CONWAY BILL WOULD HELP FUND TOURIST SERVICES

S.B. 79 has local impact

Village officials are awaiting action on Senate Bill 79, introduced by Senator John Conway, R-Lincoln-Otero, designed to offer $1 million in financial aid to tourist oriented communities, enabling them to provide better services to the public during the periods of peak tourism.

Appearing before the Senate Finance Committee in Santa Fe Monday, village manager Jim Hine testified to the need of state funding to enable Ruidoso to provide improved basic services including water and sewer, airport facilities and police and fire protection, with pickup of garbage being stressed by Hine as one service needing immediate upgrading.

"I also strongly urged that maintenance of Highway 37 through Ruidoso be eligible for funding under Senate Bill 79," Hine said, "in pointing out to the committee that the road is subject to severe wear and damage from vehicles with chains during the winter months."

Hine said to The News Wednesday, that he'd made the following statements to the committee, concerning Ruidoso's need for state funding as provided by Conway's bill:

"Tourism is a basic industry, being the second highest of all industries in New Mexico." (Hine put natural resources as the top rated industry in the state.)

"The impact of tourism is equal to that of energy impacted municipalities."

"The major burden of tourist oriented communities is in providing basic services, without which tourism can't survive."

In a direct plea for funding assistance on solid waste disposal in Ruidoso, Hine asked the committee to consider an amendment to Senate Bill 79, providing:

"$150,000 to Ruidoso to purchase a transfer system for solid waste disposal."

Hine testified that "four or five" solid waste disposal trucks, employing hydraulic dumping from street containers into the trucks' storage tanks, are presently making a 26 mile round trip to the landfill.

"I suggested to the committee," Hine said, "that the $150,000 would be used to purchase one extremely large capacity dump truck, to make the pickup of refuse at a central dumping point used by our present trucks. This would permit the use of our trucks on their assigned routes, resulting in much better service within the village, with the added advantage being that refuse would be removed more quickly from all areas, business and residential."

One of the advantages to the village, in addition to cutting down on road travel of the present trucks and lessening the danger of vehicular damage, stressed to the committee by Hine, was that, "During inclement weather solid waste could be stored at the new site, until the road dries thus preventing the destruction inflicted by the trucks on the county maintained service road."

Communities in the state that would stand to benefit from Senate Bill 79 would include, Hine said, Santa Fe, Red River, Taos, Carlsbad, Truth or Consequences, Albuquerque, Cloudford, Ruidoso Downs and Ruidoso.

The committee tabled the bill without prejudice, to reconsider it when suggested amendments governing the distribution and allocation of funds to qualifying municipalities, if the bill is funded, are incorporated in the bill.

"I believe that this bill," Hine said, "will enable those communities that are totally, or principally, tourism oriented to upgrade the basic services that are necessary to promote the growth of tourism in New Mexico to the point where it is our number one basic industry. And I feel that tourism not only can, but will, become our major industry in the not too distant future. All we need is to make our resort areas more appealing and to upgrade our basic services and tourism, as an industry, will develop rapidly."

$1 million bond election clarification

The proposed $1 million bond election, currently being studied by the village trustees, if passed, will finance the following portions of Ruidoso's share of the planned Regional Wastewater System:

Add two miles of sewer mains.

Land acquisition for the treatment plant, to be located near Biscuit Hill, east of Ruidoso Downs.

Legal and appraisal fees. Easements and right-of-way from the present Ruidoso treatment plant to the Biscuit Hill site.

Errant car smacks pole, lights doused

A car driven by Harold W. Price, 29, of Holloman Air Force Base crashed into a Community Public Service (CPS) utility pole at approximately 12:36 a.m., Wednesday, breaking the pole at ground level and causing a power blackout lasting for about five and one half hours in some areas of midtown Ruidoso.

The power outage extending from Jackalope Square, north to Kings and into the Carrizo Road area, a CPS spokesman said Wednesday morning, was the most lengthy, with power being out in areas of the Upper Canyon, Ponderosa Heights and Innsbrook Village for about one hour.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Carter's Lane and Sudderth Drive with Price's vehicle continuing east bound for an estimated 1,200 feet before stopping.

Price, apparently uninjured in the mishap, appeared at the Ruidoso Police Department at 1:20 a.m., to report that his car had struck the light pole.

In a Wednesday morning appearance before municipal judge Sam Nunnally, Price pleaded not guilty to reckless driving and person under the influence (DWI) charges filed by the investigating officer.

Judge Nunnally will set the date for a preliminary hearing, in about two weeks, pending receipt of results of the balloon test administered to Price.

Missing skier found unhurt

Richard Speegle of Albuquerque was found Monday morning by Sierra Blanca Ski Area personnel almost 24 hours after he left the area at the crest of Apache Bowl run.

Speegle was reported in good condition when found a few hundred yards from the trail. The skier had been contemplating skiing down the mountain when he spotted a search plane, which was being manned by members of White Mountain Search and Rescue.

Realizing a search was on, he built a shelter and fire, using techniques he had learned in winter survival training, and waited for rescue.

Speegle reportedly left the area trail because "the snow looked better on that side of the hill," and he wanted to try out the skiing there.

Downs developer granted sewer service exemption

The Ruidoso Downs Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) decided Monday to exempt the developers of Mountain Shadows Subdivision from the requirement calling for the installation of sewer lines to serve the lots.

Members of P&Z, meeting with mayor Norman Wheeler and several trustees, acted on the advice of village attorney Richard Parsons, who said the requirement was "unreasonable" in view of the fact that there is currently no sewer system serving the village and "no reasonable guarantee that there will be one" in the future.

In a letter to the developer, informing him of the exemption, they also requested that the water rights for Mountain Shadows be turned over to the village, and the water system be connected to the village's system at the developer's expense.

The trustees and commission members also agreed that they could not guarantee a water supply to be the subdivision, since there was barely enough water available to meet current needs in the summer.

The developer had reportedly offered to trade the water rights to the village in exchange for street surfacing, water lines and all access to and from the subdivision to be provided by the village. That proposal was turned down as inequitable. P&Z chairman Don Rierson said, "You could buy gold cheaper than this."

Mayor Wheeler said he wanted to prevent the necessity of the village's investing in the subdivision while the developers made "big money" from the sale of the land.

The commission and the trustees agreed they would accept the subdivision, with the stipulations stated, as long as the developer met all other legal specifications for subdivisions.

BY STRETCHING YOUR IMAGINATION could you possibly guess that Jean Ham, owner of this "suggestive" license plate, is one of the United States Postal Service employees to whom rain, sleet, snow, mud or gloom of the dark of the moon in the Sacramento Mountains surrounding Ruidoso, has yet to prevent her from making her appointed rounds?

Mule Skinners name chairmen to plan action

The Ruidoso Downs Mule Skinners Monday evening named committee chairmen to head planned activities and adopted by-laws as a non-profit organization.

The chairmen, who will select their own committee members, include: All-Mule Rodeo, Eric West, chairman; Pete Wood, co-chairman.

Trail Rides, Albert Richardson, chairman.

The first function of the Mule Skinners will be a trail ride, scheduled here April 21. Details will be announced, but the ride will be for all interested persons whether riding mules or horses.

Following the adoption of the by-laws, Mule Skinners' president Ed Hyman said, "We will now take action to legally incorporate as a non-profit organization. We formed the Mule Skinners to promote mule activities, rodeos, trail riding and racing in the Ruidoso area and, as a non-profit incorporation, no individual will ever make one cent from it."

The board of directors will meet at 7:30 p.m., Monday in the Ruidoso Public Library, to discuss plans for a membership drive. Dues will be $10 per year, with each member entitled to one vote at all general meetings.

Chamber offering all members insurance

BY MARY WORMLEY
Staff Writer/Photographer

The board of directors of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Wednesday unanimously approved endorsement of a group health insurance program from Blue Cross-Blue Shield (BC-BS) of New Mexico for Chamber members.

The project to provide health insurance through the Chamber of Commerce initially was offered to insurance agents in Ruidoso, but the board accepted the recommendation of the insurance committee, selecting BC-BS for its superior benefits and terms.

The program, which has been tailored to fit the needs of Ruidoso, calls for monthly charges of $36.02 per individual, $73.52 for two persons and $90.75 for three or more (family).

For members of the Chamber to join the program, 75 percent of the eligible personnel of each business must enter the program. No percentage of total chamber membership is needed for the program to be offered.

Representatives of BC-BS will explain the program to Chamber members and interested persons at a meeting at 7 p.m., March 8 in the multipurpose room of the library. Benefits provided by the group program include:

— Payment of the full non-private rate for a hospital room which is $105 per day at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

— Almost all medically necessary services and supplies are provided in full including operating room, anesthesia, drugs and medicine, intensive care unit, casts and dressings, physiotherapy, oxygen and equipment, X-ray and laboratory tests, electrocardiograms, heart-lung machine, special diets and kidney dialysis.

Blood is not included in New Mexico as there is no charge, but in case of hospitalization in a state where there is a charge for blood, then the policy will cover.

— All hospitalization benefits are available after a $50 deductible per admission. The deductible is waived if the patient is readmitted within 90 days with a related problem.

— Surgical procedures by operating physician, assisting surgeon and administrator of anesthesia are covered in addition to in-hospital visits of the consulting physician, attending physician and pediatrician.

The company has set maximum figures for payment of certain types of procedures.

As an example, $410 has been set as the maximum percentile for an appendectomy. Some doctors charge $500 and others $200, but the figure was set by studying charges throughout the state.

Some physicians in the state have agreed to participate in the BC-BS program and will accept the set figures as full payment regardless of their usual charge.

Ski report

Sierra Blanca Ski Area reports a base of 94 inches midway on the mountain, with five inches of new snow the past 24 hours.

Surface conditions are powder and packed powder. Chains are required on the road to Sierra Blanca.

Ruidoso Ski Area reports a packed and powder base of 45 to 55 inches, with three inches of new snow since Wednesday. All slopes are open and all lifts operating. Chains are not required to the new area.

The low temperature Thursday morning was 32 degrees and Wednesday's high was 55. Snow was falling at both ski areas at report time Thursday morning.

For skiing condition reports, call Sierra Blanca Ski Area, 267-9001, and Ruidoso Ski Area, 336-4211.

WMSR sets training classes

White Mountain Search and Rescue (WMSR) will begin a series of training sessions beginning Monday night at the Ruidoso Public Library. The sessions will be held each Monday thereafter until all subjects are covered.

The meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m., and last approximately one and one-half hours. Search and rescue techniques will be under discussion.

The group will meet indoors until weather conditions permit outside training, including road work, rappelling and field exercises. WMSR spokesman Herb Brunell said Wednesday.

WMSR members are also attempting to coordinate a joint exercise with a search and rescue group from Eastern New Mexico University at Roswell.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD representatives Mary City, center, and Kenneth Kiker, right, gave a presentation on their group health plan

It happened ... an editor actually answered a letter

Have you ever wondered what happens to a letter sent to a business or publication? Do you imagine it gets thrown away or that your address is noted so form letter No. 6 can be sent back in reply?

These vague suspicions are probably true in most instances, but the first grade classes of Cathy Norman, Darla Lathan, Nelle Jones and Greia Cabot at Nob Hill School wrote letters to their weekly scholastic news magazine and received a personal reply from the editor.

The New York-based magazine, Scholastic News Pilot, published an article in December on the absence of a "White Christmas" for New Mexico, Texas, California, Louisiana, Arizona and Florida.

The article prompted the classes to write that school often had been cancelled due to heavy snow in December and most recently because of the 25-inch snowfall.

The classes added that Ruidoso is the location for winter sports.

The classes received the following reply:

January 23, 1979

First Graders
Nob Hill Elementary School
Box 430
Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345

Dear Children:

Thank you so much for setting us straight about snow in New Mexico. Ruidoso seems like a lovely place for skiing and other winter sports. The next time we write about winter in different parts of our country, we won't make the same mistake.

Happy New Year to you and your teachers. Thanks again for your nice letters.

Sincerely, Della Cohen
Editor, News Pilot

Legion sets enchilada feed Friday

The Ruidoso American Legion and Auxiliary will serve an enchilada dinner at the Ruidoso Elks Lodge Friday, with serving beginning at 11:30 a.m., and continuing through 8 p.m.

"We're serving our enchilada dinner as a fund raiser," post commander Pat Huffsmith said. "To fix up the Legion Hall so that it will better serve the meeting, party and banquet needs of the small organizations in this area. There is a need for a good facility for small groups, and we want to provide it."

Post and Unit members are conducting an advance ticket sale at $2.50, with tickets at the door being $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Police activities

[With this issue The News resumes publication of serious incidents under investigation by the Criminal Investigation Division (CID) of the Ruidoso Police Department.]

The following incidents were reported to the CID and are under investigation:

Theft of "Rigid" pipe threading machine, #450, owned by Butch Jacobs of Skyland Garage.

Danny Stevens, Ruidoso, theft of Remington 12 gauge pump shotgun, full choke, #150; 15 tape cassettes, #120 and Hamelite 350, 20 inch bar, chain saw, #350.

Nob Hill School, theft of Hitachi AVA 300 tape player, #78.

Claude M. Forbes, El Paso, Texas, theft of Petri FTCE 35 mm camera, Serial Number 306142, with lens number 106204, both in black case, #300.

Dan Estes, Second Street, theft of home made 20-foot, four wheel tandem trailer, black, #1,200.

M. I. Taylor, Main Road, theft of two concrete lions, one with broken paw, #50.

Mrs. Douglas McBride, Ruidoso, gold chain necklace, with diamonds and heart-shaped pendant, #1,400.

Chamber offering...

Almost all Ruidoso physicians are participants in the program.

- $600 deductible for maternity benefits.
- Initial and follow-up treatment for an accidental injury whether in the hospital emergency room or physician's office.
- Ambulance transportation to the nearest available hospital equipped to provide medically necessary services. For example, victims of an automobile accident on Sudderth Drive probably would be taken to Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital while a burn victim would be taken to Albuquerque or El Paso, Texas.
- Outpatient care including minor surgery, radiation therapy and chemotherapy for treatment of cancer, and x-ray and laboratory tests 72 hours prior to and 60 days after surgery or hospitalization.
- Home health care in lieu of hospitalization from a qualified agency.
- 50 percent of fees up to $2,500 for psychiatric care, surgical removal of impacted teeth or dental work which involves medically necessary hospitalization such as extracting a tooth from a hemophiliac.

- Does not cover annual checkups or cosmetic surgery.

- Supplemental or major medical benefits with a $100 deductible including additional benefits for home or office visits.

- No lifetime maximum, no cancellation of an insured for claims.

In other business Wednesday, the board: - Reviewed the nominees for election to the board, who are Bill Andrus, Continental Telephone; Bill Budens, Neeley James Office Supply; Rita Chino, Chino's at the Inn of the Mountain Gods; Benny Goulston, Boyco-Goulston Real Estate; Wayne Dacy, Service Contractors; Tommy Graham, Ben Franklin Family Center; John Hall, Sierra Development Company; Sheila Harris, Ron Harris attorney; Robert Hays, Ruidoso State Bank; Ray Held, Ray Held's Ski Shop; Dub Holk, Ruidoso Playland Nursery; Emerald Jones, Cracked Pot; Dr. T.T. Margardt, optometrist; Kathy Moore, librarian; Ken Moore, administrator, Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital; Tim Morris, manager, Ruidoso Municipal Airport; Bud Nickles, Holiday Inn and Rich Seeley, Perfect Parks and Associates.

Seven will be elected for a two year term and two will be elected to serve a one year term.

Ballots will be mailed out to the general membership and will be opened at 7 p.m., March 15.

- Heard a report that there currently are 327 members in good standing.

- Approved a budget of $19,409 for the August 22 Cadillac Party.

- Voted to endorse the Ruidoso Downs Male Skimmers Association, join the organization and name a representative from the Chamber board to serve on the Association board.

- Approved studying the costs and possibility of bringing Ken Scarborough, regional representative of the national Chamber of Commerce, to Ruidoso to discuss formation of a grassroots political committee within the Chamber.

- Commended the insurance committee.

- Heard a report from Mac McDougal on the retail merchants, lodgers and restaurant subcommittee.

- Approved ordering new city maps, pending study of the contract with publisher Glenn Pike.

Two new laws in effect on VA benefits

Two laws that drastically improve veterans' housing, pension and survivors' benefits are among the new provisions explained in the Veterans Administration's (VA) 1979 revision of "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents" (IS-1 Fact Sheet).

The booklet is available for $1.50 from the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D.C.

The handy, 71 page booklet provides an updated summary for VA and non-VA benefits and the eligibility requirements for veterans and dependents. There is also a complete listing of toll free and local VA phone numbers. These numbers enable anyone in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico to call VA, without charge, to consult a veterans counselor for complete benefits information and assistance.

Veterans and other persons and agencies serving veterans desiring the VA's IS-1 Fact Sheet should request it from the Superintendent of Documents, United States Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Sun eclipse due Monday

The last total solar eclipse of the twentieth century to be visible from North America will take place Monday morning, February 26.

Eclipses of the sun occur when the moon is perfectly aligned between the Earth and the sun. Partial eclipses are observable somewhere on Earth on the average of twice a year, but another total eclipse visible from North America won't occur until 2017.

According to New Mexico State University (NMSU) astronomy department head Herbert Beebe, nearly all of the continent will experience at least a partial eclipse of the sun. The total eclipse will be confined to a 175-mile-wide corridor starting in the Pacific Ocean, passing through Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, parts of Canada, and ending in Greenland about 80 minutes later. Observers just east of Lake Winnipeg in Manitoba will experience the longest period of total eclipse: 2 minutes, 53 seconds.

In New Mexico, the eclipse will take place 8-10:30 a.m., reaching its maximum at 9:35 a.m., when more than 70 percent of the sun will be blocked by the moon.

Beebe warned that observing the sun directly or through unsafe filters at any time can cause painless but permanent eye damage. The eclipse itself holds no special danger, he said, but people are more likely to look at the sun during an eclipse and the hazard is no less even when most of the sun is covered.

The astronomer advised several safe methods for viewing the sun. One can look through a shade Number 12 arc-welder's glass, available from welding supply firms, or through several layers of totally exposed and developed black-and-white photographic film. It is not safe to use smoked glass, polarized material, color film, sunglasses or improperly filtered binoculars or telescopes.

Another safe way to observe an eclipse, Beebe said, is to project the sun's image. This is done by allowing the sun's rays to pass through a pin hole in a piece of cardboard to fall on a second piece of cardboard or paper.

The viewer then observes the projected image—about one-half inch in size—some four feet from the pin hole on the opposite the sun. The pin hole can be one-sixteenth to one-eighth inch in diameter; the larger the hole, the brighter but fatter the image.

Although 70 percent of the sun will be covered by the moon, Beebe said, light reduction probably will not seem unusual unless the day is perfectly clear. Then the darkened sky, resembling early evening, will be noticeable.

The NMSU campus observatory at Williams and Gregg Streets will be open to the public from 8-10 a.m., February 26. Two safety filtered telescopes will be used to view the eclipse and members of the astronomy department will be on hand to answer questions.

Although partial eclipses are interesting phenomena, Beebe said, they do not have the research value of total eclipses and the NMSU observatory staff plan no research-oriented observations of the February eclipse.

Battle against hepatitis launched in New Mexico

A Hepatitis Task Force has been established by the Public Health Division of the Department of Health and Environment, according to Michael Burkhardt, director of the division.

"This task force is being set up in response to the recent increase in hepatitis reported in New Mexico," said Dr. Jonathan Mann, chief of the division's Disease Prevention Bureau. "In January 1979, 50 percent more hepatitis was reported than for the month of January 1978," Mann said. "Infectious hepatitis is traditionally more of a problem for New Mexico than for most states. In fact, our average rate of hepatitis is three times greater than the national rate."

However, we are seeing an increase in cases, which has prompted establishment of our Hepatitis Task Force."

The members of the Hepatitis Task Force will include Mann; Dr. Richard Hoffman, assistant state epidemiologist; Lee Bartol, R.N., public health nurse consultant; and Kay Loudon, secretary. All are employees of the Public Health Division.

"Our overall goal," Mann said, "is to ensure that all necessary investigative steps are taken rapidly following each reported case of hepatitis. This will allow us to then take appropriate disease control measures in cooperation with local physicians to reduce the risk of spread of illness."

Public information is one of the major goals of the task force, according to Burkhardt. "We are printing a simple brochure about hepatitis which will be available from all local field offices of the division, and we are establishing a toll-free telephone number for people with questions about hepatitis," he said.

The toll-free number is 1-800-422-4404. "Hepatitis is a disease caused by a virus," Mann said, "and generally spreads within family or household settings." He estimates that at least 95 percent of hepatitis spreads from person-to-person in such close contact settings and is not related to contaminated food or water.

How to contact your legislator

All 70 Representatives and 21 Senators now in legislative session at Santa Fe, may be contacted:

Telephone: 827-3151.
By mail: (suite) State Capitol Building, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87502.

Legislators representing this area are:
Senator John Conway, R-Otero, Lincoln
Representative John Higbee, R-District 14
Representative John Mereson, R-District 51
Representative Maurice Hobson, R-District 52

IN THE ALTO CREST area, a spring runs alongside and under the roadway, again causing erosion problems.

Unemployment Insurance claims increase in State

The number of initial Unemployment Insurance (UI) claims filed in New Mexico increased in January from December, and also increased from a year ago, 1978, as shown in actuarial figures released today by New Mexico Job Service. Employment Services Division Director Eric Serna said there were 8,538 initial claims in January, compared with 6,291 in December 1978, and 7,786 in January 1978.

"This increase follows the seasonal pattern in past years," said Serna. "There is usually an increase in the first quarter of the year and the last quarter, due to inclement weather."

UI benefits paid during January totaled $2,791,156, an increase from the December 1978 level of $1,963,079, and last year's January level of $2,231,685. The total number of checks issued in January 1979 was 38,182, an increase over December's level of 27,410 checks issued, and an increase over last January's level of 24,291.

One area of decrease was in the number of veterans claiming benefits. Veterans' claims in January 1979 totaled 178, as compared to December's 185, and last January's 188. Six thousand nine hundred and thirty seven New Mexicans claimed benefits within the state in January 1979 as compared to last January's figure of 6,145. The number of claims filed in New Mexico against other states increased from 729 in December 1978 to 1,152 in January 1979.

Court Report

Appearing before municipal judge Sam Nunnally recently, on charges listed and action taken were:

David Ramirez, Ruidoso, disorderly conduct, two counts, $50 each count; assault, $100; resisting an officer, $100 and injury to property, $100.

William Buchmeier, Nogal, DWI School. Appearing before magistrate Jim Wheeler recently, on charges listed and action taken were:

Tommy Trujillo, Ruidoso, driving under revocation, $210 suspended; six months in county jail suspended after serving two days.

Curtis L. Walker, Ruidoso, driving under revocation, $210, six months in county jail suspended after serving two days.

Antonio Ramirez, Ruidoso, posted $5,000 appearance bond on charges of aggravated battery, with preliminary hearing set for March 2.

Larry Herrera, San Patricio, will receive a preliminary hearing March 2 at 11 a.m., on charges of burglary and larceny over $100 but less than $2,500. Herrera is free under a $5,000 bond set by the court at a first appearance hearing for charges of taking a shotgun, cassette tapes, chain saw and down filled coat with a total value of $220, allegedly from a parked car.

Gibson Potter, Chaparral; Bradley Sonnenberg and Catherine Morgan, El Paso, Texas and Roger Tilley, Llanos, Colorado, fishing without a license, $35 each.

On charges of possession of marijuana over one ounce, less than eight ounces: Donald Precody, $200 fine suspended, 100 days and 364 days probation; Richard Albertson, James Lynch and David Nickerson, each fined $110 and 364 days in county jail suspended. All are from Las Cruces.

42 YEARS TELEPHONE EXPERIENCE - Continental Telephone Company employees in Ruidoso, from the left, George Sisson, Cameron Ray and Larry Roberts have received service awards recently. Sisson, with 24 years in telecommunications, has been with Continental five years; Ray, with 26 total years in the field, is in his 21st year with the company and Roberts has five of his 12 years experience with Continental. Sisson and Ray are central office repairmen and Roberts is an installer repairman.

Sorority honors Gladys Knox

Gladys (Mrs. R. K.) Knox was honored recently as "Valentine Sweetheart" at a meeting of the Alpha Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi social sorority.

Mrs. Knox was honored for her years of service to the community. The only international honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi in Ruidoso, she serves as treasurer for the Extension Club, the United Methodist Women's Club and the Lincoln County Republican Women. She is also president of the Golden Agers' Club. In the past, she has held the local and district presidencies of the Federated Women's Club, and has been active in Beta Sigma Phi since 1962.

In addition, Mrs. Knox was the first English teacher at Ruidoso High School, where she also taught mathematics and headed the English department for many years. She and her husband have resided in Ruidoso since 1946.

The party honoring Mrs. Knox was held in the home of Betty Shaw. Alpha Alpha is the oldest chapter of the organization in the village.

GLADYS KNOX

Services, accepting a check from Golden Age treasurer Barney Waldron; and Gladys Knox president of Golden Agers, making presentation to Nellie Vickers, president of the Hospital Auxiliary.

RHS offering free GED diploma course

A high school General Equivalency Diploma (GED) course will begin March 1 at Ruidoso High School. Classes will be held thereafter on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 to 9 p.m., for approximately six weeks.

Teachers will be Bruce Hancock and Sergio Castanon, and the subject matter covered will include math, science, history, English and English literature.

The course will be free and anyone who was unable to complete high school is urged to attend. Signs will be posted at the high school to direct GED students to the appropriate classroom.

Extension clubs schedule March district meeting

Winter activities of the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Extension Club will climax March 22 when the Lincoln County clubs will host the district meeting in Carrizozo.

After their annual Christmas party held in the home of Lorena Radcliff in Hondo, members began preparations for the district meeting.

Workdays have been held since to prepare decorations and other items connected with the spring meeting.

In January, the club met at the Ruidoso Public Library for a book review of the story "Tristan and Isolde" presented by Dorothy Bunyan.

The next meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m., February 22 in the multipurpose room of the library. A covered dish luncheon and program on "Short Cuts in Cooking" by Mary Ellen Payne will be presented.

Members are reminded to bring 10 bars of hand soap to make gifts for the spring meeting.

Amaranth sets visitation by Grand Lecturer

Ponderosa Court, Order of the Amaranth, will host an official visitation of Grand Lecturer L. C. Bynum at a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Ruidoso Eastern Star Hall February 27.

A covered dish dinner will be served at 8, with Inez Killebrew, Elva Smith and Harley Farnell as the dinner committee. "All members of Amaranth," Royal Matron Edna Hassinger said, "are cordially invited to attend this dinner visitation meeting."

Unit holding rummage sale

The American Legion Auxiliary is holding a rummage sale, Sunday through Tuesday, at the Legion Hall on Highway 37 north.

Items will be on display for sale beginning at noon daily.

Proceeds from the sale will be earmarked for the Legion's building fund.

All contributions to the rummage sale are welcome and persons with items to donate are asked to telephone 257-5796 or 257-7459 to have them picked up.

Hondo Valley 4-H elects officers

Alice Bocky was elected president of the Hondo Valley 4-H club at the February 13 meeting.

Also elected were Danny Montes, vice president; Sylvia Montano, secretary; Doretta Burchett, treasurer; Chris Clements, reporter; Johanna Patterson, recreation officer and Kerry Clements, parliamentarian.

Year pins were distributed to persons not receiving them during the December awards banquet.

Memberships in the club, Bocky said, are open and "we welcome all newcomers."

THE WARRIOR BAND will be clad in new gold uniforms like that pictured above, for the 1979-80 school year. The high school recently purchased 75 of the blue-accented uniforms from Cornwall Music of Clayton, New Mexico, representing the Sol-Frank Company of San Antonio, Texas. Principal Tom Hansen pointed out that the purchase is almost a "two for the price of one" deal, since the uniforms also feature a concert jacket, complete with tails and ruffled shirt, in addition to the marching overlay shown on the model above.

Obituaries

Jasper Thomas Pope

Jasper Thomas Pope, 72, Captain, died Monday at his home. Born November 18, 1906 in Carlsbad, he was a retired electrical engineer and owner of Pope's This'n' That in Capitan.

He was a member of Masonic Lodge Eddy No. 21 the Order of the Eastern Star of Carrizozo and a veteran of World War II.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10 a.m., at the first Baptist Church of Capitan, with the Reverend David J. Lynch officiating.

Graveside services were scheduled under the auspices of Carrizozo Masonic Lodge No. 41 at Capitan Cemetery.

Pope is survived by his wife, Myrtle; one son, L. Richard Pope of Santa Barbara, California; three brothers, Jack Pope of Carlsbad, George Pope of Hereford, Texas and Oscar Pope of Petacalco, California; and two grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers were Norman Renfro, N.C. Grantham, Mike Riska, Jerold Dean Sr., A.J. Marks and W.F. Eckland. Members of Masonic Lodge No. 41 were named honorary pallbearers.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Clarke's Chapel of Roses.

Garden Club hears spring work ideas

Although the calendar indicates winter, the Ruidoso Garden Club members were given a head start on spring gardening with a program on "High Altitude Gardening" by Mrs. J. F. Murray.

During the business meeting directed by president Ellen Miller, yearbooks were distributed and upcoming plans and projects were discussed.

The club renewed their membership in "The Nature Conservancy" and contributed to CARE as a phase of world gardening.

Also during the meeting, the group discussed civic participation in Service Club Council and work with the Fort Stanton students.

Hostesses were Mrs. E. D. Vickers, Dorothy Bunyan and Mrs. Marcus Cooper.

Capitan FHA held DAR observing American History Month Parent Night

The Capitan Future Homemakers of America Chapter had its Parent Night February 13.

Each member brought a dessert and several stews from various countries were prepared by the advanced food class. These included: Cocido Bogotano (Colombia), Kaeng Kari Nua (Thailand), Boeuf En Doube (French), Wienersaft Gulyas (Austrian), Old-Fashioned American Beef Stew and an oven baked American Stew. All of the parents and the administrators, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, praised the meal.

A party highlight was the ice breaker during which all guests and members wrote in their feelings in the proper place of what Mother love, Father love and FHA/HERO Member Love means to them.

"You Fill Up My Senses" was sung by Marie Lobb and Mary Allred.

After the meeting was officially closed the girls stayed and made heartshaped Valentine cookies, to be sold February 14. The cookies were beautifully decorated with expressions of love and with each purchase a FHA-HERO pencil was given. The cookies were a great success.

The chapter is promoting a better understanding of Homemaking, the most misunderstood profession, by distributing flyers at all the local businesses.

The chapter prepared a poster for National FHA-HERO Week, February 12 through February 17, showing all activities for the year, that was posted in a local business.

The Ruidoso Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in observance of American History Month, released the following paragraphs of historic significance in the development of the United States of America, to remind area citizens of the trials and tribulations through which nation's founding fathers lived.

In February students in schools throughout the country will participate in the American History Essay Contest, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The subject is "Travel in the Thirteen Colonies". What a wonderful opportunity to learn how the Colonists traveled and the effect that it had on their life style.

On election days, the taverns along the roads were the polling places, where the farmers and tradesmen, either traveled on foot or horseback, over the trails to exercise their right to vote. This is also your right.

The early history of New England and New York was vitally affected by the creation and development of "The Old Post Road"—This was the first overland route between Boston and New York City. Benedict Arnold traveled it often and it is said that George Washington slept in 100 taverns alongside it.

The first use of the Conestoga Wagon was in fur trading. In 1755 when General Braddock set out on his ill-fated expedition to western Pennsylvania, this type of covered wagon for the military was not very successful, as they were cumbersome, slow and bogged down easily.

Frontiersmen, led by George Rogers Clark, waded for miles through the icy Wabash floods to surprise the British at Vincennes. The hardships suffered by the military were severe as they traveled to carry out their mission.

Post riders carried the mail and exhausted passengers harbored their fears while riding in the stage coaches along the first route connecting New York City to Boston. Read the fascinating history of the roads and byways which the Colonists traveled.

The Indians had a superb faculty for establishing the best possible routes by which to travel. The Colonists were wise to make use of the native trails, which they called "traces and trodden paths".

Travel by land in the Colonies was for many years very hazardous. Travel by boat was so greatly preferred that most of the settlements were on the banks of rivers and seacoast. Their living was made by extensive fishing and trading other commodities.

Henry Knox led a 42-wheeled ox train with 50 pieces of artillery from Fort Ticonderoga to Boston. Knox followed old Indian Trails through deep snow and over frozen lakes. They sank through the ice - pulled the cannon out and forged on - an unbelievable feat.

The first vehicles on the "Old Post Road" were two-wheeled carts and sleds. The road twisted around charred tree stumps and through bogs. Wild bears often exerted claim to the right of way.

In the decade of the Revolution, the owner of a tavern was one of the most

The Ruidoso High School (RHS) student council attended the Student Council State Convention in Albuquerque Thursday through Saturday. The activities started Thursday with an acquaintance get together session. This included games and sing-a-longs. Friday they participated in general sessions, seminars and a dinner banquet at Albuquerque High School. Afterwards there was a disco-dance featuring the Eastern New Mexico disco. Saturday voting delegates from various high schools went to the University of New Mexico to elect state officers. Karri Sears was the Ruidoso High School, voting delegate. The other students attended a district meeting during the elections.

Friday, February 18, the RHS Warriors hosted New Mexico School for the Visually Handicapped in a home match. The Warriors showed their pride by a team win of 34-11. Individual match winners were: Dirk Strausz, Wes Atkinson, Greg Lane, Byron Wright and Keith Sullivan by a forfeit.

Saturday, the Warriors traveled only to be disappointed with a team loss.

The RHS Band is selling tickets for a steak finger dinner and breakfast scheduled February 24. Dinner tickets are $2.65 each and breakfast tickets are $2.50. The breakfast starts at 8 a.m. and runs through 10 a.m. The dinner starts at 11 a.m. and ends at 10 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any band member.

One new student was enrolled in RHS this week, she is Misty Alvarado, a sophomore from Hondo.

The RHS golf team will get their season underway February 23. The team will travel to Alamogordo for their first meet. Team members have not been determined and this meet will be for practice to get the team ready and organized.

The Warrior Cagerettes traveled Friday and Saturday to Animas and Lordsburg for district play.

Friday, the Warriors lost to Animas 57-35. Kristi Perryman had 14 points, Tracey Schafer had nine and Lori Swain had seven.

Saturday, Lordsburg beat the Warrior Cagerettes by the score of 51-47. Kristi Perryman had 20 points, Lori Swain nine and Kelly Cottrun six.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Intensity lack bothers coach

BY JOHN NEYLAND

The Ruidoso boys' basketball team has struggled between mediocrity and excellence all season. But last weekend's pair of losses at Animas and Lordsburg, respectively, was like the straw that broke the camel's back to Warrior coach Barry Nelson.

The games weren't crucial for Ruidoso. They didn't have to win. They can still earn a playoff spot by winning the district tournament in two weeks. But the losses did force Nelson to acknowledge something about his team he had hoped wasn't true.

"The kids lack mental discipline," he said. "They like to party. That's why they play. They don't play to win. There's only about two of them who want to win. It's hard to win when there's only two trying to."

"Most of the kids are happy if they played a good game," he continued. "They think the number of points they scored is indicative of what kind of game they played. If they scored high points, they think they did a good job. After the game is over they all want to look at the book to see how many points they scored. If you asked them if they played a good game, all of them would say they did."

What particularly bothers Nelson is the players' lack of conviction towards winning. He doesn't think they want to win badly enough.

"They feel bad for about thirty minutes," Nelson said. "After that, they think what the hell, there's always another game. It doesn't bother them. It bothers me to lose. I want to win. I don't know what to think about them. I thought they understood what it took to win."

The Warriors saw what it takes to win Friday at Animas. The loss shocked Nelson. Animas' tallest player is about 6'2" compared to Ruidoso's front line, which averages about 5'7". Even so, Animas controlled the boards as well as the Warriors. That irked Nelson.

"Our big kids just stood around and watched," he said. "They didn't get position on their players. I think they thought because they were bigger it would be an easy game. There was no reason for Animas to beat them."

Nelson thinks he understands the problem, however.

"I don't think the kids are mentally mature," he said. "They're kids. I don't think the game means that much to them. Most of the teams that are in state championships are mentally mature. That's what it takes to win it. I don't think our kids have any idea what it would be like to win state."

PAUL KIRKWOOD

Besides the immaturity, a lack of concentration plays a big role in most Warrior losses. Nelson cited the Lordsburg game as a recent example. Ruidoso was down by five points with possession of the ball. The clock showed 28 seconds. Nelson told the team to get the ball across half court and take a shot as fast as possible. If they made it, they were to call time out. Ruidoso executed the plan to near perfection: They made the shot, but they failed to call time out. All of the players had forgotten. That was the only way for Ruidoso to stop the clock.

"We still would have had to score three points but at least we had a chance," Nelson said. "When we didn't call timeout, we didn't have anything. Lordsburg wasn't going to stop the clock."

Nelson, who is in his first year as head coach, might have shouldered the blame earlier in the season. Now, however, he is satisfied with the job he's done. He works them hard in practice. They plan for every conceivable offense and defense they could come up against. And he keeps them in shape.

"That's why it doesn't bother me," he said. "I feel like I've done all that I can. I think the rest is up to them."

There was one bright spot in the losses. Paul Kirkwood came off the bench in both games to add intensity to the Warriors' play. Nelson said he can't keep a player like that on the bench. He plans to make room for him in the starting lineup. He knows where, but he isn't saying.

"Kirkwood's really coming on strong," he said. "I'm going to have to move somebody out of the lineup. He's playing tough. If I could get them all to play like he does, I wouldn't have to worry about anything."

The Warriors will have a chance to avenge last week's losses. Both Animas and Lordsburg invade Warrior Gym for games Friday and Saturday, respectively. Ruidoso needs victories to escape the conference cellar. Nelson is confident the Warriors can win, but he never knows how his team will play.

"If they want to play, they will," he said. "If they don't, they won't. The homecourt shouldn't make that much difference, but it probably will."

As for the Warriors' chances in the post season district tournament, Nelson is discouraged.

"If the kids really wanted to win it, they would have done it this weekend," Nelson said. "They've showed they can play. Whether they will or not, who knows?"

Both games this weekend will be preceded by a junior varsity clash at 5:30 p.m. It marks the last homegame for many of the Warriors.

Sophomore Shaw integral part of cagerettes' success

BY JOHN NEYLAND

On every team, there is a player the coach considers most valuable. That player usually is not the one with the most impressive statistics. That player is not a crowd pleaser. That player is not the one the team turns to in the final moments of a close game. That player, however, is the one that can dictate the pace of the game. For the Ruidoso girls' basketball team, that player is Lisa Shaw.

A sophomore, Shaw has been a starter for two years. She likely will wind up her high school career as a four year starter. That doesn't impress her, just as she is unimpressed by her value to the team.

"The team can play without some of us," Shaw said, referring to herself. "We can't play without someone like Kristi (Perryman)."

Despite her thoughts on the subject, Shaw is a much needed cog in the Warrior team. With her, Ruidoso can more efficiently break a press. They are a more intense unit with Shaw on the floor. That has been a problem for the Warriors all season. She has a tendency to foul in bunches.

She explains why: "I get mad when I foul and turn around and make another one."

MOST OF HER FOULS come when she is attempting a steal, which is her specialty. She leads the team in steals. She likes to make steals for the demoralizing effect it can have on opposing teams.

"I like making steals," she said. "It shows the other players aren't very good. You get to laugh at them."

Laughing at the other players is something Shaw gets to do a lot on account of the number of steals she makes. But she doesn't do it often, just when she is playing against a team she doesn't like.

"I laugh at some of the teams," she said. "I don't like them."

Born in Tucumcari, the Shaws moved here in 1964. In eighth grade, Lisa's father encouraged her to play sports. She is glad she did, because now sports are the most important thing to her.

Warriors' backs to wall after loss to Lordsburg

BY JOHN NEYLAND

The two maladies that have been crippling the Ruidoso girls' basketball team, untested free throws and an unbalanced scoring attack, cropped up again Tuesday night as the Warriors lost in their bid to secure a bye into the semifinals of the district tournament Friday and Saturday at Animas.

Ruidoso's inability to convert their free throw opportunities and balance their scoring attack were keys as Lordsburg defeated Ruidoso 43-35 to earn a bye into the district tournament semifinals. For the Warriors, the loss means they will have to work their way to the finals by winning two games in the single elimination tournament. Ruidoso could have avoided Tuesday's playoff by winning one of two games last weekend. But Animas, which had lost only one game all year, beat Ruidoso 57-35. The next night, Lordsburg avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of Ruidoso, 51-47.

In Tuesday's playoff game, both teams hit the same number of field goals, 14, but Lordsburg outscored Ruidoso from the foul line. Ruidoso hit only 7-21 shots from the line. Lordsburg wasn't that much more proficient, hitting less than 50 percent of their shots from the line. But they went to the line 27 times, hitting 15.

While Lordsburg's Angie Gandara paced a balanced scoring attack, Ruidoso had only one player in double figures. Kristi Perryman led the attack with 14 points. Tracy Shafer added eight points, most of which came in the fourth period.

At that point, Ruidoso needed all the scoring they could get. Ruidoso led six to two at the end of the first period. The score was tied 12-all at half. Lordsburg grabbed a slim two point lead after three. In the fourth period, Lordsburg outscored Ruidoso 19-13.

That puts Lordsburg into the semifinals of the district tourney where they will play the winner of the Ruidoso-Hatch contest.

Ruidoso has beaten Hatch twice this season. The winner of the Lordsburg game will enter the finals against Animas. Both finalists automatically earn a berth into the state regional playoffs.

Darkhorse Warriors eye outside shot at team title at district tournament

The Ruidoso wrestling team heads into the district tournament Saturday at Silver City with a better chance of winning than anyone had given them credit for earlier in the season.

Despite several defections from the team, coach Gerald Ames has held a competitive crew in almost every match this season. The district tourney will give the Warriors a chance to display the improvements they have made this season and Ames won't be surprised if his team steals off with a few first place finishes.

Ames is counting on four stalwarts to carry the load, three are seniors, one a sophomore. The seniors are Ray Herrera, Dirk Strassburg and Wes Atkinson. Atkinson, who hasn't lost a bout in district competition, will be the number one seed he has a few darkhorses who are capable of pulling some surprises.

One of those is heavyweight Ronald Bell. Although his record is 2-3 in district, Ames has noted significant improvement in his wrestling each time he takes the mat.

Ames also thinks Byron Wright and Keith Sullivan have potential to score some points in the tourney. If they can, Ames said, the Warriors will have an outside shot at placing as a team in the tournament. If not, Ames will be content with personal accomplishments.

Last weekend, the Warriors tuned up for the tournament by splitting a pair of dual matches. Friday, the Warriors downed the New Mexico School for the Visually Handicapped (NMSVH) 34-11. Saturday, they fell at New Mexico Military Institute 36-15.

Against NMSVH, Strassburg, Atkinson, Sullivan, Wright and Bell won their matches by virtue of a pin. Lane dethroned his opponent.

Against NMML, the Warrior's didn't fare so well. With the exception of Herrera, Atkinson and Marlin Randall, all the Warriors lost.

in the 112 pound class. Strassburg will likely be seeded number two in the 98 pound class. Herrera will be the number three seed, as will sophomore Greg Lane, in the 126 and 132 pound classes, respectively.

Although these are the only four wrestlers that were successful enough in district play to earn seedings, Ames thinks

LISA SHAW

"Everything I do is sports," she said. "I like to do sports. It makes school go faster."

SHAW IS INTERESTED in more than basketball. Her favorites include basketball, track and football. Last year she went to the state track meet as a freshman man to compete in the 440 yard relay and the 880 yard relay. She also was going to compete in the softball throw but an injured arm kept her out of the competition.

Besides her affinity for sports, Shaw is interested in math in school.

"On math I do (try) but that's all," Shaw said. "I like math better than any other subject. It seems easier. I get ahead of the class."

For example: "We'll win the district tournament because we're the best team." For Shaw, there is nothing left to be said. That says it all. Life is as simple as one, two, three. Just like math.

Students explore caves

On January 16 and February 13 the first period classes of Bob Palko and Frank Cannella went to the Fort Stanton caves. Some people had good thoughts about the cave and others had bad thoughts about the cave. We had to crawl 550 yards and got to stand up about three times in the crawling area. We saw bats in clumps of teens and bats all alone. We saw a cave adapted centipede. We also saw stalagmites, stalactites, and selenite needles. We didn't get too wet but there was a lot of mud. We all came back to our 6th period class all muddy. There were steep cliffs but we all made it down them. We all got in one room and turned off all the flashlights but they didn't stay off long.

The Thoughts of the People

Palko and Cannella thought it was a great trip. Laura Blackburn thought the trip was neat and Robin Mook said, "It was entertaining." Susan Montgomery thought, "The trip was very amusing." Many of the two classes thought it was very amusing. Most of the people got very tired and some were active but it was very seldom someone would rest. Almost everyone had a good time.

Facts About Fort Stanton Cave

Cave formations: Fort Stanton cave is widely known for displays of rare velvet formations. The cave also contains displays of helictites, aragait, selenite needles and various forms of gypsum. The velvet is located in the Upper Break-down Room, the Lake Room and the rear portions of the cave.

Venturing through Hellhole and into the passages is not recommended for inexperienced spelunkers, as this area involves a very strenuous trip and fatigue becomes a serious problem.

Location: The cave is located on Fort Stanton Reservation between the towns of Lincoln and Capitan on Highway 380.

History of Fort Stanton: Indians camped within 20 feet of the sinkhole of Fort Stanton cave long before the Spanish Conquistadors in the 1500s rode into what is now New Mexico. Fragments of pottery and other artifacts recorded their stay for present-day archeologists. These Indians probably visited at least the sinkhole chamber.

In 1855, a cavalry patrol from the newly established Fort Stanton made the first recorded visit to the cave by white men.

Many formations have been destroyed deliberately by vandals and collectors and accidentally by careless visitors.

We took nothing but pictures

We killed nothing but time.

We think this saying should be followed by all who enter the caves.

The Silver Lining
BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Washington's Birthday
This message is being written to you on February twenty and will reach you on February twenty-second the birthday of George Washington. "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen".

On his birthday we remember with special gratitude and affection our fellow American who guided this beloved nation through its birth and infancy. And the father of our country is in our hearts and our prayers all through our days.

without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation."
So, on Washington's birthday his prayers are still bringing us blessings; and we send up a prayer of thanks to God for the father of our country.

February Memories
February twenty-second is also the birthday of our grandmother, Catherine Cannon Kennedy. And today I am remembering the boxes of gifts she sent up from Denver to Alaska for myself and my brothers. Alaska to many in those days seemed like a far-away place, almost like another planet. But "The States" seemed very close to Alaskans, and especially so to the children, who received many boxes of good things on the boats coming from Seattle and San Francisco. There were home-knitted and home-sewed clothing of all kinds, home-made candy and cookies, Children's books, (some of which I still have) and toys, some of which are still with me here in the house.

When Washington took the oath of office as our first president in April 30, 1789, at the end of the oath he added a little prayer of his own: "So help me God." These words have been handed down to us along with many other treasures inspired from the heart and mind of Washington, to become sacred traditions in our lives.

Spring is Ready And Anxious To Enter the World
Today is just like a day in March, windy with light clouds overhead. This is quite early for the west wind, and the trees are swaying and waving in the breeze, loosening themselves up so that the sap will be ready to run quickly from the roots, bringing the awakening spirit up from Mother Earth to meet the light of God's sun and transform the world with the miracle of opening buds, leaves and blossoms.

From the beginning, Washington knew that our country is "One Nation under God." In his first inaugural address he mentioned "... my fervent supplication to that almighty Being who rules over the universe — who presides in the council of nations — and whose providential aids can supply every human defect, that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States, a government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes..."

New grass is growing everywhere and small flowers are blooming in the sunny places. The apricot's bloom buds are showing bright crimson, barely starting to open. Yet they are very cautious.

In one of his many prayers on behalf of the people of our nation, Washington asked God: "That He would most graciously be pleased to dispose us all in His justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and pacific temper of mind, which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion;

Let us all thank God for a grand winter, a beautiful February and so many other great blessings.

NEW MEXICO: A HISTORY
BY MARC SIMMONS
W.W. Norton and Co., New York, 1977
"Tierra Encantada — Land of Enchantment." Writing a history of New Mexico without a sensitivity for the deeper meaning of these words is like trying to tie one's shoes while walking. It can be done, but not gracefully. Tierra Encantada is not the high gloss version portrayed in a Chamber of Commerce brochure. Rather it is the feeling expressed by D.J. Lawrence writing, "In the magnificent fierce morning of New Mexico one sprang awake, a new part of the soul woke up suddenly."

The editorial board which chose Marc Simmons to write this history for the National Bicentennial Series could not have chosen more wisely. From the first pages of this volume it is clear that Marc Simmons is entranced with the land, its people and its history. He is in touch with the remote mountains, the brooding mesas and the pinon-covered landscape. More important is his delicate awareness of the character of the people. Marc Simmons has done what a historian must: he has surrendered himself, becoming immersed in the place and times of New Mexico.

This volume is part of a series on the States and the Nation published for the Bicentennial. The editors sought not for a comprehensive chronicle of the state's history, but rather allowed the author to proceed on an almost personal interpretation of what he felt significant. The requirement that the volume be little more than two hundred pages forced a selectivity which the casual reader should appreciate.

Simmons ploughs no new ground. His dominant theme follows that which has been frequently emphasized, the mingling and collision of cultures. And it is in his ability to understand and relate the character of the people — the Spanish, Indian, Mexican and American — that gives this book its distinctive quality.

Simmons is understanding, if not overly patient, with those who do not share his feelings for New Mexico. Mostly he is disappointed for those who travel through — all too quickly — and never find the answer to the appellation "Land of Enchantment." But he hopes that they understand that the description came about not from any "overgrown sense of pride or out-of-hand boasting, but simply because the phrase fits so uncommonly well." In a short personal epilogue he reveals his own perception of Tierra Encantada. He describes a solo journey on horseback which he took before beginning work on this volume. Leaving his wife home near Santa Fe he followed some old trails, visiting some pueblo friends and enjoying a chance meeting with some Hispanic cowboys and joining them in a gather and drive of their cattle.

From the fable of the seven golden cities to the New Mexico of the 1970's the author has presented an interpretative, sensitive, thoughtful and personal account of what seems significant about New Mexico's history. For those seeking a pleasurable introduction to New Mexico's history I heartily recommend Marc Simmons book — and only two hundred pages.

Santa Fe — Some fast takes on your state government in operation this week:

RETREAD: Northern counties less than enchanted with Governor Bruce King's remaining of Highway Commissioner Jim Chaney, from District 5, for a second six-year term . . . Chaney, down-the-road neighbor of the Governor, is from Torrance county, southernmost tier of the district he represents. High-ranking officials from San Juan, Rio Arriba, Taos and Santa Fe counties, also in district, felt it was time for a change, not a repeat . . . Senator C.B. Trujillo of Taos and others had suggested candidates for the post, but were never allowed to give their names to the Governor . . . This was King's only chance for a regular nomination to the post during this term. He could have made friends by naming new man — or woman. Evidently he preferred not to.

RTW: By time you read these lines, Right to Work will have passed House and gone to governor's desk, where Lieutenant Governor may veto it, if Governor is out of town . . . Look for a second bill, this one to include a referendum of voters on the subject, to have a tougher time. Not everyone thinks the issue should go to the people — not least of all national Right to Work organization, which is growing tired of spending money on referendum campaigns and getting beaten. Senator Robert Wood of Portales, for instance, whose bill passed both houses, only to die in the governor's office, isn't for referendum and will not work to get new bill passed.

CON CON? The Governor told his press conference last week he thinks it may be time for another Constitutional Convention . . . Bruce, who presided over last such event only to see its work defeated by citizens in the same sort of referendum he seems so fond of, said the day after that vote that he didn't want to see another such attempt for ten years. Time's now up . . . Con cons are becoming more popular, with some, including Governor Jerry Brown of California, seriously suggesting we need one at the national level.

BIG VS. SMALL: Senator Tom Rutherford, majority whip for the senior body, may hear more of that remark he made, with reporters present, about the Legislature having a "rural mentality." . . . Rutherford, who laughingly says he's been running for governor since he was seven years old, obviously looks for the main chance at higher office. He may discover most rural areas are proud about their "mentality," see little advantage in changing it for one created by living in the big cities.

GAS CHAMBER: Death-penalty bill, still to be heard by Senate, may have tougher time there . . . Of importance to House passage was presence of former House member John Radosvitch on the floor during debate and voting. Radosvitch's son Charles was a recent murder victim in Albuquerque, as was daughter of Senator Mike Alarid, also from the Duke City . . . Bill as passed will probably meet requirements of federal Supreme Court on this matter.

PENSIONS: Those currently paying into or collecting from state pension plans, both PERA and ERA, can relax. Discussions on changes in plan, after massive study by Philadelphia consultant, will not lead to changes in what we have now. If you're in, you're in and can stay in. What could result is changes for future — though consultant has glowing words to say about state's present plans.

Sense & Nonsense

U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Auto makers these days seem to be continually recalling their products to correct defects.

Likewise the manufacturers and a number of other businesses suffering the malady of supplying rapid demand with defective products.

I believe Congress should take a page from that recall primer.

Members of Congress are often afflicted with "legislationitis," or "rush-to-legislate," maladies that contribute to the burgeoning laws, rules and regulations that dominate our lives.

Because of the escalating number of bills, quality control is a stepchild in hand-me-down apparel.

The United States Senate, as envisioned by the Founding Fathers, was established as a deliberative body to enhance, modify, or even axe legislation proposed by the House of Representatives.

As we're all well aware, the upper chamber has evolved into much more than that.

We are besieged by legislative proposals from all corners. Great ideas hatched by brilliant minds.

But those great ideas that result in legislation are often later amended by their own authors. In the real world the laws were simply unworkable. And, worse, they have often harmed the very people they intended to help.

Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, has proposed a "sunset" provision for various types of legislation. But I wonder how well even this good idea will work in the chaotic world of the Senate, where we have little time for a good first view of the programs, let alone effective "oversight."

Now comes proposed Senate rules changes that would make it easier for laws to be passed, through debate limitations and amended cloture rules.

What we need are fewer laws, not more. And I intend to fight rules changes that will make it easier to add to the glut of legislation.

The American Council on Education's Higher Education Panel has recently completed a study which shows that 48 percent of colleges and universities that award professional degrees, or degrees above the master's level, have at least one formal program specifically designed for female or minority graduate students.

A report entitled "Special Programs for Female and Minority Graduate Students" is available from the Higher Education Panel, American Council on Education, 1 Dupont Circle, Washington, D.C. 20036.

This item recently appeared in the Washington Post. I pass it on to give you an idea of how things function here:

Overheard on a House subway car:

Sen. Paul E. Tsongas, D-Mass., visiting with a former House colleague, was asked how he had missed the assignment he had sought to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"I had the commitments. I just didn't have the votes," replied Tsongas.

"I didn't know there was a difference," said a colleague.

"Neither did I," sighed Tsongas.

ANOTHER SHOT HEARD

Recently, the House Assassinations Committee was prepared to conclude that nothing it had unearthed in a two-year investigation was sufficient to shake the Warren Commission's finding that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, killed John F. Kennedy. Now, on the basis of last-minute testimony by two acoustical experts, the committee is compelled to deduce that a second gunman fired on the presidential motorcade in Dealey Plaza.

Inasmuch as this latter determination virtually coincided with the expiration of the committee's operational authority, we think the Justice Department should pursue this momentous evidentiary thread.

The committee concluded as much in its formal report to the Justice Department. Specifically, the committee recommended that the department and the National Science Foundation study the tape recording of the Dallas motorcycle policeman's radio transmissions using the sophisticated sound-enhancement technology now available. It was the computer-aided scrutiny of this tape that led the two acoustical experts to conclude, with 95 percent certainty, that four shots were fired at President Kennedy's limousine and that one shot came from the grassy knoll adjacent to the motorcade's route.

The committee did not ask that the case be officially reopened — only that the acoustical evidence be evaluated. Whether this evaluation would justify another official chapter in the search for the truth about President Kennedy's assassination must await further developments.

Justice Department spokesmen have already said that re-investigation of the entire case is unlikely. They reason that the trail is 16 years cold and many witnesses have died or suffer from memories dimmed by time. None of this, however, dithes the department's responsibility to conduct its own careful analysis of significant new evidence available to previous investigators. This accomplished, the department can then reach a reasoned judgment on whether to proceed further.

The committee's case for an official review of the assassination of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. seems less compelling. The committee found overwhelming evidence pointing to James Earl Ray as the assassin. The circumstantial evidence of a $50,000 bounty for King's murder involves two Missouri businessmen, both dead. Still there is some reason to suspect that Ray may have been assisted in his crime by members of his family.

For the Justice Department to decline whatever follow up might be appropriate based on the committee's work would only compound the shortcomings already apparent in official investigations of both tragedies. — News-Bulletin, Belen

editorial

Congratulations are due the Committee For Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (ComFIRE) for developing a fire protection and area evacuation plan of sufficient depth and adaptability that the State Division of Forestry presented them with a citation — the only one issued in New Mexico for a program developed during 1978.

As an action group, ComFIRE's major fire prevention efforts will be to establish a red flag alert during periods of extreme fire danger, to warn area residents that care must be exercised to prevent a forest fire.

Evacuation maps are being readied for general distribution here, delineating streets, roads and alternate routes that can be driven should a forest fire, or other disaster, necessitate evacuating area residents.

ComFIRE is a group that just didn't sit around deploring conditions and our susceptibility to forest fire — they got busy and did something about it, something that might save lives and property should a major fire occur.

This group is due the personally expressed gratitude of each of us who own property here and call Ruidoso "home", whether as year around or seasonal residents.

ON HIGHWAY 37

The best news for Highway 37 users . . . that's the main drag covering the length of Sudderth/Mechem . . . since last fall is the fact that Highway Department personnel . . . from the safety to engineering divisions . . . are considering striping this thoroughfare with an epoxy based paint.

And may we all have the pleasure of seeing this done, just as soon as weather conditions . . . and any and all other conditions . . . are suitable and met.

This stretch of state-highway must be responsible for more headaches . . . in the Highway Department . . . than any other section of road that long in the state . . . lending credence to the rumor that these stalwarts' intake of aspirin surpasses that of all other departments.

And there really can be none that can complain of the efforts expended by the department over the past more than two years to make Sudderth/Mechem a safe road.

We've enjoyed the benefits of an outstanding resurfacing job that is standing up well . . . after more than two years of use . . . maybe, even, abuse.

Since that road was laid, crews have spent a lot of time and money striping the street . . . and trying to provide lasting traffic lanes . . . even to putting in the reflector system . . . that just didn't get the job done . . . due to mud, chains, moisture conditions and lack of a method to keep them clean.

Sure . . . we all gripe . . . and holler . . . and moan . . . like a tad getting his hand caught in the mouse trap in the cookie jar . . . and these complaints might be well justified . . . 'cause driving on Highway 37 here can be mighty hairy . . . night time . . . rain time . . . snow time . . . mud time . . . anytime the sun isn't shining and visibility's unlimited.

So . . . by jinkies . . . let's hear it for the Highway Department . . . not forgetting our village dads . . . and the street maintenance crews . . . for their past efforts on our behalf . . . made with genuine sincerity.

Let us also hope that the epoxy paint striping will work . . . and last . . . and maybe even . . . in terms of money spent and time expended . . . really pay for itself . . . and, it's just possible a long lasting application . . . might keep drivers in the proper lane . . . if they was disposed so to do . . . if'n the lane markers were clearly visible at all times . . . even half visible.

Why the idea isn't out of the realm of possibility that an oil/chip coat could be applied . . . then epoxy striping . . . and provide dust-free safe driving . . . so we could all concentrate more on what we can gripe about to village and county officials . . . something that tends to be overlooked . . . considering the flood . . . water . . . sewer . . . taxes and other problems plaguing us.

GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY

The observance of Washington's Birthday Monday resulted in a day's respite from worldly cares for postmen . . . bankers . . . federal employees . . . and others.

And there's nothing wrong with this . . . unless those benefitting make too many comments about having to work twice as hard the next day . . . to make up for the day they got paid for not working.

For the village employees . . . well . . . they labored just like the rest of us, for whom Monday was just that . . . and not a holiday.

Now the banks being closed is understandable . . . being as George is the fellow that flung that dollar across that river . . . and perhaps each bank president . . . and chairman of the board . . . spent the day trying to devise methods to again make a dollar go that far. With or without horse liniment.

The fact that Continental Telephone Company employees enjoyed Monday as a holiday is another matter. It'd be easy to understand if'n they closed on Alexander Graham Bell's birthday . . . Thomas Edison's even . . . but Washington's? . . . Gadszooks . . . the connection just doesn't ring true . . . but all of us . . . in the jargon of telephone use of years ago . . . sure had the "ring off" Monday . . . yes?

ON LOCAL EVENTS

All personnel involved . . . from damage surveyors to those doing mundane paper work . . . are getting the loss figures from the December flood into such shape that soon there may be financial aid coming to sufferers.

The biggest blow . . . to some . . . is that they just couldn't make a loss claim . . . come up with a dollar amount . . . and pick up a check in a few days . . . from the public coffers.

However . . . indications are that . . . in this instance, at least . . . the bureaucracy is working . . . and that there'll be some financial aid forthcoming . . . and that should take some of the sting out of the flood losses. 'Course there'll be those as will feel they shoulda got more . . . and if'n they'd a got more, whatya bet they'd complain because they didn't get more?

ON OTHER EVENTS

Considering Mexico's oil . . . China and Vietnam . . . Egypt and Israel . . . and the lack of a demand for peanuts as an exchange commodity . . . if'n you want to feel sorry for someone . . . other than yourself . . . there's no better man than Our Jimmy . . . who just might need a lot more than our sympathy . . . if'n he's gonna call the White House home for nearly another six years.

BRIEF BIT: Nothing's more frustrating, at the time, than trying to inflate one of those new-fangled flat spare tires, to change a flat, in the dark of the moon in the middle of a puddle of mud, when you shoulda been home two hours before . . . CD

Sunland Park Hoofbeats

BY KAREN HALLORAN
MOON LARK, the All-American Futurity winner and the Sunland Fall Futurity winner, became the second richest quarter horse in racing history with a win in the $100,000 Horsemen's Quarter Horse Racing Association's Championship at Los Alamitos. Moon Lark's earnings of $435,582 are now surpassed only by Easy Date ($449,709). And Moon Lark II be invited to the Los Alamitos Champion of Champions as a result of that victory.

TRAINER JERRY LEE JAMISON, son of Johnnie Jamison, was involved in a car accident over the weekend and is in the intensive care unit of Providence Memorial Hospital. He's listed in serious condition. The 20-year-old conditioner trains several horses at Sunland, including Go Scooper who holds the seasonal record for 870 yards at 45.41 seconds. Sunland fans will be backing his recovery all the way.

SUNLAND'S SWIFT MUTUEL pace continues to click along, thanks to $324,844 chalked up Saturday and $360,844 registered Sunday. The Sunday handle was the second-best of the 1978-79 meeting, and the fourth-best in Sunland history. The daily wagering average is now $242,833, a gain of 9.2 percent over last year's comparable $222,359. The current betting-percentage average is $21,481. Last year at this time, it was $19,169.

PLENTY OF LONGSHOTS hit the board over the weekend, but the top win payoff was returned on Nature Lover in Friday's 11th race. The gelding went off at 28-1 odds in the 5 1/2 furlong spin and rolled in with a three length lead to pay $58. The second place spot was filled by Bold Sides, also at high odds, and that sent the Big Q betting into a tailspin. Along with Come While You Can and Determined Two in the second half, the foursome returned $8,781.40 to two lucky Big Q ticketholders.

APPRENTICE JOEL SHERMAN took his second win at Sunland in Sunday's sixth race and his mount returned a high mutual payoff as well. Sherman, son of well known jockey Joe Sherman, directed Sally Quest to a 1 1/4 length score in the quick 870 yard tour for a win payoff of $20.80. Joel previously triumphed January 7 on maiden winner Bo.

THE FIRST DEAD HEAT for show of the spring season turned up in Saturday's fourth race. The top two finishers in the highly contested mile route were separated by only a nose. But Emzle (6-1) and Bar Ralph (6-1) proved inseparable for the third position. Emzle returned a mutual payoff of $2.40, while Bar Ralph paid $2.20.

DONNA STAMP'S SMILING face will no longer be in evidence at the Sunland Park racetrack office. When Donna resigned last weekend to accept a position at the nearby G.B. Howell breeding farm, Sunland lost one of its excellent behind-the-scenes workers. Donna has toiled as nominations secretary as well as handling various other duties for horsemen at Sunland and Ruidoso Downs for the past 10 years.

TRAINER J.B. MONTGOMERY again sent out a victor in the two-year-old quarter horse category Sunday. Speedy Abe, with jockey Darrell Blevins at the helm, turned in a time of 17.83 seconds on the off track for a length victory in the quick 330 yard dash. Other Montgomery charges who've won the recent tests are Bells 2 Bug and Rocket Jet Bug.

APPRENTICE MICHAEL LIDBERG, son of steward Richard Lidberg, took his first ride in Saturday's seventh race. But the young helmsman found the going pretty tough. He piloted 24-1 outsider Gonno Be Somebody in the six furlong test and finished out of contention. Richard Lidberg was formerly a highly successful jockey himself.

THE LONGEST VICTORY MARGIN of the three days of racing was turned in by First Envoy in Saturday's first race as the gelding chalked up his initial win. Bet down to the 6-5 favorite, First Envoy led wire-to-wire to finish with 8 1/2 lengths to spare. Danny Summerow was the jockey.

HORSE COMING OUT of the No. 6 post over the weekend reached the winner's circle six times to set the pace in that category. From a seasonal standpoint, No. 7 has the lead with 70 wins. Here are the seasonal totals: No. 1 — 81, No. 2 — 63, No. 3 — 57, No. 4 — 64, No. 5 — 63, No. 6 — 57, No. 7 — 70, No. 8 — 67, No. 9 — 51, No. 10 — 41, No. 11 — 0, No. 12 — 1.

4 "What Cost Convenience?"

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs reminds us that while modern food technology has provided us with many convenience products that can save us time we, as consumers, should consider the "trade-offs." For example, frozen vegetables in a cream sauce offer a time-saving convenience but by taking a few extra minutes of your time, you can eliminate the additional cost of this "service."

In most cases, preparing food from "scratch" will cost you less and you may be serving food with better flavor and at least comparable quality.

If you have the time and the few additional ingredients you'll need to have on hand for cooking dishes from "scratch," you'll find yourself striking a telling blow against inflation.

Next week's Inflation Fighting Idea: "NO MATTER HOW YOU SLICE IT, IT'S CHEAPER IF YOU SLICE IT."

together, we can be INFLATION FIGHTERS!
