RUIDOSO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO 88345

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1979

JUNIOR OLYMPIC SKIER LON NUNLEY

Lon Nunley makes Junior Olympic team

Lon Nunley, a 14-year-old freshman at Ruidoso High School, earned a spot on the Junior Olympic ski team with a third place finish Saturday in the slalom at the junior trials at Aspen, Colorado.

The placement earned Nunley a spot on the team which will compete at the 1980 Winter Olympic site, Squaw Valley, California. The Junior Olympics will be held there March 12-19. Nunley will stay in the dormitories that housed the 1980 participants along with 80 other 14 to 16-year-olds from all over the United States.

Nunley is one of only two New Mexicans to make the team and he is one of a very few that is only 14-years-old. Nunley, who will receive coaching from coaches from Aspen, Vail and Boulder, Colorado will compete in the downhill, slalom and giant slalom. In the trials last week, Nunley finished ninth in the downhill.

A member of the Ruidoso Junior Racers coached by Chuck Bent and sponsored by Ray Heid, Nunley will depart from Denver March 11 and return to Denver March 19. Although the berth on the team does not assure Nunley of a spot on future Olympic teams, his father, L. Ray Nunley, admitted it makes the prospect a realistic goal.

Taste treat fete planned

Restaurant owners in Ruidoso are currently working to make two culinary events a reality for the fall. Probably the most ambitious of the two projects has been titled "A Taste of Ruidoso," which has been scheduled for Sunday, October 21.

Members of the Restaurant Owners Association, meeting Monday afternoon, said they hoped to arrange for rental of the sale barn at the racetrack for the occasion.

Melinda Hall of Nottingham's, who has participated in a similar event in Dallas, gave an informal presentation based on that experience, with suggestions for the group to consider.

Booths will probably be constructed, with decorated facades whose design would suggest an actual storefront or the general atmosphere or specialties of the restaurant.

Hall also suggested the booths might be placed to suggest a little "town of restaurants," possibly with a central display table in addition to the booths. A cash bar would also be provided.

Other suggestions included booking a band in order to hold a dance following the serving, the possibility of having local artists stage an exhibit in conjunction with the other activities, and compilation of a booklet of local restaurant recipes to be sold during the festivities.

Seven restaurants were represented at the meeting, and the owners agreed to urge participation by other restaurateurs. A letter to that effect is currently being drafted by co-chairman Cliff Allen of Nob Hill and Junior McManus of Issac's.

Menus for the evening will be submitted by the participants, and a ceiling amount will be set at a later meeting to equalize expenditures by the restaurants. The limit was to be set so that the larger restaurants wouldn't "outshine" the smaller ones.

Plans for the event will be finalized by mid-July, and an admission charge established.

The group also heard a report from Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth on the plans for the Aspencade barbecue. Gail Adams of Sonny's Barbecue, Jungbluth said, had offered to prepare the meal at cost, with profits from the venture going to the Chamber.

Tickets for the barbecue will probably be pre-sold at $3.75 per plate, along with a less expensive child's plate. The meal, which will be held after the Aspencade Parade, will include beef, beans, slaw, bread, pickles, onions, set-ups and iced tea.

Several of those present agreed to help with the food preparation, and Jungbluth said he hoped to find volunteers to serve.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES ANNOUNCED

Red Flag Fire Alert readied

For the first time in the Ruidoso area a positive plan for action and reaction, when fire potential conditions are extreme, is ready to be put into effect instantaneously when an emergency situation arises.

This plan for Ruidoso and area was developed by the Committee For Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (ComFIRE), with the cooperation and assistance of the New Mexico Division of State Forestry and Lincoln National Forest Service personnel. ComFIRE's principal role will be to intensify fire detection and public information efforts and to act as a deterrent to potential arsonists.

When put into effect, the Red Flag Fire Alert will activate fire prevention activities, advise fire suppression crews of extreme fire conditions and, through radio, keep the public advised of the situation. The Red Flag Fire Alert plan supplements the Lincoln National Forest and New Mexico State Forestry plans that will be implemented when the alert is announced.

In the event of a Red Flag Fire Alert:

— AM stations KRRR, 1360 and Forest Information Radio, 1610, will play recorded Red Flag Alert Tapes and, should an emergency develop, both stations will broadcast accurate information on the situation.

— Local police and fire departments, the Ruidoso substation of the sheriff's office, State Police and Game and Fish officers will be notified.

— CB base stations will broadcast Red Flag Fire Alert messages.

— Red flags will be flown at Forest Service and State Forestry headquarters, at fire stations, village halls, banks and other businesses as well as from the Ruidoso fire lookout station.

— Designated vehicles, dispatched to survey the area for forest fires, will bear 12 x 18-inch red flags, mounted on brackets.

"This portion of the plan is to alert every person in the general vicinity of Ruidoso that extreme fire conditions prevail, to the end that, should a forest fire occur plans can be made for evacuation of threatened areas over routes that will be marked.

To launch the plan, the Red Flag coordinator will base the need on temperature, relative humidity, wind speed, fuel and moisture. If the conditions indicate extreme danger, the Red Flag Fire Alert will be called.

Consideration will be given to such risks as population density in the affected areas and the availability of fire suppression forces. Once the alert is called, the Red Flag Alert Cooperators, who have been assigned specific functions, will be notified.

The Red Flag Alert Cooperators include:

— New Mexico Division of State Forestry and the United States Department of Agriculture Forest Service;

— Lincoln County Sheriff and county road department;

— Villages of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs; New Mexico State Police, New Mexico Department of Game and Fish and New Mexico Environmental Improvement Agency;

— Bonito Volunteer Fire Department; Continental Telephone Company, Community Public Service Company, Otero County Electric Co-op and Ruidoso Natural Gas Company;

— White Mountain Search and Rescue, Ruidoso CB Club, KRRR radio and pre-selected businesses with flag poles or flag holders.

As soon as the Emergency Evacuation Routes are established, and marked, the following conditions will prevail:

— In the event of any fire, tune to KRRR 1360 AM or the Forest Information Radio 1610 AM.

— In the event of a major fire night or day necessitating leaving your home or the area, information will be given over KRRR or the Forest Radio.

— Residents should drive the routes in their area to become familiar with the evacuation routes. The routes are based on the most likely direction from which a major forest fire might come.

Some intersections will serve as Traffic Control Points and will be closed to through traffic in the event of a major fire to allow entrance of fire fighting equipment.

Under some circumstances, routes other than those marked may be used, in which event KRRR and the Forest Radio would broadcast information designating routes to be used.

"We're going to launch an all out educational effort for the benefit of us all in the event of forest fire," ComFIRE member Herb Brunell said, "and we'll distribute maps and other information throughout the area just as soon as fire season arrives; and prior to that time if possible.

"We're also asking everyone to cooperate fully with the Red Flag Fire Alert, should it be necessary to put the plan into effect."

(Additional information, to clip and file, will appear in The News as it is released.)

P & Z reverses replat decision

The Planning and Zoning Commission Wednesday voted to reverse and return to the status quo an earlier ruling allowing a request for a replat in Skylands Subdivision.

The commission learned that the request for replat by Sonja Hartront was illegal because the land she requested a replat of was not owned by her. The owners notified village hall and the action to return the property to its status before the initial request was approved.

The commission, chaired by Mike Waldron, admonished Hartront for seeking the replat without ownership of the property. Further action by the commission is pending a conference with village attorney Ron Harris.

Lodgers group eyes road work

The deterioration of State Highway 532, leading to Sierra Blanca Ski Resort, was discussed during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Lodgers Committee of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Committee member Slover Cape said, "The traffic potential to Sierra Blanca is unlimited, once there is a safe road to the ski area for our skiers to travel."

Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth, who is compiling statistics on travel to the ski area, skiers accommodated and travel miles logged, was authorized by the committee to pursue "every avenue available" to have Highway 532 resurfaced, with new safety installations, as soon as possible.

"What the road needs," Jungbluth said, "is to be completely rebuilt, including a new base. Highway officials have told me that this cannot be done immediately, due to budgetary problems, but that maintenance, patching and other repairs will be continued as funds are available."

Projected expansion and upgrading of facilities at Sierra Blanca Ski Area, Jungbluth said to the committee, "demands that something be done to this road. We're able to accommodate thousands more skiers every season, so far as our housing and restaurant facilities are concerned, but can't make the move to bring the people, with the tax revenues they'll produce for the state, until we can provide them with a safe road to the area.

"We aren't asking for a four-lane road. All we want is to have the present two-lane road made safe. And, believe me, every effort will be expended to make the highway department officials realize that our request is justified."

Heart attack claims skier

An Ohio skier was pronounced dead on arrival at the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital shortly after 11 a.m. Wednesday. Police reports indicated that Barry Lee Sedoris, 35, of Alliance, Ohio suffered an apparent heart attack at the ski area, but refused ambulance service.

After he collapsed, he was taken to the hospital by law enforcement officers. Born December 18, 1943, he was a sales engineer for the B. F. Goodrich Company. Funeral services are pending at the Vogh-Gednetz Funeral Home in Sebring, Ohio.

Man killed in hit-and-run

A 29-year-old Mescalero man was reportedly struck and killed by a car in a hit-and-run accident about 12:30 a.m. Monday.

The man, who was unofficially identified as Gordon Yahnahki, was said to be walking along the highway near the 244 mile marker when he was struck.

Mescalero police are continuing the investigation of the accident.

Chamber airing insurance plan at library tonight

Blue Cross and Blue Shield (BC) representatives will present a group insurance plan to members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce at 8 tonight in the multipurpose room of the Ruidoso Public Library.

Coverage will be available to all Chamber members, including group insurance for employees of firms belonging to the Chamber, if the businesses subscribe to the plan.

After the initial presentation of the coverage to be offered, BC representatives Kenneth Tiker and Mary City of Roswell will conduct an open session to answer questions pertaining to the plan.

"Your Chamber," executive secretary Ed Jungbluth said, "is urging the entire membership to consider this insurance."

Health group to nominate board members

The nominating committee of the Lincoln County Mental Health Association met Monday night to select candidates for the Board of Directors. Eleven names have been chosen so far, with possible additions to the list to be made before Monday.

The association will hold a general meeting for the purpose of electing the 6-member board Monday at 7:30 p.m., in the Fair Building at Capitan. Two board members each will be elected from Ruidoso, Capitan and Carrizozo.

Handicapped skiers place high

Three Ruidoso handicapped racers placed highly in early competition at the Handicapped National Championships in Winter Park, Colorado, running through Saturday.

All three winners were in the blind competition with other handicap races being held later in the week. Raul Midon won a first place finish in class "C" with a time of 1:49.41. Marco Midon tacked up a third place finish in the junior men's call "B" championship with a 90.7 and Duran DuBois captured a second place finish in the junior men's "C" class races with a 1:54.14.

Races featuring amputee skiers are scheduled later in the week.

Ski report

The Sierra Blanca Ski Area reports an undisturbed snow depth of 98 inches midway on the mountain. No new snow has fallen the past week.

Surface conditions vary from "changeable spring snow" on the lower part of the mountain to packed powder on the upper slopes. The weather at report time was clear.

At the Ruidoso Ski Area, a base of 20 to 25 inches is reported. All slopes are open and all lifts operating. The road conditions are dry and the weather sunny. No chains are required.

Thursday morning's low was 22 degrees, following a high Wednesday of 63 degrees.

For skiing condition reports, call Sierra Blanca Ski Area, 257-9001, and Ruidoso Ski Area, 336-4211.

Easter egg hunt set

Formulation of plans for an upcoming Easter egg hunt was the major agenda item at a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Committee Monday.

The event was scheduled for Saturday, April 14, from ten a.m. to 12 noon. Separate hunting areas will be set up for children up to age six and for those seven years and older.

A final decision on the location of the hunt was not decided, though the choice was narrowed to either Schoolhouse Park by the Ruidoso Public Library or Two Rivers Park behind the Chamber of Commerce building.

Ed Jungbluth, executive director of the Chamber, reported that the village of Ruidoso had offered to provide manpower for the purpose of supervision or cleanup after the hunt.

Other arrangements are also being planned, including checking on the prices of eggs and seeking volunteer help with the dyeing.

The committee members agreed to check with local restaurant owners to see if they might donate time and labor to boil the eggs and provide a place to keep them refrigerated until needed.

The group also plans to acquire a number of plastic eggs which will contain certificates for prizes which they hope will be donated by local business people.

They also discussed contacting some of the local service clubs and organizations for donations. Jungbluth said the entire hunt would probably cost less than $200. It will be free to all children, and the group anticipates participation of children from Mescalero, Capitan and Carrizozo.

Mary Parsons agreed to coordinate the transportation of the eggs to and from the restaurants and the hunt.

In other business, Jungbluth reported he had been in touch with Jim Dennison of the state Highway Department. He said Dennison acknowledged the need for repairs to State Road 532, the ski area road, but added that the cost of the work would exceed current appropriations by about 200 percent.

The committee also briefly discussed the shabby appearance of some vacant buildings on Sudderti Drive and what might be done to improve their appearance.

Three students, Kerrie Prophet, Mike Hansen and DeAnna Hansen received superior ratings for their performances. Six students, Lou Ann Wilson, Kim Prophet, Eloy Almager, Marc Delhotal, Chris Johnson and Tina Killen all received excellent ratings for their performances. A trumpet duet by Margie Spear and Ronda Ratcliffe and a Tenor Sax solo by Laurie Snidow earned ratings of good.

Elks set spaghetti feed

The Ruidoso Elks have scheduled a spaghetti dinner from 11 a.m., to 2 p.m., and 4 to 8 p.m., Saturday, with all proceeds to the Elks National Foundation. (ENF). The ENF provides a continuing trust fund for youth scholarships, with over $400,000 distributed across the nation annually.

The Ruidoso Elks have sponsored Kelly Thomason of Ruidoso, winner of a $50 savings bond in the local ENF contest, as a candidate for a national scholarship. Advance tickets are available at the Elks Lodge on Highway 70 west, or from Elks members, at $2.50; with tickets to be $3 at the door.

"Elks National Foundation monies are returned proportionately to New Mexico lodges," Ruidoso's Exalted Ruler Rich Seeley said, "and your local lodge is urging the support of all area folks at our spaghetti dinner to help us offer scholarships to deserving students in New Mexico as well as nation wide."

Small town development discussed

BY GWYN JONES
Staff Writer/Photographer

The development of a strategy designed to bring about economic development and growth in small towns was the subject of a three-day workshop being held this week in Carrizozo.

The workshop was a project of the Western Rural Development Center, one of four centers established across the country following passage of the Rural Development Act of 1972.

Using Carrizozo as a model, the group of visiting economists, sociologists, extension officials and consultants said they hoped to "refine the approach" to economic development and find practical applications for whatever they learned here in their own areas.

Participants included Wayne Larson of Montana, Douglas Dunn of Arizona, Russ Youmans of Oregon, George Gault of Colorado and Clyde Eastman and Bob Coppedge, both of New Mexico State University (NMSU) in Las Cruces.

Coppedge said they hoped to see results of their efforts within six months, and one of the purposes of the session was to define two or three specific projects or goals on which to concentrate during the year.

Carlos Beltran of the Employment Securities Office in Ruidoso, who attended the Tuesday morning session, provided the specialists with information on the work force available in the county and some of the unusual aspects or qualities of the work force in different parts of the county.

In Ruidoso, there are substantial numbers of young people with two to four years of college who are willing to take menial jobs or whatever work is available in order to stay in the area.

Larson brought up the phenomena of deurbanization, which has resulted in the growth of small towns, especially those under 2,500 population. Beltran said he could testify to the validity of such processes. Many people who left Lincoln County ten years ago to escape the small-town life are now returning in search of a more rural lifestyle, he said.

He added that expansion of industry in the county might be partly dependent on the company's willingness to train individuals in the necessary skills.

Each of those present briefly outlined their particular area of interest or what they saw as the most important factor in achieving the goal of growth and development.

Dunn said he felt that "you can't begin to talk about economic development" without first obtaining basic statistics about the area concerned. He said often such statistics were overlooked or not compiled at all, whereas they should be the starting point for a project and essential to a successful one. Such "basics," he said, would include information on sales tax receipts, threshold analysis, motel occupancy and definition of the trade area.

Dunn said he also placed a strong emphasis on process, or how members of a community could contribute their special skills to a project. He said a cross section of the community should be involved in the development if at all possible, since often a handful of people take on all the responsibility for a project and eventually tire of it or become disillusioned by the lack of broad-based support.

Also under discussion at the workshop were the expansion patterns of existing businesses in rural communities. Fear of competition was seen as an important consideration especially in retail trade. A grocery store owner who stocks basic sporting goods items might not want to see that portion of his business taken from him by a new sporting goods store, even though the community as a whole might benefit from the added economic income.

Chain and franchise operations with few employees were cited as possible drains on a small-town economy, since merchandise or food items (in the case of a restaurant chain) cannot usually be supplied locally. That means money spent at a fast-food franchise establishment, for example, would probably go to out-of-town or even out-of-state wholesalers, negating many of the supposed benefits of a new business in the town.

A focus on the unique qualities of each town was also viewed as an important factor for growth and economic development. The specialists were to continue discussions Wednesday with the aim of turning the talks and research results into specific steps and plans which would help achieve the goals. The Tuesday session also included a walking tour of Carrizozo and meetings with town officials.

FACTS AND FIGURES concerning the labor force in Lincoln County were supplied by Carlos Beltran, left, to a group of professors and researchers who held a workshop on small town economic development in Carrizozo this week. At right is Wayne Larson of Montana. Beltran is head of the Employment Securities office in Ruidoso.

Sheriff's staff at full strength

Lincoln County sheriff Ernest Sanchez has announced that his complement of deputies is full, thus offering complete county wide service for the first time since January 1 when sheriff Sanchez took office.

The staff of deputies includes: Carrizozo and Corona, James McSwane and Bill Hasenbuhler; Captain, Charles Engelking; and Ruidoso and Hondo, O.S. Montes, Duane Skellett, Chris Volquardsen, Lucas Gallegos and John Cupp.

"My goal as sheriff," Sanchez said, "is to give the citizens of Lincoln County the best protection and service they have ever had from this department."

The sheriff said that an Albuquerque juvenile was arrested recently in connection with the theft of a bulldozer from a mine site west of Carrizozo. The machine was moved 18 miles across country, causing extensive damage to fences, cattle guards and pastures. The bulldozer was found abandoned in a ravine on the Bonaranch, north of Carrizozo. Criminal damage to property charges were filed against the juvenile at the completion of the investigation, Sanchez said.

Sheriff Sanchez is attending a meeting of the New Mexico Sheriff's Association in Santa Fe today.

"In line with keeping up with the latest in law enforcement practices," Sanchez said, "chief deputy Montes and I attended a three day supervisor's school at the New Mexico Law Enforcement Academy at Santa Fe. So far as possible, I will have all of my deputies attend similar schools, that we can better serve the needs of Lincoln County by having the best qualified deputies we can put on duty."

Preparing to exhibit their art at the Ruidoso Public Library are these students, from left, Cathy Tyson, Michelle Kannady and Raymond Smalley. The works will be on display throughout March, and open house will be held both March 10 and March 31.

PREPARING FOR EXHIBITS of their artwork are these White Mountain Middle School students, from left, Bob Dominguez, Terry Brown and John Hamilton. Open house will be held at the Ruidoso Public Library March 10 and 31, at which time students will be on hand to guide visitors through the exhibit, which is being held in observance of National Student Art Month. Terry and John are shown with plexiglass paintings of their own design, while Bob displays a ceramic piece made by Greg Nunnally.

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Melvin Bradley It was good to see so many at the services held down at Tinnie and Hondo on March the first for our good friend of many years, Melvin Bradley. Melvin was called home to our Lord on February twenty six.

He was born in Grayson county, Texas December six, 1909, and came to Hondo in 1946 where he established Bradley's garage. A life-long resident of Hondo, Melvin has been a helpful friend to folks from all over the county and also to travelers from all over the nation. He will be kindly remembered always and we take comfort in knowing that our dear friend, Melvin, is safe and happy with Our Lord in Heaven, in company with friends and loved ones who have welcomed him there.

The World Awakens

In Joyful March - Our hearts begin to beat a little higher each day in March as we feel the new life stirring within us, and see the world awakening joyfully on every hand. You might say in March the world begins to march. We hear the music of approaching Spring within our soul, and feel the drumming rhythm of the quickening of the worlds pulse softly beating in our hearts.

The pink blossom buds on the apricots are swelling, eager to burst forth into bloom. Up from the river drifts the incense of the new leaf buds of the cottonwoods - a message that brings a thrill of happiness to your heart and a lightness to your step. You are filled with the new strength awakening throughout all the world.

Anniversaries of March In the history of our nation many important things took place in March. The first constitutional congress was held March four, 1789 in Philadelphia. The first telephone conversation was in March ten, 1876. And the Girl Scouts was founded on March twelve, 1912. Andrew Jackson's birthday was March 15, 1767.

Saint Patrick's Day

A great day throughout the world is the celebration of Saint Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, on March seventeen. We all remember to wear something green in honor of the good saint of the Emerald Isle.

Saint Patrick's Day is a great celebration in our beloved nation. With parades and other rejoicing we pay tribute to Americans descended from our citizens who came across the waters from Green Ireland. And all over the world, hearts become light in honoring Saint Patrick and the Light-hearted folks of Old Erin.

The Little historic community of San Patricio will blossom forth in the new green of early leaves, and in remembrances of the saint whose name it bears.

The first day of Spring

This is being sent to you on March five, and by the time these words reach you, we will have only twelve days of winter left.

There is a saying that if March comes in like a Lion it will go out like a lamb. And the other way around. This March has not been much like a lion. The wind has not roared down the vale as in years past. Still it has been unusually cold.

Jack Frost knows what he is doing. He is trying to protect the fruit blossoms. The next time I see him, I will ask him about the weather ahead.

Keep smiling, and God bless you.

School Scoop

A Weekly Activities Column Written by Ruidoso High School Journalism Students

CLEP testing for college bound seniors will be conducted March 16, or April 20. Testing will be held at the Roswell campus of Eastern New Mexico University in the Learning Resource Center and will be held from 8-12 noon and 1 p.m.-4 p.m., the same day. General exams cost $40 and consist of five areas. High grades on this test may result in a student being exempt from some or all of his classes as a college freshman. Students who plan to take this test should pick up registration forms from the counselor, fill them out and return them to the testing center on the day of the test. The results will take approximately one and one half to two months.

45 students from R.H.S. will attend the state DECA conference March 13 and 14 in Roswell. The activities begin Tuesday with the competency events, written events interviews, competency written tests and the chapter advisor meeting. Tuesday night there will be a disco from Eastern New Mexico University. Wednesday the activities begin with a judges/advisors breakfast, competency events, written events interviews, officer elections, recognition banquet and the awards session.

The top six students from each event will advance to nationals May 8-13 in Houston, Texas. Cash prizes will be presented to some of the winners.

One new student enrolled in RHS this week, she is Dana Hatch, a sophomore from Las Cruces.

Even though Easter Vacation isn't till about a month away, many plans are being made for that week. There will be no school the week of April 16 through April 20. The students will return to classes Monday, April 23.

The RHS girls' basketball team won third place in the Regional basketball tournament in Questa last weekend.

In the first round of action, Questa won over Ruidoso 55-46. Lori Swain had 14 points, Kristi Perryman 13 and Lisa Shaw 10. In the second game, Escalante lost to Ruidoso 60-57. Kristi Perryman came away with high point honors of 29, followed by Lisa Shaw with 10, Lori Swain and Kelly Cothrun each with seven.

Kristi Perryman made the Regional All-Tournament team. This ends the basketball season for the Ruidoso girls' team.

The meeting Monday was held at K-Bob's Steak House with a good attendance of the members. It was brought out in the meeting that everyone with or without a C.B. does not know or understand the F.C.C. rules so it was decided that twice a month our meeting would be devoted to a portion of the F.C.C. rules.

The coffee break will start Friday at 6 p.m., and to until 6 a.m. The same hours will apply Saturday and Sunday. All members interested in keeping our club in the same format that it is now, a social club, rather than one filled with rules and regulations, please attend the next meeting at the Chaparral.

If you were at the meeting Monday, everyone was glad to see you, but if you were unable to come, we missed you. See you soon.

Journey to Aspencade full of obstacles

BY CARL F. MURRAY

[Murray is an oldtime motorcycle enthusiast who gave up the hobby for 30 years. On nothing more than a whim, he decided to resume his old hobby. He could find no better way than to rekindle his passion for motorcycle traveling than by taking a trip to the famed Aspencade. His story follows.]

First of a series.

The idea of riding two thousand miles to participate in a Motorcyclist Convention wouldn't have occurred to me a few years ago. It isn't unusual for business executives of retirement age to not have such ideas. Yet early in 1976 the idea of attending the Aspencade — Motorcyclist Convention in Ruidoso, New Mexico — hit me hard and wouldn't go away. To humor it I paid my convention fees and made a room reservation at the Chaparral, Aspencade Headquarters, many months in advance of the October 3-7 event. And I scheduled a week of my vacation to coincide. As time went on my commitment to go became stronger instead of fading as I thought it might.

Would my 550 cc bike be adequate for the trip? Yes, but...and my thoughts turned to the big motorcycles I'd ridden as a kid. My last trip of any magnitude had been from Houston to Chicago and back in 1936 on a Harley 80" of that year. The merits of ample weight and power had been made evident on some of the worst "depression" highways of that era. Convinced that a bigger machine would contribute to my enjoyment of the coming trip, I was soon astride Honda's biggest touring — a Gold Wing, reasonably well equipped for the length of my planned four.

Preparation is certainly part of the fun of anticipation. What I couldn't do to prepare the bike — which had 10,000 miles on it — I had the dealer perform. I thought it prudent to buy, and pack, spare clutch and the cables, front and rear spare tubes, and a number of other items suggested by friends and my own long-past experience. Hellarc welding restored a cracked luggage rack to which a truck was mounted — and stuffed.

With a riding wardrobe expanded to include a heavy leather jacket, gaitlet gloves, sweaters and thermal underwear, it was expected the advertised chill of New Mexico mountains should hold no terrors.

Daily jogging (well, almost daily), setting-up exercises and regular hours were designed to build physical stamina equal to the demands of a long motorcycle ride by one more accustomed to riding behind a desk than a fairing. Happily, putting miles on the Gold Wing at every week-end opportunity was itself an important conditioning and familiarization process. I early learned, for example, never park "nose down" where reverse is required to get out. Park where your one-manpower reverse is called on to cope with an uphill path and you discover that "GL-1000" translates, "Gravity Load-One Thousand Pounds."

THE AUTHOR OF THIS STORY, CARL MURRAY (second from left) poses in 1930 with the group of friends he rode motorcycles with. None of his long-ago companions were able to make the trek to Aspencade with Murray last fall, but Murray did inform them of the trip, although he hasn't seen many of his buddies in

With wife Mary's blessing, I departed on September 30th — after a few hours delay to locate an elusive last-minute short in the brake lights. Destination Canyon Lake, and a dinner date with son (Jim) and his lovely wife (Brenda) to celebrate completion of the short 200 plus mile first leg of the journey to Ruidoso. Then two pleasant days with the Jim Murray's in the beautiful Texas Hill Country around Canyon Lake before having to ponder the problem of how to best repair the broken welds on a loaded aluminum luggage rack.

Monday morning, alone, loaded, and ready to seek a hellarc welder, I became frustratingly aware that I'd forgotten to heed the lesson to never park where reversing uphill was necessary. There was no way I could back the bike from a mounted position. With the bike's supporting side stand giving ground grudgingly, I pushed mightily from the front until I felt I'd backed it far enough. While inching around to the point where I could remount the machine, an undetected slight forward roll down the incline was enough to collapse the kickstand. I suddenly found myself in an awkward position, unexpectedly obliged to keep some seven or eight hundred pounds of leaning motorcycle from literally getting the upper hand. Out of sheer necessity, I succeeded in righting it, but the effort was strenuous.

A visit to an auto repair shop run by a motorcyclist friend of Jim's brought little encouragement. Abandoning the idea of rewelding the rack, I rode ten miles to the other side of the lake where lives in blissful retirement a former motorcyclist, welder and all 'round mechanical genius who is a lifelong friend. Otto "Windy" Paulaskas came up with a double turnbuckle solution to the broken rack. His crude but effective rigging held things together nicely for the 1800 plus miles remaining before my return home.

Fort Stockton's Holiday Inn was home for the night of October 2nd. Morning saw many miles of quite dense fog enroute. It began to clear at Pecos, Texas and the sun shone as I crossed the New Mexico border. Through Carlsbad and Artesia on Highway 285 to Roswell, where I stopped for lunch and gasoline, the weather continued good. Strangely, few motorcycles were seen on the road until Roswell, perhaps seventy miles from Ruidoso.

Leaving Roswell and gradually gaining altitude, it wasn't long before it became obvious the husky Honda was losing power. My first thought was altitude must be the culprit affecting the fuel mixture. Bumping and jerking, my road speed dropped steadily, suspiciously like running out of gas, rather than an overly rich mixture. I tried to choke and got a little initial encouragement, but power continued to fade until the engine quit on a slight downgrade, of which there were few on this mountain road.

Never having won any trophies for expertise as a motorcycle mechanic, I had no choice but to apply what little practical knowledge I had acquired, to locate the problem. Taking the precaution to place my helmet on the side of the road as a mild distress signal, I made sure there was gas in the tank and no breaks in the fuel line. Hearing the welcome sound of a pair of motorcycles cutting throttle, I looked up and was rewarded with the pleasant sight of two U-turning bikes heading my way. But even our pooled know-how proved short on finding a solution. My Good Samaritans suggested I try to make the 12 or 15 miles to a service station ahead. I hit the starter button and was pleasantly surprised when the engine came to life. A mile or two at most and it was plain my troubles had not been left behind. Choking, bouncing, banking the bike and alternating verbal praise and abuse as we jerked and sputtered along did little good. There's not much room on mountain roads for sudden and unplanned parking, but when you gotta stop, you stop. And my new-found helpmates from Odessa, Texas — Bud Widner on a beautiful hybrid Harley-with-a-Gold Wing-engine, and Jim Seward on a BMW — stopped with me. On one of these frequent enforced stops we thought we'd found the cause. Again disconnecting the fuel line, no gas flowed until the gas cap was removed. Aha! Vent in fuel cap plugged. Remove cap, gas flow, engine rapped. Fine theory, but it didn't work.

Slowly by jumps, like a frog-a-walkin', made it to a gas station with a small auto repair shop. I thanked Bud and Jim and they finally went on at my urging.

By now all of you mechanically gifted types know what this problem was. But I had to work in the hot sun until I finally found gasoline was not passing through the fuel filter. I had picked up trash and perhaps some water in my gas. My auto mechanic host put an air hose to the filter and — ssshh! — all clear! (This removed the obstruction but de-filtered the filter which, at this point, disturbed me not at all.)

I arrived in Ruidoso (actually, Ruidoso Downs. At the Chaparral Motel, Aspencade Headquarters, is next door to the horse race track) about 4:00 p.m. The odometer read 891 miles from my driveway in Friendswood (suburb of Houston).

Fish biting despite cold

Anglers, brought out by occasional warm days and the opening of several northern New Mexico lakes, are taking advantage of early season fishing and licenses that are good for another month, through March 31.

"Early in the season, when the lakes and streams are still cold, fish are sluggish, but they're hungry," said R.L. Brashears, chief of the Game and Fish Department's Fisheries Division. "Our officers have checked good numbers of fishermen, and have found quite a few are catching fish — including some limits of trout."

Field reports indicate that if the weather holds, such as salmon eggs and worms, are consistently popular with anglers and seem to be producing steadily.

"Patience is important at this time of year — along with some warm clothes," Brashears said. "The fish are slow to bite, but it's apparent that they are biting."

He said fishing will improve as the waters warm up later in the year, and that the expected high runoff should redistribute fish throughout the streams. "I expect a good fishing season," Brashears said. "The streams will probably be high and murky later into the year than they have been, but even if they're not as pretty they'll probably produce more fish."

In addition to redistributing fish, he said, darker water helps hide the angler, especially from wary trout.

"We should find good effects by the fisheries from this high runoff for several years to come," Brashears said. "Not only should the fishing be good this year, but it's likely that the spawns will be more successful than usual, and there will be more fish."

Law violator draws $50 fine

A Fence Lake man paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty to illegal possession of big game before Grants Magistrate John V. Horacek in a case brought about by an Operation Game Thief (OGT) call almost a year ago.

Operation Game Thief coordinator Dan Pursley said OGT caller No. 236 was paid $250 for the information, which also involved allegations of violations of federal law, the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1918. Douglas M. Bruton, 40, was charged with illegal possession of a deer after a search by New Mexico Game and Fish and United States Fish and Wildlife Service agents revealed the carcass in his barn. Horacek fined Bruton the statutory $400, suspending $350 of it. Bruton has also been assessed $100 civil damages by the state and paid $10 court costs.

Federal charges on the alleged Migratory Bird Treaty Act violations are pending. Investigators seized what are believed to be illegally held feathers from protected birds.

Pursley said the OGT call in the case came almost a year ago, and that the investigation has involved the cooperation of investigators from the Game and Fish Department, Fish and Wildlife Service and New Mexico Attorney General's office.

"The state and federal cooperation in this case has been excellent," Pursley said. "The investigation involved several agencies and a number of people. The coordination of it, and the sharing of information, has been very heartening."

Antelope shift

nears completion

The last of almost 300 head of pronghorn antelope are scheduled to be moved into pastures in the Roswell area this week, the beginning of a cooperative Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Department of Game and Fish program.

George Merrill, assistant chief of the Game and Fish Department's Game Management Division, said the department was to trap about 30 head of pronghorns this week, bringing the total to 298 head moved from various locations in northern New Mexico to ranches in the Roswell area.

Purposes of the study are to learn the minimum size pasture that will support antelope herds, if enclosed by net-wire fence, to observe movement of livestock and antelope through modifications in the net-wire fencing, and to observe the interactions of antelope with domestic livestock, primarily sheep.

Merrill said the net-wire fencing, popular with sheep growers because it restricts movement of sheep and predators, usually coyotes, also restricts antelope movement. Unlike deer, which easily jump most fences, an antelope will crawl under or through a fence if it can. It will almost never jump a fence, however.

From eight to 28 head of antelope are being put into each pasture, at a ratio of three does to one buck, Merrill said. Pasture sizes range from 2,500 to 9,000 acres.

BY FRED McCAFFREY
SANTA FE — If you're holding your breath waiting for that new Juvenile Code to toughen punishment for delinquents, exhale. It could be on its way to oblivion, even though it got strong support in the Senate... All opponents have to do is get some sweeping amendments added in House. Then it would have to go back to the Senate for concurrence, and time could run out before the Senate acts... Lawmakers could go home without final decision on the measure, leaving the present Children's Code still in place... Besides, opponents have a secret weapon: Governor Bruce King. He told latest press conference he's not much for codifying laws "because we usually swing the pendulum too far when we do it that way." Governor's wife, who has his ear on this and other matters, feels the proposal is too tough.

NO RESPECT: Bankers and university presidents are prestige figures at home, but this Legislature hasn't treated them well... Money-lenders, who wanted to raise interest rates by as much as 20 percent, were told abruptly to go home. Unkindest cut of all was that Senator Jack Morgan, who sponsored their original bill, delivered the sentence. It said, in effect: "Maybe next year we'll give you some help — but not now, boys, not now"... The bind the university folks find themselves in is that declining enrollments mean they get less dough. But utility rates for them, even as for you and me, don't decline. It costs as much to heat and light a classroom for 16 students as for 87, but the funding formula provides less money for the lower number.

MORE BLUES: Another group that's moaning now is state employees... Governor and Legislature agree they should be patriotic, not raise salaries more than the 7 percent the President's guidelines decree as a top figure. That means state workers will likely get 5 percent as a "merit" increase (though that's much misnamed; it's really just a pay-raise for sticking around another year) and 2 percent for the rise in the cost of living. They consider the latter figure, in the light of inflation, insultingly low... Some workers at Human Service Department tried an abortive "sick-in" — a kind of strike that isn't a strike — for one day to get the Legislature's attention... That could have stirred a hornet's nest. Punitive action from one side can call down punitive action from the other — and in this matter the Legislature holds all the cards.

DOES HE OR DOESN'T HE? Observers here wonder how serious the Governor really was about wanting to remove sales tax on food. He made it a central campaign promise, but his practical support for his own bill to accomplish it was fitful and ineffective... Best demonstration of that: a unanimous vote in the House (very rare) to go the other way, give everyone a tax rebate of $40 instead... When the Gov is on one side, and cowboys and Mama Lucys, blood enemies, unite to take the other, somebody hasn't done his homework... Who wanted the $40 rebate instead of killing the gross receipts tax? Tall-in-the-saddle Aubrey Dunn, Senator from Otero. He now sits even taller.

MONEY: House Appropriations and Finance having trouble cutting fat out of budgets. House Bill 2, the general appropriations act, still needs surgery to get it to the floor by the 55th legislative day... Committee chairman John Mershon says, with candor, "We're not doing as good a job as we should."

Sense & Nonsense

U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Older Americans are the cornerstones that support our nation's foundation, and I believe that those older Americans have for too long been ignored, abused, and taken advantage of more than any other single group of citizens.

As ranking minority member on the Senate Special Committee on Aging, I have witnessed some of the abuse these senior citizens face.

"Medicare Supplemental Insurance" is one example.

Unscrupulous insurance agents have found a lucrative market in the senior citizen.

They frighten him with stories about how inadequate his Medicare coverage is in the wake of spiraling hospital costs, then sell him 10, 20, 30, or even 40 more health policies to allegedly "take up the slack."

Traditionally, this country has left the regulation of the insurance industry to the states.

I stand by that principle.

But when states can't or won't take adequate action, the federal government is forced to intervene. If with nothing more than sufficient information so the citizens can arm themselves.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., Chairman of the Aging Committee, and I have drafted the "Older Americans Information Disclosure and Protection Act of 1979," which, if enacted, should offer our senior citizens some safeguards.

The Act would achieve the following:

— Make it a felony for any insurance agent to misrepresent himself as being from Medicare. The penalty upon conviction would be a fine of up to $25,000 and a prison term of five years, or both.

— The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare would develop model legislation and regulations for possible adoption by the states. These proposals would include recommendations for minimum national uniform standards for all health insurance policies sold to Medicare recipients, and minimum benefit standards for medicap policies.

— Mandate a one-year HEW study of the feasibility of federal certification of Medicare supplemental insurance.

— Require the Secretary of HEW to prepare, print, and distribute comprehensive information on Medicare insurance to all Medicare eligible individuals.

— Mandate the Federal Trade Commission to undertake a one-year nationwide study of unfair and deceptive practices related to the sale of medicap insurance, and make recommendations to Congress regarding ways to correct or deter such abuses.

There are gaps in the Medicare system, there is no doubt.

As such, it is a breeding ground for fraud and unscrupulous activities.

Hopefully, this bill will instill a greater public awareness of the problem, and a more vigorous effort by states to eliminate the abuses against our elderly citizens.

Moving day is rarely easy for anyone.

It is a bit less hectic when a Senator or Congressman relocates his offices, because the Capitol Hill maintenance crew performs the actual physical transfer.

We moved from our Russell Building digs last week, to the second floor of the Dirksen Building, or New Senate Office Building.

But since the maintenance crew hasn't gotten around to changing the directory signs in the buildings, we're becoming acquainted with a number of Virginia constituents who drop in to see Sen. John Warner, this office's former occupant.

To date, Elizabeth Taylor hasn't wandered in by mistake.

Most of my staff is still hoping, though. (The new office address is 2317 Dirksen Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.)

Legislative Happenings

BY REP. JOHN F. BIGBEE

The T&E (Training and Experience) factor in the school funding formula was an attempt by the legislature to recognize school boards added costs in paying the more experienced, higher trained teachers. It is discouraging to learn that it doesn't necessarily work that way in Albuquerque. The Albuquerque board, after salaries were set, made a change in policy of recognizing three more years of out-of-district experience which cost the state's reserve funds about 5 million dollars! The discouraging thing is that apparently very little of that money actually flowed in recognition of training and experience! I guess this is one of the dangers of having reserve and contingency funds laying around. Someone is always trying to figure out a way to get them!

Each session we see more and more social programs. If they keep increasing, we're going to all be eating out of the public trough and there will be no one left to fill the trough. I recently objected to the State Department of Education trying to expand the breakfast program in the public schools. I was severely chastised by some of my colleagues as being against kids having breakfast! On the contrary, I'm for the parents providing breakfast for their kids and the schools having some time to teach instead of a program that consists of breakfast, recess, and lunch!

Ruidoso trustees George White, Sherman Atwood, Ab Gunter and Frank Sayer Friday, after a three hour closed meeting of the board called to consider personnel action, in the absence of mayor Lloyd Davis, voted unanimously to discharge a Ruidoso police patrolman.

During the meeting testimony was given and evidence produced that, to the satisfaction of the trustees, was sufficient to justify their action.

Friday's meeting stemmed from the decision of Chief of Police Paul Lukens to discharge the officer last January. Following that action, the mayor reinstated the officer, who was paid for the days he did not work until he once again resumed his duties.

This was an important decision for Ruidoso's department heads. They now have a precedent permitting them to discharge an employee for cause, with the understanding that the employee has the right to have his grievances aired. This is as it should be.

Should the occasion again arise, when a department head feels justified in firing an employee, it is to be hoped that it will be handled strictly as a personnel matter, without having public attention focused on the incident. That, we believe, is the function of the personnel board. —CD

KING'S AIRPORT STAND

Governor Bruce King... as you may or may not know, and may or may not give a hoot what he thinks... has taken a definite stand against the development of Sierra Blanca Regional Airport... on Fort Stanton mesa.

The chosen site is being used for agricultural experiments... long range experiments that'll tell how long the grass grows on the mesa... how long the cactus fare from year to year... how long the livestock wax fat and lean, if'n conditions are right or wrong... how long rainfall falls on the mesa... giving the ag lads at the university at Las Cruces something to cogitate upon as they record the results of their experiments... whether or not they have any practical application... they've been at it for years... and'll be at it for years to come... which is good... 'cause they'll learn something... like the experiment fizzled... or it sizzled... and the results can be compiled... and filed.

Back to Governor King. The Bureau of Land Management... ostensibly in cahoots with the ag boys... 'cause anyone can understand there are fewer land management problems in coping with the growth of hardy cacti, than in standing back and letting someone operate an airport on the cacti producing land... could have gotten next to King's cabinet member in charge of agriculture... old what's his name... and mayhap persuade old what's his name that convincing our governor that an airport wouldn't contribute much to expediting the ag boys' experiments... in fact, it might even interfere... though who ever heard of a cactus stying away from anything.

Seems the governor listened to old what's his name... and came right out in opposition to the airport... leaving Representative John Bigbee sorta hedging on the governor's behalf by suggesting that maybe the governor didn't say what he meant... if so... it's about time he gets around to saying what he meant... unless, of course, he meant what he said.

It's not clear what old what's his name knows about airports... and their effect on the ecology and economy... or even if he knows how tall a cactus grows... but it appears quite clear... because the governor didn't mention them, that he didn't even get the opinions of his director of tourism or his economic development commission... as to which'd have more impact on the state's economy... the revenue producing airport... or the cacti, producing naught but growth.

SPEAKING INSOUCIANTLY

A jolt to papa's purse strings had to be the literal and liberal minded student's claim to matriculation fame being the "Dean's List" he was on had nothing to do with his grade point average.

A point of view... perhaps even a bone of contention... arising within a group... depends upon whose ox is getting gored... or who's having another jewel added to the diadem reflecting their glory... or who's getting the short end of the stick... from that person's point of view.

Then there's Our Jimmy... and if'n his ira isn't piqued... or his dander raised... about his efforts to bring peace to Israel and Egypt kinda being in the spattering stage... with a lack of a fresh match to apply to a new fuze, if'n he had one, being enough to drive him up the wall of his sanctum sanctorum... comes now Senator Jacob K. Javits... he's one of them there Republicans... hailing from New York state... who said... of Our Jimmy's recent sincere attempts to bring peace to the two troubled nations in question... that Our Jimmy's proposals were in the nature of "pragmatic guarantees". Now what should irk our Jimmy about Senator Javits' remark is that key word: pragmatic... 'cause pragmatic... 'cording to a wordobuchen attributed to Webster... means: "busy, officious and opinionated... relating to matters of fact or practical affairs often to the exclusion of intellectual or artistic matters"... and if'n Our Jimmy reflects on the aim to his ability and intentions, as contained in Javits' statement... if'n he gives the good senator a free jar of Georgia peanuts... raised on Our Jimmy's farm land... it'd possibly be advisable that the good senator not partake... too freely... which Our Jimmy wouldn't do nohow... 'cause he's too much of a gentleman for practical jokes. On the other hand... if'n the senator ever finds he needs a favor from Our Jimmy, he might have to look elsewhere... unless Our Jimmy really has the sense of humor that his toothy smile indicates he has... even if his intimates claim the smile is effaceable... as it doesn't mean what you'd think it'd mean.

Take a tip from wise Ben Franklin: Follow kite flying safety rules.

Many years ago Benjamin Franklin discovered electricity when flying a kite. He quickly learned that kite flying could be dangerous if not done wisely. Take a hint from wise old Ben Franklin — follow these kite flying safety rules:

1. Always use dry string... never wire or metal.
2. Use only wood and paper in your kite... don't use ANY metal parts or wire.
3. Fly your kite on days when there is no rain or thunderstorms.
4. Fly your kite out in the open, safely away from power lines, radio and TV antennas.
5. Stay away from busy streets when flying kites.
6. Always call us if your kite gets snagged in a power line or in a tree too near a power line. Do not pull the string or climb the power line poles.

Make sure you and your children follow kite flying safety rules the next time you fly a kite.

A Safeway service in support of suggestions from the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs

INFLATION FIGHTING IDEAS

"Be an 'Eggs'pert"

When buying eggs, the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs suggests that you should look at the price differential among small, medium, large, extra large and jumbo. According to the Office of Consumer Affairs, if the difference between one size and the next is seven cents or greater, the smaller size egg is the better buy.

The versatility of eggs, their popularity and their relatively low price makes them one of your most potent inflation fighting meal-makers. Hard-boiled, they're perfect in brown bag lunches or in the picnic hamper. Halved and deviled, eggs add flavor and interest to almost any meal.

Valenzuela family in on Sunland action

BY KAREN HOLLORAN
Valenzuelas are beginning to be so abundant at Sunland Park, it's not unusual to see the name as many as four times on a single page in the program.
And it's strictly a family affair.
The reason is Albino C. Valenzuela Sr., who's been training at the Sunland oval for the past seven years, now has a trio of licensed jockeys in the family.
The eldest son, 19-year-old A.C. Valenzuela Jr., kicked off his riding career successfully two years ago at Sunland and worked out his apprenticeship with a total of 49 wins at Turf Paradise.
During all of the recent fall Sunland meet, he ranked among the top 10 in the standings.
His two younger brothers, Johnny R. and Patrick, are newer to the scene and still apprentices.
Johnny, now 17, took his first few spins at Sunland last spring, then picked up his initial victory during the summer at Santa Fe Downs.
The most recent addition to the clan of riders, 16-year-old Patrick, guided his first mount to the winner's circle at Sunland last November after having his license only a few weeks.
A.C. Sr., said, "The boys have been riding horses all their lives and as each one gets old enough, he gallops for me and later gets his riding license."
Although the boys generally get their start riding their father's horses, it hasn't taken long for them to pick up numerous mounts on their own.
"All of the boys have agents," A.C. Sr., said. "They ride for a lot of trainers, not just me. I want them to take the best mounts they can get. I remember up at Santa Fe last summer, my horses must have finished second about six or seven times in a row. And A.C. Jr. was riding the winner every time."
The crew of helmsmen seems a natural development when you consider that A.C. Sr., himself was a jockey for many years and grew up among a family of six brothers and six sisters. And every one of the brothers eventually became a jockey.
Probably the star of the family is A.C.'s brother Milo Valenzuela. Milo triumphed in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness twice aboard Tim Tam (1958) and Forward Pass (1959) and is listed among the top all time leading jockeys in money won.
A.C. Sr., himself started riding in 1959 when he was 20 years old. He won his first race at Belmont Park and that year was the leading "bug boy" in New York.
Three of his mounts set track records at Aqueduct and Saratoga. And later A.C. moved on to Pimlico and Santa Anita.
But in 1970, he experienced a severe spill and broke his neck. That was enough to turn him back to his native Southwest. (The Valenzuelas are originally from McNary, Texas). So he packed up his youngsters, moved to New Mexico and started working in mutuels and as a jockey agent at Sunland Park.
But the wasn't the end of his riding career. A year later, Bill Thompson, a trainer at Sunland, convinced A.C. to get professionally. I don't know if they'll be jockeys or not."

But one thing's for sure, Sunland patrons may as well get used to having plenty of Valenzuelas on the local scene.
"I was on Mr. Tattoo, who was Horse-of-the-Meet the year before, in the Mescalero Apache Handicap," he said. "We won and set the track record for 6 1/2 furlongs at 1:17 3/5 seconds which still stands. But just after that, I broke my hand in the gates."
Later in 1973, A.C. and his cousin, Jesus, went into a partnership to buy a horse called Paul's Hope and that put A.C. in the training business. "I really liked training," A.C. said "So I picked up a few more horses and kept on." Since then, he's been making the Sunland Park-Santa Fe Downs circuit each year successfully.
With three sons competing for mounts at the same track, rivalry could probably have developed among them. But A.C. Jr., explains that's not the case.
"I had been riding quite a while when my brothers started," he said. "And I guess sometimes when we're at the house we get into fights over various things. But at the track, it's all professional."
"I always want to see the younger ones do well. So I try to help them as much as I can. But in a race, they have to do it on their own."
Unusual as it is to have so many in one family training and riding at the same track, the situation may be short lived.
A.C. Sr., said, "Katherine Jimenez owns several horses and she has plans to take Johnny with her to the Louisiana Fair Grounds soon to ride for her. And my brother Milo is still riding in California. We think Patrick is small enough to have a pretty long future as a jockey, so he's going out to California soon to join his uncle."
A.C. Jr., anticipates riding a few more years, then going into training like his father.
But that may not be the end of the riding Valenzuelas at Sunland Park, because A.C. Sr., said, "I have two more sons at home who are still too young to ride professionally. I don't know if they'll be jockeys or not."

But one thing's for sure, Sunland patrons may as well get used to having plenty of Valenzuelas on the local scene.

IT'S DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE that this section of the peacefully gurgling Rio Ruidoso was, in mid-December, a raging torrent wreaking the havoc shown here and that it was about two city blocks wide at this point.

Potash market increasing

Potash production in New Mexico, which has had a major economic impact on the state since 1931, is expected to encounter favorable market conditions throughout the foreseeable future, according to an article in the latest issue of "New Mexico Business."
Potash, or potassium, is one of three chemical nutrients which are essential for promoting plant growth and increasing crop yield per acre, they said. When mixed with nitrogen and phosphorus, it is sold as fertilizer.
"As a group, New Mexico potash producers possess certain competitive advantages and disadvantages which are important for establishing an overall future outlook for them," Brain McDonald and John Temple said in the article "The Outlook for the New Mexico Potash Producers."
"On balance, the future outlook for the New Mexico potash producers seem quite favorable," they said.

There exists no substitute for potash, and in order to meet the food demands of a growing world population, it must be supplied to the soil in ever increasing quantities," they said.
Potash production in New Mexico began in 1931 and has had a major influence on the state's economy since then. This effect has largely been centered on the Carlsbad and Eddy County area of the state, McDonald and Temple said.
"Excluding 140 jobs at the Lea County National Potash mine, potash directly provided 18 percent of the total nonagricultural wage and salary jobs in Eddy County in 1977," they said.
They added that potash producers further contribute to the economy of the state and local tax revenues in the form of gross receipts, property, corporate income, resources, excise and severance taxes.
In 1976, New Mexico accounted for 83 percent of the total United States potash production.
The conclusion that the future market for New Mexico potash is favorable is based on a number of considerations, including that supply and demand in the world market over the next five to seven years are expected to remain balanced. Also, Canadian competitors are expected to face increased production costs over the next few years which should improve New Mexico's competitive advantage, they said.

Copies of "New Mexico Business" may be obtained from the University of New Mexico Bureau of Business and Economic research for $75.

McDonald is the associate director for research and Temple is the assistant director at the University of New Mexico Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

BY KAREN HALLORAN

THE VALENZUELA JOCKEYS suffered some hard knocks Friday. Johnny was astride Choppy Jester in the first race when he bolted, jumped the rail and toured the infield before being flagged down. Then, Pat's mount in the second, first time starter Pad In Trade, acted up in the backstretch and sent him to the turf. Later, Pat took another tumble when Prince Of A Fellow took a misstep in the 10th race and went down. Neither jockeys nor horses were injured and Pat came back Sunday with an impressive win aboard Don Wire.

TEX LOOM EMERGED as the second two-year-old thoroughbred winner at the meet Saturday. The filly, owned by Vera Lewis of Clarendon, Texas received slim backing of over 6-1, but shot to the immediate lead to win by 1 1/4 lengths. The effort produced a rapid time of 21 3/5 seconds and a win payoff of $14.60. Victor Jaramillo rode the sophomore by Loom out of Bally Tex.

GERONOMO JUNIOR SCORED his fifth win at the meet Friday in a brisk time of 45.98 seconds, his fastest time yet for the 870 yard distance. The gelding went off as the heavy 1-2 favorite and roared in with a commanding 2 1/4 length lead. The only other Sunland performers with five wins are Nursanickel and Peity Theft.

SUNDAY'S TWO-YEAR-OLD quarter horse race proved as easy to pick as 1-2-3. That's exactly the way they came in. Truckahla Rocket (No. 1), by Rocket Wrangler out of Truckahla, got off to a quick start and finished in front with a 1 1/4 length lead. The time for the 330 yard distance was a quick 17.20 seconds. Jerry Burgess directed the Donnie Stewart-trained filly. Oh Ho Rocket (No. 2) owned by Harriett Peckham of El Paso, took second. And With My Luck (No. 3) finished third.

THREE LONGSHOTS HIT Saturday and really rang the cash register. Initially, So Determined, pegged at 20-1, surprised the fans with a powerful six length win and a return of $42.40 in the first race. Shy Sue had similar odds in the sixth and led throughout for a head win over 870 yard performers for a $45 win return. And Free Splash, topped off the trio in the eighth, winning at 5 1/2 furlongs wire-to-wire for a $50.60 mutual price.

JOCKEY GARY SUMPTER turned in a fine performance Friday scoring with three victories and one third from only five trips to the gate. The veteran helmsman first triumphed with Don't Rate Me ($9.20) at six furlongs. His other wins were aboard Dream Luck ($13) and Three Tinky Jacks ($5.20), both at quarter horse distances.

His final score was a third aboard Sure Do 2 ($2.20) at 870 yards.

CROWMARK RETAINED his perfect in-the-money record Saturday and chalked up his second feature win to boot. The remarkable sophomore, who now sports a 3-1-1 record from five starts, led wire-to-wire against tough foes in Saturday's six furlong fray and squeezed by with a nose margin. The 8-5 favorite returned $4.80 to win. Regular rider Victor Jaramillo was jockey.

THE FASTEST SEASONAL TIME for 870 yards resulted from Sunday's feature when Queen's Flyer swept in with a head margin and a time of 45.37 seconds. The

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS: Owner-trainer Barbara Mendez was fined $50 for working unlicensed personnel. Assistant trainer Mac Miller took a $10 bite for illegal parking. Apprentice jockey Kenny Lewis was fined $25 for failing to make his assigned weight March 3.

SUNLAND'S HIGH-FLYING mutual pace continued at a sizzling clip over the weekend. Sunday's handle of $361,886 ($7,551 over Saturday's handle) was the second highest of the 1978-79 season, and the third best in Sunland history. (The seasonal record was set at $373,048 February 4.) The daily wagering average is now $250,387, and that's a solid gain of 9.35 percent over last year's comparable handle of $228,973. The current Sunland handle was at its lowpoint January 21 (the day of the Super Bowl game), when the average was down to $204,837. Since the Sunday-after-Super Bowl, the handle has been rising by leaps and bounds—setting a pace which is without precedent in Sunland history.

Whitey-Nolen trained five-year-old had John Cushing in the irons as she charged to an early advantage and maintained it to the wire. The previous record of 45.41 seconds was set by Go Scooper December 17.

THE NO. 1 POST was the most productive over the weekend. Nine winners were launched from that slot. In seasonal totals, though, No. 7 has the lead with 78. Here's the seasonal tally: No. 1 — 73 wins, No. 2 — 75, No. 3 — 64, No. 4 — 74, No. 5 — 67, No. 6 — 64, No. 7 — 78, No. 8 — 72, No. 9 — 56, No. 10 — 43, No. 11 — 0, No. 12 — 1.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne — During the summer I visited a large city zoo for the first time in several years. Although I enjoyed the visit, I couldn't help feeling a little depressed and sorry for the animals there. It seemed they had resigned themselves to a life in captivity, and they lacked the zest you would expect of wild animals.

Do you have a particular view of zoos in general? Ester W., Pennsylvania

Dear Esther — I recognize your feelings and I too feel some sadness, but zoos do provide a real service. Without them millions of people would never see more than a picture of much of the world's wildlife.

In a properly planned and maintained zoo the animals have a much easier life than in the wild. There is no need to forage or hunt for food, and no reason to seek refuge from predators. It is for these reasons that they often lose the vitality which is necessary for survival in the wild. Zoos provide an excellent opportunity to study animal needs and this knowledge can be used to help insure their survival.
