Deterioration of Ski Run Road charged

(Pictures on inside pages)

Highway Department's view

With thousands of dollars already spent to continually upgrade State Road 532, plans call for nearly $1 million more to go into the next resurfacing project, slated for summer, 1981.

The most recent project was completed in July of this year and according to Highway Department district engineer Worth Smelser, resurfacing work included stabilization of the existing road base, adding of base material and application of a double penetration seal.

In addition, the department also performed "some drainage work and retaining work to widen the road."

Asked about the life expectancy of the surface, he said, "we can generally expect it to last five years." However, Smelser added that any work, including that of the past summer, is merely "a stopgap measure," since what is really needed to insure a "satisfactory roadway to last a long time," is a complete realignment of the road.

The current road alignment, rough terrain, adverse weather conditions and the difficulty of handling heavy equipment on the road are all limiting factors in its improvement, Smelser said.

But the cost of such a realignment would be "very high," Smelser said. "We're talking about millions of dollars." And any realignment would require the "endorsement" of Mescalero Apache president Wendell Chino, since the road passes through the Apache reservation.

In the past Chino has expressed objections to a realignment which might destroy more of the natural environment of the reservation.

Smelser said that in the proposed budget for fiscal year 1981-82 contains funding for a hotmix overlay for Ski Run Road. In the meantime, "we had hoped to just do routine maintenance," he said, "but if the roadway has deteriorated, we'll have to do more — as much as we can with the personnel, materials and equipment we have now."

Douglas Ditto, district maintenance supervisor for the New Mexico Highway Department, told The News Friday that "we have submitted the 1981-82 budget for a hot mix overlay for State Road 532." Costs were pegged at $337,500.

He added that the "project initiation form has gone in and the chances for getting it are fair to good." Ditto said the fiscal year begins July 1, 1981 and "I assume for scheduling, we would try to get it done during the summertime before the snows."

Ditto said the double penetration done on Road 532 involved laying oil, then chips, then repeating the process on the road. "This is one of the cheapest ways to patch a road," he said.

The process was completed July 30, Ditto said, at a cost of $105,560.

Ditto estimated a complete rebuilding of the road would not take place, realistically, for five to seven years. He said that cost could be as much as $2 million per mile. A complete realignment could take as long and costs would be about the same, he said.

The allegations being made

Road work was completed on State Road 532, locally referred to as Ski Run Road, July 30, according to New Mexico Highway Department officials, but some local businessmen say the work was not completed as promised and may not last through the 1980-81 ski season.

STRONGLY PROTESTING the condition of Ski Run Road Friday was Benny Coulston, past president of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and local businessman.

Coulston said to The News Friday that in "my opinion the State Highway Department did not do what they said they would."

"We were told that State Highway 532 (from Highway 37 to Sierra Blanca Ski Resort) would receive a four-inch basecourse on the road and double penetration. If that is a four-inch base, the state of New Mexico is in trouble; because, if that's a four-inch base on Ski Run Road it won't hold up."

Coulston also said he "hopes this community gets concerned, because the ski season, from November to April, amounts to about 30 to 40 percent of the year's business."

The taxes paid by Ruidoso to the state also concerned Coulston. "We (Ruidoso and area) contribute a disproportionate share in tax money to the state treasurer. I believe we in Ruidoso pay more per capita in state taxes than any area in the state."

"But, in the seven years I've been here, we've made less noise than any other section of the state, and have gotten less."

"We're apparently not politically astute enough to overcome being ignored by the politicians in Santa Fe."

"Now, there's no trouble in getting the state to accept our tax money, the problem lies in trying to get some of it back."

Coulston said he was going to strongly suggest to state highway commissioners that they personally inspect Ski Run Road, "as I want to prove to them that the repair job wasn't done as it was promised us it would be."

ANOTHER UNHAPPY businessman is Ray Heid, owner of Ray Heid's Ski Shop and a member of the Chamber's board of directors. Heid said Thursday that "down below in the valley, there are chuckholes at all corners with sharp turns."

He said "the pavement is rippling in a lot of spots—the first time it's plowed, they'll take the top right up."

"The road is starting to flow downhill. We need a two inch overlay just to save what they've done. They promised us they would do it this year at that March (Highway Commission) meeting."

"They have backed off of it. It's already starting to deteriorate and there will be nothing left to put it on if they don't do it now—they'll have to start all over."

"We could make it through the winter if we do it now. But we haven't had as much traffic on that road all summer as we do one day at Christmas. What will happen then if we don't do it now?"

Heid answered his own question by saying, "People will quit coming, that's what. It got so bad last year that we ran off business. We started damaging cars . . . I know we lost revenue because of the shape the road was in."

Editorial comment

"We need to get the NMHD's attention now, before it's too late. The October meeting is too late. If we talk to them now and get them to do what they promised us, we could make it. But if we wait until after Clovis (site of the next Commission meeting), we can't get it done in time."

"They're gonna cut our throats if we don't do something about it now," Heid said.

Sierra Blanca Ski Area manager Roy Parker said he was assured by Cliff Downey, NMHD in Roswell, that "They will overlay the work they've done—this spring," but, Parker said, "I think it will last as it is—it is sealed, it's a double penetration process. Some of it is coming up in spots, but it's light pavement and there's no way to avoid that."

"It would be better if they put the overlay on it now."

The Board of Directors of the Chamber voted last week to attend the October 15-16 Highway Commission meeting to register their complaints and discuss the Commission's plans for the road.

Red Flag Fire Alert signs due

The Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment, ComFIRE, Thursday learned that collapsible signs to be visible along highways during a Red Flag Fire Alert are now being made in Santa Fe.

ComFIRE chairman Herb Brunell said the Mescalero Apache Tribe requested five signs to be placed along highways on the reservation to further the fire prevention effort.

ComFIRE selected Bill Hirschfeld to become co-chairman with Brunell. The group also decided to solicit more members so more community people can give input to ComFIRE.

All members were encouraged to attend the hazardous waste materials sessions currently in progress on Mondays at 8 p.m., at the main fire hall in Ruidoso.

"We strongly support the schooling being done by the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department and especially Danny Garcia, on hazardous waste dangers," Brunell said.

Mule racing purses set at $35,000

Man facing arson charge

Purses to be paid at the 1980 mule racing, September 26-28 at Ruidoso Downs Race Track could be as much as $35,000, Ed Hyman, president of the Ruidoso Downs Mule Skinners, said today.

"This $35,000 is based on all races being full," Hyman said, "and includes the $13,100 the Mule Skinners are putting up as added money."

"Our purses for these mule races are the highest paid anywhere. No one else even comes close."

"It's this kind of money that produced the 75 mules entered Friday in the six major stakes races."

Hyman said that between 100 and 125 racing mules are expected for this year's meeting. "I base this estimate on inquiries I'm receiving daily from the owners of racing mules throughout the Southwest," he said.

Beginning with this year's races, all racing mules will be graded. This means that a B mule would carry 145 pounds, a C mule 135 with a D mule carrying 125 pounds. "What we're doing," Hyman said, "is running allowance or handicap type races, permitting B, C and D mules to run in the same race."

"We're going professional with mule racing here and we won't have mismatches, such as an A mule running against a D mule without the allowance/handicap factor."

"We expect that this system will produce photo finish races as well as those won by a nose or neck."

Grading races are slated Wednesday and Thursday at the track.

The card includes a race Friday, for three-year-olds, or older, that have never ran a race. "This fifth race will be strictly for ungraded mules," Hyman said, "and will be the only such race this year. If nothing else, it should produce a lot of surprises."

In citing the interest in one of the big money races, the Long Ears Derby, Hyman said that the purse in this race now stands at $8,000 "and could go higher."

The barn area opened Saturday and workouts started Sunday. "We have a lot of interest in this meeting," Hyman said, "and this early turnout to get the mules used to the altitude and the track means we have a lot of mule owners who are serious about winning races."

To insure the fairest possible grading of the mules, racing secretary Bobby Lewis and assistant Mike Hyman have obtained the time, speed and rating of all mules running this year at Bishop, California, and Durango, Colorado, to augment the statistics compiled at Ruidoso Downs last year.

"No one will be able to pull a fast one on us," Hyman said, "because we know the mules and it'd be impossible for an owner to merely change a mule's name and enter a D class race with an A class mule."

Arrangements completed for associated functions during the races include the cleanup by the Ruidoso High School athletic department, who will also handle the program sales.

The Ruidoso Distributive Education Clubs of America will again have the concessions, operating both at the race track as well as at the Hunter/Jumper Horse Show arena.

"The Mule Skinners will be helping these organizations raise some money," Hyman said, "and, with the experience they gained last year, we know that they will do an outstanding job for us this year."

This year's mule auction will be the best held here, Hyman said, as 35 animals are registered for the sale now and the number is expected to be about 70 by auction time. Sponsors of the year's mule races, as of Friday, include:

Johnny Bean Turf Suppliers, Chaparral Motor Hotel and Lynn Martin Lounge, Schrimsher Brothers of Lincoln County, Bennett's Shur Sav Super Market, Rancho Ruidoso, Lane's Western Wear-Alamo Pipe and Supply, Montes Fruit Farm of Glencoe, Security Bank of Ruidoso;

Inn of the Mountain Gods, Ruidoso Motel Owners Association, Beaver's Sand and Gravel, Pinecliff Village, C & L Lumber Company, Mack Yates, Gibson's of Ruidoso, Ruidoso News;

KRRR Radio, Ruidoso High School DECA-Peppel Learn and Earn, Ruidoso State Bank, High Country Agency, Roger's Long Ears Ranch, Resort Properties Incorporated, Ruidoso Printing and Billy the Kid Liquor Store.

Aspencade Queen to be named

Miss Aspencade 1980 will be crowned Wednesday evening at the Holiday Inns' Papoose Room during an informal party for the eight contestants, under the sponsorship of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and Beta Sigma Phi (BSP) Sorority.

The party will begin at 7 and "ninety percent of the judging will be done that night," according to Doris Baca, Chamber office manager.

The party marks the end of competition for the Ruidoso High School (RHS) girls who submitted photographs, personal histories, hobbies, activities and scholastic standings to be judged prior to the final event.

Competing for the title are: Teresa Jeffries, 16, daughter of Mike and Joan Willis, an RHS junior whose long range plans include college and being a homemaker.

Sherry Ensor, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ensor, also a junior at RHS, hopes to pursue a career of modeling.

singing or veterinary work.

Tami Shaw, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Vadez and is a sophomore at RHS. She plans to attend college after high school, and hopes to become a teacher or a computer technician. Her activities include basketball and pep club.

Connie Rue, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rue, a RHS junior active in cheerleading, horseback riding, skiing, gymnastics and swimming.

Kerrie Prophet, 16, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Wadley, also an RHS junior, has interests in music and drama and hopes to attend Christ for the Nations Institute in Dallas, Texas, upon graduation. Other interest include gymnastics and swimming.

Shamarie Doak, 14, is a RHS freshman and the daughter of Bernadene Doak. She hopes to become a lawyer and her hobbies include guitar, gymnastics, cheerleading and dancing.

Charlene Hickson, 16, RHS junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hickson.

She enjoys gymnastics, cheerleading, ballet, tennis and swimming and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Susan Hirschfeld, 17, is a RHS senior and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hirschfeld are her guardians. She is active in the Distributive Education program and was a Girl's State representative last year. She hopes to become a physical therapist or build a career in fashion merchandising.

Miss Aspencade will ride the Beta Sigma Phi float in the 1980 Aspencade Parade and may be invited to represent Ruidoso with an appearance at the Sun Carnival Parade in El Paso, Texas, in November. She may be asked to ride in other parades as well throughout her reign.

A crown will be given to Miss Aspencade and flowers will be presented to her and a first runner-up, who will reign in the event Miss Aspencade moves away or, for some reason, cannot fulfill her obligation. Both will receive trophies donated by the Chamber.

The Gamma Rho Chapter of BSP will provide a scholarship to be given to Miss Aspencade upon her graduation from high school.

She will also receive a number of other prizes donated by local merchants. "We would also like to thank the Holiday Inn and Bud Nickles for allowing us to use their facilities free of charge," Sandy Dacy, BSP committee member, said.

Prizes donated include a shampoo and set or shampoo and blow dry, and a manicure at the Artistic Beauty Salon; $25 worth of Elizabeth Arden Cosmetics from Don's Pharmacy; and gift certificates from: Sierra Cleaner, $20; Service Contractors, $20; Nunley Drug, $10; Gamble's, $5; Gibson's Discount, $10; Lane's Western Wear, $10; Ruidoso Cleaners, $20; Cottage Casuals, $10; True Value Hardware Store, $10 and E-Z TV and Appliances, $25.

Gift certificates will also be given by Ben Franklin, Tots and Teens, A Place in the Sun and The Galleria. Other businesses desiring to donate prizes can contact Dacy at 257-7024.

JUDGING UNDERWAY Saturday at the Arabian Horse Show at Western Highlands

Arabian Horse Show 'fantastic'

Ruidoso's first All Arabian Horse Show, at Western Highlands Saturday and Sunday, attracted 78 horses and about 50 contestants.

"For a first show, this was a fantastic turnout," show secretary Kathy Guthrie said. "The show met, if not surpassed, all of our expectations in all respects."

"The contestants praised the arena and the manner in which the show was conducted. They especially liked the track, where they could work their horses out. I didn't hear a single complaint, which encourages us to begin work now on another show next year."

Entries in this show were from Colorado, Texas, Arizona, California and New Mexico.

Local people charging 'bias' in ski promotion

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

Ski New Mexico (SNM), an organization devoted to promoting skiing in New Mexico, has few members in the southern half of the state because the group is biased towards skiing in the northern half.

That's what was charged at a Thursday afternoon meeting in Ruidoso attended by SNM president Carol Hill and others representing SNM.

SNM of Santa Fe, a three year old group of ski area operators and other business people who profit from skiing, advertises skiing for the state of New Mexico. Last year there were 10 members from Ruidoso.

This year there are two. In speaking to the SNM representatives Richard Cull, local lodging and transportation service owner, said, "You're biased towards skiing in the north half of the state."

Lodger Mike Radziewicz added, "People here view SNM as biased, and that's why we're not joining."

Radziewicz said he was a member last year, but seldom received important mailouts which supposedly went to all members, and never received brochures or any other materials.

He said he even collected dues from prospective members who later became irate because they never received what had been promised.

"You collected our dues and then forgot about us," Radziewicz said.

Hill apologized for the problems, citing a lack of organization and money as the cause.

"This is a volunteer organization," she said, "and we just don't always have the time or money to get everything done when it's supposed to be done."

Cull also cited economics as a reason for not joining.

"Your price list is way out of proportion," he said. "I've got a 15 seat bus, and to join, it costs me $330, the same it costs a major airline. I can't compete with that."

And, since he also has a lodging establishment, he said, to be listed with the organization costs even more.

"I just can't afford it," he said.

Lack of communication was generally cited as the main problem. SNM displayed a sample of its new brochure, and the Ruidoso people present complained about the pamphlet's contention of Albuquerque as the gateway to skiing in New Mexico.

"El Paso is our gateway," Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce executive director

Ed Jungbluth said. "People who come here to ski who fly in, all go to El Paso."

"I probably had one skier from Albuquerque last year," Sierra Blanca manager Roy Parker said.

SNM promised to modify the brochure and add El Paso as a gateway to skiing in New Mexico, in hopes more Ruidoso members would join.

But treasurer Mike Cerletti said, "Our chief purpose is advertising. We are trying to promote skiing in New Mexico in general, not emphasize one area over another."

"I realize that," Jungbluth said, "but the people here feel slighted."

"The people down here must take a more active role in what we're doing," Cerletti said. "I know it's a chicken or the egg situation, which came first? If we had more members here, we'd get more participation, and if we had more participation, we'd have more members."

Hill said more effort would be made in the future to help all members of SNM.

In other business, Hill announced 150,000 brochures on New Mexico skiing will be distributed soon, and full page ads in Texas Monthly, Ski, Skiing, Sunset, Southern Living and Better Homes and Gardens magazines will be appearing in the next several months.

Howell wins senate ballot spot

Voting of the Democratic Central Committee members from Lincoln and Otero Counties proceeded as expected Friday, resulting in the selection of Wilton H. Howell as the Democratic nominee for state senate, District 39.

Howell's opponent, Otero County Democratic chairman Johnny Herrera, registered a final protest at the meeting, saying he felt the voting procedure delineated by the state Supreme Court was "unfair and possibly inequitable."

Responding to Herrera's complaint was Jill Cooper of the state attorney general's office, who told the group that since the "highest court in New Mexico" had heard arguments from both sides and issued their decision, "we're obliged to stand by it." Cooper presided at the voting, held in the commissioners' chambers of the Lincoln County courthouse.

Under the procedure outlined by the court, voting of the total of seven committee members was "weighted" according to the number of registered Democratic voters in the two sections of the district. Each of the two votes representing Lincoln County were equal to 21.675 percent of the total, while each Otero vote equaled 11.33 percent.

In addition to receiving the two votes from Lincoln County — cast by Bill Payne and Charlotte Jarratt — Howell also received a vote from Jeff Dean of Alamogordo, putting his total vote at 54.68 percent to Herrera's 45.32 percent.

Following the vote, Howell said he was optimistic about his chances for defeating his Republican opponent in the general election.

"I've said from the beginning that we couldn't outstep the opposition, but we can sure outwork them."

He added he was glad to have the party's candidate selection dispute settled at last, "so I can concentrate on my campaign."

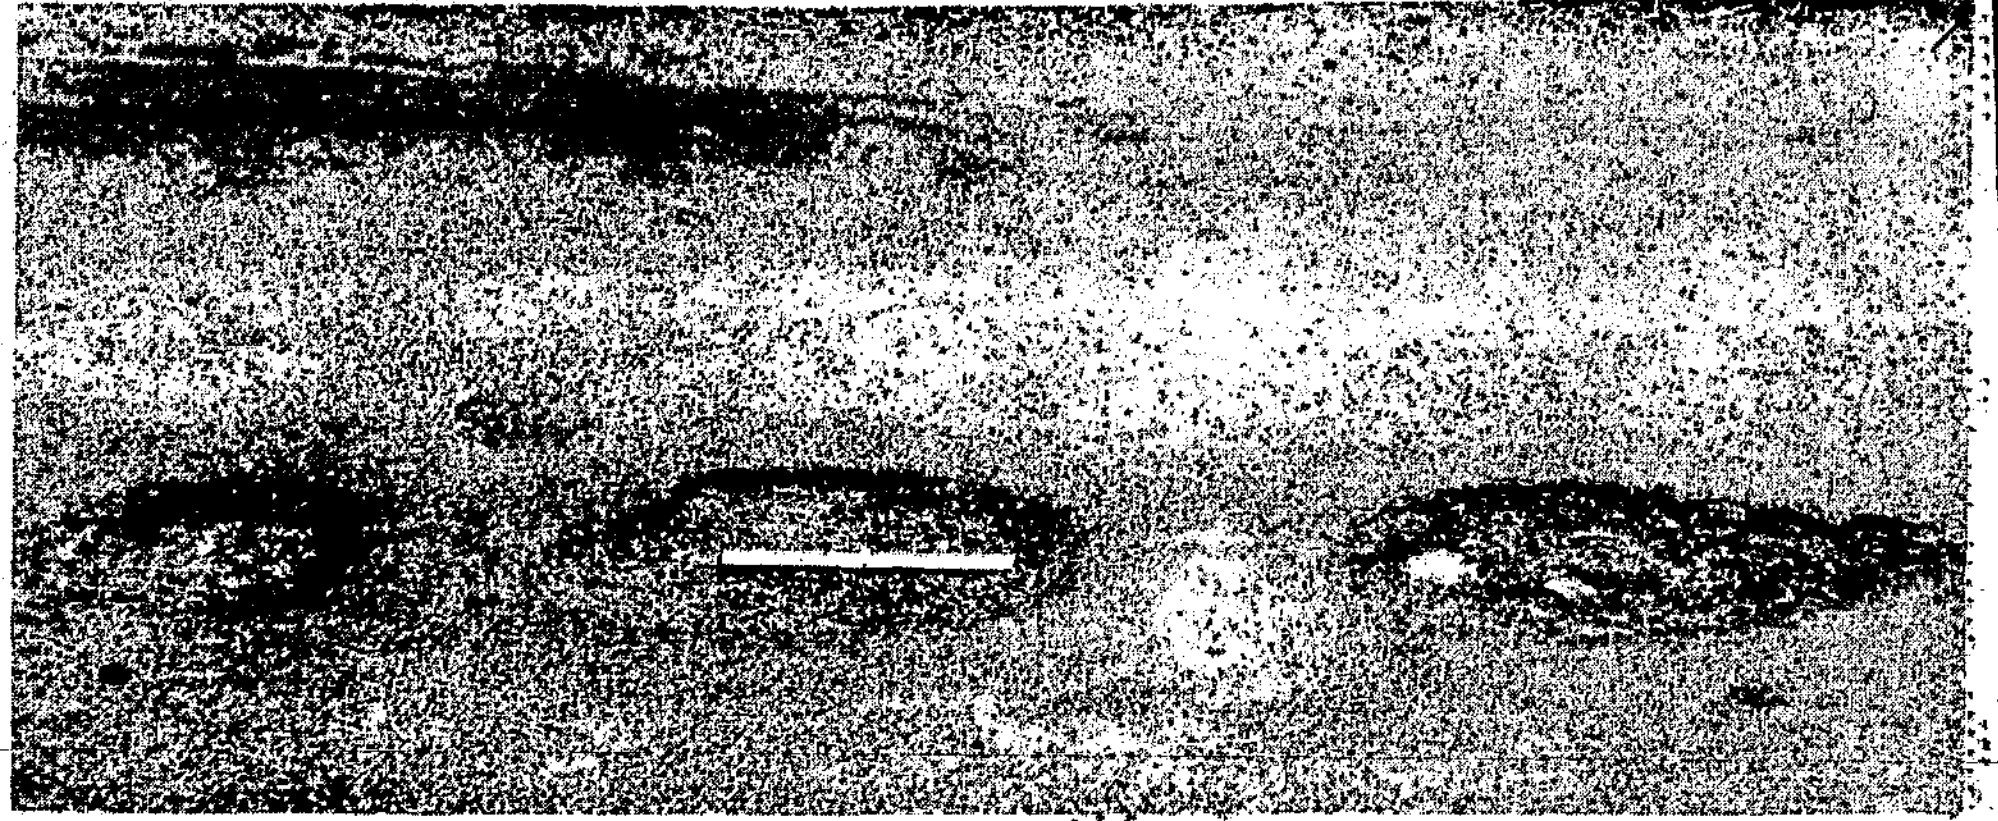

Herrera again objected to the voting procedure after the meeting, saying he felt the court should have looked into the weighting of votes in a similar case in the Los Alamos-Santa Fe district.

Herrera would not speculate on Howell's chances in the general election, and when asked whether he would support Howell in the race, he said, "I will support the entire Democratic ticket."

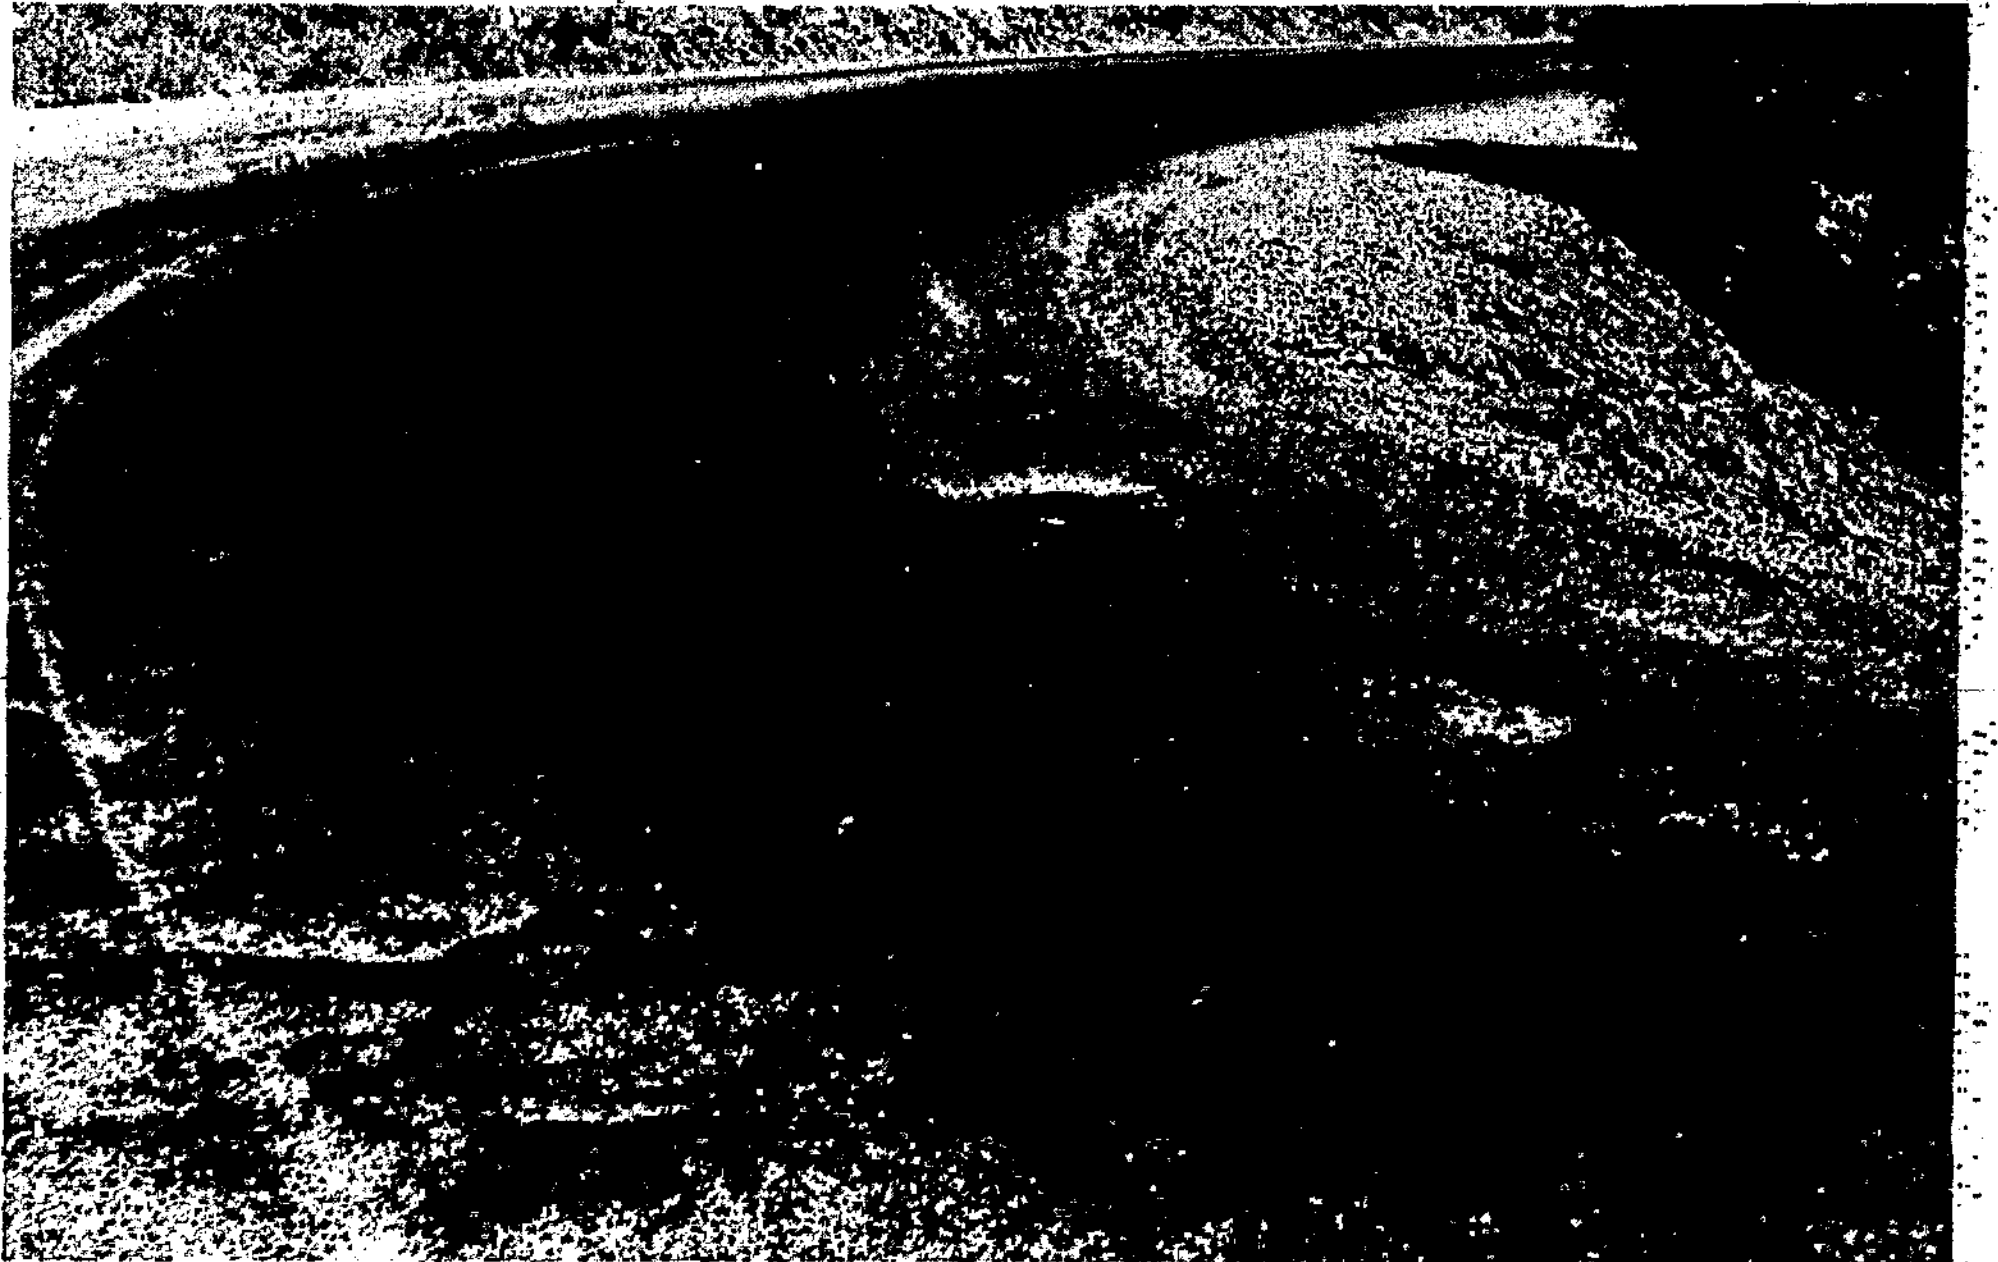

CASTING A VOTE in his own behalf Friday was Johnny Herrera, Otero County Democratic chairman, who had challenged the candidacy of Wilton Howell, Ruidoso, for state senate, District

39. Howell was the victor in the weighted voting procedure devised by the New Mexico Supreme Court. At left is Jill Cooper, of the state attorney general's office, who conducted the voting.

POTHOLES HAVE DEVELOPED in two sections of the Ski Run Road. Those shown above are located less than two miles from the Alto turnoff. A standard 12-inch ruler is shown in the middle pothole.

RIPPLING OF THE ROAD surface has taken place in several parts of the road leading to Eagle Creek and Sierra Blanca Ski Areas.

SAGGING CABLES, sometimes insecurely attached to safety posts, would seem to afford little protection to motorists traveling on State

Downs board meets tonight

The Ruidoso Downs trustees will meet at 7:30 tonight in the municipal building. Agenda items to be considered include a report on the planned town cleanup, membership in the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce and a request for use of village property by organizers of the Hunter-Jumper Horse show.

School board meets Tuesday

The Ruidoso Board of Education will hold a special meeting Tuesday at noon in the administration building.

The only item to be discussed will be resurfacing of the school's parking lots, following the opening of bids on the job.

Wednesday Coffee Cart

The Wednesday Coffee Cart, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce so the public can meet Chamber officers and directors, will be from 9-10:30 a.m. at:

Students told about cave animals

A special program about caves, and animals that inhabit them, was presented to students in science teacher Bob Palko's middle school class Thursday morning by J. L. Hummel, an outdoor recreation planner for the Bureau of Land Management (BLM).

Hummel gave a program about cave life and reviewed several caves which exist in the southeastern section of the state. He also showed specimens he had collected, over a five year period, from the caves in this area.

Among them were two bats which had been killed by humans and found by the BLM.

Hummel, who is a cave specialist working from the BLM office in Roswell, told students that while bats carry rabies, "you can get rabies from any animal that bites you." He warned students not to handle sick bats they may find, but told them bats are considered to be one of man's friends.

Most bats eat insects and other bugs commonly considered pests — they will eat half their body weight in insects every day, he said.

A slide program reviewed the many types of animals that live in caves, revealing that many have no eyes and little or no pigmentation "because they don't need eyes or pigmentation." He said their other senses become much sharper because they are used the most.

Students were curious about "vampire bats," which live in tropical areas and are known for their "blood sucking" qualities. Hummel said New Mexicans "won't see these here because it's not hot enough."

Hummel said the BLM produces a number of programs, including wilderness areas, caves, activities on wildlife and range watershed and grazing. He said a complete list of programs can be obtained by calling his office in Roswell, and the programs can be presented to anyone requesting them.

Turnovers, penalties almost defeat Ruidoso

It wasn't easy, but Warriors defeat Demons, 25-14

Ricky Dennis and Steve Benway each scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the Ruidoso Warriors to a 25-14 error-plagued win over the Dexter Demons here Friday night.

Perhaps "error-plagued" is not an adequate description. The Warriors lost three of five fumbles, threw an interception, had a high center snap on a punt recovered in the end zone for a score, and were penalized 10 times for 130 yards.

Meanwhile, Dexter was penalized 13 times for 140 yards, and lost three of four fumbles.

Somehow, the Warriors, despite all the mistakes, were able to battle their way back from a 14-0 first quarter deficit.

"We weren't mentally ready," head coach Darrel Stierwalt said. "Listen, our kids are like everyone else — they read the papers too. They thought Dexter was going to roll over and die. Dexter has a good football team."

"I was disappointed we didn't play consistent football. We just didn't play like we have in the past."

"I was real proud of the way our kids fought back, though. It's hard to play when you're down, and everybody seemed to think the officials were against us. We did get a lot of penalties, but that was due to the field. It was real slick from all that rain a couple of weeks ago. It still hasn't dried."

"We kept getting called for late hits, unsportsmanlike conduct, illegal blocks. It's frustrating when it's not your fault."

The Jekyll-Hyde Warriors had their difficulties, especially in the first half.

All the first half scoring was set up by errors. The Warriors drove to Dexter's 17 yard line on their initial possession, but quarterback Scott Neal couldn't get a grip on a center snap and Dexter recovered.

Dexter proceeded to march downfield, but the Warriors forced a punt. A clipping penalty, however, gave the ball back to Dexter. Again Ruidoso forced a punt four plays later, but Dexter was guilty of holding. The Warriors took the penalty, hoping for better field position.

The Demons' Felix Welmer punted from near midfield, and Ricky Dennis fumbled the kick, setting Dexter up on the Warrior 12. It took only two plays from there for Dexter to score, with fullback Ed Rodriguez getting the score from two yards out.

The extra point try failed due to a bad snap, and after an 18 play, 65 yard drive, the Demons had a 6-0 lead with 2:32 remaining in the first quarter.

It didn't take long for the Demons to score again. On the Warriors' possession following the kickoff, three plays brought nothing, so with a fourth and one at the 27, Gene Reeves went back to punt. The snap was a bit high, and Reeves bobbled it.

A scramble for the ball put it in the end zone and Welmer wound-up atop the ball. Jesus Morales rushed for a two point conversion, giving Dexter a 14-0 lead with 21 seconds left in the period.

"Those 'gimme' touchdowns will happen every now and then," Stierwalt said. "It's rotten both of them happened in the same game, but that's the breaks. It's sure rough to play when you're down by 14 points though."

"Ironically, the Warriors' only score in the first half also came off a fumbled punt. After several exchanges in the second quarter, Reeves punted 42 yards, but a holding penalty brought it back.

So he kicked 48 yards and Morales fumbled. Neal recovered for Ruidoso at the Dexter 35. On first down, the 5-7 quarterback rushed for 11, and on the following play, Dennis went for 19 to the Dexter five.

On third and goal, Dennis banged over from the one, pulling Ruidoso within eight, 14-6. The extra point try was wide.

That score, at 4:15 left in the half, capped a 10 play, 37 yard drive.

(Appropriately enough, the drive actually began on Dexter's 37, but three consecutive losses and a penalty pushed it all the way back to the Ruidoso 32.)

That's virtually the way the first half ended, although a Ruidoso scoring threat died just as the half ended.

The second half was something of a different story.

"We played the way we were supposed to in the second half," Stierwalt said. "I never thought we'd lost the game. I had confidence in our offense and defense, and we never lost our composure. I'm proud of that."

The second half appeared to start out about like the first one did. Neal had a pass intercepted right off the bat, but the Warrior defense got the ball back. That drive stalled, however, and Reeves punted. That was all changed by a penalty, however, and with a new lease on life, Steve Benway took a pitch, raced around the left side and was gone. Forty eight yards later, the scoreboard read 14-12 in Dexter's favor. A two point conversion try failed.

The big difference in the second half was the success the Warriors had capitalizing on Dexter mistakes, and excellent punt returns by Neal set the Warriors up with good field position.

Right after the start of the fourth quarter, Benway scored again on a 17 yard run similar to his earlier scoring run.

Leroy Ramirez's extra point kick was good, but Dexter was penalized (again) and the Warriors had another try from a yard and a half away.

A two point try was expected, but the Warriors elected to kick. Ramirez's kick was no good, so the score stood at 18-14.

"We didn't go for two," Stierwalt said, "because I was confident we'd score again."

And so they did, although it took several exchanges. Finally, with less than two minutes left, Dennis scored from 15 yards out. Ramirez's kick was good, and that's how it ended, 25-14.

Statistically, the Warriors dominated the game. Ruidoso notched 15 first downs to Dexter's 11, and had 297 yards rushing, to Dexter's 158. The Demons won the passing game, however, hitting three of eight for 37 yards.

Ruidoso was zero for five, plus an interception.

One bright spot for the Warriors was the punting of junior Gene Reeves, who kicked four times for a 40.3 average.

The win upped Ruidoso's record to 2-1, and Dexter fell to 0-3.

Next opponent for the Warriors is Jal here this Friday.

Bowling league to hold meeting

The Wednesday Night Mixed Bowling League will have its organizational meeting September 24 at Holiday Bowl, beginning at 7 p.m.

Competitive bowling starts October 1. For more information, contact Weaver Ballard, 257-4872.

A SWARMING DEFENSE helped the Warriors to a 25-14 win over Dexter here Friday, as Demon running back Jesus Morales (33) discovered.

That's Kyle Flack on the ground, and coming up to help are Lon Nunley (63) and Ronald Bell (73).

STEVE BENWAY looks for running room.

Sportin' Life

... a column of opinion ...

by

Mark Bagby

Ah, the value of hindsight. Did you know we very narrowly missed losing Howard Cosell in the first year — after the first game even — of Monday night football?

No kidding. Seems in the first game a decade ago, Henry Ford II (he makes cars or something, I think) called to complain about ol' Howie. Seems he didn't want his company, which was a major sponsor back in those days of 30 cents per gallon gasoline, to be paying Cosell's salary.

Quite bluntly, he thought loudmouth Cosell stunk.

And he told Rooney Arledge, the head of ABC Sports, to get rid of Cosell.

Arledge (he's the one we have to thank? blame?) asked Ford for six weeks. Ford reluctantly agreed.

Four weeks later he called back and said to drop the matter, Cosell was fine.

Nuts. Say, anybody remember who played in that first game? It was Cleveland and the New York Jets, and despite a great aerial performance by Joe Willie Namath, the Browns won.

The Bottom Twenty Surely you've heard of the Top Ten, or Top Twenty in college football?

Well, there also exists a Bottom Twenty, or the worst 20 college teams in the country. Some of the choices are somewhat (and some aren't) surprising.

Numero uno is Colorado, which lost to UCLA last week, 56-14. Sounds like a pretty good choice to me.

After Colorado, it's California, University of Texas at El Paso, Pennsylvania, Oregon State, Vanderbilt, Columbia, Kansas State, Colorado State, Georgia Tech, Duke, Pentagon (who?), Rice, Tulane, Washington State, Oregon, Texas Christian, Tennessee, Northwestern and Michigan.

(Michigan is the only team with a winning record, but is listed because it's only seven points better than Northwestern. Understandable.)

And MacAlester, the Minnesota school that lost 72 games in a row (or something like that), finally won one a couple of weeks ago.

Their win streak was snapped at one by Gustavus Adolphus, 20-7. And California completed 43 passes for 422 yards — and scored 13 points. Hear that, Mr. Ripley?

The guy (Steve Harvey, who is no relation to the similarly named baseball star) who picks these also picks the worst 10 pro teams.

Los Angeles and New Orleans are tied for worst, followed by the Cincinnati Bengals, the Jets, Green Bay, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minnesota, the quality of holdovers served to Green Bay's bench and idle. (No kidding, that's what it says.)

Crummy game this week — Los Angeles and Green Bay.

Quotes: Frank Gifford on Tampa Bay coach John McKay: "He has so many of his former teammates playing for him" which means the Buccaneers must field the oldest team in the league.

Like the Top Ten, these selections change from week to week, depending on who does what. Florida, for instance, was the worst team last week, before it clobbered California, 41-13. And whoosh, out they went. California, which hadn't even been listed, fell into the second spot.

Enough of this nonsense already.

Hang in there, George

George Brett, who is trying to be the first .400 hitter in 40 years, needs 51 more plate appearances to qualify for the American League batting title. Times at bat aren't crucial, but appearances at the plate are, and 502 is the minimum.

Even if he fails to get the necessary appearances, he could still win the title by adding the needed number of at-bats and counting them as out. His average that way is .348.

(Cecil Cooper of the Milwaukee Brewers might have him beat that way, though, 'cause he's batting .357.)

If George can stave off that hand injury that's been bothering him, he just might be the first legit .400 hitter since Ted Williams did it in 1941.

Enough already.

The Ruidoso News SPORTS Warriors beat Cloudcroft!

Ruidoso's lady Warrior varsity volleyballers made it look easy here Saturday night, handily dispatching the Cloudcroft Bears in two games, 15-12 and 15-2.

Head coach Margie Andrus was elated. "I can't believe it," she said. "We haven't beaten Cloudcroft in God knows how long, and I am so excited."

In the junior varsity contest, the lady Warriors fell to defeat in three games, 18-18, 15-7 and 11-15.

In the varsity contest, the lady Warriors battled back from an early 10-6 deficit in the first game behind four straight serves by Lori Morel and hard spikes by Karen Boone. Ruidoso took an 11-10 lead, but the Bears tied it, 11-11.

The lady Warriors went back into the lead by two, 13-11, but Cloudcroft made it 13-12. A Morel spike on the next volley set up game point, 14-12. With Boone serving, Cyd Wright slammed the ball into a defensive hole for the 15-12 victory.

Irene Sanchez served five games for Ruidoso, Lisa Shaw had one, Boone and Morel had four each, Cathy Jones had three and Wright had one.

The second game wasn't even close. The lady Warriors built a 10-0 lead before Cloudcroft even got on the board. Behind Kody Taylor, Shaw and Boone, the ladies scored three in a row twice and four points, losing service only twice.

Cloudcroft came back with two points, but Jones tapped the ball over on one exchange to break service.

Wright served two points, and then Taylor served the final three for the 15-2 victory.

"I'm so proud of them," Andrus said of the 2-0 lady Warriors. "We've still got some work to do — our serves still aren't as consistent as I'd like, and our back line play is weak, but I'm really pleased. All the girls played well — Kody had an exceptional game, so did Karen. Cyd and Lori had some good spikes, and Cathy was setting the ball well. Lisa and Irene did very well. They all played well."

The junior varsity had a heartbreaking loss.

"Those were awfully long games," coach Phyllis Benham said. "Forty five agonizing minutes. But I thought we did exceptionally well and improved so much over our first game (a 15-3, 15-4 loss at Carrizozo)."

That the junior varsity players did. They tangled with the Bears in the first game as the lead changed hands several times. Eventually the game went into extra time, but Cloudcroft finished on top, 16-18.

Scoring for the lady Warriors were Mary Cadena with two, Lisa Williams with seven, Dottie Baldonado with two, Claudia Branum with three and Lillian Lopez with two.

The Ruidoso lasses dominated the second game, winning fairly easily, 15-7. Branum was the leading scorer with seven, followed by Karla Sears with three, Cadena and Williams with two each and Baldonado with one.

UP AND OVER — Lori Morel spikes a Cloudcroft shot during the lady Warriors' two game victory over the Bears here Saturday. The volleyballers are now 2-0.

In the final game, the lead changed hands six times, and Ruidoso had a 10-7 lead. Then the Bears' Ruth Smith served five straight shots, giving Cloudcroft a 12-10 lead. Cadena made it 12-11, but the Bears pulled away by two with a serve, 13-11.

Despite a very long volley, the lady Warriors lost the next point for a 14-11 score, and then a Bears' serve went unanswered for the final point.

Williams and Branum had three each, followed by Cadena and Sears with two apiece, and Baldonado had one.

Cheryl Darlen also saw action for the home team, which now stands at 0-2.

Next opponent for the lady Warriors will be district rival Tularosa here Tuesday at 6 p.m.

"It's always a tough game," Andrus said. "And they're real good this year."

Alto tourney results

Results from the second Annual Alto Lakes Member-Member Golf Tournament, played Friday and Saturday at the Alto course:

Championship flight: first, Reeves McGuire and Howard Hassell, rounds of 54 and 57 for 111; second, Chuck Hawthorne and Hal Cliff, 54 and 59 for 113; third, (tie) Jim Botts and Jim Nelson, Tom Boyd and George McGill, 58 and 57, 57 and 58 for 115.

First flight: first, Virgil Marsh and Dick Wheeler, 52 and 56 for 108; second, Frank Baker and Jim Bayless, 55 and 56 for 111; third, (four way tie), Jim Stewart and Ransom Galloway, 51 and 63; Gale Russell and Lee Ware, 58 and 50; Newt Page and John Massey, 51 and 63; Harry Ray and Frank Sawyer, 51 and 63; 114.

Second flight: first, Robert Barry and Leroy Connell, 50 and 50 for 100; Cecil Miles and W. D. Patterson, 49 and 60 for 109; C. D. Wickson and Ted Hopkins, 55 and 56 for 111.

Overall winners Barry and Connell received engraved silver trays, and flight winners received gift certificates.

Friday's round was a two man scramble, and the score was half the combined handicaps. Saturday was a one best ball round, using the full handicap.

The tourney had some special features. On Friday, the first tee shot could be made with a baseball bat, which did not count as a stroke. Also, on the 18th green, a surgical rubber tubing shafted putter was available for attempted putts, which also did not count as a stroke, even if the putt was successful.

Saturday's round allowed golfers to use a five foot long driver on the first tee, and golfers could use a "pool cue" to sink their shots on 18.

In addition, the 13th hole both days had five cups on the green, and golfers could play any of them.

In a longest putt contest, Jim Botts and Cecil Miles sank the longest putts on holes five and 11 in Friday's round, and Ed Patterson and Frank Baker had the long putts on five and 17 in Saturday's round.

56 golfers forming 28 teams participated in the tourney, with 10 squads in the championship and first flights, and eight in the second flight.

Braves lose opener, 30-0

The White Mountain Middle School Braves had their season debut spoiled by Roswell's Mountain View Middle School here Thursday, falling to the visitors 30-0.

"We weren't ready to play," said coach Terry Wharton, "plus being outmanned. They were bigger and faster than us. Course we always think we have a chance, but sometimes we find out different."

Roswell scored on its first possession and never let up.

"We played a lot better in the second half," Wharton said. The Braves trailed 16-0 at the end of the first half.

"They'd already played three games, besides having more depth and size and speed than us," he said. "Maybe they put something in the water to make 'em grow like they do."

Next opponent for the Braves will be Tularosa here October 9. A game scheduled October 2 with Carrizozo here has been cancelled, as has an October 30 game with Carrizozo there.

Ladies' softball game cancelled

The final game in the Ruidoso Women's Softball League's championship tournament, slated for last Saturday at 11 a.m., has been indefinitely postponed.

When and if the game is re-scheduled, the Capitan Rebels and Nottingham's Nockouts will compete for the crown.

Hunter/Jumper horse show set

A Hunter/Jumper class horse show will highlight activities at Ruidoso Downs beginning Thursday, with profits to be given to Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH).

The show is the first of its kind in this area and will give owners and riders of hunter and jumper horses a major competition sanctioned by the American Horse Shows Association. A special class has been created for mules, since the 1980 Mule Races will be held at the same time.

All Hunter/Jumper events will take place in a meadow across the entrance road to the All American Sales Arena. This show will feature 175 horses and a trophy and ribbons through sixth place will be awarded in all classes except Equitation, which will receive eight (medal classes excepted).

Horses will be stalled at Ruidoso Downs Race Track and the meadow's use was donated by W. L. "Sunny" Edwards. Ruidoso-Sunland Incorporated allowed use of track facilities and the Hospital Auxiliary has donated many hours to make the show a success, according to Winnie Lewis, show committee member.

RHVH stands to receive a minimum $2,000 from the show and Lewis and other organizers hope that figure will climb as the success of the show grows over the years.

Alto tourney results

Results from the second Annual Alto Lakes Member-Member Golf Tournament, played Friday and Saturday at the Alto course:

Championship flight: first, Reeves McGuire and Howard Hassell, rounds of 54 and 57 for 111; second, Chuck Hawthorne and Hal Cliff, 54 and 59 for 113; third, (tie) Jim Botts and Jim Nelson, Tom Boyd and George McGill, 58 and 57, 58 and 55 for 115.

First flight: first, Virgil Marsh and Dick Wheeler, 52 and 56 for 108; second, Frank Baker and Jim Bayless, 55 and 56 for 111; third, (four way tie), Jim Stewart and Ransom Galloway, 51 and 63; Gale Russell and Lee Ware, 58 and 56; Newt Page and John Massey, 51 and 63; Harry Ray and Frank Sawyer, 51 and 63; 114.

Second flight: first, Robert Barry and Leroy Connell, 50 and 50 for 100; Cecil Miles and W. D. Patterson, 49 and 60 for 109; C. D. Wickson and Ted Hopkins, 55 and 56 for 111.

Overall winners Barry and Connell received engraved silver trays, and flight winners received gift certificates.

Friday's round was a two man scramble, and the score was half the combined handicaps. Saturday was a one best ball round, using the full handicap.

The tourney had some special features. On Friday, the first tee shot could be made with a baseball bat, which did not count as a stroke. Also, on the 18th green, a surgical rubber tubing shafted putter was available for attempted putts, which also did not count as a stroke, even if the putt was successful.

Saturday's round allowed golfers to use a five foot long driver on the first tee, and golfers could use a "pool cue" to sink their shots on 18.

In addition, the 13th hole both days had five cups on the green, and golfers could play any of them.

In a longest putt contest, Jim Botts and Cecil Miles sank the longest putts on holes five and 11 in Friday's round, and Ed Patterson and Frank Baker had the long putts on five and 17 in Saturday's round. 56 golfers forming 28 teams participated in the tourney, with 10 squads in the championship and first flights, and eight in the second flight.

Braves lose opener, 30-0

The White Mountain Middle School Braves had their season debut spoiled by Roswell's Mountain View Middle School here Thursday, falling to the visitors 30-0.

"We weren't ready to play," said coach Terry Wharton, "plus being outmanned. They were bigger and faster than us. Course we always think we have a chance, but sometimes we find out different."

Roswell scored on its first possession and never let up.

"We played a lot better in the second half," Wharton said. The Braves trailed 16-0 at the end of the first half.

"They'd already played three games, besides having more depth and size and speed than us," he said. "Maybe they put something in the water to make 'em grow like they do."

Next opponent for the Braves will be Tularosa here October 9. A game scheduled October 2 with Carrizozo here has been cancelled, as has an October 30 game with Carrizozo there.

Hunter/Jumper horse show set

A Hunter/Jumper class horse show will highlight activities at Ruidoso Downs beginning Thursday, with profits to be given to Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH).

The show is the first of its kind in this area and will give owners and riders of hunter and jumper horses a major competition sanctioned by the American Horse Shows Association. A special class has been created for mules, since the 1980 Mule Races will be held at the same time.

All Hunter/Jumper events will take place in a meadow across the entrance road to the All American Sales Arena. This show will feature 175 horses and a trophy and ribbons through sixth place will be awarded in all classes except Equitation, which will receive eight (medal classes excepted).

Horses will be stalled at Ruidoso Downs Race Track and the meadow's use was donated by W. L. "Sunny" Edwards. Ruidoso-Sunland Incorporated allowed use of track facilities and the Hospital Auxiliary has donated many hours to make the show a success, according to Winnie Lewis, show committee member.

RHVH stands to receive a minimum $2,000 from the show and Lewis and other

DANNIE STORM

The Sunny World Prepares For The Beginning of Fall

This message will reach you on September twenty-two the first day of Fall — that season of the year to which all the days before have been leading.

Snowy winter, Flowery Spring, and Green Summer have been preparing the way for the season of Golden Autumn.

Today as I write you these words, the sun with its ripening rays, has been beaming from a pure blue sky all through the dreamy hours of a perfect late summer day. All the growing things are eagerly taking in the warm sunshine after so many days of rain, completing the magic partnership of rain and sunshine. Never did you see the smile of Mother Earth more full of joy.

The sunny days began on the seventeenth the first day of the first quarter. Fall begins on September twenty-two on the Autumnal equinox (that time when the day and night are of equal length).

Then on the twenty-fourth in the early evening we will behold that golden land mark of the year, the Harvest moon. The harvest moon is the nearest full moon to the fall equinox, which is the first day of fall. Beginning with the welcome harvest moon, you can see all the products of the world ripening one by one.

The Gramma Grass
The gramma grass, pride and joy of grazing creatures of valley, meadow, upland field, hillside, mesa mountain side and foot hills — one of the most nourishing of all wild grains in the world — is also a beautiful sight to see after good rains.

On a slender stem the grain is in the form of a little flag, dark purple with little overtones of rainbow colors when the sun strikes them just right. Today, after several days of mellow sunshine following the wonderful rains, the gramma grass stems are growing to their full height — about a foot and half with the late start they had this year — and the purple flags are top heavy on their slender stems, easily waved by a gentle breeze. Just the last few days Mother Nature has added the final decoration, a little fringe of green and golden pollen all along the lower edge of the grass flag, turning into a small golden fringed banner celebrating the beginning of the fall.

You look out across the mountain field standing thick with the gramma grass, and the west wind moves gently down the vale. The purple and green and golden heads of the grass sway like waves on a lake, shining and glistening in the sun — a host of little flagpoles waving in unison in a tribute the beginning of Glorious Fall.

Apple Harvest Is Under Way

In the lower end of the Ruidoso Valley the apple harvest is in full swing, with the apple season ready to march up the valleys day by day.

Orlando Lucero of San Patricio tells me that his apples are very large and of good color and flavor.

Pappy Johnson, back from a visit in Houston, and recovering from his fall from a plum tree has some of the finest apples you ever saw.

Ralph Bellon A Friend In Need

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bellon, in their Western Office Supply, just across the street from Safeway, are wonderfully friendly and helpful folks.

One time when I was in their office we were talking about the Silver Lining and the Dreamer, and I said:

"Thanks for the kind words, though sometimes I get worried that I might go to the well and find it dry; and then I pray to God to send me something to write."

"If you pray," said Mrs. Bellon, "You will always have something to write."

"Yes," said Ralph, "God's well will never go dry."

Not long ago, Ralph made me a present of a stack of typing paper about half a foot high, saying: "We have to keep that Silver Lining going."

A Faithful Typewriter
I took half a year of typing in El Paso High a while back in — it must have been 1925.

Then in Austin, Texas our Father gave me a Royal Typewriter for my birthday in 1928.

This typewriter has lasted all this time without any breakdown, and then three days ago, the little trigger mechanism that marks the margin, broke. I took the faithful typewriter up to Western Office Equipment and Ralph Bellon said he would do the best he could, meanwhile he lent me another Royal of much later date and which is a fine machine, and upon which I am sending you this message.

Whenever I pass Western Office, I think of the kind words and deeds of Mr. and Mrs. Bellon, and they make you remember something from the Bible: "He who drinks the water that I give shall never thirst."

Episcopal mission in Carrizozo

An Episcopal mission has been established in Carrizozo, which is being utilized by a group of Episcopallians from the Carrizozo, Capitan, Corona and Nogal areas. The new mission was named St. Mathias and is located in the old Chapel of Roses building on E Street.

At a business meeting following the first service September 7, Spencer was elected warden of the mission. Others elected to serve on the Bishop's Committee included Tom Sullivan of Capitan, H. F. Burkhalter of Nogal and Rene Burton of Carrizozo.

Services are being held each Sunday at 7 p.m. with Father Delbert Achuff of the Church of the Holy Mount, Ruidoso, serving communion on the first, third and fifth Sundays. Layreader Stirling Spencer will conduct the prayer services on the second and fourth Sundays of the month.

Plans are underway to remodel the existing building into a chapel and parish hall, with additional space for a church kitchen and Sunday school rooms.

All persons interested in attending Episcopal services are welcome to attend. Additional information may be obtained by calling Mary Spencer, 648-2875, or Rene Burton at 648-2102.

SALUTE TO CHAMBER MEMBERS

This is a regular feature in the Monday edition of this newspaper to introduce the members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce

COUSINS PACKAGE STORE, located at White Mountain Drive and Highway 37, is staffed by Benny Coulston, Diane Coulston, right, and Katherine Jones, left. The store has a complete stock of domestic and imported wines and champagne, in addition to all nationally advertised liquors. Cousins package store is also a complete party headquarters, including gift items. Friendly service is another specialty, and customers may take advantage of a drive-up window. Cousins' Package Store opened 2½ years ago, and became a member of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce during the June membership drive. Business hours are 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 11 p.m., Friday and Saturday.

JONES GULF STATION, located in the Gateway area of Sudderth Drive at the traffic light, is owned by Tom Jones, pictured above with wife Kathryn and daughter Tracy. The station is a family business, and sons Jeff and Greg are also employed at the station, although both are now away at school in Amarillo, Texas. In addition to regular gas station services, the station offers light mechanical work, tire sales and repairs, batteries and other auto accessories. Jones purchased the business January 1, 1979, and they became members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce during the June membership drive. Business hours are 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., six days a week, with extended hours in the summer.

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — Words can be used to obfuscate.

Take that sentence.

Lots of people don't know that "obfuscate" means to obscure or confuse something. Use the word, and some in your audience will smile hesitantly and hope they can figure out the meaning from the context. Others may be impressed by your use of a word whose definition you know when they don't. To neither group will you have really communicated a thought.

Which is just what some people sometimes hope to do — pretend to communicate while saying nothing.

That's kind of the feeling we get when we hear that the state's new compensation system for its employees is going to be "productivity-based."

What does that mean? we ask ourselves. State government is a service business; it doesn't produce (that is, make) anything. How are they going to pay people on productivity who don't produce anything?

Alas, we fear the group making this recommendation has fallen into the buzzword trap.

"Productivity" is a fashionable locution at the moment, as in "We must commit ourselves to raising the productivity of the average American" in a speech from almost any presidential candidate.

Even in that sense it doesn't mean very much. Economists measure the productivity of the nation by dividing the total number of people holding jobs into the total dollar value of the Gross National Product. Since nobody really knows how many people are at work and nobody really knows what the Gross National Product is, what you get is just another mythical number for economists to play games with.

When you use it of state employees, who work neither to turn out a product nor to generate a profit, how in the name of all that's holy can productivity be a criterion?

Do you count the number of sheets of 8½" x 11" paper they use per year? Do you count the hours they sit on their duffs?

At least those are measurable.

"Productivity" in this context flat isn't.

All the group which studied this problem is suggesting is that one measure of supposed worth be substituted for the same measure.

Under the old system, which used to ask questions like whether the employee kept his or her "work station" neat and clean, managers had to kind of go by their gut feeling as to whether this person being graded deserved a good grade or not. Since most supervisors, like other humans, are towards, most employees got good grades.

Now we have a new rating system, which doesn't ask about things like the appearance of the work station.

In applying it, supervisors will kind of have to go by their gut feelings as to the value of this person being graded.

You just can't get away from that. Quality can seldom be quantified, in government or anywhere else.

What the state ought to be doing is trying to find as supervisors people who have courage enough to tell the truth. That would do more than any recommendation by any consortium (another buzz word; the old-fashioned one was "committee") trying to obfuscate the issue by making us think we are going to get from state employees something which won't be forthcoming.

Why oh why do we eternally insist on trying to con one another?

POOR RECORD

A commission ordered by Congress to see what shape the government is in has come to a conclusion most of us have held all along — the situation is all fouled up.

The Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations started its task four years ago. Now it has published the first portion of its findings in a volume called, "A Crisis of Confidence and Competence."

The report boils down to the fact that the federal government is so overloaded with programs and issues that it cannot cope with the need for reform.

Congress is quick to take on minor issues but shies away from much-needed reforms, such as overhauling the welfare system. Members of Congress would rather deal with potholes, libraries and rat control than foreign affairs and the economy.

The commission found that all levels of government have contributed to the failures of the last two decades but Congress has done the most to bring about the "crisis of confidence."

It would be a good thing for the nation if those in Washington would pay heed to the commission's report. But then that may be too much to expect. — News Bulletin, Belen

ZILLIONS OF MILLIONS

It is no insignificant sign of the times that U. S. Trust of New York may up the ante in its count of millionaires. Once it was mighty big medicine to be worth a million dollars. But the number of Americans in that category has burgeoned so that now U. S. Trust contemplates henceforth limiting the count to persons with a net worth of three million or more. Actually, it seems, things in the millionaire department have slackened off a bit. The bank figures there are only 10.3 per cent more U. S. millionaires now than in 1979, a mere 574,342. By way of comparison, note that in 1979 the bank counted 15.4 per cent more than in 1978.

Still, 574,342 millionaires is a lot of millionaires. And among other things the number is a measure of how inflation has ... well, inflated. — Alamogordo Daily News

STATE FAIR WINNERS

The compiler of statistics on winners in State Fair competition did send The News lists of winners ... and the following 4-H members ... listed by the compiler only as residents of Lincoln County ... making it rather difficult for pinpointing a town/mailling address ... so as to give good and proper recognition of credit where credit's due.

Anyhow ... here's at least some Lincoln County 4-H'ers as 'twas worth their while to compete ... and what they competed in ... and how they did:

Angie Trujillo, first prize, mix and match blouse, shirt or vest and pants ... and you can guess, I guess, what she won her first prize for.

Clay Lightfoot put together an unfrosted plain yellow cake that done won top honors.

Yvonne Jones, in the weaving division, picked up a first prize for an article made using floor loom ... which ain't all too informative ... and she also grabbed a first prize for a project of 4-H'ers choice ... as did Roe Anne Alford.

Then in the Quarter Horse Show ... Milliron Flower, owned by Pat Dunning, Carrizozo, picked up a second place in the mares foaled in 1978 and before division ... with Pat getting another second by entering Milliron Parade and Milliron Flower in produce of dam judging.

And Lincoln County grabbed an honorable mention in the "A New Decade for Agriculture" booth ... and there ain't nothing too shabby about that.

So ... by jinkies ... congratulations to you winners ... for letting all those judges/folks at the State Fair know that Lincoln County was at the fair ... beating the best someone had to offer. Go ahead ... cheer!

ON SHOOTING DOVES

Can't mention no names ... but there's this dove hunting devotee in Ruidoso ... who thinks shooting doves is more fun than untangling backlashes from fishing reels ... who says his finest shooting's come over watering holes ... when it's time for the doves to water down ... and that he thinks he's figured out if he'd salt the water, that the doves'd get thirstier ... citing the f'r instance of well filled salt shakers conveniently placed on the bar for guzzlers of suds ... Nope, 'tweren't Shaky Pete neither.

ON BUYING DUCK STAMPS

Naturally no one's about to buy a stamp to stamp a duck ... 'cause catching the duck to stamp might be an exercise in futility.

Anyhow ... a Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge publicity put-outer ... in noting that migratory wildfowlers must purchase a duck stamp before shooting ducks, geese and other birds so classified ... did become inspired sufficiently to suggest that you don't have to be a hunter to meander into a post office and plunk down $7.50 for a duck stamp ... 'cause duck stamps is mighty fine collector's items.

Besides ... the more $7.50 stamps are bought, the more money'll be available to preserve wetland habitat for all wildlife ... and the more wildlife there's an abundance of in wetland habitat ... the more need there'll be for more wetland habitat ... and the more $7.50 duck stamps there'll be to be sold ... to develop more habitat ... to sell more stamps.

LINCOLN VISITATIONS

If'n you think that the streets in Old Lincoln Town's deserted except during the Pony Express Race/Billy the Kid Pageant the first week in August each year ... best you think again.

Seems ... according to someone there who's charged with counting the visitors ... that 22,415 persons did visit the historical sites in Lincoln from January 1-August 31 this year.

Now that's a heap of visitors ... and if'n business keeps improving, there could be much commercial development pending future development ... no?

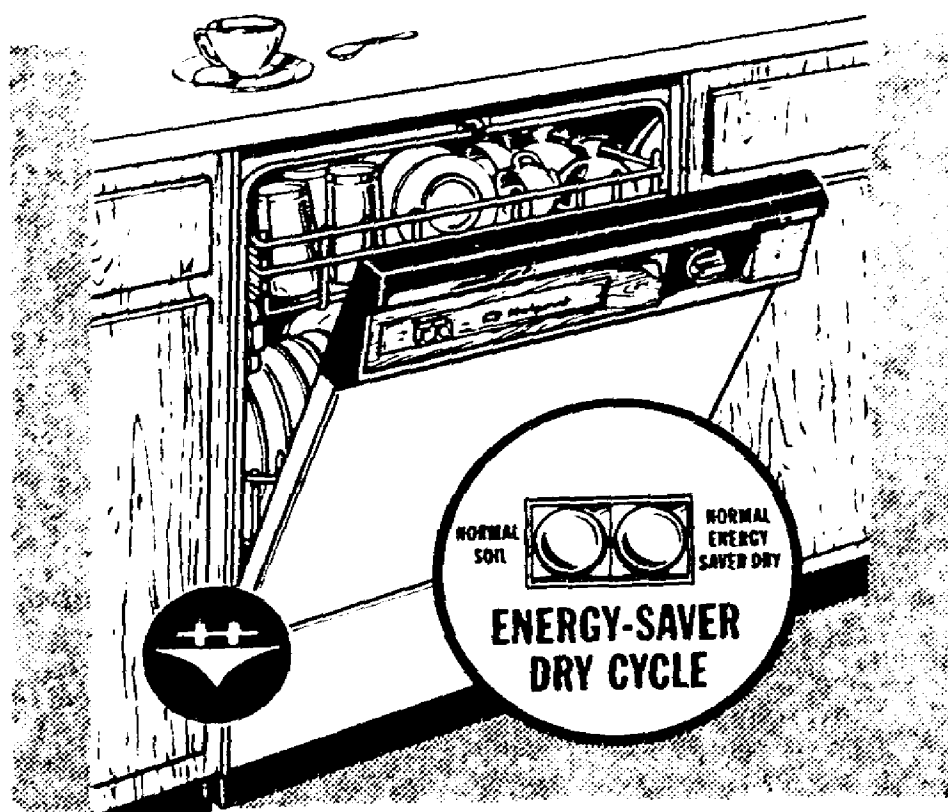

Of that total, 7,879 visitors visited Old Lincoln Town during August ... which mighta caused some traffic jams ... on the street and the board walk ... anyone for holding the Miss America Pageant on the courthouse lawn ... uh ... grounds ... 'cause there really ain't all that much lawn.

Yup ... seems as though lotsa folks's hearing about Old Lincoln ... which should be brought to attention of the State Monument folks ... no?

BRIEF BIT: If nothing else was accomplished, the Howell/Herrera battle to get on the ballot in the fall election for State Senator, District 39, should let voters know there's some interest in the seat ... CD

Abbott defends Forest in its survey operations

(Editor's note: The following is a statement made by James R. Abbott, Lincoln National Forest Supervisor, September 18, at a public meeting in Alamogordo, concerning Forest Service Surveying Policy.)

For more than 50 years the Lincoln National Forest has been required by law to have a continuing program to accurately survey its boundaries. The Forest has more than 1,700 miles of boundaries, and more than 500 miles of them have been surveyed since the program began. If we had the money and the personnel, we could get the job done a lot faster.

A good example of why the Forest must continue to survey its unsurveyed boundaries was seen recently, when because of a private survey, conducted by improper methods not in accordance with established rules for surveying public lands (recorded as early as the days of Thomas Jefferson), a private landowner was told he owned 80 acres, part of which was actually public lands. The result was the loss of about $1,000 worth of public timber, which was sold by the private landowner.

Originally, except for the Spanish Land Grants, private land came from the sale and disposal of the public domain. The land was disposed of by legal description, with only the exterior of each section surveyed. The procedures for locating subdivision lines within a section were established in various statutes as early as 1803, and were considered to be the responsibility of the local surveyor.

An article in the Sunday edition of the Alamogordo Daily News referred to the Forest Service's current survey program on the Lincoln as a "resurvey." That reference was incorrect. The sections mentioned, until the Forest Service survey was made, had never been subdivided on the ground, according to public land survey statutes, rules and instructions.

Until this is done, there is no legal survey to establish public and private property. The Forest Service does not "resurvey" any land that has been surveyed according to the rules required by law, although we do sometimes retrace to mark lines or replace lost monuments. The article also mentioned modern survey equipment resulting in different surveys because of increased accuracy. The reason for differences with many past surveys, including some surveys in the High Rolls Mountain Park area, is not the result of more accurate equipment, but because some survey methods used in the past were improper according to the law. Modern equipment is not necessarily more accurate than older surveying tools, but is more convenient and faster to use, resulting in lower cost.

Land descriptions in the original patents from the government did not refer to natural or man-made objects, such as fences, as property boundaries, but were based on official surveys. If your fence is not located on your true property line, it cannot be recognized as the true boundary of your property, except under State statutes regarding agreements between private individuals. The law does not allow the United States Government to recognize or be bound by State statutes concerning land, or agreements between individuals, unless they are approved by the Congress. Forest Service surveys are recorded at the county courthouse and are available to any surveyor or landowner. If anyone proves a Forest Service survey to be in error, the survey will be corrected on the ground, as soon as possible.

Our job is to protect and manage public lands. We must know exactly where they are, in order to do our job properly. The sooner all of the title lines of National Forest boundaries are located and marked, the fewer problems both private landowners and the Forest Service will have. The value of land and the pressure for use is increasing every day.

Lake Lucero caravan planned September 27

An auto caravan to Lake Lucero, a part of the area that is the source of the white sands, is scheduled for September 27. The caravan is limited to 30 cars and reservations are required. Interested persons should call monument headquarters at 437-1058.

The trip will begin at 9 a.m., at the Small Missile Range road intersection with United States Highway 70/82, 25 miles west of monument headquarters, located between the green and white mileposts 174 and 175. Park Rangers and military police will brief the group on regulations that apply during the trip. The caravan will proceed over paved roads through the White Sands Missile Range to the trailhead to Lake Lucero. About two hours will be spent at the lake area to allow time for a one mile conducted walk, for photography, sightseeing and lunch. The caravan will return to United States Highway 70/82 by 1 p.m.

Participants will need to be at the Small Missile Range gate promptly by 9, because they cannot enter through the gate after the caravan leaves for the lake. All persons should come prepared with enough gasoline, a spare tire, drinking water, stout walking shoes, suitable dress for the weather, sunglasses and a lunch. Persons are also reminded that Lake Lucero is a primitive area without sanitary facilities of any kind.

IN A MATTER OF DAYS these leaves will turn, announcing the arrival of fall

BLM advisory group held plans session

The wilderness program, a nuclear waste storage site near Carlsbad, and an Air Force proposal for a missile system in eastern New Mexico were among topics discussed at the recent meeting of the United States Bureau of Land Management's (BLM) Roswell District Advisory Council. The newly formed 10-member citizens group will advise the BLM's Roswell district manager on development of a wide variety of programs for federal public lands in Chaves, Guadalupe, Quay, Curry, DeBaca, Roosevelt, Lincoln, Eddy and Lea counties in New Mexico and for federal minerals in Texas.

According to Roswell district manager James "Smokey" O'Connor, the meeting at the district headquarters in Roswell was an orientation for the new members. Future meetings will be used by members to work on and discuss specific issues. Council members were briefed on the history of public lands and advisory councils and the organization and functions of the BLM. BLM employees also discussed programs for the coming year and issues the council may be asked to deal with.

Among these issues were BLM recommendations for wilderness study areas in southeastern New Mexico. In March the Roswell district office recommended that five areas totalling 26,166 acres become wilderness study areas and deferred recommendation on another three areas (4,310 acres) until the United States Forest Service and United States Park Service complete wilderness reviews on adjacent areas. The BLM's state director in November will decide which of these areas will be further studied. After an intensive review, some of these recommendations will be forwarded to the president and Congress for action.

In discussing the Department of Energy's proposed waste isolation pilot plant (W. I. P. P.) on public land near Carlsbad, a BLM really specialist said the BLM is concerned only with land use at the proposed site — not with the "right or wrong" of nuclear waste storage. The Department of Energy (DOE) is responsible for determining the feasibility and environmental impact of waste storage, he said. The BLM will review the DOE's environmental impact study and request for withdrawal of the land from certain other uses.

O'Connor briefed the council members on the Air Force's proposed MX missile system which may be built in eastern New Mexico and part of western Texas. The system would use an estimated 5,750 acres of state and private land and 1,500 acres of federal public land in Chaves, Curry, Roosevelt, Quay, DeBaca and Guadalupe counties and about 7,000 miles of roads. The BLM would be involved with withdrawal procedures for the public lands and possibly with land-use planning, environmental assessment, and the sale of caliche, sand and gravel for construction.

Other issues discussed were the BLM sponsored antelope habitat study being conducted by New Mexico State University (NMSU); the rangeland consultation process between the BLM and ranchers, the District Grazing Advisory Board and others; and a new Ruidoso airport application the BLM expects to receive for land at Fort Stanton Mesa now used by NMSU for range research.

Present at the council meeting were George Mitchell (renewable resources) and Gilsorio "Rod" Rodriguez (non-renewable resources), both of Roswell; Senator Bill Lee (renewable resources) and Natalie Grand (public-at-large), Lovington; Senator Joseph Gant (elected government), Jim Walls (non-renewable resources), Jack Hunt (recreation) and Tom Thornton (wildlife), all of Carlsbad; and Carlton Laman (transportation/rights-of-way), El Paso, Texas.

Connoisseurs sample New Mexico's wines

There was an air of somberness, tension. Wine bottles and rows of short and long stemmed wine glasses lined four tables in the sun drenched patio. It was no Italian or German winery. It was the Wine Judging competition at the 43rd New Mexico State Fair.

Twelve wine connoisseurs sit silently at the tables sipping and sniffing and savoring nine different classes of New Mexico wines. Judges are math professors, electronic engineers, freelance writers, housewives, among other professions; and they have one thing in common—they have special knowledge and talents for identifying vintage and kind of wine and for spotting wine defects.

Organizer and chairman of the 1980 State Fair competition is Tom Hill, wine connoisseur and teacher of wine appreciation and writer for "Vintage Magazine" published in New York City and board member of the "New Mexico Wine and Wine Society."

"Wine appreciation is a habit I picked up in college," Hill said, as he wanders in and out among the tables, handing out judges' printed forms and delivering boxes of New Mexico wine. "I had a professor who was a fine wine expert."

Hill selects the judges, who must pass a test proving their capabilities. Most have wine cellars of their own. For instance Lash Hansborough, Los Alamos, is a linear design expert for cancer treatment at Los Alamos Scientific Laboratories. His wine cellar boasts 600 bottles.

Bruce Noel, Espanola, who Hill describes as "the best wine palate in the state" and his wife, Sue, both judges, also have their own wine cellar. Another of the judges, Richard Jones, Sapello, describes Bruce Noel's talent as "bordering on the astounding." Other judges say it's eerie the way Noel can instantly spot labels and pinpoint defects.

Hill said, "There were only 42 entries statewide this year—almost half of what we had last year, but we think it's because of a misunderstanding at the entry date."

Hill said the per capita wine consumption in New Mexico is quite low, "New Mexico used to be a big wine producing state but with prohibition wine manufacturing pretty much came to a standstill. Now it's starting up again. We have three commercial wineries — Rico's Winery right here in Albuquerque, La Vina in Chamberino near Las Cruces, and a brand new winery starting up in Roswell by the Hinkle Brothers, grandsons of the ex-governor."

Hill considers "white grape wines" to be the best of New Mexico grape wines and "apple wines" to be the state's best fruit wines. Cherries, raspberries, pears are some of the fruits used in the state, and the consensus of the judges seems to be that no particular section of the state is particularly best for growing grapes. Hansborough, however, says "I don't think we're making wines in the right places yet." But where is the right place? He doesn't say.

Judges Thora Guinn, who says she is a wine merchant for Vintage Wine, and Professor Roger Entringer of the University of New Mexico (UNM), study their row of empty glasses carefully, wait for the wine to be poured, swirl and smell and swish and taste and ponder and then jot down their judging pads which list "appearance, nose, flavor, and comments." After each taste they rinse their glasses and their mouths and begin again. Sue Noel removes the taste of the previous wine by nibbling a piece of Swiss cheese.

Judge David Nolf, who is with "Mr. Bottle" wine shop in Santa Fe, is of Dutch extraction. "French wine prices — especially burgundies — are sky high. People are turning to California wines," he said. But would they ever turn to New Mexico wines? Well, some day perhaps.

"Don't drink sweet wines first," Bruce Noel said, "It ruins the flavor of dry wine later. And you need to pay special attention to 'spritz' ('bubbles' to non wine experts). It could mean oxidized wine."

Denise and Mike Wernig of Albuquerque are one of the couples who participate in an intense involvement with (One judge says you could call it a "love affair") wine. Two other couples share their addiction: UNM Professor Ted Guinn and his wife, Thora. And Professor Roger Entringer, also of UNM, and his wife, June.

Most of the judges say they drink about four to seven bottles of wine at home each week, but that New Mexicans as a whole are beer drinkers. It may take a while for tastes to change they predict.

But Bruce Noel's priceless prediction for those who must look elsewhere to find a special wine is they just might luck out with a red burgundy wine called "Chamberino" or (and he swears this is no joke) a white wine called "Schlosser-Kupfergrube" which he says comes from the Nahe area of Germany where there used to be a copper worked by convicts.

As for New Mexico wines they may have to come up with something a little less difficult to pronounce, something like simply "Vino Blanco" or "Vino Rojo" or just plain "Vino."

Focus on Small Business

by E. Maine Shafer

Dear Mr. Shafer,

Banks are the life-giving support line for small businesses, which depends on them for short and medium term financing. But both business and the banks complain of problems complicating successful loan transactions. Where are the kinks and how can this support line work better?

Bankers say their greatest frustrations are poor quality financial statements and supporting information — usually those prepared by the client himself.

Business people say they are irritated by what they perceive as too much red tape and the resulting delay in the granting of loan funds.

Too often the process causes an adversary atmosphere and results in the loss of the loan for the business person and in the loss of a profitable relationship for the bank. What is a small business person to do?

One of the first things is to put a trained accountant into the picture, one who understands the lending process and what documents are necessary to the bank and what the documents should contain so that the lender can justify his loan-making decision.

An accountant can explain that banks generally do not make loans to non-customers and they require the client to establish a depository relationship. He can accurately explain to the bank how the borrower intends to disburse the loan funds. An accountant can spend time analyzing and explaining to the bank that the client can, in fact, generate sufficient cash from his business to meet the bank's payments. He can also emphasize the client's collateral in such a way that the banker is protected.

The accountant's job is difficult because he or she must have an understanding of each participant's viewpoint. The accountant must have good judgment in business planning and must be able to skillfully present the facts in a plan of action. The accountant expects to be compensated for his skills but the appropriate use of his talents can make it profitable for everyone.

Ten state auto dealers helped by SBA loans

Nearly 500 financially troubled auto dealers have been helped so far by a special United States Small Business Administration (SBA) loan program.

These dealers have received loans worth more than $100 million, SBA Administrator A. Vernon Weaver has announced.

At the same time E. Maine Shafer, SBA District Director, Albuquerque, announced that 10 auto dealers have received loans in New Mexico. These loans are worth $2,376,000. "Additional dealer loans in process exceed one million," Shafer said.

"We at SBA are gratified that we have been able to assist so many of the nation's automobile dealers," Weaver said. "These businessmen, many of whom manage long established operations in their communities and who are leaders in their home towns, have faced recent difficulties mostly beyond their control."

"On July 24, SBA's nearly 100 field offices started giving special consideration to auto dealers seeking financial assistance. Instead of requiring special audited financial statements in loan applications, SBA permitted auto dealers to submit their regular financial statements to participating banks, where SBA guarantees up to 90 percent of the loan. Such loans are available to periods up to 10 years and carry bank market interest rates."

As of September 5, Weaver reported that SBA had received 5,251 inquiries and 836 applications for dealer loans, totalling $175 million. Of this number, 473 loans have been approved, totalling $100.8 million.

An additional 468 applications, totalling about $100 million, are pending and being processed at SBA offices and participating banks.

In a special loan program created for dealerships owned by minority persons, Weaver reported 36 loans approved, totalling $6.7 million.

"The fact that so many dealers have responded to this government-private sector initiative reflects dealer confidence that their current financial troubles are temporary and that the United States auto industry will recover from its temporary downturn," Weaver said.

SBA also is providing management assistance and counseling to troubled auto dealers, and, when necessary, is considering loan payment moratoriums, loan payment reductions and deferrals on present loans made to dealers and auto industry suppliers.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

TIP FROM READER: Many youngsters couldn't imagine how to dispose of household trash without first stuffing it into a plastic garbage bag, and without question, these flimsy containers have made this chore much simpler. It should not be surprising that the lowly garbage bag has risen to a level where the containment of garbage is only a minor role among its duties. Outdoor people have found hundreds of handy applications for these bags, and as many more are left to be discovered.

They afford complete protections to sleeping bags of hikers and boaters. Cameras, wallets, food, changes of clothing, and any number of valuable articles find a dry haven inside them. An emergency rain hat or umbrella can be quickly fashioned, and a large bag can even be made into a poncho. They also make handy groundcovers under a tent. Makeshift hip boots or waders can be made by removing the shoes, slipping one over each leg, securing the tops, and replacing the shoes.

When packing for your next outing, include bags of various sizes, and use them wherever protection from rain or invasion of insects is needed. Ronald P., S. Carolina.

"Papillon" 1973 Steve McQueen, Dustin Hoffman. The astounding but authentic story of a convict, sentenced to life imprisonment on infamous Devil's Island, who chooses to live free—or not at all. (R)

WEDNESDAY

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"A Rumor of War" 1980 Part I. Brad Davis, Keith Carradine. Based on the Pulitzer Prize-winner Philip Caputo's best-selling account of his Vietnam combat experiences. The story follows Caputo through his transformation from restless, idealistic college student to proud and enthusiastic Marine.

(NBC) WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Act of Love" 1980 Ron Howard, Robert Foxworth. A young man stands trial for murder after he honors the wishes of his brother, who was totally and permanently paralyzed in a motorcycle accident and does not want to continue to live in that condition.

THURSDAY

(ABC) THURSDAY NIGHT MOVIE: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Bad News Bears Go To Japan" 1978 Tony Curtis, Earle Haley. The Bears are in a face-off with the little Sluggers of Japan.

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"A Rumor of War" 1980 Conclusion. Brad Davis, Michael O'Keefe. The story follows Caputo through his transformation from restless, idealistic college student to proud and enthusiastic Marine, and, finally to battle-hardened and embittered veteran in Vietnam, charged by a military tribunal with the murder of two Vietnamese civilians.

(NBC) THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Rage" 1980 David Soul, James Whitmore. A convicted rapist is assigned to a program designed to reform offenders by helping them vent their anger on abusive persons in their past and thereby overcome their rage toward women.

FRIDAY

(ABC) FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"For The Love Of It" 1980 Jeff Conaway, Deborah Raffin. A couple is chased by the intelligence agencies of several countries for something they don't even know they have.

SATURDAY

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 8:30 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:30 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Marathon Man" 1976 Dustin Hoffman, Laurence Olivier. The suspense drama tells of an introspective graduate student who finds himself at the mercy of a terrifying fugitive Nazi war criminal. (R)

MONDAY

(NBC) CENTENNIAL: THE WAGON AND THE ELEPHANT: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

Part III. 1978 Richard Chamberlain, Barbara Carrera, Levi Zandt, a spirited young Mennonite, and his bride leave Pennsylvania behind and reach St. Louis, where they meet up with a westward-bound party that includes a captain in the U.S. Cavalry, an adventure-seeking British journalist and a villainous mountaineer who is supposed to be the group's leader. (R)

TUESDAY

(NBC) CENTENNIAL: FOR AS LONG AS THE WATER FLOWS: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

Part IV. 1978 Gregory Harrison, Cristina Raines. Levi falls in love with a young half-breed girl and arranges for her to be educated in St. Louis, but there she falls in love with a young Army officer who proposes marriage. (R)

Profile

Meredith cast in new role

Burgess Meredith, the host of ABC-TV's 'Those Amazing Animals,' has a background in show business that reads like a page from the history of theatre arts in America. It spans nearly four decades and encompasses nearly every facet of the entertainment industry.

Ever since he made his stage debut portraying the character of the doormouse in Eva Le Gallienne's production of 'Alice in Wonderland' after an apprenticeship at the New York Civic Repertory, Meredith has been a vital force in American theatre. He is, and has been, an actor, director, producer, writer for the legitimate theatre, motion pictures, television and radio. He has conducted symphony orchestras and has narrated motion pictures and television commercials.

Burgess was born in Cleveland, Ohio, the youngest of three children of Dr. William George Meredith of Fitchville, Ohio. His grandfather, Oliver Clinithus Burgess, was pastor of the First Methodist Church in Cleveland.

In 1920, Burgess entered St. John the Divine Choir School in New York as a singer and student. In 1921, he won the lead in the Choir School production of 'Peter Pan.' In 1923, he played Bottom in 'Midsummer Night's Dream' at the same school. During the summers of these years he attended Camp Dudley in upper New York. During 1924-25 he attended Hoosac Preparatory School at Hoosick Falls, N.Y., and was editor of the school paper, The Owl.

Between 1954 and 1968, Meredith either starred in or directed 19 major stage productions. Between 1964 and 1974 he appeared in 76 motion picture and television films. As a result, he has been nominated once for the coveted Oscar for his work in 'Rocky,' and was nominated twice for the Emmy for roles in 'Johnny We Hardly Knew Ye' and 'The Last Hurrah.' Recent motion picture assignments include 'Clash of the Titans,' with Lord Laurence Olivier and Maggie Smith; 'Final Assignment,' with Michael York; and 'The Last Chase,' with Lee Majors.

TV COMPULSION SERVICES, INC.

Cathy Lee Crosby, (right), a host of ABC's 'That's Incredible,' has long pursued with enthusiasm her hobby—the circus trapeze. On KIDS ARE PEOPLE TOO on ABC-TV Sunday, September 21 Cathy will discuss her devotion to the Big Top art and will be seen in performance with the Shrine Circus.

SPFX: THE EMPIRE STRIKES BACK

Special Effects, the technology that frees an audience's imagination for full flight and can turn a cinema dream into instant reality, will be saluted—and some of its magic will be revealed for the first time—in "SPFX: The Empire Strikes Back," an hour-long special program starring Mark Hamill and featuring a special appearance by R2D2, to be broadcast MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22 on CBS-TV.

How things are made to fly—from flying carpets to Darth Vader's Imperial Starship—is demonstrated during the special hour. Models and "blue screen" are illustrated. How models are made to move by stop-motion photography is shown, using clips from "Empire" and from films starring such famous monsters as King Kong.

CHECK LISTINGS FOR EXACT TIME.

by Joey Sasso

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Lovely Loni Anderson, the hottest star of TV's hit comedy show 'WKRP in Cincinnati,' may quit the series, says its ace disc jockey Venus Flytrap. "Loni's being sued for about a million dollars by our production company at the moment," actor Tom Reid told me. Reid admitted WKRP's Top Twenty rating may take a nosedive without the charms of the blonde sex symbol. "We're really beset by financial problems with our stars. I don't think Howard (Dr. Johnny Fever) Hesseman has signed to come back yet." No matter what fate befalls his fellow DJ, Venus Flytrap will still be spinning soul music in the WKRP control room next season. "Venus is kind of an outlandish character," says Reid. "I really don't know how he got that way, but I have a great time with it." To keep faithful fans tuning in to 'Happy Days,' I hear the Cunningham parents, played by Marion Ross and Tom Bosley, may suffer some serious marital problems that one source describes as 'heartbreakingly funny.'

CONSUMER NEWS WIRE: Look for big changes in both the storyline and the cast of the top-rated television show 'Dallas' in the coming season. For one, Charlene Tilton's character will marry a handsome young law student played by handsome young Leigh McCloskey, who you may remember for his performance as a stud for hire in the NBC telefilm 'Alexander: The Other Side of Dawn.' For another, Mary Crosby, who plays J.R.'s mistress, Kristin, will disappear from the series after this fall's fifth episode. She will be replaced in J.R.'s heart by blonde and beautiful Judy Landers. Last, I hear Lorimar is planning to change the focus of the series, slowly but surely, from J.R.'s machinations to brother Bobby's increasingly far-from-lily-white character. Not only does this maneuver satisfy Patrick Duffy's repeated—and public—complaints that his Bobby character has grown too pure to be believed and much less interesting to play, but it will also put the producers in a good position at the bargaining table next year at this time. Should the J.R. role in the series be somewhat or even significantly reduced by that time, the thinking is that he will be less sorely missed should Larry Hagman's salary demands grow too expensive for Lorimar's tastes.

TV CLOSEUP: Toni Tennille, who now stars in and hosts her own new daily one-hour variety-talk show which airs throughout the U.S.A., has some very definite opinions about her clothes. "Up until a few years ago," says the very shapely blonde, "I really didn't have that much of a choice in wardrobe. Before I began running daily and taking up a vegetarian program, I was limited to what I could wear on the stage and in my private life. Now that my body has changed so much, I can pretty much wear anything I want to. For my appearances in Las Vegas and Lake Tahoe, I am appealing to a Middle America audience who want 'glitter and flash' with their entertainment, so I wear costumes by Bob Mackie. The clothes are sexy, revealing, and very flashy. They make a great effect on the stage."
