Crowds singing Christmas carols, Santa Claus, a 45-foot Christmas tree and lots of "good cheer" celebrated the opening of the Christmas season with the lighting of the Ruidoso-Ruidoso Downs Christmas tree at the "Y."

Saturday night.

Members of the Gateway Assembly of God and First Christian Church choirs sang several Christmas songs, while a crowd of nearly a hundred people gathered at the site.

The tree was lit by Ruidoso Mayor George White and Ruidoso

Downs Mayor J. C. Day. Shortly after the bulbs were lit up, police sirens and cheers from the crowd signaled the arrival of that red-suited visitor from the North Pole, Santa Claus.

The tree will be lighted every night until Christmas from dusk to midnight.

Hospital announces visiting hours

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

Visiting hours at Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital are changing to meet the needs of patients and their families and friends—as well as to move the hospital out of an old-fashioned system—said Mary Lou Brown, director of nursing.

Brown said the system of restricted hours in the afternoon and evening probably was a set-up for failure because not all people can go to the hospital during those hours. Also, sometimes too many people might be visiting at one time, causing stress for the patient and the staff.

The new visiting hours will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with no more than two visitors at a time. There is a limit of 15 minutes on each visit. Visitors should leave the hospital by 8 p.m. The intensive care unit will have separate hours for visiting—8 a.m. to noon and 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. The hospital encourages only immediate family members to visit there, however.

The obstetrical department maintains an open visiting policy for fathers and a special time for siblings. Routine visiting is scheduled 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Brown is hopeful the new hours for general visiting will allow for more rest for the patient because visiting will be spread out and not so long. She added it offers more flexibility for the visitor who could "stop and see someone on the way to work."

Brown said often people may not be aware of how extensive the different types of care given at the hospital are.

"We have a very complete intensive care unit—as complete as any in the state," she noted.

Water hearing Tuesday

by TIM PALMER
News Editor

What one village official called "the most important thing the Village of Ruidoso has ever been involved in" gets under way at 9 a.m. Tuesday at village hall.

The State Engineer's Office will conduct a hearing Tuesday and possibly Wednesday on a water protest affecting Ruidoso's plans to use its effluent water credit.

Property owners between Ruidoso's old and new sewer plants filed a protest in June 1982 against the village's application for a change in the point of discharge of treated wastewater into the Rio Ruidoso. Efforts to settle the protest through negotiation failed, thus the hearing this week.

Until the matter is settled, the village is prohibited from using its effluent credit water rights on the river. Plans call for using those rights—which give the village credit for a portion of water that goes through its system and is then discharged as treated wastewater—to fill the Grindstone reservoir approved by voters last year.

"Our whole water planning has been centered around the permitted use of the sewage credit waters that we do have a permit for," said village manager Jim Hine last week. He noted that the protestants are not protesting those plans but the change in discharge points.

Assistant village manager Frank Potter, who made the "most important thing ever" comment, pointed out that a "tremendous amount of work" has gone into preparing for this week's hearing.

Hine said the village has retained two expert witnesses—hydrologist-engineer Ralph Vail and engineer Jack Atkins. Hine predicts a cut and dried verdict from the hearing, but he noted that the State Engineer's Office could present options for arbitration that would suggest a way to resolve the dispute.

The verdict will not be announced at the conclusion of the hearing, but Hine said it can be expected within 30 days.

Attorney Dan Sanchez of Santa Fe, counsel to the State Engineer's Office, explained the hearing procedure.

"Basically it's pretty much a court hearing without all the strict rules of the court," he said.

Sanchez explained that the applicant (Village of Ruidoso) will present its position, followed by the protestants. The State Engineer's Office will then present its position, if it decides to take one.

The procedure will then be repeated, with each party presenting its case, including witnesses and evidence. This step is also optional for the State Engineer's Office—it is used when the state feels there are areas that have not been brought out but need to be.

Sanchez did say he has four expert witnesses he expects to call. Cross-examination by the other parties also takes place at this stage.

Next and finally, each party makes a closing statement (again, optional for State Engineer).

Eluid Martinez of the State Engineer's Office will act as hearing officer. Sanchez compared the position with that of Special Master. The hearing officer takes evidence and hears testimony, then goes back through the evidence in preparing a written report for the State Engineer.

That report includes a recommendation, but the final decision on the valley water protest will be up to State Engineer Steve Reynolds. Sanchez said the hearing officer's recommendation is usually followed.

Revenue sharing funds coming

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

A sigh of relief could be heard in Ruidoso and Carrizozo recently when revenue sharing funds were approved in Washington, D.C.

In the closing hours of the 1983 legislative session, the U.S. Senate reauthorized the General Revenue Sharing Program, which will contribute $37 million to communities in New Mexico.

"The General Revenue Sharing Program is one of the best federal aid programs," said Senator Pete Domenici. "It passes funds directly to local governments without unnecessary federal strings. It is cost effective. It holds down regressive local taxes and it provides for vitally needed local services."

Ruidoso will receive $176,607 of revenue sharing funds. Village manager Jim Hine said the village anticipated the funding and has already determined how the money will be spent. Ruidoso will allocate $39,000 for animal control; $23,000 towards the purchase of a building at the corner of Sudderth and Mechem now owned by the fire department; $26,000 for the purchase of land in the Bog Springs Road right of way; $30,000 for a traffic planning study; $33,000 into the general fund; and $18,570 towards the new police complex.

Lincoln County will receive $122,563. County manager Suzanne Cox said the county also anticipated the funding and determined during budget hearings in June how it would be spent. The county will allocate $7,200 to the Lincoln County Mental Health Association; $34,496 to the Lincoln County Extension Service; $2,500 to the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District; $885 to the State Fair exhibit; $2,500 to the Lincoln County Fair; $1,400 to the New Mexico State Library; $3,000 to the Ruidoso Public Library; $12,000 to the Senior Citizens Center in Carrizozo; $4,000 to the Carrizozo ballpark; $2,500 to the Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District; $2,523 to the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District; $2,500 to the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation and Development Program; $2,000 to the Chaves Soil and Water Conservation District; $15,000 to the Ruidoso Emergency Medical Service; and $3,200 to the Lincoln County Ambulance Service. The $2,807 in unallocated funds will be carried over to the next fiscal year and allocated next June, said Cox.

Ruidoso Downs will receive $39,342. Village clerk Wilma Webb said the village plans to use the money to drill a well if the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) does not help with the project. If FmHA does contribute to the well drilling, Webb said, the village will decide later how to spend the revenue sharing funds.

Capitan received $17,673, of which none has been allocated, said village clerk Virginia Spall. Carrizozo will receive $24,761. Cloudcroft will receive $8,507. The Mesalero Apache Tribe will receive $44,270.

Village council to meet

The Ruidoso village council will act on numerous Planning and Zoning items when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at village hall. A study session for councilmen will precede the meeting at 6:30 p.m.

A number of P&Z items were previously approved but not acted on by the council, so they will be considered as a group.

Also on Tuesday's agenda are:

- Tim Collins regarding Sewer Assessment District 5.
- Kenneth Primrose, U.S. Postal Service.
- Mayor George White, appointment to Lodgers' Tax Advisory Board.

- Assistant village manager Frank Potter, sale of property, animal control contract and rental of loader.

—Ordinance 83-16 amending Municipal Code.

—Resolution 83-22, budget increases and/or changes.

—Bids and contracts, fire fighting equipment.

—P&Z items approved November 7 and November 21, requiring action by the council.

—P&Z items not requiring council action.

—Letter from Marilyn Smalley regarding animal control.

Help available to victims of domestic abuse

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

A few weeks ago a story on the front page of The News described domestic abuse as the "silent crime."

It was stated that in Ruidoso Downs the police receive nearly one call a night. Chief Charles Robinson said this may have been overstated, although the calls are frequent.

Robinson said his officers seem sensitized to the problem and use their discretionary power in arresting the person doing the battering. He said the main problem is lack of a shelter to place a person who is being battered.

Robinson said part of the problem is getting money designated for social services.

"I spend a lot of my time dealing with social services," he said. Robinson has a background in social work, though this is his first position in law enforcement.

He said the police officer is placed in a "tough situation." Often a woman may not want to leave the person who is battering her, or have him arrested. (Domestic abuse involves a woman being battered more often than a man.)

"She's worried about financial support," said Robinson.

Pat Ciraulo, client service agent for the Department of Human Services in Ruidoso, said they are involved in finding protection for a battered woman and her children. She said sometimes people come in off the street, but often the referral is from the police.

Ciraulo said she believes high rent costs in Ruidoso and low public assistance available could prevent women from leaving a battering situation.

"If you're a woman with three kids to support, you're in trouble," she said.

There is a place for battered women to go in Alamogordo called the Center of Protective Environment (COPE).

Though it receives people from the surrounding areas, Ciraulo said, "I can't think of one from here who has gone there."

Beverly Cavanaugh, director at COPE, said women from Ruidoso have been at the center. She said the problem beyond getting women to reach out is finding the transportation there.

Cavanaugh said she and other employees have met a person in an "extremely dangerous" situation halfway, but often because of their shortage of staff this leaves them at a loss at the center.

Cavanaugh said a woman in a crisis could go to the police station, and the police will call COPE and help with the transportation.

She said the "safehome" has some eligibility requirements, but the staff is extremely flexible in allowing people there. She said there is no charge and there is a 30-day limit on the stay.

While there, children will be able to attend their own schools, and a child psychologist has just been hired.

She said often people might have so many problems that the children are neglected. Cavanaugh said abuse may be physical, mental or emotional. Often it is physical.

"We just had a woman come in with two broken arms—she couldn't even go to the bathroom herself," she said.

Cavanaugh said about 80 percent of battered women will eventually return to their husbands. She said "this is because they want the abuse to end, but not the relationship."

She said referrals to counseling are made and that the center wants to help "in any way that it can."

Cavanaugh said she wants to emphasize that the safehome is a center with nurturing staff. She said some areas are only equipped to put someone up in a motel for a night. Though she said this is some help, she asked, "Can you imagine being in a motel, after being battered, with a bunch of kids crawling all over you?"

The telephone number of COPE is 1-437-COPE.

Lucy Bartlett of Roswell, representing the National Rehabilitation Association, presents a plaque to Gene Duvall, president of Crown Point Condominiums, designating the project as accessible to handicapped persons.

Condo project honored

The New Mexico Chapter of the National Rehabilitation Association (NRA) recently honored Crown Point Condominiums with its annual award for the "Removal of Architectural Barriers."

During ceremonies at the Camelot Mountain resort, Lucy Bartlett, NRA board member, presented Gene Duvall, president of Crown Point, a plaque designating the facility as accessible to the handicapped. Crown Point was nominated for the award by Velma Gabberry of Roswell.

The condominium offers vacation ownership for intervals as short as one week with exchanges for similar handicapped facilities at 50 resorts in the U.S., the Caribbean, Europe and the South Pacific.

Two of Crown Point's 60 units can accommodate annually up to 104 families with handicapped members. Special construction and equipment include: ramps from the parking area to ground level, extra wide front and interior doors to accommodate wheelchairs, lowered counters and sinks, and closets with lowered clothing rods.

An electric chair lift carries the disabled person to the second floor of the clubhouse, while an elevator designed for a wheelchair provides access to the upper level swimming pool. There's even a water pressure chair to lower the occupant into the pool or raise him out of the water.

Super 8 Motel now under construction

A new Super 8 Motel is under construction in Ruidoso. Expected to open January 30, 1984, the 63-unit motel will be located off U.S. Highway 70, across from the Ruidoso Inn and next to Village Inn Pancake House.

The Ruidoso Super 8 is being developed by Southwest Developer of Carlsbad, Cornudas Corporation. Carlsbad is the general contractor of the motel project. Financing for the project was obtained through Pioneer Savings and Trust, Ruidoso. Ruidoso's new motel will feature traditional Super 8 amenities including direct dial telephones, free color television, tub/shower combinations, attractive room furnishings, access to a nationwide toll-free reservation system and special V.I.P. Club privileges for business travelers. Additionally, the motel will offer both a men's and women's sauna and a hot tub.

A member of Super 8 Motels, Incorporated, the Aberdeen, South Dakota-based economy motel chain, the Ruidoso motel will be the sixth Super 8 Motel in the state of New Mexico. Super 8 Motels is the fourth largest economy motel chain in the nation, with 176 motels open in 24 states and Canada.

Traffic was as heavy as the shopping on Friday in the mid-town area. Merchants across town reported large crowds of Christmas buyers and record-breaking sales on the day after Thanksgiving, traditionally the busiest shopping day of the year.

Cash registers ring in holiday season

by DARRELL PEHR
News Staff Writer

Watching the Macy's parade, visiting with family and friends, consuming mountains of Thanksgiving goodies and watching football games kept most people busy on Thanksgiving Thursday, but by Friday many Ruidosians were ready to get out of the house and do some shopping.

Friday, traditionally the busiest shopping day of the year for most places, was no different in Ruidoso.

Businesses all over town were jammed with shoppers, most of whom were trying to get a jump on this year's Christmas list.

Ellen Long of Kiva Gifts said she had never seen it so busy.

"There were as many as 30 to 35 people in here at once—it has not been slow," Long said.

The Rocking Horse owner Don Samuels said business Friday was excellent.

"They're buying today!" he said. "Very good, very good," said Christine Spears, owner of Charisma. "It's been awhile since I've seen so many people."

Marion Treat, owner of the Covered Wagon, said it was their best day in five years.

Archer Wilson, owner of the Roadrunner and Christmas Annex gift shops reported his busiest day since June. Wilson said most of the business at the two shops was from out-of-towners.

"Today has been real good," Wilson said. "Many families come up for the Thanksgiving weekend, and they do some of their shopping while they're here."

Shoppers Mary and Cindy Ramsey of Monahans, Texas, said they enjoy shopping while spending Thanksgiving in Ruidoso.

"You see some different things than you see at home," Mary Ramsey said.

One couple shopping for Christmas gifts, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Handlin of Kermit, Texas, said it's the variety of gifts available in Ruidoso gift shops that they find attractive.

"It's just a real neat place to shop," Mrs. Handlin said. "Just about anything you can think of, you can find."

Businesses all over town were finding record-breaking numbers of shoppers working on completing their Christmas lists, a clear reminder that Christmas is only 27 shopping days away.

Crime of the Week

Sometime between June and September of this year a residence on San Miguel in the Town and Country North subdivision was burglarized. A bedroom door was kicked in and two windows were broken out. It appeared that someone had been living there for a time. Three pair of ski boots, a pair of Rossignol skis, a Pioneer stereo, and two blue ski jackets were stolen. The loss in damage and stolen items is estimated at $2,890.

Crime Stoppers is offering up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and Grand Jury indictment, or Magistrate Court bind-over of the person or persons who committed this crime. Crime Stoppers is also offering $300 for information that leads to the arrest and indictment or bind-over of persons committing the offense of burglary. Crime Stoppers will pay cash awards for information that solves other felony crime.

Anyone who has information on criminal activity is urged to call Crime Stoppers at 257-4545. Persons calling may remain anonymous.

More foster homes are needed here

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

The number of children needing foster care exceeds the number of homes available to them, according to state Department of Human Services officials in Ruidoso.

Pat Ciraulo, a client service agent at the Ruidoso office of the department, said, "There are only three foster families that can be called on at the moment."

According to Ciraulo, if there were 10 foster parents available it would allow placement of children here, rather than having to send them to Roswell or Alamogordo.

She said there are one or two places to send children temporarily, but after two or three days, homes which would offer a long-term stay are needed. She added that often children will return to their own homes if the problems causing the placement can be solved.

Ciraulo said separating children or sending them to an area away from their parents causes an added stress to families. For example, finances could be a factor in the neglect initially.

Then, if parents need to drive to see the children, it is an added strain to an already stressed situation, she emphasized.

The reasons for the removal of children from their homes may be physical, emotional or mental abuse. She said "there are an awful lot of neglect cases for this little town."

The department is working on 123 cases now, and 70 of them are attributed to neglect, such as children not being fed, said Ciraulo. She said referrals may come from the police, schools, hospital or a concerned neighbor.

To be a foster parent requires going to the Department of Human Services office (across from the post office) and talking to social worker Betsy Seiler. In a month an interested person could be issued a license or denied. The only absolute elimination from becoming a foster parent is having a previous arrest resulting from child molesting or any type of history relating to abuse.

The home requirements are quite basic, according to Ciraulo. She added that people interested should be financially capable. She said the state is interested in helping people financially with being a foster parent, but that "they don't want people to do it just for the money."

Foster parents may be married or single. There are two single parents now, said Ciraulo.

Seiler stressed that people who are interested in receiving certain ages or who have reservations about "receiving any child, regardless of age or other factors," are wanted.

"We want people who are interested to become foster parents, even if they have certain conditions under which they don't want to become parents," she said.

There are some children who have a harder time getting placed, according to Ciraulo.

"Teenagers and black children are harder to place sometimes," she said. For further information on becoming a foster parent, call the Department of Human Services office at 257-2549.

Warrior boy hoopsters to open season tonight

Both players are expected to be key parts of the Warrior team this season. Ruidoso opens the season this week.

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Hopes are bright for an improved season when the Ruidoso High School varsity and junior varsity boys basketball teams jump off the 1983-84 season tonight and tomorrow.

Ruidoso's junior varsity will host the Hondo varsity at 4 p.m. today. Tuesday the Warrior varsity and junior varsity will travel to Roswell High School for contests. The junior varsity game will begin at 6 p.m. with the varsity contest following.

Warrior head coach Ron Geyer thinks this year's varsity team will be improved over last season's 0-20 record.

"I'm very optimistic," the second-year mentor said. "We're still young but we're going to be very competitive this season."

Ruidoso scrimmaged against Tularosa and Alamogordo Saturday in Alamogordo. Geyer felt the Warriors played well against Tularosa but had problems against the Tigers.

"There wasn't any score kept but I felt we outplayed Tularosa," Geyer remarked. "We rebounded well and played good defense."

"Against Alamogordo their press hurt us. We turned the ball over against their press too often. They have a lot of team speed."

"We were taller than them but they just had a lot of speed. We're going to have to work on bringing the ball up against the press. There are some teams in our district with just as much team speed as Alamogordo."

Geyer has nine players definitely set for the varsity game against Roswell, and also might bring up some players from the junior varsity for the varsity tilt.

The players that will definitely suit up for the Roswell varsity contest include Dan Ullmann, Tracy Gann, Gilbert Rivera, Cyrus Simmons, Russell Easter, Tommy Crow, Kenny Espinosa, Patric Pearson and Jesse Reynolds.

Ullmann—a 6-4 sophomore center—made all-district, honorable mention last season as did the 5-8 Rivera, a playmaking guard. Simmons also started often on last year's varsity squad.

Geyer thinks the guard position is the biggest key to his team's success this season.

"We've got to get our guards to handle the ball," he said.

The Warriors will have decent height with Ullmann and the 6-3 Gann. Both Easter and Espinosa are around 6-0.

Roswell is paced by seniors Tony Kellum and Tim Roberts. Kellum is probably one of the best shooters in Roswell's district.

Geyer expects Roswell to be similar to Alamogordo in its style of play.

"He's a run-oriented coach," Geyer said of Coyotes mentor Bruce Russell. "They've usually had talent in the past, but haven't been able to put it all together."

With always-powerful Hobbs in Roswell's district, it's not surprising that the Coyotes have had trouble making it to the state AAAA division tournament.

Geyer and assistant coach Jim Hofstadter like the looks of the Warrior junior varsity squad.

Sophomore guard Ricardo Garcia is a playmaker and good dribbler. Trent Tolbert gives the Warriors some height at 6-3, while Jason Bigham, Matt Porter, Chuck Jarrell and Randy Reynolds are other promising junior varsity players.

Ruidoso will be busy this week. Friday the Warriors will open the home season with varsity and junior varsity games against Portales. Saturday Ruidoso will travel to New Mexico Military Institute for varsity and junior varsity tilts.

The Warriors have a tough non-district schedule, but Geyer thinks the team will be ready by the time the district 3-AAA schedule starts.

"We'll be a definite contender by the time the district season begins," he said.

Sports activities this week

Monday: Ruidoso High School junior varsity basketball team to host Hondo varsity, starting at 4 p.m. Carrizozo boys and girls basketball teams to host Magdalena, starting at 5 p.m. Monday Night Ladies League at Holiday Bowl, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

With the gradual increase in Ruidoso High School's enrollment, there is always the possibility of adding some more sports to the school schedule.

Within the last year, tennis and cross-country have been added to the program, and if the enrollment continues to climb, some more programs may be added in the next few years.

A lot of people have expressed interest in baseball and swimming as additions to the Warrior sports calendar. Gymnastics is another sport that has been suggested.

According to some school officials, girls' sports are needed as much as boys' sports. And rightly so.

Realistically, in order to add two or three more sports and not make the existing sports suffer, the school would probably have to have around 600 students.

At present, the high school enrollment is around 450 students, making it one of the smallest schools in the state's AAA division.

However, unlike that of some other school districts in New Mexico, Ruidoso's total high school, middle school and elementary school enrollment has been increasing in recent years.

When the new high school is opened in September 1984, it may pave the way for additional sports.

Youth baseball supporters have been particularly anxious to see a high school baseball program started. "Oh definitely," said Ronnie Taylor, a former Little League manager. "We need it. We've had some kids with excellent talent who could have gotten scholarships if they could have played baseball in high school."

"A high school baseball program would also help Little League and Babe Ruth programs."

Gymnastics is very popular with girls in Ruidoso and a high school program would be very helpful in improving their skills. A high school program might also increase interest in gymnastics among boys in this community. At present girls are more drawn to gymnastics in Ruidoso than are boys, but that could change with a high school program.

Several Warrior athletes have expressed an interest in swimming added to the high school program. Perhaps the Ruidoso pool could be used for the prep program.

But these programs may still be far off in the future.

The sports funds at the high school are already being stretched to nearly the breaking point.

More community involvement is needed, along with more funds allocated, in order to have additional sports.

But it still could happen within the next five or six years.

Sticking to high school sports, readers can look forward to my high school basketball tabloid next Monday and an extensive photo-feature on the improved Ruidoso High School wrestling team soon after.

Capitan girls plan to use fast break, press against Tularosa in opener Tuesday

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Floor speed and the press are expected to be the Capitan High School girls varsity basketball team's main strengths when they open the season against visiting Tularosa Tuesday night.

There will be a junior varsity game at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity game at 7:30 p.m.

"We feel we've got to fast break a lot and use the press," said Tiger head coach Darrel Ray. "We don't have that much height inside. I think a lot of our points Tuesday night will come as a result of forcing turnovers. I don't really know anything about the Tularosa team."

Tularosa is an AA division team while Capitan is in the A division.

The Tigers have four starters back from last season's team, including junior all-district standout Shelly Eldridge. Eldridge is 5-6 and is a good jumper and shooter.

Other starters back from last season's Capitan squad include Becky Phillips, Tracy Herd and Tiffany Huey. Phillips is the tallest Tiger player at 5-8. Fatti Huey was the only member of last season's team who graduated.

Reserves Becky Huey and Shelly Stowe are each 5-8, so the Tigers have some height coming off the bench.

Other Tiger players who played last year include Shawna McDaniel and Audrey Joiner.

"We're going to try and fast break the ball inside to take shots from less than 10 feet," Ray said. "We're not really that good at outside shooting."

The fast break and defense will be the key for us." NOTES: The Tiger boys will open the season this Saturday against visiting Magdalena ... Capitan qualified for the state A division tournament last season in boys play and has several players back from that team.

Grizzlies play Magdalena

Carrizozo High School's boys and girls varsity basketball teams will be seeking their second wins of the season when they host Magdalena tonight.

A boys junior varsity game will also be played. The competition will start at 4 p.m.

The Grizzlies were scheduled to play Vaughn on the latter's court last Saturday, but heavy snow forced the contests to be cancelled.

Carrizozo opened the season last week with wins over Mountainair. The Grizzly boys won 68-42 and the girls took a 53-33 decision.

Dominic Vega, John Roueche and Kenneth Crenshaw lead the Grizzly boys attack. Christetta Chavez—who was also a standout volleyball player—is a standout player for the Carrizozo girls. She scored 25 points against Mountainair.

Ruidoso wrestler

on the Warrior team. The Warriors will open their season with its own tournament Saturday, hosting several other teams.

Warrior girls cagers to scrimmage tomorrow

Ruidoso High School head girls basketball coach Sergio Castanon will get a good idea of how much his team has progressed when the Warriors participate in a scrimmage in Alamogordo Tuesday afternoon.

The Warriors will open at 3:50 p.m. against Weed. Other teams in the scrimmage will include Tularosa, Cloudcroft and host Alamogordo.

Injuries and illness have had an effect on Ruidoso's recent practices.

Jackie Jefferson, a returning starter from last season, broke her finger recently and won't get her cast off until Tuesday, December 6.

Diane McClure and Gia Rose have been sick with the flu the past week.

"We haven't been able to have complete practices because of this," Castanon said. "We probably won't have a complete squad ready until the second or third game of the season."

According to Castanon, Deanna Pesco, Mavis Geronimo, Stacy Ivy and Lillian Lopez have looked good in practice. Ivy and Lopez both started last season. Ivy, a 5-9 junior, made all-district honorable mention last season and is a good rebounder and scorer.

"These girls can keep the pace going pretty fast up and down the court," Castanon commented.

The Warriors will open the season this Friday night at Cloudcroft. Both the varsity and junior varsity teams will play.

"We've wanted to do this for a long time," said Glen and Juanita Bratcher, owners of the Stewart Motel, located at 102 Park Ave. The Bratchers have owned the motel since July 1982, but have been coming to Ruidoso as vacationers since 1939.

Stewart Motel more like a home for couple

by DARRELL J. PEHR
News Staff Writer

"Oh, Stewart Motel is more like a home than a motel. We can accommodate family and friends... it's just big enough," said Juanita Bratcher of the five-room motel she owns and operates with her husband Glen.

"We feel like this is what we want. We've wanted to do this for a long time," Juanita said. The Bratchers have only operated the motel for a year and a half, but they are no newcomers to Ruidoso. Coming from Dallas, they have vacationed in Ruidoso since the late thirties.

"The streets were awfully narrow and muddy then," Juanita said, wrinkling her nose with distaste. She is a petite woman with bright vibrant eyes and curly graying hair. She speaks softly and clearly.

"It was a carnival-like atmosphere then. There was a horseriding stable near the circle and shooting galleries. It was pretty then, but it's prettier now."

Glen smiled. "Of course it didn't take too long to drive through town." He laughs. The easy chair he sits in matches the mood of the room.

On one end of the room a large stone fireplace fills a corner. The delicate objects perched on the mantel, articles scattered around complete the feeling. Used as a conference room by visiting groups, the room can easily accommodate a crowd.

"Sometimes we get 20 or 25 people in here, all having a great time," Glen said. He is a retired maintenance man who handled large apartment complexes in Dallas.

"Friends asked me why I was going to be running a motel if I was retired. When you're used to 326 units, a drop down to five is retired." He is a friendly person and quick to joke around. His face is ruddy, his hands have a strong grip.

The Bratchers raised four children while living in Texas. They had stayed at the Stewart Motel when they vacationed in Ruidoso and decided to buy the motel when it went up for sale in May of 1982.

"Ruidoso was always a fun place for us to take the kiddos," Juanita said. "We had always had the idea of buying something here."

The Bratchers said they like the motel business. Many people return year after year.

"It's different every weekend," Glen said. "Sometimes the people all gather in the patio area and barbecue and play cards or dominos. Sometimes they all stay in their rooms."

"In the winter we get a younger crowd for the skiing," Juanita said, "and an older crowd in the summer for the racing. Sometimes we get family reunions. There's a lot that come just for the scenery."

The Bratchers said they have no plans to enlarge or change the motel in the future. They said they plan to keep the motel and stay in Ruidoso.

"We like the mountains and enjoy the racing season," Juanita said. "We like it here just fine."

Ski School clinic set

The Sierra Blanca Ski Resort annual instructors' clinic will be Saturday and Sunday, December 3 and 4. Everyone interested in becoming a Sierra Blanca Ski School ski instructor must attend this clinic, according to ski school director Rick Vincent.

The clinic will include two days of skiing and teaching instruction, two days' lift tickets and a beer and dip party Saturday at the Broken Ski Saloon, Vincent said. The fee for the clinic is $70.

Vincent advised interested people to pre-register by Monday, November 28, so that he will have a number of people to plan on working with. There is an extra $5 fee for late registration up to 8:30 p.m. Saturday, December 3.

Check-in time for the clinic will be from 8:15 a.m. to 8:45 a.m. Saturday at the Ski School. Prospective instructors should bring skis, boots, poles and all necessary ski equipment to the clinic. For further information call 336-4356.

November Birthdays And Anniversaries

Terry Haake's Birthday Is November Twenty Six

After church on Thanksgiving Day I went by the home of Floyd Haake, and his wife, Helga, The Nordic Queen. There was a great celebration and family reunion, with the star of the show little Jack Gabriel Haake, young son of Floyd D. Haake Jr. (better known by his many friends as Terry) and his charming wife, the former Galyn Barney. Little Jack will soon be eighteen months old, but he is running and talking like a boy much older, and is a great comedian.

Adding great charm to the occasion was daughter, Nancy, and Odie Corvell, long time friend, added his good will to the happy gathering.

Terry was born in Roswell November 26, 1957, and spent most of his boyhood in Ruidoso attending Ruidoso grade school and Ruidoso High. He graduated from the New Mexico Military Institute high school in 1975. Then he attended Brigham Young University for two years.

Beginning in 1977 Terry spent two years in Europe on a mission for Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. During this time he learned the French language and spread much good will, and gained many friends in various places in Europe.

Returning home, he graduated from the University of Utah in June 1983. He is now in his first year of the University of New Mexico Law School. He is doing very well in his studies, and is very pleased with his choice of vocation, saying he sees a chance to do a lot of good in the world as a lawyer.

Terry is blessed with high intelligence and a winning personality, and also a devout nature. He will go a long way in this world; and we are all proud of him and wish him many happy returns of the day and all God's blessings.

Wedding Anniversary For Danny and Terrie Flores

It was a great honor to visit later in the day at the home of Danny and Terrie Flores, where an atmosphere of double thankfulness brightened the home amid a grand feast.

It happened that this was the sixth anniversary of their wedding, which also was on Thanksgiving day.

Brightening the day were their two children Elizabeth Maria and Eric Andrew.

An honored guest was Mrs. Lia Cooper and her daughter Cindy McClosky, her husband Bill, and their two children, William and Dustin. Also present was Lia's handsome grand son, John Albis.

Danny and Terrie are two of Ruidoso's very favorite people, they are a blessing to all of us; and we wish them many happy returns of the day, and all God's blessings.

Lynn's Birthday

I never thought, and I guess he never did either, that Lynn would spend his birthday either in Japan or on the way back. But that is the "way it is."

Grady Burnett, grandson of Lynn and Maxine plays offensive tackle, No. 66, on Southern Methodist University's Football Team. At this writing, November twenty-five, Lynn is getting ready to see S.M.U. play The University of Houston in Japan, on Saturday November twenty-six.

As far as I know this is the first time a game between two leading college football teams has been played in Japan. Lynn and Maxine made the trip to cheer for their grandson, and his team. How is that for supporting the home team and your grandson player? Grady is one of the finest young fellows that ever lived. The game is on two days before Lynn's birthday, which falls on the twenty-eighth. And Grady will be trying to give his Grand Dad a never-to-be forgotten birthday present in the form of a big play, of which he has made many in his football career.

A Thanksgiving Dinner

The Day After

The day after Thanksgiving I was down at the western store of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rummel at Glencoe (The Old Shorty Ellis and Alma place).

Bud asked, "Have you eaten?" When I hesitated, he said, "Just wait a minute."

Soon Mrs. Rummel came out with a great plate of Thanksgiving dinner things.

They have almost everything in the world for sale: guns, saddles, groceries, stock feed, stock trailers, stock medicines. They have invited suggestions for a name for their place and have received half a hundred or more. We wish them all good fortune. They are a great young couple.

Letters to the editor

DEAR EDITOR:

My husband and I recently visited your state and had a very unpleasant experience of which we feel perhaps you should be apprised.

On Friday, September 23, 1983, we were en route to a motorcycle trade show in Carlsbad and from there to another trade show in Ruidoso at which we were to be an exhibitor.

Shortly after entering New Mexico, just east of Eunice in Lea County, we approached two State Policemen and a Deputy Sheriff standing in the center of the road. As we further approached the officers, we were discussing between ourselves whether we were supposed to stop or what we were to do as they didn't have their hands up or a sign or anything indicating any kind of signal or instruction. We decided we were not being instructed to stop and proceeded on past at the rate of approximately twenty-five to thirty miles an hour. Just as our vehicle passed the officers, one of them shouted at us, "Stop that goddamn vehicle," which we did immediately. When my husband stepped out of the pickup, the officers were irate because we had "run their road block." We explained to them that we didn't realize what they were doing and that had we realized they wanted us to stop, we certainly would have done so.

We were driving a three-quarter ton pickup, pulling a fifth-wheel trailer with a motorcycle trailer behind that. As evidenced by the enclosed copies of the citations, we were cited for "Height and Length of Vehicles," however, the height and length of the vehicles were not measured. Further under Essential Facts: "Vehicle pulling fifth wheel trailer with third unit not having any lights or brake lights." In this connection, admittedly, we did not have lights or brake lights on this motorcycle trailer. This was a very small trailer which did not belong to us. The manufacturer of the trailer here in Dallas had asked us if we would pull the trailer over to the trade show for him to be exhibited, which we consented to do. If you will, please imagine this situation: Here is a travel trailer pulling a very small trailer behind; obviously, all turn signals, brake lights, et cetera, were clearly visible on either side of the small trailer. In addition, we are in the business of manufacturing and selling decorative lights for motorcycles. This trailer was carrying a motorcycle equipped with approximately 150 lights on it, and had lights been necessary, this unit would have been heavily lighted. However, we had left Lewisville, Texas early enough in the morning to ensure that all driving would be done in daylight hours. We could have reached Carlsbad by 5:30 p.m., well before dark.

The second citation was for the offense of "Vehicles to be registered." "Trailer has no License Plates." As transported for exhibition purposes. However in this connection, we did have MSO papers with us, which were shown to the officers.

We believe the only reason we were not cited by the officers for as they stated, "Running their road block" was because they knew they were not performing their jobs properly, but instead were standing in the middle of the road having a gab session and they knew they were in the wrong there and didn't want that brought before the Judge.

After signing the citations, we asked to go before a Judge at that time. The officers called several places then informed us that they had located a Magistrate in Jal, New Mexico and we followed one of the officers to his office. Upon arriving in Jal, Magistrate Frank Montgomery was there. The first thing he informed us was that we had interrupted his evening meal. We explained the above circumstances to him and he informed us that he would access fines in the amount of $100.00 for the two citations. We informed him we felt that fine was quite excessive and requested that we be allowed to post bond and have the case heard before a jury. He informed us that we could put up the necessary money for a jury fee, however, we were guilty and we were going to pay the fines just the same, which we did.

Further, there is a sign entitled "Notice to the Public" posted outside of Magistrate Montgomery's office door stating essentially that in the State of New Mexico, a magistrate can collect money only for docket fees, jury fees and fees for photocopies and that no other monies shall be collected. A fine is none of the above. We asked him about this and he said that didn't apply, as that was an old sign. If it doesn't apply, why is it posted there? When we paid the fine, it took him approximately thirty minutes to write out the enclosed three receipts. When we indicated that we wanted to post the necessary jury fee, he rummaged around his office and in an adjoining room for another thirty minutes or so trying to find some instructions as to what he was supposed to do in this regard, which he never found, so he just took the money and said he would find that stuff later.

In summary, first I feel we were stopped by these three officers because we irritated them by not stopping at their so-called "road block." In my opinion, three officers standing in the middle of the road gabbing by no stretch of the imagination constitutes a road block.

Secondly, I feel we were taken before a Magistrate whom I believe to be totally and completely incompetent and had no interest whatsoever in seeing that justice was done, but merely saw an opportunity to bring in $100.00 revenue for the State of New Mexico from a couple of tourists. I would certainly hope this is not the caliber of officials you want representing your state. I can understand that you do not want careless, reckless driving in your state, however, this was not the case. We were driving in a prudent, cautious manner, observing all speed warnings, driving in daylight hours and under all perfect driving conditions. We were by no means creating any hazard whatsoever and had the fines assessed been commensurate with the offenses, we would have simply paid the fines and been on our way and not given it a second thought.

We have participated in this trade show at Ruidoso for fourteen years but due to this experience, have decided this will be the last. During our stay in New Mexico, we spent approximately $1,000.00. True your Judge Montgomery collected $100.00 in revenue, but it will cost you by the loss of future monies we will spend in some other state, as we plan to avoid New Mexico altogether in future travels whenever possible and hope other tourists will eventually do the same. New Mexico has the reputation of being a state that really sticks it to tourists. It seems to me that if effort was put forth creating goodwill and hospitality to tourists rather than subjecting them to undue harassment, in the long run you'd be more benefited by that.

I'm sure this will just end up in the trash can after you read it. (If you read it) but we thought just maybe you might be interested as to what effect the actions and attitudes of your appointed state officials is having on outsiders visiting your state.

Sincerely,
MR. & MRS. ALVIN BATTY
LEWISVILLE, TEXAS

DEAR EDITOR:

The holiday season is approaching and we should take extra precautions to secure our homes against fire.

From my military training and my current profession, the rule of thumb you should take to recognize a hazard is, "If it is warm and flammable it is life threatening."

We are rightfully concerned about the monetary loss of a dumpster or truck fire from fireplace ashes. Let us show equal concern for the life of a child.

Many communities inspect private homes for safety. We haven't heard from our village fire prevention officer for some time. We should encourage and support this man and the fire department to conduct a continuous and ongoing fire prevention program.

Recently a mother died and her child is near death from burns and smoke inhalation. As we are sympathetic and outraged over the death of a dog let us show more concern and action "after this" recent needless catastrophe.
ROY PROPSNER

Editorial

With the Christmas shopping season now officially under way, let it be noted that the Christmas giving season—a time of giving to those in need—is also under way.

Ruidosans have the opportunity to give through the annual Happy Holidays Drive conducted by the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department and Ruidoso Police Department.

The drive benefits Ruidoso area residents with donations of food, clothing, toys and money to help them enjoy the holiday season.

About twenty local families were the recipients of Thanksgiving baskets, and Happy Holidays organizers were pleased with that phase of the effort.

"The spirit of giving was there again," said Deputy Chief of Police Jim Alston, expressing gratitude to the community for its response to the drive.

With Christmas approaching, toys are needed especially. Organizers pointed out that they do not have the facilities to repair toys, however, so only those that are in usable condition can be accepted.

Donations may be taken to the main Ruidoso fire station, or persons needing to have items picked up should call the police station.

For further information on the Happy Holidays Drive, call the Police Department at 257-7365.

Let's see to it with our contributions that everyone in our community has a Merry Christmas.—TP

Inside the Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Relationships, relationships...

They're what makes politician-watching so fascinating.

—Example one:

When Jack Daniels got beaten by Pete Domenici in a race for the U.S. Senate, Nick Franklin ran Daniels' campaign.

Now Franklin is considering running against Domenici in his turn, and he might have expected Daniels' support in the race.

But then Nick shows up as one of the hired guns trying to get Citicorp, massive New York banking operation, approved to go into the banking business in New Mexico.

One local banker most notably opposed to the granting of that permission is Jack Daniels.

Mightn't that tend to cool any enthusiasm Jack might otherwise feel for Franklin's proposed run for the Senate?

—Example two:

Citicorp probably retained Franklin, state Democratic chairman, to guarantee access to Toney Anaya, Democratic Governor.

To draft the bill they hope to get introduced into the Legislature, they hired Franklin Jones, well known attorney and lobbyist, who has little or no access to the present Governor.

But Jones is a member of the board of directors of Bank Securities, Inc., a large financial holding company which might be expected to oppose Citicorp's move as vigorously as Jack Daniels does.

Bank Securities is masterminded by Robert O. Anderson and family, so Jones' presence as local attorney for Citicorp leads some to speculate that Anderson & Co. may want the big New York Operation in the state, possibly so they can sell all or part of their own chain of banks to them.

—Example three:

Citicorp, as a large international operation, might be expected to wish to remain close to the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, especially if that man is also a member of Appropriations.

Such a one is, of course, Senator Pete Domenici.

Why then would Citicorp, on coming to New Mexico, hire, presumably at a generous fee, the very man who seems intent on trying to knock Domenici off at the polls next November?

Do you think they didn't know Domenici was a putative candidate? Smart operatives are supposed to know everything.

—Example four:

The folks at Southern Union in Dallas seem intent on selling Gas Company of New Mexico to a private educational foundation—an unusual buyer, to say the least, for a large utility.

The name of that group which might be the buyer is the Robert O. Anderson Foundation. It raises money for the Robert O. Anderson Management School at the University of New Mexico.

The Robert O. Anderson mentioned above, for whom both entities are named, is not on the board of the foundation and has little to say directly about what it does.

The fact that the mouthpiece in this whole matter is board member Al Hamilton, who also happens to be the chief executive officer of Robert O. Anderson's Bank Securities, Inc., however, gives a Robert-O. flavor to this additional proposal as well.

That leads some proponents of the conspiracy theory to further conclude that this deal, along with the Citicorp invasion, is somehow being masterminded by Mr. Anderson, who is not, it must be confessed, a bad mastermind.

Relationships, relationships... Sometimes people see them even when they aren't really there...

Question a legislative committee hearing last week: Why don't Citicorp people appear in person to plead their case instead of merely sending Franklin and Jones?

"The devil made me do it," I would tell her. "The devil made me take that last run."

I was riding up the Lincoln chairlift at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Thursday, prior to my second last run of the day.

I had just completed my first last run of the day, which took me to the base of the chairlift. A check of my watch had showed me it was time to stop skiing, in order to be on time for Thanksgiving dinner.

But there I was, riding up the mountain again.

Like I say, the devil made me do it. As it was, I got off at midway, and managed to make it home within tolerable standards of punctuality. ("Tolerable to whom?" I can hear her ask.)

That last run—the second one—had a dual effect. It let me get in a few more minutes of Thursday's great skiing, and it whetted my appetite for more of the same.

Unlike my colleague Mr. Allstetter, I have not been able to classify myself an "avid skier" for a long time.

When Billy first wrote The Ruidoso News to inquire about a reporter's job, he referred to himself as "an avid skier and a mediocre flyfisherman."

That certainly didn't hurt his chances of landing the job. Anyone who appreciates skiing and trout fishing can't be all bad, right?

I remember several years ago when Gerald Ford was running for president, a friend of mine pointed out something he considered strongly in Ford's favor. The president loved to ski.

Now the first thought that probably comes to mind is: what does being a skier have to do with being president? Well, nothing, really. But what my friend was saying was that Ford was a guy he more readily could trust because they shared the same interest.

Here is another example from the same field, politics, but at a different angle. When Nixon (remember him?) was president, I remember reading that in order to keep his weight down, the chief executive lunched every day on a big bowl of cottage cheese.

But, the article went on, the president hated the taste of cottage cheese, so he smothered it with catsup.

"Yechhh," I remember thinking, appalled that the guy with his finger on "the button" ate cottage cheese smothered in catsup every day!

Well, I digress, but the point is that you are what you do just as you are what you eat. And if one of the things you do is ski, that's a point in your favor, at least in the eyes of other skiers.

I skied a lot while I was in high school in Albuquerque. In fact, our ski club made a trip to Ruidoso and a big storm hit while we were here.

We got in some memorable skiing—some of it in total "whiteout" conditions where you couldn't distinguish between surface and air and sky. That was a neat sensation.

We also got snowed in—road conditions forced us to stay an extra night. So I knew back then that this part of southern New Mexico has some real winter weather.

And we certainly had that fact confirmed last winter, with good-sized snowstorms in every month from November into April.

In Ruidoso, fortunately, the same snow that falls in November doesn't stay on the ground until spring, unlike some other places.

But the winter can get you down if you don't make a point of enjoying it. And that's where skiing comes in.

I figured out that my Thanksgiving outing was my fourth time skiing in the past 10 years. Most of those years, I was living places where skiing isn't readily accessible—like Missouri, Colombia and Texas.

A visit from my brother-in-law prompted the lone outing our first winter here. Then last year, I didn't get around to going until after that big April snow, when they kept Sierra Blanca open an extra two weeks.

I went with Dave Sheppard, who is now languishing in Alamogordo with all his new equipment. We had a blast, which is something I think I can honestly say about every time I have ever gone skiing.

Skiing is world-class fun.

I used that expression to describe the Balloon Fiesta in Albuquerque earlier this fall. But, looking back, I see that it was the balloonists who were really having the fun.

Several sports have certain elements in common that make them so appealing: speed, danger and, most of all, freedom.

When you're skiing at the edge of control, everything but staying just this side of the line is sort of stripped away from your life. It's a very clean feeling, and one that stays with you at the end of the day.

Well, you can tell I'm pretty pumped—"pretty jazzed," as Billy would say. Of course, to put things in perspective, I'm strictly an intermediate, and I was skiing on rented equipment.

But darned if that didn't get me thinking, "Boy, if I had good boots, I'll bet my control would be worlds better," and "Boy, if I got some instruction, I could make turns like Crocker does."

And it is the face of my buddy Mike Crocker that sticks in my mind from my Thanksgiving ski trip. I was stopped a little below the top gondola terminal when he came skiing up with a huge grin on his face.

I thought he was grinning because he saw me, until I realized he hadn't noticed me. His grin was one of sheer exultation at the snow.

It was for the snow, for the feeling of being back on skis, and for the promise of the brand-new season.

"There's a flavor for every day of the month," said John Price, owner of the Baskin Robbins Ice Cream Store.

Baskin Robbins now open

by Darrell J. Pehr
Staff Writer

The flavor of the month is Pecan Chocolate Chip. Spumoni, Peppermint, Lemon Custard, Creme de Menthe, Coconut and Rum Raisin will be here in December. Ice cream lovers rejoice, the Ruidoso location of Baskin Robbins Ice Cream is open!

"We're happy to be in Ruidoso serving a quality ice cream," said owner John Price. "If it's made out of ice cream, we do it. Ice cream is our business."

The shop has been open since October 18. Price said they are open every day of the year except Christmas day. The shop carries 31 flavors at a time, rotating them every month. There are over 500 total flavors.

To fulfill the needs of Ruidoso for premium ice cream in every area, said Price, is the goal of the shop.

"We're proud to be a part of the Ruidoso community," Price said. He and his fiancée, Lisa Herbst operate the shop. Price is a grandson of the founder of the Price's Dairy, and said his family has been in the milk and dairy business in New Mexico since 1912.

"I'm fourth generation New Mexican dairyman. I'm carrying on the tradition," he said. Price said his family has had a vacation home in Ruidoso since 1957.

The first day the shop was open for business, over 1300 transactions were made, according to Price.

"That's a record-setter for Baskin Robbins. We had people lined up out the door."

Price said that since then, business has slowed down to a more normal pace, but the flow is still good.

"It seems the colder it gets, the more ice cream people eat."

The official grand opening of the shop will be December 3, 4, 5 and 6. Price said Ruidoso Mayor George White will be the official ribbon cutter. The Baskin Robbins clowns Rocky and Rhoda will participate in the opening ceremonies. Price said there will be ice cream specials throughout December.

Price said a large part of their business is specialty orders. Specialty cakes and pies, custom made by Herbst, account for about 40 percent of the business, Price said.

"We have people coming in here asking for Lisa, she's becoming very popular. She can make anything with a 24-hour notice."

The two ice-creamers attended the Baskin Robbins Ice Cream University before opening the franchise. Price said they were selected from over 300 applicants for the Ruidoso location.

The shop is open from 10:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. everyday and employs eight people.

Baskin Robbins phone number is 257-4441.

John Price and Lisa Herbst, owner-operators, stand in front of the Baskin Robbins Ice Cream Store. The couple, graduates of the Baskin Robbins Ice Cream University, were selected from over 300 applicants for this location. The shop is open from 10:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. everyday except Christmas.

These ice cream Thanksgiving turkeys are just waiting to be "gobbled." Lisa Herbst creates almost any custom order with a 24-hour notice.

Dianna Kirk is one of eight people employed at Baskin Robbins. The company offers 31 different flavors each month. The flavors are rotated every month from a total of 500 flavors available from Baskin Robbins Ice Cream.

TAKE A BREAK By Staff Of Ruidoso Travel

BEFORE YOU GO...

Any traveler leaving on a trip of any duration, when there's no one left at home, should take some precautions. Here are some to protect your possessions, your peace of mind...and even your budget.

At the top of everyone's mind is protection against burglary. Light and appliance timers can help make your home looked lived-in while you're away. Also, don't forget to stop mail- and newspaper deliveries. Empty garbage cans are also a clue to alert burglars; arrange for a neighbor to use yours while you're away. And, finally, notify neighbors and the police of your absence. If you're going to be away for an extended period, arrange to get the lawn mowed.

What if somebody needs to reach you while you're away? Leave a copy of your itinerary with a close relative or friend. If you're driving, or not following any particular itinerary, leave your license number, car description, and intended route.

Rest easy. Let your travel experts handle all your vacation needs. Contact us at Ruidoso Travel.
