Ruidoso News

sponsoring essay contest

The Ruidoso News, in observance of National Newspaper Week, October 12-18, is sponsoring an essay contest.

The contest theme is: "A Free Press Safeguards My Freedom."

The theme is based on the contestant's interpretation of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

The rules:

— The essay must be of 1,000 words, or less.

— The contest is open to any person, regardless of age, not employed by, or directly related to an employee of The News.

— All entries must be postmarked November 30, or earlier, if mailed to The Ruidoso News, Post Office Box 128, Ruidoso, New Mexico 88345. Entries may be taken to The News office, 1712 Sudderth, until 5 p.m., December 1.

— First prize in this local contest will be $25 cash plus a one year's subscription to The News.

— Judging at the state level will be by New Mexico Press Association officials.

— The state winner will receive an engraved plaque, valued at $50.

— National prizes are $1,000 for first; $300 for second and $200 for third.

"All the contestant has to do," News publisher Ken Green said, "is put down, in 1,000 words or less, how you interpret the First Amendment as stated in the theme, 'A Free Press Safeguards My Freedom'."

It is preferable, Green said, to type the entries, double space, though carefully and clearly handwritten entries will be accepted.

"In my opinion the First Amendment is one of our greatest freedoms," Green said, "and every citizen benefits directly from it. What we want to know is, how you feel about it and what it means to you."

Waiting game starting on new airport

The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC), agreed Thursday to continue to play a waiting game in their effort to locate a new regional airport on Fort Stanton Mesa.

"We don't know who our president is; we don't know who our Secretary of Interior is; we don't know who our BLM (Bureau of Land Management) director is; and we don't know who our Congressman is," said Fred Heckman, commission chairman.

Since the persons holding all of those positions may change within a month, the commission plans to wait until next month before taking further action.

The current Secretary of Interior, Cecil Andrus, has announced his intention to resign, and the state BLM office is now being staffed by an acting director.

A new application for lands at Fort

Stanton mesa, at the preferred Site B or Fort Stanton Airport Site, is being prepared by the SBAC with the help of the Lincoln County Bar Association. The application must be made to the state BLM director, who is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Interior.

The original application for Site B acreage was turned down by the state BLM in 1979. A later appeal to Interior Secretary Andrus was also denied. The acreage sought is currently being used by New Mexico State University for long term agricultural experiments.

The commission was also advised by member Norman Wheeler, mayor of Ruidoso Downs, that a request from the Carrizozo town council for membership in the SBAC had been approved by Downs village trustees.

Lincoln County commissioners meet Tuesday

Lincoln County commissioners will meet at 10 a.m., Tuesday at the Lincoln County courthouse in Carrizozo.

Major agenda items include consideration of an electric fence for the Arabela Livestock Association; opening of bids on worker's compensation insurance and a used backhoe; a contract with the New Mexico State Library for bookmobile services; and a change in the commissioners' first November meeting date.

Highway officials: 'Ski Run Road in good shape'

BY GWYNETH JONES
Staff Writer/Photographer

A group of state Highway Department officials visiting Ruidoso Thursday agreed that State Road 532 is "a pretty darn good road," in the words of chief highway administrator J. G. "Buddy" Hewitt.

The entourage of officials who made a personal inspection of the road, included Hewitt; Cliff Downey, maintenance supervisor of the Roswell District Highway Department office; Douglas Ditto, maintenance engineer, also of Roswell; and Roy Ripley of the department's public affairs office, Santa Fe.

Hewitt added he felt the road looked "500 percent better," than it did before resurfacing work was begun two years ago.

He reiterated that a proposal for placing a mat overlay on the road is included in the department's budget for 1981-82. The budget will come before the state Legislative Finance Committee in December, Hewitt said. Final approval of the funds must be made by the state legislature.

"Support of your local legislators," on the budget requests, Hewitt said, should be sought by local citizens.

Upon reaching Sierra Blanca Ski Area, the highway men conferred with Ed Jungbluth, executive director of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, and Roy Parker, ski area manager. Both men agreed that the road seemed to be in good condition.

Hewitt said recompaction and stabilization of the road, performed during the summer of 1979, was "well worth it in providing stability." That work was necessary, he added, to assure a strong base for later resurfacing work done this summer, and the overlay planned for next summer.

"Outside of a little roughness," in a few areas, Hewitt said he saw no major problems with the road. The double penetration and chip seal, applied last summer will "never be as smooth as work done with a laydown machine," Hewitt said, even in the flat lands.

The grade of the road makes it difficult to apply an exact measurement of the base course, he said. A four-inch base course was the "nominal depth" planned for the road, although the true depth may have varied slightly. "Bleeding" of oil through the seal can be a problem in hot weather, but cold temperatures will harden the road, Hewitt said.

Hewitt said road shoulders were also built up in several areas, and better drainage created alongside them. Other stabilization work was done, with wooden ties which were reinforced with cables under the roadway.

The highway administrator also pointed out that over the past 18 months, 25 percent of the total district budget went to upgrade the Ski Run Road; and "there are 1,300 miles of road, in the district," he added.

A "conservative estimate of the total funds spent on the road over the past three years would be '$1.75 million,'" Hewitt said.

Crowd at Aspencade parade

Record numbers of people turned out Saturday morning to witness the 1980 Aspencade Parade, which featured more than 70 entries besides the unit of motorcyclists leading the troupe.

The Sweepstakes Trophy, given to the best entry in the parade, went to Gibson's Discount Center for their float depicting winter activities, in keeping with the theme of the parade, "Winter Wonderland."

Grabbing second and third place trophies were Security Bank of Ruidoso and Inn of the Mountain Gods, respectively.

Other parade winners included: Noon Lions Club, civic organization; George Lore (buggy), first and REACT trailer, second, individual entries; Rocket Shriners of Alamogordo and Roswell Shrine Club, first and second; Alamogordo Middle High band, first in Class A division;

Marshall Junior High band, first, and Ruidoso Middle School Band, second in Class B bands; Nell Harris, first; Jeff Yeatman, second and Jock Murphy, third, in bicycles.

Judges were Keith Kolb of KEN-TV in Portales; L. C. Stiles, mayor of Roswell; and Louise Babers, San Patricio, a longtime resident of the Hondo Valley.

Making note of the 50 Americans held hostage in Iran were most motorcyclists and many bicycle riders, who wore yellow armbands to drive down Sudderth. The idea was initiated by Irene Naron and Shirley Flowers of Ruidoso, who said they felt it was a way to make a "silent statement" of support for the hostages.

The two women recruited volunteers this week and passed out the armbands to motorcyclists at the staging area before the parade.

A static display of World War II aircraft exhibited by the Confederate Air Force, was set up at Ruidoso Municipal Airport Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, which ended when the colonels successfully completed a "flyover" during the parade.

A barbecue followed the parade in School House Park and a precision motorcycle performance given by the Victor McLaglen Precision Motorcycle Unit of Los Angeles concluded park activities Saturday.

A rugby game at Ruidoso High School football stadium began at 2 p.m., providing a complete afternoon of entertainment for fun seekers.

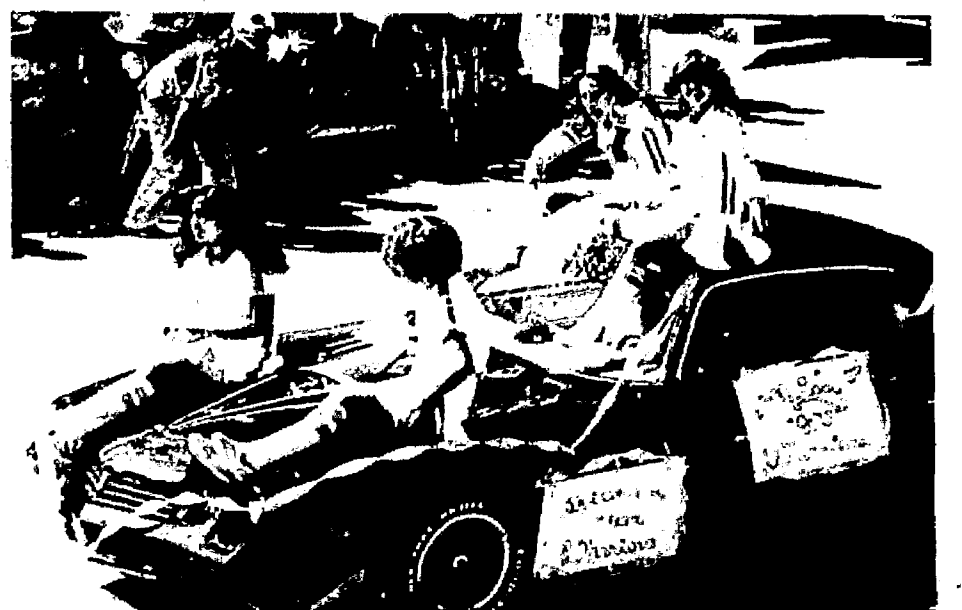

Several television crews were on hand Saturday to record the day's events, including "P. M. Magazine," which did a segment on the precision motorcycle program, and two free-lance producers, who hope to do a program on motorcycles to air on public television in the future.

The Aspencade 10 Motorcycle Convention, headquartered at the Chaparral Motor Hotel, featured the first showing of 1981 model motorcycles and equipment. The display drew thousands of viewers during its three day run.

Photographs of Aspencade weekend action appear throughout this issue of The News.

ASPECADE QUEEN Charlene Hickson, right and runnerup Susan Hirschfeld, rode the float prepared by Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

HEADS UP GIRLS! Ruidoso's Junior Varsity Cheerleaders discovered where the photographers were, above; then flashed their winning smiles.

RUIDOSO MIDDLE SCHOOL Band received a second place trophy in Class B Band division competition Saturday in the 1980 Aspencade parade.

ASPECADE 10 MOTORCYCLE QUEEN Leah Gregerson of El Paso, Texas, received congratulations from Tim Thompson, motorcycle convention director, after being named queen Friday afternoon.

Hazardous materials course set

A 12 hour course in the handling of hazardous materials accidents will get underway at 6 p.m., Tuesday at the Ruidoso Fire Department's main building, located just off Sudderth Drive behind Skateland.

All area medical personnel, law enforcement officers, fire fighters and members of organizations who deal with emergency situations are urged to attend the free course. Don Naylor of the State Fire Marshal's office will conduct the programs.

The course will run from 6-10 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A EUNICE COUPLE was injured Friday afternoon when they lost control of their motorcycle on a curve on Highway 37. The two were treated for injuries at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

BICYCLE CONTESTANTS made it up this hill in Saturday's parade, but it wasn't easy.

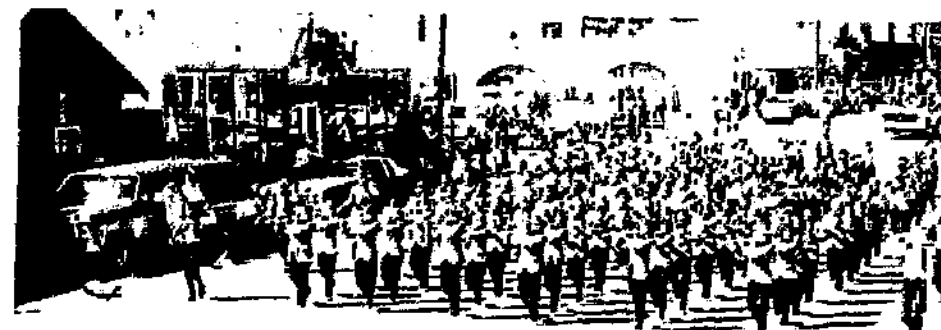

LEADING CHEERS along the parade route Saturday were Ruidoso High Cheerleaders.

"CHIEF BERNARDO" FIRED UP this hornno, an Indian oven called the "beehive," over the weekend to turn out quantities of Indian bread. "The Moors brought this oven to the Indians when Coronado was here in the 1500's," he said, "and it's easy to build and bakes a great bread, if you know how."

ALAMOGORDO'S Junior High Band and flag unit placed first in Class A bands Saturday in the Aspencade parade.

WORLD RECORD HOLDERS for number of men on a single cycle, the Victor McLaglen troupe came within one man of equaling that record Saturday in Ruidoso. Above are 21 men on a moving cycle.

Accidents mar weekend

A rash of accidents involving motorcycles injured a number of people over the weekend in Ruidoso.

Shortly after 11 a.m., Friday, a motorcycle driven by Donald R. Cormier, 36, Fort Worth, Texas, went out of control on Highway 37 near Mont Blanc Drive. Cormier and his passenger, Gretchen Von Rosenberg, also of Fort Worth, were treated for injuries at the Ruidoso Hospital.

At about 2:45 p.m., Jimmie R. Cox, 24, of Eunice driving a Yamaha cycle, also lost control on Highway 37, on a curve. He was cited for careless driving and he and passenger Sandra Cox, 27, of Eunice were treated for injuries at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

Other injuries occurred about 8 p.m., Friday when a Harley Davidson motorcycle driven by Richard M. Schenck, 29, of Albuquerque slowed for a turn from Sudderth Drive on to Terrace Drive. Another cycle driven by Wesley L. Parvin, 18, of Gardendale, Texas, struck the rear of Schenck's cycle. Debbie Schenck, 22, also of Albuquerque, was taken to Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital suffering from a broken leg, according to police reports. Parvin was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Two more cycles collided about 10:30 p.m., Friday on Sudderth Drive when a cycle driven by Paul Muncy, 14, Artesia, pulled in front of one driven by Edward M. Rodarte, 35, of Albuquerque. Muncy was cited for failure to yield right of way and was taken to the Ruidoso Hospital for treatment.

At about 10 a.m., Saturday, two local men were involved in an accident at Junction Road near Sudderth Drive. Lewis G. Taylor, 63, and passenger Mary Taylor, 64, were turning left into the driveway of the Ruidoso Public Library in their Ford Thunderbird when a cycle driven by Edward E. Smith, 27, Ruidoso, struck their car. Smith was reportedly injured but refused treatment at the scene, police said.

Just after noon Saturday, a Harley Davidson cycle driven by Larry Barber, 32, with passenger Cindy Barber, 31, both of Hobbs, collided with one driven by Doyle Barber, 33, also of Hobbs. Larry Barber reported that he swerved to avoid a vehicle which pulled onto Sudderth Drive from Carizzo Canyon Road, causing Doyle Barber to strike his vehicle from the rear. Larry and Cindy Barber were treated for minor injuries at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

CHIMNEYS should be protected with spark arrestors to prevent roofs from catching afire, as the homeowner above has done. Another fire prevention measure is to clear the roof of all leaves and pine needles, according to members of the Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment.

ComFIRE urges fall cleanup

The Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (ComFIRE) has released a set of guidelines to eliminate, as much as possible, building fires occurring during the fall season.

- The check list includes:
 - Spark arrestors on chimneys should be in place and in good repair.
 - A good spark arrestor will be equipped with a screen and a heavy gauge metal with a 1/4-inch maximum opening.
 - The screen itself needs some type of sloping solid metal covering which will allow smoke to escape through the sides but leave the chimney free and clear of any fuels.
 - Spark arrestors serve to keep live embers and carbon deposits from jumping onto the roof and igniting the structure.
 - Even spark arrestors aren't 100 percent effective, so cleaning the pine needles and leaves from the roof is doubly important.
 - Use of fire resistant roofing materials which are commercially available will also help protect against fire.

—Once the spark arrestor is in place, the screen should be checked once a year since it will deteriorate.

For more information about fire prevention around the home, contact the Smokey Bear Ranger Station, Lincoln National Forest at 257-4095.

Library seeking help to build music trove

"We are giving people an opportunity to donate something to the library without spending a cent," Marian Elzi, Ruidoso Public Library's (RPL) head librarian, said.

Elzi has purchased, with some money from the Sarah Edwards Memorial Fund, cassette tapes which will be used to record music to add to the library's collection.

Elzi said each person desiring to share their favorite musical albums can arrange to visit the library and record the album onto a cassette provided by RPL. "They will, in essence, be donating the music from their own library, but we'll get to expand our collection at a much lower cost," Elzi said.

Each person will be allowed to tape one long playing record onto the Maxell Ultra Dynamic 45 cassettes.

"We request that people bring records that are in good condition—not scratched or really old," Elzi said. She added that any kind of music is welcome, including classical, pop, rock, jazz, easy listening, country and western or religious. "This might be a way to increase the musical collection rather inexpensively," Elzi added.

She said all equipment needed to record the tapes is available at the library. To make arrangements for taping, contact Elzi at 257-4335.

Pre-school story hour at Library

Pre-registration for the fall pre-school story hour will begin today at the Ruidoso Public Library. "Children 3-5 are invited to join the six week session," Ingrid Schmitz, coordinator of the program, said.

The first program for pre-schoolers will be a Halloween party October 31, 3-4 p.m., at the library. "We hope everyone will dress up in their favorite costume," Schmitz said.

Weekly story hours will begin November 4 and 5, 10-11 a.m. and continue through December 10. Planned activities include puppet shows, movies, books, arts and crafts and creative dramatics.

Schmitz is also inviting all students to "help finish the bulletin board at the library." The October reading program will give mystery, horror story and ghost story fans a chance to complete the bulletin board.

"Each time they finish a book they can add a scary figure to the haunted house we have on the bulletin board. They can do it at home in their spare time or can come to the library where materials will be provided," Schmitz said.

Warriors skin Bears, 36-12

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

Russ Pior rushed for 108 yards and scored two touchdowns in leading the Ruidoso Warriors to a 36-12 drubbing of the hapless Estancia Bears there Friday night.

Pior's effort spearheaded a 431 yard total offense effort by the Warriors, now 4-1 on the year. Estancia fell to 1-3.

Other Warrior scores were provided by Ricky Dennis, who scored twice and had a two point conversion, and Steve Benway galloped in from five yards out with 3:28 left to seal the game for the Warriors.

The contest was never in doubt. Ruidoso got on the board in the first quarter on Dennis' seven yard scoring run. Leroy Ramirez added the point after kick for a 7-0 lead.

The Warriors got on the board again with 7:02 left in the half, as Pior scored from 15 yards out. Ramirez again added the point after, making it 14-0.

Estancia came back with 1:29 left and connected on a 23 yard scoring pass from Scott McMath to James Klein, narrowing the gap to 14-6. A two point conversion run failed.

The Warriors struck like lightning on their next possession, scoring with 45 seconds left on Dennis' two yard jaunt. An offside penalty put the ball on the one and a half yard line on the conversion try, so Dennis banged over from there for a 22-6 halftime advantage.

Estancia tried a comeback in the third stanza, scoring again on a pass from McMath to Klein, this time for 33 yards. Again the conversion failed, and Ruidoso led, 22-12.

That was as close as it got. The Warriors rushed for 115 yards in the final period, and Pior on a six yard run and Benway on a five yarder added the final Warrior points, with Ramirez converting after each.

Head coach Darrel Stierwalt was generally pleased.

"We got 'em pretty good," he said. "We could've gotten 'em worse if we'd have wanted to."

True. An early Warrior drive ended near the Bears' goal line, a Scott Neal pass was intercepted in the end zone, and in the final seconds of play, backup quarterback Grady Williamson was stripped of the ball as he was crossing the goal line, the only one of six fumbles the Warriors lost.

The Warriors played relatively error free football, throwing a pair of interceptions and losing one fumble. They were hit with 36 yards in penalties, however.

"Well, Estancia is the kind of ball club — they specialize in cheap shot artistry," Stierwalt said. "Both sides had a lot of penalties (the Bears were charged with 106 yards). We had a roughing the kicker call, and an unsportsmanlike conduct call. It was kinda bad as far as we were concerned, but it didn't bother us a whole lot."

Pior led the Ruidoso rushers with 108 yards on 12 carries, followed by Neal with 85 on 11 carries, Dennis with 66 yards on 10 carries, Chris Lopez with 45 yards in three carries and Benway with 26 on six carries.

Neal was six for 11 in the air, totaling 124 yards, including passes of 23 and 43 yards to Benway, and Mike Dale caught four passes for 61 more yards.

Volleyballers lose district matchup

Ruidoso's lady Warrior volleyballers fell to Deming there Saturday in two games, 7-15 and 8-15.

Despite the scores, the squad played fairly well, said coach Margie Andrus.

"We really played pretty well," she said. "I wasn't disappointed with the way we played. We could've played better, but Deming is undefeated, and the referees called it pretty tight."

"That's the way the referees will call it at state, so I'm not upset with that. I just wish they called it that way all the time."

The junior varsity also lost, winning its first game 15-11, but dropping the final two, 4-15 and 5-15.

The varsity played a fairly close first game, trailing only 5-6 at one point, and later trailing 7-8. But Deming roared out in the lead with seven services for a 7-15 victory.

Cyd Wright, Karen Boone and Cathy Jones each scored two points for Ruidoso, and Lisa Shaw added one.

In the second game, the Warriors hung tough up to 8-9 before Deming pulled away. Boone had four points, Jones had two and Wright and Lori Morel scored one apiece.

"We just seem to fall apart if we don't win that first game," Andrus said. "The second game was closer than the first but we blew too many opportunities to win. But I feel like we've improved."

The varsity is now 5-3 on the season. The winless junior varsity had problems of its own.

"They were pretty well whipped in those last two games," Andrus said. "I thought they were going to win their match, because they played so well in the first game. They're a little down on themselves. A win would do them a lot of good."

Scoring in the first game for the Warriors were Dottie Baldonado, with six; Claudia Branum, Lillian Lopez, Karla Sears and Lisa Williams with two each; and Mary Cadena with one.

Cadena got one in the second game, and Baldonado had three.

Williams and Kristy Dunlap had two each in the third game, and Sears added the final Warrior point.

The Warriors are idle this week until Saturday, when they have a doubleheader here against Cobres and Silver City, facing the tribe at 1 p.m., and the Colts at 6 p.m. "We're going to work hard this week," Andrus said. "You can count on it."

"We pretty much did what we wanted to with the football," Stierwalt said. "We did what we wanted to do. I think we surprised 'em because we came out throwing out of the shotgun."

"That kept their defense off balance and pretty honest. They had to worry about our passing game a lot more than they wanted to."

The Bears did do what no teams have effectively done so far this season — halfbacks Dennis and Benway were kept from making the big gain.

But that freed Pior for his 108 yards, nearly as many as he's rushed for in the first four games (146).

"They were so worried about our outside option," Stierwalt said. "It left Russ open. Lopez got some good runs right there toward the end of the game too."

"That's what I like about the wishbone. It's so hard to stop everybody all the time."

Estancia runs out of a wishbone offense too, but defensive coordinator Ronny Masker's troops had little trouble shutting down the Bears.

Estancia rushed for only 83 yards and passed for 124, and seldom had good field position.

"We moved the football so effectively, we played most of the game on their end of the field," Stierwalt said. "I was never really worried about it. Our defense did a super job."

Leading the defensive effort was middle linebacker Lon Nunley, who had seven unassisted tackles and was in on four more.

That ends the "pre-season," Stierwalt said.

"We're 4-1, and none of 'em count now," he said, as the Warriors begin district play this Friday at home against Cobres. "It's going to be rough. I think the team that goes undefeated through district will win it."

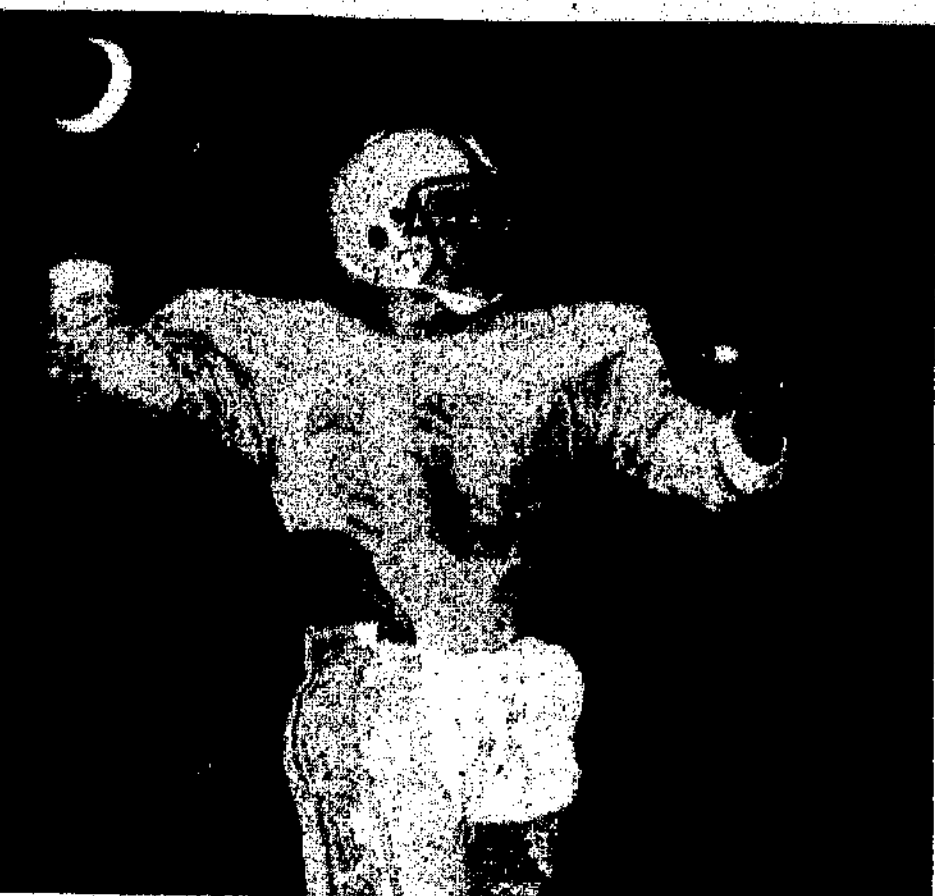

"Cobres is looking, sort of, like one of the weak sisters of the district. But even though they haven't won a game yet, they've played some pretty tough ball clubs. They've had some problems, but they aren't a bad team. We'll have to get pumped up to beat 'em."

"We won't be able to just read our press clippings this week."

JV footballers host Capitan

The JV Warriors, 1-1, tied Capitan 6-6 in their first meeting this season.

LOOKING FOR a receiver is Warrior quarterback Scott Neal, who rushed for 85 yards and passed for 124 more against the Bears Friday.

Sportin' Life

... a column of opinion ...

by

Mark Bagby

A legend is dead. Almost.

From all the reports I've heard, Muhammad Ali probably should not have fought Larry Holmes. "It was pathetic," the Associated Press reported. Holmes won every round clobbering the three time champion.

All said Friday he lost too much weight too fast, dropping from about 260 pounds down to 217 or so, in about four months.

"Holmes was faster than I thought," he said later. But he also predicted should he and Holmes tangle again — after Ali had a better chance to rest — the outcome might be different.

Don't you believe it.

Remember when Ali lost his title to Leon Spinks? All was fat, dumpy, slow and grossly out of shape. Spinks, not exactly the best boxer in the world, defeated Ali without a whole lot of trouble.

All came back in shape and beat Spinks. He didn't rope a dope, or shuffle, he just outboxed him. He'd grab hold of Spinks and when the referee separated the two, Ali would pop Leon in the face.

It wasn't the world's greatest exhibition of pugilistic skill, but Spinks was the world champ and Ali outpointed him. Ergo, Ali was world champ, again.

Unfortunately for Muhammad, Larry Holmes isn't in the same class of mediocrity as Leon Spinks. In fact, Larry Holmes isn't even close to being mediocre — he's the world champion and has successfully defended his title eight times, all by knockouts or technical knockouts.

All never had a chance. He's too old, too slow and too stupid. He's not a stupid man, don't get me wrong, but ego and/or greed got to him, and he had to try a fourth time to win the world championship. It was stupid for Muhammad Ali to get into that ring with Larry Holmes.

Holmes summed it up best — he went to Ali in the ring when Ali didn't answer the bell for the 11th round. He took Ali's gloves in his own, and said, "You were a great champion."

Yes, he was. You look at the film of the 20-year-old Ali, with his Apollo-like physique, the powerful arms, the large chest, the graceful legs, and tapered waist. He looked different from any other fighter in history — there had never been anyone like him, and I'm not certain there ever will again.

And nobody hit as hard as he did, but still moved like a lightweight. Incredible. But life goes on, and the body falls ever so slightly, and the magician's magic disappears.

Since Ali considered himself something of a poet (I don't), maybe he'll consider me a poet for one moment:

"He fought and fought, right to the end, but when it was over, he was through in ten."

Well, I guess he'll just have to be content with his $8 million earnings plus his percentage of the box office, not to mention his closed circuit television take.

And a few memories perhaps.

Oh no, not again.

Sorry 'bout that time.

Why me? I live a clean life — don't smoke, don't drink, don't bite my nails. (It's boring, believe me, but clean.)

So why did not one, but two gremlins pop up in my account of the Jal-Ruidoso game?

First I got the blocked punt wrong, and then I omitted the redoubtable Curt Temple's name when giving credit for Russ Pior's game winning score.

(Temple is an offensive tackle — not the most visible position on a football team, but as important as any of 'em.)

Ray Nunley told me I ruined my image when I admitted I made a goof the first time — now just think what this will do

How about a quick round of applause for the linemen, those guys who open up the holes for the backfield?

A tip of the hat to Robert Langston, Philbert Smith, Leon Botella, Kevin Shultz, Lon Nunley, Yon Rue and Curt Way to go, guys.

Speaking of Ray Nunley, ... as we all know dispenses pharmaceutical supplies, he got together with fellow apothecary Don Swalander, and those two have put together a 4-D golf-tennis tournament.

(Leave it to someone in the drug business to come up with something screwy. I personally always wanted to mix prune juice with Kaeperate just to see what happens. Cures you and makes you sick all at once, probably.)

No, this 4-D business is for real. The 4-D part does not refer to four dimensions, but instead stands for doctors, dentists, druggists and drug salesmen. Only persons in those professions may enter this shindig, planned for October 18.

Ray tells me "about 300" entry blanks were mailed all over the area, and he's expecting about 60 golfers and about 20 tennis buffs to come here.

So don't anybody dare get sick, have bad teeth or need a prescription on Thursday, October 18. If you must get sick, make sure you do it near Alto Lakes Golf Course or Sierra Swim and Racquet Club. That way you'll have topnotch medical care, believe me.

I understand they'll be serving Phillips screwdrivers as the official drink of the 4-D tournament.

What's a Phillips screwdriver? Why, vodka and milk of magnesia, of course. Yeccececececececece.

Mary has a little land.

Everywhere that Mary went, she saw that real estate was a sound investment. So, she used a little leverage to get started and bought some of her own. Now she has a lot of money and a hedge against inflation. Later on, she could exchange her property and watch her little land grow into a big estate. Her CENTURY 21 Investment Specialist can help. He's in touch with over 7,500 CENTURY 21 offices across North America. Mary can invest in anything from apartment complexes to farms. Across the street or across the country. A CENTURY 21 Investment Specialist can help you too. Call now and find out how you can get... a little land that's sure to grow.

The Dreamer

BY DANNIE STORM

Elliott O. Jones
Under a pure blue autumn sky, with the White Mountain looking down through the glass front of the beautiful new First Christian Church, services were held Wednesday, October first, for our beloved friend Elliott O. Jones who was called home by Our Lord on Monday, September twenty nine.

Many friends and loved ones present were comforted by a beautiful tribute given by the Reverend Ken Cole in which he said that Elliott throughout his life lived true to the commitment given by Our Lord.

"This commandment I give you that you love one another as I have loved you."

The Reverend Mr. Cole went on to say that even in the last hours of his life on this earth Elliott was active in his work of helpfulness and love. He had gone by on his daily rounds of delivering the mail to our dear friend Eve Ball, and making sure that she was all right. At Eve's home he gathered some roses, and instead of taking them to his own home, brought them by the hospital so that the flowers could cheer someone else.

Cheerful And Active
In spite of heart condition

In about 1941 Elliott suffered a heart attack which left him with a permanent heart condition and the necessity of taking heart medicine constantly. Paul Jones tells me of staying up all night with Elliott down in the house on the lower Jones place near upon which Paul was born.

"Elliott could not sleep lying down and had to sit up at the table," said Paul. "Many times through the night he told me to go on to bed, but I stayed up with him."

In spite of his heart condition Elliott remained always cheerful and helpful.

From the hospital, on September 29, Elliott turned his steps homeward little knowing that his final act of kindness on this earth was to take place that day.

From what I have heard, a motorcycle accident occurred in front of Elliott's house, and he went out and helped remove the motorcycle from the rider's body, and also helped in putting the motorcycle in a truck. It was then that he suffered his heart attack after giving his last strength and breath in helping his fellow man.

Long-Time Resident Of Ruidoso Valley

Elliott O. Jones was born in Roswell April thirteen, 1903, to John and Mary Jones who had come across the water from their native Wales around the turn of the century. They first went to Haton where Mr. Jones worked on the railroad, and later moved to Roswell.

Some time around 1920 John and Mary Jones bought the place where Elliott and his wife, the former Ola Casey lived for years and where Paul and Nellie Ruth Jones live today.

Elliott was one of ten children, his brothers and sisters being: Wells, Edith, Louise, Ted, Tom, Fred, Arthur, Charles and Bobbie. Edith, Charles and Louise Chewing both of Roswell; and Theodore (Ted) of Ruidoso survive.

Elliott served in the army during World War One and later worked at a variety of occupations, spending most of his life as a farmer in the Ruidoso Valley.

Like his forefathers in the green vales of Wales, he was an expert at growing apples. His apple orchard was certainly a picture. I remember one time I asked him about the secret of pruning trees and he answered,

"Keep new wood coming."
His trees certainly lived up to this saying, always fresh, vigorous and young looking.

I Remember Elliott's Helpfulness

Having been born under the star of helpfulness, Elliott, after he moved to Ruidoso, took care of his former next door neighbors, Callie Rozell and Zoe Glassmeier, two elderly sisters who lived across from the Church of the Holy Mount just north of the residence of Eve Ball. Elliott made daily trips carrying the mail and bringing groceries and generally looking after his long-time friends.

Later on he performed the same faithful service for Eve Ball after she became unable to drive a car. Many times Eve has told me what a life-saver Elliott was and how much she appreciated his faithful help.

When I was in my hundred-day stay in the hospital in the winter of 1971-72, Elliott came in to see me every day without fail, always asking if there was anything he could bring me or any way he could help.

Often he would bring his wife, Ola, in her wheel chair to visit and cheer me up. Ola would tell me of her days as county school superintendent and of many a county school amusing incident of the early days.

So now Elliott has gone on to be rejoined with Ola, and all his loved ones with our Lord in Heaven. We will always carry him in our hearts, and thank God for his blessed friendship.

RC&D meeting in Alamogordo

Featured speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council will be Ken Moore, Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital administrator.

Moore will address the group at the afternoon session, which begins at 1 p.m., at the Alamogordo Holiday Inn. The subject of the discussion will be the proposed 2.9 mill levy, to be used for expansion of medical services in Lincoln County.

Lodger's Tax meeting set

The Ruidoso Lodger's Tax Committee is scheduled to meet at noon Wednesday at the Holiday Inn.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — Watch politicians closely and they'll signal their intentions as clearly as a robin redbreast notifying the world of the advent of Spring.

Example: Aubrey Dunn shaking hands in Albuquerque at a banquet put on by the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund.

Albuquerque's a little far from Aubrey's normal everyday beat, and MALDEF is not the kind of organization he has been famous for supporting — unless, of course, he is contemplating a run for governor in 1982.

Second example: The sudden and anonymous arrival of poll results favorable to a politician, apparently slipped under the door in the dead of night. In this case, the measurements have to do with Fabian Chavez, and might lead one to suspect that he too is eyeing that same governor's race two years hence.

These are good numbers for Fabian, so it's no wonder he might be circulating them anonymously.

In name-recognition, which has to be there before anything else, he ran at 67.3 percent statewide. That isn't bad for a man who hasn't run for public office in more than a decade and who got beaten by a narrow margin the last time he tried it.

It's not surprising that 75.5 percent of those polled in northern counties know him; he'd probably claim half of those as his cousins. But he even ran well on the East Side (62.7 percent), where folks polled are more likely to be WASP's than they are relatives. Even in Bernalillo county, where the votes are, 67.2 percent of the people admitted they still remember him.

What's more, most of them seem to like him.

Statewide, 68.4 percent of those polled rated his acceptability as a candidate as excellent, good or at least fair. Ironically, he drew favorable nods from 71.3 percent of Republicans, to a slightly lower 70 percent from his fellow Democrats.

All that might lead you to conclude that by being a good loser instead of a sorehead and by going on to take some highly visible jobs in state and federal government, Fabian has kept his chances alive for a lot longer than most politicians manage to do.

Dunn, of course, has been much more in the public eye of late as the true power in some successful legislative sessions. No one who has watched him work can doubt his political prowess. But legislative jobs are not year-round; the spotlight shines on you for a limited span of time. Add to that Aubrey's current absence from the legislative scene and the fact that while in office he inevitably had to kill some bills that were somebody's babies, and his popularity ranking may not be as high as Chavez's at the moment.

But he's working on it, as his markedly increased number of appearances on the rubber-chicken-and-wrinkled-pea circuit makes clear.

His down-home, country-boy manner has been known to charm the birds out of the trees when he turns it on full blast.

All in all, Toney Anaya, lusting to make that governor's run while still plagued with debts from his last political outing, and Les Houston, apparently planning to ride his television news appearances for all their worth, will have to stir their stumps to run well against Dunn and Chavez.

It should be interesting to be around during the primary in 1982. We suggest you plan on being there.

'OFFICIAL' RELIGION

Every now and then, zealous defenders of First Amendment rights and constraints voice objection to some admixture of government and religion. We are reminded that official use of a cross here, sponsorship of some religious observance or display there, runs counter to the cherished constitutional doctrine of separation of church and state.

Lately there have been a couple of such instances. First we had the demand for removal of a cross, and an accompanying slogan along the lines of "In this we conquer," from the official seal of a county in New Mexico. More recently there was word that a federal appeals court had ordered North Carolina to remove an official prayer from the state road maps it distributes.

There is a sound constitutional basis for each of these objections — to official use of a cross in New Mexico, and to a state-sponsored prayer on road maps in North Carolina. This was emphasized, in the North Carolina case, by the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. "By printing a prayer on the official map," the court said in its ruling, "the state is placing its power and support behind a particular form of theological belief. A state may no more use its official publications to promote a particular type of religious belief than it may use its public schools to accomplish that result."

This is in harmony with many other court decisions, but that is not likely to satisfy everyone. Objections of the sort mentioned above often arouse passionate counter-objections from others who maintain that the offending symbol or whatever hurts no one and should not be tampered with. Expressions of such views tend to be accompanied by dark hints that the original objectors are anti-religious.

In fact, the religious beliefs of those who oppose government involvement in religion, or vice versa, are beside the point. The point is that the cherished concept of keeping church and state out of each others' affairs is rooted in the Constitution and has served the nation well for two centuries and that any mixing of church and state undermines this concept. — The Alamogordo Daily News.

SKITTISH TIMES

The market for gold may be the most nervous in the world. All it takes to drive prices through the ceiling is a whiff of gunpowder; a little hint of a swing toward fiscal stability sends them rolling downward.

The gold market is as unstable as the weather. Because of that fact, it's looked at as an international barometer, marking periods of crisis.

That was the case when the threat of a full-scale conflict between Iran and Iraq sent gold prices sky high.

There were two reasons for the stormy barometric trend. Iran threatened to close down the primary shipping channel for oil, used jointly by the two nations as an outlet to the Persian Gulf. As a result, Iraq threatened to enter into a full-fledged war with Iran.

The consequences of such an action for the United States are uncertain. There is some speculation that the American hostages could be affected — how is anyone's guess — and there is a debate over whether a cutoff of oil from Iran and Iraq would adversely affect the oil-glutted world market.

Perhaps the larger consequences of the Iran-Iraq conflict are having the major effect on the gold market. The Middle East is widely regarded as a tinderbox which could ignite a global conflict; any shift in the balance of power is viewed with alarm.

These are troubled, bewildering times. Iran is making the absurd charge that the United States is behind the actions of Marxist Iraq, a state already deeply in the sphere of Soviet influence. Iraq is making an equally absurd claim that the hostages in Iran will be freed as a result of the conflict between the two countries.

Israel, in the meanwhile, is hoping both nations, two of the most violent foes of the Jewish state, will fight to the finish. The Soviet Union, with troops in neighboring Afghanistan, is interested in the developments; but like the United States, the Soviets are probably anxious to avoid the impression of direct intervention.

In this tangle of conflicting interest comes the panic in the gold market. We only hope that leaders of our country and other major world powers are more level-headed in dealing with this centuries-old rivalry among Arab states. — Ben Windham, Raton Range.

editorial

In addition to the electorate of the Second Congressional District, there are others vitally interested in the decision of the three-judge panel of the 10th United States Circuit Court of Appeals regarding Joe Skeen on the November 4 general election ballot:

Joe Skeen

and, possibly with fingers crossed,

Governor Bruce King and his nephew David W.

Just to make life interesting for the governor, and his nephew, it is to be hoped that the Circuit Court will allow Skeen and Runnels to be on the ballot.

The governor has said that polls — and their predictions — are of no concern to him in his push to have his nephew succeed the late Congressman Harold Runnels.

It's entirely possible — even with a write-in vote — that the governor might adopt a new attitude towards polls in the general election.

A choice of candidates for the voters to select from is one thing — a candidate chosen for the people by his uncle is another.

The younger King, possibly with a carefully timed withdrawal from the Congressional race to insure he couldn't, did state that it was his avowed intention not to serve in any political office while his uncle was governor.

The district voters must decide in November if this statement was made with sincerity — or if it was a case of a bad judgment statement made "with sincerity."

We believe the voters will accede to David's "withdrawal" statement with sincerity. — CD

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION?

It's entirely possible ... if'n enough votes are cast for John Anderson ... that neither Our Jimmy or Ronnie Baby will get enough electoral votes to lay claim to a four year tenure in the Oval Office.

Should this come to pass ... the naming of the next president will fall to the House of Representatives ... which might result in a floor fight the likes of which we've not yet seen in the 200 plus years that august body has been inflicting its will on the people.

In this connection we wonder ... and not necessarily with tongue in cheek ... how many of the House members will get off their duffs to solicit opinions from the electorate ... the ones they're supposed to represent ... to guide them in their deliberations to name our next president ... and it's doubtful if'n you'd have to take your shoes off to count those as do.

But it'd be mighty interesting ... watching ... Democracy in action?

JOLLY GOOD MEETING

Assuming you weren't at the last meeting of the village trustees of Ruidoso ... and being'n there were but 29 interested citizens there ... chances are you were among the missing ... you missed a gripe session ... against the $1,000 water tap fee ... that was conducted with decorum and moderation ... with no one having the temerity to question the ancstrage of another.

In that respect it was downright refreshing ... those as had complaints laid 'em out on the line ... reasonable complaints ... backed up with their own figures ... and, by jinkies, these facts ... and statements of fact ... and statements of belief ... did convince the trustees that now is not the time to raise the water tap fee ... at least to $1,000 ... and they did back off ... but this don't mean they've give up on the idea ... 'cause Mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr., ... without dissent being voiced by any trustee ... did flat out and say that this rate business ... for taps as well as for water ... is flat going to change ... and that everyone should be prepared to pay more for water ... maybe even taps.

ON JOHN'S FREE MONEY

'Tother day ... whilst quaffing an ice tea ... as the cool of the evening was about to approach ... Shakey Pete came sidling in through the door ... he was flat in fine sidling shape ... loaded, too ... 'cause he did order himself an ice tea ... me a refill ... and laid down the cash ... all in nickles ... outta a bag he'd forgotten he'd hidden in his wood pile.

After his first quaffing sip, Shakey spoke ... "Gotta hand it to that gny Anderson ... the one who's givin' Carter and Reagan the heebiejeebies ... 'cause I read where he's up and got permission to go out and borrow five or six million bucks ... no security ... with the lender takin' a chance that he'll get five percent of the vote ... and all those millions from Uncle Sam to pay back his loans ... now that feller may be sharper than I'd figured him being ... 'cause how many guys is there as can borrow, free, a million a week in spendin' cash for five or six weeks ... with the taxpayer pickin' up the tab?"

Being'n Shakey had done up and downed his ice tea, I done the honors for a refill ... which was a mistake ... 'cause Shakey done up and warmed up to his topic. "You know, Reagan don't need no money, 'cause he got all them guys as is being sneaky and spending money on his election that he don't have to account for ... and Carter, well, I figure if'n he runs short he can send Billy back to Lybia ... and borrow what he needs ... and not have to pay it back." ... Shakey did then grin at me ... and said ... "That's enough being cutty for one day ... say ... will you pass the cream ... while I see if'n I can find a clean saucer?"

NEW STATUS WHEELS

Them folks as likes status cars ... them as costs a bundle ... now have a new status symbol challenge ... 'cause Rolls has up an announced a new four door model ... at $118,444 ... which'll probably have folks standin' in line ... cash in hand ... tryin' to shove their way to the front of the line ... so's they can be the first in the block to have one ... the car's called the Silver Spirit ... finished inside with leather from cattle as has never ran into barbed wire ... and wood outta a private walnut forest in Italy ... one tree per car ... just in case the wood gets scratched ... you can get a matching panel. That's updown.

BRIEF BIT: To enjoy an exercise in futility, do vote November 4 ... CD

THE FREEDOM AND GRACE of flight is demonstrated by four members of the United States Army Parachute Team, the "Golden Knights," as they form their world famous diamond formation high above the earth. The "Golden Knights" will be appearing at Holloman Air Force Base's Open House November 1. (U.S. Army Photo by SP5 Phil Rogge)

Famed parachutists due at Holloman

The same parachute team that glided into the Olympic Stadium for the opening ceremonies of the Lake Placid Olympic Games will be touching down at Holloman Air Force Base Saturday, November 1, to perform at the base's annual Open House.

The "Golden Knights" are the United States Army's official parachute demonstration team. These specially selected men and women compete in national and international parachute competitions, help develop new military parachuting techniques and equipment and, each year, demonstrate their skills before millions of spectators.

The expertise of the "Golden Knights" is well-known to parachutists all over the world. Members of the team hold 10 World Accuracy-Landing records, as well as being World Cup Relative-Work Champions, World Champions and 14 National Overall Champions since their inception. Founded at Fort Bragg, North Carolina in 1959, the "Golden Knights" are divided into two demonstration teams, two competition teams, and an aviation section that flies and maintains the YC-7A "Caribou" aircraft used for most performances.

Their standard demonstration consists of four separate maneuvers. The Knights will demonstrate procedures that must be taken in the case of a canopy malfunction with the daring "cut-a-way." Body control and split second timing will be demonstrated in the exciting diamond track, and a mid-air baton pass and diamond formation with a "bomb burst" separation completes the "Golden Knights" aerial plans. In all, they have produced five shows. After their performance, the Knights repack their chutes and answer questions from spectators about skydiving and the Army.

The famed United States Air Force "Thunderbirds" will also perform at this year's Open House. The aerial demonstration team will spin, loop, roll, and dive through a spectacular series of precision aerobatic maneuvers. They will also perform the breathtaking bomb-burst, dissecting the sky into four equal portions in their red, white and blue supersonic T-38 "Talon" jets. Members of the team will sign autographs after their performance.

This year's Open House will include many other exciting things to see and do. There will be static aircraft displays, flyovers by the F-15 "Eagle," all kinds of entertainment, marching bands, and a variety of refreshments. Open to the public, there is no admission charge. Gates will open at 11 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. There will be lots of parking space, including special parking for the handicapped.

Forest closure near Mayhill

An off-road vehicle (ORV) closure in the Mule and Agua Chiquita Canyons area east of Mayhill, to protect Lincoln National Forest resources and the capital improvements of grazing permittees has resulted from a cooperative agreement among the grazing permittees, various outdoor groups and the Forest Service.

The ORV closure will confine vehicles to Forest Road 417, which runs down Agua Chiquita Canyon, and Forest Roads 222 and 222A, in Mule Canyon. It will be in effect from October 15 until December 31.

The agreement to close lateral roads off the canyons during the coming hunting seasons resulted from a need to protect the Forest resources, such as soil and grazing areas, and the grazing permittees' new fence lines, pipe lines and other capital improvements from careless off-road vehicle operators, a Forest Service spokesman explained.

He said the private landowners in Agua Chiquita Canyon would have been completely within their rights to get together and close FR 417 at the mouth of the canyon, about a mile south of Crockett. They agreed to keep the road open for hunters, though, when the Forest Service agreed to close the lateral roads and the remaining area to vehicles. Several wildlife organizations and outdoor groups agreed that the lessened vehicle traffic in the area would improve the quality of the hunting there.

The agreement was made public at a meeting attended by the National Forest Permittees' New Mexico Wildlife Turkey Federation, Otero County Wildlife Federation, Prairie Dawg Motorcycle Association, the Otero County Bowhunt-ters, a number of private individuals, and the Forest Service.

Specifically, the area referred to above is 8.6 miles east of Mayhill on United States Highway 62 to Crockett, and south on Forest Road (FR) 222, one mile to the mouth of the canyon. At that point, there will be an information station maintained by the Forest Service on October 24, November 7, November 11, November 18 from 10 a.m. until midnight; and on October 25, November 8, November 12, and November 19, from 5 a.m. until noon. Patrolmen will be on duty.

The road will be open during the closure for four miles down Agua Chiquita Canyon, to the fork where FR 417 heads west and FR 547 heads south and west. FR 547 will be open for .75 mile past the intersection.

FR 222 will be open from the information station down Mule Canyon for 2.3 miles to the fork where FR 222A breaks off to the southeast. FR 222A will be open for .4 mile past the intersection and FR 222 will be open for 1.8 miles past the intersection.

Otherwise, the area will be closed to all vehicles except those which have special permits, authorized government officials and members of organized rescue groups in the performance of official duty.

Violation of the closure is punishable by a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

ASPENCAD 10 Motorcyclists Convention organizer Thompson, shown waiting the results of judging events Thursday afternoon, said, "We're more than 3,500 registered now and this will be our greatest convention ever."

ASPENCAD 10 MOTORCYCLE competition judge Buck Temple, rode here from San Jose, California. His unit, the San Jose Dons Motorcycle Club, will note its 50th anniversary next year. He said, of Ruidoso, "This is a beautiful place and it's one of the best conventions I've attended."

LEE AND MAXINE DRAKE, top and bottom, rode their Kawasaki two-up to attend the Aspencade 10 Motorcyclists Convention. Both are members of the Retreads in Las Vegas, Nevada. "We get around to a lot of motorcycle events," he said, "but we've never had as much fun as we're having in Ruidoso."

SALUTE TO CHAMBER MEMBERS

This is a regular feature in the Monday edition of this newspaper to introduce the members of the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce

LETTY DAVIS HOMEMADE CAKES, is a home business operated by Lety Davis, pictured serving some of her baked goods at a recent Chamber of Commerce Coffee Cart. She opened the business about two years ago, and joined the Chamber in September. Originally from the Philippine Islands, Davis studied cake decorating in Japan. Special wedding cakes and cakes for other occasions may be ordered by calling 378-4116. Davis hopes to expand her business into an Oriental foods catering service in the future.

SHOP OF THE BLUE GEM AND ART GALLERY, located in midtown Ruidoso next to the Radio Shack, is owned by Dorothy Davis and managed by Pat Smith, pictured. The shop opened about 3 1/2 years ago, and joined the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce shortly thereafter. The Blue Gem specializes in Indian pottery, rugs and jewelry, and the gallery section features paintings by Theda Ray, Roland Rose, Nancy Louvier, Robert Beckner, Justin Wells and Jim Thomas. Business hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., daily during the summer. In the winter months, the shop is closed Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Sundays.

"Julia" 1977 Vanessa Redgrave, Jane Fonda, Lillian Hellman's gripping memoir of friendship in the face of great danger and the commitment of a brilliant young American heiress to freedom and social justice during the days of Hitler's power in pre-war Germany.

(CBS) SPECIAL MOVIE: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"To Find My Son" 1980 Richard Thomas, Julie Cobb: The story of a sincere, loving man who decides to try to adopt a child, and then finds himself embroiled in a bitter battle because of the unprecedented circumstances of his situation. The motion picture-for-television was inspired by a true story.

TUESDAY

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"More Wild Wild West" 1980 Part I. Robert Conrad, Ross Martin. Conrad and Martin reunite in their starring roles as James West and Artemus Gordon. The dynamic duo are reactivated by Secret Service director Skinny Malone to combat the wicked schemes of Prof. Albert Paradine II.

(CBS) DRAMA SPECIAL: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"A Private Battle" 1980 Jack Warden, Anne Jackson. Dramatic special based on the true story of writer Cornelius Ryan's valiant struggle against cancer and its effect on his family and career.

WEDNESDAY

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"More Wild Wild West" 1980 Part II. Robert Conrad, Ross Martin. Conrad and Martin reunite in their starring roles as West and Gordon, rusty from 10 years retirement, are reactivated by Secret Service director Skinny Malone to combat the wicked schemes of Prof. Albert Paradine II.

(CBS) WEDNESDAY NIGHT MOVIES: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Portrait of an Escort" 1980 Susan Anspach, Tony Bill. A divorced woman tries to make ends meet by working a job which nightly tests her integrity and arouses whispers among her neighbors and the suspicions of her own teen-age daughter.

THURSDAY

(CBS) MOVIE SPECIAL: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"The Children of An Lac" 1980 Shirley Jones, Ina Balin. Story of three courageous women evacuating hundreds of Vietnam orphans out of the devastated country during the raging war.

MINI-SERIES

TUESDAY

(NBC) BEULAH LAND: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

Part I. 1980 Lesley Ann Warren, Paul Rudd. A powerful drama about a woman's determined fight to hold onto a vast southern plantation. Beulah Land, the magnificent plantation of the Kendrick family, fires the spirit of young Sarah Kendrick and is a substitute for her often absent older husband, Leon.

WEDNESDAY

(NBC) BEULAH LAND: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

Part II. 1980 Lesley Ann Warren, Meredith Baxter Birney. A drama about a woman's battle to hold onto a plantation in the ante bellum and Civil War South. A severe shortage of cash and a warehouse fire threaten Sarah Kendrick's hold on Beulah Land. During one of her husband's long absences she falls in love with a handsome painter from the North.

THURSDAY

(NBC) BEULAH LAND: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

Conclusion. 1980 Lesley Ann Warren, Michael Sarrazin. A drama of a woman's determined fight to hold onto her plantation in the post-Civil War years. After surviving the Civil War, her husband's suicide and the destruction of Beulah Land, Sarah Kendrick is fiercely determined to rebuild the plantation.

The magical experience of changing from childhood to adolescence, and all the strange, new physical and emotional feelings that accompany this age-old and always-new process so dramatically apparent

Behind the Scenes

Warren probes 'Beulah Land'

Most little girls, playing dress-up, look longingly at scenes of women in the Old South, strolling beneath their parasols in elegant ballgowns puffed by many crinolines and displaying multi-curled elaborate hairstyles. The period seems to be the epitome of beauty and romanticism.

When Lesley Ann Warren was first offered the script of 'Beulah Land,' a six-hour saga airing on NBC-TV October 7, 8 and 9 about a great Southern plantation and its mistress, Sarah Kendrick, she almost rejected it.

"I didn't feel I particularly fit into that heavily romantic period," she says.

After reading the script she realized it offered her a rare opportunity for a television role to play a heroine.

"Sarah Kendrick was a chance to portray a positive picture of a woman," she says. "She was a woman of strength, knowledge, intelligence and interests. Most of all, she took command of her life."

For three weeks before the start of production she studied with drama coach Noerena Abookire to fill in the unanswered questions in the script about Sarah's character and history.

"I needed to analyze the psychological motivations of Sarah because it's important to my technique as an actress," Lesley declares. "We made a background history for her. What her parents were like. How she became an orphan. What was her relationship with her sister growing up. This gave me the emotional knowledge to try and create a well-rounded person."

Once Lesley went in front of the cameras for a rehearsal with the other actors she would have two or three different ways of playing the scene, depending on how the others approached their work.

Even Sundays, Lesley's only day off from filming on location, was spent studying the script.

"Taking someone through 45 years of their life, as I do with Sarah, is an immense task," she says. "You take a lot of risks as an actress, emotional risks. You have to prepare yourself and keep probing yourself as well as the character."

LINDA IN WONDERLAND

Linda Lavin (pictured) will star in her first television special, "Linda in Wonderland," a music-variety gala, with guest stars Lynn Redgrave and Anthony Newley and her special guest star, her actor/husband Ron Leibman, to be presented THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9 on CBS-TV.

Miss Lavin, who was nominated for an Emmy during the 1978-79 season and won a Golden Globe Award recently for her starring role as Alice Hyatt in the series "Alice" on the Network, combines her talents as an actress and musical-comedy performer—the area in which she got her start in show business—on the special.

The Heroes in 'Fighting Back'

by Beatrice Gross
'Fighting Back' is a story about heroism. Based on the autobiography by Rocky Bleier, it is the story of a top flight football star whose career was apparently destroyed by a serious war injury, but who came back with the help of his friends and his own will to play to win four Superbowls.
Rocky's story is unquestionably a story of heroism. But it is also a story of survival. For, as he tells us, he must play in order to survive. For this reason, after his right foot is shattered by a grenade and the medical prognosis is that he will never walk again, Rocky forces himself to run. He also forces himself to stay with the team, even when he is humiliated by his peers, who make him feel they are 'carrying him.' Why does he fight to stay in the game? Because he has to. "Everyone thought I had so much courage to fight back," he says, "It was fear. Without athletics I didn't have anything."
It is heroics of a different sort that Art Rooney, the owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chuck Noll, the coach, display. They are under pressure from other owners, team-members, sportscasters and fans to get rid of the dead weight on the team. For Rooney and Noll, a 'cripple' on board is bravery and courage of another dimension. The importance of what they do—affirming human values over the values of the marketplace—is also what 'Fighting Back' is about.
As I see it there are two kinds of heroics demonstrated in this football story: one type braves pain and humiliation in order to survive and continues to maintain an all-important work identity; the other takes a chance on losing games (and jobs) in order to affirm human values.
We know why Rocky struggles, but aside from their continual assurance to Rocky that they believe in him, we as the audience really don't know why the coach and owner behave as they do. I assume they are both unusually moral men who care about Bleier's survival more than they care for sure-fire team success or their own professional survival.
The film is filled with exciting football footage, battlefield scenes and love scenes. It has enough excitement and action for any viewer, but it seems to me that the tensions and conflicts in this ABC special (airing in October) also have general implications viewers might reflect on when the high drama is over. Rocky's fear of losing his identity is similar to fears expressed by many men and women reaching retirement age. Unfortunately, many of those older citizens will be forced out of work because they do not have management allies to back them up. The sad statistic is that within five years after retirement, an alarming percentage of men die. Rocky's fear was not unfounded: men without work often cannot live on. We all can't be heroes like Rocky Bleier, but we can perhaps find opportunities to be heroes like Noll and Rooney.

Television Schedule For The Week Of Oct. 6 through Oct. 12

through channels

by Joey Sasso

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT Television shows like 'Dallas,' 'Soap' and 'Three's Company' are turning America's youths into moral degenerates. That's the word from half a million outraged viewers who are fed up with TV smut. More than 6,000 Churches of Christ have banded together in an all-out war to wipe it out. "Immorality is at an all-time high on TV, and we're very concerned about it," campaign leader Rev. John Hurt told me. Hurt, pastor of the Church of Christ in Joelton, Tenn., says that a frightening number of shows treat adultery, incest and perversion in a joking or favorable light. "They're making young people believe that immorality and degeneracy are to be laughed at," he said. The shows cited by his church as being the most obscene are 1. 'Soap,' 2. 'Three's Company,' 3. 'Dallas,' 4. 'Saturday Night Live' and 5. 'Charlie's Angels.' Three syndicated shows, 'The Dating Game,' 'The Newlywed Game' and 'Three's a Crowd,' are the focus of a 'Clean Up Television Campaign.' We don't necessarily want to throw these shows off the air, Hurt said. We just want the networks to clean up their act. The 6,000 churches plan to hit the TV moguls where it hurts most—at the bank. They're putting pressure on the giant corporations that sponsor those shows, hoping they'll force the network bigwigs to shape up. We only started the campaign back in March. We've already received 425,000 signatures, said Hurt. It clearly shows that there are an awful lot of people out there who are fed up with what they're seeing.

TV CLOSEUP John Davidson has a lot more going for him than just his squeaky clean image. He's the star of two TV shows at the same time. That's 'Incredible' and his new daily talk program 'The John Davidson Show.' The preacher's son has worked hard to get rid of his All-American image. In fact, he's worked so hard that his marriage is in trouble. He and wife Jackie agreed to a trial separation last month. "We want time to work things out," Davidson explained. Last year doing 'That's Incredible' and now my own talk show have really been hell on our marriage. At one time, Davidson wouldn't make a decision without Jackie's advice. That's what happened six years ago when he began his campaign for a new image by appearing nude in a National Women's Magazine. "I almost didn't pose for that picture," says Davidson, who later had regrets particularly after his father's blistering two word comment. Really dumb. After I'd first turned the centerfold down, I discussed it with my wife and we mutually agreed. Why not? It would be good exposure and help break the goody good image. Besides it dawned on us that the sale of posters would put our kids through school. After all, everybody needs money.
