101 blood donors needed

The United Blood Services (UBS) bloodmobile, based in El Paso, Texas will be in Ruidoso Friday to collect blood from local residents.

Donors are needed to bring the number of pints of blood given locally to 101, according to local coordinator Dottie Quaid. Quaid said Ruidosians gave 88 pints of blood in the last drive, "but I know we can do better than that this time."

All blood given goes into the UBS blood bank and is credited to this area. Then, when a local person needs blood or a blood component, blood is already available. Quaid said that Ruidoso only recently began donating as much blood as was used at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

Donors should call for an appointment at 257-4831.

The collection center will be the conference room at the hospital and will be operated from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Friday.

Under the donor system employed in Ruidoso, patients do not pay for blood received. UBS charges the patients only for actual costs incurred in drawing, processing and distribution of blood.

"There is no need to worry about hurting yourself by giving blood," Quaid said. Each donor is screened by personnel from United Blood Services prior to becoming a donor.

A medical history, temperature, pulse, blood pressure and hemoglobin check are taken. After the blood is drawn, it is typed and tested for diseases which could be transmitted to the recipient.

"Should any of these tests indicate the need for medical attention, the donor is notified," Quaid said.

"Since blood cannot be synthetically produced, it's vital that we have as many willing donors as possible. It is something you can't get except from other humans. But, it is something you can give away and never really miss, since your body replenishes its own blood supply," Quaid added.

McCaffrey C-C banquet speaker

Fred F. McCaffrey, a lifetime New Mexican who has made his career as a professional communicator, will be the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce May 7.

Activities begin at 6:30 p.m., with no-host cocktails served poolside at the Holiday Inn. The banquet, featuring steak, salad bar, potatoes and trimmings, begins at 7:30.

Reservations, limited to 130, should be made by calling the Chamber at 257-7395. Tickets are $11.50 per person.

McCaffrey, whose column is carried in The Ruidoso News, has observed and participated in New Mexico politics for more than 50 years as part of a family tradition beginning with his father, a prominent Democrat and long time associate of United States Senator Clinton P. Anderson.

As an advertising executive, McCaffrey specialized in political campaigns. He was media consultant to a variety of candidates in campaigns between 1954 and 1974, including the successful races of Senators Anderson, Montoya and Domenici.

McCaffrey gleaned federal government experience as special assistant to Senator Pete Domenici. He is a past public information director for the state's two largest agencies, the Highway Department and the Department of Human Services.

McCaffrey was a member of the journalism faculty at Fordham University and later served on editorial boards of two nationally circulated magazines. He was assistant production manager for KGGM-TV in Albuquerque, where he had a daily children's program for three years.

He has been a political commentator for New Mexico radio and television stations and was editor and columnist for New Mexico weekly newspapers, including New Mexico Catholic Renewal and Albuquerque News.

McCaffrey lives and works in Santa Fe, where his newspaper column on political activity in the state capitol are distributed to 13 daily and 15 weekly newspapers, and four magazines.

Also on the agenda for the annual meeting will be the announcement of the winner of the Hn/zhu/ne Award, given to a business person whose storefront has been most improved over the past two years.

Bids opened by the Joint Use Board (JUB) Thursday afternoon, on construction of the Regional Wastewater System (RWS), exceeded engineer's estimates of the cost by more than $2 million.

Ruidoso Downs trustees Thursday evening learned that bids submitted for a village sewer system, to tie into RWS, came to nearly $700,000 more than funds available for the project.

The RWS Project entails two contracts, one for the treatment plant, the second for the sewer lines.

The apparent low bidders were:

— Timmerman Corporation, Albuquerque, $4,781,729 on the treatment plant.

— Kent Nowlin Construction, Albuquerque, $3,327,962.18, on the sewer lines.

Consolidated Constructors of Farmington submitted the apparent low bid of $1,033,694.98 on the Ruidoso Downs sewer system.

Monies available for RWS as of Thursday, including the $1.5 million in sewer bonds for Ruidoso, totaled, project engineer Quinton Daniels, Alamogordo, said, $6,036,805.

Sewer bond funds available for the Ruidoso Downs project total $500,000. The engineer's estimates on RWS were $3,473,958 on the treatment plant, $2,790,275 on the sewer lines.

The sewer system cost for Ruidoso Downs was estimated by Daniels at $666,338.80.

The amount of money needed for the projects, as planned, approximates:

— $2,072,908 for RWS.

— $633,685 for Ruidoso Downs sewer system.

The difference in the engineer's estimate is due, in part, to the Environmental Protection Agency's requirement that cost estimates be submitted to EPA with Step One, the initial plans for the project, when the original request for EPA funding is made.

Records in Ruidoso's files show that Step One was completed September of 1978, with the estimated cost being $8,026,667 as the eligibility amount approved by EPA.

Step Two in the project, approval of final plans and advertising for bids, village records show, had the 1978 cost figure being carried by EPA in May of 1979.

Village files also show that EPA, in connection with Step Three, project construction, put the eligibility figure at $6,264,223 in May of 1979, just $237,558 over the cost EPA approved in September 1978, for Step One.

In connection with Step Three, construction, JUB has two options that will be pursued:

— JUB can hold the bids for 60 days, until June 23, during which time Daniels can analyze them and determine changes that can be made in the plans, to lower the costs, that would not affect the operation of the treatment plant or the sewer lines.

(Project portions that could be withheld, for example, would be to complete two holding tanks in the treatment plant, and adding two more when needed. The plant is designed to handle area needs for many years, into the 1990s or 2000s, in the construction plans, providing the opportunity to temporarily eliminate portions of the project that will be used only when the plant reaches maximum treatment capacity.)

— Application will be made to EPA, requesting that additional funds be made available.

Under provisions of the present JUB/EPA agreement, EPA is providing 75 percent of the total RWS cost; 12.5 percent is from state funds; with 12.5 percent from Ruidoso/Ruidoso Downs. This agreement divides the local share at 75 percent Ruidoso, 25 percent Ruidoso Downs.

Should EPA approve the increase in eligibility cost of the $2 million, the breakdown would be approximately:

— $1,500,000 from EPA.

— $250,000 from state funds.

— $197,310 from Ruidoso.

— $82,690 from Ruidoso Downs.

Ruidoso's files show that the state funds are available for distribution to RWS, as soon as EPA's approval of the new cost is given.

Officials of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs express confidence that the villages' share of the added cost can be provided.

JUB officials, likewise, indicate that, as most of the cost difference is attributable to the about 17 percent annual inflation factor, that EPA will approve the about $2 million change in eligibility cost.

At this juncture, RWS awaits EPA approval of the project, pending Daniel's study of possible deletions that would further lower initial costs.

"The RWS project is not lost," JUB chairman Norman Wheeler said to The News Friday afternoon. "We feel certain that EPA will, if funds for this project have not been frozen, go along with the plans as the need has been proven to them."

Of the sewer system for Ruidoso Downs, Wheeler, as mayor, said, "The bid puts us in a bind. We don't have another $500,000. But, after Daniel can tell us what fat can be cut, we'll take a hard look at the cost and make every effort to come up with the money so it won't break the backs of everyone here."

Trustees to act on ordinances

The Ruidoso trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, in the Public Library, to act on several ordinances and one resolution, including:

— Ordinance 80-2, annexation of the Driver Tract.

— Ordinance 80-3, changing the term of Library board members from six to three years.

— Ordinance 80-4, changing the definition of subdivision.

— Ordinance 80-5, deleting approval of signs from jurisdiction of the Architectural Plans Review Committee.

— Ordinance 80-6, creating Commercial-2, Planned Development and Manufacturing-1 districting, incorporating minor changes.

— Resolution 80-4, municipal mortgage financing of housing for low and moderate income families.

Other agenda items include:

— Opening of bids on a laydown machine for the street department and a truck for the Fire Department.

— Receiving suggestions from the public on the use of Revenue Sharing funds for fiscal 1980-1981.

— Proposals on animal control and leasing village land for an animal shelter.

— Consideration of final plat of Del Norte Unit 3.

Downs trustees meet tonight

Ruidoso Downs trustees will meet at 7 tonight at the Municipal Building. Agenda items include the first public hearing for proposed use of general funds and revenue sharing monies, and consideration of a sign ordinance and the 1979 traffic code. Occupational licenses will also be listed for consideration.

Sena escapes from hospital at Las Vegas

Armed robbery suspect Nick Sena, 16, charged in connection with an April 19 incident here, Sunday night escaped from the State Hospital at Las Vegas, where he had been confined for "emergency detention for evaluation," under a court order issued Friday.

Sena, Thursday evening at Lincoln County jail, Sheriff Ernest Sanchez said to The News Monday morning, "broke a light bulb fixture and then cut his left arm badly enough that he had to be taken to the Ruidoso hospital's emergency room for treatment." He was returned to his cell Thursday night.

Friday night, acting under a court order issued by Robert Doughty III, district judge for the 12th Judicial District, Alamogordo, to transfer Sena to Las Vegas, sheriff's deputies transferred him.

A portion of Judge Doughty's order, Sanchez said, stated that Sena was an "alleged mentally ill person," requiring immediate transfer to the state hospital for "emergency detention for evaluation."

Sena is also facing charges of aggravated assault on a police officer in the robbery incident, for allegedly firing on a police car driven by Ruidoso patrolman John Layher.

School budget $3.6 million

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer/Photographer

The 1980-81 Ruidoso Municipal School budget of $3,652,910 received tentative approval from the New Mexico Department of Public School Finance following a public hearing Thursday.

The new budget reflects an increase of $408,926 over the 1979-80 budget of $3,243,984.

A summary of the budget shows estimated revenue from local sources to be $499,640 or 14.1 percent of total revenue. Federal revenue, now representing 4.1 percent of total revenue, totals $119,594. State revenue of $2,380,720 comprises 61.8 percent of all revenue sources.

The most notable increase in expenditures comes in salaries both for certified and non-certified personnel. Last year, school employees accepted a seven percent increase in salaries, in keeping with federal guidelines.

To compensate for rising inflation, the Board of Education built into the new budget a 9.8 percent increase in salary for the superintendent, an average 10.5 percent salary increase for principals, an average 15.68 percent increase for certified staff and a 16 percent increase for noncertified personnel.

Salaries and benefits comprise 56.2 percent of the total budget, which is "about average" according to Rebecca Delgado, deputy director for the department. Delgado and financial assistant Liz Garcia reviewed the budget with local officials.

The budget also reflects three more staff persons, an administrative assistant, a special education instructor, and a diagnostician.

Administrative costs, including superintendent's salary, administrative staff, audit expenses, legal services, election expense, supplies and administrative travel, including board travel, totals $103,744, for a 19.8 percent increase over last year's budget.

Direct instruction, which includes teacher salaries, special education, teacher aides, substitute teachers and instructional supplies represent $1,544,703 of the total budget.

Instructional support items, which include principals' salaries, guidance, diagnosticians, other professional personnel, testing supplies and instructional travel support represents expenditures of $304,917.

Health services, including registered nurse's salary, nurse supplies and nurse travel totals $19,787. Pupil transportation services, which includes bus drivers' salaries and benefits, vehicle insurance and rent represents $211,437 of total expenditures.

Plant operation, which includes custodians' salaries, clerical assistants, fuel, electricity and telephone costs, and general supplies represents $241,952 of the budget. This figure reflects a 38.5 percent increase over last year's actual expenditures of $199,532. However, Superintendent Pat Valliant said the "mild winter" was a key factor in keeping those costs down.

Last year's budget allotted $226,180 for fuel and other plant operation costs. "When compared with last year's budget, that figure is not astronomical," Valliant said.

Plant maintenance, which includes maintenance personnel, purchased services and general supplies and travel represents $87,249 of the budget.

Fixed charges of employee benefits, wo-rkmen's compensation and insurance, plus surety bonds comprises $351,384 of total expenditure estimates.

Supplies and materials for food services shows $10,000 budgeted for next year. Non-instructional student support for athletic and activity expenses totals $27,000, up $6,000 from last year.

Capital outlay for improvement of land and buildings and purchase of new equipment totals $85,995. This figure includes $18,000 to place a seal coat on all black-topped school parking lots; replace office education equipment; and purchase playground equipment, tables and chairs and welding equipment.

$3,175 is budgeted for special projects, including the Johnson O'Malley fund. The total proposed operational budget is $2,965,172.

Debt service, interest and principal totals $306,955; non-instructional student

Soil district sign erected

Visitors who enter the Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District on Highway 70/380 are now being informed of that fact by a sign recently erected on Border Hill, about 24 miles west of Roswell.

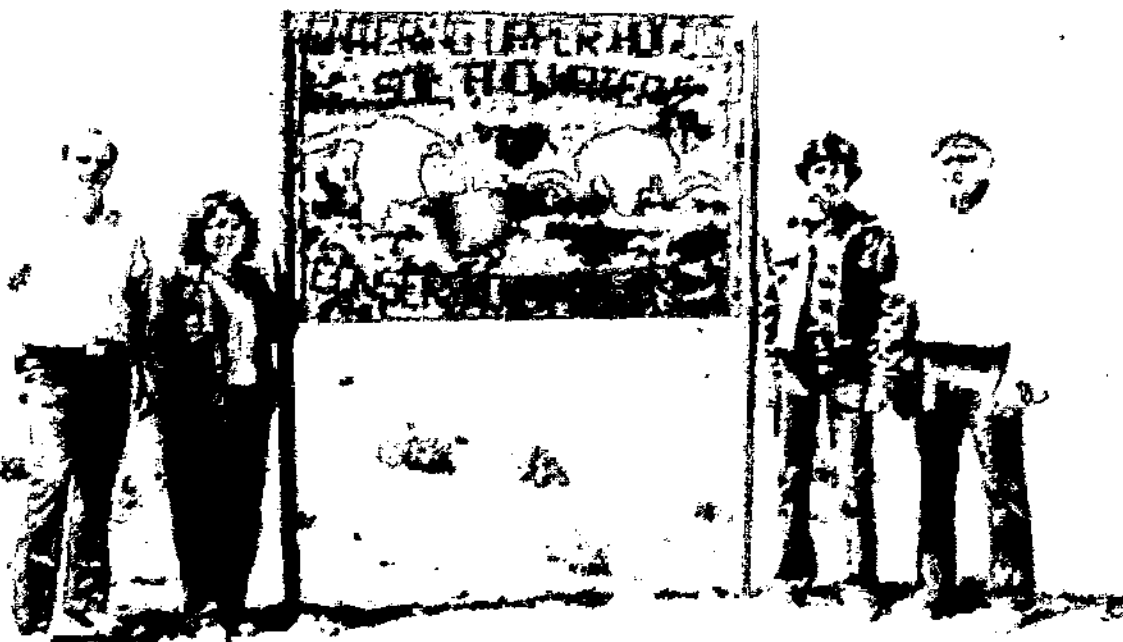

The sign is the result of a joint effort of Jerry Burchett's vocational agriculture class at Hondo High School and the conservation district.

Burchett offered to build the sign, with materials furnished by the district. R. C. Nunez, who owns the land at Border Hill, agreed to donate a site for the sign.

A contest was held among Burchett's students, with David Lucero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aristeo Lucero, submitting the winning design. It depicts an apple centered between a ram's head and bull's head, all representing major agricultural products of the Upper Hondo District.

Also contributing to the effort was Mrs. Burchett, who did the painting, and Kathleen Salas, Vo-Ag chapter president. Assisting with installation were Clem Weindorf, Howard Shanks and Jack Johnson of the Conservation district; Greg Haussler, Soil Conservation Service; Lucero and Salas.

Other district members include Bert Pfingsten, Ben Sanchez, Ernest McDaniel and Bob Scribner.

RC&D names officers, six committee chairmen

At the annual meeting of the South Central Mountains Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) in Alamogordo last week, three of the current officers were reelected to one year terms.

Among those reelected were chairman Clem Weindorf of Hondo; vice-chairman Wally Ferguson of Carrizozo; and treasurer Johnson Sterns of Nogal. Taking over as secretary will be Tom McCalmont of Santa Fe, who is employed by the state planning office for this region. McCalmont will replace Delbert Nelson in that capacity.

Named to committee chairmanships were Bud Bagley, Corona, agriculture; Mary Rich, Carrizozo, health, aging and housing; Delbert Nelson, Roswell, water; Howard Shanks, Capitan, community development; Robert Bell, Weed, transportation and communications; and Chris Zamora, Lincoln, forestry and wildlife.

RC&D members discussed the allocation of increased acreage in New Mexico for wilderness designations.

Action is now pending in the United States Congress to designate an additional 573,000 acres for wilderness purposes. The amount of acreage was reduced from the 1.2 million proposed by the Carter administration and the 1.8 million acres proposed by the Forest Service, Weindorf said.

The organization voted to reiterate an earlier stand of opposition to increasing the size of wilderness areas. Weindorf agreed to contact the state's congressional delegation to advise them of that position.

Speaking at the afternoon meeting in Alamogordo was Audi Miranda, director of the state Soil and Water Division, who discussed the Carter administration's policies on small communities and rural development and "how RC&D fits in," with those policies.

Non-licensed contractor fined $800

At a preliminary hearing in Judge Jim Wheeler's magistrate court Friday, Jim Pirollo of Ruidoso was found guilty of contracting without a license.

Pirollo was assessed a fine of $800 and was given a six-month suspended sentence in county jail.

Pirollo was formerly charged with the offense December 12, 1979. He entered a plea of not guilty and plans to appeal the decision, Wheeler said. Pirollo was represented by attorney Mary Ann Ortega.

Fire damages mobile home

A mobile home residence in the Airport West subdivision was extensively damaged by a fire which broke out about 7:30 a.m., Sunday.

Several units of the Ruidoso Fire Department answered the call and had the blaze under control within about 10 minutes.

A fire department spokesman said the fire began in the hot water heater and was confined to an area around the heater.

The fire created such heat, however, that the many items in the interior of the home were melted, including countertops, the ceiling and foam rubber in furniture.

The mobile home was reportedly owned by a seasonal resident. No injuries were reported.

One man was restrained by police from entering the home after it caught fire. Fire department member Danny Garcia warned area residents not to open doors of burning buildings, since the incoming air will feed the fire. If the man had opened the door, Garcia said, "it literally would have blown up."

Texas Club hit for cash, pistol

The Criminal Investigation Division (CID) of the Ruidoso police department is investigating a break-in Thursday night at the Texas Club.

The incident was reported by Rene Wooley at about 9 a.m., Friday morning. Entry was gained through the front door, and a pistol and a small amount of cash were reported stolen, according to a CID spokesman.

School budget

fund and cafeteria expenditures total $226,061; for a total budget of $3,652,910.

The only items not reflected in the budget that will hopefully be funded will be special projects, including Title I, Title IV and Title IV-Indian education. All are federally funded programs and if and when they are approved, a budget increase will be announced.

Final approval of the budget will not come until mid-August, when local assessed valuations will be known. If that figure is different than figures in the proposed budget, according to Vallant, state funding will decrease and local funding will increase.

Delgado said the budget was "a good one" and showed good planning. She said that teacher salaries were very generous, adding, "Of the 39 budgets we have received to date in Santa Fe, the average increase in teacher salaries is 14.2 percent; you are well above that."

She said the legislature recommended that salaries be increased by at least 14 percent with special consideration given to lower paid employees. She said that "teacher's salaries increased by 15.3 percent so it goes beyond what the legislature was shooting for. And, you did this even though the new money coming into the district was only 13.4 percent."

Representative John Bigbee attended the hearing and, as chairman of the Legislature's Educational Study Committee, said his committee will hold hearings in Roswell September 16 and 17 to "look over the rules of the department and see what we can do to help" in problem areas.

Bigbee said they will address, specifically, discipline, violence, vandalism and social concerns. "Maybe the only thing we can do is call the problem to the attention of parents; but we know there is a problem in some areas."

Also present at the meeting were Dr. James Miller, superintendent of Carrizozo schools, Carrizozo's high school principal, the four Ruidoso school principals, several district employees and some high school students.

Board members present included president Dave Parks, Lamar Osburn, C. L. "Bones" Wright and Stormy Edwards.

was their goal. "All proceeds from this sale will be used to help finance our trip to Miami in June," Parker said.

Those who did not order seafood directly from the truck, DECA will receive 40 cents a pound for all pre-sold seafood and 20 cents for all seafood sold Wednesday and Thursday.

Items available include Alaska salmon steaks, whole pink and silver salmon, smoked pink and red salmon, center cut halibut steaks, Pacific walleye and red snapper fillets, ling cod scallops, small-cooked Alaska shrimp, jumbo shrimp and breaded fantail shrimp and lobster tails from five to the pound to 16 to 20 ounces each.

Prices range from $2.50 a pound for ling cod, to $4.80 a pound for whole silver salmon, $5.65 a pound for Alaska king crab and $10.90 a pound for large lobster tails.

Twenty DECA students and several sponsors will attend the national Career Development Conference to participate in national contests.

The Plant Corner by Sally Black

This column is devoted to growing healthy indoor plants. Address questions to: Sally Black, The Ruidoso News, Box 128, Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345.

Dear Sally: My African Violets have very healthy looking leaves but have not flowered since the original flowers fell. What is your advice to produce more flowers — Pat French, Ruidoso.

Dear Pat: Established plants will flower from feeding with any one of the popular African Violet fertilizers. If plants produce lots of lush leaves, but seem reluctant to flower, it will help to dilute a tomato fertilizer used in weak solution weekly rather than occasional heavy doses.

For extra humidity, place the plants on a tray of pebbles almost covered with water. African Violets do not thrive in chilled or placed in direct sunlight. Place the flowers under a light evenings during the winter months. Proper light is vitally important to produce more flowers.

Cancer Society officers named; fund drives set

New officers for the East Lincoln Chapter of the American Cancer Society (ELACS) were elected at the group's meeting Thursday.

Taking office in September will be president Rosemary Peebles; vice president, Edna Morris; secretary, Charlotte Fellers; and treasurer, Dottie Quaid.

The 1980 Cancer Crusade will kick off next month with a barbeque and dance at the All American Sales Barn at Ruidoso Downs Race Track May 24.

The menu will feature barbequed beef, bread, beans, cole slaw, coffee and iced tea. Clay Mac Band will provide dancing music beginning at 8 p.m., with the barbeque set to begin at 6 p.m.

Tickets to both events are $5 each and can be purchased at The Ruidoso News and Ruidoso Care Center.

The other major fund raising event slated for the crusade is a "Longest day of Golf" to be held at Cree Meadows Country Club and Alto Country Club June 19. Both clubs will host volunteer golf players who will solicit individual pledges through personal contact, as well as by telephone.

Informative films were shown to preschoolers recently by Ellie Keeton, a member of the Education Committee. She said a "tremendous response" was received from the film and added she plans to show the films to Nob Hill Elementary students in the near future.

Dr. Michael Stone said he gave a program to the Captain Woman's Club and received a good response from the group. Dr. Paul Whitwam recently presented a program on lung and heart cancer to the Rotary Club of Ruidoso. He plans to give a program to the Senior Citizens Center when they hold their Golden Age Luncheon May 7, according to medical assistant Martha Bryant.

The next meeting of the ELACS was moved up to May 15 at noon at K-Bobs.

Tulie's Rose Festival this weekend

A banquet, queen contest, garden tour, arts and crafts displays and the annual rose parade will be among the attractions at the 22nd Annual Rose Festival to be held in Tularosa this weekend.

The festival, sponsored by the Tularosa Chamber of Commerce, will get underway Thursday night with a banquet at the C&C banquet room. Brigadier General Thomas S. Swalm, commander of tactical training, Holloman Air Force Base, will be the featured speaker. Tickets for the banquet, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., are available from the Chamber at $8 each.

Also attending the banquet will be national rodeo champion Freckles Brown and rose queen contestants Julie Vigil, Janice Skiff, Gloria Duran, Esperanza Orasco, Teresa Horton and Tina Brady.

Friday's highlight will be the coronation of the rose queen at 8 p.m., at the high school. The event will be attended by Susan Spartz, the current Miss New Mexico.

Saturday's festival events include: — 6-9 a.m., Chamber sponsored pancake breakfast at James Vigil Park. "All you can eat for two dollars."

— 9-9:30 a.m., Cotton Country Cloggers exhibition at the Tularosa Fire Hall.

11 a.m., grand marshal Eula McNatt will lead the parade beginning at Highway 70 and Bookout, proceeding to Highway 64, south to Granada and east on Granada to 1st Street.

— 2-5 p.m., garden tour of five homes.

Tickets and map will be sold at the fire hall.

— 5:30-7:30 p.m., Tularosa Lion's Club sponsored steak supper at James Vigil Park.

— 8-11 p.m., square dancing and country-western dancing at the Community center, with guest performance by Cotton Country Cloggers.

The arts and crafts display featuring guest artist Edith Halliday Simms, will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday at the fire hall and James Vigil Park. The exhibit is open to all area artists and works will be accepted at the fire hall Friday from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Interested artists may call Anna Eldenback at 585-2007 for more information.

Simms is known in the area for her representational nature paintings, and has studied under Theron Trombeau and Cynthia Guevich of Las Cruces. She has several one-artist shows to her credit.

Currently a resident of Alamogordo, Simms was instrumental in organizing and expanding the Desert Arts League. She is also active in the Humane Society, Child Care Center and the Unitarian Fellowship.

A business and professional women's Old Timers Basket Lunch will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. at the park. Covered dishes and utensils should be provided by those attending.

Two RHS junior girls entering NMSU's summer science program

Two Ruidoso high school students have been accepted to participate in a summer science program to be held at New Mexico State University (NMSU) in Las Cruces.

Karen Wiley, daughter of Gary and Rosie Wiley, and Connie Howard, daughter of Judith Howard, will attend a three week session which will focus on the chemist's view of energy and industrial processes. Both girls are juniors at Ruidoso High School.

Tom Yang, high school chemistry teacher, said he submitted applications for three students from Ruidoso to attend. Yang wrote letters on behalf of the students and each student's grades, course work and other factors were taken into consideration for acceptance in the sessions.

The objective of the course, according to a brochure, is to "illustrate to the participants how their life is affected, both positively and negatively, by industrial processes and energy usage." Students will attend lectures, perform laboratory experiments and take field trips, including a visit to a copper plant.

Yang said he is not disappointed that all three applicants were not selected. "I am very proud of these two girls; they work hard in my classes and I feel this program will enrich their studies," he said.

Wiley has attended Ruidoso High only a year and said she "doesn't go in for clubs much" but is a Candy Striper at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital. She has earned a pin for volunteering 50 hours since she began last year.

Howard is a member of the National Honor Society, and serves as treasurer of that organization. She is also an officer in the school's Ski Club and is treasurer of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. While in Las Cruces, the girls will be guests of the state and will reside in dormitories at NMSU. All expenses except social activities, are borne by the state.

TWO RUIDOSO High School juniors, Connie Howard, left and Karen Wiley, will attend a summer science seminar at New Mexico State University for three weeks.

LAST MINUTE DETAILS for the May 1 grand opening of the new Parish Center at St. Eleanor's Church, Ruidoso, were discussed Thursday evening by Guild members, from the left, Lois Hollis, Mattie Holstein and Mary Ann Jennings, president. In honor of the occasion, a Mexican plate dinner, at $3 each, will be served Thursday from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and 5-8 p.m., with Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Klein heading the committee. The Parish Center will be open for viewing by the public.

Duplicate bridge play Wednesday

Duplicate bridge play, with every player in the area invited, will begin at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday in the Adult Recreation Center.

The partnership chairman is Hilma Collier, telephone 257-6934.

Winners at the last games were Lois Fox and Helen Zink, first with Hilma Collier and Sarah Gold, second.

Mrs. Hazel Brittenback

Mrs. Hazel Brittenback, formerly of Ruidoso, died Sunday at an Odessa, Texas nursing home. Born April 17, 1903 in Erath County, Texas, she was married to Lee Brittenback in Arlington, Texas in 1948.

Mrs. Brittenback was a former member of the First Baptist Church in Ruidoso and operated a beauty shop here for many years before moving to Odessa in 1975.

She is survived by four brothers, W. T. Carrell Jr., and M. B. Carrell, both of Odessa; S. M. Carrell of Lexington, Texas and Lex Carrell of Austin, Texas; one son, Jimmy Brittenback of Albuquerque; and a step-daughter, Mrs. Nita Bagley of Riverside, California.

Graveside services will be held Wednesday at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Ruidoso.

Local arrangements will be by Clarke's Chapel of Roses, Ruidoso and Carrizozo.

Mrs. Gavina Villegas

Mrs. Gavina Villegas of Carrizozo died Sunday at Ruidoso Care Center. Born July 14, 1907, she was a member of St. Rita's Catholic Church.

Survivors include her sons, Trinidad F. Martinez of Clovis; Gregorio F. Martinez and Marcos Villegas, both of Carrizozo; one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Vega of Carrizozo; two brothers, Juan Farmer of Roswell and Espirion Farmer of Alamogordo; and eight grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m., Monday at St. Rita's Catholic Church, with funeral mass scheduled for 10 a.m., Tuesday at the same location. Burial will be in the St. Rita's Cemetery.

Palbearers will be Robert Vega, Paul Ortiz, Jake Herrera, Cosme Gallegos, Antonio Luera and Marcos Barera.

Arrangements were by Clarke's Chapel of Roses, Ruidoso and Carrizozo.

Just one of those days for Warrior tracksters

BY MARK BAGBY

Saturday was a long day for Warrior track squads.

The boys' team journeyed to Artesia, where "everybody's times improved," said coach Darrel Stierwalt. But only two individuals and one relay team garnered awards.

In Tularosa, the girls' squad had even harder luck, as only one lass placed. Again, all times were improved, said coach Sergio Castanon.

"We didn't do too hot," Stierwalt said.

"It was one of those super tough meets, with Hobbs, Lovington, Artesia, New Mexico Military Institute — we didn't light the board, let me put it that way."

"We're getting better timewise, but that was about the only bright spot."

One of the better aspects of the meet was Joe Almager's versatility. A 1,500 meter runner, Stierwalt was afraid Almager's best time in that event — 4:28 — would not be good enough to qualify him for the state track meet, since he still has to compete against Tularosa's Mike Marrujo, who ran a 4:07.

So Almager competed in the 800 meter, finishing in 2:02, placing him first and qualifying him for state in that event. (He had to run 2:04 or better.)

"Joe ran a super race," Stierwalt said. Almager's finish was the only first place the Warriors claimed.

Elroy Duffy, Ruidoso's 3,000 meter runner, finished second in that event. He might have done better but was tripped, "so we aren't sure how well he could have done," Stierwalt said.

The only other placing was a fifth place finish by the 400 meter relay team, which ran a 45.9, nearly two seconds better than its best previous time.

And that was it for the Warriors. Stierwalt said last week's inclement weather affected the Warriors as much as anything.

"The weather hurt us last week," he said. "We should've lost two days of practice to the weather, but we went ahead and went out one day. We didn't stay out too long, because I didn't want to get anyone sick. We just loosened up that day."

"But we only got in a little training, and that hurt us quite a bit."

The Warriors have a meet this Friday at Truth or Consequences, which starts at 8 a.m. Consequently, the Warriors will have to leave mighty early to get there on time.

"All the district schools will be there," he said. "Of course, we haven't seen any of them since our first meet (at Deming). We really don't know how our troops are standing up right now in district."

There are only two meets left on the slate for the Warriors — this week's encounter at T or C, and then the district meet at Deming the following week.

"It should help us seeing how everyone else is doing," he said. "We're going to try to qualify some more people for state this week."

In Tularosa, only discus hurler Tammy McCulley placed, tossing the disc 89 feet, good enough for fifth place. That earned the lady Warriors one team point. And that was it for them.

"Our times improved," Castanon said. "But the competition was tough and we missed a lot of practice time last week. It really hurt us not to practice."

Silver City won the meet, heavily attended by district teams, which allowed Castanon a chance to check out district competition. The lady Warriors also travel to T or C this week.

"Everybody will have to work hard this week," Castanon said. "We only have two meets left, and if anyone is going to qualify for state, we have to do it next week or the week after."

The lady Warriors' finish Saturday was particularly poor because speedster Sheri Dennis was ill last week and did not compete. "We felt she could have won the 100 and 200 meter sprints," Castanon said. "She should be back this week, I hope."

Castanon offered a hopeful note for good weather.

"Hopefully also we'll have good weather all week so we can get after it," he said. "We're going to work as hard as we can without killing us."

Sportin' Life

... a column of opinion ...

by

Mark Bagby

If the weather gets much screwier, I'm going to scream.

I'm tired to getting up in the morning and not knowing what to wear so I don't (a) freeze my backside off, or (b) burn up. It's hot, and then, 10 minutes later, it snows four inches.

All right, Mother Nature, what's the deal? Make up your mind ... one or the other I can take, but this business of ping pong weather is for the birds.

Tennis, anyone?

Although it's not exactly tennis weather, the courts at Sierra and Swim and Racquet Club are getting a lot of use.

But that's mainly because they're being resurfaced and refenced and all that. Three courts are not available for use, but will be soon. A brand new, extremely slow surface is to be laid on the courts, as I understand it.

The club is having a work day Saturday, May 3, Jeanie Whitman, president-elect of the Sierra Tennis Association tells me. The shindig begins at 9 a.m., and all the courts will be unavailable that day.

But refreshments for the hardy workers will be, she said, and all members are encouraged to help.

Also, leagues are forming for tennis buffs — a men's doubles league, and some conglomeration Jeanie called the "Friday night salad supper scramble." Uh — yeah. Sounds okay to me. Call the club (257-5176) for more details.

(Jeanie also wanted to know if I play tennis — ha ha, I thought, I don't play, I have to work at it. I get tired of chasing the balls I hit over the fence. If they allowed home runs in tennis, I'd be the Sultan of Swat.)

All right, you betcha

A note of thanks, congratulations and kudos to Blake Starr and the board of directors of Ruidoso Gymnastics Association, for their fine open house and grand opening last Saturday.

The Association has really gotten off to a great start, and adding a gymnasium — a full time, well equipped facility — will only enhance their success.

Ruidoso dogs win in show

Two Ruidoso dogs placed high in a recent American Kennel Club sectioned match show held April 20 in Alamogordo. Shalmar's The Gambler, an Afghan hound owned by Ron G. and Linda Kowalski, went first in his class, and best of breed, won hound group over six other breed hounds and qualified for best in match.

Shalmar's Sir Alec Malachy C. D. C. D. X. Irish Setter, took class, best of breed and fourth in group, handled by Kathaleen Hawks.

Over 90 dogs were entered in the event, sponsored by Alamogordo's Chaparral Kennel Clubs.

Warrior golfers don't fare too well

The two day Third Annual Ruidoso High School Golf Invitational got off to a late start Friday, but by the time it concluded Saturday, Alamogordo was declared the winner with a team score of 944.

Ruidoso finished 11th among 14 teams, with 1053.

"We didn't play good at all," coach Leroy Gooch said. "We didn't hit the ball bad, but we kept three putting and four putting, and we didn't score worth a flip."

Best individual finish by a Warrior was turned in by Don Dale. Each golfer played 54 holes, 18 each at the Inn of the Mountain Gods, Cree Meadows and Alto Lakes.

Dale shot an 83 at the Inn, 77 at Cree Meadows and 81 at Alto, for a 248.

Other finishes by Warriors were Mike Dale, with rounds of 92, 84, and 93 for 269; Randy Wynn, with 95, 101 and 92 for 288; Paul Kirkwood, with 91, 89 and 90 for 270; and Todd Perteet, with 99, 89 and 80 for 268.

Best individual finish was posted by Craig Summers of Jal, with rounds of 78, 72 and 73, for 221, with Bart Bryant of Alamogordo right behind, on rounds of 73, 79 and 71 for 223.

The affair started about 10 a.m., Friday instead of 8 a.m., as originally planned.

"The snow which fell Thursday kinda threw a kink in everything," Gooch said. "We had to wait until about 10 for the snow to melt so we could play. Then everybody hurried to Cree Meadows, but only five groups finished Friday."

The remaining teams finished play at Cree Saturday morning and then played at Alto that afternoon, so it took substantially longer to play all 54 holes than planned.

Wet courses didn't affect the Warriors or anybody else, Gooch said.

"No, I don't think playing on wet courses bothered us any," Gooch said. "I think we played okay, but I'm disappointed. We should've done better, since we play on these courses all the time."

The warriors return to the links Thursday, traveling to Carrizozo for an 18 hole meet.

SALUTE TO CHAMBER MEMBERS

This is a regular feature in the Monday edition of this newspaper to introduce the members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce

SIERRA CLEANERS has been owned and operated by Mack and Barbara Kizer, pictured, since 1974. The couple has maintained Chamber membership since purchasing the business. Sierra Cleaners, located at 100 Center Street, does dry cleaning for all types of clothing, including winter coats, ski wear and all wool items. They are equipped to clean and press drapes and offer

one or two-day service on most items. "If you bring it in by 8:30 a.m., we can usually have it ready the same day," Kizer said. Sierra Cleaners also offers an alterations service, which usually takes about two days. Store hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., five days a week and during the summer they are open from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

VILLAGE MAYTAG LAUNDRY is located on Sudderth Drive just across from the car wash and is owned by Owen and Nancy McWilliams, pictured. They purchased the business in August 1979, and joined the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce in September of that year. Although it is a complete self service laundry, the McWilliams will perform the service for busy customers. Starching and pressing are also offered. Hours for the summer season will be 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., daily.

SANTA FE—Some Albuquerque folks got miffed when Al Dietz at Commerce and Industry suggested we should take some steps to see that new industry coming to the state locates somewhere other than the Big Town.

Maybe they had a point. It would seem a little discriminatory to use statutes to prevent that happening.

But there's another way to look at the whole issue. What Dietz seemed to be calling for was not so much an "anti" thing — keep companies from going to Bernalillo county — as it was a positive thing — give them reason to consider locating elsewhere.

Besides, as Jim Garvin of Albuquerque Industrial Development Service points out, the big city gets its share of whatever good happens to the state — at home or in some other county. Albuquerqueans ought to be happy to pitch in to help find industry for every corner of the state.

Fact is, as Dietz is well aware, it takes a very special kind of industry to want to locate in such a place as Mora county. The logic of the situation is such that most companies will look first at the larger towns in the state. One irony is that for some firms Albuquerque has already grown too big; they prefer Las Cruces or Alamogordo or some town in their size range.

Dietz is only proposing that some steps be taken to carry out the pledge his boss, John Salvo, made when he first took over Commerce and Industry. Some of us wondered at the time what steps he had in mind when he said he was going to try to help the emptier parts of the state get a share of the industrial operations. Now Dietz has told us.

In a memo to Billie Holder, who runs the state's economic development board (though the Governor is technically its chairman), Dietz suggested some kind of statutory incentives for plant locations outside Albuquerque. He also wants to pursue some ties between industry and schools outside the Albuquerque area.

That got Albuquerque City Councilor Sondra West a little miffed. She wants any advantages given industry to apply everywhere, Albuquerque included.

From a strictly logical point of view, that's fair. But Albuquerque hasn't seemed to need that kind of help. The number of new firms locating there has picked up at a fast rate in the last few months, much as things used to be when Pete Domenici or Harry Kinney were running the city.

Garvin was probably smarter than West when he made his gracious remarks about wanting to see all parts of New Mexico prosper.

Observers at the scene of the funeral for state policeman Richard Gomez, in Gallina earlier this week, were embarrassed when Police Chief Martin Vigil was called for to present the flag which had draped the coffin to the slain officer's widow. Chief Vigil was not at the cemetery.

Neither was Police Commissioner Mahlon Love, though both had been in attendance at services in the church.

Maybe there were very good reasons for their absence from the graveside services, but to have them called for and not respond created an embarrassing moment for the State Police.

Stating this is not an attempt to pan anybody; it's just a reminder, for future reference.

Clipped Comment

HARD TO EXPLAIN

There is something to be said for not imposing a jail sentence on a 76-year-old man in failing health who pleads guilty to a misdemeanor charge of conspiracy.

But when the offender is former Representative Daniel Flood and the conspiracy count involves soliciting and accepting bribes in exchange for official favors, we think something less convenient for the congressman than a year on probation is in order.

The specifics of Daniel Flood's crimes — those to which he pled guilty and others the Justice Department chose to forget — bespeak a pattern of systematic corruption pursued for whatever price the market would bear.

In his first trial, which ended in a hung jury last year, prosecutors charged Flood with peddling his influence as the powerful chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee for $50,000 in bribes from businessmen and others seeking to enrich themselves at the taxpayer's expense. Several of the bribes have been convicted and ordered to jail.

After 31 years in Congress, Daniel Flood certainly should be held to at least as high a standard as those in private life whose greed overcame their civic and moral responsibility.

United States District Judge Oliver Gasch could have sentenced Flood to a year in jail and fined him $25,000. As it is, Flood escaped with nothing more onerous than the requirement that he check in from time to time with his parole officer.

It is the sort of miscarriage of justice that is hard to explain to a 19-year-old kid serving time for rifling the cash drawer at the corner service station. Worse, yet, it is indicative of the judicial and prosecutorial leniency accorded all too many fallen legislators in recent years. — News-Bulletin, Belen

ON CONCERNED CITIZENS

Concerned citizens, bless them, are one of the driving forces in bringing about improvements in Harmony Valley. Without them, it's anybody's guess as to if we'd be getting our new sewer system, and if we'd have water running from our faucets in the years to come ... and even if we'd have mostly blacktopped streets to drive on.

Why, if it wasn't for concerned citizens, it's down right doubtful if there'd be a Humane Society of Lincoln County working on providing an animal shelter, without pestering the county and village for funds.

Course there's a couple other things concerned citizens do ... like give the village kids the screaming heebie-jeebies over their demands ... and coming a cropper of an excellent idea, inspiring them to take pen in hand and write a "Letter to the Editor."

And it'd surprise you how many good ideas ... as well as some mighty interesting reading ... that never gets into print in The Ruidoso News ... because signing letters "Concerned Citizen" just don't cut it ... as there's no way such an epistle'll get any ink ... and it's such a shame ... doing all that writing ... spending 15c to get that effort to The News ... and summarily it's flung into the wastebasket ... just because the writer lacks the courage of the convictions expressed to the point there's no name signed ... no telephone number to call to check statements, if necessary. Yup, it's such a ... shame ... wasting all that good talent.

THE PRISONERS SIT DOWN

The felons not enjoying sitting around in the state pen at Santa Fe did ... a spell back ... decide to sit on their duffs, 'steads going to work for 25c an hour ... and they aired some other complaints ... including maybe as how they'd appreciate enjoying the beneficial boost to their morale they'd experience from conjugal visits.

Now there's nothing much as can be done about their wage scale ... until the legislature decides they're underpaid, and increases their stipend.

As to conjugal visitations ... they seems to work out pretty good in some prisons ... and extending this privilege to New Mexico's inmates as is deserving same might be a good move ... besides, conjugal visitations for cons might help eliminate the con's jocular visitations, visited one upon another.

FOUR DAYS TO LABOR

Should you be of a mind to call the state Highway Department ... toll free at 1-800-432-1299 of a Monday ... forget it ... departmental employees are now laboring a four-day, ten-hour day, work week ... giving them a four on and three off schedule till October 6, next.

The news announcement on this change tried to point up the advantages of the four day week to New Mexicans ... extolling the savings to taxpayers ... and that the crews could get more done in forty hours in four days, than they'd get done in forty hours in five days ... 'cause they would work longer on the days they're working ... which do make some sense.

But there's one factor in this four day work week, as represents an energy saving we can understand ... those employees as commutes a real far piece to get to work, saves one round trip a week ... which should save them enough gas to have more gas to gad around the three days they're not working ... presuming, that is, that they're of a mind to do just that.

UNBENDING IRANIANS

There seems to be little Our Jimmy can do ... or is doing ... or has done ... that's accomplishing much in the way of convincing anyone in Iran that it'd be a good idea if those American hostages were freed.

All the dire threats Our Jimmy's tossing out verbally against Iran ... telling them he's gonna cut 'em off at the pockets ... and leave 'em isolated ... without food ... sans other necessities ... just has them Iranians doubling over with mirth ... 'cause they're not suffering ... yet.

As to hitting them in the pocketbook ... by assessing "fines" against Iran, retroactive, for each day they keep the hostages, ain't seemed to have made much impression ... must be 'cause the Iranians ain't all that impressionable.

If Our Jimmy ups and gets desperate ... as nomination time nears ... he might get antsy ... and try some tactics as might be construed by the Iranians as acts of aggression ... or war ... which just could shorten the life expectancy of the American hostages considerably.

Being's he's obviously stalemated ... maybe Our Jimmy should make the one move that'd solve his problems ... go back to raising peanuts.

LITTLEST COWBOY RIDING every inch of the 12 mile trail Saturday, on the overnight camping trip of the Ruidoso Downs Mule Skinners, was Stormy Ray Smith, 30 months old. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith, Benton, Louisiana wasn't laying down on the job of getting his bed roll FLAILING BROOMS SWUNG HAPHAZARDLY in the general direction of the ball, added to the excitement of the mule polo game at the Mule Skinners' camp Sunday morning. The Ruidoso Downs team beat the Ruidoso squad by something like seven to five, give or take a goal either way, as the spectators had as much, or more, fun than the players.

NOT THE WALDORF ASTORIA, but more than adequate kitchen and serving setup, that catered to the appetites of the Mule Skinners' trail ride party Saturday night. Pete Wood's specialty dishes, including barbecued goat, though prepared in astonishing quantities, disappeared so quickly, it was all the praise Wood needed on its quality.

LEAVE IT TO MULE RIDERS to combine barrels and poles for a new contest event. In Sunday morning action at the trail ride camp site, one rider completed the course in 24 seconds. He also did it twice, just to prove the first time wasn't a fluke.

ready, he just took a tumble as he struggled to pull the padding out from under the saddle. Then, once he'd got it spread on the ground, why he just up and hitched up his pants, just as he'd seen his daddy do.

CHIEF GRUB WRANGLER for the Mule Skinners' Saturday evening banquet was Pete Wood, right, checking the barbecuing chicken, as Elwood Gradine speculated that it was just about ready for sampling, but wheedle though Gradine did, Wood made him wait until the chow line was open.

Local builders seek help on sports building

A two story athletic building will be erected on the field between Warrior Stadium and the Rio Ruidoso, by the Lincoln County Home Builders.

The association has completed plans for the building, including a concession stand and rest rooms on the ground level, with an announcer's and officials' booth in the second story.

"What we need," Home Builders' spokesman Jack Reed said, "are donations of lumber, plywood, 2-by-fours, plywood, any materials suitable for such a building, including nails and any other hardware. If you have it to give to us, to help the Little Leaguers and other groups using this field, we can use it."

Alvin Lowrance, at Valley Rent-All, Highway 37 north, will accept materials donated for this building.

"The Home Builders decided," Reed said, "that we will put up the building as our contribution to the outdoor sports and recreation programs in Ruidoso. Any help you can give us, in the way of donated materials, will be appreciated, especially by the people gaining the benefits of the new building."

LEGAL NOTICE

The Otero County Electric Cooperative proposes to place a 5000 KVA transformer in the existing Glencoe substation. This substation is located approximately one half mile north of U. S. Highway 70 and east of state road 214 to Ft. Stanton which is just north of the Bonnell rock crusher near Glencoe, section 23, T. 10S, R. 12E.
Should anyone have any comments on the environmental impact on the installation of the transformer in this existing substation, they should direct their comments to the Cooperative at Cloudcroft, New Mexico, 88317 by May 28, 1980. This addition to Otero's system will allow better service to be provided to existing members and provide capacity for load growth of its service area.

Tom and Dorothy Knapp Are Reception Hosts

Our good next door neighbors, Tom and Dorothy Knapp, were hosts at their home in Glencoe the evening of April twenty-three for a reception welcoming travel writers who were visiting our mountain home land from different places in our country.

Folk from all over Lincoln County came to wish our visitors well and to help in forming a picture of our area to present to the rest of America and the world.

We wish to thank Tom and Dorothy for extending this hospitality to our writer guests; and we appreciate very much all those who lent a helping hand in this very pleasant occasion.

And we thank the writers for their kindness in making the journey for a visit here among us; and we hope they will return often to the Land of the Pinon and Pine.

Robins And Apple Blossoms In The Snow

Here we are past the one third mark in the season of spring, and all day (April twenty-four) the west wind has been blowing down the vale in wintry blasts, carrying before it clouds of first snow and then sleet, and then freezing rain. From the heavy snow clouds all up toward the west, you can tell that snow is falling heavily on the mountain.

Yet, amidst the wintry weather, the apple blossoms are blooming, colorful and fragrant, with new buds opening right in the face of the driving little white pellets of sleet, while covered with a light tuft of snow. And the robins with their bright orange-red breasts are singing all through this sleet-and-snowy day, as they fly about seeking locations for their nests, or perch in the top of a tree swinging in the wind, or feeding and drinking water around the yard.

Our beloved bird of spring, the robin, has a set of songs, each one for special occasions. One is the morning song, a welcome to the dawn and the sunrise; another is the rain song; and still another is the song of spring rejoicing, and many others.

Today through the snow and driving sleet, the robin sings a little melody you very seldom hear, for you do not often find him out in this kind of weather. Now and then there is a lull in the frozen moisture flying down the glen, and the robin sends out his clear silvery notes of apple blossom time. From across the valley he is answered by other robins all celebrating glorious spring amidst the wintry weather.

The mountain meadows are turning green by the hour, for Mother Earth receives the sleet and snow with joyful thanks. Although the wind feels cold, the temperature is fifty, and the ground is warm even out in the windy places; for the sun keeps smiling through, now dimly and now full strength, as the hosts of winter messengers fly through the land and pass on down the way.

Blossom Parade Moves Up The Way

The spring blossom parade has journeyed (from Glencoe, through "the narrows" and passed through the region of Blacut Hill, and on up around Ruidoso Downs. The apples along the way are flowering forth all through the winding valley, with cherry and pear here and yonder adding an extra touch of beauty.

Just as you round the bend on the way up the valley and come in sight of the village of Ruidoso Downs, you are greeted by a large band of trees all out in crystal white blooms. This is Tull Stansell's cherry orchard, the largest in this area; a beautiful sight to behold just now in full bloom. It looks as though there should be a good crop of cherries to follow this beautiful promise of blossoms.

A NEW LOOK FOR SPRING WITH MINIMUM CHANGE? There's no better way in today's decorating scene than the accent or area rug. Use it as a coverup for a wall-to-wall broadloom that is still good but perhaps not as lively in color or pattern as you'd want today.

You can turn a neutral room into a delightful child's bedroom-playroom with an area rug that features children's favorites in the design and lively young colors. There are colors and patterns to please boys and girls, young or old.

Dad will like an area rug to accent his den. It adds peace and quiet, and it will make his favorite old chair and desk take a new lease on life. He might like a bold geometric pattern, or one of the vivid combinations of strong deep colors.

Colors, patterns and textures offer dazzling variety in area rugs now, where manufacturers seem to have gone all out. A favorite is the white background for displaying the lively colors and patterns of the design. With today's miracle fibers you don't have to worry about white or light colors staying clean and fresh.

Come in and see the big story in today's area rugs. There are sizes to fit every budget, colors and types to spark every decor. You'll find these, and all the best of today's new ideas in carpets, at your carpet headquarters,

Behind the Scenes

Claude Akins to co-host country music awards

by Rolf Gompertz

Claude Akins is no stranger to country music—or the 'Academy of Country Music Awards.' He's been a presenter on the show since 1974. This year he'll join Loretta Lynn and Charley Pride as one of the hosts when the special will be broadcast live on NBC-TV Thursday, May 1.

Akins, who stars regularly as the conniving sheriff on NBC-TV's comedy series, 'The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo' (Tuesdays), grew up with country music. He was born in Nelson, Georgia and raised in Bedford, Indiana.

He's worked with a number of country singers in connection with some of the series he's been associated with, also.

In fact, Merle Haggard wrote the theme song for his previous NBC-TV series, 'Movin' On,' in which Akins starred as a trucker.

"In one episode I entered a country music contest and sang," Akins recalled. "I estimate this set country music back 50 years."

Akins also joined Haggard in singing the 'Movin' On' theme song on Dinah's show.

'Movin' On' ran from September, 1974 to September, 1976. Akins then went head on into country music with another series, 'Nashville 99,' on CBS in 1977.

It was filmed on location in Nashville, and enlisted many country music performers as guest stars playing themselves. In a police series, Akins played a Southern lawman fighting crime in the country-and-western capital of the world. Country music star Jerry Reed played his partner and sidekick.

Akins chuckled, as he recalled an amusing incident, again having to do with his singing.

"I had to sing 'Amazing Grace' as a solo number in one episode," he said. "As we were doing the scene, I spotted Reed mulling to someone while I was singing. After it was over, I went up to him and asked him what he was saying while I was singing. What he said was that if I was going to do much more singing they'd have to pay him more money!"

GIDEON'S TRUMPET

Henry Fonda (pictured), Jose Ferrer and John Houseman star in 'Gideon's Trumpet,' a 'Hallmark Hall of Fame' presentation. WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30 on CBS-TV.

Fay Wray, Sam Jaffe and Dean Jagger also star in the drama special based on Anthony Lewis' 1964 non-fiction account of how an obscure Florida convict drastically changed the course of American legal history.

Henry Fonda portrays Clarence Earl Gideon, a semi-literate and impoverished drifter who, despite protestations of innocence, is arrested for breaking and entering a poolroom in a small Florida town. Unable to afford a lawyer, he asks the court to appoint him counsel, claiming it is his constitutional right.

PBS in the spotlight

Musical comedy star Howard de Silva (seated), who extols the virtues of a 'Little Tin Box,' is aided and abetted by Millicent Martin (left), Julie McKenzie and David Kernan on the final segment of 'Song by Song.' The satirical number from 'Fiorello!' is by Sheldon Harnick, whose lyrics are the subject of this final hour of the Mobil-funded PBS musical series.

'Song by Song' presents Sheldon Harnick lyrics

The cast that inspired 'Song by Song' will be brought together on Monday, April 28,* for the first time on the final segment of the Mobil-funded PBS musical series.

Three singers—Millicent Martin, Julia McKenzie and David Kernan, with Ned Sherrin as host—first joined forces to create the London and Broadway theatrical hit, 'Side by Side by Sondheim.'

Following long runs for 'Side by Side' in both cities and on tour in the United States, Sherrin adapted the format of the show to television to present, in 'Song by Song,' the songs of seven lyricists—Alan Jay Lerner, E.Y. Harburg, Lorenz Hart, Oscar Hammerstein II, Dorothy Fields, Howard Dietz and Sheldon Harnick, who wrote the lyrics for 'Fiddler on the Roof' and the Pulitzer Prize-winning musicals, 'Fiorello!'

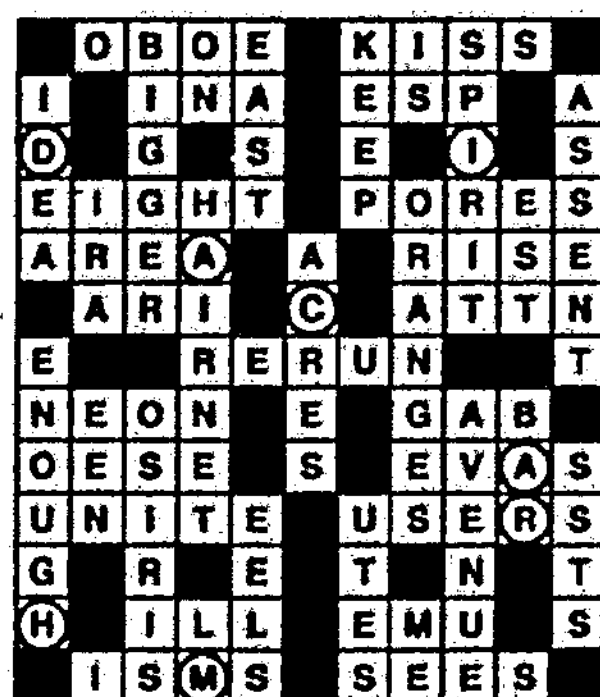

They will be joined in singing Harnick's songs by Howard de Silva, one of the original members of the Broadway cast of 'Fiorello!' in 1959. Mr. de Silva, a veteran singing actor who had played a leading role in the celebrated labor musical, 'The Cradle Will Rock,' in 1937 and created the role of Jud Fry, singing 'Pore Jud' in 'Oklahoma!' in 1943, will sing the song with which he stopped the show in 'Fiorello!'—'Little Tim Box.'

'Little Tin Box' was a last-minute addition to the show when it was trying out in Philadelphia. Harnick says that he has written some of his best-received songs when a show is on the road—'Ice Cream' and 'Grand Knowing You' were written for 'She Loves Me' during its out-of-town tryouts, and so were 'Do You Love Me?' for 'Fiddler on the Roof' and 'How the Money Changes Hands' for 'Tenderloin.'

BLUME IN LOVE

George Segal (pictured right) is divorced from Susan Anspach, but he hates being separated from her—particularly when he discovers that drop-out Kris Kristofferson (left) has dropped in to take his place in 'Blume in Love,' a television premiere on ABC-TV's 'The ABC Friday Night Movie,' airing FRIDAY, MAY 2.

This 1973 release also stars Marsha Mason, Shelley Winters and Paul Mazursky who also directed this flick.

GAUGUIN THE SAVAGE

"Gauguin the Savage," a two-and-one-half-hour dramatic special starring David Carradine (pictured) as Paul Gauguin, the rugged, temperamental French painter who suffered the anguish of having to abandon his wife and children in order to pursue a life of artistic freedom, will be broadcast TUESDAY, APRIL 29 on CBS-TV.

Lynn Redgrave also stars as Mette Gad, Gauguin's bewildered wife, who was left on her own to raise five children. Dame Flora Robson co-stars as Sister Alandre, a nurse-nun, and Michael Horden as Durand Ruel, a successful Parisian art dealer who exhibited Gauguin's Tahitian paintings.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT Filming has resumed on 'Damien: The Leper Priest' with Ken Howard who plays the basketball coach in 'The White Shadow' in the title role replacing the late David Janssen. The NBC producers intend to use actual lepers in the film. 'Star Wars' hero Mark Hamill was one of the original Bradford kids when the 'Eight is Enough' pilot was made back in 1976, but an auto accident kept him from going on with the series. Now he complains, "The only one from the whole cast to visit me in the hospital was Diana Hyland who later died. It was like they were all trying to punish me for not being able to go on with the show. Anyway," he adds, "I hear there is not a very happy set to be working on." Acting great Henry Fonda takes a giant step toward winning an Emmy next year with his performance in a two-hour CBS special 'Gideon's Trumpet' on April 30. George Burns will aim at becoming a country western favorite in the fall. NBC will spotlight the 84-year-old entertainer in a country music special, based on his latest recording hit, 'I Wish I Were 18 Again.' David Carradine attempts the challenging role of French painter Paul Gauguin in ABC's April 29 drama, 'Gauguin: The Savage.' The two and-a-half-hour special co-stars Lynn Redgrave and Dame Flora Robson.

TV TICKER Erik Estrada's friends can't believe the difference. The star of 'CHiPs,' in nine short months, has completely transformed his personality. Gone is the Estrada lady-killer image. Gone is the devil-may-care Hollywood high-life. Almost losing his life in a motorcycle accident last summer, and getting married last November to Joyce Miller, 10 years his senior, have stabilized his life and turned him into a quiet, sensitive recluse and a dedicated father to his 14-year-old stepson, Larry. It is hard to imagine the Estrada of today telling reporters one short year ago that he liked women only for their bodies because he was married to his career. Many believe that Marlo Thomas and Phil Donahue will never marry. They think that the romance will probably go the same route as her relationships with actor Ted Bessell, and playwright Herb Gardner—nowhere.

TV CLOSEUP NBC chiefs and top producers are now using an amazing mind-reading machine to tell them which TV pilots will lead to sure-fire hit series. The other TV networks, ABC and CBS, are negotiating to use the same system, called Critical Evoked Potential (CEP), developed by neurophysiologist Dr. Sidney Weinstein. The networks hope it will save them some of the $50 million they spend each year on pilot shows which are often shelved before they even get on the air. Says Bjorn Borg of mixed doubles and the Love Doubles match: "When a couple goes out to play mixed doubles they should enjoy themselves and have fun. We have fun out there, too, but we take it more seriously. It's good to laugh and joke, which we do, but we also play at 100 percent and give it everything we have. You hit the hardest you can and try to win every point. But in serious doubles, like the Love Doubles match, you don't joke around." Mixed doubles takes a lot of strategy and concentration, and fans are sure to be able to pick up a lot of tips and ideas by watching these top tennis-playing couples on television on May 19.
