SUMMER FESTIVAL ISSUES REMINDER:

Free concerts scheduled

If you think you can't get "something for nothing" these days, think again.

At the Ruidoso Summer Festival, scheduled for June 4-10, Ruidosians and visitors will have the opportunity to attend three free concerts, featuring the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra.

The first of the three concerts, which will feature music of the conductor's choice, will be held at noon, Friday, June 6 at Two Rivers Park.

The location and time of the first free concert were selected especially to give working people the opportunity to attend the performance, perhaps on their lunch hour. However, festival board members emphasized that "everyone is welcome to attend."

Caterers will be providing picnic style foods for all free outdoor concerts.

Free performances will also be held at 3 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8, at the Cedar Creek Picnic Area. In case of inclement weather on any of the three dates, the performances will be held at the First Christian Church, Hull and Gavilan Canyon Roads.

In addition to the free concerts, a special family oriented concert is planned for Monday, June 9.

The family concert will carry a one dollar admission charge, and will be held at the Ruidoso Downs sales arena. The performance will begin early — at 8:30 p.m. — to allow even the youngest children to attend, board members said.

Selections will be "light" music, geared to younger audiences. Associate conductor James Simpson Miller will be in charge of the program, including Dance of the Comedians by Smetana; Introduction to the Orchestra by Miller; Hungarian Dance No. 1 by Brahms; Peter and the Wolf by Prokofiev; Notacantata by Case and Hoe Down by Copeland.

Ticket reservation forms for the family concert as well as the concerts featuring guest artists, are now available by writing Ruidoso Summer Festival Incorporated, Box 1338, Ruidoso, N. M., 88345, or at the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, The Office, 2930 Sudderth Drive, or from any Festival board member. More information may be obtained by calling the festival office at 257-9317.

Romero guest performer

As a member of the internationally celebrated Romeros Quartet, as a duo artist with one of his brothers — Cello or Angel — and as a soloist in recitals and with major orchestras, Pepe Romero is today one of the most exciting classical guitarists before the concert going public.

Of a solo concert, the Washington Evening Star declared that he "electrified the audience. He is a supreme technician. The individual movement of his right hand fingers produces a clean, strong attack on every note. It's something to see, but you can only see it in slow passages. The rest of the time it is hopeless — like trying to watch the wing beats of a hummingbird."

European critics have been just as enthusiastic. Among many, the critic of Madrid's A.B.C. called him "one of the greatest masters the guitar has ever known"; the Stuttgarter Nachrichten declared that "he is one of the greatest of virtuosos, thrilling. The public had every reason to be so extremely enthusiastic."

A performance in Berlin inspired the Morgenpost to report that "following his performance the ovation was unbounded"; and Esti of Budapest said his playing showed "absolute technical security and perfection of lively sound, excellent virtuosity."

Pepe Romero was born in Malaga, Spain in 1944. He began studies at the age of three with his father, Celedonio Romero. He gave his first public performance on a recital program with his father at the Teatro Lope de Vega in Seville when he was ten.

The artist's appearances with orchestras — in solos, duos with brothers Cello or Angel, or with them and Celedonio as part of the Romeros Quartet — have inspired extraordinary audience and press acclaim. His talents have brought special excitement to concerts with the orchestras of Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Los Angeles, Washington, San Antonio, Houston and many others.

Among the eminent conductors with whom he has collaborated have been Eugene Ormandy, Antonio Janigro, Neville Marriner, Arthur Fiedler, Andre Kostelanetz, Izler Solomon, Rafael Frubeck de Burgos and Victor Alessandri.

Pepe Romero is a "world premiere" artist. He offered the first performance of the Paul Chihara "Guitar Concerto" commissioned by and performed with the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra in April, 1976. He offered the world premiere of Father de Madina's "Concierto Flamenco" composed for and dedicated to the artist. With family members he also played world premiere performances of de Madina's "Concierto Vasco", Rodrigo's "Concierto Andaluz" and Morton Gould's "Tributor Music."

Following his first performance with the Spanish National Orchestra in Madrid with Moshe Alsham conducting, composer Federico Moreno-Torres was moved to dedicate to Pepe his beautiful "Concierto de Castilla."

Recent and current engagements of the 1979-80 season point to Pepe Romero's popularity both as a solo artist and as one performing with other members of the Romero family. As soloist he is engaged by the New Orleans Philharmonic and by the New Haven Symphony and offering a recital at the Texas Technologic University in Lubbock. Brother Angel is joining him for a concert with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Classical guitarist Pepe Romero will be guest performer at the June 5, 8 p.m., performance of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra at the Ruidoso Downs Sales Arena.

Summer Festival officials have announced that ticket order forms, for the June 4, 5 and 10 performances, all featuring guest artists, and the June 9 family concert are now available at the Chamber of Commerce, 566 Sudderth and at The Office, 2930 Sudderth.

Included with the ticket order forms are the order forms for the prints of the Gordon Snidow watercolor "Eyeing the Catch Hand," priced at $100 each, plus tax and handling.

Cabaret seating tickets for the June 4, 5 and 10 concerts are $9 each, with bleacher seats $4.50. Family concert tickets are $1 each.

At each of the Summer Festival performances food and beverage service will be available to patrons.

Fugitive was arrested here

George M. Malone, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested Monday at his home on a federal fugitive warrant issued May 7 in Boston, Massachusetts.

Malone is charged with conspiracy and possession with intent to distribute marijuana and conspiracy to import marijuana.

He was taken into custody of the national Drug Enforcement Agency and arraigned before federal magistrate Wayne Jordan in Las Cruces, later posting bond of $25,000.

Forest fire phone lines always open

Harold G. Garcia, fire management officer for the district office of New Mexico State Forestry in Capitan, said the state provides a 24 hour number for reporting fires.

Call 827-3182 collect to report a fire, or call Garcia's office number at 354-2231 collect.

Lodger's Tax financing promotional brochures

The Ruidoso Lodger's Tax Committee (LTC) Wednesday voted to allocate $3,195 to finance the printing of 30,000 brochures advertising the Ruidoso area.

The order will be made to replenish supplies of the four-color brochures, which have been distributed by the Chamber of Commerce membership for the past five years.

LTC member Pinky Jones called the pamphlet, "A good concise little brochure." Most recently revised last year, the brochure describes (and pictures) recreational and natural attractions of Ruidoso and nearby areas.

Benny Coulston, representing the Chamber's advertising committee, said another revision of the brochure was being contemplated which will probably take place in the fall.

The committee also heard a proposal from Jane-Ann Meek of El Paso, Texas who handles advertising for the army publication, the Fort Bliss Monitor.

She said the Army was encouraging conservation of energy by promoting tourist and recreational facilities in close proximity to the base. An upcoming issue of the weekly publication will be devoted to tourist attractions in New Mexico, Texas and Chihuahua, Mexico. Meek said she hoped to sell a general advertisement for the area, along with local business advertisements, all of which would be placed together in a special section of the paper.

While expressing interest in the idea of regional promotions at Fort Bliss, Holloman Air Force Base and White Sands Missile Range, the committee referred Meek to the Chamber's advertising committee and to executive director Ed Jungbluth on the matter.

In other business, the committee: — Tabled consideration of a Lincoln County recreational map, pending further information on planned revisions.

— Tabled consideration of a bill from Villa Inn for rooms provided to Confederate Air Force members at a recent exhibition.

Cancer clinics here Friday

Cancer screening clinics, which have been operated in Ruidoso the past year by local doctors, will now be conducted by Nancy Guck, a physician's assistant (P.A.) who received cancer screening training from the Southwest Health Care Corporation (SWHCC).

Guck began her duties Friday and will be available for the clinics at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital every Friday from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Guck, under the supervision of Dr. Roger Beechle, is trained to screen for head, neck, thyroid, skin, chest, breast, abdomen, pelvic, rectal and oral cancer in both sexes. She also checks men for testicular and prostate cancer. Women receive a pap smear at a cost of $4.25. The clinic is free to men.

Administrative work will continue to be completed by the Hospital Auxiliary, which involves obtaining a family history and the patient's doctor's name.

Guck said all results are returned to the doctor of the person's choice and if the screening turns up anything unusual, Guck will refer the patient to the doctor.

"The clinic is for people who don't get cancer screenings routinely," Guck said. She added that she teaches patients self examination for oral cancer, men for testicular and women for breast cancer. Guck has worked in Carrizozo the past seven years doing laboratory work, x-rays and emergency care. Two years ago, she attended the University of Utah to obtain further training in primary care. In January, Guck was certified as a P.A. in New Mexico.

Guck conducted cancer screenings in Carrizozo six months, but has worked in Ruidoso since January as a P.A. She claims the distinction of being the only P.A. in Lincoln County, the first local person trained in this area because she "would come back here to work."

Guck said becoming a P.A. in the state "would not have been possible without the help of Dr. Beechle and Dr. (Paul) Whitwam." She said both are willing to take time to explain things and work with her to increase her knowledge.

The cancer screening clinic was begun in Ruidoso two years ago by the SWHCC. When that company pulled out of Ruidoso last May, five local doctors volunteered their time on a rotating basis to make examinations, and a sixth doctor, a pathologist, donated time to perform lab work at cost.

Guck said an examination takes about 20 minutes and appointments can be made by calling 257-7381, extension 317.

State inmates moved to Camp Sierra Blanca

The transfer of 86 inmates from the State Penitentiary in Santa Fe to the minimum security facilities throughout the state apparently has not significantly increased the population of Camp Sierra Blanca Adult Rehabilitation Center (CSB). The transfers were announced by state corrections officials Wednesday.

CSB director E. B. Gutierrez said the population of the camp remains at 55 inmates as of Thursday, including "two or three" sent to CSB.

According to John Ramming of the state Corrections Division, the 86 transfers, all of whom met criteria for minimum security incarceration, have been completed, with no other massive transfers being contemplated at this time.

Balloon rides planned for heart fund appeal

Hot air balloon rides will be the main attraction at an American Heart Association (AHA) benefit June 28 in Ruidoso. The launching site has not yet been selected.

Residents of Ruidoso Care Center (RCC) will "rock and roll" in wheelchairs and rocking chairs for a three-hour period and the RCC Advisory Council will assist in the drive by offering balloon rides at $10 each.

Ray Battaglini, associate director of the AHA in New Mexico, spoke to the Council Thursday to explain how AHA funds are distributed and suggested several money raising techniques.

Battaglini said the National Health Care Association sponsors the fund drives nationwide and raised more than $1 million last year.

As a member of the Association, RCC is a logical sponsor because the fund drive "is designed to be a communication vehicle to let the community know that good health care facilities are here," Battaglini said.

Eight AHA fund raisers have been held in the state this year already, with $8,500 raised. Battaglini said 75 percent of all money raised stays in New Mexico and 25 percent is used nationally to fund cardiovascular disease research. New Mexico currently supports six researchers at a cost of $27,000. "Applications are pending for more than $100,000 and we have budgeted $30,000 for next year," Battaglini said.

Research has revealed that heart disease develops by the time a person is 13 years old and "shows up as we get older," Battaglini said. "If we can educate young people to the risk factors of the disease we can control it."

He said heart disease may be hereditary, one factor which can't be controlled. "One of every two people will die of heart disease. We know we can reduce that number but it takes a lot of education," he said.

Through research, many aids have been developed, including bypass surgery, open heart surgery, the development of the heart/lung machine, pacemakers, coronary care units and cures for rheumatic heart disease.

RCC needs rocking chairs which will be used in the "Rock and Roll Jamboree" and have arranged to pick up and return all chairs offered for use. To loan a rocking chair, call RCC at 257-6072.

The Council also approved a policy draft statement and will proceed with steps to acquire non-profit tax-exempt status.

Scouts going camping

Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 59 will leave today for the Gila National Forest, where they will camp out four nights and five days.

Troop leader Rudy Flack said the campout will give Scouts a chance to earn skill awards, hiking badges and visit some historical sites.

Flack said Scouts planned this trip "right down to the menu" and will share cooking and cleaning duties while on the trail. "They learn things in scouting that they don't learn in school," Flack said. "Not only do we teach them how to do things, but they have to do it."

He said each Scout making the trip was required to load their packs with "no more, no less" than what was designated for each person. Flack said they will split cooking utensils, food and tents so no one is overloaded.

This trip will include a visit to the Gila Cliff Dwellings which features a film and talk at the Ranger Station in the area. Scouts will then head into the Gila wilderness and will hike 30-40 miles over the five days.

Campers include Brent Davis, John Dean, Bobby Dickinson, Kyle Flack, Mark Flack, Jimmy Frost, Tom Miller, Kurt Schluter, Chuck Schmidt, Shawn Skellett, Zack Swalander, Wade Whitlock, Tim Hansen, assistant troop leader Lee Huckstep and Flack.

Troop members will be attending Boy Scout Camp Wehlimahpay June 8-14 where they will have another opportunity to earn merit badges and skill awards.

Flack said five people in the troop will be tapped for the Order of the Arrow, an elite fraternity within the Boy Scout program. "Individuals who exhibit the ideals of camping are inducted into the order," Flack said. They are generally the older members of the troop and are elected by the others.

In early July, Flack plans to take Scouts on a leisurely hike up Wheeler Peak, the highest mountain in New Mexico. The hike is through "beautiful country" marked by natural lakes and spots of snow.

The final campout planned this summer will take place in August, when the troop will visit the Pecos Wilderness located northwest of Las Vegas and northeast of Santa Fe in the Truchas mountain range. This trip will feature a visit to Holy Ghost Canyon, which was the site of the first European settlement in North America, Flack said.

Scouts will camp at natural lakes, which are plentiful along the trail and will probably do some fishing while there.

"We encourage any adults interested in going on a campout or participating in the scouting program to let us know," Flack said. He said more youths are welcome to join and can visit the troop at a regular meeting, held Mondays at 7 p.m., at the Elks Lodge.

For more information, call Flack at 257-2570 or 257-5453. Huckstep can be reached at 257-9598 or 257-5035.

Thieves grab tavern liquor

Ruidoso Downs police are investigating the theft of an undetermined amount of alcoholic beverages from the Hollywood Inn May 19.

According to police reports, entry to the building was gained by breaking the package store sometime after closing of the business. No arrests have been made in connection with the incident.

Cancer benefit here Saturday

A barbeque and dance at the All American Sales Barn Saturday beginning at 6 p.m., is the first of two fund raisers sponsored by the East Lincoln Chapter of the American Cancer Society (ELCACS).

Activities will be highlighted by the attendance of Joe Sherman, Gallup, State Cancer Crusade Chairman, and the dance featuring the music of Clay Mac Band.

Doors open at 8 p.m., for the dinner and dancing begins at 9. Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Ruidoso Care Center or The Ruidoso News. Tax deductible tickets cost $5 per person. The ELCACS has set a crusade goal of $3,000 for this year and will accept individual, business and club donations, memorials, and pledges during the "Longest Day of Golf" June 17 at Cree Meadows and Alto Country Clubs.

Ken Moore and Wilton Howell, crusade co-chairmen, said the barbeque and dance could not have been possible without the community's cooperation and the donation of beef and preparations by the Ruidoso Jaycees.

"We hope everyone in the community will come out and support the barbeque and dance. The ticket price, a good dinner and dance, and a tax deduction, make this a real bargain," Moore said.

ComFIRE showing TV film tonight

The Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (ComFIRE) will show the Red Flag Fire Alert videotape tonight at 6:30 p.m., on cable channel 11.

The tape was made last April and outlines what happens when a Red Flag Alert is called and what to do in that situation.

Man arrested at wheel of stolen vehicle

Two vehicles recently reported stolen were recovered by Ruidoso Downs police within minutes of their alleged theft.

A 1978 Chevy Blazer was reported stolen from the Ruidoso Downs racetrack Saturday, May 17 by owner Bobby D. Cox of Odessa, Texas.

According to police reports, parking attendant Fred James saw a man drive away in the vehicle from the Jockey Club. Track security employee J. C. Thomas stopped the vehicle at the track exit and held the driver, William R. Coates of Mesalero, for Ruidoso Downs police.

Coates was arrested and charged with unlawful taking of a motor vehicle.

In a separate incident, Bob Power of Ruidoso Downs Wednesday reported the theft of a GMC pickup from the race track kitchen area. The vehicle was recovered about 30 minutes later on track property by Downs police chief Ray Garner. No arrests have been made in that case.

Capitan pastor earns doctorate

The pastor did his undergraduate work at Belmont College, Nashville, Tennessee. After three years as a bi-vocational pastor and school teacher, he did graduate work in the Baptist Theological Seminary in New Orleans, Louisiana and in the Luther Rice Seminary, where he received his Master of Divinity degree.

He then enrolled in the doctor of ministry program, with emphasis on oral and written communications and administration.

Navajo/Mescalero Apache Indian wedding ceremony colorful

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer

Valerie Barber and Michael Torres were married April 19 at the First Christian Church in Ruidoso in a traditional Navajo/Mescalero Apache Indian ceremony which was complemented by several American customs.

The bride is the daughter of Wilson and Elsie Barber of Mescalero, formerly of Gallup. Both are members of the Navajo tribe, and Barber is now employed as superintendent of the Bureau of Indian Affairs at Mescalero.

Navajo rugs, yucca, mescal, soapweed, pinon and evergreen comprised the church decorations. Elsie Barber said the plants are used at every religious function in her tribe.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in traditional Navajo clothing of a full length skirt of white with blue flowers topped by a blue velvet Navajo blouse.

The matron of honor, Myrna Hanks, was attired in a traditional Chippewa dress of royal purple velvet with appliques of deep pink roses.

Bridesmaid Jackie Lester was dressed in an Apache buckskin of bright yellow, and Garnett La Paz wore an Apache "camp dress" of red satin. Dianne Martin, another bridesmaid, was outfitted in a Navajo tiered skirt and wine-colored blouse.

The bride's mother dressed in a long gathered skirt of gray satin with a Navajo blouse of dark brown velvet. The father of the bride wore a Navajo print shirt.

The bridegroom wore white slacks with a blue velvet Apache ribbon shirt and best man Johnny Mendez dressed in an Apache ribbon shirt of brown velvet.

Other bridegroom attendants included a cousin, Chavez Martin Jr., outfitted in a Navajo shirt of plum colored velvet, Lance Barber, brother of the bride, attired in a dark green velvet Apache ribbon shirt and George Torres, the bridegroom's brother, who wore a tan velvet Apache ribbon shirt.

Special guests at the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barber Sr., of Gallup, the bride's grandparents, were also dressed in Navajo clothing.

Other members of the wedding party included Bryan Barber and Eric Archuleta, cousins of the bride, dressed in Navajo attire, and basket girls, Justine and Brenda Martin, both cousins of the bride.

Instead of flower girls, a Navajo tradition is to use "basket girls" who carry wedding baskets filled with white cornmeal made into a paste. In a traditional ceremony, the tribe's medicine man serves the cornmeal like a wedding cake. The bride's uncle was scheduled to attend and perform this rite, but was needed in Gallup because of illness.

A Navajo song, "I'm Happy About You," was sung in Navajo, then English, by Rich Hubbell, cousin of the bride.

An eagle feather, which represents all that is religious, was presented to the bridegroom by Steve Guitar during the ceremony. Barber explained that this Mescalero tradition is a means of showing someone honor.

Another Navajo tradition which was planned but not executed is that of using Indian corn to place in the baskets carried by basket girls. Indian corn is sacred to all Indian people, Barber said. Instead, another symbolic ornament was placed in baskets — corn flowers.

Barber said the velvet clothing was much more elaborate than what would be used in a truly Indian ceremony. She said most clothing would be of cotton and probably not as colorful.

American customs used in the ceremony included exchanging of rings and the singing of a traditional selection, "The Wedding Song," by Texte Cole, and an organ solo, played by Donna Willard, "Theme from Love Story."

The couple will make their home in Mescalero, where Torres is employed as a conservation officer for the Mescalero Apache Tribe. She will continue her education at the branch college of New Mexico State University in Alamogordo where she is studying fish and wildlife management.

Elderly Center, it was attended by more than 450 people, according to center director Nina Tortilla.

Inflation hurting high school athletics

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

High school athletics has discovered what the rest of us have known for a long time — inflation does exist, and it does hurt your budget.

For example, Ruidoso High School had $11,000 budgeted for athletics for next year, which athletic director Doyle Howell says is a slight increase over last year.

Prices, however, have done more than increase slightly. A football helmet went for $40 in 1979 — now the price tag is $48. A football is $38, a basketball is $42, and so on down the line. And $11,000 went quickly.

In Ruidoso's school system, "x" number of dollars are allotted to the athletic program, and then coaches submit requisition lists of what they need to Howell, who then budgets according to need.

For the first time ever, the requisitions exceeded the funds available, so "I had to sit down with each coach and ask, 'What can you do without?'" Howell said.

"Inflation affects us just like everybody else," he said, "and there's not a whole lot we can do about it. We just have to get the best stuff we can with the money we have."

In past years, the entire football team would be equipped with new game jerseys and pants — two sets of each, for home and away games. But not anymore.

This year, only five sets were bought, and then next year, five more will be purchased, a practice which will continue, "so hopefully we won't have to replace them all at once anymore," Howell said.

For football in 1980, there will be some new shoulder pads and 10 new helmets. The National Operating Committee on Standards for Athletic Equipment (NOCSEAE) has set new rules for helmets, and the school had to replace helmets not meeting those guidelines.

The junior high will have new game jerseys next season, and of course there's $1,800 spent on first aid supplies — adhesive tape, balm, bandages, etc. — which is for all sports.

In basketball, both girls' and boys' varsity teams will have two new sets of uniforms — again for home and away games — next season. The junior varsity will inherit the outfits used by the varsity teams this year.

But Howell and the rest of the staff discovered "it doesn't take long to spend $11,000."

He added, "Our equipment may not be the finest there is, but all our football headgear will meet NOCSAE guidelines, we do have new basketball uniforms and the junior high will look respectable.

"You could always find something to spend your money on. Lord, you always have things that would really help, but you can live without them. But as far as safety goes, our equipment is as fine as anyone in AAA in the state."

The football field will be seeded and aerated in June, but none of that money comes from the athletic budget. It comes out of maintenance, Howell said.

Away trips create new headaches. Some of the $11,000 is budgeted for gasoline, but not nearly enough, especially with fuel costs getting even higher.

The rest of the necessary money comes from gate receipts, which also pay for meals for away games and officials' fees.

"Things just keep getting more expensive," Howell said, "but it isn't bad enough to cut back anything yet."

Some schools have dropped some sports due to tight finances, but no such action is being contemplated at Ruidoso High School — at least not yet.

"I'd have to say there's always a possibility of it," he said, "but right now, there's no cutbacks, and we will have a full coaching staff."

BRIAN LASLEY of the Forest Service slams a triple during Wednesday night men's softball league action. Lasley drove in a run and then stole home, but his efforts were almost in vain — Forest Service lost to Dial Electric, 13-12. Men's league play began Tuesday.

Ruidoso gymnasts score high in Albuquerque meet

Two Ruidoso gymnasts placed high in a meet held in Albuquerque Saturday.

Deanne Lofton and Denise Delhotal turned in high marks in the "flag" meet at Albuquerque Gymnastics School.

Delhotal placed 10th in the vault with a 6.5 score, and Lofton was first in all-around with combined scores of 30.4. In individual events, Lofton placed first in bars with 7.2, first in beam with 8.2, sixth in vault with 7.1 and sixth in floor exercise with 7.4.

Twenty gymnasts competed in the meet, all first year Class Two athletes. A flag meet has two evenly numbered teams and a gymnast from one team does a routine in an event.

Then, a gymnast from the other team tries to top that performance. The winner of the head to head competition scores one point for their team.

"While this wasn't real meet competition," coach Blake Starr said, "Denise and Deanne did very well and would have placed very high in a true meet. They had the most difficult routines in the meet in bars and beam."

Advanced lifesaving course starts Monday

An advanced lifesaving course will be taught at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club beginning at 5 p.m., Monday.

Completion of advanced lifesaving is prerequisite to becoming a lifeguard.

The course is taught by Jeanne Culbertson and Dick Klautt. Anyone who knows all basic strokes may take the course, but should call the club, 257-5176, prior to Monday to enroll.

There will be a small charge for non-members in the class, Culbertson said, "and if you can't get anyone at the club to register for enrollment before Monday, just come on by Monday at 5."

Club members may take the course free.

Lady softballers schedule meeting

The Ruidoso Women's Softball League is having a meeting for league captains, coaches and commissioners only, tonight at 7 in Ruidoso Public Library.

Attendance is mandatory, and topics to be discussed include fund raising projects and schedules.

Lady golfers needed

Entry deadline for the June 5 Ladies Invitational Partnership Golf Tournament at Cree Meadows Country Club is rapidly approaching, and more teams are needed to complete the field.

Fourteen teams have signed up so far, according to club professional Bob Hickson, "and we're looking for 32," he said.

The 18 hole, best ball tourney gets underway at 8:30 a.m., June 5 with a shotgun start. Teams will be flighted by the lower partner's handicap, with eight strokes differential in the team.

The tourney, will be preceded June 4 with a practice round.

Cost is $40 per player, which includes green fees, cart, lunch, prizes and an afternoon at Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

"We'll have prizes for the winners in all flights," Hickson said, "and special prizes for all the ladies."

All entries must be in by June 3, and may be made by calling 257-2212, or by writing to Hickson, care of Cree Meadows Country Club, Box 2274, Ruidoso, 89345.

Ruidoso runners first in race

A team of local Forest Service employees captured first place in a Saturday endurance race in Alamogordo.

It was the second time in two years the 10 member squad won the race, held last year in Albuquerque, but this year's performance bettered last year's distance by nearly five miles.

Sponsored by Region Three of the Forest Service, the race required each team member to run one mile, rotating in order, for the full six hours.

Charlie Brown posted the best Ruidoso time for a single mile with 5:22, and the lowest overall team average, 5:41. Steve Makowski, fire management officer for Smokey Bear Ranger District, said the slowest runner on the team ran a 6:18 leg.

During the six hours, the Smokey Bear team covered 60 miles, 62.4 yards, bettering last year's 55 mile 1,271 yard effort.

Region Three had 43 teams entered in the endurance run.

Members of the winning team included Brown, Dan Reeves, Dave Matter, Hugh Durham, John Kennedy, Bobby LaMay, Mark Watson, Scott Means, David Boehm and John Fish.

Little league baseball results

In Little League baseball action Monday night, Pepsi of the PeeWee league narrowly edged out Clardy's 4-3, and in the major league, Ruidoso State Bank shut out the Elks' Lodge team, 12-0.

Tuesday's games saw Gibson's wallop Coca-Cola 15-2 in the PeeWee league, and Gene Brock Ford trounced the Jaycees, 13-2.

... a column of opinion ...

by

Mark Bagby

Elsewhere on this page is mention of a soccer clinic later this summer — or in the summer, since it ain't officially summer yet.

But anyway, it's being run by Bobby Moffat, the English chap who was here last fall and wowed the kids at his one day clinic. And besides that, he's a nice guy, and a pleasure to talk to.

So, if anyone is interested in attending the clinic — and if you're between the ages of five and 16 — and you have $50 — then you can go. And they've got a lot to teach.

But if you wanna get in on it, better hurry, 'cause they's only 105 spots open, and about 70 of those ain't so open. In other words, there's about 30 to 40 open spots in the clinic.

not rained out, ashed out.

In fact, the Albuquerque Dukes minor league squad was to play the Vancouver Canadians there this week, but couldn't do it. "We've been ashed out," Dukes' general manager Pat McKernan said.

The whole Pacific Coast League — which for some vague reason Albuquerque belongs to — is sort of in a bind. Tacoma and Spokane, both in Washington, have had to cancel their respective series with Phoenix and Ogden.

It's probably the first time a sporting event was cancelled by a volcano. Better mark that in your history books. Might be worth money in a trivia contest someday — but I doubt it.

Butch Grantham, head honcho with the Ruidoso Sertoma Soccer Association and local sponsor of this thing, told me if — just possibly — maybe — there's enough interest, Bobby and his crew might be persuaded to have an afternoon clinic in addition to the morning clinic.

Butch is becoming a very busy fellow. Not only is he connected with this thing, and will be teaching in it too, he's also spearheading the Special Olympics soccer program May 31 in Roswell.

Now this is going to involve Special Olympians from all over the state, and Butch and a three man crew will be teaching the lads and lassies the finer points of the game.

Also, Butch is playing in the adult soccer league, and he came in the office beaming about scoring three goals in his team's victory last Sunday. (Good thing I wasn't playing goalie, Butch — for the other team, that is. You'd have probably scored six goals.)

But he also got thrown out of the game for kicking some guy in the shin. Getting thrown out of the game in soccer is called "red-carding."

Sounds more like something you'd do in bridge or maybe poker.

It was what?

The volcano in Washington — Mt. St. Helens, which is about as many abbreviations you can put in one name — that erupted and threw death and destruction everywhere, also had a somewhat lighter side.

Baseball games are being ashed out —

All right!

Football's a pretty rough game, and I'm glad to see someone's trying to make it safer without ruining it in the process. That might be a first.

But let's hear it for the researchers at Wayne State. Way to go, fellas.

Fastest draw in the West

Ruidoso Gymnastics Association coach Blake Starr tells me a benefit ticket sale his outfit sponsored some time back will conclude Saturday at 4 p.m.

It has something to do with a chair, as I understand it, although details are vague, which is a standard routine.

How do I get into these things?

Butch Grantham, head honcho with the Ruidoso Sertoma Soccer Association and local sponsor of this thing, told me if — just possibly — maybe — there's enough interest, Bobby and his crew might be persuaded to have an afternoon clinic in addition to the morning clinic.

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Warren Tucker

Our hearts and prayers go out to the loved ones and friends of Lee Warren Tucker who was called home by our Lord May fourteen here in the city where he spent so many years being a blessing to all of us in many ways.

Services were held May seventeen at the First Baptist Church of Ruidoso, and at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

The many friends and loved ones present were uplifted and comforted by the sacred messages delivered by the reverend Mr. E. W. Campbell. The reverend Mr. Campbell quoted favorite passages of scripture including The Twenty-third Psalm.

Two favorite hymns, "Because He Lives," and "In the Garden" were beautifully sung by Mrs. Anita Holbrook.

Warren, as most of us knew him, was born September fourteen, 1901 in Quitman, Texas, and moved to Ruidoso many years ago. He has had a great part in the development of our City in the Pines, having held many honorary and civic positions including Mayor.

His grocery store, up where the Ruidoso Post Office now stands, was a land mark for many years. Here you were always met by a cheery smile and a helping hand. I had the honor of having Warren Tucker for one of my sponsors when I had my little radio program a few years ago.

Warren will be kindly remembered always by his hosts of friends. And we all take comfort in knowing that our dear friend is safe and happy with our Lord in Heaven.

Local Men Honored At Dinner Given By Chevron Officials

Chevron Representatives from El Paso came to Ruidoso last week and gave a dinner at the Holiday Inn, Tuesday evening May thirteen, honoring Troy Parker, John Harrelson, Frank Abel, and Gib Munro and their wives.

Troy Parker who operated the Chevron station in Hollywood, was presented a twenty-year plaque and pin.

John Harrelson, operator of the Chevron station on the Ski Run Road, was presented a ten-year plaque and pin. Frank Abel and Gib Munro were honored for their work as gasoline suppliers.

We all appreciate the recognition given by the Chevron people to these men for their years of service, and we add our thanks to these good neighbors of ours who have served us so faithfully, every day of the week, "In sunshine and in shadow" in winter storms and summer heat.

And we look forward to many years more of day-to-day friendship with Troy Parker, John Harrelson, Gib Munro, and Frank Abel.

Two Thirds Of The Way Through Spring

This is being written to you on May twenty, the two-thirds mark in the season of Spring. The last month of the "Queen of Seasons" should certainly be one of the most beautiful in many years. The welcome rains have brought out many of the early summer flowers like English Prim Rose, Black-Eyed Susan, Purple Desert Verbena, and several others. It is a rare sight to see these flowers like the Mountain Daisy, and New Mexico Pink.

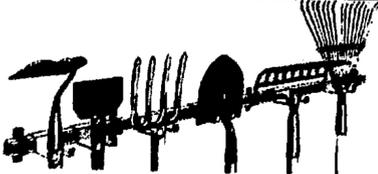

All the new grass and rapidly-growing leaves have dressed up Mother Earth in all shades of emerald glory.

A Rainfall Garden

If the season follows the pattern now set by the rain showers, we may be able to raise what the early Spanish used to call "Una Cosecha Temporal", that is "A rainfall crop", meaning that you can go and plant your garden or field confident that the rain will bring you all the moisture you need. There are no finer vegetables or field crops than those grown during a rainy season. For the rain has many magic elements for the health and vigor of plants, besides pure water.

Let us thank God for a green and flowery late Spring and Summer.

SANTA FE—If you've got contracts to sell what you produce for $19 a pound and your production costs are already $22 a pound, you don't jump with joy to have the severance taxes you pay go up by about 80 per cent.

That's roughly the shape Kerr-McGee, one of the state's uranium producers, is in right now. That $19 sales price for a pound of yellowcake, along with the $22 cost to produce that pound, explains why the company lost $1.1 million on its New Mexico production in 1979, as compared with the $21.1 million it made here in 1978. It also helps you understand why State Senator John Erick, not running for reelection and so speaking very frankly, says the jump in severance taxes we imposed on this industry in 1980 could eventually lead to the closing of ten mining or milling operations in the state, with the consequent loss of 2,000 jobs.

That's killing the goose that laid the golden egg. "But," Erick says, "the administration just wouldn't give an inch during the legislative session. This was what they wanted and what they were determined to get."

Just what they got in severance tax on uranium is a little hard to determine and explain, though Fred Muniz, Secretary of Taxation, says income from all severance taxes (including coal, oil and gas, as well as uranium) will reach $196.8 million next fiscal year, up almost 60 per cent from the current year. (We're willing to bet Muniz is low on this estimate, come a year from now.)

As one example of what the new uranium severance tax is like, Sue Winsor, who does some of the best reporting on this topic for the Grants Beacon, says a company with a contract to sell yellowcake at $40 a pound would pay $3.15 per pound under the new rates, as opposed to $1.99 at the old level. That's a 58 per cent jump, and is in addition to the property tax, conservation tax, resources excise tax, gross receipts tax, compensating tax on equipment, withholding tax on employees and corporate income tax the company is paying—all this at a time when the uranium market is already "soft" due to such things as a moratorium on nuclear power plants.

You see why the industry feels New Mexico sandbagged?

Impetus for that increase in severance taxes came from Aubrey Dunn, big power in the Senate—but O! Aub didn't stay around to help with the 1980 session. He resigned and walked away, leaving the Administration, whose lobbying efforts are not remarkable apt, to push the program.

There is a good thought behind it all—the fact that New Mexicans in years to come should not be penalized because we allowed people to steal irreplaceable elements from our earth without investments to counterbalance what they removed. A sound argument. The difference is that Aubrey Dunn probably would have listened to the side of those who are extractors, while the Administration seemed only to be locked in on some numbers; there was none of the flexibility which Dunn might have provided—and there was no adequate replacement for Dunn in this year's Legislature.

So you see why one member of the 1980 session said it was "the worst and most frustrating session" he had ever seen, even as the Governor was calling it a mighty fine gathering.

In government, as in the rest of life, you pay your money and you take your choice. What's good to some is bad to others.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

On Sunday evening, May 11, 1980, we were driving into Ruidoso when we were struck head-on by another auto. We thank the good Lord we were not seriously hurt or killed and we would like to take this opportunity to thank a lot of others who were instrumental in the aftermath of the wreck.

Our heartfelt appreciation goes out to everyone at the scene who helped and aided the injured, kept order among the bystanders, and directed traffic around the snarl. We would especially like to thank a family whose name we do not know. They summoned the ambulance and offered their automobile for two dirty and bleeding people to sit in. They showed true unselfishness.

We also owe a great deal to the State Police officer, P. J. Darden and to the ambulance attendants whose names we do not know. The nurses on duty that night treated us in an unhurried manner even though the emergency room was a madhouse. All of these peoples' caring did not go unnoticed and will never be forgotten.

May God bless each of those mentioned here and the many others who were so helpful and caring that we have not mentioned.

IT'S ABOUT TIME

Initiated to conduct the war against "crime in the streets," the federal Law Enforcement Assistant Administration (LEAA) may soon be a victim of federal budget cutting. It's about time. In its 12 years of life, LEAA has spent more than $7 billion and we haven't noticed any reduction in the crime rate. In fact, the rate increased by 11 per cent last year.

During its existence, LEAA was a controversial agency. It was criticized because much of the money went to expensive equipment that was used seldom if ever — such as helicopters and armored vehicles for riot fighting. Obviously, some of the money went to good causes but when federal officials started looking for corners to cut, LEAA was a natural victim.

The recent cattle mutilation investigation in northern New Mexico is an example of misuse of LEAA funds. Since when have cattle (whether mutilated, eaten by predators, victims of poison weeks or slaughtered by Mother Nature as the investigator would have us believe) been involved in "crime in the streets?"

$50,000 from LEAA was spent for the investigator to look at 13 dead cows and announce triumphantly that the mutilation mystery has been solved. Ken Rommel said during his press conference in Santa Fe Tuesday that some people will disagree with his report. We predict thousands of people will disagree.

Obviously, Rommel is sincere in his findings and believes in what he has reported. Unfortunately, he barely skimmed the surface of the problem and the report is too superficial to be of any value in mutilation investigations.

It is little wonder the LEAA program will soon be a victim of budget mutilations. — The Rio Grande Sun, Espanola

TRAVEL TIPS

FROM PARSONS TRAVEL

Hello Ruidoso and Welcome Horsemen! So many changes have occurred in the travel industry since last summer, that leaving town has become a major project. We hope this column will answer your questions and help with your travels. The first concern of most travelers is saving money. The solution is simple—planning.

Air fares have increased 33% in the last 6 months, in spite of well publicized gimmicks and games. Rarely are travel agents notified of increases in advance. How can the poor traveler defend himself? Purchasing tickets 30 days ahead will allow you to take advantage of special prices and protect you from fare increases.

Airlines are reducing the number of flights operated by as much as 15% to cope with rising fuel and labor costs. The remaining flights book up quickly. No one wants to be in an airport in the middle of the night, or endure 3 stops and 2 plane changes to reach their destination, but that is often the fate of the impulsive traveler.

Add the complication of special fares. "Easy Money", "Peanuts", and many other discounts are applicable to a limited number of seats on each flight—sometimes as few as four! Experienced travelers book early to get their discount. Remember that many discounts have advance purchase requirements of 7 to 30 days. Others are limited to certain times or days. Work closely with your travel agent, and give yourself time to explore all possibilities.

Parsons Travel is Ruidoso's travel expert. Visit us in the 4 Seasons Mall or call Jean at 257-7361. The world is within your reach.

The May 13 Ruidoso trustees meeting wasn't as exciting as some news reports would have you believe, including that portion dealing with animals, and that round really didn't go to the dogs. The dogs lost.

For years Mayor Davis hasn't varied his position on animals kept within the village, or on people keeping them, publicly or privately. It is his unshakable, and outspoken, opinion that Ruidoso'd be a better place in which to live if animals could not be kept within the village limits. If he would suddenly reverse this position, that would be news.

Statements made by Humane Society of Lincoln County president Ed Jungbluth were more surprising. He charged that the trustees were hiring an animal control officer of whom they knew nothing; adding that this hiring was not in conformance with the humane society's rules and regulations.

If the rules and regulations of the humane society are so written that society officers deduce they are empowered to dictate policy to the village trustees on the hiring of an animal control officer, those rules and regulations should immediately be revised to eliminate that assumption.

The village trustees gave the humane society a 20 year lease on village property to build an animal shelter, to fulfill the society's avowed purpose for existing. Let us hope it is operational within 90 days, at which time the society could broach their plans to completely assume responsibility for animal control and sheltering, a proposal the trustees have indicated they'd accept most willingly.

Meantime, whatever action the trustees take to provide animal control and housing for animals should be of no more concern to the humane society than the trustees approving the hiring of parolees and probationers to work on village streets and in the parks. —CD

CENSUS FOLLOWUP

Census officials in Las Cruces are still wondering if'n everyone in the heavily populated portion of Lincoln County was counted in the 1980 tally.

So ... if'n you still have a census form collecting dust in your home ... you're supposed to telephone 524-2852 or 524-1965 and tell the person answering that your form hasn't been collected ... as to what they'll do about it, no one's said ... but apparently it's a call they ain't about to pay for ... 'cause nothing was said about the call being collect.

For what it's worth ... if'n you want to guess at our population ... local census crew leader Grace Gordon told me that her busy canvassers picked up well over 5,000 forms ... indicating we'll one day have a more accurate estimate of folks living here the year around than 2,200 ... the figure that census takers arrived at in 1970 ... that's been causing the village just some problems with possible financial help ... 'cause we've had too few taxpayers ... or not enough drawing unemployment ... or too many ... all depending upon whom you were talking to about what.

CONGRATULATIONS EVE BALL

Our local lady-with the words ... author Eve Ball ... has just had her latest tome ... "INDEH: An Apache Odyssey" ... that she finished penning not too long ago ... reviewed by Publishers Weekly ... a prestigious journal that reviews books for a tremendous number of readers ... and the reviewer said ... "For more than 30 years, Eve Ball probed the collective memory of Apaches at the Mesalero Reservation in New Mexico; the result is a masterpiece of oral history" ... which is just some compliment to Eve on her latest work.

The Publishers Weekly review of Eve's book is ... a gentleman name of Howard Christy of Brigham Young University Press ... publishers of her book at $19.95 a copy ... "as fine a review as they ever give" ... which'd have any ordinary writer puffin' their chest out and tending to brag and stuff like that there ... but not our Eve ... though pleased with the review, she isn't seeking local accolades ... she's just mighty happy INDEH got national recognition ... and is hoping that many folks'll read her book ... to learn more about the Apaches ... and this effort ... coupled with "In the Days of Victorio" "I'll give you just some insight into how the Apaches did things ... back when they was really doing things ... carving their niche in American history.

ONE TOUGH COOKIE

Our Jimmy ... comes gnitly-gritty time in the fall campaign ... is gonna be one tough cookie for Reagan to crumble ... 'cause Our Jimmy's in a position to deliver millions of dollars to the nation's voters ... which is worth a lot more to them than millions of words of Reagan's rhetoric.

Besides ... Our Jimmy can, on whim, climb aboard Air Force One and fly ... willy-nilly to where the votes are ... reveling in the obsequial paid him as President ... and nudge Congress to dispense millions of dollars to the big cities ... excepting, maybe, Chicago ... and peddle wheat to Russia, 'cause that'll keep the grain farmers' pockets fulla long green ... and he can see to it that those unemployment checks keep right on keeping the indigent out of work ... or being forced into accepting a paying job.

And he can quietly forget the hostages in Iran ... and the Soviets taking over Afghanistan ... and not mention that Castro's giving him the shaft ... 'cause he can control the questions he's asked when he wants to give us that toothy grin on the tube.

'Course ... Ronnie's a pretty sharp cookie himself ... and he just might convince the voters he'd make a better president than Our Jimmy ... and tell 'em how he'd solve our problems ... here and abroad ... which'll take just some convincing ... 'cause promises won't buy the things that the recipients of Our Jimmy's cash largesse can with all that loot he can shell out.

So have at it Ronnie ... lay it on the line ... tell 'em how Our Jimmy's not gettin' things done ... with one happy thought being ... if'n you press him hard enough, he'll probably goof again ... to your advantage.

KING'S SPEED STICKERS

Governor King ... in an effort to get drivers of state cars to slow down ... has issued bumper stickers reading ... if I exceed 55 or the posted speed limit ... report me to 1-800-432-6782 ... which'll work out just fine ... providing the drivers of the cars bearing those stickers'll slow down enough for your average myopic grandmother driver to focus on the number to phone.

Jockey/Trainer of the week

BY MIKE MAGDA
Jockey Steve Harris and trainer Rex Brooks teamed up to capture their respective weekly honors at Ruidoso Downs. Harris rode all four of Brooks' winning mounts to earn the Jockey of the Week title. He was challenged stiffly by six riders who scored three victories each. Brooks was named Trainer of the Week with his four winners, nosing out H. C. Werner who had three.

BY MIKE MAGDA

FIVE OFFSPRING of All-American Futurity winners set the pace in the time trials held last Thursday and Friday for the $504,500 Kansas Futurity, the first jewel in the two-year-old Triple Crown for quarter horses. A total of 285 head went through the 30 heats, 15 each day. The five fastest horses from each day advanced to the June 1, finale, where the winner will pick up $166,333. The sixth through 10th fastest horses from each moved to the $72,927 First Consolation May 31 while the 11th through 15th fastest horses advanced to the $37,962 Second Consolation May 30. The distance is 350 yards.

EASY JET, WINNER of the 1969 All-American, and Rocket Wrangler, the 1970 champ, each sired two qualifiers for the finale. Bugs Alive In 75 fathered the fifth All-American offspring. Easy Jet's son Easily Smashed set the second fastest time Friday when he covered the distance in 18.32 seconds. An Easy Jet filly, Easy Joni Jet, set the second fastest time Thursday with an 18.44 clocking. A pair of Rocket Wrangler fillies, Ooh Lala Lala and Rockay set the fourth fastest time on their respective days. Clever Bug, a gelding by Bugs Alive In 75, was the third fastest horse Friday. Other sires represented included two time World Champion Dash For Cash (whose daughter Baby Hold On set the fastest time of 18.25 seconds), Devil's Rastus, Jet Smooth, Sparkling Native and Jet Smooth.

HERE ARE THE QUALIFIERS to the finale from Thursday's trials: Baby Hold On, owned by Gerald C. and Darlene Blue of Amarillo, Texas, 18.25; Easy Joni Jet, owned by Louie Allen of Allen, Texas, 18.44; Five Alive, owned by Milton and Doris Vondy of Burlington, Colorado, 18.45; Ooh Lala Lala, owned by J. E. Jamonville Jr., of Ventress, Louisiana, 18.45; and Best Jet Smooth, owned by Gary E. Pogue and Charles W. Arnold of Lewisville, Texas, 18.46. Qualifying from Friday are Easily Smashed, owned by Sue May, William F. Leach and Carol Childs of Ft. Stockton, Texas, 18.38; Clever Bug, owned by Vaughn and Mary Watkins of Madison, Mississippi, 18.38; Native Tea, owned by Billie J. Stone of San Antonio, Texas, 18.42; and Jet View, owned by Dr. Jack Brooks and George Gage of Arlington, Texas, 18.42.

FOUR OF THE KANSAS Futurity finalists and four consolationists were graduates of the 1979 All-American Select Yearling Sale at Ruidoso Downs. Going to the finale are Baby Hold On, $48,000; Ooh Lala Lala, $10,600; Rockay, $18,500 and Jet View, $12,500. Consolationists include Mity Secret, $37,000; Mystic Eye, $8,000; Hemptens Queen, $36,000 and Born Runner, $13,000. Ivory Crockett was a repurchase for $60,000.

QUALIFYING TO THE First Consolation are Moon Chicks, 18.47; Sufficient Funds, 18.48; Mity Secret, 18.50; Mistress Saille, 18.52; Big Bad Boz, 18.55; Mystic Eye, 18.46; Becky's Filly, 18.49; Its A Bird, 18.51; Tiny Overdrive, 18.56 and Angies Dancer, 18.57. Going in the Second Consolation are The Bomb, 18.59; Hemptens Queen, 18.61; Runnin Barre, 18.61; Born Runner, 18.62; Pajaro Chico, 18.63;

Our Mighty Lady, 18.59; Heza Tru Rebel, 18.59; Ivory Crockett, 18.60; Baby Charms, 18.61 and El Rey Burner, 18.63.

TRAINER H. C. WERNER JR., and Willie Lovell teamed up to qualify two to the finale — Baby Hold On and Best Jet Smooth. The duo also qualified Mity Secret and Angies Dancer to the First Consolation. Trainer H. Don Farris and jockey Jerry Nicodemus qualified two to the Second Consolation — The Bomb and Ivory Crockett. Rex Brooks and Steve Harris qualified Born Runner and Pajaro Chico to the Second Consolation. Jack Brooks and Keith Moon were also responsible for two horses in the Second Consolation — Runnin Barre and Heza Tru Rebel.

THE BIGGEST UPSET in the trials came in the final division. Swingsational, an 87-1 choice, won by a length over a 71-1 pick, Champs Ms Divident. The heavy favorite was The Iron Ruler, a stakes winner from Texas who finished sixth. The longest combination set up a $3,008.20 payoff for the Big Q. There were five lucky ticket holders. The quinella paid $1,286, the highest in recent years. Swingsational's payoffs were $176, $207.80 and $32.80. Harley Crosby was the winning jockey for trainer H. B. Carrell.

THE SEASON'S FIRST dead heats occurred over the weekend. The first happened Friday when Six Fols and Zevis Boots couldn't be separated at the wire for third place in the first race. Saturday's dead heat was for second place between Jeb's Jester and Vital Flame in the second race.

CHICKS CHARGER BAR, the fifth place finisher in the 1979 Rainbow Futurity, prepped himself for the Rainbow Derby with a 3/4 length victory in Saturday's seventh race. The son of Chick's Deck captured the 400 yard allowance test as the favorite over stakes winner Public Affair. Alex Baldiviez Jr. was aboard.

THE TEAM of trainer Billy Hughes and jockey Ruben Bustamonte won their first two outings of the season. Talented Pass took them to the winner's circle for the first time last Thursday in the trials but the time was not fast enough to make the finale or consolation. Their second straight victory came Saturday in the fifth race when Loom's Julie won a four furlong maiden. Loom's Julie is eligible to enter the Norgor Futurity trials, which will be staged June 19.

THE STRING of second place finishes continues for Mighty Restless, the filly who captured the public's attention when she won at 196-1 odds at Sunland in her first 1980 start. Mighty Restless finished second for the fifth time in her last six starts since that stunning victory in the feature race Saturday. Duquessa, a 6-5 favorite, made a sudden late charge in the final strides to nip Mighty Restless by a neck at the wire after covering 5 1/2 furlongs. It was Duquessa's second straight victory of the year.

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS: Practicing Veterinarian Richard H. Galley was fined $10 for illegal parking. Jockey Leroy Coombs was fined $50 for illegal use of the whip during the post parade. Jockey Henry Uriegas was suspended three racing days for careless riding, resulting in Good Boy Win being disqualified from second and placed third in the 11th race May 11.

Ruidoso area offers wide choice in wily game

New Mexico contains nine million acres of national forest, nearly 13 million acres of land managed by the United States Bureau of Land Management and nine million acres of state owned land.

These public lands are used for many purposes — livestock grazing, mineral development, camping, picnicking and other forms of outdoor recreation, including hunting.

There are over 20 million total acres of public land open to free public hunting, and quite a lot of private land also available, provided the landowner grants permission.

With all that land, New Mexico in general, and Ruidoso in particular, might justly be called a hunter's paradise.

Game abounds, and species include: deer, bear, wild turkey, squirrel, game birds, cougar, antelope, elk, Barbary sheep, bighorn sheep, javelina, imported exotic game animals such as oryx and ibex, and nongame species such as coyote, rabbits and skunks.

Nimrods, here for the first time, can easily ascertain local hunting prospects by talking to the person behind the counter where guns and ammo are sold.

These stalwart individuals, probably hunters themselves, know who in this area's bagging what. Under due provocation, they'll tell you who to talk to verify that hunting here is not only excellent, but better than you'll find elsewhere.

There are places you can go on your own, places you can go with guides, and places, as on the Mescalero Apache Reservation, where you'd best not hunt without a guide.

As to the hunting guides in these mountains, they're the most knowledgeable, courteous and efficient you'll find. Some'll actually guarantee game. Other's will guarantee you a shot at your trophy quarry.

And there's variety galore. You can shoot upland game with everything from a .410 up; waterfowl with anything from a magnum 10 down, which is also pretty good medicine for turkeys. As to rifles and pistols, there's something for most calibers, from .22's up, and if it's elk you're seeking, nothing wrong with having a .375 magnum, or a .450 double, just in case you have to shoot through a tough, huge pine tree to hit your game where you'll spoil neither meat nor hide, if it's a trophy for mounting you desire.

Now these choices of game, plus the variety of scatterguns and slug throwers available, not forgetting there are seasons for the muzzle loaders, and bowmen, should pique your interest. If so, read on, as the facts about hunting in New Mexico are outlined below.

The first thing any hunter in this state needs, obviously, is a New Mexico hunting license. Hunting licenses are available from over 300 locations statewide, and prices vary considerably, depending on whether or not you're a state resident and what species you're planning on gunning down.

For example, a resident general hunting license, which entitles the hunter to take one deer, one bear, one turkey, squirrel and game birds, is $15.50. But a non-resident license for bighorn sheep is $301. (A resident license for sheep is $26.)

Anyone who hunts in New Mexico, regardless of age, must have a valid license, and hunters under 18 must have completed an approved Hunter Training Course (either New Mexico's or another state's) and must have certification cards in possession whenever shooting or hunting. This applies even if a parent or guardian accompanies the young hunter.

And it is illegal for anyone under 18 to apply for any kind of firearms hunting license before completing the training course.

Persons who own homes in New Mexico but live outside the state are considered non residents. A New Mexico resident is a United States citizen who has, for at least 90 days before applying for the license, lived in New Mexico and has claimed no other residence for any purpose, or a person who is not a United States citizen but has lived legally in this country and actually lived in this state for 90 days immediately preceding his license application.

Next, all hunters should be familiar with the state's rules and regulations regarding hunting. Without the knowledge and obedience of the laws, the unwary hunter can find himself in front of a judge who has the authority and power to levy stiff fines.

The best source of information concerning New Mexico's game laws is the 32 page booklet supplied free by the state. It is available from license vendors and has complete information about seasons, areas open to hunting and even has a form for ordering licenses by mail.

It's wise to keep one of the booklets with you when you're afield, because it might come in handy should a question arise, and then you have a handy source of information. Better safe than sorry, and having a game warden inform you of the law — after you've broken it — is not the time to learn.

Here are some of the more important rules:

— It is unlawful to possess game without a proper license or other evidence that game was lawfully taken.

— Firearms and bows and arrows are subject to seizure and forfeiture if used in taking or illegal possession or transportation of big game during closed season; exceeding bag limit during open season, or using spotlights or artificial light while taking big game.

— To kill more than one elk, one antelope, one bear, one cougar, one Barbary sheep, one bighorn sheep, one javelina, one oryx, one ibex or one deer is unlawful during any license year, except for special regulations concerning cougar and deer.

— To buy or use more than one license for each big-game species during any license year is unlawful.

— To take or attempt to take any game for another person is unlawful.

— To use a motor-driven vehicle to pursue, harass, harry, drive, rally or take game mammals or game birds is unlawful. (The permanently disabled, however, can obtain from the Law Enforcement Division of the state Game and Fish office a permit to allow them to shoot at game mammals from stationary vehicles that aren't parked on public highways or roads.)

— To drive off established roads while hunting on state lands is illegal.

— To shoot at game from or across any graded and maintained public road, including areas within six feet from the edge of the pavement or regular vehicle-beaten path, is illegal.

— Using vehicles on any roads posted "Closed" is illegal.

— Taking or attempting to take game mammals or birds over ground baited with any material to entice animals is illegal.

— To use live animals or birds as decoys is illegal.

— Using any electrically or mechanically recorded device to take or try to take game mammals or birds is illegal.

— Using spotlights or other artificial lights in areas where big game or livestock might be, if the user has a weapon in possession capable of killing game or livestock is illegal.

— Using tracer ammunition, or possessing a used or detached big game tag, or camping or parking a trailer or motor vehicle within 300 yards of a stock watering area is illegal.

— Taking animals protected by law as endangered or threatened species is illegal.

— Finally, state law makes it unlawful to use firearms recklessly or carelessly, use fire improperly, commit property damage, pollute streams, lakes or other water, discard refuse on public or private property without permission, or damaging telephone wires by gunfire, or otherwise interfere with communications.

Hunters should be aware that much land used in hunting is private land intersecting with public land. The private landowner does not have to allow access across his land to let the hunter get to the public land, unless a public road crosses his land. Be prepared to use alternate routes.

Some National forests are closed to hunting unless the hunter receives a National Forest Wilderness Permit, available from several locations. Lincoln National Forest, which surrounds this area, is open to hunting.

Note, however, national parks are closed to hunting, as are almost all state parks. The State Game Commission has leased hunting rights on some state lands which also have agricultural and grazing leases. The only hunting allowed on these lands is for protected species during open season for those species.

Access to state land is assured if available by public road. If the hunter is denied access to the land, he should take note of the time, place and obtain the name of the person preventing access and advise the nearest conservation officer, or call the state Game Department, (505) 627-2438, in Santa Fe.

State lands carry many restrictions on camping, parking, traveling and fire usage. Be sure to check for particular posted rules in each area.

Almost all state game refuges are closed to hunting, and it is illegal to carry, transport or possess firearms, bows or arrows within a refuge, or to discharge firearms or arrows into or within the refuge. They may be transported across the refuge via public road or trail if the firearm is unloaded or taken down.

AS FAR AS THE EYE CAN SEE it's prime hunting country

19 1/2 years in law enforcement in Lincoln County have taught me that proper budgeting is a must! Overbudgeting wastes taxpayers' dollars, while underbudgeting means the loss of essential protective services to the community, cars out of service, faulty radio equipment, Deputies in the field inadequately equipped.

As your Sheriff, I guarantee to budget for all the necessary items, and I will never return unspent funds to the detriment of Departmental safety and efficiency!

I ask for your vote on June 3.

Beautiful Ruidoso area truly shutterbug's delight

From hummingbirds to flowers, from waterfalls to rivulets, from panoramic mountain and desert scenes to the glories of yesteryear and today — if you carry a camera to use to record memorable scenes, you're in the midst of a paradise of opportunities to use your skills.

There's something here for every photographic taste — and whether you use instant picture cameras, point and shoot pocket size models, the average 35mm, or the best in 35mm, larger format, or the view cameras — the time you spend getting pictures will be well rewarded.

Water scenes? There are lakes, ponds, rivers and rivulets, each in a setting conducive to bring out your most creative talents.

Then there are the omnipresent mountains, the wide expanse of desert, the flora and fauna, which, as you prowl, you'll find the variety endless.

Endless rolls of film can be shot without ever leaving your car. Prize winning pictures have been taken just a few steps off the beaten path. Out in the back reaches of the mountains or desert, as you drive over trails, meandering off into the distances, you'll come across those once-in-a-lifetime pictures.

If color intrigues you, don't hesitate to drop by the Chamber of Commerce or Smokey Bear Ranger Station to inquire about the flowers that make the deserts magnificent, the mountains beautiful. From Indian Paint Brush to the lush Yucca, the state flower of New Mexico, there are endless opportunities to take outstanding photographs. You'll find beautiful blossoms existing in the bright sunlight, exquisite blooms virtually hidden from view, nestled in the shade of the tall, cool pines, that are seldom exposed to the sun.

Should you be merely snapping pictures for your personal enjoyment — and to show your friends back home the beauties of this area — never fail to take advantage of the possibilities showing up on each and every highway running through this country.

If you're truly deeply involved, as hobbyist or professional, in cameras, there isn't a lens, a light meter, a filter you can't put to use to full capabilities of your equipment.

The black and white camera fan will find challenges in shading, and in shadows, to test the mettle of the best. From the stately aspens to the weathered barn door, the variety of possibilities is endless.

To see what's been done photographically, in this area, visit the various art shops. You'll see fantastic photographs displayed — some with price tags that'll leave you gasping. However, it is from the people you'll talk to in these shops that you can determine the locale of just the type of photographs you're interested in taking.

There are opportunities for night photographs, including or excluding the brilliant moon, in these mountains, and out on the desert, that provide the stuff inspiring an Ansel Adams. When it comes to landscapes, the only limit to your achievement is the extent of your creativity.

While headquartered in Ruidoso, you can easily drive to some of the most beautiful scenery existing anywhere, or into the back country for those memorable shots of the glories of yesteryear, and spend the day, or the night, taking pictures and never be more than an hour's drive from where you're staying.

Areas of intrigue to photographers include Bonito Lake, Nogal, Carrizozo, Capitan, the Capitan Mountains, Old Lincoln and Billy the Kid country, down the valley, through the Hondo area, up to Cloudcroft, on to the Sunspot, the deserts, LaLuz and Tularosa, the Mescalero Apache Reservation, the petroglyphs at Three Rivers Park, the Malpais, where the lava flowed thousands of years ago — and right here in the Ruidoso area, from the valley to the top of Sierra Blanca, you can spend all the time you care to devote, possibly more than that, just to taking memorable pictures.

If it's action you're interested in, grab your camera and take in the horse racing at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, the rodeos, the Indian dances — action abounds here during the summer months — check at the Chamber of Commerce for information as to what's happening where and when.

So there you have it — from your 135mm, to your 2,000 tele, your micro or macro, your fish eye or medical lens, six exposures a second to time lapse — your challenge awaits.

And the same opportunities exist for the simple camera carrier — the expansion of colors, action and shadows, just the thing to provide endless hours of viewing pleasure, from the slides to prints to movies, you'll reap a mind boggling treasure of memories to fill your archives of travel mementoes to bulging — beyond, even.

So... get with it, photographers; ever remembering that once-in-a-lifetime picture'll be yours to record for posterity, probably around the next corner.

RICHARD THOMPSON, director of horse sales, etc., for Ruidoso Downs Race Track, runs the All-American Yearling Sale and the Summer Sale for the track. "We sold $7 million worth of horses in three days" in last year's All-American sale, Thompson said. And he expects more than that this year.

Richard Thompson 'Director of Horse Sales' keeps track of fastest horses in the nation

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Writer/Photographer

How does a fella ever become the "Director of Horse Sales, Etc.," at Ruidoso Downs?

It's easy — just break your leg and wait about 20 years.

Richard Thompson, the director of horse sales, etc., (no kidding, that's his title), at Ruidoso Downs, attended the University of New Mexico back in the 40's, and got involved in rodeo. "I was rodeoing up in Montana and got crippled up," Thompson said, and so he returned to Albuquerque, where "a friend of a friend" needed some help at the state fair. Thompson was hired as a steward for the races there.

The year was 1951, and in the following years Thompson worked at other New Mexico tracks, including La Mesa. In 1960 he went to Arizona and worked at several tracks, and then was made general manager of the Las Vegas, Nevada track.

WHERE IT ALL BEGINS — Much of the preliminary work before the August sales year for the All-American sale, and research to determine eligibility takes place here.

Later he became the first director of racing for the Amarillo, Texas Quarterhorse Association, and then journeyed to Lafayette, Louisiana where he managed Evangeline Downs.

In 1968, he moved to Ruidoso Downs. In 1969, the track went into receivership and Thompson was appointed president and general manager. When the track was sold, he was retained as general manager.

The track was sold again in 1974, and he was made assistant general manager, "more or less," he said.

Eventually he was named "Director of Horse Sales, Etc." in that capacity he does a little of everything, and general manager Finlay MacGillivray counts on him as his right hand man. "Richard is the brains behind the storm," he says.

Thompson's duties include hiring all personnel for sales and making all preparations.

"We start sending entries to all eligible horseowners the first of the year and by May 1, have all the entries out," he said. "The ones we sell this year will be nominated for the 1981 All-American. They're the only ones eligible."

"The history of the sale is closely connected with the history of the All-American Futurity, which is sort of the barometer of the quarter horse industry."

"But once we get all the entries, we do breeder research, which takes quite a while. We have 840 to 850 horses so far this year. Last year we sold nearly $7 million worth of horses in three afternoons. I imagine we'll sell more than that this year."

A New Mexico native raised on a ranch near Lovington, Thompson considers the Land of Enchantment his home.

"I'm tired of moving," he said. "I've seen a lot of the country, but I don't want to move anymore. I like New Mexico and especially Ruidoso."

Things have been good at Ruidoso Downs in the past, he said, and things can only get better.

"We've got plans that will be great for the industry. All jobs have problem areas, and every year we get more and more horses who want to come here, but right now we just don't have enough stalls."

"Expansion can do nothing but help us. We're lucky to be where we're at. The area, the climate, have helped make things so successful. But the biggest reason for our success — I attribute to the All-

American Futurity.

"It's an honor to even qualify for the race, and the popularity of the quarterhorse, compared to the thoroughbred, has made it the richest race in the world, and it's going to get richer."

"But we're still kinda like cowboys, bettin' on our luck."

Thompson is about as closely connected with the Futurity as anyone. In fact, he wrote the conditions for the very first one, he said, quite an honor in anyone's book.

"But probably my biggest thrill in racing is having been connected with winning horses," Thompson said. "I helped sell Mr. Kid Charge," who won the 1971 Futurity and turned in the record time in the then 400 yard race, 19.65 seconds."

Thompson was also closely connected with the sale of Hot Idea, the 1977 winner.

"The quality of quarter horse racing has improved quite a bit over the years, and I think the All-American yearling sale had a lot to do with it," Thompson said. "I'm proud of that."

He also is in charge of the Ruidoso Downs Summer Sale, open to quarter horses and thoroughbreds of all ages.

But those are special days. A "typical" race day — if there is such an animal — is, for Thompson, much easier.

"I just leave my office open and visit with horsemen," he said. "I don't really have anything to do with the actual racing, but I'm always on standby alert."

Thompson has moved around a lot, but he plans on staying put for a while, and on being director of horse sales, etc.

"I tried selling real estate a few years ago," he said, "but after four months I decided this was my calling. I haven't done much else and I think this is an interesting life and very rewarding."

Eventually he'll probably retire, he said, but, "I haven't given it much thought. I'll cross that bridge when I get to it."

Drive slowly through Ruidoso's beautiful scenery

Should this be your first visit to Ruidoso, you should indulge yourself in the luxury of an excursion through the village. Should you be returning, after an absence of a year or more, a tour of Ruidoso will be as interesting, and as informative about what's happening, as was your first drive through the meandering, pine bordered streets.

First, and foremost, take the time to drive the length of "main street." It begins at the east four-lane entrance to Ruidoso Downs, west to the "Y", then westerly/northerly on Highway 37 to the top of Alto Hill.

It's advisable to have the driver pay strict attention to his driving, with passengers ogling the business district. This prevents the possibility of fender benders and provides the opportunity for the passengers to pick out businesses of interest to the driver, to return to visit at your leisure.

From everyday necessities, clothing, hardware, auto parts, camera needs, there's an abundance of stores carrying full lines of excellent merchandise, plus myriads of items unique to Ruidoso, Playground of the Great Southwest.

Carefully observe the abundance of gift shops, featuring items that have appeal for every taste. From gold, diamonds, jewelry, turquoise, leather and cut glass there's a choice for every taste, an item for every budget.

Don't pass up the art shops. Some of the nation's outstanding artists, in every conceivable medium, live, work and play in Ruidoso. From oils to pastels and line drawings, from sculptures to carvings, the art forms are here.

Art works are for sale in Ruidoso's shops that you'll wonder why they aren't being displayed in museums. The thought in this connection is, many of the works of our local artists are so displayed. Many of the works you'll see on display here will be in due time.

As to your price ranges, you can find just the perfect gift item to give to your friends, as a memento of your visit to Ruidoso, at prices so attractive you'll wonder how it's possible. You can also buy original paintings and sculptures, jewelry and collectors' items at any price you care to pay. Some local artists' originals are commanding $20,000, $30,000 and up. Shop around, ask questions, you can add magnificent works to your collection, or to contribute to your favorite museum, that will truly be conversation pieces, to be cherished through the years to come.

A tour of the residential areas is most rewarding — and you don't have to be an architect to gain full appreciation of the variety of homes extent here.

There's everything from the most rustic of casual cabins to the most spacious, most luxurious mansions you can imagine. Some of the solar heated/cooled homes, even when viewed from the outside, will have you speculating on their worth.

Should you have special interests in homes, perhaps your first stop should be at the Chamber of Commerce on Sudderth. The friendly folks there will direct you to the section of the village that will best exemplify the style of architecture and construction of prime interest to you.

From log, to stone, to adobe, to natural woods, every example of beauty in homes, signifying gracious living, abounds in Ruidoso.

A map, showing subdivisions, is available at the Chamber office. This is a virtual necessity, as the project of installing street name posts at intersections, is far from being completed.

You'll quickly discover, as your tour the residential areas, that flat, level stretches of street are non-existent. Thus it is, around each turn there's an exciting home, or a magnificent view to suddenly capture your undivided attention.

Each of the village's three golf courses feature outstanding examples of homes built for service, comfort and gracious living. In the upper reaches of the subdivisions capitalizing on the mountain scenery, are yet other homes that will enthrall you. The only way to find these attractions, that will prove to you that Ruidoso offers a way of life virtually foreign to any other area of the United States, is to drive, willy-nilly, up and down hill, around curves, soaking up the beauty of the neighborhoods.

Should you be in quest of accommodations to fit in with your vacation schedule, available for a week, month, or longer, don't pass up visiting the condominiums and other units that are offered under an attractive time sharing plan. There's a variety here that you'll find no other place. A decor, a location, a style of living suitable for every taste, every need.

You have a choice of locations, varying from handy to everything, to hide-a-ways where you'll have to meet people at a location known to them, to lead them to your home.

In the event you should become lost, while traveling through the mountain sections, remember, all you have to do is drive downhill and eventually you'll reach Sudderth or Mechem drives, Highway 37 or 70, and instantly you're reorientated — which can be tremendously soothing to the nerves. While trying to always drive downhill, you may, especially if you're lost, wind up at dead ends and cul-de-sacs, at which you will see some most attractive, as well as exciting dwellings.

Do explore our quaint mountain village, where gracious living is an accepted way of life, where the hustle-bustle of the world is far distant, where there's always today and tomorrow, with its revelations, always awaits.

Who knows, as you thoroughly explore Ruidoso, you just might decide that this is the place you've always dreamed about living in — because the good life exists here, as in no other place.

Pub crawling here is indeed adventuresome

If you, as a visitor to Ruidoso, the most enchanting niche in the Land of Enchantment, namely, New Mexico, tend towards a propensity to live life to it's fullest, then, after an invigorating day of pursuing your pleasure in these mountains, what better way to cap it off, and recap the day's adventures, than to indulge that whim with some highly adventuresome pub crawling?

The choice of dispensaries dispensing elixirs to warm the cockles of your heart is so extensive as to be mind boggling — and that's an understatement.

To glimpse the local scene first hand, absorb the color, hobnob with the natives and learn why, in Ruidoso, the moment of importance is now — venture into any one of the taverns for an adventuresome respite from the hectic pursuits of the day.

It is in the taverns that you'll tend to meet adventuresome spirits, like yourselves, who have decided that Ruidoso is the place where it's happening — and they've lingered on, after initial exposure, to be a part of that happening.

It's easy to tell the natives — they're the individuals who seem to melt into the decor, who are obviously at ease, furthermore, they are completely approachable and gregarious and friendly and helpful and pleasant to converse with.

Most of the taverns will, as day wanes and evening settles down, have live entertainment for your dancing pleasure and listening delight. The entertainment, coupled with your exposure to the natives, enhanced by your favorite potion, will combine to make you feel perfectly comfortable as you unwind as you dilly-dally as you become confident to become a part of the scene and action.

A brief exposure to the local taverns will not put such a strain on you finances that you'll harbor even a moment's regrets over you dalliance.

Another adventure that'll leave you yearning for a repeat experience is a stop at any of the night clubs. Night clubs here differ mostly from taverns in that they have folks tending to the business of preparing thirst quenchers and muscle relaxers as are specialists... there's isn't a fancy liquid refreshment they can't pour with a flourish.

It's advisable, when pub crawling through the night clubs, to have money. Not that the tab is any higher here, than in your favorite spa back home, it's just that you tend to become so contented with the quality of service and enjoyment of the decor that you might not pay too much attention to the tab. On the other hand, you probably wouldn't be in one of our night clubs if you were overly concerned with prices.

It is at the night clubs that you'll meet other denizens of Harmony Valley — as Ruidoso is fondly referred to locally. They are just as friendly, gregarious and helpful as those frequenting the taverns, but tend to have greater diversification of interests, in case you harbor desires of further diversifying your interests. An intriguing thought for the adventuresome spirits who are first time visitors to Harmony Valley.

Then, for those of a mind, there are the private clubs. Gaining admission is a matter of making inquiry, then diligently following through. It is here you can settle back, secure in the knowledge that the best there is to offer is yours to command.

Should you not know a soul, but still would like to enjoy the quiet good fellowship club members exude, ask anyone you feel of a mind to, in tavern or night club, and you'll have your open sesame key easily within your grasp — opening the door to lead you to an adventuresome evening that'll linger in your memory forever.

The private clubs tend to offer more restrained music, featuring small combos or singles, that'll have you up and dancing, or really keeping an ear tuned to their performances.

In the private clubs, if you view a dollar as though it were a withered leaf and you the owner of an unbounded forest, you can truly end a perfect day in that luxurious manner that pampers your every whim.

The important thing to remember as you go pub crawling is that no matter where you venture, you'll find the habitués equally friendly — 'cause they believe in enjoying life and view the people they meet as one means of enjoying life to the hilt.

You're in Ruidoso, where living is different than any other place on earth, because there isn't a person living here who isn't doing so because this is where they want to be. With one of the rewards for being adventuresome in your pub crawling being you can rub elbows with people who'll make your evening the most delightful you've ever experienced. Prost!

The quickest way to earn $1 million is to own a fast quarter horse

BY DICK ALWAN

In the black-and-white days of television, there was a show called "The Millionaire," and the idea was this: How would a person's life be changed if he suddenly became a millionaire?

Each week, this fellow would pick out someone to become instantly rich, and we would see how the pressures of so much cash would affect a previously humdrum life.

The premise of the show seems as empty now as it did 25 years ago, but Ruidoso Downs will be in position this summer to make a few instant millionaires.

What we're talking about is the All-American Quarter Horse Derby, which figures to be worth around $1.5 million, and the All-American Futurity, which is a lead pipe cinch to hit $1,200,000 once again. The winner of the Derby will collect $525,000 or so. The Futurity winner gets $440,000.

The winning owner of either race will become an instant millionaire—in the event he isn't one already. First of all, there's the up front money—the winner's slice. But that's the minor piece of the pie. The real loot is in the breeding potential.

If the winner happens to be a colt, we're talking about a stud value of $2 million or so. That's just a rough guess, and the figure could be much more than that. It all depends on the animal's breeding, and how he proves out as a stallion. Since the quarter horse breeding industry is based on artificial insemination, a stallion can serve upwards of 200 mares per season. Presuming that an All-American Futurity or Derby winner can start his stud career at a modest fee of $2,500, that puts the annual income (theoretically) at about a half million bucks.

Assuming that a win in either race has an overall value of some $2½ million, that's well under what a Kentucky Derby winner will command. But the monetary difference between the two breeds has closed sharply in recent years.

The super sized purse, a phenomenon invented by Ruidoso Downs (and applied strictly to quarter horse racing), has caught fire in recent years.

There appears to be no end in sight. Don Essary, director of racing for the American Quarter Horse Association in Amarillo, Texas, feels we're in a situation where the sport's popularity and the inflation of the times "are coming together all at once." The affect, he said, appears accentuated—particularly with Ruidoso's pair of fast growing million dollar races. "Today, more people are interested in the quarter horse than ever before," Essary said.

Each year, the AQHA registers about 120,000 quarter horses. Of these, perhaps 19,000 are intended for the race track. The best statistic to illustrate the growth of the business in this: In 1974, the total purse distribution in quarter horse racing was $18,677,972. The figures for 1979 are just being compiled, but Essary feels the total will be close to $37 million. This year, Essary estimates, between 20 and 30 hundred-grand-and-up quarter horse races will be run around the country.

The magnetic effect of a million dollar race is spreading. The harness folks at the Meadowlands in New Jersey have developed an event for older horses, one earmarked for big bucks stature. This past summer, the purse, thanks to an added money infusion of some $400,000, got jacked up to the $800,000 range.

As we understand it, the same outfit will now be housing the famed Hambletonian, and the hope is the purse will reach $1 million in 1980. What they have in mind is a $1½ million purse in 1981, and maybe $2 million within a couple of years. Los Alamitos, the quarter horse emporium on the West Coast, developed the Skoal Dash For Cash Futurity, and the purse was in the $700,000 range.

So it seems racing is now opening the door on a new era—the era of the Super Race. An abundance of super races, in fact. No doubt the thoroughbred folks will be orchestrating a million dollar race (as if it would be needed).

The odd aspect of the Ruidoso picture is the fact the Derby, supposedly a kid brother spinoff of the Futurity, would emerge with that $1.5 million purse—thus becoming the world's richest race. This situation, though, will prevail for only one season. Starting in 1981, the Derby will be pared back to $1 million, and the Futurity will test its wings at $1.5 million.

Essary sees nothing but good things in the emergence of the Derby as a financial super power. The emphasis, he says, is being spread out to include the three-year-olds. He doesn't foresee a case where an owner might back out of the Futurity to concentrate on the Derby a year later, but he says a horse who appears "marginal" in his two-year-old season could be re-directed at the Derby. In short, we no longer have a kind of desperate, go-for-broke, once-in-a-lifetime attitude regarding a horse's two-year-old season. There's always next year, and the All-American Derby.

A main impact of the two million dollar races is this: more people will be included to breed, raise and race quarter horses. "The result should be a 'trickling' effect down to the grass roots of the industry," Essary said. All of which has extremely positive aspects, he feels.

Ruidoso has already taken the next logical steps, and will unveil big scale events for four-year-olds. The Rainbow Silver Cup comes up next year, offering $100,000 or so. In 1982, the All-American Gold Cup figures to get rolling with a purse in the $300,000-or-up range.

The credit, though, for all these big money races—and for the very status of quarter horse racing today—belongs to the All-American Futurity. That's the race that started it all. It's been a millionaire since 1972, and it keeps getting richer.

Champions start out as claimers

BY DICK ALWAN

A claiming horse is usually considered a kind of low-brow cellar-dweller, a cheap club fighter chained to his depressed economic level.

But often a claimer gets so good he doesn't know his own strength. At times, he can crack down the social barriers and turn into the most magical of things — a stakes winner.

Once, at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Arkansas, trainer Buffalo Wooten spotted a three-year-old with a glint of promise. He picked him up on a $4,500 claim, took him to Ruidoso, and won the lucrative Ruidoso Derby. That claimer-turned-hero was Hempens Book.

Another $4,500 gem Wooten picked up was Scenic Dancer, who also went on to win the Ruidoso Derby. Wooten likes to tell about the gray mare, Luminescence. He got her on a $1,500 claim, and won about six or eight races with her. "In fact, there was only one race we lost," he once said. "That's when the saddle slipped. Later, I lost her on a $5,000 claim."

Trainer Whitley Nolen was the man behind the long-time Ruidoso handicap star, Cutarusty. But Nolen isn't shy about reminding you that Cutarusty — before he turned into such a heavyweight — was once risked in a $4,500 claiming race. The gelding earned $77,000 before hanging up his running shoes.

Fans at Sunland Park have clear memories of the gray flash, Dancing Man. Once again, it was a case of an owner not realizing the potential on his hands. Dancing Man raced a couple of times for $3,500 or so, wasn't taken, and later emerged as a stakes champion.

During the 1979-80 Sunland Park season, one of the highest claiming prices — $8,000 — was paid for Ernest Scout. There were five or so transactions at $7,500.

The most unfortunate claim of the Sunland season concerned Swinging Duke, who was taken for $2,000 October 26, but broke down in that race and had to be destroyed. So the new owners shelled out two grand for a dead horse.

Trainer Bob Arnett, who has as much horse sense as anyone when it comes to the ins and outs of claiming, once got caught in an odd squeeze play. Thanks to a hunch, though, he came out okay. "That was a few years ago at Albuquerque," Bob said. "There was a filly dropping down in class to $2,500, and I put in a claim. But a lot of other people liked her too. There was a total of 17 claims."

Matters took an ugly turn when the filly came out of the race with a badly injured leg, and there was some question as to whether she'd survive. The stewards rounded up the 17 who had submitted claims. The new owner was to be decided by lot, as is usual in this case.

The idea of having to fork over $2,500 for a crippled horse isn't exactly the thing that makes an owner's day. "I had a strong feeling we were going to get her," Bob said.

Off the top of his head, he came up with a sleek idea. What about having those 17 claimants put up $100 each in "insurance" money? Thus, whoever gets the filly wouldn't be hurt too badly. All 17 liked the idea, and forked over the cash, and sure enough, when they drew lots, the unlucky fellow was Bob's client, William Hudson of Artesia.

So Hudson handed over $200 ($2,500 less $1,700) for the privilege of taking the injured filly home. Luckily though, she didn't need surgery. They put her in a cast, she survived, and later produced a couple of colts, one of which did fairly well in allowance company.

Currently, Arnett runs a string of 30-35 horses, and about three quarters are claimers. So he spends a good part of his day either wheeling and dealing at the claiming box, or planning his moves. Obviously, there are risks, but he said the worrying stops when he goes to pick up the horse right after the race, and sees that the animal came through in fine shape. "That's when you start to feel alright about it," he said.

His all-time favorite is Ahba's Bull, who's set a world record for 6½ furlongs in his early days. But when Arnett claimed him (that was nearly 20 years ago), Ahba's Bull was leg-weary, sore, and about seven years old. "That was the first horse I'd ever claimed, and we paid $3,500 for him," he said.

Back then, there was a young rider starting out by the name of Willie Lovell. He weighed only 65 pounds, so Arnett used Lovell to work out Ahba's Bull. Lovell's light poundage didn't put much strain on the animal's mileage-worn legs.

Ahba's Bull regained his running appetite, and won the Inaugural Purse at Ruidoso three years in a row, and the Ruidoso Mile another three years straight, and the Speed Championship at 5½ furlongs, and "a bunch of races" at Tucson and Phoenix.

"I owned him in partnership with J. C. Watson, an auto parts dealer in Tucson," Arnett said. "We had him about five years, and he'd win about eight or nine races a year. He ran out about $80,000 for us."

About five years ago, Arnett claimed Savannah Lark for $5,000, and Savannah Lark turned into an $70 yard genius, and earned $130,000.

Arnett also hit it big with Tray Bar, "a bad-legged son of a gun" he'd picked up on a $1,000 claim. "I ran him for $4,500, or $2,500, or whatever. He'd always win. All together, he won 33 races — most of them for me."

A REALISTIC APPROACH
During inflation (and we're in it!), there's an excellent case for investing in real estate. Most of the investment is paid for with borrowed money. Someone else's fixed-dollar savings provides your mortgage money. Even though home prices have risen several notches each year, a mortgage loan is the only way the average consumer can borrow long-term money.

This, then, is your big chance to turn inflation to your advantage. Your mortgage gives you full-price dollars to work with today. You then pay them back with cheaper dollars you will be earning for the next 20 to 30 years. On top of that, with an average 10% inflation rate, home values double in about 7 years.

This isn't a cynical approach. It's realistic. In fact, one of the main reasons why many wealthy individuals continue to make big real estate investments. And you can do the same with a home that you own and need anyway.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at DEVON DEVELOPMENT, INC., 2904 Sudderrth Drive, Box 1864, Ruidoso. Phone: 257-5511. We're here to help!

Parks given facelift

Most people have heard the hackneyed expression, "New and Improved!" so many times that they tend to ignore the object of such "advertising."

But in the case of Ruidoso's public park facilities, the term has seldom been more appropriate.

Village employees are currently engaged in completing facelifts on both Two Rivers and Schoolhouse Parks. With completion of work on the municipal swimming pool expected by Memorial Day weekend, both parks will be offering more to tourists and locals alike this summer.

The most extensive improvements have been taking place at Two Rivers Park, where the list of new facilities is impressive: 42 concrete tables, 19 wood tables, 36 grills, additional trash receptacles, bridges, a sprinkler system, gravel paths, pads for handicapped fishing and a new Ramada or shelter, with restrooms. In addition, 120 trees (aspen and dogwood) and 200 forsythia shrubs were or are being planted at Two Rivers.

Total cost of the project was pegged at $120,000, with the federal Department of the Interior providing 50 percent of the cost; the state Department of Natural Resources providing 25 percent and the village, 25 percent. Much of the local obligation was satisfied with "in kind services," (labor provided by village employees).

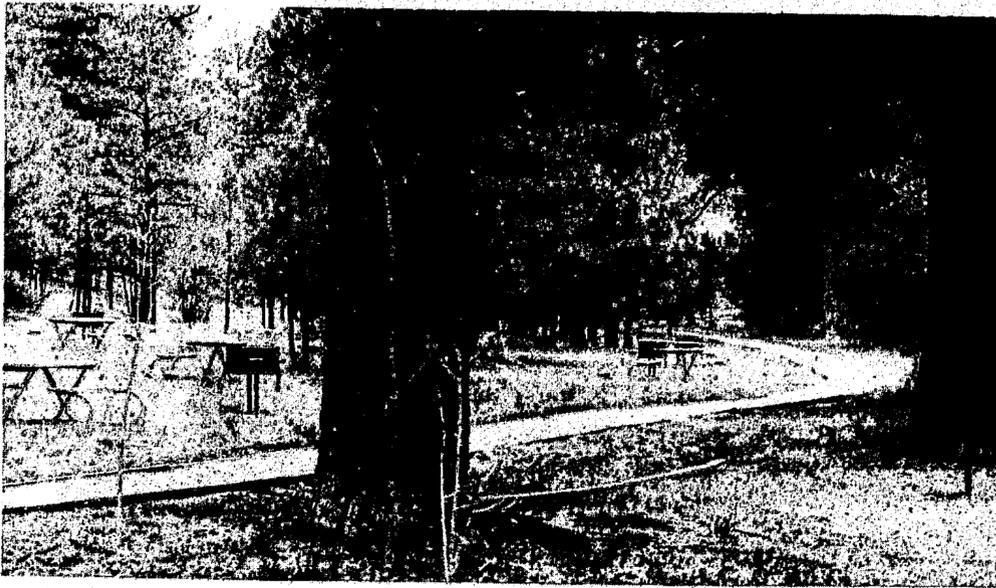

Replastering and painting of the village's swimming pool at Schoolhouse Park is also underway, and pool manager Cheryl Durham said Friday the pool will open "by May 31," and possibly sooner, if the work can be completed.

Other improvements include painting of picnic tables, landscaping, and pinball machines, which will grace the snack bar area at the pool. Pool hours will remain noon to 5 p.m., daily, Durham said, with the usual adult swimming hour from 5 to 6 p.m. Swimming classes for all ages will be offered, and Durham hopes to establish water exercise classes and a swimming program for senior citizens.

In addition to Durham, who is a certified Water Safety Instructor (SWI), the pool staff will include Sally Womack, SI; Ellen "Buzz" Bizzell, lifeguard; and Jenny Delhotal, cashier.

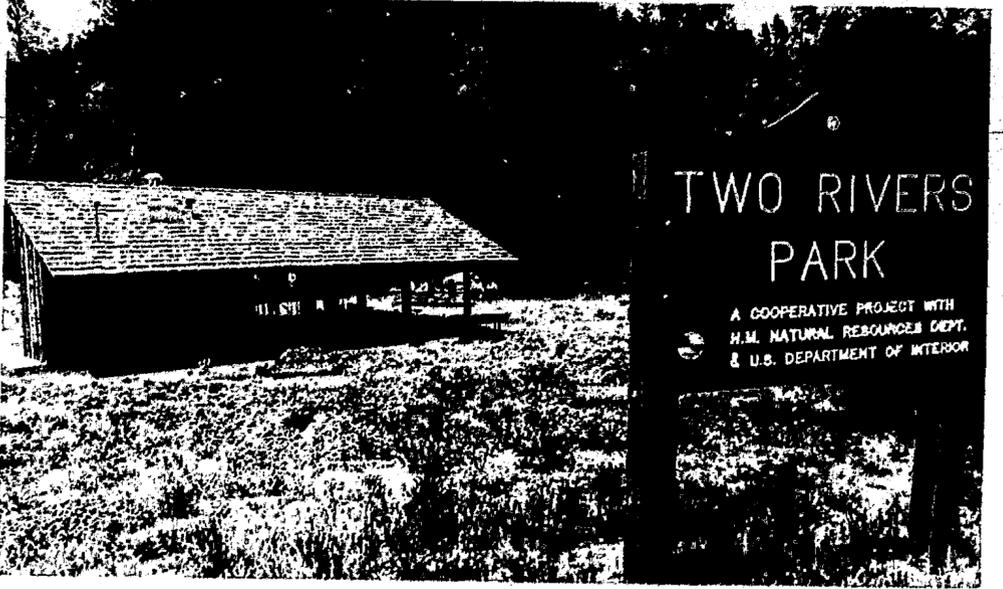

Village officials are looking into the feasibility of enclosing the pool. An outside source of funding would probably have to be found for such a project, however, since the parks department receives no funding except that acquired through the tax on cigarettes sold within the village, according to village administrative assistant Frank Potter.

WINDING GRAVEL PATHS and additional picnic facilities are some of the improvements made at Two Rivers Park over the past few months.

RUIDOSO'S SWIMMING POOL is receiving an annual facelift in preparation for opening by Memorial Day. Scraping away at the old plaster with putty knives and youthful enthusiasm are pool employees Buzz Bizzell, left, and Sally Womack.

A NEW RAMADA, left, which provides most noticeable improvements recently equipment storage and restrooms, is one of the completed at Two Rivers Park.
