

FOR 191 DAYS

the Iranians have held 50 Americans hostage. The ultimatum to the Ayatolla
Kohomeini must be the written words:
"Let my people go."

It's fire season!

DURING FIRE SEASON, check this sign at the Smokey Bear Ranger Station, on Highway 37 north. Periods of danger are shown as "High", "Very High" and "Extreme." Red Flag Alert announcements are broadcast over AM stations KRRR 1360 and the Forest Service station on 1610.

Saturday's "Red Flag Alert," call by Smokey Bear Ranger District officials and coordinated by ComFIRE (Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment) was proof positive that the 1980 spring-fire season is here.

When moisture, wind and ground fuel conditions reach a certain point, where danger of forest fire is imminent locally, an alert is called.

The purpose of the alert is to warn everyone that extreme caution should be taken to prevent a man caused forest fire. G. W. Werther, Smokey Bear District fire prevention officer, said local records show, over the past five years, smoking and campfires have accounted for the largest number of fires, with children playing with matches and the burning of household trash following in that order.

During those five years, Werther's records disclose that 30 statistical fires have been caused by local permanent residents, with five by seasonal residents and that transients accounted for 14 with forest visitors responsible for five.

"It is clear from this that the major part of the problem is at home," Werther said. "These figures include statistical fires only, fires that are either on or endanger the National Forest."

"Probably the major thing that residents could do to reduce fire incidence is to maintain adequate clearance around any fire they may need to use, not use fires during windy periods, extinguish them when they are not in immediate attendance and keep their cigaret butts in the ash tray where they belong."

Special music concert here Tuesday evening

The art and music departments of Ruidoso High School will present a spring art exhibition and music concert at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the high school gymnasium.

Special presentations by the White Mountain Middle School Chorus and Ruidoso Community Choir, as well as performances by the Ruidoso High School Warrior band and the high school Choral will highlight the evening's entertainment. Choral numbers will include "Both Sides Now," "Bridge Over Troubled Water,"

"Come Saturday Morning," "Easy on Down the Road" and "Everybody Rejoice," both from the Broadway show "The Wiz;" "Candle On the Water" and "Slip."

The "Warrior" band will perform the following selections: "Burnished Brass," a concert march; "Second Suite For Band;" "Flute Cocktail," featuring the flute section; "March of the Belgian Paratroopers;" "Slide by Slide," which features the trombone section; "Alla Barocco" a folk-rock number; and "Festivo," one of the numbers performed for crowds in Mexico City in April.

Two numbers will feature the band joining with all voices to perform "Irving Berlin: 'A Symphonic Portrait'" and "America - The Beautiful."

"We hope this will be the start of cooperation between the community choir and the school music departments to present many concerts," Danny Flores, high school music program director, said.

Art students of high school art instructor Sam Pilgreen will have their projects on display for viewing.

Two injured in biplane crash

Two Washington men were injured in the crash of a biplane shortly after noon Saturday near Carrizozo. William G. Wilson, 37, Ellensburg, Washington was reported in fair condition Sunday at Providence Memorial Hospital in El Paso.

Skip Stevens, 30, Richland, Washington was in "serious and stable," condition at William Beaumont Army Medical Center Sunday. Both men were transferred to El Paso after being treated at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital.

The Gypsy Moth aircraft crashed about 10 miles east of Carrizozo. The two men were en route to Big Spring, Texas where they were to deliver the plane to a buyer.

State emergency group elects Travis secretary

At a recent meeting of the New Mexico Emergency Services Council, Dave Travis of Ruidoso was re-elected to the organization's executive board and elected to serve as secretary.

Travis, Alden Deyo and Kent Waller, all members of the White Mountain Search and Rescue team, attended the gathering at the Philmont Scout Ranch, near Cimarron.

Highlights of the meeting included a tracking course presented by Ab Taylor, formerly of the United States Border Patrol, and a program focusing on the Civil Air Patrol, the physical effects of high altitude on search and rescue personnel, an advanced compass and map course and underwater rescue.

ACCEPTABLE GRABS TOP DECK STAKES

'Diamonds' glitters

Denim N Diamonds, a filly owned by R. D. Hubbard of Wichita, Kansas grabbed the spotlight in Saturday's opening day program at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly emerged as the standout among 103 three-year-old quarter horses who took part in 11 elimination trials leading to the May 18 $222,150 Kansas Derby.

Denim N Diamonds, guided by Jerry Nicodemus, sliced through a battering headwind in the fifth race and covered the 400 yards in 20.85 seconds. That clocking emerged as the best of the afternoon, and appears to make the filly the prerace favorite for the May 18 finale.

Denim N Diamonds, purchased in the All-American Sale in 1978 for $32,000, has now run up winnings of some $75,000. The fans made her a heavy favorite Saturday and she returned $3.60 to win. She hit the wire with a commanding 3/4 length lead.

The second best qualifier was Jaimie Jay at 20.72. The filly scored a surprisingly easy upset over Streakin Six, the second place finisher in last year's All-American Futurity.

Here are the other Kansas Derby qualifiers: Rebel Killoqua, 20.87; Streakin Six, 20.91; Charge It Papa, 20.93; Mito Mite, 20.98; Thats Raney, 20.97; Give Me Room, 20.99; Johnny Drake, 21.00.

Chautos Junior and Go For One were tied for the bottom berth at 21.05 each. The deadlock will be broken by a draw to be held Sunday morning.

Saturday's handle finished up at $418,795, well over the $374,751 recorded on the same day a year ago.

Acceptable, a colt who'd gotten top grades in recent races on the Texas bushtrack circuit, easily subdued some high class competition in Sunday's Top Deck Stakes At Ruidoso Downs.

Acceptable ended the 350 yard dash with a big kick and roared to a neck victory over Bold Love. The latter recently set the world record for 400 yards.

Miss Thermolark, the world champ of 1978, was also in the Top Deck gathering, but she ended up third. In the final yards,

Villages' trustees to meet

Ruidoso Downs trustees will meet tonight at 7 in the municipal building.

Major agenda items to be considered include a sign ordinance, the 1979 traffic code and a sanitation report on service to Agua Fria and Biscuit Hill areas. Occupational licenses will also be considered.

The Ruidoso trustees will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., in the Ruidoso Public Library.

Agenda items include the second hearing on use of Revenue Sharing Funds, report on opening of bids on sewer line cleaning equipment, report on bid preference on new fire fighting equipment and a probation parole program presentation by Roger Kendall of Alamogordo.

School board meets Tuesday

The Ruidoso Board of Education will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m., in the school administration office.

Agenda items include the opening of quotes on surplus vehicles, a call for bids on maintenance of office machines and janitorial supplies, resignations of three teachers and hiring of four staff persons, and a discussion of school policies regarding use of school property.

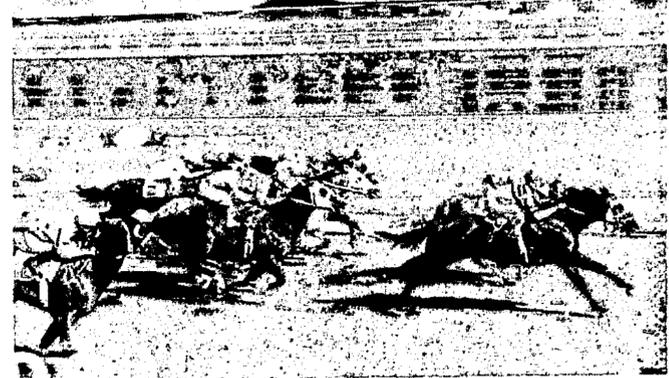

April building permits down

Building permits issued by the village of Ruidoso during April totaled $424,600 in estimated costs of construction, according to village zoning officer Emory Hatcher.

That figure represents a substantial drop from the previous month, when permits totalled $1,162,040. During April, 1979, the permits totalled $2,084,020.

The following are listed by subdivision or location, type of structure and estimated construction costs:

- Singing Pines, single family dwelling (SFD), $11,520.
- White Mountain Unit 3, SFD $84,800.
- Camelot, multi family dwelling (MFD), $221,760.
- Paradise Canyon, SFD, $9,800.
- Lakeside Estates, SFD, $30,000.
- Del Norte #1, addition, $7,200.
- CC Estates, addition, $5,400.
- Alto CC, addition, $500.
- Carrizo Creek Estates, SFD, $19,800.
- White Mountain #2, SFD, $10,560.
- Ruidoso Springs, addition, $500.
- Forest Heights, SFD, $40,000.

ACCEPTABLE OUTCOME — Acceptable, a colt handled by Steve Fuller, zooms to a neck victory over Bold Love in the Top Deck Stakes at Ruidoso Downs. The win was Acceptable's fifth in a row.

she was really flying.

Acceptable, ridden by Steve Fuller, came out of the Top Deck with a streak of five victories. He earned $3,600 and that lifted his 1980 winnings up to $24,615. Most of his current bankroll came from an impressive win in the Southwest Oil Field Derby at the Val Verde bush track at Del Rio, Texas.

Hugh Tucker trains the colt for the D and R Cattle Company of Breckenridge, Texas.

Ruidoso patrons made him the second favorite in the Top Deck and he returned mutual payoffs of $6.40, $3 and $2.40. Bold Love, handled by Jackie Martin at 8-5, dashed out $3 to place, $2.40 to show. The show payoff on Miss Thermolark was $2.80.

Acceptable raced the 350 yards against a crushing headwind. He was timed in 18.44 seconds. The track mark is 17.24.

It was a two horse affair from the first jump. Bold Love got away flying from the number 5 post and quickly took the lead. Acceptable also had an alert getaway, but stayed in second place, about a half length out of it.

Bold Love carried her lead for about 300 yards. As she approached the wire, Acceptable began to move. The colt moved up quickly and went thundering in to the lead. But it wasn't a case of Bold Love running out of gas. It was just the fact Acceptable had so much octane in his final strides.

Miss Thermolark, whose career earnings are up around the half million dollar range, was about 1 1/4 lengths out of it at the start. The mare raced for about 100 yards before shifting into high gear. She made up considerable ground at the end to take third, a length behind Bold Love.

Bold Love, who set the 400 yard world mark at Sunland Park March 28, is owned by Thelma Spencer of Edmond, Oklahoma. Miss Thermolark is the property of Dan and Jolene Urschel of Canadian, Texas.

The gross purse of the Top Deck Stakes was $6,000.

Sunday's program also included the $6,500 Inaugural Allowance at six furlongs. The win went to Mr. Clyde, who sliced through between horses and overcame the plucky mare, Ghost Light. Mr. Clyde won by nearly two lengths under Gary Sumpter. He earned $3,900 and returned $14 to win.

The gelding — who won the Inaugural a year ago in similar fashion — is owned by Ralph Miller of Fluvanna, Texas.

Racing at Ruidoso Downs resumes Thursday with Kansas Futurity trials.

IT'S THAT HORSE AGAIN — Mr. Clyde, ridden by Gary Sumpter, loomed up at the end for a 1 1/4 length win in the $6,500 Inaugural Allowance at Ruidoso Downs.

"I TAKE MY HAT OFF TO YOU" — Debra Lee Sartin, right, first recipient of the Yolanda Manley Pierson Nursing Scholarship, sponsored by the Ruidoso Elks Lodge, is saluted by Bill Taylor, Elks' scholarship chairman, after receiving an Associate of Arts degree from Eastern New Mexico University Thursday evening. Sartin will soon take her state examination to become a Registered Nurse. Mrs. Taylor, left, was offering congratulations to candidate Sartin at this post graduation reception.

New stage for festival

With festival dates approaching, the board of directors of Ruidoso Summer Festival Incorporated (RSFI) has begun to address some of the mechanical problems of staging the seven-concert series.

At a meeting Thursday, the board gave approval for building of a stage, equipped with a collapsible understructure, which means it will be "reusable year after year," according to vice chairman Ken Green.

Green said he had recruited George Lore, Larry Langford and James Stevens to supervise the building of the stage, which will be used for both indoor and outdoor performances. A crew of volunteers is being sought to help with the building and other duties during the festival.

One concert location change was also approved at the meeting, at Green's suggestion. He said a group of board members had inspected the outdoor concert sites and had found the First Christian Church grounds unacceptable for the Sunday afternoon performance, because of the lack of shaded ground.

As an alternative, the group decided to request use of the Cedar Creek picnic area, a site already approved for one outdoor concert. Green said he felt the Forest Service would be amenable to their staging of two concerts at that area. The other outdoor concert will be a noon performance at Two Rivers Park.

In other business, the RSFI board members:

—Were advised that the use of a concert grand piano, to be played by Victor Borge, had been donated by New Mexico Military Institute.

—Approved another tour for eight travel writers, which will take place during the festival.

Missed in the census?

Persons in this area who did not have the census form received in the mail in April picked up by an enumerator, are asked to complete the "Were you counted?" form on page two and mail it immediately to: U. S. Census Office, 355 N. Main St., Las Cruces, N. M. 88001.

TWO WARRIOR BAND MEMBERS earned a berth on the official New Mexico Lions Club High School Band that will perform at the International convention of Lions Clubs in Chicago during the first week in July. The two musicians winning this honor at an audition in Las Cruces are percussionist Mike Hansen and clarinetist Jeannette Weems, chosen by

YOU DON'T HAVE to have a broken arm to get an "I got plastered at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital" sticker, as Blake Starr, center, discovered Friday. Posing for this photograph earned him a token sticker. Also pictured, left to right are Judy Tyson, registered nurse, Melinda and Gary Hall, who designed the stickers, and Dr. Paul Whitwam, who bought the first batch of stickers. Starr, who is director of the Ruidoso Gymnastics Academy, volunteered 160 hours at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital this winter, helping distribute the stickers, pictured below.

EID assures Alto Alps condo owners good sewage service

A group of Alto Alps condominium owners Saturday received assurances from state Environmental Improvement Division (EID) officials that problems with the sewage treatment plant serving the complex should be ending soon.

Meeting with the local citizens were Roswell personnel John Burkstaller and Percy Blair, EID district engineers; John Guinn, environmental district manager; Ken McCallum, environmental scientist, Santa Fe; and Hari Mukhoty, Ruidoso environmentalist. Also present at the meeting was Jim Wimberly, who manages the condos and has contracted with the owners for sewage treatment service.

Burkstaller told the group he felt their "complaints are amply justified," and admitted, "We've had a lot of problems with him (Wimberly) in the past," particularly in regard to his failure to notify the division of breakdowns and other problems with the system.

He added, however, that Wimberly is now cooperating with the environmentalists, and modifications to the system should solve past problems.

"If he doesn't do what we agreed to," Burkstaller said, "we'll take him to court."

assured that this will not happen in the future," he asked.

When the system was first set into operation, Burkstaller said, Wimberly was providing the service under a permit from the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). With the modifications which have already been made, and those planned, he said the system now is under the jurisdiction of the EID, the state agency. The federal permit expires next month.

The system involves an aerobic treatment pond, where bacteria are allowed to eat the organic material in the sewage. Air is pumped into the pond to promote the bacterial process. Wimberly is required to disinfect the water before disposing of it, Burkstaller said. The water was formerly being discharged into an arroyo near the complex.

With the new system, the disinfected water will be discharged into an unlined lagoon, where it will be allowed to percolate into the ground. The environmentalists promised to monitor the ground water (through testing of area wells) to determine whether contamination is taking place.

Sludge, a by-product of the system, will be disposed of at the landfill, Burkstaller said, rather than being spread on the ground locally, as was done in the past.

The EID is awaiting the answer to a number of questions about the plant before granting a state permit, according to McCallum. Answers to the questions will be forwarded to the residents' association, he added. If nitrate levels rise in the ground water, Burkstaller said, "We will make an effort to require him (Wimberly) to line the lagoon," with some impervious material.

With regard to planned expansion of the condominium complex, the EID personnel said if the system does not have the capacity to handle the added load, "We will require him to enlarge it."

The EID officials also agreed to incorporate an alarm system into Wimberly's requirements, at the suggestion of Lanell. The alarm would warn of malfunctions in the system. Wimberly said he felt that request was "reasonable."

Yvonne Lanell asked that the EID hold a public hearing on the matter, to give the residents some "legal status," since the local meeting had none.

Burkstaller said the state government would like to avoid that because of the expense, including hiring of a court recorder, and so on. He added that the hearing would "put no more pressure on us," to follow through with promises of prosecution, if necessary.

"The techniques you have already been using to pressure us are quite sufficient," he added. The sewer system problem had been the impetus for a letter writing campaign among residents in the past.

Stickers boost skiers' morale

If you're planning to break a limb, finger or your nose in the next few weeks, do it in Ruidoso. If you do it now, or later, you'll receive, absolutely free, a sticker on your cast which says, "I got plastered at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital."

The stickers were a joint effort by Dr. Paul Whitwam and Gary and Melinda Hall, to "provide a little more advertisement for Ruidoso." Since many skiers from the two regional areas bring their broken bones to the Ruidoso hospital to be cast, Whitwam decided to get even more mileage out of the ski vacations.

The stickers will be converted into buttons which can be worn on the shirt or jacket, if Whitwam can find someone who wants to support the idea. "If we can get a service group behind the project, it won't be very expensive and people really get a kick out of them," Whitwam said.

He said the bright green stickers with black printing were given to 100 people this winter "and a lot of them didn't get a cast," according to Judy Tyson, registered nurse at the hospital.

The initial investment for a starter button set was pegged at $100 by Whitwam, with more buttons available when needed.

The buttons will be earth tones of dark and light brown, with the Halls again doing artwork. "We've had a lot of positive feedback on the stickers, but they don't stick to the casts very well," Whitwam said.

DR. PAUL WHITWAM, far left, addressed members of the Golden Age Club of Ruidoso Wednesday, to acquaint them with recommended procedure for detection of cancer. Whitwam is the medical education chairman of the East Lincoln Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Golden Age Club members given advice on having cancer checkups

Dr. Paul Whitwam, in an address Wednesday to the Golden Age Club of Ruidoso, said recommendations regarding checkups for early detection of cancer have been modified.

Whitwam said the guidelines resulted after an 18-month study on the various cancer sites, which revealed that the age and frequency of examinations that will deliver essentially the same health benefit to the public are less than previously recommended.

Whitwam outlined the new recommendations, stressing that for members of the Golden Age Club, an annual checkup would include tests for detection of cancer. He also recommended that women do a breast self-examination monthly and have an annual checkup with the doctor. Women over 50 years old should have a mammography every year.

Whitwam explained that a mammography makes early detection of breast cancer much easier at an earlier stage. "If a lump exists, we can see it on a mammography where it may take several months to show up in a physical examination," he said.

Whitwam said that one of every 12 women has the chance of developing breast cancer, and chances increase if someone in the family has a history of breast cancer. "We're talking about something of very high incidence," Whitwam said.

He added that early detection is imperative. "If we're ever going to beat cancer, we have to catch it early."

Whitwam also showed a slide presentation on heart and lung cancer which graphically depicted the bad effects of smoking.

Whitwam said that "secondhand" smoke which is inhaled by non-smokers, offers limited danger to the non-smoker. He said children of parents who smoke are more than twice as likely to smoke themselves than if parents didn't smoke.

Whitwam said smokers have a 70 percent higher incidence of getting cancer than non-smokers. He added that total property loss due to fires related to smoking has reached $80 million and is climbing.

Whitwam attributes the smoking trend in part to the lobbying efforts of tobacco companies in the United States who spend millions every year to promote smoking. "They receive a lot of help from cigarette manufacturers who glorify smoking," Whitwam added.

But, he said, the glamour of this habit wears off when the smoker "finds he has lung cancer. And once he gets it, there's usually very little we can do for him."

The Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary, in conjunction with local doctors, now operate a cancer screening clinic which is free to men, with a nominal charge to women.

The clinic operates one day a week and the patient is checked for every type of cancer. To make an appointment to have a cancer checkup, telephone the hospital at 257-7381, extension 317.

Whitwam is the Medical Education chairman for the East Lincoln Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Area students on petroglyph tour last week

Ten Ruidoso High School and Tularosa High School students, along with members of the Mescalero Traditional Counseling (MTC) program, last week visited petroglyphs portraying the Dance of the Indian Gods.

According to Molly McGill, director of the MTC program, 19 people traveled to Deming for an overnight stay and to hike two miles to a cave where petroglyphs portraying the Dance of the Mountain Gods are preserved.

McGill said two women over the age of 60 also made the hike without difficulty. The group was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Parsons, Jody McSherry and Mitzl Brownfield, all of Deming, into the Florida Mountains.

McGill said the trip, sponsored by MTC, was made so the youth could "learn more about their traditions and customs" as members of the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

Hatala/Stubbs vows spoken

Judy Hatala of Muscatine, Iowa, and Charles William Stubbs of Ruidoso, were married in April in Ruidoso, at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Stubbs of Ruidoso.

Officiating at the double ring, candlelight ceremony was the Reverend Frank Crown, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ruidoso.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES STUBBS

The bride was given away by her brother, Dan Hatala, of Waverly, Iowa. Best man at the ceremony was Ace Porter of Roswell and Nogal. Maid of honor was Lisa Porter.

An out of town guest-present at the wedding and reception, also held at the Stubbs' home, included the bride's mother, Mrs. Ruth Hatala of Fort Madison, Iowa.

The bridegroom is a graduate of New Mexico State University and is a design engineer. The couple is making their home in Clearwater, Florida where he recently accepted a position with an engineering firm.

Woman's Club installation Wednesday

Ruidoso Woman's Club will have its annual installation of officers Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., in the club building.

The installation will be preceded by a noon executive board meeting and by a 12:30 salad luncheon.

All members are urged to attend.

Local girls win tri-county pageant titles

Cordy Henson, 9 was named Miniature Miss and Linda Hankins, 6, Cinderella Tot Saturday evening in the tri-county Cinderella Girl Pageant here. The girls, both from Ruidoso Downs, were winners in competition covering Lincoln Chaves and Otero counties.

Cordy is the daughter of Don and Charlotte Henson and Linda is the daughter of J. L. and Diana Hankins. Both girls, along with Kimberly Preston, 12, Miss Cinderella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Preston of Alamogordo, will compete in the state Cinderella Miss pageant June 20 and 21 in Carlsbad.

All three winners received a crown, trophy and all state entry fees will be paid.

Also competing for the Cinderella Teen title in the state contest will be Melissa LeJeune, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeJeune and Lou Ann Wilson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, all of Ruidoso.

Sally Dean, coordinator of the pageant, said, "Melissa and Lou Ann were not eligible to compete for the local crown because they entered after the deadline." Both will be eligible to compete for the title of New Mexico Cinderella Miss, Dean said.

Only Almager, Dennis going to state

Tracksters find disappointment in Deming

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

Track season for Warrior thincalads came to an abrupt halt in Saturday's district meet in Deming.

Only two Ruidoso runners qualified for state, and the girls' and boys' squads finished dead last. That came as a surprise to coaches Darrel Stierwalt and Sergio Castanon.

"We didn't do nearly as well as we thought we would," Stierwalt said.

"I'm disappointed," Castanon said, "and so are the girls. We expected more people to qualify, and we were left with the feeling, 'What happened?'"

The meet was the last hope all but one Warrior had for qualifying to this week's state meet. That runner was Joe Almager, who qualified earlier this year in the 800 meter run.

Only one Warrior qualified Saturday—Sheri Dennis, who placed second in the 100 meter sprint with a 13.3 time.

"The girls were real upset," Castanon said, "and it gives them something to shoot for next year."

Almost all the Warriors had poor days, partly due to the weather.

"Man, it was a bad day," Stierwalt said.

The wind was blowing 30 or 35 miles an hour, and it was hot and dusty. It was like running into a wall, a big thick wall."

As far as Stierwalt was concerned, the biggest disappointment came from the mile medley relay team.

"We yanked Joe (Almager) from the open 800 and the open mile, at his request, so he could run the 800 leg in the medley," Stierwalt said. "We thought our medley had a pretty good chance at qualifying, and that way we could qualify three more besides Joe."

The other two events were right before the medley competition.

The medley team of Almager, Scott Neal, Ricky Dennis and Steve Benway had been practicing all week, and to qualify for state, either had to place first or second or run a 3:46 or better.

In practice, the team ran 3:48. "We thought we could shave two seconds off easy," Stierwalt said, "in the pressure of a race."

But the weather played havoc with Stierwalt's plans. That, and a fleet footed Deming trackster named David Caldwell, who was the 100 yard state champion last year.

"We were ahead going into the 800 leg—we were in second place—and Caldwell came roaring up and caught Joe and passed him. We finished third," Stierwalt said, with a time of 3:51.

But the mile medley probably cost Deming the meet. Caldwell was the district favorite in the 200 meter sprint, which ran after the medley. Caldwell finished fifth, and Deming finished second in the meet.

"It was a gamble," Stierwalt said, "but I'd take it again. We had talked about it, and we thought we had a good chance at placing the medley team. We just didn't get the job done."

"But I'm awfully proud of Joe," Stierwalt said. Almager had a good shot at qualifying in the mile but passed up the chance, and that "took a lot of pride," he said.

In other results, the 400 meter relay team of Neal, Dennis, Benway and Steve Pletsch finished fourth, and the mile relay team of Lon Nunley, Mike Douglas, Kyle Flack and Billy Woodul placed fifth.

Two miler Elroy Duffy placed fifth with a time of 10:29, and pole vaulter Peter Batton was fifth with a vault of 10 and a half feet.

On the ladies' side, sisters Ruta and Gleda Bob had troubles of their own in the 800 meter and mile runs.

Ruta, plagued with shin splints, placed third in the 800 with her best time ever of 2:35. Unfortunately, qualifying time had to be 2:32. Gleda ran a 4:32 mile, also finishing third, but 4:30 was the minimum time in the mile.

"They were really disappointed," Castanon said.

Discus thrower Tammy McCulley, whom Castanon "guaranteed" would go to state, placed fifth with a 91 foot throw. "I think she was a little nervous," he said.

And two relay teams placed fourth and fifth. Overall, the girls' team scored 15 points, and the boys tallied 10. Both finished last in the meet.

"We might've qualified more if we had had a better day," Castanon said.

But all that's in the past. Now the task is to get Almager and Dennis ready for state.

"We'll work with Sheri this week and try to get her time down to 12 seconds," Castanon said. "Her best time was a 12.3 at Lovington, so I think she can do it."

"Joe should be in the running," Stierwalt said. "He trains real hard, and this is the fourth time he's been to state. A kid from St. Plus has run a 1:56, and I think that's the best this year."

Almager has run a 2:02 800, so he has six seconds to cut off his time, not an easy task.

"We'll just have to wait until Saturday afternoon to see if he does it," Stierwalt said.

The state track meet is Friday and Saturday in Albuquerque.

More award winners in women's bowling league

Due to a limitation of space, not all the award winning teams in the Tuesday morning Ladies' Bowling League were mentioned in Thursday's edition of The News.

So, to rectify that situation, here are pictures of the remaining award winners, who were honored at the annual banquet last week at K-Bob's.

THIRD PLACE was a two way tie between Pioneer Savings and Trust and Hughes Body Shop. Pioneer bowlers, from left, Billie Stratton, Arveta Hassell and Wanda McBride who each received mugs. Not pictured is Georgia George.

THE OTHER third place team, Hughes Body Shop, also won mugs. From left are, Nettie Hug, Mildred Wood and Mary Dominguez. Not pictured is Willie Beasley.

LAST PLACE team, Las Tres Tiendas, was given trophies of a bowler in distress. Members are, from left, Grace Lopez, Ann Wood, Gloria Montes and Carol Waller.

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS were also presented, and Elaine Garrity, left, won high scratch game with a 246, and Walt Hughes, right, won high average with a 168, and high scratch series with a 601. High handicap series winner Willie Beasley, high handicap game winner Annie Keith and most improved bowler Anne Brunell are not pictured.

Uh oh—before the men's softball league can play this season, league prez Dub Holt tells me—all members have to pay a $5 fee by May 15 (that's this Thursday) to Buddy Bundick at Community Public Service.

That money goes into a general equipment and operating fund, "for softballs, bases, that kind of stuff," Dub said.

And, alas, on Saturday—this Saturday—the league is having a managers' meeting, combined with a workday, at the Ruidoso Downs ball park.

"All league members are urged to come help," Dub said, to prepare the fields for play, which begins May 20—next Tuesday. And bring your lawn and garden tools, men. The shindig begins at 10 a.m.

Horse aficionados take notice

Well, I see Genuine Risk, a filly, won the Kentucky Derby, which, as I understand it, is the first time in a long time any lady horse has done that.

(Dood?)

Anyhoo, let's hear it for the Equal Rights Amendment, which I didn't know applied to horses, but quite a few jackasses have gotten embroiled in that—but that's a horse of another altogether different color, if you know what I mean.

You know, it's kind of funny—here I am, the sports editor of the newspaper near the World's Richest Horse Race, and you could put what I know about horses in a thimble, and it'd only be half full.

Heck, all I know about horses is either Silver or Trigger was the best there ever was.

But I plan to rectify that situation in the near future—I'm gonna know all about the Big Q and the daily double and all that stuff.

I may go broke in the process, but I'm gonna learn.

(And besides, everybody knows Champion was the best horse. Let's hear it for Gene Autry.)

Basketball STILL????

Good grief, basketball season is still on. You think they'd have it all over with by now. I mean, crying out loud, it's only been going on since about November.

(What's funny, of course, is nobody ever notices hockey, which started way back in November too, and they're just now getting around to finishing it up.)

It's almost a shame everybody keeps stretching sports seasons out, because I think almost everybody gets tired of such long seasons. I sure as heck do.

Football ought to be put back down to about a dozen games—no more—cut baseball season in half—playing 100 games is too much—same for basketball and hockey. All of them just drag on and on and on... like this column.

No, seriously, I really do advocate shorter seasons for professional sports—but I know it won't happen. There's far too much money to be made to do that. So I guess I'll just have to live with it.

How time flies

Quick—everybody knows Billy Sims is the first round draft pick in pro football this year, and he won the Heisman Trophy.

But who was the first ever Heisman winner, and where did he play and was he the first round pick?

His name was Jay Berwanger, he played for the University of Chicago (a football power to be reckoned with in 1935), and yes, he was the first round pick.

He was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles, but they immediately traded the rights to George Halas, the guiding figure of the Chicago Bears.

Halas figured Berwanger—who was a hometown boy and a big hero in Chicago—would pull quite a few people into the stadiums of the young National Football League.

Berwanger never played a down of pro football.

In a wire story I saw the other day about the draft, Berwanger, now the retired owner of an Illinois manufacturing plant, said his demands were just too exorbitant for Halas.

"I asked for $25,000 for two years and a no-cut contract," Berwanger said. Halas just smiled at him, and that was the last of that.

And, since Chicago owned the rights to Berwanger, he couldn't play anywhere else, unless the Bears sold said rights. And for that kind of money—$25,000 was big bread in them days—no one was willing to touch him.

Makes Billy Sims' zillion dollar demands look really big, don't it?

The Dreamer BY DANNIE STORM

The Full Tide Of Spring
This message is being sent to you on May eight, and spring is here all in a joyful rush to make up for lost time. All the leaves are out now, on tree and bush, and tiny shrub. The walnut tree, last of the trees to leaf out in the spring, finally put out its green and golden tassels and the little clusters of light green leaves touched with light red. All through the full moon the walnut waited and then just, on the seventh, at the ing of the last quarter of the moon, the walnut joined the leaf parade.

All along the river's winding way the new leaves are every color of new green touched with gold. The box elders have a faint red tint as they do in years of rapid and luxuriant growth.

You never saw the leaves grow so rapidly. It seems only yesterday the little lombardy poplars leafed out; and now they are nearly full size, quaking and fluttering in the breeze — glittering as they mirror the sun on their shiny surfaces — muttering and murmuring a little song of the leaves like their white-tunked cousins on high, the quaking aspen, who will not leaf out for several days.

All the air is heavy laden with the incense of every leaf tassel and new opening leaf clusters of every bush and tree all through the hill sides, canyons, glens and vales. This new leaf aroma is mingled with one of the most welcome of all the essences of spring — the breath of the new grass greening up the world rapidly after the welcome rains.

Early Grass and Flowers
As if to help the unusually late spring catch up, the Rain Spirit sent some showers through the land ahead of time. Most generally, rain does not arrive until July, so that Mother Earth's creatures of the springtime must bide their time, appearing cautiously through the dry days of May and June — gathering their strength to grow from the moisture in the ground left there by the winter snows.

Thus, often times, the mountain fields will keep their amber color of winter grass until the July rains which then transform the world.

This spring the rains of early May came like a benediction from the sky, causing all the mountain world to rejoice. In happy gratefulness the young blades sprang forth from the ground all in a day, turning the mountain meadows and valley fields into carpets of shining light emerald, bringing a touch of midsummer color to the land in midspring.

The early rains have brought another very unusual touch into the late arriving spring picture. Many midsummer flowers have bloomed early, joining colors to the new leaves and early grass.

The Indian Paint Brush, and the English Evening Primrose have appeared like magic with their pure scarlet vermillion and silken yellow, flowers of July and August already with us in May.

The Young Calves
A Picture of Springtime Charm

Whether it is the fresh air, the new grass, or the green world as a matching color — I do not know, but for some reason the red and white colors of the new calves seem more shining bright than ever.

Running over the mountain lawns, resting in groups, or running close beside their mothers, they present many a picture of new life and sacred motherhood.

It is a golden year for calves. Just a few days old, they are already grazing on the tender fragrant grass. And their mothers' milk has the added strength given by the rains to grass and herbs and leaves of tree and vine.

Whitely Ford
White face calves are usually marked with white face, feet, and a white patch on the back of the neck and a white tip of the tail, the rest of the body being red.

There is one little fellow, his mother's first calf, who is white all up his legs and part of his stomach — making him look as if he had a set of trout fisherman's wading boots of pure white. Also his entire head is white and the under part of his neck.

He has a certain way of lying down with his head curled back over his body that makes him look like a little calf of pure white. So I have named him "Whitely Ford," after the great pitcher of the New York Yankees. Lee Lawing, please take note.

Let us rejoice with all the mountain world and thank God for the glorious spring.

Floor Fashions

WHICH CARPET IS BEST? Actually there is not only a different answer for every buyer ... there is even a different answer for almost every room!

Different rooms serve and function in different ways, putting varying demands on floor coverings. Even the same kinds of rooms, like bedrooms, can't be lumped together. What is right for the parents won't turn on the average teenager. A room for two boys shouldn't be the same as one for Sis. And very young children need their individual floors.

Living areas are also different ... some elegantly formal, some hobby or activity areas, some only for dining, and so on. Each should have a carpet that is beautiful and practical for that particular room and its character.

Choose hard-wearing carpets for very heavy traffic and activity areas, of course ... something easily cleaned in a dining area ... perhaps a dense velvety plush for the elegant living room. Relate not only the color but also the texture and fiber to the individual room needs ... and that's the best carpet.

The choice is wide ... but we can help you choose just the right carpet for the right room ... and at the right price for your budget. We carry the leading carpet names you can trust ... so come in and see the best for you!

SANTA FE — You know how every once in a while you get a burr under your saddle — something that bothers you a lot without apparently disturbing anyone else at all? That's the way we are about physician participation in the execution of prisoners, which appears to be essential under New Mexico's new death-penalty law.

The point rises now because it's likely that sentences of execution will be sought in some pending cases, including those which will be brought as a result of the penitentiary riot in early February.

Since the law isn't very specific about how the lethal injection it calls for will take place, any one of a variety of methods might be used. All of them would appear to this observer to require the presence and services of a physician — and we think physicians are pledged to protect life, not take it.

more intimate for physicians than any other in medical history."

Yet we have not heard so much as a peep out of New Mexico's physicians. Does that mean they will go along with such a procedure if called upon to perform one? Or does it just mean they are hoping never to be faced with the eventuality? We hope there is no suggestion of callousness on their part of lack of interest in such a moral problem, which is literally one of life and death.

Obviously, doctors are no more unanimous on such questions than any other group of professionals would be; some have even sponsored such laws (now in force in Idaho, Oklahoma and Texas, as well as here). One said during hearings in Santa Fe that he would not hesitate to inject the lethal drug if no other physician agreed to.

Doesn't that thought bother anybody else?

Under our law, doctors might be asked to participate at any one of many stages. One obvious one is by prescribing the drug solution to be used; you can't get prescription drugs normally without the signature of a physician. There's also the likelihood that, even if non-physicians perform the actual execution, a doctor would be required to supervise and order them to do it. At both those points, though not by monitoring the prisoner or pronouncing him or her dead, medical participation would seem to have increased sharply over any other prior form of execution.

Prof. William Curran and Dr. Ward Cascells, in the article they did on this subject in the New England Journal of Medicine, say that "the degree and scope of medical involvement in this new procedure for execution is greater and

At the other extreme, Dr. Louis J. West of UCLA has called for "a national medical declaration that it would be considered professionally unethical for a physician to lend his presence to an execution, even as an official examiner to certify the fact and time of death."

We would like to hear from the medical community on this one, not just out of curiosity but because their views and their future actions affect the application of our state's death-penalty law most directly.

Until somebody can reassure us on the point, we will continue to feel the system our state plans to use for executions is marked by something of the grim spirit that led German doctors to perform Nazi experiments, a gross misuse of their medical power.

But, as we say, that doesn't seem to be the way everybody sees this thing. Is there another side to the argument which has missed our attention?

WHO IS TO BLAME?

In recent weeks several congressional budget resolutions have been passed — all balancing the budget of course. There have been many speeches about holding the spending line, in both House and Senate. And many on the Hill have predicted a balanced budget, but not for this year — for 1981.

The taxpayer has heard this song now for twenty years, without seeing Congress hold the line on the federal budget in even one year during that period. Instead, it has seen Congress vote the federal bureaucratic army and itself automatic pay hikes tied to the cost of living, which go into effect whether or not the Treasury has the money to spend.

Only once in the fifties was the budget balanced. Yet in all these thirty years politicians in Washington have spewed forth millions of pages of newsletters, reports to constituents, etc., telling about the sins of overspending. Most of that came early in the year and few newsletters at the end of the session noted that this or that member, in the end, voted in favor of another deficit-spending budget.

Democrats have been in control of Congress for twenty-eight of the last thirty years. They have been in control every year of the last twenty, when the dollar, the budget, inflation and economic order went into a tailspin. President Carter's worst mistake, on assuming power, was to think he could continue on that course, and not wreck the economy.

This is certain to hurt Democrats in this year's election, though probably not enough to cost them control of either House. The taxpayers' only chance for a Republican veto role in spending in the next four years, then, is election of a Republican president. This is certain to help the Republican nominee in November, regardless of personalities, other issues and other comparisons. — Santa Rosa News

MILK PRICE TAX?

Joe Sanders hands this one in on oil controls. Well, it's on milk controls, but you will get the idea:

It is suggested that controls be imposed on milk prices. To implement these controls, the government would, of course, have to set up a council. The council would establish the following price control rules:

1. Old Milk — Any milk produced from a cow born on or before December 31, 1972. The milk can be sold at the May 1973 price adjusted for inflation.
2. New milk — Any milk produced from a cow born on or after January 1, 1973. This milk can sell for the September 1973 price adjusted for inflation.
3. Stripper milk — Any milk produced from a cow that makes less than 10 pints a day or alternately any milk produced by a group of cows that graze at a density of less than 10 per acre. This milk can sell at the 1979 uncontrolled price.
4. "New" new milk — Any milk produced by a cow born after May 31, 1979, that grazes 2½ miles from another cow or in a ravine a thousand feet deeper than the nearest cow. This milk can sell at the June 1, 1979, uncontrolled price adjusted for inflation.

Two years after the implementation of the above price control rules, a study of all milk producers shall be conducted (cost to government not to exceed 740 million) to determine if milk producers are showing profits in excess of 3%.

If ten percent or more are exceeding the three percent maximum, a windfall profit tax shall be imposed immediately to grab 60 percent of the gross income or 30 percent if the herd is comprised of 49 head or less.

The proceeds of this tax shall be disbursed wherever it will buy the most votes for the incumbent politicians. Register now to vote in November. — Hop Graham, The Livingston Daily Leader editorial

Mayor Davis and Fred Heckman, new airport commission member from Ruidoso, had an informal luncheon date with New Mexico State University's regents Friday.

On being asked about this meeting Thursday, by The News, Davis said he was going to explain to the regents that Ruidoso has no money to spend on any phase of the airport. "I believe they think we have a lot of money for this purpose and I want to tell them we don't," Davis said.

As to Heckman breaking bread with the regents, that can do no harm as he chaired the original planning commission when plans for all three phases, planning, design and construction were completed.

The university made its position very clear prior to rejection of the airport by Secretary of the Interior Cecil Andrus, that they would not give up any of the land used for agricultural experiments. They pulled no punches, overlooked no facts, in making their that their experiments were more valuable to the nation than the airport would ever be.

Perhaps Davis and Heckman hit the regents with a rationale that will ultimately lead to a decision by NMSU, BLM and others, that the airport and the agricultural experiments can co-exist on the mesa.

It doesn't appear as though there was a thing to be lost Friday, and if Davis and Heckman presented a convincing case to the regents to change their thinking, we just could gain an airport.

We trust that a factual report of this meeting will be available soon. The reasoning behind this is that it'd be nice to know if we should stand in line to pat them on the back, or kick them in the seat of their britches. — CD

DRIVE DEFENSIVELY

Whoa boy! Didja drive much in that weekend traffic ... occasioned ... more or less in whole ... perhaps in part ... to the ponies running at Ruidoso Downs?

If so, your memory was jogged into realizing that you just gotta pay attention to your driving until well past the middle of October ... and that you gotta watch out for good old Number One ... 'cause there's some of those drivers here for the races as ain't gonna pay you much no never mind when they're behind the wheel ... and you're behind same at the same time ... hopefully not in the same space.

And ... as Al Jolson used to say ... "You ain't seen nothin' yet" ... 'cause the influx of tourists is yet to come ... with the happy thought being ... if'n you sharpen up your driving skills during the next couple weeks; to the point where you can operate your vehicle fender bender free as you did last year ... you probably can avoid any middle of the road meetings with those as is here to enjoy themselves.

Come right down to it ... if'n you think on it ... keeping our horse racing fans from Texas and other parts ... and our scenery ogling tourists from most any place you can imagine ... getting through their visit here without adding a few new wrinkles to their car they don't want would be just about the best job of public relations possible for us to do.

Besides, there's this bonus for you ... being's body work ain't at all what it used to be ... pricewise.

WE'RE A STATE TOO

Ardent Ruidosoan ... and proud New Mexican by choice ... Christa Adams ... done hand toed a news item spread by the Associated Press to me ... and though it gave her a chuckle ... it also irked her.

'Cording to the news item, some folks from Washington, D.C., and Maryland are yearning to sit in on the Retired Federal Employees convention in Carlsbad September 14-18 ... and has been beleaguering Carlsbad folks with queries as to how to apply for a visa for our foreign land.

Christa kinda hankers to devise a "New Mexico Visa", all done up proper like, with seals and illegible signatures, going for about $250 a copy ... just to give them folks a lesson in geography they'd remember.

KNOW YOUR MEAT MAN

Bill Weber, president of Fletcher, Inc., Rowell wrote me the other day ... telling me as how he's been told there's a young man as has been most enterprising ... to the point where he's trying to sell and selling, Fletcher's meats ... asking cash in advance. Bill said ... to restaurants and individuals. Further, Bill said, the young man came into his office and said he's sold a couple boxes of meat and needed to fill the orders ... so, to help him out, Bill sold the meat he needed ... and suggested that perhaps he leave the selling up to his salesman ... who is well known to all his accounts in Ruidoso.

Now Bill ain't agin free enterprise ... but he takes a dim view of someone other than his salesman contacting his customers ... and all such goodies ... and he sorta wondered if'n I could spread the word a mite ... so ... you've been told ... somehow it just don't seem as this deal's a money making system for the tyro salesman ... unless he quits delivering.

YOUR NOSE COUNTEY?

Just in case your friendly enumerator in the 1980 census didn't manage to contact you ... which wouldn't of course, be due to any lack of enthusiasm or perseverance or devotion to duty ... the Bureau of Census wants your nose to be counted along with all the other nose ... if'n yours was missed as the enumerators noosed around.

Elsewhere in this issue is a form headed: Were you counted? ... and if'n you weren't ... or you and yours weren't ... the census folks'd appreciate it if'n you'd fill out the form and mail it in ... your 15 cent stamp of course ... and this special form is so short, it does tend to leave you wondering why they didn't use this one for everyone ... 'cause apparently all the basic information they want, or need, is on that form.

MUSIC UNDER THE PINES

Sounds kinda romantic ... lazing around in the park ... listening to the Fort Worth Symphony making with the music ... with the musicians sitting in the shade of the branches of the ponderosa. Visualize, now, how John Giordano's gonna conduct whilst ducking around all them pines.

BRIEF BIT: No United States Senator'd stoop so low as to try to buy a vote ... so Thursday they had a voice vote reviving Revenue Sharing ... CD

Ceremonial Indian regalia displayed

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer/Photographer

A fashion show featuring authentic clothing worn by members of the Mescalero Apache Tribe during their ceremonial dances in July, was recently given to women visiting Ruidoso in conjunction with the New Mexico Land and Title Convention.

The informal show, at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club, was organized and staged by the Mescalero Traditional Counseling program with Mescalero and Chiricahua clothing represented.

According to Molly McGill, director of the Traditional Counseling program, the fashion show was designed to "give the ladies a glimpse of the ceremonial clothing." She said permission was given by tribal president Wendell Chino to stage the show.

Besides McGill, others modeling clothing included Mary Pena, Rodney Pena, Lenora Kinzhuma, Ruby Chino, Josephine Little and Elsie Chino.

McGill said it was unusual for the clothing to be worn during this time of the year; usually it is stored carefully all year long, used only for the ceremonial, scheduled July 3-6 at Mescalero.

JOSEPHINE LITTLE models another traditional Mescalero Apache ceremonial dress. Mescalero Apache dresses are longer than Chiricahua dresses, and the shoes have no toe guards.

ELSIE CHINO displays a bright shawl draped over a typical everyday cotton dress worn by Mescalero Apache tribal women.

RODNEY PENA is shown wearing a feather dance costume which is used in conjunction with Mescalero Apache Tribal Ceremonial dances each year. The full size costume features beadwork not shown on this miniature model. This costume is used by children in the Mescalero Headstart program.

A TYPICAL everyday cotton dress worn by Mescalero Apache tribal women is very similar to the one pictured, worn by Ruby Pena.

CHIRICAHUA Apache dresses feature short jingles all around the bib and toe guards on the shoes to protect the wearer from cactus and other brush which could damage the foot. Modeling this typical Chiricahua dress is Lenora Kinzhuma. This dress was handmade by members of the Mescalero Traditional Counseling program, and when not in use, is on display at the Mescalero museum.

RUBY CHINO, niece of Mescalero Apache tribal president Wendell Chino, models a 40-year-old buckskin dress which features traditional Mescalero Apache ornaments.

Carrizozo women revive old time quilting 'bees'

BY GWYNETH JONES
Staff Writer/Photographer

Quilting has provided generations of American women with both creative satisfaction and an opportunity to exchange thoughts and feelings, as well as a more tangible product — the quilts themselves.

A group of Carrizozo women are carrying on the art of quilting in weekly sessions held at Santa Rita Catholic Church.

Since the group began meeting in February, they have completed "about eight" quilts, while cementing friendships and trading knowledge of quilting techniques.

They have also learned pattern names and have experimented with both stitched and yarn tied quilts. Pattern books and magazines were brought by several women, "so we'd have a wide variety of choices," they said.

The group was conceived by Mary Ellen Payne, extension home economist for Lincoln County, but she is quick to point out that the group is not a class under her instruction.

A few of the women participating had quilted before, and "We're all learning from each other," she said. "There's a lot of expertise here."

Approximately 20 women have taken part in the sessions so far, with varying numbers attending a particular meeting. All fabric pieces are "used materials," Payne said, from old clothing and sewing scraps.

The current economic situation makes the art of quilting as practical as ever.

"With the price of fuel so high," said Payne, "We started early this year so everyone could have a finished quilt by the time the next harsh winter arrives."

A few quilts will also be donated to needy families and for charitable fund raising events, including one for the church where the quilting sessions take place.

The quilters expressed gratitude to Father David Berg, who provided materials for the quilting frame as well as needles, thimbles, and so on.

"He didn't want anyone to feel they couldn't come because they couldn't afford the supplies," said Mabel Vigil.

The quilting group includes, in addition to Payne and Vigil, Helen Serna, Nacha Verdugo, Natalia Vega, Marcelina Chavez, Linda Silva, Arsenia Nevaez, Lola Chavez, Elizabeth Padilla, Andelecia Herrera, Paula Luera, Cecella Ortiz, Paula Vidauri, Nora Silva, Eleanor Lynch and Flora Vega.

Payne said she would assist any other groups in the county who wish to pursue the craft, whether they are "church groups, service clubs or just a group of neighbors."

"I probably can't teach them much, but I'll get them started," she added. Payne may be contacted at the Extension Office, Lincoln County Courthouse, 648-2311.

The ladies are unanimous in their enthusiasm for the quilting meets.

"We've all learned from each other and from Mary," said Vigil.

"I've enjoyed it a lot," said Verdugo. "I look forward to Mondays because of it."

"I just started working again," said another quilter, "and I told them, I'll go back to work, but I have to have Monday mornings off for quilting."

In addition to the socializing ("We get to talk about our children and grandchildren"), the group provides help and support to novice and expert quilters alike.

"I wanted to try quilting for years, but it seemed like too much for one person," said one participant. "But with all of us working together, it gives you a little confidence or encouragement," explained another.

QUILTING METHODS being explored by the Carrizozo group include the use of yarn, tied at evenly spaced intervals, to join the quilt top, batting and lining. Above, Natalia Vega concentrates on that technique.

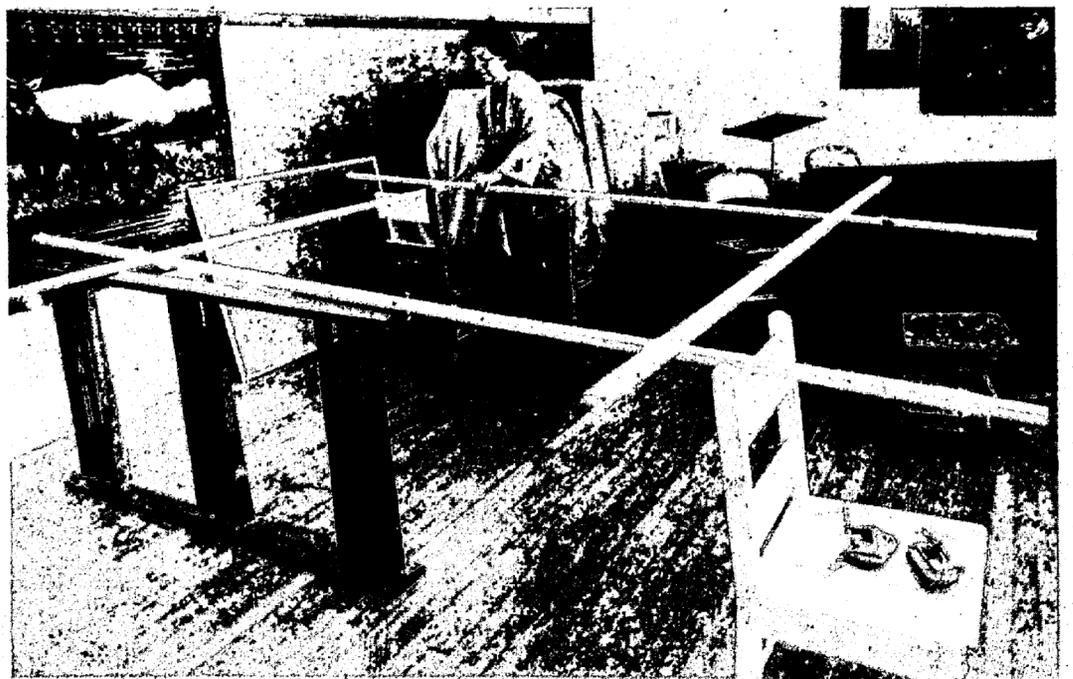

DECISIONS, DECISIONS! Completed blocks of a future quilt are laid out on a large table to determine the optimal color arrangement.

IMPROVISING comes naturally to quilters who are accustomed to using whatever materials are available. In the Santa Rita's meeting room where these sessions take place, the homemade frame is supported by three straight back chairs and a part of the communion rail. Vises, right foreground, are used to secure the frame. Setting up the frame above is Lola Chavez.

MONDAY

(ABC) MONDAY NIGHT MOVIE: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Flatfoot of Dynamite" 1972 James Coburn, Rod Steiger. Two bank robbers are accidental heroes in the Mexican Revolution.

(NBC) MONDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Flamingo Road" 1980 Howard Duff, Kevin McCarthy. A tempestuous tale about the treachery of a sheriff in a small southern city and its effect on the lives of the town's most powerful family and many less prominent people, as well.

TUESDAY

(CBS) TUESDAY NIGHT MOVIES: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"The Hostage Tower" 1980 Peter Fonda, Britt Ekland. The drama revolves around an incredible-yet-conceivable tale in which the world's top criminal captures the Eiffel Tower and holds hostage, for $30 million ransom, the mother of the President of the United States.

WEDNESDAY

(CBS) DRAMA SPECIAL: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Haywire" 1980 Lee Remick, Jason Robards. The non-fiction drama focuses, through the eyes of a major participant, on the extravagant, disordered life of the handsome, talented Haywards. It follows the couple from the height of their careers, within their special milieu, the glittering, glamorous worlds of Hollywood and Broadway, through the years when the lives of the family members were shattered.

THURSDAY

(NBC) DRAMA SPECIAL: 8:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"F.D.R. The Last Year" 1980 Jason Robards, Eileen Heckart. This drama, based on the best seller by Jim Bishop, shows the effect on the ailing President of the events surrounding the end of WW II, of his dreams to see the United Nations become a reality, and his decision to seek an unprecedented fourth term in office.

FRIDAY

(NBC) MOVIE OF THE WEEK: 8:30 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 7:30 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"Casey's Shadow" 1978 Walter Matthau, Alexis Smith. A heartwarming tale about a kindly horse trainer from a rundown Louisiana farm and his two sons, as they prepare a fast and strong 2-year-old quarter horse for the big All-American Futurity race in New Mexico.

(ABC) FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"The Hustler of Muscle Beach" 1980 Richard Hatch, Kay Lenz. A sharp customer from New York tries to promote a body-builder into a world-class champion.

SATURDAY

(CBS) SPECIAL MOVIE PRESENTATION: 9:00 PM E.D.T., P.D.T. - 8:00 PM C.D.T., M.D.T.

"The Wild Wild West Revisited" 1979 Robert Conrad, Ross Martin. In this far-out adventure, West and Gordon are brought out of retirement by the Director of the U.S. Secret Service, who has received guarded information that clone-like impostors may have been substituted for the crowned heads of Britain, Spain and Russia and that there may well be a bogus President Cleveland in Washington, D.C.

PBS in the spotlight

'Death of a Princess' —Arabian intrigue

On July 15, 1977, a young princess and her lover were publicly executed in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. Filmmaker Antony Thomas' fascinating and often hazardous search for the facts behind the execution is dramatized in 'Death of a Princess,' airing on Monday, May 12 on PBS.*

For six months following the double execution, no reports surfaced in the news media; then a brief article in a British newspaper identified the victims and their crime; adultery, a capital offense under Islamic law. Once public, the story quickly grew into an international controversy, but despite the enormous interest in the case, few commentators seemed to agree on the basic facts.

Thomas became intrigued by the story after hearing an account of the Princess' life and death from a source who was, and is, very close to the royal family and an important influence behind the throne. 'Death of a Princess' is the story of a search that took Thomas through London, Paris, Cairo, Beirut and Arabia, into what he calls the 'private center' of the Arab world.

All reporting of the case had been suppressed in the Arab countries, but the story had traveled far and wide on the grapevine. The story of a girl who 'died for love' seemed to spark the Arab imagination, touch intimate memories and invite confidences.

Throughout his investigation, Thomas warned that he and his sources might be in danger. The identities of those who were willing to share confidences with him—mostly in carefully arranged, secret meetings—have been disguised to protect their privacy and safety. They are portrayed by actors and actresses in 'Death of a Princess,' but the dialogue is based on transcripts of Thomas' recorded interviews.

The two-hour movie is a WORLD Special produced by WGBH Boston in association with ATV England and Telepictures Corporation of New York.

Profile

Interviewing begins at home

ABC News Correspondent Barbara Walters was born in Brookline, Mass., and grew up in Boston, New York, and Florida. She learned to be at ease with noted guests as a child at home. Her father was the late Lou Walters, the show-business impresario and founder of the Latin Quarter nightclub.

Ms. Walters made journalistic history by arranging the first joint interview with Egypt's President Sadat and Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin in November, 1977, during President Sadat's historic visit to Jerusalem. In Persepolis, Iran, Ms. Walters covered the celebration of the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of the Persian Empire, interviewing both the Shah and Empress of Iran. In Wales, she reported on the investiture of Prince Charles as Prince of Wales. Her record breaking stories in interviews with world leaders, ranging from U.S. Presidents to foreign Heads of State, earned her a series of honors including 'Broadcaster of the Year,' and an Emmy from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

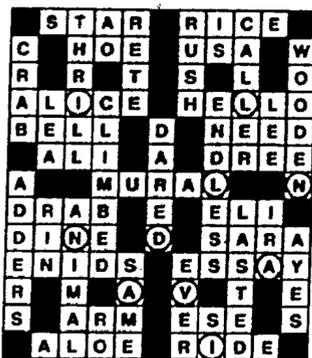

Early in her career, Ms. Walters was a writer for CBS-TV morning broadcasts. She also was the youngest woman producer at the time with NBC-TV's New York station.

Joining NBC's 'Today' program in 1961 as a writer, she became a reporter-at-large within a year, developing, writing and editing her own reports. As the first female co-host of the 'Today' program from 1974 to 1976, she continued to initiate interviews, travel to news sites across the country and overseas, and involve herself in behind-the-scenes-production.

In addition to her responsibilities on the 'Today' program, Ms. Walters hosted her own syndicated program, 'Not For Women Only,' for five years. She also is the author of the book, 'How to Talk with Practically Anybody About Practically Anything.'

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: In a move unprecedented in recent Hollywood history, Lee Rich, the president of Lorimar Productions, took out full page ads in Variety and the Hollywood Reporter to defend Larry Hagman, the star of Lorimar's 'Dallas' series. In response to an article in a national publication that recently alleged that Hagman's 'erratic behavior' on the set was proving to be a big headache for his TV bosses, Rich wrote that such traits as the wearing of 'offbeat' hats are hardly anti-social and certainly not a basis for a derogatory article. On the contrary, (Hagman) has conducted himself in the most professional manner—as an actor, director and as a decent human being. I say without qualification, that Larry Hagman has never caused an interruption or delay in our production schedule, either by his absence or conduct. I want to make it clear that Larry Hagman is a true professional and undeserving of the treatment given by the article in question. Lily Tomlin has been working on 'The Incredible Shrinking Woman' over at Universal for so long now that producer Hank Moonjean has had to call a production 'hiatus'—at least where Lily's concerned—so she can co-star in the Jane Fonda-Dolly Parton starrer, 'Nine to Five.'

TV TICKER Let Fox deny it, but the truth is Mark Hamill and other actors were before the cameras up in George Lucas' Northern California studio as recently as two weeks ago shooting scenes involving tremendously complicated special effects for the 'Star Wars' sequel called 'The Empire Strikes Back'—and the space saga is scheduled to open in Washington, DC on May 21. Some would call that 'cutting' it close in more ways than one. The terrible-but-true news today is that Edith Bunker, the beloved 'ding-bat' wife of television's Archie Bunker, is going to be killed off in the first episode of 'Archie Bunker's Place' next autumn. Norman Lear, the producer who made television history with the show, originally titled 'All in the Family,' confirmed from Los Angeles yesterday that the character of Edith Bunker would bite the dust when the show starts its 11th season. Cathy Lee Crosby has been signed to star in 'Roughnecks,' the second Metromedia Producers Corporation project in its Golden Circle series.

TV CLOSEUP You can look forward to a new member of the 'Happy Days' cast next season. A search is going on for an actress to play Anson Williams' happy bride. Red Skelton disclosed at the Union Plaza Hotel in Las Vegas that a half hour after he dies all his television tapes will be burned. As soon as he gets enough money to put St. Jude Children's Hospital in Memphis in a position where it can do without his fund raising activities for several years, Danny Thomas said, at Burt Bacharach's in East Norwich, L.I., he is planning to enter politics. At least he was before Ronald Reagan got himself into a bind with his poor taste jokes about Poles and Italians. Not to forget the embarrassment such jokes caused Spiro Agnew and Earl Butz. They got into a jam because they told ethnic jokes. Danny laments, "That's the only kind of humor I know. All my jokes are about the Irish, Polish Jews, Arabs, Russians. I just don't think I can do a night club act telling jokes about Eskimos."
