

Parks and rec director named

by DAVID SHEPPARD
Staff Writer

The Village of Ruidoso has fulfilled its promise to create a Parks and Recreation Department.

The department will formally get off the ground March 15, the day Pam Graves takes the reins as the first director of parks and recreation in village history.

"We're very fortunate finding someone of her caliber locally," said village manager Jim Hine Friday, the day Graves' hiring was officially announced.

Graves was selected from 21 applicants for the new post. Hine narrowed down the number to seven in mid-February, and had help from the Parks and Recreation Commission in the final screening process.

Graves, 28, comes to the position with a degree in recreation from a community college in Minnesota. She also has worked toward a degree in physical education.

She and her husband, Jay, have lived here almost three years. The couple has two children, Katie and Jathan.

While a student in Minnesota, Pam worked two summers as a parks and recreation intern. Her background also includes recreation experience in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and she established a gymnastics program while living in a small town in Texas.

Hine said one of the things he was most impressed with about Graves during the screening process was a list she compiled, explaining her immediate and long-range goals for the new department.

The first thing she will work on is establishing a format for the department, with the help of the village administration and council. Graves said a top objective in the initial phase of the department will be soliciting public input.

She plans to do this by circulating questionnaires about the needs of the community in schools and businesses.

"Since this is a city department, I want people to know it will be set up for all age groups and all interests," noted Graves. Graves recognizes the formation of the department will take some time

Therefore, she said, she hopes established recreational groups that need to begin organizing for the summer, such as local softball leagues, will do so without direct involvement this year from village parks and recreation.

Graves, who has played in a local softball league, emphasizes she will be available to assist the organizations, however.

"I don't want to jump in and say I will run softball," she explained. "But if they want me to help, I will be glad to."

Since she is starting out at a new job, and trying to create a brand-new department, Graves will be occupied with a lot of office work in the first few months.

Not only must she acquaint herself with village personnel and facilities, as department head she will have to begin working on a budget for the 1983-84 fiscal year, which must be submitted to the state by June 1.

To establish a respectable department, Graves realizes she must have proper funding and facilities. As soon as the ground-work is laid for P&R, she will concentrate on cataloging public land that could be turned into park facilities.

Graves, who was one of the supporters of the grass roots movement that resulted in the village council last fall, puts the need for additional outdoor facilities at the top of her list of priorities.

The village now has only two parks, both located on the east side of town. Among the recreational facilities are playgrounds, the public swimming pool and the tennis courts in School House Park.

Since its rejuvenation last year, the Parks and Recreation Commission has noted the village should actively develop village-owned land on the north part of town into neighborhood parks. Most village growth in recent years has been concentrated in the north.

Graves would also like to see neighborhood parks, and as a long range goal, she suggests the council should adopt codes requiring new subdivisions to set aside and develop park areas.

Much of the village land is too small to develop into full-scale parks with outdoor sports facilities. Therefore, Graves will be looking for parcels the village could either trade for or buy; and with land prices skyrocketing, she realizes she cannot waste any time in the process.

"We do need to go ahead and start getting some land; we need to think about our future. And we need to act fast," she said.

Graves also plans to make her department a visible one. In her list of immediate goals, she said she would like to publicize the department with a department logo to be placed on signs and T-shirts, which could be sold to create revenue.

For the coming summer, Graves will work up a schedule for the municipal pool that will keep the facility open longer and will provide for swimming classes.

The pool did not open until July last year, and it often closed for the day whenever afternoon thunderstorms raged in.

"The main thing I'd like to do at the pool is start in June ... when it's hot," said Graves. She also indicated she would draft guidelines that would keep the pool open for swimming after the regular afternoon thunderstorms pass through town.

Since the council purchased the slide last year from a previous lessee of the pool, Graves will have to open it to the public. She said her main concern about the slide is making sure it is safe to use.

To create more interest in the pool, the P&R director said she would like to sponsor competitive swimming programs and women's exercise classes.

Finally, included in her long-term plan for the park and pool, she suggested the pool should be covered so it could be used during the winter.

Rounding out her list of immediate goals, Graves said she would:

- Administrate maintenance and repair of the parks and pool, including playing fields and village equipment.
- Review the budget to determine where savings could be achieved. She said she would seek government subsidies to install solar heating at the pool, or for other conservation efforts. She will ensure the pool is covered at night to cut down on heat loss.

• Determine how village parks and recreation can relate to established programs; possibly assuming administration of certain activities.

• Establish rules for the use of present facilities, and posting the guidelines.

• Consult with the schools concerning cooperative use of school facilities.

• Publish a booklet advertising available programs, with registration forms and fee schedules included. She would also like to publicize the department through newspaper articles.

• Schedule and coordinate use of facilities. Establish tournaments, contests and special events.

• Investigate additional funding for P&R, including: government grants, bond issues, community projects, commercial sponsorship and land trades.

• Hire specialized personnel to be paid by activity fees.

• Submit annual reports on programs.

Highlighting her list of long-range goals are suggestions for expanding park areas; establishment of outdoor and indoor sports facilities; and cooperation with community development groups concerning higher education programs.

Her goal for an indoor facility would be to build a gymnasium large enough to accommodate an indoor track and tennis courts, racquetball courts and weight training room. She also conceives of a public building housing a theater and auditorium.

Her long-term list of goals also includes establishment of:

- Latch Key program held in the afternoons for children.
 - Mothers' day-out program or full-time day care.
 - Welcome Wagon program that could be subsidized by businesses.
- Jim Hine said Graves' office will be temporarily located at village hall. She can be contacted starting March 15 at 258-4343.

REVIEWING HER LIST OF GOALS Friday is the director of the new Ruidoso Parks and Recreation Department, Pam Graves. The three-page list of immediate and long-term goals for the department Pam compiled includes items such as covering the municipal pool and acquiring more village park land.

Handicapped ski events Tuesday, Wednesday

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
Staff Writer

A lively pre-race feast, and one-legged businessmen teaming up with handicapped skiers will highlight the sixth annual Businessman's Handicapped Skier Race Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Wednesday afternoon, 25 teams made up of one local businessman and a handicapped skier will compete in races benefitting the Handicapped Skiers Association. The race, at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort, and feast, at Cree Meadows Restaurant, are the biggest fund raisers of the year for the association.

The businessmen do not actually have to be one-legged to enter the race. They just have to ski on one leg. To ensure that all the businessmen play fair, the second leg will be tied to the first.

Their teammates are actually handicapped skiers. They are blind, mentally retarded, amputees and otherwise handicapped skiers who participate in the handicapped skiing program at Sierra Blanca.

The Sierra Blanca program, directed by Diana Person, is the second largest such program in the nation. So far this year 172 handicapped people have been introduced to skiing by 32 volunteers at Sierra Blanca.

Tuesday night before the race, the public is invited to a sumptuous and lively feast at Cree Meadows Restaurant. Nottingham's Catering, Big John's Bar-B-

Que, Cree Meadows and Cousins' restaurants will donate steam strip beef, chicken livers, pork ribs, mashed potatoes, vegetables, salads and desserts. There will be a two dollar donation for the meal.

Pre-race bravado and, according to rumor, dancing women should entertain all who attend the dinner.

Ronnie Hemphill, who has skied in the race before, said there are a number of rivalries among the local businessmen. They all seem to think they are the fastest one-legged skiers in town and will probably be telling people so at the feast.

Team matchups will be announced at the feast and there is certain to be plenty of speculation which team will win.

Rumors floating around the handicapped skiers building at Sierra Blanca is that some teachers of the handicapped will also entertain the feasters with a special dance sometime during the evening.

The next day, Wednesday at noon, the businessman will have to live up to their boasts of the night before. With one leg tied to the other, they will make two runs down the course. Their handicapped partners will also make two runs.

The best times for the handicapped skier and the businessman will be combined to determine the team's score. Trophies will be given to the top four teams and participant medals will go to everyone in the race.

New technology for dam

by TIM PALMER

Engineers on the Grindstone water project will recommend a new technological process for construction of the Grindstone dam, members of a village committee overseeing the project were told last week.

Fred Burns of Boyle Engineering explained the "roller-compacted concrete" process, which the engineers are recommending over an earth- or rock-filled dam.

The homogenous earth-filled dam originally contemplated was scrapped for two reasons, Burns reported. There is not enough overburden for fill to build it, he said, and if the overburden were faster, the reservoir would probably leak stiffer than it would fill up.

For roller-compacted concrete construction, rock is quarried near the site and crushed. It is then screened for gradation (size) and mixed in a pug mill with cement and probably flyash, an extra-fine material to help fill space.

The mixture has a very low cement to aggregate ratio—less than one bag per cubic yard—and a very low cement to water ratio to prevent slumping. It is carried by dump trucks to the dam site, spread by earth movers and compacted by vibrating rollers.

The process is carried out a layer at a time, explained Burns, with each layer supporting succeeding layers. The area of the dam foundation is stripped down to the competent base rock—an average of 15 feet—and a grout curtain of Portland cement is put down as a base.

One advantage to the concrete dam is that the spillway can go over the crest of the dam instead of having to be cut in a channel away from the embankment. Engineers must account for the "100 year flood," Burns noted, and floodwaters would go over the spillway.

The concrete dam would allow for a storage capacity in the reservoir of 1,400 acre feet, instead of the 1,000 acre feet originally envisioned. It also would require less material to build than an earth- or rock-filled dam and would make the "environmental scar" of a separate spillway channel unnecessary.

"The setting would just be prettier and it would be a more efficient dam," said Burns of the proposed concrete structure.

He added that engineers are not proposing the roller-compacted concrete method "just to be on the leading edge of technology," noting Boyle has been doing its homework. A similar dam is presently under construction in Oregon, he said, and the method has been used successfully in Japan, Pakistan and Turkey.

Burns said cost estimates for the two alternatives—a zoned rock-filled dam and a roller-compacted concrete dam—were very close at this point. A design report for the project was recently completed and must be edited before release, Burns noted. That document, along with a geotechnical report, will be the basis for the final design.

Darrel Buffington with Sergeant, Huskins and Beckwith gave the dam committee background on geologic testing in the reservoir area. Preliminary testing done by auger drilling to a depth of 50 feet indicated there is not a great deal of stratigraphic correlation in the area, he said.

Exploratory drilling to a depth of 100 feet showed intrusion of igneous rock, he reported. One big plug of igneous rock in the upper reaches of the reservoir is being looked at as the site of the quarry for aggregate material for the dam.

Faulting in the area is probably not enough of a problem to require grouting, Buffington said. He also noted that lining the reservoir with a clay material is no longer being considered, because material present in the reservoir will form a filling

He predicted seepage loss from the reservoir at 30 acre feet per year. Burns pointed out that 160 acre feet per year will be lost to evaporation. He added that credit for both types of loss will be sought from the State Engineer.

The water treatment plant that is part of the Grindstone project will have a capacity of 1.5 to two million gallons per day and be expandable to three million gallons, it was reported. Engineers are studying a hydroelectric plant to generate electricity to pump treated water to a storage tank in Black Forest.

Water board member Newton Page pointed out that the 1,400 acre foot reservoir represents a substantial size increase over the original project. He also indicated the village does not have enough water rights on the Rio Ruidoso.

Burns said Boyle has said all along the village must increase its water rights on the river, and indicated the impoundment facility should be as large as possible.

"Within your budgetary constraints, we recommend you get all you can," said Burns.

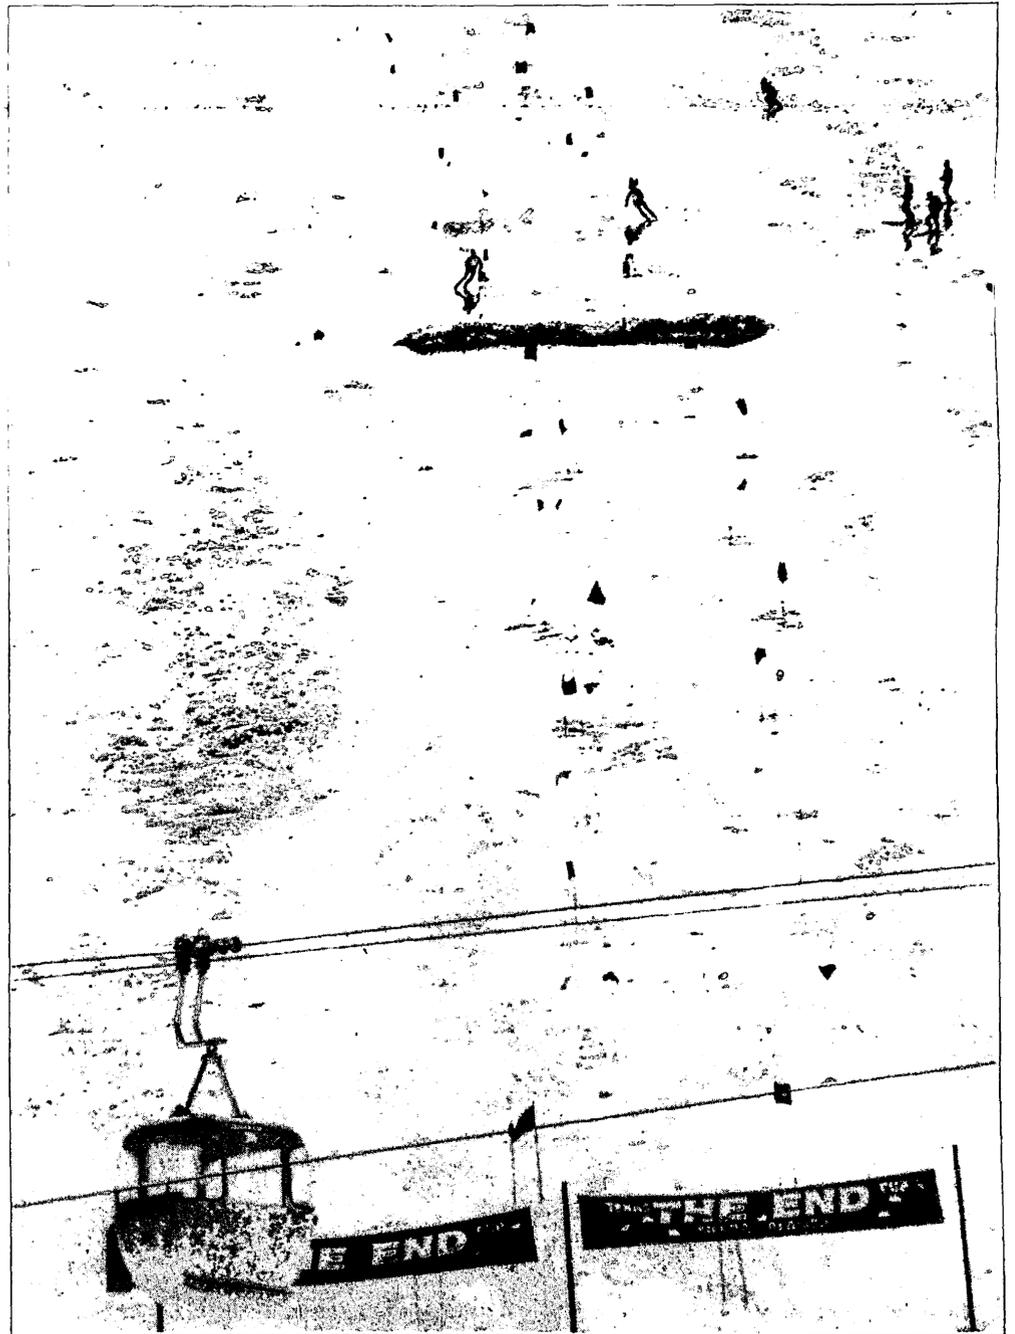

The engineer said plans are to go to bid sometime this summer on clearing and grubbing of the area; foundation preparation; quarrying and stockpiling of material; and construction of the treatment plant and pipeline.

Construction would then begin in the spring of 1984. Assistant village manager Frank Potter told the committee the overall project is presently 30 to 60 days ahead of schedule.

Ski Report

Sierra Blanca. Undisturbed snow depth midway on the mountain is 69 inches. One inch of snow fell Saturday night. Surface conditions are powder and packed powder and skiing conditions are excellent. All lifts and trails are open. Weather at report time is clear and chains are not required on the road to the ski resort.

Eagle Creek. Snow depth average is 20 inches. Beginning today, the ski area will be open only on weekends. Lower Boot Hill, Box Canyon, Chisholm Trail and the beginners' slopes will be open.

TEXAS CUP competitors approach the three-foot jump on the slalom course on Capitan Run at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort Sunday. Over 100 Texas residents competed in the qualifying races Saturday, with 16 reaching Sunday's finals. Jim Dick of El Paso outlasted all other skiers through eight head-to-head races to win the first place trophy. Bill Shirer finished second, Kirk Hill was third and Charles Schleifer took fourth in almost perfect sunny and cool conditions.

Crime Stoppers fund raiser a big success

by DAVID SHEPPARD
Staff Writer

Ruidoso Crime Stoppers board president Richard Sandoval termed the fund raiser held at Jerry Dale's Thursday night a "fantastic success."

"It's very good. It looks like we'll make about $1,700," said Sandoval Friday.

Sandoval said almost 350 people attended the party at the night club, with all but 92 paying the $5 ticket price that made the ticket holder eligible for one of the door prizes donated by local merchants and artists.

Several people purchased more than one ticket. Crime Stoppers was given a percentage of all paid attendance and liquor sales for the evening.

Almost $3,000 worth of door prizes was given away. Some of the prizes were worth hundreds of dollars. Crime Stoppers kept no tab of the prize winners, said Sandoval.

Sandoval said the proceeds boosted the reward fund to almost $5,000—well above the goal set by the board of directors two months ago when the local chapter was organized.

Other fund raisers being planned are a car wash and a motorcycle poker run that will be sponsored by the Ruidoso Roadrunners motorcycle club in April.

Anyone wanting to donate to Crime Stoppers can send the donation to P.O. Box 1463, Ruidoso, 88345. The Crime Stoppers telephone number is 257-4545.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to a $1,000 reward for tips leading to the arrest and indictment of persons who have committed any crime.

Jungbluth to meet with Ruidoso-Sunland official

Chamber of Commerce executive director Ed Jungbluth plans to meet with Ruidoso-Sunland Incorporated general manager Don Smith Tuesday to discuss the corporation board's policy excluding outside events at Ruidoso Downs Race Track.

The policy affects the annual mule races, as well as other events, including the Chamber-sponsored chili cookoff which took place last year at the racetrack parking lot.

"At this point it comes as somewhat of a shock and a surprise to everyone," said Jungbluth late last week. He reported he would ask Smith "what's going on—can you shed any light on it?"

The Ruidoso Downs Mule Skippers, whose president Melvin Means was the first to learn about the new policy, have been unable to ascertain the reason why it was implemented.

Jungbluth said that depending on what he is able to learn talking to Smith, he may issue a formal request for the Ruidoso-Sunland board to meet with the Chamber board to discuss the policy. At present, he added, the Chamber has no official position because it does not yet know what to take a position on.

"The one that's in a world of hurt is the Mule Skippers," said Jungbluth. He noted that the Chamber has always supported the mule races and will continue to, unless Ruidoso-Sunland has a great reason why the mule races should not take place at Ruidoso Downs.

AN ARTIST'S DRAWING of the Ruidoso Royce Hotel, a $16 million project to be built on Snowflake Ridge, was presented during a press conference Friday by George Peinado, senior vice president of AVC Development Corporation of El Paso, Texas, one of the developer/owners of the project. Construction on the hotel should begin this fall and be completed for New Year's Eve 1984, Peinado said. AVC, Servico Incorporated of West Palm Beach, Florida, and investor David F. Morris of Canutillo, Texas, are co-owners/developers of the all-suite hotel, which will include an auditorium and ballroom for conventions and shows. The developers said the project will bring almost 200 full-time jobs to the area after it opens, and a number of jobs during the construction phase.

Fire Department elects Rick Hall new chief

by DAVID SHEPPARD
Staff Writer

At the annual January elections of the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department this year, the volunteers selected the youngest person ever to become their chief.

Rick Hall, 28, was voted in by the 35 volunteers the first Monday in January. As chief of the volunteers, he is one of the two highest-ranking men on the force, along with fire superintendent Virgil Reynolds.

Although Hall is the youngest chief ever, he is one of the most experienced firemen in the department.

He started with the part-paid, part-volunteer force eight years ago, and he has held officer posts during his entire tenure.

Shortly after he started out, he was appointed as lieutenant of the volunteers two years straight. He was captain during the subsequent three years, then two years ago he became assistant chief.

"To me he's a real good leader," said Reynolds last week. "He's one of the best leaders they've ever had."

Hall, a lifelong resident of Ruidoso, continues a family tradition with RVFD. One of his brothers was also on the force, and another brother is now a volunteer.

Reynolds noted that Hall probably is the most experienced volunteer currently serving. During his eight years on the force, he has attended the state fire school for five annual week-long training courses. He specialized in arson investigation for two of those years.

Hall sees his responsibilities as directing the weekly Monday night meetings, and assigning tasks to and keeping track of the volunteers at fires. Hall said he will also make sure the volunteers, including junior volunteers who are still in high school, mesh well with the paid men.

A program that was started by his predecessor, Charles Spooner, is one Hall said he will continue.

Spooner had initiated a roll call of the volunteers at each general alarm fire to see who showed up. Hall said the program is not designed to penalize absentees, but to provide the chief with a list of people he has to watch, and to give credit to the volunteers who always show up.

Hall noted the force does not intend to criticize volunteers who do not always make it to fires, because some of them either work out of town or have jobs they cannot leave whenever the fire horn blares.

Another policy started by Spooner (who is still a volunteer) that Hall said has worked well and he intends to continue, is a requirement that all volunteers dress in bunker gear for every fire.

"There's just a lot more chemicals (in housing)," said Hall, explaining that house fires are becoming more dangerous for firemen because of the chemicals used in manufacturing of household items.

Hall has started a new program this winter in which he assigns a volunteer officer to work closely with each of the paid men. Through the program, Hall hopes the officers will learn about specialized tasks done by the paid men, and pass on the information to the volunteers.

Newly appointed officers this year are Kenneth Hazel, assistant chief; Greg Griffin, captain; Farris DeSoto, lieutenant; and Jesse Reynolds Jr., lieutenant of the juniors.

The force now has 25 regular volunteers and 10 juniors. The juniors, who Virgil Reynolds describes as a special class of high school students, attend meetings and respond to fires like the regulars, but are not allowed into a burning structure because of insurance restrictions.

The junior volunteer program is a valuable asset to the department, said Hall, because the youths learn responsibilities of a fireman while young, and often remain with the department after graduation.

The paid firemen are on duty full-time at the main fire station, maintaining equipment and responding to small fires that do not require the response of the full department.

Besides Reynolds, the paid men are Danny Garcia, Jesse Reynolds, Eddie Espinosa, Barry Cole and Colly Parks. Marsha Gale is the department secretary.

Hall is married and has two children. He works year-round at Sierra Blanca Ski Resort.

Anyone who is interested in becoming a volunteer may contact any on-duty fireman or attend the Monday night meetings, which start at 6:30 p.m. at the main fire station.

Physician paints grim picture of nuclear war

by BARBY GRANT
Staff Writer

The predicted consequences of a nuclear war are not a pleasant topic of conversation, as was evident during a talk given last week by Dr. Karen Apodaca, a member of Physicians For Social Responsibility. The physician spoke at a meeting of the local chapter of New Mexicans for a Bilateral Nuclear Weapons Freeze.

Apodaca began by asserting that the nuclear arms buildup itself has caused health hazards by expending money which could be more productively utilized in medical research. As illustration of this point, she noted that smallpox was eliminated at a cost of six hours worth of money being spent on arms buildup, which she said is $1.4 billion a day. A cure for cancer could possibly be discovered if cancer research were being funded by this sum, the doctor indicated.

Apodaca then explained the various effects and aftereffects to be expected should a nuclear explosion occur.

The explosion of a nuclear bomb would generate a thermal effect, creating temperatures higher than those generated by the sun, she said. Gamma rays (electromagnetic radiation) spewed into the environment can bring instant death to people up to six miles away, she said.

These gamma rays would also damage solid-state circuits, Apodaca pointed out. She predicted that results of this damage could include the melting down of nuclear reactors and malfunctions in the guidance systems of missiles which would follow the bomb.

Apodaca noted that perhaps the missiles would then hit rural areas in the vicinity of the larger cities they were targeted for. Ruidoso could be included in such a scenario, she indicated.

A firestorm would be created as a secondary effect of the bomb explosion, she continued. The high heat would ignite all the rubble lying around, with temperatures up to 800 degrees Centigrade.

People within 9.5 miles of the explosion would receive second degree burns and all the oxygen would be eaten up by the high heat, the doctor pointed out.

Those people not burned to death would suffocate, including those in underground shelters, she concluded.

A blast wave would follow the firestorm and flatten all steel-reinforced buildings within a mile and a half. Any building still standing would be toppled by 500 mile-per-hour winds.

Radioactive fallout would then essentially cover the entire globe, Apodaca warned. This fallout would contribute to the cooling of the earth's surface, creating widespread climatic changes. The ozone layers which provide protection from incoming solar radiation would also be destroyed, she said.

Apodaca reported that according to National Academy of Sciences estimates, 70 percent of the ozone layer in the northern hemisphere would be destroyed, plus 40 percent in the southern half of the globe. Up to 30 years would pass before the ozone layer would return.

Medical effects of a nuclear bomb being dropped on Albuquerque are reflected in Apodaca's estimate that 146 of the 628 doctors now practicing in that city would be able to attend to the 90,000 injured survivors from a population of 400,000. Keeping in mind that there would be no electricity, no buildings for shelter nor beds for comfort; no water, morphine, antibiotics or IV's to administer for pain, infection and blood loss; the task would be impossible, the doctor indicated.

In addition to physical injuries, Apodaca mentioned that psychological stresses would be enormous.

"Survival would be not only a torment but highly unlikely," the doctor warned.

Even short-term survival, for those living in the mountains and safeguarded from direct harm of the nuclear blast, would be "a misery," she said. Survivors would be faced with poisoned food and water and a worldwide leukemia epidemic lasting two to five years after the blast. An epidemic of solid tumors would be evident up to 30 years following the nuclear explosion.

Genetic effects could be seen in children born to survivors; most would be mutant, deformed or retarded; the physician lamented.

She reminded listeners that this scene would be multiplied throughout the United States, as every city with a population greater than 25,000 is targeted for a nuclear bomb explosion.

The doctor indicated that Physicians For Social Responsibility are working to prevent such a scene from occurring, by making citizens aware that these are the likely medical consequences of a nuclear war.

The New Mexicans for a Bilateral Nuclear Weapons Freeze are also working in that direction and will be holding a citizens lobby in Washington D.C. March 7 and 8. The local chapter is trying to raise money to send at least one person to the capital to join in the lobby effort, chapter organizer Jan Bennett announced.

High Rolls man fined for damage to forest

Lincoln National Forest Supervisor Jim Abbott, announced today the conviction and fine of a High Rolls man for soil and vegetation damage caused on the Lincoln National Forest last December 5.

The $300 fine was levied in Alamogordo this week by Federal Magistrate Wayne Jourdan for violation of a regulation prohibiting the use of vehicles off roads "in a manner which damages or unreasonably disturbs the land, wildlife, or vegetative resources." Rutting was caused by driving a pickup across a meadow in search of firewood. The soil was still wet and muddy from recent snow.

Abbott said that forest users must be concerned with and utilize good judgment when driving their vehicles in areas where the possibility of soil and vegetation damage may occur. He noted that off-road damage caused by imprudent use of vehicles on the National Forest can lead to serious soil erosion, gully formation, and watershed damage.

Increasingly restrictive regulations and closure of areas to off-road vehicle use are the result of such abuses in the past. Public awareness, concern, and cooperation are requested in helping to prevent this kind of damage in the future.

Seafood sale coming up

The Ruidoso High School DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) chapter is sponsoring its semi-annual truckload seafood sale Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12.

Proceeds from the sale will finance the club's attendance at the National DECA conference this summer in New Orleans, Louisiana. More money is made by the club on all orders placed early. Order forms are available at Gibson's, Safeway, the Ruidoso Post Office and the high school.

The seafood truck will be parked at Gibson's parking lot from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. March 11 and 12. Those who have not placed orders are also welcome to buy directly from the truck.

Seafood available includes Alaska salmon, whole salmon, halibut, cod, red snapper and Pacific walleye filets, scallops, Alaska crab legs, shrimp, lobster tail and seafood batter mix.

Anyone wanting additional information can contact DECA sponsor Eddie Parker at the high school or at 378-4844.

Downs trustees to meet

Ruidoso Downs trustees, meeting Monday, will try to come up with a means of matching $200,000 in State Highway Department funds available for paving village streets. The village must commit itself by March 1 to providing the matching funds if it is to receive the state grant.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. at the municipal building.

Other business on the agenda includes:

- Itinerant merchant ordinance.
- Boyle Engineering amended report on the water system.
- Contract for police officers.
- Proposed mobile home ordinance.
- Approval of zoning map prepared by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

County commissioners to meet

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners will meet Tuesday, March 1, at 10 a.m. at the courthouse in Carrizozo.

Agenda items include:

- Budget transfer for road department overtime salaries.
- Bid opening for banking services.
- Bid opening for annual contract for base course.
- Bid opening for chips.
- Herkenhoff and Associates on the Carrizozo Administration Building and final pay estimate.

- J. L. Wilson concerning the counseling center.

- Appointment of Joint Use Board member.
- Review of carpenter applicants.
- Road inventory.
- Discussion of community service block grant.

FIRST PLACE OVERALL winner at the White Mountain Middle School science fair Friday was Marcie Mullican for her project with insulators. Mullican received a trophy and will compete in the regional science fair competition in Roswell. She will also be able to attend the national high school science fair in Albuquerque, along with the other winners from White Mountain. Capturing second place overall was Hamilton Carter; third place winner was Billy Harrison; and receiving honorable mentions in the overall project competition were Scott Thornton, Corky Rank and Kelly Casey.

Brewer, Lopez exchange vows

Cheslee Brewer and Todd Lopez, both of Ruidoso, were married the afternoon of Saturday, February 19, at the home of Mrs. Neva Garcia in Ruidoso.

The bride is the daughter of Laura Brewer of Ruidoso. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lopez of Ruidoso Downs.

Pastor Harmes of Alamogordo performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by Grady Hobbs.

The bride's attendants were Angela Davis, maid of honor, Michelle Lopez and Bridget Jones. Steve Garcia was best man, and the bridegroom was also attended by Bobby Dominguez and Mike Chavez.

The couple is at home in Ruidoso. The bridegroom is employed by Builders Lighting, and the bride is employed by McDonald's.

GOP Women advised on protection from crime

"Protect yourself and your home" was the message given to Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County at their recent monthly meeting.

Ruidoso police lieutenant Dave Pfeffer and communication-detention officer Roxanne Box presented a program on self and home security to the group.

Stressing common sense measures rather than weapons, Pfeffer outlined locking doors, leaving lights on indoors, deadbolts, barking dogs and being alert as ways to secure one's home against intruders.

"A burglar is a sneak," he said. "Anything you can do to thwart him will protect your valuables."

For self protection, Pfeffer and Box demonstrated simple self-defense measures to use if grabbed. "Go for the vulnerable places," Box advised.

Again stressing common sense, she recommended avoiding situations where physical tactics would be needed. She cautioned the group not to walk alone in the dark and advised carrying a flashlight or "paralyzer" Mace, and "if you have the chance, run and scream."

When asked about the advisability of carrying a gun, Pfeffer replied, "Remember, any weapon you carry could possibly be turned against you."

Pfeffer and Box concluded their talk by informing the group they are available to offer classes on self-defense to interested parties.

During the business meeting preceding the program, the State Legislative Committee requested members to write to their legislators encouraging them to vote for House Bills 8 and 9. These bills would provide for stiffer sentencing of criminals.

The members were also encouraged to write in favor of House Bills 40, 41 and 42 addressing protection of victims of crime; against House Bill 264 which would threaten retired teachers' pensions; and against a bill which would cut bookmobile funds.

Awards chairman Jackie Rawlins announced that the group lacks only two items to qualify for the Diamond Award, the most prestigious award given by National Federated Republican Women at their convention in Louisville, Kentucky, this fall.

Members also voted to give a scholarship to a deserving Republican student in the county. Details will be available later.

The group's next meeting will be Tuesday, March 15, at a time and place to be announced.

For additional information, contact Dorothy Smith at 354-2499 or Dorothy Barber at 258-3348.

New Thought Group to meet

The Ruidoso New Thought Group will meet this Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. at village hall. Guest speaker will be Dr. H. M. Beatty, a practicing chiropractor in Albuquerque.

Beatty has been a metaphysician for 15 years and is currently a lecturer for Science of the Mind.

His topic for the meeting is "The Art of Self-Responsibility," which will address how it is that life is like a mirror challenging us to determine what really makes us happy; why we attract into our lives certain people and circumstances; and how our physical bodies reflect our outer life.

The public is welcome to attend the meeting. There is no charge. Refreshments and fellowship will be available for those who come early at 7 p.m.

The Ruidoso News SPORTS

Around Sports

with Gary Brown

The Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team may have been eliminated in the first round of the district 3-AAA playoffs, but the Warriors still managed one of their best-ever seasons.

True, coach Sergio Castanon's girls finished the season with a 4-7 district record and a 9-13 overall mark. However, only two of the Warrior losses were by more than nine points. Ruidoso was in almost every game it played, particularly during the district season.

"I would say this season was a fair one but not a satisfying one," Castanon said. "We had some good talent but we just couldn't win the close games. The thing that makes me want to come back and get ready for next year is the idea of winning some close games."

The Warriors' offense was at times inconsistent during the course of the season. Senior Kody Taylor led the Ruidoso scorers in most of the games and Claudia Branum got in her share of points. However, the Warriors seldom had more than one or two players scoring in double figures for each game.

Ruidoso also played better at home than on the road. That's the way it is with most teams, but it seemed harder for the Warriors to win on the road than most teams. Only one of Ruidoso's district victories came on the road, a 51-43 decision over Tularosa High School.

In the end, a six-game losing streak in the last stages of the campaign took the thrill out of the season for the Warriors.

After Ruidoso had defeated Deming High School 52-51 several weeks ago, the Warriors found several ways to lose games.

Perhaps the most heartbreaking loss

Ruidoso received was a 56-55 thriller at the hands of Truth or Consequences High School last week. The lead changed hands a number of times during the course of the game before a last-second shot by Ruidoso bounced off the backboard as the game ended.

That game was typical of most of the Warrior contests this season. It could have gone either way. However, Ruidoso lost most of the close games on its schedule and that, in the final analysis, is why the Warriors didn't qualify for the state AAA division tournament.

Still, the 1982-83 campaign was a vast improvement over the 1981-82 season. Ruidoso only won two games last season and was winless in district action.

With the basketball season coming to an end, many of the Warrior cagers will compete on the track team this spring.

Mescalero to host tourney

Mescalero Community Center will be the site of a basketball tournament Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 4-6.

The tournament will have open competition and competition for men six feet tall and under. It will be sponsored by the Mescalero Little League football program.

Only the first 10 teams that sign up will be accepted. There is an entry fee of $50 and the deadline is Wednesday, March 2.

Both the championship and consolation brackets will have trophies for the top four teams. There will also be a sportsmanship trophy awarded, an all-tournament team picked, and a Most Valuable Player honored.

For more information, contact Harrison Carrillo at 671-4494, extension 243, or Albert Platta at P.O. Box 262, Mescalero, NM.

Rue top Ruidoso finisher at state

Henry Rue won three matches to highlight the Ruidoso High School wrestling team's performance in the state AAA tournament at Aztec High School Friday and Saturday.

Rue, a 128-pound senior, lost to the eventual state champion in his third match of the tournament after winning his first two matches. Rue won his fourth match but lost a chance to finish in the final four when he suffered a decision loss in his fifth match.

Eight other Warrior wrestlers competed in the tournament, with 185-pound Gary Burgess and 167-pound Scott Ciraulo also winning matches. Burgess won two matches and lost another when his opponent scored a reversal in the last 20 seconds to beat him by one point.

Ciraulo won one match and lost two in his weight division.

"Gary wrestled well," said Warrior head coach Gerald Ames. "He lost to the eventual state runner-up."

"Henry also wrestled very well. He lost to the state champion, and if he had won one more match, would have finished at least fourth."

No other Warrior wrestler won a match, but all of them did well against tough competition.

Sophomore Gervase Pese lost both of his matches in the 130-pound competition, but one of his defeats was to the eventual state champion.

Junior Chad Surmick—in his first season of competitive wrestling—wrestled as well as he's ever done, according to Ames. He lost both of his matches to tough foes in the 105-pound division.

Chuck Schmidt at 112 pounds, Randy Pierce at 119 pounds, David Swalander at 145 pounds and freshman James Her-raera at 157 pounds all did well against tough competition.

"It was a good experience for us," Ames said. "Only three of the guys are seniors, and the exposure to the state tournament atmosphere should help us for next season."

"We did fairly well. Next season we hope to do better."

Albuquerque Academy won the state championship with host Aztec High School second and Los Lunas High School third. Bloomfield High School was fourth and Tucumcari High School fifth.

RUIDOSO TO PLAY WILDCATS IN TOURNEY

Warriors beaten by Tularosa, Cobre

The Ruidoso High School boys varsity basketball team ended the regular district season on a losing note over the weekend, falling to Tularosa High School and Cobre High School on the Warriors' court.

Ruidoso fell to Tularosa by a 78-43 score Friday night before dropping a 59-22 decision to the top-ranked Indians Saturday night.

As a result, the winless Warriors (0-19 on the overall season) will travel to Tularosa Tuesday night for the first round of the district tournament. Tularosa finished in third place in the district 3-AAA standings. The game will start at 7 p.m.

The Warriors gave Tularosa a tough battle in the first half Friday night before falling behind in the second half.

Ruidoso took a 4-0 advantage in the first two minutes of the contest on buckets by junior Gilbert Rivera and freshman Dan Ullmann. The Wildcats came back to tie the score at 4-4, but Curtis Palmer hit a short jump shot to put the Warriors back on top at 6-4.

However, the visitors outscored Ruidoso

6-2 the rest of the quarter for a 10-8 first period break advantage.

Tularosa gradually increased its lead in the second quarter and took a 32-23 edge into the locker room at halftime. Ullmann, who led the Warriors' scoring with 18 points, scored six of those in the second period.

The Wildcats broke the game wide open in the second half, outscoring the Warriors 28-10 in the third quarter for a 60-33 lead going into the final period.

Tularosa increased its margin even more in the final period as the young Warriors made several turnovers. Tularosa's 6-5 center Chris Cerny had control of the inside game most of the second half and scored 33 points for the entire contest.

Besides Ullmann's 18 points, Rivera scored seven points and Palmer six for the Warriors. Palmer also did a good job on the boards against Cerny.

The game with powerful Cobre Saturday night was never in doubt.

The Indians showed why they were undefeated in district play as they jumped off to an 8-0 advantage early in the first quarter.

Ullmann hit a bucket to put the Warriors on the scoreboard four minutes into the quarter, but the Indians kept the pressure on and led 16-6 at the end of the opening period.

The Indians opened the game up even more in the second quarter, outscoring the Warriors 18-6 for a 34-12 halftime advantage.

Cobre's half-court trap press forced Ruidoso into numerous turnovers, and the Indians' 6-6 center Brad Darnell dominated the inside game.

The second half was all Indians again as Cobre led 46-16 at the end of the third period.

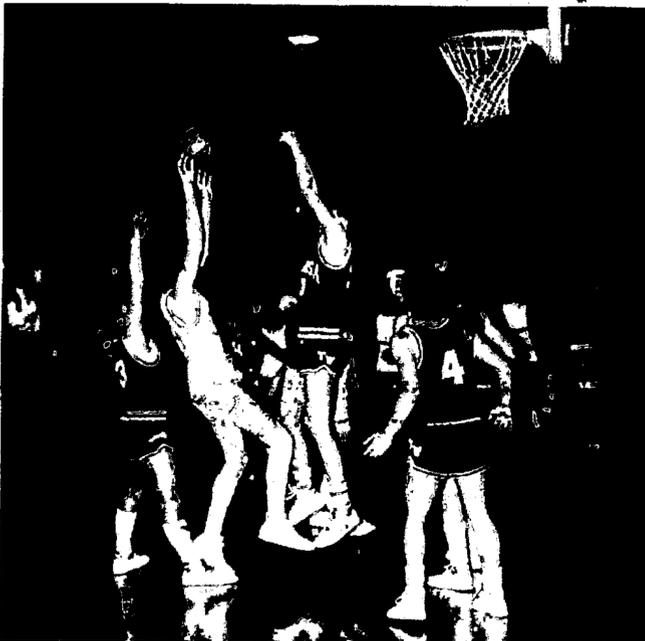

Darnell led all scorers for the game with 18 points. Several other Indian players scored nine or eight points.

Palmer led the Warrior scoring with eight points, while Grady Williamson added six.

"We played well against Tularosa in the first half," said Warrior head coach Ron Geyer. "However, our inexperience hurt us in the second half and we fell behind. Against Cobre, our kids were just intimidated from the opening tip. They're a very good team, ranked first in the state." Despite the two losses, Geyer said he was still proud of his players.

"They've never quit," he said. "They've stuck in there all season and that's hard to do when you're 0-19."

Geyer plans to use all seniors and juniors for the playoff game against Tularosa.

HIT A BUCKET. Curtis Palmer (light jersey) of the Ruidoso High School basketball team shoots the ball over the heads of some Tularosa High School players during Friday night's game in the Warrior gymnasium. Palmer and his teammates lost to Tularosa by a 78-43 score.

Ruidoso junior varsity falls to Tularosa, Cobre

The Ruidoso High School boys junior varsity basketball team ended the regular district 3-AAA season with losses to visiting Tularosa High School and Cobre High School over the weekend.

Tularosa toppled the Warriors by a 51-43 score Friday night and Cobre belted Ruidoso 57-44 Saturday night. Ruidoso ended the season with a 4-12 record.

The Wildcats took a 12-8 first quarter advantage over the Warriors in Friday night's contest and led the rest of the way.

Freshman Mark Langston led the Ruidoso scoring with 10 points. Dan Ullmann, Russell Easter and Stanley Sluder each added seven points for the Warriors.

Cobre led most of the way in Saturday's game. The Indians took a 24-15 lead into the locker room at halftime and built their advantage to 16 points several times in the second half.

The Warriors closed the gap to 10 points,

46-36, in the final period. However, the visitors built their edge up to the final margin with some good free throw shooting.

Langston again led the Warrior scorers with 10 points. Ullmann added eight points while Easter canned three field goals for six points.

Ruidoso will compete in the district junior varsity tournament next Saturday at Deming High School.

Warrior girls junior varsity splits

The Ruidoso High School girls junior varsity basketball team split a pair of games in the district 3-AAA tournament Saturday afternoon at Silver City High School.

Ruidoso defeated Tularosa High School by a 25-22 score in the opening round before losing to Cobre High School 28-26 in the semi-finals. Silver City won the championship.

Coach Sergio Castanon took just six girls to the tournament.

Gia Rose sparked the Warriors' effort against Tularosa, scoring 12 points. Tahnee Doak added seven points.

Against Cobre, the game was close all the way. The Indians hit a bucket with 10 seconds left for the final margin of victory. Ruidoso came down the court and tried to score, but the shot failed to go in.

Rose again led the Warrior scorers.

tallying eight points. Sheila Espinosa added seven points and Doak scored five.

"I thought the girls played well, probably two of the best games they've played all season," Castanon said. "They're all going to have to help us next season. I lost six girls off the varsity squad to graduation."

"Hopefully the girls will work out a lot during the off-season and be ready for next season."

Taylor, Branum make all-district first squad

Seniors Claudia Branum and Kody Taylor of the Ruidoso High School girls varsity basketball team have been selected to the all-district 3-AAA first team.

Taylor was the Warriors' leading scorer and was also a fine playmaker. She had a single-game scoring high of 33 points.

Branum was a fine scorer, rebounder and leader. She improved as the season went along.

Sophomore Stacy Ivy of Ruidoso made the honorable mention list.

Truth or Consequences High School won the district tournament title, defeating Cobre High School Saturday night. Both teams will advance to the state AAA division tournament in Albuquerque this coming weekend.

TIGERS STILL IN REGIONALS

Weed tops Capitan for title

The Capitan High School boys varsity basketball team ran into a hot-shooting Weed School squad Saturday night at Hagerman High School and lost the district 5-A tournament championship by a 57-50 score.

Despite the defeat, the Tigers will advance to the regional tournament Friday night at Hagerman. Capitan will play Vaughn High School at 6 p.m. Weed will take on Corona High School in the other semi-final game.

If Capitan beats Vaughn, it will advance to the state tournament in Albuquerque March 9-12 even if it loses in the regional final Saturday night. The Tigers are 17-4 on the overall season.

Weed got off to a fast start and never trailed the Tigers. The winners led 15-7 at the first-quarter break and increased their margin to 32-23 at halftime. Weed shot 50 percent from the field in the first half.

Capitan closed the gap to three points in the third period, but Weed built its advantage back to nine points, 46-37, at the quarter break.

The Tigers outscored Weed 13-11 in the final period but it was not enough.

Robert Parker led the Tiger scoring with 11 points and also grabbed nine rebounds. Jon Todd Aguilar added 10 points while Eddie Davis scored nine points and Danny Cummins eight. Davis and Todd Proctor each added six rebounds.

Paul Norris led the Weed scoring with 20 points, while Randy Elkins added 17 points and Mike Helms had 12.

"Our guys played pretty well," said Tiger head coach Kendall Lawlis. "They hustled well and played well on defense but we just couldn't shoot inside well."

"They matched up pretty well with us. They had a couple of guys over six feet tall."

Lawlis is now concerned with Vaughn. "We scouted them and they aren't as big as us, but they have one really good shooter," he said. "Corona is the same way. Neither of them is as big as we are."

Winter Turns The Corner

The old folks used to say that the Winter is about over when you hear the first thunder; and today, February twenty-five, the light gentle rain is falling to the accompaniment of thunder booming from every direction, and echos reverberating and bouncing from hillside to hillside across the vale. Foreshadowing this sign of winter's turning point are the first of the spring colors showing in the trees: the reddish brown of the willow bushes along the river; the maroon-purple of the apple trees in the orchards and the light green of the poplar and cottonwood buds eager to burst into leaf. This rain following the snow in the valleys is the maple, and the chocolate and the butterscotch on top of the ice cream of the snow, getting Mother Earth ready for the most glorious Spring in many a day.

The Beautiful Daughter

Of Darwin Tinnle Browning
One line in an old popular song of the 1920s goes: "Every cloud must have a silver lining."

The bright spot in funeral services is the way people gather in fond respect at the time when one of us is called Home; and the many friends you see who grow more dear to our hearts with the years.

Up at Lee Lawing's home the day before his services there was a smiling young lady who said:

"You don't remember me."
The memory, which has been the marvel of my family all these years, slips out of

Monday, February 28, 1983
gear into neutral these days just when I need it most, plunging me into the most wretched embarrassment; and I tried to bluff my way through, fumbling for her name through my short-circuited brain, when she said:

"I am Bill Dick's daughter."
It was almost like seeing Bill Dick himself for she is the very image of her famous and colorful father, a dear friend of all of us in the twenties and thirties, and especially the Storm Brothers and most especially, Mark.

Bill Dick, whose full name appears above, was a remarkable bronc rider and all around cowboy, and also one of the most gifted fiddle players ever to send his strains of music echoing in Lincoln County. The old saying: "They broke the pattern when they made him," is especially true of this unforgettable fellow.

A thick book could be written about him going over his many remarkable gifts, outstanding among which were a love of horses, a great sense of humor, and most of all, what we used to call "personal magnetism" or charm.

This is where his daughter, Betty Browning McCracken, is a true chip off the old block: The same red hair, the round face, the smile, the good looks, and most of all the charm.

It was great to see Betty again after remembering her as a child. Her home is now in Las Cruces, where she follows the calling of a nurse. I am going to send her a picture of her father taken on his next to the last visit to his brother, Dude, my next door neighbor and life-time friend.

A Few More

February Birthdays
It turns out that Harvey Bonnell's birthday is February twenty-two. This makes him and his brother, David, a patriotic pair; for Dave's birthday is the fourth of July. Cody Browning's birthday is right along there somewhere. But this afternoon I can not get in touch with anybody to tell me something about the birthdays. We will catch them later on.

Birthday Of Our Brother Joe

Our brother Joe, (Joseph Duffield Storm) was born February twenty-eight, 1913 in Denver, Colorado in the home of Grandpa and Grandma Kennedy on Fox Street.

He made the trip back to Alaska with us when we went to Juneau, where Lynn was born. From childhood he had a spiritual turn of mind serving as an altar boy in the Episcopal Church in the different cities we visited in our moving from place to place.

At the University of Texas he majored in Economics, but followed the calling of a journalist. In 1936 he served as editor of the Daily Texan, the school newspaper. There is a picture here in the house of Joe and Walter Cronkite who was assistant editor.

At the University, Joe ran cross country and the mile, and was co-captain of the track team his last year.

He was editor of the Sweetwater paper (I forget the name), the San Angelo Standard Times, and The Wichita Falls Post.

Later on he worked in the agricultural department in public relations under Secretary of Agriculture Wallace; and in Rural Electrification under administrator, Claud Wickard. Before entering the Army in 1944 he was editor of his own crusading newspaper published in Washington, D. C. entitled: "SPADE under the surface."

What he always called the happiest days of his life were spent here in Lincoln County at the home place. One of our dearest friends, Jim Jackson, during the depression days, gave Lynn and Joe a beautiful horse with almost human intelligence for pay for hoeing cabbage during the summer. (We used to raise cabbage in the valley).

The horse's name was "Buttermilk". And Lynn, seeing how attached Joe was to the horse, said:

"You can have my half of him, Joe."
Lynn's "bread cast upon the waters" was returned in the form of a very wonderful horse called "Socks," on account of four white feet.

Joe rode Buttermilk from the place here up to the Wingfield dance hall and the Navajo dance hall in Ruidoso, and over the hill to Eagle Creek to visit "Bonita City Lou."

Joe served as an infantry intelligence scout in World War Two; and fell in Germany February 25, 1945 — thirty-seven years ago today.

Different elements come together in high school honor band

Talent ... Perseverance ... Hard Work ... Concentration ... Timing ... Practice ... all are characteristics, attitudes and behaviors required of musicians. You can see it on their faces and you can hear it in their music when they play.

Junior and senior high school honor band students from seven area school districts combined their talents recently during an all-day clinic and rehearsal session and concert. The result was a clear expression of the motivations and dedications of these young musicians.

The honor band was hosted this year by Ruidoso High School, supported in part by the Chapter II fine arts program funded by a federal block grant.

The junior high school group was led by retired University of New Mexico (UNM) professor James Whitlow, and the senior high band was led by UNM professor Harold Van Winkle.

The evening public concert was the culmination of a full day of practice, hard work and instruction, during which the audience was afforded a glimpse of the reward for all that goes into being a musician.

Yours and Ours

Inside The Capitol

by Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—It's all supposed to be simple arithmetic.

All a Legislature should have to do is estimate how much money the state will take in during the next fiscal year. Then it estimates what it will take to run state government during that same period.

You subtract the smaller of those numbers from the larger, and that tells you what to do.

If estimated revenues are larger than estimated expenses, the state is in good shape. You can end the year with a surplus, as New Mexico did so frequently in the past few years.

If estimated expenses are larger than estimated revenues, you have to raise taxes; our Constitution forbids us to operate with a deficit.

But there is one key question, often overlooked, which becomes all the more vexing as the present legislative session goes on: How good are the estimates of revenues?

Predicting the future is tough. Predicting the economic future is even tougher.

The fact that the state is presently in a tight spot is a result of poor predicting in just that area. None of those who do this arcane sort of prophesying for the government of New Mexico predicted that the Depression would be so depressing here. They were wrong.

Now it might be worth noting that those making the present predictions are the identical ones who were in error before. The Anaya administration did not replace them with newer and clearer heads. About all it did was say, "Well, back to the old drawing board."

In fact, if anything, we have too many people in the present administration making such predictions. You almost get the impression Anaya has a whole rank of numbers he can pick from, using one set one day and one another, as he changes his mind with great rapidity.

The number the Governor's staff seems to use most frequently (though they are hard to track, those shifty little devils) is an estimate of $1.15 billion in income for the next fiscal year.

This writer finds that incredible.

That would be a jump of more than 9 percent over the present year's expectations—and we don't even know those are correct yet.

The national economy isn't going to go up by 9 percent in the next year, and every indication would suggest that New Mexico's economy is worse, not better, than the nation's.

What's more, in a state which is still too dependant on oil and gas for the lions' share of its income, present convolutions in the Middle East and elsewhere do not bode well for us. Every time the price of domestic oil drops a dollar a barrel, we lose $2 million a year in direct revenue to the state's coffers; some think we may lose as much as $10 million in direct and indirect revenue combined.

Here's how the head of the House Taxation and Revenue Committee put it here last week: "I don't think anyone can be certain of these projections, even for next week."

He's right, of course. Nobody can be sure of them.

So what the lawmakers are doing may be an exercise in futility.

Look for conservatives in both houses to begin hammering harder and harder at that very point as this session moves into its last three weeks.

Look for more frequent head-on confrontations between the honest doubts of the old-timers and the sanguine outlook of the youngsters on the Governor's team.

And look for the governor to lose the battle.

Letters to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

A STITCH IN TIME!
It has recently come to light that the Directors of the Ruidoso-Sunland Inc. have apparently decided to ban all activities which use the race track facilities.

This would mean that we would no doubt lose the Mule Races, Chili Cookoff, Arabian Horse show as well as other events.

My letter to Mr. Donald F. Smith, General Manager, follows. These events bring business to Ruidoso and the loss will affect many of us.

Mr. Donald F. Smith
General Manager
Ruidoso-Sunland, Inc.
P.O. Box 1
Sunland Park, NM 88063

Dear Mr. Smith:

At our Council meeting on 2-22-83 your letter, dated 1-24-83, addressed to Mr. Melvin Means, President of the Ruidoso Downs Mule Skimmers, was discussed.

In this letter to Mr. Means you advised that the annual Mule Races could no longer be held at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track. You have no reason for your refusal except to say that the Ruidoso-Sunland Board of Directors had made the decision on October 15, 1982.

As a stockholder, I question the action taken four months ago with no apparent notice to the Stockholders. Had Mr. Means not written you, many of the 1983 activities would have found out too late that facilities used in the past would no longer be available and have to be cancelled.

The Track and the entire area depend on the tourist trade and nothing should be done to adversely affect that fact. If your decision was the result of problems in the past, I would suggest that strong guidelines be established to cover the conduct of any organization using your facilities. If guidelines were not followed—then—ban the activity. But—don't ban everyone with one swipe of the brush.

As it appears at this point your decision to ban all activities and organizations from using the track facilities is arbitrary and should be reconsidered pending a meeting with a group of responsible citizens and/or our Chamber of Commerce. Many other activities excluding Mule Races depend on your facilities at the track and to locate elsewhere will be very difficult.

We are proud of the Ruidoso-Sunland Race Tracks which add much to the character of our City and we hope that your Board of Directors will reconsider and let us know what we can do to resolve this difficult situation.

Yours very truly,
J.A. "Al" Jung

DEAR EDITOR:

In a recent issue you published a letter I sent in concerning pilots.

My letter was prefaced with a copy of a letter written by a fifth grader to the South Carolina Aviation News.

The punch line was found in the reasons this boy gave for wanting to become a pilot.

He mentioned such benefits as the fact that pilots don't need much education since all they need to be able to read is numbers. He then informs us (among many other imaginative qualities a pilot must have) the need to be brave so he won't get excited if a wing falls off, and the need for good eye sight so he can see through the clouds if it's foggy.

None of this boy's letter was included when my letter came out in the paper.

I imagine the reason this little tidbit was omitted probably was that it was too lengthy, I don't know, but the point is that my letter without this little fellows "epistle" made absolutely no sense.

I'm hoping that you will print this explanation, so people will stop asking me if I landed on the wrong end when I fell out of the tree, or was it too much Jim Beam.

Thanks
TOM WILLIAMS

Editorial

Talk of recession, slowdown and slump—and discouraging economic news in general in recent months—had created a state of mind here and elsewhere that bad times were the status quo.

Thus it was refreshing when plans were unveiled for the $16 million Ruidoso Royce Hotel at Snowflake Ridge.

The hotel, with a planned opening date 22 months from now, will be the center of a development to eventually include condominiums, townhouses and residential lots.

It will offer 181 rooms, two restaurants, a ballroom and four meeting rooms, as well as other amenities.

We were hearing about so many big development projects for a while there that they began to lose their impact. But this one, coming when it does, serves as a welcome reminder that Ruidoso's bright future is in the long run unclouded.

Quality development, and preservation of our area's abundant natural beauty and our town's character, will assure prosperous times ahead for the whole community.

So to the Ruidoso Royce developers, thank you for your confidence.—TP

"Tell me it ain't so, Melvin." That was my thought when Melvin Means, president of the Ruidoso Downs Mule Skimmers, laid the bad news on me last week that Ruidoso-Sunland decided not to allow the use of Ruidoso Downs Race Track for this year's mule races.

My reaction wasn't based on a snap calculation of the huge blow Ruidoso will take in the pocketbook if the mule races don't happen. I have since spent some time documenting that.

No, what caused my anguish was the fact that I like the mules. And I like the people who bring the mules, and I like the people who put the whole thing together.

So the thought of an October without the mule races was downright dismaying. And that was before I really began to think about and talk to people about the ramifications of no mules.

Now that I have, the thought is downright frightening.

"I think it's going to hurt Ruidoso a whole lot if we don't get to have the mule races," said Mule Skimmers director J. B. Rogers Jr.

His comment pretty well sums up the situation.

The Mule Skimmers firmly believe their meet is (or was) the biggest and best anywhere, ever. And they are justifiably proud of how far the event has come in just four years.

"There is no other mule meet that has put so many people in the grandstand as this one last year," said Rogers. J. B. should know, because he and his wife Gayle race their mules all over the Western United States.

"I think it's a shame," Gayle told me. "We have a real good association and we thought we had a real good rapport with the track people."

One thing no one has been able to pin down is a reason why the Ruidoso-Sunland board decided to exclude all but its own events from the track. Melvin Means wrote a letter to the board January 13, asking for a place on the agenda of their next meeting.

He received a reply from Ruidoso-Sunland general manager Donald F. Smith dated January 24. The letter said the board had discussed outside use of the racetrack in depth at its October 15 meeting, and voted unanimously to cut it off.

So three months passed before anyone knew about the new policy.

"I think it stinks," said Mule Skinner director Dave McMath. He brought up the fact that others besides the local business community stand to lose if the mule races don't take place.

The high school DECA club, which has had the grandstand concessions, will be out a major source of revenue. The high school athletic department and a children's charity have also benefitted from the mule events.

But in terms of dollar volume, it's the Ruidoso area economy as a whole that will feel it the most if the mules can't come. Dave gave the example of a mule owner from El Paso who rented 35 rooms last year at the biggest motel in town.

Those people eat, buy gas and party while they're here, he noted. Gayle Rogers told me out-of-town people make plans from year to year to come here for the races, and that families usually come as a group, bringing friends.

A lot of folks, according to Joyce McMath, come a few days before the races and stay a few days after.

Dave pointed out that the mule events grew from a "Sunday afternoon" type gathering of 60 or 70 people in a span of about seven years.

"This could turn into another little All-American," he said, recalling that the "World's Richest Horse Race" has come a long way since its relatively humble beginnings.

But Dave told me he can see the racetrack board's reasoning in cutting off outside events.

"They just got fed up with so many requests, as far as I can see it," he said.

Although the Mule Skimmers were evidently the first group to get permission to use the track facilities, succeeding years have seen hunter-jumper and Arabian horse events, and last year the chili cookoff took place in the racetrack parking lot.

It is easy to see that the more groups use the facilities, the more potential exists for problems, and apparently there have been some. From what I can determine, the Mule Skimmers have gone out of their way to leave the track in as good or better shape than they found it.

And that track is the only facility in this area that can accommodate a big mule meet. Lubbock has been mentioned as an optional site, Joyce McMath told me, because it has the nearest sizable racetrack.

Ed Hyman feels we have two chances to keep the event. The first is to build a bush track somewhere around here.

A disadvantage with this, he noted, is that it would require a large investment, land costs being what they are. Obviously, the world's nicest bush track still wouldn't be Ruidoso Downs.

The second chance is to get with Ruidoso-Sunland; lay down strict guidelines for use of the track; put someone in charge and make him responsible.

"I think it's possible that this thing can be worked out to everyone's advantage," said Hyman.

I certainly hope so. And though I'm not going to suggest we bombard the Ruidoso-Sunland board members with calls and letters, I don't think it would hurt to clip this column and put it in the mail to Don Smith, P.O. Box 1, Sunland Park, NM 88063.

It seems important that they know how deeply their new policy affects this community.

The Mule Skimmers know they are not in a position to dictate policy to the racetrack. J. B. Rogers Jr. put it this way: "We're just sort of on our knees a' beggin' for it."

AVOIDING TRAVEL PROBLEMS
 No one likes to anticipate trouble, but the best way to keep your vacation running smoothly is to be prepared for any eventuality. Here are some useful tips.

...
 Carry travelers checks instead of cash; keep the receipt which shows your check numbers separate from the checks themselves. Keep a tally of which checks you have used, and where. If you lose your checks, report the loss immediately.

 Keep track of your credit card numbers; leave this list in your luggage rather than your wallet for easier reporting if cards are lost or stolen. And again, report the loss immediately; while most credit card companies limit your liability to $50, if you can report the loss before the card is used you are liable for nothing at all.

...
 In case you lose your passport abroad, report it to the local police; the receipt they give you will at least serve as local identification. Also report the loss to the nearest American consulate. Carrying two spare passport photos, a notarized copy of your birth certificate, and a copy of your passport number will speed up the replacement process. Best bet is to carry, in a safe place, a photocopy of the first two pages of your passport.

 For a trouble-free holiday, contact your travel specialists at Ruidoso Travel.

CONVENIENT DRIVE UP WINDOW

BETTER INSULATION AND FIRE PROTECTION are two benefits of the foam form construction being used for the new Hondo School. The school was almost totally destroyed in a June 1982 fire. Here principal Rufino Sanchez points out a section of a foam-concrete wall on the new $1.3 million building. Sanchez said construction is moving on schedule and the building should be ready this fall. Cillessen and Son Incorporated of Albuquerque is the contractor.

At H&R Block we guarantee our work.

This year with over 100 changes in the tax laws and forms, you have more chances of making a mistake. And that could mean an IRS audit. If H&R Block prepares your taxes and you're audited, we go with you at no added cost. Not as your legal representative, but to explain how your taxes were prepared. If we make a mistake and you owe additional tax, you pay only the tax. We pay the penalty and interest.

H&R BLOCK

The new tax laws. This year's number one reason to go to H&R Block.

Little spoofs Robin Hood

On "Rich Little's Robin Hood," airing on HBO Feb. 28 and Mar. 6, the merry men of Sherwood Forest sound suspiciously like Groucho Marx and George Burns.

In Little's innovative spoof of Sherwood Forest, the master impressionist dons an array of colorful costumes and wigs, creating a comical cast of 14 crazy characters.

Among them are two sheriffs of Nottingham modeled after Laurel and Hardy, Friar Tuck as a law student who develops the courtroom technique of Raymond Burr and an Evil Prince John who plays his tough-guy role in a Humphrey Bogart-like manner.

"I had a lot of fun casting the various parts. I think Groucho as Robin Hood is a natural because the story really is a farce, you can't take it seriously," Little said in a recent telephone interview from Los Angeles.

"The fact that I am doing all the parts is a plus. I pictured Richard Nixon as Richard the Lion Hearted and that idea really appealed to me. I did Carol Channing for Robin's sweetheart, Maid Marian. By the way — I'm better-looking than Dustin Hoffman's 'Tootsie.' People who have seen the show tell me that they have to keep reminding themselves that all of the characters are Rich Little."

Rich Little as Groucho Marx

The original one-hour production was written by an idea I have for doing on Little and is similar in format to "Rich Little's 'A May do it, if they get someone else to play Christmas Carol," which has become an annual Alice."

Yuletide tradition on HBO.
