Billy the Kid escapes again at Old Lincoln

BY GREG STEPHENS
Staff Writer

"Billy the Kid was just an overgrown juvenile delinquent, so I find it ironic that we have made him into such a legend," said Betty Shrecengost, director of the upcoming Old Lincoln Days. "But the east was looking for Robin Hoods at the time, and the west was the great untamed frontier. So the newspapers made him into a larger than life figure."

The legend of the Kid is larger than ever nowadays, and festivities at the Old Lincoln Days August 7-9 will revolve around a folk pageant called "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid."

Shrecengost has been involved with the pageant since its inception in 1940, when she played a part as a girl. Since that time the pageant has grown from a back-yard drama to a large scale production that attracts thousands from around the Southwest.

"What is really unique about the Old Lincoln Days is that it's put together almost completely by local residents—all 50 of us. And we still get a big kick out of doing it," said Shrecengost.

Now in its 41st year, the pageant is a dramatization of Lincoln during the time of the Lincoln County wars. This year, to mark the 100th anniversary of Billy the Kid's escape and subsequent shooting, there will be an added scene of the death at Fort Sumner. Music has also been added this year, with pre-pageant Billy the Kid Ballads, and music between acts performed by Joe Salazar and Bob Batt.

The show has been upgraded this year with a new script and a new cast of characters. Some 50 people will be involved in the production, including: Bill Shrecengost Jr., as Billy the Kid, Walter Henn as Governor Lew Wallace, Dan Storm as Buckshot Roberts, Charlie Rich

Village okays beer and wine vote for cafes

The Ruidoso trustees Tuesday evening approved holding an election September 22, on the question of allowing beer and wine licenses for village restaurants.

Attorney Gordon Schnauffer presented a petition with 162 verified voter signatures to the trustees. He said 110 would have met the requirements of the law, under the five percent rule.

On a roll call vote trustees Sherman Atwood, Benny Coulston and Frank Sawyer voted yes, with mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr., registering an "in favor" vote. Trustee George White was absent from the meeting.

VILLAGE MANAGER Jim Hine advised the trustees that the bond issue to provide low rent housing funding in Ruidoso, Roswell and Artesia had been sold, thus making about $21 million available. The original breakdown of this money was about $1 million to Ruidoso, with the balance to be split between Artesia and Roswell.

At the July 14 meeting of the trustees, after Hine had stated that the bonds, due to the eight percent state limitation, were not being sold and that Ruidoso would have to wait for their share, Davis said, "We should ask for a reevaluation of funds, as Roswell and Artesia are to get the lion's share. Ruidoso has more housing built than the other two. We should ask for a lot more. I don't see Artesia and Roswell doing anything for us."

At Tuesday's meeting, after learning the bonds were sold and that the funding would be available for the housing, Davis said, of Ruidoso's share. "It really doesn't matter. As long as Mr. Pappas is in Roswell you'll have that — the money will go to Artesia and Roswell. . . . And please quote me as saying exactly that."

THE TRUSTEES also accepted a proposal from Harold Kios, Kios and Company, Albuquerque, to submit plans for the formation of a non-profit organization for acquisition of water rights.

Kios said there were five methods of paying for water rights: General Obligation Bonds, Revenue bonds, conditional sales contract, lease/purchase and cash. Kios said it would probably be in the best interest of Ruidoso to try and acquire water rights under conditional sales contract. "Under bond money," he said, "the buyer is liable for all taxes due on the total at the end of the first year, whether the balance is payable over five years or 20."

All trustees, with Davis being "in favor," approved having Kios develop a plan to submit at a later meeting. Coulston suggested that names of members of the proposed non-profit organization be submitted to Davis for consideration at the next meeting.

In other business, the trustees: — Approved increasing General Fund increases, for fiscal 1981-1982, of $60,847 for various village projects, airport improvements and to the Lodger's Tax.

— Adopted Resolution 81-13 establishing a $44 daily per diem for village officials for in state travel.

— Adopted Ordinance 81-14, "granting a rate increase to Cablevision of Lincoln County." The ordinance is published elsewhere in this issue.

— Approved the appointment of Municipal Judge Sam Nunnally to also serve as Civil Defense Director.

— Recognized a request from the Golden Age Club, accompanied by 64 signatures, for use of the Multi-purpose Room of the public library, without taking action.

— Received a petition from some property owners at Country Club Road, Baldy Drive and Scenic Drive, for additional traffic control, without taking action.

— Approved the appointment of Larry Hendricks, Roswell, as assistant building inspector.

— Held an executive session pertaining to pending litigation on the use of water from three new wells, following the filing of a formal protest with the State Engineer by the Fawn Ridge Property Owners Association.

Rule The Deck, one of quarter horse racing's most consistent fillies, heads the field for the 13th running of the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic Sunday at Ruidoso Downs.

The Classic, at 440 yards, is designed for three-year-old and older quarter horses. The winner will earn $72,940 from the purse of $145,880.

Rule The Deck qualified for the Classic with a 21:88 reading while winning her trial heat last Thursday by one and a half-lengths. That was the fastest qualifying time of the 10 finalists.

The Scout Leader filly has three wins and one second in six outings this season. She's earned $36,011 for owner Dirk Jones a law student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas.

—She began her 1981 campaign with a second and seventh at Los Alamitos near Los Angeles, California. She then tallied two victories in her first two Ruidoso Down appearances before finishing seventh in the Rainbow Derby on July 5.

Trained by R. D. Hay, Jack Wallace has been her regular rider.

A mare, Bold Love, turned in the second fastest qualifying time of the 71 Classic trial hopefuls.

The four-year-old Bold Moon mare zipped to a 21:95 clocking while capturing the first trial division by one-and-a-half lengths. She has won all three Ruidoso Downs outings this year.

Her only setback was a close fourth in a stakes trial race in late June at Los Alamitos. Overall, she's made $10,702 for owner Thelma Spencer of Edmond, Oklahoma.

Bold Love's biggest win this season was three-and-a-half-length decision in the Jet Deck Stakes on July 10 when she stopped such standouts as Oh Shiny, Looking Forward and Rocket Jet Bug.

Lucks Gay Chic, a What Luck colt who has the most victories this season of any Classic entrant, tied for the third fastest qualifying time of 22:05.

A winner of six races this season with one second in seven outings, Lucks Gay Chic has earned $29,551 for owner Travis Ranch of Norman, Oklahoma. Lucks Gay Chic won half his races at Ruidoso Downs and the other three at the Valverde County Fair at Del Rio, Texas. He is trained by Hugh Tucker.

Baby Hold On, who also ran a 22:05 clocking in the trials, is the biggest lifetime money winner in the Classic. She has collected $252,481 on nine career triumphs.

The Dash For Cash filly is noted for her quick starts from the gate. She is one of quarter horse racing's most popular fillies.

Owned by Gerald and Darlene Blue of Amarillo, Texas, Baby Hold On is trained by H. C. Werner Jr.

The biggest 1981 money earner in the Classic is Dr. Depot, a Rene Depot gelding who won the second Classic trial race by two lengths.

He has four wins and three seconds in seven outings this season. He has collected $101,955 for owner Barbara Smith of Lewisville, Texas.

His best effort was a second behind Higheasterjet in the $595,850 Rainbow Derby at Ruidoso Downs on July 5. He was only a head behind Higheasterjet, the 1980 All-American Futurity winner.

Dr. Depot defeated Easily Smashed, the Kansas Derby winner, in the Rainbow Derby while earning $95,336.

The complete list of Classic entrants and their qualifying times: Rule The Deck (21:88); Bold Love (21:95); Lucks Gay Chic (22:05); Baby Hold On (22:05); Dr. Depot (22:14); Oh Shiny (22:06); Priss On Across (22:13); That's Raney (22:14); Boogie Machine Nic (22:14) and Ooh Lala Lala (22:14).

The Classic will be the tenth race on Sunday's 12 race program Post time will be 1 p.m.

Cancer appeal starts Tuesday

The Lincoln County chapter of the American Cancer Society will kick off the 1981 fund crusade Tuesday night at Jerry Dale's with a dance contest beginning at 9 beginning at 9 p.m.

Items to be auctioned include a framed Mimi Jungbluth print, donated by the Artisan's Shop; a keg of Coors, donated by the Rusty Anchor, Captain; four tickets to the Jockey Club, from Tommy Perste; four lunches at the Jockey Club, donated by that business; a weekend at the Holiday Inn, including a dinner Saturday night; a painting donated by Bill and Brandi Johnstone.

Door prizes will also be awarded on each of the four fund raising nights.

The third Tuesday in August will be devoted to the chill cook-off, also at Jerry Dale's, beginning at 6 p.m.

Entries will be limited to 20 individuals or teams, which may register by contacting Lamar Osbourn at Ruidoso State Bank. Rules for the contest indicate that entrants must use beef (and no beans) in their chill, which should be brought to Jerry Dale's already prepared.

Each participant should bring a minimum of two pounds of chili. A $5 entry fee will be charged, and a silver platter will be awarded the winner. A cover charge will cover the cost of chili servings to spectators. Lincoln County Extension home economist Mary Ellen Payne will head a panel of judges.

The "grand finale" for the crusade will be held Wednesday, August 26, with a bull riding contest, beginning at 9 p.m. The event will be conducted "as close to a real rodeo contest as possible," a crusade spokesperson said.

Categories will include women's amateur and advanced, and men's amateur, intermediate and advanced. A panel of judges experienced in bull riding will be chosen by Jerry Dale's staff. Entry blanks for the contest may be obtained at Jerry Dale's, Cousins' Package Store and the Portez-Parks Mechem office. A $5 "stock" fee will be charged to bull riding contestants.

Trophy belt buckles will be awarded to winners in each of the categories.

Information on the American Cancer Society and the seven warning signs of cancer will be available at Jerry Dale's on each of the four nights of the crusade.

Downs sets sewer rates

The Ruidoso Downs Trustees passed an ordinance establishing new sewer rates at their regular meeting Monday night.

The ordinance (81-5) was an amendment to an existing ordinance (80-6), and was designed to defray the costs of the new waste water treatment plant now under construction.

Under the new ordinance, Ruidoso Downs residents will be charged $8 per month. Restaurants, trailer parks, hotels, motels, service stations, washaterias and horse care and/or training facilities, excepting Ruidoso Downs Race track, will be charged $15 monthly plus a 10 percent surcharge of the water metered to each facility. The race track will be charged $75 per tap for the first five taps, and $50 for each tap thereafter.

The ordinance was passed under the stipulation that "operating revenues will be analyzed quarterly, and adjustments may be contemplated by the council."

The stipulation was concerned principally with the race track. Trustees noted that water is not metered at the track. Therefore there is no means at present of measuring the amount of waste coming out of the facility. When and if such information becomes available, sewer rates for the track may require adjustments.

The new rates are based on 597 residences, with 402 actually in existence at present.

In other business, the trustees: — Heard a report on the pre-application loan request for improvements on the

No commission action on easement problem

The Lincoln County commission Tuesday shied away from involvement in a dispute between the New Mexico State Highway Department (NMHD) and a Ruidoso businessman.

"It is our position," Schnauffer said, "that this body has the final say," in vacating the easement. He cited the NMHD's lack of utilization of the property and granting of a similar vacation by a previous commission. He said he had already received approval from the Ruidoso village trustees and Planning and Zoning Commission in seeking the vacation.

District Attorney Steve Sanders advised the commissioners that the Highway Department probably planned to retain the easement for possible expansion of the Y interchange in conjunction with the improvements to Highway 70, and that the easement is considered "part of the roadway for visual safety and other purposes."

However, Schnauffer maintained that since no specific utilization of the easement had been made for a period exceeding five years, the property rights should revert to the owner. Schnauffer added he expected the department to "claim the easement is a buffer zone."

The commissioners eventually agreed to table the matter, pending action to obtain more information from the NMHD regarding their interest in the easement.

In other business, the commissioners: — Granted approval to final plats of Coyote Mesa, Shauna Downs, Wolf Creek and Wolf Springs subdivisions.

— Took no action on a request from the Sheriff's Office for purchase of a base station radio.

— Granted a request from Shell Oil Company to cross county roads with a new pipeline, stipulating that the roads would be repaired following the installation.

— Approved an agreement with the United States Forest Service to pave one half mile of the Bonito Lake Road.

— Signed a contract with Neff and Company, Roswell, for the annual county audit.

— Signed lease agreements for a new

Xerox copier for the Ruidoso Sheriff's substation, and for a Pitney-Bowes mail scale.

— Selected "all municipalities outside Lincoln County" for increased per diem payments.

— Approved a request from Mike Points of Capitan for use of the county radio frequency.

— Appointed a road review committee consisting of Bill Byrd, Bill Edgar and Bill Billingsley, and Grady Eldridge as alternate, following a request for closure of County Roads A-48 and A-49.

— Approved release of a lot in LaMay Ranch Estates, held for surety.

— Approved a raise in salary of $100 per month for Everett Greer, Road Department foreman, for outstanding service.

— Approved purchase of an oil tank and sale of a Huber grader, at the request of Road Department superintendent Guy Henley.

Cadillac Party August 25

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce Cadillac Party will go on sale to the public Monday, August 3. The party is scheduled for August 25, at Jerry Dale's.

Tickets for the event have been available for about one month, according to Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth. However, the tickets have remained in reserve to accommodate those who have attended the party in the past.

Price of the tickets is $175 per couple, which entitles the purchaser to a one-hour cocktail party and full dinner for two, plus getting in on the 1981 Cadillac Coupe de Ville action.

Door prizes will also be awarded at the event, which serves as a fund raising project for the Chamber. Proceeds will go for Chamber operating expenses and promotional projects.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE president Richard Sandoval is shown at the controls of this 1981 Cadillac Coupe de Ville that someone will drive home from the Chamber's annual Cadillac Party scheduled August 25 at Jerry Dale's. The car is currently on display at Sierra Blanca Motors. Party tickets, at $175 per couple, go on sale Monday at the Chamber office, 666 Sudderth.

as Tonstul and Arlin Talbot as J. W. Bell. Dave Parks will be the narrator and Diane Shrecengost the director. There will be performances at 8:30 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, and a Sunday afternoon matinee at 3:30, in the amphitheater west of the courthouse. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Although the reenacted escapades of Lincoln County's most famous villain will be the centerpiece of the Old Lincoln Days, there are enough additional activities slated to rival any three-ring circus.

Things kick off with the Pony Express Race Saturday morning. (See related article). The White Oaks Historical Society will be holding a breakfast starting at 8:30 that morning for the benefit of those who want to witness the start of the race.

The Lincoln County Heritage Trust and the Lincoln State Monument will be open all day Saturday and Sunday. There will be a number of demonstrations going on outside: adobe laying; tortilla and squaw bread making; spinning, weaving and quilting.

The Mountain Men of New Mexico will be holding a turkey shoot with muskets, and horseshoe enthusiasts can heave iron to their hearts content in an ongoing, no-holds barred competition.

A bivouac will be set up by the First New Mexico Territorial Volunteers to show how military camps looked and were operated in the old days.

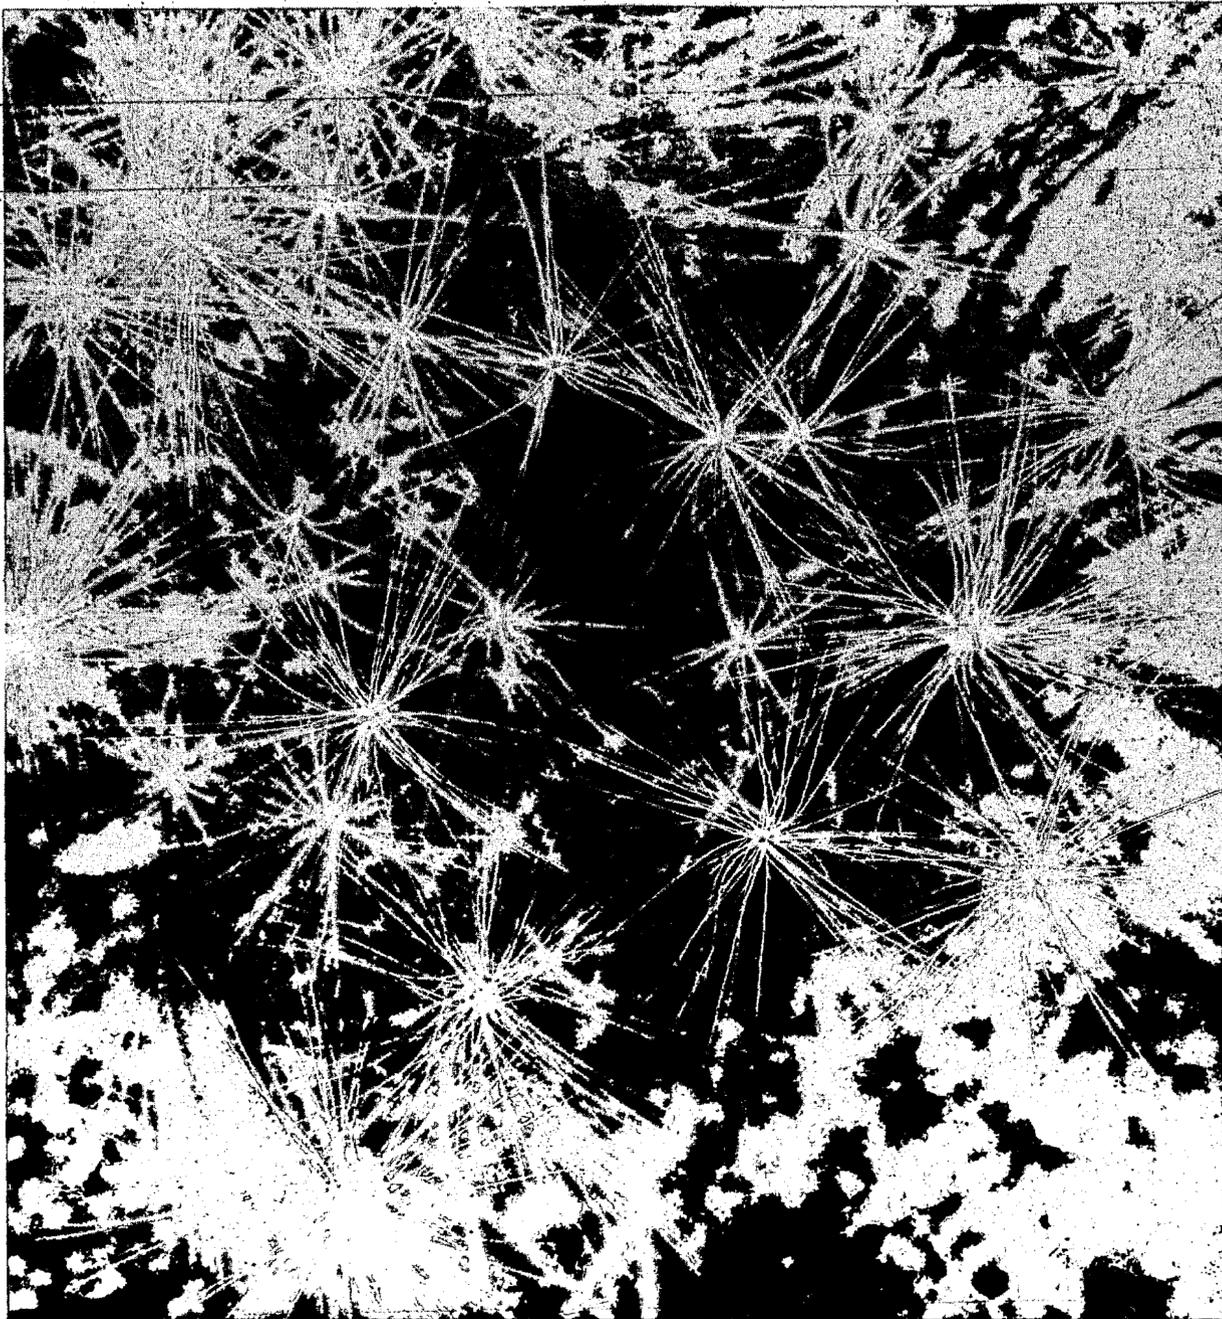

The Pony Express Race will finish around 10, and at 1:30 an Old-Time Fiddler's Contest will get under way.

From 3 to 5, a Show and Tell of artifact collections will be held on the porch of the Tunstall Store. Visitors who have artifacts from the territorial era are asked to bring their displays along with a table.

Sunday's activities will get underway with a Roman Catholic Mass at 9 at the San Juan Church. Those who missed the displays on Saturday can get a second look at the museums' Living History exhibits on Sunday.

Then at 1:30, the Old Lincoln Days Parade begins, led by the Fort Lewis Army Band.

An information booth will be open at the Bonito Farms Apple Stand. The foot-weary among the crowds will be delighted to discover a taxi—consisting of an old John Deere tractor pulling a hay covered wagon.

Pony Express race to run on August 8

On Saturday, August 8, in conjunction with the Old Lincoln Days, the Larry Mahan Boot Company and the Lincoln County Development Association are sponsoring the 13th running of the Pony Express Race.

A chuck wagon breakfast will be served in White Oaks at 8:30 a.m., by the White Oaks Historical Society, with the starting gun being fired at 8. The race ends at Lincoln about 10.

The race covers 41 miles and requires four horses. There are four laps, with the shortest—measuring seven miles from Encinoso to South Base Road—being by far the most difficult. Entries in the race may ride all four laps or ride as a team, two laps each.

Riders in the race will be on a special commemorative mail run. Those wishing to have mail carried in the race must have their entries in the hands of the Lincoln postmistress by August 5. Each letter carried will have a gold seal placed on it indicating that it has been carried by the Pony Express.

Such letters must be sent in a cover envelope, along with 50 cents per letter, to:

Retired Man Builds Own Airplane

In 1919, Brice Rohrer of Montague, California, a small town in the northern-most part of the state, had his first ride in an airplane, flying with Clyde Pangborn, who gained a measure of fame by being the first man to fly solo across the Pacific.

Although a lifelong infatuation with flying developed on that first flight, Rohrer didn't get a pilot's license until he was almost 60. On top of that, he completed a home-built airplane when he was nearly 70.

Now 75, Rohrer's latest aviation adventure occurred when he was flying to Oshkosh, Wis. for an airshow and experienced a sudden power failure.

"I found the only trees in South Dakota when I made an emergency landing," Rohrer told a writer from The National Council on the Aging.

That was last August. After recovering from his injuries, which included a fractured wrist, Rohrer is hard at work rebuilding his plane.

"I want to have it ready to fly to this year's show in Oshkosh," Rohrer said.

Rohrer's involvement with aviation began in earnest after he retired as construction inspector at the College of the Siskiyous. Originally planning to build a wooden plane, Rohrer changed his mind after reading of the weight problems experienced by persons building their own airplanes and settled instead on aluminum.

"It took me two and a half years but I wanted to get it right," Rohrer said.

He got it so right that he has never had to adjust the plane's rigging, proudly stating that the aircraft trims itself 'hands off.' Several years ago, the plane won a trophy at a fly-in held by an experimental aircraft association, being cited as the best metal airplane.

Powered by an 85-horsepower engine, Rohrer's two-seater can fly at 125 miles per hour and has a range of nearly 500 miles. "That's about 150 more than mine," Rohrer said. "I'm ready for a break after about 350 miles."

Rohrer was recently honored in a different way by his hometown, when the local airport had its name changed to reflect Rohrer's years of involvement to improve the airstrip. As of last July, Siskiyou County's busiest airport is known as Montague-Yreka Airport, Rohrer Field.

"I helped select the site back in the early 20s," Rohrer said. "I used to spend a lot of my spare time picking up rocks and spreading gravel."

A widower, Rohrer lives across the road from the airport in a house he and his wife designed and built. His daughter and three grandchildren live close by and Rohrer sees them frequently, although his time is taken up by the airport and the rebuilding of his plane.

"I don't have much time," Rohrer said. "It's almost time for the Oshkosh meeting."

THE KEY to longevity is physical activity, according to Dr. Thomas M. Jenkins of the Denver Community College. An active life, he says, helps the heart muscle pump blood, reducing the heartbeat and sometimes lowering the blood pressure.

OHIO SOCIOLOGIST

Robert C. Atchley found when he surveyed the attitudes of more than 1,000 Ohio residents 50 and older that they would rather be healthy than rich. In his survey, Atchley found that answers to questions related to health were the most powerful predictors of middle-age morale. Other age levels have equated happiness with income level but according to Atchley, persons 50 and over would rather be poor and healthy than rich and sick.

EMITT AUTREY of the CPs just beats out a throw at first base in a fastpitch softball playoff game against the Cardinales Monday night.

Defending at first base is the Cards' Jose Reyes. The Cards' won the contest 16-9 to advance into the winners' bracket.

Fastpitch softball playoffs

High scoring games dominate playoffs

Lots of scoring and offensive power has dominated the first three days of the Ruidoso Fastpitch Softball League playoffs in Ruidoso Downs.

The tournament, in which a team must lose twice to be eliminated, has seen the winners in every game score at least 11 runs.

In action last night the Village Jewelers stayed alive after losing Tuesday night by trouncing the CPs 11-4.

The winners jumped off to an 8-0 advantage in the first inning and never trailed. Tony Ramirez, Burger Booden and Fleggy Greis each belted two hits for the winners. Booden also played well at second base, handling several tough plays.

Weaver Ballard was the winning pitcher and Dennis Martin took the defeat.

In winners' round action tonight the American Division champion Blues, who had the league's best regular season record with an 18-1 mark, take on the Chips and the Cardinales play the No Names.

The Cardinales-No Names game will start at 6:15 p.m., and the Blues-Chips contest will start after the first game is concluded.

In action Tuesday the Chips trounced the Village Jewelers 12-0. The losers only had one hit, a single by Rocky Willingham, off winning pitcher Richard Lopez. Ballard was the losing hurler. The Chips had six hits in all.

Increase in antelope hunt licenses probable

This summer's high antelope fawn survival rate will probably result in an increase of about 300 public land antelope licenses issued for late summer hunts, according to Jack Herring, coordinator of big game surveys for the Department of Game and Fish.

Fawn survival rates are determined by aerial surveys. Those flown in the last two weeks in the northeast, northwest and southeast quadrants of the state indicate exceptionally high fawn survival rates. Herring said the doe-fawn ratio is especially high in the southeast nearing 135 percent—for every 100 does, there are 135 fawns—(most antelope does produce twins.)

Herring said this year's higher rates are a result of increased rainfall for most portions of the state this summer over last year's rainfall.

Surveys will be flown later this week in the southwest quadrant of the state, but antelope fawn survival in that area is expected to be lower than for the other quadrants, which have received more moisture than the southwest.

The department of Game and Fish has received approximately 3,500 applications for this season's public land firearms and bow hunts, including those for Fort Wingate Military Depot.

The department issued 1,103 licenses for public land hunts last year, Herring said.

Licenses for the public land antelopes firearms and muzzleloaders hunts and those for bighorn sheep hunts—will be issued by public drawing at 9 a.m., August 12, in the Department of Game and Fish Santa Fe office.

It will be the North's size against the South's speed when the AAA-AAAA All-Star basketball game is played tonight at the University of New Mexico arena in Albuquerque.

"Yes, they do have a size advantage but we're a lot quicker," said South coach Barry Nelson of Ruidoso High School. "I assume they'll try and get a ball-control game going. We hope to run a lot to take advantage of our speed."

The game, which starts at 8:30, will be preceded by an A-AA contest at 6 p.m. Nelson doesn't have a great deal of height to work with but he does have good balance at all positions.

The South's biggest player is 6-7 center Bill Turner of Tularosa, who averaged 24.6 points a game. Turner was held to 27 points in two games against Ruidoso but should provide the South with plenty of muscle underneath the basket.

Perhaps the South's best bet under the boards is Hobbs 6-5 All American Vince Taylor, who led his team to the AAAA title last season. Other tough rebounders on the South team include Louie Marsh, 6-4, of Las Cruces; John Robins, 6-4, of Clovis; Steve Moore, 6-3, of Carlsbad and Ruidoso's 6-1 Glenn Ryan.

Ryan averaged 22.6 points a game and picked off 11 rebounds a contest. He is also very quick afoot and gives the South an advantage in that category. Moore, a late addition to the squad, averaged 17 points a Dickey and Mike Agguire of Artesia and Frank Mims of Lovington.

But the North counters with some big men in the middle. Biggest of them all is 6-7 Rob Von Amelunxen of Santa Fe. Another big man is 6-6 Jim Roberts of AAA state champion Academy of Albuquerque. Paul Koller of St. Pius, 1980 AAA champions and the team Ruidoso edged in the first round of the state playoffs, is another hot shooter and rebounder.

Leading scorer for the North is Phil Rohr of Cibola, who averaged 17 points a contest.

Since the series started in 1947 the South has dominated, winning 22 times for the North's 12. The North hasn't won since 1977.

"It just seems like the South plays better basketball," Nelson said.

But the key tonight will probably be which team is able to turn the game to its tempo.

"If they are able to control the ball and slow the pace down they'll probably win," said Nelson. "But if we can run on them a lot and force them to run with us we'll win."

In conjunction with the basketball game the 38th North-South football will be played at the UNM stadium Friday night.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

All-star games for high school athletes have become commonplace in the last few years.

New Mexico's football and basketball All-Star games have been around for awhile, the gridiron version going back 38 years and the cage game 35. But many states have added All-Star games just in the past few years until now almost every state in the country has some type of high school all-star game.

And with these all-star games have come controversy, excitement and regional rivalries. Some areas have developed hot rivalries like the North-South contests in Texas. Other states, California in particular, have been their all-star contests fall by the wayside.

California had an all-star football game between the northern and southern halves of the state played every year in the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles starting in the early 1950's.

However, the game died due to a lack of interest in 1974 after the southern teams had won most of the time. California has tried basketball and baseball all-star games during the summer for its graduating senior stars but those games Colby Day, Tom Leuling, Kirk Ryan and are struggling and may not last another year.

New Mexico, because its series have lasted so long, has had a good deal of success with its all-star games. Possibly Ruidoso All-Stars.

Speaking of the Little League All-Stars games is the lack of so-called "major three teams are still in the running for the sports" to compete with the high school district championship in Roswell.

The Noon Optimists of Roswell are in states like California where there is a currently undefeated and will play the great deal of competition for the sports winner of tomorrow's Artesia-Roswell dollar, high school sports have suffered as East Side game Saturday for the a result. But in New Mexico where the championship. The Noon Optimists must Albuquerque Dukes AAA baseball team is lose twice.

the only professional sports franchise, prep sports can vie for a much larger percentage of the sports dollar.

That's why the state basketball championships in Albuquerque generally draw more people than most state championships. Only Kentucky and Indiana had bigger crowds for championship games than did New Mexico for the 4-A title game between Hobbs and Albuquerque High School this past season.

Large crowds are expected for North-South All-Star basketball game tonight at the University of New Mexico arena and the all-star football game tomorrow night at University Stadium. In some states these all-star games would draw hardly a yawn from sportswriters and fans.

New Mexico high school sports fans have a good thing going.

Although the Ruidoso Little League All-Stars failed to win a game in the district tournament two weeks ago six members of the squad and an alternate are young enough to return next year.

Dickie Bruner, Brian Davis, Cliff Sears, graduating senior stars but those games alternate Tom Leuling, Kirk Ryan and are struggling and may not last another year.

Which should spell improvement for the Ruidoso All-Stars.

Blues, Runners in district tourney

The Blues and the Runners will represent the Ruidoso Men's Fastpitch Softball League in the district tournament at Carlsbad this weekend.

The Blues won the American Division of the league with an 18-1 record while the Runners finished at 3-15 in the same division.

At each district tournament the top four teams will then advance to the state tournament two weeks from now. It will also be held in Carlsbad.

Both the Runners and the Blues are competing in the league double-elimination tournament this week and next.

Scramble tourney near

Deadline is drawing near for the scramble golf tournament to be held as part of the Santa Rita Fiesta in Carrizozo.

The tournament, which is scheduled for Saturday at the Carrizozo Golf Course, is sponsored by Carrizozo's Knights of Columbus. Costs for the tournament will be $5 plus green fee. The winning team will receive a trophy as will the team with the highest golf score. Final registration is at noon Saturday.

Rainbow Futurity telecast to be aired this weekend

The 1981 running of the $669,370 Rainbow Futurity at Ruidoso Downs will be seen this weekend by a vast TV audience throughout the western states.

The one hour show, produced by KTUL-TV of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is being aired on a one week delayed basis.

The network covers about 45 markets in 19 states. In about half the areas the show will be aired Saturday, with other stations carrying the show Sunday.

Coverage of this race in this area will be carried by KOAT-TV, Albuquerque, at 12:30 p.m., Saturday and on KTSM-TV, El Paso, Texas, Sunday at 1 p.m.

The show will be carried in key cities in Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

The show is heavily-keyed toward close-up personality features, reports the anchorman and host Chris Lincoln. "Since the show will be seen in the heartland of the quarter horse industry, we went into the breeding of the 10 qualifiers, and we even mentioned where some of the sires of the qualifiers are now standing," Lincoln said.

The show, he said, is packed with similar in-depth material and profiles. For example, the Rainbow telecast includes a feature on the track's timing equipment and how it works. There's an interview with trainer Jack Brooks, who qualified three horses for the middle jewel of the quarter horse Triple Crown.

Jockey W. R. Hunt, who rides the heavily-favored sensation, Special Effort, is interviewed by Becky Dixon, a sportscaster for KTUL-TV. Becky also taped a number of interviews during the Rainbow Futurity party, the night before the race, to get a quick cross-section of opinion.

Dorothy Dillard, nominations secretary for Ruidoso Downs—the lady who handles the enormous funds directed into Ruidoso's futurity and derby program—is the subject of another profile.

Since one of the key Rainbow hopefuls, Struck Silver, has spent much time this summer in the therapy pool, the Rainbow telecast also offers a feature on this aspect of racehorse conditioning.

All owners, trainers and jockeys of the finalists are also spotlighted.

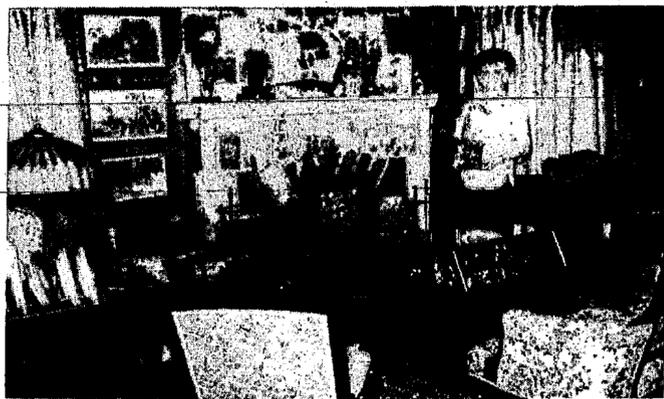

The Rainbow telecast marks the second Ruidoso TV production by KTUL-TV. Earlier in the season, KTUL-TV produced a one-hour show on the $787,350 Kansas Futurity—which was won handily by Special Effort.

"The reaction we've gotten from the Kansas Futurity really surprised me," Lincoln said. "I travel around the country, doing ABC-TV sports, and North American Soccer. Usually, I'm wearing the ABC-TV jacket with the ABC-TV emblem, so when people come up to me, I expect them to ask about the usual sports I'm doing. Most frequently, people will say something like: 'You're the one who's doing those races at Ruidoso.'"

Other air personalities on the Rainbow telecast (besides Lincoln and Becky Dixon) include Keith Bretz, Tom Dawson, Kent Batty, and track announcer Bob Dudich.

The KTUL-TV crew will also produce a one-hour telecast, again on a one-week delay, of the final leg of the Triple Crown, the $1,530,000 All-American Futurity at 440 yards on Labor Day.

The shop is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., daily except Tuesday.

Scott's Courtship goes in Friday's headliner

Scott's Courtship gets a chance to make amends for his latest outing when he faces nine foes in Friday's featured race at Ruidoso Downs.

The six-year-old Doc Scott horse is expected to be a major factor in Friday's featured allowance race at six furlongs for four-year-old and older thoroughbreds. The purse will be $5,900.

Scott's Courtship is still seeking his first victory this season. In four outings this year, his best effort was a second place finish behind the stakes-winning mare Ruffast in the Governor's Handicap at six and a half furlongs on July 4.

Although he is noted for a strong stretch run, he failed to rally in his latest start, finishing sixth in a nine horse allowance race going seven furlongs on July 12.

As the 8-5 favorite, Scott's Courtship was ninth in the early going and only improved to sixth as Finnegans Partner recorded a neck win over Textan.

Still, Scott's Courtship, off a 1980 record of two wins and two seconds in 13 outs for winnings of almost $12,000 must be accorded an excellent chance of winning in Friday's race.

Trained by Victor Karns, he is owned by Ralph Maynard and Warren Siegel of Phoenix, Arizona. He will break from the ninth post position, carrying 113 pounds, including Danny Summerow.

Another threat appears to be True Rounder, who ran a powerful second to My Going Jesse last Friday.

The four-year-old Dr True colt was second throughout against some of the finest sprinters on the grounds in a five and a half furlong allowance race.

Trainer Summerow boosted his 1981 earnings to $6,822 for owner Nina May Barnett of Brownfield, Texas. Trained by Gregory Henson, he will be ridden by apprentice

Billy Byers.

Here's the field in post position order with assigned jockeys and weights: 1—Chief Bar (Pete Herrea, 116); 2—Mr. Clyde (Louie Gomez, 113); 3—Kansas City Risk (116); 4—Nanuck (Willie Lovell, 116); 5—Bag Of Money (Richard Bickel, 116); 6—Special Ranger (Kenny Roller, 108); 7—Mister Dunes (113); 8—Hempens Ballerina (Stuart Dolphus, 111); 9—Scott's Courtship (Danny Summerow, 113); 10—True Rounder (Billy Byers, 111).

Saturday's feature will be the First Lady Handicap at five and a half furlongs for three-year-old and older thoroughbreds. The purse will be $10,000-added. Sunday's highlight will be the 13th running of the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at 440 yards. The winner will earn $72,940 of the purse of $145,880.

Post time for each day's 12-race program will be the usual 1 p.m.

How one jockey made it

BY MARK GORDON

From the beginning, Joe Martinez has been an overwhelming success.

"I never dreamed I'd be a race rider," said the 20-year-old jockey. "I'm glad it's worked out so well."

It didn't take the native of Kaufman, Texas, long to become a leading rider — he did it at his first meet.

Four years ago, he started his riding career, piloting quarter horses at Ross Downs in Colleyville, Texas. While other riders rode the entire year, Martinez only rode from April through December.

Still he had 89 winners from 289 mounts to rank as the nation's third leading rider on non-pari-mutuel race tracks. The leading rider that year (1977) had 110 wins, but from a far greater number of mounts.

In 1979, he was the second-leading rider at Sunland Park with 64 winners. A year ago, he rode 56 winners to take jockey honors at Ruidoso Downs.

"I'm kind of surprised by it all," said Martinez. "I wasn't around horses until I was 13. I really didn't know what was what with horses. I'd always wanted to ride."

"I started practicing on a little Shetland palomino. I started to get my balance. I'd never been on a saddle before. I stayed on until I learned how to ride," he said.

He apparently learned his lessons perfectly.

After mastering how to ride quarter horses on the non-pari-mutuel tracks in Texas, Martinez started riding thoroughbreds, thanks to the advice and help of perennial New Mexico leading trainer Bob Arnett.

"In my first year at Sunland, Bob Arnett gave me a chance to ride thoroughbreds. He took the time to give me the knowledge. He's the one I rode for most of the time. He showed me where to lay with a horse during a race."

"He showed me how to ride the horse. He told me where I should be during a race. We won a lot of races in El Paso. I can't thank him enough," Martinez said.

He modestly praised his agent, Leonard Martinez, for his accomplishments at Ruidoso Downs. "He's done a great job. I'm really pleased with all he's done for me at Ruidoso," he said.

Martinez ranked as Ruidoso Downs' seventh-leading rider after 12 weeks of racing at the mountain track. Considering he missed more than one month of the season due to prior riding commitments, it's even more amazing he's in the top ten.

Martinez also rode 10 winners at one of the country's finest thoroughbred race meetings, this spring's Oaklawn Park campaign at Hot Springs, Arkansas. He rode mainly for trainers Cecil Crabtree, Willard Morse and J. J. Petcher in Arkansas.

Still, he accomplished his first major goal at Ruidoso Downs last Labor Day.

"I'd always wanted to ride in an All-American Futurity. I did it in my second year at Ruidoso (guiding El Rey Burner to a sixth-place finish in last year's $1,280,000 All-American Futurity)," he said. "Now my next step is to ride in the Kentucky Derby."

"To me, they're (quarter horse and thoroughbred) both easy to ride. If it's 200 yards or a mile, I'm going to try. It doesn't make any difference. Just as long as I'm winning. Either one is fine."

At Ruidoso Downs, however, it's different than riding on mile tracks such as Sunland or Oaklawn Park.

"It's a lot different at Ruidoso. To me, it's easier. I guess most of it is making the smart move since you have to think a lot faster here. You have to know how much horse you have left. You constantly have to think what kind of a move you're going to make," he said.

Martinez has ridden basically for Robert Hirst at Ruidoso Downs. He's also ridden occasionally for Arnett, Cliff Lambert, Elmer Shepard and William Leach.

After Ruidoso Downs closes on Labor Day, he will ride at the New Mexico State Fair meet at Albuquerque. Then he will accompany Hirst to Hawthorne near Chicago, Illinois.

"I'm happy at any track as long as I'm winning races," he said.

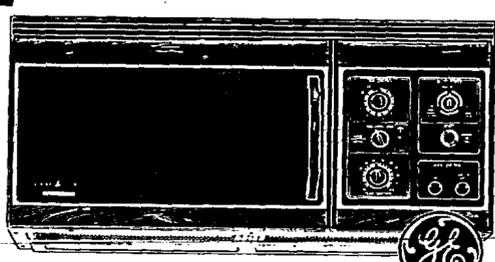

In Joe Martinez' case, that's quite a few race tracks judging by his numerous triumphs.

WAYNE DACY

NAMED AS DIRECTORS of Security Bank of Ruidoso this week were Don Dale and Wayne Dacy. Dale, owner and founder of Dale's Furniture, holds a bachelor's degree in business from Texas Tech University, Lubbock, and has been employed as an accountant. Dacy, president of Service Contractors, holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Texas A & M University, College Station.

A new series of art workshops begins August 3 at Carrizo Lodge, with painters Danny Gamble, Victoria Runge and Ben Konis as instructors.

Gamble, who exhibited his work at the Ruidoso Art Festival last weekend, will conduct a watercolor workshop August 3-13. Gamble uses a monochromatic palette with gouaches for his own distinctive effect, depicting scenes of his childhood. Barns, windmills and ranch houses appear in many of his landscapes.

The instructor aims for a "relaxed and friendly atmosphere" in his workshop classes, and painters at all levels of skill are welcome at the session.

Gamble is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University, where he studied with Richard Tallinger and George Calvert. Currently a resident of Canyon, Texas, he travels throughout the country to teach his artistic methods at workshops and demonstrations. His work hangs in numerous galleries and private collections.

An all media workshop — acrylic, pastel and oil — will be conducted August 3-13 by Victoria Runge of Norman, Oklahoma. Beginners and advanced students are welcome at this workshop, also, and will have an opportunity to refine skills or become familiar with effects of the different media. Demonstrations will be made in landscapes, florals, still life, figures and portraiture, with some sessions held on location outdoors.

Runge has studied at the Kansas City Art Institute, Oklahoma University and with several nationally known artists. She has taught oil and watercolor painting for the Norman Parks and Recreation Department for the past ten years, and is on the supplemental faculty of Oscar Rose Junior College of Midwest City, Oklahoma.

Her work is represented in galleries in Oklahoma and Texas and in private collections throughout the Southwest. She also teaches an annual all-media workshop at Oklahoma University's Hacienda El Cobano Cultural Center in Colima, Mexico, each fall.

Ben Konis, Amarillo, Texas, will also be teaching a workshop August 3-13, in advanced oil and pastel painting. This workshop follows on the heels of another session which Konis will be concluding today. He brings to the Lodge a long list of credentials, academic and popular.

More information regarding the workshops at Carrizo Lodge may be obtained by writing Drawer A, Ruidoso, 88345 or by calling 257-2375.

Driver safety meeting Friday in Alamogordo

A public meeting to discuss actions that will assure better driver safety on Highway 82 between Cludcroft and Alamogordo has been scheduled for 10 a.m., Friday, at Alamogordo's Holiday Inn, by J. J. Hewett, chief administrator for the New Mexico State Highway Department.

Officials attending will include Martin Vigil, State Police Chief; Ruben Miera, Secretary for Transportation; Lincoln National Forest chief ranger Sidney Gordon; highway design division chief Car Serna; traffic services engineer Larry Larranaga and area state Representatives and Senators.

According to Hewett a contract, calling for $340,000 in grade changes and upgrading two truck safety ramps on the highway, will be let in September.

Hewett, in stressing that the steep grade, scene of a fatal accident July 22, has had a long record of serious accidents, said, "The road was constructed in 1944 by the Forest Service, and has been on the state system since 1954.

"The steep grade, plus a drop of over

4,000 feet, has to be done cautiously, but many drivers still don't downshift or use their brakes sparingly. We will look at all aspects of safety for the motorist public, the possibility of even more signing and other methods to make this section of highway as safe as modern methods can accomplish."

Art showing this weekend

Smith Ltd. Gallery of Ruidoso and Wiggins Gallery of Roswell will co-sponsor a public showing of works by 17 artists this weekend. Hours for the show will be 7 to 10 p.m., Saturday and 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday at Smith Ltd., 682 Sudderth Drive.

Featured artists include Peter Hurd, Walter Ufer, E. I. Couse, Albert Leroy Groll, Leon Moran, Fremont Ellis and James Butler;

Dwight Tryon, Ben Turner, W. Lester Stevens, Burr Fairlamb, Frederick Mallard Williams, James Ralph Johnson; and bronzes by Ernest Berke, Juan dell, Tom Knapp and Lawson M. Smith.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne — The vision of a western cowpoke kneeling at a sparkling stream for a cooling drink is a refreshing scene, but I wonder sometimes, are there really any pure waters left in the country? It would seem that some of the remote, backwoods waters might still be pure, but I'm not sure this is true. Glenda J., Wisconsin

Dear Glenda — It would be difficult (and probably incorrect) to say there are no pure waters left in the country, or at least pure enough for drinking. It would, however, be risky to judge a stream safe merely by its appearance. Pollutants take many forms and can be spread in various ways. Direct pollution and rain runoff may enter a water source and be carried downstream hundreds of miles in some cases. Windborn particles can likewise be dropped in the most remote streams. There are spring fed streams which are often safe for drinking near their source, but it's very difficult to positively make that determination.

Then there are the more natural forms of pollution that have occurred since the very beginning and these are nearly impossible to detect. Even if you were certain a particular remote stream was free of pollution from man, how would you know if the carcass of an animal lay awash just two bends upstream? This seemingly crystal stream could be loaded with sickening bacteria.

In the majority of cases there seems to be little necessity for having to drink directly from a stream or lake. If such a water source must be utilized it should first be boiled or subjected to some purification process.

As a matter of record, extensive surveys indicate our open water sources are slowly improving in quality. The improvement over the last couple of years is very small, but this is significant indication that in many areas our pollution control measures are favorably taking effect. The improvements will at best be slow, but we cannot afford the mindless disregard for water quality that we displayed a decade ago.

Champion fiddler Hiram Posey joins Timberline

BY GREG STEPHENS
Staff Writer/Photographer

Ruidoso's country western dance band "Timberline" scored a major coup last week when they returned to the stage at Gambler's fronted by the fancy fiddler Hiram Posey.

Posey has a national reputation by virtue of having won the National Fancy Fiddler competition at Weiser, Idaho, last month. He's also been the Arizona State Champion for three years running.

An Alamogordo native, Posey has been living in Bisbee, Arizona, since 1978. He's employed by Southern Pacific Railroad and says that the Arizona community in the Mule Mountains makes a good stop-over point for life on the rails. But when his old friend from El Paso, Texas, Roy Black called and offered him a chance to play his fiddle full-time, Posey took a leave-of-absence and came with his wife Molly to Ruidoso.

Hiram is just 26 years old, but he and his fiddle have been on the right track for a long time. At 17 he won the New Mexico State Old Time Fiddle Championship, and took second in the Junior Division of the National Old Time Fiddle Contest. In 1972, just two years after taking up the fiddle, he was asked to be a regular on the Long Beach Jamboree television and radio show in Wichita, Kansas.

The story starts when Hiram was a fifth grader in Alamogordo and his mother got him started with classical violin.

"But reading music was a drag, it seemed so slow and tedious," Hiram said. "Then one day in 1970 my family went to a fiddler's contest and there I saw kids my own age playing music that was full of life and feeling — music that moved me. That's when I first knew where I wanted to go with the violin."

In 1973 he moved to El Paso and met his wife of eight years, Molly, while playing at the Cabaret Club.

About this time he also recorded his first album for Gold Dust records in Las Cruces. The 17-year-old included two of his own compositions — "Posey's Breakdown" and "Sleepy Grass Rag" — on this first offering, titled "Listen To My Fiddle."

The fiddle played by Posey is now 258 years old. It was made by the master craftsman Carlo Bergonzi, probably in the workshop of his teacher Antonio Stradivari, back in 1733.

"Good fiddles are hard to come by," Posey said. "A fiddle has a mind of its own and it depends a lot on how you feel and on climatic conditions. Humidity really improves its tone."

Posey's second album — "Done Gone" — was issued by Gold Dust Records in 1979. "It's mostly old time kind of things like you'd play at a fiddling contest," he said.

There are also three originals. One, "Molly Rose Waltz," is a lovely piece that Posey wrote with his wife in mind, during the third round of a contest. He had run out of waltzes during the competition and composed this one on the spot.

Posey has a single due for release this summer on which he plays guitar, piano, and sings on two original compositions. It was recorded in Fresno, California. Writing his own material seems to be almost second nature by now.

"When I write a song, I just get some tune going in my head. I work with it, add to it, and before you know it, out comes a song. I've always played by ear, and I think that gives you more freedom than if you have to follow something all written down on paper. A fiddler can improvise.

He never has to play a song the same way twice."

On the other hand, says Posey, when he plays at fiddling competitions around the country, the judges put great stock in being able to stick to the original phrasing of an old song.

But the old songs are going the way of free road maps. "A lot of the old standard fiddle music is fading," Posey said. "Guys are taking the songs and adding a lot more stuff. Musicians are getting better and better all the time. The younger guys are taking the old guys' licks and mixing them up. The old-timers are taking a back seat to some of the younger ones now."

THE BAND WHICH POSEY has joined,

Timberline, is one of those that make their living off "mixing up" the old licks.

They are probably the most versatile country western band in Ruidoso. Unlike most country groups, they utilize an arsenal of electronic keyboards instead of a pedal steel guitar. The result is a sound that incorporates progressive rock with more traditional country-western elements. With Posey at the helm, they compare favorably to such cross-breed country-rock groups as the Charlie Daniels Band.

Kim Blakey, the guitarist, started the group along with bassist Roy Black about two and a half years ago. They were both working at the racetrack in Albuquerque and looking for a change.

"I'd been playing with another group that was doing some things that I didn't agree with," said Blakey, 26, who hails from Causey. "So I dropped out to work at the track for awhile, and pretty soon Roy and I started talking about forming a group."

Black, who is now 28, picked up a bass and taught himself to play. "It was pretty much hit-and-miss for a while," he said. "I'd just kind of aim at a chord and hope it came out."

Playing as a trio, the group began getting gigs in southern New Mexico. When Craig Yeutter joined in November 1979 on keyboards, things began to jell. Yeutter, 32, is from Adrian, Michigan, and his background of progressive rock added a distinctive new dimension to the band's sound.

Another "alien" influence came when drummer Donny Fenimore joined up. Fenimore came from Clovis, where he'd been drumming for rock groups. The band's youngest member at 25, he lists Boston as his favorite group, and his rhythms often show a more energetic approach than that of the "normal" country group.

While playing an engagement in Las Vegas, Nevada last winter, Timberline cut an album for the Golden Horseshoe label. It's due out sometime in August.

They've also played in West Texas. A series of concerts in Lubbock is scheduled after their current engagement at Gambler's ends. Posey may or may not be with the band by that time, as he has joined on a trial basis.

But after only a couple of weeks together, Posey and Timberline sound as if they were made for each other—Hiram's soulful fiddling forming an excellent counterpart to the vocal duets of Black and Blakey.

They'll be playing a benefit for the Horse Women's Association on August 4. "The racetrack has always given us a lot of support," said Black, whose sister Winnie is the wife of Bobby Lewis, director of racetrack sales.

Looking to the band's future, Blakey said that they hope to reach a point where they can play concerts, which allows for more original and "progressive" material. "There's only so much you can do as a dance band," he said. "One problem we've run into is that we do our own bookings. Promoters just don't seem to take you seriously until you have an agent."

IN THE 4-H agricultural program members explore ways to farm on land and water.

4-Hers try land, water, farming

Agriculture is moving in new directions with increased use of modern technology for innovative and productive ways of farming — both on land and in water.

Youth in the national 4-H agricultural program, conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and supported by International Harvester Company (IH), already are exploring new concepts in aquaculture and hydroponics.

In a pilot 4-H project in Wright County, Minnesota, for example, youth are experimenting with aquaculture or "fish farming." Using small, drainable, fresh water systems, like family ponds, 4-H'ers are raising catfish, bluegills and trout. The ponds are stocked with fingerlings in May and the fish harvested in September. At the end of the season, youth sell the fresh fish to area restaurants, neighbors and friends, or keep the harvest for family consumption.

David E. Moen of the Wright County Cooperative Extension service, said the project has a "fairly high" recovery rate, "and one of the most tangible benefits is the valuable high-protein supply of food produced."

4-H members also are experimenting with hydroponics, raising plants year-round in an environment without soil. Plants and vegetables, such as tomatoes, cucumbers and lettuce, are raised in a sterile environment, usually in a greenhouse, and various nutrients are added to the water.

4-H agricultural program members also are keeping abreast of new farming techniques on land. They are actively involved in agricultural innovations to increase efficiency and economy of farm management. One such project is integrated pest management, where 4-H'ers study and survey fields to determine if and when the most feasible time to spray.

IH provides incentives and awards, arranged by National 4-H Council, for members who excel in the agricultural program; medals of honor are presented to four members in each county; one 4-H'er from each state earns an expense paid trip to the 60th National Congress, November 30 - December 3, in Chicago, Illinois; and during Congress, six outstanding 4-H members, named as national winners, receive $1,000 scholarships. Many IH dealers also serve as resource persons for local 4-H clubs.

Boys and girls, nine to 19, can obtain more information on 4-H programs by contacting their county Extension office.

The July 31 deadline for hunters wanting to apply for New Mexico's public land elk hunts is rapidly approaching. And, if you prospective elk hunters have not yet studied the current New Mexico Big Game Proclamation concerning a new system of elk management, you are probably not aware of the new way of doing things and may find yourselves sitting at home during this year's elk hunts.

New Mexico Game and Fish Public Affairs Officer Joanna Lackey, Raton, explains the new elk application procedures and why the new elk management system was adopted.

Unlike in previous years, the number of public and private land elk licenses available in New Mexico this year will be limited. The unit management system for elk adopted by the State Game Commission in early 1981 means that the various elk hunting areas will have a set number of seasons and each season a set number of hunters. Rather than simply applying for a bull elk license and receiving it, a prospective public land elk hunter may find that he has to compete in a drawing for a license to hunt in the more popular areas and seasons.

For the 1981 hunt, there is a maximum of six elk seasons available. Some units are restricted to one season, while other units have two, three, or more seasons. The Commission specified the number of licenses available for each of the hunts on public land and, by ranch, on private land.

The application deadline for applying for one of the public area hunts is Friday, July 31. Landowner licenses are available with no deadline on a first-come, first-served basis, but these may only be used by hunters who have permission from the appropriate landowner.

Applicants for the public licenses must apply by hunt number for a specific area and a specific hunt period during which that area is open. There are a total of 70 different hunt numbers to choose from for the public hunts. On Page 17 in the 1981 Big Game Proclamation is a list of the 70 different combinations of specific public land areas and specific season dates.

Applicants for the public hunts have a second choice option. It allows an applicant, who is unsuccessful in the first drawing, to indicate whether or not he would agree to enter a second drawing and accept, as a second choice, an alternate hunt in an area undersubscribed during the first drawing. Those applying for public licenses can probably ensure their chances of getting a license if they specify, as a second choice, that they would accept a license in any area during any hunt available. If they restrict their second choice to a popular area of a specific hunt period, their chances of successfully drawing out on a second-choice option are considerably lessened.

This new system of managing elk by game management units was adopted as a means of reducing hunter pressure in areas where herds were beginning to show the effects of over hunting. Studies in one such area, the Gila National Forest, showed that the majority of the mature bull elk in the area were being harvested annually, and that the calving season was being spread over a three to four month period, rather than the month and a half period that was normal for the area. In this situation, spike bulls were doing the breeding and they were not able to get the job done efficiently. Calf survival was thus being affected.

Under our previous system of hunting elk where there were unlimited numbers of licenses available to hunters on an every other year basis, situations of excessive hunter pressure in some hunt areas were becoming serious. The reason for this is easily apparent when we look at the increase in numbers of elk hunters in the State over the last five years. In 1976 only 7,710 elk licenses were sold in New Mexico. By 1980 that number nearly doubled when 14,402 licenses were sold. Much of the increased pressure was applied to already popular areas on public land. Hence, the need to limit the number of elk hunters on any one piece of public land during each elk season becomes apparent. Elk hunters on private land are also being limited in the same way.

Although the new system limits the total number of elk licenses available in the state, it should allow for proper management of our elk herds. Hopefully this system will allow elk herds to increase in areas where they had been heavily hunted. Then proper management will allow adequate harvest of both cows and bulls.

Hunters should be especially aware of the July 31 application deadline for public elk licenses. This deadline is one month earlier than last year and may catch some hunters by surprise.

Applications for public licenses must be made on Form V and private land applications must be made on Form W. Forms are available at all Game Department offices and license vendors. Application fees which must accompany the completed forms can only be made in the form of cashier's checks or money orders.

CLOUD FORMATIONS have been building up over Sierra Blanca nearly every day, resulting in welcome moisture. Another result, of course, is the opportunities such formations afford shutterbugs who like photographing cloud formations.

"TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE"
You have agreed to purchase a house or piece of property. You have discussed with the seller the importance of a definite settlement date. Whether the reason is personal or for business, it makes no difference. But if closing is important within a certain time limit, be sure that the phrase, "time is of the essence" is inserted into the sales agreement.
If this key phrase is not included, then either the buyer or seller can delay settlement for a "reasonable" time. What may be reasonable for one party may be unreasonable for the other. At this juncture, it may become a matter for the court to settle.

On the other hand, if you anticipate the need for flexibility, avoid the insertion of the "time is of the essence" limitation. This is just another reason why it is important to discuss the sales agreement with your attorney before you sign your name on the dotted line.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at DEVON DEVELOPMENT, INC., 2904 Sudderth Drive, Box 1880, Ruidoso. Phone: 257-5511. We're here to help!

The Silver Lining

BY DANIEL AGNEW STORM

Richard Magoosh
Our prayers go up for the friends and loved ones of Richard Magoosh, who was called home by Our Lord on July twenty. One of my many Indian friends, Richard brings happy memories of my youth when I used to spend all four days and nights up at the annual Mesalero Fourth of July festival in Mesalero. Richard always made sure that I had plenty to eat, and a place to sleep. And he was one of those who gave me one of my Indian nicknames, "Wood Chopper," because I chopped a little wood for the cooking and ceremonial fires.

I also remember his father, Willie Magoosh, who told often of the old days. I remember he said once, "I feel like I have died and come back in another life. When I was a boy I used to hunt a deer with a bow and arrow with a stone point. Now I live in a world where a man flying in the air shoots at another man in a boat under the water."

Richard was born in Mesalero November eleven, 1911, and had lived here all his life on the ancestral homeland of the Mesalero Apaches. He was a prominent citizen among his people, serving as tribal judge and on the Cattle Growers Board. A Christian gentleman and true friend, he was always cheerful and helpful. We will always remember Richard Magoosh kindly and we take comfort in knowing he is safe and happy with our Lord in Heaven.

Jerry Garcia Sr.

Not so very long ago I had a little visit with our long-time friend, Jerry Garcia Sr., and he told me that he had got the upper hand on his illness, and was on the road to recovery. He gave me several important tips on safeguarding that precious possession, our health. We had a good visit and he bid me a cheerful "Adios."

And now I hear he was called home by Our Lord on July twenty-three.

Jerry was always a good and faithful worker in his calling as a Plumbing Contractor with the Valley Plumbing Company of which he was part owner along with his good friend, Albert "Tut" Shaw. Always cheerful in his adversity and helpful to everyone he met, Jerry will always hold a fond spot in our hearts, and we take comfort in knowing that he has gone on to meet friends and loved ones in Heaven with Our Lord.

The Ripening Season
Begins A Little Early

Along in mid August there used to come a certain extra warm quality into the sunshine that you might call "The Ripening Rays." It was then you might begin to see the walnuts taking their size, and a few of the acorns beginning to fall. And the sunflowers and the purple New England asters would begin to bloom by the wayside.

It was then that you would begin to notice the apples beginning to color on the trees.

(I might be a little ahead of things here, and come to think of it, these ripening rays begin the first of September, or around there.)

Anyhow on a little drive down the Ruidoso Valley on that twenty-seventh of July, all through the community of San Patricio, especially down towards Hondo you could see the apples, almost half size and turning their colors. They seemed well advanced for only the last days of July. The ripening rays have not arrived yet.

Of course the reason for the advanced development of the apples is the abundant rains and the cloudy, misty, humid weather. All the growing things receive a great boost in strength from the rains and the cloudy weather, especially the apples.

The apple breathes in the life-giving qualities of the rain, the mist, the fog and the humid air. And that is why you may see the Golden Delicious and the Double Red Delicious, Winesap, Jonathan, and Rome Beauty apples already showing their colors beginning at the Glencoe Area, on down through the vales of San Patricio into Hondo.

The apple crop is much more abundant than appeared in the spring; and there are plums, pears, and a few peaches. The fruit up around Ruidoso Downs, and the upper Bonito is ripening a little later. All in all we are looking forward to a lot of very high quality fruit, helped out by the good rains brought to us as one of many blessings by Our Lord.

Environmental assessment of oil, gas, leases, ready

BOLD LOVE holds the second-best qualifying time for Sunday's $145,880 World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at Ruidoso Downs. In last week's trials, she won by 1½ lengths, covering the 440 yards in 21.95 seconds. Steve Harris is the jockey.

World Championship Quarter Horse Classic hopefuls running Sunday at Ruidoso Downs

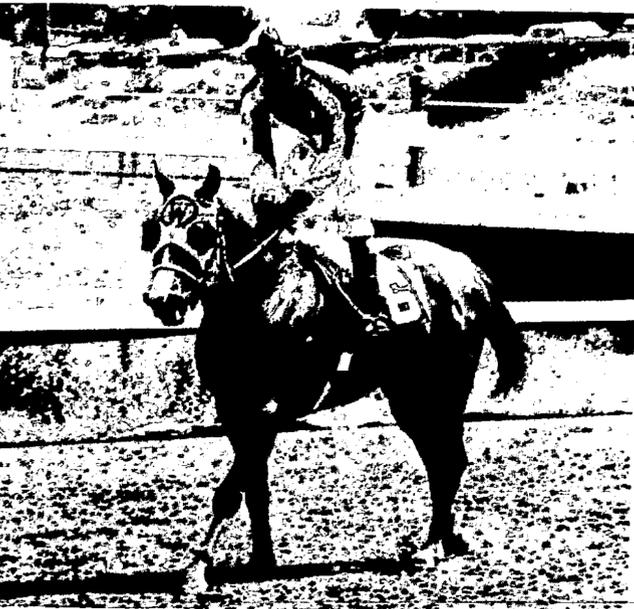

RULE THE DECK goes into the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at Ruidoso Downs with the top qualifying time of 20.88 seconds for 440 yards. The filly has already earned over $103,000. The Classic comes up on Sunday, and hands the winner $72,940 out of a $145,880 purse. Rule The Deck is owned by Dirk Jones, a law student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

BABY HOLD ON winged to a length win (above) and set the fourth-fastest qualifying time of 22.05 seconds (440) yards for the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at Ruidoso Downs. The finale comes up on Sunday. Baby Hold On, purchased in the 1979 All-American Yearling Sale for $46,000, has banked over a quarter million dollars so far.

THAT'S RANEY carries a 1981 money line of $27,399 into Sunday's World's Championship Classic at Ruidoso Downs. The spin covers 440 yards. That's Raney is co-owned by Bill Reed of Abilene, Texas. Hugh Tucker is co-owner and trainer.

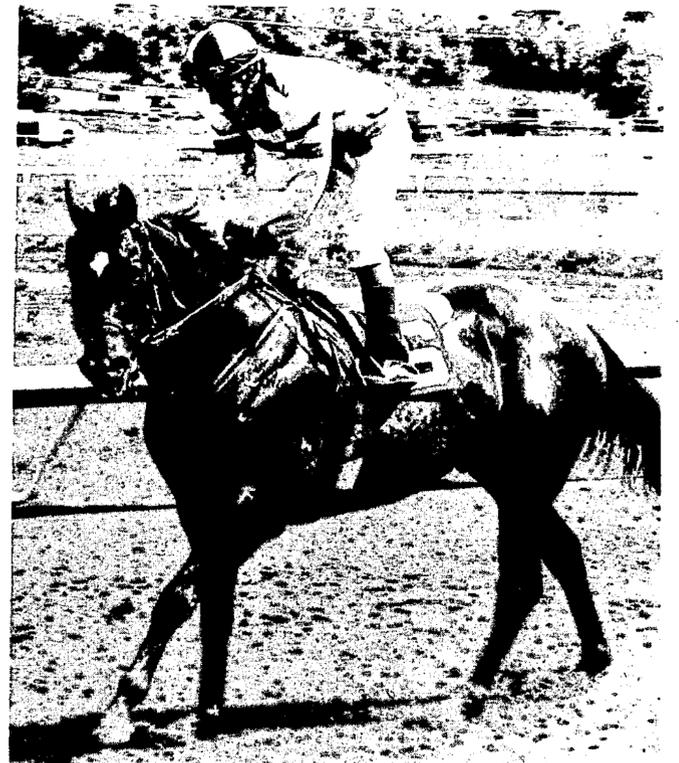

BOOGIE MACHINE NIC will be ridden by crack quarter horse pilot Jerry Nicodemus in the $145,880 World's Championship Classic at Ruidoso Downs on Sunday. Boogie Machine Nic is rated as an outsider.

LUCKS GAY CHICK has already earned nearly $30,000 with a 6-1-0 record from seven starts. On Sunday, he'll be going after a winner's purse of $72,940 in the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at Ruidoso Downs. The colt (above) won his trial heat by a length.

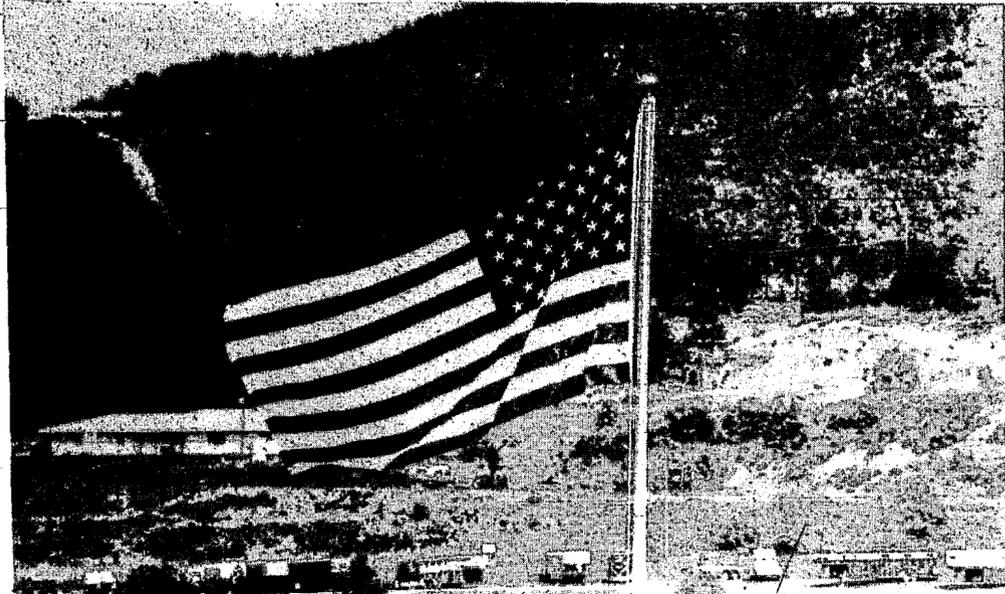

OOH LALA LALA, since the start of last year, has earned over $50,000. The filly—who was purchased in the All-American Yearling Sale at Ruidoso Downs in 1979 for only $10,600—is among the finalists for Sunday's $145,880 World's Championship Classic.

PRISS ON ACROSS gets a reassuring pat on the forehead after qualifying for the $145,880 World's Championship Classic at Ruidoso Downs. On Sunday, the filly goes after the victory purse of nearly 73 grand. Priss On Across has already won five of eight spins this year and earned almost $40,000.

DR. DEPOT, a colt who's made over $100,000 this year, looms as a key threat in Sunday's $145,880 World's Championship Classic at Ruidoso Downs. Dr. Depot won his trial heat by a booming two lengths. James Lackey is the pilot.

OH SHINEY shapes up as a key outsider in Sunday's World's Championship Classic at Ruidoso Downs. Jacky Martin, Ruidoso's leading pilot, rode the colt in the trials. Oh Shiney holds a 1-1-1 record from three outings this year.

ATOP AN 80-FOOT FLAGPOLE a 15x25-foot Old Glory waves in the breeze at Ruidoso Downs Race Track. For details on the installation of this

Dear Wayne — I'm interested in how you would categorize the letters you get from readers. Would you say most are letters of complaint or disagreement, letters with questions, or notes of agreement? Alice J., Idaho

Dear Alice — I don't have any idea what prompted your inquiry, but, as you might expect, most letters contain legitimate questions. After all, the column basically follows the question and answer format.

I guess the second most popular letter offers additional answers to a reader's question that has been published, without disagreeing with the original answer.

Then, of course, there are letters from those who disagree with the author's answer or philosophy. Some are tactful, some are not.

The least common letter from readers is the note of congratulations or agreement. This may seem a little strange at first, but any writer will tell you that, as a rule, people just don't write unless they disagree or wish to add to an idea. The writer sometimes adapts the idea that no news is good news. Don't misunderstand; the writer loves those little notes of agreement. Maybe because they are so rare.

TO CAREFUL ESTATE PLANNING!!

It is our pleasure to announce a six-month educational series on Estate Planning continuing August 11 at 9:00 p.m. on PBS, KENW-TV, Channel 3. We will be bringing together a team of professional estate planners, consisting of an estate planning attorney, an accountant, a trust officer, and ourselves as life insurance consultants, to inform you of the advantages of estate planning. There will be special guest appearances of an IRS agent and a probate judge.

The series will hypothetically present a typical estate comparing the benefits of a properly planned estate versus the catastrophic effects of little or no planning.

Tune in to the Don Criss, "YOU SHOULD KNOW" show, and take advantage of this valuable free information, which could avoid a forced sale of your estate to pay your inheritance taxes.

Wisdom
with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne — I'm interested in how you would categorize the letters you get from readers. Would you say most are letters of complaint or disagreement, letters with questions, or notes of agreement? Alice J., Idaho

Dear Alice — I don't have any idea what prompted your inquiry, but, as you might expect, most letters contain legitimate questions. After all, the column basically follows the question and answer format. I guess the second most popular letter offers additional answers to a reader's question that has been published, without disagreeing with the original answer.

Then, of course, there are letters from those who disagree with the author's answer or philosophy. Some are tactful, some are not.

The least common letter from readers is the note of congratulations or agreement. This may seem a little strange at first, but any writer will tell you that, as a rule, people just don't write unless they disagree or wish to add to an idea. The writer sometimes adapts the idea that no news is good news. Don't misunderstand; the writer loves those little notes of agreement. Maybe because they are so rare.

COULD THIS HAPPEN TO YOU?
YES, IF NO THOUGHT IS GIVEN TO CAREFUL ESTATE PLANNING!!

It is our pleasure to announce a six-month educational series on Estate Planning continuing August 11 at 9:00 p.m. on PBS, KENW-TV, Channel 3. We will be bringing together a team of professional estate planners, consisting of an estate planning attorney, an accountant, a trust officer, and ourselves as life insurance consultants, to inform you of the advantages of estate planning. There will be special guest appearances of an IRS agent and a probate judge.

The series will hypothetically present a typical estate comparing the benefits of a properly planned estate versus the catastrophic effects of little or no planning.

Tune in to the Don Criss, "YOU SHOULD KNOW" show, and take advantage of this valuable free information, which could avoid a forced sale of your estate to pay your inheritance taxes.

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Somebody down there at UNM must have played too many football games without a helmet.

Wouldn't you think the athletic department at the University of New Mexico, after being caught in almost every on game known to man, would be busy watching its P's and Q's?

Has it been doing that? Apparently not. It just overshot its budget for the fiscal year by about a half million dollars. Lots of interesting things about this action.

For example, it was Calvin Horn, a mere regent of the University, who apparently discovered this small departure from good business practices on the part of the University of New Mexico's athletic department.

It was not President Bud Davis, whom many of us look on as one of the most successful cover-up artists of all time for his success in sliding out of the Ellenberger affair.

It was not John Bridgers, UNM athletic director who was hired in part because he has an identical twin brother in Albuquerque and has always wanted to live there.

It was not John Perovich, who has been vice president for business and finance at UNM for many years.

It was Calvin Horn, a member of that board of regents of UNM who are expected to do only what the president of that institution wants.

Or, to be more exact, it was the person who called Calvin Horn's attention to this matter.

You see, at UNM, not everyone is friendly with everyone else.

Let's say you are head of the department of—who cares what?—sociology. You might get just a little ticked off when you see a jock named Norman Ellenberger get a free ride. If you had facts on how far the athletic department had gone over its current annual budget, you might then call that to someone's attention. Say Calvin Horn.

So suddenly the state hears the modest tones of a member of the board of regents, who is asking, "What about this half-million-dollar over-expenditure by the athletic department?"

Athletic Director Bridgers has an answer: In his Alabama drawl, he says, "Well, we kinda let that get away from us."

Athletic Director Bridgers' problem is that he thinks it's still John Wayne time.

What he doesn't seem to realize is that there are hundreds of thousands of people out there in New Mexico who: 1.) don't know him from Adam; 2.) couldn't care less whether he keeps his over-paid job or not; and 3.) only want to see the day come when their hard earned money, paid to the state in the form of taxes, is not poured away by people like him for the purpose of supporting a lot of professional athletes who pretend to be such.

What the jocks ought to understand is that their free ride is over. They can't get away with anything anymore.

There are now people watching them all the time—like the persons who called Calvin Horn's attention to that small over-expenditure of a half million dollars.

There are those of us who think it's time that athletes should have to balance their books, just like the rest of us do.

Bud Davis and John Bridgers and a lot of other folks ought to start learning that. In Santa Fe, where their money comes from, their battle has just begun.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

When I awakened this morning and looked upon the beauty surrounding me and surrounding Ruidoso Downs, my thoughts were on her future. I fell in love with the Ruidoso area when I came here in 1973. And, I felt she had a great future. Whatever greatness she has won by men with courage and a knowledge of their duty. To remain the beauty spot she is, men must preserve this greatness and beauty with a sense of honor in action.

I have observed of late a depressed, gloomy atmosphere around our (Ruidoso Downs) village hall, and I have recently read articles of criticism in the local news. I do not enjoy my village being criticized, and I'm willing to do something about it! Our village leadership seems too weak for the upholding of a distinguished path for the future. In order for our village to put forth a pleasant and agreeable atmosphere, we must rival what has been done, and not merely stand by.

A thought is stirring in my mind now, since I do observe that the spirit of the lady employees of our village seems stronger and is more visible than that of their male counterparts. What would be the reaction of the people of our fair village if a Lady Mayor were elected in the next election? Woo!ps! I see the hackles raising.

Dear editor:

Ruidoso Gymnastics Academy wishes to express its thanks to the many fine people that supported our fund raising activities the past two weeks.

The very successful bar-b-que, held July 18, would not have been possible if not for the special contributions of Gail Adams at Sonny's Bar-B-Que and Bonnie Richardson at Ruidoso Wholesale Foods, Inc. RGA also extends its gratitude to Ben Franklin's, Cecil's Roffler Styles, Cree Meadows Country Club, and Tots 'N' Teens for their kind contributions. Thanks also to Paul Southwick for allowing the use of the Eagle Creek Ski and Recreation Area.

Concerning the RGA watermelon booth at the Arts and Crafts Festival, we thank Safeway for its efforts and extend a special thank you to Terry Jones and Paul Whitman for their time.

Ruidoso Gymnastics Academy appreciates the efforts by the people of Ruidoso to help our cause. In return, we promise to continue providing a safe and growing recreation program for the youngsters of this community.

ON SEEING RUIDOSO

Travel is expensive these days, and a lot of folks are shortening their vacation trips. If you're a seashore nut, you're out of luck in New Mexico, but otherwise the home state has an abundance to offer.

New Mexico is a vacation destination for a lot of folks from the East, which makes it kind of crowded this time of year. Texans, of course, outnumber all the other "furriners" 10 to 1. Maybe it's 100 to 1. We have no idea where they all come from. You would think there wouldn't be enough folks left in the Lone Star State to run things the way they get up and leave home.

It takes a little enterprise to get away from the crowds of summer, but it can still be done. If you drive to the end of the road, out of sight of all the motels and restaurants, and out past the last travel trailer, and then park and get out and hoof it for half an hour, you will find some peace and quiet. The maddening crowd doesn't get very far from the pavement—anywhere.

Ruidoso is about as crowded a place as you can find during vacation time. However, if you drive up Sierra Blanca, park at the ski run, then catch the gondola (weekdays only, unfortunately) to the top, you will get away from the pressures down below. The view is spectacular from 11,000 feet, and it's always cool, no matter what the temperature at the populated levels.

It takes a little bit of effort, but anyone in reasonably good health can then hike up to the peak, which is a mile or two south at the end of a well-defined trail. At 12,000 feet, you are on top of the world, and on most days can see to Mexico on the south, to the Rio Grande on the west, past the Captains on the north, and to the Pecos Valley on the east. It's sensational.

As far as we are concerned, this is the most outstanding one-day outing you can have in Southern New Mexico, and it's within a comfortable drive of Lovington.

If climbing bothers you, but you enjoy alpine vistas, you can walk from the gondola landing to the Bonto South Ford campground, along the ridge of the White Mountain, on another clear trail. Have somebody drop you off at the ski lift, then drive around and meet you at the campground.

That's a pretty good hike and you need to allow most of the day for it. We would guess it is 8 or 9 miles across the range. But it is downhill all the way, and you lose about 4,000 feet in elevation. You can practically trot along if you want to. The grade is so easy that even the smallest of children can easily make it, and in fact, they'll be running along hollering for you to hurry up.

There are several stopping places along the ridge trail that have magnificent vistas to the west. They will give you memories to store in your mind or on film for a long time.

There's no water from the landing to the peak, but if you go north toward Bonto you will be along a small stream before you reach your destination. Stop and get a drink or even set up for a picnic. It's very refreshing. —Hop Graham, The Lovington Daily Leader

The Ruidoso Art Festival is, based on attendance figures, gaining in stature with each passing year.

This year's festival attracted nearly 9,000 people, compared to 5,520 attending last year.

The fact that adults will pay $1.50 to attend, plus 50 cents for children, attests to the fact that Ruidoso is gaining a reputation for attracting quality artists and craftsmen.

Exhibitors questioned by News reporters highly praised this year's festival and also expressed satisfaction with the traffic as well as sales volume.

We believe much of the success of this year's festival is due to the manner in which the Chamber of Commerce selected the exhibitors. The fact that about 300 exhibitors submitted works for jurying indicates that the Ruidoso Art Festival is destined to become one of this area's outstanding summer attractions.

We also believe the decision by Chamber members to retain the festival's current size is a wise one, one that will continue to attract the finest artists and craftsmen in the Southwest to this annual event.

The success of the Ruidoso Summer Festival's presentation of the Fort Worth Symphony, coupled with the successful Ruidoso Art Festival, are indications that Ruidoso is becoming recognized as one of New Mexico's most diversified tourism centers. May both become bigger and better. —CD

CONTEL'S UNHAPPY

ConTel of the West's president Bill Hegmann is piqued at the Public Service Commission ... seems the Commission will allow them a rate hike amounting to about $349,556 ... instead of the $1.2 million ConTel was seeking.

Now that $850,444 they ain't gonna get ... if'n I figured those figures correctly ... just might have them looking into revenues generated by their Yellow Pages advertising ... which could take up some of the slack ... no?

One of Hegmann's statements to the commission was interesting ... 'cause he allowed as how ConTel's quality of service is not a proper issue for a rate proceeding ... and, judging by the comments being voiced in Harmony Valley about the quality of service the customers are getting, it seems that particular issue is mighty important to telephone customers.

Anyhow, Hegmann opined that ConTel'd look into what they can do to "continue to improve the quality of service rendered its New Mexico customers." ... and there's apparently lots of folks as hopes the looking bears fruit ... 'cause the core of the problem ain't got nothing to do with apples.

ON SAVING ON GAS

The Belén city fathers has come up with an idea to save money on gas used in the city's vehicles ... they has up and spent $40,000 to buy a gas station/car wash across the street from city hall.

The buyers figure, by having their own gas, that they'll refuel vehicles for from 77 cents to $1 a gallon ... and that they can save enough in three years to recoup the costs ... after which they probably figures they'll be the only city in the state as is in the black so far as their cash outlay for gas is concerned ... which may or may not prove to be fact ... but if'n they's been paying to have their vehicles washed ... they might save enough on car wash outlay to generate enough cash to pay the salaries of the guys as is fueling/washing vehicles ... no?

REAGAN'S A FIGHTER

You gotta hand it to Ronnie ... 'cause he's acting like he thinks maybe Tip O'Neill's a thorn in his side ... and the way Tip's been talking about Ronnie's tax cutting dream, maybe Ronnie should try doing something to appease Tip ... 'cause Tip might just be the man who can tip the scales so the House doesn't go along with all of Ronnie's tax cutting scheme.

Anyhow ... Reagan's proving that he's not backing away from a good fight ... and he's got his sleeves rolled up ... and his fists at the ready ... and, by jinkles, he's not going to take a whupping on his tax ideas sitting down ... though it's probably not going to be due to a buncha people getting on their Senators/Representatives to plug for Reagan's plan ... 'cause those House Democrats just might tend to display their obstinancy ... which they've demonstrated they can do.

Whatever the outcome of this tax hassle, one thing is clear ... Reagan's not going to be bullied into changing his mind ... which just could lead to the balance of his present term being mighty interesting ... which'd be better than ho-humming ... maybe.

ON RIO ARRIBA DEAL

Up in Rio Arriba County ... that's where Emillo Naranja sorta keeps an eye on things ... David Chavez and his brother George done up and turned themselves a fast buck on a land deal ... 'cause they done bought .643 acres of land for $95,000 ... and a month later they ups and peddles it to the county commission for $150,000 ... which just ain't too shabby a transaction ... at least for the brothers.

'Course there's nothing wrong with making a profit ... especially under our free enterprise system ... which Emillo and others concerned seem to take in stride ... 'cause none of Bob Trapp's Rio Grande Sun reporters could get any comments, to speak of ... or fit to print ... from anyone concerned/involved with this deal ... which doesn't necessarily mean that Rio Arriba's the coming county of opportunity for fast land deals.

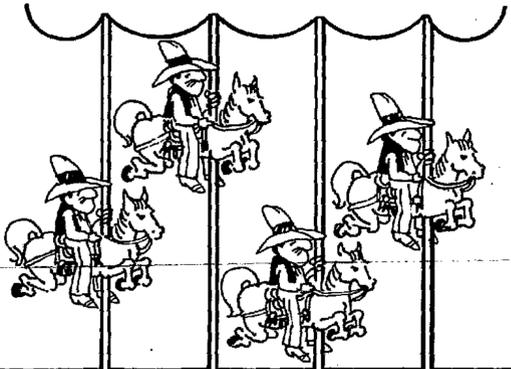

BRIEF BIT: A cloudburst won't wash out Deming's Richest Duck Race, 'cause they can always change it to the Richest Duck Swim ... CD Caught in the Ups and Downs Of Energy Bills?

Trying to budget electric payments is not easy, especially with increased summer cooling bills. And unexpectedly high bills might cause you to postpone that necessary purchase. But with the Average Billing Plan, your payments are "averaged" over the past twelve months, so you know what kind of electric bill to expect; Summer, Fall, Winter or Spring.

Here's how it works:

FIRST MONTH
MOST RECENT 12 MONTHS + 12 = ACTUAL USE	AVERAGE BILLING AMOUNT	=	15% of accumulated difference is added when prior to the current bill, the calculated amount for electricity used is more than the accumulated amount billed under the Average Billing Plan.
EACH MONTH THEREAFTER
MOST RECENT 12 MONTHS + 12 + ACCUMULATED DIFFERENCE = ACTUAL USE	15% OF AVERAGE BILLING AMOUNT	=	ACCUMULATED AMOUNT BILLED

NOTE: If you have less than 12 months history at your present address, the "average" will be based on the number of months available.

Jockey 'grew' into being trainer

BY MARK GORDON

There really was never any question as to Billy Hughes's eventual occupation.

Although he was a jockey from 1948 through 1958 on the Texas non-parimutuel horse racing circuit, a career of training horses was clearly his objective.

"All my family ever knew was training," said the friendly 45-year-old conditioner. "I just got too big to ride so I knew I'd be a trainer."

And that's what he's done for almost 25 years.

His father, Jack, was a horse trainer for almost 40 years, spending most of those years on the Texas circuit. From 1954 through 1956, he trained horses at Ruidoso Downs.

His older brother, Jimmy, is a well-known horse trainer at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Arkansas; Louisiana Downs in Bossier City, Louisiana; and Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha, Nebraska.

"My dad is the best horse trainer I've ever seen," Billy said. "He really helped me through the years. Up until two years ago, when his health started going bad, he was still active in it. Jimmy's helped me, too, but I guess I only see him a little bit now since his schedule is so different from mine."

While Hughes only has 12 horses at Ruidoso, he has enjoyed considerable success.

Through the first 11 weeks of the Ruidoso Downs campaign, he ranked ninth in the trainer standings. He saddled 12 winners, eight seconds and eight thirds from 55 starts. That's a fine winning percentage of .218.

Ten of the 12 are thoroughbreds — a pattern Hughes usually follows since he has enjoyed far more success with thoroughbreds than quarter horses.

His better older allowance runners include Sunny's Shadow, an allowance race winner earlier this season; the popular sprinter Honken Henry, another allowance victory at Ruidoso Downs this year.

Hughes also coaches three promising two-year-olds: Sunny's Thrunder; Sunny Mama and Huge What.

"I would probably send a few of them to Hot Springs and they'd do well. But I go home (Junction, Texas) for the winter after Ruidoso Downs," he said. "When I'm home, I break primarily thoroughbreds. I've never had a good quarter horse. I really think my stable is good enough for Oaklawn, Omaha or Louisiana, but I just don't go any place except Ruidoso Downs."

All of which suits his two owners just perfectly.

Nance Whitehead in Menard, Texas; owns a summer home in Ruidoso and John Coates of Austin, Texas; is also pleased with the arrangement.

"They're both wonderful owners. They let me basically do what I want with their horses. I'm very happy with my two owners. There's a lot less headaches with two as fine as they are," Hughes said.

Hughes, who has been training animals at Ruidoso Downs for almost a quarter-century, termed Norgor his finest pupil.

Already a winner when he came under Hughes' care in the 1960s, Norgor spent five years running for Hughes. The gelding, whom the Norgor Thoroughbred Derby and Futurities are both named for, set a world record at Ruidoso Downs.

His clocking of :44 3/5 for the half-mile set on August 14, 1976, is still a world's best.

"He was a champion. Very easy to train," he said. "Norgor was sound. He was a well-behaved, perfect gelding."

While Ruidoso Downs has the reputation as a quarter horse track, Hughes disputes the notion there are no spots for thoroughbreds to run.

"There's plenty of races for stakes horses, although it is a little tough for allowance horses," Hughes said. "I don't agree there's no room for thoroughbreds here."

"To win here, you've got to have good stock and take good care of them," he said. "But the first thing is to have good stock."

ALMA, A JAZZ group that will be appearing at Sierra Swim and Racquet Club this Thursday-Saturday.

Jazz group Alma at Racquet Club

A jazz group from Albuquerque called ALMA will be returning to the Sierra Swim and Racquet Club this weekend for its third engagement.

ALMA specializes in jazz music from the swing and bebop eras. "We started out playing rock and roll about six years ago," said lead singer Joan Griffin. "Then we started listening to some jazz and it just seemed like a natural progression. We stick pretty much to mainstream jazz, very little fusion, with a little country western and rock thrown in."

Last time the Albuquerque group played at the private club, things got pretty lively. On their last night, Alma's horn section climbed up on the bar and walked up and down its full length, serenading the audience with rambunctious Dixieland strains.

Griffin seems at her best doing fast-paced "scat" singing, but the group does a fine job with ballads as well.

Her rhythm section has been intact for six years: Dan Dowling, who composes the band's original material, on guitar; Mike Fleming on drums and Tom Griffin on bass. Chuck Coulter, who normally plays brass, will be replaced on this trip by the fine New Mexico trumpeter Tony Lujan, who has been touring with Clark Terry.

ALMA has toured through much of New Mexico, and this summer they were given a big boost when they were invited to play at the famous Telluride Jazz Festival August 15 and 18.

The Sierra Swim and Racquet Club engagement will run Thursday through Saturday.

Jockey/Trainer of the week

BY MARK GORDON

Jacky Martin and William F. Leach continue to lead their respective standings after 12 weeks of racing at Ruidoso Downs.

Martin holds a commanding 23-win margin in the jockey standings over runnerup Richard Bickel. Martin, one of the country's finest quarter horse riders, has 51 victories with 46 places and 30 thirds from 206 mounts.

That's a fine winning percentage of .247. Bickel has 28 triumphs with 22 seconds and 27 thirds. He's ridden 165 mounts. His winning percentage is .169.

Other top ten riders include Leroy Coombs, Stuart Dolphus, W. R. Hunt, Willie Lovell, Joe Martinez, Wayne Buehrer, Steve Harris and Vickie Smallwood.

Trainer William F. Leach, meanwhile, holds a four victory edge over the second place Johnie Goodman. Leach has 25 victories with 13 seconds and 12 thirds from 135 mounts. His winning percentage is .185.

Goodman, who won the $688,340 Rainbow Futurity on Sunday with Special Effort, is second with 21 wins, 2 seconds and 6 thirds from 69 mounts. That's an excellent winning percentage of .304.

Other top ten conditioners include Jack Brooks, J. Doyal Roberts, Gerald Marr, Clifford Lambert, Bob Arnett, Marilyn Asmussen, Harold E. Nolen and Billy Hughes.

Racing continues for the 13th week at the mountain track on Thursday with three trial races for the Rio Grande Futurity. A total of 28 two-year-olds were entered in the six furlong eliminations. Friday's highlight will be the Ninth Annual Summer Sale for Thoroughbred Yearlings in the All-American Sales Arena on the Ruidoso Downs' track grounds. A total of 102 thoroughbred yearlings have been catalogued.

The sale, which starts at 7 p.m., will be the first straight thoroughbred yearling sale in Ruidoso Downs' history.

Saturday's highlight will be the First Lady Handicap at five and one-half furlongs for three-year-old and older thoroughbreds. The purse will be $7,500-added.

Sunday's highlight will be the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic at 440 yards for three-year-olds and older.

The winner will earn $72,940 of the purse of $145,880.

Rule The Deck, a Scout Leader filly, set the fastest qualifying time for the 440 yard trials — a 21.88 reading. A mare, Bold Love, had the second fastest qualifying effort, a 21.95 reading.

Post time for each day's 12-race card will be 1 p.m.

Ruidoso Downs Hoofbeats

TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA owners dominate the finals for the World's Championship Quarter Horse Classic. Horses owned by Texans took six berths while horses owned by Oklahomans claimed three positions. The other finalist is owned by Louisianans. Fillies and mares took five spots while colts and geldings won the other five. Hugh Tucker trained three entrants to this 440 yard dash — Lucks Gay Chic, Oh Shiney and That's Raney. The Classic, for three-year-old and older horses, will be run on August 2. The winner will collect $72,940 of the purse of $145,880. The complete list of qualifiers and their times from Thursday's eight trial races: Rule The Deck (21.88); Bold Love (21.95); Lucks Gay Chic (22.06); Baby Hold On (22.05); Dr. Depot (22.06); Oh Shiney (22.06); Priss On Across (22.13); That's Raney (22.14); Boogie Machine Nic (22.14); and Ooh Lala Lala (22.16). Ooh Lala Lala won a special drawing with three other horses to gain the final spot. This will be the 13th running of this fixture for older quarter horses.

record of sorts when he rode five straight second place horses during Thursday's Classic trail races. He finished in the runnerup position on That's Raney in the third race, Acceptable in the fourth race, Chicks Charger Bar in the fifth, Ooh Lala Lala in the sixth and Oh Shiney in the seventh race. He snapped the streak by guiding Charge It Pappa to victory in the eighth.

A NEW 80-FOOT high flag pole was installed last week behind the center of the main infield tote board. It carries a large American flag, 15 feet by 25 feet, which is one of the largest United States flags to fly in New Mexico. "We're extremely proud of it," said Finlay McGillivray, general manager of Ruidoso Downs. "It is the brainchild of Sunny Edwards (president and director of the Ruidoso-Sunland board of directors). It is a very logical and appropriate symbol of Ruidoso Downs, home of the All-American Futurity and Derby and other mammoth quarter horse races."

APPRENTICE JOCKEY Billy Byers rode Brown Sugar Bowl to victory last

Sunday in the $42,629 New Mexico Breeders Quarter Horse Derby at the Downs at Santa Fe. It was the first stakes victory for the 17-year-old rider, who is the son of veteran rider Larry Byers. The three-year-old filly ran the 400 yards in 20.06, her career best. The filly earned $21,289 for owner Victory Pryor of Holdenville, Oklahoma.

THERE WERE ONLY two valid Big Q tickets on Friday's last two races. The tickets, worth $21,682.20 each, paid the largest Big Q this season. In the eleventh race, Natural Style, a 48-1 outsider won as Rene Gotiate ran second at odds of 42.90-1. There were 88 live exchange tickets after the 11th race. In the 12th event, Chody's Chugiak won at odds of 15.80-1 and Amakid, the third-favorite of the crowd of 4,645, ran second. The previous biggest Big Q this season was a $20,177 Big Q on June 11 to one lucky ticket.

TWO FORMER Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity winners captured wins on Saturday's program. Copper Case, who tallied a rallying two length victory in the ninth race at six furlongs, won the Futurity in 1979. Dynamic Sesenta, who scored a frontrunning three length victory in the seventh race at five and one-half furlongs, won last year's edition of the Futurity.

IN STEWARDS' RULINGS:

— Trainers Johnie Goodman and Eugene Graham were each fined $50 for entering a horse without an owners' license being registered with the State Racing Commission.

— Jockey Michael Charles was fined $100 for participating in an altercation in the jockey quarters on July 9.

— Jockey Rudy Bustamante was fined $50 for failure to maintain a straight course while astride his mount, Sleep Walk, during the third race on July 24.

— Jockey Pedro Benitez was fined $50 for failure to have control of his mount, Play Him Alone, during the fourth race on July 24.

— Jockey Ramon Apodaca was fined $25 for failure to dismount and weigh out at the designated area.

WAGERING over the four-day weekend amounted to almost $2½ million, which put the weekend daily average at $624,609. That was a boost of 18.54 percent over the same weekend a year ago. On the season, the daily average stands at $514,624 (after 45 race days). At this point last year, the average was $448,481. The current figure is a gain of 14.75 percent. Wagering per-race is now almost $40,000.

UP WITH PEOPLE, an international performing group, will appear in concert here August 19, and host families are being sought for their three day stay. Above, group members are pictured "taking the audience on a musical tour of the world, with colorful and authentic songs and dances."

'Up With People' concert in Ruidoso August 19

The international performing group "Up With People" will appear in concert in Ruidoso August 19, and as sponsors of the appearance, the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce is seeking "host families" for group members.

Lodging for three days — August 18, 19 and 20 — is the primary need, according to Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth. Usually, one to two of the young people are assigned to a household. A few meals would also be provided by the host family during the course of the stay.

Free tickets to the 7:30 p.m., concert will be provided to host families. The concert will be held in the Ruidoso Downs Race Track Sales Arena.

Up With People is a non-profit educational organization based on the belief that "individuals can play an important role in building bridges of understanding among all peoples of the world... that through music and dance, young people can reach out to millions and generate hope."

The group is made up of youngsters from throughout the world. They are selected from more than 7,000 applicants annually, for a year's study and international performing tour.

Use of host families is preferred by the organization so that the students may "participate in a variety of life styles and exchange ideas on family life, personal values and individual beliefs."

Anyone interested in volunteering to serve as a host may contact Ed Jungbluth or Doris Baca at the Chamber, 257-7395.

Fair ticket sales start August 1

Tickets for the 1981 New Mexico State Fair will officially go on sale at 8 a.m., August 1.

"The idea of starting ticket sales on Saturday was inaugurated last year and proved to be very popular with the public, and gave almost everyone an equal chance to get them," said Fair manager Bill Humphries. "As a result, we're going to continue that idea this year."

The tickets are for the All-Star Rodeo, the 15th annual Spanish Heritage Show and the 17-day pari-mutuel horse racing meet. The fair ticket offices are at Fair Gate No. 4, just off San Pedro Boulevard NE. They will be open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

On August 1, the opening day of sales, the ticket office will open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., but on succeeding Saturdays, the office will be manned from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Reserved seats for the Tingley Coliseum All-Star Rodeo are priced at $7 each. Reserved seats for the Spanish Show are $4 apiece. Virtually all of the 1,235 box seats for the ten night rodeo have been purchased by season ticket holders at $100 each.

The stars booked for the rodeo this year are: Mickey Gilley and Johnny Lee with the Urban Cowboy Band, Thursday, September 17; John Conlee, Friday, September 18; Johnny Rodriguez, Saturday and Sunday, September 19-20; Ray Price, Monday and Tuesday, September 21-22; Emmylou Harris, Wednesday and Thursday, September 23-24; and Sylvia, Friday and Saturday, September 25-26.

Headlining the 15th annual Spanish Heritage Show on Wednesday night, September 16, will be Mexican movie star and recording artist Lucha Villa. She will be backed by the Pedro Rey y Los Galleros mariachi. Also on stage for the program will be Al Hurricane and his band, Tiny Morrie and his band and Lorenzo Antonio Sanchez. There is no rodeo competition with the Spanish show.

Both reserved and box seats are available for the Spanish show. The reserved seats are priced at $4, the box seats sell for $5. All of the rodeo performances and the Spanish show are held in Tingley Coliseum and start each night at 8.

The racing tickets, which also go on sale on Saturday, August 1, include the second floor reserved seats at $1.50 each and the Club House (formerly called the mezzanine) at $4 apiece. This is in addition to the turnstile fee.

Mrs. Carolina Estabrook is in charge of all ticket sales for Tingley Coliseum shows, and Mrs. Charles DeWitt supervises all racing ticket sales.

Mrs. Estabrook, a long-time fair employee, succeeds Mrs. Charlette Jordan in directing Coliseum tickets. Mrs. Jordan retired this summer, after 25 years at the fair.

No telephone orders are accepted for tickets. If persons are unable to come in person, they should send in mail orders. Such orders, when accompanied by proper remittance—plus $2 for handling and postage charges—are sent promptly. If personal checks are sent in payment, tickets are mailed as soon as checks clear the bank.

Persons sending mail orders should type or print name, address, city, state and zip. Orders should be addressed: Tickets, New Mexico State Fair, Post Office Box 8546, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87188.

The Centennial New Mexico State Fair — The Biggest Show in New Mexico — will be held in Albuquerque September 16 through 27, with the 17-day pari-mutuel racing meet and quality horse shows set to get underway September 11.

Wilderness Wisdom

with Wayne Calloway

Dear Wayne — I'm not exactly a newcomer to fishing, but I do have a question concerning fishing lines that are colored or tinted. Some manufacturers are offering lines that are almost fluorescent, such as the high visibility yellow.

It seems reasonable to me these bright colors might, in some cases, scare fish. Do you know if any research has been done in this area? Tony L., Georgia high visibility is to enable the fisherman to easily see and track his line out of water and afford better control.

There are those who say that some saltwater fish can be frightened by the bright color lines, but the majority of fishermen indicate no real difference in results.

Although I have used these bright lines, I still prefer the nearly clear or blue tint lines. I can't really say they yield better results, but I feel more comfortable with them.

Send questions to: Wilderness Wisdom, Post Office Box 237, Pittsville, Maryland 21850.

ABC'S WIDE WORLD OF SPORTS

Two 1980 division champions, Atlanta (NFC West) and Cleveland (AFC Central) will meet in the Hall of Fame game in Canton, Ohio, on "ABC's Wide World of Sports," SATURDAY, AUGUST 1. The game annually matches an NFC team versus an AFC team in the year's first pre-season contest.

Later, ABC Sports will present two more playoff teams in action as Los Angeles visits San Diego on Friday, August 21. Rounding out the pre-season slate on ABC, New England will host Washington, Sunday, August 30.

The Hall of Fame games, Atlanta and Cleveland, are coming off excellent years but disappointing losses in the playoffs, and they both will be looking for whatever it takes to improve on that in 1981.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Producers of "Vega$" are fighting desperately to keep the show alive even though ABC has dropped it from the fall lineup. The decision to ax the high-action detective series shocked everyone connected with it except co-star Phyllis Davis. Her personal psychic, Peter Hurkos, told her the bad news weeks before it happened. "I didn't want to believe his prediction that 'Vega$' was going to be cancelled," says Davis, 34. "But I knew it would come true. I see Peter regularly, and his predictions have been right about many incidents in my life." But "Vega$" may be back next year. We have learned that producer Aaron Spelling has been secretly negotiating with CBS brass to pick up the former Top 10 hit. If the show does jump networks, it would be an almost unprecedented move. It is crucial to Spelling that the show survive at least one more year. To go into successful syndication, a series requires four seasons worth of episodes — one more than "Vega$" has now.

TV BACKSTAGE: Luciano Pavarotti, it seems, really is as genial and jovial as his public image. The world-famous opera singer, who is currently making his film-debut in MGM's musical comedy, "Yes, Giorgio!," organized a picnic for his co-stars Kathryn Harrold and Eddie Albert, as well as director Franklin Schaffner and producer Peter Fetterman. Taking a well-earned rest from the hectic shooting schedule, Pavarotti ordered up the hampers and laid on a seaside feast for his friends away from the film set where the talented tenor has been drawing crowds of sightseers all week, not to mention the one hundred thousand people who turned out for his free concert at Boston's Hatch Shell.

TV CLOSEUP: Flo is dead and Polly Holliday, the actress who created the brassy character, killed her. That is the charge being made by bitter cast and crew members after the cancellation of the prime-time CBS show. "Polly's demands were outrageous," says one regular on "Flo," which was a spin-off from the highly rated "Alice." "She was very arrogant and would have good scripts rewritten to fit her ideas of what the show should be like. Good scripts were turned into nutty ones just so the Flo character could yell and scream a lot. In a lot of the scripts there was just no story, nothing for the viewer to watch. And not much for the other actors and actresses to do. Believe me, they didn't like that. You could feel the nervousness and anger on the set." A top Hollywood agent claims the atmosphere was so bad that he refused to book his actors into guest shots on the show. "I wouldn't let any of the clients I work with appear on 'Flo.' No guest star needs the kind of treatment people were getting there. It's too bad. At first the show seemed to have real possibilities. Everybody like the character Flo when she was on 'Alice.' She was down-to-earth and funny. But Flo changed on her own show — she wasn't funny, merely loud. And Polly changed too. Being a star went to her head. She didn't know how to treat people around her."
