Skiers thronged the slopes

Nineteen inches of new snow falling on Sierra Blanca the first weekend in February attracted, over the weekend, the droves of skiers that had been awaiting word that the skiing on the mountain was excellent.

By 9:30 a.m., Saturday, the main parking lot at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort was full and the overflow parking area was rapidly filling.

Though the lines for lift tickets and the lifts were long, the new facilities reduced time waiting to a minimum.

The grooming of all runs was completed in time for Friday's first assault wave of skiers and the huge crowds following Saturday and through today's Washington's Birthday holiday.

Lodging operators contacted over the weekend by The News indicated that most were booked to capacity, with cancellations being virtually nonexistent.

The number of skiers at Sierra Blanca over the weekend is currently running a little less than estimated last week by manager Roy Parker.

Parker was anticipating selling between 15,000 and 20,000 tickets by the end of today, but so far only about 9,000 have been sold.

Parker said the resort sold 3,515 on Sunday and 3,237 on Saturday. Friday's total was around 3,000.

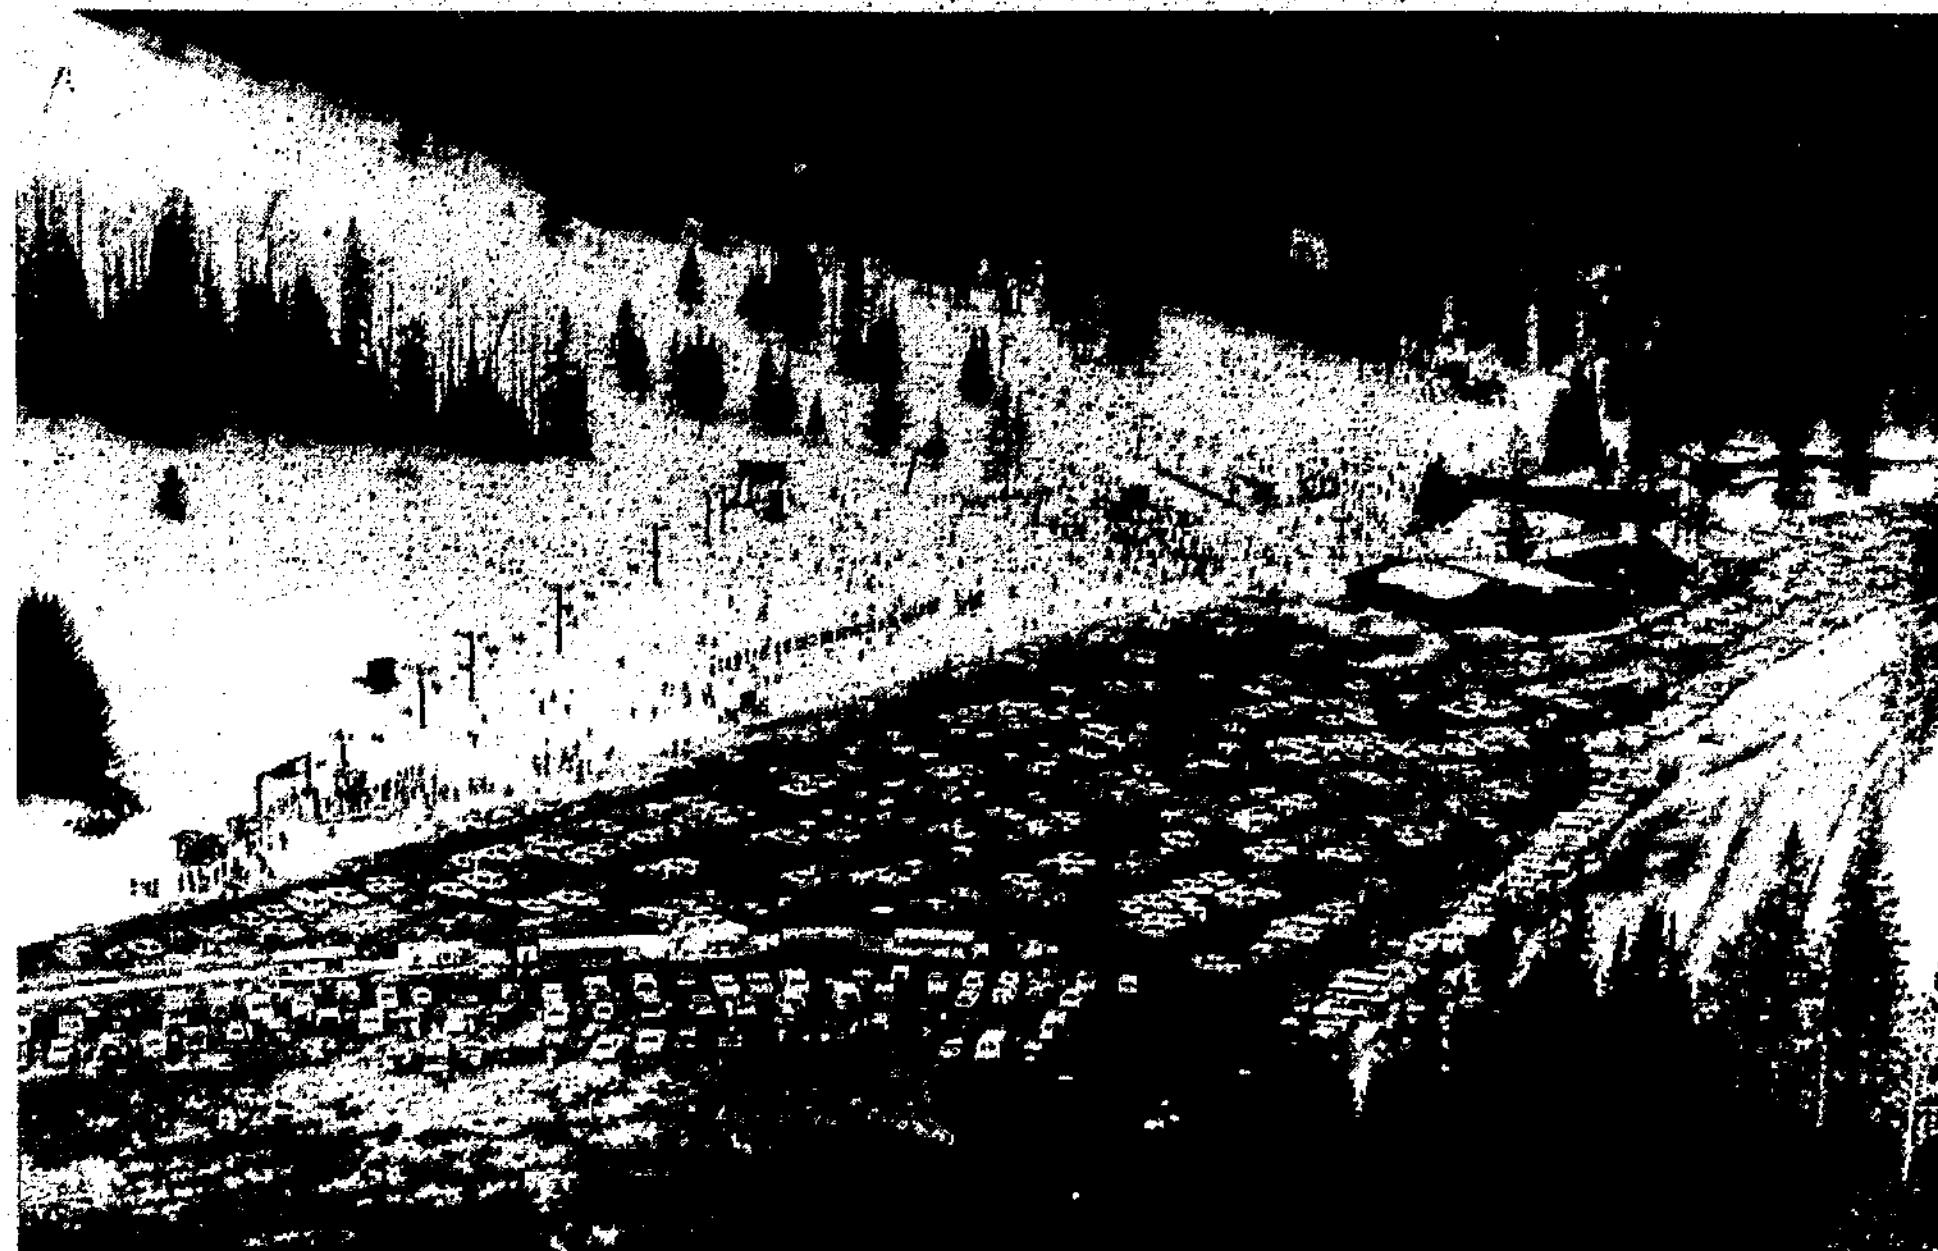

"I imagine we'll sell between 1,500 and 2,000 today," he said. That's still a big improvement over what we've been doing."

Parker said he couldn't estimate how long the current snow base would last.

That's testing the unknown," he said. "I couldn't make a projection on how long it will last. We still have pretty good coverage, and we've been machining everything except the expert trails."

We should have the slopes in good shape in the next three or four days."

Conditions are rated good on the mountain, with all lifts operating and all trails open.

CARS WERE OVERFLOWING into the expanded parking area at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort by 9:30 Saturday morning, with excellent skiing and sunny weather prevailing on the slopes.

THOUGH LINES WERE LONG at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Saturday morning, the new facilities to transport the skiers to their favorite runs handled the crowd with minimum confusion.

SWEETHEARTS OF THE YEAR of Beta Sigma Phi of Ruidoso, named at Saturday evening's banquet at the Chaparral Motor Hotel, were, from the left, Betty Shaw of Alpha Alpha, Gwen DuBose of Xi Alpha Rho, Pat Mulholland of Gamma Rho and Shirlene Roberts of Xi Psi.

Mule racing on national TV tonight

The broadcast will be shown on Channel 4, Albuquerque at 6:30.

Highlights of the action will be focused on Early Bird, the nation's Top Three-Year-Old Racing Mule, owned by Ed and Marion Hyman of Ruidoso.

Coverage of Early Bird includes races as well as interviews with Hyman and trainer Greg LeClair.

Ski Report

Sierra Blanca: Undisturbed snow depth midway on the mountain is 25 inches. All lifts are operating and all trails are open, with good conditions prevailing. Heavily trafficked slopes are in fair condition, however.

Eagle Creek: Average base is 20 to 25 inches, with four slopes open and in good condition. The resort has been making snow at night.

For updated ski reports, call Sierra Blanca, 257-9001, or Eagle Creek, 338-4211.

Ruidoso's classic car buffs proud of their machines

BY CHARLOTTE FELLERS
Staff Writer/Photographer

Finding things that "last" or have some long term wear capabilities may be a little hard in these days of "fast food" and "throwaway" bottles.

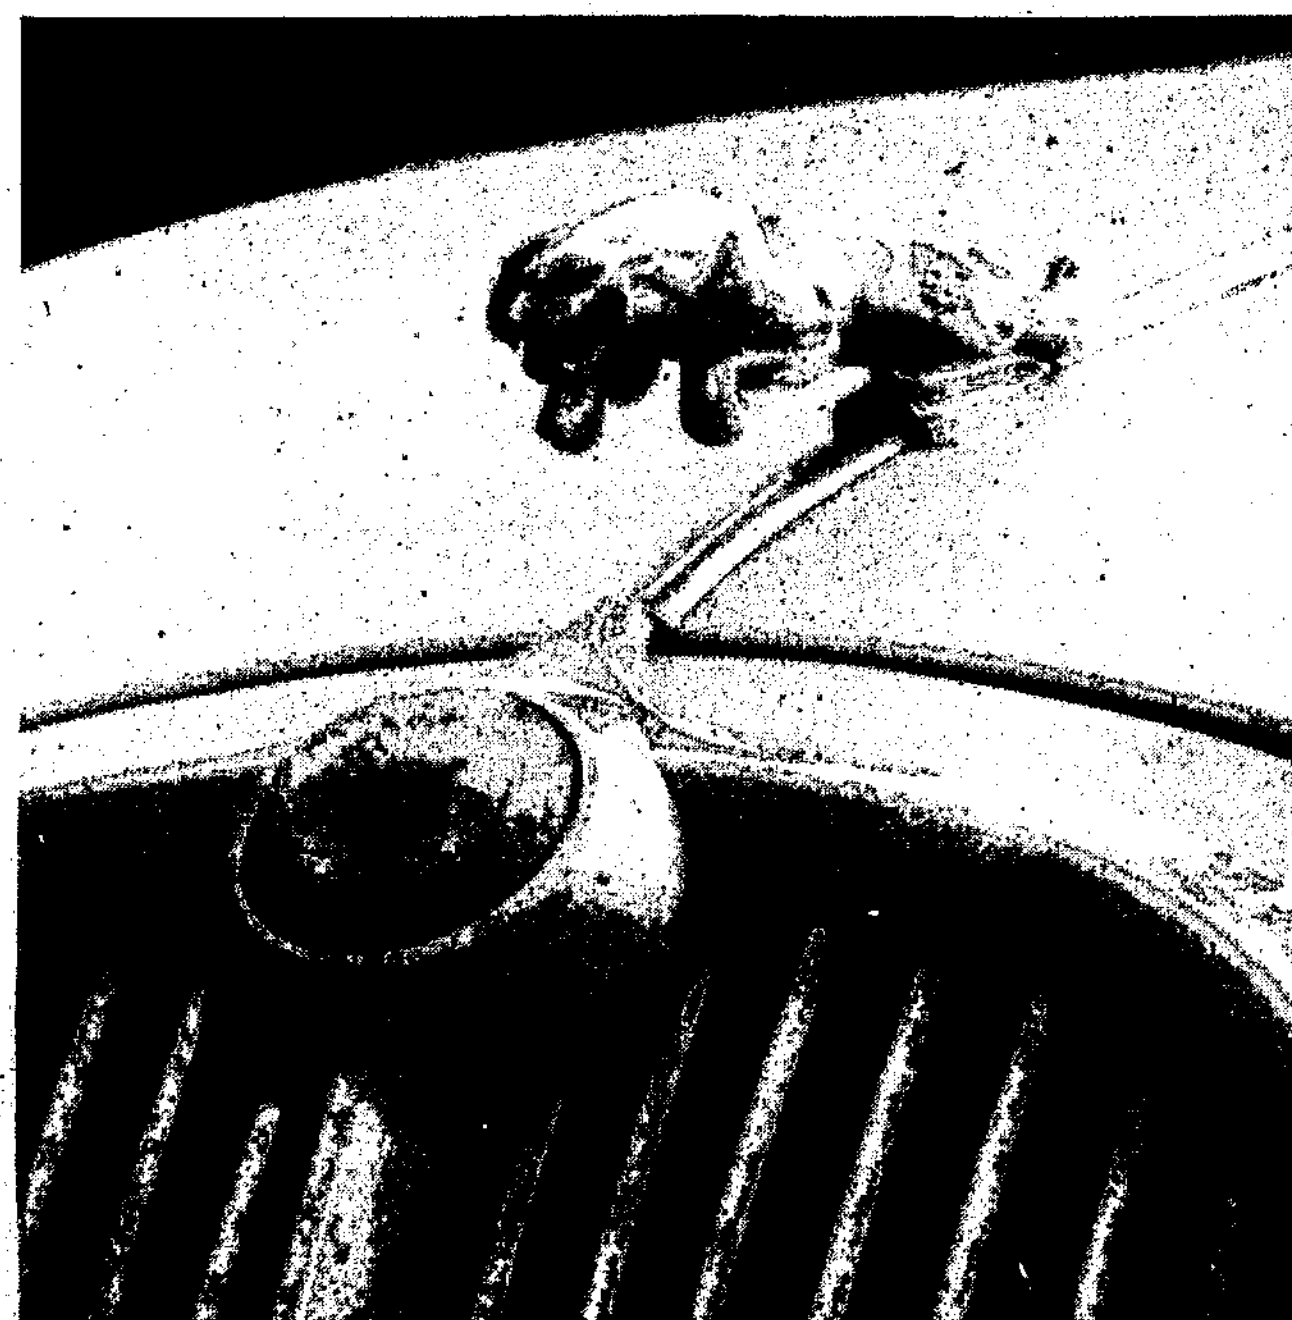

However, one phenomenon of the Twentieth Century has found its way into the hearts and pocketbooks of many Americans — but mostly the invention has managed to fill a lot of garages.

The automobile of 1981 is somewhat streamlined, to meet the needs of an energy crisis that isn't expected to go away; consequently the cars of the 1930's aren't expected to become "classics" ... but some of the cars built in the 1920's through the 1960's have become collector's items.

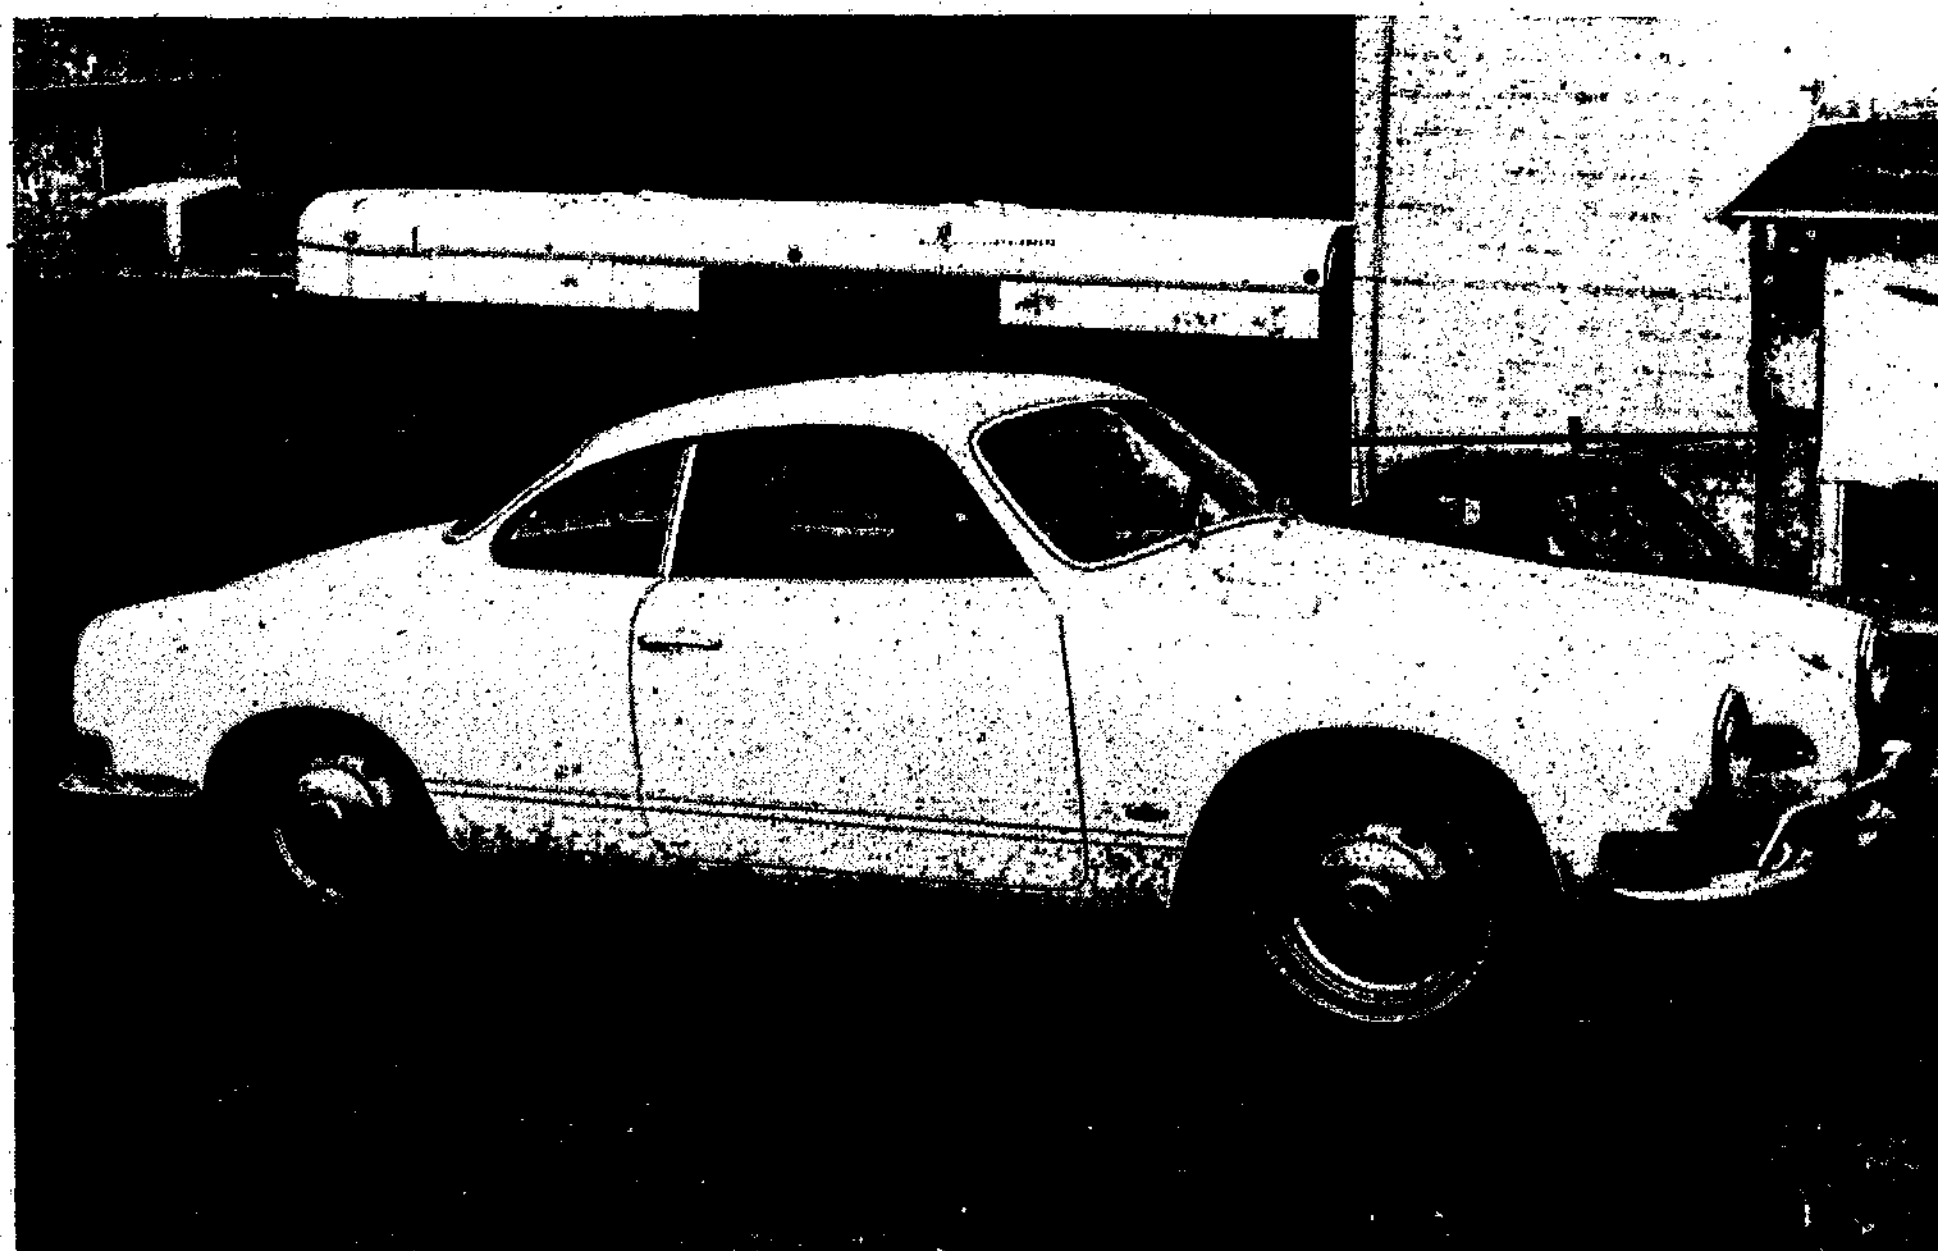

Some people wonder what constitutes a "classic" car. That can possibly be determined by browsing through a list of so designated automobiles, voted into the "classic car club" by members of the Milestone Car Society, an American organization that has deemed itself worthy to determine "a classic," according to one of its local members, Mike Mulholland.

Mulholland said the group selects cars "depending on their unique design, mechanical features, and generally the aesthetics." That's right, cars do have aesthetics, even if they're a matter of personal preference.

CLASSIC CARS sometimes bear the mark of distinction, such as this ornamental jaguar on the hood of the 1966 3.8 S Jaguar owned by Mike Mulholland, an "old car" buff since his youth.

VOLKSWAGEN'S only offering of a sports car, the Karmann Ghia, became popular because of its sleek styling which "really makes it move down the road," according to owner Marty Yoder.

The Milestone Car Society has voted about 80 models as "classics," which has made the owners of those cars potentially wealthy people, in some cases, Mulholland said.

Mulholland owns and drives a classic — a 1966 3.8 S Jaguar, which sports a 3.8 liter engine. Built and distributed by Jaguar Cars Ltd., England, the car was chosen for its style.

Mulholland is now refurbishing a 1954 Studebaker Commander Starlight, and also owns a 1950 GMC pickup, a two-door Model T Ford and a Crosley station wagon, circa 1951. Why collect old cars? "I've just been a car nut since I was a kid. I had my first Model T when I was in high school," Mulholland said. His hobby was picked up by his son Mark, who also has owned his share of "classics."

"You have to think of it as an investment, I guess, but I got the car just for the heck of fixing it up," Mark said one he had refurbished, because, he said, "I was afraid somebody was going to smash in the fender or something. Once it's done, the car's just not the same."

No one's sure if the Volkswagen Karmann Ghia is a classic yet, but it may be destined to join the ranks of the greats. The Karmann Ghia went out of production in the early 1970's and according to Marty Yoder, a local owner of the only sports car Volkswagen has ever made, the car is "a honey."

Yoder has a 1971 model which she claims is "sleek. It goes down the highway and every time I stop for gas (which, by the way, isn't often) somebody offers to buy it."

Yoder said the car has a regular VW motor and repairs are not hard to find.

Another apparent mark of value is a car that is no longer in production. Vernon Miller, a Nogal resident, claims two Studebakers for his family vehicles. Miller said he is a direct descendant of the Studebaker family, and so fell heir to two of the vehicles when the plant closed down in 1966.

Miller said it was a good car. "It's only three feet longer than the new cars and weighs 3,600 pounds." His 1947 (the new one, he said) gets 18-25 miles per gallon. Miller is working on his old car — a 1929 version of the Studebaker, "because I'm retired — got to have something to do," he said.

Doris Langford's pride and joy is a 1951 Chevrolet — not considered to be a classic but "I thought it would be fun to drive," she said, so when she found the car on a visit to Minnesota, she bought it.

"I guess it is an investment, but I thought it'd be fun to have a functional old car — good grief, it gets 21 miles to the gallon. Not bad for a car built in the days of 15 cent gas," she said.

DESIGNERS of automobiles in past years may have tried to create an illusion of flying by attaching this replica of an airplane on the hood.

THE STUDEBAKER Land Cruiser "was a good car," according to a direct descendant of the Studebaker family, Vernon Miller. He said the cars were last made in 1966. "They were good cars, but I guess people just didn't like them," he said.

1951 WAS a very good year, especially in the opinion of Doris Langford, who owns this 1951 Chevrolet — she fondly refers to it as "the bomb."

WORK IS PROGRESSING rapidly on the new Municipal Building, near the Municipal Airport. The new facility will be occupied sometime this spring, possibly around the first of June, according to Emory Hatcher, Planning and Zoning enforcement officer.

A very special Valentine's Day

ORY ENNES spent Friday afternoon with Sue Vinsant's second grade class as the special guest at their Valentine's Day party. The second grade has adopted Ennes in the Center's "Adopt-A-Grandparent" program.

Valentine's Day may be special to many people, but it was extra special for two residents of Ruidoso Care Center (RCC), who Friday were honored guests at Nob Hill School's annual Valentine parties.

Ory Ennes and John B. Patton are participants in the "Adopt-A-Grandparent" program, organized at RCC in December. The two have been "adopted" by classes at Nob Hill School, and are receiving a little "tender loving care" and special attention.

Second graders in Sue Vinsant's and Chris Farrington's classes made valentines for their adopted grandparents, and invited them to share refreshments Friday afternoon.

The children eventually hope to make a personal visit to the center to see their extended family members, and will host Ennes and Patton to lunch at the elementary school before summer arrives.

"We're going to try to take small gifts to them every now and then," Vinsant said.

Both men are delighted with the program. "I haven't been around this many kids in a long, long time," Patton said. "But I'm having a great time."

JOHN B. PATTON enjoys children, so he was especially happy Friday when Chris Farrington's second grade class invited him to their Valentine's Day party. Farrington's class made the gesture as part of the Ruidoso Care Center's "Adopt-A-Grandparent" program.

Joseph G. West, a former resident of Carrizozo, died February 9 in Weingarten, West Germany. He was born April 21, 1926, in Carrizozo and lived there most of his life. He was a Navy veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife, LaNelle West and mother Mrs. Rachel West of Carrizozo.

Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 p.m., today, in the First Baptist Church of Carrizozo, with the Reverend E. W. Campbell officiating. Burial was to be in the Evergreen Cemetery, Carrizozo, with military honors.

Pallbearers were R. A. Crenshaw, Roy LaMay, Jack Payne, W. H. Rickerson, Robert E. Hemphill and Charlie Leslie. Arrangements were by Clarke's Chapel of Roses Mortuary, Ruidoso.

Altrusa Club to host spring workshop

The Altrusa Club of Ruidoso will host the spring workshop for New Mexico Altrusa Clubs at La Junta Guest Ranch April 24-28.

The workshop will be preceded by a board meeting of District 10 officers, which includes seven women from Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico.

The sessions are expected to attract about 125 women, according to co-chairpersons Katherine Finley and Mary Parsons, in addition to the local club's 80 members.

The theme, "Peaks and Valleys" will be carried out in decorations, entertainment and programs, Finley said.

The purpose of the workshop is twofold, Finley said. "First, it is held to have fun and enjoy the fellowship within Altrusa. Secondly, it gives us an opportunity to learn how to serve our community better through Altrusa."

Members from Altrusa Clubs in Albuquerque, Tucuman, Roswell, Hobbs, Clovis, Portales, Las Cruces, Alamogordo, Artesia, Carlsbad, Lovington and Farmington are expected to attend, Parsons said.

"When we have these workshops, they are not like most," Finley said. "Each club is assigned to bring a meal so they don't have to worry about food."

In addition, the local chapter will provide a "hospitality package" to be given to every visiting Altrusan, composed of gifts from local businesses.

Altrusa projects with ways to implement them successfully will be the key to most programs at the workshop.

"We have several committees working on these various areas of planning," Parsons said. "And as our plans become finalized, we will announce them so we can make this the most successful and fun workshop ever."

Committee chairpersons designated by Finley and Parsons include Ann Wilson, hospitality; Liz Munro, invitations; Jane Deyo, programs; Charlene Jones, food; Sherry Morgan, decorating; and Sonya Smith, publicity.

Grapplers go one for three over weekend

Warrior wrestlers went one for three in district competition over the weekend, defeating Cobre and losing to Deming and Silver City.

The Warriors triumphed over Cobre 48-18, but fell to Silver, 53-10. Coach Gerald Ames was figuring that would happen.

But he was a little surprised by the outcome of the Deming meet — the Warriors lost that one, 33-27.

"We did fairly well, we just couldn't pull it out," he said. "Deming was tougher than I thought they would be. We each won the same number of matches, but we didn't win by enough pins."

The Silver City match "wasn't any fun at all," Ames said of the Saturday morning meet, but the Warriors salvaged the weekend with the shellacking of Cobre.

Only two Warriors were able to sweep their weight brackets — Doug Schmidt at 119 pounds and Robert Langston at 167 each won three matches.

Two wrestlers won two and lost one, Ezell Clarke at heavyweight and Scott Ciraulo at 185.

Chuck Schmidt at 98, Ray Montes at 101, Keith Sullivan at 132, David Swalander at 145 and Von Rue at 155 all won one match and lost two.

Henry Rue, 112 pounder, 126 pounder Dirk Bustamante and Don Gwyn, 133 pounder, went zero for three in their weekend competition.

"It's pretty hard to lose sometimes, but we got a lot of experience," Ames said.

The Warriors have another district match Wednesday, facing New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell there in the final regular season meet for the 5-4 Warriors.

Last competition of the season will be this weekend in the district tournament, to be held at Cobre.

Stake claim on district lead

Warriors pummel Cobre Indians

BY MARK BAGBY
Sports Editor

It took a furious fourth quarter surge to do it, but the Ruidoso Warrior round-ballers claimed their fifth district win of the year Saturday with a 60-51 win over the Cobre Indians there.

The Warriors shot 75 percent (nine of 12 shots) in the final stanza to erase a four point Indian lead. In so doing, they scored 26 points, half a dozen more than they scored in the entire first half.

Coach Barry Nelson was afraid Cobre would get a lead and go into a stall, but it didn't work that way. The Indians apparently felt they didn't need to hold the ball the way the Warriors were shooting it.

"We didn't take many outside shots," Nelson said. "We didn't take many inside ones, either. I thought we'd get the ball inside better than we did."

The Warriors scored but eight points in the first period, connecting on only three of 18 tries (a dismal 19 percent), and hit only four of 11 in the second period (36 percent).

The Warriors were down by 10, 30-20, at the half, but pulled to within four before the third period was over on a seven of 12 performance (58 percent).

"I thought we'd play better than we did," Nelson said. "It's hard to play on the road like we did. I'm just glad our road trips are over."

The Cobre contest was the final away game of the regular season for the Warriors, now 5-1 in district and 13-5 overall.

Nelson was obviously pleased with the win, but he thought it was a little sloppy. "Cobre was tough, about what I expected them to be," he said. "They didn't press us like I figured they would, which kinda made it easier for us."

Glenn Ryan was high scorer for the Warriors with 19, followed by Rodney Thomason with 17, Gary Jones with 15, Gene Reeves with seven and Bill Richardson with two.

The win more firmly established the Warriors' hold on the number one spot in District 3AAA, with four regular season games left on the slate, all set for Warrior Gymnasium.

Next Friday the Warriors face Truth or Consequences here, followed by Deming on Saturday. The following weekend will feature games against Tularosa and Cobre.

"We came through when we had to," Nelson said. "We knew we would get there sometime, we just had to do it. From here on in we just have to keep improving."

Deming is currently in second place in the district, followed by Truth or Consequences and Tularosa.

Sportin' Life

by

Mark Bagby

Ever wonder how much a pro football player earns per season?

Well, the figures I have here show the average salary is $78,557. Of course, that's the average. Some players (usually rookies and kickers) earn quite a bit less.

Then, on the other hand, there are a few players who earn a little bit more. No, make that a lot more.

Any ideas on who the highest paid player is?

The names that come to mind are Earl Campbell, Dan Fouts, Tony Dorsett. Nope, it's none of them.

It's Walter Payton, the Star running back at Chicago. He pulls down a cool $475,000 per annum.

Now here's the mind blower: guess who the second highest paid player is.

It's Bob Griese at Miami, who is now a benchwarmer. He earns $400,025 yearly for collecting splinters.

Billy Sims at Detroit is next with $377,500, and he's followed by Earl Campbell, who earns a "paltry" $300,000. Archie Manning, the New Orleans quarterback gets $367,500, and Dan Pastorini, that bench warming quarterback at Oakland, pulls down $358,333.

Actually, Campbell really is the highest paid player in the league, once you figure in annual bonuses, et cetera. That pushes his pay well over the half million dollar mark.

Can anyone name the lowest starting quarterback's salary and the player and his team?

See answer below.

My kind of diet

Warrior football coach Darrel Stierwalt isn't a guy who waits around for things to happen. He believes in making things happen.

"Games are won in the off-season," is his philosophy. (If it isn't, it should be.) Anyway, right now he's got his troops on a weight lifting program. Some of his kids are on a weight gaining program.

For those, he has a thing he calls "The Gorge."

His athletes who need to gain weight have to ingest 7500 calories a day. (If memory serves me correctly, a pound of food has 3,500 calories, so we're talking about two pounds of food a day.)

Most people when they go on a diet, have to watch what they eat. This diet, you don't watch — just just push food in your mouth hand over fist. All you have time to do is eat.

Just listen to this: 1500 calories at breakfast, a 500 calorie snack; 1800 calories at lunch; 1000 calories for an afternoon snack; 1700 calories at dinner; and a 1000 calorie snack at bedtime.

Burp. Listen to this: for breakfast, have two eight ounce glasses of orange juice (that's a pint), four eggs, any style, and four pieces of buttered toast.

Or two waffles, with four teaspoons of butter and two tablespoons of syrup, two pancakes, two English muffins and two slices bacon.

Then you snarf down one and a half cups of cereal, and a pint of milk.

Lady Warriors lose to Cobre Saturday

Greed is one of the Seven Deadly Sins, and lady Warrior basketball coach Sergio Castanon learned all about it Saturday at Cobre.

His squad was leading going into the fourth period, but Castanon changed strategies and was trying to foul out Cobre's top player. The idea, however, failed and the Ruidoso ladies lost, 53-44.

"I guess I got a little greedy," he said. "We took a gamble and lost it."

The ladies found success using their man to man defense and were fast breaking well before Castanon sent in his orders.

That broke the lady Warriors' momentum, but the game wasn't over until the final couple of minutes.

The lady Warriors nearly had a chance to win it nonetheless, missing 15 free throws in the final period, and nine of those were possible one and ones.

Lisa Shaw was high scorer with 11, followed by Kody Taylor with 10, Tami Shaw with eight, Patsy Almager with six, Gleda Bob with six and Jan Huey with five. Castanon wasn't too rattled by the loss though.

"I'm convinced the second place team in this district won't be decided until the district tournament," he said. "All the other teams in the district have had outstanding games, but we haven't and we're in the running."

Next opponent for the lady Warriors is Artesia here Tuesday.

Warrior JVers stumble at Cobre

The Warrior boys' junior varsity squad fell to Cobre there Saturday, 41-35, but just barely, according to coach Vince Collins.

"If everyone had been there, we'd have easily beaten them," he said.

What's It Like To Have A Chimney Fire?

It's no fun. If it doesn't burn the house down, it will probably wreck your chimney and scare you half to death. Here's how it happens.

Begin with one dirty chimney — let's say a fireplace not cleaned for a couple of years. The soot lining the chimney flue is saturated with flammable stuff called creosote. [More detail on creosote is available in any dictionary.] It doesn't take much to ignite creosote — a newspaper fire sending flames up to the damper is enough.

Once kindled, creosote burns with joyous abandon. In a matter of seconds the fire spreads up through the flue creating a draft that only helps things along. At this point your average chimney fire begins to roar and howl, sending the occupants of the house running for cover.

If you run, you'll be treated to a real fireworks show. As the creosote fire builds and intensifies the heat melts the mortar between the brick. The red-hot mortar actually drips into the flue, only to be caught up in the tremendous updraft, and these little fire balls shoot out the chimney and onto the roof. If you're lucky, the chimney will fall apart destroying one end of the building — if you're not, this miniature volcano can bring the whole house down.

However, if you stand your ground, a chimney fire can be controlled. Put out the fire in the fireplace with an extinguisher or sand. Cover the opening with a wet blanket, call the fire department, and hope for the best. But it should be pointed out that having your chimney cleaned is a lot easier on the nerves than the sand and wet blanket method.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — The winds of change blow strong. They have even reached the halls of our state's Capitol.

But they blow here, as is typical of our state, in a different swirl from the one in Washington.

Back on the Potomac, almost all talk is of tightening the purse strings, while here there is an embarrassment of wealth.

Maybe we could lend the nation Fred Muniz, our chief tax-collector, and Fred O'Cheskey and Franklin Jones, two of his more outstanding predecessors.

Over the years men such as these have managed to teach New Mexicans what few other Americans have learned: how to hold still while being over-taxed to an unbelievable degree.

And if you don't think it's fun watching O'Cheskey and Jones, now lobbyists for private industry, singing a tune 180 degrees away from the one they used to sing, you don't know the enjoyment of political change.

"Cut, cut, cut!" has replaced "Tax, Tax, Tax!" — oh, happy day!

In fact, people like O'Cheskey and Jones, who really understand how the state's money-producing machine actually works, are more than just a tad embarrassed at the piles of money New Mexico has over-collected in the past.

They're looking down the road and seeing a glut of revenue such as this small state has never amassed. That, they suggest, is going to make the surpluses of the last few years look like the earnings from a teen-ager's paper route.

Suddenly these people believe — or profess to believe — that we'd better start cutting taxes of all kinds, right, left, upside down and backwards.

And it's at that point of "taxes of all kinds" that they meet some resistance head-on.

That resistance comes from the Governor of the State of New Mexico, among many others.

Bruce King is talking this year like a true populist. "Cut the taxes on the private citizen," he says, "but do no favors for big business."

That is not a view with which lobbyists agree; because lobbyists, as you may have heard, seldom are paid to come up here and speak for the private citizen. (Nobody speaks much for that almost outmoded species.)

Watch the sparks when these two opposing opinions clash in the state Senate.

No. Don't just look for sparks. Listen for the crash of rock meeting rock.

The members of the House of Representatives got snookered on this one. They wanted to demonstrate, above all else, that they could come to grips with a problem like tax reduction early in the session.

They did.

And when they did, they gave away all the power they might have if their hold card hadn't already been seen.

Put simply, they got took, in their desire to demonstrate that the old Aubrey Dunn system no longer prevails in the Legislature. (Fact is, the old Aubrey Dunn system works better than the naive one they want to substitute for it.)

The House is out of the fight. Now there is nobody left but Governor King and the Senate.

You can be sure that out of that combination the results will not be what the House wants. ("The House? Who cares?")

So now it's the Governor, defender of the poor citizen, against the lobbyists for the big folks.

Anybody want to bet on who will win that instance?

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

Having been a mighty healthy woman all my life living in this area, I was suddenly and badly in need of care at a hospital.

Ruidoso Hospital was there — and here I've received far more than a week of excellent and expert care by Dr. Whitwam and Dr. Beechie and their staff, both day and night.

I'm getting out today (February 12). I was so grateful for the help and smiles from the Pink Ladies. I appreciated the newspapers, Ruidoso, Roswell, El Paso and Albuquerque.

To those who sent cards and flowers and visited me, I was so grateful. Thank you, thank you and skip the ulcer.

Reports to New Mexico

U.S. Sen. Harrison Schmitt

ECONOMIC RECOVERY — A NEW BEGINNING

There is a line in a song popularized some years ago by Frank Sinatra that I think is applicable to our number one domestic problem today, our seriously but not terminally ill economy.

"Old Blue Eyes" belted out ... "I'm gonna pick myself up, dust myself off and start all over again." We have seen a new beginning in the Senate Appropriations Committee where I chair the Subcommittee on Labor-Health & Human Services and Education. The full Committee has completed a historic series of hearings on the economy and its impact on the Committee's ability to control federal spending and increase service in programs under its jurisdiction.

This overall fiscal view by the Committee has been absent in recent years. Its absence has contributed in a major way to the lack of workable fiscal policy in the Congress. A general fiscal strategy toward a new beginning, a "picking up and dusting off," should have four basic elements:

1. Enact significant tax incentives, retroactive to January 1, 1981, to encourage new capital formation and thus creating increased productivity, lower costs of production and new jobs.

2. Enact a general income tax cut of about $30 billion for calendar year 1981; $20 billion for 1982 and $50 billion for 1983 with indexing of tax rates to inflation in following years.

3. Enact cuts in federal spending that reduce the growth of federal spending that reduce the growth of federal spending to zero by the end of FY 1982 and reduce the annual amount of federal borrowing (deficit plus present off-budget borrowing) from $138 billion in FY 1980 to $130 billion in FY 1981, $90 billion in FY 1982, $50 billion in FY 1983 and zero in FY 1984.

4. Stop the growth of regulatory costs by the end of FY 1981 and build a 10 percent annual rate of decrease in these costs by the end of FY 1982.

The nitty-gritty of controlling spending comes down to applying common sense and experience to individual programs. Obviously, most major long-term adjustments will require changes in the basic entitlements. Changes that tighten up the eligibility criteria for benefits so that only those who have no alternatives but federal assistance get that assistance, but get it more efficiently than in the past. We must eliminate waste, fraud and abuse everywhere; social programs, research and development and defense, alike.

The synthesis of economic and budgetary ideas the Appropriations Committee received in our recent hearing showed a remarkable consensus. The Congress would ignore that consensus not only at its political peril but at the peril of the nation.

The Appropriations Committee has made a good start toward playing its pivotal role in restoring tax, spending and regulatory common sense to the federal government. Now it is up to the Congress to listen.

To paraphrase "Old Blue Eyes," "We're gonna pick ourselves up, dust ourselves off and start all over again."

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

A reply to Mr. Jim Tully's Letter to the Editor in the Monday, February 9 edition of The Ruidoso News.

First of all we do not have a year round population of 8,000 but one of 4,284 as per 1980 census. Also the water produced by the City amounted to 438 million gallons for period 7/79 thru 6/80, and not 730 million as stated.

Since the house unit figure of 5,418 is probably a more representative figure than population, we can arrive at a yearly house unit use of water to be 80,500 gallons or 220 gallons per day.

The City's present average yearly water right available is 1,795 acre feet. This is based upon water from the Cherokee Well (12 million gallons per year), the Rio Ruidoso (eight year history of use) and Eagle Creek (27 year history of run off). Using this 1,795 acre feet of water rights available the total gallowage is 584 million gallons, which at a 80,500 gallon per year house unit usage results in a maximum of 7,265 housing units. Therefore, the growth rate the city can justifiably experience to where our water system utilizes the present maximum allowable amounts to an increase in house units of only 35 percent (7,265 vs. 5,418) and not the 300 percent suggested population increase of 8,000 to 24,000.

The City's water rights under present flow rates calculate in the neighborhood of 2,960 acre feet. The difference between yearly average available water and annual water rights gives the city the right to collect and store any above average water flow up to a present total of some 2,960 acre feet when available. It is therefore evident that one of the long term solutions to our problem is to provide sufficient raw storage facilities whereby the City can impound all of their total allowable water rights whenever the supply is present.

I can say unofficially that to these ends the Water Board is diligently working. Their report to the City Council is forthcoming and will be submitted after the soon to be completed Boyle Engineering report is received and digested.

Member, Ruidoso Water Board

Yours and Ours

editorial

As interesting as first thoughts about the possibility that the Ruidoso Downs Baptist Church may open a non-denominational Christian school are, it is not a panacea to solving the problems of increasing enrollment in the Ruidoso Public Schools.

A parochial school is not eligible for public funding, therefore it would have to be supported by subscription and, more than likely, stiff tuition fees which would tend to limit enrollment.

Therefore, to handle the projected increase in students in the public school in the years ahead, the Board of Education must continue with their plans to expand the present facilities.

Based on a five percent annual population growth, the public school must be able to educate 1,900 students by the beginning of the 1985-86 school year and possibly 2,300 or more in another five years.

If the voters approve bonding the school district to the legal limit, then the school can apply to the State Capital Outlay Committee for substantial funding that need not be repaid, to complete the building program.

Sure, the bond issue will increase taxes, but, if Ruidoso is to continue offering students outstanding educational opportunities, school district patrons must foot their share of the cost. There is, it seems, no alternative. —CD

KID'S TOMBSTONE FOUND

Sheriff John McBride of De Baca County ... after being pestered by the media following Billy The Kid's tombstone turning up missing ... and who has allowed as how all the pestering bothered him ... perhaps more'n a mite ... has, since the publicity led to recovering the marker, and also to finding the culprit who toted it away to California ... is now a mite more respectful of the power of the press ... 'cause, if'n Sheriff John hadn't cooperated so fully ... albeit under protest ... the Kid's marker might not have been around to mark his grave, come time for the Billy The Kid hijinks and celebration at Fort Sumner this summer ... and, by jinkies, the sheriff's done up and give the press credit.

As to the trucker who trucked the Kid's gravestone to California ... leading to charges in The Land of Enchantment ... it'd sure be a dandy fine gesture on the part of California if they'd just keep that trucker there ... and maybe slap a real sentence on him ... and keep him from trucking off somewhere ... maybe to become so enamored with another historical marker that'd he up and tote that away, too ... and there's this much about it ... if he was in prison in California, he'd not be adding to the confusion and overcrowding of our penal facilities ... besides, there just might be folks as are cons here who'd take a dim view of this theft ... which could lead to said trucker's demise ... and more killings at the pen we don't need ... at least until they get all the murderously inclined cons into one area ... so's they can have a field day, doing their bit to reduce the overcrowding ... not?

As to the Kid ... saint or sinner ... matters not ... he's a legend ... a bit of the color of the Old West as was in Vogue here during his time ... and it's sure nice to know there's a marker for tourists to ogle ... as they become indoctrinated with the fact, fancy and fiction that has, in toto, brought national and international fame to this derring-do desperado of yesteryear ... who just might be New Mexico's most famous, infamous or notorious citizen.

Anyhow, hopefully this trucker'll get slapped with the full penalties ... 'cause there really ain't no excuse for someone totin' away one of the truly authentic mementoes of our state's fiery and turbulent past.

SHRINERS ARE GOOD GUYS

I happened to come a cropper of a piece of literature about Shriners ... and the Shrine's 18 orthopedic hospitals and three burns institutes ... the other day ... and discovered that just about one million Shriners were responsible for providing more than $55 million to operate those facilities in 1980.

Shriners are those guys ... where there are parades ... who wear those funny looking red caps ... called a fez by those privileged to wear one ... who add flavor to said parade with their antics ... who have more fun than other folks ... and who don't never cause no trouble nowhere for no one.

Anyhow ... any crippled child gets free treatment ... and the benefit of specialists ... at all Shrine hospitals and burns institutes ... 'cause the Shriners pick up the tab ... gladly. If you know of any crippled child who needs medical help ... or a burned child in need of further treatment ... all you gotta do is stop the first man you see wearing a little silver or gold lapel pin that has a curved knife running through something resembling a horseshoe ... and lay the facts on him that you know of this child that needs either of this kind of help ... that Shriners'll take it from there.

There's a reason for all this ... there's a motto that the Shriners live by ... "A man never stood so tall as when he stoops to help a crippled or burned child" ... which, by jinkies, is just a dandy fine motto ... yes?

WOEFUL WATER WOES

All folks here in Harmony Valley as has been more'n a mite concerned about us'n having some water in our taps come summer, should be resting some easier now ... knowing that the village dad's ain't been ignoring the problem.

The new Hollywood Well should be boosting the gallons available ... and other wells might also be producers ... and the trustees might get around to digging another duck pond or three ... 'cause they've got their necks bowed ... and, by jinkies, they ain't about to continue relying on snow and rain and little creeks to get us water ... and it's gonna cost a few quarters to get more water ... but lotsa water at two or three cents a gallon's better'n no water for a penny.

BRIEF BIT: While paying taxes on income's bad ... it ain't nearly as bad as having no income to not have to pay taxes on ... CD

Mustangs head the pack in Little League cage play

After completion of the first half of the Sertoma Little League Basketball season, the Mustangs are in first place with an unblemished 7-0 record, thus earning them a spot in the league championship tilt, set for March.

The Mustangs can avoid the three game championship series if they finish first over the next seven games, according to league director Barry Bellinger.

But the squad, coached by Wes Ryan and Herb Ford, may have to face an opponent, because they suffered their first defeat Thursday, losing to Bellinger's Blue Demons, 31-28.

The 14 game season is split into halves, Bellinger said, with the league leader at the end of the first half to play the league leader of the second half in a best-of-three series. If the Mustangs, however, win the second half, they will be declared automatic league champions.

The team is led by Kirk Ryan and Russell Easter, and Easter is currently the league's top scorer.

The Mustangs are trailed in the first half standings by the Blue Demons, 5-2 after the first half; the Red Barons, 5-2, coached by Rolland Ramos; Sixers, 3-3, coached by Lynn Willard; Green Machine, 3-3, coached by Greg Stewart and L. J.

Jameson; Yellowjackets, 2-5, coached by Mitzi Burt; Hondo Hawks, 2-5, coached by Raymond Montano; and the Hondo Eagles, 0-7, coached by Jimmy McTeigue. Easter is the league's top scorer, with 106 points over seven games, a 15.1 points per game average.

He is trailed by Jason Bigham of the Blue Demons, who has scored 93 points for a 13.3 average.

Other top scorers include: Mark Langston, Red Barons, 90 points, 12.9 average; Kirk Ryan, Mustangs, 63 points, 9.0 average; Greg Bellinger, Blue Demons, 61 points, 8.7 average; Oscar Torres, Yellowjackets, 55 points, 7.9 average; Ricardo Garcia, Red Barons, 50 points, 7.1 average; Tony Chavez, Eagles, 42 points, 6.0 average.

Jeff Willingham of the Sixers and Jeff Slotton of the Green Machine are also among the top scorers, but those teams have played only six games as opposed to the other team's seven games.

Willingham has scored 46 points for a 7.6 points per game average, and Slotton has 38 points, a 6.3 average.

The league is sponsored by Ruidoso's Sertoma Club and plays its games in White Mountain Middle School gymnasium.

The Dreamer

BY DANNIE STORM

On Lincoln's Birthday

This is being sent to you on Thursday, February twelve, the one hundred and seventy-second anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, of whom President Reagan recently said,

"To know the meaning of America, we can look to the life of Abraham Lincoln."

February is the month of change, a time in which spring and winter are in strife for possession of the world.

Often times in this month comes weather punishing and trying to body, mind and spirit.

And then comes a day when the earth is at its best, and God is close to His world. Under a sky of purest blue, the earth is calm and tranquil under the mellow sun; all the trees are motionless, and a peaceful quiet fills the land. The hills and vales and meadows all are in a reverent hush. Your heart is filled with joyful gratefulness for just awakening to behold such a day as this.

Lincoln's Strength

Lincoln was the personal embodiment of a cherished American Ideal: great strength combined with deep and abiding compassion.

He stood six feet three and one-half, raven-haired and lanky, with muscles of rawhide which gave him almost super-human strength. To this was added mental power even more remarkable than his physical endowment. To these characteristics were added a softness and tenderness of heart, and a deeply spiritual nature.

You remember the words of Shakespeare, "sweet are the uses of adversity."

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Michael Landon, Hollywood's most famous family man, has returned to the home he left last summer when he moved in with his 21-year-old sweetheart. In fact, Michael, 43, and his wife Lynn are so happy together again that they will restate their wedding vows in a ceremony watched by their six children as the only invited guests. "The ceremony will take place sometime in the new year and it will be simple and dignified," says a source close to both Michael and Lynn, 42. "It is very important to both of them that the children be there because they really are a loving, caring family whose children mean the very earth to them." In June, Hollywood was shaken with the news that Landon had moved from the family's plush Beverly Hills home to live in a small seaside apartment with Cindy Clerico, a make-up artist on the set of Landon's "Little House on the Prairie." Landon would only say "I have moved out." Lynn and the kids are taking a vacation in Spain. We are not taking divorce." But the rest of Hollywood certainly was. Lynn claimed it was just a trial separation so "Michael will come back and see where we've been and where we are going." Friends said Landon was succumbing to the pressures of 16- to 17-hour days as winter producer on the hit TV series. One close acquaintance said "Michael was going through a midlife crisis and was not happy. He was just out of control."

THE BACKLASH: Actor Dale Robertson, who played the role of the cowboy hero, has been accused of being a "bad boy" and a "womanizer." With a reputation for being a "bad boy" and a "womanizer," Robertson has been accused of being a "bad boy" and a "womanizer." John Forsythe has been accused of being a "bad boy" and a "womanizer." Chris Evert Lloyd has been accused of being a "bad boy" and a "womanizer."
