Captain Double wins derby

Captain Double, a gelding who'd won only one race at the meeting — and that against maidens — decked his foes in Sunday's 14th running of the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby.

Captain Double won with enough authority to just about cinch honors as the champion three-year-old of the meeting. With Danny Summerow at the reins, Captain Double roared out of last place in the mile-and-sixteenth marathon and swooped by his tiring foes like a vulture answering the dinner bell. He charged across the finish with a solid 4/4 length lead. In the final steps, Captain Double had favored Copper Case wrung out to dry, while the classy invader, Free Sea, was struggling at the rear of the pack under a wearisome burden of 123 pounds.

The Derby offered a gross purse of $24,000 and handed the winner $14,400.

Captain Double toils for Sam Stevens of Lamesa, Texas. Jimmy McClanahan is the trainer. The mutual returns: $10.40, $8.80, $4.20.

Parmer County Kid, a 14-1 outsider handled by Richard Bickel, came flying down to the wire to push Copper Case out of the runnerup slot. The difference between second and third was a length.

Parmer County Kid, the property of Charles Trimble of Bovina, Texas, raked in $5,280 and paid $10.60 to place, $5 to show. Copper Case, who carries the colors of Jinx Graham of El Paso, Texas, had to be content with a third place purse of $2,400. His mutual backers got a $3 show return.

Capl's First, a 20-1 longshot, was the first out of the gate, and the filly managed to keep her pathfinding act going through the first half of the race. As she neared the turn for home, it was obvious she was conking out.

At that point, Copper Case appeared to smelt victory and shifted into high gear. The gelding barreled ahead of his foes with a big rush on the outside. He had the lead as he reached the straightaway.

But Copper Case's glory was short lived since Captain Double was moving with even greater intensity in the middle of the track. He thundered by Copper Case with ease, and the latter, as if knowing the jig was up, quickly caved in. Copper Case sagged badly in the final half furlong, just as Captain Double was finding his sea legs.

When Parmer County Kid delivered his big closing rush, Copper Case was unable to resist.

Free Sea, a colt who'd made over $100,000, got away as a 3-1 second favorite in his mountain debut and clearly had no taste for the derby. He was in the first flight during most of the race, then quit completely in the stretch. He limped in next to last.

WARRIOR'S TIME rallied from just off the pace for a 3/4 length win in Saturday's six furlong headliner at Ruidoso Downs. The gray gelding, owned by W. T. Stradley of Hobbs, easily held off Rebel Sea in the six furlong allowance test.

Jockey John Arteaga hustled Warrior's Time into the early lead, but allowed him to settle in third place as Ernest Scout, a 50-1 longshot, elected to grab the front slot during the rush down the backstretch.

At the turn for home, Warrior's Time slipped through on the rail and easily put away Ernest Scout. It was a romp the rest of the way. Fans who supported Warrior's Time in the mutuels collected $10.20, $3.80 and $3.60. The track was listed slow from recent rains, which accounted for a sluggish winning time of 1:18 2/5 seconds.

Rebel Sea, a 2-1 favorite, came in second and returned $3.20 both to place and show. Prince of Darkness, a 12-1 outsider, took third and dishd out $5.40.

Saturday's agenda also included six six-furlong elimination trials for the upcoming $125,000 (est.) Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity. Those contenders who guaranteed themselves a berth in the August 31 finale by winning their trials were: Dark Castle, who won by 8 1/2 lengths at 11-1; Fill Mackis Cup (5 1/4 lengths at 8-5 odds); Point Venture (3 1/4 lengths at 4-1); Dynamic Sesenta (nose at 7-2); and Real Feather Bed (half-length at even odds).

JAIMIE JAY, winner of the $22,150 Kansas Derby at Ruidoso Downs early in the season, emerged as the top qualifier for the upcoming All-American Derby.

The filly, owned by W. E. Mueller of Colorado Springs, Colorado, blasted her way to a 3/4 length victory in Friday's 12th race and clocked the 440 yards in 22.40 seconds. The track was heavy from recent rains.

Jaimie Jay's clocking held up as the swiftest of 13 trials leading to the Derby.

The Derby, with a gross purse of $1,431,850, will become the richest race in the history of quarter horse and thoroughbred racing. The winner of the August 24

Runnels' offices open

All four offices of the late Congressman Harold Runnels will remain open for the present to serve residents of New Mexico's Second Congressional District, Larry Morgan has announced.

Morgan, who was Runnels' chief aide, has been designated Administrator for the Second Congressional District by the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Under the procedures of the House, this office can still handle casework, monitor legislation, and provide almost any service which was available before the Congressman's passing. If we are unable to deal with a situation directly, we will seek the assistance of the other members of the congressional delegation," Morgan said.

Morgan said, "The office in Washington will remain open until such time as a new Congressman is elected. The three district offices — in Lovington, Las Cruces, and Gallup — will also be open for at least the next 30 to 60 days. After that, depending on the workload, the Clerk of the House, who is officially responsible for a vacant Congressional seat, will decide if any of the offices in New Mexico will be closed. Under the law, one district office must remain open.

"On legislative matters the office cannot take a position, but we will be happy to provide a status report on any legislation or issue before the Congress," Morgan added.

'Pat' Malooly died Friday from beating

Ruidoso police detectives are continuing the investigation into the alleged beating death of Richard 'Pat' Malooly, operator of the Carpet Tree here.

Malooly died about midnight Friday at Eastern New Mexico Medical Center, Roswell, following surgery earlier in the day.

The police were notified about 6 a.m., Friday, by a neighbor, that Malooly was lying unconscious in the front doorway of his Woodland Ridge apartment.

Malooly, a spokesman for the Albuquerque School of Medicine's autopsy division said, was beaten on the head and trunk by a blunt instrument but did not state the cause of death. The autopsy was performed Sunday.

A spokesman for the Ruidoso Criminal Investigation Division said to The News "eyewitness leads are being investigated," and that suspects in the case were seen leaving the Malooly apartment shortly before the beating was reported to police.

Malooly had been a Ruidoso resident about one year.

Funeral arrangements are pending with Martin Funeral Home, El Paso, Texas.

THE HUMANE SOCIETY of Lincoln County (HSLC) has begun a fund drive with which they hope to finance the construction of a new animal shelter. Mayor Lloyd Davis, right, is shown signing a proclamation designating August 18-31 as "Humane Society of Lincoln County Days" in conjunction with the fund drive. Attending the official signing are Earlene Phillips, HSLC vice-president and board of directors member Hazel Haynesworth, center.

County Fair program set

The annual Lincoln County Fair will open in Captain this week, with the first entries being accepted Wednesday.

The Fair Building will be open from 4 to 7 p.m., Wednesday for entries in the Open Horticulture, Flower Show, Open Home Economics categories, in addition to all 4-H projects other than livestock.

The building will reopen from 9 a.m. to noon Thursday for entries in all departments. Livestock entries may be registered between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., with weighing and classification of the animals set to begin at 4 p.m.

Judging of the home economics, horticulture, fine arts and flower show will begin at 2 p.m., Thursday, during which time the building will be closed to the public.

Friday the fair will open at 8 a.m., with livestock judging starting at 9. Inside entries will be on display until closing at 6 p.m.

Performances of the Lincoln County Junior Rodeo have been scheduled for 7 p.m., Friday and Saturday.

Saturday, the final day of the fair, will be highlighted by the Pet Show, at 8 a.m.; the Special Lead Class, at 9:30 a.m., and awarding of all trophies at 9:45.

The annual Junior Livestock Sale is set for 10:15 Saturday. Participating in the sale will be youngsters whose animals placed highest in their divisions.

Scott Schaffer, co-chairman of the livestock sale, said donations are still being accepted for two funds which help push up the total proceeds to the youngsters.

Individuals or businesses may contribute to the "add on" fund, from which monies will go to a specific child; and to the "booster's jackpot," which is distributed among those exhibitors who did not place highly enough in competition to take part in the sale.

The booster's jackpot monies are added to the base price received from a packing plant, Schaffer said. Increased participation in the sale is also being sought in the Ruidoso business community, either for sale of animals or contributions to the two extra funds.

Anyone who wishes to contribute, but cannot attend the sale, may send funds in care of Schaffer at Box 128, Carrizozo, 88301.

Fair action will resume at 2 p.m., Saturday, with the horse show in the rodeo arena. Entries displayed indoors should be picked up by exhibitors at 3 p.m., and the fair will close Saturday at 4 p.m.

A 4-H sponsored dance will begin at 9 p.m. at the Fair Building, with music provided by the Sagebrush Review, a Corona country and western group.

Aspencade planning begins

The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce Aspencade Committee began making preliminary plans Thursday for that event, scheduled for the first weekend in October.

Most of the discussion by committee members centered around parade arrangements, including possible themes, prospective celebrities who might be willing to serve as Grand Marshal, parade entries and judging.

A specific theme was not definitely chosen, although most committee members were agreeable to one proposed by Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth.

He suggested that since last year's theme was "Four Seasons Playground," this year's theme could pertain to a specific season, such as "Winter Wonderland" or a combination of the fall and winter seasons, such as "October Gold" and "Winter Fun."

Joe Esquivel died Friday in sewer trap

Joe Esquivel, 24, Glencoe, was found dead early Friday morning in a sewer trap located near the treatment plant on the Rio Ruidoso.

He had been employed by the village sewer department the past 10 months. He was last seen alive about 8:10 Friday morning, by another employee, when he entered the large trap to remove debris. He was found, in the trap, about 9:05. Efforts to revive him, by members of the ambulance crew and officers at the scene, were futile.

The autopsy report on the cause of death is expected to be received from Albuquerque today.

Jerry Shaw also asked for consideration of a theme originally proposed by Chamber president Sheila Harris — "Mountain Melodies."

Eventually, it was agreed that the theme of the parade should be tied to the Grand Marshal, with a sports theme for a sports figure, or a musical theme for a musical celebrity, and so on.

Some names discussed as potential Grand Marshals included John Denver, Roger Staubach, John Giordano and political figures such as Aubrey Dunn, Joe Skeen, Bruce King or David King.

The group also discussed changing the parade route this year, because a number of marching groups had complained in the past about its length. However, it was agreed to leave the parade route the same as in past years, to avoid creating more problems with staging, confusion to spectators, and general traffic control.

Entries will also be judged prior to the start of the parade this year, and banners will be affixed to the floats so that spectators will know which were prize winners.

Jungbluth said the parade may lose some of the high school bands which have participated in past years, because of a conflicting competition in Las Cruces that weekend.

The men's beard-growing contest will begin, as usual, the day following Labor Day. Men who wish to participate will have to register with the Chamber of Commerce in person, to have their photograph taken.

The Aspencade committee is also seeking sponsorship for an Aspencade Queen contest for girls of high school age.

Other Aspencade activities being planned include the annual barbecue at Schoolhouse Park, which will follow the parade and trophy presentation; and the printing of promotional "Aspen Trail" maps which will be distributed during the celebration.

Jayceettes MDA dance-a-thon $2,500 successful

A benefit dance held Wednesday night for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) earned that charity organization $2,500 from individuals and businesses in Ruidoso.

The event was sponsored by the Jayceettes of Ruidoso who set a goal of $1,000 for the dance-a-thon, held at Lynn Martin's Chapparal Lounge, with nine couples dancing five hours for pledges.

Chair person for the dance-a-thon, Thea Sanchez, said "we will turn in at least $2,500 and probably more" to the MDA when they have their Labor Day Telethon in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Sanchez thanked Ruidoso State Bank, Security Bank and Resort Properties, corporate sponsors, and all individuals and businesses donating money "and coming out just to cheer them on Wednesday night."

"We are also grateful for the generous donations made by Lynn Martin and the use of the Clay Mac Band, and to the Jaycees for their assistance," Sanchez said.

The most dances danced through the evening were nearly 50, with Mike and Shirley Gray and Sanchez and Ken Moore claiming honors.

Other couples participating included Rolland and Liz Ramos, Ed and Cathy Guthrie, Aaron and Ronda Burton, Jim and Dana Lowrance, Gary and Sue James, Pat Loomis and Lorrie Wright and singles Debbie Garcia, Judy Flores and Tracy Jones.

Sanchez said pledges ranged from 25 cents to $5 per dance and said "100 percent of the money collected will be sent to the MDA."

Representing New Mexico's MDA staff were Jones, and Jerry Allen, district manager for the Jaycees/MDA. Allen is from Artesia and is a member of the Artesia Jaycees.

Moore explains care mill levy

Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH) administrator Ken Moore said clarification is needed regarding the proposed mill levy increase, which will be on the November ballot, to provide additional health care services to county citizens.

Moore said the increase will be raised from the current .75 mills to 2.9 mills. The .75 mills is divided equally between two sections of the county, with Carrizozo and Corona receiving half and Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Alto, Nogal, Capitán and the Hondo Valley receiving half, to provide health services.

Moore said the 2.9 mill levy would give Carrizozo and Corona one mill and the other section of the county 1.9 mills. Moore said the increase was requested to expand health care facilities in the county, by providing a physician and physician's assistant for Carrizozo's Health Clinic, and expanding services and plant at RHVH.

A Treasured Emblem Of Boney Scotland Here Amidst the Cedar, Pinon And Pine

Here is our mountain homeland we are cheered on every hand by many of the same flowers, trees and other children of Mother Earth that were treasured by our forefathers across the sea; and of course, remain fond favorites of our kindred neighbors across the waves.

Along about now, especially after the gentle rains, our mid-summer flower friends have bloomed forth like magic smiling at us across field, meadow and hill side, dressed in their purest colors.

Among these are the English buttercup, the English primrose, the forget-me-not of Norway and all the northern countries, numberless Alpine flowers of Switzerland, the Scotch blue bell — and many others. Scotland is known in song and story as the land of the Heather — that blooming bush of matchless beauty and fragrance that adorns vast reaches of that beloved land, a solid mass of flowery glory stretching mile on mile, awakening the grateful pride of the native folks, causing the visitor's heart to leap with delight — making Scotchmen of us all.

I have looked in many places on the mountain side for traces of the Heather, and yet have not seen any.

However, the traditional emblem of the Scotch people blooms everywhere here among us.

The Hardy Thistle Staunch and Faithful Dweller In The Land

One day, back in the middle of the driest times I have ever seen here in the vale, I was strolling down toward the river across the little field near the house.

The amber-colored grass was so dry and the ground beneath so hot that your eyes hurt as you looked down, and there was a somber, uneasy feeling in your heart and a heaviness to your step.

Then, on the dry air a fragrance reached you, sending a little wave of joy throughout your soul. What was blooming so sweetly through the heat and drought? Your eye caught little clumps of light green plants with lavender blooms on the top, shaped like little king's crowns and Highland Scotch bonnets. Bright and cheery they bloomed all alone across the withered field, cheering the droughty landscape shimmering in the heat waves.

Bending to smell the blossom you had a new and pleasant experience. The thistle, for this it was, breathed forth a pure and rich perfume all its own — something between a lily and a rose. How it spread its charm all through the air — the only bloom and fragrance in a dry and burning land!

Now The Thistle Feels At Home

"We are like the 'Thistle,'" say the Scotch. "The thistle loves its native land and will always be here. Nothing can drive us from our native soil."

Mother Nature has protected the thistle with thorns and deep roots, making it safe and fast in that green and flowery land of abundant rain. I never knew that this staunch little plant could also endure the heat and drought.

Today, August fourteen, after the several days of slow rain and the misty cloudy weather — you would think you were in Scotland.

The misty clouds are hovering overhead light in spots and gray in other places in the sky. The sun shines through the thin and filmy whiffs of cloud and mist upon a mountain land of glowing green.

As you walk across the meadows, the turf, fragrant with the incense of rapidly-growing grass, is springy beneath your feet, giving a lift to your step and to your spirit. And there are the thistle blooms, glowing brightly now in their silken lavender trimmed in silvery white — happy along with the joyful mountain world, sending us a message, telling us what a joy it is to endure, to hope, and to keep our faith in God.

grand finale will collect a staggering $501,147.

Jaimie Jay, ridden by Jackie Martin, broke alertly in her trials heat and led all the way. In the final 100 yards, she really poured it on. The win payoff was a low $2.60.

The filly went into Friday's action with a 1980 record of 3-1-0 from four starts, good for earnings of nearly $170,000. Robert Gilbert does the training.

Included among the nine others who made the grade were Pie In The Sky, the All-American Futurity winner of 1979, and Denim N Diamonds, the filly who made the finale of both the Kansas and Rainbow derbies.

Here's the way the All-American Derby qualifiers checked in behind Jaimie Jay: Afternoon Surprise, 22.40, owned by Ben and Leighann McCutchin of Dallas, Texas; Denim N Diamonds, 22.43 (R. D. Hubbard of Wichita, Kansas); Pie In The Sky, 22.46 (Dan and Jolene Urschel of Canadian, Texas); Pea Jay Jet, 22.47 (Melvin Karr and Stan Fansher of Lubbock, Texas); Native Gambler, 22.47 (Gary Benton of Lubbock, Texas); Sages Belle Star, 22.49 (J. H. Brouch Jr., of Midland, Texas); Truck N Stuff, 22.50 (O. C. O'Guinn of Magnolia, Texas); Chicks Charger Bar, 22.50 (Bobby, Pete Perez Sr., and Pete Perez Jr., of Grand Prairie, Texas); Charge It Papa, 22.66 (James Keng of Giddings, Texas).

LUKENBACH, a three-year-old gelding making the second start of his career, upset a band of seasoned allowance sprinters in Thursday's mud splattered headliner at Ruidoso Downs.

Lukenbach waited until late in the stretch before making his move.

But when jockey Ramon Apodaca asked him to shift into high gear, Lukenbach went splashing passed the tiring pace setter, Flashy Dresser. The latter, a 5-2 shot handled by Wayne Buehrer, had little in his reserve tanks when Lukenbach began to move.

Lukenbach, owned by Dr. Jerry Gleason of Muleshoe, Texas, ended the soggy six furlong dash with a length lead. He clocked the distance in 1:21 4/5 seconds, returning $29.60 to win, $9 to place, $5.60 to show.

Flashy Dresser was good for payoffs of $4.40, both to place and show. Net Star, a 7-2 shot directed by John Cushing, handed out $4.60 to show.

Lukenbach now sports a perfect career record of two wins from two starts. The gelding made his racing debut on a fast track July 31 and rushed up boldly at the end to lick maidens by a neck.

Firemen blame fire on wiring

Members of the Ruidoso Downs Fire Department have advised the News that information given the newspaper regarding a fire Wednesday, August 13 was incorrect.

According to the fire department officers, the probable cause of the fire, which was at the home of Herb Everett, was faulty electrical wiring.

THE THIRD RECIPIENT of the all expense Yolanda Manley Nursing Scholarship, sponsored by the Ruidoso Elks Lodge, was presented Sunday to Brenda Ashley, center, Ruidoso, a nursing assistant at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital, by scholarship chairman Bill Taylor, left, and Exalted Ruler Jerry Story. Ashley will study at Eastern New Mexico University, Roswell, beginning this fall.

Antique show scheduled at State Fair

If you've got some fine antiques and think they could win a ribbon at the New Mexico State Fair, you should make plans to enter them.

Manager Bill Humphries said today that security all over the grounds has been upgraded and that special emphasis will be put on protecting displays in the various exhibit halls at the 1980 fair.

"We understand that some people with outstanding items for competition have been reluctant to enter in the past," he said. "We have taken that into account and have been working steadily to make sure that our security force is professional, sincere and dedicated, and has training in police work."

Antique collectors and other hobbyists should look into entering this year's fair, he continued.

A total of $4,475 in cash premiums has been set aside to award to winners of various competitions in the hobby department.

The hobby building will be open to receive displays and entries Saturday and Sunday, September 6 and 7. The deadline for antique entries is 5 p.m., September 6. The other items for display in the Hobby Show have varied hours on the same days.

Full details about the competition may be obtained by contacting the entry department at the New Mexico State Fair.

Flower Show opens Tuesday

The Tenth Annual Ruidoso Garden Club Standard Flower Show will be held at Ruidoso Public Library's multi-purpose room Tuesday and Wednesday with the theme, "Take It E's-Z."

The show will be open for public viewing Tuesday from 2:30-8 p.m., and Wednesday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Amateur gardeners wishing to enter the show should be at the library, where entries will be received 7-10 a.m., Tuesday, by show officials. Judging will begin at 11:30 a.m., Tuesday and all entries must be removed between 4:30 and 7 p.m., Wednesday.

The show is sponsored by Ruidoso State Bank and is free to the public.

THIS OAK LEAF specimen was one of the prizewinners in last year's Ruidoso Garden Club's Standard Flower Show, to be held Tuesday and Wednesday this year. The specimen pictured was entered by Ann Abbot.

Ruidoso's Golden Age Club has postponed the regular meeting date of August 20.

The club will meet instead at 11:30 a.m. the following day, Thursday August 21, in the multipurpose room of the Ruidoso Public Library.

The date was changed to avoid conflict with the Garden Club's annual flower show, which is being held this week.

The piggyback plant, sometimes referred to as "Mother-of-Thousands", grows its leaves in an interesting fashion. The slightly hairy, downy, heart shaped leaves of bright green grow from a basal rosette. At maturity each of the leaves sends up a new plantlet at the point where it joins its own stem, hence its common name. These new plants may be cut off and rooted whenever they appear at any season of the year. Insert about 2 inches of the leaf stem into sand, with the base of the leaf resting on the sand. Repeat at any season, using a mixture of 1 part loam, 1 part peat moss and 1 part sharp sand; to each gallon pailful of this mixture add 1 1/2 teaspoons of 20% superphosphate, 1 tablespoon of ground limestone and 2 teaspoons of 5-10-5 fertilizer. Or use a packaged general purpose potting soil. Piggyback plants do best in bright indirect or curtain-filtered sunlight in a temperature range 55° to 75°. Soil MUST be moist, do not allow the plant to become dry. It will wilt whenever it needs water and often will not recover from severe drying out. The plant must have good drainage and not allowed to stand in water and become soggy. This will cause the leaves to turn brown and drop. Because of the hairy leaves where dust can collect quickly, it is best not to spray the plant to clean. To clean the plant fill a pan or sink with barely warm water with just a tad of soap added. Turn the plant upside down and dip a few times holding the plant in place carefully. The piggyback plant is a curiosity and a fun plant for children to grow. It is really a very easy plant to grow if the rules for light and water are observed.
Ruth, I hope this column will help you. I know now your plant suffered from a long period without water and it may not recover. If not, toss the plant, chalk it up as a "learning experience", buy a new plant and I hope you two will live happily together for a very long time.

New hospital equipment upgrades service

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer/Photographer

Several pieces of new equipment installed this year at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital (RHVH) provide expanded capabilities to serve the residents of Lincoln County, according to administrator Ken Moore.

An X-ray processor costing $13,000, installed in March, was donated by the Hospital Auxiliary. The rapid film processor can develop X-rays in 90 seconds and has a built-in developer/heater that automatically regulates the temperature of chemicals used in the processor.

Radiology supervisor Joe Najera said the machine is a time saver. "With the old method, it took at least 30 minutes to process each X-ray." The modern machinery is no more costly in terms of supplies used, Najera said. Another money saving feature is that the machine turns itself off after four minutes if it is not being used. "It produces an impressive quality of X-ray, too," Najera said.

Other new machinery received in the radiology department will be used to make X-rays, Najera said. "The biggest plus in getting this radiology equipment is that we were able to cut radiation exposure to the patient by 30 to 50 percent," Najera said.

The radiology room was rewired to house the X-ray unit which Najera said is "very modern, tried, true and proven reliable—it has a very low incidence of breakdown. We picked it because of its record," Najera said, "and because the machine can perform many tasks."

It is moveable across the room to handle unusual cases and is equipped with a television-like camera that replaces a mirror device formerly used to read some types of problems, Najera said.

He said a tomography unit, which is an additional diagnostic tool, will soon be added to the equipment.

cell which automatically reads the amount of radiation a patient is exposed to and automatically gives the proper exposure for each X-ray, Najera said. This X-ray equipment carries a price tag of $130,000.

An Intensive Care Unit (ICU) was installed August first, which gives RHVH capabilities to monitor vital signs of up to eight patients. The machine also allows the staff to monitor patients while they are, for example, walking through the hospital.

Another component will soon be added to give "trending capabilities" to the machine, Moore said. The machine could then give readouts on each patient over an eight hour period, monitoring their vital signs. "This will help determine if certain things are getting ready to happen," Moore said.

He said, for example, if a person is admitted for observation and may have had chest pains, the unit can be used to help determine possible outcomes.

Another portion of the entire ICU package is a series of tools which will be placed in the rooms at each bed in intensive care. Those tools, suction, oxygen, monitors and other items used on an "ongoing basis," Moore said, will hopefully be installed by year's end.

All ICU equipment and all but the X-ray processor, were purchased by the hospital with money received on loan from the Presbyterian Hospital Center (PHC). "This is just one more reason it becomes an advantage to be a part of PHC," Moore said.

A NEW CHEST UNIT enables the patient to discover how much radiation he/she is receiving when a chest X-ray is administered at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

X-RAYS taken by doctors at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital are now being processed in this $13,000 machine, donated to the hospital by the Auxillary. The machine processes X-rays in 90 seconds.

THESE MONITORS are placed at the nurse's station in Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital. They are part of the Intensive Care Unit recently purchased by the hospital and are capable of monitoring up to eight patients at once.

Stierwalt pleased with team's progress

Warriors show real improvement after first week

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

Darrel Stierwalt is not exactly prone to exaggeration.

To him, the Grand Canyon is a hole in the ground, Bo Derek's an eight, and Babe Ruth was a pretty good ball player.

So when he says his football Warriors are, after a week's practice, at the level they were four weeks into last season, you know he's not kidding.

"I'd say we're about at the same level, as far as knowing our offense and defense, and fundamentals, as we were last year after our fourth game," he said following Saturday morning's practice.

The first week of two-a-day is over, ending Saturday morning with a grueling running session. But the real fun began today, as the Warriors donned pads this morning for some head-knocking.

"We'll separate the men from the boys Monday," Stierwalt joked Saturday. "No, seriously, I think the kids are looking forward to getting into pads. They're ready to start hitting."

"Football's a funny game. When you practice in shorts, everybody looks great. Too bad we don't play in shorts."

But as far as hitting goes, we don't know what we have yet, and we won't know until we get pads on."

Lack of contact hurts the defense more than it does the offense, he said.

"Defense is primarily hitting people," he said, "and offense has more skill involved. You can work on assignments over and over and over, but until you put it all together, it doesn't always make much sense."

The Ruidoso News

S P O R T S

And Stierwalt thinks he has a group that can put it all together.

"This bunch is smart, smarter than they were last year," he said. "I think a lot of that has to do with the offense and defense not being new to them. Last year, nobody was really sure of what they were doing, and we kept having to go over things more than I'd like to."

"But we've got all that down this time — we do it once, maybe twice, and we can go on to something else. Spring practice helped us that much."

Knowledge of the complicated Wishbone-T offense is so ingrained, he said, the offensive line will decide its own blocking alignments.

"The line is doing really well, just super," he said. "We've put in all our blocking schemes, and the line sets its blocks to what the defense does, as opposed to us doing it from the sideline. That's how smart this bunch is."

The Warriors will again spend this week in two-a-days, a luxury many teams cannot afford. Many schools in the state are beginning classes this week, and thus had only a week of two-a-day drills.

"This is great, the way we've got it here," he said. "We can get in three weeks of practice before school even starts, and I think it's really gonna help us."

The entire squad is shaping up nicely, but one problem still plagues Ruidoso — depth, or rather, the lack of it.

"Yeah, that's always a problem with a small school," Stierwalt said. "We don't always have enough people, and you worry like crazy that nobody gets hurt. But there's not a whole lot you can do, except work on conditioning and fundamentals. That helps reduce injuries."

Getting more players helps, and the Warriors have picked up a couple — returnee Ronald Bell, whom Stierwalt figures may anchor the defensive line, is back in practice, and a newcomer, Russell Bell.

"He's not a big kid, but he's picking up our system real well," Stierwalt said.

After this week, which will stress team play, the Warriors cut back to one practice a day, culminating in the August 28 scrimmage with El Paso Cathedral here at 6 p.m.

"We've been practicing out there (White Mountain Middle School) all week, and we were hoping to have the scrimmage out here, but I think the ground is too rough," he said, "so we'll be having it at the football field."

The scrimmage will be followed by the Warrior Booster Club hamburger fry, and those attending are asked to bring a dessert. Also, donations of soap and towels for the squad are always welcome, Stierwalt said.

FIRST PLACE trophies were awarded to men's softball teams last week. In the top photo, league secretary Buddy Bundick (right) presents the American Division trophy to Bobby Diaz of the Mesalero Chips. In the bottom picture, Ray Gann of Dial Electric accepts the National Division trophy from Ed Hazel, league vice-president. The league's championship tournament begins Tuesday night.

WHEW! IT'S HOT — The only thing that can make football practice worse than it is, is to have to run in the heat. This Warrior football candidate seems steamed up following a Saturday morning run, but at least sunglasses made it a little more bearable.

Sportin' Life

by

Mark Bagby

Quick, who's the winningest active college football coach?

Well, that depends on whether you mean percentage of games won or just sheer numbers.

Bear Bryant is the winningest coach with 296 games notched as victories; that's only 19 away from Amos Alonzo Stagg's all-time 314 games. (Which means we have to put up with the Bear for at least two more years. Nuts.)

Bear's been coaching for 35 years, at Maryland, Kentucky, Texas A and M and Alabama. But his percentage is .731, which is behind Penn State's Joe Paterno and Michigan's Bo Schembechler.

Paterno's been head coach for 14 years at Penn State, which is in the Nittany Valley, which is why they're called the Nittany Lions, and his record is 121-28-1, which is .817 — Schembechler is 144-36-6, or .790 percentage.

This comes from a list compiled by Elmore "Scoop" Hudgins, public relations director of the Southeastern Conference, and he figures the top 20 coaches by winning percentages.

This year (he's been figuring these lists since 1958), he limited the number of victories to 76, which keeps Oklahoma's Barry Switzer out of the running (he's got 73 wins, seven losses and a brace of ties.)

Switzer would have a .821 with that record, making him numero uno.

Anyway, here's the rest of the list: Tony Knapp of Nevada-Las Vegas, 130-43-4, .745; Dan Devine of Notre Dame, 163-55-8, .739; Carmen Cozza of Yale (who?), 97-35-3, .730; Bobby Bowden of Florida State, 107-44-0, .709; Vince Dooley of Georgia, 118-56-6, .672; Lou Holtz of Arkansas, 76-37-4, .667; Jerry Claiborne of Maryland and Bill Yeoman of Houston tied for 10th, with 126-66-4 and 125-65-6 records, which is .6306 percent.

Wayne Hardin of Temple, 105-55-5, .652; Bob Blackman of Cornell, 156-94-7, .621; Joe Yukica of Dartmouth, 85-53-1, .615; Jim Carlen of South Carolina, 93-64-6, .589; Sark Arslanian of Colorado State, 89-63-5, .583; Darryl Rogers of Arizona State, 92-66-6, .579; Bill Dooley of Virginia Tech, 76-66-2, .541; and Frank Navarro of Princeton, 77-73-5, .513.

I think two things are very interesting here: we have four coaches out of those 20 in the Ivy League, and most folks in the football establishments tend to snub Ivy League schools, so they just sit over there and win, win, win; and also, we have two brothers (Vince and Bill) who are ranked eighth and 19th, and that's probably a first. Two coaches in the same family, that is.

(But I'm still perturbed by the snub — yes, snub — perpetrated against Barry Switzer. This is the first year they raised the cutoff level on wins that high — so next year, do they add another 10 wins?)

Sports Wars

Well, they're at it again. Time and Newsweek, I mean.

Time and Newsweek have, for years, battled for supremacy as a news magazine, and so far, I'd have to say it's a draw.

But Time Incorporated, as you may know, publishes some other excellent magazines, including Life, Fortune and Sports Illustrated.

Sports Illustrated has been — for nearly three decades — the sports magazine against which all others are judged. And the others — Sport, for instance — have never even come close, and seemingly are rewrites of pieces which first appeared in Sports Illustrated.

But SI, as its owners refer to it, has always had a penchant for real great articles not always pertaining to your average sports fan — like hiking the hills of Hoboken, and Charles Goren's greatest trump triumphs, and bird watching in Capistrano.

Don't get me wrong, I like SI — they usually cover some great stuff, and their pictures are always immaculate, and their bathing suit issue — wow.

But there's a new kid on the block — Inside Sports (known as IS, ha-ha), and it's published by Newsweek. They stay away from articles you probably won't read, and right now it's monthly, as opposed to SI's weekly publication status.

I'd have to say it's a tossup right now, although SI is still indispensable and I just thumb past the articles I don't like — but maybe IS will make some inroads on territory previously occupied only by SI.

But one thing is definitely clear — SI has been a si for year, but IS a si or no? No se, amigos. Hasta la vista.

Men's softball tournament is rescheduled

Last week's opening round of the Ruidoso Men's Softball League tournament was rained out, said league president Dub Holt.

So, the entire tournament was rescheduled for this week.

Matchups for Tuesday night are: Mesalero Chips versus Green Acres Bandits; NoNames versus Runners.

Wednesday: Sierra Blanca Outlaws versus Village Jewels; Cardinales versus PLS.

Thursday: Lane's Western Wear versus Forest Service; Service Contractors versus Dial Electric.

All games will be played in All-American Park in Ruidoso Downs, with the first game beginning at 6:30 p.m.

White Mountain grid meeting set for Tuesday

All White Mountain Middle Schoolers interested in playing football this fall should report to the school gym Tuesday at 6 p.m., according to coach Terry Wharton.

The purpose of the meeting, he said, will be to discuss the upcoming season and set practice schedules.

First practice is slated for Thursday, he said.

Mary has a little land.

Everywhere that Mary went, she saw that real estate was a sound investment. So she used a little leverage to get started and bought some of her own. Now she has a tax shelter and a hedge against inflation. Later on, she could exchange her property and watch her little land grow into a big estate. Her CENTURY 21 Investment Specialist can help her to do this with only 7% down. CENTURY 21 offices in most North America. Mary can invest in anything from apartment complexes to farms. Across the street from the Century 21 Investment Specialist office is an 18' x 18' lot. Call now and find out how you can get a little land that's sure to grow.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — Eavesdropping on conversations, it's increasingly clear that most New Mexicans don't fully understand what's going on in connection with a successor to Congressman Harold Runnels.

Two elements are involved. One is the remainder of the current term the Congressman was serving, and the other is a replacement for him on the ballot in November. The second of those concerns a new term, not the present one, which will begin on January 1 of the coming year.

As to the remainder of the present term, what is to be done is very clear. The Constitution of the United States gives the instruction here. It says that when a Congressman dies while serving, the governor of the state in question "shall issue writs of election" to choose a replacement.

It doesn't say the governor gets to do that if he or she wants to, it says "shall."

So the public ought to understand that, first, Governor King does not appoint somebody to fill this unexpired term; he calls an election. For that election, both Republicans and Democrats are entitled to name a candidate. But whoever gets elected will only serve till December 31, 1980, a period of about four and a half months.

Since that time is so short, some have suggested that the Governor simply declare the November election to be this special election as regards this particular office.

It is the second element of the successorship which creates the deeper interest. That is the question of whose name will go on the ballot to replace that of the duly constituted Democratic candidate on November 4 of this year.

In this case, the law provides that such a person shall be named by the Democratic Central Committee — not the Governor. That committee is empowered to fill the vacancy, as the Republican Central Committee would be if there were a vacancy on the Republican side of the ballot.

There is no such vacancy on the Republican side because that party, by failing to run anyone in the June primary, forfeited its right to have a candidate on the ballot in November.

That's what the Attorney General's office ruled on — and if the Republicans can find a way to get around that fact, they are fine lawyers indeed.

The reason the state is pushing for compliance with the 55 mile per hour speed limit is to prevent our losing highway funds. Certain shares of our federal road dollars will be withheld unless a specified percentage of us drive at or below 55 miles per hour.

In light of that fact it is ironic that one of the state agencies with the worst record of compliance with that speed law is the Highway Department, which is funded in part by those federal dollars.

As one of those road agency vehicles passed this reporter on the road as if his little Honda were standing still, this thought flashed through his mind: "If the Highway folks can't even convince their own employees, what right do they have to suspect the rest of us will comply?"

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

As we contemplate our water supply which runs from dirty to smelly at the present time we will, no doubt, put the water problem on a back burner now that it has rained — we have done this before.

Recently, Mr. George White, a Village Trustee, in a letter to the editor outlined a comprehensive program to help correct our water problem. I am sure that a lot more ideas would be forthcoming if the village had any plan at all for the study and final solution to the water problem. While Mr. White's points were well made I wonder why he made his pitch to the local newspaper instead of directly to the village council. He is a village trustee and citizen input will not do the job. What is needed is a water commission similar to the airport commission. In the case of the airport commission while it is a fact that we did not accomplish our main objective in obtaining the land for our airport the commission did accomplish one main point — we now know how and where we stand on the airport.

In the matter of water the situation is different — we don't know where we stand — where we are going — and — when we expect to arrive at the final solution.

A water commission—possibly headed by Mr. White, and a group of experts and laymen all knowledgeable in the matter of water as it affects the Village, would not only be helpful but would give us an idea—good or bad — as to where we stand and what has to be done to protect our future water needs.

The P&Z continues to approve annexation of properties which will require water. Strangely enough the real estate people and builders have been very quiet on this subject of water. This group will rise en masse someday when the edict goes out from village hall — "No More Water taps" — then it will be too late.

This is a big problem — far overshadowing the need for an airport for if we have no water for expansion — there will be no airport.

Give this some thought—gentlemen—

how about a water commission?

Dear editor:

On reply to the article written by the man who wears a tam on his head — I want him to know that Jimmy Hine and Jack LaMay were not accused of one thing that wasn't deserved.

I speak for the tax payers of Paradise Canyon — yes we were hot under the collar because of the poor condition that road down Paradise Canyon was in. The Chug holes — hot tar being slung on our car was enough to makes us very unhappy.

The road should have been fixed right in the first place. Our tax money is used for the up keep of the roads as well as other improvements. When we busted our tires and get bent axes going down Paradise Canyon Hine and LaMay did not apologize for that.

Why do you think we should write thank you notes for a public highway being upgraded to where it is safe to travel over?

You are wrong — we did ask for a good road but we now have what we deserved all the time.

We the tax payers of Paradise Canyon are law abiding citizens and dignified people—so don't count us out. We are not a bunch of peons and we know when we've been taken.

WELCOME CATHARSIS

However clumsily the White House at first handled the excruciating problem of Billy Carter's Libyan connection, there now is reason to expect full disclosure which should resolve most of the questions about this affair. President Carter promises "complete answers" in a report to be sent to a Senate investigative panel at its request.

It is not here suggested, in simple-minded naivete, that once Mr. Carter's statement is in hand the whole matter will be set to rest. There is reason to expect, however, that his statement and later responses coupled with the congressional investigation will together bring the full story to light.

That is what is required — the full story, not a tissue of accusation, inadequate response, innuendo and loose talk of "Billygate." It begins to appear that this welcome factual catharsis will soon be available to us. — Alamogordo Daily News

For those of you who haven't had enough Kings in the last couple of years, consider this: Bruce is now trying to cram his nephew, David, down your throats. Wants him to go to Congress where he could spend a lifetime trying to figure out how to take Harold Runnels' place.

Now, there's a real good prospect for Ruidosians to contemplate—Representative David King.

Of course, you Democrats who aren't too excited about David could let the State Democrat Central Committee know about it before August 23.—kg

DAVID ACTS S-L-O-W-L-Y

Thursday morning's news had it that David King... of state fame as a member of the uncle/nephew team that ain't about to get cornered in the Round House in Santa Fe... "was interested" in the current Congressional vacancy brought about by the death of Harold Runnels... and further, the news had it he was gonna announce his decision to get after that seat Friday.

This really wouldn't have been all that bad talk... considerin' David's young... and if'n he ain't politically involved for a spell... had something to do with finances at the state level for a spell... has up and said he's right interested in that Congressional seat that David's eying. Being's Dunn's a District Two man... longer'n since August 6... if'n the voters of the district don't figure as how the Dems' Central Committee done up and done right by us'n's... Dunn oughta be able to whup any candidate on the printed ballot by getting up and allowing as how he's a write in... and he probably wouldn't even have to furnish the pencils to be a shoo in.

So... it's obvious that he s-l-o-w-l-y made the decision to pursue Runnels' seat... like brother, there just weren't no grass growin' under his scamperin' feet when he changed his polling place.

Be right interestin' keepin' track of... August 23... as to how Bruce approaches the Dems gathered for the Central Committee session... presuming that Attorney General Jeff Bingman comes up with the opinion that the Central Committee has full powers to name the nominee for Runnels' seat... which just could have Bruce trying to get the nod for David... and if'n that ain't... politically speaking... having charity begin at home... what is?

AUBREY'S HAT'S IN

Aubrey Dunn... he's from Otero County... you mighta seen or heard of him... kinda been politically involved for a spell... had something to do with finances at the state level for a spell... has up and said he's right interested in that Congressional seat that David's eying. Being's Dunn's a District Two man... longer'n since August 6... if'n the voters of the district don't figure as how the Dems' Central Committee done up and done right by us'n's... Dunn oughta be able to whup any candidate on the printed ballot by getting up and allowing as how he's a write in... and he probably wouldn't even have to furnish the pencils to be a shoo in.

CARTER'S FOR UNITY

Our Jimmy's diggin' into his upcoming fight to get reelected... and he's saying as how it'll take a whole buncha united effort on the part of the Democrats to get him reelected... 'cause... though he's discountin' the polls... he's obviously up on the trend they're showing of his popularity... 'cause he knows what the polls said when he nearly lost to Ford.

Doesn't seem as though him up and snubbin' those powerful Dems in New York was one of his best moves to restore unity... 'cause, being's Our Jimmy's a red-blooded peanut-growin' gung ho American... he, of all people, oughta realize that freedom of expression is probably the one thing as got him elected the first time... and he certainly oughta realize that being President doesn't automatically qualify him as everyone's fair haired boy.

But... and you can wager the rent on this... he's gonna get all them Georgia cracker fellers cracklin' on workin' to get him reelected... and he ain't gonna miss no bets... 'cause, if'n Reagan ups and pulls a boo-boo, Our Jimmy's gonna be claimin' the coup... and if'n he don't, he should.

ON THE PRESIDENCY

Being's as all them Dem candidates... more or less... was faithful to carrying out the wishes of the primary voters... by gettin' Our Jimmy renominated... the choices on who's gonna be president includes:

— Our Jimmy, who's a real down to earth fellow... especially when he's growin' his peanuts.

— Ronnie, who's been in the limelight in California... and has a lot of silver screen experience... even, maybe, if'n he didn't kiss a horse.

— Johnnie baby, who's been so busy courtin' the liberals on both sides of the fence that he just ain't had no time at all for straddlin' it.

— The possibility that a three way vote... if'n Johnnie gets on enough ballots... winds up with the House of Representatives up and namin' the president... in which event it'd be a mite risky waging your next paycheck on who'd get the nod... 'cause it could well be someone'd you'd hardly heard of.

And, no matter what, someone's gonna figure it's a revolvin' development.

BRIEF BIT: If'n Our Jimmy wants to get candidates ridin' his coattails in the November election, best he break out his Prince Albert coat real soon... CD

Highlands University begins fly ash study

New Mexico Highlands University has been awarded a two year, $200,000 grant from the Department of Energy for the study of the formation of fly ash from coal combustion.

The objective of the project is to learn how to modify fly ash particle size distribution in order to reduce particulate emissions into the atmosphere.

Co-directors of the environmentally oriented energy project are Dr. Ronald D. Clark, professor of chemistry and chairman of the department of science and mathematics, and Dr. Larry K. Sveum, assistant professor of chemistry. In addition to the co-directors, two undergraduate students and one graduate student will participate in the project. The project began August 1, 1980.

Fly ash is the small particles of ash which are emitted into the atmosphere. Coal typically contains five to 20 percent mineral material that forms the ash on combustion.

"Modern air pollution control equipment can collect in excess of 99.5 percent of the ash emitted from larger plants," Dr. Clark said. "In spite of this efficiency, so much coal is burned in each plant that large amounts of ash are still emitted into the atmosphere. Furthermore, the particles that escape the pollution control equipment may be the most harmful because they are mostly in the respirable size range and do not tend to settle out of the air readily."

In order to trap these particles using existing technology, larger and more expensive anti-pollution controls equipment will be required, with correspondingly higher operating costs. "Clearly, an alternative approach to the problem is needed," Dr. Clark said.

"Our approach is to attempt to minimize the number of small particles by changes in the combustion conditions and the use of various additives," Dr. Sveum said.

"If this approach is successful, it should be possible to design coal burning furnaces that produce less pollution than at present," Clark said.

Focus on Small Business

by E. Maine Shafer

Dear Mr. Shafer,

"Everybody talks about the need for more innovative ideas that can become market products, that provide jobs, increase our Nation's productivity, and make new millionaires. I've got an idea. What can I do with it?"

If you pursue your idea down a road that is covered every inch of the way with obstacles — and succeed — you will become one of those rare, "unreasonable" people on whom progress depends. And you may wind up with a lot of money, power and prestige to boot.

For, as George Bernard Shaw observed, it is the unreasonable people who try to change the world around them; reasonable people adapt to it.

The Small Business Administration (SBA) recently published a new Management Aid (No. 248), "Can You Make Money with Your Idea or Invention?" that is targeted to the "unreasonable" person. The author, John Tavela, says he or she is "the kind of person your country needs to compete in world markets and maintain its standard of living" because they are "the cutting edge of the future."

This booklet reports some statistics that may, or may not, deter idea people: between 50 and 80 percent of new products fail; of every 100 ideas submitted 85 have too many faults to bother with, and of the remaining 15, maybe five will ever be produced — and only one of those will make money.

With odds like 99 to 1 against an idea being a monetary success, it shouldn't come as any surprise that your idea may be greeted with a chorus of yawns. Companies and investors are basically conservative when it comes to investing their money. Ideas are risky.

While coming up with a sure-fire idea is the biggest step, it is only the first of many before you can realize the first dollar from your invention or other innovation.

The SBA pamphlet details how, at a bare minimum, your idea will have to pass the following tests:

— Is it original or has someone else already come up with it?

— Can someone produce and distribute it, if it's an invention or other product. Can someone use it, if it's a marketing innovation, a new use for an existing product, or the like?

— Will it really make money — will someone buy it?

— Can you protect your idea?

The publication tells where you can go for help with your idea, and gives you a guide to where you can get further information.

You can get this publication, free of charge, by calling (toll free 800/433-7212). Or you can write to SBA, P. O. Box 15434, Fort Worth, Texas, 76119.

ENTERTAINING AT this year's New Mexico State Fair will be the Oak Ridge Boys singers, Joe Bonsall, Duane Allen, Bill Golden and Richard Sterban. The group has won vocal Group of the Year and Instrumental Group of the Year as country music performers.

Oak Ridge Boys at State Fair

The Oak Ridge Boys, who were such a hit at the New Mexico State Fair a couple of years ago, have been set for a return engagement at the 1980 exposition.

The nine member award winning group will be in the spotlight at the Tingley Coliseum All-Star Rodeo Wednesday and Thursday, September 17 and 18.

Since their appearance at the New Mexico fair in 1978, they were named Vocal Group of the Year by the Country Music Association. The Oak Ridge Band was selected as Instrumental Group of the Year.

On top of that, the Academy of Country Music named them the Vocal Group of the Year, then gave the band the trophy for the Album of the Year.

Starting out as a gospel group many years ago, the Oak Ridge Boys embarked on a new career in early 1977, moving into contemporary country style material.

They also went with the MCA Record label.

The results were immediate and impressive. Since then they've had four top selling albums and several singles that hit the best seller lists.

The Oak Ridge concerts are a study in high energy, according to their biographical material, and anyone who has seen them can attest to that statement. And the appearances have been many and varied. They have played from Las Vegas to Carnegie Hall and around the world.

The group consists of four singers — Joe Bonsall, Duane Allen, Bill Golden and Richard Sterban — and five musicians — Skip Mitchell, Don Breland, Mark Ellerbee, Garland and Michael Saleem.

Top "Hee Haw" fiddler State Fair headliner

One of the country's top fiddle players — Jana Jae of the popular "Hee Haw" television show — has been booked to headline the final two nights of All-Star Rodeo at the 1980 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

Jana, who will be making her first appearance at the Tingley Coliseum Rodeo, has been booked for Friday and Saturday nights, September 19 and 20.

"It isn't often that fans get exposed to really good fiddle playing and we think this gal is probably the best there is," said Manager Bill Humphries. "As a result, we're real happy to have her lined up this year."

Jana, however, doesn't limit her category to country fiddling — although that is what she likes best. She has also had considerable training in classical violin and frequently appears as a featured soloist with a philharmonic or symphony group.

Her father was a classical violinist, and her grandfather was a fiddler. Both of her parents were educated at Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Jana says she started learning the fiddle from her father at age two and that she graduated from Colorado Women's College in Denver with a music major.

While in college, she taught music and also worked in symphonies, concerts and lounges.

She was discovered by Buck Owens and joined his group. Now she plays regularly on the "Hee Haw" show in addition to numerous concerts and dates around the United States and the world.

Despite her connection with high brow violin playing, Jana still considers country fiddling her favorite. She was the National Lady's Fiddlin' Champion for 1973 and 1974.

VA lowers mobile home interest rates

The Veterans Administration (VA) has reduced the maximum allowed interest rate on mobile home loans to 14.5 percent, retroactive to July 21.

The maximum guarantee on a mobile home is $17,500, said Ray Corkran, VA loan guaranty officer for New Mexico.

At the same time, the maximum interest rate for VA-guaranteed loans to buy mobile home lots or to buy both a mobile home and lot fell to 14 percent.

The reductions ranged from 1 to 1.5 percent. Declining interest rates in the commercial market allowed the changes to be made, Corkran said.

A free mobile home loan pamphlet, 28/71-1 "Questions and Answers on Mobile Home Loans to Veterans," is available from the Loan Guaranty Division, VA Regional Office, Chavez Federal Building, 500 Gold Ave., SW, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102.

New Mexico vocalist State Fair headliner

A talented New Mexico singer will be one of three headliner acts at the 14th annual Spanish Heritage Program at the 1980 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

David Salazar of Santa Fe, who'll be in the spotlight with the popular show Wednesday evening, September 10, has become internationally known for his beautiful romantic versions of both traditional and contemporary Spanish music.

The other headline acts for the Tingley Coliseum show September 10th include the famed Gran Folklorico de Mexico and the Latin touring group of Up With People. There is no rodeo with the Spanish Show.

As an exclusive artist for the Musart Corporation of Mexico, Salazar has the distinction of being one of the very few United States born singers ever to be signed with a major Mexican label. He was signed with them for five years as an exclusive recording artist. His first album will be released this summer and he is already at work on a second one.

His first LP, "Ciel," consists of traditional songs, rancheras and canciones romanticas. The title song was released as a single and is currently high on the charts.

His live performances have proved to be extremely popular. New Mexicans will have an excellent opportunity to hear him at this year's State Fair.

The 43rd annual New Mexico State Fair — The Biggest Show In New Mexico — will be held in Albuquerque September 10 through 21, with the 17-day racing meet and quality horse shows starting September 5.

If you look real close, just off Trail No. 19, three or four miles up the South Fork Rio Bonito in the White Mountain Wilderness, you might see a tree stump on the bank of a little stream that's just a shade taller than the others.

That stump is about all that's visible following a multi-thousand dollar molybdenum core drilling operation in the Lincoln National Forest Wilderness area. The operation was recently done by the Superior Oil Company of Tucson.

Forester Earl Blann, of the Smokey Bear Ranger District on the Lincoln, reported that Superior did an excellent job of site cleanup and restoration, adding that, "No trash, fuel, grease, oil spill, drilling mud, or drill chips could be found."

Superior's Robley Berry, who was in charge of the environmental permitting, said the credit for the care taken not to pollute the wilderness area while the drilling was actually under way should go to Leland Machen of the Joy Drilling Company, who headed the drilling crews. "Machen is one of the most careful and conscientious drillers we have ever worked with," Berry said, explaining that the driller has worked in several other wilderness areas. He added that Machen and his crews were especially selected for the White Mountain project because they genuinely care about keeping the wilderness area clean.

That kind of care belies the popular conception of powerful, insensitive oil companies. To be sure, there must be the potential of healthy profits in molybdenum, or Superior would not have spent thousands of extra dollars and months instead of a few weeks drilling for core samples in a wilderness area. The geological information they gained must be worth a lot too.

"It's nice to deal with folks who bend over backward to stick to all the rules," said Smokey Bear District Ranger Paul Gordon. "And the Superior people are those kind of folks."

For example, here are some of the rules Superior had to obey to complete its core drilling project.

Cutting trees had to be directly supervised by Blann. Trash had to be removed from the wilderness area and material suitable for firewood had to be deposited at the South Fork Campground. The drill hole had to be cased to bedrock.

A water quality monitoring program to guard against pollution was established and conducted by Forest Hydrologist John McClain. The crew struck water twice during the drilling, but in both instances, the water was cemented off.

The crew and their operation was monitored by Forest Service personnel throughout the project. Drill site engines had to have approved muffler systems, which were not as loud as an ordinary chain saw motor.

The helicopter which serviced the operation, hauling men and materials in and out of the Forest, was restricted to the safest and most direct route, to avoid unnecessary wilderness flying. During the project, every bit of trash, fuel, grease, drilling mud and drill chips were flown out of the area by the helicopter.

The drill site had to have a fire fighting tool for each person on the drilling crew, as well as an eight pound fire extinguisher on the site at all times. All man made materials had to be removed from the site.

(Machen's crew even picked up all the cigarette butts.) And the list goes on. The final cleanup included seeding of fescue and nodding brome grass and raking the site, in addition to a careful inspection.

EVERYTHING MAN-MADE WAS HAULLED OUT OF WILDERNESS AREA DURING DRILLING — Superior Oil Company did an outstanding job of keeping the project clean.

Seek dynamite blasters

Dynamite blasts are nothing new for the area surrounding Grants, one of the Southwest's fastest growing mining areas.

But when a dynamite blast rips apart a transformer owned by the Continental Divide Electric Cooperative, that's different.

This week the State Crime Stoppers Commission, the Uranium Country Crime Stoppers and Plains Electric Corporation are offering up to $3,000 in rewards for information leading to the solution of the bombing.

Police reports indicate the explosion occurred around 4:30 a.m., July 25. Apparently two or three sticks of dynamite were used to destroy the transformer.

Royce Hodges, agent in charge of the Albuquerque office of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, told the Grants Beacon that debris from the bomb had been sent to the bureau's laboratory in Washington, D. C., for analysis.

The explosion did more than just destroy the transformer. Some 2,500 gallons of oil containing polychlorinated biphenyl, which had been stored next to the transformer, leaked out into the surrounding ground. That caused more problems for the electric coop than the power outage.

The transformer had been enclosed by an eight foot high wire fence, with a barbed wire top. Apparently the offenders had little difficulty getting inside.

Fred Lackey, general manager of Continental Divide, told investigators he knew of no employe problems which might have motivated the bombing.

Anyone having any information which could possibly solve this perplexing case is asked to call the State Crime Stoppers Commission at its toll-free number, 1-800-432-6933; or the Uranium Country Crime Stoppers Program at 267-8400. Calls to Crime Stoppers are confidential.

The State Crime Stoppers Program and the local Crime Stoppers programs in New Mexico also pay cash rewards for information leading to the solution of other major crimes.

At the State Crime Stoppers Commission meeting in Truth or Consequences August 8, rewards were authorized for the following callers: NM-350, NM-328, NM-325, NM-319, NM-316, NM-301, NM-291 and NM-276. Those callers can collect the reward by calling the Commission.

The Department of Immigration and Naturalization (INS), announced this week that an additional 21 persons had been indicted by a federal grand jury in El Paso, Texas, in connection with an illegal alien smuggling ring operation. The smuggling ring first was uncovered through a tip to the State Crime Stoppers Commission in January and a painstaking, highly professional investigation by INS agents led to the dismantling of the sophisticated operation. Thirty-five persons have been indicted.

Since the State Crime Stoppers Commission first began operation in September, 1979, a total of 220 cases have been solved, $478,906 worth of stolen property and narcotics have been recovered and fines levied, and all 48 persons prosecuted on State Crime Stoppers-related cases have been convicted. A total of $9,410 in rewards have been paid.

HOWDY, PARTNER — this confrontation between size and the lack thereof could have resulted in a close encounter of the fighting kind, but fortunately for both dogs, it didn't.

ISLANDS IN THE STREAM

Michael-James Wixted wages a tremendous battle with a marlin as (standing, left to right) David Hemmings and George C. Scott watch, in 'Islands in the Stream.' The television premiere of the drama, based on the Ernest Hemingway novel, will be broadcast on 'The CBS Tuesday Night Movies,' TUESDAY, AUGUST 19.

David Hemmings, Gilbert Roland and Claire Bloom co-star in the film which became the first Hemingway work to be brought to the 'big screen' in two decades. 'Islands in the Stream' is a skillful mixture of character study, romantic drama and suspenseful adventure. Its focus is the very soul of a man, Tom Hudson, who, feeling himself a failure, sequesters himself away from the world.

Mickey Gilley, one of country music's hottest acts, and owner of the Houston nightclub which serves as the location of the film 'Urban Cowboy,' co-hosted a recent 'John Davidson Show.'

Mickey Gilley

Gilley informed the audience that Gilley's nightclub is listed in The Guinness Book of World Records as 'the world's largest honky tonk.' "Urban Cowboy" has made the club into a super-star," Mickey said.

He sang 'A Headache Tomorrow or a Heartache Tonight,' on the show, a Group W. Production.

Shortly before she got married, Barbi Benton showed her husband the nude layout she did for Playboy magazine. "I said, 'Are you sure you want to sleep with this?'" recalls Barbi on 'The John Davidson Show.' "He said, 'I'll force myself.'" Barbi says she's not at all sorry she did the layout.

A newlywed for eight months, Barbi says that marriage is wonderful—she and her husband argue but don't fight, and her husband, unlike millions of men, doesn't think of her as a sex symbol.

Razzy Bailey and Alabama have concluded a 'Nipper-Liner' showcase tour, covering Denver, Phoenix and Los Angeles. The tour included performances for regional radio, retailers and press personnel in those major market cities.

Meanwhile, Bailey is sporting a new RCA single titled 'Loving Up a Storm,' a Danny Morrison and Johnny Slate song, which is also on his upcoming RCA album, Razzy.

The Miller Brewing Company is reportedly pleased enough with the results of The Bellamy Brothers first Lite commercials that they have decided to extend their contract. The Bellamy's and band will be featured on Miller Beer commercials until the end of 1980 and will begin taping the commercials at the Sound Shop in Nashville shortly.

One of the most commercial country singles on today's market: Darrell McCall's RCA single 'Long Line of Empties,' a session produced by Ronnie Milsap.

Darrell McCall

McCall is one country singer who can lay the best of them in the shade, and has as yet to receive the success that he deserves. Perhaps with people such as RCA, Ronnie Milsap and John Dotson behind him, his long-deserved success will finally come his way.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT While millions protest the looming death of Archie Bunker's beloved dingbat, Edith, he already has designs on another woman. I can reveal that the new love interest in his life will be his cook Veronica Ronney, portrayed by comedienne Anne Meara. That's just one of many changes at 'Archie Bunker's Place' next season. Archie (Carroll O'Connor) will also have a colorfully outspoken housekeeper and Edith's little niece, played by Danielle Brisebois, will be seen more often as well. TV fans across the nation, including thousands of my readers, have already reacted furiously to producer Norman Lear's plans to kill off Edith so Archie can have a new romantic interest. But her fate is sealed and O'Connor is even writing the segment in which she dies. O'Connor personally picked Meara for his series after testing many Hollywood actresses. "We go back a long way together," says Anne. "We first acted together in a James Joyce play off Broadway more than 20 years ago. I was very pleased when Carroll called and invited me to join 'Archie Bunker's Place' because I knew it would be a ball. And it has been." No one knows how serious their TV relationship will be, but there is no doubt Veronica is the perfect choice. The new woman in his life is someone Archie can date and fight with. She's no gentle soul like Edith, played by Jean Stapleton, and at 5'8", Veronica sees Archie eye-to-eye.

CONSUMER NEWS WIRE The J.R. Ewing newsfront Nastiness pays its dividends. Larry Hagman, who plays bad-guy oilman J.R. Ewing on TV's hit soap 'Dallas,' celebrated his brand spanking new contract with a weekend bash at his Malibu, California beachhouse. Attending were 'Dallas' cast members Victoria Principal, Linda Gray, and real life mom, Mary Martin. His new salary? Only $100,000 a week. "I'm not really worried about who shot J.R.," Hagman says. "After all, I'm J.R., so it wasn't me." A self-inflicted wound! "J.R. wouldn't be dumb enough to do that." The J.R. for President campaign. Says Hagman: "If nominated I will run, if elected I will serve. But first, Congress has to raise the salary to $5 million a year." Carol Channing has received her share of opening night congratulatory telegrams, but the one she got last week after TV's 'The Muppet Show' may be the most unexpected. It read: "Carol working with you was one of the high points of my career as I'm sure it was of yours. Let this not be the only artistic collaboration between vous et moi." Signed Piggy.

TV CLOSEUP Lou Grant star Robert Walden was mobbed by dozens of lusting hookers as he visited Australia where the TV series is one of the most popular on the air. They were all about 20 years-old and beautiful and they couldn't wait to give me their bodies. I was so shocked by the whole thing all I could say was, "When do you have time to watch the show? I mean, don't you work at night?" David Doyle, who millions know as John Bosley on 'Charlie's Angels,' is so terrified at having dental work done that he appeared at a Beverly Hills dentist's office clutching a bottle of Scotch and insisting that he down several swigs before the work began. The dentist reports Doyle became so frightened he passed out as soon as he looked in his mouth. The Mobil Showcase Network will present 'Collision Course' which dramatizes the moments before and after the world's worst mid-air crash at 11:14 a.m. and 42 seconds on Friday, September 10, 1976. It is the opener for Summershow.
