NO. 40 IN OUR 37TH YEAR

WINS ALL-AMERICAN FUTURITY

Mr Master Bug is first 'instant millionaire'

by DICK ALWAN
and MARK GORDON

Mr. Master Bug and Miss Squaw Hand, both owned by Marvin Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma, finished one-two in Monday's 24th running of the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs and triggered the biggest windfall in racing history.

Mr. Master Bug, ridden by Jacky Martin, boomed ahead in the final stages of the 440-yard dash and won by three-fourths lengths. That produced a victory paycheck of $1 million.

Miss Squaw Hand also ran brilliantly, storming into contention from the outset and holding on tenaciously to finish second to her high flying stablemate. Miss Squaw Hand earned $343,500.

But that wasn't all the All-American cash raked in by the Barnes outfit. There was also a $10,000 nominator's award for the winner, plus $5,000 for nominating the second-place horse.

Tack on to all those figures, the $7,500 breeding award to the winner and $3,000 for being the breeder of the second place finisher, and the grand total comes to $1,369,000.

Mr. Master Bug was ridden by Jacky Martin, while Miss Squaw Hand was directed by Jerry Burgess. Both are trained by Jack Brooks.

For Marvin Barnes, the All-American victory was his first — and certainly an extremely sweet one. "I've been trying to win this race for 23 years," he quipped exuberantly during the press interview. For trainer Brooks and jockey Martin, it was their second visit to the All-American winner's circle. The two teamed to win with Moon Lark in 1978.

The combination of Mr. Master Bug and Miss Squaw Hand caught the fancy of the 10,006 patrons who'd jammed the mountain track on Labor Day. The entry went off as a 1.10-1 favorite and returned $4.20 to win, $4.80 to place, $3.60 to show.

Both horses were sired by the thoroughbred stallion, Master Hand. The dam of Mr. Master Bug is Flick Bug. Miss Squaw Hand is out of Miss Squaw Bug.

Neat Creek, a 23-1 outsider who'd tried valiantly to grab the All-American with a flash of early speed, ended up third and earned $153,500. Neat Creek, a gelding, is the property of J. G. Cavasar and P. E. Davis Jr. of Beeville, Texas. Joe Ruiz was up. The payoff: $7.20.

There was a disappointing overtime to the All-American in that the second favorite, Yankee Win, went down near the finish line. The filly suffered a break of the right front leg. X-rays were taken immediately after the race, and four veterinarians were attempting to save the filly's life. The leg was set in a cast. Owner Jerry Rheudasil (himself a veterinarian) told the press the filly's chances of making it were 50-50.

Yankee Win, the top qualifier for the All-American, went into the world's richest race with earnings of $344,591. Her brilliant record stood at 10 wins from 11 starts. (Included among the wins was the $728,085 Rainbow Futurity.)

The filly's rider, Bruce Pilkenton, appeared to escape serious injury in the spill. The All-American was timed in 22.20 seconds, a bit off Yankee Win's top qualifying time of 21.81.

Here's the way the rest of the All-American field checked in, with purse money earned: 4th — Call Me Favorite, $105,500; 5th — Amy Jo Mito, $77,500; 6th — No Tell Motel, $73,500; 7th — Dynago Victory, $69,500; 8th — Lucks Lucky, $65,500; 9th — Easy Mito, $60,500; 10th — Yankee Win, $51,000.

The gross purse of the All-American (including the three consolation races) was $2,530,000. Of this amount, $2 million was disbursed in the finale alone.

Monday's closing day handle topped out at $1,250,384. It was the highest handle in Ruidoso Downs history. The previous high was the $1,170,954 bet on All-American day a year ago.

In the crowded post-race press conference, Marvin Barnes, the winning owner, said he went into the All-American with a "good feeling" about his chances. "With a little luck, I thought both horses would be right there," he said.

Trainer Brooks reiterated his opinion that Mr. Master Bug was in the same league as Moon Lark. Asked whether his second All-American victory was more gratifying than the first, he responded: "This is probably better. I still don't know whether to laugh or cry. It's almost unreal to win two All-Americans."

Brooks said he was confident from the second the gate opened. "When he stepped away from the gate, I relaxed a little more. When we got that good start, I knew we had a big chance."

Brooks added that Mr. Master Bug "kind of separated himself" from the rest of the stable. "His personality, attitude and style are so much like Moon Lark."

Jockey Martin had to survive some rough treatment to meet his All-American destiny. Earlier in the program, he was thrown from his mount, Rare Jet, in the third race (All-American Futurity Third Consolation).

"When I first hit the ground, I was hoping nothing was broken so I could still ride in the All-American," said the 27-year-old rider from Huntington, Arkansas. "I'd jammed my neck a little bit and took off a few races, hoping it would get better. I can't say enough about Jack Brooks. He had the colt in super condition. Before the race, he warmed up real well, so I expected him to run a strong race. Once we made the lead, we were in good shape. I hit him left-handed four, five or six times. He didn't try to lug in like he's done before when he was on the outside. The further he goes, the better he gets."

Mrs. Barnes inadvertently summed up her jubilant feelings when, after having the $1 million check passed to her during the press conference, she called out: "Thanks a million!" The unintentioned but highly suitable pun brought laughter and applause from the news personnel. Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were the subjects of long interviews and photo sessions.

A close review of the video tape of the All-American showed the race to be a three-horse affair. Neat Creek got the early call, although Call Me Favorite tried vainly to wrangle an advantage. Yankee Win drifted in during much of the race.

Miss Squaw Hand charged relentlessly to grab the lead from Neat Creek and ran gamely the rest of the way. Mr. Master Bug, after breaking in third place, launched his winning bid about 100 yards from the wire. He pulled away sharply in the final strides. Amy Jo Mito closed out of eighth place to take fifth.

Amy Jo Mito, a $4,000 purchase in last summer's All-American Sale, reaped considerable dividends with her $77,500 paycheck — which pushed her career earnings up to $122,293.

The All-American First Consolation, worth $290,000, was taken by Kita Blue, a colt owned by Sonny and Betty Terry of Oklahoma City. Suitably enough, Jack Brooks was the trainer.

Kita Blue led throughout, hitting the wire one and one-fourth lengths on top in a clocking of 21.95 seconds. The rider was Jacky Martin. Kita Blue earned $45,000 and returned $4.20, $3 and $2.40.

Second went to Shesa Goody (4-1), who earned $40,000 and handed back $3.20 and $2.60. Third was taken by Bartendress. The filly collected $35,000 and paid $2.60.

Monday's card also included the $145,000 All-American Second Consolation, which was taken by Betts Full Moon in 22.07 seconds. First place was worth $19,222. The colt is owned by Betts Full Moon, Incorporated, Limited, of Westerville, Ohio. Carter Riley was up. Betts Full Moon won by a half-length and paid $6.00, $4.40, $4.

Heza Roar finished second, earning $17,663 and paying $9 and $5.60. The third-place finisher was Native Fuel ($6.80).

The Third Consolation, worth $65,000, was captured by Painted Bug. The filly won by a nose in 22.34 seconds and earned $10,115. She's the property of 440 Ranch of Aubrey, Texas. Nicky Wilson was up. The payoff: $3, $4, $2.80.

The runnerup position was taken by the filly's stablemate, Rare Jet, who earned $8,748. Third went to Classic Thought ($4.40). The gelding earned $7,928.

COPPER CASE, the King Kong of handicap competition at Sante Fe, didn't make a deep impression on Ruidoso Downs patrons during the waning buildup for Sunday's 24th running of the prestigious $31,600 Ruidoso Mile.

Ruidoso patrons apparently felt all those Santa Fe stakes wins didn't cut that much ice, and they probably figured the gelding's load of 128 pounds would be a heavy cross to bear.

But Copper Case proved he's one of the greatest handicap horses in Southwest history by cruising to a three and one-half length win. The gelding, confidently handled by Gary Sumpter, came from well off the pace to launch a winning salvo at the top of the stretch.

When Sumpter stepped on the pedal, Copper Case took control with crushing ease. The victory purse of $18,960 pushed Copper Case's 1982 earnings up to $66,430. That's the most money ever earned by a handicap horse campaigning exclusively in New Mexico.

Carrying odds of just over 3-1, Copper Case returned $8.20, $4.20 and $2.80. He's owned by Jinx Graham of El Paso, Texas. The trainer is Cliff Lambert.

Fill Mackis Cup, a 9-2 shot handled by Richard Bickel, gamely tried to outleg his Mile foes. The four-year-old gelding wasn't afraid to set the pace. He took charge shortly after the break and remained in command until faced with Copper Case's onslaught in the upper stretch. Fill Mackis Cup was beaten back into second place under 119 pounds.

The gelding, owned by Mack Yates of Cherokee, Texas, earned $6,962 for second — which pushed his '82 money line up to $26,861. The mutual payoffs: $4.40, $3.

Double B. Express, a 7-2 shot handled by Casey Lambert, had the ill fortune to run into tight traffic just as he was launching a powerful move along the trail, turning for home. Double B. Express had to pull up, losing all chance of victory. But the seven-year-old gelding came on again to finish third, a half-length behind Fill Mackis Cup. He earned $3,160 and paid $3.20 to show. Double B. Express carried 120 pounds.

A hefty crowd of 9,960, was on hand Sunday and wagered $1,123,883, the highest one day handle of the season to that point.

SUNDAYS PAYDAY wrapped up the thoroughbred two-year-old crown at Ruidoso Downs with a knockout punch in the final stages of Saturday's $146,631 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity.

The six-furlong duel eventually evolved into a struggle between the two juvenile Princesses throughout the mountain track, Sundays Payday and Vibrant Princess.

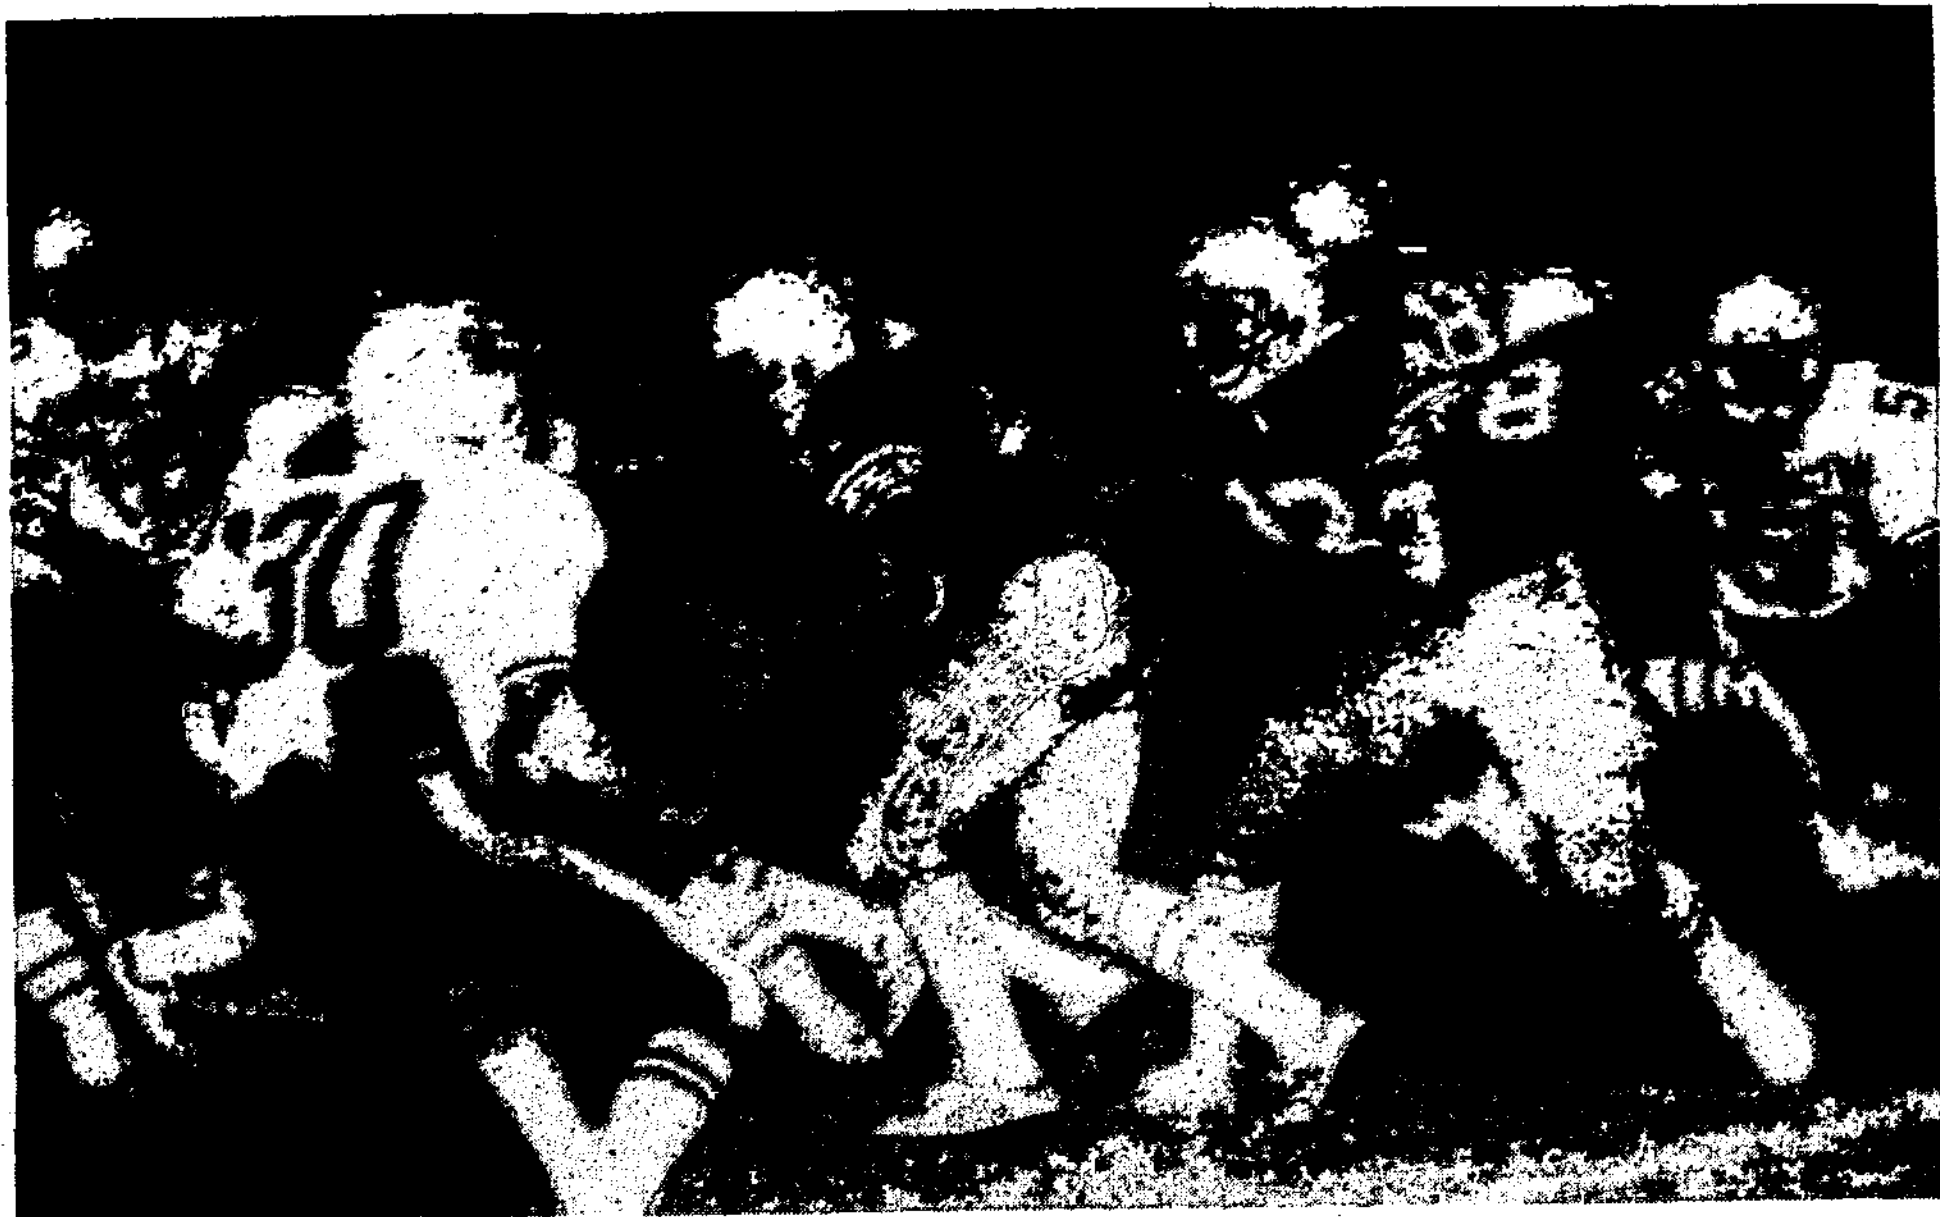

Sundays Payday went into the rich tussle as a 1-2 favorite looking for his seventh win of the meeting. Vibrant Princess was gunning for her fifth victory of the summer, and was bet down to a 5-2 second favorite.

At the top of the stretch, Vibrant Princess moved into a commanding position. But Sundays Payday wasn't too far out of it. For about a dozen strides, the two battled on just about even terms.

With a half-furlong to go, jockey Mike Lidberg asked Sundays Payday for his best and the colt delivered a sudden surge. Almost in one wallop, he clinched the race. The colt quickly sprinted into the clear finally hitting the wire with a two and one-half length gap.

Vibrant Princess raced gamely throughout the stretch and didn't weaken when challenged by the people's choice. It was more of a case of Sundays Payday calling upon extra reserves to get the job done.

GOING FOR YARDAGE in Friday night's football game between Ruidoso High School and host Lovington is Warrior fullback Kyle Flack. Ruidoso quarterback Billy Woodul (12) hands the ball off to Flack. The Warriors lost the season opener 39-18.

Warriors drop opener

Sports Writer

The Ruidoso High School varsity football team opened its 1982 season on an unsuccessful note Friday night by falling to host Lovington and its swift running back Perry Howard 39-18.

Howard, a 135 pound junior, rushed for 180 yards and one touchdown in leading the Wildcats past the young Warriors. His performance and a three-touchdown effort by Ruidoso junior Eric Strobel were the top offensive showings of the contest.

Lovington showed it had plenty of offensive strength when it drove 82 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown to open the game. The Wildcats started out on their own 18 yard line and stayed on the ground the entire drive.

Howard carried the ball six times for 47 yards during the drive, his longest run being a 15-yard dash to the Warrior 32 which gave the hosts a first down.

Five plays later, quarterback Steve Ellison dove over from the two yard line for the score. A run for the two-point conversion was stopped short and Lovington held a 6-0 advantage with 5:54 remaining in the opening quarter.

The Warriors received the following kickoff and moved 31 yards before having to punt the ball.

Wingback Grady Williamson ran for 19 yards, the longest Warrior running gain of the game, to give Ruidoso a first down on the 50 yard line. The Warrior offensive linemen, led by senior Chris Sanchez and juniors Craig Carson and Tony Stevens, blocked well during the drive.

Ruidoso's drive was then stalled and the Warriors punted the ball away from the Wildcat 44.

It was here that the Warriors took advantage of a Lovington mistake for their first score.

August building up from July

by DAVID SHEPPARD
Staff Writer

Building permit values for August show an increase from the July dollar figure, which was 49 percent lower than in June, the amount gives further indication construction has slowed in Ruidoso. The total estimated value of August permits was $2,759,397 for 34 permits. That is a 57 percent increase from the June amount of $1,749,639.

The August mark was bolstered by a $1 million permit for 30 condominium units at Camelot Mountain. Excluding that permit, which carried an estimated value of $1,596, the August valuation would have been lower than July.

The July and August figures compare favorably with valuations earlier in the year that set monthly records for building permit valuation. On the strength of those valuations—March and April—permit valuations at this point is way ahead of last year. So far this year, valuation is at $1,650,650 for 351 permits. Twenty-one permits are for condominium complexes with a total of 264 units. At this time last year, valuation stood at $13,579,385 for 361 permits, 55 of which were for condominium projects.

The comparison between this year and 1981 is deceptive, because last May the method of estimation of permits was changed to more accurately reflect actual building costs. Until May, permit values were underestimated at $20 per square foot.

Permits were issued in August for 20 single family dwellings, six residential additions or alterations, five commercial buildings, one commercial addition or alteration and two condominium projects. The permits below are listed by subdivision or location, type of structure and estimated cost of construction.

Mr Master Bug is millionaire

The impressive colt, owned by Hugh C. Preston Jr. of Burkburnett, Texas, raced in $73,315. That pushed his earnings up to $188,809, and established him as one of the top thoroughbreds to emerge in the Southwest in recent years. Sundays Payday is by the speed sire, Loom out of She's Sunday.

Bob Arnett trains Sundays Payday. The colt now holds a career record of 6-2-0 from nine starts. Fans who backed Sundays Payday in the Ruidoso Futurity collected mutual returns of $3, $2.20, $2.20. The winning time was 1:14 flat.

Vibrant Princess, ridden by Joe Martinez for Thomas W. Moore of Fort Worth, Texas, collected $32,296 for second. That increased her bank account to more than $60,000. Vibrant Princess returned $2.40 both to place and show.

Waco Johnny, off at 7 1/4-1, came in third (a length behind Vibrant Princess), and earned $17,616. Gary Sumpter was up. The show purse was $2.80.

A hefty holiday crowd of 7,733 was on hand for Saturday's program and punched the day's handle up to $984,638 — a seasonal record.

SPECIAL HANK, a five-year-old thoroughbred gelding who excels at the 870-yard distance, raced as a 9-2 shot in Friday's $16,250 Brigand Handicap at Ruidoso Downs.

Those odds were quite a reversal of form, since Special Hank had been a heavy favorite in each of his last six tries at the 870 distance.

In the Brigand, the fans centered their attentions on the brilliant colt, Tropic Ruler.

But Special Hank proved he's still top dog when it comes to an 870-yard dash. He broke with the first flight, moved into second place at the turn for home, then tossed a crushing attack at the pacemaker, Mighty Duck.

Special Hank flew by his final adversary with ease, winning by two lengths in a brisk clocking of 45.86 seconds. The win was worth $9,750, which more than doubled Special Hank's 1982 earnings (in 870 competition).

The gelding was ridden by Salustio Burgos under the second-high weight of 123 pounds. George H. Cosper Jr. does the training for Lowell F. Hankins of Rocksprings, Texas. The mutual payoffs: $11.80, $6.40, $3.

Mighty Duck, ridden by Joe Martinez for the Arledge Ranches of Robert Lee, Texas, ended up second in a game try and collected $3,755. The mutual returns: $4.80, $2.80. Pride of Loom, a 7-2 shot, moved out of fifth place to take third, earning $1,625 and refunding $2.60.

Tropic Ruler, owned by Sam Coury of Oklahoma City, went into the Brigand with an impressive money line of more than $992,000. But the colt had a tough time in his first 870 spin. He broke last, was unable to make ground, then took a wide turn into the stretch. He finished last.

SENA ROAD rallied through the stretch to win going away in Thursday's featured Roadrunner Stakes at Ruidoso Downs.

The three-year-old Road runner gelding rallied through the middle of the track to post a widening one and one-fourth length win over Luckily Smashed in this 11th running of the Roadrunner Stakes, for three-year-old New Mexico-breds.

Ridden by Mike Lidberg, Sena Road posted his fourth victory with three seconds and one third in 16 outings this year for owner Jay C. Childers of Borger, Texas. J. Doyal Roberts is the trainer.

Sena Road earned $6,705 of the $11,175 total purse. As a $12.90-1 outsider, Sena Road returned $27.80, $7.40 and $5.80.

Luckily Smashed, ridden by Joe Martinez, finished second after also making a big move through the stretch. She returned $7.00 and $4.20.

R. and R. Express, ridden by Casey Lambert, ran third after dueling with Match Strides for the lead in the early part of the six-furlong dash. He paid $4.40 to show as the 4-1 second wagering favorite.

Match Strides, the 3-5 wagering favorite, engaged R. and R. Express for the lead to the far turn and then faded to finish eighth.

MILLION-DOLLARS RICHER. Marvin L. Barnes of Ada, Oklahoma, holds the winner's check of $1 million aloft after his colt, Mr. Master Bug captured Monday's 24th running of the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

IT'S MR MASTER BUG AT THE WIRE. Mr. Master Bug stretches out in the final few yards to win the 24th running of the All-American Futurity Monday at Ruidoso Downs. The Master Hand colt was clocked in 22:20 for the 440 yards.

County sub-office bids to be advertised

by BARBY GRANT

Bids on construction of the county courthouse sub-office in Ruidoso will be advertised beginning September 15 and opened at October 12 county commissioners meeting. It was reported at Friday's commissioners meeting.

Commissioners questioned the architects' plans to haul $10,000 worth of dirt to the site to level the back of the structure, which will be erected just north of the Ruidoso village hall. It was suggested that the foundation be built up to level the structure instead.

Enrique Cheng-Guajardo, representing architects Gordon Herkenhoff and Associates, said he will initiate a study to determine the difference in price between dirt and the added foundation.

In other business, commissioners: —Appointed commissioners John Hightower and Ben Hall to serve on the Extraterritorial Zoning Authority. A request for $1,000 for the Extraterritorial Zoning Commission was tabled until the county manager determines whether the funds are available.

—Approved final plat for The Woodlands Subdivision and Deer Park Woods Townhomes, units one to 17.

—Approved correction of plats for Villa Madonna Subdivision, tract A and unit two, and for Pine Cone Valley Subdivision.

—Tabled signing of the contract with Western Programmers for computer equipment until the District Attorney reads it.

—Approved the renewal of office rental agreement with the Soil Conservation Service.

—Approved a budget increase for prior year bills.

—Received acceptance from the State Highway Department for a school bus route at Mesa Verde Subdivision.

—Approved the mill levy for Sun Valley Sanitation District.

—Passed a resolution to establish absentee voting precincts for the new legislative districts.

—Approved the 1982 tax year tax-setting order.

—Decided to continue law enforcement liability under Risk Management rather than change to a self-insured program.

—Denied a request for a 14-year-old boy who has passed emergency medical technician training to serve as an ambulance observer in Captain.

—The Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) will consider an annexation petition from Grindstone Canyon developer Don Dorman at the commission's regular meeting Wednesday.

The commission will also hold public hearings on three requests for zoning changes at the 9:30 a.m. meeting at village hall.

Dorman submitted an annexation petition in May to bring approximately 150 acres of land into the village that he plans to develop around the planned Grindstone Canyon reservoir. Grindstone Canyon is north of the post office.

The commission requested he remove the request from the May agenda because annexation would have complicated the July bond election for construction of Grindstone water project.

Commissioner withdrew the request, but proposed to seek approval of one phase of the planned 300-acre development project that is within village limits. P&Z approved first phase of the project August 2.

Also Wednesday, Dorman will request P&Z consider the master plan of the Grindstone

Eve Ball book to be recorded for the blind

by BARBY GRANT
Staff Writer

Thanks to the volunteer work of Jane Erwin, blind persons will soon have the opportunity to enjoy Ruidoso writer Eve Ball's most recent book, "Indeh: An Apache Odyssey." Erwin is currently working on recording the book for the New Mexico State Library, through the Services for the Blind program.

She has been a volunteer reader for the program, sponsored by the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., for the past 15 years. When Mrs. Erwin learned of the state library's plans to build a permanent collection of recordings of books by New Mexico authors, she requested permission to record Eve Ball's book.

The books are read onto a seven-inch master tape and then reproduced onto a cassette. The cassettes can be checked out free of charge to any person certifying he is unable to read due to a physical handicap or ailment.

Mrs. Erwin spends time researching the book before she records it and has been working with Mrs. Ball on pronunciation of the Indian words in "Indeh." Mrs. Erwin said she is "delighted" to be recording one of Eve Ball's books and is "especially delighted to get some help from Eve." "I'm thrilled to death over it," Mrs. Ball said about the project. She added that she is especially pleased that it will enable people who otherwise could not read her books to experience them.

Brave gridgers have plenty of depth

Depth should be the strong point of White Mountain Middle School's football team this season.

"We've got about 46 kids out for the team," said head coach Terry Wharton. "That's quite a bit more than last year. We'll have about 36 kids eligible for the first game (at Dexter Thursday) and the rest haven't been out the necessary two weeks yet. This is the first year that we've had 12 running backs out with nearly equal abilities."

One of the brightest prospects is Billy Harrison, a transfer from Texas. Harrison will go at fullback and middle linebacker. He is 5-6 and weighs 165 pounds.

Harrison will share the fullback spot with Bryan Davis, a Little League baseball All-Star. Davis is a 5-8, 140 pounder with good speed and quickness.

Jeff Willingham is the starting quarterback while Kirk Taylor is the second string signal caller and first string halfback. Willingham is 5-4 and 130 pounds and Taylor is a 5-3, 120 pounder.

Billy Chadwell, Mike Keaton and Corey Garner are the only returning players from last season's squad.

Chadwell, who was also a Little League baseball All-Star, will play halfback and defensive back. Keaton will be a flanker and defensive back while Garner will play at several positions in the line.

With the added depth this season, the Braves have seven seventh graders out and that should help the team for next year.

Wharton and assistant mentor Mike Crocker coached the Braves to a 4-2 record last season.

Thursday's game with Dexter will begin at 6 p.m.

Around Sports with Gary Brown

Pro basketball player Moses Malone is going to be one rich man, regardless of where he plays next season.

Malone, currently a free agent, was offered $13 million over a six-year period by Philadelphia 76ers last week. The team has played for the past several seasons, must match or surpass the 76ers' offer in two weeks or Malone will probably be playing in Philadelphia next season.

When you compare Malone's probable salary with that of the average National Football League (NFL) player, you could have some sympathy for the football players' benefit and salary demands.

Football is a more injury-prone sport than basketball and that is one of the main reasons the NFL players are seeking more benefits and salary.

It's hard, of course, for the average person on the street to sympathize with NFL players. There's almost 10 percent unemployment in this country and the average income is around $20,000 a year. Compare that to salaries of $60,000 and more for defensive backs and offensive linemen, and even greater salaries for players like quarterbacks, running backs and defensive linemen, and pro football players seem pretty well off.

But one thing we have to remember is that NFL players are the elite of their sport. They went through high school and college and made the NFL teams. Players are generally less able (but not always) to play in the Canadian Football League (CFL) and the several minor leagues around the United States. The new United States Football League (USFL) will probably attract the less talented collegiate football stars unless there is a prolonged strike.

An NFL player could be compared to a brain surgeon, business executive or movie star. The top people in those fields make as much or more than any professional athletes.

Of course, you could certainly argue that a brain surgeon performs a more valuable service to the human race than a professional football player does.

But professional football is a high pressure business, not a collegiate sport. If a player attracts the crowds to the stadium in record numbers, then he should be paid a large amount of money.

The top NFL players generally make nearly as much as the top National Basketball Association (NBA) and major league baseball players. It's the less talented NFL player, however, that falls short in comparison with his counterparts in baseball and basketball.

The big handicap professional football players have is the higher risk of injury and the shorter career span.

An average running back's career in the NFL will last less than four years. Defensive backs' careers don't usually last much longer.

Quarterbacks generally have long careers but they're usually the highest paid players. Offensive linemen also have long careers, quite often playing until their mid-30's. However, most of them are among the lowest paid players.

Players who get injured early in their careers can get in big trouble financially. A large percentage of NFL players didn't get their degrees in college so an injury early in their football career could put them out in the cold.

Of course, it could be argued that it's the players' own fault they didn't get their degrees. But with the way many big-time college football programs use athletes without caring about their education, the players aren't the real villains.

I really hope there isn't an NFL strike (by the time readers see this column it may already be on) but the huge amount of money Moses Malone will probably get isn't going to make pro football players more satisfied with their financial status.

Strobel has three touchdowns in Ruidoso loss

A Wildcat return man touched the ball and let it bounce away from him. H. R. Lueras recovered the ball for Ruidoso on the Wildcat 10 yard line.

Williamson ran for two yards but a five yard penalty against Ruidoso put the ball back on the Wildcat 13.

Strobel then took a handoff from quarterback Billy Woodul and darted around left end for the touchdown. The extra point try was no good and the teams were tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter.

However, the second quarter was all Lovington as the Wildcats took advantage of their speed.

Lovington drove 70 yards in 12 plays early in the second period to take the lead for good.

Some excellent running by Howard and halfback Bennie Cook drove the Wildcats down to the Warrior two.

From there, it was again Ellison who ran over from the two for the touchdown with 8:10 left in the period.

Howard then belted in for the two-point conversion and the Wildcats held a 14-6 advantage.

The Warriors failed to move the ball on their next possession and Lovington took over on the Warrior 48 yard line.

The Warriors were charged 15 yards for holding and the ball was moved to the 33. Howard then rammed 27 yards to the Ruidoso six. Cook then ran over from the score from the six.

The extra point kick was good and the Wildcats took a 21-6 advantage into the locker room at halftime.

It was more of the same in the third quarter as Lovington put 18 more points on the scoreboard.

Howard scored his only touchdown of the game with 10:28 left in the quarter on a 14 yard run. A pass for the two-point conversion tailed and Lovington held a 27-6 lead.

Cook scored his second touchdown with 7:34 left in the third quarter on a 35 yard run, and Jim Nugent ran 21 yards for the final Wildcat score with 5:11 left in that period.

The Warriors came alive in the final period and made the score more respectable.

Ruidoso drove 78 yards in seven plays for its second touchdown.

Fullback Kyle Flack opened the drive with an eight yard run up the middle. Following an incomplete pass and two short runs, Woodul hit tight end Mike Douglass over the center for a 40 yard gain to the Lovington 18.

From there, the Warriors scored in three plays with Strobel going over from the six.

The extra point try failed and Lovington held a 39-12 advantage with 9:38 remaining in the contest.

On Ruidoso's next series, Woodul hit Strobel on a 51 yard pass play for the final Warrior touchdown. Strobel got behind one Wildcat defender and it was a foot race the rest of the way.

Woodul ended the game with five completions in 16 attempts for 116 yards. Strobel had two catches for 60 yards.

Warrior head coach Darrel Stierwalt was naturally disappointed about the defeat. However, he felt good about his team's future.

"We're a young ballclub," he said. "We'll be good. We didn't quit and came back well in the fourth quarter."

"I thought they'd pass more against us than they did. But they ran so well early they just stayed with their running game."

The Warriors will stay on the road this Friday with a 7:30 p.m. game at Socorro. Socorro topped Ruidoso's 3-AAA district rival Deming 19-0 last Friday.

NOTES: In other games Friday night involving district 3-AAA teams, defending champion Silver City blasted Lordsburg 54-0, New Mexico Military Institute toppled Tularosa 20-7, Truth or Consequences defeated Hatch 24-0 and Cathedral of El Paso, Texas, blanked Cobre 28-0.

SEVERAL RUIDOSO HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PLAYERS chase Lovington High School tailback Perry Howard in Friday's night season opener. H. R. Lueras (43) of the Warriors comes in for the tackle. Howard ran for 180 yards as the Wildcats topped the Warriors 39-18. Ruidoso will travel to Socorro this Friday night.

ERIC STROBEL grabs a pass in the second quarter of the Ruidoso High School football game with host Lovington Friday night. Strobel had an excellent game, scoring all three Warrior touchdowns. It wasn't enough, however, as Lovington took a decisive 39-18 victory.

Webb rides Frosty Tail to win

Jockey Harla Webb, daughter of Ruidoso Downs village clerk Wilma Webb, rode Frosty Tail to victory Sunday, August 29, in the $207,540.72 Santa Fe Futurity at the Downs at Santa Fe.

Her win is believed to be the richest race ever won with a woman jockey up.

Frosty Tail captured the six-furlong race for two-year olds by three-and-a-half lengths over Sunnily Smashed. Lt. Pearle was third.

Capitan rolls over Cloudcroft in opener, 27-6

Showing a balanced offense, the Capitan High School football team took a 27-6 victory over host Cloudcroft Friday night in the season opener for both teams.

Running back Eddie Cummins scored two touchdowns, the first on a five-yard run in the opening quarter. That score came after the Tigers recovered the ball on a bad snap by the Cloudcroft center on the five.

In the second period, David Beavers scored the second Capitan touchdown on a 40-yard run.

The third Tiger score came on a five-yard run by Cummins near the end of the second quarter.

The Tigers finished their scoring in the final period on a two-yard run by quarter-back Grady Lee Eldridge.

Guard Paul Sullivan and tackle Todd Proctor did an excellent job in the line for Capitan. They also played well on defense.

"We played well at times," Tiger head coach Mel Holland said. "There were times when we got a little sloppy but we'll work that out. It was only the first game of the season."

Capitan, which had a 7-2 record last season, will host powerful Texico this Friday. Texico edged the Tigers 7-6 in last season's state A division semi-finals. Texico went on to lose to two-time defending state champion Reserve in the finals.

The contest will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Joe Skeen expounds on domestic, foreign affairs

by DAVID SHEPPARD
Staff Writer

Republican U.S. Representative Joe Skeen said Wednesday that recent indicators showing a decline in the prime interest rate and a slowdown in inflation are encouraging signs that the economy may be turning up.

Skeen, who was on a brief campaign swing through Ruidoso, gave President Reagan's policies credit for producing the current economic outlook, and stressed the trend must continue before the economic and unemployment pictures brighten.

President Reagan has to take his share of credit; he's getting something," Skeen said. "He's getting the economy down, and is slowing the growth of unemployment."

Skeen, who voted for this summer's $98 billion tax increase bill, terms the legislation "just good horse sense," and said he believes the bill will be a big step toward ending the federal deficit.

Raising taxes is just pragmatism," he said. "I think it's one of the best compromises I've ever seen."

Skeen said the tax increase does not reverse Reagan's tax cuts from a year ago, but that the government will generate most revenue from the increase by forcing compliance and tightening loopholes, thus leaving benefits from the income tax cuts intact.

Another issue Skeen sees as crossing political lines is the balanced budget amendment. Skeen not only supports the amendment, but during budget negotiations in June, he voted for an alternative budget resolution—called the Roussetot Substitute—that would have eliminated the deficit this year.

"That was only trying to dramatize the inability of Congress to face up to its responsibilities," he said. "It was designed to flush all of the phonies out of this thing, and say 'Do you or don't you want to balance the budget?'"

Skeen said he knew the substitute would not pass, but he added it set the stage for a genuine effort at calling for a balanced budget.

When asked if he would support Kansas senator Robert Dole's call for a lame duck session of Congress this fall to attempt to revamp the Social Security system, Skeen said, "We have to face it sometime, it might as well be post-election."

Skeen said the system should be revised and stabilized for future beneficiaries, but he said he was not sure what changes he would support.

Skeen said the main problem facing the Social Security system is the cost-of-living indexing, which he said costs $1 billion for a one-point rise in the index. He also said social programs have been spread too thin, which has put the real needy at a disadvantage.

"We don't do people a favor when we promise more than we can deliver," he said. "In the last 20 years, the programs were supposed to go to the helpless, but it's been spread so anybody can qualify."

Skeen said he is opposed to "sweeteners" in the system that have been added by politicians seeking support for votes. He added that those practices are one reason why the deficit is out of control.

"With the balanced budget, we'll keep those programs (Social Security) sound, and we also won't be tempted by the political expediency of sweetening the pot to get somebody's vote. And, if we have to expand, we'll have to ask for a tax raise; it'll make Congress be honest with itself."

Skeen, who is a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said general improvements in the economy achieved by the balanced budget will be the best remedy for present agricultural ills.

He said he was particularly interested in improving the state of the farm economy. The agricultural sector, he said, generates $30 billion annually in credits for the U.S., and is one of the most efficient industries we have.

Skeen, a rancher from the Picacho area, said one of his accomplishments on the committee that helped farmers was rescinding the grain embargo on the Soviet Union, because it was being undermined by other grain-exporting countries.

On another issue pertaining to trade with the Soviets, Skeen said he fully supports Reagan's stand against the natural gas pipeline to Western Europe.

Skeen indicated he has no qualms about selling American grain to the Soviets, because farmers need the market, while at the same time asking Europeans not to supply hardware for the pipeline.

"Why should we use American technology to build a pipeline that puts Western Europe dependent on (Soviet) gas, and supplies the Soviets with hard cash?" he asked.

"We're reversing the stand of foreign relations that we've had for a long time. Now it's time to ask for their support; we helped Europe and Japan rebuild after the war. Their argument is for their own self-interest, now the United States has to take care of our interests," he stated.

On the state scene, Skeen talked about ways the mining industry could be supported, which would benefit hard-hit Grant County solve its unemployment problem.

Skeen said the U.S. "should encourage an increase in the marketing price of copper" because cost of production in state mills is way ahead of returns. He said producers are receiving 50 to 60 cents per pound for copper, but, because of antiquated equipment, it costs 90 cents to produce.

He suggested the government expand its copper reserves in the strategic stockpile by several hundred million tons, which would open the now flooded domestic market for copper.

Skeen said he has mixed feelings about calling for protective tariffs on natural resources that countries are selling cheaply to the U.S.

He said we "will have to get tough with Japan" and that we need a new understanding with the European Common Market regarding access to our markets, while protecting their own. But he said a change in our tariffs could nullify trade agreements and make the situation worse.

In a final comment, Skeen, who in a recent state poll is shown to be way ahead of Democratic challenger Caleb Chandler, said he feels very good about his accomplishments as a freshman Congressman, and that he enjoys every minute of campaigning because it keeps him close to his constituents.

CONGRESSMAN JOE SKEEN gestures before an audience of senior citizens Wednesday at the Ruidoso

MR MASTER BUG'S sprint to racing fame is recorded in this sequence of photos. The colt, breaking from the number nine post position, had to overcome the early lead of Neat Creek (breaking from the number eight slot) and a strong bid from stablemate Miss Squaw Hand (running from the number five post).

Closing day handle a record

Monday's closing day handle of $1,250,384 at Ruidoso Downs was the biggest handle in track history, and one of the biggest in the history of racing in New Mexico.

The previous one-day record at Ruidoso was the $1,170,954 recorded on Labor Day a year ago.

During the current five-day Labor Day weekend, a total of $4,369,353 was wagered — a gain of 7.72 percent over the same period last year. The daily average during closing week was $873,872, the wagering-per-race, $72,823.

Attendance during Labor Day weekend was a record 35,209, up 18.75 percent over last year's comparable 30,954.

It was the biggest Labor Day weekend in Ruidoso history.

Sunday's handle of $1,123,883 was the third best (at that time) ever chalked up at Ruidoso.

The 1982 season covered 77 race days and produced a total handle of $41,612,788

— the largest seasonal handle in Ruidoso history. Last year, 70 race days accounted for $40,080,694.

The current daily average of $540,425 was a decrease of 5.61 percent from last season's $572,581. A key difference between the racing format this year and last year's was the scheduling of six Wednesday programs.

Attendance during the '82 meeting totaled out at 360,737, an average of 4,685. Last year, 334,516 fans attended the races for a daily average of 4,779.

Motorcycle Festival on go

The Ruidoso Motorcycle Festival is rolling into high gear.

The festival, sponsored by the Ruidoso Business Association (RBA), is scheduled for September 29 to October 3 at a 12-acre area between the Holiday Inn and the Villa Inn.

The festival program has been completed with a lot of help from local businesses, according to Nancy Radziewicz, a director for the RBA.

"There's been fantastic town support,"

Radziewicz said. "We've got all the trophies we need and the sponsors all came from the town."

Local adds paid for the program. A total of 114 trophies will be given out at the festival.

"The local response has been fantastic," Radziewicz remarked. "We're new at this but we're hoping for around 3,000 people this year."

Several motorcycle events will be held and prizes will be given out.

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE — Lots of people thought Pete Domenici could never replace Clinton Anderson.

He appears to have done so — and very quickly at that.

At least that's one conclusion you could draw from the results of that Associated Press survey of editors which ranked him as the most influential person in the state.

Some will credit his ranking in that contest to the important job he got when the Republicans took control of the Senate. Others will dig a little deeper and say his ranking is due to the way he used that power once he got it.

For a man of 50, Pete rose rapidly to national stature. You don't do that if you don't have the stuff.

Oh, yes, you have to be on the scene at the right time, and that is often a matter of fate rather than of talent.

But you still have to tailor what circumstances deliver you.

That's true of every man (there are no women) in the AP's top ten.

Like all of us, they had things happen to them over which they have no control. But unlike most of us, they added another element: the ability to shape circumstances instead of merely going with them.

Domenici does that very well. He usually does it best when those around him don't even realize he's doing it.

For instance, for a man who had no legislative experience of any kind when he arrived on the Washington scene, he has become a consummate manipulator of the lawmaking process.

He is probably one of the best members of that exclusive men's club, the Senate, at making things come out the way he wants by using, rather than resisting, the process.

To learn to do that in a short time marks a man as a quick study. There are many members of the Senate senior to Peter who have never learned to do it at all.

Hence he is ranked in this poll, ironically enough, ahead of Bruce King, the man on the scene, the one who is really "in" New Mexico, as being influential.

He also has enough of a sense of humor to be able to say ruefully, when told of his place in the results, "I wish I had that much influence with my children."

It might be a temptation to those who do not like Pete (and, because he is a politician, there are lots of those) to say just being a Senator of the United States is bound to make you rank high in order of influence.

Such people might note where his associate in the Senate, Jack Schmitt, ranked. It was number nine out of ten positions.

Was that only because Schmitt is in his first term and has not had time to grow any larger on New Mexico's "influence" horizon?

Hardly.

Joe Skeen, who is also in his first term, and less than two years in Washington, ranked number seven, a step or two above Schmitt, though they are of the same political party and that group does not control the legislative body to which Skeen belongs.

All in all, a student of the state scene could hardly help agreeing with those chosen. They are Domenici, Bruce King, Robert O. Anderson, Archbishop Robert Sanchez, John Mershon, Manuel Lujan, Skeen, Jerry Geist, Schmitt and Steve Reynolds, in that order.

One hopes they all realize the responsibilities which go with having influence.

All New Mexicans would like to see them using that influence for the ultimate good of all our citizens.

Take heed, you guys; take heed

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Just for the record!

Mr. Ken Green's editorial of September 2, 1982, requires an explanation.

Although it may appear that our City Government is being run by committees it simply isn't true. A year ago Mr. Green would not have been able to make his allegations as most of the committees were inoperative—some not having met in several years. When the present Council began its term the first matter of business was getting committees set up to handle a multitude of various problems the Council faced.

Although Mr. Green has given the writer credit for knowing everything about everything my knowledge is minimal when it comes to many of the City's operations. While versed in finance and operations my knowledge of Fire, Police, EMS, and many other operations is limited. So, what did the Council do? We went out among the citizens of Ruidoso and established many Committees made up of persons whose personal knowledge of the subject at hand would help the Council to handle many complex and time consuming problems. We think that this method is hands down more efficient than attempting to handle each and every problem we face. The lack of Committee function in previous administrations is one of the reasons we face so many problems as of today.

Committees are only ADVISORY in their scope of duties. They advise the Council after their considerations are complete. Each Committee is given a time schedule to complete a project with the Council working with each Committee should questions arise needing Council advice. Naturally, each Committee seeks out advice from those who can help form an answer to a problem.

Committees, unlike the Council, are not required to publish their meeting dates and subject of discussion. Bear in mind that these Committees are made up, in most part, by local businessmen who have to take time away from making a living to serve with no compensation and with the prospects of being castigated for any decision they may make. It is a thankless job and one that is not really understood and appreciated by our citizens.

Frankly, I don't know where Mr. Green got the information that resulted in his editorial. In further explanation—the Committee making up the Planning and Zoning and the Lodgers Tax Committee do meet at a stated time and place each month and reporters are always present. The meetings open to the public and press alike. The other various Committees do not meet at regular times and, in most cases, are not open to the public and to the press. THIS IS UP TO THE DISCRETION OF EACH COMMITTEE. And this is what it is all about. The newspaper would like to appear at each Committee meeting and would like to have a prior notice of each meeting. This simply put cannot be done and expect our committees to function.

The present Council, elected by the voters, meets in open session as required by law. Mr. Green and anyone else who questions our procedures is invited to have the questions answered — however, the only way to do this is not by news articles but by a personal appearance before the Council. In the meantime many of the folks in Ruidoso are involved in the decision process — THEY ARE MEMBERS OF OUR COMMITTEES — God bless 'em.

J.A. "Al" Junge
Councilman

BOOK FREEDOM

In a time of burgeoning attempts to ban books, it is good to note one small victory for freedom. This came when the Baileyville, Maryland, School Board finally agreed to an out-of-court settlement whereby the book "365 Days" is accorded a permanent place in the high school library.

It was the obscene language in this book about the war in Vietnam that prompted the School Board to ban it. There is such language in "365 Days," all right.

But that is the way soldiers talk; it is part of the true picture the book attempts to convey. Truth, in this case, truth about the vastly greater obscenities of brutality and killing that go with war, is more important than insulating young people against distasteful words. — Alamogordo Daily News

CHILD CAR SAFETY

The spectacle is a common one, and scary: a young mother tooling along in her car with an untethered small child standing on the seat beside her. It takes little imagination to bring on chills at the sight. One thinks: What if she has to brake suddenly? One envisions the child smashing into the dashboard, or hurtling through the windshield. One wants to yell: Be careful! But the young mother and her endangered charge pass by, and it is too late for admonition.

Allowing a small child to stand in a moving car is simple folly. But even a tot secured in a child's car seat may not be safe; some seats are not strong enough for protection in a crash. Parents should not settle for anything less than one that meets federal safety specifications.

Such a child's seat is comparatively expensive. But the small extra outlay may avert a grave injury or death. —Alamogordo Daily News

Editorial

Last week, The News expressed concern over "government by committee" in Ruidoso, and the system's lack of involvement of the public in the decision-making process.

The power of the commissions, boards and committees that the council has appointed was confirmed at the last council meeting.

Councilman Frank Sayner stated on the council's behalf that these groups have "at least the authority to make recommendations and not pass the buck." At his suggestion, a letter will be sent to these groups saying recommendations of changes in existing policy are requested and encouraged by the council.

The spending of the public's dollars or management of the public's business is the essential subject of all of these committees. The question remains: Is the public going to be shut out of the process?

So that it is not, we recommend the following "changes in existing policy:"

—That village committees, commissions and boards meet at regularly scheduled times and places.

—That these meetings be announced beforehand, so that interested members of the public may attend.

—And, that a list of names, addresses and phone numbers of committee members be prepared and released, so that members of the public have the opportunity to provide input through those members.—TP

On the Village beat

with

Tim Palmer

Whew!

That represents the collective sigh heard around Ruidoso the day after racing season ends.

I was going to say sigh of relief, but that doesn't seem entirely accurate. It is a relief, sure, that the traffic will ease off, and the frenetic pace of the village will slow down.

But something will be missing, too. There is a certain excitement in the air each race day that you can't help feeling—whether you ever go to the races yourself or not.

I remember the "day after" feeling from last year. We moved to Ruidoso on Labor Day 1981, so that feeling is really my first memory as a resident of Ruidoso.

That and the rain. It was raining when we drove down from Albuquerque, and it rained steadily for two or three days after we got here.

The weather was pretty depressing, to tell the truth. But the friendliness of the people, which we had been so impressed by on our earlier visit, helped us begin to feel at home.

The first couple of trustees meetings I attended, down at the library, let me know that covering "the village beat" for The News was going to be interesting.

This was partly due to the style (some might say antics) of then-mayor Lloyd L. Davis Jr.

More than once, meetings were enlivened by the mayor leveling verbal attacks at a cigar smoking habitue of council meetings by the name of Al Junge.

In order to learn about the workings of the village, I went around and interviewed several people in the administration soon after I started at the paper. One of those was village manager Jim Hine.

Mr. Hine graciously granted me a long interview in his comfortable office at the new village hall. I was very pleased to discover the Village of Ruidoso had such a beautiful facility.

Anyone who has had a lot of business with a city or county can appreciate the difference between a village hall like ours and a dusky old city hall or county courthouse. They can be the pits.

"There's nothing I like better than talking about Ruidoso," said Jim Hine when I thanked him for his time.

Something else he said, which stuck in my mind, was that talking about their jobs is something that should be expected of every village employee. And if his department heads didn't believe that, he added, they shouldn't be in the job.

In my notes from that interview, I found a comment from Hine that in Alamogordo, elected officials tell professional administrators how to do their jobs, which leads that city's employees to resign.

This was very interesting, in light of later developments.

This past spring, we initiated a series of "state of" stories. These were the result of interviews of various individuals, including village department heads, by our reporters.

In one of those stories, the head of the sanitation department commented that he would like to have certain equipment, but that the village did not have the money to pay for it.

This prompted a phone call to Hine from one of the councilmen. As Mr. Hine told it to me, the councilman was unhappy to read in the paper that the village did not have the money when no request for the equipment had been made to the council.

As a result, a policy was instituted that Hine had to be present for future interviews with village department heads.

Control of information from the village had reared its head.

And that is the battle we are currently fighting (see editorial and Mr. Junge's letter this page).

Ruidoso has proved a fascinating beat to cover in the one year I've been with The News. There is so much going on all the time that we sometimes feel inadequate trying to cover everything.

But that is a good situation for a newspaper to be in. So I suppose with a year under my belt, a "new year's resolution" is in order.

That would be, simply, to try to do our best to keep our readers informed, while keeping in mind our responsibility to report accurately and fairly.

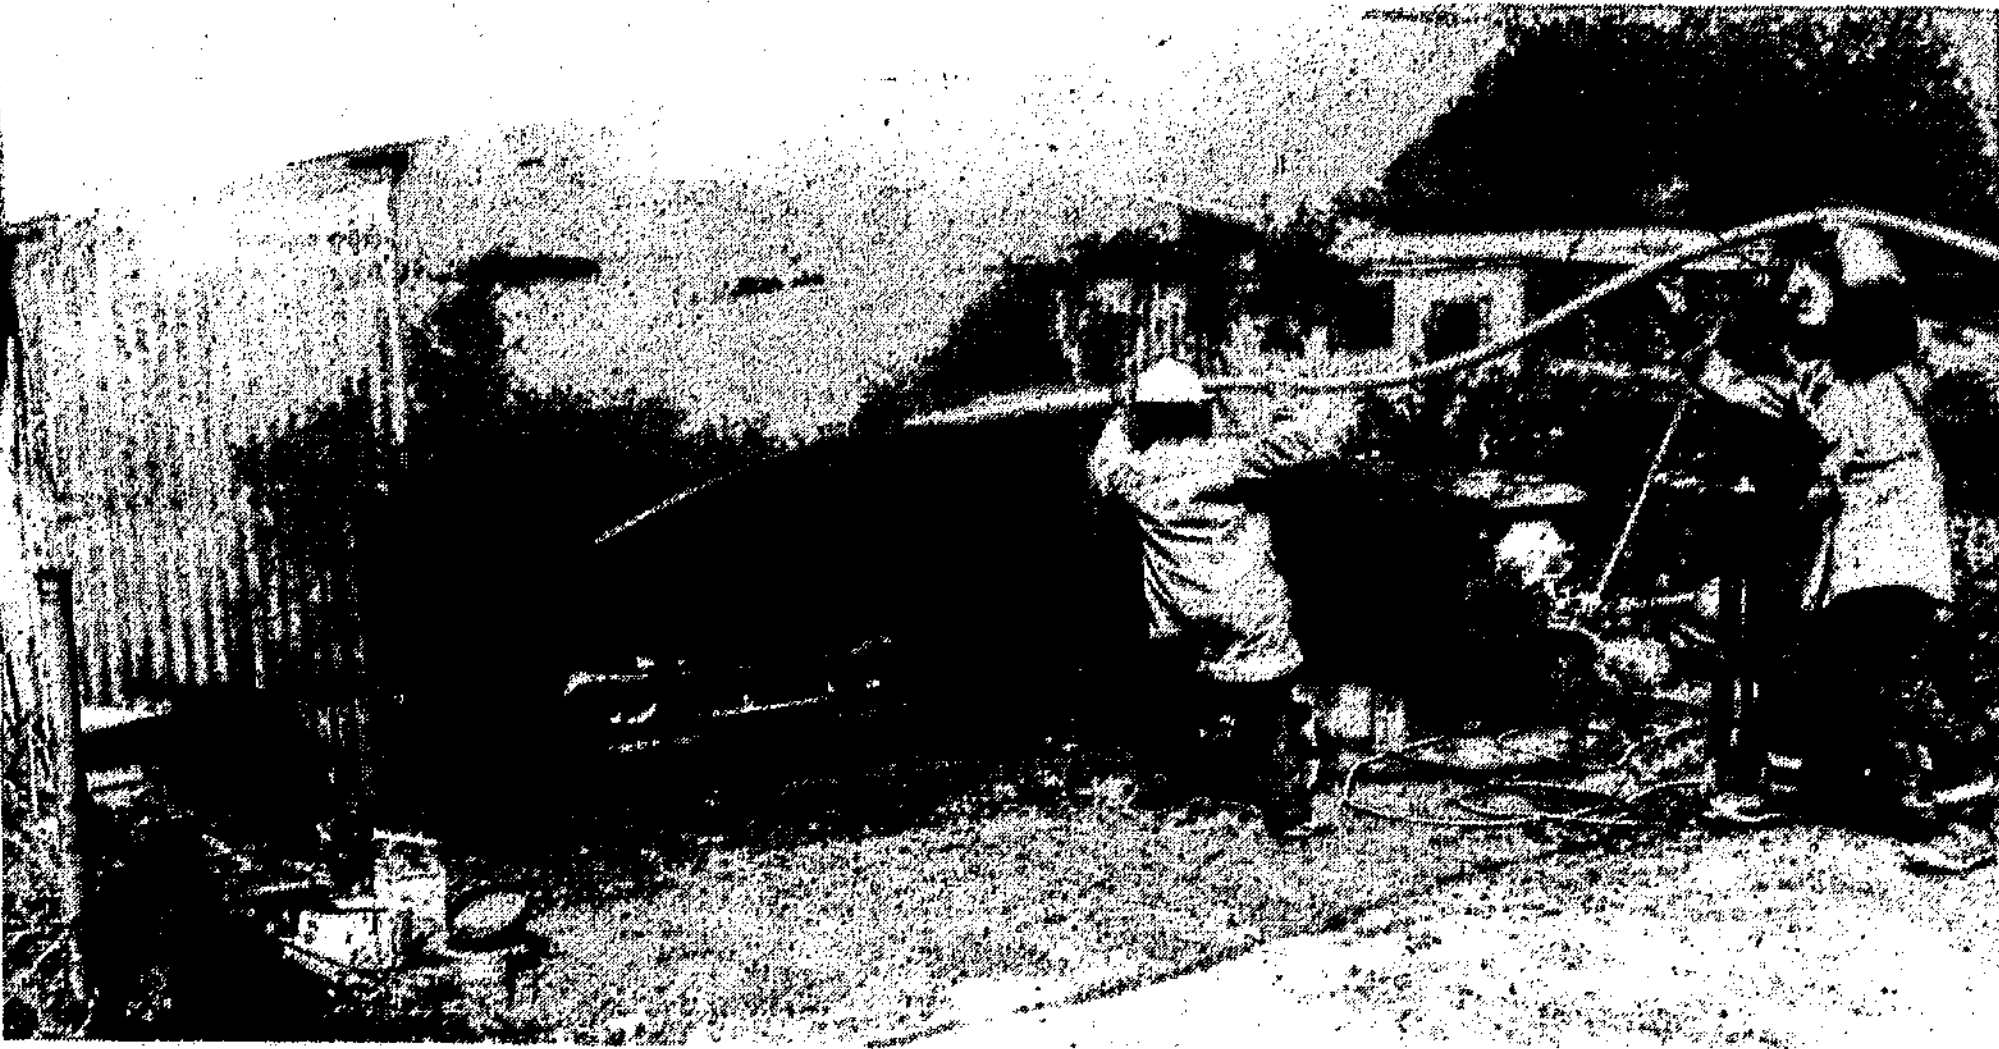

And if our readers have any suggestions as to how we can do our job better ... well, keep those cards and letters coming, folks.

We're Your Kind of Bankers!

You've probably heard there's a new bank coming to Ruidoso. And now, First City National is here — and we think we have just the kind of bankers you've been waiting for. Meet Bill Mayton, Cashier at First City National. He's the one who keeps things running smoothly, processing loan applications and handling our accounting. Drop by First City National and meet Bill and the rest of the staff. We think you'll agree, we're your kind of bankers.

THE ONLY THING LEFT IS THE CLEANUP after Ruidoso volunteer firemen stopped this garage fire in Carrizo Canyon from spreading Saturday. The owner of the garage, John Henley, said he was working on a customer's car inside, when a lightbulb fell and exploded next to a pan of gasoline and ignited the fuel. Henley said he singed a hand trying to put out the fire, which destroyed the car and the garage, plus thousands of dollars worth of tools. Henley said he hoped his insurance will cover the cost of the car.

WHAT A MESS Forest Service employee Dennis Roy has to clean after partiers trashed out a picnic site in the Cedar Creek picnic grounds Friday night. Roy said such neglect by weekend revelers has become too frequent at Cedar Creek, and he warned that if it gets worse, the grounds may have to be closed. He added that there is a $50 fine for littering in the National Forest and other fines that pertain to such actions.

For 34 years, Ruidoso Downs has attracted the world's top horsemen through its gates. Some will stand in the winner's circle. Others will vow to be there next year. All will share in the excitement. Now, Ruidoso Downs adds another champion to its list of winners. The Triple Crown. Condominiums for the sport of kings.

PLACE. Majestically situated on a plateau overlooking the grandstand and grounds, The Triple Crown makes you a part of the action—yet keeps you apart from the crowd. OTHER ACTION. Local and vacationing golfers find the area's three major golf courses to be par excellence. Cultural events include a summer Art Festival and tribal ceremonies performed at the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation. Big game hunting, trout fishing, backpacking, hiking and sightseeing add to the area's activities.

INSIDE INFO: PASSPORTS
If you've applied for a passport lately, you may have noticed that they have a new look. Still the same color and size, they no longer bear the punched-in number on the cover.
Instead, inside there is a "zone of information" designed to be read by machine scanners. This appears on the inside front cover; other pertinent information, including your photo, has been moved there, too.
Only certain areas are equipped to issue the new passports so far, among them Washington, Chicago, and Los Angeles.
For the moment, the change is purely cosmetic. The scanners necessary to read the special information on the new passports are still on the drawing board.
It is useful to have a passport even if you are visiting a country which will accept alternative documentation like a birth certificate or voter's registration card.
The reason is the "Passport Bypass" system for returning Americans at many of the major U.S. airports. Those with passports without right to customs; those without have to wait on the lines in Immigration.
Whatever your travel needs, we're ready to help. You'll find experts at Ruidoso Travel.

The Dreamer

BY DANNIE STORM

Mrs. Mickey Derrick
Is Hostess At Home
Of Joe and Louise Welch.

The glorious month of September was off to a good start on the evening of September one, when many of the friends of Mrs. Mickey Derrick gathered for a pleasant evening at the home of Joe and Louise Welch.

Mickey, who now lives in Austin, has very close ties to Lincoln County. Mr. Jim Derrick along with Gene Hensley started the Ruidoso Downs Race track, back in the early days.

Among those present at the Welch home at Ruidoso Gardens across the river in Ruidoso were:

Ruth and Alan Reynolds and their granddaughter, Donna Coleman and her husband Bill Coleman. The guest of honor was their three-month old daughter, Crystal, who smiled and slept in her cradle through the celebrations of the evening.

Also present were the one and only Benjie Roller and his wife, Carol, and son Dannie; Phil and Bonnie Richardson from Nogal; Ada and Tom Parker from Hobbs;

Las Vegas, Nevada; Lenny and Jerry Rowe, Roswell; Meddie Rush, Austin Mike Welch, son of Louise and Joe; Debbie and Trudy Davis, Glencoe.

At this happy gathering I met that great little lady, Margie Renfrow, who I had known years ago when she was a teenager. She is an outstanding race horse trainer, working for Dr. Joe Miller. She brought me the news that Harla Webb, daughter of Harlan Webb of Glencoe had won the big race at Santa Fe, Sunday, The Santa Fe Thoroughbred Derby and had become the first lady race rider in history to win a race with a purse higher than two hundred thousand.

All in all it was an honor to be present at the home of Louise and Joe with Mickey Derrick and all our friends.

The Proud Father

Over the phone I learned that Harlan Webb had been present at the race in which his daughter made us all proud. Harlan said the winning filly, Frosty Tail, owned by Dr. Joe Miller, became the richest two-year-old filly in the country with winnings of $203,000 dollars in seven starts. The entire purse of the Santa Fe race was $207,540 dollars, with the winner's share $124,000 thousand.

We can all imagine the great pride felt by Harlan to see his daughter, Harla, do so well before the eyes of the horse-racing world.

Harlan, a man of many gifts, is busy at his art and his trade of saddle-making, just finishing a saddle for Dale Robertson.

September Birthdays

Now that we are over into that wonderful month of September, when the charms of summer blend into the glories of fall, we need to mention a word or two about those whose birthdays fall in September.

Just up the way, Paul H. Jones will celebrate his birthday on the seventh. He was born not half a mile from his present residence, on September seven, 1926. He has spent his entire life here except time spent in the Army in World War II, and the Korean War. He attended school here in Lincoln County, part of the time under the teaching of his mother, the beloved pioneer educator, Ola Casey Jones. He then went to New Mexico Military Institute.

Paul is widely known and respected in ranching circles. He is active in Church work, being a member of the vestry of The Episcopal Church in Lincoln County.

Paul and his people have been staunch friends and good neighbors of the Storm family ever since we came to this country. We wish Paul many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

Our brother Mark, was born in Valdez, Alaska, September four, 1911, and was baptized April 14, 1912 in the historic Episcopal Church of the Epiphany with the pioneer Alaska clergyman, The Reverend Winfred H. Ziegler in charge of services. Since before he could talk, Mark (Marcus Kennedy Storm) began drawing pictures—giving him something to do during the long Alaska winters. From his grandfather, General John Calvin Kennedy, after whom he was partly named, Mark inherited a great affinity for horses. As an infant just learning to walk, in Valdez, he would break into laughter of delight at the approach of Mr. Perkins, who brought groceries to the house in his one-horse wagon. Mr. Perkins would let Mark pet the horse; and took him on short rides in the wagon.

His name, Marcus, comes from our great uncle Major Marcus Reno, who had a long record with the Union Army in the Civil War, and was at the battle of the Little Bighorn with George Armstrong Custer.

The part of Major Reno in this battle is traced in detail in a novel by western writer, Ernest Haycox, entitled, "Bugles in the Afternoon."

Living later in Juneau, Alaska, where he went to the first grade, Mark has lived in Oregon, California, Texas and Old Mexico. He spent his youth and early manhood here in Lincoln County, as rancher, cowboy and rodeo contestant.

Every September the vale turns glowing green waiting for a birthday visit from Mark. I was hoping he might make it this time. He may come up later. And he is always here in spirit at the time of his birthday.

Free gifts when you save at Security Bank

Now you can get a free watch, clock or calculator when you save at Security Bank.

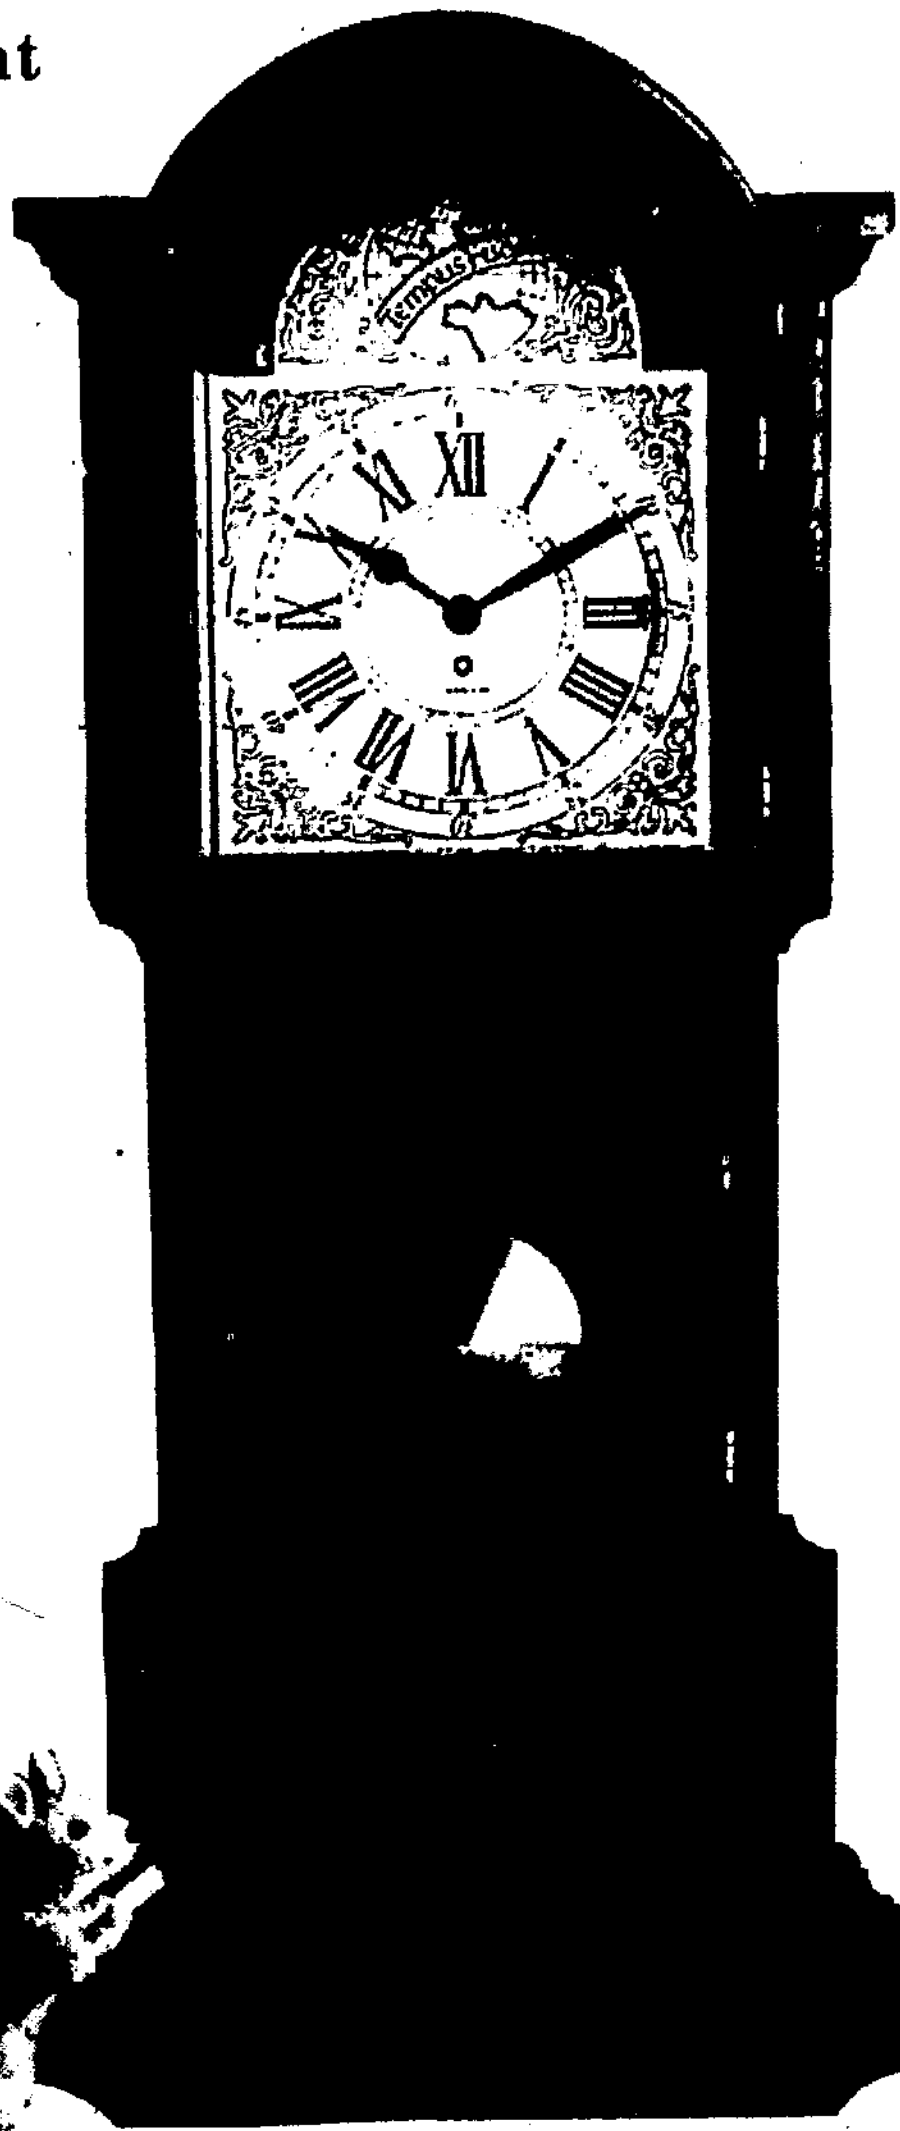

These are brand name gifts. The kind of quality you'll enjoy owning or be proud to give as a gift.

And you can get one whether you're investing in a high-yield time certificate you might have been thinking about, opening a new account or adding to one you already have.

Security Bank is also bringing you attractive discounts on a wide selection of fashionable watches, clocks and sleek NS calculators.

Federal law prohibits any bank from giving more than one free gift per customer per year, or selling more than one gift at discount prices per year, unless the gifts are sold when you make additional $100 deposits.

For full details on how much you'll need to deposit to get the gift or discounts you want, see the chart to the right.

Supplies are limited, so come and see the actual merchandise in any Security Bank lobby soon.

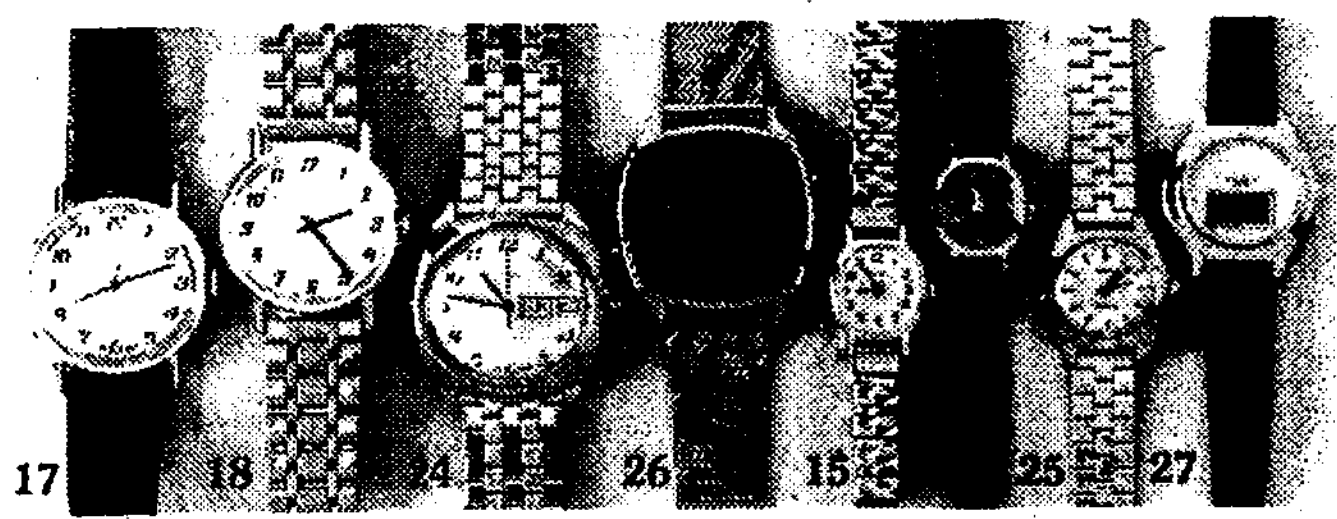

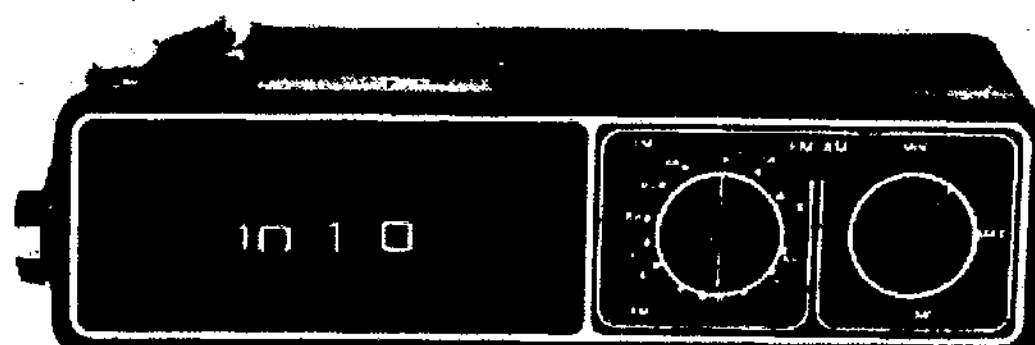

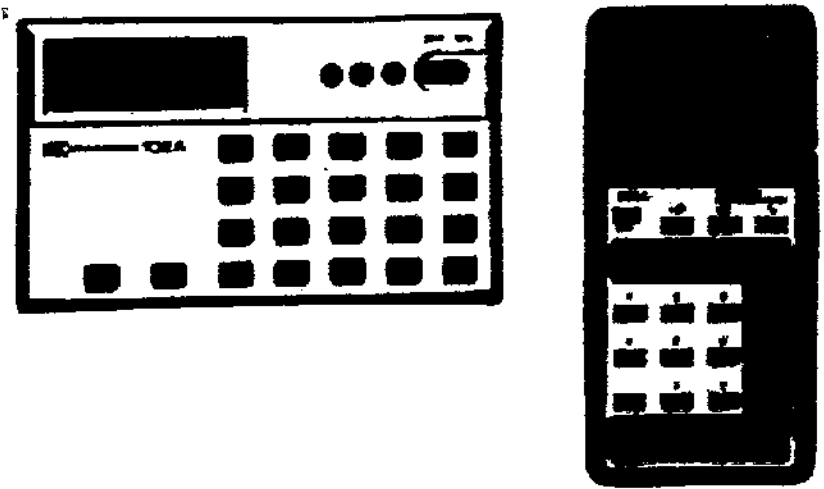

And while you're here, sign up for other Security Bank services. We know how valuable your time is. So we go out of our way to handle your banking needs quickly.

So besides your free time piece, you'll also gain a little more free time.

THE JOLENE

JOLENE is a very spacious, luxurious home that will blend ideally with your neighborhood. It is of modern architecture but the natural logs make the JOLENE a standout from the conventional homes. The massiveness of this home with three large bedrooms, two full baths will be surpassed by few and the envy of many.

For a permanent home and year around comfort, we heartily recommend the JOLENE.

WEBB WRITES — Grammy Award-winning songwriter Jimmy Webb will write an original song for every episode of the new CBS series, "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers." The series, which is not a musical, will introduce each episode's songs at a key moment in the story line. Webb has written such pop hits as "Up, Up and Away," "By the Time I Get to Phoenix" and "MacArthur Park."

Pam Dawber

ADD PAM — Pam Dawber, co-star of "Mork and Mindy," has joined the cast of "Remembrance of Love," the forthcoming NBC-TV movie about a Holocaust survivor. Miss Dawber will play the daughter of series star Kirk Douglas, who accompanies her father to Israel, where she meets a young Israeli officer with whom she falls in love.

SOUND COUNTRY

By Doug Davis

Dottie West's version of "If It's Alright with You," penned by Kenny O'Dell and Larry Henley, will be used in the David Carradine movie, "Americana."

After a one-month vacation, Don Williams and band are back on the tour circuit, headlining fair dates through Texas, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Don's single, "Listen to the Radio," has been one of his most successful singles to date.

The Statler Brothers have completed their first country music video for Polygram, featuring their current single, "Whatever," from their latest album, "The Legend Goes On."

The video combines performance segments of "Whatever" with four separate conceptual vignettes featuring each of the brothers — Harold Reid, Don Reid, Phil Balsley and Jimmy Fortune — acting out their dreams of wooing the beautiful women in the front row of the audience.

The video will be shown on various network variety and talk shows, cable programs and in-store displays.

Nashville's Scene Three, Inc. produced the video, under the guidance of director Marc Ball.

George Hamilton IV has just begun his longest tour ever, with some 60 scheduled concert dates.

Hamilton was in New Zealand during June, then he crossed the Atlantic for a tour of Eastern European countries.

By J.T. YURKO

Few rock groups today have garnered the respect and devout following as that of Pink Floyd, an English combo that's been together for 15 years. The group's most successful album, "Dark Side of the Moon," set an all-time record by staying on the charts for eight years. It also sold more than 17 million copies worldwide.

Pink Floyd's second most successful album, "The Wall," sold more than 11 million copies. Always contained within their style was highly visual imagery, so when the band took "The Wall" on tour, they were not content to present the usual concert. "The Wall" concert became a lavishly staged presentation, with sets that included a genuine wall. Animations were created by Gerald Scarfe and screened while the group played the music.

Now group member Roger Waters has translated the story of "The Wall" into a film. Waters tells of his life as a rock performer (played by Bob Geldol of the Boomtown Rats). the depressions and despair of his childhood, the drugs, sex and power of a rock idol — all of which act as another brick in the wall of isolation and perhaps madness creeping up around him.

This is not pleasant subject matter, but it is potent as a study of one's descent into insanity. The film uses little dialogue and lets the startling visual images do the talking. The lyrics to the songs help, but they are often hard to discern.

Being familiar with the story and music will help to understand what is going on, and let you concentrate on the visual images. Alan Parker has never been a director to pull punches, so be warned that several images are quite brutal and repeated perhaps a bit too often.

If you like the album, you'll probably like the film. Others will find this $10 million rock video excessive and redundant.
