Kentucky sidebender arouses wife's dander

'Twas an uneventful eastbound ride Sunday about 5 p.m., over Apache Summit for Roswellite Ruben Arizu until his tranquility was shattered by the following CB broadcast:

"They are in the process of kicking the front door in."

Now Arizu is a calm man, but that statement in a man's voice...a voice verging on hysteria...got Arizu's undivided attention.

A few minutes later Arizu spied Ruidoso Downs policeman Ralph Romero entering the village's police headquarters.

He quickly summoned Romero to his vehicle...asked the man on the CB channel to repeat his last statement.

Over the air waves, loud and clear...Romero said...the man...with his tone now frantic...repeated: "They are in the process of kicking the front door in."

"The reception was so clear," Romero said, "that I could hear the kicking...thump, thump, thump...just as clear as if it was someone kicking the front door of this office."

Romero directed Arizu to question the man.

"Where are you?"

"At the junction of Highway 55 and 289."

New Mexico has no such junction.

"Where's that?" Arizu asked.

In a voice voicing annoyance, came the answer:

"Carrollton..." "It was almost as if the man was letting us know he thought we were stupid," Romero said.

This time the man's voice clearly sounded anguished: "Kentucky."

Romero glanced at his watch. 5:20. He jumped from Arizu's car...ran into the police station...grabbed the telephone...asked the operator to call the Carrollton police.

"The call went through in a matter of seconds," Romero said. "I told the man answering the story. He said, 'That's a lonely spot. Someone may be holding up the gas station.'"

"There was a click," Romero said, "and the line was dead."

Romero and Arizu were still sitting in the police station... "We were talking about how that skip call over the CB had reached him at the top of Apache Summit," Romero said...and wondering how it was possible...when the phone rang.

"It was a Carrollton (Carrollton is just northeast of Louisville, Kentucky) policeman advising me:

"The service station operator had closed up for the day, but he hadn't gone home. And it was his wife at the door, attempting to get his attention by kicking on the door."

"Now if that isn't one for the book," Romero said. "From Carrollton, Kentucky to Apache Summit between Ruidoso and Mescalero...and from Ruidoso Downs to Carrollton...just to find out that a man's wife got her dander up because he hadn't come home for dinner.

"You sure can't beat that sideband for coverage.

"Only thing I didn't learn," Romero said, "was what that man's wife said to her husband. And, I'll bet it'd be mighty interesting.

"Oh, yes...the Carrollton police thanked us...and said that the man in the basement of his service station...happily playing with his CB sideband radio until his wife's attempts to kick the door in disrupted his afternoon...thanked us too."

Disaster aid office here

Federal disaster assistance efforts for both local governments and private individuals are in full swing following the presidential disaster declaration last week.

Officials of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA) and the New Mexico state planning office have set up an office in the Ruidoso Village Hall to advise local governments in preparing grant applications for federal recovery funds.

Chuck Northington of the FDAA regional office in Dallas, Texas said Tuesday he and Tom McCalmont of the state planning office will function as liaison officers among local officials, damage survey teams and the temporary FDAA office in Las Cruces. He added they expected to be in the area for three to five weeks.

They will also supervise the damage survey teams in preparation of the damage survey reports, which detail location and description of damage to public facilities, the scope of work necessary to alleviate the damage. If the work is to be performed by city forces, the reports will also include a breakdown of labor, material and equipment costs.

Private citizens should contact the Las Cruces office for advice and assistance at the toll-free number: 1-800-432-3453.

Two agencies are providing loan assistance to flood victims, the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the Farmers' Home Administration (FmHA).

The SBA loans are available to both businesses and individuals for repairs or replacement of furniture, automobiles and other personal possessions. Farmers and ranchers may also apply for these loans, for which the interest rate is 7 3/8 percent. Loans may be made for up to 30 years.

The SBA has also opened a temporary disaster office in Las Cruces at 118 South Main, Unit 4. The telephone number is 523-1906 and hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Monday through Saturday until further notice.

Closing date for SBA applications is March 30, 1979 for physical damage and October 24, 1979 for economic injury.

FmHA loans may be made to farmers and ranchers for agricultural-related losses. The interest rate for the loans is five percent, but the loans are made only to those who are unable to secure loans from commercial sources.

Applications based on physical losses will be taken until October 23, 1979 and until January 31, 1980 for production losses.

The Lincoln County FmHA office is located at 1007 Mechem Drive, telephone 257-7371.

Other benefits available from various federal agencies include housing assistance, tax rebates from the Internal Revenue Service, matching funds programs from the American Soil Conservation Service, disaster unemployment assistance, food stamps and some legal advice.

ASSISTING PUBLIC OFFICIALS in preparing area flood damage survey reports are Tom McCalmont, left, of the state planning office and Chuck Northington of the Dallas regional office of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration.

County board members selected

Lincoln County commissioners made appointments to two boards Monday in a routine meeting in Carrizozo.

Following consideration of recommendations submitted respectively by party chairmen Sherman Atwood, Republican, and Mary Rich, Democrat, the commissioners named Emadair Jones of Ruidoso chairman of the Registrar's Board. Appointed as members of the same board were Billy Stephenson of Carrizozo and Bill Elliott of Ruidoso. Alternates will be Aileen Lindamood of Carrizozo and Gary Mitchell of Ruidoso.

The commissioners, Ben Hall, Cotton McKnight and John Allen Hightower, also confirmed their own appointment and that of sheriff Ernest Sanchez to the Council of Governments, a regional planning body. Named alternates were Les Olson, Ramon Nunez, Ruth Armstrong and Don Stark.

Jack Johnson of the New Mexico State Police made a report to the commission in his capacity as a member of the Area Six Mental Health Board. Because Lincoln County has recently been granted $140,000 for increased mental health services, two counseling offices have been established.

The main office of the counseling center opened February 1 at the Four Seasons Mall in Ruidoso, Johnson said. Personnel from the center will be in Carrizozo "two or three times a week," at an office in the Zia Center (old hospital building.)

Johnson urged the commissioners to stop by and tour the new offices the next time they were in the Ruidoso area.

In other business, the commissioners:

—Approved a resolution designating county manager Les Olson as the county's representative to work with federal and state disaster officials on the application for federal disaster funding.

—Agreed to draft a letter to the Assistant Secretary of Land and Resources, voicing their support of the proposed Sierra Blanca Airport on Fort Stanton Mesa.

—Decided that Olson should meet with Ruidoso village manager Jim Hine and Civil Defense Director Ross Schwarz concerning a request for $12,000 for ambulance service in Ruidoso.

—Tabled consideration of a prior-year bill for $445 from Allen's Auto Parts.

—Made an inspection of the county jail facilities and sheriff's office.

Capitan voters OK school bond

Capitan voters approved both a bond issue for $800,000 and a tax levy in Tuesday's election in that community. Vote on the bond was 195-125 and on the levy, 176-125.

Ralph Barber was elected to a six year term on the Capitan School Board, with 126 votes. A write-in campaign on behalf of Isidro Peralta gave him 111 votes.

Following those candidates were Curtis

High temperature Wednesday was 39 degrees and Thursday morning's low was 20 degrees.

For skiing condition reports, call Sierra Blanca Ski Area, 257-9001, and Ruidoso Ski Area, 336-4211.

Handicapped skiers fund drive opening Saturday

"Have a Heart for the Handicapped" week will officially kickoff Saturday to raise funds for the Sierra Blanca Handicapped Skiers Association.

Volunteers wearing heart-design T-shirts will canvass the town Saturday for donations and will have tickets for the season's pass to Sierra Blanca Ski Area and Ruidoso Ski Area plus a year's membership to Sierra Swim and Racquet Club and the Inn of the Mountain Gods Racquet Club for sale.

Tickets also are available at Cousins, Sierra Swim and Racquet Club, the Winners Circle, Incredible, Kings, The Texas Club, Win, Place and Show, Ray Held's Ski Shop, Morgan's Mountain Sports, Sierra Blanca Ski Shop, Nottingham's Dell, Sonny's Barbeque, Sunrise Natural Foods, Rush Ski Rentals and Mountain Ski Shop.

Other activities during "Have a Heart for the Handicapped" week include: Tuesday, a pre-race party at 7:30 p.m., at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club for review of the race competitors.

Prominent Ruidosians will team up with handicapped skiers for an Am-Cap race.

Tuesday, a western dance at 7:30 p.m., at the Winners Circle with Clay Mac and Lynn Martin Music Company playing.

During the dance, a formal dinner party will be given away and a doorprize to Mexico will be presented.

Wednesday, teams will race down "Easy Street" at Sierra Blanca Ski Area for the Am-Cap race.

Animal control committee considers humane society

Methods of achieving the goals of community education and involvement were the major subjects of discussion at a Wednesday meeting of the Ruidoso area animal control committee.

In that regard, members of the committee hope to form or re-establish a local humane society, an action they feel would be "an important addition" to further their cause through publicizing of responsibilities and legal aspects of pet ownership.

The committee plans to correspond with several nationwide humane societies to obtain organizational information and to decide which society would be most beneficial for this area. Such a society would also be helpful to animal control officer Mike Hernandez Jr., in making educational presentations and perhaps in cases of inhumane treatment of animals.

Another major goal of the committee, established at the meeting, was an effort to have Hernandez's official status with the village of Ruidoso changed to allow him to readily issue citations to those who violate the animal control ordinance.

Under present regulations the officer must, after discovering a violation, go before the municipal judge to obtain a summons, serve the violator with the document, and appear in court at a later date.

Committee members plan to meet with

Ruidoso village officials to see whether that situation could be resolved.

Hernandez and Lynn Willard, D.V.M., reported on the success of the rabies immunization clinic held last Saturday, with more than 200 animals vaccinated. In addition, 60 licenses were sold in Ruidoso Downs and 100 in Ruidoso. Response was so favorable that the supply of license tags for Ruidoso proved insufficient. However, the officer reported that additional tags have now been received.

By law, all dogs must be licensed by the village, and tags are available from Hernandez at fees of three dollars for

Sunland purses increased

Purses at Sunland Park will be going up this weekend — and general manager Woody Erwin feels the chances are good similar increases can be put into effect later in the season.

"Our purse reserves has stabilized, and is now in excellent shape," Erwin said. "If current business trends hold up, we would expect to announce further purse increases in the near future."

Starting this weekend, the minimum purse is being hiked $100 up to $1,400. Races for New Mexico-breds have been offering a minimum of $1,400, so these races will be boosted to $1,500. This hike, Erwin said, will remain in effect "indefinitely."

The fattening of the purse schedule is a reflection of the booming mutual trend at Sunland & a trend which averaged $300,335 last weekend, and $303,866 per day for the past five race days.

Over the weekend, the Saturday handle checked in at $355,540, the fourth best in Sunland history, and Sunday's handle of $373,172 was the second-best ever recorded at Sunland. The strong mutual showing last weekend, according to Erwin, was the result of "the fast track, the good weather, the horse sale we staged on Saturday night, and the rodeo now going on in El Paso."

He said the new purse increase, coupled with the fact each Sunland program (including Fridays) now consists of 12 races, is "putting about $60,000 a week into the stable area — and that helps everyone."

Erwin added that he doesn't see the recent blooming mutual trend as a one-time thing. "With the coming of much better weather, we're hopeful the strong business trend will improve even further," he said.

residents of Ruidoso Downs and four dollars for Ruidoso residents. Certification of rabies vaccination must be presented to obtain the city licenses.

The committee also touched on Hernandez's visibility in the community as a factor in making the public aware of their responsibilities. The officer plans to look into the possibility of a decal or other type of lettering to identify his truck as the animal control vehicle.

The committee also discussed other sources of information in the form of films and printed literature, which they might make available to the public in the future.

A general request for volunteer help with the establishment of the humane society and other animal concerns was also made. Anyone who wishes to donate either information or time may contact committee members at 378-4279 or 378-4047.

Alto water plant 'on line'

Final inspection of the new water treatment plant at Alto has been completed, and was scheduled to go "on line" today. Operation of the plant will be turned over to the village by Boyle Engineering at that time.

Part of a $5 million water bond passed some years ago, the plant will increase water quality as well as the amount of water treated.

Capable of processing a maximum of five million gallons per day, the new facility is currently treating about two to three million gallons according to Frank Potter, village administrative assistant. The figure represents a 100 percent increase, since each of the two other treatment plants handle about one million gallons per day.

The plant is fully automated, and advanced filtration processes remove 99.9 percent of the impurities, water department employee Peggy Hazel said Wednesday. The water is first treated electrically, which causes foreign materials to "flock" or group so that they may be filtered out. The system also includes two settling basins and two tube settlers, which slow the velocity of the water, allowing heavier particles to fall to the bottom of the devices.

The water is then pushed over weirs into an advanced sand filter composed of three different grades of sand and gravel, before being finally chlorinated and sent into the storage system.

Potter said the plant will serve almost all sections of the village with the exception of the Upper Canyon. He and Hazel concurred in their description of the facility as "super" and "beautiful."

Hazel added that the facility is a "good bargain" for the people of Ruidoso, that such a plant could not be built now for the money which had been expended for its construction.

The plant also has a unique telephone dialing system which will indicate mechanical or other problems within the plant. Should any difficulties arise, a call will be placed to water department workers. A recording will identify the caller as "water plant number three," and explain what problem has occurred.

Edwards wins reelection bid to school board

There was no opposition to incumbent Ruidoso Board of Education member W. R. "Stormy" Edwards, who was reelected Tuesday with 102 votes.

The board of education will meet at noon today to canvass the returns, issue a certificate of results, determine the number of votes cast, enter the results in the minutes and issue a certificate of election.

In other election results:

Hondo, position 1, Ramona McTigue, 71 votes; John A. Cooper, 106, and Roger Romero, 7.

Position 2, Alejandro Cano, 71, and Aristeo Lucero, 106.

Position 3, James L. Gipson, 77, and Raymond Montano, 107.

Carrizozo, Gail C. Stackpole, 229, and Robert Lee Curtiss, 163.

Capitan, Ralph Barber, 125, and write-in candidate Isidro Peralta, 111.

'Taste of Ruidoso' project postponed

The restaurant committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce agreed to postpone their "Taste of Ruidoso" project at their Monday meeting.

The food tasting festival had been tentatively scheduled for June, but was postponed to "sometime after Aspen-Cade."

"We'll take longer to organize and make it more professional," Melinda Hall, Nottingham's Deli, said.

The committee discussed checking into use of the sale barn at Ruidoso Downs Racetrack for the festival and agreed to hold it as a party, sending invitations.

To increase participation in the restaurant committee, the group agreed only members of the association may participate in the "Taste of Ruidoso" festival.

They agreed to welcome the participation of all Ruidoso restaurants in the committee and each member agreed to attempt to bring a new member to the 3 p.m. March 5 meeting.

Also during the meeting, the committee discussed applying for food for Aspen-Cade and heard a presentation from representatives of Fletcher Meat Company in Roswell.

The company offered to loan equipment for testing the fat content of hamburger to members of the restaurant committee. With the equipment, they will be able to determine if meat labeled as 80 percent lean beef and 20 percent fat is actually at other levels such as 65-35.

State law requires meat with over 30 percent fat be labeled as pet food.

Rio Ruidoso water users face contamination woes

Users of water coming from the Rio Ruidoso are reminded by the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) here that sewage continues to pour into the river.

The EID offices said that while sewer department personnel are continuing with repairs, that more breaks are being found weekly.

"So far," an EID spokesman said, "no illnesses have been reported as having resulted from water pollution."

When further temporary and permanent measures eliminate the flow of raw sewage into the Rio Ruidoso, the EID spokesman said, decontamination of wells can begin. Sewer line repairs are expected to take several months, during which time well decontamination would be ineffective.

Residents currently boiling or adding bleach to water to disinfect it, are advised by the EID to continue the practice.

Information on decontamination procedures is available from the local EID office, telephone number 287-4409.

'Welcome, Horsemen' fete tentative

The retail merchants' committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce discussed a "Welcome, Horsemen" promotion to coincide with Easter at their meeting Monday.

No firm plans were made, but discussion ranged from an Easter Bunny prize giveaway to a community Easter egg hunt for children.

In other business, the committee welcomed new member Jack Reed, E-Z TV, and discussed abandoning their hot check alert system because most bad checks are written by the "occasionally overdrawn local," and because a check fraud artist usually hits several businesses before his presence is known.

Ruidoso days set at ISHF

Ruidoso residents are invited to an Open House at the International Space Hall of Fame (ISHF) this weekend when the Space Hall celebrates Ruidoso Weekend, February 10 and 11, from 8-5 daily.

The weekend is one of a series of the Alamogordo space facility is hosting for statewide communities. Nolan B. Conner, ISHF executive director, said proof of city residence is "all that will be needed for residents of the Ruidoso area to visit the Space Hall."

P&Z meeting routine session

In a routine session, Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission took action on three items of business and tabled two other items.

In a unanimous vote, the commission approved the final plat of White Mountain Estates, Unit Four for White Mountain Development Company.

In other action, the commission:

— Tabled a request for approval of a preliminary plat of Camelot properties pending legal counsel.

— Tabled a request for approval of a final plat of the replat of Lot Six, Block Five, first addition to Cree Meadows Subdivision.

— Approved Jack Kannady's request for expansion of Lookout Estates.

The commission also discussed a letter from Cree Meadows' Bob Hlxson requesting a six month extension for the usage of a mobile home as the clubhouse. The letter said efforts to rebuild a clubhouse would begin immediately.

The commission contended that unless construction on the new clubhouse begins within 60 days, the mobile home will have to be removed.

Special meeting called for FIRE

A special meeting of the Committee For Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (FIRE) will be held at 4 p.m., February 15 in the library.

NMSU program here February 11

A team of New Mexico State University (NMSU) student ambassadors will be in Ruidoso February 11 to present a "Preview of NMSU" for area high school students and their parents.

The program, scheduled for 2 p.m., in the Multipurpose Room at the Ruidoso Public Library, Sudderth Drive, is designed to inform interested persons about the academic programs, degrees available, social activities and the NMSU environment.

NMSU admissions counselor Lydia Lujan said the preview will provide high school students with an opportunity to find out what "college" is all about: where they can live; where they can eat; what the career opportunities are; what it's really like.

Information will be available on admissions procedures, financial aids, housing, academic programs, student organizations, career preparation, placement services and other topics.

NMSU students presenting the Ruidoso program include Tami Harker of Albuquerque; Andy Rice of Hershey, Pennsylvania and Gerry Sanchez of Raton.

Special meeting of thespians set

A meeting to assess the feasibility of starting a Little Theatre group will be held at 7 p.m., Monday at the Elk's Lodge.

"It's strictly for the people of the community and if we get started, possibly it will grow in the years to come," spokesman Joan Griffith said.

Persons with directing experience are needed, as are interested persons "with or without talent."

"Anyone interested in just supporting the group is welcomed," she said.

If the group is organized, a production will be discussed.

Tickets for Helsinki necklaces to be available at the state convention were distributed.

Word was received from Elizabeth McClung, Fortales, that she would be here in the spring.

Cards were prepared to send Maurice Leonard, expressing concern in her husband's illness and to Dutch Cunningham, congratulating her on the arrival of a new granddaughter.

Following a luncheon served by the hostesses, an informative program on Hobbies and the American Heritage was presented by Lorena Ratcliff. Pacheco presented members with chilies made from red cloth.

Others attending the meeting included Louise Ferguson, Genevieve Dunca, Lynde Samuelson, Elsie Kimbrell, Hazel Arthurs, Nellie Jones, Bernice Morrison, Angelina Provine and Darla Lathan with Lorena Ratcliff and Cathy Norman as guests.

The next meeting will be March 10 at the home of Fronie Ramsey in Tularosa.

Saturday, February 3, the RHS girls' basketball team hosted the Hatch Bears in their third game of district play. Ruidoso won by the score of 41-30. Kristi Perryman and Cathy Jones led the scoring with 17 and eight, respectively.

Tomorrow, both Varsity girls' and boys' teams will travel to Hatch for district play. The 9th grade boys' basketball season ended Saturday in a very close game against Truth or Consequences. The Warriors lost 56 to 50, but the week before that they beat Lake Arthurs' J.V. 52 to 49.

The coach, Bruce Daniels, was sorry for the season to end. Even though the team had a 2-11 standing, they did very well considering they played mostly J.V. teams.

Homecoming activities began Monday with T-Shirt and Tie Day; Tuesday, Kiss and Hug Day; Wednesday, Hat Day;

Thursday, Scrounge Day; Friday, Blue and Gold Day (dress up).

The homecoming court will be crowned Saturday night between the Junior Varsity and Varsity games. Members of the court are as follows; Stan Cape, Jeff Elliott, Ray Herrera, Sean Mound, Dirk Strassburg, Debbie Jo Almager, Robin Burrows, Debbie Ford, Susan Miller and Patty Neal. The activities will wind up with a Student Council dance in the gym following the game. The "Disco" dance will be put on by Radio Station KBCQ with "Larry in the Morning."

Ruidoso C.B. Club Doings

BY THE ZOOKEEPER

The Ruidoso C. B. Club had its weekly meeting Monday at K-Bob's. Due to the weather attendance was small, but next Monday, February 12, is our Valentine Party. It will be at the American Legion Hall on Highway 37 from 7 p.m. til? So put on your party clothes and let's have fun.

We are serving chips and dips, anyone having a favorite dip, and feel inclined, bring it along the more the better. We are also going to have a Valentine Sweetheart.

There will be a juke box for dancing and the American Legion will have their bar open, so you all come. Contact members that don't see this column and let them know about the party. Let's make this a good good party.

If you were at the meeting Monday everyone was glad to see you, but if you were not able to be there, we missed you. See you soon.

Clothes storing hint

When storing your summer clothes, be sure they are clean first, then never use plastic bags — they may melt. Do not store cotton fabrics with starch in them — it's a favorite meal for silver fish and crickets, says New Mexico State University Extension People.

Lincoln Logs

By Ralph Dunlap
County Agent

Rabbit fever is an infectious disease occurring in wild rabbits as well as other wild rodents. Rabbit fever is also known as tularemia. People often become infected when they skin the rabbit and the tularemia infects the individual through a cut in the skin. The disease has not been known to occur in domestic rabbits. Wild rabbits should be cooked and never eaten raw. Cooking will kill the disease.

Bubonic plague can be contracted from the fleas on rabbits as well as other rodents. When fleas are found on a rabbit or other rodent, they should be killed using an insecticide such as Sevin Dust.

I just received some estimates of the population change in the counties of New Mexico. Lincoln County had a 35.8% increase in population from 1970 to 1977. Only Sandoval County with 37.5% exceeded Lincoln County. The population in Lincoln County has grown from 7,560 people in 1970 to 10,300 in 1977. If this growth rate continues, Lincoln County will have a population of 11,900 by 1980.

There is federal assistance available to repair irrigation ditches that were damaged by the flood occurring December 19-22, 1978 in Lincoln County. These are divided into ditches serving one or two users and those community ditches having three or more users.

If you need help with your ditch you need to fill out a notice of interest form to the Federal Disaster Assistance Authority. They have an office in Village Hall.

WHY YOUR PHONE KEEPS WORKING WHEN THE T.V., LIGHTS AND TOASTER DON'T.

In the event of a power outage, it's good to know there are a couple of things you can depend on.

Like a reliable flashlight with a fresh set of batteries. And your telephone.

Unlike regular electrical appliances, your telephone won't go dead during a black-out. That's because it's backed up by a secondary power system consisting of batteries and a standby generator.

But these batteries are unlike anything you'll find in a flashlight. Ours are large enough to fill a room.

The batteries are kept in constant charge by commercial power. Then if there is an outage they're switched on automatically until our standby generator has time to take over.

Naturally this system is more expensive than one relying solely on regular commercial power. But it helps make your phone system more dependable, particularly in the event of an emergency.

And we think it's important that you can depend on your telephone during the times when you depend upon it most.

Warriors, Hatch meet Friday in battle for district lead

The Ruidoso Warriors meet the Hatch Bears Friday in a game that could go a long way toward deciding the district championship.

Annual tourney produces mass of champions

The Sixth Annual Sierra Blanca Women's Bowling Association City Tournament, held Saturday and Sunday at Holiday Bowl, produced a score of winners.

The first place team championship went to Apache Music, which compiled a 1,953 total. Apache Music bowlers are: Joan Chase, Myrl Rose, Walterine Hughes and Betty Day.

That same team also won the first place team championship in the handicap division with an overall 2,242.

Hughes Body Shop was second with 2,416. Members of Hughes Body Shop are: Judy Watts, Marilyn Kennedy, Willie Beasley and Carol Simpson.

Third place went to the team of Brunell's. That team's members are: Coni Foster, Dee Von Rosenberg, Doris Langford and Anne Brunell.

First place in scratch doubles went to Arveta Hassell and Georgia George with 1,044 total pins.

The handicap winners in doubles were Ginger Wilson and Joella Crocker with 1,289 pins. Second place was won by Arveta Hassell and Georgia George with 1,278 total pins. Finishing in third place was the team of Carol Simpson and Marilyn Kennedy with 1,276 pins.

Georgia George won first in the scratch singles competition with a total of 606. Carol Simpson won the singles handicap title with 688 pins. Georgia George finished in second place in the handicap event with 684 pins. Nettie Hug finished third.

Georgia George won the scratch and handicap title for all events with 1,708 and 1,942 pins, respectively. Second place went to Carol Simpson with 1,902 pins in the handicap event with Coni Foster finishing third with 1,894 total pins.

Bowlers that produced scores of over 200 pins were also honored. They were: Judy Watts, Myrl Rose, Nettie Hug, Georgia George, Joan Chase and Anne Brunell.

Bowlers that produced scores of over 150 pins when their averages were less than 120 were also honored. They were: Carol Waller, Ola Rue, Carol Simpson, Stormy Kirby-Smith, Coni Foster, Joella Crocker, Donna Conaway and Irene Atwood.

the Bears 82-68, Hatch was considered the preseason choice to win district. They still have a good shot but they must dispose of the pesky Warriors first. Another loss to Ruidoso Saturday would severely damage Hatch's hopes at the district title.

That is what Ruidoso is hoping for. A win Saturday over Hatch at Hatch would put the Warriors in the driver's seat with an unblemished 2-0 loop slate. It will not be an easy task. Playing Hatch on their home court is something Ruidoso coach Barry Nelson likes to parachuting behind enemy lines.

"They have a tiny gym," he said. "They bring in the band and they play all night long. You can put 300 people in their gym and it sounds like 3,000."

Despite the home court advantage,

Nelson knows the game will be decided on the court. Ruidoso will have to do two things successfully if they are to win the game. They will have to break the Hatch press. And they will have to slow Hatch's fast break offense. Ruidoso was successful on both fronts Saturday at Warrior Gym.

Tim Riley, who was unable to play last weekend because of an illness, is expected to play this weekend, adding a little depth to the Warrior bench.

The Warriors return to the friendly confines of Warrior Gym Saturday for a non-district clash with Deming. It will be the second time this season the teams have met. Deming won the first contest over Ruidoso 95-72. The game will be preceded by a junior varsity clash at 5:30 p.m. Ruidoso is currently 7-11 on the year.

Wrestlers to face trio shorthanded

The Ruidoso Warriors' wrestling team takes to the road this weekend for three tough matches, one Friday and two scheduled for Saturday.

The Warriors meet Cobre, a team they crushed earlier this season. Saturday they take on Silver City and Deming. Warrior coach Gerald Ames will find out how far his troops have come in those two matches Saturday. He has spoken with awe of Deming all season.

One of the reasons for that awe is the number of wrestlers on the Deming team. They have enough wrestlers to form three teams. Ruidoso, on the other hand will be shorthanded when they attack this weekend.

Last week against Roswell and Goddard,

Ruidoso was forced to wrestle without four of their wrestlers. The results were devastating.

Against Roswell, Ruidoso forfeited in the 119, 147, 167 and 185 pound classes. That adds up to 24 points. Ruidoso lost the match by 27 points. Against Goddard, the Warriors forfeited in these same classes plus the 132 pound class. The result was a 33-17 loss.

The Warriors will be hard pressed to win their matches this weekend with all the vacancies on the team. A four man nucleus will have to carry Ruidoso. Dirk Strassburg, Wes Atkinson, Ray Herrera and Greg Lane have been pulling the Warriors lately. In fact, in the match against Roswell, all four of them won their matches. With the exception of Lane, who was unavailable because of a family illness, all three of them won their matches at Goddard.

If the Warriors are to win this weekend, Ames will have to have superlative performances from Byron Wright, Marlin Randall, Godfrey Enjady and Ronald Bell. All are getting better, according to Ames, but whether they will be good enough this weekend remains to be seen.

White Mountain downed in finale 64-17 Tuesday

The White Mountain Middle School Braves' eighth grade boys ended their season on a sour note Tuesday, falling to Holloman 64-17 at Braves' Gym.

Holloman led the Braves 28-12 at half. Holloman repeatedly scored uncontested layups off White Mountain's turnovers. Harvey Harris and Sammy Aragon paced the larger Holloman team with 14 points each. Also scoring in double figures for Holloman was David House, who finished with 10.

White Mountain was paced in the scoring column by Billy Woodul with eight. Dion Salas tallied six points in a losing cause.

Filly draws $14,000 price

Lead Pipe Cinch, a chestnut filly by the stakes winning Fleet Allied, drew the top price of $14,000 in the Sunland Park Sale of Thoroughbreds and Quarter Horses.

Cagerettes set for Hatch Bears

The Ruidoso cagerettes meet the Hatch Bears Friday at Hatch in a crucial game for the Warriors.

Ruidoso is currently 2-1 in district play. They need a win over Hatch, a team they've beaten twice this season, to maintain pace with front-running Animas.

Warrior coach Sergio Castanon said he expects the Bears to throw a man to man defense at his team to slow down the Warriors' offense, which burned Hatch for 21 second period points in the two teams' last meeting.

Tipoff for the contest is scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

The sale, limited to two-year-olds in training and other horses of racing age, was staged over the weekend.

The winning bid on Lead Pipe Cinch was submitted by Frazier Clark of Comanche, Texas. The filly was consigned by J.L. Beddo and Dr. Joe Miller of Anthony.

The second high price of $12,500 was paid for Want & Wish, a bay colt by Staunch Avenger (a winner of nearly $300,000). Want & Wish was taken by Sam Elliott of Amarillo, Texas.

Racquetball exhibition set Saturday at club

Two of Texas' best racquetball players will be in Ruidoso Saturday for an exhibition at the Sierra Swim and Racquet Club.

Dave Peck, number one ranked in Texas in addition to his number 21 world ranking, will meet Texas' number five ranked player, Joe Wittenbrink, in a best of three match at the club at 8 p.m. The match is free to the public.

In the last six months Peck has amassed some impressive credentials to bring to the exhibition. He was recently crowned champion of the Southwest Regionals in Phoenix, Arizona. He was a finalist in the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, Nevada. He is on the International Racquetball Association doubles championship team. Also, he is one of only three persons on the Wilson Advisory Staff.

Wittenbrink has some impressive credentials of his own. Besides being the fifth best in Texas, he is El Paso's city champion. He is on the Ektalon Advisory staff.

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

By Karen Halloran

JOCKEY BETTY HARLESS ended up in the hospital following a rough spill in Friday's 10th race feature. The pert blonde was aboard Little Melvin, who had taken an early lead in the six furlong race. The horse went down suddenly, catapulting Betty to the ground. After undergoing tests at Providence Memorial Hospital, she was found to have a slightly sprained back which shouldn't keep her out of action for long. Little Melvin had to be destroyed.

SUNLAND'S MUTUEL MACHINERY got a big workout over the weekend, as Saturday's handle checked in at $355,940 — fourth best in track history. Sunday, the handle zoomed up to $373,048, and that was the second highest ever recorded at Sunland. The daily average is now up to $230,172, and that's a gain of 6.1 over the same period last year, when the average stood at $216,295. Fans are currently betting $20.813 per race (from 188 races), as compared to $19,783 (184 races) at the same juncture last year.

MOON LARK, the 1978 All-American Futurity winner and victor in the Sunland Fall Quarter Horse Futurity, suffered the second defeat of his career at Los Alamitos over the weekend. The son of Top Moon competed in the $165,000 El Primero del Ano Derby and finished second to California stakes winner Kiptys Charger. Kiptys Charger previously won the Pomona Futurity and the Juvenile Invitational in California.

JOCKEY JOHN CUSHING swept back into action over the weekend with plenty of flair. Cushing, who hadn't ridden since suffering a broken collarbone last November, went into Friday's first race and triumphed astride Death Bih in a wire-to-wire effort. He again hit the winner's circle Saturday with Queen's Flyer in the 5 1/2 furlong ninth race, then returned Sunday to pick up a second with Fortuno, a first time starter, and a victory on I Can Hackett.

EDNA DUDICH, wife of well-known Ruidoso Downs track announcer Bob Dudich, was released from Providence

Memorial Hospital early this week following a serious knee operation. Edna came out of the surgery satisfactorily but faces a long period of recuperation.

BROKE EVEN 76 finished fifth in a brisk 870 yard test Saturday, but that didn't discourage the four-year old mare. She was back in action in a similar 870 yard bout in Sunday's fifth race, immediately took the lead and scored a 3 1/2 length victory. She's owned by Bob and Rita Coons of Ponca City, Oklahoma.

JOCKEY JAIME MAXWELL was back on the scene for the first time this season. The young rider, who made a big splash at the Upper Valley oval last spring, was injured during the summer at Santa Fe Downs. But his return to Sunland proved he still has plenty of talent. Maxwell steered Alzeenero to his initial win Sunday and took a second on Count Sol in Friday's 11th race.

A PAIR OF DEAD HEATS turned up during Friday's racing and both involved numbers five and ten. In the seventh race, High Flying Crow (No. 5) and Fleet Leader (No. 10) tied for the victory and returned $3.50 and $4.20 respectively. Then in the ninth race, Paso Richard (No. 5) and Blameless Girl (No. 10) were inseparable for the place finish. The knockout in the group was Paso Richard who returned place money of $30. Blameless Girl's place payoff was $8.20.

JOCKEY MARIE IRIGARARY proved a tough customer to beat Saturday. She toured the winner's circle three times, a feat rarely accomplished by a lady jockey at Sunland. The victories came aboard Assigned Rocket ($5), Sweet Viking ($7.20) and Sovereignall ($18.60).

THE SECOND OUTING for two-year-old quarter horses went as Friday's third race and trainer J. B. Montgomery again sent out the winner. Rocket Jet Bug went off as the even odds favorite with Larry Byers up and hit the wire with a two length gap. The time for the 390 yard powerburst was a rapid 17.06 seconds. Bells Z Bug, another Montgomery charge, pegged the first juvenile outing last week.

NOTABLY ABSENT from the jockey roster Sunday was leading Carlos Rivas. Rivas took off all mounts Sunday to head up to Hot Springs, Arkansas for the Oaklawn Park meet. Other local riders also on their way to Hot Springs are Kenneth Jones, Bobby Don Harmon and Gilbert Villescas.

GENERAL OF THE ARMY Omar N. Bradley — the nation's only living five-star general — was at Sunland Park Sunday. General Bradley is a long time turf enthusiast.

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS: Jockey Marcial Campos was fined $50 for failing to control his mount, Tiny Dounce, during the 11th race January 27.

SEVEN WINNERS came out of the No. 5 post over the weekend, making that one the best during the three day period. Here's the bottom line, from a seasonal standpoint: No. 1 — 55 wins, No. 2 — 54, No. 3 — 52, No. 4 — 54, No. 5 — 53, No. 6 — 45, No. 7 — 68, No. 8 — 65, No. 9 — 46, No. 10 — 38, No. 11-0, No. 12-1.

Southwestern music archive at UNM

From Native American Indian ceremonial songs and Hispanic folk tunes to traditional cowboy ballads, music indigenous to the Southwest is being preserved for posterity by the Archive of Southwestern Music at the University of New Mexico.

James B. Wright, assistant professor of library science and head of the Fine Arts Library where the archive is housed, said the function of the archive is to preserve as much of New Mexico's musical culture as possible.

Music from all over the Southwest is contained in the collection, but mainly New Mexico music is represented.

"The natural inclination of archivists is to collect old works because they will disappear the quickest," Wright said. "We try to record those performances that are most likely to disappear in a few years."

"Particularly in music, and especially this type of indigenous music, the actual performance is the only record there is," he said. "With no written score, with a tradition of only passing stories down by word of mouth, any performance not recorded is lost."

The archive contains more than 600 hours of personally recorded tapes by various collectors and 260 obscure commercial recordings of Southwestern music, creating a total of more than 1000 hours of listening time and more than 10,000 songs.

Also contained in the collection are tapes of the Southwest Poet's Conference, eight reels of 8mm film of Pueblo dances and video tapes of such performances as Belen's "Los Pastores."

Since the archive was started in 1964, it has been the source of inquiries from such broadcasting companies as BBC and CBS. Both asked for examples of traditional music for 1978 Christmas specials.

When it first opened, the archive provided the only recording facilities of its kind in the Southwest, and UNM found itself recording for institutions as far away as southern California.

Charlemaud Curtis, associate director of the archive, is currently categorizing unfamiliar acquisitions of the collection as well as recent contributions.

"There is a considerable amount of non-musical information on the tapes," she said, "incorporating a tremendous amount of history. "When you record, you first try to get the artist to explain the historical context of the songs that he will sing."

In a few cases, the archive has on tape the voices of some very old persons, such as the Navajo man who related stories of the Navajo creation and the "long walk," and the 105-year-old Mexican man who told of coming to this country as a young boy.

In one incident, Wright destroyed a tape of an Indian ceremony when it was discovered he had received permission to record from the wrong person.

"That particular ceremony had to be previously memorized and performed straight through without error. It was a healing ceremony," Curtis said.

"When the head medicine man noticed I was recording, he changed parts of the ceremony as he was performing it, so I destroyed the tapes," Wright said.

Nearly all recordings are available for listening, but there are restrictions on some tapes, Wright said. Some of the recordings cannot be transcribed or copied, and none may leave the archive.

One collection of music from northern New Mexico cannot be listened to until 1999 at the request of the donor.

"In archival work, you keep information categorized by the name of the collector," Wright said.

The archive's first collection was donated by John D. Robb, former dean of the College of Fine Arts. His collection contains Hispanic and Native American music, as well as some of the best anglo cowboy songs in the archive.

"Quite a few commercial recordings have been made from the Robb collection," Wright said.

Since then, other contributors have provided music from all over the Southwest to be preserved in the archive.

"We always want to know about events happening around the state which would provide opportunities to record," Wright said. "We would appreciate hearing from persons who have material or information that might be relevant to our operation."

Wright said people who have easy access to an event can arrange to record for the archive.

"Our problem is not in finding what to record, but to find enough time to record everything that needs recording."

The Silver Lining

February Snow

This is being sent to you on February six. It is a little after high noon and the world is decorated with a sparkling February snow which fell the night of the fourth. It is a sunny day with a sky of February blue, and yet the snow is staying on the ground when I had thought it would be mostly melted off.

February snows do not last hardly more than half a day in a normal year. The sun is high enough in the sky for the rays to have strength enough to melt off a six or eight inch snow here in the vale. Yet today, even on the sunny side of the valley the snow is still clinging to the hillsides in places as if it hated to leave.

Surely then this is an unusual snow and a very strange winter. The snowy blanket on Mother Earth is only two inches thick and you would think the warm sun would have melted it by mid-morning. The temperature is forty in the shade. Surely this snow must be colder than usual, because it rode in on a north wind blowing straight off the Colorado Rocky Mountains, and carrying cold air from even farther north.

During the little month of February, winter and spring take turns with the weather. This year it seems winter has taken a notion that it likes the country here and is going to stay as long as it can. We know that the snow is a great blessing, and yet I wonder why this snow is staying with us so long. Maybe the ground underneath is frozen deep from the abundant moisture and the cold weather. Or maybe there is just cold air over a wide area of our country this year.

We hear that there was heavy snow out in the California desert where snow is practically unknown. To see date palms covered with snow is something seen only once in a long time. Has the weather become confused and lost its way this year? I will have to ask Jack Frost and maybe he can explain things next time or so.

A Visit By A Host Of Robins

Yesterday, February five, during a lull in the snow, a band of robins flew in from the direction of the mountain, stayed a while on the REA wires and sang happily, and then flew on down toward the Pecos valley. These robins were unusually large and their orange red breasts shined brightly, and they seemed in perfect health and high spirits.

Then, this morning, Mrs. George Westall called me and said that hundreds of robins had flown in around their home in Ruidoso Downs on the fifth, and were still there this morning (February 6). Mrs. Westall said the robins were large and their red breasts shined beautifully in the sun, and that the birds were large and in grand health and spirits. She said that in the fifteen years they had lived here she had never seen such great hosts of Robin Red Breasts, one of the favorite birds of America. Mrs. Westall said the apple trees around their house and all the feeders were full of these beautiful and sweet-voiced birds.

For so many birds to visit a home is a good omen, a sure sign of good fortune. Surely the robins know that the Westalls are good neighbors and very good folks. I hope to hear more about the robins.

What are they doing here this time of year? Surely they were turned off their course by the unusual snow in the warm regions. Well, we will have to hear what Jack Frost has to say.

Just ahead of us we have Lincoln's birthday on the twelfth, and St. Valentine's day on the fourteenth. Lincoln's birthday is celebrated all over the world, and our own country is named after this great and beloved American. Our state came very close to being named after "Honest Abe."

Valentine's day is special all over the world — the time to remember friends and loved ones with valentine greeting cards and flowers and other gifts. Memories return of the home made valentines we made in childhood. Some of them are still here at home with me, cheering my heart and bringing the spirits of my loved ones fondly close to me.

This message will reach you on the sixty-ninth anniversary of the founding of that great organization, the Boy Scouts of America.

Let us rejoice during the great little month of February and thank God for our blessings.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne—I recently acquired a 15 foot aluminum boat of unknown vintage and probably third or fourth hand.

I'd like to know how much weight the boat will safely carry, but the nameplate with this information has long since been torn away. In fact, I can't even determine who the manufacturer was. Is there any way to arrive at its safe load limit? Doug F., Ohio

Dear Doug—First, convert the length and the maximum width to feet. For example, a boat with a length of 15 feet, 3 inches and a width of 40 inches converts to 15.25 feet by 3.33 feet. Multiply the length by width, then multiply this product by 13.3. The computation for the above example is 15.25 x 3.33 equals 50.8 x 13.3 equals 676 pounds.

This figure represents the total capacity, and not the people weight, so be certain to consider the motor and all gear in this total. This formula applies to all configurations of small craft.

Dear Wayne — On a few occasions I've seen crows diving at owls or hawks while they are in flight. I gather from this that crows aren't compatible with either of these birds, but I can't figure why. Is it that they represent competition for food? Jack S., Minnesota

Dear Jack — It's not that they compete for food, but rather that the owls and hawks relish young crows as food and will steal one from the nest when half an opportunity exists.

The aerial harassment you describe are usually attempts by the crows to drive these predators away from their nesting area, either because they pose a threat or have already made a raid.

Adult crows themselves would be choice catches, but they're usually able to maneuver and outsmart either of the taloned hunters.

Energy Saving Techniques

A series of articles by the New Mexico Energy Conservation and Management Division of the Energy Extension Service

"TIPS FOR THE LIVESTOCK PRODUCER"

Producing livestock can be very expensive and energy consuming. If you are planning to buy a new tractor or truck, consider a diesel unit. A diesel unit can reduce fuel usage by twenty-five percent more. Also, consider radial tires if you are thinking about purchasing a new car or truck. They provide fifteen to twenty percent better fuel economy. Tractors with all gear power transmissions are twenty-five percent more efficient on fuel than hydraulic drives — even when the engine speed is reduced.

Proper equipment maintenance is an important energy saving factor. Be sure the thermostat is functioning properly so the engine warms up quickly. Full consumption also increases by approximately twenty-five percent when the engine is operating at 100 degrees Fahrenheit instead of 180°F.

Using a larger tractor than necessary for a job wastes fuel. It takes more horsepower and more fuel for the larger tractor to move its own weight over a field. Every farmer and rancher should be familiar with the efficiency of diesel versus gasoline tractor fuels. Given the horsepower and running time, a diesel tractor will use seven tenths as many gallons of fuel as a gasoline tractor. Not only are there differences in fuel requirements for a given power output, but also in the cost and relative availability of the different kinds of fuels. All advantages point toward the diesel powered tractors.

Processing grain is a basic livestock production. Grinders and mixers should be kept lubricated and the bearings checked for wear. Dry and worn bearings will cause operating inefficiencies and burn more energy.

Electric motors require little maintenance, but a few things should be done once a year. Clean your motor to insure proper cooling. Use very fine sand paper to clean starting switch contacts or brushes. Check to be sure the motor shaft runs freely because tight or misaligned bearings will cause the motor to overheat and waste energy. And, check belt pulleys to be sure that they are secure on their shafts.

For more information, call the Energy Hotline toll-free number 1-800-432-8782.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — The day could have marked the end of an era. As the announcement was made to the assembled press in the impressive chambers of the State Senate by two sad-eyed friends, it felt that way: the last old-time boss of New Mexico politics seemed to have fallen from grace and power after a felony perjury conviction.

But things are not always what they seem. Even as he went down to defeat, resigning from the Senate because "I must not stand in the way of effective representation in the New Mexico Senate for my many warm and personal friends, neighbors and constituents," Emilio Naranjo still showed his muscle: the man whose appointment he had arranged as his replacement is his son-in-law.

The announcement, made to us by Senate majority leader C.B. Trujillo of Taos and Senator Ted Montoya of Sandoval, Bernalillo and Rio Arriba counties, was exact and precise. We were even told that Naranjo's resignation had been delivered at exactly 3:13 p.m., and that the Rio Arriba county commission had convened to select a successor at exactly 4 p.m. All neat and clean, and in exact compliance with the law.

But a charade, nevertheless.

Emilio, still predicting his eventual exoneration, a prediction in which both Trujillo and Montoya joined, was still in power — indirectly now, rather than directly, but in power all the same.

If this is the meaning of the ruling by Judge Ray Hughes that he must release his hold on Rio Arriba politics, there is little meaning to those words.

Oh, yes. The name of the new Senator from Rio Arriba? Abedon Lopez Jr., if it makes any difference. Obviously the belief is that he will only be keeping the seat warm till his father-in-law returns to frank and open power.

Other things which kept the capital city buzzing last week were bills, bribes and ballots.

BILLS: This year's legislative session will probably set a new record for number of bills introduced. Never before have there been so many introductions of what is essentially the same bill — sometimes as many as seven, all but identical. Maybe Senator Ray Sitta has a great idea. He would limit each member to a maximum of six bills in any regular session. If each member could put in only six, the thinking goes, they'd choose more carefully.

BIBES: It seemed to take David King seven years to remember he had had a bribe offer from Tucson Gas and Electric, and only about eight hours to change his mind. Once reporters started asking why he hadn't reported such an offer, the story changed. It had been very subtle, there wasn't any real proof, and, come to think of it, he wasn't sure it really happened. What did they think — a briber walks in with a sack of money and hands it over to the bribee?

BALLOTS: A strange impotence on this important topic. The FBI says categorically of voting machines in Bernalillo county that they were "intentionally misprogrammed" — that is, bugged up — but no action is to follow. A Catron county grand jury says absentee ballots were clearly abused, but there will be no indictments. Was 1978 open season for ballot-tamperers? If so, what can we expect in 1980?

It's time for some creative thinking about the U.S. energy shortage. Not about exotic solutions far in the future, but those that could remedy the problem that is with us today.

The solution to the current energy problem of the United States is right next door. Our neighbors to the south have stumbled across stores of hydrocarbons that would make the sheiks themselves green with envy.

Mexico has found hundreds of times more gas and oil than it needs. It is not a member of the OPEC nations. It is next door to us. All we have to do is come to terms, build a few pipelines, and get it on. It is ridiculous for us not to grab this opportunity at once.

Mexican natural resources are owned by the government, and the government has decided that it will not sell its oil and gas except at "World Prices," which is to say, at the prices set by the international OPEC cartel.

That is hard news, but there are ways around it. The most obvious is to go for an exchange of goods and services instead of dealing in currencies. It's the old trick of trading two $500 cats for a $1,000 dog.

Mexico is short of dozens of commodities and a long list of manufactured products that the United States could supply in return for oil and gas. Even more important, the land of manana is very short on technological know-how. Since Mexico is pushing industrial development as hard as possible, there are many opportunities for a nation such as the United States to supply the smarts for needed projects.

Why aren't we doing these things? Why aren't we pursuing the obvious?

It's because there is a shortage of creativity and vision — brains, if you please — in the United States Department of Energy and the halls of Congress where such initiatives should be taking place.

New Mexico could well play a role in this opportunity. Perhaps we should rise to the occasion and supply the initiative ourselves, since no one else seems to be doing it.

New Mexico, having been colonized by the Spanish, sharing a common border with Mexico, and being the permanent home of many U.S. citizens who are late immigrants of Mexico, has a natural affinity for the neighboring nation which could be exploited.

New Mexico could well supply some individuals who would be natural leaders in U.S.-Mexican negotiations on such a subject. Jerry Apodaca and Fabian Chavez are two who come quickly to mind. Both have suffered recent dislocations in the public job market. Either or both might be available for such an assignment.

New Mexico, being a producing state, has people who are familiar with the problems of the oil and gas industry. We have a good pool of knowledgeable people who can speak the language of the business. These people, at the invitation of our Department of Energy and Minerals, could supply input on potential ways to go at the problem.

We have — or should have — an ear to the administration. After all, the No. 2 man at the multi-billion-buck DOE was until its recent creation an employee of a New Mexico state agency. We also have a responsive Congressional delegation, one member of which is himself an oil and gas businessman.

In short, New Mexico has an excellent bag of resources for making a contribution in dealing with the problem.

It is plain that we need some new thought in this vital area. The U.S. and Mexico are currently at a standoff on oil and gas trades. The Mexicans built a huge pipeline right up to the southern tip of Texas two years ago and it stands unused. We wouldn't agree to their high prices, which is understandable. But that is where the $500 cats should be brought into play.

What is needed is some original, innovative, even far-out thought on the subject, followed up with some good old American salesmanship they will warm up to.

For starters, on visionary solutions, how about oil refining, petrochemical and gas processing plants built on the U.S. side with U.S. capital and supplied with Mexican oil and gas? Build them near the border and give high priority to Mexican green carders (those with permanent worker visas) for labor. An industrial bracero program, if you please, which would greatly relieve the chronic unemployment problem that dogs northern Mexico.

The possibilities are numerous. It's time we got going. —Hop Graham in the Lovington Leader editorial

Governor King's decision to oppose locating the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport on Site B on Fort Stanton mesa, the site approved by the Federal Aviation Administration, was apparently prompted by a recommendation to King from state agriculture secretary Bill Stephens.

Perhaps our governor and his agriculture secretary should visit the mesa and personally check on the claims made by the agricultural department of New Mexico State University, as to the validity of their statements that the airport would have an adverse effect on the school's grazing experiments.

Bear in mind the fact that the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission has carefully checked every claim of infringement made by the school and determined that any interference the airport would cause could be rectified by choosing alternate experiment sites. For instance, rain gauges could be relocated and another plot to check on the growth of cholla cactus could easily be designated.

We suggest that King and Stephens commandeer a state-owned plane and fly in to the Ruidoso Municipal Airport, to get a first hand feel of the situation. — CD

TEXAS AIN'T SMALL

It's a long way from Ruidoso to El Paso, Texas ... when you go via Corpus Christi and traverse a few side roads.

One thing became apparent ... during the 3,000 miles covered in two weeks ... from Bronco to the Louisiana border ... south to Corpus ... northwesterly to El Paso ... there's some mighty arid stretches.

Exciting road side viewing ... in the general vicinity of Sweetwater ... came in the form of a herd of ostriches ... or some such similarly sized flightless fowl ... grazing along side a fence ... on what, wasn't easily ascertainable.

If'n you want to check on your long range vision ... straining your eyeballs on a slonchwise route from Abilene to Waco is effortless. Why ... at 20 miles you could see the glint in a bull's eyeball as he leered at a cow two counties away.

Ignorance of that fact that Waco's popular hostelrys are located on I-35 and not Highway 84 led to almost securing a room in a motel in which ... though they featured restaurant and lounge facilities ... customers had to look elsewhere for comestibles and refreshments ... being as both conveniences were closed for the weekend.

At the adjacent housing establishment ... catering to weary wayfarers traveling from afar ... the lady in the lounge thought a Gibson must be a baseball player ... and they had a beautiful steak house menu ... with the problem being ... that night it was a grab-it-yourself smorgasbord ... seems the chef was vacationing ... or a flu victim.

Ah, well ... somewhere around Butler the scenery changed ... and the road wound through endless acres of trees ... with said thoroughfare between Alto and Nacogdoches ... Nacogdoches??? ... sufficiently holey to test the mettle of a mountain goat ... though this was the only sad stretch of road the four-wheeler had to contend with.

From Nacogdoches on to Milam ... just across the Toledo Bend Reservoir from the habitat of the late Kingfish ... that's Huey Long ... and south to Sabine Pass ... and on to Port Bolivar ... the viewing was great ... even if'n the Gulf was so muddy looking it resembled the Missouri River in North Dakota ... too thick to drink and too thin to plow.

Though the clerk behind the bullet proof glass in a Freeport motel seemed friendly ... 'twas the lulling lapping of the Gulf's waves at Port Lavaca that provided the lullaby at beddy-bye time.

Port Lavaca ... if'n your sightseeing and dining's done at Magnolia Beach ... is indeed a restful spa ... at least during three rainy days at the tail end of January.

Port Aransas State Park ... if'n you like to trudge through tree shaded grass ... could drive your pet pooch berserk ... as there ain't a tree in sight ... including between sand dunes or alongside the sea walls. There were trees in evidence at Padre Island Park ... though dog walkers were as scarce as trees at Port Aransas park ... though there were plenty of parked cars ... and fishermen ... and shell hunters combing the beach.

From Corpus to the hills of Kerrville ... it was once again eyeball stretching time ... between rain squalls ... and many once did traveling necessitate using the low range gears in the four-wheeler.

At Kerrville ... perhaps in honor of the season ... snow fell for the first time since 1972 ... happened January 30. This inspired the kids to frenetic action ... storing snow balls in the freezer for the Fourth of July ... with some of the most inspired managing to amass three.

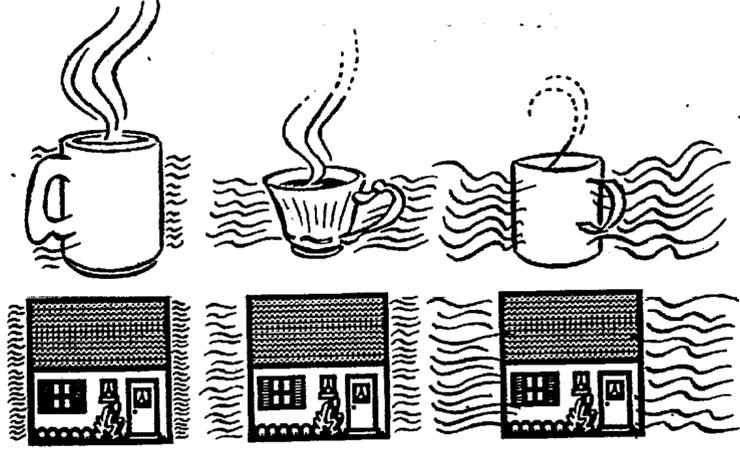

As the hills of Kerrville faded into the distance ... and the Permian Basin stretched into the horizon ... the sun declared a moratorium on not shinning ... and bathed the countryside with its warming rays. That must be the part of Texas where the sun shines every day ... albeit momentarily.

The accommodations at Ft. Stockton weren't too shabby ... considering that even the Sahara Desert has its oases.

'Twas on the streets of El Paso that one fact became apparent ... there were almost as many cars with Texas license plates as there are on Sudderth when the ponies are running at Ruidoso Downs.

As to Ciudad Juarez ... 'twas almost like being in a foreign country. But it's pleasant traveling in Texas ... when it ain't sunstroke weather.

BRIEF BIT: If'n you want to drive to Ruidoso, Texas you might be discouraged about conditions other than the fact it's poor sking there ... CD

GOOD INSULATION

FAIR INSULATION

POOR INSULATION

What could be better than a steaming cup of coffee on a chilly winter morning? But did you ever notice how a regular coffee mug keeps the coffee hot longer than a thin glass cup or tin cup? That's because the thin glass cup or tin cup has very little resistance to heat loss. A thick coffee mug acts as insulation and minimizes heat loss. Homes that are properly insulated to the recommended "R" value help prevent heat loss and wasted energy dollars. In your home, no matter what type of insulation you use — batts, loose fill, or foam — as long as the "R" value is the same, they will prevent heat loss equally well. Proper insulation can save enough on energy bills to pay for itself in a few years. But before you insulate your home, remember to check the "R" value requirement. Call Community Public Service for information on insulation and "R" value today.

Dottsy was at the offices of RCA in Nashville recently listening to material for her up-and-coming recording session with producer Roy Dea when Waylon Jennings dropped by. Waylon heard them discussing the material and told them he had a "woman's song" that would be a good one for Dottsy to do. Waylon sat down with a guitar in Roy's office and sang it for them.

Dottsy and Waylon Jennings

They both liked it so much, that Waylon brought a demo tape back to RCA. Waylon and Dottsy cut "Tryin' To Satisfy You" that same day. Waylon offered to "pick" on the session, and can be heard playing lead guitar and singing with Dottsy on the record.

It is quite a coincidence that Dottsy's very first single, "Storms Never Last," was written by Waylon's wife, Jessi Colter. This new record is a departure from Dottsy's previous records in that it has a more driving feel. It is also shorter—only 2 minutes and 13 seconds long. "Tryin' To Satisfy You" promises to be Dottsy's strongest effort to date.

Joe Stampley challenges the No. 1 slot on the charts with his "Do You Ever Fool Around" single. The Epic recording artist recently performed at the Municipal Auditorium, Fort Smith, Ark., and the Silver Wings Ballroom, Breham, Tex.
