COMMUNITY SUPPORT OUTSTANDING

Special Olympics successful

BY JEAN PATTERSON
Staff Writer

"I can't tell you how much this town opened their hearts and wallets," said Nancy Radzewicz of the support received during the first New Mexico Winter Special Olympics in Ruidoso. Radzewicz was one of the volunteers who organized the service clubs to help with the event. Nearly every service organization in the area donated their time in serving meals to the nearly 90 Olympians who attended the event.

The Christian Women's Fellowship, the Evening Lions, the Jaycees, Altrusa, Beta Sigma Phi, Rotary, Security Bank and Continental Telephone of Las Cruces/Roswell/Alamogordo all served at least one meal each to the Special Olympians.

The Elks donated the use of their lodge for a dance for the participants. The Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce made some of the banners that were placed around Ruidoso and Eagle Creek Ski Area, as did Resort Properties, Inc.

"Every ski shop in town offered ski rental for free for the kids," said Jeanne Culbertson, recreation supervisor at Fort Stanton Training School, one of the chief sponsors of the event. Fort Stanton donated their facilities for entertaining the participants their first night in the area as well as providing some meals.

The Student Council and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at the high school volunteered their time in helping with the event as did the staff at Eagle Creek Ski Area. Culbertson also mentioned that Safeway, Schlotzky's and the Camp of the Nazarene had donated food and facilities while the group was in Ruidoso.

"Diane Person, Hilde Strobel, Ray Heid and Bobby Palm really helped with the ski instruction. They had a clinic on Tuesday for everyone who would be helping and it was very successful," Culbertson said. She added that there were many people who helped with the skiing who did not leave their names. "I would really like to thank them. I know a lot of them were locals," Culbertson said.

The result of the first locally sponsored Special Olympics has been termed successful by the many people involved with it. "It ran smoothly and was a tremendous success because of the support and backing from the community," Culbertson said. "There are so many thank yous that need to go out."

Already, plans are being readied to put together a slide show and video program of the event for service groups to show at their meetings and for the schools to use, if they want to, according to Culbertson.

"We plan to show it to the community; maybe at the library," Culbertson said. Culbertson's husband, Tom, was in charge of the photography for the event.

JOY LIGHTS UP the face of Eric Kelley as he nears the finish line in the cross-country skiing competition of the New Mexico Winter Special Olympics at Eagle Creek Ski and Recreation Area Thursday. There was also competition in alpine skiing. Over 80 skiers participated in the Olympics.

The date for next year's New Mexico Winter Special Olympics in Ruidoso has been set for the last week in January, depending on when the main event in Angel Fire takes place. Culbertson said the Ruidoso event will follow Angel Fire's Olympics by two weeks.

"I think this (the Olympics) made a lot of people aware of what these kids can do. For so long, they have been institutionalized and shut up. Now they're getting let out of the closet," Culbertson said.

Culbertson related a scene in which a Special Olympian won a first place medal and began to cry. She then asked to use the microphone and proceeded to thank everyone for giving her the chance to compete in the event.

"It was real emotional. A lot of people were crying," Culbertson said. She also said a lot of the participants in the Special Olympics cried as they got ready to leave because they had so much fun and didn't want to go home.

Culbertson added that she "appreciated everyone's help," including the coverage from local media, such as KRRR, The Ruidoso News and the Roswell Daily Record. Also on hand to cover the event was PM Magazine, which will feature the Olympic action Friday at 6:30 p.m., on KVH, channel 19. Others Culbertson mentioned were Ruidoso State Bank, who set up a special account for the Olympics, as well as both local photographers, Bush Studio and Timber Trail Photography for their cooperation in recording the event.

"Many people in the community donated a lot of money, too," Culbertson said. "This town really opened up," Radzewicz said.

Ski Report

Sierra Blanca — Undisturbed snow depth midway on the mountain is 46 inches. Skiing conditions are rated fair to good. Two inches of snow fell over the weekend. Weather at report time is light snow and all lifts and trails are open. Eagle Creek — Average snow depth is 20 inches. Lower Boot Hill, Box Canyon, Chisholm Trail and the beginners' slope are all open and in good condition. There is night skiing from 6 to 10 Friday and Saturday.

Winter flight seminar here February 4

A Winter Flight Seminar, for aircraft pilots, is scheduled at 7 p.m., February 4, in the Ruidoso Municipal Building, adjacent to the Ruidoso Municipal Airport.

"Gary Lavender, accident prevention specialist with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Albuquerque, will conduct the seminar," said Tim Morris, event sponsor and manager of the local airport.

The program includes: — "Graveyard Spiral" — A Visual Flight Rule pilot flies into Instrument Flight Rule (IFR) conditions and buys a small farm in California. This University of California film flashes back so the pilot can recall the mistakes and errors in judgement that led him into the IFR weather.

— "On Weather" — This new four part

General Aviation Manufacturers' Association (GAMA) presentation covers frontal systems, identification of signs and hazards, inflight icing and suggestions for proper avoidance and/or penetration.

— "Go-No-Go" — This GAMA presentation will explain how to utilize a new Weather Briefing Form that will help pilots make that most important Go-No-Go decision.

"All pilots attending," Morris said, "will be eligible to win a $80,000 airplane, and other prizes, by merely registering for the seminar."

The seminar is being presented, Morris said, in cooperation with the FAA accident prevention program.

Information on the seminar is available from Morris at telephone 257-4331.

'Grandpa Grump' enthusiastic about helping others over CB

BY TIM PALMER
Staff Writer

"To my estimation, every car on the road should have a CB (Citizens Band Radio) in it—even if you never turn it on until you're in trouble."

Grandpa Grump

Don Perkins of Ruidoso, better known by his "handle" Grandpa Grump, speaks from five years experience helping people through the medium of CB.

Perkins and his wife, Marilyn, arrived here in October of 1976. The trip from their previous home in southern California covered eight months and 20,000 miles.

"That trip was kinda like our honeymoon," said Perkins, "after more than 25 years of marriage, we finally got to take our honeymoon."

The trip also introduced the couple to the world of CB, which was then riding a boom in the United States.

Perkins, who is afflicted with arthritis, bought a CB radio for the car in case of problems on the road. Having his ears (radio), he needed a handle.

"Grandpa Grump—my grandkids gave me that name long before I owned a CB," said Perkins, who would have a listener believe he has a reputation for meanness among his grandchildren. The youngest of his three sons suggested the nickname as a CB handle, he added.

"What really thrilled and encouraged me with my brand new CB," Grandpa Grump said, "was when we left Flagstaff (Arizona) and wound up in the middle of a convoy—fifteen or eighteen trucks."

The truckers were talking among themselves, he continued, when a question came up to which none knew the answer. When he broke in with the answer, said Perkins, the truckers asked, "Who we got?"

He told them Grandpa Grump, and the truckers accepted the Perkins' into the convoy, checking to see they were okay

Lincoln County commissioners meet Tuesday

Lincoln County commissioners will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m., at the courthouse in Carrizozo.

Agenda items include: —A report on the county administrative buildings from architects Herkenoff and Associates. One building is to be located south of the present Lincoln County Courthouse while the other building will be built near the airport in Ruidoso.

—A report from Ken Moore, administrator at Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

—A presentation from E. H. Wallace and Mary Ellen Payne of the Lincoln County Extension Offices.

—Discussion of sanitary landfills in Hondo and Lincoln.

—A treasurer's report for December 1981.

—A resolution on prior year bills.

and inviting him into the conversation.

Although they had planned to stop in Albuquerque for the night, Grandpa Grump recalled, they were enjoying themselves so much they stayed with the convoy straight through to Oklahoma City.

Thus Perkins was a confirmed CBER when he came to Ruidoso. He set up a base station at the West Winds Motel, which he and his wife were managing.

A power failure once put him in the position of relaying calls to police units, which he received by telephone from the police dispatcher. During a forest fire, he was on the air for six hours helping with traffic control.

Grandpa Grump is a charter member of the Ruidoso CB Club, which started in early 1977. The club grew from 17 families to 165, said Perkins, but is now "semi-retired."

He attributes the drop in CB interest nationwide to increased sunspot activity in recent years, which has made transmission and reception more difficult.

"CB is a freaky type radio," said Perkins. The "skip," as the sunspot activity is called, can allow a signal to cross a continent while preventing it from being picked up a few miles away.

"We've helped people all over the United States from Ruidoso," said Perkins. He recalled helping direct law enforcement personnel to a man in Tennessee who feared his store was being broken into and a woman in Nebraska whose car slid off the road.

Closer to home, Grandpa Grump has talked drivers down the ski run road during bad weather, warned travelers of "black ice" on Highway 70 and helped a migrant farm laborer passing through town with his wife and 12 children.

"We seem to have found a town where my sense of humor and my type of loyalties seem to be appreciated," said Perkins about Ruidoso. "We've been accepted—and it's through the CB that did it."

Recently Perkins was asked to put out a

Mortgage Purchase Act's effect on Ruidoso aired

BY WILL TURBOW
Staff Writer

The Mortgage Purchase Act of 1982 is a bill currently being worked on in the state legislature that would channel state Severance Tax Permanent Fund money into the New Mexico home mortgage market. "Without exception, this is one piece of legislation that everyone is interested in," said Senator Jack Stahl, R-Bernalillo, the bill's rime sponsor.

The Stahl bill proposes to make $900 million available over a four year period to lending institutions, who in return would use the money to individuals for the purchase of houses, townhouses, condominiums, units of developments or mobile homes. The purchase must be for owner-occupied, single-family, primary residences.

After bidding on and receiving available state funds, banks, savings and loan associations, mortgage companies and credit unions would be authorized to originate qualified mortgage loans of up to 95 percent of the home's value. Loans of up to $107,000 could be made on homes

Does Ruidoso need such an act, and what effect would it have on this mountain community that, unlike the rest of the state and the nation, hasn't been too badly hurt by high mortgage rates?

Bill Carrigan, vice president and Ruidoso branch manager of Chaves County Savings and Loan, believes that Ruidoso does need the mortgage act. He said, "Local residents can't afford to buy or build a new home due to unconventionally high mortgage rates. The building going on is for non-resident purchasers. They can pay cash or can afford high monthly payments caused by high interest rates." Carrigan said that a two and a half year lag in construction needs to be caught up on to accommodate the influx of new people coming to Ruidoso, as well as the rest of New Mexico towns where there is very little residential building going on due to the increase in interest rates.

If the bill passes, money would be available at a rate based on what the state investments currently yield, and that's in the 12 to 13 percent range, said Carrigan. However, the lending institutions will be able to charge individual borrowers an additional 1.25 percent, plus closing costs, which will put mortgage money in the 14 percent area, said Senator Charlie Lee, R-Alamogordo, to The News.

Grant Gist, assistant vice president at the Ruidoso Pioneer Savings and Trust, agrees that Ruidoso could use the money made available by the mortgage act. However, Gist commented that prices for a home in Ruidoso are more inflated than in other parts of the state, that the typical buyer of a new home is from out of town and that he was not sure what effect the act would have on the overall market here. Gist said that the act could be of tremendous benefit in other parts of the state, more so than in Ruidoso where homes are still being bought regardless of the mortgage rates.

Ruidoso does not have its own savings and loan institution. Both Pioneer and Chaves County are based in Roswell.

Ruidoso's gain from the passage of the mortgage act is questionable, knowing how badly other sectors of the state served by Pioneer and Chaves County could use those funds freed from the severance tax fund.

And what of the severance tax fund? Democrats believe that committing $800 million today and not knowing what will be needed tomorrow would be irresponsible. Republicans believe that if the mortgage rates come down, which Reaganomics is supposed to bring about, then the act can be relegated.

The mortgage act is presently going through the "Roundhouse" in Santa Fe. Senator Lee said that originally, there was great sentiment for the bill, and that he thought the bill would sail through and have no problem passing. The act was approved by the Senate Corporations Committee on Wednesday, but it was amended so that the limit on mortgage funding will be $200 million, and only $100 million may be used in any one fiscal year. When the bill is heard by the Senate Finance Committee, Stahl will try to have the $200 million limit replaced by the original $800 million limit.

The committee also amended the act to require that a minimum of five percent of the loan money would be made available for home improvement loans by each lender on a first-come, first-served basis or by lottery. Lee said that legislators may be reluctant to pass the bill with this added amendment because it will be extremely difficult for the Investment Council to administer and manage the act as it presently reads.

Lee is concerned about how the funds will be distributed. At the moment, the bill states that mortgage funds will be distributed geographically, which could mean that all of the funds could end up in the Rio Grande area or just in Albuquerque, which Lee said was not Stahl's intention. "Geographic distribution is not very specific. I would prefer that it be based on the capital structure of each lending institution and spread it fairly around the state," said Lee.

Governor Bruce King said in his state of New Mexico address that he was not in favor of the mortgage purchase act, which Lee said surprised him and his colleagues. Legislators from Albuquerque, where the homebuilding industry is also in bad straits, are against the act, too, said Lee.

Lee said that at this point, the act doesn't sound as good as it originally did. "It's not going to have that much of an effect and the rates won't come down to a point where it's viable to the homebuilding industry with the amendments," he said. The senator from Alamogordo said that it may come to the point where the act will not be beneficial to anyone because the amount will be so minimal that it won't be worth spreading around.

Passage of the bill looks difficult, said Lee. "It's already late in the session, and it's just going to the Senate Finance Committee. They must hear it, and then two committees in the House have to hear it. There are only a few more weeks left in this session, of the legislature, and there are bills ganging up. A similar bill got lost last year like this. I'm fearful that something like that will happen again this year," Lee said.

Crime Stoppers seeking Stout

Trouble has been a constant companion of Donald L. Stout since he was a teenager growing up in Albuquerque.

In and out of hot water with the law, Stout was convicted of the 1978 armed robbery of a Mr. Steak restaurant in Albuquerque and was sentenced to the State Penitentiary.

When the riots broke out at the pen in 1980, Stout was right in the middle again. He apparently was one of the inmate negotiators during the tragic event.

Then, little more than a year later, Stout was involved in a short-lived escape attempt with several other prisoners.

He was transferred to the Torrance County Jail for safekeeping, where Sheriff Dick Ness described him as a model prisoner.

But now trouble found Stout still one more time.

On January 5, 1982, Stout was assigned to work detail in Moriarity. He was last seen around 1 p.m. Then he apparently walked away and has not been seen since.

This week the State Crime Stoppers Commission is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the recapture of Stout, who is described as a white male, 5-8, 170 pounds, with blond hair and blue eyes. He has a pair of tattoos, one on the left shoulder with the name "Don", the other on the right shoulder with the name "Pat".

Anyone having any information about Stout's possible whereabouts is asked to call the State Crime Stoppers Commission at its toll-free number 1-800-432-6933.

Meanwhile, a $1,500 reward is being offered for information leading to the solution of a December 19-20, 1981, burglary of the Del Norte Lounge in Taos. A variety of band instruments were taken in the theft, including an auto orchestra with attachments valued at $2,500. Also taken was a Fender super reverb amplifier valued at $1,000, a metallic green Bass amplifier valued at $1,200 and some guitar cords. Anyone having any information about the burglary is asked to call Taos Crime Stoppers at 758-8118.

Crime Stoppers of Otero County is hot on the heels of some criminal who broke into the Alamogordo Baptist Temple on January 1 and took a pair of 20 gauge shotguns, a rifle and some recording equipment with a total value of $3,000. Anyone with information can call 437-2000. A reward from $500 to $1,000 is being offered.

Carlsbad Crime Stoppers, at 887-1888, is seeking information about a young white male who robbed a local convenience store of some $1,800 and then abducted and raped the female clerk. The offender is described as being 21 to 25 years old, 6-1, 180 pounds, with curly brown hair. He was wearing jean-type trousers, a tan jacket with beige spots, a blue shirt with a little bird on the side and a red baseball cap.

McKinley County Crime Stoppers, at 722-6161 is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the solution of the December 6, 1981, burglary of the Gallup municipal golf course. Five golf carts were taken by the offenders, who drove them around for awhile and then abandoned them in various locations around Gallup. Damage to the carts was estimated at more than $2,300.

Burglars also are the target of Hobbs/Lea County Crime Stoppers, who are offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to the solution of the January 7 break-in at the Fred Lawson residence. Approximately $6,685 worth of items were taken in the burglary, including more than a dozen rifles. Anyone with information can call 393-8005.

Dona Ana County Crime Stoppers, at 526-8000, is offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to the solution of the December 22-23, 1981, burglary of a storage shed on Three Crosses Avenue, an antique 1912 brass cash register was among the items taken by the offenders.

Rio Rancho Crime Stoppers, at 892-9977, is offering a $250 reward for information solving the December 29, 1981, break-in to a residence on San Juan De Rio Street in Rio Rancho. Silverware and jewelry were taken by the offenders.

Roswell Crime Stoppers also are after a burglar, this one responsible for the November 18, 1981, break-in at 1512 West Third Street. Appliances, cookware and pillow cases were taken by the offenders. Anyone with information can call 623-9000. A $500 reward is being offered.

Santa Fe Crime Stoppers wants to nail a rapist, who attacked a woman on Allendale Street on December 28, 1981, the offender was described as an Hispanic male, 5-8 to 5-10, with a lean build. He was wearing a mask. Anyone with information can call 988-5555. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered.

An attack on a Silver City liquor store clerk is being spotlighted this week by Grant County Crime Stoppers, at 538-5254, who are offering a reward for information leading to the arrest of the offender, described as being 5-6 to 5-8, with a medium build. The suspect, who was wearing a dark-colored ski mask, broke a wine bottle over the head of the clerk, then apparently panicked and terminated his aborted robbery attempt without getting any money.

Socorro Crime Stoppers, at 835-1883, is offering a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of a smartly-dressed thief, who managed to divert the attention of an employee of Socorro Office Supply on December 3, 1981, and slipped away with $1,000 deposit bags from an open safe.

And finally, Quay County Crime Stoppers is on the trail of a burglar who broke into a Blake's Lotaburger in Tucuman on December 28 and took some money from the cash register. Anyone with information can call 461-3507.

The State Crime Stoppers Commission and the 32 local Crime Stoppers programs in New Mexico offer cash rewards on a continuous basis for information leading to the arrests and indictments of major crime offenders and the capture of wanted persons.

The combined programs around the state are averaging one solved case every 2.6 hours of operation and are recovering $847.70 per hour, thanks to calls from citizens. In all cases, callers may remain anonymous.

Architectural committee to meet regularly

The Architectural Plans Review Committee will begin holding weekly Wednesday afternoon meetings this week, planning and zoning enforcement officer John Cupp has announced.

The first meeting is 1:30 p.m., February 3, at the Village Administrative Center.

All exterior building plans for new general commercial, office and industrial buildings are required to be reviewed by the committee.

Cupp stated that all plans to be reviewed at the weekly Wednesday meetings will be left at his office in the Village Administrative Center no later than noon on Tuesday.

Two Republican gubernatorial hopefuls spoke to GOP Women

BY WILL TURBOW
Staff Writer

Two Republican gubernatorial candidates spoke to a gathering of women at the Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County's (FRWLC) membership tea Sunday in Ruidoso. Bill Sego and Hank Puhlmann shared the podium with their wives and the wives of the two other Republican candidates for the governorship.

In Puhlmann's short address, he said that in a two day period before the first of the month, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Aubrey Dunn had picked up between $30,000 and $50,000 in legal campaign funds from ultra-conservatives and businessmen living in the Farmington area. He said that throwing that kind of money around will do none of the candidates any good in the end. The rationale behind the conservatives and businessmen's contributing the campaign money to Dunn, said Puhlmann, was that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Toney Anaya is seen as an anti-industry advocate, and that conservative Democrat Dunn might be preferable to a Republican sitting in Santa Fe.

Puhlmann said that Republicans in the four corners area of the state will support him. After having helped United States Senators Harrison Schmitt and Pete Domenici and Congressman Joe Skeen in their bids for political office, Puhlmann is well-informed on national and state issues. He worked as an engineer and geologist before entering politics and is also an active painter and sculptor.

Sego told his audience that Republicans cannot afford to get involved in a nasty primary. "I've heard my fellow Republican candidates talk and I know them. They're all good men," he said. He said that he runs a fair campaign with a positive Republican attitude.

Sego predicted that Anaya would be the Health group schedules open house

A combined annual meeting and open house of the Lincoln County Mental Health Association (LCMHA) and the Ruidoso Counseling Center is scheduled for Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m., in the Sierra Professional Building.

The annual meeting's program will begin with a presentation outlining some of the ways the Counseling Center's programs, policies and commitments for Lincoln County may be supported by public interaction with the Center.

After a break for a tour of the center's new quarters and refreshments, a short business meeting to elect members to the board of directors will ensue. Tom Harper, director of the Counseling Center's staff, said, "We'll be looking forward to visiting with members of the public February 2. Please try to find time to fit this meeting into your schedule."

Courthouse to receive art donations

During the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) meeting here Tuesday, prints by well known Lincoln County artists will be presented to RC&D officers to display in the Lincoln County courthouse.

The presentation of works by Peter, Mike and Henriette Wyeth Hurd, Gordon Snidow and Mimi Jungbluth will be made during the business meeting beginning at 1 p.m., in the Ranch House Restaurant.

The artists have been invited to attend the presentation.

The program will include discussions by Anita Hilsberg, State Planning Division director, and by Lee Tillman, Eastern Plains Council of Governments, on rural community development in New Mexico.

All RC&D meetings are open to the public. "We hope many people will attend Tuesday's meeting," said RC&D coordinator Richard Ramsey, Carrizozo, "to participate in this presentation of art prints by these outstanding Lincoln County artists."

SENATOR BILL SEGO, left, stands with Hank Puhlmann, one of his challengers in the Republican gubernatorial primary. Puhlmann and Sego spoke of the difficulties ahead in defeating the Democrats in 1982. Both men addressed the FRWLC membership tea on Sunday at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

Democratic candidate for governor challenging the Republicans in 1982. "He's the toughest opponent that they (Democrats) can put up against us. People like him, he's well perceived and he is a candidate with an image. In the end, we're going to have a terrible battle to win the general election," Sego said. He said that he was grateful for the opportunity to run for governor and that no matter what the outcome of the primary, he would be supporting the Republican Party all the way.

KY SCOTT SAYS
"ADIOS" FOR A WHILE

Ky Scott, the friendly young fellow with the million-dollar smile, who has made a top hand for The Ruidoso News as circulation manager since August of 1978 is going back to his home town of Artesia, for a while.

During his stay here among us, Ky has made friends with folks in all our wide community of Lincoln County; and he has become one of us. We know he will be back; and anyway what is a hundred miles or so between us here in our wide New Mexico neighborhood?

A true Westerner, Ky "never met a stranger" and his open-hearted friendship is his trade-mark wherever he might go. He has that great gift of being able to brighten up the day with just his presence.

One time he came down to the place here for a visit; and the whole vale seemed to respond to his love of nature and the out of doors. He made friends with two of the pet calves, Whitey Ford and Valentine Kid. Creatures know a good man when they see one.

A few lines of the old cowboy song come to mind:

"From this valley they say
You are leaving,
We will miss your kind face
And bright smile,
For you are taking with you
The sunshine that has
Brightened our pathway a while."

Our best wishes go with our good friend, Ky, and we know he will be a winner wherever he goes. Our prayers are with you, Ky, and we will always welcome you back to Lincoln County.

ONE HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY OF A GREAT AMERICAN

Saturday, January Thirtieth, was the one hundredth birthday of one of our greatest Presidents, and a giant in world history, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, born of a distinguished American family, at Hyde Park, New York, January thirty, 1882.

The only President to be elected to four terms, Roosevelt guided us through the Great Depression and World War II. I remember how grief-stricken the soldiers were to hear of his death in April 12, 1945.

Much of his success was the result of his mastery of the radio, in his "Fireside Chats."

I remember hearing his famous words, "We have nothing to fear but fear itself." This brief message is a legacy he has handed down to us.

In addition to his work as President and world leader, Roosevelt won a great personal victory in his battle with polio which left him paralyzed from the waist down.

He was an inspiration to his countrymen and to the world, and he will ever hold a high place in the hearts of Americans.

WELCOME TO FEBRUARY

So now we are in the great little month of February, with this message reaching you on the eve of Ground Hog's day.

February sixth is the birthday of President Reagan; the twelfth, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln; the fourteenth St. Valentine's Day; and the twenty-second, the birthday of the Father of Our Country, George Washington.

So during February, we have reason to remember many sacred things, and to be ever more grateful to Almighty God.

Dan Nunez dies in car accident

A Mesilla man lost his life early Saturday in a one-vehicle accident one mile east of Riverside on Highway 70.

Dan C. Nunez, 44, died of head injuries received when the pickup truck he was driving left the road and went down a 20-foot embankment, according to State Police.

The accident occurred at approximately 2 a.m., Saturday. Nunez was alone in the vehicle and headed east at the time, police said.

Surplus sale at Holloman February 2

An auction of government surplus property will begin at 9 a.m., Tuesday at the Defense Property Disposal Office, Building 112, Holloman Air Force Base.

Bidder registration begins at 8 a.m.

Included among items to be auctioned are bicycles, typewriters, refrigerators, trucks, sedans, gasoline engines, electrical and electronic components, paints and paint products.

RUIDOSO GIRL SCOUT Cadette Troop 5 will be going door to door to take orders for this year's Girl Scout cookie campaign. The campaign ends February 8, and cookies will be delivered around March 4. Kim Pickett will receive telephone orders at 257-7634. Members of Cadette Troop 5, from left to right, are Heather Stettner, Lynette Asbury, Beth Lindborg, Ellen Miller and Christie Sweeney. Not pictured here are Mickey Silver, Krispin Hounshell and Angeles Olvera.

Mortgage Purchase Act's effect on Ruidoso aired

BY WILL TURBOW
Staff Writer

The Mortgage Purchase Act of 1982 is a bill currently being worked on in the state senate that would channel state Severance tax Permanent Fund money into the New Mexico home mortgage market. "Without exception, this is one piece of legislation that everyone is interested in," said senator Jack Stahl, R-Bernalillo, the bill's prime sponsor.

The Stahl bill proposes to make $800 million available over a four year period to lending institutions, who in return would loan the money to individuals for the purchase of houses, townhouses, condominiums, units of developments or mobile homes. The purchase must be for owner-occupied, single-family, primary residences.

After bidding on and receiving available late funds, banks, savings and loan associations, mortgage companies and credit unions would be authorized to originate qualified mortgage loans of up to 95 percent of the home's value. Loans of up to $107,000 could be made on homes.

Does Ruidoso need such an act, and what effect would it have on this mountain community that, unlike the rest of the state and the nation, hasn't been too badly hurt by high mortgage rates?

Bill Carrigan, vice president and Ruidoso branch manager of Chaves County Savings and Loan, believes that Ruidoso does need the mortgage act. He said, "Local residents can't afford to buy or build a new home due to unconventionally high mortgage rates. The building going on is for non-resident purchasers. They can pay cash or can afford high monthly payments caused by high interest rates." Carrigan said that a two and a half year lag in construction needs to be caught up on to accommodate the influx of new people coming to Ruidoso, as well as the rest of New Mexico towns where there is very little residential building going on due to the increase in interest rates.

If the bill passes, money would be available at a rate based on what the state investments currently yield, and that's in the 12 to 13 percent range, said Carrigan. However, the lending institutions will be able to charge individual borrowers an additional 1.125 percent, plus closing costs, which will put mortgage money in the 14 percent area, said Senator Charlie Lee, R-Alamogordo, to The News.

Grant Gist, assistant vice president at the Ruidoso Pioneer Savings and Trust, agrees that Ruidoso could use the money made available by the mortgage act. However, Gist commented that prices for a home in Ruidoso are more inflated than in other parts of the state, that the typical buyer of a new home is from out of town and that he was not sure what effect the act would have on the overall market here. Gist said that the act could be of tremendous benefit in other parts of the state, more so than in Ruidoso where homes are still being bought regardless of the mortgage rates.

Ruidoso does not have its own savings and loan institution. Both Pioneer and Chaves County are based in Roswell.

Ruidoso's gain from the passage of the mortgage act is questionable, knowing how badly other sectors of the state served by Pioneer and Chaves County could use those funds freed from the severance tax fund.

And what of the severance tax fund? Democrats believe that committing $800 million today and not knowing what will be needed tomorrow would be irresponsible. Republicans believe that if the mortgage rates come down, which Reaganomics is supposed to bring about, then the act can be relegislated.

The mortgage act is presently going through the "Roundhouse" in Santa Fe. Senator Lee said that originally, there was great sentiment for the bill, and that he thought the bill would sail through and have no problem passing. The act was approved by the Senate Corporations Committee on Wednesday, but it was amended so that the limit on mortgage funding will be $200 million, and only $100 million will be used in any one fiscal year. When the bill is heard by the Senate Finance Committee, Stahl will try to have the $200 million limit replaced by the original $800 million limit.

The committee also amended the act to require that a minimum of five percent of the loan money would be made available for home improvement loans by each lender on a first-come, first-served basis or by lottery. Lee said that legislators may be reluctant to pass the bill with this added amendment because it will be extremely difficult for the Investment Council to administer and manage the act as it presently reads.

Lee is concerned about how the funds will be distributed. At the moment, the bill states that mortgage funds will be distributed geographically, which could mean that all of the funds could end up in the Rio Grande area or just in Albuquerque, which Lee said was not Stahl's intention. "Geographic distribution is not very specific. I would prefer that it be based on the capital structure of each lending institution and spread it fairly around the state," said Lee.

Governor Bruce King said in his state of New Mexico address that he was not in favor of the mortgage purchase act, which Lee said surprised him and his colleagues. Legislators from Albuquerque, where the homebuilding industry is also in bad straits, are against the act, too, said Lee.

Lee said that at this point, the act doesn't sound as good as it originally did. "It's not going to have that much of an effect and the rates won't come down to a point where it's viable to the homebuilding industry with the amendments," he said. The senator from Alamogordo said that if it may come to the point where the act will not be beneficial to anyone because the amount will be so minimal that it won't be worth spreading around.

Passage of the bill looks difficult, said Lee. "It's already late in the session, and it's just going to the Senate Finance Committee. They must hear it, and then two committees in the House have to hear it. There are only a few more weeks left in this session of the legislature, and there are bills piling up. A similar bill got lost last year like this. I'm fearful that something like that will happen again this year," Lee said.

Crime Stoppers seeking Stout

Trouble has been a constant companion of Donald L. Stout since he was a teenager growing up in Albuquerque.

In and out of hot water with the law, Stout was convicted of the 1978 armed robbery of a Mr. Steak restaurant in Albuquerque and was sentenced to the State Penitentiary.

When the riots broke out at the pen in 1980, Stout was right in the middle again. He apparently was one of the inmate negotiators during the tragic event.

Then, little more than a year later, Stout was involved in a short-lived escape attempt with several other prisoners.

He was transferred to the Torrance County Jail for safekeeping, where Sheriff Dick Ness described him as a model prisoner.

But now trouble found Stout still one more time.

On January 5, 1982, Stout was assigned to work detail in Moriarty. He was last seen around 1 p.m. Then he apparently walked away and has not been seen since.

This week the State Crime Stoppers Commission is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the recapture of Stout, who is described as a white male, 5-8, 170 pounds, with blond hair and blue eyes. He has a pair of tattoos, one on the left shoulder with the name "Don", the other on the right shoulder with the name "Pat".

Anyone having any information about Stout's possible whereabouts is asked to call the State Crime Stoppers Commission at its toll-free number 1-800-432-6933.

Meanwhile, a $1,500 reward is being offered for information leading to the solution of a December 19-20, 1981, burglary of the Del Norte Lounge in Taos. A variety of band instruments were taken in the theft, including an auto orchestra with attachments valued at $2,500. Also taken was a Fender super reverb amplifier valued at $1,000, a metallic green Bass amplifier valued at $1,200 and some guitar cords. Anyone having any information about the burglary is asked to call Taos Crime Stoppers at 758-8118.

Crime Stoppers of Otero County is hot on the heels of some criminal who broke into the Alamogordo Baptist Temple on January 1 and took a pair of 20 gauge shotguns, a rifle and some recording equipment with a total value of $3,000. Anyone with information can call 437-2000. A reward from $500 to $1,000 is being offered.

Carlsbad Crime Stoppers, at 887-1888, is seeking information about a young white male who robbed a local convenience store of some $1,800 and then abducted and raped the female clerk. The offender is described as being 21 to 25 years old, 6-1, 180 pounds, with curly brown hair. He was wearing jeans-type trousers, a tan jacket with beige spots, a blue shirt with a little bird on the side and a red baseball cap.

McKinley County Crime Stoppers, at 722-6161 is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the solution of the December 6, 1981, burglary of the Gallup municipal golf course. Five golf carts were taken by the offenders, who drove them around for awhile and then abandoned them in various locations around Gallup. Damage to the carts was estimated at more than $2,300.

Burglars also are the target of Hobbs/Lea County Crime Stoppers, who are offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to the solution of the January 7 break-in at the Fred Lawson residence. Approximately $6,665 worth of items were taken in the burglary, including more than a dozen rifles. Anyone with information can call 393-8005.

Donna Ana County Crime Stoppers, at 326-8006, is offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to the solution of the December 22-23, 1981, burglary of a storage shed on Three Crosses Avenue, an antique 1912 brass cash register was among the items taken by the offenders.

Rio Rancho Crime Stoppers, at 892-9977, is offering a $250 reward for information solving the December 29, 1981, break-in to a residence on San Juan De Rio Street in Rio Rancho. Silverware and jewelry were taken by the offenders.

Roswell Crime Stoppers also are after a burglar, this one responsible for the November 18, 1981, break-in at 1512 West Third Street. Appliances, cookware and pillow cases were taken by the offenders. Anyone with information can call 623-9000. A $500 reward is being offered.

Santa Fe Crime Stoppers wants to nail a rapist, who attacked a woman on Alameda Street on December 28, 1981, the offender was described as an Hispanic male, 5-8 to 5-10, with a lean build. He was wearing a mask. Anyone with information can call 988-5555. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered.

An attack on a Silver City liquor store clerk is being spotlighted this week by Grant County Crime Stoppers, at 538-5254, who are offering a reward for information leading to the arrest of the offender, described as being 5-6 to 5-8, with a medium build. The suspect, who was wearing a dark-colored ski mask, broke a wine bottle over the head of the clerk, then apparently panicked and terminated his aborted robbery attempt without getting any money.

Socorro Crime Stoppers, at 835-1883, is offering a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of a smartly-dressed thief, who managed to divert the attention of an employee of Socorro Office Supply on December 3, 1981, and slipped away with cash and deposit bags from an open safe.

And finally, Quay County Crime Stoppers is on the trail of a burglar who broke into a Blake's Lottaburger in Tucumcari on December 28 and took some money from the cash register. Anyone with information can call 461-8567.

The State Crime Stoppers Commission and the 32 local Crime Stoppers programs in New Mexico offer cash rewards on a continuous basis for information leading to the arrests and indictments of major crime offenders and the capture of wanted persons.

The combined programs around the state are averaging one solved case every 2.8 hours of operation and are recovering $847.70 per hour, thanks to calls from citizens. In all cases, callers may remain anonymous.

Dan Nunez dies in car accident

A Mesilla man lost his life early Saturday in a one-vehicle accident one mile east of Riverside on Highway 70.

Dan C. Nunez, 44, died of head injuries received when the pickup truck he was driving left the road and went down a 1-foot embankment, according to State police.

The accident occurred at approximately 4 a.m. Saturday. Nunez was alone in the vehicle and headed east at the time, police said.

Two Republican gubernatorial hopefuls spoke to GOP Women

BY WILL TURBOW
Staff Writer

Two Republican gubernatorial candidates spoke to a gathering of women at the Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County's (FRWLC) membership tea Sunday in Ruidoso. Bill Segó and Hank Puhmann shared the podium with their wives and the wives of the two other Republican candidates for the governorship.

In Puhmann's short address, he said that in a two day period before the first of the month, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Aubrey Dunn had picked up between $30,000 and $50,000 in legal campaign funds from ultra-conservatives and businessmen living in the Farmington area. He said that throwing that kind of money around will do none of the candidates any good in the end. The rationale behind the conservatives and businessmen's contributing the campaign money to Dunn, said Puhmann, was that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Tony Anaya is seen as an anti-industry advocate, and that conservative Democrat Dunn might be preferable to a Republican sitting in Santa Fe.

Puhmann said that Republicans in the four corners area of the state will support him. After having helped United States Senators Harrison Schmitt and Pete Domenici and Congressman Joe Skeen in their bids for political office, Puhmann is well-informed on national and state issues. He worked as an engineer and geologist before entering politics and is also an active painter and sculptor.

Segó told his audience that Republicans cannot afford to get involved in a nasty primary. "I've heard my fellow Republican candidates talk and I know them. They're all good men," he said. He said that he runs a fair campaign with a positive Republican attitude.

Segó predicted that Anaya would be the SENATOR BILL SEGO, left, stands with Hank Puhmann, one of his challengers in the Republican gubernatorial primary. Puhmann and Segó spoke of the difficulties ahead in defeating the Democrats in 1982. Both men addressed the FRWLC membership tea on Sunday at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

Democratic candidate for governor challenging the Republicans in 1982. "He's the toughest opponent that they (Democrats) can put up against us. People like him, he's well perceived and he is a candidate with an image. In the end, we're going to have a terrible battle to win the general election," Segó said. He said that he was grateful for the opportunity to run for governor and that no matter what the outcome of the primary, he would be supporting the Republican Party all the way.

Architectural committee to meet regularly

The Architectural Plans Review Committee will begin holding weekly Wednesday afternoon meetings this week, planning and zoning enforcement officer John Cupp has announced.

The first meeting is 1:30 p.m., February 3, at the Village Administrative Center.

All exterior building plans for new general commercial, office and industrial buildings are required to be reviewed by the committee.

Cupp stated that all plans to be reviewed at the weekly Wednesday meetings must be left at his office in the Village Administrative Center no later than noon on Tuesday.

Health group schedules open house

A combined annual meeting and open house of the Lincoln County Mental Health Association (LCMHA) and the Ruidoso Counseling Center is scheduled for Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m., in the Sierra Professional Building.

The annual meeting's program will begin with a presentation outlining some of the ways the Counseling Center's programs, policies and commitments for Lincoln County may be supported by public interaction with the Center.

After a break for a tour of the center's new quarters and refreshments, a short business meeting to elect members to the board of directors will ensue. Tom Harper, director of the Counseling Center's staff, said, "We'll be looking forward to visiting with members of the public February 2. Please try to find time to fit this meeting into your schedule."

Courthouse to receive art donations

During the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) meeting here Tuesday, prints by well known Lincoln County artists will be presented to RC&D officers to display in the Lincoln County courthouse.

The presentation of works by Peter, Mike and Henriette Wyeth Hurd, Gordon Snidow and Mimi Jungbluth will be made during the business meeting beginning at 1 p.m., in the Ranch House Restaurant.

The artists have been invited to attend the presentation.

The program will include discussions by Anita Hisenberg, State Planning Division director, and by Lee Hillman, Eastern Plains Council of Governments, on rural community development in New Mexico.

All RC&D meetings are open to the public. "We hope many people will attend Tuesday's meeting," said RC&D coordinator Richard Ramsey, Carrizozo, "to participate in this presentation of art prints by these outstanding Lincoln County artists."

KY SCOTT SAYS "ADIOS" FOR A WHILE

Ky Scott, the friendly young fellow with the million-dollar smile, who has made a top hand for The Ruidoso News as circulation manager since August of 1978 is going back to his home town of Artesia, for a while.

During his stay here among us, Ky has made friends with folks in all our wide community of Lincoln County; and he has become one of us. We know he will be back; and anyway what is a hundred miles or so between us here in our wide New Mexico neighborhood?

A true Westerner, Ky "never met a stranger" and his open-hearted friendship is his trade-mark wherever he might go. He has that great gift of being able to brighten up the day with just his presence.

One time he came down to the place here for a visit; and the whole vale seemed to respond to his love of nature and the out of doors. He made friends with two of the pet calves, Whitay Ford and Valentine Kid. Creatures know a good man when they see one.

A few lines of the old cowboy song come to mind:

"From this valley they say
You are leaving,
We will miss your kind face
And bright smile,
For you are taking with you
The sunshine that has
Brightened our pathway a while."
Our best wishes go with our good friend, Ky, and we know he will be a winner

wherever he goes. Our prayers are with you, Ky, and we will always welcome you back to Lincoln County.

ONE HUNDRETH BIRTHDAY OF A GREAT AMERICAN

Saturday, January Thirty, was the one hundredth birthday of one of our greatest Presidents, and a giant in world history, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, born at Hyde Park, New York, January thirty, 1882.

The only President to be elected to four terms, Roosevelt guided us through the Great Depression and World War II. I remember how grief-stricken the soldiers were to hear of his death in April 12, 1945.

Much of his success was the result of his mastery of the radio, in his "Fireside Chats."

I remember hearing his famous words, "We have nothing to fear but fear itself." This brief message is a legacy he has handed down to us.

In addition to his work as President and world leader, Roosevelt won a great personal victory in his battle with polio which left him paralyzed from the waist down.

He was an inspiration to his countrymen and to the world, and he will ever hold a high place in the hearts of Americans.

WELCOME TO FEBRUARY
So now we are in the great little month of February, with this message reaching you on the eve of Ground Hog's day.
February sixth is the birthday of President Reagan; the twelfth, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln; the fourteenth St. Valentine's Day; and the twenty-second, the birthday of the Father of Our Country, George Washington.
So during February, we have reason to remember many sacred things, and to be ever more grateful to Almighty God.

How to rebloom a poinsettia

With the season for poinsettias just past, Sally Black, Ruidoso, has written the following article on the care of the plant to prepare it for blooming next Christmas.

When the green leaves begin to turn yellow and the bracts are no longer pretty and begin to fall, the plant is going into a rest period. At this time gradually reduce the amount of water and move the plant to a cooler place, perhaps a north window, where temperatures will remain from 50 to 70 degrees. Water just enough to keep stems from shrivelling. Let the plant rest for one month.

After a month's rest, cut the stems back to four to six inches above soil line. The plant does not need to be repotted the first year. After the first year, repot in a container two inches larger in diameter than the original pot. Use a good potting mix with plenty of peatmoss because the plant likes to be moist at all times, but never let the plant stand, even for a few minutes, in a tray of water.

After the stems have been cut back begin to water and feed the pruned plant to promote regrowth. When new growth begins, fertilize the poinsettia every two weeks with BR-61 or Peters, as both have a high phosphorous count.

As new growth develops, cut or pinch back the top, leaving three or four leaves on each shoot. Repeat this procedure each time the plant sends out new shoots, until the first of July. This will prevent a tall, lanky plant and give you a shorter plant with more blossoms. Now is a great time to take them outside for daytime only, in the sunshine and rain. This will give them added strength they will need to produce the dark red bracts, but do be very sure to bring them in at night just in case the temperature falls below 50 degrees. If the plant is watered, fertilized, and given a good growing spot through summer, it will again produce a large plant. Most times the plant will have more blooms the second year.

The first of September move the plant to a south or west window and see that it gets an uninterrupted long night. Be certain not to admit any light, even briefly, as this will disrupt the flowering process. Plants need 14 hours of darkness to trigger the onset of blooms. If you must turn the light on in the room with the plant, cover the plant with a box or sack first, but be sure not to forget to remove the cover in the morning so the plant gets 10 hours of good light.

Poinsettias enjoy warm temperatures of 55 to 75 degrees. Therefore they do best not to put them outside in Ruidoso. Often our night temperature falls below 55 in the summer.

To make new plants, when new shoots are four to five inches long, cut them with a bit of stem, known as heel (so they will not bleed so much) to root in a 50/50 mixture of peat moss and sand, or vermiculite, after dipping ends in a root-inducing powder. Cover with a plastic bag and keep in bright light, and when roots appear, pot singly or in groups of two, three or more in an average potting mixture. Plants grown this way tend to be shorter and have larger blossoms.

State DAV chief here Wednesday

Coe-Curry Chapter 23, Disabled American Veterans, will host the visitation of Department Commander Joe Chavez, Albuquerque, Wednesday.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., at the Sitzmark Chalet, 627 Sudderth. "All veterans," chapter adjutant Romeo Klein said, "are invited to attend."

Methodist women set special event

The women of the Community United Methodist Church in Ruidoso are sponsoring a Call To Prayer and Self Denial observance at 7 p.m., February 3, in the church's Fellowship Hall.

The theme of the program will be "Support the Struggle Against Racism," with the offering to be devoted to assisting this program.

Notice on publication of weddings

The Ruidoso News will publish wedding writeups only if received by The News within 30 days after the event.

Quality photographs of the couple, or bride, will be published, with black and white photos preferred. Wedding writeup forms are available at The News, or the account may be written for submission.

THE WIVES of the Republican candidates for governor gathered Sunday at the FRWLC membership tea and voter registration. The women spoke about the merits and achievements of their husbands and thanked the FRWLC for their positive efforts in state Republican politics. Ruidoso Invitational a big success

Gary Brown
Sports Writer

The Ruidoso Invitational Tournament held Saturday night at the Elks Club gave amateur boxing fans in this area a chance to see some of the best young boxers in the state.

To make things even better for local fans (about 500 were in attendance) was the fact some of the top performances were earned in by Ruidoso boxers.

Kevin Jefferson of the hosting Las Piedras Boxing Team (LPBT) was named Most Outstanding Boxer in the junior division. Jefferson took an easy decision over Salvador Brisno of the Roswell Boys' Club in an 85-pound match.

Kevin, who was a Junior Olympics medalist last spring, took all three rounds easily and won with his superior agility and punching ability.

Shane Barnett, only eight and fighting in his first bout, took a technical knockout win (TKO) over Raphael Chavez in the opening match of the evening. The referee stopped the fight in the second round.

Ron "The Leveler" Lowrance, a 1978 graduate of Ruidoso High School where he played football and track, lost a tough bout to Bobby "The Italian Stallion" Sacco of El Paso, Texas, in a 175-pound match.

Sacco was several pounds heavier than the former Ruidoso High School athlete and the referee stopped the fight in the second round. Lowrance, now a student at Sulcross State College in Alpine, Texas, has been a finalist in several major amateur tournaments recently.

David Ordorica, the other LPBT boxer scheduled to fight in the tournament, did not box because an opponent was not found for him. Ordorica, like Jefferson, won a Junior Olympics medal last spring. He has done well in recent tournaments and would probably have had an excellent chance of winning if an opponent had been found.

Phillip Gonzales of the Roswell Boys' Club was the Most Outstanding boxer in the senior division. He won a close bout from Eddie Aragon of Henry's Boxing Club of Albuquerque.

One of the best fights of the evening was the finale between Henry Anaya Jr., of Henry's Boxing Club and Tony Barello of the Roswell Boy's Club. The bout was an exhibition and both fighters came through with some solid punching.

Lucky Mulqueen, coach of the LPBT, was pleased with his fighters' performances and the crowd turnout.

"It was a great crowd," he said. "And they saw some excellent boxing. Kevin did the best he's ever done. He really worked hard for this tournament."

There were 19 bouts with boxers from 10 clubs competing. A clinic for boxing rules was held in the afternoon at the Elks Club. Some of the people who were in the clinic helped judge and time the tournament.

The next boxing tournament in Ruidoso is scheduled for some time in the spring. Meanwhile, the LPBT, which is sponsored by the local chapter of the Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA), will probably participate in several tournaments around the state before then.

second-round technical knockout. It was Barnett's first boxing match of his career. Standing with the young boxers are Al McChesney, a local architect and boxing official.

PHILLIP GONZALES (left) of the Roswell Boys' Club and Kevin Jefferson (right) of the Las Piedras Boxing Team were named the Most Outstanding Boxers of the Ruidoso Invitational Tournament Saturday night at the Elks' Club. Standing with them is Robert T. Lewis, director of sales for the Ruidoso Downs Race Track and Sunland Incorporated.

ONE OF the best fights on Saturday's night's Ruidoso Invitational Tournament boxing card was this battle between Henry Amaya Jr., (right) of Henry's Boxing Club of Albuquerque and Tony Barello of the Roswell Boys'

Club. The bout was an exhibition and both fighters turned in fine performances. Henry was the National Police Athletic League 139 pound champion last year.

Omni Space Theater featuring films on earthquakes, oceans

"A remarkable chain of events, much of it known for decades but never before linked together, points to 1982 as the year in which the Los Angeles, California, region of the San Andreas fault will be subjected to the most massive earthquake known in the populated regions of the Earth in this century." —The Jupiter Effect, by John Gribben and Stephen Plagemann.

Will it happen? Will a catastrophic chain of events, the Jupiter Effect, take place on Earth as a result of the "lining up" of the planets in early 1982? "Planets of Doom", written and produced by the Hansen Planetarium in Salt Lake City to answer these and other questions raised by the Jupiter Effect theory, will be the featured planetarium program at the Omni Space Theatre/Planetarium in Alamogordo, beginning February 3, through April 4.

"Months of research, writing, artwork, photography, and visual effects development were required by the Hansen Planetarium staff for the production of Planets of Doom. It will be of great interest to those who have read The Jupiter Effect as well as to those who have never heard of the Jupiter Effect Theory," said Phil Simpson, Director of the Alamogordo facility.

Open to the public Wednesday through Sunday with programs at 1, 3, 5, 7, and 8:30 p.m., the Omni Space Theatre/Planetarium is also featuring the Imax film "Nomads of the Deep", an exceptionally beautiful and informative film about some of the inhabitants of the oceans. "Surrounding you with the beauty of underwater scenery, the film is so realistic that you may want to feel your clothes to be sure you are not getting wet." Simpson said.

Further information regarding Planets of Doom and Nomads of the Deep may be obtained by calling the Omni Space Theatre/Planetarium at 434-3334 or the International Space Hall of Fame at 437-5770.

Silver City defeats Warriors

Despite playing one of its best games of the season the Ruidoso High School boys' varsity basketball team lost a 77-60 decision to host Silver City Saturday night. The Warriors, now 1-2 in 3-AAA district action and 3-11 overall, only trailed by a 28 margin at halftime but several turnovers hurt them in the second half, particularly during the fourth quarter. "We played about as well as we can say," said head coach Barry Nelson. "They're a good team but we were hurt by turnovers."

Silver City's 6-8 center Lynn Cash scored 17 points and was tough on the boards against the smaller Warriors. Ruidoso's tallest players are Bill Richardson and Steve Sluder, both 6-4. "He hurt us some," said Nelson of the Colt center. "But he didn't dominate us. It was turnovers more than anything that did us in. In the fourth quarter Silver City started stalling and increased its margin over us." The Warriors jumped off to a 14-8 first-quarter advantage over the hosts. The Colts turned the game around somewhat in the second period, outscoring Ruidoso 22-14 for their slight halftime lead.

"We're improving," said assistant varsity coach Vince Collins of the Warriors. "That was probably our best game of the season. We're starting to turn things around."

Senior guard Pete Garcia had his finest game of the season for the Warriors, scoring 19 points (a seasonal high) and playing a fine floor game. Scott Neal, another senior guard, also did a good job directing the Warrior offense down court. Sluder and Richardson played well for the Warriors. Sluder scored 16 points and Richardson 14. Both battled Cash well on the boards.

Bobby Knox with six points and Marc Delhotal with three points rounded out the Warrior scoring.

Ruidoso's next game is against arch rival Tularosa Friday night at the Warrior gym. Tularosa lost an 80-66 decision to district-leading Deming Saturday night and has had problems making the win column this season. The game will start at 7:30 p.m.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

The San Francisco 49ers won the Super Bowl. Reggie Jackson signed with the California Angels for an estimated $1,000,000 a year or more and pro basketball and hockey are swinging into high gear during the winter season.

But the real winners for the month of January performed at Eagle Creek Ski and Recreation Area last Thursday.

The New Mexico Winter Special Olympics were held at Eagle Creek that day. Over 80 Special Olympians from southern New Mexico, west Texas and Juarez, Mexico, competed in alpine and cross-country skiing and everyone of them was a champion.

It mattered not who crossed the finish line in the fastest time. The fact that they competed and finished the races made the special Olympians true champions in very sense of the word.

The joy in a Special Olympian's face as he or she crossed the finish line is something that should be put on the cover of Sports Illustrated and Inside Sports. That joy tells more about life and its challenges than any professional sporting event.

So let's salute some real winners, the participants in the 1982 New Mexico Winter Special Olympics.

Turning to the more business-like world of professional football, a friend of mine from California sent me a copy of the San Francisco Chronicle for Monday, January 5, last week.

The Super Bowl was played the day before and with the 49ers' 26-21 victory over Cincinnati the lead stories on both the front page and sports section had to do with the football game. In fact, all 12 pages of the Chronicle Sporting Green were devoted completely to the Super Bowl.

When you consider that the victory resulted in San Francisco's first national professional championship in any sport; it's not surprising that that much space was devoted to the game and the victory.

In fact, people in the Bay Area are so enchanted with the 49ers that even long-time Oakland Raider fans are joining the bandwagon. It shows how fickle people in that area are about sports and just about everything else under the sun.

Just last season the Raiders were the toast of the town after winning their second Super Bowl in five seasons. Quarterback Jim Plunket had enjoyed a "rebirth" after several seasons of frustration.

Now Plunket is a bench-warmer and the Raiders finished the season with a 7-9 record, their first losing season in 17 years.

However, things could switch back in the Raiders' favor next year. With the balance shown in the National Football League (NFL) this season, any team with a slight improvement in personnel and a little bit of luck could win it all next year.

Most areas in the country will support their teams win or lose. The Houston Oilers have been up and down through the years but their fans still support them. The same is true of several other cities in the country.

That's not so in the San Francisco area. If a team starts to lose, only its long-time fans will stay with it. If the team wins, everybody jumps on the bandwagon.

San Francisco also has some of the more blunt and non-partisan sports writers in the country. In some areas sports writers for the big papers will become "rooters" for the team that represents their cities. Not so in San Francisco, where the writers have been critical of the 49ers and baseball Giants for years.

Yes, honeymoons for sports teams are short in the Bay Area.

Warrior junior varsity falls to Silver City

Ruidoso High School's boys' junior varsity basketball team fell to hosting Silver City 67-36 Saturday night in a district 3-AAA game.

The Warriors, who are playing with just seven players, didn't have enough height to battle the Colts basket for basket. Silver City is one of the best teams in the district.

Guard Gilbert Rivera led the Warrior scoring with 13 points. Paul Jaramillo added seven points and Cyrus Simmons and Kenny Espinoza each had five points. Chris Wynn and Virgil Reynolds each had three points to round out the Ruidoso scoring.

Ruidoso, now 1-10 on the season, will play the Roswell High School sophomore team at the Warrior gym tonight. The Warrior freshmen will play the Roswell frosh at 5:30 p.m., with the junior varsity game following.

Brave cagers beat Capitan for 13th win

White Mountain Middle School's boys' A team moved its record to 13-1 with a 47-14 victory over host Capitan Thursday afternoon.

The Braves led all the way and were sparked by the scoring of Oscar Torres' 13 points. Mike Williamson added nine points and Jeff Slatton eight for the Braves.

In the boys' B game White Mountain took a decisive 36-13 victory over Capitan. Steve Gonzales led the Braves' attack with 12 points and Carl Lueras added eight.

"We just played good, consistent ball," said Braves coach Dean Hood of his two teams. "We led all the way and got some good, consistent efforts."

In the girls' competition the Braves' B team won 20-6 and the A team fell 23-18. Marcie Multican, Verallyn Platta, Carry Gladden and Monica Jaramillo each scored four points as the Braves' B team took an easy victory.

In the A contest Tahnee Doak led the Braves' scoring with 18 points, her finest effort of the season.

"Our girls played better," said Braves girls' coach Jean Wright of her teams. "It was our B team's best effort of the season."

The Braves' boys' and girls' A teams will travel to Alamogordo for games today. The first game will start at 4 p.m.

Tularosa nips Ruidoso freshmen

Ruidoso High School's boys' freshmen basketball team saw its record drop to 3-4 when it lost a heartbreaking 57-53 decision to host Tularosa Friday afternoon.

Harry Ensor led the Warriors with 18 points and Jeff Knox added 14. Tammy Crow and Manuel Montano each added eight points.

"It was our best game of the season," said Warrior coach Thurmon Sanchez. "It was close all the way and they're (Tularosa) an outstanding team. They beat us by 30 points the last time we played each other at Ruidoso.

"Our team did a lot of things well. We executed well, scored and rebounded. We really played a good game."

The Warriors host the Roswell High School freshmen in a game tonight.

85 people participated in Winter Special Olympics

Over 85 participants enjoyed the thrill of competition and the honor of winning medals in the New Mexico Winter Special Olympics at Eagle Creek Ski and Recreation Area last Wednesday and Thursday.

"We awarded about 25 gold medals," said Lincoln County Special Olympics coordinator Jeanie Culbertson. "We also gave out silver medals for second place, bronze medals for third and participation medals for the rest of the skiers."

Skiers competed in the alpine and cross-country events on Thursday. Wednesday ski instructors taught the competitors the basics of skiing. At least 95 percent of the skiers had never been on skis before.

"We divided the skiers into groups by sex and age," Culbertson said. "There were gold medals for each group. The competitors really came through with some fine efforts. They're all winners." The competitors came from southern New Mexico, west Texas and Juarez, Mexico.

Culbertson is very optimistic about the Winter Special Olympics being held at Eagle Creek next year.

"Things came off so well and everybody had such a good time it's almost certain we'll hold the Olympics here next year."

The skiers stayed at the Church of the Nazarene in Angus. They arrived Tuesday and left Friday.

Schmidt takes first place as Warrior matmen finish fourth

Despite several fine performances, the Ruidoso High School wrestling team finished fourth in the first annual Ruidoso Wrestling Invitational Saturday at the Warriors' gym.

Deming won the tournament with 161 points and the Carlsbad junior varsity was second with 156. Silver City had 103 points and the Warriors had 83 in the eight team tournament.

Ruidoso was paced by senior Doug Schmidt, who won the 125 pound title with a 5-2 decision. Schmidt, who is now 14-3 on the season, nearly pinned his opponent several times during the match but settled for the decision.

Henry Rue at 119 pounds was the only other Warrior matman to reach the finals, finishing second. Third place performances were turned in by heavyweight Ronald Bell and 134 pound Jim Askew. Askew took third on a default.

Ray Montes, who has been one of the top Warrior wrestlers this season, finished fourth in the 105 pound division. With a little bit of luck he could have finished first or second.

"Ray could have beaten his opponent (John Luna of Silver City) in the semifinals," said Warrior coach Gerald Ames. "But he made a couple of mistakes and lost. He was really wrestling well."

Bell lost only once in the tournament and recorded two pins. In the third place match he pinned his opponent in 22 seconds of the first round.

Luna was named Most Outstanding Wrestler for the lower weights and Pat Quinlon (145 pounds) of the New Mexico Military Institute won the same honor for the heavier weight classes.

The Warriors were without standout Wade Torres for the tournament. Torres has pulled ligaments in his shoulder.

"If we had had Torres at full strength for the tournament we might have taken third place," Ames said. "Torres has beaten the guy who took second in this tournament already this season."

Torres is likely to miss the Cobre Invitational Saturday but Ames is confident he'll make the district 3-AAA tournament at Cobre February 22. "He should be all right by then," Ames said. "I don't want him to wrestle next week (at Cobre) if he's not completely healthy. I want him to be healthy for the district tournament and to have a shot at the state meet." Ruidoso has won one tournament and finished second in another one this season.

Lady Warriors lose to Colts

Handicapped by a big height disadvantage the Ruidoso High School girls' varsity basketball team fell to host Silver City 59-30 Saturday night in a district 3-AAA game.

The Warriors, now 0-5 in district action and 3-11 overall, were paced by senior forward Claudia Branum. Branum scored 10 points and played a fine all-around game.

"They're a good team," said Warrior head coach Sergio Castanon. "They're bigger than we were but we just didn't play well. We kind of went into the game figuring we didn't have a chance and we played like we didn't."

Center Jan Huey added six points for the Warriors. The rest of the Ruidoso scoring was spread apart.

"They're one of the teams to beat," Castanon said of the Colts. "They'll be tough against the other teams in the district race."

Ruidoso's next game is a home district contest against Tularosa tomorrow night. The junior varsity plays at 5:30 with the varsity game following. Ruidoso travels to Deming Friday night.

How to retire at 35

It's easy. Thousands of people do it every year. It starts out with a tinge of boredom or frustration. Gradually a person's work becomes less and less important. The rat race hardly seems worth while anymore. Tomorrow will just be another yesterday and what was so great about that?

It's at this point that many people retire. Oh, they still go to work. They continue to go through the motions. They even draw a paycheck. There are no retirement presents or testimonial dinners. Nobody knows they are retired at least, not right away. People, systems and information start passing them by. The lucky ones get fired in time to make a fresh start. The less fortunate ones hang around for years waiting for a raise or promotion that never comes and wondering why. It doesn't have to be that way. We have to learn to fight back. Each year more than 100,000 people join Dale Carnegie classes, all over the world, for just that reason. They counteract the urge to coast by learning to run as they never ran before. It's worth the effort though. If 30 years seems like a long time to spend in a rocking chair... Investigate the

WE DON'T HAVE ANY REAL ESTATE FOR SALE, HOWEVER OUR CLIENTS DO!

What we at Prestige Real Estate, Inc. have to offer you, as a seller or a buyer, is our training, knowledge and experience. Of even greater importance, like the icing on the cake, is our sincere desire to work diligently and professionally with clients and customers alike to get the right person together with the right piece of property for the right price! Not always an easy task, but one we take on gladly on your behalf.

Two clients we are pleased to represent are HIGH VIEW CONDOMINIUMS and TRI-STEEL STRUCTURES, INC. Two different concepts in housing, each offering you quality construction at an affordable price. Call today for more information on these and other fine properties available.

HIGH VIEW CONDOMINIUMS — Where else can you find new two bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, gameroom (or 3rd bedroom), two fireplaces and spectacular view of Sierra Blanca for such a price? It can't be beat at $89,500 or $92,500.

TRI-STEEL STRUCTURES, INC. — Durability, low maintenance, and flexibility in design can be yours. Excellent insulation makes these homes a dream to heat.

SANTA FE—Charades. Charades. Charades.

Not everything which goes on in the Legislature falls into that category, but many things do.

Why bother to "act out," as the psychologists call it?

Well, most of it is a performance for the folks back home.

Say you come from a very conservative part of the state.

You tell your voters you are going to go up there to that Big City and really get tough on those bleeding-heart liberals who keep insisting the state has to protect the human rights of employees and employers.

"Why do we need all that apparatus?" you ask. "After all, the federal government has a system to take care of complaints of this kind."

As you say that, you sneer, to indicate that "complaints" of this kind are almost certainly phony anyway.

So, talking the kind of code conservatives have learned to talk with one another since about the time Jack Kennedy became President, you tell your constituents you will go up there and vote to cut out funding for the Human Rights Department once for all. (That ought to take care of all those trouble-making "minorities," right?)

But when you get to Santa Fe, do you do that?

Oh, really.

Not you. You worry the folks from Human Rights, some, make them show up at odd hours for committee hearings, ask them embarrassing questions and otherwise put on a show for the folks back home.

But when the matter comes to a vote, you go with those who prefer to keep funding the agency, because you know very well no medium in New Mexico regularly publishes a tally on who voted for what in the Legislature.

Same goes for that group the Attorney General has which is supposed to fight utility rate raises.

You tell the hometown folks you're absolutely opposed to continuing that operation. Let the attorneys of the Public Service Commission and the Corporation Commission do that job, you say.

But when it comes to a vote, you go the other way.

In House Appropriations and Finance, for instance, where no record of voice votes is kept, you can risk shouting out your "aye" to keep on funding what you have said you were against.

Or, if your town hasn't been getting any new factories lately (and what town has?), you tell your friends you'll see it if that the state's Industrial Development Division is punished for that failure.

So you worry all the people who work in Commerce and Industry, cause them to have sleepless nights and sweaty palms when they have to appear before you in all your majesty—and then, because that operation is now being run temporarily by Russell Autry, once a legislator like you, you cave in and vote for some fairly substantial increases for the division.

Charades. Charades. Charades.

Nobody really appears to believe anything firmly.

We can always say that, after hearing the arguments, we changed our minds.

But anybody who knows legislation knows that arguments have almost nothing to do with it.

Lawmakers who talk a lot more than they produce have something to do with it. So do those who are, after all, relatively gutless. So do those who come to Santa Fe, not for a real purpose, but to play games.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

I came across an article a few weeks ago that I believe will be interesting to many of our citizens. The article was written by John S. Buckley, a State Representative of Virginia. It was titled, "What the Department of Education is Doing to Your Child."

I would like to share some of the information disclosed in the article.

It appears that the Department of Education's number one objective is to sell sex education to every child in every classroom in America. Representative Buckley goes on to explain that Jean O'Leary is Co-Executive Director of the National Gay Task Force. To state it simply, she is a homosexual. She was appointed by former President Carter to set "guidelines" for your family. Jean O'Leary's "guidelines" have now been taken up by the Department of Education. Here is what Jean O'Leary's National program demands:

... "schools should set up lesbian study programs."

... "schools should be provided books that portray the joy of women loving women."

... "Lesbian Clubs should be established in the schools."

That's what people's tax dollars are being spent on. All ready $640,000 of tax money has gone to the Gay Community Services "for education about gay life styles and gay people's problems." $34,000 of tax money has gone to the Gay Alliance to provide speakers to inform our children about homosexuality.

Imagine the Department of Education forcing your child and grandchildren to sit in a classroom and listen to someone tell them that homosexuality is natural and decent. The Bible teaches us that it is unnatural Romans 1:26-28. They also want to teach that lesbianism is a right to be enjoyed by all women. Representative Buckley went on to say, "President Reagan and I think that is outrageous. Don't you? But what I have just told you—and is not reported in the liberal national press—is just the tip of the iceberg!! It was said in 1960 by the Russians that they would destroy us from within in 25 years. In case anyone would like to know, 1985 is right around the corner. It is issues like this that they will reach their goal if we don't do something to stop it NOW!

A title III Federal Education Project ordered children in selected school districts to answer the following questions:

"Do your mother and father sleep in separate beds?"

"Does your mother go out with other men?"

"Does your father go out with other women?"

Representative Buckley, along with myself cannot understand why the Federal Government would want any child to answer these questions in a classroom. What happened to the schools that used to teach students respect, honor, morality, and PATRIOTISM? School is now another story.

The Department of Education now wants schools nationwide to force boys and girls to share the same locker rooms for sports. It is plain to see that something is wrong in Washington when our children can't even take a gym class without being exposed to sex.

We need to let President Reagan know that we stand with him in his bold effort to abolish this type of teaching to our precious children and grandchildren. The time is NOW for every believer in morality and the American family to take a stand. The time is NOW to say NO to sexual propaganda in our schools.

Write President Reagan, Washington, D.C. 20000, and tell him you are opposed to the government supporting such immoral programs as those mentioned above.

It need not be a long letter, only pros and cons will be counted. Please write TO: DAY!

A very concerned American & Parent,
Nancy Melton

Dear editor:

In response to the night on the mountain with a very lucky skier, he may be very smart in his business but not so in skiing.

1. He was not familiar with the mountain, having skied here only twice before.

2. It would be impossible to traverse from the point of departure to his intended re-entry into the basin.

3. He went alone.

4. He left the basin with less than two hours of daylight remaining and panicked and went down.

In reference to his being a "lost skier" I take exception; he was an "out of bounds skier".

Sierra Blanca takes extraordinary care to define its boundaries and he went over one of them fully aware that he was going "out of bounds". We will not endanger our employees in night searches for this type of individual. A "lost skier", on the other hand, is someone who inadvertently leaves the basin and we have in the past and always will respond with appropriate action.

Having skied most of the out of bounds areas out of Sierra Blanca on searches or surveys, I can honestly say that none of the skiing is worth spending a cold night lost or endangering other people's lives. He was very lucky and owes the helicopter crew, and the weather man as well, a large thank you for providing a day where his rescue was possible in that manner.

Once again, let me state he was NOT a lost skier but an "out of bounds skier" who was incredibly lucky.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

Your remark in the editorial of Thursday, January 21, 1982: "our obvious advantage of 'having the last word' is not necessarily the fact. We do not believe that the publisher and editor could hide behind the cloak of a newspaper without violating the principles and the guarantees of the Freedom of Press and the Freedom of Speech.

The point is that if an owner of a paper is going to editorialize about an individual or a group of people then the so called "American sense of fair play" should allow for a response. Therefore, as long as Mr. Green sees fit to editorialize adversely about my people and me, then we shall continue to respond until he decides to cease his practice of biased editorializing.

As usual we must deal with some obtrusive errors in the editorial. We recognize these errors as well as the diversity of opinion on the issues he has raised for we know every issue or subject indeed has a diversity of opinion which is an accepted fact.

In our attempts to edify Mr. Green, recorded history placed our Apache people in this area in 1100 A.D., and they enjoyed and utilized their aboriginal homelands up until 1873 when the reservation was established. Greed resulted in the loss from the reservation proper of what he refers to as the Ski Area land. Who grabbed whose land?

Another point in which Mr. Green is totally off-base, erroneous and evidences a lack of understanding of the basic issue is his reference to correlate U.S. Steel and the Apache Tribe. The issue is not of the Tribe's ability to finance an expansion but rather the 30 days notice cancellation clause of the permit in the use of the "grabbed land".

We doubt very strongly if Mr. Green would speculate his dollars on a permit that can be cancelled at the "whim" of the permitter upon 30 days notice. We doubt, too, if U.S. Steel would accept such a permit.

Finally, Mr. Green states this is not a racial issue - but we wonder if U.S. Steel was in the Tribe's position would he editorialize so freely, we doubt that very much. The Apache Tribe and its leadership refuse to be relegated into a role of expendable people - for we believe that in America there's no place for it. The Tribe will continue its forward look and we hope the extrapolations of the Tribe's progress may be mutually felt in Ruidoso and the Tribe.

We trust that this will be our last response as we want to move on and devote our time, energy and skills for better things for the Tribe and the area instead of on the buffoonish editorials of The Ruidoso News.

Wendell Chino

Dear editor:

POLITICAL WOES
Around and around the mulberry bush our present council is having a hard time figuring out what to do. The water bond issue is off the ballot just in the nick of time, but buying the gas company with all of its problems is still on.

I wish you residents had the facts of how much money we the tax payers are going to have to lay out for new transmission lines from Capitan to Ruidoso in the future because of over demand for the natural gas and whether or not we can get any more gas from El Paso Natural Gas if we put in the transmission lines. It might be like drilling water wells and not being able to pump them. Where is the reasoning sense?

If we had a Mayor and Council that would treat our Indian neighbors like the intelligent business people they are, we might be able to buy some water from them when we run flat out in the middle of a dry summer. Our present administration has burnt all of its bridges because of past criticism and harsh treatment of Mr. Chino and his governing body. I have personally urged Mr. Chino to take out a full page ad in the Ruidoso News and up date the Ruidoso Council and any one else who needs to know the facts to how much the Indians are doing for Lincoln County and Ruidoso.

Well, the auction is over-the old hot mix plant is gone-bought originally for $85,000 sold for $9,000 to Bill McCarty. If you have driven on the new surface just finished out by the Country Club, then you can see the kind of job the old plant does. After a month or so from the time it was put down it is coming up. No wonder the rest of our roads are in such poor shape. I would like to see some of our older roads paved and resurfaced before the newer ones are resurfaced when we get our new $300,000 + hot mix plant in operation in March. If we would have bought a new plant in the first place, it would have been paid for by now and in good shape for many years to come. Again, I ask you the voting public, where is the common sense we need in city government?

"If you the Ruidoso residents want to restore sanity to the Village government, then please vote George White for Mayor and J.A. "AJ" Junge for-council and lets put some men in who have the foresight to solve our present and future problems."

Terry Coe

Dear editor:

Is it insecurity that motivates you in your treatment of Mesalero Apache Tribe (M.A.T.) president Wendell Chino? You say justice is not involved, yet it seems as though he can do nothing to suit you. Good thing, since I don't think he cares if his actions suit you.

I however, do care that you seem to think your readers are stupid, so stupid in fact that they can't even figure out what president Chino means. Repeatedly you tell us, your readers, what you seem to think president Chino means. I guess you must be omniscient, at least you write as if you think you are. I do not see you telling us repeatedly, what other public figures mean when they say something.

In your editorial of January 21, 1982, K. G. tells us "that the MAT is attempting a bald-faced land grab." That is K. G.'s interpretation of what president Chino means. Considering that the land in question was at one time tribal property, and assigned by government agencies out of tribal jurisdiction, I find your interpretation of "land grab" an interesting one. Not everyone sees things through your eyes. Sometimes the prejudice and bias of a small, one newspaper town, newspaper is hard to wade through. I have faith that your readers have that ability though.

Fellow readers, I suggest that you ask what motivates this newspaper's viewpoints before you accept everything that is in print. Question, and listen to what these under attack have to say. Make your decisions based on your knowledge, not the pabulum we have been fed by K.G. and D.D. G. Cattel

Dear editor:

A GOOD MOVE!
In my letter to you dated 1-7-82 I pointed out that the Trustees were making a mistake by placing the water bond issue on the 3-2-82 election ballot.

That mistake has been corrected as the water bond issue was removed from the ballot by Council action at the January 28 meeting.

The subject of obtaining water is too important a matter to "shoot from the hip". Nothing else is more important to the Village if we are to have planned growth with adequate village services available to all of our residents.

Let's trust now that the Trustees will outline in detail as to HOW, WHEN, WHERE a final water solution will be presented to the residents of the Village.

This will put an end to the type of questions one still hears in the Village "What happened to the Eagle Creek dam bond money?"

J. A. "AJ" Junge.

PILL BOTTLE 'CANDY'

A few days after Christmas this little fellow, still two months shy of his second birthday, climbed up to the bathroom medicine cabinet and found a bottle of sleeping pills. The pills had been prescribed for his young mother after her pregnancy. The bottle did not have a "child-proof" cap.

So the toddler, in the way of toddlers, ate the pills like candy. A short time later his mother noticed that his breathing was shallow, and called Poison Control. With frightening swiftness, the boy fell unconscious. His lungs stopped functioning; the medics had come, and restored his breathing, but on the way to the hospital it stopped again.

Doctors were able to revive this little victim of an all too common sort of accident. Presently they determined that no brain damage had resulted from the loss of oxygen.

Luck, or fate, or divine intervention, call it what you choose; that little boy is alive and lively. But others caught in a similar web have died.

Parents need not rely on luck; they can act to lessen the danger. They can make sure that all drugs are in containers resistant to little fingers, store drugs and other harmful substances out of reach insofar as that is possible, impress on toddlers that the medicine cabinet is off limits. Beyond that, they can be alert to indications of sudden drowsiness or other symptoms, and have the Poison Control number posted near the telephone and call it in a hurry if they suspect trouble. Child poisoning causes more deaths than need be, but simple precautions can be taken to prevent such tragedies. —Alamogordo Daily News

Yours and Ours

editorial

The state Board of Education last year approved competency testing for teacher applicants.

Due to no funding being provided, the plan has been in limbo, except for the hue and cry raised by some opposed to the testing.

Funding could be forthcoming, as the House Appropriations and Finance Committee Thursday approved $59,000 to implement the testing program for teaching applicants.

It's reasonable to assume that the full House and Senate will be lobbied, hard, by teachers opposed to the plan.

We believe the program has merit.

Just because an applicant for a teaching position obtained the credentials in a college or university doesn't necessarily mean that person is qualified to teach in the state's school systems.

Competency-to-teach examinations would help eliminate the possibility of incompetent instructors teaching in the classrooms.

If lawyers and members of the medical profession have to pass examinations before being licensed, it seems that the teachers, who are charged with educating their charges, to mold future doctors, lawyers and teachers, should likewise be required to prove their competency.

If teacher testing will improve the quality of education provided students, we're in favor of instituting testing as soon as possible. —CD

Stuph & Junk

EDITORIAL HULLABALOO

Yup folks sometimes take umbrage over editorials ... and get miffed at the writers ... which is one of the hazards editorial writers must face ... same thing applies to columnists.

Take the editorial I wrote in the January 25 issue of The News ... it took several rewrites before it appeared in print.

Guess it depends on how it was read ... and by whom ... and how what I said was interpreted ... that points up the hazards involved in editorializing on matters concerning the future development of Ruidoso.

It's this way ... I didn't intend to infer that the village trustees, or village officials, are in any way hiding anything in connection with the upcoming $8 million bond issue ... no way ... 'cause their plans for the use of this money have been reported in accounts of meetings of the governing body ... it's all open and above board.

My intention was to alert the public that The News would give extensive coverage to the water bond proposal ... and to make it crystal clear that those monies ... if approved by the voters would be spent for specified purposes ... with those purposes laid on the line to the public ... to the ultimate end that there'd never be cause for anyone to question any expenditures made to provide an ample supply of water for Ruidoso.

'Course some of the folks as tend to complain about action taken by the village trustees don't bother to become acquainted with the facts ... that'd be a burden to them ... after all, it's easier to bellyache if innuendos are substituted for facts ... which tends to produce rumors ... and I don't cotton much to rumormongers.

QUITE A STATEMENT

Didja read about the guy up Santa Fe way ... a prospective juror in the upcoming murder trial of a couple of convicts, charged with murdering another during the February 2-3, 1980, riot in the state pen ... who allows as how he don't read or listen to news media ... 'cause of all the negative news?

And when asked what he knew about the riot, all he said was he didn't know anything about it until his father ... back in Ohio ... told him about it ... two or three days after the riot.

I don't know where this guy's cave is situated ... 'cause it just doesn't seem possible ... unless he was holed up ... that he coulda missed out on hearing some kind of comment ... even if the only thing he bought along about that time was a pair of shoelaces ... no?

ABOUT PRISONERS

Maybe I'm mistaken ... but it seems to me as though there's people in prison because they got caught doing something as got them there.

And ... while I ain't never spent time in a prison ... other than being inside the locked gates in the one in Bismarck, North Dakota ... on business ... like one time I wrote a feature article on the oldest, longest term, prisoner in that facility ... I don't think I'd like it.

I think rehab programs ... those that can prepare an inmate for a productive job when his time is done ... are a good idea ... 'cause, once in a while, the area works ... 'cause there's guys and gals as has done time, as don't do any more ... which serves one purpose of prisons.

However ... I don't think a country club atmosphere is much of a deterrent to a bad guy who is going to remain as such ... 'cause if life behind bars is reasonably tolerable ... maybe with some pretty good fringe benefits ... it could be the chances of being put behind bars for another term, enhance the chances of maybe pulling off a caper that he won't get pulled in for.

On the other hand ... if there's no abuse of prisoners ... but tight control ... maybe life outside'd have more appeal ... 'cause it do seem to me as though prisons tend to keep some criminals off the streets ... which, at least whilst incarcerated, they ain't out on ... no?

ON LOSING THE DOLE

Rompin' Ronnie's fixin' to do some real toe trompin' ... affecting the indigent and the poor ... if'n Congress goes along with his ideas of making the states responsible for financing doles as is handed out to the indigent and the poor.

Now being indigent and poor is one thing ... being indigent and poor and sickly and old, is something else ... 'cause the latter really are deserving of assistance ... whilst the former maybe could merely be taking advantage of a good thing ... and having no worries about holding down a job.

Could be ... if'n Rompin' Ronnie gets his dealth working ... that those poor and indigent through choice people, just might bestir their rested bones and find a job that'd supply their wants ... and needs ... thereby reducing the unemployment figure ... 'cause most anyone can get out and earn subsistence money ... if'n they get hungry enough.

BRIEF BIT: One thing that could be wrong with this country is that two cars of pop now cost about 15 cents less than a six pack of suds ... CD

TRAVEL WITH KIDS
If you're taking the children along on vacation, select a vacation spot the whole family can enjoy. Young children, for example, enjoy sandy beaches far more than sightseeing among ruins.

When planning your vacation schedule, be flexible. Trying to do too much will make children tired and their parents edgy. At the first sign of fatigue, stop for a swim or nap. If children get hungry, try giving an early lunch, afternoon snack or "tea," and then a later dinner. Just changing your normal home schedule can be exciting for kids.

Most hotels allow children free in room with parents. The common age for a "child" is 12 or under, although some hotels allow children free up to 18. At many resorts, apartment and condominium rentals are available, which allow more privacy and can be "homier" for the child.

Airfare discounts are normally given for children under 12. Infants (under age two) usually travel free. The amount of discount a child receives depends on the airline and whether the flight is domestic and international. Some discount airfares offer set-fares for children, rather than a standard percentage discount, and occasionally there are promotions allowing children to fly free in the company of an adult.

Computing costs for children is just one of the many services we offer our clients at Ruidoso Travel, Pinetree Square, phone 257-7861.

TOUGH SLEDDING?

... NOT WHEN YOU SHOP THE CLASSIFIEDS!

The Ruidoso News

Winter's mantle of white makes the mountain scenery awe inspiring

Will this be enough when you retire?

The Pioneer IRA. Financial security plus free checking.

If Social Security is your only retirement fund, you probably can't afford to retire! But an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Pioneer Savings can provide the kind of retirement you look forward to. As the chart shows, the return is amazingly high. And recent changes in the law allow you to put aside $2,000 tax-free; $4,000 for a working couple, and $2250 for a couple with a non-working spouse. Money that would have gone for taxes, put to work building financial security, regardless of any pension or retirement plan you may now be participating in.

A PLAN FOR EVERYONE

All IRAs are not alike. At Pioneer Savings we have several IRA plans, so you can choose the one that's right for you. And our friendly, knowledgeable people are always happy to answer your questions.

START NOW AND CHECK FREE

If you open your IRA now, you'll get the added benefit of a checking account with no service charges for a year.* It's just one of the many advantages of opening your IRA at Pioneer Savings.

Chart based on 12% compounded quarterly. Your results may vary, depending on actual rate. Federal regulations require substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

Get Acquainted

Look for this (S) on the label...

There's a wonderful family of products at Safeway we think you should know. That's the why for this big sale! Several of these may already be old friends to you: Lucerne, Bel-air and Town House, for example. There are many members of this family and they all wear the famous (S) mark on their labels. This (S) tells you it's a Safeway Brand and that it's made for or by Safeway under rigid quality specifications. (Naturally, all Safeway Brands carry our Money-Back Guarantee!) The (S) mark also tells you it's a money-saving brand. We sell it for less because it costs us less. No better time than right now to come get acquainted!

Dear editor:

Thanks for the many times you printed my views on local as well as national problems and priorities. But, one can only state views for so long then the time comes for action.

As a member of the Governing Body of Ruidoso I intend to be a voice of the people — "You can't please all the people all the time" — however, you can keep the people informed and that I intend to do.

If anyone has an idea or suggestion feel free to call me. As the election time draws near I will outline some of my plans for the voters' consideration.

"Here's #8 of my 17 reasons why H&R Block should prepare your taxes."

REASON #8: H&R Block uncouples the new 1040A Short Form.

The so-called Short Form is now two pages. It calls for up to 63 entries. You may even find yourself referring to the instructions 16 times.

H&R Block tax preparers are trained to ask the right questions, make the right entries, use the right forms. All you have to do is sign your name.

THE PARENT TRAP

Brian Keith and Maureen O'Hara star as a divorced couple brought back together by the maneuverings of their twin daughters, in Walt Disney's "The Parent Trap," to be broadcast on "The CBS Saturday Night Movies," SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13.

Hayley Mills plays the twins who've never met until their parents send them to the same summer camp. After the initial rivalry, they join forces to reunite their mom and dad.

MOVIE EXTRA—Some people feel that "Superman II" was a better piece of cinema than the original flick. Ditto for "The Empire Strikes Back." Paramount Pictures is banking on quality control to propel "Grease II" with Max Caulfield and Michelle Pfeiffer, and "Star Trek II" with Leonard Nimoy and William Shatner to lofty box-office heights as well. Also in development at Paramount Pics are sequels to "Airplane" and "Friday the 13th." Warner Bros. will commence production on "Superman III" this Spring. United Artists/MGM also plans to release "Rocky III" later this year.

PBS in the spotlight

"American Playhouse" presents a Bradbury short story

"Any Friend of Nicholas Nickleby Is A Friend of Mine," an hour-long television adaptation of Ray Bradbury's short story and subsequent play, will air on "American Playhouse" Tuesday, February 9 over PBS. (Check listings for date and time in your area.)

Ray Bradbury is one of the great science fiction writers of our time. Among his most popular works are The Martian Chronicles, Fahrenheit 451 and Dandelion Wine.

The film, adapted by Mary Trimble, stars Fred Gwynne as a mysterious stranger, calling himself "Charles Dickens," who arrives in Green Town, Illinois, sometime during the 1940's and changes the life of a young boy who comes to idolize him. In the process, the stranger also comes to a more honest understanding of himself.

Deanna Dunnagan (pictured with Gwynne) stars as a wistful librarian who thinks of herself as Emily Dickinson.

In the Bradbury film, 12-year-old Ralph Spaulding (Brian Svrusis) is living a placid, small-town existence with his grandparents (Sadie Hawkins and Les Podewell) and his dog. For diversion, he hangs out in the local barber shop and, on sleepy summer days, helps Mr. Wyneski (George Womack), whom he perceives as "the greatest barber in the world."

One day when the noon train makes an unscheduled stop in Green Town, young Ralph senses that something unusual—and important—is about to happen. And it does.

An elegant looking stranger, wearing old fashioned clothes, steps off the train. Identifying himself as "Charles Dickens," the stranger befriends Ralph and subsequently moves into the boarding house run by the young man's grandparents.

Mr. Dickens needs a secretary to transcribe his latest novel, A Tale of Two Cities, and young Ralph, Dickens decides, would be perfect for the job. Ralph (or Pip, as he is now called) is soon swept away by the tumultuous events of the French revolution. He follows with bated breath each new adventure of Sydney Carton, Charles Darney and Lucy Manette, much to the consternation of Ralph's best chum, Henry, and Mr. Wyneski, who has lost his devoted companion.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: There are some intriguing marriage secrets behind the scenes of CBS-TV's top-rated "Magnum, P.I." First of all, meet one of star Tom Selleck's best friends—his estranged wife Jackie. In fact, they remain on such good terms following the bust-up of their nine-year marriage that Tom even got her a role in one episode. And he flew her parents to Hawaii to watch the filming. Tom and Jackie vow that they'll never divorce, but on the other hand they won't live together either. Meanwhile co-star Larry Manetti is really thrilled about his new girlfriend on the show, Nancy DeCarl. He's just revealed that the actress is his real-life wife. Luscious Joan Collins has become America's newest sex symbol almost overnight with her sudden success on ABC-TV's "Dynasty." And that's quite an achievement at 48 years old. "I just believe women are sexier when they are older," says the mother of three. "People seem to think that you can only be a sex symbol when you're young. But look at the world's greatest beauties: Sophia Loren, Brigitte Bardot, Angie Dickinson. They're all around the 40-plus mark. I think a lot of younger men are fascinated by the idea of an older, mature woman. They're no longer content with the classic youthful blonde." In fact, Joan won her role as John Forsythe's ruthless ex-wife after Sophia Loren turned down $500,000 for this year's 22 episodes. "It's the most exciting role I've had in years," Joan says. "I love being nasty."

INSIDE LOOK: Ruth Warrick who stars on "All My Children" talked her daughter, Karen, out of following in her acting footsteps. Instead Karen went into the computer business. Now she's just married another computer expert and Ruth sang at their wedding. . . . Secrets the stars told my friend talk-show host John Davidson: Jackie Bisset, who's seriously dating ballet star Alexander Godunov, hasn't ruled out marriage. "If you do marry you should really feel it's right," she says. "Women have to be smart to keep a man interested and his fantasies going." . . . "Lou Grant" star Linda Kelsey won't do any more violent scenes for TV or movies because she's terrified of blood and gore. "I have a very hard time with violence," Linda says. "Being scared to death is not my idea of a good time. What really gets me worried is what those things do to our culture. I worry about the minds of young impressionable Americans. Right before I got the 'Lou Grant' show I made a vow that I would not contribute to that violence again. I told my agent that I'd no longer stand for it." . . . Noted natural historian David Attenborough wrote and narrates "Life on Earth," the Mobil-funded 3,500 million-year saga of the development of life on this planet which airs Tuesday evenings on PBS, with repeats on Sundays. . . . Michael Damian (Danny Romalotti, "The Young and the Restless") and castmate David Hasselhoff (Snapper Foster) are in training for next Spring's Long Beach Grand Prix Celebrity Auto Race.
