Golden aspen trees mingle with evergreen trees near Sierra Blanca Ski Resort. Cool weather and short days have caused aspens to change their colors, but time is running out to enjoy them.

Driver in accident wrongly i.d.'ed

The Ruidoso News incorrectly identified the driver of a car involved in a fatal automobile accident early Saturday morning.

Harry Austin Ensor III, 17, died as a result of injuries sustained in the accident. The story in Monday's Ruidoso News reported that the car involved in the accident was driven by H. A. Ensor II, father of the victim. This information was incorrect.

According to State Police in Roswell, the younger Ensor was driving eastbound on U. S. Highway 70 when he lost control of the 1981 Pontiac Trans Am and struck a bluff near Riverside.

The younger Ensor was pronounced dead at the scene of massive head and chest injuries.

The only passenger, Dwight Blaney, suffered head injuries and was taken to Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital. Blaney was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

The News regrets the error and any grief it may have caused family and friends.

High enrollments discussed

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

Discussion about rising enrollments, higher education needs, and effectiveness of the sixth period athletic program dominated the school board meeting Tuesday evening.

Superintendent Sid Miller reported a total of 1,776 students, an increase of 21 over the number projected. Rising enrollments appear to be affecting lower grades now, but concerns exist about next year, especially in the middle school.

"Roger (Sowder) is calling every 30 minutes for another teacher," said Miller, referring to Nob Hill's rising needs for kindergarten and primary teachers.

Middle school principal Texie Cole said this year's sixth grade totals 155, and this concerns her when they will be transferring to seventh grade.

Miller made the point that increased classrooms are needed as well as increased teachers.

H. Ray Bishop presented a copy of a survey done regarding whether there is a need shown in Ruidoso for post-secondary education. He presented this to the school board for study.

Miller presented the possibility of introducing college credit courses in the high school. The board accepted a copy of the survey and Miller said the topic would be presented in the November agenda.

Football coach Ron Maskew and high school principal Tom Hansen gave a report on how this year's sixth period athletic program is working.

Maskew said two of the main goals behind the program were in getting children home earlier for safety reasons and so they would have time for study. He made the point that students would be home earlier in the winter when streets might pose more of a problem.

Board member Lynn Willard asked whether students could receive all necessary requirements for graduation in the other five periods. Hansen said yes and that students are in a position of having to make choices and compromises.

"You can't run a high school without conflicts," he added.

In other business the board: Approved a budget increase of $22,409 in the Chapter I program. According to associate superintendent Mike Gladden this money was threatened in the Reagan administration but interest has been renewed. Plans include a teacher's aide for Nob Hill Elementary and a teacher at the middle school. He added that a teacher for remedial classes is also a possibility.

Approved authorization to file Public Law 81-874 for school year 1983-84. This is money received for children whose parents live or work on federal property.

Approved adding an additional school bus on a temporary route, as suggested by Don Weems.

Approved a supplemental contract for BIA reimbursement of lunches served to Indian children who are ineligible for free lunches.

Heard a report from Miller on the building on the new high school, no new plans made.

Approved a call for bids for fleet insurance on school-owned vehicles.

Approved a bid for sale of used vehicles and equipment, which will be opened at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 8, at the meeting to be held in the White Mountain Elementary School cafeteria.

Heard a report by Shirley Neuhaus about the bilingual program she works with at the school. Neuhaus said she often acts "as an ombudsman" for the students and does whatever she can to make adjustments for children easier.

Viva Mexico! Council okays $25,000 for ads

by TIM PALMER
News Editor

In order to take advantage of what Chamber of Commerce president James Paxton called "a very unique and special opportunity," the village council allocated $25,000 Tuesday for advertising in Mexico.

Councilman Frank Sayner's motion to approve the expenditure, with Benny Coulston's second, passed on a 3-1 vote. Sayner, Coulston and Al Junge voted in favor; Don Dale voted against.

The action came after a lengthy discussion. Lodgers' Tax Committee (LTC) member Rod Adamson explained the proposal. The spending breakdown is $10,000 for printing of 50,000 Ruidoso brochures in Spanish; $6,000 for advertising in the AeroMexico airline in-flight magazine; and $9,000 for advertising in Mexico City newspapers.

Adamson said LTC supported the proposal, but that it did not have money in the lodgers' tax budget to fund it.

Paxton explained that the concept is to identify Ruidoso as a place that accepts pesos. He said two of the local banks have agreed to go along with the plan.

Coulston questioned Paxton and Chamber executive director Ed Jungbluth about the degree of cooperation from local businesses. The councilman expressed concern that a lack of cooperation could harm Ruidoso's reputation if people felt they had been misled.

Paxton said a lot of Chamber members had been contacted and response was very favorable. Jungbluth indicated the plan would be fortunate to have 25 to 30 percent participation the first year, but he predicted it would snowball as it caught on.

It was brought out that Sierra Blanca Ski Resort has not committed to accepting pesos.

Ruidoso Lodgers Association president Robert Ivey said his group is wholeheartedly behind spending the $25,000. He estimated 75 to 80 percent of local lodgers would be willing to take pesos and to work with travel agencies.

Jungbluth said he is optimistic the state would pay the cost of the brochures. He also noted that skiers among the large American community in Mexico City are a potential market.

Village manager Jim Hine suggested that the money, which will come from last fiscal year's ending budget, be termed a "temporary cash transfer." That way it can be paid back anytime in the next two years from lodgers' tax or other revenue, he said.

Sayner amended his motion accordingly, and it passed by the 3-1 margin. Dale explained that though he thinks it is a great idea, not enough homework was done.

From all indications, Ruidoso will be the first American resort to institute such a plan to widely accept pesos. But Jungbluth pointed out that Mexico is a proven market for Ruidoso.

Dale had expressed concern about the position of the Mexican government on citizens taking money from the country. He was assured by the Chamber representatives and Mexican businessman Arturo Lojero that this is not a problem.

In other business Tuesday, the council:

Accepted village attorney Lee Huckstep's interpretation of the animal control ordinance: "In my opinion, our current Ordinance requires an animal to be on a leash if it is beyond the boundaries of the premises of the animal's owner. If the animal is within the boundaries of the premises of the animal's owner, then the animal does not need to be on a leash."

Huckstep said the interpretation is simply his legal opinion and should not be taken as a directive to the municipal judge.

Heard Junge say about the legislation that allows for the November 8 election on increasing the size of the village council. "This law is absolutely stupid." He also said the end of the neighborhood mail box issue has not been heard. Coulston informed him this is the week the Postal Service has invited complaints.

Approved a restaurant liquor license for The Fantail Restaurant for Janet Southwick.

Was informed the village is ready to go to bid on Sewer Assessment District 5 (Alto Crest).

Approved Ordinance 83-14, regarding the appointment of a temporary municipal judge. The action repealed Ordinance 83-11.

Set 1 p.m. Monday, October 31, for public hearings on two appeals of Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) rezoning denials from Lincoln County Investments and White Mountain Development.

Heard from P&Z chairman Greg Masters on the need for requiring certified plot plans for the placement of mobile homes. Masters said P&Z is "plagued" with requests for variances for mobile homes.

Huckstep and Masters are to meet to discuss drafting of the requirement.

Heard assistant village manager Frank Potter and Huckstep report on progress to arrange for paving of Church Street.

Approved items previously approved by P&Z.

Lodgers endorse peso plan

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

The Ruidoso Lodgers Association (RLA) voted Tuesday to endorse a proposal for the Village of Ruidoso to spend $25,000 for advertising in Mexico, after hearing a presentation by Chamber of Commerce president James Paxton.

The Association members at the meeting, however, agreed that it will be up to individual lodgers to decide if they wish to accept Mexican currency at their establishments.

"This could be something that might really give us a boost," said Paxton of the Mexican advertising and program to accept pesos. "We feel like the lodgers would be the most direct beneficiaries."

Paxton agreed that a list of those lodgers willing to accept pesos will have to be drawn up for Mexican travel agents to use.

Travel agents are popular in Mexico, said Paxton, because people can make reservations and pay the travel agent in pesos. The travel agent, in turn, sends a check to the lodger written in American dollars, said Paxton.

Lodgers can ask for anywhere from 10 to a 100 percent deposit from travel agents, said RLA members.

Paxton said language should be no problem because the Mexican travel agents speak English.

In spite of their ability to speak English, Alicia Carpenter, co-owner of Dan Dee Cabins, said difficulties can arise when agents make reservations for four people and 10 show up in Ruidoso. Carpenter said lodgers should be clear about the number of people reserving a room, especially making sure children are counted.

RLA vice-president Don Wenner asked about a toll-free number. He said travel agents like to have free numbers to call and suggested possibly establishing a central toll-free number for Ruidoso.

Paxton said he did not know whether there would be any toll-free numbers available, and that exact mechanics of the peso program and reservations would have to be worked out. He said a brochure listing individual lodgers' numbers would probably have to suffice this year in place of a central number.

Paxton said many local businesses have been accepting pesos for years with no difficulty. Although it can be somewhat frightening when accepting strange currency for the first time, he said, education and experience should make it easy.

He also said the Chamber plans to put together an information packet, possibly containing examples of Mexican currency, to be distributed among local businesses.

He said First City National Bank and Ruidoso State Bank have agreed to accept pesos. He suggested calling Preston Isaacs at Ruidoso State Bank and Joe Loving or Gary Carter at First City National Bank with questions about exchanging pesos.

Alicia Carpenter suggested distributing 50,000 Ruidoso brochures in a wider area than Mexico City. She said cities such as Monterrey and Chihuahua, which are within driving distance, are important markets as well.

Paxton said that might be possible and noted that proposed advertisements in the AeroMexico in-flight magazine would be seen all over the country.

Carpenter said increased Mexican trade could be especially helpful during Easter.

Lodgers also discussed a one-quarter percent gross receipts tax that would be used for promotion of Ruidoso.

RLA board member Clark Carpenter said he is embarrassed that Ruidoso has only $56,000 for its yearly advertising budget, and that he believes the quarter percent tax should be a top priority. "I would like to see the Chamber go for this," said Carpenter.

He said the Chamber and RLA could go before the council asking for their approval of the idea. If the council approved the idea, the Chamber, the council and RLA could ask the State Legislature for authorization to raise the tax.

Charlie Johnson, Robert Ivey and Wenner agreed to present the proposal to the Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting, Wednesday, October 19.

Realtors hear Mexico pitch

by BILLY ALLSTETTER
News Staff Writer

Arturo Lojero Tuesday asked Ruidoso Realtors to accept pesos for their sales and to contribute $50 to $100 from each sale towards advertising in Mexico.

"This is a gold mine," Lojero said of Ruidoso. "The market for you is Mexico."

Lojero, native Mexican and owner of the Texas Club, has been promoting a program to accept pesos in Ruidoso.

The village council Tuesday night allocated $25,000 for advertising the program in Mexico (see related story).

Lojero told members of the Multiple Listing Service many Mexicans have plenty of money but have been traveling to the United States in fewer numbers recently because of the difficulty obtaining American dollars in Mexico.

He indicated that if Mexicans know they can bring pesos to Ruidoso and spend them here, they will flock to Ruidoso in very large numbers.

"If we work all together, I promise you one thing: in three more years to bring 160,000 people every winter," said Lojero.

Ruidoso is especially attractive for Mexicans since it is the closest place they can find snow, said Lojero. He noted the U.S. Open ski race will also be a big attraction for Mexicans.

He suggested the idea of organizing a golf tournament in Ruidoso with a Mexican celebrity as host.

Lojero said both First City National Bank and Ruidoso State Bank have agreed to accept pesos. When Sam Richardson expressed concern about a change in the exchange rate during the 10- to 30-day closing period for real estate sales, Lojero predicted the peso will remain stable during the next three years.

Lojero suggested advertising in two

Mexico City newspapers and the AeroMexico in-flight magazine. He said it would also be good to take a video tape of Ruidoso to Mexico City for showing.

He said between 28 and 32 percent of the homes in Ruidoso are owned by Mexicans. Other cities near the Mexican border have even higher percentages of Mexican ownership, he said. Close to 45 percent of the homes in Coronado, California, are owned by Mexicans; and almost 70 percent of the homes in the Brownsville, Texas, area are owned by Mexicans, according to Lojero.

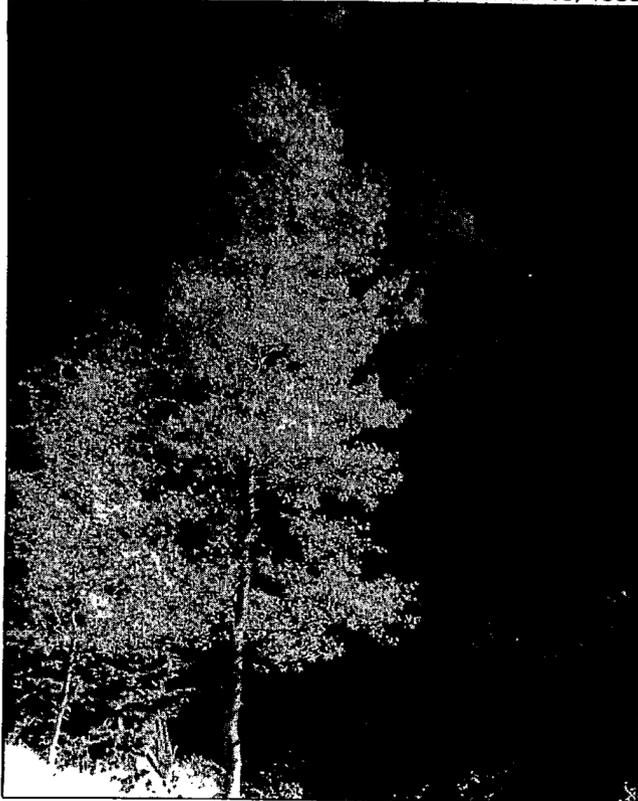

He said Ruidoso should concentrate on Mexico City because that is where a large majority of his country's wealth exists. He also mentioned Monterrey and Guadalajara as centers of Mexican wealth.

Lojero said merchants in Texas cities such as Laredo, San Antonio and Houston have all benefited by accepting pesos.

The National Weather Service in Albuquerque is predicting sunny and warmer weather Thursday. Winds will be southerly winds at five to 15 miles per hour becoming variable at less than 12 miles per hour Thursday night. Thursday night and Friday will be fair with breezes picking up again Friday. The extended forecast calls for continued fair weather with mild days and cool nights.

The aspens are turning!

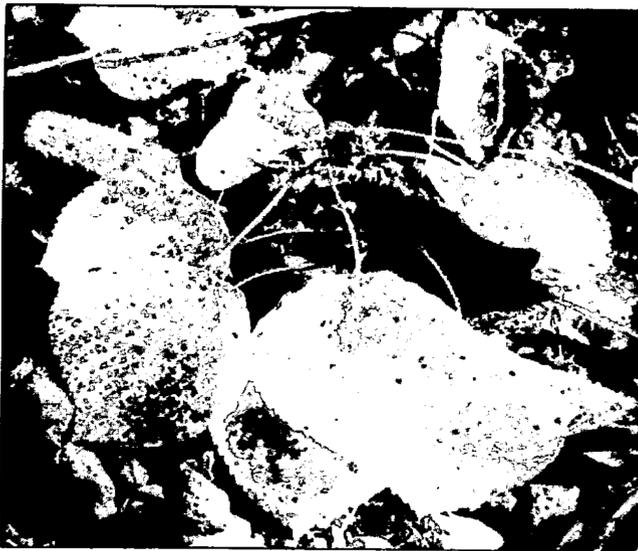

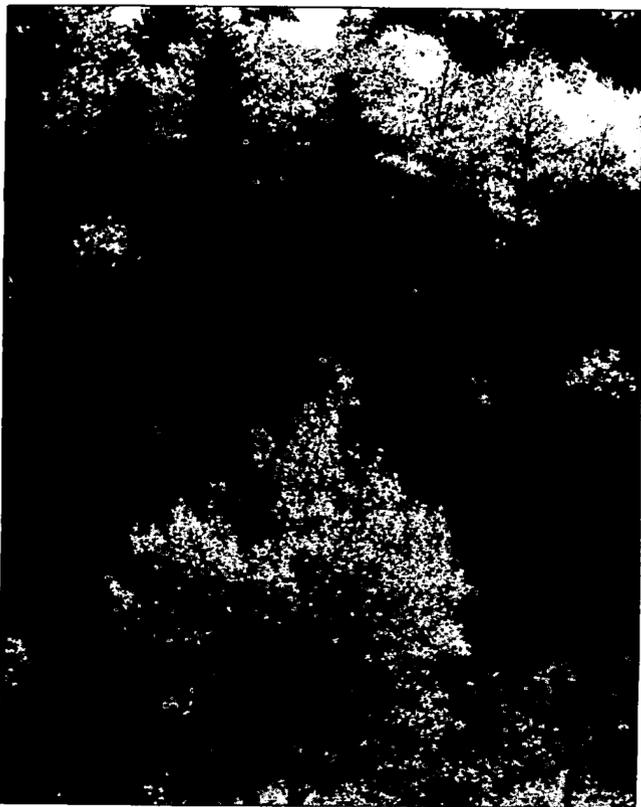

The bright colors of fall are in full bloom throughout the Ruidoso area. While oaks, maples and Virginia creeper brighten the lower elevations, aspens color the high country. On a leisurely drive up Ski Run Road one can see the golden groves of aspens mingle with the deep green conifers. Monjeau Lookout and Sunspot in the Cloudcroft area are other places to see the turning aspens. Anyone who wants to see the full colors of fall should get out this weekend because the turning trees are peaking now. For more information about viewing the fall colors call the ranger stations at Ruidoso or Cloudcroft.

New to the Spanish department at Ruidoso High School is Lynda Sanchez.

Sanchez has previous teaching experience and travels frequently to Mexico. She believes this is not only helping her to complete a book, but adds to her teaching of history and culture of the language.

She is researching material for a book on the Apache Indians and sometimes writes for New Mexico magazine. One of her most loved projects is a biography of writer Eve Ball.

At the high school Sanchez teaches Spanish I and II, and English as a second language. She is interested in teaching Spanish in adult classes if there is enough interest.

Schools schedule meeting Monday

The Ruidoso School Administration would like to invite all school patrons to participate in an in-service meeting to be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, October 17, at the White Mountain School cafeteria.

The overall purpose of the meeting will be to discuss local educational improvements and to encourage innovative cooperation between business and schools. The program will consist of a large group discussion of progress made since our in-service day the first of the school year. In addition, we will have reports by State Representative M.B. McGuire, who will talk about what other schools are doing and what he sees the Legislature's role will be.

Linda Hawthorne and Kathy Weems will discuss a recent seminar they attended. The seminar was presented by Senator Pete Domenici in conjunction with the Association of Commerce and Industry of New Mexico.

The meeting will break up into small groups for further discussion, and then a panel of educators and community business people will respond to questions from the whole group.

The administration has asked for formal input from leaders of our community and there will be some participation from them. Any and all other interested patrons are urged to attend and become involved in our discussions.

Coming up ...

Angus Church to celebrate

The Angus Church of the Nazarene will join 7,000 churches around the world Sunday, October 16, in celebration of the Diamond (75th) Anniversary of the Protestant Church of the Nazarene.

The Angus congregation will begin its celebration with a morning worship service at 10:30 a.m. in Gunstream Memorial Chapel. Music and sermon will emphasize the Wesleyan doctrine of holiness as a major part of the denominational heritage.

During this service, guests born in 1908 (the founding year of the Church of the Nazarene), those at the organizational service of the local church in 1916, and guests who have Nazarene "roots" will be recognized.

Following the service, those present will share a basket lunch and 75th anniversary cake at the Fellowship Center. Immediately after the meal, LaMoine Peters will show aspen tree color slides taken in the area. Chloe Peters, church historian, will present a summary of local Church history. Denominational and local church memorabilia will also be on display.

The congregation and guests will form a caravan and drive to the site of the former Providence Church of the Nazarene (between Nogal and Capitan) at 2:30 p.m. This brief heritage service will climax with a ringing of the Providence Church steeple bell by LaMoine and Opal Peters.

The Church of the Nazarene comes from a series of mergers between many local and regional religious bodies in the United States and Great Britain which arose from the Wesleyan Holiness Movement of the late 19th century.

The principal merger, which is regarded as the founding date for the Church of the Nazarene, occurred 60 miles north of Dallas in Pilot Point, Texas, on October 13, 1908. Nazarenes from across the country are returning to Pilot Point for Diamond Anniversary celebrations on October 13, this year.

Today the Church of the Nazarene has grown to a constituency of more than 1.25 million, with an active membership of approximately 750,000.

Everyone is cordially invited to share in all planned activities at the Angus Church of the Nazarene. Those persons with Church of the Nazarene "roots" of whatever nature are extended a special invitation to attend.

Republican Women

Yvonne Lanelli, a delegate to the National Federation of Republican Women convention in Louisville, Kentucky, will speak to the Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County at their regular meeting Tuesday, October 18 at Gregson's Restaurant in Ruidoso. A business meeting begins at 11 a.m. with lunch and Lanelli's report following.

Lanelli will report on the topic, "Closing the Economic Gap." While in Louisville, she heard President Reagan; Secretary of Transportation Elizabeth Dole; Director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor Leona Cole Alexander; and five U.S. Congresswomen speak on this subject.

All Republican women in Lincoln County are invited to attend. For further information call Dorothy Smith at 354-2499 or Lanelli at 336-4733.

Lioness Club

Rio Ruidoso Lioness Club will have its regular meeting at noon, Tuesday, October 18, at Cree Meadows Restaurant. All members and guests are invited to attend.

Mormon Church

The Church of Latter Day Saints will conduct services at Flying J Ranch at 10 a.m. Sundays until further notice.

Alamo reunion

The Alamogordo High School class of 1964 is planning a 20 year reunion. It is scheduled for July 6, 7 and 8, 1984.

Those who have graduated or who have the addresses of other graduates may write: Carol Ann Stanfill, P.O. Box 1406, Alamogordo, NM 88310.

Bible Study

Dennis McKinley of Rodeo Cowboy Ministries will complete his series on "Prosperity" at tonight's Bible study at the home of Jim and Jann Hickerson, 219 Spring Road.

Music will be provided by Letha and Terry Wireman and Kathy Craig.

Alto Ladies

The Alto Ladies' Golf Association had their weekly card games October 6. Door prize winner was Ruth Wimberly. Bridge winner was Nettie Hug. Marie Sager won the Skp Bo card game.

The day for the card games has been changed from Thursday to Friday. Time remains 12 noon, and reservations can be made through the clubhouse.

For further information call Ruth Thornton at 336-8216.

MARY ALLRED

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Allred of Capitan announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Mary to John C. Jourdan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Jourdan of Hobbs.

Wedding vows will be exchanged at 9 a.m. Saturday, November 12, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Capitan. The bride-elect, a graduate of Capitan High School, attended Marymount College in Salina, Kansas, and the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque.

She is employed by First City Financial in Ruidoso. Her fiancé graduated from Hobbs High School and the University of New Mexico. He is an employee of W.A. Jourdan, Incorporated.

Essay, art contest continues

Young artists and writers are reminded of the essay and art contest on the theme of world hunger. Entries will be accepted at Ruidoso Public Library until October 22 for the Universal Children's Day contests.

The contests are open to youths under age 16. The theme of the contest is, "Hungry Children—A Challenge to the World's Conscience." Youths may enter one or both contests.

Essays should be 1,000 words or less, and should include suggestions on how to reduce world hunger. Any size drawing or painting done by the entrant may be submitted, as long as the subject is related to children and nutrition.

Winners will be announced on the library bulletin board October 29. There will be a first and a second prize in each contest.

More information is available in a display at the library. The United Nations acknowledged October 1 as Universal Children's Day.

Who will be Ms? Ruidoso

The Rio Ruidoso Lioness Club is sponsoring the upcoming Ms? Ruidoso Contest to help pay for traffic control lights at the White Mountain Schools.

Local males will dress up as females and compete in the bathing suit, evening gown and personality competitions. The lucky man chosen as Ms? Ruidoso will win $100. Cash prizes will also be awarded for second through fourth prizes. Masters of ceremonies Sir John Carver and Sir Roy Norman will also present a consolation prize and a prize for Ms? Congeniality.

Lioness Joyce McMath said numerous contestants have entered the contest but that there is still room for more. Lionesses will help each contestant with wigs, eyelashes, makeup, nails and costume. Pamela of Pam's Hair Affair has offered her talent for help on wigs and makeup.

The contest will be at Jerry Dale's, 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday, October 19. Tickets are available from any Lioness, the Chamber of Commerce, KREE radio station or Casey's Cabins. Tickets cost $4. Proceeds from the contest will go towards the Lioness project to install flashing yellow lights for school zone speed limits at the White Mountain Schools.

Deyo installed

Jane Deyo of the Altrusa Club in Ruidoso was installed as district governor-elect at the international conference October 6-8 in Albuquerque.

Altrusa, founded in Nashville, Tennessee, in 1917, is one of the pioneers of women's classified service clubs for executive and business women in a cross-section of careers. Members work on service needs within their own communities and support three international projects—literacy, grants-in-aid for women graduate students studying outside their home countries, and vocation aid for women who are changing careers or reentering the work force.

The Ruidoso club is one of 594 in 17 countries. District 10 includes 26 clubs in Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

Others from Ruidoso who attended the conference in Albuquerque were Liz Munro, Nancy Shaver, Wilma Sandoval, Kathy Echols, Kathy Barnett, Coni Foster, Shirley Neuhaus, Ellen Miller and Barbara Duff.

Camp Sierra Blanca is a minimum security institution of the state Corrections Department. It is located a short distance from historic Fort Stanton and holds 70 men.

Ruidoso resident Georgia Kirk was one of the original founders of the group there and remains active. Members expressed thanks to her and all others in Ruidoso who have given their time to keep the group active.

Dr. Arlene Brown

Dr. Arlene M. Brown of Ruidoso has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice. She is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice.

To qualify for the examination a physician must successfully complete three years of residency training in family practice.

The latest group of diplomates brings the total number certified to more than 30,600.

Dine-A-Friend

The staff of the Ruidoso Care Center extended thanks to the Ranch House Restaurant for sponsoring Dine-A-Friend last week.

Participating Care Center residents were Billie Stark and Frank Sherman.

Cub Scouts

Ruth Vail is a new den mother for the Conquistador Council local Cub Scout group. Vail has 35 new kids in her group.

Some children have difficulty buying shirts because of money, she reported. She is asking those who can to donate shirts no longer needed. For information, call 257-2103.

OptiFair '83

Dr. T. T. Marquardt and Rita Evans recently returned from OptiFair West '83, a three-day meeting at Anaheim, California.

They listened to lecturers from all parts of the country talk about eye health, contact lenses, general practice, low vision, vision training and practice management.

Support group

Late last month members of a support group for alcoholics from Camp Sierra Blanca held a cookout to honor local Ruidoso people involved with the group.

Ruidoso to face defending champion Bulldogs

Several Ruidoso High School varsity football players converge on a Hot Springs ballcarrier in last week's game. Shown are Eric Strobel (27) and Chuck Jarrell (21). The Warriors will need some good play on defense Friday night when they play the defending state champion Artesia Bulldogs.

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

Although the Ruidoso High School varsity football team won't be playing a district opponent this weekend, the Warriors will face a very competitive opponent when they travel to Artesia Friday for a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Artesia is the two-time defending state AAA division champion and is ranked third in the state in both the Associated Press and United Press International polls despite a 1-4 record.

The Bulldogs have lost to New Mexico AAAA division powerhouses Roswell, Carlsbad and Hobbs and Texas power Kermit.

"I'd say they're better than Portales," said Warrior head coach Darrel Stierwalt. "They're about equal to T or C (Hot Springs)."

That's saying something since Hot Springs defeated Ruidoso 29-7 last week.

The Warriors will have to stop Artesia's powerful running game out of the I formation.

Leading the way for Artesia is 5-6, 140-pound tailback Jeff Sanders. Sanders gained 1,400 yards last season, but has been injured part of this season and his status for the Warrior game is undetermined. "He's a great back," Stierwalt said. "Probably one of the best in the state."

Shawn Smith, a 5-11, 160-pounder, is the Bulldog quarterback. Jim Munoz is another running threat with speed.

Chris Hernandez and Thomas Navarrette anchor the Bulldog offensive and defensive lines. Hernandez is a 6-0, 200-pound guard and Navarrette is a 6-0, 215-pound tackle. Tackle Tagger Guinan, a 185-pounder, is another standout.

"We're not as talented as last year and not that big, but we're gaining confidence and becoming a good football team," said Artesia head coach Mike Phipps.

But the Warriors are also improving, although the scoreboard may not show it.

In last week's loss to Hot Springs, the Ruidoso offense gained 284 yards running and passing. Junior fullback George Gresham gained 169 of those yards on the ground.

However, fumbles hurt the Warriors, particularly in the first half.

The 190-pound Gresham formerly played in the offensive line, but his presence in the backfield gives the Warriors some extra speed and power.

Senior quarterback Cyrus Simmons completed five of 12 passes for 86 yards against the Tigers and did a good job directing the team. He will probably start against the Bulldogs.

Sophomore Russell Easter will probably see some time at quarterback, also.

Eric Strobel and Michael Williamson will share the halfback duties. Justin Smith and Mike Smith will alternate at wingback and split end. Sophomore Bobby Dickinson will go at tight end.

Craig Carson and Kip McClellan will be the starting guards. McClellan was switched from tackle when Gresham moved to the backfield. James Herrera will go at center while Gary Burgess and Kevin Jameson will start at tackle.

On defense, Burgess and Jameson will start at end. Herrera and Carson will go at tackle. Burgess, a senior, had a good game against Hot Springs, particularly as an offensive blocker.

Either Dickinson or Jesse Reynolds will go at middle linebacker. Justin Smith and Wade Proctor are scheduled to start at outside linebacker.

Easter and Kenny Espinosa will go at safety, while Mark Johnston and Chuck Jarrell will start at cornerback.

Tigers seek to better 1-4 record

Team records can be deceiving, and an excellent example of that is the Capitan High School varsity football team.

The Tigers, who are 0-1 in district competition and 1-4 overall, will have their Homecoming game at 7:30 Friday night when they host Cloudcroft.

Capitan has lost to four teams with a combined record of 22-1, and the Tigers have been in every ball game through the third quarter.

"It's hard to tell how good or bad we are," said Tiger head coach E. C. Jenkins. "We've been in all our games."

The Tigers will be facing a Cloudcroft team that lost to Reserve 21-0 two weeks ago. Capitan lost to Reserve 35-20 last week, but the game was very close until the final quarter. Cloudcroft also lost to Tatum 35-0, while the Tigers fell to the same team by a 21-7 score.

Does that naturally make the Tigers a favorite Friday?

"You can't always go by comparing scores," Jenkins said. "I figure we'll have to play our best to win the game."

The Tigers don't have as much depth as last season, but they do have excellent talent.

Tailback Danny Cummins and wingback Tim McElhannon are both breakaway threats.

Warrior frosh host Roswell

The Ruidoso High School freshman football team will be going for its second victory of the season when it hosts Roswell at 6 tonight.

The Warriors opened the season last month against Roswell on the latter's field and lost a 42-8 decision.

Ruidoso, 1-2 on the season, is coming off a 28-14 loss to Goddard of Roswell last Thursday. The Warriors did a good job moving the ball, but were hurt by mistakes. Roswell beat Goddard 8-6 earlier in the season.

Quarterback Jeff Willingham and split end Brian Davis have been the top offensive standouts for the Warriors this season. Halfback Bryan Mack is a good receiver and runner, and fullbacks Chuck Daniels and Billy Harrison have run well with the ball.

Ruben Herrera is the starting center while 191-pound tackle Jason Hill gives the Warriors some good size.

The Ruidoso passing game has sparkled in the first three contests. Against Goddard, Willingham hit Davis with a 30-yard pass for a touchdown. Davis also had a 90-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

"We're trying for some more balance in passing and running," Warrior head coach Ron Geyer said. "Offensively, we've got to get our passing and veer working."

On defense, Harrison, Daniels and Davis have done well at linebacker.

Bubba Miller, Mack, Sid Garcia and Phillip Wright will probably see a lot of playing time in the defensive backfield.

Capitan spikers host Cloudcroft

Capitan High School's varsity volleyball team will host district rival Cloudcroft Friday as part of the Tigers' Homecoming.

Capitan is 10-1 on the varsity level and 9-0 on the junior varsity level. This will be the junior varsity's final match of the season. There will be two junior high matches preceding the high school competition. The first junior high match will begin at 1 p.m.

The varsity Tigers are coming off a 15-12, 11-15, 15-6 victory over Carrizozo Tuesday night. Last Saturday Capitan lost its first match of the season, a 12-15, 15-6, 15-10 decision to

Ruidoso spikers play Deming

The Ruidoso High School volleyball team hopes to continue its improved play when it travels to Deming Saturday for a district 3-AAA match with the Wildcats.

Competition will begin at 1 p.m. with the junior varsity match. The varsity match will follow.

Ruidoso lost to former district foe Tularosa in both varsity and junior varsity competition Tuesday on the latter's court. However, the varsity showed improvement in dropping a 15-8, 15-10 decision.

"The girls played very well in the second set," said Warrior head coach

Pixie Arthur. "We had a lead on them, but then made some mistakes and lost."

Tularosa led most of the way in the first set, but the Warriors took an early advantage in the second set.

The Warriors led 9-7 before the hosts outscored them 8-1 for the victory.

"We had some good performances off the bench," Arthur commented. "Particularly from Kristi Douglas, Diane McClure and Keri Thomas."

"We played better in the second game than the first one because we managed to get a lead. In the first set, we were behind most of the time."

Ruidoso's junior varsity lost a 15-0, 15-2 decision to the Wildcats.

"I played 16 girls in the match," said Warrior junior varsity coach Nancy Hollander. "This was the first bad game the team has played this year."

The Warrior varsity is now 1-3 on the overall season and 0-3 in district 3-AAA action. Ruidoso's junior varsity is 3-7 overall.

How does Arthur view Deming?

"They're a pretty good team," she answered. "About the same as Dexter (a team the Warriors lost to last month). In order for us to beat them, we're going to have to go out on the court and be aggressive."

Deming defeated the Warriors 15-2, 15-3, two weeks ago in the Warrior gymnasium. The junior varsity Deming squad topped Ruidoso 15-13, 15-7. However, Ruidoso has improved since then.

NOTES: Defending champion Hot Springs and Silver City rate as the favorites in the district race... Arthur thinks Silver City and Texico are the best teams the Warriors have played so far, but Ruidoso hasn't met Hot Springs yet.

Colts develop Little League grid dynasty

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

There have been many dynasties in sports. Teams like the Boston Celtics in basketball, the old New York Yankees in baseball, the New York Islanders in hockey, and the Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Raiders in football have become household names to sports fans everywhere.

But here in Ruidoso, the nearest thing to a sports dynasty is the Colts of the Ruidoso Little League football program.

The Colts, competing in the Major Division of the league, have won the "Super Bowl" crown every one of the nine seasons the league has been in existence. For eight years the Colts were coached by Ronnie Taylor and a number of assistants. Last year Virgil Reynolds and Lynn Willard coached the team to the league championship and an undefeated season. The two coaches are the team's mentors again this season. Both Willard and Reynolds had previously been assistants to Taylor.

Taylor said. "We lost to the Broncos, Cowboys and a team from Capitan."

What has been the key to the Colts' success? "I would say we had good ballplayers, plus a lot of team spirit and pride," Taylor answered. "We built up some tradition and the new players drafted to the team would try a little harder because of that tradition. It always seems to work that way."

In the Ruidoso Little League Major Division, players 10 to 12 years old can compete. The draft works in reverse order of the way the teams finished the year before. The team with the poorest record drafts first and the defending champion drafts last.

Over the years, a good number of Colt players went on to play for Ruidoso High School and White Mountain Middle School.

Some of the former Warrior stars who played for the Colts included Russ Pior, Ronald Bell, Randy Bell and Jose Almager. Several members of the present Ruidoso High School team played for the Colts.

Starting quarterback Cyrus Simmons starred for the Colts several years ago, as did defensive back Kenny Espinosa. The Jameson brothers—Kevin, Kyle and Kerry—all played on Taylor's teams.

What was the best team Taylor ever had?

"I would say my last one (1981)," he said. "We went unbeaten and unscored upon."

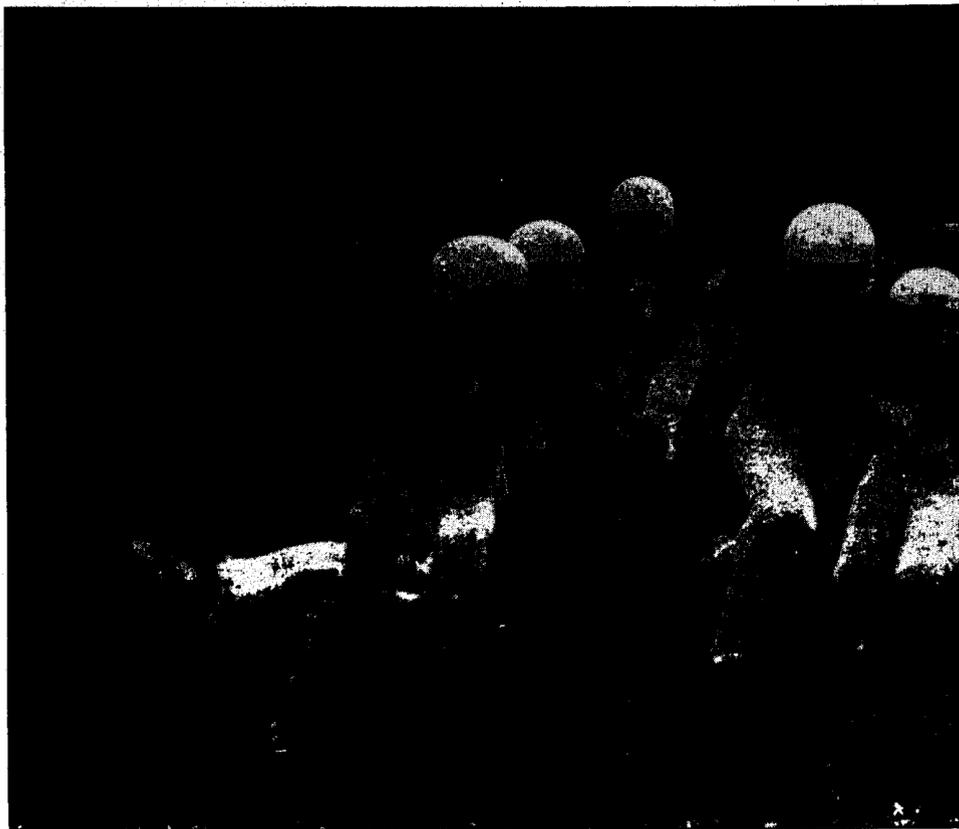

Several people feel this might be the year some team other than the Colts captures the Little League championship, particularly since they were tied by the Broncos three weeks ago.

But the Colts again showed their class last Saturday, blanking the previously undefeated Steelers 20-0. The Colts are now 2-0-1 and the Steelers are 2-1.

"This year's team is about the same as last year's," Reynolds said. "They're playing ball. They're going to be hard to beat."

The Colt dynasty may or may not end this season, but the team has left a permanent mark on local youth sports.

It is truly a sports dynasty.

Cody Willard of the Colts Little League football team takes off on a touchdown run last Saturday against the Steelers. The Colts won the game 20-0 to move their record to 2-0-1. The Colts have won the Little League

Major Division championship nine straight years. There will be three Little League games this Saturday at White Mountain Middle School.

It's beginning to sound like a broken record, but the Dallas Cowboys are again the top ranked team in my National Football League (NFL) ratings this week.

Dallas at 6-0 is the only undefeated team in the NFL, despite a series of unimpressive victories.

Last Sunday the Cowboys had to go to an overtime to down the winless Tampa Bay Buccaneers 27-24.

The Cowboys have been lucky, but most good teams are lucky. Also, Dallas can strike for a touchdown quicker than any team in the league. The Big Play can turn a game around quickly.

The defending Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins are ranked second, even though they've looked more impressive than Dallas.

Washington has a 5-1 record and seems to be getting better with each game. The Redskins are strong in virtually every aspect of the game. The only reason Washington is rated lower than the Cowboys is because Dallas topped the Redskins by a point in the season opener.

The Los Angeles Raiders are rated third. Los Angeles has struggled a bit in the past two games, but the Raiders are still 5-1, the best record in the American Conference (AFC).

Los Angeles can play conservative, grind-it-out football, or go for the bomb. Its defense is better than ever, having allowed just 94 points in six games.

New Orleans is ranked fourth after its exciting 19-17 win over the Atlanta Falcons.

The surprising Saints are 4-2 and tied for the National Conference (NFC) Western Division lead with the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers.

New Orleans has a tough defense and an offense built around standout running back George Rogers and veteran quarterback Kenny Stabler. Stabler may be almost 38 years old, but he's still a good clutch quarterback. In his prime, Stabler may have been the best come-from-behind quarterback of the past 15 years.

The Rams are ranked fifth because of their 10-7 win over previously fourth-ranked San Francisco.

Los Angeles has a rugged defense and one of the best offenses in the league. Rookie running back Eric Dickerson is proving he's one of the NFL's premier running backs, and quarterback Vince Ferragamo is a talented signal-caller.

A host of teams are given honorable mention.

Buffalo, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Minnesota, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cleveland all have 4-2 marks.

Baltimore is probably the biggest surprise of the young season. The Colts have been hapless the past two seasons, going winless in nine games last year and having a 2-14 record the previous season.

Since it plays in the well-balanced Eastern Division of the AFC, Baltimore has a fair chance at making the playoffs this season.

Buffalo is not an outstanding team, while the New York Jets and Miami have been struggling so far.

Youth football, soccer to continue Saturday

The Ruidoso Soccer Association and Ruidoso Little League football seasons will continue this Saturday at White Mountain Middle School.

In gridiron action, the 3-0 Hornets will play the 0-3 Lions at 9:30 a.m. in a Minor Division game. Major Division play will see the 2-1 Steelers meeting the 0-3 Cowboys at 10:30 a.m. and the 2-0-1 Colts playing the 1-1-1 Broncos at 11:30 a.m.

Under-14 soccer action will see the 3-1 Burke Collins Rowdies playing the 2-1 Mountain Sports Tornado at 10 a.m. At 2 p.m. the Tornado will take on the 1-3 Pioneer Savings Strikers.

In under-10 play, the 1-2 McDonald's Bandits will tangle with the 0-2 Security Bank Celtic at 11 a.m. and the 3-0 Coulston and Associates United squad will play the 1-1 Gibson's Cobras at 2 p.m.

Under-seven action will see United playing the First City National Bank Sting at 1 p.m.

Warrior runners will meet tough competition

The Ruidoso High School cross-country team will meet some tough competition when it runs in the Lovington Invitational Saturday.

Many of the top AAAA and AAA division teams in the southeastern part of the state will compete in the invitational, which will begin at 11 a.m.

Warrior coach Ronny Maskew will send a team of five runners to the meet. They include Cisco Bob, Curt McClellan, Francisco Olvera, David Ordorica and Gabe Tam.

Bob finished third in the Pecos Valley Invitational last month with a 16:36 time. The talented junior should be one of the top runners in the state before the season is over. He finished second in the AAA division state track meet 1,500 meters last spring.

Ordorica finished 18th in the Pecos Valley Invitational and McClellan took 20th. McClellan, a junior, has had an injured foot recently but should be okay to run at Lovington.

McClellan finished third in the state 800 meters last spring and has an excellent kick. Ordorica, a champion youth boxer and only a sophomore, has been a consistent runner, as has Olvera.

Tam, only a freshman, is also looking good.

"He's looked real good in practice," Maskew said. "I don't think he's ever run before this."

Ruidoso will host the district 3-AAA meet Saturday, November 5. No actual course has yet been determined. The state AAA meet will be after the district meet.

Correction

In Monday's edition of The News, it was mistakenly reported that Shane Watts scored two goals for the United under-10 soccer team.

It was actually Shane Wells who scored the two goals.

The News regrets the error.

by GARY BROWN
News Sports Writer

White Mountain Middle School will be very active on the football field the next couple of days.

The Brave B team will conclude its season at 4 today at Carrizozo. White Mountain's A team will meet the visiting Capitan Tigers at 10 a.m. Saturday on the Ruidoso High School varsity football field.

White Mountain's B team is 1-0 on the season, having beaten Carrizozo 28-0 last month. Coaches Terry Wharton and Mike Crocker plan to play all their seventh graders and a number of their eighth graders against Carrizozo.

The A team will be going for its second victory against three losses when it hosts Capitan.

Last week the Braves rolled over Tularosa 34-0.

"It was our best performance of the season, without a doubt," Wharton said. "Except for the first three series."

The Braves fumbled four times in the game, three times in the first quarter.

But everything else went right for White Mountain. The Braves dominated the contest offensively and defensively.

Wharton respects the Capitan squad.

"I don't know that much about them this year, but they're usually pretty good," he said.

Booster meeting set for Tuesday

There will be a Ruidoso High School Warriors Booster Club meeting at 7:30 Tuesday night, October 18, in the teachers lounge at the high school.

Football films will be shown and a variety of subjects will be discussed.

Kirk Ryan and Bobby Lane will probably share the quarterback duties against Capitan. Ryan threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score in the Tularosa game.

Jef Sherwood, Eric Ford and Aaron Von Rosenberg key the White Mountain running game. Sherwood in particular did well against Tularosa.

Sherwood also plays middle linebacker on defense. He and the rest of the Brave defense held Tularosa to one first down in the first three quarters.

The Brave defensive line has improved greatly over the course of the season. Tackles Dusty Beavers and Adolph Herrera have performed well, as have ends Matthew Griego and Wayne Watts.

Grizzlies to play Bobcats

The Carrizozo High School varsity football team hopes to stay undefeated in district play when it travels to Hagerman Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Carrizozo is 1-0 in district action and 4-1 overall. The Grizzlies rolled over Cloudcroft 40-24 last weekend and are almost completely healthy for the Hagerman contest.

"We're more healthy than we've been in a while," said head coach Dennis Sidebottom. "We got John Roche back last week and he ran for 188 yards."

Roche is one of the fastest backs in the state's A division, and his presence in the Grizzly lineup gives Carrizozo an awesome running game.

Stevie Sterns, James Guevara and Dwayne Zamora are other top running backs for the Grizzlies.

Gilbert Zamora anchors the Carrizozo defense from his middle linebacker position. He had 20 tackles against Cloudcroft.

What must the Grizzlies do to beat Hagerman?

"Well, we've got to control their big men," Sidebottom answered. "They're real big and outweigh us about 50 pounds per man in the line."

Trash pickup and judge issues in Downs

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

Complaints from residents about garbage not being picked up, and a misunderstanding with Judge Paula Smith, dominated Monday evening's meeting of the Ruidoso Downs trustees.

Ruidoso Downs residents Debi Branum and Debbie Floyd each said they were refusing to pay their current garbage bills.

"You would not pay electricity bills if you did not receive electricity, would you?" they asked.

The owner of Alamo Waste of Alamogordo, Joe Lewandowski, presented a brief explanation of his company and said if interested he would drive over the roads carefully and make an estimate.

Trustee Conrad Buchanan suggested the council compare the costs of buying a truck in the price range of mid-$40,000 to contracting for garbage pickup before the next meeting. Lewanski agreed to come back then after investigating the area further.

Village Clerk Wilma Webb said she estimates by next summer there will be a 100-unit motel, an apartment complex and an amusement park in the area if present plans go through. She emphasized this would place an even greater burden on the community for adequate garbage removal.

Municipal Judge Paula Smith confronted the trustees with a request that money be replaced into a municipal court fund that the bank had transferred out because of expenses incurred by Smith to begin a bookkeeping system.

Smith said she had spent $212.26 to buy checks, deposit slips and materials to set up a bookkeeping system. She said, "When I started there were no pens, no paper, no tape. This has not been a legally run court system and I have been trying to make it legal."

Trustee Harrold Mansell said, "This has never been brought to my attention in my eight years here."

When Smith said, "Indigents have not been offered the services of an attorney," Mansell said, "You have to remember we are a very small village here."

Smith said, "You still have to have a legally run court system. Mansell responded, "That's your opinion."

After several minutes of unresolved talking, Buchanan broke in and said, "Let's do what it takes to have a legally run system."

Smith said she would return at the next meeting with a prepared budget.

Smith said later she has been judge since July and she believes she is having a problem because "they didn't have a judge before who asked for things."

She said she asked the village clerk and secretary to reimburse her account. Money from tickets, jail fees and court fines are placed in an account and cannot be withdrawn, she explained—eventually it goes into a court fund.

She indicated a lack of cooperation from the village clerk when she tried to talk to her about it.

Clerk Webb said she could not issue a check until the council had met and given approval.

In other business the trustees: —Agreed to table the possibility of having employees' uniforms unless there is stronger interest.

—Discussed the possibility of having a lodgers' tax and decided to discuss it again at another meeting.

—Discussed purchase of water rights.

Mayor J. C. Day has been contacted since the meeting. He is home after having extensive surgery. He said he is feeling "pretty good."

State Representative Mickey McGuire said he is working on finding out when the village will receive $50,000 from the State Racing Fund.

Women urged to involve themselves

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

Mary Ellen Payne spoke at the Woman's Club Wednesday and urged women to "use the power you have and get involved in public affairs."

Payne is a state coordinator for the Kellogg Community Leadership Project in New Mexico. The project has been working in six Western states to strengthen women's capabilities in leadership and role in public policy.

Payne said often women think of how involvement might conflict with family needs.

"On the other hand, I can't think of one public issue that does not, eventually, affect the family," she said. Payne said writing to editors and politicians are a beginning and effective way to be involved with the political process.

"Be careful, though, so you don't sound like the town crackpot," she said.

She said lobbying "is done by a lot of good people for a lot of good things." It is not a "dirty word," but necessary in the political process, she emphasized.

Payne suggested staying as informed as possible and attending town, school board and county meetings if possible.

"A fascinating thing to do is to attend the Legislature, which is still male-dominated, in session. It's amazing how members look out and see faces reminding them of their wives, mothers, daughters," she said.

Massage therapist discusses job

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

Judy Woodridge wants people to know about a form of healing dating back to the ancient Chinese and Greeks—massage.

Woodridge is a professional massage therapist who works three days a week at Chiropractic Associates.

She attended the Jay Victor Scherer Academy of Natural Healing in Santa Fe and has worked the past few years in the Santa Fe area. She was at 10,000 Waves, a bathhouse there.

Woodridge has returned to Ruidoso, where "I am familiar and have many friends."

One of her primary concerns is that people realize massage is a valid form of therapy and preventive medicine.

"Too often massage becomes linked with prostitution, or because massage does involve sensuality, people associate it with sex."

Massage, she said, is touching in a "loving, caring way." She said it is important for releasing tension.

JUDY WOODRIDGE

According to Woodridge, tension is stored in muscles, with emotion. When thinking of posture, it is really a "holding" of how these are stored, she said.

This is why people can become very emotional during massage or after, she noted. Massage unlocks these emotions, she said, which if held in eventually cause health problems.

Woodridge has been living in Ruidoso six weeks, and she said the first week she was doing "massage after massage." Since then she has not been so busy, but she believes this is because this time of the year is a lull before ski season.

Woodridge is in favor of natural healing, including natural foods, but she is not a fanatic.

"I wouldn't want to make a statement about food. I eat what seems right at the moment," she said.

While in Santa Fe she worked closely with doctors, and she is anticipating this could happen in Ruidoso. She does not believe preventive healing and massage are antagonistic with more conventional forms of treatment.

"I believe we cooperate," she said. "The trend is toward natural healing."

Lions dig

Members of the Ruidoso Noon Lions Club dig a hole to plant three trees at a small park near the "Y." From left are Bill Fugate, lieutenant governor of district 40M; Frank Kirby-Smith, president of the local club; and Fred Hughston, a director and former vice president of the local club. The trees were planted as part of World Service Day, designated by the International Lions.

The Silver Lining

by Daniel Agnew Storm

He made three more trips. Let us send up a prayer of thanks to Christopher Columbus.

Apple Season Begins To Reach Its Prime

In the Glencoe area the Golden Delicious have begun to show their colors — light gold with cheeks of red. The fruit stands all along the length of the Ruidoso Valley are open. The cool weather especially with fog and mist will hasten the ripening of the other varieties.

The main varieties in Lincoln County are the Red and Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Winesap and Rome Beauty.

Some years ago in an orchard, I think it was in the state of Washington, a man noticed a branch on a tree in his orchard of Starks' Delicious Apples, a branch with bright red apples in August while all the other apples were green.

The orchardist got Starks Brothers of Louisiana, Missouri, on the long distance phone and told them about this branch.

Telling the fellow to guard that branch with his life, Starks' people sent one of their top horticulturists out on the next plane.

From this branch, Starks Brothers developed what is known as the Double Red varieties. So now we have almost all the orchards bearing the Double Red varieties of the varieties named above.

However, here and there, some of the apples are growing from the days before the Double Red style.

Adelaido Chavez, at his fruit stand in San Patricio, the last I heard, has some of the old original Starks' Delicious.

Here and there you might find some of the old favorites: Black Twig, and Ben Davis — this would be mostly on the upper Bonito Valley — old trees still growing from seventy-five to one hundred years old.

Anyhow, we are in the Apple Month, so now is the time to stock up for the winter.

There are reasons without number why apples are good for you, so "Help Yourself to Health."

On Columbus Day

This is being written to you on the True Columbus Day, October twelve, a cool and misty day.

Just to think that we are here in this continent — a paradise on earth, when you come to think of it, all on account of the unshakable faith in himself and his determination to carry out his destiny, of one man.

Hardly anywhere in the pages of history do we find a man who was the equal of Christopher Columbus who had to overcome so many obstacles to carry out what he knew to be an important undertaking.

He first tried Portugal, but the rulers of this country tried to steal his idea, and went ahead without his knowledge with an expedition. But the captains and the crew lost heart and returned.

After ten or twelve years of trying to interest Queen Isabela of Spain in his voyage, he was told that the war to expel the Moors from Spain must be completed before his project could be considered.

Almost in despair, Columbus set out for France but was called back by the Queen, who gave the orders for ships to be placed at his disposal.

However, he could not gather any crews for his journey, even though men in prison were offered their freedom if they would sail with Columbus.

Columbus had strokes of luck to match his many setbacks. And two brothers, Martin Alonso Pinzon and Vicente Yanez Pinzon, came to his aid.

Three ships, The Santa Maria, 100 tons, with fifty-two men; The Pinta, fifty tons with 18 men; and the Nina, forty tons with 18 men, were ready.

Admiral Columbus was in command of the Santa Maria; and Martin Pinzon the Pinta; and his brother Vicente, the Nina.

They set sail from Spain Friday, August 3, 1492, and headed for the Azores Islands. On the twenty-fifth of September, Martin raised the cry of "Land!" but he was mistaken. A sailor on the Nina sighted a branch full of berries floating in the sea, on October eleventh. That night Columbus saw a light; and at two o'clock in the morning of Friday, October twelve, 1492, one of the sailors on the Pinta, Rodrigo de Triana, sighted land.

The land was the island called by the Carib Indians Guanahani, and named by Columbus San Salvador.

That same morning Columbus landed dressed in his best, bearing the royal banner of Spain, accompanied by the Pinzon brothers and most of the crew.

Kneeling on the shore they "gave thanks to God, and kissed the ground with tears of joy, for the deliverance and great mercy received." (From Columbus' journal)

Returning to Spain, Columbus was received in full court by the King and Queen of Spain and given every honor.

He told his story and showed the gold, cotton and parrots he had brought back.

Some Carib Indians made the trip back with Columbus to be baptized.

Opinion

Inside the Capitol by Fred McCaffrey

by FRED McCAFFREY

SANTA FE—Maybe President Reagan knows something the rest of us don't.

Maybe he knew that not everybody in the country wanted Jim Watt fired. The President, after all, has an ongoing opinion survey. He gets results from it, you may be sure, on almost a daily basis.

And with a flap like the Watt one on his hands, don't you think he might ask to find out what the American public thought?

Now, as is so often pointed out, we who raise our voices so stridently in the media are not your average American citizens. We are not typical. In fact, we are relatively fiercely atypical.

So you have to be careful about listening to us.

Maybe what the President ended up listening to was a message from two groups of people. One would have to be those conservatives who worked so hard to put Reagan where he is. They surely don't want to see Watt fired. But another might just be those who distinguish between the man's incredibly stupid sense of humor and his work as the head man at Interior.

There are, after all, those who claim this is far and away the best administrator in the Reagan Cabinet. At Interior, which is hardly ever administered at all, that must be a welcome change.

And note this part too: Some of those in the West who shouted hardest to have this man put out to pasture in disgrace were doing the work of the Easterners who want to keep us as a colony.

You don't think that goes on? Don't be naive, baby.

The Big East has held all of us who live on this side of the Mississippi in that condition since they allowed us to enter their Union.

They see no reason to change that now.

Not all of those who shout loudest about Watt raping the national lands by allowing coal mining and such extraction to go on are purely and simply nature lovers, you know.

Some of them are from the group which owns coal mines in the East—say in Kentucky or Virginia. Some of them are legislators representing those districts. And some are just trapped into their positions on this matter because those around them are raising such a racket.

Those kinds of folks don't want competition from out here, especially since they strongly believe the West may be moving into a position of strength which will threaten theirs.

If you think they haven't tried hard and long to keep us in the position of the people who get extracted from and themselves in the position of the extractors, just try this: Check to see how much more it costs to ship manufactured products from west to east by railroad than it does to ship an equal amount of raw materials.

They want our raw materials, and by and large they get them.

What they don't want is for us to become manufacturers. That's for them, because that's where the money is.

And they sure don't want us shipping western coal into the Midwest, which they presently dominate, or even producing it for our own use in the West.

To allow that might begin to shift that weight of power in the same direction the sun travels across the nation daily. When it moves that way, it is the East which first sees the sunset.

Jim Watt, in other words, has a lot of enemies who are not on his side for what we in the West may well consider their reasons. We don't have to adopt those as our own just because the New York Times tells us to.

Back East, they tell some pretty sour jokes too—and most of them are on us.

Condemn what deserves to be condemned in Watt—his evident narrowness of mind and his execrable taste. There may still be some things in the man some of us should value in one in his position.

Deadly 82

Existing State Highway Department signs ought to be adequate on U.S. 82 coming out of Cloudcroft and beyond to tell drivers that the highway to Alamogordo is extraordinarily steep and actually dangerous because of the grade.

Too many people are killed and injured on the stretch of highway from the La Luz turnoff to this side of Cloudcroft. Perhaps signs enlarging on the danger would help. Or, maybe heavy truck traffic ought to be banned from the highway, forcing drivers to travel another route from Artesia to Alamogordo.

The trouble with 14 and 18-wheelers is that they are so heavy when fully loaded that braking sometimes is not effective. We suspect that most truck accidents involve relatively inexperienced drivers who get into trouble because of the steep grade. There has to be a satisfactory answer. Let's find it.—Alamogordo Daily News

Editorial

Bravo!

Tuesday's village council decision to allocate $25,000 for promotion of Ruidoso tourism in Mexico is a bold and daring move—and one that could have far-reaching effects.

That "aceptamos pesos" has gone from idea to reality in so short a time is a tribute to the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lodgers' Tax Committee, and to the farsightedness of the council.

But though the expenditure has been approved, much of the real work lies ahead. The Chamber has the job of educating personnel from participating businesses on handling transactions in pesos.

Several good suggestions have been made—including participation of the banking community in the education process and assembling of an information kit that would include sample currency.

It is hoped the cooperation of the various bodies that saw the proposal through will be mirrored in cooperation of the business community, especially since that segment will be the primary benefactor from more Mexican tourists.

The money allocated by the council could easily have been spent on other needs of the village. But in earmarking it for tourism, the council again has shown a commendable responsiveness to the need for promotion of tourism.—TP

On the Village Beat with Tim Palmer

If I remember correctly from civics class, living under the "rule of law" means certain things are established in society that make it possible for people to live together. For example, we accept the idea that it is a no-no to shoot, stab or beat up each other randomly.

I often think of the rule of law when I'm driving on a narrow highway at night and another car is coming from the opposite direction. To me, the rule of law means I have an understanding with the driver of that car. He'll stay on his side of the road and I'll stay on my side.

We're strangers—I'll probably never know who he or she was. Yet for an instant, we're in a situation of mutual trust.

But what if that driver is drunk? What if his or her ability to drive a car is so impaired by alcohol that the car crosses the center line and creams me, or my wife, or my child?

That's the scariest thing about drunk drivers. They violate the trust we all have to have for each other to function as a society. When a drunk takes to the road, the rules are suspended—so look out.

You may have heard of the organization, Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD). Rocky Galassini and Marlene Malone of the Otero County chapter were guests of the Rotary Club Tuesday and talked about the problem of drunk drivers.

"As I talk I want you to realize it can happen to you," said Rocky. She and Marlene know of what they speak—one lost a close friend and one lost a son to drunk drivers. Marlene's boy was sitting in a movie theater when a vehicle with a drunk driver rammed into the building and killed him.

Mrs. Galassini included some numbing drunk driver statistics in her talk. Drunk driving is the number one highway safety problem, with more than 26,000 deaths a year and hundreds of thousands injured. Alcohol is involved in six of 10 single-vehicle accidents. Eight thousand young people age 16 to 24 die yearly, and more than 40,000 are disfigured.

The cost of the problem to the economy is estimated at $26 billion a year. More people have died at the hands of drunk drivers in the past two years than the total number of casualties in the Vietnam War.

Of 2,000 drunk drivers on the road at a time, just one is caught and arrested. Chances are that one gets off lightly, especially if it's a first offense.

"He is literally given a slap on the hand and told not to do it again," said Rocky.

As dramatic as the statistics may be, Rocky reminded us that behind every number is a person—a life that has been snuffed out. It happens in our country more than 70 times a day.

Rocky wonders, isn't it time we as a nation get serious about drunk driving?

She made another point, one that struck me when I did a story on DWI school last year. The media largely ignores the problem of drunk drivers.

Drownings, like the one that made news in Albuquerque this week, claim 7,000 lives a year. Firearms account for only about 1,800. But those deaths are always played up big on TV and in the newspapers, Galassini noted, as are the 1,200 deaths from airplane crashes.

But as for victims of drunk drivers, she pointed out, "Nobody cares—it's not important enough."

The women from MADD care, and they pull no punches. To them, "drunk driving is cold-blooded murder," albeit a "socially acceptable form of murder." And as far as they're concerned, it should be first-degree murder.

MADD came to be after 13-year-old Cari Lightner was killed by a hit-and-run drunk driver in 1980. The killer had been out of jail on bail for two days from another hit-and-run drunk driving crash. The killing of Cari was his fifth drunk driving offense and he was still driving with a valid California driver's license.

The man was sentenced to two years, but did not have to serve the whole term. He later became eligible to get a driver's license again.

According to Rocky, this off-repeated scenario causes police to think, "Why should I bother? I bust my butt and the judge lets them go."

New Mexico has the highest incidence of drunk driving crashes in the nation, said Galassini. We also arrest more drunk drivers than any other state, she noted, but we don't convict them. She pointed out that three men were fined $14,000 for killing an ibex out of season, but the fine for a second offense DWI is $1,000.

"I think we have our priorities a little mixed up," she said. I'm inclined to agree.

Other states—she noted Tennessee and Maine—have imposed strict DWI laws and seen a reduction in fatalities. Many countries have much stricter laws than the U.S. In El Salvador, offenders are sobered up and executed.

Rocky told Rotary Club one way they could help was to set a good example. She pointed out that MADD is not a crusade against alcohol use, it just seeks to get the drunk driver off the road.

I would think that setting an example is much preferable to becoming an example—of the naked truth that anyone can be killed or killed because of drunk driving.

The Nite-Liter Can Lend You A Helping Hand

Just think how many times you have wished that the day was a little longer so you could mend the fence or fix the tractor? The Nite-Liter can lend you a helping hand from dusk to dawn. The Nite-Liter is a mercury vapor light which automatically comes on at dusk and goes off at dawn and it provides usable light in an area up to 100 yards in diameter. And the Nite-Liter is more efficient than ordinary incandescent lighting so it gives you more light for your money. Texas-New Mexico Power Company will install, maintain, and furnish electricity for your Nite-Liter for a small monthly charge. Call our office today and ask to have your Nite-Liter installed.

Winning golf teams

Governor to give awards Friday

The Governor's Awards for excellence and achievement in the arts, which will be presented for the 10th time on Friday, October 14, by Governor Toney Anaya in a public ceremony in the Rotunda of the Capitol, have become a New Mexico tradition.

At the suggestion of the New Mexico Arts Commission, these awards were initiated in 1974 by Governor Bruce King to honor the important role that artists and craftsmen play in the life of the State, both on a cultural and an economic level.

Anaya will present New Mexico's highest artistic honors this year to Lucy M. Lewis of Acoma Pueblo for pottery; to Bill Mauldin, Santa Fe, for cartooning; to Beaumont Newhall, Santa Fe, for photography and photographic history, and to Fritz Scholder of Gallisteo for visual arts. The Governor's Award for an outstanding contribution to the arts of New Mexico will be presented to Donald B. Anderson of Roswell for his initiation and continuing support of the Artist-in-Residence Program at Roswell Museum and Art Center.

Nominations for the coveted Governor's Awards are invited each spring, not only from art groups and educational institutions but from all interested citizens. This year the Arts Commission's Awards Committee consisted of Bonifacio M. Tabet, Belen, Chairman; Mrs. Sally Burkstaller, Roswell; Mrs. Rena Rosequist, Taos; John H. Stermer, Silver City; and Professor Edward P. Vega, Albuquerque.

The first Governor's Awards were presented on October 6, 1974, to six of the State's senior artists and craftsmen by King in a ceremony at the Museum of Albuquerque. The first awardees were: Laura Gilpin, Santa Fe, photography; John Gaw Meem, Santa Fe, architecture; Maria Martinez, San Ildefonso Pueblo, pottery; Georgia O'Keeffe, Abiquiu, painting; Grace Thompson Edmister, Albuquerque, music; and Dr. E. Boyd, Santa Fe, historic preservation.

In 1975, Governor Jerry Apodaca presented awards to Agueda Martinez, Medanales, for weaving; Elizabeth Waters, Albuquerque, dance; Michael Naranjo, Santa Clara Pueblo, sculpture; Raymond Jonson, Albuquerque, painting; Frank Waters, Taos, literature; and Dr. J.D. Robb, Albuquerque, music. In 1976 the awardees were Fray Angelico Chavez, Santa Fe, literature; John O. Crosby, Santa Fe and New York, music; Andrew Dasburg, Taos, painting; and Eliot Porter, Santa Fe, photography. In 1977 awards went to Dr. Kurt Frederick, Albuquerque, music; Paul Horgan, San Patricio, literature; Pablita Velarde, Albuquerque, painting; and Peter Hurd, San Patricio, painting.

In 1978, the Governor's Awards were presented to Maria Benitez, Santa Fe and New York, dance; Dr. Bainbridge Bunting, Albuquerque, architectural history; Doel Reed, Taos, painting; and Charles Mattox, Albuquerque, sculpture. In 1979, the awards were given to Felipe Archuleta, Tesuque, for sculpture; Howard Cook, Santa Fe, painting; Yoshimi Takeda, Albuquerque, music; and Dr. Jack Williamson, Portales, literature. In 1980, the four honored artists were Dr. Rudolfo Anaya, Albuquerque, literature; Allan Houser, Santa Fe, visual arts; Mark Medoff, Las Cruces, theatre; and Eliseo Rodriguez, Santa Fe, folk arts. The Governor's Award for an outstanding contribution to the arts of New Mexico went to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Girard of Santa Fe in recognition of their donation of the Girard Foundation Collection to the Museum of International Folk Art, Museum of New Mexico.

The 1981 awards were presented to Blue Corn, San Ildefonso Pueblo, for pottery; Fremont F. Ellis, Santa Fe, painting; John Nichols, Taos, literature; and Henriette Wyeth, San Patricio, painting. The Governor's Award for an outstanding contribution to the arts went to Mr. and Mrs. Y.A. Paloheimo of Santa Fe, who founded and developed the old Cienega Village Museum at El Rancho de las Golondrinas, a living museum restoration of Spanish Colonial life. Last year, the awardees were Helen Cordero of Cochiti Pueblo, for pottery; William Kirschke, Santa Fe, music; Nancy and Janusz Kozikowski, Medanales, weaving; George Lopez, Cordova, sculpture; and David Salazar, Santa Fe, music. The Governor's Award for an outstanding contribution to the arts of the State went to Alan C. Veder of Santa Fe for his work in preserving Spanish colonial art and artifacts.

By tradition, examples of the awardees' work are displayed to the public in the Governor's Gallery at the Capitol. The month-long Governor's Awards Exhibition, which opens immediately after the October 14 ceremony, may be viewed on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The 12th Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta, which concluded Sunday in the Duke City, was a field day for photographers. Some 400 balloons participated in the 1983 Fiesta, which commemorated the 200th anniversary of ballooning. Fiesta officials said more than 500,000 people attended the nine-day event, so the number of pictures taken may have topped one million. Among those snapping away was Tim Palmer of The Ruidoso News staff, who took these photos during Saturday morning's mass ascension.

Warrior play of the week

Junior fullback George Gresham of the Ruidoso High School varsity football team came through with a number of fine plays in last week's 29-7 loss to Hot Springs, but none were bigger than his 55-yard run to set up the only Warrior touchdown.

Gresham's long run is the Warrior Play of the Week. Gresham, a 6-0, 190-pounder, scored the Warrior touchdown on a five-yard run early in the fourth quarter. But his 55-yard run from the Ruidoso 31 to the Hot Springs 14 set up the score.

Gresham ran through a hole at the line of scrimmage, broke a couple of tackles, then got a crushing block from Gary Burmages before sprinting down the sidelines to the Tiger 14.

Gresham ended up with 169 yards rushing, by far the most yardage picked up by a Warrior running back in one game this season. He also had a 50-yard run early in the third period.

The Warrior offense rolled up 284 yards passing and running, but turnovers hurt Ruidoso's cause.

Ruidoso will travel to Artesia Friday for a 7:30 p.m. contest.

A group of Ruidoso High School football players including James Herrera (68) and George Gresham (35) hold off some Hot Springs defensive players in last Friday's game.

ART, DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Fred I. Danley looks forward to new season at Sunland Park

by MARK GORDON

Winning horse races has never been easy at Sunland Park.

"I've been here ever since it opened (in 1959) and it's just as tough to win races now as it was back then," said veteran trainer Fred I. Danley, as he prepared for another campaign at the west El Paso track.

"There were nice horses then just like now. It's a matter of getting them in the right spot," said the Anthony conditioner. "Everything's gotten better at Sunland over the years. The purses are bigger. The whole operation has gotten bigger and better."

But one thing has definitely changed for the better for Danley. He's enjoyed the best two years he's ever had at Sunland Park during the last two seasons.

Danley won the fall season training championship two years ago with 11 winners from 63 starts, finished fifth in that spring's training charts and last year enjoyed a sensational year.

Danley won 44 races with 29 seconds and 25 thirds from 176 starts. That's a superb winning percentage of .250, certainly one of the highest in recent seasons for a trainer with that many starts.

Danley is cautiously optimistic as Sunland Park opens its 25th season of horse racing on Saturday, October 15. The season will extend 90 days through Sunday, May 13.

Racing is scheduled for a Friday, Saturday and Sunday basis each weekend with no racing over Christmas weekend December 23-25. There will be a special Fan Appreciation Day on Monday, February 20, with all patrons receiving free general admission.

Danley will have about 25 horses this season. He will have almost an equal number of quarter horses and thoroughbreds.

Although the majority of Danley's stable consists of two-year-olds and newcomers, he will still have several performers who distinguished themselves this summer at Ruidoso Downs.

Machisma, a Scout Leader filly, is the main thoroughbred runner.

She won four races this summer at Ruidoso Downs, including a sweep of the meet's two major events for two-year-old New Mexico-bred thoroughbreds. Machisma won the Rio Grande Kindergarten and the Rio Grande Futurity as well as the Pocket Coin Handicap.

The filly, owned by H.T. Hornbuckle of Albuquerque, was named Ruidoso Downs' best two-year-old filly.

"She's in the Fall Thoroughbred Futurity. She came back real well after the summer. We'll run her here as a three-year-old after the first of the year. I don't think the distances will bother her. She can go a mile or a mile and a sixteenth in the spring," Danley said.

Danley's most successful two-year-old quarter horse will be On A Stormy Day, a Rocket Wrangler filly.

On A Stormy Day is at Blue Ribbons Downs in Sallisaw, Oklahoma, preparing for the Heritage Place Futurity, scheduled for mid-October.

The Kansas-bred filly won six races with three seconds and three thirds from 14 starts through Labor Day.

She's earned $122,729 for owner Larry G. Stephenson of Wichita, Kansas.

Her biggest payday was on Labor Day when she collected $73,500 for running sixth in the $2,530,000 All-American Futurity, quarter horse racing's most prestigious event, at Ruidoso Downs.

"We laid her off after the All-American Futurity," Danley explained. "We'll run her in the Heritage Place. We'll bring her back for the Derby at Sunland next spring. I was real pleased with what she did at Ruidoso."

"I would be more than happy if we could stay even with or perhaps slightly ahead of last year's mutual handle," said Sunland Park's general manager as he prepares for his second season at the helm of the west El Paso track.

"We had an excellent meet last season which is a credit to our fans, horsemen, officials and jockeys. We hope we can continue to provide the finest racing in the Southwest," he said.

A year ago, Sunland Park established record totals in daily average mutual handle ($350,689) and a total seasonal mutual handle of $29,808,566. This season's 90-day campaign—the longest in the 25-year history of Sunland Park—will open Saturday, October 15, and continue on Sunday.

Entries for Saturday's opening-day program features trial heats for the Shue Fly Stakes and the Mr. Vale Handicap.

The 10 fastest runners from the trials will advance to the Shue Fly Stakes on Friday, October 28. The race is limited to two-year-old New Mexico-breds. The 400-yard dash has a purse of $7,500-added.

The Mr. Vale Handicap, a one mile race for three-year-old and older horses, will be run under handicap weights assigned by racing secretary Dean McKinney for a purse of $10,000-added.

Sunday's main attraction will be the Savannah Swinger Series No. 1.

Three-year-old and older runners will travel 350 yards for a purse of $8,000-added.

There will be racing Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through the meet's duration. It ends on Sunday, May 13.

There will be no racing over Christmas weekend (December 23-25) and there will be a special Fan Appreciation Day slated for Monday, February 20, with all patrons receiving free general admission.

Post time for the start of the season will be 12:30 p.m. Post time will revert to 1 p.m. on Friday, February 17.

When opening day fans arrive at Sunland Park, they will notice one obvious and one "hidden" change. The entire plant has received a fresh coat of paint, with bright reds, blues and whites dominating.

the $94,604 West Derby last April at Sunland Park in his biggest local triumph. The Real Easy Jet colt, was hurt during the opening weekend in May, and is now standing at stud duties at Danley's Anthony ranch.

Despite his last two highly successful seasons, Danley knows racing is a strange sport.

"As far as racehorses go, you never know what the next day will bring. You can be up one day and down the next. I just hope all my good luck continues," he said.

Smith hopes to match last year's handle

If Donald F. Smith could be granted just one wish for this season's Sunland Park horse race meeting, it's obvious what he would choose.

"I would be more than happy if we could stay even with or perhaps slightly ahead of last year's mutual handle," said Sunland Park's general manager as he prepares for his second season at the helm of the west El Paso track.

"We had an excellent meet last season which is a credit to our fans, horsemen, officials and jockeys. We hope we can continue to provide the finest racing in the Southwest," he said.

A year ago, Sunland Park established record totals in daily average mutual handle ($350,689) and a total seasonal mutual handle of $29,808,566. This season's 90-day campaign—the longest in the 25-year history of Sunland Park—will open Saturday, October 15, and continue on Sunday.

When opening day fans arrive at Sunland Park, they will notice one obvious and one "hidden" change. The entire plant has received a fresh coat of paint, with bright reds, blues and whites dominating.

The other change was a major reworking of the track's main one-mile running surface. Under the direction of longtime Hollywood Park Track superintendent Bob Moore, who spent one week in September supervising the project, the running surface is now safer and hopefully, will decrease the chances of injuries to hard-running animals.

Sunland Park will feature two new fall stakes races for thoroughbreds.

The Thoroughbred Sale Futurity for two-year-olds who were purchased or repurchased in the 1982 Summer Sale for Selected Thoroughbred Yearlings at Ruidoso Downs is set for Sunday, November 6. The six-furlong event will have a purse of $15,000-added.

The first running of the Texas Open Futurity, limited to stallions participating in the Texas Thoroughbred Breeder's Association's Open Futurity program during the 1980 breeding season, is set for Saturday, December 3. The six-furlong chase will have a purse of $25,000-added.

The fall stakes are topped by the Sunland Park All-American Sale Futurity, the Sunland Park Fall Quarter Horse Futurity, the Sunland Park Fall Quarter Horse Derby and the Sunland Park Fall Thoroughbred Futurity.

Major spring races include the West Texas Futurity and the West Texas Derby, the Sun Country Futurity and the Riley Allison Futurity, the meet's featured presentation on closing day.

"We're all set for another season at Sunland Park," Smith said. "We again hope to run strictly according to scheduled post times."

Ruidoso Super Select Sale proceeds topped $5.5 million

Highlighted by two $300,000-plus purchases, the third annual Ruidoso Super Select Sale brought almost $5.5 million in total sales.

The sale was held in two sessions in the new pavilion located just east of Ruidoso Downs. The yearling portion on August 28 featured 87 head that brought an average of $40,868 from total sales of $3,555,500. The following night in the broodmare and stallion share sale, 86 lot numbers were sold for a total of $2,038,400.

Total proceeds from the sale was $5,593,900.

Breakaway Baby, a filly sired by two-time world champion Dash For Cash and out of the champion-producing mare Larking Kit, topped the yearling sale when she brought $390,000 from Mary L. Urschel of Canadian, Texas. The consignors were Tom Dawson and Don Luciano of El Paso, Texas.

A sorrel filly, Breakaway Baby, is a half sister to champion two-year-old gelding Lord Winsalot, a winner of $416,687. She is also a half sister to four other stakes horses, including Romeo Lark ($50,609) and Robinlot ($62,734).

The sale ticket of $390,000 is the third highest in the Super Select Sale's history, topped only by the world record price of $510,000 for Himito Dancer and $500,000 for Hot For Cash in the first sale.

The next highest selling yearling was Mach Two, a colt from world champion Super Sound Charge's first crop and out of the champion-producing mare Juno Reward. He was sold to Barry Weisbord for $345,000 from the Paradise Creek Farm. Mach Two is a half brother to champion aged mare Lady Juno, a winner of $270,313.

Other high selling yearlings include: Perfect Sting (Dash For Cash-Perfect Fit), a filly sold to John McStay and consigned by the Perfect Sting Partnership for $250,000; Precious Kiss (Pie In The Sky-She's Precious), a filly consigned by Sue Urquhart and sold to J.E. Jumonville Jr. for $155,000; Rheatta (Raise A Native-Little Blue Sheep), a filly consigned by Brown Budget and Brownell Combs II and sold for $130,000 to agent Joe Luis Dominguez; Chase The Rainbow (Dash

For Cash-My Name Is Alice), a filly consigned by Frontera Farm and sold to Lowell Neurnayer for $105,000; and Paris Original (Mito Paint-Barb's Bug), a filly consigned by Paradise Creek Farm and sold to B.F. Phillips Jr. for $100,000.

The high-selling mare was Summer Encounter, a stakes-placed daughter of the thoroughbred Hemen, who earned $281,538. She was consigned by Jerry Wells and sold to Butch Wise, acting as an agent, for $225,000.

Other top-selling mares included stakes-winner Wrangle Alot, consigned by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and sold to the San Jose Cattle Company for $110,000; and the stakes-winner Just A Playmate, who was consigned by Victor and Jose Diaz and sold for $100,000 to J.E. Jumonville Jr.

Two breeding shares in world champion Special Effort were also sold with a top price of $80,000 paid by Dr. Leonard Blach.

Dates for the fourth annual Super Select Sale have been announced by sale manager Richard Thompson. The yearling sale will be August 26, 1984, followed by the broodmare sale on August 27.

A $200,000 consignors award program has also been established for next year's yearling sale. For any yearling that passes through the sale ring and qualifies for either the Faberge Special Effort Futurity or the All-American Futurity, the consignor will receive $100,000. If more than one yearling qualifies, the award will be divided equally.

For more information on next year's sale and the consignors award program, contact Thompson at P.O. Box 50, Glencoe, N.M. 88324; or call 505-653-4242.

Ken Hosmer and June Townley pause in their discussion at The Carrizo Lodge. The two were sharing ideas about an art association they are working to organize in this area.

Art association organizing

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

All people interested in the state of the arts are being called together at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 19, at The Carrizo Lodge.

Ken Hosmer, art director at Carrizo, is optimistic that forming an art association in Ruidoso can be the beginning in promoting art locally.

Hosmer, who moved here from El Paso one year ago, said, "I have seen this evolve into many things—such as an art museum." He said the art community is not as visible in Ruidoso as he would like.

"We bring in the finest people all over the United States," he said. "We may give an impression of having a laid-back atmosphere, but don't let it fool you."

Carrizo Lodge is where Hosmer earns his living—organizing, teaching workshops and painting. He emphasizes that the Lodge is a setting for the upcoming meeting, but it is not responsible for organizing it.

Local artist June Townley came to Hosmer and said, "Let's try and organize an art association. I can't believe there isn't one here already."

Townley said she has lived in Ruidoso for several years and that she loves the community.

She did say she believes many of the real people of Ruidoso are obscured by the trail of tourists.

"I hear people refer to Ruidoso as a 'party town'—I'm not sure if I like that," she said.

Anyone interested in such an organization but not able to attend may call Ken Hosmer at 257-9131 or June Townley at 258-3078.

Carrizo Lodge hosting Oktoberfest

The Carrizo Lodge is the setting for the first annual Oktoberfest this Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to sundown.

Assistant manager Robert Ready wants merchants to know there is plenty of room available for them to set up booths. Cost for a booth for both days is $75, with $25 refunded when the festival is over.

Festivities will include three bands (including an old-time oom-pah band), midway rides, games and contests (including a kissing booth), booths and food.

Cost is $2 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Sunland officials ready for new season

Donald F. Smith heads a crew of veteran administrative and racing officials for this season's Sunland Park horse race meeting. The 90-day meeting, the longest in Sunland Park's 25-year history, is set to open on Saturday, October 15, and continue through Sunday, May 13. Racing will be conducted each Friday, Saturday and Sunday with a special holiday program on Monday, February 20. That Monday will be Fan Appreciation Day. The only other alteration from the basic format will be no racing over Christmas weekend December 23-25. Smith begins his second season as general manager of the west El Paso track. He guided Sunland Park to a record-breaking mutuel season a year ago with an all-time total mutuel handle of $29,808,566 and a record daily average mutuel handle of $350,689. Smith has had experience in all facets of racing and came to Sunland Park after a lengthy stint in various capacities at Los Alamitos.

He served as racing secretary, director of racing and a vice-president of Los Alamitos.

Other members of the administrative staff include assistant general manager H. Rick Henson; administrative assistant Bill Thomas, director of publicity Dick Alwan; director of operations Frank Cummins; manager of concessions Robert Welch; and director of security Kenneth Shockey.

Jeff Thrasher will return as the state steward representing the New Mexico State Racing Commission. Bobbie Harmon and Bruce Brinkley will again serve as stewards.

Michael Cole, who represented the state Racing Commission at this summer's race meeting at the Downs at Santa Fe, will serve in the new position of alternate state steward.

Dean McKinney will begin his second season as racing secretary while Gordon Graham will be the assistant racing secretary.

Scott Goughly will return as clerk of scales while Dean Turpitt will again be the starter.

Pedro Rodriguez will be the identifier while Jack Chambers will serve as the head clocker. Jerry Knott will be pari-mutuel manager. Ray Montoya will be track superintendent and John Payne will be stable superintendent.

Harry Henson will again serve as Sunland Park's track announcer.

Post time for the start of the season will be 12:30 p.m. It will revert to 1 p.m. on Friday, February 17.

Artist Tom Lynch

on artist Tom Lynch

TOM LYNCH

by PAMELLA FIELD
News Staff Writer

He was sitting outside eating a very large carrot when I first saw him.

And I heard him say, "Oh that's Pam—the newspaper person. Hi Pam."

Since I had gone out to Carrizo Lodge to interview someone else, I just thought, "Who is this crazy person?"

When talking to the art director I found out that "person" is a nationally known artist who is at Carrizo teaching this week—his name is Tom Lynch. "Would I like to talk with him?"

And the next day I sat outside and shared a picnic with Lynch and one of his students, Mahoma Keely. It turned out Keely had brought a huge assortment of fruit, cheese and pina-colada yogurt. We shared wonderful conversation and I got just a sampling of the artist and person that make up Tom Lynch.

Lynch is in his middle thirties, has deep blue eyes and sandy hair. He looks very clean-cut—healthy. Then he starts talking and the spirit and intensity that make up the artist is revealed. "I want to add to the diversity here," he said.

Lynch lives in a suburb outside Chicago and spends about three weeks out of a month there. The rest of the time he is traveling nationwide, and the Southwest is one of his favorite regions.

"I notice a great appreciation of American living artists here. There's a good understanding of who the person is behind the painting. For example, this is Tom Lynch and this is his painting," he said.

Chicago is the setting for many of his paintings, he said, but understanding of art is different there than here. He was born and raised and attended schools in Chicago, and talks with an intensity of how he must separate himself from the city.

Unlike some artists who feel tension increases their artistic senses, Lynch needs to protect himself and "turn some things off."

"Some people can say this is avoiding things and so on, but I need to do this to stay fresh," he said.

Lynch's work has been featured in newspaper, magazine, radio and TV specials and he is listed in "Who's Who in American Art." He has received numerous awards, including the International Society of Artists First Prize Award.

But he said luck has not entered into his success. "The harder I work, the luckier I get," he said, smiling.

The man who wants to be known as the "painter who teaches" will be at the lodge until Saturday. He said he'd like to come back.

"One of the differences in format in teaching here is that the students live here," he said. This makes a difference because they are not usually all caught up with needing to commute somewhere—as in a large city—or in hurrying home to make dinner at 4:30.

The close of this week will take him back to Chicago and to a number one priority—his family.

"When it's all said and done, the ones who really care about you are your family," he said.

Leaving the lodge I noticed a fact sheet about Lynch that started with this phrase: "On the occasion of a recent one man show, a newspaper critic made the following observation in her review. 'There is no doubt Tom Lynch is good. Even an artistically naive eye would immediately appraise him far superior...'"

Es verdad.
