Water superintendent Jim Goodman resigns

Water Superintendent Jim Goodman Tuesday evening submitted his written resignation to the village trustees, effective August 15.

Goodman advised the trustees he had accepted the position of Water Production Superintendent at Flagstaff, Arizona, a city of, he said, "about 50,000."

His main duty, he said, will be to "initiate a program of capital improvements in an overall project to cost $20 million."

Goodman began working for the village in October of 1974 as a laboratory technician and, after earning his Level Four Certificate as a Water/Wastewater Operator, was named Water Superintendent in October of 1976.

During his tenure, the treated water storage was doubled and the village increased the capacity of the treating plants from 1.5 million gallons daily to the present 4.5 million gallons that can be treated each 24 hours.

"I certainly thank all Ruidoso water users for the excellent cooperation given me during the recent water shortage," he said, "and I also am most appreciative of the cooperation I've received from the village trustees, village clerk Jim Hine and administrative assistant Frank Potter while I've been employed by the water department."

JIM GOODMAN

Water cost study planned

The village trustees Tuesday evening asked Boyle Engineering representative Ted Hogsett, Albuquerque, to submit a cost estimate to conduct an analysis of present water rates.

Hogsett advised the trustees that the water rate analysis should be conducted to "look into the cost of producing water over the next three years," as a means to "combat inflation."

After the analysis, Hogsett said, the village could develop a plan "designed to help capital improvements and to pay the costs of replacement as well as expansion of the system." He then said that revenues from the water department should cover "all operational expenses plus a little money left over for a sinking fund," for future development.

"What the village needs," Hogsett said, "is a combination of well and surface water," to insure an adequate supply of raw and treated water at all times.

Water superintendent Jim Goodman advised the trustees that "Alto Lake is about sixty percent full and we have from 40 to 45 million gallons of water on hand." He also said, "the watering ban should be continued until the lake is back to normal level." Goodman advised the trustees that the one million gallon treated water storage tank in the Kingswood addition "should be completed by August 8."

Goodman also advised the trustees that Boyle Engineering has been "working on additional surface water to go with our ground water," that would provide additional water reserves for the Gateway, Camelot and Pinecliff areas.

THE TRUSTEES APPROVED Resolution 80-5, changing excavation methods in the village. The resolution requires a $200 deposit, with the village clerk, at the time of filing an application to excavate a street.

The resolution has a prohibition clause: "It shall be unlawful for any person to tunnel under or to make excavation in any street, alley or other public place in the village. Such excavations shall be made exclusively by the village street department upon application to the village clerk," under the provisions of the ordinance.

In other business, the trustees:

— Accepted the bid of EMCO, Plainview, Texas, in the amount of $68,473.33 for two new refuse removal trucks. Also bidding was Contractor's Equipment and Supply Company, Albuquerque, with a figure of $78,000.

— Authorized the formation of a Personnel Board, with one member to be an employee of the village and with the mayor to appoint a chairman, and from one to three board members, subject to confirmation by the trustees.

— Adopted Resolution 80-11, authorizing payment of $111 membership dues in the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District.

— Endorsed the area plan of the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation and Development.

— Authorized implementation of cycle billing for utility accounts, to enable the billing to be completed soon after the meters are read.

— Approved a replat of lots 138A, 139A, and 142A in Innsbrook Village, as approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

— Were advised by Jack La May, street superintendent, that street work under cooperative agreement funding from the state, would be completed within a few days. He also advised the trustees that the street patching program would be continued.

— Were advised by village attorney Ron Harris that all occupation license holders that have not paid, after being twice notified by registered mail that the fee was due, will be assessed on the basis of estimated income. The trustees approved the estimated figures submitted by Harris.

— Accepted the resignation of water superintendent Jim Goodman, effective August 15.

Billy the Kid's escape Old Lincoln Days feature

Old Lincoln Days will kick off in Lincoln Friday night when Billy the Kid returns to his old stomping grounds for the "Last Escape of Billy the Kid" Pageant. Other activities scheduled during the three day celebration include a Pony Express race Saturday, arts and crafts exhibits Saturday and Sunday, a Saturday afternoon fiddling contest, and a parade Sunday afternoon.

Billy the Kid will escape from the Old

Lincoln County jail in four performances of the reenactment of his final days — Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, 8:30 p.m., and Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

The pageant tells the story of William Bonney, who, as a young man, migrated to the west from New York. He went to work for one faction of the famed Lincoln County War, which was the beginning of Bonney, nicknamed "Billy the Kid," became involved in the range war and eventually became a hunted outlaw. He met with New Mexico Governor Lew Wallace to discuss alternatives open to the Kid in the pending trial on charges of murder. However, he was later doublecrossed, captured, and held in the Lincoln County Courthouse, which doubled as a jail. The Kid escaped from the jail, killing two deputies in the process.

Other activities planned include the Pony Express ride which will begin at White Oaks following an open invitation breakfast at 8:30 a.m., Saturday. The riders will carry genuine mail with a post mark signifying it was carried by Pony Express. The race, which now has four teams entered, will end in Lincoln about 10 a.m.

Teams planning to enter the Pony Express race should contact Lois Clements in Picacho at 653-4033. Entries will be taken up to 30 minutes before the race starts.

Also on tap Saturday is a fiddler's contest at 1:30 p.m., which is open to anyone willing to play some foot tappin' music. Participants can register on pageant grounds prior to the contest, or can obtain more details from Lewis Purcella in Roswell at 622-1920.

Sunday's activities begin at 1:30 p.m., with a parade starting at the east end of Lincoln.

The arts and crafts fair, which now has 25 entries, will be set up near the old church in Lincoln. It will be open from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

Food booths will be set up near the pageant grounds and balloon rides will be available behind Old Lincoln School. Turtle races will be held for children 12 and under, with winners receiving tickets to the pageant.

Red Flag alert signs due here

Collapsible signs warning travelers that a Red Flag Fire Alert is in effect in the Ruidoso area may be placed along highways in this region by October, according to correspondence received from the New Mexico Highway Department (NMHD).

The Committee for Insuring Ruidoso's Environment (ComFIRE) requested the NMHD place signs at all entrances to Ruidoso, so people entering the village would know that extreme fire conditions exist and extreme caution should be used when working with fire.

Herb Brunell, ComFIRE chairman, said Tuesday that he received letters which indicated signs may be placed in time for the October and November fire season. He said the design of the signs will be eight inch red letters on a white background which could be folded down when not in use, similar to the warning signs for chains on ski run road.

Brunell said Ken Schein, who helped write the Red Flag program and is now working in Santa Fe for the New Mexico Mexico Department of Forestry, was instrumental in getting priority for the project.

"Ken (Schein) wrote a letter on our behalf explaining the program, and also spread the word for us in the state offices," Brunell said.

Downs may increase water fees

A water service fee increase of 50 cents per month for regular and standby water customers was proposed Monday night by Ruidoso Downs trustees.

The increase, if given final approval at a later meeting, would provide funds for repayment of a loan from the state. The loan, which was officially accepted at the Monday meeting, is to be combined with a grant of $18,000 and is intended to finance improvements to the water system in the Las Lomas area of Ruidoso Downs.

The fee increase would generate over $2,000 per year, which would enable the village to repay the loan in four years. The state approved a loan of up to $18,000 for the emergency water improvements, but village clerk Virginia Spill advised the trustees that the total project cost would be $25,446, meaning they would require only about $7,000 of the loan monies available, once the grant was received.

The trustees also discussed at length the enactment of an ordinance to establish rates for sewer service, including tap fees, reconnect fees and monthly service charges.

It was generally agreed that monthly fees should be tied to the amount of water use, but special categories of fees would have to be created for commercial users and for businesses and individuals who were to be served by the sewer system but are not receiving municipal water service, such as the racetrack.

The village itself will be charged a per gallon fee for sewage treatment by the Regional Wastewater Joint Use Board. Village officials will be checking with other municipalities and track officials before drafting the ordinance locally.

A special meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m., August 4 to meet with engineers, village attorney Richard Parsons and the sewer system contractors to speed the establishment of the ordinance.

In other business, the trustees:

— Accepted the bid of $14,433 from Service Contractors for a pump station and line for the village water system.

— Approved an annual joint powers agreement with the Southeast New Mexico Economic Development District for 1980.

Rio Grande Futurity Sunday

Sunday's Night, a gray filly owned by Sam Henderson of Odessa, Texas, appears to have a hammerlock on Sunday's renewal of the Rio Grande Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The six furlong spin for New Mexico-bred two-year-olds offers a total purse of $32,500 and hands the winner $16,250.

Sunday's Night appears to be in a class by herself, so Ruidoso patrons are expected to turn her loose as a standout favorite. The filly will be gunning for her sixth win of the meeting.

In last week's trials, Sunday's Night made a mockery of the affair by trotting home with an 8 1/2 length lead as an even money favorite. Earlier in the meeting, she walloped maidens by nearly six lengths, then boomed in with a 5 1/2 length win in the trials for the Kindergarten Futurity at four furlongs.

In the Kindergarten finale, Sunday's Night finished fourth behind the sensational Bold Ego. That was her only disappointment at the meeting.

But Sunday's Night erased the sting of defeat by rolling to a 3/4 length win in the four furlong Norgor Futurity June 29. She raked in $32,331 out of the $64,762 gross purse.

When Sunday's Night steps into the starting gate for the Rio Grande, she'll carry a career record of five wins and a third from seven starts. She's banked nearly 40 grand so far.

Another big winner in last week's Rio Grande trials was Risque Lady, a filly owned by Preston Howard of Anthony. Risque Lady made the second start of her career and came home with a 5 1/2 length lead as an 8-5 favorite. In her racing debut July 11, she easily put away maidens by 2 1/2 lengths.

But Ruidoso patrons are likely to decide Risque Lady will need a bit more seasoning before she'll be ready to handle the likes of Sunday's Night.

In addition to Sunday's Night and Risque Lady, the Rio Grande field will consist of Draconic's Lady, Up The Pay, Alaskan Star, Area Drive, Ben A Battle, Draconic Spoke, Red Zip Man and Gayla's Love.

Draconic's Lady, who ran second to Sunday's Night in the trials, holds a career record of three seconds from three starts. Like the most in the field, she seems to be in over her head, now having to face both Sunday's Night and Risque Lady.

Bin A Battle overturned maidens June 5, then finished second against allowance company. In the trials, Bin A Battle took a distant second to Sunday's Night.

The weekend schedule also includes the eighth edition of the Ruidoso Downs Summer Sale for thoroughbreds and quarter horses. Over 140 head have been consigned. The Sale will be staged Friday and Saturday evenings in the All-American Sales Arena on the track grounds.

Each of the two sessions begins at 7:30 p.m. The first session will offer 60 broodmares (including 22 with foals at their sides); four weanlings and two stallions. The second session offers 22 quarter horse yearlings, 33 thoroughbred yearlings and 19 horses of racing age. The leading consignor is the Game Racing Stables of Bosque, with 15 head.

'Billy the Kid' pageant first produced in 1941

BY GWYNETH JONES
Staff Writer/Photographer

The annual reenactment of the "Last Escape of Billy the Kid," is taken for granted by most Lincoln County residents, but it was an ambitious project for the small group of citizens who put together that first production back in 1941.

Louise (Mrs. Wilbur) Coe is one of the few who remembers how the pageant originated, and how the people of Lincoln County responded with enthusiasm and hard work to develop the project.

In 1940, while she was serving as a state senator representing this area, the legislature allocated funds to each county to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the settlement of New Mexico by Europeans.

Her husband, whose father Frank Coe had participated in the Lincoln County War, "on the side of Billy the Kid," suggested a reenactment of Billy's escape, and the county Historical Society, of which he was president, took on the sponsorship of the first pageant.

A professional script writer was hired with the state funds, and the first show was staged on Lincoln's main street.

Later, the Historical Society took on the construction of the pageant grounds, and the people of the county rallied to provide guns and horses for use in the show, a free barbecue which preceded the performance, and labor to install lighting and construct the seating, building facades and other props.

The pageant was abandoned after 1941 because of World War II, but it was revived in 1948. Many of the early cast members are still active in the pageant itself or arrangements for the production.

Some of the early participants included Peter Hurd, Johnny Davis, John Thomas, Tommy Taylor, Earl Taylor, Bill Schrecengost Sr., Dan Storm, Bert Pfingsten, Leroy McKnight, Art Coleman, Forrest Gaston, Bernard Rooney, Ralph Dunlap, Peg Pfingsten, Mrs. Wilburn McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Maes, Mrs. and Mrs. Ramon Nunez, and others.

Some aspects of the earliest pageants are missing from the modern performances, although the same basic script is still in use, Mrs. Coe said.

Bruce Griffith of Ruidoso Downs composed an original song, "Sleepy Lincoln Town," which was sung by another local, Ray Reed, during the performances. An orchestra was also employed, Mrs. Coe said, to provide additional music.

"We had them playing behind the scenes, just as they do in a big theatre," she said.

"We had such crowds," at the first performances, she said, "and all the admission fees were returned to the historical society" to finance the continuation of the pageant.

The pageant grounds were donated to the historical society, which later deeded the grounds to the state. During the past two years, the Old Lincoln Days activities have been organized through volunteer committees under the Lincoln County Development Association.

Grants to help finance the activities have been provided by the Lincoln Heritage Trust. This year's admission proceeds will be used to provide prizes for parade and fiddler's contest winners, and as seed money for next year's performance, according to Betty Schrecengost, head of the pageant committee. Her daughter-in-law Diane, will direct the production and her son Bill will again play the part of Billy the Kid.

All the dramatic parts will be played, as always, by the Lincoln residents, and their attitude about the pageant is in keeping with the spirit of early participants like the Coes.

ODESSA STANDOUT—Sunday's Night, a filly owned by Sam Henderson of Odessa, Texas, looms as a powerhouse in the $32,500 Rio Grande Futurity at Ruidoso Downs Sunday. The filly has already won five races this summer and earned nearly $40,000. Last week, she boomed in with a stunning 8 1/2 length lead. Carlos Rivas is the rider.

Mescalero's summer school has student appeal

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer/Photographer

Summer school might seem like drudgery to some, but to youths participating in such a program at Mescalero, the idea has its appealing features.

The summer classes are being funded through the Johnson O'Malley Committee and Education Department (lower six grades) and the Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) funds grades 7-12.

Overseer of the secondary program is Jim Rawhouser, director of Health Professions Recruitment for the Mescalero Apache Tribe. Rawhouser said his office is designed to increase the number of Indian people in health professions. "The object is to have Indian health services manned by Indians."

Rawhouser and several others obtained necessary funding to sponsor an education program for nine weeks this summer, and hired five instructors and four aides to teach American history/government, math, English and science. Rawhouser oversees only the upper grades, and while attendance is voluntary, the youths have learned something in the nine week session.

Rawhouser said he has received feedback to indicate "classes are on the same par as regular classes." He said the quality may be even better because class size is small, each student's work is individualized and incentive programs give students more motivation.

Rawhouser said students who complete the course in a satisfactory manner will receive one semester of credit from Ruidoso High School, which can be transferred to Tularosa High School, if necessary.

An "incentive award" program also allows each student to earn up to $4 per week, maximum $36 for the summer, in math and English classes for doing superior work.

Although the program began with nearly 80 students, attendance has dropped to around 20. Teachers are not frustrated, however. "You can't tell these kids what to do every minute - you can't run their lives," Tom Yang, a science teacher, said.

"We don't have as many rules here, which makes it easier," he added. Yang said he has one student who spends only a half hour a day in class and studies furiously at home. "We've been able to cover a lot this summer," he said.

The schedule is designed to give students two hours of class time and a break, followed by two more hours of study for some. Class time varies, depending on when the student finishes his/her work.

But all the youths agree that it was time well spent. For many, the incentive for perfect attendance is earning a semester of credit. But they also like their teachers. Mike Crocker, who teaches American History, "explains things better" than other teachers. Crocker planned two field trips for his class, to the petroglyphs and Lincoln.

The kids also like the individual attention they receive and some admit that going to school "keeps us out of trouble." Rawhouser said the enrollees also receive vocational counseling through his office. "We have sat down and tried to determine what they want to accomplish in a career."

In addition, Rawhouser said about 30 youths attend one class a day and then work in CETA jobs in Mescalero. He said movement toward the goal of "identifying a group of kids to get into health profession" careers has been aided greatly by the program.

"Most of these kids are just grateful for the opportunity to attend summer school," he said.

TOM GRAHAM, owner of the Ruidoso Ben Franklin store, has been elected to serve on the 1980 National Advisory Board representing the 177 Ben Franklin stores in the Dallas region. The organization meets yearly, and has scheduled its 1980 meeting for October in Chicago. Owner of the Ruidoso outlet three years, Graham said he was elected by other store owners in the Dallas region for the second year in a row.

A Child is Waiting

"Are they twins?" ask people who meet Theresa and Lisa for the first time. At an initial glance, they do seem very much alike. Both are small, lively girls, with dark skin, ready smiles and neat ponytails. They are not shy, excitedly talking about their hobbies, their love of sports, their desire for ice cream cones.

However, like many sisters who are close in age and similar in looks, Theresa and Lisa are far different from each other in personality. Theresa is almost ten, the older of the sisters now waiting to be adopted. She is a thin, talkative, sometimes aggressive little girl who likes to mother Lisa, roller skate, draw pictures, and help out at home. Lisa is almost nine, a quieter, easier version of her older sister, calmer, not as strong, a seeker of attention. But she is also an active child, enjoying baseball, roller skating, visits to the zoo.

Theresa and Lisa are now in a foster home, waiting for a permanent family. They have lived with their mother in years past, but periodically have been placed in temporary homes. For a year now they have been with one foster family, sharing a bedroom, helping out with chores, learning to swim and taking part in family activities. They want to continue this secure, family-based life with an adoptive family.

"They'll just blossom once they have the security of a permanent family," said the adoption worker as she described the two sisters. The worker recommends that therapy be started with Theresa and Lisa now, and that their new family perhaps join them in counseling sessions. "They have to learn to understand and talk about the problems they suffered when they were younger, and the reasons for their being placed for adoption," she said.

On the other hand, like so many older children who have never known the security of a permanent, loving family, Theresa and Lisa are basically healthy, strong individuals. They, and many children like them, await families who can understand them, listen to them, enjoy them, love them. For further information about Theresa and Lisa, or other adoptable children, call Susan Washam at 437-0030 in Alamogordo.

Marketplace set at Carrizozo

An atmosphere of "old fashioned family fun" is planned for Sunday, August 10, in Carrizozo. The annual People's Marketplace is scheduled for that day, in conjunction with the Santa Rita Fiesta. The Marketplace, which will be set up in Spencer Park, will feature arts and crafts displays, booths selling fresh garden produce, flowers, authentic homemade Mexican food, homemade ice cream, canned goods and many more items. Dancing entertainment will be featured throughout the day, and a clown will be present to amuse the children. Other children's activities will include pinata breaking.

Handmade quilts also will be featured in a fund raising activity. Anyone wishing to reserve a booth should contact Mary Ellen Payne, Box 217, Carrizozo, 88301, or call 448-2311. Cost of a booth space is five dollars. Payne and Rene Burton of Carrizozo are chairing the marketplace committee on behalf of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce. All exhibitors should have their wares "set up" by 10 a.m., on the day of the event. Activities will conclude at 6 p.m.

With qualifying rounds

32nd Cree Meadows tournament tees off Monday

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

The 32nd Annual Cree Meadows Golf Invitational will begin Monday afternoon with qualifying rounds for the championship and first flights.

And the four day tournament, which had been planned for 160 golfers but was cut back to 128 due to a shortage of carts, is now back up to 160 players — 16 flights of 16 golfers each.

"We've got a heck of a tournament in store," Cree Meadows resident professional Bob Hickson enthusiastically said Wednesday. "We've got some super players, and some of 'em have really been tearing up the course."

Among those are last year's second place finisher Carlton Blewett, who won this year's Conrad Hilton Open Golf Tournament and who covered the 6,478 yard par 71 Cree Meadows course with a six under par 65 Tuesday; and Tommy Hornbuckle, who has shot five 63s on the course in the past two weeks.

The tournament actually kicks off Sunday at 1 p.m., with an 18 hole scramble. The scramble is open to anyone who wants to play, Hickson said, and entry fee is $10, which includes cart.

Tuesday's round in the match play tournament will begin in the morning as the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth flights tee off. The championship, first, second, third and fourth flights will tee off Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday's round will feature a long driving contest, with a special senior division for golfers over 50.

The tourney concludes Thursday, with semi-final matches in the morning and final rounds in the afternoon.

Social activities planned include a cocktail party Monday night at 7, and a dinner dance for all players and their wives Tuesday night.

"Our course has really shaped up well after the recent rain," Hickson said. "The greens and tees were all pretty good anyway, but the fairways were a little dry. The whole course is very playable."

Besides Blewett and Hornbuckle, other top players who will be competing for the title include: Leroy Gooch, Ruidoso High School golf coach and defending Cree Meadows champion; John Fields of El Paso, who recently finished second in the Sun Country Amateur Tournament; Ernie Fresques, former Conrad Hilton Open champ and a former city champion in Albuquerque; Jake Broyles of La Mesa, Texas, the 1977 and 1978 Cree Meadows winner;

Jerry Jones of Carlsbad, a city champion there; Mark Saxton, who placed fourth in the tourney last year; Mark Smith of La Mesa, who has played in the championship flight the last four years; Ted Martinez of Ruidoso, a greenskeeper at the Inn of the Mountain Gods and a former city champion in Albuquerque; Dan Wimberly of Ruidoso, who won the recent Snowcapper tourney at Alto Lakes Golf Course; Stormy Edwards, a 22 year veteran of the Cree Meadows course;

Dave Kreezer, a "tough player," Hickson said; Doug Bass of Ruidoso and Ken Means of Carrizozo, both of whom finished second in the Snowcapper tourney; Dee Broyles, son of former champion Jake Broyles; Ed Mayer of San Angelo, Texas, who sank a hole in one in last year's tournament; and Charlie Edwards, who will be playing in his 32nd consecutive Cree Meadows tournament, not having missed any since its inception.

Also playing will be: Ralph Barnes,

Los Esteros drained, fish die

The state's newest warm-water reservoir, Los Esteros, has been emptied of the 26,000 acre feet of water impounded since the dam gates were closed in April, setting back Game and Fish Department efforts to establish recreational fishing there.

The agency had stocked 300,000 walleye fry from Rock Lake Rearing Station, 75,000 largemouth bass, 100,000 smallmouth bass, plus 75,000 largemouth and smallmouth bass fingerlings and 1,500 white bass four to six inches long.

Crappie from the Logan area had also been transplanted into Los Esteros, and the department had been stocking the Pecos River in the vicinity for the past year with bluegill, channel catfish, and white bass. Many of the fish were lost during passage through the dam gates, although close estimates on numbers are not possible.

Surviving fish will probably travel downriver, although a few will stay in what remains of the lake, department fisheries biologists believe.

Richard McCleskey, chief of the department's Fisheries Division, said Los Esteros was constructed primarily as an irrigation and flood control reservoir, and no minimum recreation pool was provided for.

Rights to the water are owned by the Carlsbad Irrigation District (CID) which was responsible for the draining. The dam is seven miles north of Santa Rosa.

"It was a record water year on the upper Pecos, and the fish were planted with the thought the high water run-off into the reservoir would be adequate for the fish," McCleskey said.

The department had requested CID leave a 500 acre foot pool, which probably would have been adequate to keep the fish in the lake and alive.

Sportin' Life

... a column of opinion ...

by

Mark Bagby

Well, Bob Gregson — who is a bigwig in the Ruidoso Sertoma Soccer Association and who also happens to be a chef, and a heckuva good one at that — had a few comments about my query about the British Open being played in Scotland.

But dear Robert — who also happens to hail from Merrie Olde England — called me and told me it's called the British Open, because England, Scotland and Wales form Great Britain.

And if Bob doesn't know, his wife Susan — who is from Wales — should know. So the "British Faction" has made its comments.

While we're on this subject, anyone know why it's called England? I do, I do ... a people known as the Angles (which is where we get the term Anglo, as in Anglo-Saxon) used to inhabit the isle. So, it was referred to as Angle-land, which was later shortened and modified to England.

So much for today's history lesson. (Golly, I hope that's right. I get enough phone calls as it is.)

Something's rotten in Denmark — is that near Carlsbad?

Have you heard about Los Esteros Lake up near Santa Rosa? It's a flood control-irrigation lake built by the Carlsbad Irrigation District (CID), and it had 26,000 acres of water in until CID let the water out recently.

It also had at least 551,500 fish in it, according to New Mexico Department of Game and Fish figures. The Game and Fish folks had been stocking the lake for some time, so apparently they either assumed or were told the lake would be just fine for recreational fishing.

Then somewhere along the way, CID released the water, and many of those fish were killed as water went through the floodgates, and those remaining in the lake don't have much water and chances of survival look slim.

The clincher to this story is, if 500 acre feet of water had been left in the lake, they'd have lost nary a fish.

I haven't heard why CID decided to let out the water. I'd sure like to know why, though — especially since you and I have been saddled with a tax bill for 551,500 fish. Dead ones, at that.

Hum for fun
Don't forget the August 30 nine mile run sponsored by Inn of the Mountain Gods. That's on a Saturday and it begins at 10 a.m., with registration beginning at 9 a.m. Entry fee is $5 ($4.50 if you register before Saturday morning), and there are four brackets for men and women — ages 10 and under, 11-17, 18-29 and 30 and over. Trophies will be awarded the first 10 finishers, and ribbons will be awarded the first three finishers in each division. Also, T-shirts will be given to all finishers.

The course, which starts a quarter mile below the Highway 24-Cloudcroft turnoff on Highway 70 West, is unimproved country road, with the exception of a three quarter mile stretch of paved road just before the finish line, in the west parking lot of the Inn.

For pre-registration and more information, contact Clifton M. Perkins, Mesalero Tribal Offices, 671-4494, or Del Seybold, Inn of the Mountain Gods, 257-5141.

Also, the Inn has a skeet shoot coming up August 16-17, a 12 gauge, 400 target shoot. Call Seybold or Bob Vaughn at the Inn for more information.

He's running fast
Congratulations are definitely in order to Dan Reeves, a United States Forest Service employee who recently ran from Capitan to Ruidoso.

(What?)
You read that right, all 19 miles he ran, covering the distance in two hours and 20 minutes, which is eight miles an hour or so.

Dan has been running about three years, his wife told me, and he had been working his way up to trying it. Finally, a couple of weeks ago, he had a day off and decided to give it a shot.

Now I'd have really been impressed if he'd turned around and ran home. (Just kidding, Dan — I don't know too many folks who could walk 19 miles, much less run it.)

Olympics? Eh...
Have you noticed the stories coming out of the Moscow Olympics aren't too interesting?

The best one I read was about the guys who competed this year — who happened to be real weak sisters. The article even accused the Soviets of sulking up athletes who wouldn't have made it otherwise, then flying them — at Russia's expense — to compete.

This may go down in history as the dullest Olympic Games ever held. I'm still wondering if the Russians will boycott the 1984 Games, which are to be held in Los Angeles.

Now that would be interesting!

Soccer meetings, registration set

The Ruidoso Sertoma Soccer Association (RSSA) is having a coaches' meeting tonight at 7 in the multi-purpose room of Ruidoso Public Library.

The meeting is for all current RSSA coaches and also for anyone interested in coaching in the 1980 fall season.

Also, a rules and regulations meeting will be held Sunday at 2 p.m., in the multi-purpose room for all current men and women players in the adult soccer league, and anyone interested in playing this fall.

Prospective players must be 18 or over, and those attending will elect representatives to the RSSA board of directors.

First day of registration for the 1980 fall season in Little League soccer is 5-8 p.m., Thursday, August 7.

Friday's registration will also run from 5-8 p.m., and Saturday's is from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the multi-purpose room of the library.

All players, regardless of previous participation, must register for the fall. Age limits are five through 16, and registration fee is $10. A parent must accompany the child, and all new players must present proof of age when registering.

Call Butch Grantman, 257-5061 or 257-7731, for more details.

Hunter safety course August 5-14

A hunter safety course will begin in Ruidoso August 5 from 7-9 p.m., at Ruidoso High School in the Driver Education room.

Dates for the course, taught by members of the Ruidoso Gun Club, are August 5, 6, 7, 9, 12, 13 and 14, and most of the sessions will be at night. If class times change, they will be announced at the first session.

The class will probably be free, and if there is any charge, it will be "nominal," said Game and Fish officer Randy Isler. All hunters under the age of 18 must successfully complete a hunter safety course before they can obtain a hunting license.

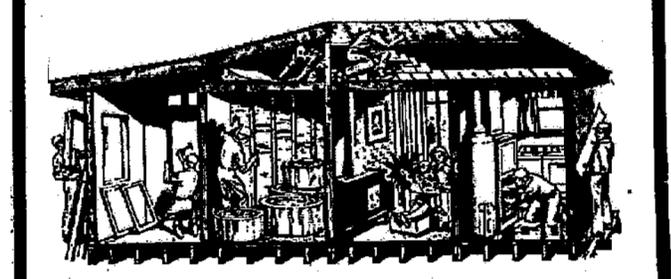

To enroll, simply attend the first session, Isler said.

Youth injured in motorcycle accident here

Gary W. Dickerson, 18, of Ruidoso Downs, was seriously injured late Wednesday night in a one-vehicle accident on Country Club Drive.

Police reports allege Dickerson lost control of his motorcycle near the Rush Go-Kart track when he attempted to negotiate a curve at a high rate of speed.

The cycle left the road and struck a set of concrete steps. Dickerson was thrown from the cycle and flew through the air, striking a metal pole.

No report of his condition was available, but the youth was transferred by MAST helicopter to an El Paso hospital.

Lynn headlining Fair entertainers

Loretta Lynn, the queen of country music, will lead off the list of all-star entertainers booked to headline the 10 night rodeo at the 1980 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

Loretta will be in the Tingley Coliseum spotlight for the first two nights, Thursday and Friday, September 11 and 12.

"The booking of Loretta Lynn at the fair is the culmination of several years of effort to bring her in," manager Bill Humphries said. "The board has been wanting to have her star at the rodeo for some time, and we're glad we've finally reached that goal."

Loretta has been immortalized this past year with the movie version of her autobiography, "Coal Miner's Daughter", which has been attracting big crowds all over the country. The film, with Sissy Spacek playing the title role, has brought Lynn brand new fans all over the world. Loretta, a native of eastern Kentucky, has been entertaining since she was 13 years old. Now she gives 123 concerts a year in cities around the globe.

Her first record was "Honky Tonk Girl", which she and her husband personally promoted to disk jockies around the country.

Since that time she has had numerous hit singles and albums, and has waxed some two dozen LP's which have been big sellers.

Starting in 1957, when she was named Country Music Association female vocalist of the year, she has been winning awards of all kinds for her talent including several Grammy awards.

Besides all of the concerts, she is constantly appearing as a guest on TV shows. All in all, she marks up more than 150,000 miles a year as the first lady of country music.

Loretta and her husband have six children, two of whom are still at home with them on their 3,500 acre ranch in eastern Kentucky.

The 43rd annual New Mexico State Fair—The Biggest Show In New Mexico—will be held in Albuquerque September 10 through 21, with the 17-day racing meet and quality horse shows starting September 5.

Dorothy Bell Knapp finds contentment in artistic career

Dorothy Bell Knapp considers herself a fortunate woman — for several reasons. First of all, she has successfully pursued a career doing what she loves most — painting. In addition, she's pursuing that career in the Hondo Valley east of Ruidoso, of which she said, "I wouldn't live anywhere else for anything in the world."

There was a bit of luck — or coincidence — involved in her becoming an artist. Growing up in a poor family in rural Arkansas, her talent might never have been cultivated had it not caught the attention of an artist who became her teacher.

She met that artist, Louis Freund, at the age of nine. He was the Carnegie Institute's Artist in Residence at Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas. It was unheard of for such a man to take young children as students, but Freund "apparently saw something worth developing" in her work. She studied with him for the next 11 years, receiving what she considers a technical background of incalculable worth, emphasizing "the fundamentals of drawing."

"I owe him so much," she added. "He and his wife gave me a life I probably couldn't have had otherwise." She occasionally sees her former teacher, she said, "and he always asks, 'do you still draw?'"

The answer is yes. Knapp now specializes in watercolors, pastels and charcoal drawings. Landscapes and southwestern character studies comprise the majority of her work, although at times, she would prefer to paint more "non-objective" or abstract works.

She has discovered, however, that the more realistic works sell more quickly and "much as you hate to, you have to consider what sells," in order to make a living.

"It would probably be an ultimate goal," she said, "to do just the kind of thing you want and not worry about what sells." In the meantime, she paints a few such works for her own pleasure.

Her career was postponed for a number of years following her first marriage and the subsequent arrival of two sons, Gordon and Dan. Her marriage brought her from Arkansas to Hobbs, and she made the move to the Ruidoso area in 1967 because she felt it was "a super place to raise kids — a wholesome environment out of the rat race."

As the children were growing up, she kept her artistic skills sharp through teaching — classes for children and later for adults at Carrizo Lodge.

In 1970, she married sculptor Tom Knapp and they moved to their present home and studio, and old dancehall known as the Buckhorn Bar, which had fallen into almost total disrepair — "a teetotal shambles," she said.

Through the application of the couple's creative drive, the "abandoned barn" structure has become a gracious, comfortable home, furnished with antiques, handmade furniture, and housing their extensive collection of Indian artifacts and the works of other artists.

The task of making the Buckhorn liveable was accomplished slowly, "with my job and Tom's sandwiched in between. I used to say it was a five year project, then a ten year project, and now I feel it's a lifetime project," she said.

The home also houses studio space and a showroom for the Knapps' work. "Tom has several studios, because of the nature of his work (bronze sculpture)" she said. Her studio, she added, is situated "in the most inaccessible part of the house," a location she prefers.

She would advise women artists — especially those with children — to find such a place to work.

"With a family and house, you have to be really dedicated, especially if the husband isn't involved in the arts. It's important to have a place away from the household, so that you aren't disturbed by what's going on there," she said.

Knapp said she paints "nearly every day." Painting must be regarded "like any other job," she said, "if you don't get up and get with it, it doesn't get done."

The notion that an artist must "wait until the mood strikes, is just not true,"

she said. "You have to get up and paint regardless of how you feel." And, she added, "Once you pick up the materials and start to use them, the mood comes."

Paintings in her favorite medium, watercolor, take the least time to complete. "With watercolor, if you spend over three or four hours on it, you've lost it, in my opinion," she said. Charcoal portraits take longer — three to eight hours, usually. Her pastel works, which she said are most popular with the public, are also more time consuming.

"There's no substitute for working on location or with live models," she said. She works from sketches and photographs when necessary, and recruits family and friends as models when possible.

The Knapps travel a great deal, attending from ten to 15 shows per year at locations in Arizona, Montana, Washington and California. Sometimes, the Knapps do separate shows, but the majority are done with both artists exhibiting their works. Her paintings and drawings are available at the Buckhorn gallery and the Anderson collection.

There may be disadvantages to having two artists in the family, "but I can't think of any," she said. Competition might be a problem, if they worked in the same medium, she admitted, but watercolor and sculpture have proved to be "very compatible."

"We criticize each other and help each other," she said, "and it works out pretty well."

The Knapps also "draw inspiration from each other," and from their association with other artists.

"There is a constant stream of struggling artists," through the Knapp home, she said. "In fact, we have one staying with us now."

But she wouldn't have it any other way. Providing temporary "bed and board," for such aspiring artists, along with teaching classes and workshops are ways of reciprocating for the guidance and encouragement she received as a child.

"The least you can do," she said, "is to help someone else along the way."

DOROTHY BELL KNAPP, a painter who works primarily in watercolor and pastels, is at home in the Hondo Valley just east of Ruidoso: "How could any artist live here and not paint?" she said.

IN THE STUDIO, Knapp applies a few strokes to a pastel work in progress.

"Being an artist is like any other job. You have to get up and paint regardless of how you feel."

THE NATURAL life of the American Indian is a specialty of the artist.

CHARACTER STUDIES are a favorite pursuit for Dorothy Bell Knapp. Another Ruidoso artist, Jerry Perry, was the model for this pastel work.

THE ARTIST'S PASTELS are close at hand in her skylighted studio, located on the upper floor of the renovated Buckhorn Bar.

The old dancehall now serves as home, studio and gallery space for Dorothy Bell Knapp and husband Tom Knapp, a sculptor.

The Silver Lining BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Two Celebrations In One

So often, back through the years, we have celebrated the Lincoln Pageant and the beginning of the rainy season both at the same time.

After a few little rains in June and early July, the drought seemed to be stung to greater fury. The heat bore down harder and the dry weather put on the pressure. Mother Earth was gasping for breath, and as you drove down the valley and over to Lincoln for the first practice of the pageant, the hillsides on both sides of the valleys were so dry that it hurt your eyes to look at them.

Yesterday, on July twenty-eight, with the pageant only five days away, you could feel the moisture moving in from the east. You see, there are several kinds of rains. One is from clouds that form on the mountain. Another comes in from the west coast across Arizona. Still another, and quite rare, is the one that comes from the south. Our big rains come in from the east across the Texas plains.

The first day of the full moon fell on the twenty-seventh, and right on schedule a good little rain fell on the mountain and in Ruidoso. The next day I was up the valley, and on the way home I saw a heavy rain cloud moving in from the east, soaking the world as it came - the first rain of the year out of the main source, the east.

When I got home, all the place and the mountains to the south were soaked, with little canyons and rivulets running everywhere. Every growing thing was dripping - the tears of Mother Earth, weeping for joy.

Today on the twenty-ninth, you wonder what became of the drought with the vale all overcast with clouds and the slow rain falling. The mountain world has taken on new life, and renews your spirit. It is wonderful to send you this message with the rain drumming a song of July on the roof overhead.

A Word More About Billy The Kid

As the years go by, Billy the Kid becomes more colorful, and interest in him grows with time.

He started in life as a good boy, devoted to his mother, and helpful to neighbors and friends. Far from having a murderous nature, he was possessed of very sunny and happy personality. In looks he was the opposite of dangerous, being very boyish looking, and always wearing a smile. In school in Silver City he took part in the minstrel shows and plays, for he was a natural born mimic and comedian.

Although he was known here in Lincoln County as William H. Bonney, his real name was Henry McCarty. As near as we can tell, his people came from the north of Ireland, being what they used to call

Was It Really "The Last Escape"?

Among the countless legends that have sprung up about the Kid, is one that drives a student of frontier history out of his mind: That the Kid was not killed in 1881 in Fort Sumner but lived to be an old man. Every time one story about the Kid living to a ripe old age dies down, here comes another one to take its place.

However, about his escape in Lincoln "with the odds against him one million to one" there can be no doubt.

Come over to Lincoln and see it reenacted again in the shadow of the old court house in which he was imprisoned, loaded down with handcuffs and leg irons, guarded by two guards armed to the teeth - ninety-nine years ago.

SETTING THE STAGE

When preparing your home to be shown to prospective buyers, use subtle showmanship to help set the right atmosphere. Give your home a restful, happy, inviting look. Don't just sell a house - sell a home!

For evening inspection, brighten your home from the front porch light on through all the rooms in the house. Little decorator touches - a vase of flowers, a plant, small pillows - can add much to the comfortable feeling of a home.

If you are having your home shown in the winter, a crackling fire in the fireplace adds irresistible attraction. A working fireplace is a major attraction to home buyers.

A large mirror can make a room look larger. Properly placed, it can reflect and magnify many of your best selling points. Definitely turn off the TV and turn on soft background music on the hi-fi to create that subtle - lived-in atmosphere. Your prospects are buying more than a house - they are buying a new way of life. So make your home LIVE.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at DEVON DEVELOPMENT, INC., 2904 Sudderth Drive, Box 1860, Ruidoso. Phone: 257-5311. We're here to help!

State's traffic fatalities for year released

The Transportation Department's Traffic Safety Bureau released the traffic fatality statistics for the month of June and for the year to date.

According to John Fenner, Bureau Chief, there were 66 fatal accidents resulting in 88 traffic fatalities on New Mexico highways in June of this year. This brings the number of fatal accidents in 1980 to the mid year point to 252 resulting in 304 deaths. Two hundred and thirty-one of the fatalities resulted from motor vehicle accidents, 47 were pedestrians, 25 were motorcycle fatalities, and one fatality was a bicyclist.

Forty-eight of the fatal accidents in June resulted in one fatality. Six of the fatal accidents in June resulted in two fatalities and two of the fatal accidents resulted in three fatalities.

Alcohol involvement, consistently for the past two years, has been reported in approximately 85 percent of the deaths where data was available. The national norm, is about 50 percent.

NOTICE OF MEETING AND OF PROPOSED BOND ORDINANCE
 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Trustees of the Village of Ruidoso, New Mexico will meet in Regular Session on the 12th day of August, 1980, at the Ruidoso Public Library, the regular meeting place of the Board, at the hour of 7:30 P.M. Mountain Daylight Time, to adopt a proposed ordinance the title and subject matter of which is as follows, and to consider such other matters as may come before the Board of Trustees:
AN ORDINANCE DECLARING THE NECESSITY AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE AND SALE OF VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, SALES TAX REVENUE BONDS, SERIES 1980, IN THE AGGREGATE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF SIX HUNDRED SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($660,000.00), FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSTRUCTING, PURCHASING, FURNISHING AND EQUIPPING, MAKING ADDITIONS TO, OR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS TO, ONE OR MORE PUBLIC BUILDINGS OR PURCHASING OR IMPROVING THE GROUND THEREFOR, INCLUDING, BUT NOT NECESSARILY LIMITED TO ACQUIRING AND IMPROVING PARKING LOTS, OR ANY COMBINATION THEREOF (SUCH PROJECT TO INCLUDE A NEW MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDING); SUCH REVENUE BONDS AND THE INTEREST THEREON TO BE PAYABLE SOLELY FROM THE SALES TAX REVENUE OF THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, SUCH SALES TAX REVENUE BEING THAT AMOUNT OF MONEY BEING REMITTED TO THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO PURSUANT TO SECTION 716, NMSA, 1978, AS AMENDED; SUCH SALES TAX REVENUE BONDS BEING ON A PARITY WITH THE VILLAGE OF RUIDOSO SALES TAX REVENUE BONDS, SERIES 1968 AND SERIES 1971; PROVIDING THE FORM, TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE BONDS, THE MANNER OF THEIR EXECUTION, METHOD OF AND SECURITY FOR PAYMENT, PROVIDING FOR OTHER DETAILS CONCERNING SAID BONDS.

The proposed bond ordinance authorizes the issuance of Sales Tax Revenue Bonds to be designated "Village of Ruidoso Sales Tax Revenue Bonds, Series 1980," in the aggregate principal amount of $660,000.00 (herein the "Bonds"), to be payable and collectible, both as to principal and interest, from the distribution of a portion of the state wide gross receipts tax to the Village (herein "Pledged Revenues") pursuant to Section 716, NMSA, 1978, on a parity with the list of the Sales Tax Revenue Bonds of the Village, Series 1968, which were authorized by Ordinance No. 487, adopted October 31, 1968 (herein "1968 Bonds"), and the Sales Tax Revenue Bonds of the Village, Series 1971, which were authorized by Ordinance No. 714, adopted July 8, 1971 (herein "1971 Bonds"), for the purpose of constructing, purchasing, furnishing, equipping, making additions to or making improvements to one or more public buildings or the purchasing or improving of the ground therefor, including but not necessarily limited to acquiring and improving parking lots, or any combination of the foregoing (such project to include a new municipal administrative building) thereon (the "Project").

The Village has agreed to sell and the United States of America, acting by and through the Farmers' Home Administration, United States Department of Agriculture (herein "FHA"), has agreed to purchase the Bonds proposed to be authorized at par and an interest rate of five percent (5%) per annum. The Bonds are to be dated as of the delivery thereof, will be interest commencing December 1, 1980, and thereafter on December 31 in each year until 2010. The Bonds are special obligations of the Village payable solely out of the Pledged Revenues which are irrevocably pledged. The Bonds do not constitute a general obligation of the Village and may be issued in the form of a single bond in an amount not exceeding $440,000.00 to be registered upon issuance thereof to FHA. The proposed ordinance includes provision for prior redemption, registration and execution of the Bonds.

The proceeds of the Bonds shall be applied to certain funds pertaining to the Project, the Pledged Revenues shall be paid from the Revenue Fund and deposited into the 1980 Reserve Fund and 1980 Reserve Fund for the benefit of the Bonds. The proposed ordinance provides for the creation and administration of the fund; provides that the Bonds together with the 1968 Bonds and the 1971 Bonds constitute an irrevocable first lien (but not exclusively first lien) on the Pledged Revenues. The proposed ordinance further provides protective covenants whereby the Village covenants with each purchaser of such Bonds that the proposed ordinance is irrevocable and provides for sufficient notice and effective date thereof and summary for publication.

COMPLETE COPIES OF THE PROPOSED BOND ORDINANCE ARE ON FILE IN THE OFFICE OF THE VILLAGE CLERK AT THE RUIDOSO MUNICIPAL BUILDING, CENTER AND WINGFIELD STREETS, RUIDOSO, NEW MEXICO, AND ARE AVAILABLE TO INTERESTED PERSONS DURING NORMAL AND REGULAR BUSINESS HOURS OF THE VILLAGE CLERK UPON REQUEST AND PAYMENT OF A REASONABLE CHARGE and the seal of the Village of Ruidoso, New Mexico, this 29th day of July, 1980.

MOVE NOW. GET THIS YEAR'S LINDAL AT LAST YEAR'S PRICE.

If you've been waiting and waiting for the new home market to take a turn counter to inflation, bless your patience. Because if you buy a custom design or any one of the 60 different Lindal Cedar Homes before July 31, you can pick it up for the exact same price we offered in Spring of 1979. In addition to our price roll back, we're offering 50% off on all energy saving options. Which, if you're counting dollars, could add up to a savings of $5,000.

Our only other requirement in this offer is that you take delivery on your new 1980 Lindal before September 15. That's it. With inflation, there won't be a better time to move than right now.

CAMELOT MOUNTAIN
 R U I D O S O

PROGRESS REPORT ON "THE MOUNTAIN"

For some time now, Ruidosoans have known of the construction of a thousand acre, planned development called "Camelot Mountain." Situated within Village limits, the vast area of 7400' Dudo Mesa is bounded by Hwy. 37 on the north and Hwy. 70 on the south and east. From the wooded mesa atop "THE MOUNTAIN" is a view of the Lake at the Inn of the Mountain Gods, Sierra Blanca, and the village of Ruidoso. This panorama is like nothing you have ever seen in Ruidoso.

Completion of the extensive utilities project and road paving is now scheduled for the end of October. Travel on "THE MOUNTAIN" could be hazardous, and we ask your cooperation in checking with the Camelot Mountain Office behind the Theater any day of the week. We invite those who are interested in the condominiums under construction, single-family homes, restricted lots, R-2 and C-1 acreage tracts to stop by for additional information.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — Writing columns is a funny thing.

Once in a while there comes one of those rare days when you seem to hit all the right keys on the typewriter. After that, folks stop you in the street and say, "Hey, I loved what you said about..."

But most of the time what you write is greeted by a massive silence from the outside world, as though all your subscribing newspapers had decided on the same day that this particular piece was not worth printing.

(Often that happens to those columns into which you have poured your very heart and soul.)

If you go back and study the columns which draw the good reviews, one thing becomes clear: They are those in which you have said what a lot of other people appear to be thinking. It helps if you manage to do that with clarity and a little dramatic pizzazz.

To say what people feel need saying earns you the claps on the back.

Those who manage to rise to the top in our society, one suspects, whether a Walter Cronkite or a Ronald Reagan, are the ones whose values resonate with the common values at their particular moment. Though there is a sense in which such people may be described as leaders, it is equally true that they are in time with, and therefore responsive to, all those whom they would lead.

Hence a few observations you may accept or reject:

— Jimmy Carter never seems to have heard the tune of the times; as the days pass by, he seems less and less in synch with the mind of America.

— Those in New Mexico who vote for Carter this fall will mostly do so out of sheer, blind loyalty to the party which he pretends to lead.

— As the summer goes on, there will be more and more discontentment with and feedback from the hardcore, no-compromise positions some in the Republican party will take; a tinge of what one writer has called "moral fascism" will become more apparent — and more abhorrent.

— The leader who will be the most successful in our time is the one who can do most to give us that least remembered of the cardinal virtues, hope.

Too sweeping as observations? Maybe. Like many things written under this byline, they are probably said as much to mudge your own brain into thought as they are because the writer accepts them 100 per cent.

And do they have any particular application to our very own state?

Just this: that there is much malaise among our people, much discontent during this long hot summer; that Bruce King, whose strength came largely from his contact with the people, appears to some of us to have lost his ability to "read" their spirit; that there is a certain furtive stirring beneath the surface, which may indicate that what we hunger for is totally new leaders.

If there's someone waiting out there with new ideas and ability to lead, now may be the time to make your move.

Almost every town in the state is complaining that it was miscounted in the census.

If that's so, the Department of Commerce did not do the kind of job it was supposed to do.

So how can we be expected to have faith that the Post Office will ever manage to get young people properly registered for the draft?

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

Thanks to the leadership of trustee Sayer the village trustees are in the process of adopting a new ordinance on the subject of EXCAVATIONS which will be aired in a public meeting to be held in the near future.

Those persons or firms accustomed to making street cuts simply by making application to the village clerk would do well to read and study the new ordinance. Simply put, the responsibility for approving street cut applications will be that of the Street Superintendent who will inspect the proposed cut, approve or reject the application, actually make the cut with street department personnel, refill and repave the cut, and bill the applicant for the actual cost of the work done.

This ordinance, if properly administered, will eliminate one of the major problems faced in the past in maintaining good streets in the village.
J. A. "Al" Jung

THE SUPREME COURT

Although extremists, left and right, are never satisfied, the present Supreme Court has struck a balance in its decision which the former court headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren seldom achieved. Warren was a social reformer and it is generally conceded, whether approvingly or disapprovingly, that he tended to do more than interpret the law of the land.

Today's court has also been accused of this but less often and, on the other hand, it has been accused of just the reverse, being too strictly interpretative. That indicates some balance, at the least.

But now, in this election year, politics is threatening the court. It's said President Carter is eager for his first chance to appoint a new member, so that he can utilize the opportunity for political purposes. To win votes, he is being told, he should appoint a female Hispanic or black.

Nothing at all would be wrong with that, if the appointee is the best qualified individual for the court. But, of all our institutions, the Supreme Court must be kept above partisan politics.

And members in recent decades have certainly been fair to all segments of the nation's population. There is, then, no justification for naming any jurist to the nation's highest bench other than the very best qualified person available. — The News, Santa Rosa

GOOD TACTICS

Some folks down in the San Francisco Bay Area who call themselves the "Committee Against Racism" crashed a movie theater there the other day in what they claimed was a protest against D. W. Griffith's old film classic, "Birth of a Nation." As a consequence, the operator of the theater cancelled further showings of the film, acknowledging, as he put it, that it "was the coward's way out, but it's just not worth it."

The protesters, according to news reports, had broken glass, sprayed paint around the place, ripped the cashier's phone off the wall, and along the way, ruined the screen and projector. All told, an estimated $20,000 damage was done in the name of good race relations.

It's never taken much subtlety to understand that Griffith's film is laced with anti-black and pro-KKK sympathies, but it ought to take even less discernment to understand that nothing in the film, or any film, justifies this kind of violence. If the Committee Against Racism, so-called, can vandalize a theater and stop the showing of "Birth of a Nation," there's no reason some real gang of Nazis can't go around smashing up theaters that show movies about the Holocaust, or the brutalizing of slaves, or the cultural contributions of Jews or blacks, or anything else that some self-styled outfit claiming to fight racism or support racial purity regards as unfit for showing to others.

The irony here is that the Committee Against Racism claims to be "anti-Nazi, anti-Klan" group. In this instance, they were not wearing either brown shirts or white sheets, but otherwise their behavior made it hard to tell the difference. One of them, a Berkeley graduate student, was quoted as saying he had no regrets about the incident and that the group would make similar attacks again "if it is necessary."

The arrogance of the phrase requires no comment. What does need pointing out is that, once any group believes it is "necessary" to do such a thing, any number can play. — News-Bulletin, Beles

The Ruidoso Art Festival drew, Chamber of Commerce paid attendance figures show, five thousand five hundred and seventy-nine persons during its three day run, Friday through Sunday.

An indication of the improved quality of this year's Art Festival is the fact that attendance was up 1,850 over last year's 3,729 turnout.

Random questioning of patrons by Ruidoso News reporters indicates that the Art Festival was the best ever and that the quality of items exhibited was excellent. One man from Florida said, "I'm surprised at the high quality of the art work and the very reasonable prices."

Likewise, random questioning of the artists/craftsmen in the booths resulted in positive statements as to the overall quality of the Art Festival and each one questioned commended the Chamber of Commerce for the manner in which the show was conducted and the treatment accorded each exhibitor.

Spectators expressed their appreciation of the efforts of the young gymnasts and their amazement that coach Blake Starr had accomplished so much with his young charges in so little time. Likewise, statements regarding the musical entertainment was generally favorable.

Based on this general satisfaction, the Art Festival committee of the Chamber, and the general Chamber membership, can now proceed to further improve the show by establishing more stringent rules, and quality demands, for those artists aspiring to show here in 1981 and the years following.

As the word spreads among artists — and patrons — of the high quality stressed by the Ruidoso Art Festival, so surely will this festival grow.

The trite expression: "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," surely applies to everyone concerned with making this year's Art Festival the successful venture it was. We congratulate these people. — CD

OUR JIMMY'S CONUNDRUM

Now that the Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi is dead, Our Jimmy's problem has to be how to act to free the Americans being held hostage in Iran by ... and whom ... of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

One starting place, perhaps, would be a fast review of his past unsuccessful efforts ... that these moves not again be attempted.

It would seem that options to be pursued should include confiscation of all Iranian monies the United States can lay claim to ... or gain possession of. Tightening the economic screws on Iran so tight the nation would be hamstringing would be another. Outlining a course of action ... and adhering to that action ... would eventually bring the matter to a head ... and such actions might place the hostages' lives in danger. A defense against this could be to spill out exactly what will happen to Iran if the hostages are not released within 24 hours of the delivery of an ultimatum ... and following through.

True, direct action would not change Khomeini's thinking ... but it might change the thinking of those in a position to change Khomeini's thinking ... If the United States acts forcefully, martyrdom might not have the appeal the Shiite Moslems insist it has ... if it's proven to them that living, working Iranians can improve living conditions in their nation.

Now ... if I had the solution to Our Jimmy's conundrum, chances are I'd be replacing Secretary of State Edmund Muskie ... and so would any other person with that solution ... leaving the premise that Our Jimmy's better find someone ... quick ... and order him to gain freedom for our people being held in Iran ... and then keep his nose out of it.

Whether the Shah was good ... or evil ... is a moot question. The Iranians have lost their position of bargaining with his death ... and all the ranting and raving being done by the Iranians that the Shah's death changes nothing, just has to be the babbling of idiots.

In any event ... it'll be interesting to see what Our Jimmy does ... yes? Even more interesting will be speculating on when he'll do anything ... not?

LONG SHOT GUESS

Hardly before you can figure out your viewing schedule for the action that could unfold during the national Democratic party convention ... the event will be upon us.

The possibility ... if'n rumor and statements presently being circulated and promulgated by powerful Democrats ... exists that this year's convention might turn out to be the most interesting ever held.

As an understatement, it appears as though a lot of Democrats ... and some of them carry considerable weight ... other than gross poundage ... are now publicly saying they are disenchanted with Our Jimmy ... a fact that Our Jimmy ... at least as of Monday following the ex Shah of Iran's death ... was blithely ignoring ... mostly because he seems to believe it is inconceivable that the Democrats will not nominate an incumbent President for a second term.

However ... early this week there was more than a quiet undertone of opinion being expressed that Our Jimmy should stand up ... be recognized ... and fearlessly discharge all first ballot committed to Carter delegates from this commitment ... and this, apparently, is an undertone grown into a powerful overtone, that Our Jimmy chose to ignore.

Gadzooks ... if'n Our Jimmy'd give ear to other than those on his reelection staff ... he just might benefit from turning those first ballot delegates loose ... and it could cost him the nomination. Ergo ... it does appear as though Our Jimmy isn't a gambler.

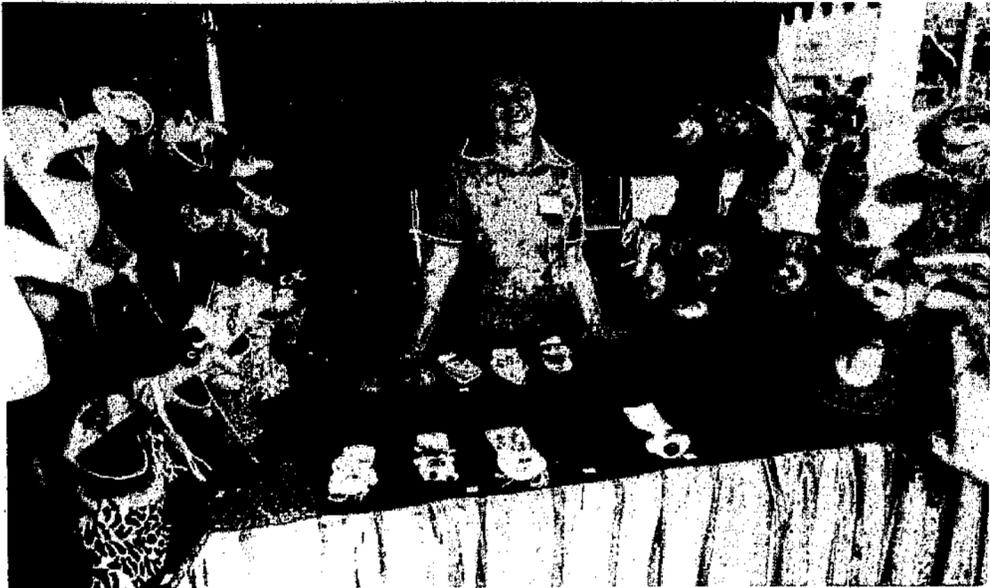

As to whom the Democrats'd nominate in an open convention ... at this point anyone's guess is a good one ... with the possibility being that Fritz Mondale ... considering his tutelage by Hubert Humphrey ... and the backing he'd receive from industry, big business and the unions ... just might be the one person who could unite the Democratic party.

As to that long shot guess of mine ... I do not believe that Our Jimmy will obtain the nomination for President at this year's convention.

BRIEF BIT: The reason hindcast isn't more popular is that those in a position to benefit from it, can't claim that benefit as profits ... CD

NMSU schedules third hot water collector construction workshop

The New Mexico Solar Energy Institute at New Mexico State University (NMSU) has scheduled its third hot water collector construction workshop August 8-9 at the Trades Building of NMSU's Dona Ana Branch in Las Cruces. Additional information is available from Nancy Barnes, special programs coordinator, at 646-1846.

Dr. Roger Farrer, head of NMSU's Information and education division, says heating water for domestic use is an economical place to start for anyone who is interested in "going solar." He observed this is especially true if individuals are willing to do their own work and apply for federal and state solar tax credits on materials which can cut installation costs in half.

Farrer said one solar enthusiast who participated in the institute's first construction workshop and retrofitted collectors to his existing domestic water heating system reports that more than 75 percent of his water is being heated with solar. Workshop participants have access to a local manufacturer of collector kits in the event of any mechanical dysfunction.

Institute collector construction workshops are conducted in two phases. Sessions Friday evening, August 8, will cover collector construction after an orientation meeting. Collectors will be completed Saturday morning, August 9, and instruction in installation will be Saturday afternoon. Participants are encouraged to bring a helper. At completion of the workshop each registered participant will have two completed collectors, components to retrofit the solar system into an existing system and information required for installation, operation and maintenance.

International stars coming to State Fair

A strong lineup of international stars has been set up for the 14th annual Spanish Heritage Show planned at the 1980 New Mexico State Fair.

The program will be highlighted by guitarist-singer David Salazar, Gran Folklorico de Mexico and the Latin touring group of Up With People.

Salazar, a native of Santa Fe, is a talented performer who has appeared all over the country and throughout Latin America.

The colorful and exciting Gran Folklorico de Mexico is one of the best known musical presentations from south of the border, and is internationally known.

The Latin troupe of the very popular Up With People has appeared before numerous crowds all over central and south America in addition to many parts of the United States.

The three headliners will be starred at the 14th Spanish Heritage Show in Tingley Coliseum on Wednesday night, September 10, starting at 8 p.m. There is no rodeo with the Spanish show.

The 43rd annual New Mexico State Fair—The Biggest Show in New Mexico—will be held in Albuquerque September 10 through 21, with the 17 day racing meet and quality horse shows starting September 5.

Jockey/Trainer of the week

BY MIKE MAGDA

Charles Mueller, continuing his brilliant return to Ruidoso Downs, was named Jockey of the Week for the second time in the last three weeks. Walter Merrick, a legend in quarter horse racing, saddled three winners to claim the Trainer of the Week honors.

Mueller had to break a tie with Pedro Benitez and Leroy Coombs to earn his title. All three jockeys scored four victories over the weekend but Mueller had a better runnerup finish. Merrick also had to break a tie with a better place record.

It was only the third full week of riding this summer at Ruidoso Downs for Mueller, who started out at Santa Fe. Mueller picked off a solo victory Thursday, then won two Friday. His tally that day included the feature race.

Mueller closed out the weekend with a victory Sunday. Mueller gained the title with six runnerup finishes over the weekend compared to only one by Benitez and four by Coombs.

In the last 12 racing days, Mueller has won 12 races and should reach the top 10 of the jockey standings at that pace.

Merrick, more noted for his quarter horse prowess, scored two of his three victories with thoroughbreds. He landed one win Thursday, then added back-to-back victories Sunday.

Both Merrick and E. Jolly Driskill had three wins but Merrick took the advantage with one runnerup finish.

Joe Martinez continues to lead the overall jockey standings with 37 wins followed by Richard Blekel and Jackie Martin with 34 and 33, respectively.

Bob E. Arnett held onto his lead in the trainer standings with 22 wins, four better than William F. Leach. Driskill moved into the top 10 for the first time this season with 12 total wins.

Racing at Ruidoso Downs continues today and extends through Sunday. Two stakes races are on tap with the $12,500-added Jockey Club Stakes over seven furlongs Saturday and the $32,500-added Rio Grande Futurity runs Sunday over six furlongs.

First post each day is 1 p.m.

BY MIKE MAGDA

A FAT PURSE INCREASE goes into effect with the next condition book, which covers the eight-day race period starting August 7, according to general manager Finlay MacGillivray. Purses—except for trials and stakes—will be boosted $200 per race.

"The latest purse increase is the result of our larger-than-expected handle," MacGillivray said. "Obviously, we're extremely pleased by the current surge in business, and we're delighted to direct more money into our purse schedule."

Under the new setup, the purse in open allowance races will be up to $4,400. Maidens will be running at a $2,700 purse. Most impressive of all, perhaps, is the fact two grand claimers will now be targeted at a $2,800 purse. Further purse increases will most likely be installed in the weeks ahead, judging by the record business the track is now experiencing.

JOCKEY WAYNE BUEHRER was released from the hospital Friday after being treated for a broken rib suffered in a Thursday spill. Buehrer's mount, Flashy Dresser, wnet down in the first turn of the feature race, throwing Buehrer to the ground. A trailing horse, Never Amble, also lost his rider, Kevin Scholl, who was not injured. Sparky's Cat broke down on the backstretch and lost his rider, J. M. Diequez, who also was unhurt. Buehrer had been one of the hottest riders in the past weeks, winning 11 races in one 10 day stretch. Included in his victories was the Billy The Kid Handicap. It is not known how long he will be out.

TWO TRIALS FOR the Rio Grande Futurity were held Friday and four jockeys qualified two horses each to the August 3 finale. The winners of both heats were impressive, winning by a total of 14 lengths as favorites. The purse for the Rio Grande, which covers six furlongs and is limited to New Mexico-breds, will be $32,500 with $16,500 going to the winner. Billy Hitt was the dominant trainer with three qualifiers.

Risque Lady, an 8-5 favorite, captured the first division by 5 1/2 lengths with Charles Mueller aboard in a time of 1:16 1/5. Following Risque Lady were Draconic Lady (both trained by Hitt), Up The Pay, Alaskan Star and Area Drive. Winning the second division by 8 1/2 lengths as an even money favorite was Sunday's Night, with Carlos Rivas up. Following Sunday's Night, who covered the distance in 1:16 3/5, were Bin A Battle, Draconic Spoke, Red Zip Man and Gayla's Love.

Sunday's Night has already captured the Norgor Futurity this summer and picked up over $40,000 to claim the early favorite status. Risque Lady is undefeated after two starts. Other stakes runners include Alaskan Star and Gayla's Love. The jockeys who qualified two mounts include Mueller, Larry Byers, Joe Martinez and Leroy Coombs.

THERE WERE NO WINNING Big Q tickets on either Friday or Sunday's card, setting up consolation payoffs. The pool for Friday's Big Q was $32,745 while $42,110 was in Sunday's pool. One winning ticket in either would have been a track record payoff. There were 337 live tickets for Friday's pool but a pair of 32-1 longshots placed first and second. Sunday's action saw 450 live tickets when a 9-2 pick finished first followed by a 19-1 pick. Three of the four consolations paid over $1,000 while the fourth returned $201.20. There were a total of 147 consolation tickets over the two days.

GLAD BAG, winner of the Three Bars Handicap last summer, made his first appearance Friday and won the eighth race as a 7-5 favorite. The six-year-old gelding, with Billy Hunt up, won by a head over Bid A Waye. In his only other stakes race since the Three Bars, Glad Bag placed third in the St. Nicolas Handicap at Los Alamitos. Tonya Jay Bar, a Rainbow Derby consolationist, was third.

THERE WERE A PAIR of impressive winning margins turned in on Saturday's card, both in maiden races. Apachee Chief captured the first race by 6 1/2 lengths as a strong favorite with Richard Blekel up. Then Texas Duster won the third race by 10 lengths as a 1-2 favorite. Darrell Blevins was aboard then.

IMA MIGHTY DIAL, a brown filly sired by Mighty Deck, won her first out at Ruidoso Saturday. She went off as an even money favorite based on her close finish to another Mighty Deck offspring, White running in the Northeast Kansas Quarter Horse Association Futurity at Eureka, Kansas. Ima Mighty Dial finished a length behind Mighty Deck Three in third place. Mighty Deck Three is undefeated after seven starts and recently captured the Rainbow Futurity. Ima Mighty Dial won her Ruidoso opener by almost one length with Steve Harris up.

ASK THE BOSS, the impressively bred colt who had to scratch out of the All-American Futurity last year, returned to Ruidoso Downs Saturday. Sired by 1968 All-American winner Three Ohs out of the 1973 All-American finalist Azure Teen, Ask The Boss finished fifth to 4-5 favorite Easy Dame as a 4-1 pick in the ninth race. After qualifying for the All-American last year, Ask The Boss had to scratch out with a virus. He earned over $45,000 last year.

WONDER LARK, the Horse of the Meet at Sunland Park last spring, returned to New Mexico recently after an impressive stakes campaign at Ak-Sar-Ben. Wonder Lark is being prepped for the Santa Fe Derby and the New Mexico State Fair. Wonder Lark, winner of the Sunland Park Derby and the El Paso Times Handicap at Sunland, scored his biggest win in the $108,000 Omaha Gold Cup at 1 1/16 miles July 5, earning over $80,000.

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS:
—Trainers Dave L. Aldredge (fined twice), Ronald Kling, and Marshall L. Wimberley were fined $50 each for entering a horse without first obtaining an owner's license.

—Jockey Joe A. Ferales was fined $25 for failure to have his chin strap buckled during the post parade.

—Mutuel employee Larry Lucas and jockey Gary Sumpter were fined $10 each for illegal parking.

—Exercise girl Kelly Byers was fined $10 for speeding.

CLIFFORD LAMBERT JR., son of veteran conditioner Cliff Lambert won his first race as a trainer Thursday. Lambert Jr., saddled Jean's Late Show in the 11th race and the colt responded with his maiden victory also.

TWO SEASONAL RECORDS for time were set over the weekend and one tied. Alamosos Feature, in winning the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic, lowered the 440 yard standard to 22.00 seconds. Country Cal set a new low of 1:14 3/5 over six furlongs Friday and Black At The Wire tied the mark of 1:45 for a mile Friday.

WITH 45 RACES NOW in the books, the total handle stands at $20,181,667 and continues to course toward an all time record. The daily average of $448,481 is up 5.38 percent over the $425,600 average at this point a year ago. Fans are now betting a per race average of $35,406, and this is a solid gain of 10.99 percent over the comparable figure of $32,159 at this time in 1979.

Fair ticket sale to start

Tickets for the 1980 New Mexico State Fair — more than a million dollars worth — will officially go on sale at 8 a.m., August 2.

They include reserved seats for the All-Star Rodeo, the 14th annual Spanish Heritage Show and the 17 day pari-mutuel horse racing meet.

"This is the first year that we have started ticket sales on a Saturday, but we did so on purpose to give more persons a chance to pick them up," said Charlette Jordan, who is in charge of rodeo ticket sales.

"In the past, the fair has put the tickets on sale the first Monday of August, but we have had some complaints from persons who could not be on hand to buy their tickets," she said. "So, we thought we would try this new approach, for better public service."

The ticket offices at Gate No. 4 (just off San Pedro Blvd. NE) will be open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Saturdays.

Reserved seats for the Tingley Coliseum All-Star Rodeo are priced at $5.50 each. Reserved seats for the Spanish Show are $4 each. Virtually all of the 1,235 box seats for the ten night rodeo have been purchased by season ticket holders at $70 each.

The headliners for the rodeo this year are: Loretta Lynn, Thursday and Friday, September 11-12; Larry Gatlin, Saturday and Sunday, September 13-14; Barbara Mandrell, Monday and Tuesday, September 15-16; The Oak Ridge Boys, Wednesday and Thursday, September 17-18, and Jana Jae, Friday and Saturday, September 19-20.

In the spotlight at the 14th annual Spanish Heritage Show on Wednesday night, September 10, will be a great group of international stars. The stars are David Salazar, Gran Folklorico de Mexico and the Latin troupe of Up With People. There is no rodeo competitions with the Spanish show.

There are both reserved and box seats available for the Spanish show this year. The reserved seats are priced at $4 the box seats at $5.

All of the rodeo performances and the Spanish show are held in Tingley Coliseum, and start at 8 p.m.

Included in the million dollars worth of tickets are admissions for the 17 day horse racing meet. The grandstand center section reserved seats are $1.50 and mezzanine reserved seats are $4. This is in addition to the turnstile fee. Mrs. Charles DeWitt is in charge of racing ticket sales.

No telephone orders are accepted for tickets. If persons are unable to come in person, they should send in mail orders. Such orders, when accompanied by proper remittance—plus $1 for handling and postage charges—are sent promptly. If personal checks are sent in payment, tickets are mailed as soon as checks clear the bank.

Persons sending mail orders should print or type name, address, city, state and zip. Orders should be addressed to: Tickets, New Mexico State Fair, Post Office Box 8546, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87188.

The 43rd annual New Mexico State Fair — The Biggest Show In New Mexico — will be held in Albuquerque September 10 through 21, with the 17 day racing meet and quality horse shows starting September 5.

Rausch named racing secretary

Don Rausch, a veteran of Southwest racing for 25 years, was named Racing Secretary for Ruidoso Downs and Sunland Park race tracks, Ruidoso-Sunland, Inc. general manager Finlay MacGillivray announced Thursday.

Rausch will assume his duties July 28, MacGillivray said. The position opened last month when Richard Lidberg was named assistant general manager at Centennial Race Track in Littleton, Colorado.

A native of San Antonio, Texas, Rausch, 46, came to Ruidoso Downs in 1955 and has been a trainer and jockey agent in the New Mexico area since. Before accepting the position, Rausch was the agent for Jackie Martin and Jimmy Hunt. Both riders are in the top 10 of the Ruidoso Downs jockey standings this summer. At one time Rausch was the agent for Richard Strauss, the nation's leading apprentice.

"I'm elated and looking forward to the job," Rausch said. "It's quite a challenge to me."

Rausch and his wife, Margaret, have two children, Vickie, 28, and Donald Wayne, 10.

Harold Payne, the acting racing secretary over the past month, will resume his duties as assistant racing secretary and placing judge.
