembly of God Church in Mescalero.

The revival, which will begin each night at 7 p.m., will include "special singing and prayer for the sick," the Reverend Sam Bruton said Monday.

All interested persons are welcomed.

Arts council organized

Lincoln County Council of the Arts was formed last week from the group of persons interested in reviving the Lincoln County Art Association.

During a meeting of the group, a committee was formed to seek an attorney's assistance in establishing non-profit status and forming policies.

The next meeting of the council will be at 7 p.m. February 16 at the high school.

Mrs. Perida Tso completes course

Mrs. Perida Tso, Mescalero, recently completed an eight month Indian health service training course in intermediate food production.

She was presented a certificate by assistant area director Dr. Robert C. Vanderwagen, at a special coffee hour January 19 at the hospital in Mescalero, where she is employed.

Mrs. Tso, a Mescalero Apache, is the first person from this area to complete the course.

The course, which she said she took "in order to be of greater service to the Mescalero Apache people," is designed for training food service personnel in Indian health service to develop expertise in the quantity production of high quality foods.

DAR citizenship honors planned

Citizenship awards for area high school students will be presented by Sierra Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at their 6 p.m. February 20 meeting at K-Bob's.

Presenting the awards will be Marge Bodwell, state regent, Alamogordo.

The organization met January 16 at Ruidoso State Bank to discuss the February meeting.

The program "Where Is Our Defense" was presented by Pat Delhotal and hostess was Dorothy Farnell.

Cagers to tangle with Hatch in district opener Saturday

The Ruidoso boys' basketball team resumes play Friday at Warrior Gym with Jal, but it is Saturday's district opener against the Hatch Bears that concerns Warrior coach Barry Nelson.

The Jal contest begins at 5:30 p.m. with a junior varsity game to precede the varsity clash. The Hatch game is set for 7:30 p.m. also at Warrior Gym.

The Hatch game will mark the third time this season the teams have met. Hatch has won both previous contests. The Warriors are undaunted by that fact, according to Nelson.

"The kids know we can beat them," he said. "I think we can beat them. They weren't as tough as we thought they were. We've just got to make some improvements."

One reason for Nelson's optimism is that in their first meeting with Hatch—the Bears won 101-71. In last Saturday's match, Hatch defeated Ruidoso 72-59. The Warriors, using that game as a measuring stick, are getting better.

"I think we've got a better ball club," Nelson said. "We've got a little ways to go. But Hatch is about as good as they're going to get. If we keep improving, we'll get them sooner or later."

Nelson hopes the Warriors get them sooner. A golden opportunity is Saturday. Not only will the Warriors have the revenge motive in their favor, but they will be meeting Hatch on their homecourt.

"That's the time to get them," Nelson said.

If the Warriors are to get Hatch, they will have to do two things better than when they last played. They will have to slow down Hatch's fast break. They will have to break Hatch's press defense.

"We have to slow their fast break down a little bit," Nelson said. "They hurt us some with their press. They got four quick baskets off of it."

Breaking the press shouldn't pose a big problem for Ruidoso. In the last meeting between the two teams, Ruidoso was forced to play much of the game without playmaking guard Tim Riley due to an illness.

"That hurt us," Nelson said. "They knew we didn't have anybody that could bring the ball downcourt."

With Riley in the game, Ruidoso should handle the press. That would also help slow the tempo of the game down to their speed. If the Warriors can do that, and control the boards as they did last week, they will be in good shape, Nelson figures.

IF THE WARRIORS EXPECT to slow down the Hatch Bears Saturday, they will have to slow down two of the Hatch players pictured here. Ed Ogaz (45) is shown here scoring two points against the Warriors during the Ruidoso Classic in December. Pepe Alvarado (right) is the man the Warriors need to stop. He scored a total of 34 points in the Hatch wins earlier this season.

That would force Hatch to run their patterned offense, something which they had little success with in the Dexter tourney.

"They couldn't penetrate our defense," Nelson said. "Really all they were doing was bringing the ball downcourt and shooting. If they hadn't been hitting, they wouldn't have won."

Nelson is expected to start Borde Williams, Tim Riley, Stan Cape, Rodney Thomason and Jeff Elliott in both games. Key reserves for the Warriors are Sean Mound, Elmo Silva, Joe Almagar and Gary Jones.

RUIDOSO JUNIOR RACER JIMMY RAUDENBUSH (above) placed first overall in the giant slalom Saturday at Flagstaff, Arizona. Raudenbush completed against 90 other skiers. He also finished first in his class. B. Other racers that placed were Don Nunley fourth in class C; Gracie Rose fourth in class F. In Sunday's slalom races, Gracie Rose placed second in her class; Lon Nunley was third in class C; Mark Mobley was third in class E and Nadine Waltzer was fourth in class D. Another group of junior racers were in action at Purgatory, Colorado. They were in the 11 and under boys: Bart Bowen and Kevin Behrens. In the girls 11 and under, Capple King placed third twice in the downhill; Junior racers competing in the 13 and under class were Brett Maul, Eric Strabel, Marty Rose, Stuart Slatton and Keith Pipkin.

Wrestlers to battle Roswell; meet Goddard JV Saturday

The Ruidoso wrestlers, coming off an impressive triumph over Cobre, tackle a tough Roswell squad today at Roswell. Saturday, the Warriors meet Goddard's junior varsity squad.

The Warriors met Roswell four weeks ago, losing 45-18. It was a match dominated by Roswell. Ruidoso was able to take only three matches from the bigger Roswell team. Dirk Strassberg, Wes Atkinson and Ray Herrera won their matches. The rest of the Warriors weren't as successful.

The Warriors will not start the same lineup against Roswell they did the last time the two teams met. Due in part to the defection of 132 pound wrestler Danny Fischer, Greg Lane dropped from the 135 pound class to 133 pounds. The change has benefitted Lane. In his last two starts, Lane has grabbed a third place finish in the Goddard tournament. Against Cobre, Lane won via a pin.

Filling in the spot vacated by Lane is newcomer Byron Wright. This is Wright's first year of wrestling. Although he has made the first year errors, he showed promise of things to come in the Cobre match. He won via a pin.

The Warriors have also dualed Goddard earlier this season. They defeated the Goddard varsity in their first dual match of the season. Warrior coach Gerald Ames, despite the earlier loss to Roswell, is confident about both matches.

"I think we can beat them," he said. Both matches are scheduled for 6 p.m.

Handicap ski program in full swing

"I did it because it was a challenge. It gave me a chance to do something for somebody else. It makes you feel good. I was afraid to do it at first. It's a neat feeling."

Those are the words Robin Bent uses to describe her participation in the handicap ski program. Bent is just one of many recreational skiers who donate their time during the week to teach handicapped children to ski.

The handicap ski program began in Ruidoso three years ago under the direction of Diane Grover. The program is strictly a non-profit organization. The instructors that work in the program are voluntary.

"The program started three years ago by a woman who wished to remain anonymous," Grover explained. "She had a lot of money that she wanted to donate to a program of this nature. She contacted me because I was the only one around with experience in this area. In the '60's, I put together a program for Viet Nam veterans."

Although the instructors are volunteers, they are also required to undergo a training program. They are allowed to pick the type of handicapped child with whom they want to work. Once the instructors have made that decision they must attend six days of clinics.

Many instructors, such as Bent, choose to work with the blind. Others may work with the mentally retarded, children with cerebral palsy and congenital birth defects and amputees. The only children the program will not take are ones who can't balance their weight.

"Only if they can't support their weight, we can't teach them how to ski," Grover said. "If they can (support weight), we can teach them how to ski."

Of course, teaching the kids to ski is the ostensible motive but the intangible results are just as important.

"What it does for a lot of these kids is give them a chance to be grateful for the first time in their lives," Grover said. "It gives them a sense of independence. When they learn, they often wind up better than most of their friends. They can be as good or better."

While many of the children can become good skiers in time, many need to use other devices than the ordinary skis and poles. One such device is an outrigger, which is "an aid in balancing." Instructors also tie the tips of the skis, front and back, together to further avoid complications.

Since the program survives on donations, it is conceivable that a lack of funding could arise. So far, Grover said, finding donors has been no problem.

"All the funding is from private donations," Grover said. "Townpeople always give a tremendous amount of support. Most of the instructors are recreational skiers who have volunteered their time. This program couldn't exist without the people of Ruidoso."

There are other potential problems. Grover thinks the toughest problem to deal with is overprotection of the children.

"I think the main problem we have to deal with is not being overly protective," she said. "We want to keep them safe enough so they're always within the range of safety. You have to be concerned that you're going to hurt them."

Another problem the instructors face is one of communication. Their students will follow their instructions to the letter.

"You have to be careful how you describe the maneuver because the kids will do it exactly like you told them to," Grover said.

One of the biggest problems in the program is the program can't handle as many students as would like to participate. As a result there are many kids that can't get involved in the program.

"We had two openings at one time and kids were screaming to fill them," Grover said.

And the kids that are in the program know not to relinquish their spots. And they'll go to the ends of the earth to preserve their places in the program.

"They have a tremendous time," she said. "They'd like to camp and stay. They don't want to leave at the end of the day."

Eleven desert sheep moved

A 150 acre paddock in the Hatchet Mountains is the new home for close to a dozen desert bighorn sheep moved there this past week by the Department of Game and Fish in a cooperative program with the Bureau of Land Management (BLM).

George Merrill, assistant chief of the Game and Fish Department's Game Management Division, said the department is hoping to maintain a herd in the Hatchets, where only about 20 head of the original wild sheep population survives.

"The paddock is a temporary structure," Merrill said, "and we'll remove portions of it in about six months, after the new herd has time to become accustomed to the area and, we hope, decides that's where it wants to stay."

Transplanted animals sometimes scatter, he explained, and move to areas other than where they're desired. Merrill said 11 sheep — six adult and two lamb ewes, and two lamb and one adult ram — were released into the paddock area. Another adult ram was released outside the paddock.

The paddock is on BLM land, and the BLM is helping with funding of the move and of a research follow-up.

"All the sheep came from the department's Red Rock Experimental Wildlife Station," Merrill said. "The transplant went very smoothly, with no injuries to the sheep or any of the people involved."

The department used a barrier net set across escape routes and herded the desert bighorns into it with a helicopter, the first time the technique has ever been used for desert sheep capture. It has also been used successfully in the capture of mule deer and may be used for elk studies as well, Merrill said.

Cagerettes face district opponent

The Ruidoso girls' basketball team resumes district play Saturday, entertaining the Hatch Bears at 5:30 p.m. For the Warriors it will be their third district match of the season. They currently are 1-1.

Castanon plans to start the same lineup he has used the past two games. He inserted Tracey Shafer into the lineup in lieu of Cathy Jones. Jones is now one of the Warriors' top substitutes. Shafer adds some quickness and outside shooting to the lineup.

The other four starters are expected to be Lisa Shaw and Kristi Perryman in the front court; Kelly Cochran and Lori Swain are the forwards. The Warriors are 6-10 on the season.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

We Enter "The Birthday Month"
This is being sent to you on January the thirtieth, and by the time this message reaches you it will be February the first. February is often called "The Birthday month on account of so many birthdays of beloved Americans falling in this month, notably Lincoln's birthday, February twelve, and Washington's, February twenty-two.

This message will reach you on the eve of that favorite day in pioneer American lore, Groundhog's Day, February second. The legend goes that if it is a sunny day on ground hogs day, the groundhog will see his shadow when he comes out of his winter den, and become frightened and go back into his winter home for six weeks more of winter.

Then on February the fourteenth we have the delightful celebration of Saint Valentine's Day, when we send messages of love and good will.

So you see, little February is a month dear to the heart of all of us.

February is also a special day for our family; for the birthdays of our brother Joe (Joseph Duffield Storm) and our Grandma Kennedy (Catherine Cannon Kennedy) both are in February. Joe's is on the twenty eighth, and Grandma's is on the twenty second. All through February the spirits of these two dear ones, and all our loved ones will be fondly close and near, cheering us with their blessed presence, The Wind Is Still And Clouds Roll By

Today, January thirty, after two days of snow and sleet blowing down the vale on the west wind, the clouds have all disappeared like magic leaving the sky a pure clean blue, and the wind has quieted down so that the winter world is still like a picture - all blue, white and olive green touched with shadows of purple, lavender and gold.

Just before mid day the temperature has risen to thirty after a night low of ten above. The light coating of snow on the mountain meadows has just begun to melt, and the sun turns the fields into bright carpets of the mountain land; sparkling and shining in diamonds, silver and gold.

Surely January is bringing us beautiful weather on this next to the last day to cheer us and give us a good send-off into the precious month of February.

Let us rejoice and make each other happy during the wonderful month of February, and thank Our Lord for all his great blessings.

School Scoop

A Weekly Activities Column
Written by Ruidoso High School Journalism Students

Basketball Homecoming will be Friday, February 10. Activities will be held beginning Monday and ending Friday with the Homecoming Dance as the final event. Students and graduates of RHS are looking forward to all the homecoming activities which will be based upon Valentine's Day and should be very special.

Recently Bruce Hancock's U.S. History classes held class debates. The classes were split into two different teams: the ecologists, who were concerned with the way the natural resources were being used, and the industrialists, who were concerned mainly with the running of their businesses. The debates were concerned with the time around the early 1820's until the late 1860's.

Last week, the RHS wrestlers beat Cobre 42-24. This week they travel to Roswell to take on Roswell High and on Saturday they meet Goddard High. The wrestlers work out everyday after school to get ready for their matches.

Friday, January 26, the RHS girls' basketball team met Animas in their first district game of the season. Animas came out on top 61-32. Kelly Cothran scored 16 with Kristi Perryman scoring nine. Saturday, the girls hosted Lordsburg for another district game. Ruidoso came out the winner with the score of 46-38. Kristi Perryman scored 23 and Kelly Cothran scored nine. This places Ruidoso with a 1-1 record for district and 6-11 record for the season. The next game is also a district game at Ruidoso against Hatch on February 3 at 5:30 p.m.

JV girls' basketball team had a game on Tuesday against Captain.

Our new student was enrolled in RHS this week, he is Marco Fabio Morbin, a foreign exchange student from Brazil.

The Warrior basketball team traveled to Dexter Thursday, January 25, to participate in the Dexter Tournament. The Warriors came back with second place honors Saturday night. Jeff Elliott and Stan Cape were the only Warriors to make the All-Tournament team.

The Warriors play the Jal panthers here Friday, February 2 and on Saturday, February 3, the Warriors play the Hatch bears.

Ruidoso C.B. Club Doings

BY THE ZOOKEEPER

The Ruidoso C.B. Club met Monday night, January 29, at the Chaparral Coffee Shop and, in spite of the cold nasty weather, we had a very good turnout of members.

Party plans are still underway for our Valentine Party. All C.B. Club members remember the date February 12 and put on your party clothes, get your best gal or fellow and let's party.

There was a lot of business discussed, none settled. Everyone was asked to think about issues through next week and they would be brought up again and decided on. Good luck to Shotgun, who will be getting out of the hospital, Tuesday, January 30. We have missed you at the meetings and hope to see you back again real soon.

Also get well greetings go to Oklahoma Annie who is back in the hospital. Get well soon.

The meeting next Monday will be at K-Bob's at 7:30 p.m. If you were at the meeting Monday, everyone was glad to see you, but if you were not able to come, we missed you.

Santa Fe—Legislative Talk: There was much that was easy to predict at the outset of the sixty-day session of the Legislature—such as the problems the House of Representatives would encounter in the fight over the Speaker's Chair and the obvious free-for-all over the introduction of Right-to-Work legislation.

But... it was the unexpected that rocked the lawmakers during the first two weeks of the session.

Over in the Upper House, the Committee on Committees decided to boost the membership of the powerful Senate Finance Committee from sixteen to twenty members—just two shy of exactly one-half the Senate membership.

Then, Rio Arriba County Senator Emilio Naranjo ran into legal difficulties and wrote a letter to the Senate leadership asking that his seat be held in "limbo" until his problems are cleared up. The leadership of both parties in the Senate agreed.

Over in the House, because of the defeat of Rep. Walter Martinez by Rep. Gene Samberson for the Speaker's Chair, Rep. Leo Waterman of San Juan-McKinley Counties decided to resign his seat.

In effect, that meant the first two weeks of the session went by with vacant seats in two Houses.

The real "shocker" came at the tail end of last week when this reporter broke the story that David King, Cabinet Secretary for the Department of Finance and Administration, might be out for a month because of an attack of hepatitis.

Not only was Young King carrying a tremendous load as DFA boss and "right arm" of the Governor, but he also was heading-up Governor Bruce King's Legislative Liaison team.

There's an ironic twist to this story. For years, this newsmen has chided the lawmakers for not taking better care of their health. We endorsed shorter hours and gave a round of applause to the decision this year to have a nutritionist speak to the legislators about their eating habits during the "strain of the session."

In fact, the House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Finance Committee both decided that except in "case of emergency" to try and not run committee meetings past seven o'clock in the evening.

So what happens? A member of the Administration gets knocked for a loop by hepatitis.

Leo Griego, who was serving as State Personnel Director, and having plenty of work to do in his own shop, was designated to take over Young David's DFA chores on a temporary basis.

Our prediction is that the lawmakers from both Houses will bend over backwards to cooperate with the Administration in what at best can be termed a "very trying situation."

Calendar Date: Unless someone makes a last minute switch in plans, look for the House Labor Committee to hold a hearing on the Right-to-Work Bill February 8th.

The committee chairman, Rep. James Caudell says all the time necessary will be afforded to give proponents and opponents of the measure an opportunity to express their views.

Another Calendar Date: The GOP has scheduled a fund-raiser for February 8th—a roast—with Congressman Manuel Lujan on the receiving end of the barbs.

Lujan showed up at the Merry Round House last week wearing cowboy boots. The Congressman said the boots were in honor of the new Governor, Bruce King.

Sidelight: Someone grabbed Congressman Lujan in the Capitol Rotunda and asked the purpose of his visit to Santa Fe. He replied that he wanted to see how the coalition was formed in the State House of Representatives between Demos and Republicans—and maybe see if it wouldn't work in Washington!

Arts Note: Marge Beatty, who handled public relations for Joe Skeen during the recent Gubernatorial campaign, tells us the Arts Task Force of the National Conference of State Legislatures will be meeting in Santa Fe February 9-11.

The task force is made up of one lawmaker from each state and is charged with finding the most efficient methods of supporting and advancing the arts in their respective states.

State Senator John Irick of the Big Duke City is New Mexico's representative on the task force.

Prediction: You can bet there will be a slew of bills introduced this session that will affect the State's gross receipts tax.

Our "birdies" say State Senator Alex Martinez, chairman of the Senate Corporations Committee, will name a subcommittee to study each measure introduced.

A member of that subcommittee will be designated to serve as a liaison with Governor Bruce King's office to come up

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

By your headlines seems as though you are against dogs.

These mountains have been free for humans and puppies up to now.

Only someone who has nothing to do but complain will put a dog on a chain.

Where are all these cars going so fast? (I wish, back to Texas).

My little "Boodle" is gone, because everyone is in such a hurry!

She was Black and so very tiny.

Why don't the police see to the speed laws? Why??

Clipped comment

STEVENSON'S DOUBTS

Sen. Adlai Stevenson has come away from his two-year stint as chairman of the Senate Ethics Committee with some thoughtful observations on the limitations inherent in any effort by Congress to police the conduct of its own members.

Stevenson admits to serious doubts about the effectiveness of self-policing. Such doubts are not without foundation.

To be sure, public opinion and the climate of post-Watergate morality have stirred in Congress a heightened awareness of the need to enforce some ethical standards. Capitol Hill is not blind to public opinion polls that reveal the staggering lack of confidence in Congress as an institution. But somehow, this sensitivity doesn't seem to translate into vigorous action against the minority in Congress whose conduct is an affront to even minimal ethical guidelines.

The three sitting House members judged by that body's Ethics Committee to be guilty of official misconduct in the Koreagate scandal escaped with mere reprimands, the mildest form of congressional discipline. The House Democratic caucus even refused to consider stripping two of the three of their leadership positions.

Indeed, Congress' perfunctory performance in investigating the shameful Koreagate affair is a major reason for the candidly expressed doubts of people like Stevenson.

The Illinois Democrat came close to identifying the root problem in self-policing when he offered this description of the pressures that confront those appointed to judge their colleagues: "It is very delicate. Make one mistake and you wipe out a career. Make another mistake and you injure the Senate."

Considering the club-like atmosphere, the old-boy network that permeates most legislative bodies, including the Congress, the temptation for those who must judge friends and associates is to err on the side of forgiveness. It is human nature.

Stevenson favors a continued role for ethics committees even while he recognized that their performance will be uneven at best. But he would vest real responsibility for investigating corruption in the office of a special prosecutor shielded from all political pressures, whether from Congress or the White House.

It's an intriguing suggestion and not one to be dismissed lightly.

With or without a special prosecutor or ethics committees, Stevenson places great faith in the salutary effects of strong campaign contribution and financial disclosure laws. We agree. The enactment of this legislation constitutes the most significant political reform of recent years.

In the end, of course, the public itself is the final arbiter of congressional ethics. And at the rate tarnished congressmen are returned to office these days, the public would do well to redirect some of the criticism it heaps on an imperfect Congress. —New Bulletin Belen

District Judge Tom Sandenaw quit his job because he says $35,000 a year just isn't enough, and what with the 7% pay-hike limit suggested by President Carter, he doesn't think he'd get a big enough raise to satisfy him, anyway.

Tom, why in the world did you put yourself and us voters to all the trouble last November? —kg

Wise home energy management can help balance your energy budget

No one wants to give up the convenience of electricity... the speed of automatic washing, drying and ironing clothes... entertainment and news brought into our homes by radio and TV... electric lighting... or the comfort of a centrally heated home. But energy costs money, and the more you use, the higher your utility bill. That's why it's so important today to use energy wisely. Wash and dry clothes only when you have a full load. Use cold water when possible, and don't over dry clothes. Turn off the TV or radio when not in use. Don't leave lights burning when you leave a room. And help stop heat loss from your home with insulation, caulking, weatherstripping, and storm windows. The convenience of electricity has really changed our lives. Enjoy it... But make the most of your energy dollars by practicing wise home energy management. For more tips on using energy more efficiently, call us.

A Safeway service in support of suggestions from the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

"What's in a Name?"

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs states: "Most large supermarket chains sell private label foods and household products. These private label or house brands are usually less expensive and equal in quality to national brands. In many cases supermarkets purchase their house brand goods from the same companies that manufacture nationally advertised brands."

Because of various cost savings, including lower promotional cost, house brands can be sold for less.

Safeway generally prices its own top-quality (S) Brands lower than national brands of comparable quality and you can always depend on their consistently high quality. Every (S) Brand is unconditionally guaranteed to please.

Each product in the entire (S) Brand line is identified with the red (S) and the words "FINEST SAFEWAY QUALITY." Rigid quality specifications must be met before the familiar (S) goes on the label. Customers acquainted with (S) Brands know the products are comparable to top national brands... but they cost less.

Get to know Safeway's family of (S) Brands, including: Town House, Bel-air, Lucerne, Edwards, Safeway, Mrs. Wright's, and many others. They're your staunch allies in the battle against inflation!
